Approval of Sewer Bonds This Week

Attorney General's Department Expects to Approve Floydada Sewer Bonds, Buyer Notified.

The First National Bank of this city, agents for the buyers of the City of Floydada Sewer Bonds, disposed of by the city nearly ninety days ago, received advices from the attorney general's department at Austin the first of this week to the effect that the bond issue would be approved probably this week, and that plans delayed for nearly sixty days can now be carried through.

Approval of the bonds has been awaiting the outcome of a case before the supreme court in which the right of a town having a charter like Floydada to issue such bonds was under fire. No report on the case has been received here but it would appear that the outcome of the case, which was carried up from a south Texas town, has been favorable to the city officials, who were defendants.

Very little delay in starting the actual work of laying the sewer pipes is anticipated, as soon as the approval of the attorney general is given, as the contractors are expecting to be able to get on the job within ten days or two weeks of the word to go ahead.

22 CARS WHEAT, 13 OF CATTLE SHIPPED ON FRIDAY TRAIN

Last Friday morning's Santa Fe train had all the business it could handle out of Floydada District, at least that's the way it looked to the lay observer.

The train left Floydada with twenty-two loads of wheat and thirteen loads of cattle, also picking up shipments at Muncy, Lockney and Aiken stations.

Six loads of the cattle were consigned by Bob Forbis, of Spur, to Ohio points and seven loads to Kansas City by N. A. Armstrong.

PORTIONS OF FLOYD COUNTY GET SOME HEAVY RAINS

Although not general in extent, rains which fell Thursday night and Friday of last week, covered a large portion of Floyd County's territory, and in several sections relieved drought conditions that had existed since early summer.

One and seven-tenths fell in the limits of the city of Floydada since the mid part of last week, according to official measurements.

The rain Thursday night ranged from Mt. Blanco south eastward through the Lakeview territory where an inch and one-half is reported to have fallen. Friday the north and northeast sections of the county, the city of Lockney, the Center, and Fairview communities received a small flood. Practically the entire northern portion was covered.

Feed and row crops are in fine condition over the county and will be especially benefited by the midsummer moisture. The wheat harvest is still in progress and has been held up some on account of the rains. Reports indicate that very little, if any damage has been done to the grain crop.

NEW TIN SHOP WILL OPEN HERE ON AUGUST FIRST

Local trustees are reminded that school tax levy must be made, and presented to the commissioners' court at their regular session, August 11. If any change in the tax levy be desired please leave notice with me. If no notice be received, the commissioners will place the same rate for next year, as the district is now carrying. Miss West was taken to her uncle's home after spending twelve days in St. Anthony's Hospital, and is rapidly recovering.

John Maxwell, who is working in Amarillo, was at home over Sunday visiting his mother.

Voters May Name Presiding Officer

In view of the unsettled weather conditions in many portions of the county and the fact that in many instances wheat growers are extremely anxious to save their unharvested wheat, it is possible there may be some boxes in the county where the presiding officers named by the Democratic subcommittee may not be able to serve.

In these cases, Judge Stalbird, County Chairman, calls attention to the rights of the voters in selecting a presiding officer with full authority to hold the election in case of failure of the presiding officer named to appear and open the ballot place voters may gather at the voting place and name a presiding officer who can proceed with full authority just as though he had been named by the subcommittee. Instances where the presiding judge named by the committee probably may not serve have been called to the attention of Judge Stalbird, who points out that he nor the committee does not have authority to name a substitute at this time, but the voters themselves are clothed with the necessary authority to name a man to take his place.

There is no provision in the election law which states the number of voters who must gather, the presumption being that a half dozen or four or five voters may assemble and select a presiding officer just as well as a hundred could.

Tyndall Meeting Opens Here July 30th

The First Christian Church membership of Floydada consider themselves very fortunate and are delighted to have John W. Tyndall, head of the Cincinnati Bible Institute preach for their church in its revival meeting which will open on July 30th.

Although Dr. Tyndall has not filled many dates in Texas he is widely known in the north and east as a minister and student, and it is believed he is one of the strongest men ever brought to Floydada by this church.

High Protein in Wheat Most Desirable

"The percentage and quality of protein is having more and more effect on the market price of wheat," says H. M. Bainer, director of The Southwestern Wheat Improvement Association. Continuing he says, "Millers and grain dealers are paying a good, liberal premium for high protein wheat, especially when they know that the protein is of good quality. The wide margin in price often at the same market on the same day for different lots of wheat of the same grade is almost always due to the difference in protein."

"The country grain buyer cannot determine the protein content in wheat; the work is too intricate and special chemical equipment is necessary. The only way the wheat grower or grain buyer can determine the percentage of protein is by sending a small, composite sample to the State Grain Laboratory or to a cereal chemist for analysis. Protein may run as low as 8 per cent and as high as 18 per cent, but 12 per cent is a good, high average."

"Climatic and soil conditions have almost everything to do with the amount and quality of protein. Low protein is caused by wet seasons, sandy soils, lack of nitrogen in the soil and late preparation of the seed-bed. On the other hand, high protein is caused by dry seasons, fine upland soil, plenty of nitrogen in the soil and early preparation of the seed-bed."

"The most generally practical way to insure an adequate supply of nitrogen is to grow wheat in rotation with legumes, such as alfalfa and sweet clover, and prepare the ground early. A top dressing of barnyard manure will help and in most cases will also increase the yield, if applied judiciously and not too much at a time. July or early August preparation of the ground has the most marked and immediate effect of anything that can be done."

Judge F. P. Henry returned home Friday of last week after taking his mother, Mrs. C. M. Henry, to Fayetteville, Ark., and spending two weeks with her there. She spent the past eighteen months here as the guest of Judge and Mrs. Henry and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Henry.

Son of J. R. Readhimer Injured By Wagon

Floyd, sixteen year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Readhimer, was seriously injured yesterday about 12:30 o'clock at the farm of his father fifteen miles east of Floydada.

Both wheels of a wagon which was loaded with empty oil barrels passed over the middle of the boy's body. One of the barrels fell out just as the front wheels passed down into the road-gutter and the young man was thrown directly into the path of the wagon which was being moved by a team of four horses.

Medical attention was given as quickly as possible. Several ribs were broken and internal injuries sustained. He was resting satisfactorily this morning.

B. P. Woody and wife and son, B. P., Jr., in company with Mrs. Woody's sister, Mrs. G. J. Flint and little daughter, Doris, of San Antonio, Mrs. R. L. Stokes of Lometa, Texas, a sister of Mr. Woody, and C. M. Craig of Graham, Mrs. Woody's father left Sunday for a visit at Jayton. Mr. Woody and family returned home Tuesday.

Breakfast Featured By Many Reports

30 Members of C. C. Talk Community Meetings, Telephone Lines, Railroads and Other Topics.

The Chamber of Commerce Breakfast meeting at the White Rose Cafe Thursday morning reflected the enthusiastic progressive spirit of a prosperous Floydada. Thirty five members were present and everybody was full of business. Suggestions and plans for taking care of the commercial interests of Floydada were brought up and plans started for their consummation.

Minutes of the last meeting and a report of the Secretary on the activities of the organization for the past two or three weeks were read. The report covered a variety of activities, reviewing briefly the Petersburg Community meeting, progress of the Homes Beautiful Contest, The Amarillo Tri-State Fair Pageant plans of Floydada, work on new telephone lines, exhibit program, and the obtaining of a larger cotton platform at the Santa Fe Station. The report closed with suggestions for more community meetings, harder work on the telephone line projects, and a membership drive to enlist new citizens of Floydada in the Chamber of Commerce.

C. R. Houston, R. E. Fry, J. M. Willson, J. V. Daniel and W. A. Baker were named as a steering committee to handle the proposed telephone line projects throughout Floydada's trade territory. A letter from District Manager, Geo. H. Hill of Amarillo of the Southwestern Telephone Company was read before the meeting pledging that company's co-operation in the construction of the lines.

Homer Steen made a brief talk about the band situation, reviewing its progress and explaining that more financial support would be necessary in the future. He was authorized to name a committee to formulate plans for financing the band further. He announced that E. L. Norman of the First National Bank has been named treasurer of the band.

He also announced that Clarendon would have a number of men in Floydada Friday for the purpose of boosting Clarendon College to our folks and organizing a Lions Club in Floydada. The Chamber pledged itself to see that the visitors were received with the hospitality befitting Floydada.

Upon motion of Glad Snodgrass the Chair appointed a steering committee to take care of Floydada's interest in the railroad building that is anticipated to take place in West Texas within the near future. Glad Snodgrass, J. M. Willson and O. P. Rutledge were named on that committee. In part Snodgrass said: "It seems to me that with all the railroad talk that is going the rounds, Floydada should be taking a part, and should not be caught napping should some proposition come around whereby we could secure additional rail facilities." Judge Ove Overson spoke on the new railroad subject heartily agreeing that this Chamber of Commerce should do all within its power to take care of the proposition. The president called attention to the fact that Floydada has not been asleep and that many things had been done to keep track of the railroad situation.

Upon request of T. R. Webb, an ad of the Briggs Weaver Machinery Company of Dallas appearing in the Dallas News of July 20th was read by the Secretary. This ad was about Floyd County and gave us some great publicity. A vote of thanks was extended Briggs Weaver Co.

T. R. Webb, M. L. Kizziar, and J. U. Borum were named as a committee to make plans for another community meeting probably at Wake at a time convenient to the people of that community or any other community and to handle the details of such a meeting.

Roy Snodgrass, J. G. Wood and C. D. Hopkins were named by the Chair as a membership committee to secure as members a number of new people who have recently come to Floydada.

C. C. Wright, Baird Bishop, E. G. Wood and Dr. I. W. Hicks were named on the ticket selling committee for the next meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday, August 7th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Pundt, of Burkburnett, are here on a vacation visit with Mrs. Pundt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. White. They arrived Friday of last week.

ELECTION RETURNS

Saturday night The Hesperian will have a party for all its friends in and out of town, who want the returns on the county and state election. Arrangements are being made to bulletin the returns as fast as they are received. The county returns will be given by precincts on the bulletin board as has been our custom and bulletins on the state election will be posted as fast as they are received. The Texas Election Bureau returns, which are the same as those enjoyed by the larger newspapers of the state, will be given on the principal races.

If you would like to watch the returns as they come in, the bulletin board will be maintained in front of The Hesperian office and you are invited to be "among those present". The telephone number is 8 and if you prefer you can get the results at any time by calling over the telephone. The Hesperian is primarily a newspaper. We have to make a living out of it, but we also want to give the news service which our patrons—the best in the world—would like to have. That's why we're spending the money to get this service to you. Its yours when we get it and we want you to have it. Call us or, better, come to see us Saturday night.

THE LAST WORD

Candidates are having their last word with the voters this week before the story is to be told Saturday night of whether its thumbs up or thumbs down. At least, some of them are having the last say. Some of the candidates will have to have another tussle to say who's the high man in the "run off."

Its true that some of the boys are going to feel like all the liars in the world are crowded into Floyd county—leastwise that's always the way at election time. However, it is consoling to know there are candidates in 259 other counties in Texas who are also feeling the same way. As a matter of fact, the voters are not the liars the beaten candidates think they are. They are just human and, contrary to the logic of some, the great majority of people just hate to make a man feel bad, and let him think they are going to vote for him. That's the way candidates can be so easily fooled in the vote they are going to poll.

NON-VOTERS

Efforts of various organizations in Texas to get the general voting public interested in expressing their political demands at the polls have been furnishing examples of dismal failure during the past few years, and now various people are trying to figure out why it is that many average citizens will not go to the polls and vote. "All politics is rotten and I refuse to have anything to do with it," has been worn out as an excuse.

So thin has this excuse become that it has been shown up as the excuse of a lazy man who wants somebody else to take responsibility for government and let the lazy man do the "cussing," which requires no effort. Intelligent criticism of the forms and manner of government are best expressed at the polls.

What we started out to draw attention to, is the fact that the number of non-voters in Texas is greater than the number of voters. In other words, the number of people in Texas who have nothing to do with the choosing of our governors, representatives, judges, and other officials is greater than the number who go to the polls and do the selecting.

This is not a good sign. It is a thing that every good citizen should study. There must be a remedy for such a situation and it must be applied. Because when citizens fail or refuse to take responsibility for the government under which they live that government is started on the road to downfall, so history tells us by example.

This and That

YESTERDAY AND TODAY

Countless changes can take place and numberless things can happen in the course of 18 years, according to Ernest Lynn of Slaton, who was in Floydada this week. It was his first visit here since he resided in this city eighteen long years ago.

Lynn is dumb and when asked to describe briefly the Floydada of 1906 he wrote:

"Golly, 18 years ago Floydada was hardly to be called a town. No brick buildings at all—no railroad. The school house then was a mile or more out in the country. I used to walk to school and got tired too. I was 5 or 6 years old then, but I remember the old town like a book.

"Mr. Brown, a man I used to know run a store of some kind, a confectionery, I think. I bet there were not 500 people living in the town. Miles and miles of the country was in big ranches.

"Last night when I saw the lights while on the road from Ralls, I felt funny. Along the highway were big farm houses and when I got here and turned around the First National Bank and drove around the town a bit, I've got to admit I was stumped.

"I remember the first auto in this town. It was a red car without top or windshields. It belonged to a doctor, but I have forgotten his name. He lived about a block from a lady whom I used to know by the name of Mrs. Viles.

"I was small then but I used to go all over town by myself. Dad kept an account at the First State Bank, but where is the old Bank building now? It gives me the creeps to walk on the streets again. Around and around I go until I don't know where I am, for Floydada is a young city now while 18 years ago it was hardly to be called a town."

Mad

Why are the people so restless, so dissatisfied? Why is the claim made that humanity is living so fast a pace? What is the cause of the increase in lawlessness?

The answer is simple. The world is mad. But mad for what? That too is simple. The secret of the whole trouble is hidden in one word—POWER.

It is not the love for money that drives men forward in their grueling struggle against each other and the elements. It is the power that the money can bring that men crave, and they go on and on fighting, killing and scheming for that one great goal—ever serving that one great master—POWER.

It is not ambition to do something for mankind that inspires men to greater accomplishments, but a selfish desire to obtain a position among their peoples that will give them a false crown of superiority.

Science, the grovelling slave, the executor of the desires created by the passion for power, is ever advancing, searching, and inventing new devices to carry on the ever increasing horror that is driving men mad.

Science warns men against itself and then it goes on encouraging them to embrace it.

Science teaches that forms of life become so perfect that they cannot live under existing conditions. Is man going to heed nothing, no warning, no advice, no kindly counsel; to disregard religion and the laws of the land and the unwritten laws of society and eventually call the wrath of God down upon his head?

An invisible death in the form of poison gas has been invented that can neither be seen, heard nor smelled as it creeps upon its victim; and it kills instantly. Great air carrier that accommodate one hundred and fifty people has been constructed in the form of the greatest wonder of the age—the great dirigible, the Shenandoah. Electricity and the atom are being made the slave of man. What next?

Are we feeding a babe that will grow into a demon that will devour mankind and all his accomplishments? Are we playing in powder with a lighted match?

We take no heed and go on and on crying, "Power, power, give us more POWER!"

Score Card Terms Further Explained

Entries Increase in Number as Citizens Learn More of Contest and Get the Spirit of It.

Every day that passes brings new entries in the Beautiful Homes Contest being conducted by the Hesperian. Home owners and renters from every section of the city have sent in their entry cards, exemplifying the wide interest that is being taken in the movement "to make Floydada one of the cleanest and prettiest little cities on the Plains."

A noteworthy and especially pleasing feature in the contest so far is the large number of entries in the rented homes class, and from present indications competition in each division, the owned homes of the large class, the owned homes of the small group and the rented homes, is going to be keen. As the close draws nearer efforts of the respective citizens to make their residences spic and span have been redoubled and the results may be easily seen by taking an observatory survey of the town.

There is plenty of time for additional entries, and any one who has failed to get in line is urged to do so at once. It is pointed out that the more entries the keener the competition, and the more satisfactory the results to the citizenship in general, and even if the entrant does not win the prize, there is a great deal of self-satisfaction to be gained in having cooperated in a movement of improvement for Floydada in general, and in beautifying the individual residences in particular.

There is yet some misunderstanding about some of the terms used on the score card. The word curb, as was explained in the Hesperian in the issue of July 3, does not apply to a concrete curb alone. That region between the street and the front walk will be classed as a "curb" and will only be graded by the judges from the standpoint of neatness, cleanliness, and general attractiveness. The age of the lawn, trees and shrubbery will not figure in the point total, but the judges will base the grading on general attractiveness of the premises and the amount of individual work and care that has been devoted to them by the occupant of the home.

The home may be a one room cabin and take first place in the contest, because the judges will pay absolutely no attention to the material it is constructed from, and they will only note the size in placing the house in the correct class. The little home can win and proof of that fact has been borne out every year in contests held in other cities. In Plainview a small residence took first money in the contest which closed there last week—just a neat little home that in the judges' eyes was the most beautiful and best kept home in the entire city—and there were a number of beautiful entries. Judging was made on exactly the same kind of score cards that the Hesperian is using.

The judging in Floydada's Beautiful Home Contest will be done about the 15th of August and out-of-town residents, who are unacquainted with the respective owners and renters, will comprise the judging party.

Everybody is encouraged to enter the contest, and an invitation is extended to every citizen by The Hesperian. Entry blanks may be obtained at the Hesperian office or at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters at the court house.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Brown Celebrate Golden Wedding

One of those occasions on which the participants can always reflect with pleasure as they journey in the evening of life and which affords a fertile oasis to the soul in the declining years of one's pilgrimage, was enjoyed Wednesday when Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Brown celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

The scene of this occasion was in the canyon under the big grove near Silver Falls Lake, where a bountiful feast was spread in which 53, including children grandchildren and guests participated.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown are both 69 years of age. They were married at Savannah, Hardin County, Tenn. on July 16, 1874. Mrs. Brown before her marriage was Martha E. Rose.

In 1880 the family migrated to Texas and settled in Hill County where they lived for a number of years. Then to Stephens County where they lived for 16 years, and then to Jones County where they resided five years, then to Crosby County where they have been for 13 years.

To this union was born ten children, one boy and nine girls, all living except two girls, and were all present on this occasion.

Those present, including children, grandchildren and relatives numbered thirty-eight, with fifteen guests making a total of 53.

The children, including grandchildren, husbands and wives present were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Chaney and eight children, of Wake; Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Bartley and three children, of Cone; Mr. J. D. Hargroves and children, of Rowlett; Mr. and Mrs. M. Hilliard and eight children, of Crosbyton; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Brown and one child, of Floydada; Mr. and Mrs. R. D. English, of Snyder; Mrs. Collett and two children, of Idalou; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gregory and two children, of Petersburg; Mrs. R. D. Worley and five children, of Petersburg; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Ross and one child, of McAdoo.

The guests were: Mrs. Green Harrison, Crosbyton; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Travis, Cone; Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Abrams, Wake; Grandma Fox, Floydada; Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Chaney and mother, Crosbyton; Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Scott, Crosbyton; Miss Clyde English and Miss Nora McCurdy, Crosbyton.

These good people have journeyed side by side for fifty years and as the eventide approaches, a sweet, consoling portion is their's when on occasions like this, the children meet them. Children who, through the teaching and influence of their parents, are well rounded in the great principles of life and character.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown have both reached the ripe age of sixty-nine and while in terms of numbers this might be considered close to the end of life's highway, they are still young in action and in spirit and we predict that many more anniversary milestones will be passed.

Many congratulations and well wishes were paid the honoree's and it is the wish of the Review, together with their host of friends, that many more such occasions will be their happy lot.—Crosbyton Review.

WILSON STUDIO

Floydada

Announcement

Commencing Wednesday, July 30, 1924, and continuing through Sunday, August 17th, THE FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH of Floydada will conduct a REVIVAL MEETING at the— City Tabernacle in Floydada

REV. JNO. W. TYNDALL, Head of the Bible Institute of Cincinnati, Ohio will be in charge of the services assisted by an able song leader. BRO. TYNDALL is one of the ablest evangelists in the Christian Brotherhood. As a scholar he has few equals in the ministry. He is well known throughout the North and East where he has conducted hundreds of successful meetings.

FLOYDADA and FLOYD COUNTY seldom have the opportunity of hearing men of Bro. Tyndall's calibre and the FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH is very anxious that all avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing this powerful servant of God—"The Man With a Message." All who are interested in the cause of Christ, regardless of Church affiliation, are welcomed and urged to be with us throughout this meeting and take an active part in each service that souls may be saved and that God may be glorified.

Just This Last Word Before The Election
To The Voters of Floyd County

If I have been unable to interview you personally about this campaign I hope you will remember that I am serving in this office under an appointment, and had to make good first, before I had the right to ask the people of this County to support me to this office by election, and for this reason I've had only seven weeks to make this campaign. If I didn't entirely understand the County Clerk's work I certainly wouldn't be asking for the place—What the difference in asking for a position with a banking corporation without any knowledge of bank books, and asking the people to support you to an office without the slightest idea of the responsibility you are undertaking?

Certainly I don't ask you to take my word alone for these facts, ask the people who know—the business men of Floyd and surrounding Counties, the Commissioners' Court of our County, who unanimously appointed me to this place less than twelve months ago, strictly upon the merit of qualifications; also ask the lawyers over this district as to my qualifications, as a Court Clerk, they will tell you that I am qualified, in every respect to give you efficient service in return for your support.

Since efficiency is the first thing to be considered, the only issue involved is whether my opponent is better qualified for the place, without a day's experience, than I am with three years hard earned schooling, gotten by applying myself to this place. Four years ago when I came to your County I was as happy as the average nineteen year old girl, but after mother's death and I had to make my own way there wasn't anything for me to do but stay on the job and make good, and this is the thing I've tried my best to do in the County Clerk's work for almost the full four years, having worked with Miss Walling, one of the most efficient clerks I have ever met, and studied the work under her for three years, and then having served you almost a year under this appointment.

However, you have your obligations just the same as my opponent or myself, and you don't owe either of us one thing for these, but since service is what you want, you do owe it to yourself to elect a County Clerk who knows the work, one who is, at the time, capable of caring for the deed records, finance ledgers and court records of our County.

I have worked so hard to make good in this office, the only opportunity I've had to succeed in a business way that I hope, if I have given the people the service they are entitled to they will stand behind me in this election.

There is just one question that I would like to leave with the folks, and you can give your answer next Saturday, July 26th, when you come to the polls to vote for your next County Clerk, and that is this:

"If I have given you efficient service as deputy and then as Clerk under this appointment, then can't I have your support in this, my first, campaign?"

Assuring you of my appreciation for any help you may give me in this election, I remain, Respectfully yours,
CLARA LEE JOHNSON.
(Political Advertisement).

To The Voters of
Floyd County

In my race for the office of District Clerk, I have made a house to house canvass of the county and made an effort to see each of you personally if I have missed you it was accidental because I certainly wanted to see every one of you and I want you to consider this as a personal appeal to each of you to vote for me for District Clerk because I know I can give you the service in that office that you require.

Yours for efficient service,
G. C. TUBBS.

To The Voters of
Floyd County

I wish to thank the good citizenship of Floyd County for the many courtesies shown me during my campaign for tax assessor of this county.

I do not mean to boast of the fact, but I do not feel that there should be any question as to my qualifications to fill the place. Therefore, I am asking that on Saturday, July 26th, you will make it possible for me to serve you for the next two years as your tax assessor, and I assure you I will show my gratitude to you by giving you the service that will be expected. Sincerely yours, C. M. MEREDITH.

A. N. Gamble left Wednesday morning for Wichita Falls to spend a few days on business.

MRS. E. C. HENRY HOSTESS AT HIGH NOON DINNER

Mrs. E. C. Henry entertained with a high noon dinner Friday of last week honoring Mrs. J. B. Green of Austin, Mrs. Duncan Davidson and Mrs. Buckley, of Ft. Worth.

Those present besides the honor guests were Mesdames W. L. Boerner, J. D. Starks, C. Surginer, F. P. Henry, G. V. Smith, T. H. Benton, Jas. K. Green and A. P. Barker of Lockney.

We are due Avanel Shockey a word of thanks for her song, and Margaret Henson for her reading, both of which added to the enjoyment of our program. We were glad to have some visitors present. TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:—

Judge Clark is giving publicity this week to a certain statement in which he seeks to make it appear that I increased the County's indebtedness $78,252.00 in sixteen days' time, while he increased it only $26,702.44 in two years and one-half month's time. This $78,252.00 is interest to accrue on debts that were made before Judge Clark was removed from office. I am sure that the thinking citizens of our county will not be misled by the statement. As Judge Clark is running the statement referred to in the last issue of both papers that are published before the election, it must have been his intention that I should have no opportunity to answer it. I believe in clean politics and fair play and have never made any statement without giving my opponent a chance to answer it.

Judge Clark has urged as an objection to the refunding issue the claims that a bonus was paid. In the statement referred to, he treats the $11,292.00 which he has heretofore called a "bonus", as interest. This must be taken as an abandonment of his claim that a bonus was paid, as it cannot be both interest and a "bonus".

If he abandons the claim about a "bonus", then he can only object to it as being too high a rate of interest. If the rate was too high, it was Judge Clark's duty as County Judge to have procured a lower rate. By not doing so, he must admit that it was impossible (in which event no blame attaches to anybody) or he must confess that he did not do his duty (in which event the blame rests on himself).

As a matter of fact, it was a good business proposition. The total amount of interest to be paid up to the time the warrants are all paid off is only about seven-eighths the amount of the principal indebtedness, whereas when bonds are voted to build a brick school building (which is frequently done and considered good business) the amount of interest paid is usually twice the amount of the principal and frequently more than twice as much.

But even if we should admit that it were not a good business deal, where does the blame lie? If the indebtedness had never been made, it would not have been necessary to have refunded it. It may be wrong to make debts, but it is never wrong to pay them in the only way that they can be paid. If there is any blame attaching anywhere, it is to be found with the making of the debts and not with taking care of them after they are made.

By Judge Clark's own figures he admits that the indebtedness of the County was increased during his term of office at the rate of more than $1,000.00 a month. During the first year of my term of office, the indebtedness was decreased at the rate of more than $3,400.00 a month, and with this we are in position to reduce the tax rate from 75 cents to 65 cents this year. Whose record is better, Judge Clark's or mine?

Respectfully submitted,
E. C. NELSON, JR.

Special to The Hesperian:

Canyon, July 23.—Retail merchants are expected to attend in force the convention to be held here August 5th, at which the advisability of going into permanent organization will be taken up, following a day devoted to discussions of the problem of the retailer and addresses by noted speakers.

One of the speakers will be Homer D. Wade, assistant manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Fort Worth, who has been asked to speak on "Advertising the Panhandle-Plains Co-operatively."

Talks on retail, accounting, cost-finding, and the general business outlook will be made by authoritative speakers from the principal cities of Texas. Following this, the merchants will consider the question of annual meetings, and of the next convention city.

A feature of the gathering will be the fact that each retailer will be the guest of a local merchant in the same line of business. A trip to the Palo Duro Canyon is being planned, and it is expected to include a picnic supper in the great gorge.

The convention arrangements are being made through the local Chamber of Commerce, as a move to solidify to promote the common interests of this section.

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I.—Solomon Binkus, veteran scout and interpreter, and his young companion, Jack Irons, passing through Horse Valley, New York, in September, 1763, to warn settlers of an Indian uprising, rescue from a band of redskins the wife and daughter of Colonel Hare of England. Jack and Margaret fall in love. On reaching Fort Stanwix Colonel Hare says both are too young to marry, but that if they are of the same mind after one year he will ask Jack to come to London. The Hare family sail for England, and the Irons family move to Albany.

CHAPTER II.—Unrest grows in the colonies because of the oppressive measures of the English government. Solomon and Jack visit Boston and witness a fight between a mob and a squad of British soldiers led by Captain Preston, a friend of Solomon's. Later they return to Boston to testify in Preston's behalf.

CHAPTER III.—In November, 1770, Jack goes to Philadelphia and works in Benjamin Franklin's printing plant. Nearly three years later Margaret writes him from London reminding him that her youth is passing and saying she has appealed to Doctor Franklin. Binkus has received a letter from Washington to be carried across the ocean, and Jack sails with him.

CHAPTER IV.—Arriving in England, Binkus is arrested, but Jack has the letter and proceeds to London.

CHAPTER V.—Jack delivers the papers to Franklin in London. Binkus is released and joins them in the great city.

CHAPTER VI.—Jack and Margaret meet and are more in love than ever, but Colonel Hare is not eager for the marriage.

CHAPTER VII.—Franklin's efforts to obtain better treatment for the colonies are futile. He evades the attempt of the king's men to "tow him into port." War becomes imminent.

CHAPTER VIII.—General Clarke, a crochety old man, calls the "Bankees" towards in Jack's hearing. The young American demands a retraction. Lionel Clarke, the general's son, and a rival suitor for Margaret's hand, takes up the quarrel and a duel is arranged.

CHAPTER IX.—Jack and Lionel fight with pistols and the latter is wounded.

CHAPTER X.—After a secret meeting with Margaret, Jack again demands her hand from her father. Hare refuses after young Irons declines to approve and aid the plans of the king concerning the colonies.

CHAPTER XI.—Lured to Gravesend by a ruse, Jack is drugged and put aboard a ship sailing for New York.

CHAPTER XII.—Franklin, called before the privy council, is convicted of conduct inconsistent with the character of a gentleman and deprived of his office as postmaster general.

CHAPTER XIII.—After Jack's return the ferment in the colonies increases and a general congress is held in Philadelphia. The Hares return to America.

CHAPTER XIV.—After the battle of Lexington Jack and Binkus enlist under Washington, distinguish themselves in scout duty and are made colonels. Jack is captured by soldiers commanded by Lionel Clarke.

CHAPTER XV

in Boston Jail.
Jack was marched under guard into the streets of Boston. Church bells were ringing. It was Sunday morning. Young Clarke came with a guard beyond the city limits. They seemed to be very careless in the control of their prisoner. They gave him every chance to make a break for liberty. Jack was not fooled.

"I see that you want to get rid of me," said Jack to the young officer. "You'd like to have me run a race with your bullets. That is base ingratitude. I was careful of you when we met and you do not seem to know it."

"I know how well you can shoot," Clarke answered. "But you do not know how well I can shoot."

"And when I learn, I want to have a fair chance for my life."

Beyond the city limits young Clarke, who was then a captain, left them, and Jack proceeded with the others. The streets were quiet—indeed almost deserted. There were no children playing on the common. A crowd was coming out of one of the churches. In the midst of it the prisoner saw Preston and Lady Hare. They were so near that he could have touched them with his hand as he passed. They did not see him. He noted the name of the church and its minister. In a few minutes he was delivered at the jail—a noisome, ill-smelling, badly ventilated place.

The yard was an opening walled in by the main structure and its two wings and a wooden fence some fifteen feet high. There was a ragged, dirty rabble of "rebel" prisoners, among whom was Solomon Binkus, all out for an airing. The old scout had lost flesh and color. He held Jack's hand and stood for a moment without speaking.

"I got sick one day an' couldn't hide 'cause I were makin' tracks in the snow so I had to give in," said Solomon. "Margaret has been here, but they won't let 'er come no more 'count of the smallpox. Sends me auther' tasty ev'ry day or two. I tol' 'er all about ye. I guess the smallpox couldn't Keep 'er 'way if she knowed you was here. But she won't be 'lowed to know it. This 'ere Clarke boy has p'isoned the jail. Nobody'll come here 'cept them that's dragged. He's got it all fixed fer ye. I wouldn't wonder if he'd be glad to see ye rotted up with smallpox."

Jack and Solomon lay for weeks in this dirty, noisome jail, where their treatment was well calculated to change opinions not deeply rooted in firm soil. They did not fear the smallpox, as both were immune. But their confinement was, as doubtless it was intended to be, memorably punitive. They were "rebels"—lawbreakers, human rubbish whose offenses bordered upon treason. The smallpox patient was soon taken away, but other conditions were not improved. They slept on straw infested with vermin. Their cover and food were insufficient and "not fit fer a dog," in the words of Solomon. Some of the boys gave in and were set free on parole, and there was one, at least, who went to work in the ranks of the British.

Early one morning shells began to fall in the city. Suddenly the firing ceased. At nine o'clock all prisoners in the jail were sent for, to be exchanged. Preston came with the order from General Howe and news of a truce.

"This means yer army is lightin' out," Solomon said to him.

"The city will be evacuated," was Preston's answer.

"Could I send a message to Gin'ral Hare's house?"

"The general and his brigade and family sailed for another port at eight. If you wish, I'll take your message."

Solomon delivered to Preston a letter written by Jack to Margaret. It told of his capture and imprisonment. The third of March had come. The sun was shining. The wind was in the south. They were not strong enough to walk, so Preston had brought horses for them to ride. There were long patches of snow on the Dorchester Heights. A little beyond they met the brigade of Putnam. It was moving toward the city and had stopped for its noon mess. The odor of fresh beef and onions was in the air.

"Cat's blood an' gunpowder!" said Solomon. "Tie me to a tree."

"What for?" Preston asked.

"I'll kill myself eatin'," the scout declared. "I'm so gol' durn hungry I kin't be trusted."

"I guess we'll have to put the brakes on each other," Jack remarked.

"An' it'll be steep goin'," said Solomon.

Washington rode up to the camp with a squad of cavalry while they were eating. He had a kind word for every liberated man. To Jack he said:

"I am glad to address you as Colonel Irons. You have suffered much, but it will be a comfort for you to know that the information you brought enabled me to hasten the departure of the British."

Turning to Solomon, he added: "Colonel Binkus, I am indebted to you for faithful, effective and valiant service. You shall have a medal."

"Gin'ral Washington, we're a-goin' to lick 'em," said Solomon. "We're a-goin' to break their necks."

"Colonel, you are very confident," the general answered with a smile.

"You'll see," Solomon continued. "God Almighty is sick o' tyrants. They're doomed."

"Let us hope so," said the commander-in-chief. "But let us not forget the words of Poor Richard: 'God helps those who help themselves.'"

Pleasant Hill Play Successful

"Success" is the best word with which to describe the community entertainment staged Saturday night by the people of Pleasant Hill, assisted by Floydada talent.

A packed auditorium of folk, who were in the best of spirits, enjoyed the program and gave enthusiastic accolades to every number rendered. Floydada had about twenty-five representatives present and residents from the communities of Lakeview, Newland, Baker, and Mayview co-operated and spent some two hours and thirty minutes as the guests of the Pleasant Hill people.

Tom Collum with the violin and Mrs. Jno. W. Smith at the piano, both of Floydada, opened the program with a number of musical selections. The Bruno Quartette of Floydada followed with "The Vaughan Quartette Melody" and they "brought down the house."

The ladies of the community then presented two black-face comedies, "Mrs. Black's Pink Tea" and "De Cullud Ladies Political Club". The plays were excellently rendered and the characters did well in their respective roles. Special readings by the young ladies of Pleasant Hill and songs by the quartet furnished the entertainment during the intermissions.

Ice cream, pies, and lemonade were sold at intervals during the hours of fun and enjoyment. All of the proceeds realized went to defray the expenses of the stage scenery and a new piano.

Following the close of the regular program, the candidates for the respective offices of the county delivered short talks during the social hour in behalf of their candidacy.

Drug Stores Add New Facilities, Fixtures

Last week the Floydada Drug Company added a back wall of plate glass fixtures to match their sidewalk fixtures already installed, and also made other changes and additions in the arrangement of the store, adding greatly to the appearance and convenience of the store.

This store and the Brazer & Arwine store have both recently installed refrigerator type of ice cream containers, which work automatically on the same principle as ice factories in keeping ice cream the correct temperature.

Floydada has three of the most up-to-the-minute drug stores in West Texas or the Panhandle.

SOME THINGS TO DO AND SOME NOT TO DO

Election Judge With Long Experience Says Some Men Have Voted All Their Lives Don't Know How.

An experienced judge of elections makes the following interesting observations concerning voting in the primary election on Saturday, telling some things to do—and some not to do:

Women vote more intelligently than men. Some men have been voting here for years, and never had a vote counted, hence a few suggestions may not be out of place.

Do not write your name or anything else on your ballot, as it will be classed as mutilated and thrown out.

Do not mark X opposite names, as the clerks will not know whether this is for or against the candidate so designated.

Run a black pencil through the names of ALL candidates you do not wish to vote for, as the clerks will count just what you leave on the ballot. If more than one name is left for the same office, neither will be counted.

After you have marked your ballot read it over carefully and if you have made an error, you may return the spoiled ballot to the election officers and receive a new one. Do not destroy the mutilated ballot, as the election officers have to account for all ballots.

Bring your poll tax receipt and avoid delay in establishing your right to vote.

After having marked your ballot, do not leave the room until you have HANDED it to the judge and have given him your name so that the clerks may register you properly and number your ballot. DO NOT THROW YOUR BALLOT ON THE TABLE and leave the room after voting.

You are not permitted under the law, to bring any marked ballot or written notation of any kind into the polling place.

Election officers are permitted to assist you in voting, but cannot suggest for whom you should vote. If you need assistance in marking your ballot, call upon the officers of the election—do not ask other voters to help you.

John M. Colville
Funeral Held Saturday

Ill Only Short Time—Many Friends
Gather For Services To Pay
Final Tribute.

John M. Colville, age 23, former resident of Floydada, who died at 1 a. m. Tuesday morning of last week in the Methodist Sanitarium at Los Angeles, California, following a brief illness and an unsuccessful operation for peritonitis, was buried in the Floydada cemetery Saturday afternoon.

The funeral services held at the First Methodist church at 2 o'clock Saturday, conducted by the Reverends J. L. Henson and G. P. Humphries, were simple, beautiful and impressive. At the slow strains of a funeral march, the silver grey casket was brought into the church where awaited the many friends gathered to pay the farewell tribute to a friend. Relatives and intimate friends came first, followed by the pastors. Six young ladies, Miss Elna Eubank, Mrs. Flynn Thagard, Miss Ora Slaughter, Mrs. Arthur Savage, Miss Ethel Houghton, and Mrs. J. B. Bartley, Jr., all dressed in snow white and bearing wreaths of beautiful flower-gifts of friends, preceded the casket, which was carried by six pall bearers, Ray Slaughter, Clyde Meador Flynn Thagard, Leland Dawson, Jodie Day and Luther Fry.

Following the brief messages by the pastors, and the customary rituals and a number of softly rendered songs by the choir, led by A. N. Gamble, the remains were removed for burial as Mrs. Jno. W. Smith at the piano played "Rock of Ages".

The deceased was born in Kentucky, February 28, 1901 and came to Floydada with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Colville, in 1909. He graduated from high school here, and in 1922 he went to California, where he has been making his home. He was ill only a few days before his death.

He is survived by his wife and seven months old girl, Glorianna; his parents, who have been making their home in California for the past two years; two brothers, J. D. Colville, city, and William Colville, of Los Angeles, Calif. All were present at the funeral except the brother William. Other out-of-town relatives of the deceased and his surviving wife, present were Colville Tolbert, of Carlisle, Ky., Mrs. J. W. Morris of Weatherford, Texas, and her sons, Vernon of Weatherford and Norman of Smackover, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stanford and children, Miss Edith and Lester, of Lubbock and Mrs. T. H. Anderson and little son, Thomas, Jr., of Breckenridge, formerly Miss Corylee Stanford of this city.

F. C. Harmon Undertaking Company brought the body from Lubbock and directed the funeral services here.

CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF STATEMENT TO VOTERS

Lockney, Texas, July 16th, 1924.
To the voters and citizens of Floyd County, Texas:

Owing to sickness in my family and farm work, I have had hardly time to devote to my official duties, but I have not neglected my official work, to attend to my private affairs. I find however, that I will not be able to give much time to visiting the voters to solicit their consideration of my claims as a candidate for sheriff and tax collector; I must therefore, content myself with the hope that you will treat me, with the same fairness as though I had visited you personally. If my services for the past number of years as deputy of your county and support, none will appreciate your action in my behalf more than I. I know of but one course to pursue, as an officer, and that is promptness and fidelity, always remembering that public service should be rendered in strict keeping with the trust imposed. I have but one promise to make that is to do my best to do right, if you intrust me with your confidence. My experience for several years as a peace officer justifies me in the conclusion that I have some knowledge of the duties of sheriff, as well as the responsibilities of the office. If I am worthy of your confidence and you place your trust into my hands, I will give you my best service.

Thus saying, I commit my case to your judgment and await the result of your deliberation, on the 26th day of July, A. D., 1924, and will accept same as what you consider will be the best for Floyd county.

Duly appreciating your support, I am, Yours truly, H. S. BOLIN.

How The Santa Fe dollar was spent in 1923

Taxes more than dividends. Rate reductions more than taxes

The measure of success in railroad business is the relation of costs to returns. If the dollar earned does not cover the cost of earning it, the business fails. If it covers the cost with a margin over, the business succeeds.

THE SANTA FE DOLLAR IN 1923 WENT AS FOLLOWS:

Maintenance of track, buildings, etc.	13.37 cents
Maintenance of locomotives, freight and passenger cars	19.36 "
Train, station and switching, and other transportation	19.68 "
Traffic agencies	1.69 "
Fuel	8.48 "
Salaries and expenses of clerks and other general office employees	.96 "
Legal, valuation, general officers, pensions and death benefits and miscellaneous	1.06 "
Depreciation and retirement, equipment and ice plants	3.69 "
Loss, damage and casualties	1.07 "
Rent of equipment, joint facilities, etc.	1.04 "
Interest on bonds and other interest charges	4.60 "
Dividends on capital stock	8.06 "
Taxes	8.14 "
Balance available for expanding facilities	8.79 "
	100.00 cents

Of the last item 3.02 cents came from sources other than rates so that a reduction of less than 6% in rates would have wiped out the entire margin of safety from earnings through rates.

Even a decline in gross business such as has occurred this year inevitably reduces this balance of 8.79 cents, because not many of the cost items can be cut down in proportion.

The adjustment between success and failure is a delicate one in the transportation industry. For the welfare of the country, it should not be lightly tampered with, either by laws or by the various commissions that control the main elements of railroad earnings and costs.

It is particularly notable in the above statement that taxes were more than dividends and only a little less than all the fuel used for the System. Taxes were $20,316,491.

Good service requires ample money for operation and maintenance. Even a rather substantial reduction in rates would benefit individuals so slightly as hardly to be known, while it might readily (because of poor service) cause them tremendous loss which would be quickly and keenly felt.

A railroad gets money from its rates and has no other large source of supply, even though attempts seem to be made to have the public believe otherwise. Since 1921 freight rates have been almost continuously in process of reduction. Santa Fe freight earnings were decreased $14,500,000 in 1922 and $23,945,000 in 1923 from what they would have been with 1921 rates.

The Santa Fe already has reduced freight rates many millions. But adequate service is vital for shippers. It can be furnished only when fair rates provide the money needed.

To the Voters of Floyd County:

I want to give you some more facts in self defense. Many of you know something about the condition of the books when I went in office.
Mr. Grigsby made one or more trips to Austin trying to get the books to balance and to get them straightened out.
There were numerous tracts of land with the wrong numbers and could not be correctly located, and lots of land was going delinquent when the owner thought the taxes were paid.
My opponent has not had any of this experience.
I know all of his experience for he learned all he knows working for me.
He is not a man of a family as some have thought, but it is true he served in the World War in training camps, but did not go across.
I am glad to give him his just dues. My experience better qualifies me to meet the duties of the office, than heretofore.
With all facts before you, I ask your full consideration.
Your Vote and influence will be greatly appreciated.
