Traffic Safety Program Needed

Within a few weeks hundreds of Haskell children will be going back and forth daily between their homes and school, taking their place in the flow of traffic, and creating additional problems of traffic safety.

To safeguard these children from the dangers that exist on city streets and at busy intersections is the duty of every motorist and every citizen, and no precaution should be overlooked in providing for their utmost safety at all times.

Although this is the duty of every parent and citizen, it is the primary responsibility of school officials and traffic officers to devise and execute safety practices for our school children, and to see that these practices are enforced. Our community fortunately has been spared any major traffic accident involving school children, although several minor traffic mishaps occurred during the past school term. We believe that any program of traffic safety for our school children which can be devised by school and city officials will be given the full cooperation of our entire citizenship.

Half-Billion-Dollar Headache

The Texas Legislative Budget Board is somewhat in the position of the harassed husband who's struggling with a stack of unpaid bills when his wife announces the children all need shoes, points out Vern Sanford, manager of the Texas Press Association.

The Budget Board works out a recommended state spending plan in advence of each regular legislative session. This year, to make "ends meet", the Board will have to stretch a shorter rope over more territory.

Briefly, the horns of the dilemma are these: First: For the next biennium state agencies have turned in requests to the Budget Board for $368,000,000 more than they received for the current two-year appropriation period.

Second: Official pedictions indicate the state is far from having enough money to grant these increases. Instead, it may start the next two-year fiscal period $100,000,000 short of enough money just to maintain the present level of spending.

That leaves a potential gap of some $468,000,000 between the two horns-money requested and money in sight. For the next Legislature it's a half-billion-dollar headache.

Conspicuous By Absence

(Wichita Falls Times)

News is sometimes conspicuous by its absence as well as prominent by its presence. The former category is the one in which the disease of polio has fallen this year.

With summer well-advanced, the nation is yet to be shaken by an epidemic of polio. Ordinarily, most editions of every newspaper would be carrying at least one story of a polio outbreak or the tragic case surrounding some child's illness

This kind of story has been rare indeed this season and the prospects are, because of the Salk vaccine, that it will become even more rare.

The news on the polio front is virtually nil. That in itself is a big story and good news.

However, the fact that three local races-two countywide and one precinct—are yet to be decided will likely result in balloting almost if not equal to that in the first primary.

The active campaigns being waged by the candidates seeking the three posts has served to keep the interest of voters during the few days remaining in the campaign can have one result-a heavy turn-out at the polls on Aug. 23.

History has a way of repeat ing itself. Consider the new golf course now being built.

Forty-odd years ago it's doubt ful if there were half a dozen people in Haskell who'd ever played a game of golf. But during their leisure time large numbers of the local gentry flocked to a recreation spot at the site where the golf course is located.

Hemphill Lake furnished swimming and boating. Other facilities included a band stand where the Haskell Brass Band gave frequent concerts, there was a dance pavillion and skating rink, along with cold drink and concession stands. All did a thriving business, as did the street car line from the Lake to Haskell. The street car line eventually folded, and the recreation center gradually shrivelled on the vine. Now it's changed, the spot is again due to become a popular gathering place.

We're still curious about how the ordinance passed by the Stamford city council prohibcauseway on the road across Violators are subject to a fine of as much as $200, the ordistitution, out on the free and nance sets out. We're wondering where the cases will be filed, in Stamford city court, or a J. P. court in Haskell County, since any violation will be committed in this county. Guess we'll just wait and see.

Flowing Cold means super-fast, more uniform chilling for all your fresh foods no matter where you store them - in the refrigerator section or on the door - regardless of outside temperatures.

And Flowing Cold means no more frost! Here's how it works:

Fresh warm air enters the refrigerator section every time you open the door — and is drawn by a fan up and over the hidden Refrig-o-Plate that cools it and removes the excess moisture after which it comes back in at the top as Flowing Cold.

As the cattlemen moved further west, forcing the Indians off their traditional lands, the Indians retaliated with raids and scalpings. The raids became so numerous that the government was forced to make a concerted effort to round up the Indians and place them on reservations.

The Crosby County History "Through the Years," written and compiled by Nellie Witt Skikes and Temple Ann Ellis, recounts the famed Battle of Mt. Ten men from MacKenzie forces pursued the Indians and were led into a trap set in Blanco Canyon near Mt. Blanco.

MacKenzie brought up his troops and the famous battle took place. After a stormy struggle the Indians were forced from the canyon walls and disappeared on the Staked Despite the Comanches' skill in throwing pursuers off the trail, the MacKenzie troops caught up with them in the

New Methods for Johnson Grass Control Found

College Station - Johnson grass is an aggressive perennial 5 New Residents which infests over five million acres of cropland in Texas. It Move To Haskell is difficult to control with normal cultivation methods and is During Week quite a "pain-in-the-neck" to many farmers.

Farmers long have used grazing, mowing, tillage, cultivation, rotary weeding and hoeing for the mass control of Johnson grass, Some have used. but usually have not accepted pre-emergence chemical treatments, lateral application of chemicals and flaming for this purpose. These methods are effective for reducing stands when they are used persist-

But the newest, cheapest and most effective method for Johnson grass control is spotspraying. This practice was in-troduced by Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in 1954 and was immediately popular as a supplemental to cultural practices, particularly for scattered infestations in cotton.

Spot-spraying was used on 89,491 acres of infested cotton land in 133 Texas counties in Farm Fires 1956. Subsequent progress by the Texas Station has increased the efficiency of the practice and extended its use.

Cotton Estimate Last Year

In its estimate released Friday at Washington, the Agriculture Department estimated the 1958 Texas cotton crop at 4,150,000 bales, a sharp rise from last year's 3,632,000 bales.

Production per acre was esti-mated at 395 pounds, which the department said would be a record. Last year it was 295.

The forecast was the first for the season and set the national production at 11,583,000 bales. The national estimate 619,000 more than last year's, although planted on the smallest acreage in more than 80 years. Production in other states included North Carolina 210,000, South Carolina 260,000, Georgia 300,000 Tennessee 405,000, Alabama 400,000, Mississippi 1,-040,000, Missouri 285,000, Arkansas 1,040,000, Louisiana 375, 000, Okalahoma 255,000, New Mexico 280,000, Arizona 880,000, and California 1,675,000.

The department said prospects were exceptionally favorable in Texas. In northern and northwestern portions the crop is early and fruiting heavily. Insect infestation was reported light and soil moisture well above average. The Lower Rio Grande Valley harvest is in full swing with a good crop, as is harvest in the Coastal Bend. South Plains and blackland counties need more mois-

BY VERN SANFORD This is the time of year when snakes begin crawling again.

Not all snakes are poisonous, but it is well to watch out for them.

around the yard probably are grass or garter snakes . In your fishing trips, however, you are likely to encounter the poisonous snakes. In Texas we have four poisonous snakes. Most frequently mentioned is the rattler. There are several different brands of rattlers, and all are dangerous. They don't always warn either, before they strke Rattlers will be found around brush and rock piles, under leaves and around old lumber piles. Frequently they get out into the open and especially during the period of the day when it is not too hot. Watch out for them!

If you spend a great deal of time in snake country it would be a good idea to take along a snake bite kit and know how to use it.

One of the most practical kits is made by Cutter Laboratories of Berkley, Calif. You can buy one at any drug or sporting goods store. Ask for Cutter Compak Suction Snake Bite Kit. It's pocket size, only about 3 inches long and 1 inch in diameter. It is tubular in shape and its soft rubber case makes into three suction cups.

This is one item that should be a must in every fisherman's tackle box and in every hunter's pocket. If you are bitten by a snake use your kit immediately. Then get to a doctor as quickly as you can. But don't run. Don't take a drink of liquor, either and remain a calm as possible. Don't do anything that will increase blood circulation.

Contrary to the belief of many, rattlesnake bites are not always fatal. They'll make you sick enough to wish that you could die, but actually the mortality from the space bite, properly treated, is less than 1 per cent. It is only 10-15 per cent without any treatment. So, don't get excited. Be calm and treat yourself with you rkit . . . carefully and with your kit.

Now about some of our other Texas snakes. One of these days, while you are fishing you are bound to encounter water moccasin. There are several varieties of moccasins. Let me warn you here and now-all are dangerous. Copperheads and coral snakes the other two poisonous snakes to be found in Texas. There are fewer of them, but they are just as dangerous. A final word of caution. Don't get smart with snakes. Once in awhile some fellow thinks he knows it all and tries to impress his friends. It's bad business monkeying with snakes. Snakes are not play-things.

While we're on the subject -a word of warning about spiders and scorpions also is in line. They can make you very sick. Smash them every time you get a chance. It is well to remember that most snake bite kits, such as the Cutter, may be used to counteract bee stings, spider and insect bites also.
