Shipping Floyd County Mules To River Market

Dallas Husky, Local Buyer, Has Billed Out 675 Head Since January First.

With the consignment of three carloads of mules, numbering 75 head or more, Tuesday of this week to the Memphis, Tennessee, market, Dallas Husky, local mule dealer has shipped 675 or more head of mules to market from the farms of Floyd and adjacent counties, and the end is not in sight. Wednesday he said he had another carload ready to go out the end of this week.

The heavy movement of mules from this section to the trans-Mississippi market began in October of last year, and before the first of the year Mr. Husky had sent out seven loads. Since the first of the year he has loaded twenty-seven cars, practically all of them to Memphis, although an occasional load has gone to other markets. One of his shipments consisted of two carloads that went to Sugarland, Texas.

"I didn't know there were any mules in the country to speak of, until I began to look for them," Mr. Husky said. "But I am picking them up every day and apparently there is no end to the supply in sight. The mules we are sending out to Memphis are going to all parts of the southeast. Some of them are going to levee camps, some to logging camps, others to sugar plantations, and to the mines. Louisiana, Mississippi, Georgia and the Carolinas, are the final destinations of the mules, although they are distributed out of Memphis through the large mule dealers."

Asked what the raisers of the mules were going to do for power on their farms, Dallas said that many of them were disposing of all or practically all of their mules and would use tractor power altogether, while some farmers are selling only their surplus stock. "I don't know whether it's best for the country or not," he said. "We will probably find out in a few years."

The unusually large volume of mules going from this point to Memphis is indicated by the statement made to Mr. Husky by one of the dealers last week, who advised that his shipments from Floydada were greater than the shipments of any other two dealers marketing in Memphis since the first of the year.

Band To Present Play 'Rosetime' February 26

Keynote of Comedy With Music Tuesday Night Is Bright Novelty.

Miss Katherine Burch will take the leading part as Rose in "Rosetime" three act musical comedy which will be presented in the high school auditorium Tuesday evening, February 26, under auspices of the Floydada Municipal Band. Banquet Date Changed For C. of C. Meeting

Josh Lee, Widely Known Oklahoman, Feature of Program Night of Feb. 28.

A change in the dates for the annual Floydada Chamber of Commerce banquet from February 22 to February 28 in order to secure a widely known speaker and entertainer was announced this week by J. C. Wood, chairman of the program committee for the event. Josh Lee, head of the public speaking department of the University of Oklahoma, has accepted the offer of the committee and will address the five hundred people of Floydada, Floyd County and surrounding towns who will attend the banquet. Endeavoring to secure a speaker for the banquet that would prove interesting and entertaining the program committee decided on Mr. Lee with his characteristic humor made possible by his ability as an orator and his wide experience as a public speaker. In 1916 Josh Lee won the national oratorical championship over fourteen hundred college orators representing every state in the Union. He is an ex-serviceman having served under the colors in France and following his return to the states wrote a volume of "Soldier Rhymes" from which he often recites. He was formerly with Chautauqua and lyceum Companies and has lectured from San Francisco to New York City.

In addition to the principal address of the banquet there will be the annual report of the work of the Chamber of Commerce made by the retiring president, Frank Moore. Mrs. Joe H. Smith will give the report of the home demonstration clubs. These reports will be short in order to give the speakers and the visitors ample time. The Floydada Orchestra, under the direction of A. L. Lungren, bandmaster, will furnish music for the occasion. Special musical numbers will be given throughout the evening by local talent. Rev. G. T. Palmer, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will give the invocation.

Only two hundred tickets were offered for sale and of this number there are approximately one hundred taken. The ticket committee, composed of J. C. Wester, G. C. Tubbs, J. C. Gilliam, T. P. Collins, E. L. Norman and R. E. Fry, will have charge of the remainder of the tickets.

Beginning promptly at seven o'clock the banquet will not last until very late in the evening as will be the custom but will be dismissed in ample time for those who come a long distance to return before a late hour.

Revival Meeting Under Way At Baptist Church

A revival meeting is under way at the First Baptist Church in Floydada this week, services having been announced Sunday night to be held beginning at 10 o'clock in the forenoon and at 7:30 in the evening during the remainder of this week and next.

Rev. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the church, said Monday that a crowd taxing the capacity of the auditorium heard Rev. J. Matt Hale, of Ralls, when he preached Sunday morning and evening. "There were conversions at both these services, and at every regular meeting recently there have been conversions and re-dedications, encouraging us to begin the intensive effort of a revival campaign at this time."

The general public is invited to attend the series of services and have a part in them.

Dist. Attorney

A. J. Folley Sworn in as District Attorney of the 110th Judicial District Tuesday afternoon, following receipt of his commission from the governor.

Jenkins New President Chamber Of Commerce

Commercial Body Names C. H. Davis Vice President At Tuesday Night Meeting.

A representative number of the one hundred and fifty members of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night had a part in the selection of the new official body of the organization at the annual election meeting, selecting J. B. Jenkins as president, C. H. Davis as vice president and at the same time naming five directors for the ensuing year. The five directors are O. L. Stansell, E. L. Norman, J. C. Gilliam, Homer Steen and O. P. Rutledge.

Lon M. Davis presided at the meeting, at which brief discussions of various phases of the body's work for the past year were made by numbers of those present, including O. L. Stansell, R. C. Scott, J. C. Gilliam, O. P. Rutledge, C. H. Davis and Mr. Jenkins.

O. T. Williams outlined briefly the general plan for a dairy study to be held here beginning within a week or two weeks, and which will follow the general idea of a series of lectures from prominent practical dairymen.

A brief discussion of the program of activities for 1929 for the organization, together with the desirability of greater attention to the fiscal needs of the organization was made by Homer Steen.

O. L. Stansell, first plainsman to be named a member of the executive board of the Texas Dairy Association, told of the forthcoming dairy show in Plainview and a committee was named to aid in creating interest in this county in the event. This committee is composed of Mr. Stansell as chairman, P. M. Felton, O. T. Williams and Bob Gary.

Plans for a membership drive were made in the belief that the number of members can be largely increased.

City's New Quarters Thrown Open Thursday

Floydada's new City Hall was formally opened to the public last Thursday when the members of the council, the mayor and other city officials were hosts at a housewarming and inspection from 4 to 8 o'clock. About one thousand people visited the hall.

No formal program was given, the visitors being entertained by music furnished by an orchestra from the Municipal Band. Members of the 1922 Study Club served refreshments.

Visitors were welcomed and shown about the building by Mayor Smith, Burl Bedford, city secretary and members of the City Council B. K. Barker, J. M. Willson, Frank Moore, A. L. Scoggins, and Lon M. Davis.

The new hall located on West Virginia Street is one of the prettiest buildings in the city. It concentrates all the city's executive and administrative affairs on one block where all departments are easily accessible to each other.

Judge Bain took the oath of office Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock. County Judge William McGehee administering the regular oath to support the constitution and declaring that the affiant had not engaged in a dual. A. J. Folley took the same oath in the afternoon at 3 o'clock before County Clerk Tom W. Deen.

The third member of the district's official family, the court reporter, was appointed by Judge Bain Tuesday. He is Oda O. Franklin, now a resident of Vernon, but for a number of years reporter in Judge Fries' District at Childress. He was appointed by Judge Bain Tuesday afternoon for his home to arrange his affairs to remove to this district. He was sworn in Tuesday by District Clerk T. P. Guimarin.

First term of the new court will open on March 4 at Matador, and the spring term at Floydada will open on May 20.

Prizes Offered Again In Speaking Contest

Boys and Girls of Rural Communities Offered Prizes In Oratorical Contest.

Students of rural schools in Floyd County will again have an opportunity to win a public speaking contest when the "My Community" contest is held here the opening evening of the Interscholastic League Meet, Thursday, March 28. The event, sponsored by the Floydada Chamber of Commerce, will attract even a larger number of speakers this year due to the liberal premiums offered by the Chamber of Commerce, the Floyd County National Bank at Floydada and the Security State Bank at Lockney. A white gold wrist watch and two ten dollar gold pieces will be awarded as special premiums.

Confining their five minute remarks to the community which they represent the speakers will tell of the location, production, school and other facilities and advantages offered them as residents of Floyd County. Only one speaker from each school will be permitted in the contest and a preliminary contest must be held in the schools where there are more than one entered. Pupils in the Floydada and Lockney schools will not be allowed to enter the contest.

"The My Community" contest serves two very important purposes," T. S. Stevenson, president of the Floyd County National Bank which is offering a prize of a ten dollar gold piece to the winner of second place said. "The speaker will better acquaint himself with his own community and the advantages offered and it will aid in selling that community to the residents of Floydada and Lockney. We are especially anxious to learn more about our friends in the rural communities and we were particularly glad to assist in this event."

Carl McAdams, president of the Security State Bank, has authorized the local Chamber of Commerce to announce that the third prize will be given by that firm and will be a ten dollar gold piece. "This is an opportunity to encourage boys in the rural communities of Floyd County and we feel that it should be given the endorsement of the business men of both Lockney and Floydada," he said.

Although the event has nothing to do with the Interscholastic League or the score made by the respective schools it will be held in connection with that occasion at the Floydada High School on the evening of February 28.

Christian Resigns As Pres. Tex. Wheat Assn.

J. D. Christian, Floyd County farmer and wheat raiser this week made public his resignation from the presidency of the Texas Wheat Growers' Association, tendered to the board of directors Tuesday of last week, following a request from the board that he sign a cross-contract with the Oklahoma Wheat Growers' Association for the marketing of the wheat of the two states.

"I have not fallen out with the principles of co-operative marketing, but the management of the wheat growers' association in this state has been altogether unsatisfactory to me. I have fought a losing battle against what has appeared to me to be gross mismanagement."

Mr. Christian was vice-president of the association and one of its directors for three years. Upon the resignation of Judge L. Gough several weeks ago, he became president.

District Judge

Kenneth Bain Whose appointment as judge of the newly-created 110th Judicial District was made last week by Governor Dan Moody. He took the oath of office Tuesday.

Lockney Cagers Win County Championship

Victory Over Floydada in Final Game Friday Determines District Representatives.

The sturdy Texas Longhorns again withstood the attack of the West Texas Whirlwinds last Friday evening when they weathered the onrush of their present twisting enemies. Result: The Lockney High School Cagers will represent Floyd County at the District Interscholastic basketball tournament at Lubbock in March.

Friday evening's tussle between the rival high school teams of Floyd County resulted as did Wednesday's game—in favor of the Lockney squad. The score of the last game was 23 to 26. Floydada's loss of the County Championship was the first in a number of years.

When the beginning whistle blew, Joe Smith, whirlwind center, directed the ball into the hands of his teammates for a fast start. Both sides put up a rough hard fight throughout the game that grew faster as the game progressed. Both coaches made many substitutions because of the personal and technical fouls.

At the end of the first quarter, the score favored Floydada 6-4, and remained in their favor until after the first half when the score was 10-7. In the third and fourth quarters, the Longhorns took the lead and were leading 23 to 26 when the final whistle blew.

A large crowd attended the game, including about thirty-five members of the Green Pepper Pep Squad of Floydada High School.

3,250 residents of Floyd County within the age required to pay a poll tax, qualified to vote during the year of 1929 a slight falling off from the figures of 1928, the lack of interest being created to the fact that in politics 1929 is an "off year." With the overs and unders the total voting strength of the county is probably 3,500.

Approximately ninety per cent of the property tax payers in the county paid their tax levies before the expiration of the date to qualify as voters.

Bankers Gather Here Independence Day For Semi-Annual Get-Together

Tech Pres. Speaks At Boys F. F. T. Banquet

Fathers Guests of Sons at Largest High School Agricultural Class Banquet

"Time was when an uneducated man could buy a tract of land, a few head of worstock and a few implements and make a living at farming. But times have changed. Today, a farmer must be a man of education. He must know the elements of his soil, he must know how to work that soil to produce the greatest benefits and, in short, he must have a thorough education to be a successful farmer." This is the advice extended by Paul W. Horn, president of the Texas Technological College to the members of the Future Farmers of Texas Club, who banqueted their fathers last Thursday evening at the First Baptist Church. "The Future Farmers of Texas is a club of more than forty boys who are members of the Vocational Agricultural Class of Floydada High School."

The Fathers and Sons Banquet, as the occasion was termed, was attended by more than one hundred men and boys. The banquet hall was elaborately decorated in red and white and the Valentine idea carried out in all of the decorations. Numerous red candles beautifully illuminated the red and white streamers which extended the length of the hall.

The delicious three course dinner was served by members of the High School Home Economics class. Each girls' costume helped to carry the Valentine color scheme. Fruit cocktail, a baked chicken dinner, and brick cream composed the menu.

Outlines Important Things Dr. Horn, who was the main speaker of the evening, outlined to the agricultural class boys three fundamental elements he said the young farmers of today must have to be successful. "First," he said, "you must be ready. The job is no snap. A thorough education, not of one subject, but of every subject taught in high schools and in colleges, must be possessed. Education is your first job. Next, comes pluck. You must have enough grim determination to take the blows of fate. Crop failures and other difficulties must be coped with as though they were easy to take. And last, but by no means least, you must be proud of your work. Pride in the things that keeps you going. It will make you want to exceed your fellowman and will make you succeed."

Dr. Horn spoke very complimentary of the work done in this school by the F. F. T. club and of the increasing interest being shown over the entire state in educating boys for farm work.

Joe Smith, class member, acted as toastmaster for the occasion. A very interesting and unique idea was carried out by Crystal Poore who introduced the club members with a short witty saying. Each boy told the number of years he had studied agriculture and of his year's project. He also introduced his father, who acknowledged the introduction.

Superintendent W. E. Patty extended the welcome invitation to the fathers, and E. C. King responded with a short talk. Judge Kenneth Bain gave an address on "Vocational Training" and others responding with short talks were W. H. Scoggins, T. S. Stevenson, C. R. Houston and M. D. Ramsey.

In speaking of the F. F. T. movement, O. T. Williams, instructor of the class made the statement that the Floydada club was the largest organization of this kind in the state of Texas. He also expressed his appreciation for the co-operation of both the fathers and the boys.

Martin True, club member, told of his last year's project and the final outcome of the experiment. Elvin Rainer also gave an interesting discussion on "The Things We Have Learned."

Musical entertainment for the evening was furnished by Miss Lois Sitton who favored with a piano solo and the high school sextette who sang a number of songs for the guests.

SCHOOL MEET PLANS

The announcement made last week by Director General W. D. Biggers, following the conference of directors of the Floyd County Interscholastic League Meet, to the effect that four days will be given this year to interscholastic activities succeeding the plan of a two-day meet will likely prove a move in the right direction. At least it is worthy of a trial and is suggested by experience in previous years.

Increasing numbers of schools and students interested in the contests would suggest the need of a revision of the plans. The last few years have shown the advisability of giving more time to the various events. Even under the changed arrangement it will not be possible to go at a snail's pace in carrying on the contests among the school boys and girls. Heretofore, the pace seemed too fast, the succession of events too rapid to make the League Meet worth all possible to the individual. And if this year's trial of the new plan does not prove successful, there is nothing to prevent the school officials from falling back on the original plan. Dates for the eliminations in Rural and Class B schools are March 15 and 16, with the winners in these divisions and the winners in the other schools competing in the finals on March 29 and 30.

NEW JUDICIAL DISTRICT

Announcement last week that Floyd County has been included in a new judicial district that will include also the counties of Motley, Briscoe and Dickens, creates an arrangement that instead of costing the taxpayers more money is expected to save them money making possible greater saving of time to attorneys and litigants in the adjudication of their legal differences and giving a greater discretionary power on the part of the judge in setting his cases for trial. Under the arrangement in the Sixty-Fourth, during the last year or two, neither judge nor litigants, regardless of inconvenience, had any alternative other than to set the machinery of the court into motion and go to grinding in order to get through with the work to be done within the time limits possible to give the respective counties.

The naming of Kenneth Bain as district judge and of A. J. Folley as district attorney is a district compliment to the ability of the pair, each in his own right. A number of very capable men were either actively or passively open for the positions thus automatically created.

Another point that should be emphasized to Floyd County people, too, lest we forget, is that the district is made of four counties, and that the new offices belong to all the people of all these counties.

We must be careful not to think too possessively of the new court and its officers.

THE BLANCO CROSSING

By mid-summer probably, maybe earlier, one side of the Blanco Crossing at Section 12, which has been a bugaboo for Precinct One, especially for the town of Floydada and the people living on the south side of the crossing, will have been put into an immeasurably better condition to meet the demands of travel. At present the work is slowed down on account of the weather conditions. The elapse of time must be awaited before it is practical to put in bridge abutments of concrete.

Considering what we have now in the way of a climb up the north side of the canyon, it will be fine to have a maximum grade of seven per cent and a maximum curve of four per cent on this side of the hill. Our information is that the bill is not going to be as high as it seems that it would be.

DIFFICULTIES IN THE WAY

Doubtless there is a solution of the dilemma in which proponents of the northeast and southwest highway through Lockney and Floyd County find themselves, but this solution is not apparent right now. It seems improbable that the roadway can be opened without using more money than can be made available from immediate tax funds, and on the other hand the unmistakable antagonism of a large number of people along the route to creating a debt to take care of such an improvement seems to preclude the possibility of a bond or warrant issue.

The new highway is desirable. It would serve a real need. Amongst other needs it would serve is that of a large community of interests in the west part of the county, which to some extent have been neglected in the past. The people most vitally interested should continue to press their claims until their neighbors will see the justice of it and give them what they're asking for. At the risk of being called names, we venture to say the routing needs revision to include South Plains and the thickly settled territory surrounding it. However, there may be practical objections to this arrangement, found by the engineers who laid out the road.

DAIRY INTEREST GROWS

Dairy interest in Floyd County continues to grow. Floyd County people are finding that the year-round income dairy production affords is safer and surer than the hit-or-miss plan of betting a year's work against the elements on a single crop.

Naturally there is no danger of dairying supplanting the raising of other feed and grain crops nor of cotton, for that matter. In fact, dairying, they tell us, is complementary to these other farming operations and aids in putting them on a more definitely planned basis. As regards marketing, officials of the Department of Agriculture do not see any immediate danger of over-production.

A COLD FEBRUARY

The inconvenience of a cold February is off-set by the promise it gives of a good harvest in July of grain crops and in October of row crops. Cold when cold is due is an augury of a good harvest when harvest-time arrives. It has been in the past.

While there is not as good a season in the ground in portions of the county as might be desired, still the cold weather now, holding wheat back, freezing the ground, killing insects, etc., will be a big help to all concerned when the season opens up and farming operations begin. Speaking of the season in the ground, the north part of the county, generally speaking, has a better season than the south part. Wheat in no part of the county is suffering, and in fact, the crop has sufficient moisture to carry it through March in good condition.

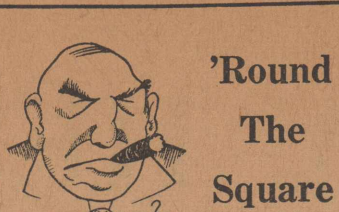

JOSH LEE COMING

Josh Lee, head of the school of oratory in Oklahoma State University, will speak in Floydada to the assembled Chamber of Commerce workers and their friends and visitors the last night in this month. Date for the annual banquet of the organization was changed at the last minute in order to have Mr. Lee here.

Mr. Lee, they tell us, is worth hearing.

Well, the Floydada Whirlwinds went down in defeat last week before the Lockney Longhorns in a county championship game for the first time in oh, ever so many years. Dog my cats, folks. It just ain't natural, that's all.

But our guess is that Floydada has it coming to her. She has had victories for so long that she no longer appreciates them. Let us take a few seasons at having our ears beaten down and we will know what victory means.

Somebody wants to know why O. B. doesn't try hair restorer for his bald head. Say, it's bald enough already, why try anything else? He did try hair restorer one time and the dog gone stopper became fastened in the bottle and he had to pull it out with his teeth. The next morning he had a mustache. That's our last trial.

One way to settle a question, be it highway bond issue or change of form of government, is to submit it to the people and let them vote it down for you.

Whatever troubles Adam had To make him nearly swoon He never tried to park his car Round the square Saturday afternoon.

There are two sure ways to learn the complete history of Floydada—read the telephone directory and the awning and top signs over the business houses round the square. A complete history of all business establishments may be read in the half hung, half painted signs over the buildings, especially on the west side of the square. We don't know much about the C. E. Stone Company, but they are starting out right—repainting the front and sides of their building with a flashy sign and starting with a newspaper advertising contract.

That guy on California Street says that this talk about Floydada not having a future reminds him of the usual banquet menu: the main course is "boloney" and "apple-sauce," topped off with "banana oil" for a washdown.

Somebody has got the wrong impression about what we have said about the court house painting job. It not only needs it's face lifted, but needs a good tonic throughout. The walls are spotted by material evidence of the uncontrollable desire of some of our local saliva slingers to "Make Whoopee" and lots of water streaked spots and match-striker blurs. Ain't it so?

Did you know that Lincoln has attended church much oftener than Washington? Washington's picture is on the dollar bill and Lincoln's on the penny.

By heck, we are all just humans. We all spend money we do not have for things we do not need just to impress people that we do not know. "Am I right, or Amarillo?"

ISSUE OF FEBRUARY 25, 1915.

Austin—The House today engrossed the women suffrage bill, by a vote of eighty-four to forty-two. It amended the bill, however, to have the vote taken at the regular election of November, 1916, instead of a special election in November 1915.

Ross Henry returned Wednesday afternoon from Kansas City, where he had taken a load of fat cows to the market.

People of the McCoy community are to have a telephone line in the near future. Interested parties are at work on it now.

Mrs. W. S. Posey, of Lubbock, had an operation for appendicitis at Plainview last Saturday, and is recovering rapidly according to reports. Mrs. W. L. Boerner, mother of Mrs. Posey, spent last week with her in Lubbock.

H. J. Willis, head of the H. J. Willis Hardware & Furniture Co., is in Dallas this week to purchase building materials for a brick adjoining the Meandy Theatre, which Mr. Willis plans to have built this spring.

Fuel system of the new Ford has been designed for reliability and long service

THE practical value of Ford simplicity of design is especially apparent in the fuel system.

The gasoline tank is built integral with the cowl and is unusually sturdy because it is made of heavy sheet steel,terne plated to prevent rust or corrosion. An additional factor of strength is the fact that it is composed of only two pieces, instead of three or four, and is electrically welded—not soldered.

Because of the location of the tank, the entire flow of gasoline is an even, natural flow—following the natural law of gravity. This is the simplest and most direct way of supplying gasoline to the carburetor without variations in pressure. The gasoline feed pipe of the new Ford is only 13 inches long and is easily accessible all the way.

The gasoline passes from the tank to the carburetor through a filter or sediment bulb mounted on the steel dash which separates the gasoline tank from the engine.

The carburetor is specially designed and has been built to deliver many thousands of miles of good service.

Since all adjustments are fixed except the needle valve and idler, there is practically nothing to get out of order.

The choke rod on the dash acts as a primer and also as a regulator of your gasoline mixture. The new hot spot manifold insures complete vaporization of the gasoline before it enters the combustion chamber of the engine.

As a matter of fact, the fuel system of the new Ford is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires very little service attention.

The filter or sediment bulb should be cleaned at regular intervals and the carburetor screen removed and washed in gasoline. Occasionally the drain plug at the bottom of the carburetor should be removed and the carburetor drained for a few seconds.

Have your Ford dealer look after these important little details for you when you have the car oiled and greased. A thorough, periodic checking-up costs little, but it has a great deal to do with long life and continuously good performance.

A Man In A Millinery Store!

We have it direct from one of our Floydada milliners that she likes to show millinery when men customers are present. A husband, she says, is usually a real help in choosing the right hat for "friend wife."

We know at least one husband who does not take kindly to the idea. He says he feels very uncomfortable in a millinery store and besides, his judgment under such circumstances always is ruled by a wild desire to get the selection over with as quickly as possible.

Beyond these facts, we confess to a very expansive ignorance on the general subject of millinery.

We do know, however, that Floydada has some extremely creditable millinery stores. We have been in them. But we base our opinion on something even more convincing than our own inspection—we have heard Floydada ladies say that they like the millinery stores here.

Just now the Spring season is on. The new hats are here in great profusion, and ladies of Floyd County are finding many beautiful creations in the millinery art. Some are bringing their husbands along to help with the selections. Which is a fine idea—if the husbands will stand for it.

LEAD ARSENATE CONTROLS WEEDS IN GRASSY LAWNS

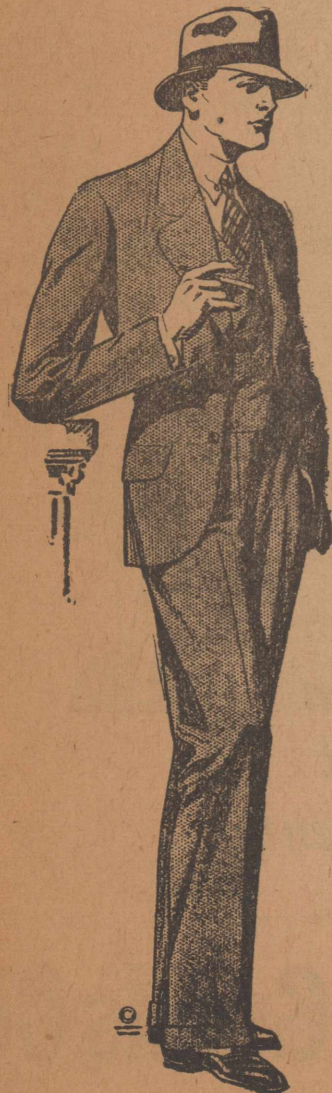

More or less as a by product of the campaign against the destructive Japanese beetle, entomologists of the United States Department of Agriculture have discovered a method of improving the turf of lawns and golf courses. Several years of experimental work have shown that lead arsenate mixed with the surface layer of soil will control ever though it may not completely exterminate, most of the hard-shelled beetles, including the Japanese beetle, and certain other soil inhabiting insects. Such an application will not harmfully affect the growth of the grasses commonly used in golf greens and lawns. Several varieties of bent, perennial ryegrass, chewing, fescue, sweet vernal grass, meadow fescue and Kentucky bluegrass will thrive in the poisoned soil. Or the other

When the lawn is beautiful, a golf green prepared, lead arsenate may be mixed with soil at the rate of 1,500 pounds to the acre. One application at this rate has been found effective for about six years as regards the soil-inhabiting insects. To treat lawns already planted apply a top dressing of the usual fertilizers adding 5 pounds of lead arsenate for each 1,000 square feet.

 After the order of business was over a program on "The Family Garden" was given. She also told about her trip to Houston and the Rio Grande Valley. It was a very interesting report but a unanimous decision was made that the Panhandle is a better country.
 The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. George R. Smith Thursday, March 7. Everyone is asked to be present and bring a new member if possible.

THIRSTY RAT TAPS WATER PIPE
 A bill of $49.80 was recently paid by a cooperator of the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture for repairing the damage caused by one rat and its family. It was first noticed that water was dripping from the ceiling of a room directly under the bathroom, and then more than a square yard of plastering came down. The plumber who was called in had to move the bathtub and take up the floor to locate the trouble. He found that a rat had gnawed a hole about a quarter of an inch in diameter in the lead water pipe near the trap, apparently to quench its thirst. The constant drip from this little hole ruined the ceiling below. The householder invested immediately in a box of barium carbonate and a rat trap, and no more traces of rats have been found since this expensive visitation. The Biological Survey states that it is not at all an uncommon occurrence for rats to gnaw lead pipes or when thirsty to go long distances to get water.

Buffalo Hunt' Told in Hesperian 14 Years Ago

"Llano Estacado, the great staked plains—home of the Buffalo." But those were days long gone by. The following article was taken from an issue of the Floyd County Hesperian published in 1915, and will probably prove interesting to many Floyd County residents, especially those who are interested in the early history of this section. This story of the passing of the buffalo is told by G. W. Smith, son of Hank Smith, now deceased, who was probably the first white man to settle on the Plains. The story as printed fourteen years ago follows:

"I do not know who saw the first buffalo that ever came to this country, but I do know that I saw the very last one that ever was here.

"In the year 1884 a young man came here from Tennessee. It has been so long that I cannot even think of his name now. He was crazy about buffaloes and constantly he would like to kill one. We told him they were all gone and that if he wanted to shoot one he would have to go further west.

"One day after he had been gone several hours, he came to the house crying out that he had shot a buffalo up on the plains and wanted me to hitch up the wagon and go and help him bring him in. We thought he was funning at first, but he appeared so much in earnest that at last I consented to go with him.

"Sure enough when we got a few miles out on the plains he showed me a black object lying on the ground and when we got up to it, a dead buffalo was surely lying there. It was a great big one, which had got cut off in some way from the herd and wandered no doubt a hundred miles or more away from it.

"The Tennessee boy told me that he had been riding along when he saw this buffalo a mile or more away from him and thought at first it was a cow, but as he came closer and the animal got the wind of him, it began to run away at break-neck speed. This made him observe it more closely and he became convinced it was not a cow but one of those animals he had been looking for so long. So off he went after it as fast as his cow pony could carry him, gradually gaining on the ungainly buffalo. Two or three times he shot at him, but did not hit him. So finally he rode right up along side of him, just as he had seen in the picture books, and began to shoot him in the side. This enraged the beast and suddenly he turned on the horse and tried to gore him. But the pony had been dodging the long horns of the Texas steer for too many years to be caught napping and he jumped aside as easily as a Spanish matorador.

"The boy put one shot after another into him and proved himself a real game sport. Finally a shot struck the buffalo in the heart and down he went on his knees and then fell over on his side, and the very last buffalo that ever walked or ran in Crosby County lay dead on the plains. He fell about three miles north of where Crosbyton now is, on the ranch of the C. B. Live Stock Company, in what is now called the north pasture.

"The boy was certainly proud of this episode. We took the buffalo home and skinned him and had a few good meals of the meat. The boy took the skin away with him when he left, and I suppose he has told and retold the story of his first and only buffalo hunt time and time again.

"The white faced cow has taken the place of the buffalo and has made the plains country famous. Now, the farmers are coming in so fast that the big herds of cattle are becoming scarce too, and it will be only a few more years until the big herd will entirely disappear and give way to the small bunches which the farmers will raise. Of course the meat will then be finer as the feed will be much better. But anyway some of us old-timers kind of hate to see those old-timers kind of We were raised amongst these surroundings and they have become a part of our lives. Nevertheless, we lend a helping hand to the progress of the country, feeling sure that it will be the very best in the world."

INSTALL NEW MACHINERY

Two local concerns during the past ten days have installed additional equipment to make possible the handling of more highly specialized work in a better manner in their respective lines.

They are the Jones Shoe Shop, where last week a Durkoff Patching Machine was put in, and the John McCleskey Top Shop, where re-newing of automobile bodies and fenders was added to their equipment for this purpose. The shop has had remarkable success in this line of work, and Mr. McCleskey said they planned to continue to add equipment as the demand for the specialized machinery grew.

A new petition has been circulated, in which the amount of bonds to be voted in the election on February 23rd in the Dougherty Consolidated School District No. 18 is changed from $28,000, as was first stated, to $20,000. This change was occasioned by the information received that the $8,000 indebtedness of the old Newland district cannot at this time be paid off. As the $28,000 was for the purpose of clearing the indebtedness of the old Newland district and for the financing of the new school building, only $20,000 bond issue will be voted on. This election will be held at the Mayview School. Do not forget the time and place.

Good Citizenship Club

Following a party caucus on Thursday morning, in which officers were elected, the Good Citizenship Club of Floydada High School organized itself into a model House of Representatives which met at class time on Friday. Various bills were introduced by members. Some of these were: "The United States should appropriate $100,000 for decoration of the Arlington Cemetery" by Representative Joe Smith of Wyoming; "The United States should have more stringent Immigration laws by Representative Hermalie Norman of Connecticut"; "The U. S. should appropriate $25,000 for redecoration of the White House, by Representative John Key West of Texas;" and "Uniform Marriage Laws should be passed throughout U. S. by Representative Thelma Covington of California." The House was ably supervised by speaker Winfred New-some of Idaho and clerk Oleta Jackson of Washington. Order was kept by Sergeant-at-Arms Lois Williams of Nevada. There was much discussion of the bills; some were passed and others were presented to committees for further consideration.

Ain't it a grand and glorious feeling when the Sophomore boys, with their sponsor, Miss Rosson, entertained the Sophomore girls and their sponsor, Miss Smith? Great fun was enjoyed in the Olympic games of the Greeks but more was enjoyed in the Sophomore game Friday night at the beautiful home of Wilmer Jones.

The guests were greeted by the boys of the receiving line and, as they entered, the Sophomore Silver Aces, composed of Doc Massie, Mack Scoggin, E. L. Morris, Bill Briggsby, Urnon, Borum, Alpheus Barker, Herwin Strickland, Duran Bishop, and Prof. Carpenter, played. Many delightful games were enjoyed, also vocal selections were rendered. Among the best: "Sweet Adeline" by John McCormick-Doc Massie, and Gene Austin-Mack Scoggin. The boys challenged the girls to a song and the boys were successful in making the most noise.

Refrigerator cake, chocolate, and cakes were served by the hosts to some seventy happy Sophomores.

The guests, other than Sophomore girls and Miss Smith were: Misses Bebel and Keeton, Messrs. Patty and Carpenter, and Mrs. Shaw.

Jokes

Miss Rosson: ABS degree is the lowest degree a college student can get.

Samuel Rutledge: What is the highest, 360 degrees?

Fred Porterfield: I can't translate this sentence in Latin: "The teacher said something to her pupils."

Miss Rosson: What does a teacher usually say?

Fred: I admire the back of your heads.

Why Teachers Get Married

Teacher: Johnny, what is a glacier?
Johnny: Guy who fixes windows when they are broken.

Teacher: Why does a dog's tongue hang out when he is running?
Pupil: To balance his tail.

Teacher: What is steel wool?
Pupil: The fleece of a hydraulic ram.

Teacher: Did you ever take chloroform?
Pupil: Huh-um, who teaches it?

Teacher: What did Michael Angelo paint his most famous painting on?
Pupil: An empty stomach.

Teacher: What is a volcano?
Pupil: A mountain with a hole in top if you look down you can see the crater smoking.

Teacher: Get the hatchet and show us how George Washington chopped the cherry tree.
Pupil: (dignified) No chops for me; I'm reducing.

Teacher: Spell Miracle.
Pupil: MIRACLE
Teacher: Now, give the definition.
Pupil: Ah, it would be a miracle if you ever get married.

Teacher: The subject for the theme for Friday will be description.
Pupil: What did you say our theme would be on?
Teacher: Paper.

All Else Had Failed; Sargon Brings Health

"Sargon restored my health at a time when I thought nothing would help me," recently stated Frank Bennett, of 905 Macon St., Fort Worth. His full statement follows: "My trouble started two years ago when I commenced to suffer with indigestion. I lost my appetite and what little I ate caused me lots of misery. I suffered with gas pains around my heart, and could taste my food for hours. I seldom got a good night's sleep and was so nervous at times that I would shake all over. I felt tired, run down and worn out even before the day was half over. My liver was out of order. I was bilious and my vitality was very low. I took lots of medicines and treatments with no lasting benefit.

"Then I tried Sargon, and I knew almost at once that I had found the right medicine at last. My appetite returned and my strength and energy began to come back with the first bottle. Now, I sleep fine; eat anything I want and everything agrees with me. I am always hungry and enjoy my meals. My nerves are steady as a die, my headaches are gone and I feel like a man made all over again. I have gained nine pounds and just want to be on the go all the time.

"Sargon has built me back up so that I am stronger, and feel better than I have felt in years. I am a well man now, and the Sargon treatment is responsible for it." Sargon may be obtained in Floydada at the Floydada Drug Co., and in Lockney at Stewart Drug Co.

"Build For The Future" Washington

As a surveyor George Washington did much to prepare himself for the spiritual and political development of his country. His early efforts at line-running and civil engineering were part of the schooling that must accompany success in later years.

The young man of today must build his future and fortune not only on wisdom and information, but on proper usefulness of his money. Money makes money, and we know of no better adage. First comes the hard work, then the seed of a fortune. With this speed properly placed, the youth of today can skillfully amass their independence.

$260,000 Worth New Homes At Littlefield

Provision Being Made to House 130 Families Adjacent to New College.

Engineer Ray Jones and assistants are this week surveying out a number of 10 acre tracts belonging to or recently sold by the Littlefield College on which are to be erected homes for 130 new families that will be moving onto them during the coming spring months. Contracts have been let for the erection of 130 residence buildings on these 10 acre tracts, including 40 lots which have been sold by the college. These residences will cost from $2,000 to $3,000 each, the aggregate cost of improvements amounting to $260,000. It is also understood that work on the college administration building, (the foundation having already been laid) will start in the near future, also some other buildings needed for the school. The N. H. Walker Construction Co. of Dallas, have contracted for the new buildings, and it is said considerable local labor will be employed in the activity.—Lamb County Leader.

Gas Engine Installed At Experimental Farm

A gas automatic, 60 horse power motor is being installed at Lockview farm for irrigation operations beginning this spring according to E. W. Thomas, manager. Last year, the first year of operation of the farm under the auspices of the Anderson-Clayton Cotton Co., owners, the old T. L. & D., engine was used to pump the water. This year, this engine will be done away with, although it is possible that both irrigation wells on the place will be utilized. Gas was piped to the place from the main gas line from Plainview to Lockney.—The Plainview News.

POWER FARMING IS ADVANCING RAPIDLY

Power farming is making very rapid progress in America, says the February 15 Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman. Each year sees some new farm equipment added to the list of machines that enables farmers to handle more land with less labor or to reduce the cost of producing crops. The rapid extension of the combine throughout the great plains is one of the outstanding recent developments. Ten years ago there were only a few dozen combines scattered throughout northern Oklahoma. These did so well and so satisfied were their owners by the marked savings in harvesting costs, that hundreds more were brought in following the first demonstrations in 1919 and before many years the combine will be the standard method of harvesting throughout the southwest.

One of the time and labor-saving soil preparation implements which had made especially rapid progress this last season is the one-way disk plow. This implement is known by several names, but consists essentially of a series of large plow disks mounted on shafts so as to throw the dirt one way, and with heavy guiding wheels set so as to help overcome the side thrust.

Especially rapid advancement has been made during the last year in the motorization of row-crop cultivation. The spread of the two-row cultivator in the cotton growing sections of southwest Oklahoma and western Texas is an example of this. The smooth fields in that section permit of accurate work with the two-row tool and each spring sees more of these cultivators following the rows in that section.

Electric lighting on a large scale was first used by John Wanamaker in his Philadelphia store. This was in 1878, soon after Charles F. Brush, of Cleveland, had developed an electric dynamo at Franklin Institute in Philadelphia. The newspaper referred to the arc lights as "miniature moons held captive in glass globes."

Federals Grow In Favor

With Floyd County Motorists

More and more you see the mark of on the tires on the streets and highways of Floyd County—more and more does the rugged strength of the "Extra Service" tire appeal to the people who value trouble minus mileage.

No automobile, however fine, was ever built which could not be improved in appearance, safety, ease of operation and general economy by the use of Federal Double-Blue Pennant Tires.

Tires in general are at the lowest price in the history of their manufacture, and it costs no more to equip with Federals than with ordinary tires. During the latter part of 1928 we announced a flat wholesale price on tires as our retail selling price, making Federals far and away the greatest tire value now offered Floyd County People.

BAPTIST CHURCH

"The Church With a Program" Dick O'Brien, Pastor

For several months we have been contemplating a revival meeting. It has been two full years since this church has had a revival campaign, and the need was growing increasingly evident. For several services we have been having conversions, and we felt that the time had come for us to enter a special campaign for souls. Believing that we had the mind of the Lord we continued from the service last Sunday night. We are having two services each day at the church. The morning services are being held at 10:00 o'clock, and the evening service at 8:00. The weather makes no difference after we are here, as the building is kept comfortable at all times. Splendid crowds have been in attendance from the beginning.

We extend to all a very cordial invitation to worship with us in these meetings. Especially the people of the other churches of the community, are urged to come, sing pray, lead souls to Christ, and help in every way possible to make the revival a success. We sincerely hope that the meeting will prove a general spiritual blessing to the entire community.

All regular services will be held on Sunday, the Lord willing.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

G. T. Palmer, Pastor
We had a very fine day last Sunday. The Sunday School moved up in a most gratifying way, and we had splendid attendance at both morning and night services. We deeply appreciate the presence of every person. By being in your place you help to make your church a vital force for good. Some of our people were not able to attend on account of sickness, and others were out of town, we hope all of these will be with us the coming Sunday.

Preaching by the pastor at 11:00 a. m.

Senior League 6:45 p. m.
There will not be any preaching at the evening hour. We are calling in our night service in order to give our people the opportunity of attending the revival service being held at the Baptist Church. It is our desire to co-operate with the pastor and the membership of the Baptist Church in their evangelistic program. Let all of our people attend the services and pray and work for the salvation of the lost. Rev. O'Brien is bringing wonderful inspiring messages and it will do all of us good to hear him.

Sunday School Lesson

P. D. O'Brien.

Date: February 24.
Theme: Conditions of Christian Growth.

Scriptures: John 1:40-42; Matt. 16:15-18; John 21:15-19; 2 Peter 3:18.

Golden Text: But Grow in grace and in the knowledge of the Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.—2 Peter 3:18.

The absence of growth on the part of a Christian would be as unnatural as the failure to grow physically on the part of a normal human being. One comes into possession of the physical life by reason of the natural birth, and into the Spiritual life by the Spiritual birth, hence to the natural man Jesus says "ye must be born again." From the time of birth the child of nature is supposed to grow, and from the time of the second, or spiritual birth, the child of God is supposed to grow. In the past lessons we have studied the conditions of becoming a child of God, and very fittingly today we study the growth in grace of such twice born men. Peter affords us an unusual example of such Christian growth. We do not mean by Christian growth that one grows into the state of Christianity; but as the babe becomes the lad, and the lad becomes the youth, and the youth becomes the full grown man, in like manner are we to grow into "full grown men in the Lord." There are far too many dwarfs in the family of God. (See Heb. 5:12-14).

Peter's Conversion

In the First Chapter of John we have an interesting account of the conversion of Peter. He seemed to show no interest in the matter until his brother Andrew who had been a disciple of John the Baptist, and had had an introduction to Jesus, took the matter up with him, and the Scripture says that he "brought him to Jesus." This is indeed a brotherly act in any one, to bring him to Jesus. This is still the business of His disciples world today. We hear little of Andrew after this, but it is gratifying that this one act is all that he ever did in his Christian life, who will gain the fact that it was a wonderful day's work when such a positive character was brought to Jesus?

His Name Changed.

It is interesting to note the examples in the Bible where the names of people were changed by the Lord. For example: Abram to Abraham, Cari to Sarah, Jacob to Israel, Saul to Paul, and Simon to Peter. In each case the change of name indicates a change of nature. That is what regeneration does for an individual, he becomes "a new creation in Christ Jesus... old things pass away and behold all things are made new." Briefly let us notice the names of Peter. His original name was Simon, which means a fluttermen, or unstable person. Jesus said it should be changed to Cephas or Peter, which means a stone or rock. (The word Peter means rock, the word Cephas means stone, therefore they are used interchangeably.) Simon the fluttermen changeable fisherman, was to become Peter the solid, immovable rock. A study of his life from the time of his conversion will reveal that this is exactly what happened.

Later Jesus refers to him as "Simon Bar-Jonah," which means Simon son of John. This later became our word Johnson, hence his full name was Simon Peter Johnson. (Rev. S. P. Johnson, Jerusalem, Palestine, was his correct address.) As Simon the fluttermen and see him rebuking his Lord, denying his Lord, and leaving the ministry for a season to go back to his fishing. As Peter the rock we see him boldly proclaiming the word of the new gospel at Pentecost and accusing the Jews of killing the prince of glory. We follow his ministry to its tragic end, and find him often in prison, sorely tried and persecuted and finally dying a martyr to the cause he loved. It is said that when he was condemned to death by crucifixion, that he requested that he be crucified head downward, because he felt unworthy to die as His Lord had died. It is further stated that his request was granted, and that without a murmur he died hanging head downward upon a cross. Simon cursed and denied his Lord on the night preceding the crucifixion, through growth in grace he became Peter the rock, and as such he offered his life without complaint for the cause of his Lord. No other New Testament writer seems quite so well qualified as he to give us the admonition in the golden text, "But grow in grace and in the knowledge of the Lord and Savior Jesus Christ." These are his last written words, and no others could have been quite so appropriate.

Conditions of Growth

If one would grow as a Christian he must observe certain laws of growth, just as it is necessary to observe certain other laws to grow physically. And there is much similarity between the two programs of growth. For instance for one to grow physically at least three things must be observed and practiced, namely: fresh air, wholesome food, and exercise. Spiritually speaking these three things are also necessary to spiritual growth. The Christian needs the proper spiritual atmosphere if he would grow normally as a child of God. Church services, Sunday school, young peoples meetings, etc. afford just such a moral and spiritual atmosphere. Without these I have never seen a stalwart, robust, fruitful Christian. Next, the soul needs good wholesome food spiritually just as definitely as the body needs material food for growth. As in the case of the Prodigal Son, the world offers only husks, that cannot satisfy. Only a return to the Father's house where there is plenty and to spare will one find that food which satisfies the hunger of the soul. Without this a soul cannot grow. If our children refuse to eat nourishing food they grow weak, and are subject to every disease germ with which they come in contact, they lose their power of resistance; it is even so with children of God. This accounts for the fact that so many church members are led off after every foolish thing that comes along. They have lost their power of moral resistance through spiritual malnutrition. Then there we need spiritual exercise. Find a task in the church offer yourself as a volunteer, if you are not called on. Teach a class, win a soul, attend church, study the Bible, keep your prayer line busy, and you will "grow in grace and in the knowledge of the Lord and Savior Jesus Christ."
