BOYS' WEEK WORKERS ALL WANT COP JOBS

Participants Slow to Sign; Sponsors Enthusiastic Over Planned Program.

In spite of the fact that all of the lads insist on being assigned places on the traffic police force, Boy's Week arrangements are going forward and those in charge anticipate a big success of the initial staging of such a program. Early indications point to a shortage of boys and continued appeals are made for more participants in order to carry out the present arrangements. Official Boys' Week here will be observed, beginning Monday, July 4, and continuing through Sunday, First Christian Church

BLACK HULL WHEAT

Considerable agitation is being felt locally on the subject of black hull wheat. Millers here have been informed from northern buyers of Floyd County grain that this type of wheat is low in protein content and should be discouraged as a product for the Plains. On the other hand, agricultural officials who have participated in judging grains entered from over the state each year in the fair at Dallas, say that black hull wheat should be included in the exhibit this year from this county. It was said that an exhibit of this grade should score high.

'Round The Square

There will be plenty of special duties to keep the people of Floydada and surrounding communities busy during the first week of July. In addition to those required hours that must be devoted to business in the stores and on the farms, time should be allotted for participation in special events planned. Boys' Week will be observed from July 4 to 10, inclusive, and the American Legion will sponsor a week's entertainment here July 4 to 9. It should be a week of entertainment for young and old, alike.

Every person, so far as possible, should volunteer his or her services in staging the affairs. Countless things must be done in preparation for each event and the more people who assist, the more there will be to enjoy seeing the success of their efforts.
