

Community Fellowship Rules at Harmony

Several Hundred Gather for Closer Understanding Between City and Country—Results Gratifying

"Folks for miles around" were present at the ice cream and box supper and big community gathering held at Harmony Friday night of last week. With an end in view of creating closer relationships and a better mutual understanding between Floydada residents, especially the merchants, and the people who reside in various sections of the county, the people of Harmony extended an invitation to the Floydada Chamber of Commerce to meet them in an all-community gathering, accompanied by the Floydada Concert band and a special orchestra, responded to the extended invitation. A special open-air theatre was prepared at the Harmony school house to accommodate the visitors and everything was in readiness when the first car arrived.

A crowd estimated at seven hundred were present, representing several communities and the city of Floydada. Promptly at eight thirty, the band "opened up" with peppy selections, and the pocket books over the assembly followed suit. A cry, "ice cream right over here," called for a rush for the counter where good-looking maids were ready to serve the kiddies and the older "uns" with delicious home made cream. From that time on, everybody was busy shaking hands, laughing, talking and enjoying themselves in general.

M. Carr in a brief talk made the formal welcome. He said, "We the people of Harmony appreciate the way you have shown your interest by coming here tonight, and we hope that you enjoy yourselves."

The program was then turned over to C. A. Shockey, of Floydada, and under his management everything was carried out in perfect order. Maury Hopkins, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, representing Floydada delivered the principal address of the evening. In speaking of the Chamber of Commerce and its connection with the farmers of Floyd county, Hopkins said:

"Our Chamber of Commerce is primarily an organization that is interested in the advancement of the community at large. Its growth and success depends upon you and the great agricultural interests which you represent. Your interests are ours and they are interlocked so vitally that we should work together. There are a number of ways in which we will be able to help you. Harvest season is beginning to open up, and we will be at your service in supplying you with the hands that you are sure to need. This is only one instance in which we can help. We want to help you, and are anxious to co-operate with the farmers of Floyd county. The Chamber of Commerce wants you to feel that we are all one big community and that we will all profit by closer co-operation."

At the close of Hopkins' speech, Miss Blanch Scott daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Scott, gave a special solo. Miss Scott has a splendid voice and she used it to the best advantage when she sang "Pal of My Dreams."

A special orchestra then followed with a number of well rendered, popular selections that were highly appreciated. The orchestra was composed of the following members: Mark Duncan, cornet; Ogie Johnson and Keith, saxophones; J. H. Ward, piano, and Russell Duncan and Tom Goslee, drums.

Sale of the beautifully decorated boxes then began. Spirited bidding carried the affair over in a lively manner. A box made up by Miss Thalia Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Williams brought the prize sum of the evening. C. A. Shockey, served as auctioneer.

A final number was given by the special orchestra, and was followed by a short talk by M. D. Ramsey, a former resident of Harmony community now of Amarillo, in which he expressed the appreciation of the people of Harmony for the interest manifested by the visitors.

Fifty-six boxes were sold at the supper. Gordie Hanna and Mrs. Floyd Trowbridge, who served as cashiers, announced at the close of the meeting that one hundred dollars and thirty-five cents had been realized from the sale of boxes. The ice-cream supper netted a profit of near twenty dollars which was presented to the Floydada Concert Band.

The money obtained from the box supper will be used in part payment on a piano which was recently purchased for the Carr's Chapel church. Incidentally, everybody enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. M. Carr, Gordie Hanna, W. C. Hanna, George M. Finker, Robert Gary and E. Williams, Harmony residents were largely responsible for the success of the community gathering were highly pleased with the results. The Harmony people said, "We are gratified."

The Floydada people, merchants, business men, and bankers said, "We enjoyed being with you good folk."

Lubbock Takes Big End of Ball Game

Plenty of hits to win a ball game and good enough pitching to win, but Floydada Baseball Club lost Sunday afternoon at Lubbock to Lubbock 9 to 0.

Not many errors were marked up against the locals either, but the errors came at crucial moments and the hits didn't, accounting for the lopsided score. The Lubbock team played airtight ball and although Mickey had all kinds of stuff, allowing scratch hits only and striking out 17 men, the Lubbockites got their scratches when they needed them. Curry was Mickey's battery mate.

SIDELIGHTS ON HARMONY GATHERING

There was "gobs" of fun for the people who were present Friday night of last week at the community meeting held at Harmony school house fifteen miles southwest of Floydada. Good natured raillery was evident everywhere. A number of Floydada business men "caught it in the neck" at the hands of C. A. Shockey and Maury Hopkins while the fun making was going on.

Fifteen gallons of good old, home made ice cream were served to the folks. The materials were donated by the people of the community and the cream made at the home of George M. Finkner.

Through the courtesy of Robert Gary, the grounds were lighted up by electric lights. Gary brought his storage batteries from his Delco system and connected up about eight bulbs that made the scene as light as day.

The weather for the community meeting was ideal; a cool evening breeze and a bright moon made the return trip of the Floydada visitors a most pleasant one.

Ice cream was served free to the band boys in appreciation of their good playing.

M. Carr said in his welcome address that he hoped that everybody would enjoy themselves. If he could have seen all the Floydada people the next day he would have known that they all enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent—yea, "too fully".

A whole barrel of ice water furnished the material to dampen the spirits that rose too high or got too dry.

What they said about the gathering:

Harmony folks—
M. Carr—"We are splendidly pleased with the results."
George Finkner—"We are well satisfied with the affair in every way. We are certainly thankful to the people of Floydada for the way they have helped us. We are anxious for them to know that we appreciate the way they have supported us in this gathering."

W. C. Hanna—"This was an all-home affair and I think it is a fine thing. We are pleased with the way things have turned out."

Miss Blanche Scott—"We appreciate the spirit shown by Floydada people and we surely appreciate what they have done."

Floydada folk—
N. G. Jackson, of the First State Bank—"It was worth the money. It is a thing that should be kept up."

Glad Snodgrass, of Glad's Gents Furnishing Store—"The Harmony people distinguished themselves from the 'Rank and file' and greeted the Floydada bunch with a real West Texas Spirit."

J. V. Daniel, of the First National Bank—"One of the best good will builders I know of to make the people feel like we have a true interest in their community affairs."

A. L. Seoggin, Star Cash Grocery—"We felt at home and that we were all of the same community. We surely enjoyed it; especially the good eats."

Miss Clareete Hendrixson, of Britton, Texas, is here visiting Miss Lorene Carter. She came in last mid-week.

L. H. Ledbetter and his son-in-law, Dick Gaedke, both of Chillicothe, Texas, were here a few days last week on a prospecting trip.

Mrs. H. Bradford, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Tip, returned to their home in Canyon Monday after spending a few days here on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Lon M. Davis.

"Heat Norther" Has Old Settlers Guessing

Hot Wave of Eight Days Duration Furnishes Sweltering Weather for South Plains Area

All of the old time east Texas settlers who now reside on the plains have been made to feel quite at home for the past ten days. Some of them thought that they were dreaming that they were once again among the "sticks", and about the only things that convinced them that they were still in West Texas and wide awake was the decided absence of ten million mosquitos and the scarcity of creek water.

Summer opened up early in Floyd county this year with a pronounced vengeance. Beginning Saturday, June 7, as if running on a set schedule, a heat wave of unparalleled intensity for such early season, opened up on Floyd county. The "heat norther" has had the residents of the aforesaid county sweltering, puffing, fanning and cooling and ever making frantic efforts to keep themselves and old Jesse's butter in the water cooler from melting.

Scorching winds came from the west and south for the past nine days in unrelenting regularity. Those winds have been as hot as the breath of a dragon.

Late cotton, planted after the rainy season in the spring, is suffering considerably as reports indicate. The heat has been injurious to young wheat in that it has swiveled the grains to some extent. On the other hand, the heat has come at a most opportune time for the early cotton which is thriving wonderfully under the driving rays of a regular August sun. Wheat has been more rapidly ripened due to the heat wave and as a result, harvest is opening up from a few days to a week earlier than was at first anticipated.

More suffering from actual heat is reported from Floydada where residents have a thermometer in one hand and a large fan in the other. People naturally suffer more when they can glance over and see the little red line fondly hang around the 105 mark and when it finally soaks in how dreadfully hot it is—they sigh, "My gosh, ain't this heat awful." Then they fan for dear life for about five minutes and then—another look at the little red indicator.

The temperature in Floydada has been ranging around 100 to the highest point 105, which was registered Friday afternoon on one of the thermometers on Main street. The wave has taken the form of hot winds of considerable velocity during a part of the day and then characterized by a deathlike stillness at other portions of the day and night.

Reports over Texas and other neighboring states indicate that the "heat northers" are localized and appear in "spots." In south Texas the thermometer has been standing at 98 and 100 while West Texas has been sweltering under temperatures of heat that would make the tropical regions seem like the inside of a refrigerator.

Chester Day was in Plainview Saturday on business.

Former Floydada Girl Wins School Honors

Inez Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Morris, of Anaheim, California, was salutatorian at the twenty-fourth annual commencement exercises at the Anaheim high school Thursday evening, June 12.

Miss Morris had an average grade but slightly less than the valedictorian of her class, who graduated with the highest average ever recorded in the Anaheim school. Miss Morris took active part in all the high school events and devoted a great deal of her time to tennis, likewise winning honors in that field.

E. C. Nelson, Sr., and family, who have been absent from home on a vacation trip down state at Mt. Pleasant, Mt. Vernon, Hughes Spring and other points, returned home Monday.

Henry Cox returned Sunday from Jacksboro, where he had been for several days.

Mrs. Hugh Earthman Wins Grand Prize

Massing a total of 90,198,250 votes Mrs. Hugh Earthman, of this city, set a pace in the circulation drive conducted by the Amarillo Daily News and the Evening Post, and carried off first honors. Mrs. Earthman won the capital prize of a list of 74—a special model Star touring car.

The contest lasted over a period of ten weeks and was featured by the spirited rivalry shown by the contestants representing five districts. Eight automobiles a Baby Grand piano and 65 district prizes were awarded.

The capital prize went to the worker receiving the highest number of votes, irrespective of the districts. Mrs. Earthman was representing District Number 2.

E. L. Norman, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, is spending a two-weeks vacation period near Mt. Blanco, where he will harvest wheat.

you to my family."
"What are the terms?"
"Loyalty to your king and a will to understand and assist his plans."
"I could not follow him unless he will change his plans."
The baronet put down his fork and looked up at the young man. "Do you really mean what you say?" he demanded. "Is it so difficult for you to do your duty as a British subject?"
"Sir Benjamin, always I have been taught that it is the duty of a British subject to resist oppression. The plans of the king are oppressive. I cannot fall in with them. I love Margaret as I love my life, but I must keep myself worthy of her. If I could think so well of my conduct, it is because I have principles that are inviolable."
"At least I hope you would promise me not to take up arms against the king."
"Please don't ask me to do that. It would grieve me to fight against England. I hope it may never be, but I would rather fight than submit to tyranny."

The baronet made no reply to this declaration so firmly made. A new look came into his face. Indignation and resentment were there, but he did not forget the duty of a host. He began to speak of other things. The breakfast went on to its end in an atmosphere of cool politeness.

When they were out upon the street together, Sir Benjamin turned to him and said:
"Now that we are on neutral ground, I want to say that you Americans are a stiff-necked lot of people. You are not like any other breed of men. I am done with you. My way cannot be yours. Let us part as friends and gentlemen ought to part. I say goodbye with a sense of regret. I shall never forget your service to my wife and daughter."

"Think not of that," said the young man. "What I did for them I would do for any one who needed my help."

"I have to ask you to give up all hope of marrying my daughter."
"That I cannot do," said Jack. "Over that hope I have no control. I might as well promise not to breathe."

"But I must ask you to give me your word as a gentleman that you will hold no further communication with her."

"Sir Benjamin, I shall be frank with you. It is an unfair request. I cannot agree to it."

"What do you say?" the Englishman asked in a tone of astonishment, and his query was emphasized with a firm tap of his cane on the pavement.

"I hate to displease you, sir, but if I made such a promise, I would be sure to break it."

"Then, sir, I shall see to it that you have no opportunity to oppose my will."
In spite of his fine restraint, the eyes of the baronet glowed with anger, as he quickly turned from the young man and hurried away.

Jack turned his steps toward Franklin's door.

"I am like the lara or Goshen amid the plagues of Egypt," said Franklin, when the young man was admitted to his office. "My gout is gone and I am in good spirits in spite of your adventure."

"And I suppose you will scold me for the adventure?"
"You will scold yourself when the consequences have arrived. They will be sure to give you a spanking. The deed is done, and well done. On the whole I think it has been good for the cause, but bad for you."

"Why?"
"You may have to run out of England to save your neck and the face of the king. He was there, I believe?"
"Yes, sir."

"The injured lad is in a bad way. The wound caught an infection. Intense fever and swelling have set in."

I helped Sir John Pringle to amputate the arm this afternoon, but even that may not save the patient. Here is a storm to warn the wandering Innlet to his shade. A ship goes tomorrow evening. Get ready to take it. In that case your marriage will have to be delayed. Rush men are often compelled to live on hope and die fasting."

"With Sir Benjamin, the duel has been a help instead of a hindrance," said the young man. "My stubborn soul has been the great obstacle."

Then he told of his interview with Sir Benjamin Hare.

Franklin put his hand on Jack's shoulder and said with a smile:
"My son, I love you. I could wish you to be no different. Cheer up. Time will lay the dust, and perhaps sooner than you think."

"I hope to see Margaret tomorrow morning."
"Ah, then, what Grecian arts of soft persuasion?" Franklin quoted. "I hope that she, too, will follow the great star in the West!"

"I hope so, but I greatly fear that our meeting will be prevented."

Blinding Headaches
"For about twenty years," says Mr. P. A. Walker, a well-known citizen of Newburg, Ky., "one of our family remedies has been Black-Draught, the old reliable. I use it for colds, biliousness, sour stomach and indigestion. I was subject to headaches when my liver would get out of order. I would have blinding headaches and couldn't stoop about my work, just couldn't go. I used
and it relieved me.
"About eight years ago my wife got down with liver and stomach trouble. We tried all week to help her, but she didn't get any better. One day I said to the doctor, 'I believe I will try Black-Draught, it helps my liver.' He said that I might try it and to follow directions. She was nauseated and couldn't eat or rest. She began taking Black-Draught and in two days she was greatly improved and in a week she was up."
Try Black-Draught. It costs only one cent a dose. Sold everywhere. E-99

This and That

Friday the Thirteenth

Last Friday, June 13, slipped quietly in and as quietly passed out into history. There is no exact means for checking up on everybody and everything, but is a safe bet that a number of rabbit-foot charms have just a wee, tiny bit less hair on them now, due to the vigorous rubbing they might have received on the day of Luck.

If the Goddess of Luck was smiling or frowning on any particular person in Floydada, then they were too humble or too proud to admit it.

Quite a number of people who believe in luck and that sort of thing were disappointed last Friday because not a thing happened upon which they might comment with the words, "Ugh huh, I told you so, you can't fool me. I knew that something would happen today."

Now we don't believe in superstition or signs, or black cats, or swastikas, or horse shoes;—but we did keep the children close to the house, and we did put off building that roof on the hen house, and the wife did say that she believed that she would wait until Saturday to bake her Sunday cake, but that was different. It is always wise to practice safety first you know.

There is never a day passes by but that some poor fellow is disappointed about something. Have you got in line and bought a share in the Floydada Club? Buy one NOW and you'll not be among those who will be disappointed because they failed to act promptly.

Providence Items

Providence, June 16—Mr. Windehen was taken to Dallas Sunday night for medical treatment.

G. C. Tubbs, of Floydada, was in our midst last week.

Rev. A. W. Weber preached his farewell sermon Sunday. He will move to Gay Hill, Texas, this week.

Mrs. Lovvorn and Mrs. Kennedy were in town Tuesday shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. McCullah gave a lawn party Saturday night to the Sunday School children. A large crowd was present.

The hot weather of the past few days has ripened the grain fast. The song of the harvester commenced bright an dearly Monday morning. A few commenced on Sunday.

Mrs. Tom Weeks is entertaining some relatives from East Texas, and also her daughter, Mrs. Allen of near Plainview.

MALDEN CHILDREN'S HEALTH CAMP

That large numbers of subnormal children may be restored by sunshine, fresh air, proper food, and quiet hours of sleep in the open has been demonstrated in a summer camp maintained at Malden, Mass. for the prevention of tuberculosis. The camp was established about four years ago, and has cared for groups of children from all the schools, public and parochial.

While the camp is yet small and can only care for a limited number of children, there is a movement on foot to have it made a State Institution. Governor Cox has recommended to the State legislature that sufficient resources be made available to the department of health to inaugurate a 10-year program designed to reach all the children of the early school age. The cost of caring for and curing tuberculosis in young children is said to be much less than that required for adult patients.

A directive type of radio beacon is being used for guiding aircraft. In a recent test the pilot depended for guidance entirely upon the signals received from the beacon. In his ordinary airplane receiving set he heard the letters A and T (—) repeated over and over. As long as he flew along the correct course both letters were equally loud, but the moment he got off the course to one side or the other one letter became noticeably louder than the other and showed him which way to turn to go back into line.

In spite of repeated warnings, deaths are caused by the operation of automobile engines in closed garages. Carbon monoxide is given off by an automobile engine at all times and is extremely poisonous. When it is necessary to leave the engine running, all the doors and windows of the garage should be open or the car should be driven into the open.

In future the British Government will present every treaty to Parliament for twenty-one days; then ask for ratification. To a great extent this will do away with secret pacts.

To Broadcast Road Condition Report

As additional evidence that the State Highway Department is striving to serve the people of Texas to the fullest extent is the announcement that beginning with Monday, June 16 the Texas Highway Bulletin, the official organ of the department, will conduct a road condition report bureau in order to inform those who use the state highways, of the exact condition of the roads over the state.

This service will be rendered in two separate forms. First, the report on the highways will be broadcasted each day from the Broadcasting Station of the Texas Highway Bulletin at Austin second, inquiries by mail will be answered.

The report will be broadcasted twice each day. In the morning the report will be sent out in code; in the afternoon, between the hours of six and seven it will be given by voice. The report will be relayed to all sections of the state by amateur radio stations in different cities within the range of the Bulletin broadcasting station at Austin. In answering inquiries by mail the best routes and the conditions of the highway to and from various places over the state will be given. Maps of the state highways, with the best routes over the state will be given in each reply sent out.

There are one hundred and three state highways in Texas, and answers to inquiries will give the best routes over any of these roads, but for the present, at least, the report of only the following highways will be broadcasted.

Highway No. 1, Texarkana to El Paso, 871 miles.

Highway No. 2, Laredo to Oklahoma line, 550 miles.

Highway No. 3, Louisiana Line to San Antonio, 340 miles.

Highway No. 5, Texarkana to New Mexico Line, 566 miles.

Highway No. 6, Port Arthur to Arkansas line through New Boston, 268 miles.

Highway No. 9, Amarillo to San Antonio, 500 miles.

Highway No. 12, Beeville to Rosenberg, 150 miles.

Highway No. 15, Dallas to Louisiana through Marshall, 157 miles.

Highway Nos. 16 and 12, San Antonio to Brownsville, 330 miles.

Highway Nos. 19 and 40, Houston to Dallas 253 miles

Highway No. 36, Paris to Greenville, 50 miles.

The Texas Highway Bulletin, the official organ of the State Highway Department, is published without expense to the department. The publication of this Bulletin is not a commercial enterprise and it is not conducted for profit. The money received from the advertisements is used to defray the expense of publication and the broadcasting of the road condition report has been made a part of this publication's service to the people of this state in the interest of good roads.

With the touring season for this year now in its initial stage the Bulletin believes that this service which it will render will serve a long felt need for those who use the highways.

Anna Mae Collins, Lula Coleman and Mrs. Will Collins were visitors in Floydada Monday.

Jimmy Bryant of Plainview was in Floydada Sunday.

Robert Carruth, of Rochester, Texas, returned home Tuesday after ten days spent here with his brother J. A. Carruth.

Mrs. B. P. Woody has as her guests this week her father, C. M. Craig, of Graham, Texas, and Mrs. E. H. Wade, of Jayton, Texas. They arrived Sunday.

Roy Snodgrass returned last mid-week from Mineral Wells where he spent some ten days.

America is guilty of wasting from $2,000,000,000 to $4,000,000,000 annually, by burning raw coal in its many scattered little furnaces instead of converting it into electrical energy at or near the mines, and salvaging the by-products that now go up in smoke.

Buster Keaton in "Sherlock, Jr."

AT THE Olympic Theatre

MONDAY AND TUESDAY, JUNE 23-24
(Initial presentation)

This picture is a riot from start to finish and has more real laughs to the foot than most comedies have to the reel and a particularly pleasing thing about the picture is that the situations and gags are entirely original.

The film has just been released and this picture establishes BUSTER KEATON as a comedy-star of the first magnitude. It is undoubtedly one of the most thrilling novelties that has ever come on the screen.

Bring the family. They'll all like it. Buster's "Sherlock Jr." is a trouble chaser.
