Featured in Program Planned to Build Enthusiasm

A huge banquet, at which a very large per centage of the membership of the organization are expected to be present, and at which several out-of-town visitors are expected, is set for Tuesday night of next week. All the details of the program had been worked out yesterday afternoon, with the expectation that the interest and enthusiasm for the Chamber of Commerce and its work will be greatly enlivened by the meeting.

The meeting will give an opportunity for the general membership to meet the new secretary, Mr. R. A. Highsmith, and will also furnish an opportunity to hear Porter A. Whaley, Texas' foremost chamber of commerce organizer and worker, and Col. R. L. Penick, widely known Stamford business man. Both of these have accepted invitations to be present at the gathering and make talks.

The banquet will be prepared and served by the ladies of the Methodist Church. The large basement hall will accommodate 250 persons at the table at a sitting. Plate charge for the banquet will be $1.

"The net result we hope to accomplish by this meeting is to cement our interests more thoroughly for the building and development of Floydada and Floyd County," Mr. Highsmith said Wednesday. "Enthusiasm is an absolute essential to town-building. Hard work and co-operative effort are counter parts. These will be stressed at the meeting," he said.

Following is the program arranged: Invocation—Rev. F. L. Davis. Orchestra Number—Members Floydada Band.

Introduction of R. A. Highsmith, new secretary Floydada Chamber of Commerce, who will preside as toastmaster.—T. R. Webb.

Historical Data and Relics Gathered Here for Panhandle-Plains Society

Relics of by-gone days, a 65-year-old chair, an old Sharp's rifle, a 1905 copy of The Hesperian and a bound copy of "The Early History of Floyd County" with valuable information from the early settlers of Floyd county were added to the collections being gathered for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society by J. E. Hales, field representative, who was here Friday morning of last week.

Coming to Floydada after spending the night with R. B. Smith, one of Mr. and Mrs. Hank Smith, famed pioneer settlers of the Central Plains, Mr. Hales talked with several long-time residents of Floyd county. He was particularly enthusiastic in hearing former events of historical value recounted as only real westerners can relate them. Judge A. B. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Masie, Mrs. J. J. Day, J. J. Foster, Judge A. B. Clark, and Lee Montague were among the early settlers with whom Mr. Hales held brief conversations.

"Each one of them gave me something that will be of use to us in our history, and they all expressed themselves as anxious to assist us," Mr. Hales said.

Probably the most unique of the relics donated the museum of the society at Canyon was the old chair, hand-made with rope bottom, that was given by Mrs. J. J. Day. She said that it had been a family heirloom for a period of over 65 years and that its exact age was unknown.

An old Sharp's rifle, found twenty-five miles northeast of Floydada on the Quitaque cackrock by O. W. Stroup, was given the society by J. V. Daniel, cashier of the First National Bank, who has had the gun a number of months. Thos. Montgomery, who has inspected the gun and is himself an authority on pioneer days and weapons, having been personally and physically connected with them, said that the weapon was similar to those carried in the Civil War. It was probably lost by some buffalo hunter or a traveler, he said.

Interesting historical data, other than related by Floydada residents, was contained in the history of Floyd county written by Claude V. Hall as a master's thesis for a degree at the University of Texas and given Mr. Hales for the society by Judge A. B. Duncan. A copy of The Hesperian of 1905 was also added to the collection by Judge Duncan.

The Panhandle-Plains Society is gathering data relative to the development of this section of the state, from the times of the Indians up to the present day. With headquarters at Canyon and with its museum there, the organization supported by its membership fees and by private donations serves to give a better appreciation of pioneer days, and a closer insight into living conditions of the early builders of the West.

The Society is bending every effort to collect all material that has any bearing upon the development of the country, in order that a history of the Panhandle may be written. Professor L. F. Sheffy, Head of the History Department of the West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon, with the help of other members of that department, will compile the work. The Society works with the "Panhandle Old Settlers Association," and with the "T-Anchor Association" in their attempts to keep alive the spirit of the early days.

Organization of the Panhandle-Plains Society was effected in 1921 for the express purpose of preserving the historical data and relics of the Panhandle and Plains Country. The field of this organization is not restricted to one small locality, but is extended to a certain ex-

Amarillo Business Men Spread Smiles on Trip

100 Trade Evangelists Take Floydada by Storm While on South Plains Howdying Trip

Spreading of contagious smiles, handshaking, distributing of good will and making and renewing friendships were very much in evidence Wednesday during the one-hour visit of 100 boosting Amarillo boosters making a tour of the South and Central Plains who stopped here in their special train long enough to invade the town with their band and to tell of Amarillo "the new Chicago of the Southwest."

Led by Earnest O. Thompson, in charge of the trade extension division of the Board of City Development, and by O. V. Vernon, secretary of the Board, the white hatted trippers bedecked with golden pennants literally "took-in Floydada." Following a short musical program by the Buffalo band of the West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon conducted by C. E. Strain, an impromptu program was held on the court house lawn at 12:30.

E. O. Thompson responded in behalf of Amarillo to the welcome extended by R. A. Highsmith, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, and presided during the brief program.

U. N. Olver, president of the Tri-State Exposition, told his audience of approximately three hundred people that the fair to be held in Amarillo September 26-October 1, "is going to be the greatest in history." He said that they were expecting one of the largest and finest delegations at the celebration to come from Floydada. "It is your fair—be there," he said in closing.

Lee Satterwhite, speaker of the House of Representatives during the Thirty-sixth Legislature, made the principal "Booster talk," the most striking statement of which intimated Amarillo was firm in the belief that it was the future Chicago of the southwest. "We are fast becoming the wholesale distributing center. Why," he said, "We have enough gas in the Amarillo field to supply all the industries and homes in Texas with fuel, if it were possible to pipe it to them."

Practically every large business firm in Amarillo was represented here Wednesday. Trinkets for the kiddie and smiles for the other residents were passed out by such prominent men as:

J. Lindsey Nunn, publisher of the Amarillo News; Judge L. Gough, president of the Wheat Growers Association; J. F. Anton, South Plains Division Superintendent of the Santa Fe lines at Slaton; W. E. Goodloe, Amarillo Division Freight and Passenger Agent of the Santa Fe; W. H. Carville, chief clerk and general passenger agent of that road; R. A. Terrell of Canyon, head of the manual training department at W. T. S. T. C. and official representative of that college; Dave Warren, editor of The Amarillo News; W. Izzard, with the Amarillo Globe, and Evetts Haley, representative of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society.

Mr. Angus has not made definite plans for the future.

Making Q. A. & P. Ry. Survey This Week

Geo. A. Lider, of this city, and a crew of men are making the survey of the line for the proposed extension of the Quanah, Acme & Pacific Railway Company from Roaring Springs to Floydada, contract for which was made between citizens of Floydada and President Sam Lazarus, of the railway company in the earlier part of July, and for which permit has been requested of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Other preliminary work necessary before the construction of the railroad is being done by the railway company, and if a permit be granted the company will be in position to begin their construction within a few days. The contract calls for actual construction to begin within 20 days of the granting of the permit.

Petersburg Band Will Play Sunday Afternoon

The Petersburg Band, a twenty-five piece organization which has been playing for a year, and is now considered one of the best organizations of its age in this section of the state, will give a concert in Floydada Sunday afternoon.

This information is obtained from R. A. Jefferies, secretary of the Petersburg Chamber of Commerce, who says the work of the band is excellent and the community is proud of it.

OFF TO MISSISSIPPI

Commissioner and Mrs. W. W. Payne, of Mayview, in company with their son and a party of relatives from down-state, making up two automobile loads, left last mid-week for Mississippi, where they will visit at Mr. Payne's boyhood home.

Points in Hunt County were on their itinerary when they left Floydada, and their last stop in Texas was to be at Gainesville.

C. OF C. WILL HELP GET MAIZE HARVEST HANDS

Floydada Chamber of Commerce is planning to be of material assistance to farmers of Floyd County this fall, who, Secretary R. A. Highsmith believes, are going to need outside help to harvest the heavy row crop now approaching maturity.

"We think we are going to be able to help get harvest hands for the farmers of this territory and ought to be able to save the farmers a good many thousand dollars during the maize gathering and later on in the cotton picking season," Mr. Highsmith said Wednesday morning.

"Working through the West Texas Chamber of Commerce we can broadcast the needs of the maize growers as they begin to need help, and we suggest that farmers leave their requirements at the Chamber of Commerce office."

Similar aid can be given when the cotton gathering season opens, Mr. Highsmith thinks.

Miss Mildred Flynn of Plainview, is spending the week here visiting friends and relatives. She has been here since Saturday, having accompanied Mrs. S. D. Bishop and daughter, Miss Bernice, and son, Tom, who made a trip to Plainview last weekend.

Cotton Suffers From Inroad of Lice-Honey Dew

Lice and honey dew have been reported and are said to be doing considerable damage to the cotton in portions of Floyd county. Recent rains checked the inroads of the insects for a time, farmers state, but continued sunshine and heat have been favorable for re-production of the lice.

No effective method of exterminating the lice has been found, authorities state. Men who have had years of experience in handling cotton say that unless some means of killing the insects is found, the crop will be damaged to a certain extent.

Will Exhibit at Three Texas Fairs This Year

County Agent Wilson Asks Aid of Farmers in Gathering Winning Products for Fairs

Tuesday of this week County Agent T. Scott Wilson announced plans for an agricultural exhibit from Floyd County to at least three big state fairs this year. His announcement came following a conference Monday noon with Chamber of Commerce workers at Lockney, when the possibility of working out a county-wide agricultural exhibit plan was discussed.

Mr. Wilson has been gathering exhibit material since early in the summer, he stated, and an effort will be made to obtain enough material to make all the fairs this fall. This will make it necessary to have at least two complete exhibits and possibly three, he said, and it will aid greatly if a general interest can be worked up in the matter and the growers of the products bring unusually good material in.

Mr. Wilson's statement is as follows:

"We expect to have Floyd County represented in at least three big state fairs this year and it is our aim to take first place this time instead of second. By the help of other people this is easily possible. We already have a good supply of material on hand but we need a lot more of the crops as they mature. If everyone will co-operate with us this time, with the fine row crops we have, there is no doubt but that Floyd can be put at the top where she belongs. The following are some of the things we want as they mature:

"200 heads good maize; 100 open bolls good cotton; 6 stalks cotton with full-grown bolls; 4 bundles good sweet clover; one-half bushel sweet potatoes; peck peanuts and 4 vines; one kind cowpeas and four vines; 4 bundles best millet; bundle good rye; bundle black emmer and peck threshed; bundle darso; bundle red top cane; bundle seeded ribbon cane; bundle sudan; 200 heads good kaffir; 200 heads hegaria; 1 dozen good apples any variety; dozen good peaches; dozen good smooth tomatoes; several jars canned peaches, plums, berries, etc.; large pumpkin; large watermelon; large cushaw; 12 ears 6 quars any variety; 12 stalks large rhubarb; any other vegetables available; 12 heads good broomcorn; 1 ears popcorn; any other crop not mentioned here, if good specimen."

"The people can be of great help by bringing in some of these materials and leaving at the banks or county agent. If you know of someone who has something good, please notify the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, or County Agent."

Weeds Are Nuisances, Cut 'em, Says Mayor

City Will Undertake to Clean Up Premises and Assess Expense After August 31st.

So rank have grown the weeds in some sections of the city and on some property that they have become a nuisance, officially taken notice of by the city authorities. Recent rains put the weeds on a growing rampage, with the net result that ill-kept premises and vacant lots have grown up into "forests" of weeds that are unsightly and unsafe for good health, as well.

Taking the matter into consideration, Mayor Henry has issued a general notice to property owners to cut the weeds on the property, with the warning that if the weeds are not cut by Monday, August 31, the city will undertake to cut the weeds and charge the expense to the property. His notice says:

"TO THE PROPERTY OWNERS and the General Citizenship of the City of Floydada, Texas, who have an interest in, the beauty and civic attractiveness of our City, and the health, happiness and comfort of our citizens; are hereby urgently and respectfully requested to make full and proper compliance with the City's Ordinance relative to cutting of weeds and the removal of rubbish, trash and any other unsanitary and decaying matter from your premises and vacant lots."

"THEREFORE, Monday, August the 31st, has been set as the closing date of this 'Clean Up' campaign; at which time the City will take immediate action to clear all vacant lots of rubbish, trash, etc., and assess the cost of such work against property, and the same to be paid by the owners thereof."

"Your hearty co-operation is earnestly solicited to make this campaign the greatest in the annals of our City and to secure for Floydada her rightful place among the beautiful Cities of the Plains."

"Given under my hand and seal of said City this 18th, day of August, A. D. 1925."

"F. P. HENRY,
Mayor, City of Floydada, Texas."

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Evans and little son, of Nevada, Texas, were guests during the past week-end of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lider.

HELP IN SIGHT

Crop conditions in Floyd County are rather flattering. Crops are good all over the county. Another general rain in ten days would make the heaviest row crop Floyd County has ever had. The crop will be enormous without further moisture. The acreage is big in all kinds of row crops. This means lots of work in the fields beginning early in September.

The ill wind which has blown for the black land portion of Texas may mean well for this section, because surely there will be help available to gather the big crop of West Texas, of which Floyd County will prove again to be the heaviest producer.

Doubtless the proper authorities and agencies will begin broadcasting the news of the big crops here and start a gradual movement of laborers to this section. There is ample work here for all the laborers in sight now. There will be more and more as the fall work falls due. Employment at reasonable wages for the laborer and reasonable wages for the farmers to pay who will have much employment to give ought to work out successfully here this fall.

SCHOOL BOYS AND GIRLS

School time soon and many boys and girls from over Floyd County will be looking for temporary homes in Floydada while they attend high school here.

These will be boys and girls with ambition, whose parents, in some instances at least, are making sacrifices to give their children educational advantages. The very large per cent of them will be intelligent, willing, anxious to "get ahead." They will undertake most anything they can honorably do to defray or help defray expenses while here for the school year.

Most of the applications will come through Price Scott, County Superintendent, as the man being most close in touch with the boys and girls of the rural schools of the county. If you know of a home or an office workshop where a boy or girl can be of service and see themselves through the school year, telephone Mr. Scott. The youth of today are the men and women of tomorrow. They are the future farmers, lawyers, doctors, judges and governors. Help them. Put opportunity before them.

TWO CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE

Slaton now has two Chambers of Commerce. We are at a loss to understand how two organizations of this character can function better than one. It will certainly take some close co-operation to accomplish anything for their town. We would hate to have to contribute to two organizations to duplicate each other's work in McLean.—McLean News.

You see Slaton is an exceptional town, and has exceptional people.

New York and Paris have only one Chamber of Commerce. Slaton has one Chamber of Commerce in course of re-organization and a rousing Commercial Club functioning properly. The two organizations, its true. ly. The two organizations, its true, will prove a waste of energy, but Slaton that keeps the people separated, and one side won't work with the other, hence they have each an organization of their own. It's better for us to have two organizations than for a part of the people to be idle all the time. Well, funny things happen, and it can no longer be said that there is nothing new under the sun. There are new issues in Slaton all the time. Come to Slaton.—Slaton Times.

FALL BUYING

Floydada merchants were never so well-prepared to handle the business of the people of their territory as they are and will be through the fall months of 1925. A half dozen new firms, most of whom are planning to engage in business here on an ambitious scale, are being added to the list of retailers who have already made Floydada famous over this section of the state, as a trading center.

All of these firms have bought heavily and the shoppers here can find firms which will serve them equally as well as they can be served in the best towns in West Texas, and better than they can be served in many towns in this portion of the state.

This is written with dry goods concerns in mind, but a check of the firms in other lines will find every known need of the buyer provided for—and well provided for.

Expansion is the keynote for practically every business firm in Floydada. None of them are standing still. While they are attempting to move forward only on proven ground, they are moving forward in a marked and substantial way. They are serving the public well. They are preparing to serve better as development of the territory warrants.

ADVERTISING DID IT

Wrigley, the chewing gum man, has explained how he built up a business of millions of packages a day.

He has done it by sticking to his one line and advertising it. He spends over a million dollars a year in buying newspaper space to tell the world about 5 cent chewing gum. He has educated people to chew gum and to chew Wrigley's. He did not stop shouting as soon as he attracted attention.

He says you must keep it up or the buyers will forget you. Whether yours is a 5 cent or a $50,000 business, keep telling about it.

"THIS THING I DO."

An inspired writer said a thing that would make a fitting motto to frame and hang on the wall in any home or office.—"This thing I do."

Scattering effort appears to be one of the worst faults of present-day American business men. In an effort to reach the goal many have changed their courses and some of them chased will o' the wisps. Look about you and see the mature men of the "this thing I do" type. All of them are successful according to their respective abilities. Only the occasional man of the other type succeeds.

FARM CHILDREN WIN HONORS AS HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS

In Iowa it is a good fortune to be the child of a farmer in so far as those abilities and attitudes which make for superior scholarship in high schools are concerned. Bulletin, 1923, No. 46, of the U. S. Bureau of Education, Department of the Interior, gives the results of a study of distinguished high school pupils of Iowa. Facts were obtained for 316 high school seniors who were rated as distinguished pupils. Of the 316 pupils earning this rating 172 were children of farmers. This is 54 per cent of the total number. The farm population constitutes only 41 per cent of the total population of the State so it is evident that the farm bred children secure a higher representation among distinguished high school seniors than their numbers would lead one to expect.

From all the facts presented in the complete study the general conclusion is reached that superior students in Iowa high schools come from country homes where they have had the advantage of both town or city and country life.

One difficulty about acquiring culture is that it often displaces common sense.

This and That

Smacking of educated lips is resounding this week in the office of The Hesperian. The Official Taster has been sampling some big peaches that were grown off the Plains near Roaring Springs. Mesdames M. F. Husky, Jno. Smith, A. N. Gamble and Joe A. Montgomery brought some fifteen bushels of peaches home Tuesday for canning purposes. The Taster canned several of the juiciest ones brought to the office by Mrs. Montgomery. The canner is working fine he states, and smacks his lips again.

W. A. Baker had a gray paint mare shipped from his former home at Munday this week and is putting the mare on grass here. "This gray mare was my buggy pony for many years and helped Mrs. Baker and myself raise our children." Mr. Baker said.

Floyd County Club Officers at W. T. S. T. C. During 1925 Long Session

Organized and maintained for the purpose of fostering closer college fellowship of its members and of keeping them in closer touch with activities on the campus and with their home communities, the Floyd County Club was one of the leading organizations of its kind at the West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon during the past long session. The featuring event of the social activities of the club was the Thanksgiving entertainment given in honor of the Whirlwind football squad of Floydada High School at the Scott home, Fourth Avenue, Canyon.

There were thirty-five active members in the club. The above picture is of some of the officers who served during the three terms; they were: Ray Harvey, Lockney; Miss Frankie Broyles, Lockney; Tate Fry, Floydada; Miss Pauline Stovall, Floydada; Miss Dot Welborn, Floydada; James Wilson, Lockney; Miss Emma Lou Henry, Lockney; A. D. Cummings, Lockney; Bonner Baker, Miss Bess Houston, Dan Jenkins and Miss Lorene Carter, Floydada.

The officers at the opening of the school year were: Odus Mitchell, Floydada, president; Bonner Baker, Floydada, vice-president; Miss Dot Welborn, Floydada, secretary, and Miss Lorene Carter, Floydada, treasurer, and Floyd county representative on the college year book.

Floyd County Sends Representative Students to Practically Every Recognized Institution of Higher Learning in Texas

OVER 110 YOUNG PEOPLE ENROLLED IN STATE SCHOOLS FOR PAST TWO YEARS

During the past two years, Floyd county has sent its young men and women, with a few exceptions to every recognized institution of higher learning in the Lone Star State. Over 110 students, all of them representatives of the best class of high school material produced annually by Floyd county schools, have enrolled and have in every instance made enviable records. Several of the young men and women have distinguished themselves in special lines of endeavor and are rapidly completing their education in preparation for their chosen life's work.

Some of the institutions have received large quotas of the graduates from schools in this county. West Texas State Teachers College holds first honors as far as numbers from this section are concerned, fifty-one from Floydada and nineteen from Lockney having attended during the past regular session. State University at Austin comes second in popularity with thirteen enrolled during the past two years, and Simmons University is third in order, with eight from Floyd county.

Graduates from Floydada and Lockney high schools the past session are making plans to attend college or business schools. A number will likely go to Texas Technological School at Lubbock, the new school of West Texas that has promise of a great future, state educators say. Those students who have completed first, second and third year work at other institutions will also likely return at the opening of school in September.

While the following list of names does not include all of the young people who have attended colleges, schools and universities from Floyd county during the past two years, its completeness is sufficient to forcefully illustrate the thoroughness that the people of West Texas are preparing for the future.

Those who have enrolled in state institutions and private schools during the past two years and the schools they have chosen are as follows:

Rice Institute: Maurice Ewing, Lockney.

West Texans Strong Believers in Higher Educational Schools

An Editorial

Out on the Plains "where the west begins" the people are not only coming to the foremost rank in the army marching to the City of Success but they are also great believers in preparing for the future. Hundreds of their young people have entered schools of higher education in Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, and Tennessee. All of these young people are earnest, ambitious students who hope to render good service to their home communities in that future day when they will have had their training.

That young man and that young woman who are to guide the destinies of the Ship of State—are YOU doing everything in YOUR power to encourage and to assist them? Their cause is a worthy one.

PLASTER OF PARIS HOUSES

Gypsum, commonly called "plaster of paris", which has been used for centuries for plastering walls, is the essential part of a new fireproof building material. Mixed with cinders, gravel, crushed stone or furnace slag, and poured in forms, it can be used in the construction of one and two-story houses at a cost that compares favorably with that of wooden buildings, says the Popular Science Monthly. In a recent laboratory test the outside of a six-inch gypsum concrete wall was subjected to a temperature of 1,700 degrees for an hour, and at no time did the interior surface become warm.

REPUTATION

It would be well if character and reputation were used distinctively. In truth, character is what a person is; reputation is what he is supposed to be. Character is in himself, reputation is in the minds of others. Character is injured by temptations, and by wrong-doing; reputation by slanders and libels. Character endures throughout defamations in every form, but perishes when there is a voluntary transgression; reputation may last through numerous transgressions, but be destroyed by a single, and even an unfounded, accusation or aspersion.—Abbott.

HUMORIST MADE HIT AT GRANT BANQUET

The first meeting of Samuel L. Clemens and General Grant—men most unlike, yet destined to be closely associated—was in 1868 when Mark Twain was a newspaper correspondent in Washington. He had arranged for an interview with Grant, says the Mentor, and had looked forward to it with lively expectations, but when he gazed into the imperturbable, unsmiling face of the soldier he found himself for once in his life with nothing in particular to say. Grant nodded to him and waited in silence. At last Mark Twain's native resources came to his rescue.

"General," he said, "I seem to be a little embarrassed, are you?" That broke the ice, and all went well with them thereafter.

In 1879 they met again. Meanwhile Mark Twain had become world famous, and General Grant had been President of the United States twice and had made a tour of the world, receiving an ovation in every land. On his return the Army of the Tennessee gave him a magnificent reception in Chicago and the greatest men of the country were there to pay tribute, Mark Twain among them.

Carter Harrison, then mayor of Chicago, was host and when Mark Twain came in introduced him to Grant. The general greeted him gravely and then looking Mark calmly in the eye, said: "Mr. Clemens, I am not embarrassed; are you?"

On that night, when Logan, Hurlbut, Vilas, Woodford, Pope, Robert G. Ingersoll and other brilliant men spoke, Mark Twain, although he was not called on until half past two in the morning at the end of a long list of speakers, was the bright particular star. Mark Twain had responded at many public dinners most happily to the toast "The Ladies," but for this occasion with whimsical fancy he chose "The Babies." His opening words were:

"We haven't all had the good fortune to be ladies; we haven't all been generals or poets or statesmen; but when the toast works down to the babies we stand on common ground."

At that the tired audience waked up, and with each sentence the enthusiasm of the assembly grew visibly and audibly. When he reached the beginning of his final paragraph, "Among the three or four million cradles now rocking in the land are some which this nation would preserve for ages as sacred things if we could know which ones they are," the vast audience waited breathless for his conclusion. "And now in his cradle, some where under the flag, the future illustrious commander-in-chief of the American armies is so little burdened with his approaching grandeur and responsibilities as to be giving his whole tragic mind at this moment to trying to find out some way to get his own big toe into his mouth—an achievement which—meaning no disrespect—the illustrious guest of this evening also turned his attention to some 56 years ago."

He paused, and the vast crowd had a chill of fear. After all he seemed likely to overdo it.

No one knew better than Mark Twain the value of a pause. He waited long enough to let the silence become absolute; then, wheeling to Grant himself, he said with the dramatic power of which he was master: "And if the child is but the father of the man, there are mighty few who will doubt that he succeeded!"

The crowd responded with a roar of appreciation. Even Grant's iron serenity broke, and he shook with laughter.

FIRST "ATHENAEUM"

The "Athenaeum" was a temple in ancient Athens, sacred to Pallas Athene. There the poets and philosophers were accustomed to declaim and recite their compositions. There was also an athenaeum at Rome erected by the Emperor Hadrian in 125 A. D. It was founded for study of poetry and rhetoric, had a regular staff of professors and existed as the Schola Romana until the Fifth century. Similar institutions existed at Constantinople, Lyons and Nimes. The word "atheneum" has been applied in later times to any association or building devoted to literary or artistic purposes.—Kansas City Star.

HIS LOOKS

"The bank was robbed just before I got to town," announced Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge upon his return from the county seat.

"Mercy sakes!" ejected his wife.

"It must have been exciting!"

"It shore was! Just as I driv' in I met the robbers tearing along the road in a rattling old auto, and after 'em came eight or ten other old cars with fellers in 'em all shooting at the innocent bystanders at every jump, as you might say. I'll b'dogger if I don't reckon the reason I escaped with my life was 'cuz I didn't look innocent."—Kansas City Times.

GIVE AND TAKE

Representative Clint-Cole was talking about the aircraft controversy: "First one side scores," he said, "then the other side scores. It's like the doctor and the man with the mumps."

"The man with the mumps halted the doctor and said:

"Doc, what ought a chap to do when he's got the mumps?"

"The doctor's lips closed tight at the thought of being buncoed out of a free prescription, and then he gave a harsh laugh and said:

"Such a man, my friend, ought to consult a good physician."

"The man with the mumps laughed harshly in his turn.

"Thanks, Doc," he said. "That's what I'll do, then. So long!"

Fleischmann's Yeast has a rich, creamy flavor somewhat like cream cheese. Like any other new taste—olives, for example—it may take some time to acquire a liking for it. Yeast dissolved in milk or fruit juices makes a delicious drink. It can be eaten, too, spread on toast or crackers, or as a sandwich "filler" with jam or peanut butter. Also, of course, just plain from the cake—sprinkle with salt, if desired.

ELECTRICITY IN PALESTINE

Plans for the electrification of Palestine by raising the level of the Sea of Galilee and harnessing the historic River Jordan, involving an expenditure of $10,000,000, as described in "Palestine—Its Commercial Resources With Particular Reference to American Trade," by Addison E. Southard, American consul at Jerusalem, recently published by the Department of Commerce. The same project calls for the canalization of the Jordan valley from the Sea of Galilee to the Dead Sea, where, under irrigation, it is expected that copious crops of dates, rice, sugar cane, flax and cotton can be produced. Provision for 2,000 miles of motor highways, commercialization of the Bagdad-Cairo air route, traversing Syria, and agricultural credit banks are among the other innovations contemplated in the modernization of the Holy land, as related by Mr. Southard.

St. Joseph's, the church of the Franciscan Fathers in Los Angeles, advises against the use of wedding marches by Wagner or Mendelssohn. "We can well dispense with these compositions," says St. Joseph's calendar, "so utterly out of place in the presence of the Sacramental Savior, in whom neither of these two men believed, one being an infidel and the other a Jew. Save the organist the embarrassment of refusing and yourself the humiliation of being refused."

WANTS HIS MONEY'S WORTH

A famous clothes designer, now in Los Angeles, has given up this prize secret for the benefit of the world: "Men are very seldom stingy with their wives on this one point: they are liberal in the matter of clothes, but with this proviso: A man will nearly always dig up $500 for his wife's clothes if she looks like $500 when she gets them on. What husbands object to is paying $500 for clothes in which a woman looks like $250."

Prospecting for gold by airplane is the plan of an enterprising miner who will fly over the Cassiar district of British Columbia and when he sees a likely looking creek will land and look it over. If results warrant he will leave his partner and drop over to Wrangell for supplies.

SACRED STEPS

The Santa Scala is a flight of 28 steps of white-veined marble in the piazza of the church of St. John Lateran at Rome, which according to tradition, belonged to the house of Pilate at Jerusalem, and were made sacred by the feet of Christ as he passed to judgement, the Kansas City Times relates. Penitents are permitted to ascend these stairs only on their knees, and so great has been the number that annually made the ascent that it was found necessary to cover the steps with planks of wood to insure their protection. It was while ascending these steps that Martin Luther, then a monk, thought he heard the words, "The just shall live by faith." Mortified by the degradation to which he considered his superstition had led him, he descended and hastened from the spot.

Crosby County's First Court House No More

Ben F. Allen went to Estacado last Saturday, when he went to bid for the old school house there. The building was finally bought by a Mr. Fullingim, of Lorenzo, who has a force of men at work this week razing the old building, which has been standing for many years. Before being used as a school it was the court house of Crosby county, Estacado being the first county seat of that county. The court house was later moved to Emma and then to Crosbyton where it will probably remain.

With the razing of this building one of the landmarks of this section of the country disappears, and it is not necessary to tell most people of this neighborhood that Estacado is one of the oldest settlements on the South Plains, having been originally populated by Quakers. It was at one time quite a large town and was the site of a large college. With the removal of this building, however, the last vestige of Estacado's former glory as a town disappears.

The new school house which will take the place of the old one is rapidly taking shape. It will be of brick and concrete and when completed will be one of the most up-to-date rural school plants on the Plains.—Petersburg Star.

SIMMONS UNIVERSITY WILL OPEN FALL TERM SEPT. 16TH

Simmons enters the university field of education this year, with the opening of its fall term on September 16th, and predictions made from Abilene point to the largest enrollment the school has ever had.

In 1909 the present president, Dr. J. D. Sandeford, assumed management of the institution. He had a vision of a great West and a great university, and he has spent there sixteen years in carrying out his ideal. That his faith in West Texas and a great university were not misplaced is indicated by the fact that this section of Texas has developed into the greatest section of the entire state. With the development Simmons has always kept pace. The school goes into the university field of education with a plant valued at about one million dollars and an endowment of nearly a half million. On the beautiful forty-acre campus there stands nine modern and modernly equipped buildings, one of the largest and best equipped science buildings in the state, $100,000 fine arts building, two large girls' dormitories, a large gymnasium with swimming pool, basketball court and other equipment for the physical development of students. The most recent additions to the campus is a $15,000 men's dormitory being completed this summer and a modern fire proof library building. Twelve hundred and sixty-eight students enrolled last year and the indications are now that this number will be exceeded during the coming year.

The thirty-fourth annual session of Simmons University begins Wednesday, September 16. A faculty of forty-two trained Christian men and women have been selected to help guide the destinies of the hundreds of sons and daughters of West Texas who will attend the institution this year.

SHOPPERS AT PETERSBURG WADE WATER FOR PURCHASES

A rain storm which was in the nature of a cloudburst descended on Petersburg last Saturday afternoon, over three inches of rain falling in a little over an hour.

The storm came at a most inopportune time, however, as a large crowd was here doing their trading, most of which had been done and the folks were doing their "visiting." A hasty run was made for shelter and in a short time the main street had been converted into a lake, the water in some cases, coming over the sidewalks and porches. Not to be out done, however, shoes and hose were taken off and the shoppers waded through water knee deep to get their purchases out of the stores, while one young fellow who rode a horse to town and had an eye to business, made quite a little pocket money carrying them from place to place on the horse's back.

It is said that this was one of the severest rain storms that has hit this section for several years. No damage, however, has been reported.—Petersburg Star.

OLD TIMER VISITS MATADOR

H. H. Marshall, one of the old timers and cowboys of this section of country during the early days, came in last Sunday for a few days visit with old friends. Mr. Marshall left Motley County about 28 years ago, and this is his first visit back here since that time. D. C. Keith one of his many old time friends and chums during the early days made it a point to bring Mr. Marshall into the News office to get acquainted with the editor. While here Mr. Marshall and Mr. Keith related to us several of the happenings during their early days together, which was indeed interesting to us, and was also pleasing for them to recall. Mr. Marshall had us place his name on our list as a means of keeping in communication with his friends in this section. He is now located at Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, at which place he is engaged in the insurance business. The old timers and friends who Mr. Marshall met while here that are still living in Motley county, who were associated with him in the early days are: John Smith, D. C. Keith, C. D. Bird, Doug Meador, C. W. Morris, Joe Meador, Jack

R. E. FRY, Representative Southwestern Life Insurance Company

If an individual can be an institution then R. E. Fry, of Floydada, for eight years a representative of the Southwestern Life Insurance Company, is an institution here.

In the eight years that Fry has worked for the company in this county his agency has put more than a million dollars worth of insurance in force in Floyd County for this company, and about a million dollars of this business is in force at this time. In fact, to Mr. Fry goes the large portion of credit for the fact that the Southwestern Life Insurance Company not only has by odds the biggest amount of insurance in force in the county of any insurance company, but also has the heaviest loans of any loaning company.

Two Features Stressed

Two features which Mr. Fry stresses in his sales talk to prospects are: That the company at all times keeps with the Department of Insurance of Texas the full legal reserve on deposit necessary to mature each policy; the other is that the company deposits its collections in Floyd County banks. Every bank in Floyd County has an account for the Southwestern Life Insurance Company, which is made up of collections of interest on loans and payments of life insurance premiums.

THIS IS THE POLICY WHICH FRY IS FEATURING NOW

This is an "educational policy", by means of which the parent can begin when the child is small, making small annual deposits for the expense of putting the child through college when the child reaches college age.

In addition to the saving feature, which returns a profit above the deposits made, the policy carries protection against death or disability of the parent.

A Good, Long Record

Mr. Fry has an enviable record with his company as a steady producer of good business. The fact that so much of the business he has written has stayed on the company's books year in and year out he attributes largely to the service which the company gives its policyholders once they are on the books. However, this does not account for the fact that Mr. Fry has been in the "honorable mention" class for paid up business turned in every year that he has worked for the company.

The first year he worked for Southwestern in Floyd County Fry was in the $50,000 Class, and for six consecutive years he was in the $100,000 Class and last year he was in the $200,000 Class.

Besides his work as an insurance agent, Mr. Fry has given very liberally of his time and effort to the general welfare of his city and county. He is thoroughly in accord with the "Buy it in Floydada" idea, not only talking but practicing it.

Solution of Last Week's Puzzle

MARMALADES

Grape Marmalades

Pick over, wash drain and remove stems from grapes. Separate pulp from skins. Put pulp in preserving kettle. Heat to boiling point and cook slowly until seeds separate from pulp; then rub through hair sieve. Return pulp to kettle with skins, add an equal measure of sugar, and cook slowly 30 minutes, occasionally stirring to prevent burning. Put in a stone jar, glass jars or tumblers.

Orange Marmalade

3 lbs. of oranges
3 lemons
1½ pt. water
3 lbs. sugar
Wash, remove the peel and seeds, cutting one-half of the peel into very thin strips, and add it to the pulp and balance of the peel, which has first had the yellow portion grated off and has been passed through a food chopper with the pulp. Cover with water and let stand over night. Boil for 10 minutes the next morning; allow to stand for 12 hours, add the sugar and again stand over night. Cook it rapidly the next morning until the jelly test can be obtained. This is indicated by the flaking and sheeting from the spoon. Cool to 176 degrees

F., pour into sterilized glasses, and seal with paraffin.

Combination Marmalade

(Orange, lemon and grapefruit)

- 1 orange
- 1 lemon
- 1 grapefruit

Wash and shred the fruit, add 3 times the bulk of water, boil for 15 minutes, and let stand overnight. Next morning boil for 10 minutes and let stand again. When cold, measure pint for pint of sugar and cook over a rapid fire until the jelly stage is reached.

Orange and Rhubarb Marmalade

Remove peel in quarters from 8 oranges and prepare as for orange marmalade. Divide oranges in sections, remove seeds and tough part of skin. Put into preserving kettle, add five pounds rhubarb, skinned and cut in one-half inch pieces. Heat to boiling point, and boil one-half hour; then add 4 pounds sugar and the cut rind. Cook slowly two hours; turn into glasses.

MRS. FANNIE ANDREWS, NEE RUSH, ENDORSED AS MUSIC TEACHER

Mrs. V. Andrews (formerly Mrs. Fannie Rush) will teach music in Floydada again this school term, with the endorsement of the School Board of Floydada Independent School District. This week she makes the following announcement for the benefit of prospective pupils and their parents:

"To clear all doubt in the minds of those interested, I will state that I will continue my line of work in the usual way with the addition of a few added subjects. One of the important ones will be 'Musical History.' Great stress will be placed on technique, memory work and sight reading. I am putting forth great effort to establish this great art as one of the main factors in our schools. In order to do this, it will require the co-operation and support of the patrons of the schools. Until the fathers and mothers pride themselves in lending their support to the school as a whole we cannot hope to reach our ideal. 'In unity lies strength.' It will require the united effort of each teacher and each father and mother to place our schools on an A-1 standard.

I am offering my service for the ensuing term, not for the betterment of music alone, but for the betterment of our school as a whole. I desire to thank the people of Floydada and surrounding community for their liberal co-operation and support during the two years I have taught here and solicit a continuation of same. I promise the very best service, in every way, I am capable of giving.

"I will greatly appreciate an early enlistment of pupils as this will enable me to place my orders for all necessary supplies and have them in readiness for the commencement of school."

"SUPER-PLATES" NEEDED

The need for photographic plates and films of a quality higher even than their present high standard was emphasized at the third Pan-American scientific congress by Dr. C. D. Perrin, of the Argentine National observatory at Cordoba. As applied to the special problems of astronomy, plates of a higher speed than those now available would make existing telescopes the equivalent of instruments of twice their size and man; times their cost, because it would increase their light-gathering power. He also pointed out the need for the elimination of "graininess" in photographic negatives designed for technical work of extreme accuracy. He advocated special research for the purpose of producing such photographic "super-plates."

SIGHT AS A HANDICAP

Amos Cady, of Bolivar, Mo., could play six instruments simultaneously while he was blind, but now that he has regained his sight can only play one. He was blind 22 years. He played a harmonica held to his mouth with a yoke, a banjo with his hands, a bass drum beaten with his elbow, symbols struck with his knees, a triangle and eight Swiss bells rung by his feet. His ability to play more than one instrument now is explained by the fact that he cannot concentrate sufficiently to play six because the acute sensiveness of touch and feeling that comes with blindness left when his sight was restored.—Indianapolis News.

ACCORDING TO HOYLE

As Hiram Jones came into town he saw a sign in a store advertising a shoe sale. Shoes were hung all around the window in pairs, and in the center, on a small table, were laid three silver dollars, with the sign: "Get your shoes now. Three of a kind takes them."

Hiram need a pair of shoes; so he entered the store and said to the clerk: "I see you're selling shoes according to poker rules."

"Yes."

"Well, give me two pair."

"What size?"

"Number nine."

When the clerk returned with the shoes Hiram passed over three silver dollars and started to grab the shoes, but the clerk stopped him.

"Two pair of shoes at $3 is $6."

"Didn't you say you sold shoes on poker rules?"

"Yes."

"Well, don't three of a kind take two pair?"

"Sure," replied the clerk, "but it won't take four nines."—Prize Story in Judge.

AUTOES IN UNITED STATES

FOREIGN HUSBANDS

Discussing the advisability of an American marrying a foreigner, and the superior qualification of men of the different European countries, Mrs. Alice M. Williamson makes this comment on the American girl in Hearst's International and Cosmopolitan:

"In some respects an American girl is better fitted for an international marriage than girls of other nations because she is so quick-witted and adaptable. But she is handicapped because she has been so spoiled and petted by the men of her own country. No men spoil their women as American men do, and very noble must be the nature of a girl who doesn't take advantage of their kindness.

SALE RECALLS HEAVY BET

Addington hall, a famous beauty spot of industrial Lancashire, Eng., which recently was sold by the corporation to a local business man, was the scene of an amazing wager of 100 years ago.

It is on record that a cock fight took place between two birds belonging to the lord of the manor and the then earl of Derby, the stakes being all the local coal mines under the estate that could be seen from the dining-room window at the hall.

The Addington family, which formerly owned the estate, was one of the most ancient in the country.

WORLD'S DEEPEST WELL

The deepest well in the world was completed recently by engineers near Latrobe, Pa., when they struck natural gas at a depth of 7,428 feet, or almost one and one-half miles, says Popular Science Monthly. Work on the well was begun in 1922, and drilling continued for 30 months. The gas is now flowing at a rate of 500,000 cubic feet a day. The cost of sinking the well was about $200,000.

A divorced Moslem woman can marry again only if her previous husband permits.

"Daddy's Here!"

What a world of love and dependence! —yes, dependence! Do you ever think of it in that way when they greet you at the door; and of what the future would hold for them if you were taken from them?

Just a few moments spent with an Etna-Ize now will enable the Etna Life Insurance Company to provide your family with the monthly check then.

EARN WHILE THEY SERVE

While serving a two years' sentence at Atlanta, Ga., a prisoner invented a portable ice-making machine which is now being manufactured. Another convict devised a tool for making shoes and when he was released from the Maryland state prison he accepted a position at $5,000 a year with a shoe firm. A banker was able to build up a lucrative investment business that netted him $300 a day while in prison. A man convicted of the murder of a New York lawyer and sent to an asylum for the criminally insane nevertheless managed the investment of the $200,000 he possessed in such a way that it grew to nearly $250,000.—Popular Mechanics.

John Deere Corn Binder

The Binder with Power Carrier and Quick-Turn Truck

Operating a John Deere is mostly a horse-driving job—there's no real work about it. There's no work of dumping the bundle carrier and returning it to position hundreds of times a day. The power carrier does all this work for you—merely press a foot lever and the power carrier dumps the bundles free from the horses' path, and practically parallel to the standing corn.

Drop in and see this popular binder.

The Quick-Turn Tongue Truck is another feature you will appreciate because it takes neck weight from the horses—makes it easy for the horses to turn at the ends and keeps the binder running straight—sluicing on side hills is largely done away with.

When you buy John Deere implements you are sure of prompt repair service throughout their long life.

Experiment Kills Out Big Bed of Red Ants

What is believed to be a successful manner to follow to kill out a bed of ants, common to this section of Texas, was found by County Agent T. Scott Wilson while experimenting this spring.

Telling of the expediment Tuesday Mr. Wilson said he had worked on a good many theories during the years he was entomologist with the Department of Agriculture stationed at San Antonio and had never found a plan that appeared to be successful.

The experiment tried out here worked on a large bed of ants near his home in Floydada, he said. He mixed one-fourth gallon of gasoline with five gallons of water being careful to keep the mixture well stirred. This he poured into the ant bed, after building a dam about the mouth of the hole, and closed it up. The ants which hatched out later, not killed by the first application, he killed with a second application as soon as they began to make their appearance.

DIDN'T GO DOWN

President George M. Verity of the American Rolling Mills company, who in 63 years of business life has never had a single labor trouble, said in New York the other day.

"I believe in frank dealing. Employers should be honest and open with their men. Deceit, hypocrisy and cant never go down."

"A millionaire was addressing the inmates of an almshouse.

"Ah, dear friends," he said, "prosperity has wrecked and ruined countless lives."

"No doubt o' that," spoke up an old pauper on a back bench. "All the same, boss, I wish to goodness I'd a' been ruined by prosperity instead of adversity. I bet it'd been a darn sight pleasanter."

Sherwood forest is to be saved from despoilers, the L. M. & S. Railway Company having decided to withdraw its line which was to cut through the historic wood.

"Treacle and brimstone," or sulphur and molasses, the remedy of a mother's day, contained what is now known as Vitamine B, and its administration was based on sound nutritional wisdom.

SUGGESTIONS MADE TO RID VINES OF LICE

County Agent T. Scott Wilson suggests that those who have trouble with lice on their watermelon and cantaloupe vines try the "black leaf 40" preparation, which is applied to the lower side of the leaf with a spray. Black Leaf 40 may be obtained from most any drug store. It is a positive relief from lice for the vines, if applied correctly, Mr. Wilson said. If Black Leaf 40 is not available, common plug tobacco may be used—one plug to two gallons of water—applied with a spray.

Historical Data and Relics Gathered Here working for the best interests of this entire section of the state.

On June 27, 1924, the fiftieth anniversary of the Adobe Walls Fight, the Society sponsored the marking of that historical old spot with an appropriate monument.

The museum, a portion of a building having been donated by the State Teachers College at Canyon, now contains relics valued at about $10,000, and this collection is being added to. Mr. Haley said here Friday. He suggested a list that gives an idea of the things being collected: Indian relics of all kinds, relics of buffalo hunting days, relics of the ranching industry, all kinds of old newspapers, old letters, documents, books, all written articles pertaining to the history of Texas, old guns, swords, knives, household utensils and personal belongings of past generations, pictures of the old pioneers, pictures of towns in their early development, pictures of the range, traditions of the country, cowboy songs and trinkets of the World's War.

In speaking of making donations of relics, Mr. Haley said:

"When a relic is given the society the donor's name is placed upon it, together with a short written history of the article. Many persons have articles of interest which they will lend, but do not wish to part with entirely. All loans to the museum will be greatly appreciated, and will be returned upon the owner's calling for them. If anyone has something they would give us, we would appreciate it if they would send it to us."

"The Society is not a capitalized association and anyone is eligible to join. The annual fees are $3 and life membership is $25."

Mr. Haley left Friday at noon for Lockney to gather data there, before returning to Canyon.

DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM FEATURES LAWN SOCIAL

Ladies Missionary Society members entertained at the home of Mrs. E. B. Massie on West Missouri Street Friday evening with a delightful lawn party given for the general public. An entertaining program, arranged by a special committee composed of Mesdames S. Y. Carter, G. V. Smith, and E. B. Massie, was rendered. Refreshments were served and a free will offering taken, the proceeds going to the Society to be used in defraying expenses connected with the Methodist Church.

Beautiful Japanese lanterns, electrically lighted, were used to add color to the scene. On the veranda, amid lovely bowls and pots of flowers, was placed the piano. On this temporary stage was given the program consisting of well rendered piano and violin solos and colonial and modern songs. Individual readings and special numbers by a chorus of twelve pretty girls was the feature of the evening.

Two little colored boys related a story of stealing chickens and "brought down the house" with their story, and with special musical numbers.

Some sixty patrons were present for the social and were served refreshments. Misses Lorene Carter and Gladys Covington presided over the punch bowl.

UNCLE SAM GIVES BARGAIN

Nobody likes to get a letter on which there is postage due. One of the R. F. D. carriers tells a funny yarn about a woman, a foreigner, who received a letter from the old country marked 20 cents due. He offered it to her, asking for the 20 cents. She refused it, shaking her head. He stayed a moment, not knowing exactly what to do. Finally, he noticed that he had made a mistake and that the postage charge should have been 15 cents. So he called to the woman trying to explain.

As soon as she heard 15 cents she cheerfully gave him the money. She thought she had got the best of a bargain.—G. Edward Snyder in the American Magazine.
