

Death of Mrs. Hank Smith Marks Passing of an Outstanding West Texas Pioneer

First Postmaster in Plains Region Succumbed at Daughter's Home Friday of Last Week

Mrs. Hank Smith, for 47 years a resident of Crosby County, widely known early resident and postmaster of Mt. Blanco, died shortly before noon Friday of last week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Kirk, north of Mt. Blanco following a very brief illness. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 at the old Rock House, to which the deceased moved as the bride of Hank Smith in 1877, and interment was made in Old Emma Cemetery, south of Ralls, by the side of her husband who was buried a few years ago. Mrs. Smith was 77 years of age.

Friends from over five counties attended the funeral for Mrs. Smith, either at the Rock House, or the burial rites at the Cemetery at Old Emma.

The story of Mrs. Smith's life is an interesting one. Born in Scotland in 1848, as a child she emigrated to Australia, and from that country back to the United States. She became the wife of Hank Smith at old Fort Griffin in Young County, which at that time was a real outpost of civilization, established as a base for operations of the armies against the Indians and for the protection of the settlers who were gradually pushing westward. Her husband aided in financing Tasker, the Englishman, in the building of the Mt. Blanco Rock House, which at that time the Englishman intended to make his home and build an immense estate along the waters of the Blanco. By the use of dams, he planned to make an immense reservoir of water and keep large herds of deer and buffalo in the walls of the canyon. When Mr. Smith took the rock house as payment for the funds he had loaned for the enterprise he moved to it, and within a year or so of Mrs. Smith's coming here, she was made postmaster at Mt. Blanco, which office she held until 1918, a period of more than 40 years. Here they reared their family of five children, all of whom still reside in this section. They are R. B. Smith and Geo. W. Smith, Mrs. Mary Kirk and Mrs. Annie McDermott, of Mt. Blanco, and Mrs. Lela Wheeler, of Ralls. Mrs. Smith, the past few years, has made her home principally with this last named daughter, but was visiting at the home of Mrs. Kirk, when death came.

Rev. W. K. Johnson, of Lubbock, officiated at the simple funeral service at the Rock House and also at the graveside. Rev. J. L. Henson, of this city, and Rev. J. C. Scott, of Crosbyton, assisted in the services. Friends and neighbors of the family served as pallbearers.

Revival Meeting Gaining Headway at Tabernacle

The revival meeting being conducted at the City Park Tabernacle, with Rev. C. E. Eskridge, pastor of the First Baptist Church in the pulpit, is gaining headway this mid-week.

Opening services Sunday were well attended and Sunday night's crowd was particularly good. Tuesday night's service was dismissed early on account of threatening storm.

T. D. Carroll, of Fort Worth, is leading the song service, with a large choir.

Morning services are to be held at 10:30 o'clock on week-days, evening services begin at 8:30 week-days and Sunday. Sunday morning the service will begin at 11 o'clock.

The meeting will continue all of next week.

A petition formulated by Ministers F. L. Davis, J. J. Day, J. L. Henson and G. P. Humphries and signed generally this morning by retail establishments, announces that the stores signing will be closed from 10:30 to 11:30 each week-day morning next week for the meeting.

The petition reads as follows: "In order to promote a better spirit of co-operation in the Cause of Christ in our community, we do hereby ask the stores to close for one hour each morning from 10:30 to 11:30 during the Baptist Revival now in progress, from Monday, June 15th, to Friday, June 19th. It is understood that if all stores will not sign this request that it is binding on no one."

The committee, because of limited time, did not get to see all the retail establishments, but expressed the belief that The Hesperian office that they would have full co-operation from every store. The following signatures were obtained, every proprietor requested, signing without exception: Woody Drug Co., Wilson Kimble, J. W. Jones, T. C. Russell's Store, C. Surginer & Son, B. B. King, Kirk & Sons, Higginbotham-Bartlett Co., Floydada Grocery, Willson & Son Lumber Co., C. R. Houston Company, Martin Dry Goods Co., Floyd County National Bank, Stansell & Collins, Borum Hardware, F. C. Harmon, Wilson Studio, B. & A. Drugs, Star Cash Grocery, Floydada Variety Store, Dooley Bros., Brown Bros., Baker-Campbell Co., C. P. Looper & Co., Floydada Drug Company, Hopkins & Fry, Seale-Robbins Dry Goods Co., Hassen Company, Floyd County Lumber Co., J. C. Woodruff Lumber Co., Rutledge & Co., Glad Snodgrass, City Market, First National Bank.

W. D. SANDERS, FATHER OF H. S. SANDERS, IS DEAD

W. D. Sanders, 69, died Tuesday morning at 5 o'clock in a sanitarium at Savannah, Mo., while at a sanitarium in an effort to regain his health. He is the father of H. S. Sanders, of this city, a wire Tuesday telling the son here of his father's demise.

The body was shipped from St. Joseph, Mo., Tuesday night, and is expected to reach Floydada tomorrow about noon. Funeral arrangements announced this morning set the hour for the funeral at 3 p. m. tomorrow afternoon at the Methodist Church.

Mrs. W. D. Sanders and all the children are expected to be here for the funeral. Mrs. Sanders and two daughters, Messdames W. O. Osterdock, of Raton, N. Mex., and Walter Egbert, of Brownwood, will arrive from Raton probably today, in company with Curg Sanders, who is making his home at present at Raton. Orin Sanders, another son, is expected today from Paris.

W. D. Sanders has been a resident of Texas for many years. He was a native of Mississippi, moving to Paris as a young man. Nearly two years ago he moved to Floydada and 9 months ago he bought a ranch near Happy, where he had been living until the condition of his health made it necessary for him to go to a sanitarium for treatment. It was not known by his family that his condition was so serious, a telegram as late as Monday advising that he was doing well.

Large Attendance at Co. Singing Convention

Many Counties Represented at Two Day Convention at Roseland.—Floydada Next Meeting Place

Many neighboring counties, as well as practically every community in Floyd County, were represented at the Floyd County Singing Convention at Roseland Saturday and Sunday, by singers or singing classes. The two-day session saw one of the largest gatherings at a singing convention ever held in this county.

Officers elected for the ensuing year are Price Scott, president; C. M. Lyles, vice-president; G. C. Tubbs, secretary-treasurer.

By unanimous vote of the convention it was decided that the public spreading of dinner on Sunday would be discontinued as a part of the convention program, and hereafter everyone will be expected to bring his own lunch. Visiting singers from other counties will be taken care of by a committee appointed for the purpose.

Representatives from the various counties of the plains country Sunday at noon got together and decided to organize a district singing convention to be comprised of 44 counties, and to be known as the Northwest Texas Singing Convention. The temporary organization effected has Prof. R. M. Morgan, temporary chairman; G. C. Tubbs, temporary secretary; and a committee to draft constitution and by-laws, select the time and place of meeting, etc., consisting of H. N. Estes, of Idalou; M. C. Pence, Post; Clide Burleson; Brownfield; H. A. Show, Tulsa and Earl Raper, Running-water, together with the temporary chairman and secretary.

The convention was one of the most enjoyed of any held in the county in recent years, visitors at Roseland declared.

The County Convention will meet at Floydada at its next annual session the first Sunday and Saturday before in June next year.

MRS. JACK CLOSE SELLS CITY VARIETY STORE

Mrs. Jack Close the latter part of last week sold the City Variety Store to Mrs. A. D. Summerville, and the latter took charge this week.

Mrs. Close plans to return to her former home in Illinois for awhile, after she completes closing up her business affairs here, probably leaving about July 1st.

Announce Notable Gift for Wayland College

Announcement was made this week of the consummation of a big gift to Wayland Baptist College, by Mrs. Jack Hefflin, of Plainview, as a memorial for her husband, who died recently.

The fund thus obtained, which is largely in the form of lands, will be used as a part of the fund for the construction of a girl's dormitory at Wayland to be known as Hefflin Memorial Hall.

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the College to be held on June 16th a drive will be launched to raise $50,000 to match the generous gift of Mrs. Hefflin to provide funds for the construction of the hall and to make other improvements at the school, according to J. Pat Horton, pastor of the Baptist Church at Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Kirk left yesterday for a trip of indefinite duration during which time they will visit at Marlin, and possibly Hot Springs, Ark., and other points.

Ball Team Will Have New Suits

Floydada's baseball team will be suited out in uniforms at an early date. Twelve firms Monday pledged to take care of the expense of purchasing the new suits.

The team has a wealth of good material for practically every position, and expect to have several games scheduled for the home fans at Floydada Baseball Park during the month of June.

The team will open its July schedule at home with a game each on July 3rd and 4th. Their opponents will be named soon. They will play the games on the 3rd and 4th under the auspices of McDermott Post, American Legion, which is staging the big picnic and barbecue celebration.

MARRIAGE RECORD

License to marry were issued during the past week from the office of Mrs. Clara Lee Scott, County Clerk, to:

Mr. Ernest Kendrick and Miss Dovie McKinney, June 6th;

Mr. G. G. Attaway and Miss Dora Stockings, June 6th.

Court Hears Talks on Jail Location

Commissioners Will Locate Jail on Corner of Courtyard as Planned. Linder's Bond Approved

Some forty business men of Floydada and a few farmers were represented in a delegation of property owners who Monday morning told the Commissioners' Court of their ideas of the proper location for the new jail the court is starting this week.

The greater proportion of the property owners were anxious to get the court to change their decision to construct the jail on the court house square, although there were also some who expressed the belief that the location of the jail on the square would better serve the general public than a location further from the square. Promise that a new location that would not cost the county any money was made by those who favored a change in the location, prominent among whom were R. F. Brown, C. Surginer, Thos. Montgomery, J. T. Kirk and J. M. Massie. Arguments that more room for protection of prisoners could be provided, less damage to the civic appearance done with smaller damage to adjacent property were the principal arguments of those who favored the change.

Although promising to give the arguments consideration E. C. Nelson, Jr., for the court, pointed out that any proposals for a change must be made quickly in order to avoid possible delay and consequent damage to builders in the construction of the jail building.

Among those in the delegation who made brief talks were W. A. Robbins, J. M. Massie, A. L. Bishop, Mrs. C. W. Mitchell, F. P. Henry, Col. Thos. Montgomery, J. T. Kirk, O. P. Rutledge, C. M. Martin, Kenneth Bain, Mrs. Jno. N. Farris, J. E. Stephens, W. U. White, T. P. Collins, C. Surginer, T. R. Webb, T. S. Stevenson, J. M. Hughes, Glad Snodgrass and J. F. Roberts.

The court Tuesday afternoon announced that the plan to construct the jail on the northeast corner of the courtyard would be followed. A definite proposal for a change in location that would not entail further delay, was not made by the committee which the citizens named to obtain the site to propose to the court, because of the limited time available for the purpose. The jail building will be surrounded on all sides by trees, will be of excellent architectural design, and some members of the court expressed the belief that it would not affect property values adjacent as much as was believed by some of the property owners.

Before their adjournment the court approved the bond of Geo. A. Linder as licensed state surveyor, approved the quarterly reports of the district and county clerk and the monthly report of the county treasurer.

Several road matters were considered in the two-day session and two or three juries of view appointed. Among these was a jury of view to view out the proposed Bloodworth-Lloyd-Hines Road, which extends slightly over a mile on the south of the Bloodworth and Lloyd lands, near Joe Bailey.

The salary of District Court official stenographers in Texas was raised by the last legislature, and the court passed an order raising the salary of the stenographer in this county to comply with the new statute. The raise was from $150 to $175 per month, and Floyd County's part of the District Court stenographer salary is now $39.78 per month.

RAINS COVER PORTIONS COUNTY SATURDAY, TUESDAY

Rains Saturday night of last week and Tuesday night of this week, covered portions of Floyd County with a half inch to an inch of rain, and giving all sections a nice "cotton shower."

Saturday night's rain at Floydada was about a quarter of an inch. At Aiken the rain Saturday night was probably an inch or more. East of Floydada probably a half inch fell around Campbell and slightly more around Fairview.

Excursion Trip Dates About June 25-26

Dates for the excursion trip of Floydada business boosters, who will also tell of the big time expected in Floydada at the big American Legion Celebration and Barbecue on July 3rd and 4th, are about June 25th and 26th. Glad Snodgrass and Frank L. Moore were appointed by the American Legion steering committee to work out the details of the trip, and have the details of it in charge.

The Ralls Band will make the trip with the excursionists, who will cover an itinerary which will be mapped out at an early date.

Advance preparations for the financing of the barbecue and celebration are well under way. The finance committee, which is headed by J. V. Daniel, Roy L. Snodgrass, T. R. Webb, Jas. K. Green, and O. L. Stansell, have obtained pledges of financial support that give assurance of a well-financed celebration if all the prospects yet to be seen are as liberal as those who have already pledged aid.

This feature of the advance plans will be completed at an early date. T. F. Collins, who heads the steering committee, with L. G. Matthews and C. H. Davis as co-workers, said Wednesday that all indications point to a well-balanced program this year. The Defense Day program will be made a part of a monster parade on the morning of the 4th of July, according to tentative plans now being made. Other features are also being worked out in regular meetings of the committee.

BOYS ARE STILL TALKING REVIVAL OF THE BAND

Continued interest is being manifested in the organization of the band in Floydada, several of the boys and men who are prospective members being present at a meeting with C. W. Beene, director of the Ralls Band, at a meeting Monday night, when the members who already play were put through their paces by director Beene.

C. of C. Says Need More Homes in Contest

Urges Greater Interest in Beautiful Homes Contest Among Residents of City

"The Chamber of Commerce is very anxious to see a large number of entries in the 'Beautiful Homes Contest' now being conducted by the Floyd County Hesperian," O. P. Rutledge, secretary of the organization said Tuesday. "This contest met with such favor last year that the executive committee encouraged The Hesperian to put it on again this year, and I felt sure there would be many more homes entered, as we have had many new homes built in the past twelve months, trees and yards are much improved, and competition is expected to be much keener."

Continuing Mr. Rutledge said: "This contest is put on for the express purpose of encouraging the beautifying of our town, making it a cleaner and more desirable place to live, and it is not necessary that the homes entered be expensive places, or that they belong to the entrants, as the score card provides for both rented and owned homes. The score card as arranged, provides a liberal allowance for cleanliness of the premises, both back and front, as well as trees, lawn, painting and improvements and general attractiveness, and it would be very gratifying to see every home in Floydada entered."

"From a standpoint of public health, the time that might be spent on your home to qualify it for judging would be a good investment, even tho it did not even receive favorable mention, and nearly every resident of Floydada can find time to spend an hour every day making their home, whether owned or rented, a more attractive place to live."

"If you do not have an entry blank phone the Hesperian or the Chamber of Commerce, and you will receive one promptly. The judging will be done between July 15th and August tenth."

Examining trial is set for tomorrow in County Judge E. C. Nelson's court on charges filed Sunday morning by Sheriff J. R. Maddox against W. C. Gaither and Paul Foster, who in a fight Saturday night in Floydada seriously injured each other. Judge E. C. Nelson, as acting magistrate, set the bonds of each at $1500 pending the examining trial.

In the fight Saturday night Gaither sustained a severe blow across the side of the head, which cut a gash that required several stitches to close. An x-ray of the wound Sunday indicated that no fracture of the skull was apparent. Foster was cut in the abdomen, the knife entering the lower extremity of the stomach, causing serious bleeding and vomiting. His condition was grave for several hours, but he is believed to be recovering at this time and unless complications arise, will soon be out of the sanitarium, where he was taken following his injury.

J. M. Massie has been in Amarillo since Tuesday as a witness in Federal District Court.

C. H. Owen and family leave this week for a trip downstate, planning to visit at Paris during their absence.

Brighter Prospect for Crops Are Reported

Prospects for a good row crop in Floyd County improved over the week, planting and cultivating both continuing unabated, with a week of more favorable weather. Crops which have been cleaned out show a wonderful growth in the week. Plantings for the most part are coming up good.

From every direction better stands of all kinds of crops than usual are reported, and although the crop is one to four weeks later than usual at this time of the year the prospects are flattering, if favorable weather continues through the growing season.

While planting has stopped in fields where a heavy acreage was planned, and weeds sapped the moisture before the planters could get to them, this ground is being put in good condition, with intentions of planting to row feeds this season or summer fallowing for wheat this fall.

Two rains have fallen during the period since last mid-week, covering probably half the county with light to heavy rain, the northwest portion reporting the heaviest downpours.

12 Gallon Liquor Haul Is Made

Some good, hardworking bootlegger is shy a lot of good corn whiskey and Sheriff J. R. Maddox, county's custodian, has some more liquor to look after! 12 gallons and a quart in 25 half-gallon jars and one quart jar is the total the bootlegger is out that was checked in at Floydada late Wednesday by the sheriff. The jars are level full and the liquor is evidently double-run because it is crystal clear and looks good.

Sheriff Maddox, Deputy Bod Smith, City Marshal G. R. Strickland and Night Watchman Lee Howard reached town with the liquor in tow Wednesday evening about 7 o'clock. It was discovered in a cache in Floyd County but the place was not given out. A still was uncovered Tuesday that may have been the source of the haul made Wednesday, but this was not vouchsafed as a fact by Mr. Maddox. Nor was there any indication as to whether any arrests would likely follow.

Interested Farmers Hear "Better Wheat" Talks

Santa Fe and A. & M. Speakers Discuss Economical Production of Wheat in Plains Section

The Santa Fe "Better Wheat Special" in co-operation with the Texas A. and M. College and the Southwestern Wheat Improvement Association, visited Floydada Monday afternoon June 8.

There was a good turn-out of interested farmers at the meeting in the court house.

J. D. Tinsley, General Agricultural Agent of the Santa Fe in charge of this campaign, said the purpose of the campaign was to encourage better farming and the raising of wheat of better quality and more bushels to the acre. There were two ways the farmer could increase his income, one through better marketing and the other through more economical production. There had been greater interest developed in better production the past year and the plains country could benefit by this plan. The better balance that is obtained in the crop system the better will this country develop. The plains is fortunate in being able to produce several money crops, including wheat, cotton, and the sorghum grains. These should be grown in rotation in combination with live stock to obtain satisfactory results.

H. M. Bainer, director of the Southwestern Wheat Improvement Association, discussed preparation of land for wheat and rotation of crops. He advocates early preparation of land for wheat. In the case of wheat every year the land should be plowed or listed early and kept free from weeds until seeding time. He also is strong for summer fallow or as some call it summer tillage of wheat land. He also advocates a program of rotation, wheat the first year, some feed crop or cotton the second year, and summer fallow the third year. Another plan that has worked out well is planting row crops in wide rows seven feet apart. With the crop kept clean the wheat may be sown between the rows successfully. Mr. Bainer lays stress on the point that in this country it is important to conserve moisture. The land must be worked to provide storage for moisture. All weeds must be destroyed as they use up much storage. One large weed will use up at least a barrel of water. He advises that all work on land for wheat be done to meet conditions in dry years and the good years will benefit by this extra cultivation of the land. Rotation is necessary as land devoted to one crop year after year will run out and the production decrease. Soil fertility must also have attention. No country is fertile enough that in time it will not wear out.

A. H. Leidigh, assistant director of the Texas Experiment station, discussed wheat varieties, what constitutes good seed, and means of control of smut. He also devoted time to the subject.

ASSAULT TO MURDER CHARGES FILED AGAINST TWO

Plan to Open New Bank at Lockney Soon

Carl McAdams and John C. Broyles Heading Group Which Will Apply for State Bank Charter

Carl McAdams and John C. Broyles, of Lockney are heading a group of farmers and business men of that section of the county, who are making their plans to open a new bank at Lockney. Application for the charter will be made this week, probably, according to Mr. McAdams. They have had every encouragement from the banking department and from other bankers over the territory, as well as from the First National Bank at Lockney. A. B. Brown, president of that bank, is being quoted as believing the new bank planned is a necessity.

Messrs. McAdams and Broyles were in Floydada Monday of this week transacting business in connection with their plans. "We are negotiating for the building and fixtures of the former Lockney State Bank. We feel sure that we will buy these and if we do we expect to have our new bank going possibly in 30 days," Mr. McAdams said while here.

Several business men and farmers are interested in the project, and if their plans mature and the new bank is established, it is expected to do well from the beginning. Both McAdams and Broyles are widely known over the county, and have had much banking experience, as officials and directors of The First National Bank at Lockney, with which institution they severed relations June 1st to undertake the new business.

Would Form Two Bull Circles in County

Field Representative Jersey Cattle Club Says Will Aid to Make Owners Independent.

D. T. Simons, field representative of the Texas and National Jersey Cattle Clubs, who was in Floydada last week in company with E. W. Thomas county agent of Hale County, looking over two of the Guy Jersey bulls, which have been in this territory some 18 months on lease, was back again Tuesday and Wednesday of this week on the survey of this county. He and Mr. Thomas bought the two bulls and have shipped them to Hale County, farmers who have formed bull circles and are raising the standard of their dairy stock.

By means of the bull circles, Mr. Simons explained, usually formed with a maximum of four members, the member buys a fourth interest each in four bulls instead of one bull which he would own in fee, and as a result gets the use of four bulls eight years for the price of one bull, the services of which he would get only two years. Floyd County has lost at least four of the best bulls in this section during the past two years which could have been kept here by means of the circles which Mr. Simons would organize. Hale and Swisher Counties in particular have been remarkably successful in raising the standard of their herds by means of the circle idea.

Mr. Simons spent Tuesday and Wednesday with County Agent T. Scott Wilson over the county, and expects to form at least two circles in the county. He feels sure a circle will be formed by farmers in the immediate territory around Floydada.

"I am not advocating that every farmer go into the dairy business," Mr. Simons said to a Hesperian reporter Wednesday morning. "What I am advocating is that every farmer milk enough first class dairy cattle to balance his farming operations. This business is making other wheat and cotton farmers independent. It had as well do as much for Floyd County farmers. The average butter fat production per cow in Texas is 90 pounds. This barely pays expenses of the cow. The average can be raised to 350 pounds of butter fat per year per cow and make the owners a lot of money. Incidentally, to show you what a wheat and cotton farmer can do with

Lockney, Floydada Play Ball This Afternoon

Baseball teams of Floydada and Lockney will play ball at Floydada Baseball Park this afternoon, beginning at 4 o'clock, a return game for one played yesterday afternoon at Lockney.

In yesterday's game the local boys won 4 to 0. It was the first game of the season between the two teams. Neither had had much practice but both played good baseball.

Smitherman and Hicks were batteriers for Lockney, Abbott and Curry for Floydada.

A marked revival of baseball interest has been noted locally this spring, and several firms of the town have contributed to a fund to buy suits for the team. These suits should be here at an early date.

Fans may anticipate a good contest this afternoon, and those who would like to see a team of local boys continue playing through the season should be out and support the team with their admission fees, the boys declare.

LEADS IN PER CENTAGE OF HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

Figures compiled for fifty cities and towns of Texas and New Mexico by the Amarillo Daily News, which that newspaper vouches for as being substantially correct, give Floydada the lead again in 1925 in the per centage of high school graduates to population. This lead Floydada held also in 1924.

According to the News "the record that the smaller cities are making a far better record in the per centage of high school graduates to the total population. One thing that makes this fact so noticeable may be that rural students attend the smaller schools, forming a larger per centage of the student body."

Commenting on the lead held by Floydada, The News says:

"These figures on the high school graduates are worthy of considerable study, not only by school people, but by patrons. It is a distinction to have a large percentage of high school graduates, and this does not just come about. Floyd County is noted for having more students in West Texas State Teachers' College outside of Randall than any other Panhandle county. This interest in higher education may be one factor that keeps Floydada with such a good record."

HERE'S SOMETHING ELSE

About the commonest complaint one hears in any agricultural county is that farm machinery is too high.

Here is a comparison that forms food for thought: the pound price of farm machines is 12 cents, of the steel range 14½ cents, of the hand washing machine 16½ cents, of the steel bed 17½ cents, of the vise in the farmers' blacksmith outfit 22½ cents, of the clothes wringer 25 cents and of the cheapest automobile 25 cents.

Another thing: practically every basic American industry has tariff protection. There has been no tariff protection on farm implements in 30 years. Farmers all over the world are buying American-made implements at higher prices than Americans pay for them because the American-made implements are better and no higher than foreign competition.

Another interesting thing: Farmers who last year spent 315 million dollars for new implements, spent 950 million dollars for automobiles.

Henry Ford's industrial enterprise continues to be the wonder of the century. The latest item we have seen, which furnishes food for thought, is that 31 hours and 8 minutes after a boat unloads iron ore at the River Rouge docks the iron has been not only transformed into steel from the raw product, but has been manufactured into a part for a Fordson tractor and has been assembled into a tractor. More than 160,000 people work in one capacity or another for Henry Ford's organization, besides the dealers, who are not counted as on the payroll.

Floyd County public schools have a very pretty compliment paid them annually when the crop of boys and girls who leave the public schools start to college or university. Floyd County schools are putting it in the minds of the youth that development, study, are necessary to greater success for the future, whatever the calling may be. Find a successful lawyer, doctor, farmer, merchant or what not. He is a straight thinker. Unsuccessful men, except in rare instances, are men who can't reason a thing out to its conclusion. Boys and girls who are trained to think straight have a better opportunity in life than boys and girls who are not trained to think. There are enough exceptions to these dogmatic statements to prove them.

Tourist travel is proving itself as worth a great deal to Floydada. Travel over the Lee Highway, a transcontinental line, will make Floydada a point on a cross-continental route that will be used the year-round. Floydada people must realize that support for this big enterprise, which is being promoted on a high plane and on a strictly honest basis, should be given. America is turning to its highways for travel. Lee Highway was instrumental in getting Highway No. 28 designated within the "seven per cent system." Lee Highway is entitled to support from Floydada.

Thousands of farmers and teams and one and two row farming implements have been planting and killing weeds in Floyd County the past two weeks. And it begins to look like the farmer is going to win over the weeds that threatened to take his crops. A ride over the territory during the past week indicates that, generally speaking, the conditions are not as bad as they have been painted. In fact, the country looks mighty good and will have a wonderful row crop, if conditions are not altogether unfavorable for the remainder of the growing season.

Arthur Brisbane, editorial writer for Hearst's newspapers, writes freely about any subject whatsoever he may choose. His most pointed remarks recently are pointed at Bryan and others who are leading the anti-evolution fighters. Mr. Brisbane thinks Mr. Bryan is trying to curb thinking, a thing that it will be difficult for him to do. Mr. Brisbane gives comfort to the evolutionists but not exactly in the form they would like to have it. He is "his own fool," as has been expressed in apter words by Col. Henry Watterson, deceased.

Substantial development in a business way is in progress in Floydada all the time. Floydada hasn't been a boom town in recent years, but it has been a substantially building town all the while. Floydada is a good town to tie to. Build in, invest in, and work for Floydada. Somebody else is not going to build your town for you.

Benjamin Franklin said: "Kop thy shop and thy shop will keep thee." Had he lived in more recent years he would have expressed it: "Tend to your business and it will make you a living."

It's getting easier and easier all the time to build a home in Floydada, especially to finance building. Floydada needs more good homes, with their owners in them.

FIRE FACTS

The fire fiend is no respecter of persons.

In fire prevention every man is his brother's keeper.

A home fire means personal danger and loss of priceless articles while in progress, and homelessness afterwards.

A factory fire brings loss of property and business to its owners and loss of wages and sometimes loss of life to its employees.

The merchant who values his trade cannot afford a fire. Disruption of business and loss of customers are serious considerations.

Safety of school children is a paramount responsibility of all. Inspect school houses frequently as a safeguard against fire and panic.

London, England, has 1500 firemen; New York City has 6,000. England practices fire prevention at small cost; America practices fire extinguishment at heavy expense.

LACK OF ADVERTISING KILLED THEIR TRADE

E. L. Murdock, proprietor of Murdock Bros., for 18 years a leading ladies' ready-to-wear store in Campaign, Ill., declares that the chief reason for the recent failure of his business was due to his giving up newspaper advertising. He said in a signed letter in the Campaign News-Gazette:

"Another contributing cause, and perhaps the greatest contributing cause, is the fact that four years ago our firm, because we thought the rate was too high, withheld all advertising in the newspapers.

"For two years we were without proper means of getting messages about our store into the homes of our friends and buyers. The result was that they soon forgot us. We tried other forms of advertising to supplant the newspapers, but we found none that was effective. Our business continued on the downward grade.

"After two years we saw the error of staying out of the papers. Arrangements were made again with the papers to carry Murdock Bros. advertising into the homes of the community. The business began to thrive—but it was too late. Seemingly our friends had forgotten about us. The fault was ours. For too long a time we had failed to remind them about the splendid merchandise and values in our store.—The U. S. Publisher.

STRANGE DENIZENS OF THE SARGASSO SEA

The facts about the Sargasso Sea are more wonderful than fiction, writes Roy Waldo Miner, curator of the America Museum of National History, in an article entitled "What is the Sargasso Sea?" in the Mentor Magazine.

Several million years ago, according to geologists, when North and South America were not yet connected and Europe was an archipelago, a great oceanic current swept around the world in the neighborhood of the equator. This girdle-like stream was due to the western blowing trade winds caused by the rotation of the earth. In the course of time the Isthmus of Panama rose from the sea bottom, uniting the two Americas, while the various parts of the Old World joined to form the Eastern continent as we see it today. The great equatorial current, thus blocked on its western sweep through the Atlantic, split on the coast of South America into two streams, one moving south and the other north. The north equatorial current, swept back eastward toward the coast of Africa, formed a great loop which completed the circle by again joining the western equatorial current.

The branchlets of the graceful sargasso weed shelter hosts of swimming, floating, clinging creatures of strange shape and habits. Shrimp, crabs, mollusks, sea spiders with spiny outgrowths and colored to imitate the weed, hide among its leaflets. If a branch of the weed is allowed to expand in a large jar of sea water its grace and beauty become apparent. At first sight it appears empty of all animal life, but, if shaken, in the words of Agassiz, "hundreds of many-colored denizens are seen rushing about in all directions, eager to return to the particular spot best adapted to conceal them; and in a few minutes only the practiced eye of the naturalist can detect their presence."

There is a remarkable nest-building fish, the "marbled angler" of brown and yellow coloration, blending exactly with the gulfweed, and weaving gelatinous strings of egg clusters into the plant growth with its spiny hand-like fins. Its nest contains thousands of eggs.

The weed is so full of animal life of all sorts that it is visited by larger fish swimming up from below to feast upon its abundance. The inhabitants of the Sargossum not thus devoured eventually die, and their bodies continually rain down into the deep waters below, where the strangest creatures of all dwell in eternal darkness, thousands of fathoms below the surface. Here fish with enormous heads and absurdly short bodies open wide mouths armed with needlelike teeth and engulf all that come within reach. Others are long and eel-shaped with varicolored phosphorescent lights upon the sides of their bodies that illuminate the Stygian darkness in which they live. These creatures also prey upon each other. Some have a jointed rod projecting over the head like a fishing pole, with a phosphorescent torch at the end.

Far from being the region of dread pictured by the medieval mariner, the Sargasso Sea is, for the naturalist, a paradise of strange and fascinating rewards.

The population of the United States was fifty million in 1882 and the fire loss was eighty million dollars. In 1923 the population was 110 millions and the fire loss was 500 million. Thus in 41 years our per capita fire waste was increased about 300 per cent.

The first cheese factory in Wisconsin was erected at Ladoga in 1846.

Peat in the United States is used more for fertilizer and stock food than for fuel, as in Europe.

Canute the Dane, a king of the Middle Ages, rarely appeared in public without a train of 3,000 horsemen, well mounted and completely armed.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Bids will be received at the office of Price Scott, County Superintendent of Public Instruction of Floyd County, Texas, up until one o'clock P. M. June 13th, 1925, for the construction of a modern school building consisting of four class rooms, halls and auditorium, to be constructed of brick and tile, as per complete plans and specifications on file in the office of the County Superintendent of Floyd County, Texas, and in the office of the architect, Peters & Haynes, Lubbock, Texas.

A certified check in the sum of $100.00 will be required with each bid, to guarantee that the successful bidder will enter into a good and sufficient bond within 15 days from the letting in the sum of fifty per cent of the contract price, to be approved by the County Superintendent and local school board of McCoy District No. 16 of Floyd County, Texas.

Campbell News

Campbell, June 8.—We had the biggest crowd at Sunday School yesterday morning, more than we have had for months. At the morning service we had Brother Harbiston with us but Brother Sherman from Wayland College who visited the community preached the morning service. At the evening service we had a full house and Brother Harbiston did the preaching.

Several from Campbell attended the Singing Convention at Roseland yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lyles and family and Misses Blanche and Meryl Ramsey, Mr. and Mrs. Glover and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rainer and family, and Miss Bernice Tinnin went in a party with Mr. and Mrs. Sparks and family from Center. All report a wonderful and inspiring time. More of us wish that we could have attended, too.

We had a timely shower on Saturday night that is going to help bring up the stuff just recently planted and help materially what is already up. Have a rain every week on Saturday night and have it dry enough on Monday to go to work and we sure will make crops.

Brother Harbiston and his guest, Brother Sherman from Plainview ate dinner with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bethel in the evening. They had supper with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Tinnin.

Miss Eura Horn leaves this morning to attend the summer session at Canyon Normal. She expects to be away from home a little over two months. Mr. and Mrs. Barclay Chestnut entertained Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Tinnin and family at dinner yesterday. Mrs. Chestnut who has been very ill until recently is very much better in health.

Miss Emily Reller of Hamilton who has been visiting her aunt, for the past week left for her home early this morning. Mrs. J. E. Smith of Hamilton, sister of Mrs. Ashton who has been visiting for the past week with her is at present visiting other relatives in Lakeview.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith are entertaining several of their relatives at present. The Misses Celia Jo and Ruth Crandell of Bailey, nieces, and Mrs. Ed Hodge of Fort Worth, sister of Mr. Smith, are visiting in their home. Mrs. Ed Hodge will leave for her home in Fort Worth the early part of this week.

Misses Meryl and Blanche Ramsey of Amarillo were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lyles over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts are entertaining visitors this week. Paul Foster, brother of Mrs. Andy Jackson, is at present in the Sanitarium seriously ill.

WORK AND OLD AGE

Would you live to a ripe old age and achieve distinction? Then work hard. Many of the world's greatest statesmen, financiers, scientists and writers passed the allotted three-score years and ten through the formula of emitting toil. Benjamin Franklin assisted in revising the constitution when past 80. Titian painted until he was nearly 100. Goethe finished the best part of "Faust" after 70 and Gladstone could thrill the House of Commons at 80. William Cullen Bryant died in full vigor in the harness at 84. Hippocrates, the "father of medicine" lived to be 100 and Milton wrote "Paradise Lost" when past the limit Oslar set for chloroforming the average man. While many think our presidents die young, statistics show their average is 67.3 years. This does not include Coolidge and Taft, the only two living men who have occupied the White House. The average age of our president at inauguration is 55. Seventy is young for American financiers, Russell Sage was active at 90, Levi P. Morton at 96, Cornelius Vanderbilt at 83, the elder Pierpont Morgan at 76, and Andrew Carnegie at 82, John D. Rockefeller is vigorous at 84, Henry Ford is in his early manhood although past 60.—Exchange.

HIGGINBOTHAM-BARTLETT CO. EMPLOYEES GIVEN PROMOTION

Two promotions were made in the Higginbotham-Bartlett Company list of employes this week, which will be effective at once.

G. A. Barton, who has been assistant manager and bookkeeper here, was checked in yesterday morning at the Lockney yard of the company to succeed G. A. Thomas, who, in turn, will check in soon as manager of the Lamesa Yard, which is one of the best yards on the plains.

James Bartlett, of Dallas, son of C. W. Bartlett of the firm, will assist manager Ralls in the local yard this summer.

Tuesday C. W. Bartlett, general manager of the company, was here in company with L. C. Tatum, of Sweetwater, and Mr. Thomas of Lockney, visiting the local yard.

"SAFETY FIRST" ABANDONED BY P. T. C. SOCIETY

When the P. T. C. Society of Sand Hill had to cancel their engagement to present their play, "Safety First" in Floydada Friday night, the play was abandoned and no effort will be made to stage it again, it was stated by Ed Holmes, president of the society.

Friday night's engagement was cancelled on account of the illness of Mrs. O. S. Miller, who was one of the principal characters.

Several members of the cast will be absent or too busily engaged in other work during the remainder of this season, Mr. Holmes said, to attempt to repeat the play.

"FLYING WEATHER" FORECASTS BASED ON BALLOONS

The establishment of a regular pilot balloon station at Memphis, Tenn., and another at Curacao, Dutch West Indies, through cooperation with the Dutch Government, are the only recent expansions of the aerological investigation division of the Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture. Both kite and pilot balloon observations are made regularly at Broken Arrow, Okla., Drexel, Nebr.; Due West, S. C.; Ellendale, N. Dak.; Groesbeck, Tex.; and Royal Center, Ind. Kite flights are made daily wherever possible. In addition, when conditions are favorable, continuous series of flights are made for periods of 24 and 36 hours. The altitudes reached average 3,000 meters above sea level, but many reach 5,000 meters or higher. Records of air pressure, temperature, humidity, and wind are thus obtained.

Morning and afternoon observations are made at these six stations by means of pilot balloons and at Key West, Fla., and Washington, D. C. Other observations are made in Vermont, Colorado, New York, Michigan, Wisconsin, Tennessee, California and San Juan, P. R. From these observations the wind conditions at various heights are telegraphed to district forecast centers at Washington, Chicago, and San Francisco, where they form the basis for "Flying weather" forecasts issued to the military, naval and postal aviation services. Special observations are made and telegraphed when requested for use in connection with long-distance airplane flights, free-balloon races, and other needs. Active cooperation is maintained with the Army and Navy meteorological services, which also maintain a number of pilot balloon stations.

Brazil occupies more than half the South American continent.

Blanco News

Blanco, June 9.—A light shower fell over this part of the country Saturday night, which will aid growing vegetation of all kinds.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Simpson entertained several friends and neighbors with an ice cream social Saturday night.

We are glad to report little Miss Edwena Christian, who has been in a sanitarium at Lubbock for treatment, to have recovered enough to be able to return home without having an operation.

Mrs. Butler, of Electra, spent last Tuesday night and Wednesday with Mrs. J. W. Haney.

Miss Maude Shepherd, after spending the week with her aunt, Mrs. Will Snell, left for Canyon Sunday afternoon to enter school Monday.

Mrs. L. T. Bishop and little son, James Thurmond, and sister, Miss Pernie Badgett, of Whitewright, spent last Tuesday in the home of D. R. Badgett.

Several from this community attended the Laymen's Meeting of the Plainview District at Petersburg last Sunday. J. D. Christian is remodeling his home by adding more room. Dr. Massie, of Wichita Falls, who now owns the Mrs. Nora E. Jones Ranch, has two tractors at work breaking up pasture land to put in cultivation another year.

METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday at 11 o'clock, the pastor's theme will be: "God, His Nature and Purpose in Redemption." The Quartet will sing at this service.

Our Sunday School will meet at 9:45 with J. V. Daniel, Supt., in charge. We will worship with our Baptist Brethren at the Auditorium Sunday evening. Let me urge the Methodist people to attend and pray for the Baptist Meeting.

The Sermon on the Mount was not the greatest thing Jesus gave to the world—Great as that was. Christ's Greatest gift to the world was a Life steeped in the Spirit of The God He came to reveal. That alone made the Sermon on the Mount possible. The Acts of The Apostles had their seat in Christ-like hearts before they were ever put into The Book. The purpose of "Sound Doctrine" is that it may be translated into Life.

The New Baptist Pastor will help you to "Lay Hold on Eternal Life." Hear him and pray for him. The services of the Baptist Revival Meeting are held at the City Auditorium, from 10 to 11 every morning except Sunday when the service is at 11 o'clock and at 8:30 p. m.

I urge the Methodists to so plan their work as to be able to attend these meetings.

LIKES HESPERIAN WHILE CROSS WORD PUZZLES LAST

Mrs. C. M. Wilson, of Miladye's Shop, likes the Hesperian as long as the cross word puzzles last. Last week's puzzle she particularly liked. One word only she lacked of working it, and she has it laid away for another half-hour study the first opportunity.

Mrs. Wilson is another cross word puzzle fan, who likes them neither too awful hard nor too easy.

The present series are very interesting to those who like a good puzzle.

Some Things to Ask About Investments

A lot of advice is handed about how to invest safely. Most of it is well-intentioned and sound, but the trouble with a good deal of it is that no one but an experienced investor can understand it fully—and he doesn't need it. To get down to plain, common sense facts, here is a working list of questions to ask the stranger who wishes to make you rich quick:

"Who are you? Who are the officers and directors of the firm you represent? Who are the officers and directors of the company whose securities you are trying to sell? What is their record as to managing ability and honesty? How long has this company been in business? Show me its balance sheets. Balance sheets contain a list of all the company owns and owes and the form of those assets and liabilities. I need it to determine whether the company owns anything worth investing in."

"Show me several of your monthly or annual earnings' statements. I need to know what the business has earned in the past that I may have some idea of what it may possibly earn in the future. If it has not earned anything in the past, how can you or anyone else know that it will earn anything in the future?"

"Show me recommendations from banks and other well-known reputable institutions that say you and your corporation are reliable. No, I don't want a bank recommendation that says: 'Our business with Blank-Blank & Co., has always been satisfactory.' It's got to be more than that. If you keep a deposit in a bank, and are always painstaking in your relations with that bank, the bank is compelled by that fact to say that your business with it is satisfactory. I want recommendations that say this corporation is honest and capable, and that you and your firm are honest and capable stock dealers."

Get the stranger's replies in writing. If he represents an honest, responsible business, he will be glad to prove it. If he can't prove it, don't invest with him.

GERMAN VILLAGE SOLVES FLAG DISPLAY PROBLEM

Gross-Solschen, Germany.—This little village has hit upon a novel idea for maintaining neutrality in the display of national colors as the occasion demands. The official flags and banners of the village have been ordered made in strips of four colors—black, red, gold and white—with snap fasteners attached so that any combination of colors is readily possible.

If the official republican flag is to be displayed the white strip can be covered, leaving the black, red and gold exposed to view. If a monarchistic organization wishes to hold a festival the gold can be made to disappear, leaving the imperial black, white and red. When occasions demand display of the Prussian state flag the snap fasteners can be brought into play to show only the black and white strips.

CHICKEN THIEVES PICKING THE LAYERS ONLY NOW

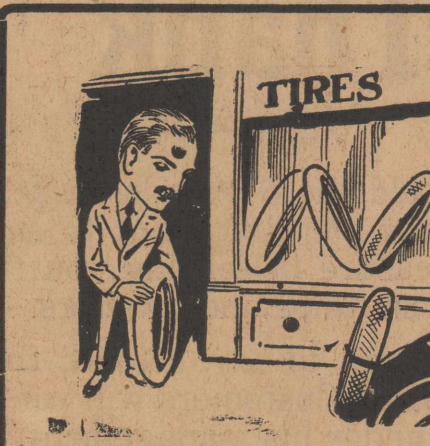

Several nights ago thieves entered the chicken house of Mrs. Roman S. Moore, and stole almost all of her hens. "The first I noticed of something being wrong," said Mrs. Moore, "was when I went to look for eggs, and found none. I went down to the lot and did not see a chicken. I explored further and found they had gotten every laying hen. Just those sitting and with chickens were all that were left."

Probably the same night they also stole about the same number of hens from Mrs. Roe Jones who lives near Mrs. Moore.

Start your vacation on new tires

Road heat and friction on long drives will soon put those old tires out of commission, and give you a lot of "grief" and trouble. A good way to avoid this trouble will be to get

New Silvertown Cords all the way round and a spare

And you'll be free from tire trouble on all your trip and long after you get back home.

Advance purchases enable us to save you money. Although the rise in tire prices has already come, with more raises in prospect, we are prepared to take care of your needs for the present at the same old prices.

FIRST MAP OF TEXAS

In the possession of the University of Texas is a map made almost one hundred years ago by Stephen F. Austin, which was probably the first map ever made of Texas. This map was given to the University as a part of the Austin papers by Guy M. Bryan grandson of Moses Austin. The donation forms a part of the Texas manuscript collection, which is preserved in the archives of the library.

The map was made in 1829, and contains all the rivers and most of the larger streams in Texas. Heavily timbered districts, plains and regions containing iron and salt deposits are marked on the map. In Southwest Texas, Austin made the notation: "Prickly pear and thorny shrubs." Near the Mexican border he wrote: "Huge herds of wild horses" and in the Panhandle, "Immense herds of buffalo." At one place in Central Texas he wrote, "Droves of wild cattle, horses and buffalo." Although it is not known how many people were in Texas at the time the map was made, it is known that nine years earlier, in 1820, the population of Texas was 2,000. Bexar now San Antonio, numbered 1,100, and La Habia had 900.

Salaries Can Make and Have Made Men Rich

Contrary to public opinion, more real money is made in investments by men and women who save patiently and select securities of established merit after careful investigation than by those individuals who trust their savings to hectic speculation or to strangers in the hope of sudden wealth. This truth was given example the other day by the death of an old employee of a nationally known manufacturing company, who passed away at the age of 80 years, leaving an estate valued at nearly $3,000,000.

A salaried man all his life, he had saved consistently and had put his savings into the securities of the company for which he worked, every year buying a little more. He knew something about this business in which he was investing his money, the policies and ability of its management, its earning power and the market for its product. What he could not learn from his own observations he learned by asking questions. He never bought stock on margin, never speculated. As the company prospered and his fortune grew, he branched out into other securities, but only after complete investigation had proved them sound and dependable.

The whole secret of this salaried man's becoming a millionaire is very simple. He found values and put his money into them, and he found values by looking for facts. As he was paid interest and dividends, he put that income and more savings from salary into more of the company's securities and others in which he found substantial value. Sound values and consistent saving built up his fortune. He never gambled on the stock market, bet on price changes or get-rich-quick schemes. He did what every man or woman of small modest income can and should do. He took no chances, but put his money into honest values.

BRYANT-LINK'S NEW BRICK STARTED AT PETERSBURG

L. D. McDaniel, who now lives three miles west of Petersburg, was in Floydada Tuesday on business and reports conditions good in and around Petersburg, with good crop indications. Farmers are getting the best of the weeds, for the most part, he said.

Petersburg is enjoying a substantial growth, Mr. McDaniel said. The newest addition will be the Bryant-Link brick building, for which foundation work is being started this week.

HOSTESS FOR PARTY

Miss Helen King was hostess for a party at her home on Thursday evening of last week. A very enjoyable evening was spent, playing various games and contests.

Delightful punch and cake were served to the following guests: Misses Mildred Carter, Georgie Lee Assiter, Lucile Meacham, Jewell Stribling, Frances Kinnard, Mavy Williams, Kate Stiles, Inez Paschal and Syble Coverington; Messrs. Bill Ginning, N. L. Ross, LeMond Moore, Gains Teeple, Bee Ginning, Oran Williams, Aubrey Stiles, Raymond Teeple, Wiley Pearce and Alpha King.

METHODIST CHURCH AT McCOY WILL BE REALITY SOON

The Methodist people of McCoy community are preparing to build a church. It will be remembered they had a cotton field last year with that in view.

The McCoy School House has been purchased and is being wrecked to work into the new church building. The building will be a 26x46 stucco house. L. B. Maxey, of Floydada, has the contract.

The finance and building committee which is composed of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Holmes, S. F. Smith, W. J. Berry, John G. Martin, Mrs. Will Snell and Rev. J. W. Dalton, are very thankful to each one who has in any way helped with their money or encouragement.

Radio Aerials Should Be Carefully Installed

Few people realize the menace to public safety occasioned by the existence of radio aerials installed by in-experienced persons. In point of fact throughout the country there are literally hundreds of accidents every week from this cause.

Without the knowledge or consent of the telephone or electric light company, radio aerials are frequently attached to their poles and strung in such a way as to involve possible contact with electric light and telephone wires. Improper and unwarranted construction of this sort endangers the users of telephones and the public. It is a condition the public service company is powerless to control, but if brought to its attention, it may be able to take steps which will lead to the prevention of serious accidents.

In view of these facts, we strongly urge every one to help us in this matter by reporting any and all instances coming to their notice of an aerial so constructed that it in any way crosses the telephone or electric light wires, or is in close proximity thereto, or is in any way attached to the poles of either the telephone or electric light company.

If you own or operate an aerial of your own, you are urged to inspect it carefully to see that it does not involve a danger to yourself, those dear to you or the public.

Any one constructing or maintaining an aerial which in any way causes injuries to persons may be held financially liable for damages which result.

WHY NOT FIRE PREVENTION?

In the days of hook and ladder companies and hand buckets to put out fires, little thought was given to fire prevention. How to put the fire out seemed to be the main consideration. The same state of mind existed in regard to contagious diseases, such as the plague, yellow fever, typhoid, diphtheria, the hook worm and malaria. For hundreds of years the only thought seemed to be the possibility of curing persons after the disease gained a foothold instead of prevent the disease from ever starting. Today the diseases mentioned have been practically eliminated by scientific preventive measures and through educational work advising the public how to control them.

So far as fires are concerned, however, our nation has staggered along blindly under its enormous annual fire loss with resulting death toll, seemingly indifferent of fire prevention measures as it was when the first crude fire fighting apparatus was in use. We simply have not awakened to the fact that death and property loss from fire can be eliminated just as death and property loss resulting from contagious diseases have been eliminated by scientific study and treatment.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters and Underwriters Laboratories in Chicago have been pioneering in the campaign of public education on fire prevention. The seeds they have planted are taking root. Manufacturing concerns see the wisdom of laboratory tests of their products which tend to safeguard the public in their use. Retail establishments see the value of handling scientifically tested products and the buying public is awakening to the advantage of buying products which have been tested as to their fire resisting or fire preventing qualities.

Some day the nation is going to awaken to the fact that it is just as criminally negligent for any person to maintain a fire hazard which can be eliminated as it is for a person with a contagious disease to expose others to the danger of the same malady.

It is essential that all co-operation possible should be given to the agencies which are spreading the gospel of fire prevention.

AMERICAN MAGNATES PURSUE INVASION OF BRITISH FILM FIELD

LONDON.—The moaning and wringing of hands over the sad state of the British moving picture film business waxes louder day by day, perhaps the public cares, but it shows no inclination to cease crowding into the hundreds of British theatres where American films are run off almost exclusively, year in and year out.

The British film makers cast many an envious eye at Hollywood, and they lift their voices, fervently hoping to catch the ears of both Government and the people, and protest that even England's own dominions and colonies are being Americanized by the subtle celluloid products of the studios of California and New York. Lest their arguments fall on deaf ears, trade, the very life blood of the empire, is brought into play. It would seem that trade has broken itself of the habit of following flags; these days it follows the film. There is a very active campaign on to have the Baldwin government slap a heavy tax on foreign films, and help the tottering movie magnates of this country until their business grows up and becomes steady on its feet. The Government has so far kept silent upon its intentions, if any, as regards the movies.

Meanwhile dollar-laden magnates of the movie breeze in from Broadway, one after another and whizz around the British Isles, building up defenses against competition from other sources and bolstering their English business. Some of them have even gone so far as to begin building or buying large theatres of their own in the precincts of Piccadilly Circus.

LITERARY PROGRAM WILL BE FEATURED BY P. T. C. SOCIETY

A literary program will be rendered at Sand Hill Auditorium Friday night, June 12th by the P. T. C. Society. A few of the numbers being arranged are:

Special songs from Harmony Community; Stump Speeches; piano solos; a debate by four young men of Sand Hill; a duet by two girls; several recitations and songs.

This program will be free and we want everybody to come. During the summer months we are going to make this literary program the very best we can, and we want our neighbors in near-by communities to come to these programs.

We are going to organize a debating club and everyone who is interested should be present Friday night.

We expect to have another community fair at Sand Hill this year and make it better in every way than it was last year. This Society is 100 per cent for Sand Hill. Through it we expect to develop home talent and give those who want to do something a chance to help. Come and help us out.

SURPRISE DINNER

Mesdames W. M. Colville, John Colville and Guy Shaffer were delightfully surprised by a number of friends who gathered at the W. M. Colville home shortly before noon Wednesday, bringing with them a sumptuous dinner, which was served and enjoyed by all at a late noon hour.

The gathering resolved itself in a meeting of old friends and new, a welcome back home for Mrs. Colville, Sr., who recently returned from California, and a reception for Mesdames Shaffer and Colville, who are here on a visit. Mrs. Shaffer from Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Colville from Weatherford.

A number of the guests remained until a late hour in the afternoon. They were: Mesdames E. C. Henry, M. F. Husky, J. H. Shurbet, Donald Weaver, L. C. McDonald, Wilson Kimble, S. Y. Carter, T. M. Cox, J. B. Bartley, Jr., Jesse Seale, J. D. Colville and Ray Dickey, of Huntington, Park, Cal.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The Children's Program last Sunday night was good and well attended. The Children all did their parts well and showed the work of the Missionaries on the Fields of China. It gave those present an idea of the nature of the work the Missionaries do in their fields. The Committee that had the training in charge showed that they had done good work. The offering was good. We want to thank all who had a part, either in training or in the parts of the offering for the success.

The State Convention meets in Abilene this week, from Friday night and closes next Tuesday. It is expected that the Pastor and his wife and several of the members will attend. They are planning to leave here Friday morning in cars and drive thru in time for the services that night.

If the plans do not miscarry there will be no preaching services next Lord's Day, but the S. S. and Communion will be held as usual. Be sure to be present and enjoy the services.

The Red and Blue contest started off well last Lord's Day. There was a good deal of interest manifested in the start. The Reds lead by a narrow margin. But watch the Blues come next Sunday. Remember that coming on time counts more than coming late.

FLOYDADA GIRL TEACHES VERY SUCCESSFUL SCHOOL

A report published in the Plainview News last week told of a very successful school year enjoyed by the Mount Vernon School in Hale County, taught last year by Miss Cleo Snodgrass, who was reared in Floydada.

An all-day program featured the closing of the school year, with a sumptuous basket dinner at noon, a program by the pupils in the forenoon, and a get-together meeting for the afternoon at which plans for another year were discussed. At this meeting Miss Snodgrass was given a vote of thanks by the patrons for her excellent work during the year, and was given the place for another year at an increase in salary. An increase in the size of the play grounds for the school another year is planned, a generous patron donating an acre of ground for additional room for the play grounds.

"SONIC SOUNDER" TELLS OCEAN DEPTHS

Quite recently there has been developed in the navy by Dr. H. C. Hayes a most ingenious and extraordinary mechanism by which the depth of water underneath a ship is found by emission of a sound wave which is echoed from the bottom, according to Science.

Not only does this method do away with the necessity of handling long lines and heavy weights, difficult in a rough sea, but it makes possible a record of scores of observations where only one was possible before, and in addition the observations are of greater accuracy.

Its practical value has received abundant confirmation on various trans-Atlantic lines, in the preparation of a detailed contour map of the bottom off Southern California, in a survey for a new Alaskan cable route and in other operations.

M. Lautal, of Marseilles, France, has a model apary where he treats rheumatics and people suffering from gout, lupus, eczema, and epithelioma by having them stung every day until fully cured.

The viking's burial was impressive. A ship filled with inflammable material was set afloat with the body laid amid the corpses of his slaves, whose souls would serve him in the next world; while his favorite charger lay at his feet. The material was then set afire, and floated burning out to sea.

Communication Growth Marvel of the Age

More progress in fast communication has been made during the past 25 years than in the preceding 25 centuries.

Smoke by day and fire by night were first used for transmission of information.

Carrier pigeons have been used for hundreds of years.

Germany equipped the letter carriers with stilts early in the sixteenth century to increase their speed of delivery.

Among the savage nations, drums are still used to transmit messages over wide areas.

In the United States, stage coach and pony express furnished the fastest means of communication by letter before the advent of the railroad; but it was not until the invention of the telegraph and later of the telephone that instantaneous communication was established.

The first long distance message over the telephone was in 1876, from Boston to Cambridge, a distance of two miles.

In 1880 the line was completed between Boston and Providence, 45 miles four years later, from Boston to New York, 235 miles; eight years later, in 1892, from New York to Chicago, 900 miles; in 1911 this was extended to Denver, a distance of 2,100 miles; in 1915, from Boston to San Francisco, 3,650 miles; in 1921, from Havana, Cuba, to Catalina Island, California, 5,500 miles.

In 1922, the first telephone conversation across the Atlantic Ocean took place. In 1924, President Coolidge sitting in the White House and without raising his voice above an ordinary conversational tone, was heard all over the United States, Canada, and parts of Europe.

TAKING THE JOKE TOO FAR

Since men control most of the money and wear most of the pants in this country, we think that the new style in highway robbery is likely to prove unnecessarily burdensome and embarrassing to the male fraternity. We'll tell you why:

The New York World reports that two jolly bandits entered a grocery store, and instead of shouting "Hands up!" they shouted "pants off!" The World expresses admiration for this improvement in technique. Under the old method, a man with his hands up was "only temporarily out of the fight." He kept his hands up only so long as the duress ceased he was free to "run or fight or yell for the police."

"In the present instance, apparently this possibility had its effect on the victims. While the robbery was in progress, a lady entered the store and the bandits waited on her. But it is not recorded that the four attendants of the store who were in the back room minus their pants, made any outcry. Can we blame them? Who of us in the same situation, would invite scrutiny before we got our pants on? It is to be hoped that the thieving fraternity does not make of this device a commonplace, else there may be a demand for belts which cannot be unbuckled except by a time lock."

Nevertheless, whatever the World may say in its admiration for the new technique, if it should be generally adopted by highwaymen men would suffer far beyond their deserts. It is bad enough to be frightened into helplessness and robbed of watch and money, but to be humiliated in this new way would be undurable. It is bound to result in a growing demand that highway robbery be done exclusively by bobbed-hair bandits.—The Montgomery Advertiser.

WILL PRESENT PLAY AT FAIRVIEW FRIDAY, JUNE 19

Announcement is made that the Baker Singing Class will present their play, "A Fortunate Calamity," at Fairview School House on Friday night, June 19th.

The play is a three-act comedy and was well received at Baker recently. Funds received from the play will be used to aid in paying for a singing school planned for Baker soon.

CANVASSERS ASK ENTRANTS BEAUTIFUL HOMES CONTEST

Have you been asked to enter the Beautiful Homes Contest sponsored by The Hesperian, in co-operation with the Chamber of Commerce? If you reside in Floydada you recently received a letter from The Hesperian, telling of the plans, the simple rules which govern and the cash prizes which are offered.

Today canvassers started out to see the residents of the city. You are asked to see them and let them explain any features of the contest which you may not fully understand. These representatives of The Hesperian are R. H. Watters and Aubrey Bishop.

They are instructed to visit every home in the city.

We ask you to remember that the plan is one by which any home owner or renter, whether in the most handsome home in town, or in a little two-room home, may by simply working to improve and beautify the place of his residence, win a prize—even the first prize in his division. The prizes are $12 for first place, $8 for second, and $5 for third in each division—large owned homes, small owned homes and rented homes. You are under no obligation whatsoever, other than to make an effort to win a prize.

Besides the cash prizes offered, honorable mention will be given the most beautiful block in the city.

THE WOMEN'S COUNCIL

The Women's Council of the First Christian Church held a very interesting session on last Monday, their regular meeting day.

As their year closes with the last Monday in June an election of officers for the coming year was in order. The following ladies were unanimously chosen: President, Mrs. E. C. Nelson; vice president, Mrs. J. B. Jenkins; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. E. E. Johnson.

Several speeches were enjoyed, especially the one by our president. Those who fail to be present each time lose many rare treats.

Another item of interest at this time was planning for the next Calendar Entertainment. The time was set for the last week in June, the day of the week to be announced later. We are looking forward to a good program under the direction of Mrs. W. M. Houghton, Mrs. W. E. Brown and Mrs. Champ Walters. The menu will not be the least part of it either.

Delegation of Thirty Attend Laymen's Meet

The First Methodist Church of Floydada had a delegation of thirty laymen at the Plainview District Meeting of Laymen, held in Petersburg Sunday last, who enjoyed the day very thoroughly and returned home with an inspiration to work harder in carrying on the laymen's work of the district.

"I am my brother's keeper" stated broadly, was the theme of the discussions held during the session which opened at ten a. m., and closed at 4 p. m. The intermission at noon for lunch was featured by a wonderful dinner spread by the ladies of the Petersburg Church.

Work which laymen may do to aid in spreading religious influences over the district was discussed fully. An effort of laymen of Plainview District will be made to get to every community in the district, not now served, every Sunday with some kind of a religious service. A survey made by District Chairman Sweetson, of Tulia, disclosed that there are 50 rural communities in Plainview District, which do not have some kind of religious service every Sunday.

L. H. Liston, lay leader at Floydada, was one of the principal speakers at the morning session.

LAMKIN PLAYERS HAVE GOOD CROWDS THIS WEEK

The Lamkin Players, repertoire company, who are playing in Floydada this week, are having good crowds Monday and Tuesday nights both saw good crowds at the tent show.

The parts each night todate have been well cast. The orchestra is a good one.

WRIGHT WILL BE BAKER-HANNA'S MANAGER HERE

H. W. Wright, at present manager of the Paducah store of the Baker-Hanna Company, dry goods dealers, will be manager of the Floydada store of this concern, which will be opened late this summer, according to present plans.

GEORGE EUDY HOME

Although confined rather closely to home where he can give his sore hand and arm proper treatment, George Eudy is at home, having arrived several days ago, and got down-town for a stroll the first time the latter part of last week.

More than a month ago Mr. Eudy developed blood poisoning in his hand and arm. For a time he was treated locally and apparently was on the road to recovery. He was taken, when a relapse occurred, to Lubbock and was treated there for more than two weeks. His condition was very serious.

It will be sometime before his hand and arm are well, but he is believed to be recovering satisfactorily.

JOE A. MONTGOMERY ILL.

Joe A. Montgomery, until recently manager and proprietor of the White Rose Cafe, which was closed two weeks ago, is in a sanitarium at Lubbock for treatment. He is suffering from diabetes and high blood pressure. His condition is said to be yielding to treatment. Mrs. Montgomery and the children are at Lubbock with him.

WHY NEWSPAPERS ERR

The Denton Record-Chronicle reprints the following from the Rockdale Reporter, enumerating some reasons why newspapers make mistakes:

(1) They depend 80 per cent of the time on the other fellow. (2) No matter how carefully written a story is, there is always at least 50 different interpretations that can be given to the angle if one so desires to do this thing. (3) The newspaper man as a general rule is constantly working under high pressure. He has the same amount of time to write a column story as a paragraph. Man is not mechanically perfect. (4) Although a clear mind is pre-requisite, he is human and sometimes lets his mind get cloudy. (5) In an effort to be fair he sometimes offends both parties. That is the price he pays. (6) The American language is a crossword puzzle in itself. It implies too much. (7) Just like the reporter writing history believes he has made himself clear, the wrong inflection; an dthus leaves the wrong impression with the man who is supposed to interpret him.

The R-C thinks the list might be continued indefinitely. In another editorial reference to mistakes of the printed page our esteemed contemporary tells of a prize blunder. The Record Chronicle says:

A Texas publisher is said by the Publishers Auxiliary to have offered a $10 prize for the funniest printed paper account of a wedding. There'll be a lot of entries, for there is a peculiar fatality about errors creeping into wedding stories. But we'll venture there'll be none more appealing to the risibles than one that occurred in a newspaper not far from Denton. It was an elaborate wedding and the feature was a bower of green things out on the porch where the vows were taken. The intelligent compositor made the simple change of a "v" to a "c"—the two letters are close together on the linotype—with the result that the bower was the place "where the cows were taken."

CAR STRIPPED OF PARTS WHEN LEFT BY ROADSIDE

Highway vandals last week about put Jno. A. Hollums a-foot, when he left his car by the side of the road between Floydada and Plainview, near the Bettie place, after it had broken down. He caught a ride home and went back in a day or two after the car.

They found the chassis and body of the car there, but practically all the parts removable with an ordinary road kit had been taken.

The job of stealing the parts from the car was one of the most thorough kind. The coil boxes, windshield, tires, tire rims, seat cushions, and generator were taken. "I'm going to sleep in the next boat that I take out that goes to the bad with me," Mr. Hollums said. "They stripped this one of everything but its pajamas."

OLYMPIC THEATRE FEATURES BARGAIN WEEK PICTURES

This is bargain week at the Olympic Theatre, where the show has been featuring a good series of releases at bargain prices.

Pictures for the remainder of the week include:

Thursday, "Does it Pay?"; Friday, Yakima Canut in a western thriller; and Saturday, Hoot Gibson in "The Hurricane Kid," an action picture of the west.

MISS DOVIE McKINNEY AND ERNEST KENDRICK MARRIED

Miss Dovie McKinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McKinney, and Mr. Ernest Kendrick, were united in marriage Saturday morning of last week at the residence of Rev. J. L. Hanson, the pastor of the First Methodist Church officiating at a quiet wedding, at which were only close friends of the contracting couple.

The bride has been reared in Floydada, and Mr. Kendrick has been living here for three years, farming on the farm of Roy Curry south of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick will make their home here.

CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

On account of the meeting being held at the tabernacle by our Baptist brethren there will be no preaching service at our church Sunday evening. But all other services Sunday and the week following will be held at the usual hours, except that the Ladies' Missionary Society will meet with Mrs. R. I. Teeple at 3 p. m., Monday.

Let us co-operate with Brother Eskridge and his people in this revival effort, as we hope that all of God's people may do when Bro. J. M. Russell, of Missouri, comes to help us in a series of revival services beginning July 19th.

G. P. Humphries, Pastor.

Mrs. W. B. Combest, of Paducah, visited here last week with her sister, Mrs. Herbert Ralls.

Miss Myrtle Terry, who has been teaching school at Floco, is now at home.

Clark Meador, of Abilene, arrived in Floydada the latter part of last week and will work for E. E. Boothe Bakery.

J. H. Shurbet returned Friday of last week from Chico, where he was called by the illness and death of his sister, Mrs. Sallie Warren.

D. P. Peden, of Russellville, Ala., is here on a visit this week with his former neighbor, D. I. Bolding, and family. Mr. Peden has two sons at Dalhart, with whom he visited for some two months.

H. P. Edwards and family, of McAdoo, spent Sunday in Floydada, guests of S. W. Ross.

Miss Gladys Houston, of Abernathy, spent last week in Floydada, the guest of her uncle, C. R. Houston and wife.

Miss Bess Houston, of Abernathy, spent Sunday and Monday here with her uncles, C. R. and J. B. Houston, leaving Tuesday for Canyon to attend the summer sessions of W. T. S. T. C.

Miss Alfie Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Henderson, of Pleasant Valley, returned home the latter part of last week, after spending the winter in south Texas, where she taught school.

Miss Margaret Kight, grandniece of Mrs. J. C. Dickey, Saturday opened her beauty salon at Milady's Shop. Miss Kight is recently here from Clayton, New Mexico.

S. W. Ross visited in Lubbock last mid-week.

Clyde Farrell, of Wichita Falls, was here the first of the week on a short visit.

Mrs. E. A. Childress left last week for Nashville, Tenn., to spend a month on a visit with relatives. She will visit, possibly, in Missouri before her return home.

C. L. Mayes, of Munday, spent Sunday in Floydada, the guest of W. A. Baker and family. He was enroute home from a 5700 mile jaunt over the Pacific Northwest. Mrs. Mayes, who has been visiting here some two weeks, returned home with him.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Baker and daughter, Miss Ruth, accompanied by Misses Gladys Johnson and Annie Lee Baker, are spending the week at the R. V. Colbert Ranch on Clear Fork, where managers and their families of the Baker-Campbell and Bryant-Link stores are guests of Mr. Colbert for the week.

Mrs. Richard Starcke, sister of Mrs. A. P. McKinnon, of Bastrop, Texas, is here on a visit with Mrs. McKinnon for an indefinite time.

MRS. VOSS, OF COLUMBIA, MEET MISS BAKER, OF COLUMBIA

Mrs. L. B. Voss, of Columbia, Tenn., who was here the latter part of last week and the first of this on a visit with her brother, C. H. Brazier and family. Saturday came down-town with Mrs. Brazier to do some shopping.

At the Baker-Campbell store the ladies were met by Miss Annie Lee Baker, of Columbia, Tenn., who was an emergency saleslady at her uncle's store for the afternoon.

Neither the shopper from Tennessee nor the saleslady from Tennessee could believe their eyes until a second look. It developed that they are neighbors and close friends in their home town. Each knew the other was visiting in Texas, but it hadn't occurred to them before that both were coming to the same place in West Texas where they have kinsmen.

MOUNTAINS MADE TO ORDER

The latest curiosity of film production concerns a method whereby "mountains" are made to order at a few minutes' notice.

The chief problem of production is how to complete a film in the shortest possible time. One of the greatest obstacles in the way has been the necessity for change of scenery. At times scenery is required which can only be found abroad, or a long way from headquarters; or scenic effects totally unachievable by ordinary photographic means—for instance, the interior of a cathedral, or the towers of a castle, or the placing of a house among high mountains.

Double exposure was first resorted to in order to make these scenes. However, if this was done without considerable skill, the line between the two exposures was apt to show.

Eventually it struck some one to do it on glass. This is the method now used, and it has proved as effective as it is economical.

STATE FAIR BOOKLET IS HANDSOME VOLUME

A handsome twenty-four page booklet, entitled "Through the Camera's Eye," has been received by this newspaper from the State Fair of Texas.

Carrying a brief, pithy recital of the rather romantic history of the State Fair, the book is filled with illustrations covering old and new views throughout the Fair grounds. By comparison the pictures themselves graphically record the growth of the great institution which has so materially aided in the development of Texas.

Particularly attractive is the double-page picture of the new Fair Park Auditorium, to be opened with the 1925 State Fair, Oct. 10-25 next. This great theatre building, to cost $500,000 is nearing completion. In it, during this year's Fair, will be offered a magnificent scenic and musical production according to announcement.

Various additional features of the thirty-ninth annual State Fair are also detailed.

Copies of the book, which will prove keenly interesting, may be had upon request, from W. H. Stratton, Secretary, State Fair of Texas, Dallas.

Two Good Recipes

We offer here two good recipes, one a cake recipe, the other for doughnuts, which are from a famous New England eating house. They have proved popular for years with many guests of this cafe and will be valuable to go in your recipe book:

Wellesley Fudge Layer Cake

(3 round layers.)
 3 oz. bitter chocolate
 3 tablespoons butter
 1-2 cup boiling water
 1 cup sugar
 1 egg
 1-4 cup sour milk
 3-4 teaspoon soda
 1-2 teaspoon vanilla
 1 cup pastry flour
 1-4 teaspoon salt
 Method—Melt chocolate and butter, pour on boiling water stirring violently, add sugar, mix thoroughly, add egg well beaten then sour milk. Sift in dry ingredients, add flavoring, beat well, spread in 3 well-greased and floured layer tins. Bake in moderate oven. Cool very thoroughly before putting together.

Filling

1 cup sugar
 1-2 cup cocoa
 1-4 cup butter
 1-4 cup milk
 1-2 teaspoon vanilla
 Method—Put all together and stir constantly until it boils, boil one minute, when nearly cold spread between layers and over side and top

Doughnuts

1 cup sugar
 2 small eggs
 1 tablespoon melted butter
 1 1-3 cups milk
 grated rind of 1 lemon
 1-8 teaspoon mace
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 4 1-2 cups pastry flour; 3 level teaspoons baking powder sifted together
 1 teaspoon salt
 Method—Beat eggs till light; add sugar, milk and butter and mix thoroughly. Sift in flour, baking powder and salt. Toss on floured board, knead only enough to make smooth, cut and fry in hot lard. (Makes 2 1-2 dozen large doughnuts.)

Chop Suey

2 medium-sized onions cut in slices
 1 bunch of celery cut up
 1 quart bean sprouts
 1 pound fresh pork
 1-2 cup suey sauce
 Method—Fry out the fat part of pork; fry the onions lightly in fat and add rest of pork cut in cubes, cook ten minutes, add celery and sprouts and sauce; boil until tender. Season to taste with salt, and serve very hot with steamed rice. (onehalf of the pork may be replaced by white meat of cooked chicken.)

Home Coming Week for College Students

Last week and this have been home coming weeks for Floyd County boys and girls who have been at schools and colleges during the past year.

Among those who have returned in the past few days are: Tate Fry and Odus Mitchell, who are graduates from W. T. S. T. C. this year, and who have been prominent in the student life at the College in their four years there. Fry will return to Canyon to spend the summer studying music, and will also teach a small class there. Mitchell is a letter man in football, baseball, track and tennis from the college and will teach in the Post City Schools the coming year.

Chester Day, Edwin Stiles and Hazel Jones have reached home from Austin, where they have been studying at the University of Texas.

Ira and B. Marshall returned last week from Abilene. They have been attending Simmons College.

Misses Ora Mae Robbins and Sudie Miller have returned from Canyon, where they have been taking work at West Texas State Teachers' College. Mrs. R. T. Miller, Sr., who has been there with them has also returned home.

Dan Jenkins, who has been studying at West Texas State Teachers' College the past year, and who has been a member of the College Band, returned home following the close of the spring term of the school the latter part of last week.

LeRoy and Clement McDonald have returned from Canyon after a year in school at the Teachers' College. Clement is a member of the College Band. LeRoy has been making good both in baseball and football. He will major in architectural engineering another year.

Faye Maxey, who has been attending West Texas State Teachers' College, returned home last week.

Miss Lorene Carter, who returned last week from Canyon following the close of the spring term at the Teachers' College, was accompanied by her little sister, Carrie Belle, who had visited for a week with Miss Lorene there.

Miss Pauline Stovall is among the students from Floydada who have returned home from W. T. S. T. C.

Aubrey Montague, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Montague, is "making a hand" at West Texas State Teachers' College, where he has been the past year in school. Besides carrying a full course in the College, Aubrey is a member of the junior band, the senior band and orchestra. He is also working part time to help defray his expenses. Miss Miriam Olson returned home.

The Health program was studied. Miss Faulkner was not able to meet with us this time, but expects to be with us June 18th, at the home of Mrs. Lon Blasingame at McCoy, at which time she will demonstrate to us the way of making cold desserts and beverages. We hope that a number of the McCoy ladies will try to be present at this meeting.

SAND HILL HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB MEETING

Mrs. A. R. Hanna was hostess to the Sand Hill Home Demonstration Club at its last regular meeting.

At this meeting the order of the business session was called with Mrs. V. C. Scott leader. Mrs. Bud Collins gave the demonstration with the steam pressure cooker.

There was a good number of club members present with eight visitors. We urge all club members to be present next meeting and we hope the visitors we had this time will join us and help us to have a better and more interesting club.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Frank Probasco on June 17th. The program will be:

Roll call, mention your favorite dessert and beverage;
Leader: Miss Faulkner.
Subject: Cold desserts and beverages

Demonstration, by Home Demonstration Agent.
Preparations will be made this month to send all contestants to A. & M. Short Course.

BIG BUSINESS

A man in New York, director of one of the world's greatest steamship lines, has just given up a job that required forty years of hard work to get. The reason he gave up the job, so he said, was because he wanted to "get acquainted with my family!"

And then he has a lot to say about "Big Business." He scorchers the pin feathers of big business and, in unburdening himself, makes us poor folks feel like we are glad that we are not in this so-called "big business."

"The man who works from 9 to 5 each day, with Saturday afternoon and Sunday off, should thank his lucky stars," says this man as he steps down to his wife's house to get acquainted with her.

"The so-called Big Business man works twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week. Playing, sleeping or mingling socially, he never has a chance to get business off his mind. Big Business is 99 per cent work and 1 per cent recreation."

"Most Big Business men are reputed to be rich. Only the other day I was accused of being a millionaire. I am not a millionaire—far from it—and don't ever expect to be."

"The average business man plays a lot of golf, but even the golf game is a business game. Lots of business is conducted on the golf course in preference to the office. Golf is the means of the valuable 'personal contact' in business."

This tale sounds pathetic though it does sound sincere. Here's a man who rose from the ranks, beginning as a telegraph operator at $40 per month. He worked up and finally landed in one of the choice jobs of the world. The pace was too fast for him, as it is for a lot of big business men. He is to be congratulated on having the good sense to quit before Nature puts the kibosh on him. Anyone who reads the papers regularly must feel a little bit alarmed at the number of Big Business men who die young. They start out as strong as an ox, but the pace soon gets them.

John D. Rockefeller, Thomas A. Edison, Chauncey Depew and George N. Baker are notable exceptions to the rule. John D. says his secret, is that he always has played a lot and done a great deal of loafing. Forbes, the great economist and personal friend of big business men, says that recreation is the panacea that prolongs life. The Big Business man who doesn't rest and play occasionally soon encounters dangers which lurk low around the corner.

Great success entails great responsibility, and the man who can't stand the gaff had better go fishing. This is a strenuous age in which we live—especially strenuous for Big Business men—W. D. Trotter in the Southwestern Machinery.

CONSERVATION OF WILD LIFE HELPED BY 68TH CONGRESS

Ten acts having a direct bearing on the welfare of the Nation's wild life were passed by the last Congress, and nearly an equal number of additional bills relating to it received more or less attention. In discussing these bills Dr. E. W. Nelson, chief of the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture, says that the most important of the measures considered, the migratory-bird refuge bill, which had passed the House with a majority of 97 and received favorable comment in the Senate, was caught in the congestion of the calendar at the end of the session. It will probably come up before the present Congress.

An act of prime importance to wild life was the Alaska Game Law, providing for the establishment of an Alaska Game Commission of five members to act in cooperation with the Secretary of Agriculture in administering the law for Alaskan game and land fur-bearing animals. The passage of this new game law was preceded by a joint resolution transferring jurisdiction over Alaskan game from the Department of the Interior to the Department of Agriculture in line with the policy of consolidating activities under the Biological Survey for protecting game and land fur-bearing animals. An act for the protection of fisheries in Alaska is designed to prevent the overexploitation of salmon and other valuable fisheries of the Territory.

Among other helpful bills approved may be mentioned that creating the Upper Mississippi Wild Life and Fish Refuge and authorizing $1,500,000 to be appropriated for the purchase of overflowed bottom lands along the Mississippi River between Wabasha, Minn., and Rock Island, Ill., a distance of about 300 miles. The Agriculture appropriation bill for the year beginning July 1, 1925, makes appropriation of $400,000 to begin the project.

Two bills were passed affecting game in South Dakota—the antelope refuge bill and a bill authorizing the addition of 30,000 acres to the Custer State Park Game Sanctuary. Several other measures for the direct protection of large game were passed; one authorized the establishment of a Federal Game Refuge in Arkansas; another a game refuge in the Medicine Bow National Forest of Wyoming. An act amending the Penal Code includes protection to all wild animals and property on Federal refuges, so that all wild life, including birds, now receives protection there.

An important law prohibits oil pollution in navigable waters, under heavy penalties. Oil waste destroys oysters and other shellfish and the fertility of fish spawn, and covers the feathers of ducks, geese, and other water birds, causing the death of untold thousands of them each year. An international treaty will be required to prevent the dumping of oil on the high seas beyond the jurisdiction of the maritime nations.

THANKS TO THE OLD MAN WHO STOPPED WORK EARLY

At 60 years of age I went broke in one of the cotton counties, and lost my place, so moved to the Plains in a covered wagon drawn by two small ponies, with a wife and four children as my only assets. We rented a quarter section of land as share croppers and worked early and late.

Just across the road from us was an old man that stopped work early every evening, and milked a few scrub cows, and we wondered how he could lose so much time. One week as we went to town, he stopped us and asked us to carry his cream as he was sick. We did so and brought him $3 for it. This put us to thinking; if he could make that much with scrub cows, if we had better ones we could do better. That fall we put all the money we made that year into eight good cows, paying $400 and giving a note for $200 payable in six months. We bought a separator on the installment plan, and our first cream check made our eyes bulge, at the thought of that much money every week.

We had a good flock of hens, but they could use only a small part of the milk, so we bought 12 head of pigs, and fed them all the milk the hens could not drink. At the end of the six months they sold for $180, and we paid our note. At the end of the year we had leased the place for five years, buying the teams and tools, and fenced and cross fenced 40 acres for hog pasture, and planted feed crops on the balance. The second year we bought six purebred sows and two more cows, paying cash for them.

We are now starting on a second five year lease with 14 head of high grade Jersey cows, have 8 brood sows, a flock of 300 Leghorn hens, have money in the bank and do not owe any man a cent.

We make all the feed we can and feed it all at home. The hens pay the running expenses, and the cows and hogs are cash producers. All our success, and thanks are due to the Old Man Across the Way.—P. E. R., in The Progressive Farmer.

Interested Farmers Hear "Better Wheat" Talks

fect of protein contents of wheat. The main varieties of wheat grown on the plains is Turkey Red and Kanred. Both are excellent varieties and well suited to conditions here. He is a strong advocate of pure seed as it will insure better yields and produce better wheat. The matter of smut in wheat is serious and he urges, that seed wheat be carefully treated by formalin solution or dusted with copper carbonate which has recently come into use and is very satisfactory. Good seed, well prepared land, a dry climate like we have here will produce a high protein wheat. This grade of wheat is much in demand by millers for mixing with wheat low in protein. Mr. Leidigh also stressed the importance of careful harvesting and handling of the wheat crop to escape damage from too much moisture in shock or bin. Heating of wheat reducing the grade and hence the price. Mr. Leidigh indorses strongly the importance of early preparation of wheat land and rotation of crops to get the best results.

After the close of the regular program many questions were asked. The farmers were eager to hear the opinion of the visitors on many phases of farming. These men are familiar with conditions on the plains and the after meeting developed into a very interesting experience meeting.

In the evening the party went by automobile to Crosbyton where a night meeting was held.

Among the men with the Better Wheat Special were the following:

A. H. Leidigh, Assistant Director Texas Experiment Station; J. R. Edmonds, District Agent Texas Experiment Service; T. Scott Wilson, County Agent Floyd County.

H. M. Bainer, Director Southwestern Wheat Improvement Association. Among the Santa Fe Railway men were:

J. D. Tinsley, General Agricultural Agent; J. F. Jarrell, Manager Agricultural Development Department; A. M. Hove, Assistant Editor The Earth.

On Tuesday the party visited Tullia and Silverton and Wednesday Dimmitt, Hereford and Canyon.

SAVE SOMETHING

In all cases where it is possible, however, I believe that a boy should not only earn something for buying some desired object, but that he should also get the habit of saving for later needs.

I sometimes feel that it would be a good thing if all persons at all times were required to save 10 per cent of what they make. There are few of us who could not, if we had to do so, get along practically as well on nine-tenths of what we make as on ten-tenths, and the saving of the extra 10 per cent would come mighty near making everybody independent. Practically the whole country and every family in it would become prosperous.

When old James J. Hill was asked the secret of success for a young man, he answered: "Can he save money?" If he cannot, the seed of success is not in him." Now this is true not simply because of what money we accumulate by saving, but because saving is one of the best means of discipline and character-formation that a boy can possibly bring to his help. It is said of most people that whenever they have money "it burns a hole in their pockets until it is spent." In other words, everything they want makes an urgent, imperative demand for the spending of the money so long as they have it—and they lack the will to say "No." Later on they will need the money more sorely for some other purpose, but they lack the will to deny the present for the sake of the future. It is this strong will and self-control which the habit of saving breeds in a boy. And this very habit of self-mastery formed by the discipline of saving will be of incalculable value to the boy when other tests of character come in later life.—Clarence Poe, in The Progressive Farmer.

FAMOUS COPPER MINE PAID MANY MILLION DIVIDENDS

Calumet, Mich.—When the Wolverine mine suspended operations recently after thirty-five years of almost constant activity, there passed into history one of the most successful openings ever drilled in the Michigan copper region. Exhaustion of mineral resources in four shafts all of which had reached a depth of nearly 4,000 feet caused abandonment of the mine.

The Wolverine was discovered originally in 1882, but it was not until 1890 that the property was placed on a paying basis. During its boom years the mine recovered as high as 26.82 pounds from each ton of rock.

An original investment of $300,000 in the property brought total dividends of $10,350,000 before the reserves began to show signs of diminishing. Production at one time reached a maximum of 10,000,000 pounds of refined copper a year.

good cows I found a man in your territory yesterday, who is running a good-sized farm. He and his boys are milking 11 cows and shipping $200 worth of butterfat every month. His net profit per month is above $100. And if he makes a good cotton crop or any wheat the money will be his. He is a fair example of what all your farmers could be doing, some on a smaller scale, of course, and some very easily on a larger scale, where the size of the farm will justify more cows."

Mr. Simons said he had found some splendid purebred Jerseys in this territory and many of good grade. The owners of these Jerseys must get better bulls to build up production of their herds. These circles, he said will aid to do it.
