Fishing Camp Owners Challenge New Stamford City Ordinance

Owners of four fishing camps on Lake Stamford have filed suit in 30th District Court here challenging the validity of a "Boat Inspection" ordinance passed Sept. 4 by the City of Stamford, owners of the lake.

Plaintiffs petition in the case filed here, allege that the Stamford ordinance is unconstitutional and void, and ask for a declaratory judgment prohibiting enforcement of the ordinance, and for enforcement of penal provisions.

Hearing of the case is set for Friday at 9 a. m. in district court, at which time date will be set for trial of the case on its merits.

The case, styled J. R. Ballard et al. vs. The City of Stamford et al., is based on alleged conflicting provisions of the Stamford boat inspection ordinance with Texas' new Water Safety Act. It is believed the first case of this nature filed since the passage of the Water Safety Act by the Legislature.

Discussing football specifically, Coach Overton pointed out that the youth learns the importance of teamwork, as well as how to take the "hard knocks" when they come.

Relative to the current football season, Coach Overton said the Indians "A" squad now numbered only 16 players, the smallest number in several years.

C. of C. Group Makes Plans For Xmas Program

Plans for Haskell's annual Christmas Program sponsored by local merchants were set up and approved at a meeting of the C. of C. Retail Trade Committee last Friday.

A budget of $790 was adopted. It will be underwritten by local stores and business concerns. This year's program will include drawing for cash prizes on the three Saturday evenings preceding Christmas, a downtown Santa Claus Parade which will include decorated floats, and the addition of the Children's Parade for the first time this year.

The Santa Claus Parade will be held Friday afternoon, Dec. 4th, opening the holiday season in Haskell. For the occasion, all stores will be asked to feature window displays of holiday merchandise. Windows stressing the Christmas theme will also be judged for awards as in the past.

This year's program is being planned on a larger and more elaborate scale than any previous event of its kind, and the cooperation of every business concern in Haskell will be enlisted. Retail Trade Committee Chairman Tom Barfield stated.

City Readies Welcome For Homecoming Visitors

Pre-Homecoming Activities

The HHS student body has scheduled a series of warm-up activities as a prelude to this week's Homecoming. All HHS ex-football players, cheer leaders, band members and students are invited and urged to join in the following activities: Thursday, 3 p. m.—Pep Rally in HHS gym. Thursday, 7 p. m.—Torch Parade and small Pep Rally downtown. Friday, 7:15 p. m.—Giant Pep Rally at football club house. "The Homecoming is a community event, and we want every ex-student and school patron to join in the spirit of this year's gathering," a spokesman for the student body stated.

A record attendance is in prospect for Haskell's fourth School Homecoming this week end. Mrs. C. V. Payne, president of the Ex-Students Association, said Monday, as final plans for the event were being completed.

Mrs. Roy Wiseman, registration chairman, said that advance registrations had exceeded expectations and were still coming in. Ex-students from as far away as California and Iowa have advised they will be here, along with scores from other neighboring states and many points in Texas.

Cars and Football Don't Mix, HHS Coach Tells Lions

Because youths are more interested in having a car of their own, the automobile is detrimental to the athletic program of the average school, HHS Football Coach Ray Overton Jr., pointed out in a talk to members of the Lions Club Tuesday.

Setting the stage for the Homecoming, the HHS Pep Squad has scheduled a series of warm-up activities Thursday and Friday night, including pep rallies and torch parades.

Out-of-town ex-students, teachers and former patrons are expected to begin arriving Friday, and a series of activities have been scheduled Friday afternoon.

Crippled Haskell Indians Prep for Homecoming Game With Jacksboro

A crippled Tribe of Haskell Indians, their ranks further thinned by injuries in their 18-0 loss to the strong Burk Burnett Bulldogs last Friday, prepped this week for their Homecoming game against the Jacksboro Tigers here Friday night.

Regulars out of the lineup read almost like the team's roster: Kimbrough with a broken arm, Rexrode a fractured vertebrae, Anthony flat on his back following an appendectomy, Wooten out with the "flu," Urban out with a knee injury, Dunlap a fractured arm, and Junior Holt out with a bad leg which was injured again in the Burk game.

Coach Overton's B team cancelled their scheduled game this week, in order to have badly needed replacements and reserve strength for the non-conference Homecoming tilt.

The Tigers, perennial foes, list 24 regulars on their A squad, presenting formidable opposition for the Indians.

Despite the Tribe's definite role as underdogs, not a single discouraging note has been heard from the reservation. "Our casualties have been terrific, but we've got some good boys left in our squads and their spirit is wonderful," Coach Overton said Thursday.

Coach Overton, in his talk, cited facts supporting his assertion that automobiles placed the athletic program at a disadvantage. Surveys show that 90 per cent of the students who fall, have access to cars, he stated. "The athletic program is as important as any part of our school," he declared. "It creates leaders and develops self-reliance," he pointed out.

The popular high school coach, who said he spent about six hours weekly planning workouts for his football squad told Lions they could help in the athletic program by encouraging youths to take part in football and other athletic activities.

These will include registration and several class reunions, the Lions Club Pancake Supper from 5 to 7:30 p. m. at the HHS lunchroom, and the Haskell-Jacksboro football game Friday night in Indian Stadium. A huge Pep Rally is scheduled immediately preceding the game.

Bates Thornton Speaker The Homecoming will be an all-day event on Saturday, with get-togethers and class reunions during the morning, culminating with a general assembly in HHS gymnasium at 2:30, followed with a chuck wagon supper at 5 p. m.

New of Sargent; third place, Ross Dunnam of Weinert; fourth place, Dub Howard of Paint Creek; fifth place, Janice McMeans of Rule; sixth place, Larry Caddell of Weinert; seventh place, Mike O'Keefe of Mattson.

The Hospital Program

Haskell County voters have indicated their desire for an enlarged and improved County Hospital and have authorized the expenditure of a sizeable sum of tax money on the project.

Need for the additional facilities has become more and more apparent in recent months when the hospital has been compelled at times to improvise emergency quarters for patients.

It is to be hoped that the improvement program can be carried out without undue delay, and that the planning has been on a scale that will enable the hospital to adequately meet the needs of this community and surrounding area for a good many years in the future.

If matching State or Federal funds can be secured, and we understand this is a reasonable assumption, a total sum of $160,000 will be available for the enlargement and improvement program. Planners believe this will be adequate if the work is done in the immediate future.

In the face of today's rising interest rates and other costs, any untoward delay could conceivably jeopardize the program.

PEOPLE, PLACES AND THINGS

By A. PATE

Father Time will take a back seat this week, as ex-students, teachers and school patrons of bygone years get together for the fourth Homecoming activities scheduled Friday afternoon and all day Saturday.

Those Exes of former years, some of whom attended Haskell schools before the turn of the century, will re-live their school days that have taken on added glamor during the years.

The history of Haskell's schools over a span of more than 60 years will be re-told by those who lived it . . . and the old South Ward and East Ward schools, non-existent for years, will become very real again as former students and classmates mingle together again and recall ancient school rivalries mellowed by time.

All in all, this year's Homecoming promises to be the most successful and largest attended of any previous year.

With that in prospect, every one in the community should join in extending a welcome to the returning Exes and make their visit a pleasant one.

For our money, the HHS Indian band will rate tops with any high school band in any school, anywhere.

In our opinion every school patron in Haskell, and every citizen for that matter, can take justifiable pride in the splendid school organization.

The youngsters, under the able tutelage of Director Frank Porter, have worked long and hard hours to perfect their ability and skill to the point where the Indian Band would be a credit to any of the larger schools in the State.

We know from the comment and praise we have heard, that there is no lack of appreciation for our school band. But we need to express that appreciation in a more recognizable manner.

At our football game this week, take particular note of the fine performance of our own HHS Indian Band at half time. Then, to let those hard-working youngsters and Director Porter know they are appreciated, let's give them a rousing ovation.

Stopping in Rochester on his daily bread route the other day, Jack Medford ran into Highway Boss Ray Lusk and they went into a cafe for a cup of coffee.

As they sat there sipping coffee, Ray got up to get a package of cigarettes at a nearby vending machine.

In a moment Jack heard a muffled "Well, I'll be—" and looking around, noticed Ray had absent-mindedly deposited 30 cents in a juke box instead of the cigarette machine!

Another 30 cents in the proper machine, and Ray had a cigarette to go with his coffee . . . and music.

Leo Hutson, Vernon Ivy and Pete Callaway are confirmed raccoon hunters, and the trio never passes up an opportunity to go 'coon hunting. Rarely ever come home empty handed, either, since they've found the animals fairly plentiful in the country along the streams and creeks south and east of town.

But the 'coons may get a breathing spell, since the trio has been initiated into another sport.

The other evening the three started out on a 'coon hunt when they noticed a party of friends hunting rattlers along the highway.

Stopping to watch the procedure, it wasn't long until one of the 'coon hunters spotted a diamondback and killed it. They then became so interested in the 'coon hunt was forgotten, and within a few hours the trio had accounted for 28 of the reptiles.

The driver swerved his truck to one side to miss hitting the body lying partly on the highway near the north outskirts of town. Then, without stopping, he speeded up to reach the nearest telephone at a downtown cafe.

It was 3:45 a. m. when Sheriff Bill Pennington was awakened by the telephone call that a dead man was on the highway.

Driving hurriedly to the spot, the sheriff's car lights picked up the form beside the highway.

It was a man, there was no doubt about it.

Then, as the Sheriff's flashlight revealed the still form sprawled awkwardly on the ground it was plainly evident the man was dead—dead drunk.

Awakened from his drunken stupor, the Negro was loaded in the officer's car and brought to more comfortable, and confining, sleeping quarters in the county jail.

Later, carried before Justice of Peace Merle Weaver, the 36-year-old Negro pleaded guilty and was fined $20.50 for being drunk.

He told officers his home was in Eldorado, Ar., and he was seeking work in the cotton harvest.

His predicament here came about after some "white folks" who gave him a ride in their car also gave him some beer.

Why we built two cars for 1960 . . . as different as night and day

On October 2—for the first time in Chevrolet's 49-year history—you will be able to walk to the dealer's showroom and see two totally different kinds of cars. One is the conventional 1960 Chevrolet brand new in appearance and more beautifully refined and luxurious than you can imagine. The other is unlike any car we or anybody else ever built—the revolutionary Corvair, with the engine in the rear where it belongs in a compact car. We'd like to tell you why we built two such different cars—and for whom we built them.

Why two kinds of cars? Because America itself has been going through some big changes in the past few years. Our cities have been straining at their seams. Traffic is jam-packed. Parking space is at a premium.

And our suburbs have spread like wildfire. People are living farther from their work, driving more miles on crowded streets. There is new leisure time—but more things to do. There's a new standard of living—and more need for two cars in the family garage.

In short, America's automobile needs have become so complex that no one kind of car can satisfy them completely. That is why we at Chevrolet, keeping tab on these trends, have had a revolutionary compact car in the planning stages for more than nine years.

Thus, when we decided three years ago to prepare for production of such a car we were ready to build it the way it should be built. There was no need for a hasty "crash" program that would create only a sawed-off version of a conventional car.

That is why the two cars you will see in your dealer's showroom October 2 will be two entirely different kinds of cars. One is the conventional '60 Chevrolet—brand new in beauty, with new space inside, new spirit under the hood, a new feeling of sumptuousness and luxury never before attained by any car in its field. There is great V8 power linked with new thrift, plus Chevrolet's superb 6-cylinder engine. It is a traditional car that comes even closer to perfection—in silence, in room, in ease of control, in velvety ride—than any other car we have ever made.

The other is the Corvair, a compact car that is astonishingly different from anything ever built in this country. It has to be—because this is a six-passenger compact car, with a really remarkable performance . . . a car designed specifically to American standards of comfort, to American traffic needs.

The engine is in the rear. Among the basic advantages resulting from this engine location are better traction on a compact 108-inch wheelbase and a practically flat floor. But to be placed in the rear, the engine had to be ultra light and ultra short. So Corvair's engine is totally new—mostly aluminum and air cooled; it weighs about 40 per cent less than conventional engines. It is a "flat" horizontally opposed six—so it is only three cylinders long . . . and that leaves a lot more room for passengers.

Another weight saving: like modern airplanes, the Corvair has no frame; the body-shell supplies it great structural strength . . . it's a

that is virtually rattle-free. The ride is fantastic. Because we had to design independent suspension at every wheel, coil springing would give a choppy ride. Right now, one prediction: no other car will ride so comfortably on road so firmly and handle so

Now there are two kinds from Chevrolet—because it's kinds of cars to serve America today. If you love luxury—in luxury—and if you want interior space, breath-taking pace, automatic drive assists—then the conventional Chevrolet may be your choice.

If easy parking, traffic economy are high—then you should seriously consider the Corvair. But the best way to look these two new cars is to look these two new cars in your Chevrolet dealer's showroom for a drive. It may be only logical choice for you between two cars like these. They make a perfect pair.

Famed "Attila" Director Has New Hit In "Hercules"

Pietro Francisci, the outstanding Italian film director whose latest attraction, "Hercules" opens next Sunday at the Texas Theatre, has long been hailed as the cinema's greatest re-creator of historical and legendary figures of ancient times.

In "Hercules," Francisci has brought to the screen all the glamor, romance, daring and heroism that characterized the love story of Hercules and the beautiful Princess Iole (portrayed by Steve Reeves and Sylvia Foscina). Before beginning work on the picture, which he directed and for which he wrote the script in collaboration with Ennio De Concini and Gaio Fratini, Francisci spent several years working with leading historians, architects and research specialists to make certain that every last detail would be absolutely authentic to the period.

In addition there were many technical and artistic challenges that had to be met in the transposition from story to screen. Among the many fantastic incidents brought to life in "Hercules" are the hero's exploits in strangling the raging Nemean lion; the killing of the Cretan bull; and his fabulous voyage to the wild island of Colchis where a savage dragon guards the priceless Golden Fleece. All these have been thrillingly re-created as have the famed Temple of Jolco which Hercules crumbles to dust, and the island of the Amazons where savage warrior women of surpassing beauty attempt to murder the hero and his companions.

NOW.. '60 CHEVROLET TRUCKS
WITH REVOLUTIONARY TORSION-SPRING SUSPENSION THAT GIVES ASTONISHING NEW SHOCKPROOF ACTION !!!!!

Chevy's done the next best thing to paving every road in America!
First they threw out the front axle and put in torsion-spring independent suspension. Then they built wide-base coil rear springs into most light-duty models, variable-rate leaf springs into heavies. That made it—a ride you have to feel to believe. A ride that lets you move faster to get more work done in a day's time.

Brawnier bulldozer build!
Frames are stronger, cabs 67% more rigid. Front wheels and tires are precision-balanced. And that new suspension cushions jars and road shock that used to spell slow death for the truck's body and sheet metal.

More comfortable cabs!
Easier to hop in and out of too. Many models are a whole 7 inches lower outside. Yet there's more head room inside, plus more width for shoulders and hips. More real comfort!

Big in the power department!
With the industry's most advanced gas-saving 6's. With high-torque Workmaster V8 performance in heavyweights. With new 6-cylinder or V8 power available in L.C.F.'s.

More models than ever!
New 4-wheel-drive models and tandems and high-styled Suburban Carryalls. It's the handsomest, hardest working Chevy fleet ever to report for duty. See your dealer soon for a ride!

Mrs. Edwin Fisher, '32 Graduate, Recalls Old Schoolmates, Teachers

Mrs. Edwin Fisher of Longview, Texas, the former Ann Taylor of this city, has written an interesting review of recollections of happy school days in Haskell in a letter to Mrs. Allee Payne, president of the Homecoming Association.

Because of its interest to so many ex-students and former classmates, excerpts from Mrs. Fisher's letter are reprinted here.

Dear Allee:

I guess it's getting time for the Homecoming, and you said to write. You know I wanted you to write me a letter about the things you remember, but you said you couldn't. Well I decided that we would just take a trip together—and I hope everyone who reads this will do the same. Use any of it you want, or cut it short if you need to.

The Homecoming is for those who went to school in Haskell, so regardless of when you went—do you remember the first time? I had to be coaxed quite a bit to go a half block to Mrs. Oslin's kindergarten. I guess I was afraid of school. But I made it, along with Jeff Davis McDonald, Judith English, Virginia Neal, Margaret Waldrop and others. The next year we went to the second grade in the old North Ward building. Miss Eula Selbach had the first and second grades in the southeast corner room. Do you remember your first teacher? Miss Selbach was tall and I thought her beautiful, for she had such a sweet smile. Her sister, Minna, also taught in the school. Miss Eula's disposition was so kind, else how could she have ever taught the first and second grades? Miss Yettie Cummings was the third grade teacher that year. I think Miss Eugenia Graham was my third teacher, and I took ballet dancing from her friend Miss Bettie Lee Castle. In the third grade Winnye Thomason and Kate Darnell were new friends, and they still are. The Frazier twins Ollie and Ola and I went through school together, too.

Miss Leta Bolin was my fourth grade teacher. She was so pretty and sweet. I remember her helping me to improve my writing that year (she tried) and I remember the northeast corner room where we were. It was cold! Which school did you attend? At the time I was in the lower grades the South Ward and the East Ward were both in use. When we went upstairs for the 5th, 6th, and 7th grades we had several teachers. Miss Mary Long, Minnie Ellis, Alberta Smith, Aura Lee Tucker, Winnie Biggerstaff. Do you remember them? I know you do.

"When I was in the 6th grade I really had an adjustment to make. School at the North Ward was so crowded that year they had to move the line four blocks north, and I had to go to the South Ward. I had never gone there, and I thought it was terrible to have to change in the middle of the year. It worked out fine. That year Frances Walling and I formed a friendship which has lasted all these years and has been very precious to me. Miss Douglas Surrat (Mrs. John V. Davis) was our teacher. I remember one day, April Fool's Day, the girls all changed our dresses after we got to school and put them on backwards. Miss Surrat must have been amused, but I remember standing in the cloak room for a good while, and wearing the dress that way all day. I ate lunch that day with my coat on. Maye Bell was teaching at South Ward that year, so she must have put a "bug" in Mom's ear, at least they didn't say anything. That afternoon Frances and I went to the court house where her Dad was County Treasurer and changed our dresses back like they should have been, before we went home. Lucille Gilstrap and Elizabeth Gilbert were in the room with us that year.

"Seventh grade was in the North Ward and what a wonderful group of teachers we had that year: Rozella Christman, Lewis Manly, Mrs. Bob Covey, Lela Welch. We put out a yearbook that year. "The Star" and what fun our children have now looking at it and exclaiming over it. We had two new boys in school that year. Bud and Bob Herren, who had moved into town from Midway. Some of the other boys were Carl Arbuckle, John Oates, Howard and Dennis Wilson, Oriand Dickenson, Joe and Byron Smith. Some of the other girls were Ruby Mae Grindstaff, Lola Beryl Berry, Ruby Spurlock, Madge Hambleton, Louise Partain, Hazel Hamilton, Flora Pinkerton, Lucille Kendall. A group of girls had a club that met on Saturday afternoons, Judith English, Felicia Siegel, Irma and Lucia Mask, Wilda Pippen, Anita Collier, Mary Frances Sutherland. We were the "J.O.L.-L.Y." Club (Jolly Old Ladies Lucky Young'uns.) We had a regular graduation exercise from elementary school. Virginia Sills was our "Beauty" and Wallace Kimbrough was our "Beast" in the exciting contest. Do you remember your friends of the 7th grade and your teachers? I know they must have had an effect on your life as many of mine did. Perhaps at that time we thought that they were being hard or strict on us, but they taught us to face responsibilities and accept our duties. Everyone remembers how hard you had to study arithmetic under Miss Minnie Ellis. But in later years you went back and told her how much you appreciated her. Perhaps you never got to see some of them to tell them they had an influence on your life, and wish you could have. If you see any of them at Homecoming—go tell them—they will love it!

"Oh, the glorious days of high school. We were in the building that burned, and though it is gone now, I could draw a picture of it and tell you where every room was and which classes were held there. Mr. J. H. Bass was superintendent my first year, then Mr. Breedlove came to Haskell. Geo. Wimbish was principal and his wife Ellen taught mathematics. Mrs. Sprowls was Home Ec. teacher and there were others—Miss Vick, Davis Carmen, Stephenson, Mr. Bill Richey, Herman Henry, Mr. Dodson. The first year Mr. England was there and Elaine Mills. We had an active pep squad with cheerleaders, and a high school band. Mr. Meacham was the band director. Mrs. Wimbish was sponsor for the "Gypsy Ramblers," and later Bertha Carmen and Aline Mitchell were sponsors for the "R2 Hobos." Both clubs were girls clubs which concentrated on hikes around town. We would meet in the afternoon after school or on Saturday mornings and hike out to the edge of town—west about to the Bob Foote farm, or east down the railroad track past the old oil mill (remember the night the oil mill burned?) on to "Loving's Tank." Sometimes we went north to Shook's—or to the park in the south part of town after they made the lake there. We would explore around then have a picnic lunch and hike back to town. What did your clubs do for entertainment? These little trips sound like they were simple, but each one was exciting and lots of fun."

IN APPRECIATION

I want to thank all my many friends for the cards, flowers and prayers I have received in the last month since my illness. I didn't realize I had so many friends that would take time from their busy day to remember me. I just wish I could write each one personally—but maybe this will do. I am slowly improving and I hope to be able to come home soon, for truly Haskell where my friends are, is my home. Thank you all again—Mrs. Haynes (Nell) Hambleton. 397

Snake Hunters—

fact that ranchers and rural residents have noted no apparent increase in the number of snakes normally found.

Yet, all the snakes killed have been of fairly large size, from a length of 18 inches to two and one-half feet or longer.

Ralph Raney, cotton buyer of Haskell and Houston, whose hobby for years has been hunting rattlers in his spare time, is mystified by the large number of snakes now being found.

"I wouldn't attempt to explain the huge increase," he declared. "It's one of Nature's mysteries, just like the millions of rats that infested all parts of the state," he believes.

At any rate this section seems to be stuck with an over-supply of rattlesnakes. And since there's no bag limit on the reptiles, perhaps continued hunting by local groups may result in thinning the ranks of the unwanted invaders.

Alert today, alive tomorrow.

Stamford High School Plans Homecoming

The first homecoming of ex-students and teachers of Stamford High School will be held Friday and Saturday Oct. 23 and 24, with headquarters in the high school gymnasium, according to Brad Rowland, chairman of the steering committee.

Letters are being mailed this week to all exes whose addresses are available, an earnest effort is being made by the committee to make the initial homecoming a success.

Schedule of activities includes registration by classes, and a hamburger supper preceding the annual Anson-Stamford football game Friday evening. A barbecue will be held in Bulldog Stadium Saturday at noon with a business session and class reunions to follow.

Epitaph for a speeder: He was just dying to see how fast he could drive.

In and Out the Tee-Pees

By Suzanne Lane

Heap big things are happening all over the Tee-Pees this week. The squaws and warriors have really kept themselves busy.

"In the darkness dwelt a demon sprite." These are the opening words of "Beowulf," which is now being studied by the senior Indians. Carolyn Connolly thought of a very unique plan and made oat meal cookie characters of the story.

The best part about it was she served the cookies to both of the English IV classes. Some characters made in cookie dough were Beowulf, Grendel, Unferth, Grendel's mother, and Hrothgar.

The bulletin board in the library, which has been illustrated for the last two or three years by Suzanne Weaver, has been taken over by Virginia Roberts. The bulletin board this week is extremely clever. The background is red and around the edges are the book covers of some new books that have come in this year. In the middle of the board are the words, "Who should read good books?"

Football isn't the only competition going on in HHS. The War Whoop has its own contest. Each class is to elect their candidate for the Miss Front Page Contest. Miss Front Page will be the candidate from the class which bought the most subscriptions to the War Whoop, the school paper.

The Owl Club had a call meeting Thursday in the library and the Indian maidens were assigned to the periods in which they would work in the library and office. The sophomore girls usually "pledge," the junior's work in the library, and the seniors work in the office.

Since the visit in HHS of Mr. Dobbs, the representative from Colopro, work on the 1960 Chieftain will soon be underway. Suzanne Weaver is the 1960 editor and other Indians will be receiving assignments for work on certain sections soon.

Martha Decker, with all of her ingenuity, made a display in the library of Robin Hood rescuing three squires. The display is made of modeling clay. Each senior Indian in English IV will have to make some sort of display or decorate the bulletin board in the English room, so I will keep you posted.

Last Thursday evening Mrs. Diggs attended a planning conference in Abilene for the Interscholastic League workshop that will be held in Abilene Christian College in November. Mr. Rollins Powell, head of the drama section of Interscholastic League, was the speaker. Dr. Rex Kiker of ACC was the host at the meeting which was held at the Windsor Hotel.

The War Whoop (our school paper) has been collecting material of ex-students of Haskell High School for a special edition to be published Homecoming.

RETURN FROM VISIT IN UTAH

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Holland returned Friday from a week's visit in Moab, Utah, with their son and family. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Holland and children. On their return trip they came by way of Raton, N. M., for a visit in the home of Mrs. Holland's sister, Mrs. J. M. Trice and Mr. Trice, and then by Olton, Texas, for a visit with the Haskell man's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Holland.

Your best safety zone is inside your head.
