Iran Gives Reporters Until Friday To Leave

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The Iranian government, which has ordered all American reporters to leave Iran, today gave them until Friday midnight to obey the directive. The announcement, made by the director of the foreign press, Sadegh Abolghassem, said that with American reporters out of the country there will be less emphasis on the American hostages held at the U.S. Embassy since Nov. 4 by Islamic militants demanding the return of the ousted shah. "I think it will be good for Iran, the United States and the hostages," said the foreign press chief. Sadegh's orders, received verbally by a reporter for The Associated Press at the Ministry of National Guidance, are the result of a decision taken jointly by the ruling

Revolutionary Council and Cabinet ministers on Monday. On Monday night, the government ordered all American reporters out of the country, accusing them of biased reporting. But it said French, British and West German journalists could stay for the time being. "The foreign American journalists have been misusing our kind cooperation and freedom we have given them," Iran's ruling Revolutionary Council said in a statement issued after a three-hour meeting Monday night. "They have used this against our revolution and we are going to expel all American correspondents effective immediately." There were reports that the estimated 100 Americans would be given a few days to leave, but the director of the Ministry of National Guidance, which accredits reporters, said he could say nothing until he studied the expulsion order further. The Revolutionary Council's spokesman, Oil Minister Ali Akbar Moinefar, said French, British and West German reporters were being allowed to remain for the time being but he added: "We give them a strong warning that if they send anything but the truth about the news they will be expelled as well." The expulsion order follows a long series of public accusations that American reporters were sending out biased and incorrect reports and the eviction previously of 25 Western reporters whose reporting or reports appearing in their publications angered the revolutionary regime.

Peveler Appointed To Chief Appraiser's Post

Ray Peveler, tax-assessor-collector for the Snyder Consolidated Independent School District the past 14 years, was named chief appraiser last night of the new, single unit appraising agency recently mandated by state law. The new agency has the responsibility of appraising property for all taxing entities in the county, including the county itself, the City of Snyder, and all school districts in the county. The five-member Scurry County Tax Appraisal Board, itself just recently formed, met in executive session for approximately an hour and 45 minutes before deciding to nominate Peveler. The vote on Peveler, however, was taken during open session. Nominating Peveler to the post was Kenneth Wilson, and the motion was seconded by Pete Hester. Voting for Peveler, besides Wilson and Hester, were board members Ross Blanchard, Bill Hairston, and John Reed. The motion passed unanimously. In voting for Peveler, board members voted also to set the salary of the chief appraiser at $30,000 a year, plus $1,800 for in-district travel expenses. The term of office is for one year. Peveler, 52, a Snyder resident the past 25 years, was selected for the post on the basis of his credentials, board members reported after the meeting. He is a member of the Texas Association of Assessing Officers, Society of Real Estate Appraisers, National Association of Review Appraisers, and a Registered Professional Appraiser. For three years Peveler was an emergency loan supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration, and he was a surveyor with the Texas Highway Department for three years. He received his high school education at Carlsbad, N.M., and received his bachelor of arts degree in range management from Texas A&M University in 1951. Peveler has taken five courses through the Texas Association of Assessing Officers and three courses through the Society of Real Estate Appraisers. "I'm real pleased to have the job," said Peveler afterward. "We have an awful lot of work to do and we'll need help from everybody." Still to be decided on is the selection of evaluation engineers and a staff for the new office. Also last night, board members awarded depository contracts to Snyder National Bank.

Ask Us

Q—What is the city policy concerning relatives working for the City of Snyder?
A—The city charter forbids the hiring of anyone closely related to a member of the city council or to the city manager—such as parents, spouse, sons, daughters, brothers, sisters, aunts, uncles, cousins, etc. Similar relationship to another employee may also be grounds for rejection of an application if the hiring official believes it to be in the best interest of the city, according to the city's policy manual.

College Board Sets Election

Scurry County Junior College District trustees last night officially set an election for Saturday, April 5, and approved construction of a small storage building for the automotive department at Western Texas College. The building, a 26-foot by 26-foot structure will be erected by on-campus labor, with cost of materials estimated between $5,000 and $6,000. Also approved was a revision of fees for the WTC golf course. On weekdays, green fees for the general public will be $4 for 18 holes and on weekends and holidays, the fees will be $5 for 18 holes. For students and WTC employees with activity cards, the fees will be $3 or 18 holes on weekdays and $4 on weekends and holidays. Senior citizens may play on mornings of Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays for $2 and on weekday afternoons for $3. Their fee for weekends and holidays will be $4. A membership initial fee is $100 with a yearly fee of $200. The yearly fee for a dependent of a member is $100. The board approved the appointment of James B. Eby as director of golf course operations and

Reed Seeks Place 3 On School Board

Michael P. Reed, electrical contractor, has announced that he is a candidate for place 3 on the Snyder Independent School District's board of trustees. The school election is set for April 5. Reed, 36, is seeking the post now held by Bill J. Voss, who has announced that he will not seek reelection. Reed filed for a place on the ballot with E.D. Flynn, secretary for the board. Two other places on the school board will be filled in the election this spring. They are Place 4, now held by Jerry Rice, and Place 5, now held by Bill Clayton. Rice has not announced whether he will be a candidate for reelection, but Clayton has announced that he will not run again.

Industrial Development Corporation Approved

Scurry County Commissioners authorized the creation of a non-profit industrial development corporation Monday afternoon. The action had been under consideration for several weeks and it was taken Monday in response to a petition signed by Rex Fields, Ed Thrift and Tommy Davis. The Development Corporation Act of 1979, which was enacted last year by the Texas Legislature, authorizes counties and cities to sponsor such organizations as a tool for promoting industrial development. The corporation will be known as the Scurry County Industrial Development Authority. It will have the authority to issue revenue bonds to enhance industrial development. The corporation will be managed by a board appointed by the commissioners. Fields, Thrift and Davis, the three who signed the petition, were appointed to serve two-year terms on the board, and Roy McQueen and C.A. McCown were appointed to one-year terms. By-laws of the organization set out the procedure for issuing bonds to assist industries. Any such bonds issued will be retired by revenues the corporation receives from the borrowing industries. The county, as sponsor of the corporation, is not liable for payment of the bonds, and no taxes can be levied by the corporation. The industrial development authority legislation, along with the experience of other communities who have set up such organizations were researched extensively by County Attorney George Killam and Bill Warner, Snyder Chamber of Commerce Manager and consultant to the Scurry County Board of Development. In addition, representatives of First South-west Co., a firm that has handled several bond issues for local agencies, were here Monday to answer questions concerning the new industrial development authority. Warner said the legislation which enables local government entities to sponsor such organizations puts Texas in a better position to compete for industry and that communities that take advantage of it will have an important new instrument to help them in luring new industry to their areas. Some 48 states already had similar services available to industry. Applications for issuing revenue bonds under the system require not only local approval, but also must be approved by the Texas Industrial Commission and the Securities and Exchange Commission. Next step in formally setting up the organization will be approval by the Secretary of State. This will be followed by a meeting of the board to elect its officers and to adopt by-laws and local rules and guidelines.

Meany Eulogized Today
WASHINGTON (AP)—George Meany, the gruff voice for American workers, was eulogized today as "one of the most influential public figures in recent American history" at a funeral attended by the powerful in government and labor. President Carter headed the large contingent of officials attending the funeral for the retired AFL-CIO president. Carter, Vice President Walter F. Mondale, the president's Cabinet, members of Congress and several foreign ambassadors were among 1,400 mourners at the Roman Catholic Cathedral of St. Matthew the Apostle for the celebration of a Mass of the Resurrection. The labor leader died Thursday at the age of 85.

Gold Reaches $700 An Ounce
NEW YORK (AP)—Gold touched a record $700 a troy ounce in early trading today on New York's Commodities Exchange before slipping to $683, up $12 from Monday's close. The $700 price was for January futures contracts, calling for delivery of the bullion this month. Earlier in Europe, gold hit a London record of $684 an ounce at the afternoon fixing, up $27 from Monday's closing price. In Zurich, the price at noon slipped to $673.50 from a record $678.50 at mid-morning, but was $19 ahead of Monday's closing price.

How do we differentiate between our friends and foes? Take the oil industry, for example. If you listen to words flowing from Washington, D.C., you likely would get the idea that "big oil" is an ogre just searching out methods of gouging the public. So, we were interested the other day to see the results of a study of the ownership of these big, integrated oil companies. Who runs them, who owns them, and who benefits from their operations? Well, this study of six big ones showed that they are owned by 14 million people. That's right. Fourteen million people own the stock of these companies. The average age of employed persons who own this stock is more than 52 years. Their average household income is less than $20,000 per year. There are 12 million indirect owners. Seven million of these are participants in retirement or annuity plans, which means they depend on the returns from their oil company investments for retirement income. Moreover, some 2.3 million, or nearly half, of the direct owners are retired and their average age is over 70.

This interest in the economic status of oil companies has been sharpened by the so-called "windfall" profits legislation which has been making its way through the legislative halls in Washington. So, it is also interesting to look over some figures compiled by National Supply Co. showing where the income of 45 investor-owned oil companies went in 1977. Of an over-all total of $84.3 billion, 14.2 percent went to employee pay and benefits after taxes; company earnings after dividends and taxes amounted to nine percent; shareholders dividends after taxes totalled 5.4 percent, and taxes, including those paid directly by the companies, the employees, shareholders, and amounts collected from consumers, amounted to 71.6 percent. Thus, when you get around to the matter of taxes, it seems apparent that the lion's share already is going for that purpose without any new legislation. It tends to confirm the observation of the late Walt Kelly's comic strip character, Pogo, who said, "We have met the enemy, and he is us."

20% To Have Microwave By End Of 1980

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer
At least one household in five and possibly one in four will have a microwave oven by the end of 1980, according to industry predictions. And the increased use of microwaves for cooking has led to increased concern about their safety.

The Food and Drug Administration, which has regulated the manufacture of microwave ovens for nine years, says most fears are unfounded. "Ovens that meet the FDA standards and are used according to the manufacturer's instructions, are safe for home use," it says.

The FDA also says there have been no documented cases of radiation injury from microwave ovens. All injuries reported so far are things like burns that could have happened with conventional appliances.

There are several rules to follow to avoid trouble. Among them:

-Check a new oven to make sure there has been no shipping damage.
-Never operate a microwave oven if the door does not close firmly or if it is bent, warped or otherwise damaged.
-Never insert objects through the door grill or around the seal.

-Do not turn the oven on when it is empty.
-Clean the oven cavity, the door and the seals frequently with water and a mild detergent. Do not use scouring pads or other abrasives.

-Check door seals periodically. Have them replaced by a qualified serviceman if they have deteriorated.

If you think your oven might be leaking, contact the manufacturer, a microwave service organization, your state health department or the FDA. Do not rely on do-it-yourself testing devices. The FDA says they are generally inaccurate and misleading.

An FDA leaflet, "microwave Oven Radiation," is available free from Dept. 558G, the Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colo., 81009. It explains that microwaves are a form of electromagnetic radiation - waves of electrical and magnetic energy moving together through space. They are produced in the oven by an electron tube. Inside the oven, the microwaves - which are reflected by metal - bounce back and forth until they are absorbed by food. They cause the water molecules in food to vibrate. The vibrations produce heat. The heat cooks the food.

Microwave ovens can be more energy efficient than conventional appliances because foods cook faster and because the energy heats only the food - not the entire compartment.

Microwave ovens made since October 1971 are covered by the FDA's radiation safety standard limiting the amount of microwaves that can leak from the oven throughout its lifetime. The standard also requires all ovens to be equipped with two interlock systems to stop the production of microwaves the minute the latch is released or the door is opened.

There used to be concern that microwave ovens could interfere with the operation of certain cardiac pacemakers. Electric shavers, auto ignition systems and other products also were suspected. The FDA says the problem has been largely resolved by a change in pacemaker design so they are shielded against electrical interference. It is a good idea, however, for people with pacemakers to consult their doctors before using a microwave oven.

Musical Talents Studied

Musical Coterie met Jan. 10 at 8 p.m. at the Martha Ann Women's Club. Mrs. Virgil Mott introduced the first part of the program, piano duets by Coterie members. Those participating were Jane Womack and Barbara Mott, Sue Sewell and Judy Neill, Donna Plumlee and Janet Brown, Janelle Hammack and Monette O'Day, Paula Howard and Betty Watts, and Barbara Perkins and Lynn Bethel.

The second part of the program, "Women in Music," was presented by Dorothy Kayser. Biographical sketches of little-known but highly talented composers, editors and performers were given and club members were encouraged to learn more from sources available at the county library. Musical Coterie is a member of the National Federated Music Clubs.

"Soap Bubbles" Painting Ov View

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Soap Bubbles," a composition by French 18th-century genre and still-life painter Jean Simeon Chardin, has been acquired for the Los Angeles County Museum of Art by the Ahmanson Foundation.

"Soap Bubbles" was painted in the late 1730s. Director Emeritus Kenneth Donahue says, "This painting of a young man blowing a soap bubble rendered with an extraordinary intensity and simplicity enriches the scope of the museum's French collection by providing a counterpoint to the sumptuous decorations and playful pastoral scenes by Fragonard and Boucher."

Support Beferendum

Tejas CowBelles met at a restaurant in Snyder Jan. 9. Their husbands and children were guests for the evening meal and a film "Cattleman and Cow-Boys."

Plans were made to work with the county chairman on the Beferendum in Howard, Scurry, Mitchell and Borden Counties. The Beferendum is an industry-wide effort to establish a program of beef research, consumer information, promotion and foreign market development. This can be done if a majority of cattlemen vote in a referendum to implement the Beef Research and Information Act, which is legislation enabling the cattle industry to establish, finance and operate a coordinated self-help program. CowBelles have been asked to work with the men in an effort to promote this referendum, said a spokesman for the club.

Tejas CowBelles will make a quilt block to be used in a "State Historical Brand" quilt. This quilt will be sold at the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Convention in San Antonio in March. Texas CowBelles will hold a convention there at the same time. The money raised will be used in the scholarship fund. CowBelles give $500 scholarship to two college students each year, who are majoring in Foods and Nutrition or Agriculture Communications.

The 1980 Texas Beef Cook-off will be April 17. Entry blanks will be available soon for the cook-off from any CowBelle member. They encourage local people to enter. Anyone over 18 who is not a CowBelle or a professional cook is eligible to enter. The five finalist will have travel expenses paid to Amarillo for the cook-off. The winner of the Texas Beef Cook-off will go to the National Beef Cook-off in Scottsdale, Ariz., in September.

Tejas CowBelles will meet in Big Spring Feb. 12 at Furr's Cafeteria, 10 a.m. CowBelles welcome ladies who are interested in promoting or protecting the cattle industry.

Labels on most common pharmaceuticals, both those sold over the counter and by prescription, will begin displaying expiration dates, reports a family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Love's Unflawed By Birth Defect

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: This letter has taken me 2 1/2 years to write. It is in response to someone who asked you if she should acknowledge the birth of a friend's baby who had been diagnosed as having Down's Syndrome. (Mongolism.) Thank you, Abby, for saying, "Yes, the mother of such a child needs all the support and cheering up she can get."

I read that column the day I came home from the hospital with little Jimmy, my newborn Down's Syndrome baby. But there is so much more that most people need to know, and as one who has had that experience, may I say it:

Please keep in mind that what happened to Jimmy was tragic, but the child himself is not a tragedy, and neither is his birth. He is as much a loving member of our family as our other children, so do send a card, a note, or a little gift to acknowledge his birth.

Here are a few suggestions that will help you feel more comfortable when talking to new parents of a Down's baby: Please don't ask if "insanity" runs in the family. Down's Syndrome is a chromosomal defect, and is rarely hereditary. Furthermore, a Down's child is retarded, which is vastly different from insane.

Don't hesitate to ask how he is getting along. Some people avoid mentioning the child (as though he had died) because they think the situation is too horrible to even discuss.

When the child seems to be progressing, please don't say he seems "normal" and maybe won't be retarded after all. New parents need to face up to the facts regarding their special child before they themselves can accept him as he is. By denying his limitations, you encourage false hopes, and convey the message that you don't really accept or love him.

About a third of all Down's children are born with heart defects. Our Jimmy required open-heart surgery. He survived the operation and is much improved. We thank God for that, so please don't say it might have been a "blessing" had he died. And don't express surprise that they "would bother" to operate on such a child.

Please believe the parents when they say that their special child is a very worthwhile little person, and they are actually glad to have him. While Down's Syndrome is nothing to wish for, it can be accepted, and is not nearly as catastrophic as it seems the first few weeks.

In the beginning, the parents need to talk about their feelings. Don't argue. Listen. Let them weep, and weep with them. And when they can finally smile about their baby, you smile, too.

Don't refer to the child as "that poor little thing." It hurts me to see people look upon my child with pity, and know that they wish he had never been born. He's not repulsive in the least, and I can honestly say that much good has already come from our little treasure. Our other children (the eldest is 9) have learned understanding and compassion because of their little brother. We told them the truth immediately, and they have loved him from the day they first saw him.

I cannot imagine life without Jimmy. He is the sunshine of our lives.

2 Tornadoes Hit California

By The Associated Press
Violent thunderstorms, flashflood warnings and at least two rare tornadoes hit northern California late Monday, just as the Northwest region was catching its breath after torrential weekend rains.

A tornado cut a path through the farming community of Turlock about 100 miles east of San Francisco. No serious injuries were reported but the twister caused extensive damage to buildings, cars and the town's sewage facility. Another tornado landed in Woodland, uprooting trees but causing no injuries.

Swollen rivers continue to run high, but the Russian River, which rose four feet above flood stage to 36 feet Monday morning, was at 33 feet by evening.

The Sacramento and Feather rivers were still at high stages, but were expected to drop today. A state of local emergency was declared in Marysville, where 200 persons were evacuated from mobile home parks in the Feather River flood plain. In Paradise, searchers from the Butte County Sheriff's Office failed again to find an 8-year-old girl who was in a pickup truck which was swept away by a branch of the Feather River late Friday.

A malfunctioning drain valve sent Sacramento River water cascading up to 10 feet deep onto Interstate 5 in downtown Sacramento, closing the freeway for at least two days.

In the Tahoe Basin, ski resorts hoped to open today as snow returned following unseasonable rains which washed away about two feet of snow and caused avalanches at higher levels over the weekend.

Mudslides and high water closed some roads in California and Oregon, but for the first time in nearly a week, all major Oregon highways were open. No major flood problems were reported there.

A heavy snow warning was posted today for the mountains of Colorado and Wyoming, and tra-

Says Psychologist...

Pills Can Worsen Sleeping Problems

By ROBERT LOCKE
AP Science Writer
SAN ANTONIO (AP)—About one out of four Americans complain of sleeping problems, and the most common treatment—sleeping pills—often make the problems even worse, contends a psychologist.

"The problem is that most patients who complain about insomnia automatically get sleeping pills," said William C. Orr, director of the Sleep Disorders Clinic at Presbyterian Hospital in Oklahoma City. "There is no question it's a problem." Orr told the American Medical Association's winter scientific meeting Monday that some patients certainly should be given sleeping pills, "but there are other situations where it is absolutely and completely inappropriate."

Doctors, Orr said in a subsequent interview, "are simply not as aware as they should be that there are alternative approaches to the treatment of sleep disorders."

Says Pharmacologist...

Elvis' Doctor Over Prescribed

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The amounts of drugs prescribed by Dr. George Nichopoulos for Elvis Presley and 15 other patients were enough to cause drug dependency, a pharmacologist has testified.

Dr. Raymond Harbison, testifying Monday in the first day of a state malpractice hearing for Nichopoulos, said combinations of some of the drugs could cause internal injuries or even death.

Nichopoulos, 52, is facing charges that he indiscriminately prescribed nearly 12,000 painkillers, amphetamines, barbiturates and sedatives to Presley and other patients over three years. The drugs allegedly included Quaalude, Valium, Dexedrine and Dilaudid.

The state Board of Medical Examiners hearing was unexpectedly adjourned Monday afternoon following Harbison's testimony when a defense attorney objected to an attempt to call Nichopoulos as a prosecution witness.

Attorney John C. Thomason said he heeded time to seek a ruling on the issue from a Chancery Court judge. The hearing was scheduled to resume today.

"Dr. Nichopoulos will take the stand but we don't feel he ought to be compelled to testify for the prosecution," Thomason said. "We have spent a great deal of time on his defense and he would be effectively deprived of that defense if he were called out of turn."

Harbison, a Vanderbilt University pharmacologist, said the drugs Nichopoulos prescribed for the 16 patients were "highly addictive" and could cause withdrawal symptoms when a patient quit taking them.

On cross-examination, Harbison said he knew nothing of the involved patients' physical needs and acknowledged that the patients' records did not show evidence of dosage escalation that would be expected in the case of addicted persons.

Ten current and former patients of Nichopoulos also testified, each practicing the physician's medical care.

He said sleep clinics such as his have been very successful by simply changing their patients' sleeping habits.

The first rule, Orr said, is not to go to sleep until you're sleepy.

A surprising number of people go to bed at some specific bed time, and call it insomnia. If they retire an hour or so later, however, they're almost instantly asleep, he said. Their insomnia is gone.

If you don't fall asleep within 15 or 20 minutes, Orr said, "you should get out of bed, go to another room and read, watch TV or mop the floor; or something, until you're sleepy again."

He said insomniacs should never take naps during the day, and they should always get up at the same time every morning. Too often, he said, people sleep late after a restless night, then are wide awake when they go to bed the following evening.

Once the normal rhythm is broken, he said, "you can get yourself into a vicious circle."

Orr said much the same advice applies to those who occasionally toss and turn, unable to sleep because of temporary stresses and pressures.

He said another major problem with sleeping pills is that they mask symptoms of serious physical or psychological illnesses that can produce the sleeping problems.

Among them are "restless legs syndrome," in which muscles in the legs or arms twitch repeatedly through the night, and "sleep onset apnea," a dangerous disorder in which a person stops breathing when he falls asleep.

Since it's almost impossible to diagnose sleeping maladies when the patient is awake, Orr said, sleep laboratories monitor their patients through the night.

"We're trying to get physicians to approach the problem of insomnia and hyperinsomnia (constant daytime drowsiness) in the same way they approach a patient with chest pains.

"These are legitimate medical complaints and may have extremely serious consequences."

Orr also noted that a "substantial portion" of perhaps 50 million Americans complaining of insomnia actually sleep quite well.

Unlike other patients, whose sleeplessness can ruin their social and work lives, these pseudo-insomniacs "talk of a vague feeling that something isn't right, and they're not getting enough sleep."

Much of the problem, he said, stems from the eight-hour myth.

"Everyone certainly doesn't need eight hours of sleep. The individual requirements are tremendously variable. Some people get along very well with five or six hours, and others need seven to eight, but I doubt very many people need more than eight hours."

Relief of headache pain

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I hope you can help me: I'm 53 years of age and get a lot of headaches—I take Excedrin and it does help somewhat. However, I'm hesitant about taking the pills because of the acetaminophen which it contains.

Some time ago I read a newspaper article about the dangers of pills containing acetaminophen. Would you please enlighten me on the use of taking Excedrin?

DEAR READER—Excedrin contains aspirin, salicylamide and acetaminophen. Actually, each Excedrin contains only about 97 milligrams of acetaminophen. You need to take three to six times that much for it to have any appreciable effect. It follows that the main and most important ingredient in Excedrin is aspirin as far as relieving headaches or mild pains is concerned.

Unless you happen to have some unusual reaction or are on some other medication, the amount of acetaminophen in an Excedrin tablet is so small that it would not be possible for it to cause you any trouble. People do have toxic effects from acetaminophen but that's in very large doses taken over a period of time.

However, if you're worried about acetaminophen in the Excedrin, you might just take aspirin, and if you want to get a little additional help, you might drink a cup of coffee at the same time. The standard Excedrin tablet also contains about 65 milligrams of caffeine.

If you read my column regularly, you know that I'm not a big fan of coffee or caffeine. However, it is a drug and as such has medicinal purposes for some occasions. In some instances it does help to relieve headaches if it is taken at the onset of the headache in some people. If headaches are associated with anxiety and tension, however, drinking too much coffee may result in too much caffeine stimulation, which can make the situation worse.

There are a wide variety of medicines that you can use for relief of pain or mild headaches. Many of these depend principally upon aspirin for their effect. Therefore, I'm sending you The Health Letter number 8-8, Aspirin and Related Medicines. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

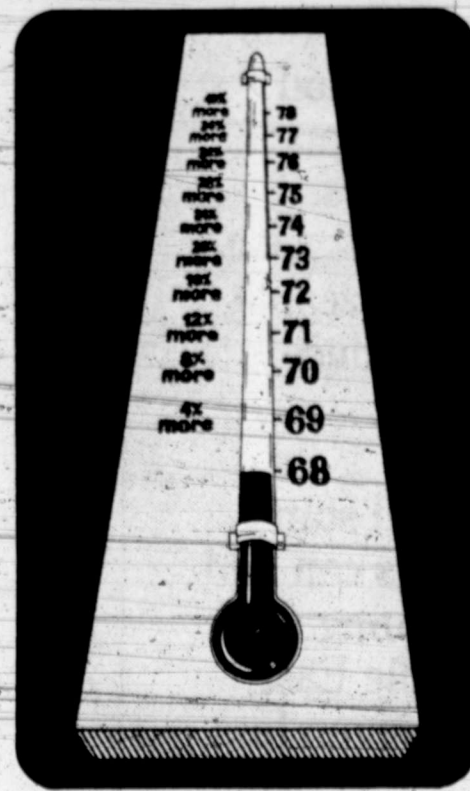

This issue will tell you what the effects of these medicines are, such as acetaminophen that you asked about. There's a table that will give you the contents of many of the common pain relieving medications that you can buy without a prescription.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Would you please mention the hazards of smoking cigarettes for all people with digestive problems. I used to be in agony with cramps and all the other symptoms. An upper and lower X-ray of my digestive system proved nothing was wrong but something was. My trouble disappeared shortly after I smoked my last cigarette.

DEAR READER—You're only one of thousands who've had such an experience. Many people with burning pain in the pit of the stomach, cramps of the stomach and intestinal area are surprised to find that their symptoms are greatly decreased or even disappear when they change some of their bad habits. This applies to cigarette smoking and drinking coffee, tea, colas and even hot chocolate.

Try lowering the temperature in your home to 68° this winter. You'll save on your heating bill.

A setting of 68° during the winter is the one Texas Electric recommends for both comfort and energy efficiency.

For each degree above 68° the energy used for heating your house is increased by approximately 4% per degree.

As shown by the chart the difference between the recommended thermostat setting and 74° is 24%. At 78° the increase in energy usage is 40% or more.

Clearly, the lower you set your thermostat the lower your heating bill is going to be. And after last winter's snow and ice, we think a lot of people are going to be trying their best to use less energy.

Remember to change the filter in your heating system regularly, too. A dirty filter causes your heating system to work longer and that costs you more. Check the filter at least once each month.

All forms of energy are costing more these days. If you're serious about saving energy and money, call us to find out about our Operation Tighten-Up program. We'll show you practical ways to save on your heating bills.

Chevron energy report:

CONSERVATION UP — OIL CONSUMPTION DOWN.

U.S. using half million barrels less per day than in 1978.

The average driver used 7% less gasoline in 1979 compared to the year before. In total, the savings are equivalent to the gasoline used by Alaska, Arizona, Hawaii, Nevada, Oregon and Washington in an entire year.

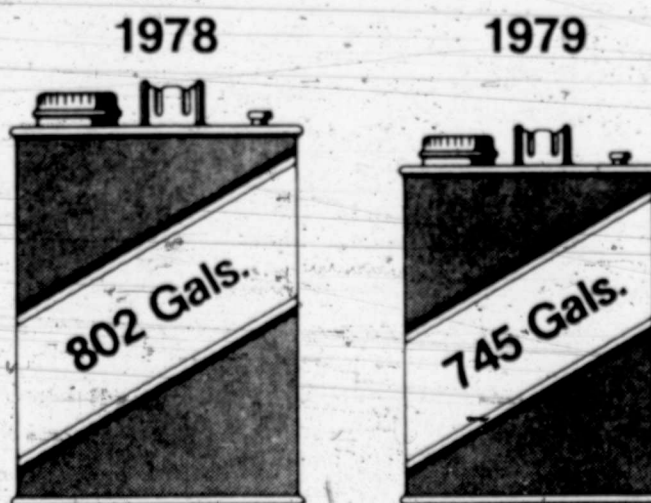

Also, U.S. consumption of all energy, including electricity and natural gas, is growing at a much slower rate than in past years.

The energy saved is sizeable, and has helped America reduce its oil imports.

We've all made a good start, but greater energy savings can and must be achieved. Continuing uncertainties in the Middle East make foreign oil supplies even less reliable, so it's critical that we each do even more to conserve. Little by little, it will help a lot.

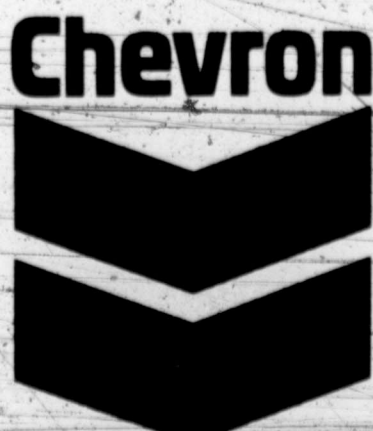

Thank you for listening.

Average Driver Using 7% Less Gasoline

Average amount of gasoline consumed per licensed driver.

Increased use of public transportation and car pools, shorter trips, more fuel efficient cars, and drivers going easier on the gas pedal have all helped to cut gasoline consumption.

Kennedy's Story In Doubt Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—A crucial element in Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's oft-repeated account of the incident at Chappaquiddick has been thrown into doubt, the Washington Star reports.

In today's editions, the newspaper outlined what it called new information concerning tides, currents and topography at the time of the July 1969 car accident in which Mary Jo Kopechne drowned.

The Star contended that tidal tables, on which Kennedy's story and subsequent investigations were based, were written by the National Oceanic Survey from topographical data gathered in 1964.

The Star said that the topography had changed and the tables were no longer valid when the accident occurred.

On Monday, Kennedy's presidential campaign manager and brother-in-law, Stephen Smith, held a news conference to rebut both the Star's then-unpublished article to be published in the February edition of Reader's Digest magazine.

Kennedy has said that during his swim across a channel between Chappaquiddick and Edgartown on Martha's Vineyard, Mass., after the accident, and during subsequent rescue attempts, he feared being swept out to sea.

The Star reported that the tide at the time of the accident actually would have carried Kennedy inland. The changes in area topography had resulted in a reversal of the tides, it said.

At the Monday news conference, Smith presented admiralty lawyer Timothy R. McHugh, who said the topographical change cited by the Star actually did not affect the channel current until November 1969.

The Reader's Digest article challenged Kennedy's contention that he was driving at about 20 miles per hour when his car plunged off the bridge. The magazine contends the automobile actually was traveling at about 34 mph.

Smith denied that contention.

The magazine also contracted for a study that indicates the channel current would have carried Kennedy inland, rather than out to the open sea. However, the Reader's Digest said the conditions when its study was conducted in the summer of 1978 were not necessarily those that existed at the time of the 1969 accident.

Coffee Prices Drop 2nd Time

By The Associated Press
Wholesale coffee prices have dropped for the second time since last fall as the price of unroasted beans purchased by processors continues to decline.

Ten cents-a-pound wholesale reductions in ground coffee prices were announced by General Foods Corp., maker of the top-selling Maxwell House, Procter & Gamble Co., which makes No. 2-ranked Folger's, and Hills Brothers, whose brand is the No. 3-ranked seller.

The reductions bring the wholesale price of the three popular brands to $3.18 a pound, while General Foods' premium Yuban brand was reduced by a dime to $3.27.

General Foods, the nation's largest coffee roaster, said Monday it reduced prices Jan. 10 without announcement, while Procter & Gamble said its reduction took effect a day later and Hills Brothers cut its price Monday.

Tech Batters Dusters

By The SDN Sports Staff

LUBBOCK - If you're trucking past Western Texas College in Snyder today, just ignore all the screaming, yelling and thud-thud-thudding you hear. Nobody's being murdered.

Not that Coach Joe Cushing won't be working his Dusters to near-death after last night's 77-54 loss to Texas Tech University. You see, he's not too happy with that.

"There was no excuse for the way we played," said Cushing this morning. We stunk up the gym. They (Texas Tech) got their revenge all right."

Western Texas College, ranked No. 13 in the last NJCAA poll, had defeated Tech 74-68 earlier in the season. But this was a whole different ballgame.

The Dusters, who must get ready for a conference tilt with tough Amarillo College on Thursday, shot 37 percent from the floor, hitting 19 of only 51 attempts. The Red Raiders put the ball up 84 times - a significant difference - and basketed 37 of them (45 percent).

"We had 30 turnovers, almost all on bad passes and travel violations. We weren't mentally prepared at all," Cushing added. "They had good, balanced scoring, with four girls in double figures. We only had one girl that really played ball for us last night and that was Joyce (Plagens). It was terrible. It was humiliating."

Pam Stone and Vickie Lee shoved in 16 and 15 points for the Raiders while Lynn Webb and Rose Penkunis added 14 and 12.

For WTC, Plagens scored 16 and Katie Fisher added 10, while Liz Hooper had 8. Two of WTC's leading scorers, Shari Teal and Linda Holubec, managed only 10 points between them.

"And we're not getting any help from the bench," mused the Coach. "I'm very disappointed in that. I thought we'd be much stronger there, but it looks like I was wrong. The girls are capable of coming in and helping us, but they're just not doing it."

The Coach admitted his team was probably tired from a three-day tournament and was also looking ahead to Thursday's game with Amarillo. But added, "That's no excuse. We didn't even execute (against Tech). We didn't do anything."

Amarillo poses a different problem. The Lady Badgers defeated WTC 78-73 in tournament play last weekend (non-conference).

"We're going to have to play the best we've ever played to beat Amarillo," Cushing stressed. "If we play like we did last night, we're going to get blown off the floor again."

But in a lighter moment, the coach added, "We were scared of them in College Station (site of the tournament). We realize that we can play with them now, so I expect us to play a lot better game than we did in the tournament."

More on the Amarillo-WTC encounter later. In the meantime, ignore the yelling coming from the WTC Gym. Dusters, this doesn't apply to you!

Johnson Heads All Star Team

NEW YORK (AP) - Earvin "Magic" Johnson of the Los Angeles Lakers has become the first rookie since 1969 to be voted a starter in the National Basketball All-Star Game. Johnson was named on 185,754 ballots cast by fans at NBA games around the country to win a starting berth at guard for the Western Conference team, which will meet the West squad Sunday, Feb. 3 at Capital Centre in Landover, Md.

His Lakers teammate, center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, with 201,621 votes, drew the most backing for the Western Conference

DePaul Finds No. 1 Spot

NEW YORK (AP) - DePaul replaced Duke as the top team in The Associated Press college basketball poll, ending 37 years of waiting by Coach Ray Meyer for a No. 1 ranking.

The Blue Demons, 12-0 and ranked second last week, received 51 of 60 first place votes and 1,189 of a possible 1,200 points in the nationwide balloting of sports writers and broadcasters.

And just as Meyer's wait ended, so too did UCLA's stay in the Top 20. For the first time in perhaps as long as 14 years, the Bruins were not ranked.

The Associated Press retains a record on only the final poll of each season, and a check showed that the last time UCLA did not appear in the final poll was the spring of 1966.

Duke, which held the No. 1 spot the past four weeks, slipped to No. 5 behind Ohio State, Syracuse and Oregon State. The Blue Devils, received 846 points following losses to Clemson and North Carolina.

team. Other starters on the West are forwards Marques Johnson of the Milwaukee Bucks and Adrian Dantley of the Utah Jazz; and guard Lloyd Free of San Diego.

The overall leader in votes for the second year in a row was San Antonio Spurs guard George Gervin, who was named on 286,463 ballots for the Eastern Conference team.

The other East starters are guard Eddie Johnson of the Atlanta Hawks, center Moses Malone of the Houston Rockets, and forwards Julius Erving of the Philadelphia 76ers and John Drew of Atlanta.

Six players will be added to each team through recommendation of the coaches in each conference.

IOC Says Move Is Not Feasible

By The Associated Press
As U.S. Deputy Secretary of State Warren Christopher prepared for a meeting today with the NATO Council in Brussels, the envoy said it would be "highly preferable to hold the Summer Olympic Games some place other than Moscow."

But the head of the International Olympic Committee says steadfastly it would be "physically impossible" to hold them anywhere else. And that statement by Lord Killanin, president of the IOC, was supported Monday by Munich and Montreal - the two previous Summer Olympic hosts named by many as alternative sites for the 1980 Games.

A spokesman for Munich's city government, Gunther Wolfbauer,

Rams, Press Not Getting On Well

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The Los Angeles Rams, "strangers" in a strange land, begin in earnest today what would at first glance seem to be a monumental task - to prevent the Pittsburgh Steelers from winning a fourth Super Bowl.

Many visitors to this sunny clime of cults, gurus and uninhibited dress, it is indeed a strange land, this megapolis called Los Angeles and the Rams feel like strangers.

The National Football League's 1979 season was the Rams' last in Los Angeles's Memorial Coliseum. In 1980 they'll call Anaheim Stadium, about 35 miles southeast, their home.

They were booed loud and often by their disgruntled fans who, having suffered through countless seasons which ended one or two games short of a Super Bowl berth, saw their heroes as deserters. And 1979 was hardly an overwhelming season for Los Angeles. The Rams staggered to a 9-7 record and the National Conference's West championship before finally reaching the pinnacle with playoff victories over Dallas and Tampa Bay.

Yet the Rams are outsiders - in more than one way. They will be wearing their road uniforms next Sunday in the Rose Bowl in nearby Pasadena, the setting for the Super Bowl.

Because this is the American Conference's year to play the role of host team. And, like pioneers circling the wagons to fend off attackers, the Rams are drawing closer together to ward off what they perceive to be unwarranted assaults by sports writers, including some from the Los Angeles area.

"I thought we'd get more respect after those games against the Cowboys and Buccaneers but we haven't," said Doug France, an offensive tackle. "They act like we're not supposed to be in the Super Bowl. And some of the local writers - just a couple - who were against us have jumped back on the boat."

Dissatisfaction has been expressed by Coach Ray Malavasi as well. "I'd call it inaccurate journalism," he said of some of the stories about his Rams. "They (the writers) don't know what's going on. We both have good teams and winning records and deserve to be here."

France said the mood has been such that a few of the Rams have even thought of boycotting the hundreds of sports writers massing here to cover this annual spectacle. It is highly unlikely, though, that any boycott will occur. The NFL simply won't permit it. "It is the Rams' responsibility to cooperate with the news media and if they don't, we will see that they do," Don Weiss, the NFL's executive director (Commissioner Pete Rozelle's right-hand man) said when the boycott rumble first surfaced.

Despite a loss of 140 yards net on the ground, quarterback Marc Wilson of Brigham Young was the NCAA total offense leader in 1979 with 3,580 yards.

BROWNFIELD - Brownfield's girls begin District 3-3A play here tonight at 7:30 against Snyder.

Snyder, which opened loop competition by defeating Lamesa last Friday, is 12-6 on the season.

A junior varsity game will open the double-header at 6.

In other 3-3A action, Sweetwater, 1-0, will be at Lamesa, while San Angelo Lake View, 0-1, is idle.

Sweetwater, 16-3 on the season, defeated conference favorite Lake View 55-53 in overtime Friday. The loss knocked the Maidens to 14-5 on the year.

Stadler Wins Hope; Newcomers Deliver

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) - The 1980 PGA Tour opened just as the decade of the '70s ended with the new guys winning.

A record-tying total of 12 men scored their first victories in 1979, and Craig Stadler made it 13 in a 12-month period Monday with his 2-shot triumph in the rain-delayed Bob Hope Desert Classic.

"I'm glad it's finally here," Stadler said after a 5-under-par 67 in the final round had nailed it down. "It's got to be easier from here on."

While his may have been just another face in the growing list of first time winners, it was a different face. The chunky guy is believed to be the first man to win a Tour title while wearing a full beard, this one a bushy red affair that makes him look something like a short Merlin Olsen.

There was nothing defensive about his play, however.

"It was just one of those days when everything fell into place," he said. "Everything went right, perfect. Every time I got in trouble, I made a good recovery shot."

"I think I only missed two fairways, and I made birdie on both those holes."

That was on the front-nine par-5's at La Quinta Country Club, No. 5 and 6. That pair of 4's put him 3 under par for the day and he wasn't out of a share of the lead the rest of the way. Some critical putting kept him on top. He holed three times from the 18-20 foot range and used only 27 strokes on the greens.

"I made the puts when I had to," said Stadler, 26, who joined the pro tour four years ago with some gaudy credentials that included the national amateur championship.

Lloyd Planning Her Retirement

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) - Chris Evert Lloyd - saying the drive that took her to the top in tennis probably has burned out - has revealed plans to retire from competition after five more tournaments.

"I'm not enjoying playing tennis anymore - that's the problem," she declared. "There's a good chance I'm burned out."

Although I'm only 25, I've been at it for eight years."

The Fort Lauderdale Sun-Sentinel said in a copyright story today that Lloyd will forego competition to travel with her husband. Lloyd said in a statement issued Monday she plans a "long indefinite rest" after playing in Championship tournaments in Chicago, Seattle, Detroit, Houston and Boston.

"I will fulfill that obligation, but if I had my choice right now, I wouldn't play anymore," Lloyd said.

She said she didn't like the word retire, but couldn't think of a better word for what she expects to do.

"I've been disenchanted for the last year and a half," she said in a telephone interview from Cincinnati.

Lloyd said she didn't decide to quit because of Sunday's loss to Tracy Austin, her third in as many weeks to the teenage sensation who mirrors the playing style Lloyd herself used to rise to the top as a teen-ager.

"I've lost before," she explained. "I've never enjoyed losing, but now I don't enjoy winning, either. I just don't have the same love for the game that I once did."

Are you worried about the high cost of heating?
The Kero-Sun Radiant 10 operates on clean burning, safe kerosene. Amazingly efficient, the Radiant 10 burns over 30 hours on less than 2 gallons of fuel, producing a remarkable 9,400 BTU-hr. (heating as much as 3,000 cu. ft.) This premium per hour heating method brings welcome relief from today's cost of heating 1/3 to 1/2 cost of equivalent electric heat. So stop shivering, start shopping for a Kero-Sun Radiant 10 heater.

Adult Classes To Resume

Adult Education classes resume Thursday night at Western Texas College. Adults who have not completed high school may enroll in the classes without cost and study for GED tests or personal improvement. Classes meet from 7-9 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays in the Learning Resources Center at WTC. Afternoon classes are also planned again at the education center of Our Lady of Guadalupe at 13th and Avenue M. Students interested in these classes are asked to attend the Thursday night meeting to enroll so it can be determined how many persons expect to be in the afternoon sessions. Additional information about Adult Education may be obtained by calling Gerald Coffran at WTC, 573-8511, extension 249.

Active Rig Count Rises

Drilling activity increased significantly last week in Permian Basin oil fields, according to Reed Rock Bit Company's weekly survey. The count showed 315 rigs running, compared to 307 the week before and 262 a year ago. Lea County, N.M., led the Basin with 38 active rigs. Pecos County was the West Texas leader with 21. Scurry County had five rigs running last week, compared to seven the week before. Figures for other area counties, with last week and the week before, in order: Borden 4 and 4; Dawson 7 and 6; Garza 5 and 5; Howard 8 and 9; Kent 1 and 1; Mitchell 5 and 3; Nolan 0 and 1.

Chamber Board Meets Tonight

Snyder Chamber of Commerce directors are scheduled to get reports on several activities at their meeting tonight. The meeting is set for 7 p.m. in the chamber conference room. Bill Warner, chamber manager, will report on the county industrial corporation, which was approved Monday by the commissioners court.

Charges Pending Against Four

Charges are still pending in a possible burglary worked yesterday by Sgt. Jerry Parker and Greg Patterson of the city police department. One juvenile and three adults were taken into custody, reports show, when they were found in a vacant house Monday afternoon owned by Mrs. R.W. Webb. The incident occurred about 2:20 p.m. at 2901 Ave. M.

Suspect Faces Felony Charge

A felony charge alleging possession of a controlled substance has been filed against Greg Lowell Allen, 111 Scurry. The charge alleges Allen had in his possession a quantity of fenethylline. He was arrested Dec. 16 by officers of the city police department. He has been released from custody after posting bond.

Burglary Case Under Probe

Deputy sheriffs are investigating a break-in at the airport office. Taken, they reported, was about $17,000. The burglary is believed to have occurred Sunday night.

OCAW Strike Bugged Down In Court, Says Boss Of Labor Union

HOUSTON (AP)—The district director for striking oil refinery workers says company officials are spending more time in court than at bargaining tables.

Trucker Hero Shocked By Reaction Of Public

DALLAS (AP)—When Dick Cockrell saved a woman from three attackers in a roadside park last week, he never figured anyone else would even hear about it. He certainly didn't expect thank-you notes, phone calls, money and propositions to come flooding in from across the country. "I was just going to let it slide," the hulking 32-year-old said of the incident. But Marine Sgt. J.C. Allen wasn't. He said he wanted people to know how Cockrell saved his wife and two small daughters from three attackers in an East Texas roadside park last week.

College Board

Over the past two decades, Soviet leaders have used almost the same words to condemn the United States. But those occasionally harsh words were little more than ripples in the overall calming of U.S.-Soviet relations during the years that saw the Cold War give way to "peaceful coexistence" and then to detente. In 1961, then-Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev accused the United States of backing an invasion of Cuba by Cuban exiles and vowed to give Fidel Castro's new government "all necessary assistance." Commenting on the Bay of Pigs invasion, Khrushchev said the Soviets were "sincerely interested in a relaxation of international tensions, but if others aggravate it, we shall reply in full measure."

Firemen Called

A grass fire approximately eight miles north of Snyder on the Clairemont Highway was doused Monday afternoon by city firefighters. The fire was reported at 4:30 p.m.

day Construction Co., agreed to terms for Smith's order after an Arco refinery Monday incident that injured one man. Lawyers for the Texaco refinery at Port Arthur were said to be seeking a similar court order in Beaumont. "It seems that practically all of the oil companies are spending all of their time in court action and discussing how much more price increases they are going to announce to the public and when," McClain said.

Chamber Board Meets Tonight

Snyder Chamber of Commerce directors are scheduled to get reports on several activities at their meeting tonight. The meeting is set for 7 p.m. in the chamber conference room. Bill Warner, chamber manager, will report on the county industrial corporation, which was approved Monday by the commissioners court.

Burglary Case Under Probe

Deputy sheriffs are investigating a break-in at the airport office. Taken, they reported, was about $17,000. The burglary is believed to have occurred Sunday night.

"If they would spend that much time at the bargaining table, we could settle this dispute." Smith's order prohibits cussing, threats, harassment and property damage. The order stipulates the union had not admitted any of the allegations made against the strikers. Arco and Munday alleged abusive, obscene and slanderous language and physical force and violence. Crown Central alleged rock throwing and the scattering of roofing tacks on parking lots.

Obituaries

Dillaha Rites Graveside rites will be conducted at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Oaklawn Cemetery in Little Rock, Ark., for Carl A. Dillaha Sr., 80, who died Monday. He was the father of Dr. Carl A. Dillaha Jr. of Snyder. Other survivors are a daughter, Dr. Janis Young of Boston, four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Flowers Say What Words Can't...

Hinshaw's Can Get You Through Valentine's Day In Flying Color

Valentine's Day comes but once a year—it's your big chance to let that "Special" someone know how you feel.

Hinshaw's House of Flowers and Greenhouse has a variety of ideas on how to get the message across.

If candy is the way you want to express yourself—Hinshaw's has a big selection of Russell Stover Gift Boxes. Several different sizes are available—small heart shaped boxes—perfect for a son, daughter or a favorite niece or nephew. Also giant decorated heart shaped boxes if you want to "really" make a "big" impression.

Flowers always seem to say what we cannot find the words for. They are an all-time favorite for Valentine's Day—whether fresh cut or in a pot plant, azaleas and tulips rank as two favorites to send on this occasion.

For the selection of flowers you want—be sure and place your order early.

Whatever your choice—fresh flowers—pot plants or candy—remember those special people in your life with a gift from Hinshaw's House of Flowers and Greenhouse.

You'll find Hinshaw's active in all phases of the flower business, including funerals, weddings, hospitals, conventions and banquets.

Hinshaw's also carries an amazing selection of gifts,

VALENTINE'S DAY—From Russell Stover Candies to fresh-cut flowers, Hinshaw's House of Flowers can help you express yourself this Valentine's Day. Let JoBeth Stephens, Cathy Thompson or Brent Hinshaw make that day a special one. (SDN Staff Photo)

stuffed animals, hangers, candles, dried flower arrangements, elephant fahs, baskets, and decorator items.

Hinshaw's is without a doubt the most complete florist you'll find and employees Teresa Hand, designer, Linda Scoggin, bookkeeper, Kathy Thompson, greenhouse keeper, and JoBeth Stephens, DE student trainee, as well as co-managers Brent Hinshaw and Tommy Johnson, and owner Jimmy Durante in

SERIOUS CONDITION

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Comedian Jimmy Durante is reported semi-conscious and in serious condition by officials of St. John's Hospital where he is being treated for pneumonia.

A hospital spokeswoman, Marsha Bolyanatz, said late Monday that the 86-year-old comic's vital signs showed slight deterioration Monday.

Earlier the spokeswoman confirmed that Durante, who had been reported in fair condition, had worsened since the weekend.

ers Hershel and Pat Hinshaw make it so.

Visit Hinshaw's House of Flowers and Greenhouse at 2804 College Ave. or call them at 573-8561 today and let them do their best to make this Valentine's Day a memorable occasion for you and your loved ones.
