BUILD SIDEWALKS

Some homes in town and country, are being completed without walks.
Walks add more to a home, either in town or country, for the amount of money expended than most anything one can do. Walks keep you out of the mud. They make it possible for you to lay out your grounds with greater ease. They add neatness and good looks to your home.
Build, and while you are building, build walks, too.

NEW HOMES

More new homes for Floydada and Floyd County people. New carpenters are being added daily to the forces already employed and enlarged pay-rolls with added buying power of the people of the territory are beginning to make themselves felt in the channels of trade.

All of which is gratifying. Floydada people and the people of territory surrounding for many miles should congratulate themselves, too, on the comparative low level of lumber prices here, which are helping to make more building possible.

Floydada lumber dealers are serving an increasingly large number of patrons covering a wider scope of territory.

MORE MERCHANDISE

With the opening of the fall months and the trade which accompanies the preparations for colder days, it is gratifying to note the heavy increase in the amount of merchandise and the greater variety which may be purchased from Floydada merchants.

Everyone of them is striving to give greater service, wider range of values, and have increased stocks to the point where there is no reason for a shopping tour to other towns or cities.

JUST TOO BUSY

People of Floyd County are too busy harvesting a multi-million crop of forage feeds and cotton these days to be distracted by such things as amusements. At least this much was indicated by the attendance at the Carl Thomas Players' show here last week, and at the carnival the week before.
Nobody sympathizes with the carnival man's hard luck, of course, but the show people had a good show, it is said, and deserved better patronage. However, we wouldn't argue that the harvest cease so the showman could prosper. Nor would the showman himself.

Rather a statement of fact, that such was and probably will be the case for several weeks—just too busy—than an argument of any kind.

DR. F. S. GRONER

Dr. F. S. Groner's visit to Floydada is a milestone in the progress of the work of the Baptist Church in the confines of the Floyd County Baptist Association.

A brief span since and Floyd County was visited only by the itinerant evangelist, even the larger churches of the county being served by missionaries from the main body of the church.

Now, this county's association of churches is visited by one of the biggest men of the Texas Baptist Convention, who plans with them for the extension and enlargement of the churches work in this association and elsewhere. It is the recognition paid to growth and development. It brings with it enlarged responsibilities and greater opportunities.

That the people of the church will rise to the added responsibility will hardly be questioned.

Miss Ruby Houston, who is teaching school in Plainview, visited her uncle,
C. R. Houston and wife last Sunday.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

(By Gertrude Friend Scoggins)
I went away to live awhile,
Before I settled down
To spend the years before me
In my old home town.

I wandered to the westward,
But there no friends I found;
Like the true and trusted few I left
In my old home town.

I then went to the eastward,
Still looking all around Trying to find a spot I liked
Like my old home town.

I wandered north, I wandered south,
I roamed this earth around;
But never my heart found sweet content
From my old home town.

I did not find it in the east,
Nor north nor south I bound;
And yet the west held naught for me,
I loved my old home town.

The weather was so gloomy
There were shadows all around
The sunshine was so cheery,
In my old home town

Where were the dear old faces
I'd loved through smiles and frowns;
They were not here, I'd left them
In my old home town.

So "home Sweet Home's" the goal spot,
It's there I'll settle down,
To live among my old friends
In my old home town.

"ANTON" IS NAME OF NEW TOWN ON SANTA FE RAILWAY

With the opening of the Spade Ranch the switch on the Santa Fe Railroad 12 miles east of Littlefield is to have its name changed. "Danforth" was all right for a country siding, but now that city airs are to be assumed, the name of "Anton" it deemed more advisable.

Not that Danforth is too common a word, or that Anton is more significant in its municipal application, but the fact that is given as a mark of honor to J F Anton of Slaton is the reason the painting crew of this system has been ordered out to change the name on the sign board.

J F Anton is the popular division superintendent of the Santa Fe system, with headquarters at Slaton.
Coming here in the fall of 1920, he has bossed the freight and passenger trains running through Littlefield for about four years, and done a good job of it. Little did he ever realize as he whizzed past Danforth switch on the tail end of an observation car, and waved his hand at an irate freight conductor who lay in on the siding cus-ing the whole "high collar" bunch because he was behind running time, that some day this wide spot on the Santa Fe system would be graced with his own name, and, surrounding the depot soon to be built would be 320 acres cut up into town lots with a husky little city built on it; but such seems to be the destiny of this new burg, as selling of the fine Spade acres surrounding it will, in a very short time, insure the building of a thriving little city in their midst.

Not only is Superintendent Anton a good railroad man, but he is also a good soldier. During the World War he served as a first lieutenant in the Sixty-ninth Engineer Regiment doing a year's work overseas. He is now in the army reserves, carrying a commission as major of the 60th Santa Fe Railway Battalion.—Lamb County Leader.

Montgomery Rode T. & P. Train that Wrecked

Col. Thomas Montgomery who returned Tuesday of last week from a business trip down state, where he spent several days at Fort Worth and Dallas and incidentally saw the agricultural exhibit at Dallas in charge of Maury Hopkins, was riding the T. P. train that wrecked east of Sweetwater on Monday night, killing the engineer and fireman.

"I was riding in the chair car next to the first Pullman and wasn't even shaken up by the sudden stop," the Colonel said. "But the wreckage of the engine and cars that went off the track was about as bad as I ever saw in all my travels."

MRS. JONES, DAUGHTER OF LOCKNEY POSTMASTER DIED

Mrs. Luther Jones, of Lockney, daughter of Postmaster Homer Howard, of that city, died in a sanitarium in Dallas Thursday of last week, following an illness from influenza contracted more than a year ago which developed into tuberculosis.

The body was shipped to Lockney for burial, reaching that city Friday afternoon where the funeral was held conducted by Elder Liff Sanders, of Lubbock.

The deceased was 25 years of age. She was born and reared in this county. She is survived by two children, her father, and several brothers and sisters, including Mrs. Viril Wise, of Cleburne and Mrs. Stokes Robbs, of Hereford, both of whom were at Lockney for the funeral.

Judge and Mrs. J. W. Howard, of Starkey, uncle and aunt of the deceased, attended the funeral service.

FIGHTS OUT GASOLINE FIRE THAT COVERS SOAKED TRUCK

One of the things that can't happen did happen last Saturday morning considerably before day when F. S. Kinnard fought out a fire that had covered a gasoline-soaked truck, saving the truck practically intact and with it two barrels of gasoline.

The fire ignited from a lighted match thrown down in the bed of the truck, where considerable gasoline had been wasted as it was poured from barrels into a smaller container. Mr. Kinnard, R. C. Henry and another man were unloading the gas in the Kinnardfield where a tractor has been running day and night in three shifts. Henry and the third man at the blaze extinguished the fire that ignited on the ground under the truck, by throwing dirt on it. Mr. Kinnard fought out the blaze in the truck with the use of two coats. He was uninjured.

It was a very foolish thing to do, Mr. Kinnard admitted Saturday afternoon. It did not occur to him to jump out of danger, however, and in fact, he did not realize the danger until the fire had been extinguished. Later he found his trousers had been so badly scorched that the fell off of him in patches. Little or no damage was done and no one was injured. One of those things that can't happen, did happen.

HARMONY SCHOOL SENDING COPIES OF HESPERIAN TOO

Harmony School, of which Mrs. Chas. B. Smith is one of the teachers, is using the same idea that children in one of the rooms of Floydada Public Schools is using, reported in The Hesperian recently, that of corresponding with school children in other sections of the nation. Its use has a two-fold purpose, teaching geography in a new way and teaching composition as well.

In four boxes sent out by the Harmony children this week, Mrs. Smith included a copy of the Fair special of the Hesperian issued on October 9th, giving figures on this section of the country, as well as statements from various farmers and business men.

THE GOVERNOR'S RECEPTION ROOM

In the great state capitol at Austin on the second floor, immediately over the main entrance from the south, is the reception room of the governor. Over on the left side of the rotunda sits an old gray haired veteran of the Civil War whose duty is to admit visitors to that noted room, where notables, presidents, kings and queens have been received by governors of the Lone Star State. The following description has been made by one who recently visited the reception room.

It was a room of another age—an abode of kings. The rays from the chandelier of twelve glowing globes was reflected from the white walls, imposing in their nakedness—was flashed the perfect seven-foot mirror on the wall at the left end of the room. Even the Brussels carpet, gray, aged and worn by thirty-six years of service, caught the light and was rejuvenated.

In the center, immediately in front of the door, was a table over five feet in length by four in width, with a slab of Texas marble forming the surface supported by the woodwork of mesquite, sturdy, hard, enduring.

The furnishings had long since passed out of date. On the right were two rockers, old-fashioned, with gray upholstery; mounted on a stationery base. They were placed side by side in mechanical exactness. Just beyond, across the corner, was a large lounge with rounded arm-rests, and of the same gray finish as the rocking-chairs. A single, faded sofa-pillow was out of place on the back. A Texas flag, framed, stood at the end of the room.

On the left was a pair of straight-backed chairs—stiff as two English butlers in waiting. To the right of the chairs, stood an old conversation chair—an emblem of the eighties, made in the shape of the letter S, unique and suggestive of the days of blushing maidens in hoop-skirts, and brave men in powdered wigs. Against the left wall was another sofa.

On the opposite side of the room were four windows—far back, like sunken eyes they were—extending from floor almost to vaulted ceiling. Over those windows from dull-silver rings six inches around, and one half an inch in thickness were draped heavy plush curtains, majestic, flowing. Rich were the colors and faded blue, purple, gray; falling like the long robes of a queen's train, the draperies caught the light, and held it—softly glowing.

WILSON'S ON VACATION

County Agent T. Scott Wilson and wife and children left yesterday on a two weeks' vacation trip that will include a visit to the State Fair at Dallas, and from thence to Missouri, Kansas and Arkansas where they will visit relatives and old friends.

They are making the trip in their Overland car which is arranged so that it may be converted into a bed at night, and with overhanging hammocks for their children, they can feel that their own personal Pullman makes them entirely free of time, and tide and hotels.

HOPKINS AGAIN SECRETARY OF EXHIBITORS' ASSOCIATION

Maury Hopkins has been re-elected secretary of the Texas State Fair Exhibitors' Association, according to reports in the daily press.

J. B. Graham, of Waxahachie, was re-elected president of the association and L. T. Hunter, of Childress, vice president.

There Is No Such Thing As An Advertising Campaign

Did You Ever Hear

- of an Eating Campaign?
- of a Sleeping Campaign?
- of a Bathing Campaign?

If you stop eating, or sleeping, or bathing, soon all your other bodily functions will cease to operate. Your physical organism must function without stopping.

So with your advertising.

There must be no let up—no slowing down—no opportunity created whereby your competitor can benefit.

The fleeting impression is quickly forgotten.

The constant reminder makes the deepest impression.

Sales miracles are wrought through steady, persistent work—through hundreds of repeated calls on your prospects and customers.

This constant repetition of your story through printed literature impels belief in the service or product offered, and a sale is made.

The constant flow of Niagara produces heat, light and power continuously for over 50 cities and towns. The moral is plain. Advertise regularly.

Mrs. J. D. Hopper of Lakeview is convalescing at the Sanitarium. Her son, Dan Hopper and wife who have been in Floydada to be at her bedside returned to their home in Boulder, Colorado, last Wednesday.

Charles Taylor returned to his home at Southland last Friday.

PRISCILLA CLUB

The Priscilla Club met with Mrs. Fred Batty last Wednesday. Several hours were spent in doing fancy work, after which a delicious course of punch, cake and fruit were served.

Those present were: Mmes. R. C. Watson and C. E. Neil, Floydada; Mmes. Joe Evers, C. D. Kelley, T. J. Cardinal, Dan Day, M. Brown, C. M. Batty, R. Cardinal, Chas. Camden, A. T. Pratt, Irene McIntyre.

REPORT ON VOCATIONAL ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT MADE

Miss Jessie W. Harris, of the Home Economics Department of the State Department of Education on October 7th, visited on an inspection trip the home economics department of Floydada High School.

Her report, a copy of which has been received by local school authorities, is as follows in part:

"Floydada has just introduced vocational Home Economics this year. There are two splendid classes of 16 each. The work for this year will be Foods I, Physiology, Clothing I, Design.

"It was advised that Floydada follow Plan II, in which case it will take two more years before the program is completed as follows: 1925-26, first year, 8th grade, fall term, Foods I; spring term, Clothing I; ninth grade, first year, fall term, physiology, spring term, design.

"Second year, fall term, Foods II, spring term, Clothing II.

"Two sections should be provided for first year work next year if it is opened to the 8th grade. This can be handled by one teacher by combining the class in Physiology and Design or by giving the physiology to the science teacher and teaching one section of clothing and design each term.

"Equipment: Floydada has a beautiful new High School building that is a credit to the community. Excellent equipment has been purchased for home economics. There are three rooms in the home economics suit. Although all of the equipment has not been received it has all been ordered. It will be necessary to screen the windows. It was also recommended that the silver purchased for meal service be used only for that purpose, and a cheaper grade purchased for the desks. Physiology equipment is to be purchased.

"Affiliation: Credit is to be applied for in all of the home economics work and related work, making a total of two units as follows: H. E. (a, c, e) 1 1/2, physiology 1/2 a-foods, c-clothing, e-design.

"Although all the work must be submitted and it is too early to tell about credit, the supervisor feels that there is a good chance to secure the credit.

"It was a pleasure to visit Floydada and to recommend the subsidy of $675.00 for which they have applied on their vocational Home Economics program. Both Mr. Wilson and Mrs. Clements are much interested in the work. Mr. Wilson thinks the high school may grow some and crowd out the home economics department in which case he hopes to build a cottage. The high school owns a two-room structure which it may be able to remodel and add to. At any time that a cottage is in sight the State Department will be glad to suggest plans."

80TH BIRTHDAY OF MRS. R. A. McPEAK IS CELEBRATED

Last Sunday the children, grandchildren and great grandchildren of Grandmother R. A. McPeak gathered at the home of S. N. McPeak to do honor to her on her 80th birthday. Grandmother McPeak had been invited to spend the week-end with her son S. N. McPeak and family, and on Sunday at the noon hour one by one her loved ones appeared to greet the venerable old lady and to congratulate her on her birthday, each one bearing with him or her an abundance of good things to eat. Under an old willow tree covered with a grape vine a table was set with the good things, and this delightful surprise dinner was then served in buffet style.

Not all the family were able to be present at this occasion. Those who did come were Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Brown and Pansy Moselle; Mr. and Mrs. T. B. McPeak and son and daughter; Joe Bailey McPeak, Chester McPeak; Deward McPeak from Farwell, and Mr. and Mrs. S. N. McPeak.

RAYMOND DARSEY MARRIED

Friends in Floydada of O. P. Darsey, former resident of this city, have learned of the marriage on October 11th of Raymond E. Darsey, his son, to Miss Edna Hazel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Kuehn. They will reside in Wichita Falls.

Arthur Barker, of Lockney, was a business visitor in Floydada Monday.

THE SOOT OUTING

"You think then, Tom, that I did wrong? Well perhaps I did, but revenge is sweet, boy. Sit down in that rocker over there and I'll tell you all about it. Now I'm not at all a particular person, and I have such a mild disposition that I seldom have occasion to find fault with my fellowmen. As a rule, I may be imposed upon without retaliation on my part,—but there are exceptions to all rules, you know.

"I didn't like my landlady from the very first. She was tall, with skin as sallow as that of a dope fiend, and there were little wrinkles of greed about her eyes and mouth that betrayed her true nature. She was always complaining, and said that she had heart trouble. Her case was strange. Her condition would invariably change for the better, about the first of every month, and if her heart ever skipped any beats when she, "hit me up" for the rent, I never noticed it.

"But what has that got to do with—"

"Wait a minute, Tom, I'm coming to that. As I hinted before, I didn't like that woman, and everything related with her irritated me. I would have moved the first week, but my "old lady" wanted to stay, so I "hung on". Well, everything went on all right or the first two months, and then the landlady got contrary and began "gripping" at everything in general. She wanted "wifey" and me to refrain from pasting so many pictures on the wallpaper, and the Lord only knows that we couldn't have "disfigured" the darn stuff if we had started out purposely to commit such a deed. She asked us to pay for a window-pane, which had been accidentally broken one night during a scuffle. Why she even went so far as to ask us to abstain from our "bull-fests"; because we disturbed her at night, "when she wasn't feeling well." You know as well as I do, Tom, that we didn't make enough noise to disturb her.

"That old hypocrite was a high-way robber hiding behind the name of housemother. We had to pay her twelve "shekels" every month for that room with its dingy walls, and its old frayed grass rug, over which I tripped ten times a day. We had to pay those "shekels" to sit in rickety, straight-backed chairs around a stove that refused to get hot. Ah, that stove! It was the last of many insufferable injuries heaped upon me.

"I got up one morning and tried to build a fire in that little heatless heater of ours. A heavy rain the night before had washed the soot down, and there was not enough draft to start the fire, much less keep it burning. My dear landlady had neglected to have the flues cleaned in the summer, as she "had to economize." There I was choking and freezing, an innocent victim of the old cuss' stinginess."

"What did you do, Marley?"

"What did I do?—Oh, nothing much. You see Mrs. Jameson had the stove of her sitting room, which was directly below us, connected with the same flue as that of our stove. Everything worked out very nicely. I just crammed eight Daily Texans, one brick, one gunny-sack, and a big horse-shoe for good measure, down that chimney. Yeah boy, it was sweet revenge, but by gosh, it all resulted in a regular outing."

"An outing? how was that?"

"Well, old lady Jameson was smoked out, the flue got cleaned out, and I moved out."

Headed for the Devil

Onward ever onward hurls the mad race of civilization and the old grey heads wag and wag and words of timely warning are given forth to the multitude as it surges forward to certain destruction. From every part of the country, in every paper, and from the mouth of almost every speaker comes doleful wailings about the pitiful condition of the world in general and the young folk in particular.

They say that the young people are mad on jazz music and high living and are riding on a limited express bound straight for the devil.

But folk are folk no matter where you find them. It does not make a particle of difference what you do to them, what you say to them, or what you say about them—they are going to just keep on being folk. It is human nature to love fun and a good time, and the whole world would go mad if it were not for the few moments of diversion that is enjoyed at odd moments.

The young people of today are just folk—just human beings after all. And mamma and dad are not to be held up to ridicule for the disgraceful way those young things take on. It is not mother's fault, it is not father's fault. Why? Simply because there is no blame to be placed on any particular person's shoulders for it is no particular person's fault that the rest of the crowd are human.

If the young people of today are headed for the devil, then every generation in the past history of mankind has at one time been going in the same direction. The kids of today are just like the kids of yesterday. They love to steal watermelons, to dance, to roll the galloping dominoes, to play cards, to steal a kiss on the sly, to go riding and to hear jazz music—just like their pa and ma used to do.

Don't blame mother and dad or the young people. If they are headed for the devil get busy and stop them and don't spend so much time hollering and saying "Oh look what a mess ma and pa have made."

SAND HILL HARMONY DEMONSTRATION CLUB

Our Club met as usual on its regular day, Wednesday afternoon, October 15, at the home of Mrs. J. S. McLain.

There were a good number present with seven new members and two visitors. Miss Faulkner with the help of some of the members prepared salads dressings. While they were preparing the different dishes to be served to all present, our president, Mrs. A. R. Hanna, and others discussed some interesting subjects. By this time the dainty and most appetizing salads and dressing were ready to be served. Each one took her place at the dining table and listened with interest to the helpful suggestions on making these good things. Every one had the privilege of copying these recipes.

Our next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. M. E. Scott, on Wednesday, Nov. 5. We will take up the making of a dress form. I feel that we will all be interested in this. Let every member be present if she possibly can. We hope that every member is looking forward to our Exhibit on Nov. 1. Be sure and come. Bring all you have that would be of interest to the club.

The new members are Mrs. O. S. Miller, Mrs. U. C. Scott, Mrs. W. E. Miller, Mrs. Frank Probasco, Mrs. A. B. Masterson, Mrs. W. R. Dooley and Mrs. H. E. Holmes, better known as "Grandma" Holmes.

The visitors were Mrs. S. Abston from Floydada, and Mrs. J. H. Rice from Sand Hill. We are always glad to have visitors.

Leslie Stringer and E. W. Merriott, of Wichita Falls, are here this week on business.

A very remarkable flight of the painted lady butterfly is reported to the United States Department of Agriculture from California, estimates running into the billions of individuals. This has been followed by a serious outbreak of caterpillars, which are attacking garden plants of all kinds.

1,500 LB. CAKE SERVED BY L. A. STORE ON BIRTHDAY

The biggest birthday cake we have ever recorded was cut by a Los Angeles, California, store one day last week, and at least one former resident of Floydada got a piece of it.

The birthday day, which celebrated the store's 19th birthday, weighed 1,500 pounds. It was 7 feet tall and contained 250 pounds of sugar, 250 pounds of flour, 250 pounds of butter, 2500 eggs and 500 candy flowers. It was decorated with icing motifs signifying Americanism and progress, topped with large globe showing the World Fliers.

Mrs. Earl Newell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Abernathy of this city, was the former resident who received a slice of the cake. In a brief note to relatives here she declared the cake was an excellent one.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Gamble left for the Dallas Fair on Friday morning.

Matador Hi Bested Badly in Game Friday

Green and White Outplays Disheartened, Injured Squad From Neighboring City.

Floydada High School won hands down over the Matador High School eleven last Friday afternoon, excelling the visiting boys in all departments of the game, although it was never necessary to extend themselves in defensive tactics. The score was 70 to 0, the last quarter being reduced to 7½ minutes in time, during which Coach Wester sent in four raw recruits for linemen.

The Green and White scored in the first three minutes of play, when Cates recovered a fumbled ball behind the Matador line and ran 22 yards for a touchdown. Abbott made the next score on an end run and kicked for the extra point himself. He also kicked for the extra point in the same quarter soon thereafter when Green bucked the line for a touchdown after the ball had been brought down field by F. H. S. on successive end runs and tackle brushes. Abbott sustained an ankle injury however, and was out of the game before the quarter was up.

Although the first quarter gave evidence that the Matador boys were thoroughly bested, Coach Wester did not begin to run in substitutes until the first half was nearly up. From that time, however, he gave man after man a few minutes of work. Several of his players, it should be mentioned, were not suited up for the day on account of poor grades.

Bosley made three of the touchdowns piled up by F. H. S., Green two, Captain Henry three, Carter one, in addition to Abbott's two, end runs and off-tackle plays being used principally. Only once or twice did the squad demonstrate any of their fake formations. Matador held F. H. S. for downs only twice.

Farmer and Tudor for Matador showed up best, the greater part of the team playing in an apparently disheartened manner from the first whistle. The team has some wonderful material, it appears, but Matador fans declared that the boys, although fighting hard, had been nosed out of so many earned victories that they had lost their punch to some extent. Their team work Friday afternoon indicated as much.

In the last quarter Scott and Williams as tackles, and Grigsby and Surginer as guards, were sent in by Coach Wester, and these lads got a good taste of what it meant to meet a line buck one down right after another for 53 yards.

Floydada kicked off to Matador at the beginning of the quarter, the ball being returned to the 18-yard line of Matador where the line of scrimmage formed. Sensing the change in the line the Matador quarter called one line buck right after another, and won from 1 yard to 8 on every plunge, the recruits holding them with the aid of the secondary defense. When the last whistle blew the line of scrimmage had formed on the 26-yard line of F. H. S. and Matador had 3 yards to go to make downs on fourth trial.

Cleere, Oklahoma A. & M., was referee, Edwards umpire, Dawson head linesman.

PEACHES AND APPLES FOR TASTER'S TEST ARE GOOD

A box of peaches and apples from the home orchard of Mrs. Roman S. Moore, brought to The Hesperian for a test by the official taster Saturday afternoon late, proved to be as excellent as the raiser thought them to be, the juice from the late fall peaches—some of it—escaping from the corners of the taster's mouth when he attempted bites that were not exactly

Practical Nurse Tells

Mrs. N. E. Snow, of Route 1, near Paris, Tenn., tells the story of her experience as follows:

"I am 62 years old and I have been a practical nurse for more than 20 years, taking mostly maternity cases. One of my daughters suffered from cramping at . . . She would just bend double and have to go to bed.

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

was recommended to her and she only had to take about two bottles, when she hardly knew that it was . . . she suffered so little pain. "My youngest daughter was run-down, weak and nervous, and looked like she didn't have a bit of blood left—just a walking skeleton, no appetite and tired all the time. I gave her two bottles of Cardui. It built her up and she began eating and soon gained in weight and has been so well since."

Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, has helped suffering women for over forty years. Try it. At all druggists'. E-100 in accordance with the best rules of etiquette. This, however, is the best test of a good peach. When it tastes good and the juice begins running out of the corners of your mouth it may be said ordinarily that the fruit is excellent. There are other subtle rules and governing qualifications, all of which O. T. used in testing this fruit, which the layman could hardly be expected to understand, and which we will not attempt to set out fully at this time. We must say, however, that the fruit met the test in every particular for excellence.

The Moore orchard has furnished a large quantity of fruit this summer and fall for eating and for canning and its value to the family will be fully demonstrated this winter when the canned products grace the table in the home.

Wheat Profits Depend On High Crop Yields

"The average yield of wheat in the United States (14½ bushels per acre) scarcely pays the cost of production," says H. M. Bainer, director of The Southwestern Wheat Improvement Association. "This is especially true when labor, interest, depreciation and decrease in soil fertility are considered. It may be interesting to know that this yield of 14½ bushels is less than half that of the oldest farming countries of Europe: Germany averages 27.8 bushels per acre, Sweden 28 bushels, Great Britain 32.2 bushels, and Denmark 44.7 bushels.

"While it may not be practical to follow an intensive system of farming like these countries, yet it is practical to follow a system that will produce the highest yield at minimum expense. For example poor seed costs almost as much as good seed, and good is known to increase the yield from 3 to 10 bushels per acre.

"There is very little difference between the cost of early preparation and late preparation, but repeated demonstrations and experiments show that July plowing or listing increases the yields from 2 to 7 bushels per acre over the same kind of work done in September.

"Where livestock is kept and manure is available, 10 tons per acre as a top dressing to wheat will often double the yield.

"It costs no more to raise wheat in rotation, occasionally with a legume, than it does to grow the crop continuously, and a good rotation will increase the yield from 5 to 10 bushels per acre. To include summer fallow in rotation system every third year, especially in sections where the rainfall is limited, will often double the wheat yield. For example: Seven years work at the Hays Experiment Station, in western Kansas, shows an average yield of 11½ bushels of wheat per acre immediately after kafir, but during the same time, where summer fallow was practiced between the kafir and the wheat, the average yield was increased to 25½ bushels per acre."

ROGERS IN F. H. S. LINE

Rogers is the hardest-hitting line-man F. H. S. has ever had, it is declared.

It Makes a Big Difference to You Where You Spend Your Dollars

Supposing, for instance, that every man, woman and child in this community spent their money away from home, what would happen to this town?

There would be no stores, no shops, no schools, no churches, no roads, no Gins or Elevators—in fact there would be no town.

Floydada is the market place for whatever you produce, whether it be labor or farm products. Without home trade there could be no town of Floydada. Everyone would move away. Trains would cease running and it would be almost no-time before Floydada would be but a memory.

So you see, it does make a big difference with you and with your neighbors, where you spend your money.

SUSTAINS INJURY TO LEG
—PASTOR USING CRUTCHES

A week ago last Sunday Rev. J. L. Henson sustained an injury to his leg and has had to resort to crutches since in order to make his way around.

As he was crossing the street a car passed just as he got to the curb, and he felt a sudden pain in the calf of his leg. It was an odd accident. He had been hit by a stone or some other sharp object that had received its terrible velocity from the rapid revolution of the car wheel. The pain was intense but it was some hours later when he was unable to use the muscles of his leg.

He hopes to be able to discard his crutches in a few days and to be able to attend the Annual Conference with-out their aid.

Clayton was granted a divorce from Mary Bell Clayton.

Lannie Lively was granted divorce from J. T. Lively and was given title to 160 acres of land in this county, the southwest one-fourth of Section 82 in Block D2.

A civil suit which has been of wide interest in the southeast part of the county is that of W. L. Bloodworth and others against W. H. Freeman and others, in which several boundary lines are in dispute. The court rendered its decision on Tuesday of this week, giving judgment for the plaintiffs for the lands in controversy. Defendant attorneys gave notice of appeal.

Petit jurors for the week who have been kept busy returning verdicts this week are: Lee Allmon, F. S. Truitt, Luther Casey, A. H. Manning, A. P. Barker, O. L. Stansell, S. W. Ross, J. H. Brooks, M. H. Davis, J. G. Martin, W. F. Birch, C. W. Boothe, G. B. Harris, Robin Baker, E. R. Borum, W. Ed Brown, Tom Rankin, David Bates, Frank Mudgett A. E., Bowman, W. J. Browning, Harry Christian A. B. The Grand Jury for this term is making a record second only to the historic grand jury of 1919. Resuming their labors the latter part of last week the grand jurors are still in session and have turned in 4 new felony indictments and 17 misdemeanors indictments, for a total of 24 felonies for the term to date and 18 misdemeanors.

Last night a jury returned a verdict of 2 years in the penitentiary against Duff Beavers, held on a liquor charge. Defendant attorneys will ask for a new trial.

ONE MINUTE INTERVIEWS

Col Thos. Montgomery: "Every farmer in Floyd County ought to plant a few acres of June corn every year. We always plant 8 or 10 acres out at the ranch and we never have failed to have enough corn for our bread and fatten a hog or two. We have 7 acres this year that is fine."

C. W. Boothe: "The Hesperian got its facts on backward last week when it mentioned the car of barley shipped out of Floydada as the first ever sent out from this point. Our books show that Boothe Bros. shipped 5 cars of very high grade barley in the year of 1921, and we have a car of barley we are holding in the elevator now for seed next spring."

SAM HARRIS DEAD

Sam Harris, 45, biggest man in the Southwest, and one of the most gigantic human figures in the world, died Monday at his home in Farmersville, Texas, of pneumonia. Harris weighed 720 pounds at the time of his death.

Last year he had a special casket made and friends believe he had a premonition of death. The casket is 79 inches long, 35 inches deep, 45 inches across and weighs 610 pounds.

When the body was ready for burial the weight of the body and coffin totalled 1330 pounds, and a door in the Harris home had to be removed to allow the casket's removal. A motor truck was used instead of a hearse.

A BACK YARD IN MARCH

It was an afternoon of a day late in March—the season when nature was spreading her balsms of colored beauty to salve the ravages of the long winter plague. I sat in my room that March afternoon, and gazed out of the north window, which gave me an unobstructed view of the backyard of my boarding house. A strange, almost holy, quietness prevailed over the scene, and a pleasing, intangible tang, which, like the gentle northeast breeze, made itself felt, but was invisible—undescribable—the spirit of Spring. The high, board fence, which bounded the yard on the east and west, extended like protecting arms from each side of the house to a low, ugly unpainted structure which years ago might have been called a barn. This dilapidated pile of decay was leaning at a dangerous angle to the westward, and through evident long disuse was in a fair way of passing into history. The door of the single crib hung by a lone, rusty hinge; the manger of the one stall had fallen down, and half hidden by the dusty straw, which two old hens were madly employed in scattering right and left in total disregard of their baby "chicklets". The "babes" were visible at times, and at others, totally hidden by the maelstrom of mildewed straw-remains. In a corner almost directly beneath my window was a peach-tree in full bloom. A little wren among the topmost parts was flitting from twig to twig. I was turning away from the scene—from the tree with its myriads of blossoms; delicate as a baby's cheek—still blushing from the kiss of the morning dew—from the beauty and expression of spring life—from the picture with its velvety, green, rug-covering of clover and grass, and the old barn in the background—I was turning away when a saucy bantam rooster from a neighboring yard perched himself proudly upon the fence on the left, and in a shrill, cocky voice cried, "Look at me."

TAPIOCA

This week we shall give just a few of the many ways of preparing a much neglected food in this particular section of the country, but if prepared correctly it is found to be a very delicious food. We refer to Tapioca.

Tapioca is neglected perhaps because one does not realize that there are so many dainty and simple ways of preparing this wholesome food.

Tapioca is very high in nutritive value any may be used in any number of pleasing combinations with fruits, eggs and milk. For this reason it can be highly recommended for growing children, for convalescents, or for any one with a delicate digestion.

At this time we are presenting six ways of preparing delicious desserts from Tapioca. In all these recipes it is best to use the quick or package Tapioca that requires no preliminary soaking. Always cook in a double boiler if possible to prevent burning.

Tapioca Cream

1 Quart milk, 2 eggs, one-third cup Tapioca, ½ cup sugar, pinch salt, flavoring.

Boil in double boiler 15 minutes, milk, Tapioca and salt, stirring frequently.

Beat the yolks of the eggs with the sugar and stir into the milk and Tapioca after it has been boiling for 15 minutes. Then boil until it begins to thicken like custard. Remove from the fire, whip in beaten whites of eggs. Add any flavoring desired.

Serve with cream and sprinkle with cocoanut and garnish with spoonful of jelly or preserve in center of individual dish.

The Tapioca may be poured into a baking dish and the whites of eggs used as meringue if preferred, browning in oven for a few minutes.

Apple Tapioca

6 Tart apples, 1 cup sugar, salt, spice, butter ¼ cup Tapioca, 1 quart hot water.

Par and quarter apples. Place in dish and cover with sugar, salt, spice and butter.

Boil 15 minutes in double boiler the Tapioca with a pinch of salt and stir frequently.

Pour over apples and bake until they are soft.

Serve with cream and sugar.

Peach Tapioca

One-fourth lb. peaches, one-fourth cup sugar, one-fourth cup Tapioca, 1½ cups water.

Use evaporated peaches, soaking them over night. In the morning allow them to simmer slowly on the stove for three or four hours. Remove and press the pulp through a sieve saving the juice. Take Tapioca and sugar and boil together in water until clear. Add the peach and juice, stir thoroughly and mold. Serve with whipped cream. This is a delicious dish and very economical.

Orange Tapioca

1 Quart hot water, ½ cup Tapioca, pinch salt, 4 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 4 oranges.

Cook 15 minutes in a double boiler, Tapioca and salt in water to which has been added sugar and lemon juice, stirring frequently.

Pour this over oranges, peeled, divided into sections, and cut in rather small pieces and sweetened.

Serve cool with sweetened whipped cream.

Pineapple Tapioca

1 Quart hot water, ½ cup Tapioca, ¼ cup sugar, pinch salt, 1 cup pineapple grated or chopped.

Boil in a double boiler 15 minutes, sugar and salt in quart of hot water, stirring frequently.

Remove from fire and stir in pineapple sweetened to taste.

Serve with milk and sugar or with whipped cream slightly sweetened and flavored. Any canned or fresh fruit may be used.

Banana Nut Tapioca

1 Pint boiling water, two-third cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup Tapioca, juice of two lemons, whites of two eggs, 2 bananas (sliced), ½ cup salted peanuts (chopped), cream.

Mix the sugar, salt and Tapioca and stir into the boiling water. Cook 15 minutes in a double boiler stirring frequently. Remove from fire, add lemon juice and stir in the sliced bananas and chopped nuts. When partially cool fold in the beaten whites of eggs and sprinkle a few nuts over the top. When thoroughly cool serve plain or with cream.

SHOWERS OVER PORTIONS OF COUNTY HALT COTTON PICKING

Rain over portions of Floyd County Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday considerably slowed down the cotton harvest probably half or more of the county getting enough rain to stop the work in the fields temporarily. In other sections the rains were light or no rain at all, and the gins at Floydada continued work although they were kept busy only approximately half the time yesterday and this morning.

Showers to heavy rains fell in various parts of the Panhandle as far east as Crowell, reports received in Floydada show.

COLE BROS. SHOWS will visit Floydada Tuesday, November 4, for two performances. With each successive season one looks forward to the visits of the various tented aggregations that travel the country for the amusement of the people and no show is ever more heartily welcome than Cole Bros. They have made a reputation for themselves by giving the people a good highclass entertainment which appeals to all as interesting, amusing and instructive. Everybody loves horses and ponies. More especially does this apply to the ladies who with the little ones are the most loyal patrons. They are assured of the highest form of entertainment free from everything at all calculated to offend the most sensitive. In addition to the trained animal features, Cole Bros. have the very best of lady and gentlemen performers. The performing elephants and rare wild beasts, Banty Bunny, the cute little baby elephant, the good night pony, together with the many prancing ponies in military drills and marches are especially pleasing to the little ones. The funny clowns, the many beautiful lady artists—the feature acts by the world's greatest gymnast, Mlle. Roberts, in her death defying act in mid-air, the like of which has never been witnessed will live long in memory when many other shows have faded away into forgetfulness. Don't fail to see the grand free street review. Two complete performances daily.
