FAVORS AND SILVER

People love their nickles and to separate the silver from the flesh is practically impossible today. Once, in the not far distant past it was considered good Southern etiquette to get an opportunity to do some little "favor for a stranger.

In the present age the calendar does not list any gratis deeds. Those little favors now call for a monetary expression rather than one of gratitude. More and more is the world being operated on a set schedule. There is a period designated for each item under the efficiency schedule. Each individu-al feels, evidently, that he has a limited time in which to obtain his share of the world's proceeds and in so do ing keeps uppermost in his mind "watch the pennies and the dollars will take care of themselves."

The day of favors are numbered. Hail the day of silvered efficiency.

AS MAN THINKETH

Floyd County has given her verdict. She has voted on the road bond issue and the four proposed amendments to the State Constitution. Right or wrong, the people have given voice to their opinions and their reactions to these proposals.

Whether for the good or for the bad it is well-for it is the voice of this great community-it is the answer of those who are to live and enjoy with the destinies of this county.

What is an infectious disease? Why should my baby's birth be registered?

How do parents know whether their child is registered?

9. Is the tuberculosis death rate decreasing?

10. What are the habits of flies and how do they transmit diseases? ANSWERS

1. Sanitation means methods used to promote public health. Applied sani-tation is a battle waged against filth diseases.

2. About one-third of all the deaths occurring annually in the United States are preventable. The average length of human life has increased rom approximately 40 years to 58 year during the last 12 or 15 years, and this has been due largely to the decrease in infant mortality. If preventable diseases were really prevented by the application of scientific knowledge, the average life span could be increased from 58 to 70 years.

Adenoids are little tumors (smal swellings) which grow in the throat just back of the opening of the nose into the mouth and in front of the wo small tubes which lead from the throat to the ears. These little tumors are reddish gray in color, soft and slimy in composition, and vary in size from that of a small pea to a mass that may completely fill the upper part of the throat.

4. A child with adenoids becomes a nouth-breather. Thus the air reaches he lungs in a cold and unpurified conmouth-breather. Thus the air reaches the lungs in a cold and unpurified conlition, resulting in frequent attacks of old, bronchitis, or possibly pneumonia. The child also does not get into his body a sufficient amount of air, which retards growth. Adenoids also cause ear troubles and often deafness, disturb digestion, produce a peculiar expression, and cause mental dullness.

5. Certain substances in food which id growth, improve the appetite, help ne body to absorb food, and prevent aid growth, improve the appetite, help the body to absorb food, and prevent certain diseases, are called Vitamines. 6. Infectious diseases are the ones generally termed "catching," and are aused by germs that are spread from person to person or from animals.

LOCKHART PARTY GUESTS AT LUNCHEON CLUB MEET

The spirit of friendliness, helpfulness and co-operation will characterize the community that is building on the right foundation, Dr. Wm. J. Lockhart told members of Floydada Luncheon Club at its noon-day meeting at the Commer-cial Hotel dining room Monday in a short talk which featured the hour, and the community must build on a spiritualistic basis, not a basis of material-ism, he said, to succeed in the large way which is the aspiration of every town, large or small.

The speaker, who is here as the leader in the gospel crusade begun Saturday night by several churches of the town, has traveled widely in his chosen work, and declared that communities have in-dividualities he terms "souls" as much as do individuals. "I can tell in twenty-four hours after I reach a community what kind of a foundation its citizenship are building on," he declared.

F. L. Davis, chairman of the program committee, was named to preside by Roy L. Snodgrass, chairman. He intro-duced other members of the evangelistic party who are George, William and Miss Clara Lockhart. George, junior member of the party, sang "Land of Mine," with Miss Clara at the pinno, and with his brother sang a comical duct . that got a good laugh and applause.
