

Floyd County's Jail Finished November 20

Modern Structure Will Take Place of Present Criminal Quarters in Floyd County

Floyd County's new $37,000 fire proof jail, on the north-east corner of the court-house block, with three stories and basement and built of brick with reinforced concrete throughout, was finished last Friday, November 20, according to Superintendent J. D. Rushing, of the Southern Steel Company, San Antonio, contracting firm.

Aside from the basement, there are six resident rooms on the first floor, eight cell rooms, including six tool-proof cages and three cells for women, and a hospital ward on the second and third floors. Each cage has hot and cold water, shower bath, while all rooms throughout the jail have steam heat.

The cells are made of a steel that is uncuttable, save with a special cutting torch, and are not affected by heat. There are no keys to any of the cells; each is opened from an outside combination lock-box, made of steel, and the entire locking system is so enclosed that none of the prisoners can get to any part of it.

Forty-six swinging bunks are found in the cells, and the building is so constructed that additional cells may be built whenever the need arises for them.

A hospital ward and three cells for women inmates are on the third floor. Two portable bath tubs and other conveniences are also to be found on the upper floor.

The main entrance door of steel composition is on the west side, though there are two other doors on the first floor and each entrance to the hall is enclosed with steel doors. On the first floor is found the residential quarters of the sheriff or jailer—six rooms, with kitchen, dining room, bed rooms, and with modern bath room, running water, and the like. An up-to-date lighting system is had with three separate electric currents in operation.

Whirlwinds Close Season With Wayland Game Here

The closing football game of the '25 season for the homelings will be played with Wayland College, Plainview, at the city ball park at 2:30 on Thanksgiving Day. Superintendent Wester had difficulty in arranging a Turkey Day game, having tried to secure a match with near-by high schools, including Plainview, Lubbock, Post, Lockney, and Slaton.

Wayland has had a disastrous season on the gridiron, but their players doubtless rank above the average high school "footballist," and the Green and White will have to be at top form to keep the game from being one-sided. Or we miss our guess!

Captain Green and Hal Scott will be fighting their last battle in a Floydada High uniform, and the spectators may expect each to play among the best games of their career, while the remaining members of the Whirlwind eleven will all be fighting hard to close the season with a win.

The starting line-up will be the same as in previous games, with the exception of A. D. Sommerville, who will play left end.

COMMISSIONERS ACCEPT JAIL

The Commissioner's Court officially accepted the new County jail Monday of this week, according to announcement from the office of County Judge E. C. Nelson, Jr.

Members of the Commissioner's Court are as follows: Judge E. C. Nelson, Jr., W. C. Hanna, commissioner of Precinct 1; W. O. Shurbet, of Precinct 2; Walter Wood, Precinct 3; and W. W. Payne, commissioner of Precinct 4.

A jail open-house was formerly planned, on which day all citizens of the county would be invited to come and inspect the modern structure, but the idea has been abandoned on account of the uncertainty of Sheriff Maddox's whereabouts from day to day and the absence of any other suitable "guide." Many persons have already inspected the jail, however, and still others are expected to do so before or even after the county prisoners are moved into it—perhaps this week.

C. OF C. MEETS FRIDAY NIGHT

Members of the local Chamber of Commerce will have their regular monthly meeting in the County Court room Friday night at 7:30, according to an announcement from Secretary R. A. Highsmith.

It will be a general pep meeting, and all members are urged to attend.

PRECINCT 3 TO HAVE GRADER

Contract for road grader and tractor for Precinct 3, of which Walter Wood is Commissioner, will be made in the near future, according to County Judge E. C. Nelson, Jr.

Sealed bids are being received at the present time, but all must be in by 11 o'clock, December 14, accompanied by a certified check for 5 per cent of the amount of the bid. All bids should be mailed to the Floyd County Judge, at Floydada, and the prices submitted are F. O. B. Floydada. The Commissioner's Court reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

HIGH COMPLIMENT IS PAID MEMBERS LOCAL GRID TEAM

"A fine bunch of boys, clean in their play, showing excellent sportsmanship throughout the game"—that's the way S. D. Burton, director of athletics at West Texas State Teachers College and referee at the Floydada-Slaton game referred to the Green and White eleven in a recent letter to Superintendent Wester.

Mr. Burton further stated that it seemed as if the Slaton boys got a few more breaks and had horse shoes or rabbits feet hanging all over them at the beginning of the second half, though he is not attempting to discredit that team's victory.

Local fans who witnessed the Whirlwind-Tiger game will remember that Slaton scored all of their touchdowns in about six minutes after the opening of the second half, and that Slaton later lost to the Memphis squad by the score of 35-0, for further state honors in the Interscholastic League football race.

W. O. JONES NEW EXPRESS MANAGER FLOYDADA OFFICE

W. O. Jones, of Electra, has succeeded M. W. Herring as manager of the Floydada Office of the American Railway Express Company, being checked in Monday afternoon.

Mr. Jones' family will join him here sometime during the month of December.

Mr. Herring has been manager of the Floydada office of the express company for nearly two years.

Stolen Goods Recovered Monday on Lockney Road

Recovery of various articles of clothing—suits, overcoats and the like—Monday, five miles north of the city, by Sheriff Maddox, in company with Sheriff E. T. Smith of Hollis, Oklahoma and E. L. Gardner of Gould, Oklahoma has been officially announced. These goods together with a large quantity of loot stolen from an Idalou garage and recovered at Lockney, November 13, are valued at $250. Theft charges have already been filed against one person now in the Floyd County jail, and officers are on the trail of several others thought to be involved in the robbery.

The clothing found belonged to Mr. Gardner, who operates a store in Gould, Harmon County, Okla., who, with Mr. Smith, Harmon County Sheriff, arrived in Floydada Sunday night to aid Sheriff Maddox in recovering the stolen goods.

Concerning the efficient work of Sheriff Maddox and local officers, Mr. Gardner and Sheriff Smith said that out of state folks appreciate the local officers as well as the people here.

COTTON REPORT RAISES LEVEL OF PRICE ON LOCAL MARKET

The government cotton ginning report and estimate on the total season production, which came in Saturday, had a bullish effect on the market, the price rising sharply as soon as the exchanges opened and showing a steady tendency throughout this week.

With generally fair weather for the two-weeks period, for which the report was made on the ginnings, the total bales ginned decreased very materially from the two weeks previous and the estimate for the total crop yield for the season was also down nearly 90,000 bales.

Good cotton which reached the Floydada market has found a ready market, but some of the cotton is poor grade, and is having to stand a heavy dock on this account.

EAST TEXAN HERE TO BUY MAIZE

J. N. Peterson of Rusk County arrived in the city Friday evening to buy three or four cars of maize for farmers in his section of the state. He will visit Plainview and perhaps other sections of the Plains before returning to his home.

Mr. Peterson reports Rusk and nearby counties as having produced the most wonderful cotton crop ever known for that section. The yield has more than doubled that of any previous year, averaging one-half bale to the acre, and at one town of 600 inhabitants the season's ginnings have reached 13,000 bales.

Poultry Assn. Will Meet At Lockney Wed. Night

H. P. Coleman, President of The Floyd County Poultry Association, has called a special meeting of the association for next Wednesday night, December 2nd, at 7:30 p. m. The meeting will be held in the lobby of The First National Bank at Lockney.

Everyone interested in poultry and the welfare of The Floyd County Poultry Ass'n Show which is to be held at Floydada December 10, 11 and 12, are requested to be present. Final arrangements for holding the show, superintendent's for the show, and a cooping committee will be appointed at this meeting.

The premium catalogue is now ready, any anyone wishing a copy can obtain one by writing the secretary.

Everyone that is anticipating showing their birds at the show should attend as there will be some one to give a short lecture on preparing birds for the show.

Petition Asks Vote For a New Grade School, Date Set For Dec. 19, Facilities Now Inadequate

The Board of Trustees of Floydada Independent School District will be asked tonight to call an election on December 19th for the purpose of voting on a bond issue of $85,000 for the construction and equipment of a ward school, petition for which, to be presented to the board, is being circulated by interested citizens today.

In an effort to avoid further construction costs at this time the school board have been making every effort to house the scholastics enrolled this year without discomfort, but the overcrowded condition of the school at present and the probability of further expansion make the construction of the building imperative. Two or more additional teachers should be employed now to have an adequate teaching force for the number of pupils enrolled, but this is impossible, according to members of the board, because there is no place to house the additional classes.

Plans of the new ward building, which will be completed before next school term, if the bonds are voted by the tax-payers, call for a fireproof building, which with the equipment for it, will cost $85,000. To meet the present needs and to provide for future expansion, the board has decided upon an elastic type of plan where future additions can be made at minimum cost. The plans have been prepared by Peters & Haynes, Lubbock architects.

Should the proposed bond election carry and make it possible to overcome the limitations and congestion in the public school system in Floydada, the board plan to erect a building of approximately 60 feet by 165 feet on the "T" type, with the auditorium forming the "T." It will contain fourteen 22x28-foot standard size class rooms, each having a maximum capacity of 40 pupils and each containing a cloak room. In addition to the fourteen class rooms there will be a commodious office for the principal, a book room for the free textbooks; a large library and reading room; rest rooms for teachers and an auditorium of approximately 600 capacity. A feature of this auditorium as explained by the architects, which will add much to the discipline and efficiency of the school management, is that it will contain equipment suitable for a study hall as well as an auditorium. Here the children will have a place to gather for convocation exercises and occasions necessary for school unity. The auditorium will also be equipped with a stage and the necessary dressing rooms. The auditorium will have an inclined floor.

The preliminary drawings, as prepared by Peters and Haynes, call for a building of Gothic design with exterior of a mingled-shade of red vitrified brick with stone trim. The corridor floors will be of concrete with cement finish and all interior walls will be of fire-resistive materials plastered.

The building will be steam-heated. The installation will be of the two-pipe vapor system, which is the most efficient and economical of upkeep, according to the architects. Each class room will be equipped with a ventilating system of foul air registers and flues, which are to be connected to ventilators on the roof, to carry off the foul and vitiated air from the rooms and keep an abundance of fresh air.

Should the bond issue meet with the approval of the majority of our votes when the proposition is given for their acceptance, the board will instruct the architects to complete the plans as quickly as possible, so that contractors who desire to figure on the construction may have ample time to get their quotations and then a sufficient time for the successful bidder to have the building complete for the opening of school year next fall.

A perspective of the building, which the board plans to have erected and equipped from the $85,000 bond issue, if it carries, is in the display window at The Hesperian office.

SANTA FE IMPROVEMENTS MADE AT LOCAL YARDS

The local stock yards have recently been improved by the Santa Fe bridge gang, under the supervision of D. Amberg, with headquarters at Slaton. Previous improvements have also been made by Mr. Amberg and his crew of workmen, including ground posts on each side of the depot, to keep trucks and wagons off the platform, and also the putting in of about twenty-five staves in the water tank at the depot, which had been leaking very badly.

Mr. Amberg has been with the Santa Fe road for over thirty-five years, and formerly resided in Kansas, though he believes this country is far above Kansas in many respects. The bridge gang which is under the supervision of Mr. Amberg does general repair work on all branches of the Santa Fe leading from Slaton, Plainview and Lubbock, and the workmen temporarily move to each town visited, making their home in specially built railroad cars, where their meals are prepared and served, and where lodging is had.

BAPTIST DINNER SATURDAY, INSTEAD OF THANKSGIVING DAY

Ladies of the Baptist Church, who planned a big dinner down-town for Thanksgiving, instead of serving it to-morrow as planned, will serve it Saturday, November 28th.

The dinner will be served in the Surginer Building, north side of square, the announcement of the postponement states, and there will be plenty for all.

Reny Teague Injured At Gin Tuesday Morning

Reny Teague, suctionman at the McCoy Gin Southwest of Floydada 14 miles, sustained serious cuts on his hand and lower arm and two fractures of the arm Tuesday morning, when saws in one of the ginstands caught his glove and drew his arm into the fast-flying machinery.

The hand was so severely cut that two fingers were completely cut away, and the third may be lost, leaving only a thumb and the little finger on the hand. The tremendous power of the saws also strained his arm so badly that it was broken in two places, one above and one below the elbow.

Harvey Assiter, manager of the gin, and other members of the gin crew, rushed the injured man to the Smith & Smith Sanitarium in Floydada, where Teague's wounds were dressed and the bones of the arm set. The gin was shut down for two or three hours, while the major portion of the crew were absent.

Teague was cleaning cotton out of a stand that had choked, when the accident occurred.

AUTO LICENSE SUPPLIES HAVE BEEN RECEIVED BY COLLECTOR

Supplies for the forthcoming automobile license paying month of December have already been received by Tax Collector J. R. Maddox, new plates for commercial vehicles and passenger vehicles being included in the list of supplies.

Black letters on a white background are used on the license plates made up for passenger cars this coming year, commercial vehicle plates being made up in black letters with slate gray background.

Among other things that will be required this year before the license can be paid is a certificate from an official light tester to the effect that the lights on the car to be licensed, have been tested. This certificate must bear the date not earlier than 30 days before application is made for the highway license.

Tom B. Triplett and J. M. Wise, of Amarillo, were here Monday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Cloud returned home Monday from Amarillo, where W. L. Finkle, brother of Mrs. Cloud, had been seriously ill from pneumonia. Mrs. Cloud had been with her brother for more than a week.

Miss Vera Dickerson, of Coffeyville, Kansas, who had been visiting for some three weeks with her cousins, Misses Blanche Abston and Doris Armstrong, left Friday of last week for her home.

Construction Started on Utilities Co. Ice Plant

Laying the foundation for the new $20,000 ice plant of the Texas Utilities Company at Floydada was begun this week by George Parr, contractor, who had a crew of men begin Saturday tearing down the frame building of the Floydada Ice Company's old plant, preparatory to constructing the new building on the location.

Weeks ago the Texas Utilities Company's crew of men pieced together the big brine tank which will be installed in the plant and this has been awaiting installation until the contractor could reach this job, after completing similar jobs at Hereford, Ralls and other points on the circuit, which will be served by the company for ice, light and power.

The plant is expected to be completed in ample time to tune up for next spring and summer's run of ice making. It will have a capacity of 15 tons of ice in 24 hours.

Suspension of Business To Mark Thanksgiving

Churches Join in Thanksgiving Service This Morning at Cumberland Presbyterian Church

Practically a complete suspension of business in Floydada, especially in the retail section of the business district, will mark the observance of Thanksgiving Day here, clerks in stores and workmen in the various industries being relieved for a full holiday, with indications that some of the Thanksgiving crowds will take the day easy at home, others will visit neighbors where big Thanksgiving dinners are in preparation, and practically all will see a football game, either their own high school boys against Wayland or Tech College against W. T. S. T. C. at Lubbock, in the afternoon. Golf at the country club, duck and goose hunting will also draw their portions of the crowds.

In the forenoon beginning at 10:30, a general Thanksgiving Service will be held at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. At this service Rev. F. L. Davis, pastor of the First Christian Church, will preach the Thanksgiving sermon. The musical part of the service is being arranged by Mrs. J. V. Daniel, A. N. Gamble, Mrs. O. W. Kirk, Miss Julia Adams and C. T. Stevens.

Rev. J. L. Henson will give the invocation at the service, Elder J. J. Day will read the scripture lesson, and Rev. Edgar Eskridge will lead in prayer, following which the president's Thanksgiving Proclamation will be read by J. C. Wester, superintendent of the Public Schools.

The musical service will include songs by the audience and a male quartette. An offering will be taken preceding the closing song and benediction at the service.

The committee on decoration for the church includes Mesdames W. J. Burke, Geo. Dickey, W. H. Hilton, W. M. Massey, Kenneth Bain and J. B. Jenkins.

Tonight's Book Shower Creating Much Interest

The book shower or library entertainment, planned by the local Parent-Teacher's Association for tonight at 7:30 is attracting unusual interest, and the possibility of securing as many as 600 books has been expressed by Superintendent Wester.

Aside from the social side of the entertainment, which will be held in the high school auditorium, a program by the school pupils has been arranged, and refreshments will be served, officials of the P. T. A. state.

All persons of the city are urged to rally to the cause and attend the book shower tonight, bringing a book that may be used by the school library, or else the equivalent of one—$1.50.

ABERNATHY YOUTH SOUGHT

Requesting aid in the search of their thirteen-year old son, Richard Wallace of Abernathy, a postal card was recently received by Harper Scoggins, principal of the city schools, to whom the card was addressed, from the youth's parents, requesting that he ask the pupils if any one had seen the lad.

The boy is 5 feet in height, weighs 98 pounds, has a full face and was last heard from in Lorenzo. He left home Saturday, November 14, belief is expressed that he may be picking cotton.

Any person hearing of his whereabouts is urged to notify A. J. Fox, at Abernathy, Texas.

FAWVER FAMILY REUNION

The Fawver family had a reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Willis Saturday night, and had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Will Johnson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson and son, of Vernon. The Johnson brothers are nephews of Mrs. Willis, and they returned to their home Saturday.

LOCAL COTTON YARD FIRE

A fire in the local cotton yard the early part of last week destroyed about five bales of cotton and damaged a number of other bales, according to reports from Scott King, public weigher.

The fire is thought to have originated on the inside of the bales, and is not uncommon at certain times during the cotton season, though the loss was covered by insurance.

Among the persons whose cotton was either lost or damaged are the following: Haynes Gin, 4 bales, Travis Collins, 3 bales, Scott King, 1 bale, and Lon Davis 1 bale.

Joe Wasson and a bunch of other hunters from Matador were in Floydada Tuesday enroute home from the mountains of New Mexico, where they had been on a deer-hunt. They returned with the venison and horns of four bucks, one of them a seven-point deer.

Appropriate clothing for men and women students in every phase of college life was worked out by the textile and clothing classes of the Southwestern Louisiana Institute, department of home economics. The garments and hats were made in the domestic arts laboratory and the demonstration took the place of the usual style show.

"JAKE" SITUATION

Strong talk by the enforcement department of the Treasury Department about Jamaica Ginger, and the likelihood that permits heretofore issued, may be revoked, beginning with 1929, has put a different face on the "jake" situation over the country, and while there seems to be no doubt that "jake" has been getting a bit of credit for corn whiskey's work and other forms of intoxicants, the proof that Jamaica Ginger has more than served its purpose and has gotten into the channels of trade not only as a medicine but also as a beverage, seems to be borne out by the treasury department's determination to curb the distribution of it.

Just what extent the distribution of "jake" will be curbed has not been officially stated. With a good many million dollars behind the fight to maintain the status as it now is, it is reasonable to expect that the distribution will not be cut off entirely. Too many millions have been made by manufacturers and distributing agencies out of the manufacture and sale of the medicine for them to give up without a struggle. A lot of fortunes in America will date from the time, after the prohibition law was passed, when they learned of the loop hole afforded by the exception of Jamaica from the excluded list of intoxicants that might be manufactured and distributed.

Determination of many cities and towns in America to prohibit its distribution is sufficient indication of the damage being done; and whether the ordinance passed or to be passed, will be needed, is to be found out when it is learned just how far-reaching the order of the treasury department will be.

COTTON BURR WASTE

The waste of cotton burrs in the panhandle—plains country annually is something enormous, the value of products thus taken from the soil and being burned for fuel or wasted reaching into figures that have been variously estimated, all very high.

Now comes Dabney White, a gin man of Tyler, who declares that the burrs are worth $10 a ton. In an open letter to ginners he declares:

A million dollars worth of cotton burrs are now being destroyed in the Staked Plains and the Panhandle country. It is costing many ginners many dollars extra to destroy these burrs.

I have had the Government to test the value of these burrs for you and they find that they are worth considerably over $10 per ton for feed or for fertilizer, almost twice as much as cottonseed hulls. To get this value from them they should be ground. I find that you can grind these burrs into meal for about $1 per ton. The grinding machinery will cost you about $150. You can use a tractor or connect to your power plant. Your customers can well afford to pay you $2 or $3 per ton for grinding these burrs. They make a splendid feed mixed with cottonseed meal and ground maize heads. This machine will also grind maize heads. Get rid of these burrs without burning them on your yard. We lost a $20,000 gin by fire from a burr-pile fire recently. Your insurance company will cancel your policy if they catch you burning burrs in piles on your gin premises.

Thus, Mr. White calls attention to the waste and gives an apparently practical manner in which the burrs now lost to the land, can be turned into profit. There was a time when cottonseed, thought worthless, cost the ginners heavily to dispose of them. The time is coming when burrs, now wasted, will also be saved.

THE SPREAD IN EDUCATION

The urge for education in this country has grown to such proportions that educational institutions are being taxed to their utmost to house the millions clamoring for admission.

This year New York City has enrolled, for the first time in its history, more than a million children in its public school classes. Chicago has to its credit more than half a million. So it goes throughout the country. This is the contribution which our public schools are making to the nation. It is the country's investment in its future.

The broad diffusion of education brings into conspicuous view the force of the dominating idea of the nation—equality of opportunity. Education is not confined to "white collars." Scholastic training penetrates farm, factory and work-shop. Hundreds of thousands are subjected to its influence in night classes, extension classes, part-time classes, correspondence courses and, at home, by radio. It makes education—as is proper in a nation founded on democracy—democratic.

This spread of learning calls for an equalization in our social status and education must establish it. Existing social classifications can hardly survive the present leveling influence of literacy. In this country, where a laborer today becomes a bank president tomorrow; where a shop mechanic lifts himself to motor magnate; where the self made rise suddenly from obscurity to eminence, there is needed a new social recognition for all honorable occupations. Educational tendencies must not be controlled by but must control that social standing.

Education is the great leveler. It is breaking down the barriers between those who toil by hand and those who labor by brain; it is tearing down the wall that separates the socially elect from those of humble origin. Step by step this country is moving in the evolution of a new measure for social value—worth rather than wealth—where, if there be any aristocracy at all, it will be an aristocracy of brains. It is tending more and more to become the world's true index of value. For in every occupation men and women are measured by their works, and the quality of their work is in the main affected by the knowledge and training education bestows.

"The Colonel's Lady and Judy O'Grady" may be "sisters under the skin" but education brings the equality to a visible surface.

Anti-glare law, that makes motorists have their lights tested, is a good one. Incidentally, you have to have a certificate from the official tester dated not earlier than 30 days before you pay your license, which means that practically all cars in the county will have to be tested again before January 1st, or at least before the officers begin picking 'em up for failure to pay the license.

VANOGRAMS

By Van

"A blotter," mused a friend recently—after searching for one, "is something you hunt for while the ink dries."

It was after a fire had been extinguished, and one of the spectators was returning therefrom. He spied a flapper who rolled 'em, and rushing up to the astonished he shouted, "Say, the fire's out!" "Whadda ye mean—the fire's out," she says. Then elucidated he, "Just what I said, the fire's out, and it's time to roll up your hose!"

Which brings to mind an address by a Bishop recently made before a North Carolina assembly of 300 persons, during which the Bishop implored his audience to wear a mustache, since it was the only badge of masculinity left the men by the opposite sex—after the women had cut their hair like some of them do and also since they wear men's clothes. Bet there are some exceptions to the latter however, such as men's supporters and winter underwea—ah, we ain't goin' to mention that one though!

"For Har"—these words were seen on a small truck passing through the city recently. 'Tis probably a new way to spell "hire," just like a sign we once saw scrawled on a gin, "No smoking aloud."

Two men were in the office 'tuther day for to buy some circulars, but they only wanted 250; the price on this number was quoted and then the price for an additional 250 was given—which was less than the first amount, for the more you buy the less it costs. So what did the men say but "We'll take the last 250 and wont have to pay so much?" Nothing else!

Such brightness recalls the time we visited in the city and heard of an opening for a bright, intelligent boy. Just from the sticks, we went into the office and proudly asked the man if he still had an opening for a bright, intelligent boy. With a hasty once-over he replied, after pointing to the door, in a hard-boiled manner, "Yes, and be sure to close it as you leave!"

Group Owned Flivver, Bought to Cut Down Expenses, Sensation at University of Texas

'TIN YOU LOVE TO TOUCH' RESURRECTED FROM JUNK HEAP, SAVES BOYS MONEY ON TRANSPORTATION BILLS

(By Lee Woods, in The Daily Texan, University of Texas Student Publication.)

"Hell to Start, Hell to Stop!" "Hopping Henry!" "Easy—I'm a Nervous Wreck!" "The Phantom Ford!" "You'll Be Old Sometime, Too!" Popular songs or movie subtitles? Neither; just a few phrases and slogans to be seen on one-time cars in which Texas students cavort around the University neighborhood.

These old automobiles have become the vogue in student transportation circles, and may be seen parked in front of many fraternity and boarding houses. Proverb says that clothes do not make the man and it might go further and say that looks do not make the car, for surely strip-down flivvers belie their appearance when they tear down the street with a deafening roar and at an unbelievable speed.

But regardless of looks, cooperatively owned cars have become the thing socially, practically and economically. They are correct for all occasions, and are driven places where more costly vehicles hesitate to go. And above all, they serve admirably for dating purposes.

The unique feature about these cars is that they cost the individual student very little money. Several students at a frat or boarding house pool their finances and buy a car from a local dealer at a price usually varying between $30 and $100. The average price is about $85, or less than $20 each when five or more students go in together on the proposition. Running expense is not a matter to lose sleep over, as the upkeep is handled cooperatively, too. Thus two factors in the popularity of such automobiles are low selling price and cheap upkeep—cheap mostly because there is not much there to keep up.

In one instance there are nine students, all from Floydada, staying at the same house in Austin. Six of them have gone in together on a cheap Ford sedan, which they run under a joint cost and joint control system. A regular motor club has been organized, each investor being a member. Corporation, as it is called, is ultra-democratic and has no officers, all members being expected to carry out the conditions of the agreement. A weekly schedule is posted in a conspicuous place, showing the time allotted to each student to use the car. There being only six involved, the plan works out well and each co-owner gets the car one day and night each week. If a student does not want the car on his day, he may swap days with one of the other five students.

Divide Expenses
Each one buys his own gasoline in the amount he thinks he will need. Tires and spare parts are paid for jointly usually, but often "kangaroo" court will convene to determine if in a particular case an accident or blow-out could have been avoided. If it is learned that any person is wholly responsible for damage done, he is forced to stand the total expense resulting.

Frequently if the student who is entitled to the car for Sunday is kind-hearted enough, the entire aggregation will pile in for a spin. On one occasion a trip was made to Mt. Bonnel, the top of which was reached only by turning the car downhill until the carburetor was full of gas, then going up another thirty feet or so and repeating the process. Finally the Ford went over the top, the achievement being climaxed by a celebration on the part of the occupants.

Co-educational Car
To carry out the co-educational scheme of the University, the flivver ordinarily carries members of both sexes. The general rule is that for dating purposes there must be at least two couples in the car. This is surely a preventative measure to avoid accidents to the Ford. However, the capacity is by no means limited to two couples, for by placing a rug-covered box between the front seats the sedan has been made to accommodate three and even four boys and their dates very easily.

On to A. and M.
The joint owners of Lizzie are making extensive plans to go in it to the A. and M. game at College Station on Thanksgiving. They expect to leave Austin perhaps a day early, temporarily withdrawing from the University if necessary, to reach Aggie land in time for the annual gridiron classic. Then if the car survives that jaunt and does not pass away during the winter, the seven students hope to make the long journey home to Floydada next June, shipping their belongings via the railroad.

At one of the fraternity houses there are three autos owned jointly by several students. In these cases there are only four, three and two members using the cars. The few owners for each one eliminates the need of keeping a program, but even here there are certain arrangements. For example, it is part of the common law in regard to one touring car that it is not to be taken out unless it carries at least one person for each wheel, not counting the steering wheel. Again the expenses are borne jointly, the gas account being paid monthly.

Numerous other frats and boarding houses boast their relics in the way of vehicles. University students therefore have become a second-hand to fifth-hand car market for automobile dealers. In bygone days when a horse became old and feeble, it was turned into the pasture to graze contentedly the rest of his days, but times have changed and the automobile has replaced the horse. However, cars that have served their day are not permitted to rust in peace; instead they are sold to University students to be coaxed around as long as the vital parts hang together.

State high-school athletic organizations have been formed in 39 States, and in 4 States a commissioner is at the head of the organization. The commissioner in Ohio receives a salary of $5,000.

Eight Floydada Boys at Texas University and Leapin' Lena, All "Dolled Out" to Have Their Pictures Made.

Six of the eight University boys shown in the photo above are part owners in the tin lizzie sedan buried beneath. The picture gives a graphic representation of the way the boys "stack up" outside, and the inside arrangement is left for the reader's imagination. All of the eds are from Floydada. Present plans as announced include a temporary withdrawal for a trip to Aggie land on November 26. Reading from left to right: First row, (sitting): Macy Burke, Garner Surginer, Edwin Stiles. STANDARDIZATION OF REPAIR SERVICE FORD'S NEWEST MOVE

The first move by an automobile manufacturer to establish complete standardization of methods employed in repair service has been made by the Ford Motor Company in a text entitled "Ford Service" which is for distribution to authorized Ford dealers and service stations. The book, which includes about 300 pages is the culmination of several years of research by Ford engineers. It covers in minute detail, with numerous illustrations, every operation in assembling and repairing Ford cars.

Automobile engineers all over the country have long urged that a system of repair methods, standardized by the manufacturer, be worked out in the interest of car owners. Practically no two mechanics follow the same method even on the same operation, they assert. Efficiency may also vary, it is pointed out, and it is an assurance of the highest type of service if in every shop the methods conducive to highest efficiency are employed.

For years the company has maintained a direct and close service supervision over its dealers and service stations and with the new text this is strengthened by giving mechanics in simple form the approved methods for servicing Ford cars. Publication of the book, a statement says, is "in line with the company policy of improving service to Ford owners in every proven way practical."

An outline for guided studies in women's clubs is offered by the University of Wisconsin. The subjects presented include child training in relation to education, home economics, the nineteenth century novel, the age of knighthood, and other historical and educational topics, with suggestions for study, questions for discussion, and references.

CHAPEL EXERCISES

Last Monday morning Rev. J. J. Day made a talk to the student body on the subject of "Definition of the Heart." The keynote of the talk was clean living.

Mrs. Grigsby and Mrs. Husky made a visit to the school Monday morning, and Mrs. Grigsby outlined the plans for the book shower Wednesday night. She asked that all the English students in the high school write an invitation to their parents or some friend to attend the book shower.

Miss Jarvis announced in Chapel Monday morning that the F. H. S. girls' basketball team expected to play Hale Center Friday at Hale Center.

Jack and Johnny de Cordova are absent this week on account of illness.

Miss Roberts made a visit to Matador Sunday.

Mr. Wester announces that hereafter the auditorium will be reserved on all days of the week excepting Friday and Monday, as Mrs. Andrews and Mrs. Bond use it on all other days.

Don't forget to bring your family or your girl or girls to the book shower for the benefit of the school library Wednesday night. The trouble will begin at 7:30, and the price of admission for each couple, or family will be one of the books included in the list published in this paper sometime before, or the price of one, which is $1.50.

R. E. Fry made an interesting talk to Miss Higgs' commercial law class Wednesday of last week, on the subject of "Insurance." It was especially interesting because it was made by one who handles insurance.

Tuesday evening La Verne Robinson approached one of the teachers, saying, "I have learned two things today on examination."

"You know I have always wanted to be a school teacher, but I have learned that I do not know enough, in the first place, and in the second place I am not hard-hearted enough."

At the last meeting of the high school P. T. A., the following sponsors were chosen by members of the faculty from the mothers belonging to that group:

- Senior class—Mrs. M. L. Kizziar.
- Junior class—Mrs. J. K. Green
- Sophomore class—Mrs. Dr. Houghton
- Freshman class—Mrs. E. C. Nelson
- Seven "A" class—Mrs. Harry Snodgrass.
- Seven "B" class—Mrs. Joe Montgomery.

Six "A" class—None selected.
Six "B" class—Mrs. Glad Snodgrass.
The purpose of these sponsors is to represent each class in the business meetings of the P. T. A.

Sometime ago the junior class agreed with a belt salesman to sell belts with "Floydada Hi" stamped on the buckle. At first it was decided to make a contest out of it, with the girls on one side, and the boys on the other. However no belts were sold under this plan, so at a class meeting Monday afternoon it was decided to appoint a committee of six girls and two boys, who were to sell these belts. The belts for boys cost $2.50, and that for girls cost $1.50. The commission on the sales goes to help out the junior treasury, which is sadly depleted. Buy one of these belts and help the junior class.

SEX AS A FACTOR IN BEEF PRODUCTION TO BE STUDIED

Half of the beef calves dropped each year are heifers. Out of this number only 25 per cent are needed for replacements in the breeding herds. That leaves three-fourths of the heifer calves for the single purpose of beef production. Unfortunately the disposal of these females has represented the most losing proposition with which the ranchman has to deal. Furthermore, he has not had the benefit of as much experimental work in the feeding of heifers as with steers.

In view of the need for more information concerning the feeding of heifers for beef, a concerted effort is being made this year by a number of State experiment stations, cooperating with the United States Department of Agriculture, to conduct investigations which will aid the ranchman and farmer in more profitable disposal of the heifer calves in the beef herd. This is one of the many problems in beef production that are being undertaken cooperatively by the department and State stations in the recently launched movement for studying the factors which influence the quality and palatability of meat.

At the present time light heifers sell fully as high as steers of similar breeding, condition, and weight. Heavy heifers are never wanted except at a discount, and there have been times in the past when all heifers have been severely discriminated against. Packers are frequently accused of being responsible to a large extent for this discrimination. As near as can be ascertained a part of this discrimination is due to prejudice and a part to actual inferiority of heavy heifer beef. Heavy heifers frequently carry too much external fat, a great deal of kidney suet, and make carcasses which need considerably more trimming than those of steers of similar weight.

Although there is often no discrimination against lightweight heifers, and not infrequently a premium is paid for them as compared with steers of similar weight, those in charge of experimental work feel that trials should be conducted with all classes of heifers in comparison with steers.

Quite a bit of interest was manifested in the Hesperian's "Shuffled" turkey contest last week, for which first, second and third prizes of $2, $1 and 75c were offered by this newspaper for the most attractive and unique correct answers. Mrs. N. B. Pace, of Lockney, is awarded first place for verses submitted. Second prize goes to Mrs. Olin S. Miller for a very neatly arranged water color of the turkey on a garnished platter, ready to serve, with the various pieces of the turkey indicated, together with the names of the advertisers and their ad numbers. Mrs. R. R. Mickey's solution was judged third. Her solution appears on the inside of an attractively arranged folder bearing the title, "The Floyd County Hesperian." Autumn leaves and bright colors of the season, with Thanksgiving Day cut-outs are used to make the folder a pleasing one.

Practically none other of the "shuffled" words gave as much difficulty as "giblets," which to most of the contestants was the trick word. "Drum stick" seemed to give the next most trouble.

Many answers of almost equal excellence to the three above were received and there ought to be about a dozen prizes instead of just three. One of these unique answers to the puzzle was submitted by a 9-year-old school girl, Margaret Louise Anderson, who wrote a story of a visit to her grandparents, in which the cryptic words were used. Correct answers were submitted by Bess Clare Smith, Mrs. George A. Linder, Mrs. T. D. Woods, F. C. Harmon, Jr., Ralph Jones and Fred Jones, city; and Miss Rachel Adams, Route 2.

Daily reports from 4,500 voluntary observers are used by the Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture in addition to the regular and special stations reporting weather conditions by telegraph for use in making forecasts. Government instruments with which to make observations are lent to observers at these "cooperative stations," but they serve without pay. One observation a day is taken, usually near sunset. It consists of noting the highest and lowest temperatures for the preceding 24 hours, as shown by self-registering thermometers, and measuring the amount of rain, hail, sleet, or snow that may have occurred within that period. The observers are also expected to state the prevailing direction of the winds and the general characteristics of each day, whether clear, partly cloudy, rainy, etc.

Whirlwinds Wallop Tullia At City Ball Park 47-7

Visitors Outclassed in Every Phase of Game, Unable to Make Single Down in First Half Period

Floydada won a loosely played football game from the Tullia eleven at the city park last Friday afternoon by the score of 47-7. Although hopelessly outclassed and unable to make a single down during the first half, the visitors continued a desperate passing attack, completing one heave which, with the advance after completion, netted over fifty yards; however most of their passes were either intercepted or grounded. The Whirlwinds attempted a good many passes, completing five for substantial gains, and falling on nine. Floydada made twenty-one first downs, while Tullia was only able to make four.

Both teams played listless ball, and the locals failed to score on three occasions when the pig-skin had been carried to within a few feet of their goal.

Regulars who did outstanding work were Captain Green and Bosley; Lewis, Jones, Swain and White did good work too; while the entire line held well. Coach Jay used a number of subs after the game appeared won, and the offensive work of Stiles, Terry and Steen was of the highest class. Ward, left half back, played the most consistent game for Tullia.

Captain Green made the only touchdown during the first quarter, when he plunged over right guard after continued line bucks by the entire Green and White backfield had carried the ball near the goal line. Bosley added the extra point with a neat placement kick. First quarter ended with the ball in Floydada's possession on the 13 yard line. Immediately after the second period opened Bosley and Lewis advanced the ball to the one yard line, and Stiles then carried it across; try for goal was missed. Bosley made the next touchdown on a pretty right end run of about 15 yards, during which he shook off several of the Tullia men. The pass across the line for extra point was blocked, and the scoring ended for the first half period, Floydada leading 19-0.

Stiles paved the way for the first touchdown of the second half when he intercepted an enemy pass near the 30 yard line and raced 16 yards before he was downed. Bosley then made a good line gain, and Lewis was called back, plunging over the line for a touchdown. Bosley kicked goal for the extra point.

Tullia next received the kick off and completed their long pass, placing the ball on the 14 yard line, from which place a player squirmed through the Whirlwind line and evaded the second dary defense for a touchdown. Goal was kicked. Soon thereafter Floydada came right back and scored when Aubrey Stiles recovered a fumble near midfield and had an almost clear field for a touchdown. Goal was kicked. Green and Lewis made the two remaining touchdowns during the last period, and goal was kicked in each instance.

Clement McDonald refereed the game in a highly satisfactory manner. Bill Collville was umpire, and Cavitt of Tullia head-linesman.

The starting line-ups - Floydada: Somerville and White, ends; Borum and Swain, tackles; Marshall and Scott, guards; Edwards, center; Jones and Lewis, half backs; Bosley, full; and Captain Green, quarter back.

Tullia: Erwin and Hover, ends; Dinwiddie and Porter, tackles; Wimberly and Starnes, guards; Pierson, center; Ward and Rutherford, halves; Harris, full, and Captain Crow, quarter.

Floydada subs: Stiles, Steen, Terry, Burton, Luttrall.

Tullia subs: Johnson, Burns, Stallings.

'YIMMIE YONSON'S YOB' WILL BE GIVEN AT ELLEN, SATURDAY

The play, "Yimmie Yonson's Yob," to have been presented at the Ellen school last Saturday by members of the Sand Hill P. T. C. Society will probably be held this coming Saturday night at the Ellen school house, according to an announcement by directors of the play. A very enthusiastic audience saw the play given at Sand Hill, hence the decision to render it again; postponement of the original date was made necessary on account of the Ellen school being closed and certain of the absent teachers having the key to the building. "Yimmie Yonson's Yob" is a three-act comedy-drama, and requires two hours for the performance.

LETTER FROM MRS. PENNYBACKER TO TEXAS CLUB WOMEN

To the Editor.
Dear Sir:

May I beg a few lines of your space for a message to your women readers regarding Golden Rule Sunday?

I have just returned from a visit to Greece. Under the brilliant October sky I drank in the loveliness of the ancient ruins, memorials of the world's greatest age of culture.

But what interested me most, and what would interest any American woman, were neither ruins nor very old. They were the thousands of boys and girls, Armenian and Greek war orphans, who are working and studying and playing under the supervision of American women.

We women of America, though our support of this great work, are molding history over there. We saved the lives of these youngsters when they were wandering about, starving and naked.

Now we are training them in trades and crafts so that they will be self-supporting when they are old enough to go out into the world on their own.

They are learning American ways and using American machinery. The farmers and carpenters and electricians, the cooks and needlewomen and nurses of the growing generation will be these young people trained in modern methods. There is no question that they will be leaders.

The support of these children has been accomplished mainly by American women who have felt the call of the Golden Rule. The overseas boys and girls understand this, and call themselves the Golden Rule children.

Because we must stand by for a few years more until our wards are launched, I invite the women of the country again this year to observe Dec. 6th as Golden Rule Sunday on behalf of the orphans of the Near East Relief.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Percy V. Pennebacker,
Past President
General Federation of Womens Clubs.

COLORS

By Gertrude Friend Scoggins
The blue of the sky is passing fair
From whence you came, my dear,
The red of your mouth, dear child of mine
Is indeed entrancing near—

The yellow of your curls, my dear,
Is bright as sunshine rays,
The pinkness of your tiny toes,
Increase throught the days—

The fairness of your baby throat,
Is sweeter mother knows,
Than all the sparkling whiteness,
Of all the Arctic Snows—

The brown depths of your baby eyes,
Speak volumes unto me,
The blackness of the days you're ill,
I pray to never see—

You're such a lovely little elf,
Where warm bright colors glow,
I fancy when I look at you
God sent a sweet rainbow.

Home Demonstration Club News

BLANCO DEMONSTRATION CLUB HAS ALL-DAY MEETING

On Thursday of last week Mrs. Will Simpson was hostess to the Women's Home Demonstration Club. Due to the extremely busy times it was impossible for very many of our members to come out, but we must say that those who missed this treat have something to regret.

It was about 10:30 o'clock when all the women finally arrived, each bringing a delicious dish to be served at the noon hour. In the morning we had a most interesting and enjoyable demonstration on salads by Miss Bass. Both fruit and vegetable salads were made, using jello. The salads were garnished attractively with endive. There were so many splendid cooks present that we encountered very little difficulty preparing the meal, but it seemed that no one was very eager to make the biscuits. Finally Mrs. Gambelin consented to take the job, but she quit when she got to "50," declaring it was too much of an undertaking for one.

At 1 o'clock everything was in readiness for a big feast. My! How we wish all our members could have seen the table as we were seated.

The following menu was served:

Baked chicken and dressing
Giblet gravy
Cranberries.
Creamed potatoes
Eggs a la pimento
Imperial salad
Beauty salad
Pickles
Hot biscuits
Caramel pie
Coffee

It was about 2 o'clock when the meal was finished, and all the jokes were told. And, oh yes, we were about to forget to say that we had just three biscuits left, divide this number by 5 and add 2, and you have our attendance!

We were delighted to have one new member added to our roll. We had as our visitors Miss Eva Alexander, teacher in the Blanco school, and Mrs. Gene Collins of Floydada.

Our next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. W. H. Smith on Thursday, December 3. "Christmas Suggestions" will be the subject of the demonstration. Every body come and let's enjoy the day together.

LONE STAR CLUB

The Lone Star Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday, November 10, with Mrs. Kalb. Home meat canning was demonstrated. We canned several cans of steak, which Mrs. E. C. Fowler brought, and also two fried chickens, brought by Mrs. Reves.

The subject for next meeting is making salad dressing, and the ladies will bring the following:

Mrs. Armbrister, cabbage; Mrs. King, sweet pepper; Mrs. Tom McGehee, onions; Mrs. W. H. Johnston, Mrs. Kalb and Miss Ona Thomas, one-half gallon of milk; Mrs. C. D. Merrick, bread; Mrs. E. C. Fowler, eggs.

We will meet with Mrs. Kalb again, if we do not have our stove for the club room by that date. Our next meeting will be Tuesday, November 24, and all ladies are invited to be with us.

SAND HILL CLUB

The Sand Hill Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday, November 18, in the home of Mrs. M. B. Holmes, at the usual hour. Most of the women went before noon, and during the lunch hour the Club had pie and cake for sale. We certainly appreciate the patronage of the men; our sales would have been greater had the supply of pie and cake lasted. The amount received from the sale was $12.98. We think this a good way to raise money to help bear our Club expenses.

On account of the sale and so much disturbance, we didn't have a program, other than the business meeting. The Club attended to some business. The Kitchen Contest was discussed and a plea made for more contestants; one member signed, making three contestants in our Club so far. We have only a few more days to sign up, and wish that more would enter.

The next meeting will be December 2, promptly at 1:30 o'clock, with Mrs. W. F. Glenn as hostess. Roll call will be answered on "How to prepare steak and roast to cook." Then will follow the order of business. The program will be under the leadership of Miss Bass, and the subject, "Meat Canning," will be demonstrated by her.

Those of you who have never canned any meat or have not seen the demonstration, be sure to come. For we think this one of the most interesting programs the Club could have. We will can steak, roast, chilli, and chicken, and possibly some hog meat. Most every body has a surplus of some of these meats during the year, hence it is good that we know how to save it.

STARKEY NEWS

On last Friday morning the Starkey Club Girls had their regular meeting at the school house.

At 10:30 o'clock all came, bringing their tea towels to be finished. Miss Bass brought the labels to be put on the towels.

While working we discussed the subject of "Poultry raising."

The next meeting will be December 1, at 10:30 o'clock. The subject will be "Work on hot dish towels."

GROWING CHRISTMAS TREES A COMING BUSINESS

Christmas-tree crops, raised on plants especially set aside for the growing of evergreens, seems to be a coming business, say forestry officials of the United States Department of Agriculture. Although Federal foresters do not feel a menace to the country's timber supply or incompatible with forest conservation, they point out that the practice of growing small evergreens especially for the Christmas trade is far better than cutting them in an indiscriminate manner.

In 1924 spruce and fir trees commonly sold for $1 to $3 and more on the streets of the larger eastern cities. Retail prices have increased several hundred per cent in the last 15 or 20 years and high prices are likely to prevail in the future. Growing Christmas trees in plantations near large consuming centers is beginning to look like an attractive business. This is particularly true for centers in the Eastern and Middle Western States, which are rather distant from a natural source of supply. Several such plantations are already in existence from which trees have been sold at prices ranging from 50 cents to $1.50 each. In a plantation adjacent to a main road it seems probable that the trees could be sold right on the ground to people passing in automobiles.

Spruce and firs, where they can be grown, are the logical choice for planting, because they are the most desired as Christmas trees and command the highest prices. Since the trees will be grown only for from five to eight years after they are set out, they can be planted at the rate of 5,000 to the acre.

It is doubtful, says the department, whether Christmas-tree plantations would at present yield satisfactory financial returns in the South and the far West because of the abundant supply of small evergreens found in the forests of those localities.

SEPIA PIGS A SURPRISE IN BREEDING EXPERIMENT

In breeding experiments conducted by the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, with swine have resulted in a number of animals possessing very unusual characteristics. The most outstanding result obtained thus far in the first generation of brother-sister mating in swine has been the segregation of certain peculiar coat-color combinations.

One Poland China line produced four white-spotted sepia-colored pigs out of a total of 35 farrowed. This is apparently a new color in swine. Experiments with pigs of the Chester White breed produced some red-black and white pigs in the first generation of brother-sister mating.

The explanation for such occurrences are somewhat complex but are based essentially on the operation of Mendel's law. The object of the studies is to obtain a more extended knowledge of factors involved in animal breeding and how they operate.

MODERN COTTON GROWING SHOWN IN UNITED STATES FILM

Gone are the days of the old-time cotton planter, central character of the song and story of the old South—the master of a mammoth plantation with hundreds of darkeys, laborers and scores of mules at his command. In his place has come a new type of cotton grower, working his modest farm, and often the tenant, making a cotton crop on a 40-acre or a 20-acre tract. These facts are brought out in the United States Department of Agriculture educational film, "Cotton—Dixie's Greatest Crop."

According to this motion picture, the modern cotton grower is "measured by his mules." He is either a "one-mule" farmer or a "two-mule" farmer, depending on the type of implements he uses in breaking the ground for and cultivating his crop, and the size of his farm can be judged by this measure.

The film follows modern methods of producing cotton from the planting of the seed to the delivery of the cotton at the gin.

FREE-FOR-ALL ENTERTAINMENT PLANNED BY SAND HILLITES

Sand Hill residents are to have a free-for-all entertainment at the school house Friday night, December 4, when the "boys" of the community will give a one-hour program, followed by the "girls," who will entertain for an hour. Five judges from other communities will then decide who gave the best program.

Reports state that a lot of interest is being created by the unique contest, that much work is being done by each group of contestants to make their programs the very best possible, and that some good entertainment will be missed by those failing to attend.

Inspections of livestock exported through American ports to various foreign countries during the year ended June 30, 1925, totalled 50,252 head, according to a current report of the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry. The inspections were of veterinary character, involving tests suited for the different classes of animals, and included supervision over the fittings of vessels to insure humane handling and safe transport. Cattle and sheep predominated in the shipments.

The first dental college in the Philippines was opened this year in Manila, in connection with the Centro Escolar de Senoritas, with a woman dentist as dean.

WITH THE CHURCHES

M. E. CIRCUIT PASTORS ARRIVE

Rev. J. N. S. Webb, pastor of the newly organized West Floydada Circuit, has arrived in the city and already begun his duties with a good deal of interest being shown. Rev. Webb was district evangelist in the Vernon district the past year, with headquarters at Chillicothe, and his family will reside at that place until perhaps the termination of the school term—a son being among the graduates of the high school.

Rev. A. D. Moore, who has succeeded Rev. Marvin Brotherton on the East Floydada Circuit, is in Memphis moving the remainder of his household effects to the city, and will reside in the house formerly occupied by Rev. Brotherton. Rev. Moore has been in Southern Methodist University for the past two years, and only recently moved to Memphis.

We have Bible study at 10 a. m. every Lord's Day. You are invited to come and be with us.

Singing Sunday nights, with R. M. Morgan leading and instructing.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

F. L. Davis, Pastor

The services last Lord's Day were all good and the interest on the increase.

The attendance at Newland in the afternoon was good, really better than we had expected since they have changed the S. S. from the afternoon to the morning hour. Owing to the entertainment at Pleasant Hill we will not hold Thanksgiving services there tomorrow.

Much interest was expressed in the sermon Sunday night, which was the first in a series on the general topic "A trip thru the Bible." These will all be interesting and helpful to those who hear them.

The Council had a fine meeting last Monday. It was the business meeting and much business was disposed of and a good time had.

Next Monday the Council will entertain the Christian Women's Co-operative Society at the church at 3 o'clock. The following program will be given.

Song by choir.

"Missionary opportunities in Texas"—Mrs. Jim Willson.

Duet—Mrs. E. S. Randerson, Mrs. Calvin Steen.

"The Missionary Opportunities in the United States"—Mrs. Lon V. Smith.

Reading—Mrs. A. N. Gamble.

"The Missionary Opportunities in Floyd County"—Mrs. Kenneth Bain.

Solo—Mrs. J. M. Parsons.

Benediction—Rev. H. E. Smith.

After the benediction will be the social hour, which will be enjoyable to all. Be sure to be present to enjoy the good things.

The services next Lord's Day will be as usual, provided the pastor is not called away. Next Lord's Day will be the Fifth Sunday and we may possibly be away, but think it hardly probable. But Sunday School anyway. The subject of the sermon in the morning will be "The Christian Church, Its Prosperity and Work." The service at night will begin at 7:15, and the subject will be "Genesis, or God's Desire for a Family." If you want to enjoy the message best read the book of Genesis before then. This is the second of the series on the trip through the Bible.

Don't forget the prayer meeting each Wednesday night and the choir will practice after it. The Stewardship class was started last Wednesday night and proved interesting.

The public in general is invited to attend any and all of the services at the church. Come to the little church with a big welcome.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Nineteen Twenty-Two Study Club

Studies Hawthorne, Harte

Mrs. Glad Snodgrass was hostess to the Nineteen Twenty-Two Study Club in the reception rooms of the American Legion Home Thursday afternoon of last week, when a program on Nathaniel Hawthorne and Bret Harte was given.

A brief business session preceded the set program and a business session also followed, when two new members were admitted to the club. They are Mrs. Burke Dooley and Mrs. Edgar Eskridge. It was voted at the business session that after this date the club will meet in the homes of the various members, at least until after the cold weather.

A vote of thanks was given the Legion for the use of their home.

"Significant facts about Hawthorne's life," was discussed by Mrs. J. U. Borum. This was followed by a brief summary of "The Great Stone Face," by Mrs. M. L. Kizziar; and a brief summary of "The Black Veil" and "Lady Elinor's Mantle," from Twice Told Tales, under two heads, first allegorical, second symbolical, by Mrs. H. S. Sanders.

The program on "Americanization" was an interesting one. Mrs. J. B. Jenkins read an able and instructive paper on "Prison Reform." T. R. Webb, who was to have addressed the club, was kept from appearing on the program by jury service.

Mrs. E. L. Angus will be the next hostess to the club, when it meets on December 3rd.

Starkey News

Starkey, Nov. 23.—Bill Allmon and John Howard were visitors here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Krapp were visiting relatives of McCoy Sunday.

For the pie supper Friday night there will be a cake for the prettiest girl and a pie for the ugliest man. So everybody come and get a chance at it.

Starkey School will begin in two more weeks. By that time most of the farmers will have their cotton out.

REAL THANKSGIVING

By Gertrude Friend Scoggins

My Ma thanks God fer sunshine,
Fer health an' crops an' rain,
Fer givin' her good children,
An' lots of golden grain.

Pa thanks Him fer the wheat crop,
An' many healthful days,
Fer cotton an' the sorgum,
An' rye an' oats an' maize.

Brother thanks the Lord I guess,
'Cause he is big at last,
An' drives the Ford as good as dad,
An' shaves by a lookin' glass.

While Sis is thankful as can be,
Fer ever'thing I know,
'Specially since last summer,
When she got a bran' new beau—

But as fer me, I thank the Lord,
Altho' I'm very small,
Fer all the goodies ma has cooked,
But the turkey most of all.

Long Distance is the Best Way

To keep in touch with home or business, to get information, to make appointments—to do a thousand other things quickly.

You tell the operator, when placing the call, that you will talk to anyone at the telephone number or name called for. She rings the city asked for—requests the local number with which you want to talk—rings you back and you transact your business with whomsoever answers. This service costs less than a call for a particular person, because less operating labor and less circuit time are required than if a particular person had to be located and brought to the telephone.

Your telephone works day and night. Behind the instrument at all times is an immense organization and an immense plant, ready at instant summons to apply themselves to your service.

Calls on "Station-to-Station" basis are about fifty per cent less than regular particular-person rates.

Protection and Aid of Home Industries Are Needed

Every industry in Floydada that is conscientiously striving to serve the public well, is entitled to every consideration of the Floydada man when he goes to spend his money for products which industries have to offer. When you go to buy, ask yourself: "Has the home man had a chance at this business?" Every cent that you add to the volume of business transacted in Floydada, means much toward the building of bigger industry here and adding to the resources of the town in which you live. Every cent you send away that could be kept at home, is building some other man's city. Why do it?

Texas Utilities Company Start Their 15-Ton Ice Plant

The announcement that the Texas Utilities Company this week started foundation work on its 15-ton ice plant which will serve the Floydada trade territory beginning next year as a part of the big development project in the panhandle and south plains, is a reminder that this company is rapidly becoming one of the heavy investors in Floydada property and as such is zealously interested in the growth and development of this section.

The new plant will cost approximately $20,000. It will be housed in a modern brick, constructed especially for the most economic handling of ice and its distribution over the territory.

This is the Ice Plant of the Texas Utilities Co., at Ralls. It shows how the company's 15-ton Plant here Will Look.

When the company first began business operations in Floydada, several thousand dollars were expended here. This investment has been doubled for practically every year that the company has been in business here, in order to keep pace with the rapid development of the community. This additional $20,000 investment in an ice plant the company is making means that Texas Utilities has faith in the future of this section, and is making its plans to take care of the demands of the public for its products, thus adding to the safety with which one can advise the public to "Buy it in Floydada."

FLOYD CO. PIONEERS HAVE SURPRISE BIRTHDAY DINNER

The old pioneers of Floyd County had a surprise birthday dinner for Mrs. J. Q. Johnson at the home of J. A. Fawver and wife when a host of friends of Grandmother Johnson gathered to spend the day with her and help her enjoy her 88th birthday November 20. It was a great day with them all, and the time was spent in laughing and talking about the time Floyd County was organized and A. B. Duncan was elected county judge and R. T. Miller county clerk. Their wives worried and wondered what a stunt they would play entering society when their husbands were elected Floyd County's first officers. All of you ought to have heard the ladies tell of their experiences and their hardships in the early days of Floyd County.

When they had all made their speeches each agreed that Floyd County is now paradise to what it was in 1886 and '87, when some of them first came to this country.

Those that enjoyed the day with Grandmother Johnson were Mesdames Duncan, Miller, Fawver, McClain, White, McCleskey, Day, Shipley, Mickey, Johnson, Willis, Luttrall, Thrift. They all enjoyed the day, wishing Grandmother many more birthdays.

PUBLIC HEALTH ASSOCIATION URGES OUTDOOR SLEEPING

Austin, Texas—D. E. Breed, Executive Secretary, Texas Public Health Association, urges everyone to sleep outdoors and receive the benefits that are to be derived from breathing fresh air.

Night air, in spite of the theories of our grandparents, is just as healthful as day air. It is even more purifying, for it is less laden with dust and humidity. Cold air, moreover, according to recent experiments, has been found to be even more health-giving than warm air.

There are four factors that make outdoor air a healthful tonic, according to Mr. Breed. It must be at the proper temperature, not too high nor too low. There must be the proper balance of humidity. The air must be in motion and it must have variability, or change. Within the closed room there can never be the proper combination of these four factors. Ventilation specialists who have been working on this matter for years have concluded that there is no artificial device which can combine the right variability, motion, temperature and humidity. The best air to breathe at all times is fresh outdoor air.

For those that do not have a sleeping porch the most practical way to bring in the fresh air is through the windows, opened top and bottom. Cross ventilation is thereby obtained and this keeps the air in motion. The Tuberculosis Christmas Seals are largely responsible for the increased recognition of the value of fresh air.

Textbooks are supplied free to pupils of the public schools of New Brunswick up to and including grade 5 in the graded schools and standard 3 in the ungraded schools. The books are given to the children outright, not merely loaned, as in the United States.

An educational tour of France, under the auspices of the French Government was made last summer by 130 boys and 20 teachers from the New York City schools. The party was in charge of the director of foreign languages of the New York schools.

Physique of school children in relation to their educational achievement was made the subject of a recent study in Manchester, England. Out of 85 children of good scholarship, only 2 were below the average in physique, but out of 171 poor students, 68, or nearly 40 per cent, were below the average bodily measurements.

A few generations ago furs of many kinds were commonly taken in all sections of the United States, but now, with the depletion or extinction over great areas of certain of the more prized species, the most valuable fur bearers, from the viewpoint of financial returns from the annual catch, are muskrats, skunks, raccoons, and opossums, says the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture.

THE PROFIT OF DECENCY

The biggest discovery of the twentieth century is the soundness of the principle of live and let live.

Other generations were convinced that "dog eat dog" was the hard rule of business. A man sought prosperity by outwitting or destroying his rivals.

That spirit lingers in places but it is dominant no longer. Instead of fighting to undermine competitors, men co-operate to promote the general prosperity. The growth of this habit of mutual helpfulness during the last few years is one of the remarkable developments of American life.

It is an outcome of another important discovery, the profit to be made out of multiplying and satisfying the wants of the average man.

Plato, the great dreamer of ancient Greece, described his ideal republic in which the fortunate citizens were kept prosperous and free by the labor of slaves. He could not imagine a state in which the men and women who performed the heavy labor of civilization also shared in its fruits.

The discovery that there is room enough for all is one of the epochal advances in human history.

The United States has learned the lesson first. Our rich natural resources developed by scientific industrial methods have provided wealth inconceivably abundant.

Forty years ago many business men were possessed of the idea that they could prosper only as they took business away from their competitor.

The fact is that the capacity of the human race to consume and consequently to produce has never been fathomed. Nobody can bound the possibilities of consumption.

The man who predicted that the money value of products manufactured in the United States would increase six times in twenty years would have been considered a lunatic. Yet that happened between 1899 and 1919 and the present rate of growth is even faster.

America has expanded miraculously because we are at least recognizing the fact that there is room enough for all. We have proved that wages pay handsome dividends. We have seen the prosperity of one establishment open opportunities for others in the same industry. There is no room for jealousy or destructive competition.

A great thing has happened. The material advantages of decency have been demonstrated and a wide and promising vista has been opened. This, too, is America's gift to the world.—Collier's Weekly.

A HEN-PECKED TOM CAT

Written by Capt. J. D. Dickson
"The way you treat me, Thomas, I ought to leave you flat. Where have you been, you lazy bum?" asked Mrs. Pussy Cat. "Don't mention business friends to me; where were you last night? One look's enough to tell me that you've had another fight. You do not know how much there is to do around home; a husband ought to help his wife, but all you do is roam. The kittens have been cross and wild, they've spilled a cup of cream, they've fought each other and me, too, until I want to scream. Now, if you don't reform yourself, I surely will and can; I'll notify the Kleagles of Kats of Ku Klux Klan." Her husband paused inside the door and gently switched his tail; though he was twice as big as she, he seemed to shrink and quail. Like many human wanderers, by angry wives deterred, he took his cussing catfully and never said a word.

FOR COOPERATION WITH EXTENSION DEPARTMENTS

A specialist in adult education has recently been appointed in the Interior Department, Bureau of Education. This office was provided for by Congress during its last session in response to a popular demand. Work projected includes immigrant education, home education through reading courses, factory education, and prison education, in cooperation with extension departments of universities in the various States.

A lottery is regularly held to provide funds for the University of Concepcion, Chile. This means of support for this university was cut off by a Government regulation in October, 1924, but its re-establishment was recently authorized by a decree law. The lottery must terminate, however, when the net income produced by the interest on the university's reserve fund reaches 1,000,000 pesos yearly.—School Life.

A new course of study in home economics education for elementary, junior high, and senior high schools is used this fall for the first time in the public schools of Baltimore, Md. The course as developed is the outcome of study covering a number of years by home economics teachers and supervisors in order to adopt the work of the schools to meet needs in homes of the pupils.

There's always good news in the Ads

WOULDN'T it be interesting to visit one hundred homes of this community when this paper reaches them? Who "gets it first"? What is more attractive to Father? What does Mother like best?

As publishers, we'd give a lot to know. But, of one thing we already are certain: Whatever else our columns contain, there's always good news in the ads.

They present the most important business information. They have been written solely for the purpose of helping you.

They show you where to buy the things you need today—or will need very soon; and they tell you the facts about them.

Aside from other considerations, it surely is good business judgment to let Mother have the paper first. She will read the GOOD NEWS in time to take the greatest possible advantage of its helpfulness.
