Karmal May Be Ousted

By The Associated Press

The Soviet Union is said to be considering replacing Babrak Karmal as president of Afghanistan. Karmal got the post Dec. 27 in a Soviet-backed coup.

"Rumors continue to circulate in Kabul that the current president will be replaced soon," U.S. State Department spokesman Hodding Carter said Friday.

"A number of additional Soviet civil advisers have recently arrived in Afghanistan."

A second official in Washington, who asked not to be identified, said the Soviets have doubts about Karmal's competency. "The rumors are circulating throughout Kabul and we think there may be something to them," he said without elaborating.

Quake Debris Cleaned Up

LIVERMORE, Calif. (AP)—While a leak in a 30,000-gallon tank of low-level radioactive water slowed to a trickle, workers at the Lawrence Livermore nuclear laboratory began cleaning up after a strong earthquake that rocked the square-mile complex.

Dozens of persons were injured, none seriously, in the Thursday quake, which registered 5.5 on the Richter scale of ground movement.

The quake cracked buildings and roads and shattered windows while a half dozen aftershocks measuring between 3.6 and 5.2 on the Richter scale rumbled hundreds of miles through Northern California.

Cuba Holding Visitors

MIAMI (AP)—Fifteen Cuban-born Americans, some of them visiting Cuba to see relatives, are being held in that country without explanation, the Miami Herald said in today's editions.

The United States formally asked Cuba about the jailings Wednesday, but has received no response, U.S. officials told the newspaper Friday.

Burglary Ring Cracked

DALLAS (AP)—Investigators say they expect to charge at least 38 persons in a $2 million burglary and fencing ring that operated in Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Mississippi and Mexico.

Officers from several police departments helped crack the 13-city ring, believed responsible for at least 100 burglaries.

The SDN Column

We came across a little quiz the other day that reminded us that Americans not only are creatures of habit, but they thrive on slogans and fads. And some of the more familiar expressions have come in the form of advertising for products that have been developed in a nation that has made more progress in more fields than any other in history.

But even these slogans and catch-phrases change with the times, and we have learned over the years that they can make or break big firms.

How many of these from yesteryear can you identify?

1. Does she...or doesn't she?
2. Mmm—mmm good!
3. Which twin has the...?
4. Ninety-nine and forty-four one-hundredths pure, it floats.
5. Progress is our most important product.
6. It's toasted.
7. Good to the last drop.
8. Hitch your license to a star.
9. The top of the crop.
10. Filter, flavor, flip-top box.
11. The national joy smoke.
12. "See...and you'll see the difference. We'll get around to the answers in a moment."

It all boils down to the fact that no matter what your problem may be, someone in America has a solution for it. But the same solution may be appropriate for more than one type of problem, such as the case of two guys who were discussing their experiences in life.

"I got married because I was tired of going to the laundromat, eating in restaurants and wearing socks with holes," said one.

"That's funny," said the other. "That's why I got a divorce."

But Americans can adjust to adversity. Like the golfer who was near the top in an important tournament. His caddie was stricken with hiccups. A deliberate putter, the golfer flinched at each hiccup, but managed to get his shots off. On the last hole, facing a short putt which would win the tournament for him, he hesitated over the ball and finally stroked it. The ball stopped short of the cup. He turned on the caddie and yelled, "See what you made me do? You and your hiccups!"

"But I didn't hiccup that time," protested the caddie. "I know," snarled the golfer. "And I allowed for it."

The answers to the above quiz: 1) Clairol; 2) Campbell's Soup; 3) Toni Home Permanents; 4) Ivory soap; 5) General Electric; 6) Lucky Strike cigarettes; 7) Maxwell House coffee; 8) Chevrolet; 9) Admiraltion coffee; 10) Marlboro cigarettes; 11) Prince Albert smoking tobacco; 12) GE.

Interviews In Snyder Indicate...

Opinions Mixed On Olympics, Draft

By JOHN LONG

By a slim margin, Snyderites would like to see a resumption of the military draft, but they have reservations on whether the United States should boycott the Olympics.

That was the general consensus from "man-on-the-street" interviews conducted by The Snyder Daily News Friday afternoon. Interviewed were two persons along the courthouse square, two Snyder High School students, and two Western Texas College students. Three were men and three were women.

Participants were first asked "Do you feel the United States should boycott the Olympics?" and then "Do you feel the United States should revive the draft?"

On the Olympic question, participants responded with two yes answers, two no answers, and two answers that fell between a yes or no. The draft question drew three affirmative responses, two no's, and one that fell between yes or no.

Harvey Waller, a 22-year-old employee for D.B. Drilling Co., who lives near Fluvanna, favored an Olympic boycott.

"I kind of feel we should stay on the side of the President. Whatever he decides I'll probably go along with," he said.

When asked whether the United States should revive the draft, he said, "If it's necessary. Otherwise I don't see any reason to, really."

Jonnie Taylor, an employee of Art Style Beauty Salon, said she was undecided about an Olympic boycott.

In one way, she said, she would like to boycott the Olympics "because I don't like what the Russians are doing." On the other hand, Mrs. Taylor said she "hates to see those youngsters who worked so hard miss out in participating."

On the resumption of the draft, she said, "It looks like we're going to be forced to."

A high school sophomore, Celissa Shipp, said the U.S. should not boycott the Olympics.

"They ought to stay in it and do it anyway," she said.

The possible resumption of the draft drew a negative response from her. She indicated she favored a volunteer army.

"I think you ought to fight if you want and not fight if you don't want

Moderate Says He Won In Iran

By The Associated Press

Iranian Finance Minister Abolhassan Bani Sadr, a moderate who is said to favor efforts to free the American hostages in Tehran, swept to an early overwhelming lead today in Iran's presidential balloting.

"I've definitely won," he said.

The official Iranian news agency, Pars, said the French-trained economist and longtime associate of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini received up to 80 percent of the votes cast Friday in some parts of Tehran, the Iranian capital.

Early returns showed him rolling up a huge lead over the other seven candidates in three cities in northern Iran. In Rasht, 150 miles north of the capital, Bani Sadr captured 148,417 of the 180,207 votes cast. In nearby Fuman, he captured 45,995 out of 51,717, and in Bandar Anzali, he won 22, 113 of 34,667.

In balloting in the western part of the country, Bani Sadr captured more than 90 percent of the vote in Qasr-i-Shirin and more than 80 percent in Ram Hormoz.

He was running a distant second in Kerman, the largest city in southeast Iran, but observers said it was likely he would win the needed majority anyway. If no candidate wins a majority, a runoff will be held Feb. 8 between the two leaders.

An estimated 96 percent of the 22 million eligible voters—men and women over the age of 16—reportedly participated in the first presidential election since now deposed Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi came to power 37 years ago.

Bani Sadr, 46, was fired as Iran's acting foreign minister Nov. 28, after his efforts to resolve the U.S.-Iranian crisis were rebuffed by Khomeini.

CRMWD Near Its Budget Estimates

The Colorado River Municipal Water District sold substantially less water than estimated for 1979, but it ended the year with revenues sufficient to exceed bond coverage and to come fairly close to other budget targets.

Total expenses of $7,441,501 were $155,761 or 2.61 percent more than estimated in the budget.

Debt service aggregated $3,876,342, which included $2,200,000 repayment of principal and $1,676,342 in interest.

Operating expense of $3,598,884 was $189,487 or 5.56 percent over budget estimates. The breakdown is as follows: Source of water supply $591,198 ($447 or .75 of one percent under estimates); pumping expense $2,489,827 ($175,720 or 7.05 percent more than the budget); administration and general $431,452 ($21,229 or 5.18 percent over budget); recreation $85, 624 ($3,769 or 2.72 percent less than budget estimates).

Among operating expenses, the chief overrun was in electric energy costs, which totalled $2,048,410, or $138,829 more than budgeted, and this in the face of the fact that the district pumped about a billion gallons less water than it had projected—285,000,000 gallons less for cities and the remainder for oil companies.

Ask Us

Q—What is the significance of a sign I saw south of Snyder on The Big Spring Highway that says it is an I-20 detour?

A—These signs represent something like preventive medicine for the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. There is a construction project between Big Spring and Colorado City on Interstate 20 which leaves only one lane open for traffic temporarily. If a major accident should close this lane for a few hours, I-20 traffic would be detoured via Texas Highways 350 and 208, and by the Western Texas College Campus. Thus, it would avoid a big stack-up of vehicles on a blocked lane of I-20.

Eddie Thane, maintenance supervisor for the highway department here, says the detour signs are supposed to be covered unless they are actually needed, but someone removed some of the covers recently. They would be uncovered if the detour plan should be required.

Legislators Face District Shake-Up

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas senators have in hand advance 1980 census estimates that indicate some may have districts with a population 44 percent less than an "ideal" district while some are 61 percent overpopulated.

Gov. Bill Hobby mailed copies of the Senate redistricting report to the 31 members Friday. It includes a preliminary analysis of population growth from 1970 to 1980, based on 1980 population figures available at this time.

Passing a redistricting bill to reshuffle Senate districts to conform to population growth and shifts is one of the major jobs of the 1981 Legislature—along with redistricting bills for state House and congressional districts.

The "ideal district," based on preliminary estimates, will be 435,255 persons, compared to about 360,000 in 1970, a growth of more than 20 percent.

According to figures furnished by Hobby's staff the senatorial district of Sen. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, grew 8 percent during the past decade but is still 41 percent below the 435,255 "ideal" district.

The district of Sen. Haul Longoria, D-Edinburg, grew 37 percent and will be an estimated 61 percent over the ideal district.

Other senators whose non-metropolitan districts are indicated below the 435,255 population figure, with the percentage below, include:

Sens. Bob Price, R-Pampa, 42; Ray Farabee, D-Wichita Falls, 41; Carlos Truan, D-Corpus Christi, 34; Ed Howard, D-Texarkana; Grant Jones, D-Abilene, 18; E.L. Short, D-Tahoka, 16; W.E. Snelson, D-Midland, 9.

The senators whose non-metropolitan districts are over the ideal district population, and the percentage over, include:

Sens. W.T. Moore, D-Bryan, 55; Peyton McKnight, D-Tyler, 35; Bill Patman, D-Ganada, 16; Tom Creighton, D-Mineral Wells, 16; A.R. Schwartz, D-Galveston, 11, and Roy Blake, D-Nacogdoches.

A different method was used in estimating growth in the metropolitan districts.

Hobby's figures show the Dallas area of Dallas, Ellis, Limestone and Navarro counties is due only 3.7 ideal districts of 435,255 each, although it has four districts now—Sens. O.H. Harris, R-Dallas; Ron Clower, D-Garland; Bill Braecklein, R-Dallas and Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas.

Harvest Work Ending...

Scurry County Cotton Bale Count At 96,000

Scurry County's biggest cotton crop in history has been harvested and gins were steadily whittling away at the backlog at the end of the week.

The bale count had moved past the 96,000 mark and apparently the ultimate total will come in just short of the 100,000-bale mark.

The market value of the cotton and the cotton seed produced in Scurry County this year will exceed $30 million, easily the biggest over-all figure in history.

Billy Roach, county extension agent, who made a survey of the nine gins in the county Friday, reported that 86,663 bales of 1979 cotton had been ginned in the county, with some 9,500 bales remaining to be processed.

The reports by gins included the following: Planters Gin at Dunn, 9,000 bales ginned with 145 bales left to gin. China Grove Gin, 10,260 bales ginned, with 2,000 bales left to gin.

Hermleigh Gin, 6,476 bales ginned, with 10 modules left and some 20 bales of pickup cotton remaining. (Modules average about nine bales each).

Inadale Co-op Gin, 14,915 bales ginned, with approximately 1,200 bales, including 15 modules, left.

Ira Gin, 8,081 bales ginned, with 600 bales remaining, including 400 bales already on yard.

Paymaster Gin, 11,227 bales ginned, with 2,400 bales left on yard and in modules.

Snyder Co-op Gin No. 1, 9,096 bales ginned, with 100 bales remaining on yard.

Fluvanna Co-op Gin, 4,975 bales ginned, with 2,000 bales (all tagged) left to gin.

Snyder Co-op No. 2, 12,633 bales ginned, with 20 bales on yard and estimated 700 to 800 more bales to come.

SNYDER TEMPERATURES: High Friday, 55 degrees; low, 32 degrees; reading at 7 a.m. Saturday, 33 degrees; precipitation, none; total precipitation for 1980 to date, .50.

West Texas: Mostly cloudy and quite cold north with snow or rain and snow mixed but with periods of freezing rain Monday through Wednesday. Partly cloudy south Monday through Wednesday with chance of rain and cooler toward midweek. Highs upper 20s and 30s north to 60s and lower 70s extreme south. Lows teens north to near 40 south.

Final Figures Of 70s Show Drastic Increases

NEW YORK (AP)—The final price numbers for the 1970s are in, and the government figures the average item that cost $1 when the decade began now costs $2.04.

That increase was somewhat larger than the increase in after-tax earnings for the average family, bringing home the reality that for most Americans the decade was not one with a rising standard of living.

Consumer prices rose 13.3 percent during the year and were up 103.6 percent during the decade, according to the Consumer Price Index released Friday by the Labor Department.

Not all prices rose by the same amounts, of course. Residential rents rose just 69.8 percent during the decade, but overall housing costs climbed by 114.4 percent, reflecting skyrocketing interest rates and home prices.

Medical care was up by 116.7 percent, slightly more than the overall increase. Food prices rose 114.3 percent.

The big gainer, to no one's surprise, was energy. Those prices were not considered important enough to bother reporting in 1969, but the government later went back to compile them.

For the 1970s, overall energy prices went up 59 percent, according to the government. By that standard, gasoline was relatively cheap at the end of the decade, rising just 199.6 percent.

Consumer prices rose faster in 1979 than in any year since 1946, when World War II price controls came off and prices surged. Comparable figures are hard to obtain, but there apparently was never a decade when prices rose as fast as in the 1970s.

In the 1940s, prices rose about 72 percent, but during the next two decades the increases were well under 30 percent as inflation ceased to be of major public concern.

Inflation may not, however, have been as bad as most people think during 1979. Some economists think the rise in housing costs was given too large a weight in the CPI, since most people don't buy a new home in any given year. They note the gross national product deflator, which attempts to measure inflation throughout the economy, was 8.8 percent, high but much lower than 13.3 percent.

Most analyses trace the resurgence of inflation to President Lyndon Johnson's decision in the late 1960s to neither raise taxes nor cut back social programs to fund the Vietnam War. The two huge oil price hikes in 1973-74 and 1979 administered a jolt to the economy that was partially dealt with by increasing the size of the federal budget deficits.

Most economists think inflation will abate this year as the economy slows into a recession. But those predictions got a minor jolt this past week by President Carter's State of the Union address.

WTC Course Set In Fair Housing

Western Texas College will offer a three-hour course in Fair Housing Practices on Feb. 5.

The class will meet from 6:30-9:30 p.m. in the Learning Resource Center, and students may pay the $10 fee during registration preceding the meeting. Instructors for the course will be Brenda Hedges, assistant vice-president of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Big Spring, and Mike Graves, who is associated with Lois Graves Realtors.

Students completing the course will receive a Letter of Completion to be mailed with their application to the Real Estate Board.

Beginning Sept. 1, 1979, the Real Estate License Amendment requires that persons seeking licensure in Texas must complete three classroom hours of instruction on federal, state and local laws governing housing discrimination, housing credit discrimination and community reinvestment. In addition to new license applicants, all agents and brokers licensed in Texas should be aware that effective Sept. 1, 1979, the Texas Real Estate Commission has the power to revoke or suspend licenses of any person practicing discrimination. For this reason, persons already active in real estate may wish to consider taking the short course for their own protection.

Information about the Fair Housing Practices course may be obtained by contacting the Office of Continuing Education at Western Texas College, 573-8511, extension 240.

PROPER TREE PLANTING IMPORTANT

January through February is an ideal time to select shade or ornamental trees for planting so that they can become established prior to spring growth. But tree planting should be done with care.

To begin, select a tree that suits your particular landscape needs. Before buying, ask yourself these questions: Will there be adequate room for the tree when it reaches maturity? Will it fit the existing landscape? Is it to be used for shade, screening, wind protection, or just to balance the landscape?

slightly higher (1-2 inches) is even better. Next, trim broken or damaged roots, and then form a mound in the bottom of the planting hole, letting the roots flow down the mound. Do not allow roots to dry out.

For a balled-and-burlapped tree, dig the hole about one-and-a-half times the diameter of the ball. Plant it so that the top of the soil ball is at or slightly above the existing soil surface.

Finally, prune the tops of transplanted trees to compensate for loss of roots. As a general rule, prune about one-third of the top growth. Then fill the hole with a good soil mixture and water thoroughly.

Suburb Fined For Burning Leaded Gas

CASTLE HILLS, Texas (AP)—The Environmental Protection Agency has fined this South Central Texas community $33,500 for using leaded gasoline in police vehicles instead of unleaded fuel, federal officials say.

But City Manager David Seyfarth said Friday the city council may not pay the fine.

EPA officials in Austin issued an administrative civil complaint against the San Antonio suburb for violating the Clean Air Act, Castle Hill was accused of using the leaded gas on 33 separate occasions between May 4 and May 21.

Seyfarth said the city did not intentionally violate the law.

"We had 15 city vehicles and we ran four police cars on leaded gasoline," he said. "The cars were sluggish when unleaded gas was used."

The city manager said he hopes the EPA will adjust the fine.

"If not, the city might go to court over the matter," he said. "I don't believe City Council will pay $33,500."

He said the city now is complying with the law.

Lesson In Prosperity

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Police say they found a bag of money in Ramon Gomez's car and a fake mustache on his upper lip after a branch of California First Bank was robbed of $1,100.

Gomez, 27, was booked in Metropolitan Correctional Center for investigation of bank robbery.

The arresting officer, Roger Warburton, said he found the uncounted money and something else in Gomez's car - a book titled "How to Prosper During the Coming Bad Years."

Passenger Tired After Hijacking

NEW YORK (AP)—Exhausted but unharmed and more than 18 hours behind schedule, passengers of a Delta Air Lines flight arrived in New York following their escape from an armed hijacker who took their plane to Cuba and demanded passage to Iran.

The 65 passengers and crew, some clutching boxes of Cuban cigars, greeted relatives as federal officials tried to piece together the details of the hijacking, which began early Friday over North Carolina.

The man who boarded the Atlanta-to-New York flight with his wife and two daughters was taken into custody along with his family in Cuba after officials refused to provide him with a plane to Tehran, said State Department spokesman David Passage.

Don Vickers, captain of Flight 1116, said he did not know why the man wanted to go to Iran. Delta officials said the L-1011 was not equipped to cross the ocean.

The hijacker surrendered after passengers sneaked off the plane - the last of them making noise so the man would not notice the plane was emptying. Arthur Nehrbase, special agent in charge of the FBI office in Miami, identified the man as 29-year-old Samuel Aldege Ingram Jr. of Atlanta. Nehrbase said he did not know if Cuban authorities would return the family to the United States.

"We're still putting the story together," he said. Earlier, the Federal Aviation Administration said two men claiming to be Black Muslims had hijacked the plane.

The flight departed Atlanta at 1 a.m. Friday and was commandeered an hour later over Greensboro, N.C., when the man told the crew he had a weapon and wanted to go to Havana, Vickers said. The plane landed in Cuba at 4:03 a.m. EST.

Passengers said they knew nothing of the hijacking until stewardesses came by to inform them individually.

He did not threaten the passengers," said Lynn Martin, 19, of Dallas. She said the hijacker was in the cockpit while his wife and daughters, aged 2 and 7 months, stayed in their seats as the plane waited on the ground in Havana.

Several passengers said the woman apparently was surprised by the events. "She was quite upset, she was crying," said Drew Berkowitz of Denver.

Bobby Grier of Birmingham, Ala., said the woman told her she suspected her husband had sneaked the gun aboard by hiding it in the clothing of their 7-month-old daughter.

Dockworker's Embargo To Hit $565 Million If Continued For Year

HOUSTON (AP)—A dockworkers' boycott of Russian-bound grain may cost Gulf Coast shippers as much as $565 million if the embargo remains in effect for a year, according to a shipping industry executive.

"We haven't even begun to assess the real damage from this thing," said Greg Lauser, spokesman for Cargill Inc., which operates a Houston Ship Channel elevator.

"But you figure 60 to 65 percent of the nation's grain exports pass through Gulf ports, and the damage is bound to be significant."

The International Longshoremen's Association started their boycott Jan. 10 after President Carter had embargoed certain grain shipments bound for the Soviet Union.

The boycott affects coastal operations from Texas to Maine. ILA members on the West Coast and Canadian dockworkers declined to join the boycott.

Even though three national farm bureau organizations filed complaints Wednesday with the National Labor Relations Board, ILA members remain adamant about their decision to stop loading Soviet ships.

"There will be no change in ILA policy or our action until it's decided one way or another," said Temple Paysse, ILA regional spokesman.

"There is no injunction against us to stop anything we are doing and we are not changing our own actions unless we are told to do so."

The complaints, filed against the South Atlantic and Gulf Coast ILA and two Houston locals, maintain longshoremen are conducting an illegal secondary boycott.

"We don't want the longshoremen to determine who loads ships and who doesn't," said David Larry, Farm Bureau attorney.

He claims shipments of grain totaling about 2.7 million tons scheduled to go to the Soviet Union have been halted by the boycott.

"Today (Friday), we learned of a ship that was to have loaded corn valued at $8 million in Houston," he said. "It was rerouted elsewhere."

An NLRB spokesman said the complaints had been forwarded to Washington, D.C. for priority handling.

Ron Christopher, vice president of the West Gulf Maritime Association which represents shippers from Lake Charles, La., to Brownsville, says other ports are benefiting from the boycott.

"That boycott does nothing more than divert cargo from places like Houston, the nation's largest grain port, to someplace else," he said, adding Gulf Coast shippers may lose as much as $565 million if the boycott remains in effect for a year.

Jerry McManus, president of Shippers Stevedoring Company, says his terminal business has lost about $400,000 since the boycott began.

"That's a 25 percent drop," he said. "Sure it hurts."

Upbeat Look For French Fashions

By SUZY PATTERSON Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP)—French fashions will be entering the 80s with an upbeat look, featuring short skirts, and sophisticated, feminine styling. That's the prediction from Paris as French designers prepare to show their haute couture collections for next spring and summer in a whirl of parties and shows beginning Sunday.

Since then, skirts have zoomed up and down, with most hovering below the knee. There have been lots of floppy clothes and swirling voluminous skirts. And then the shaped look made a come-back only last year.

Next spring's silhouette will cling close to the body, with little short Spencer jackets emphasizing the waist. "You'll see hip-hugging or even rounded-hip skirts, straight or flaring out at the hem, with pleated skirts to make life easy for people who walk.

Sheen Moving Away From Texas

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Oil sheen and tar balls spotted in a 9,000-square-mile area are moving away from the Texas coast with southerly currents, and Coast Guard officials say the slick constitutes no "particular threat" to Texas beaches.

"Actually, there were a number of sightings of sheen," Coast Guard Capt. Gerald Hinson said Friday.

"The sheen is given off by tarballs in the water. They (tar balls) are cherry sized, in heavy to light concentrations in patches as narrow as 20 feet and as long as two to 10 miles."

The oil, which originated with the uncapped Ixtoc I well in the Bay of Campeche, was sighted earlier this week by routine Coast Guard reconnaissance flights about 60 miles southwest of Brownsville, at the southern tip of Texas, Hinson said.

"We have been tracking this stuff all over the Gulf for six months or so. This is not really unexpected. It came as no surprise."

And "even if it were to come up on the beach, you probably couldn't see it," Hinson said of the sheen which is similar to suntan oil floating on swimming pool water.

He said the patches were located 24 degrees latitude north to 25 degrees latitude north from the coast out to about 150 miles into the Gulf of Mexico. The southernmost tip of Texas is at 26 degrees latitude north, he said.

Hinson coordinated efforts to battle the first gushes of Mexican oil that oozed on to Texas beaches this summer.

"We have been cleaning tar balls practically all winter," Hinson said, "on South Padre Island especially, because of all the hotels there. We still have to keep the beaches clean. And we want the stuff to go back in the water."

Parks Department To Hire Minimum

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department made it policy Thursday to employ only the "absolute minimum number possible" to meet its duties and responsibilities.

In adopting the policy, the department declined to approve a proposal by Gov. Bill Clements to cut employment by 5 percent across-the-board or send him a detailed explanation why not.

A Parks and Wildlife resolution stated that the department is now operating with fewer personnel than in 1975 although 12 new state parks, historic sights or recreation areas have been created over the five-year period.

Prospectors May Endanger Salmon

SEATTLE (AP)—A fishery biologist says he fears dredging by a rush of gold prospectors in the state's rivers and streams will harm salmon runs this spring.

Millard Deussen said he is concerned because hundreds of people, spurred by higher gold prices, are buying portable dredges that suck up material from stream bottoms and separate any gold from gravel, silt and sand.

Exercise to feel warm

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB— I'm a 32-year-old female and work in a very large office with many employees. I'm extremely cold during the winter months. The heat is set low anyway to help save on energy. I wear three pairs of knee briefs and several layers of clothes. I'm miserable. Most of the others seem O.K. while my fingernails have turned blue and my hands are like ice to touch.

I quit smoking three years ago and I don't take any medicine. I've had a recent blood test for a thyroid problem but it was negative. My doctor gives me the impression that most of it is in my head. I'm as comfortable inside during winter as outside. I just can't face being so miserable since most of the day is spent at work. I'd do anything to warm up if someone would just give me some ideas.

DEAR READER— Whether you feel hot or cold doesn't have an awful lot to do with your body temperature. That's why one person can sit in a warm room and feel cold and the other person will feel hot. You're living proof of this observation.

The reason is because the sensation of feeling hot or cold is dependent upon nerve receptors which are in the skin. These respond to the blood flow through the skin itself.

Frequently the difference in whether a person feels hot or cold is directly related to the blood flow through the skin which can be independent of the circulation in the rest of the body. As a result, if you don't have very much blood flow through the skin, you will feel cold.

A good hot bath will usually make such a person feel warm again for two reasons. One, it will decrease the body's ability to lose heat so there will be a build up of heat in the body. And the external heat to the skin causes an increased blood flow to the skin.

Now what can you do to improve the blood flow through your skin? Stopping smoking was a good idea. The other thing you might do is to start a regular exercise program. As the body heat builds up from exercise, the circulation to the skin increases to eliminate the heat. That, in turn, makes you feel warm. So every time you feel a little cold, if you have an opportunity to do a little exercise, somewhere it will help you begin to feel warm.

There's a reason why people shiver when they're cold. It's nature's way of generating heat from muscular contraction to warm the body. And if you warm the body with exercise, it will have to give off heat and it will do it through the skin warming it and making you feel better.

To give you a better appreciation of how body temperature is regulated and how this affects the sensation of being hot or cold, I am sending you The Health Letter number 7-6, Body Temperature And Fever. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

I think a lot of offices and buildings and plants where employees are asked to work at lower temperatures now would be very wise to have regular exercise breaks. This will keep their employees comfortable and probably improve their productivity.

Governor's Appointees Almost Succeed In College Fund Cuts

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Bill Clements' appointees on the Texas College Coordinating Board came close to operating as a solid — and nearly victorious — economy bloc Friday.

But for the defection of Dr. Mario Ramirez of Rio Grande City, Clements' appointees — assisted by Marshall Formby of Plainview — would have significantly cut the board's funding recommendation for state colleges.

The economy drive failed, 7-8, however, and the board approved formulas that will result in state colleges and junior colleges seeking increases of $300 million in their 1982-83 budgets.

Public senior colleges must use board formulas in preparing their requests for legislative appropriations. In this case, the requests will be submitted to the 1981 Legislature.

The board voted overwhelmingly to recommend that the Legislature increase tuition, which has gone unchanged since 1971, when it was set at $4 per semester hour for residents, with a $50 minimum. Non-resident tuition $40 a semester hour.

But the board declined to suggest the exact amount by which tuition should rise and presented lawmakers only a series of possibilities.

Doubling resident tuition would raise $28.4 million a year, and doubling tuition paid by non-residents would add $19.4 million. Another $19.6 million could be gained by doubling foreign students' tuition.

Mack Adams, the board's chief of student services, said various forms of economic aid — including about $100 million yearly in federal grants — would minimize the pain of a tuition increase to students.

Formulas approved by the board would increase spending 22.3 percent in 1982 and another 12.1 percent in 1983. The faculty salary item would jump 2.1 percent in 1982 and 12.6 percent the following year.

Chairwoman Beryl Milburn moved to cut the overall increases to 9.5 percent a year and to hold the faculty salary hikes to 12.6 percent each year of the 1982-83 biennium.

Voting with her were Clements appointees Tom Rhodes of Dallas, Hal Daugherty Jr. of El Paso, R.F. Juedeman of Odessa, Gwendolyn Morrison of Fort Worth and Herbert Schiff of Dallas, plus Formby.

Opposing the motion were Ramirez, Harvey Weil of Corpus Christi, Charles Butt of Corpus Christi, Ralph Spence of Tyler, Paul Teague of Texas City, Newton Gresham of Houston, Wayne Thomas of Hereford and Robert Park of Houston.

Three of the 18 board members were absent. "I don't think the people of Texas will stand for that amount," Mrs. Milburn said of the increase. "I think it shakes the credibility of the board to recommend such an increase."

But Weil said evidence presented by the board's staff "made it unequivocally clear that higher education, particularly faculty salaries, have fallen behind and need to catch up."

Weil, a member since the board was created in 1965, said the figures approved by the board represented "a bare minimum."

Pot Bust In Dangerfield

DAINGERFIELD (AP)—Law enforcement officers combed the woods near this Northeast Texas community today, searching for a suspect involved in a thwarted marijuana transaction.

Morris County Sheriff Neil McKinney said authorities confiscated 52 bags of illegal weed — weighing about 1,000 pounds — during an impromptu bust early Thursday.

Two men were arrested, but one was released after questioning, the sheriff said. Officers received a call from someone who reported a light plane had landed at the county airport, a bare strip of asphalt without lights, hangars or a tower, McKinney said.

"By the time we got there the plane had already dumped its load and taken off again," McKinney said. He said three men scattered and ran into the woods, abandoning two pickup trucks. He conceded chances of capturing the fourth suspect — the pilot of the plane that apparently dropped the pot off — were slim.

HOME DESIGN
By Larry Farnsworth

There are many reasons for giving careful consideration to this attractive and practical design, for it contains feature after feature designed to make living more pleasant for its fortunate owners.

Note, for example, the nicely placed garage which adds a distinctive contrast to the front elevation and also shelters the living room from streetside distractions.

The large paneled double doors lead into a slightly raised central entry which is not only highly efficient as a means of channelling household traffic but decorative as well thanks also to the attractive planters which separate it from the living room. Note, too, that living room's exterior window planters and big fireplace.

The family room and L-shaped kitchen are highlighted by an island counter, practical built-ins, a handy laundry alcove, and glass sliding doors to the rear of the property. A half-bath and a very separate private bedroom with twin closets are located conveniently beside the kitchen, making it possible to use this room for a multitude of purposes, according to the needs of the individual owner.

The other bedrooms are at the far end of the house.

Note that the two in the rear each have double closets along an entire end wall and that the bath between them has an exterior window and a big double lavatory.

The master bedroom is practically a suite in itself for the dressing room, with double lavatory and loads of closet space, and its private bath occupy an area easily the size of a small room.

A basement option plan enters in the utility area. Note finally the additional closets in the hallway and in the garage too. Just about everything needed for comfortable living has, like these extra closets, been thoughtfully provided in this house so that the reasons for selecting it are not only sound but very numerous too.

You can purchase complete working plans or a 500 plan catalog from Larry Farnsworth, P.O. Box 1841, Las Vegas, Nevada 89101.

Snyder Writers' Guild Planning Two Contests

The Snyder Writers' Guild will sponsor two writing contests open to area residents in conjunction with a workshop planned for March 29 at Western Texas College.

Entries in the contest are due by Feb. 27, and are to be mailed or delivered to Mrs. Roy Burk at 2302 40th Street or Dr. Edward Barkowsky at WTC. Entries will be judged in two categories, fiction and non-fiction, and are to be limited to 3,500 words.

Contestants may make one entry in each category. Each entry must be accompanied by a $1 entry fee. A cash prize of $15 will be awarded the winning entry in each category, and honorable mention will be given to other winners. Manuscripts must be typewritten, double-spaced on 8 1/2 x 11 sheets, and on one side of the page only. The name and address of the contestant must be included on a detachable cover sheet and should not appear on pages of the manuscript. The writer must specify if the entry is fiction or non-fiction.

Awards will be presented at the workshop. Etta Lynch of Lubbock, writer, editor and lecturer, will judge the contest and will also conduct the workshop. Her most recent book, "Gene A. Howe: The Tactless Texas," was released in May, 1979.

The Communications and Letters Division of WTC is cooperating with the Guild in sponsoring the contest and workshop, and all interested persons with the exception of professional writers are invited to enter. Further details of the contest and workshop may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Burk or other members of the Guild.

Western Mind Finds Difficulty With Islam

By JOHN BARBOUR, AP Newsfeatures Writer
 WASHINGTON (AP)—Of the many enigmas in this untidy world, the specter of Islam haunts the Western mind. Americans find frustration in trying to fathom the Moslem world, the grim picture of Americans held hostage, self flagellating fanatics chanting the death wish. Yet the images will not fade away. Islam is a religion that embraces some 500 million people in some 30 nations and holds a grip on the most strategic real estate in the world from Africa to the Mideast to Southeast Asia. Largely, Americans have chosen to ignore this "other world," or they have been fed superficial outlines of a belief that is both political and religious. So says Dr. Mohammed Mughisuddin, dean of international programs at American University, an Islamic scholar and author, a Pakistani Moslem by birth, an American Moslem now. Too often, Americans have seen only Western-educated Moslems, polished men in business suits, wealthy nabobs with a taste for Western life, Mughisuddin says. He explains: "The people who count in the Moslem world are not the intellectuals. Those are the elite. The people who count are those close to the masses on a daily basis. Now, if you go to Iran or any Moslem country, who are the people close to the masses? The imam in the mosque who says prayers five times a day. "He is the man who stands up on Friday and delivers the sermon, which really focuses on social ills or political problems. These are the people who instill in the minds of the population what they should and should not do. "These are the people whom they turn to when they are in trouble. "If a child is born, whom do they call? The imam. Because the first duty is for the imam to come and say the Azan, the call to prayer, hear the child. This is like the baptism. The first name the child bears is the name of God, Allah. "Now, if the imam says the Ayatollah Khomeini is right, then the population is going to say Khomeini is right. "There are 140,000 imams in Iran, ministering to 35 million people, responsible for adherence to Moslem principles and, more than anyone else, for what Mughisuddin calls a sense of community. "That is important for us to understand," he says. "That through all the trials and tribulations of the Moslem world, through earlier divisions and through the divisions by the European powers, there was one constant theme in religious writing: No matter what we are, where we are and who we are, we are all Moslems. "This spirit was kept alive by the ulema, the religious leaders who reminded the Moslems that their lives were administered by the Sharia, the Islamic law. It is the Sharia which provided that feeling of community. "Islma, Mughisuddin explains, means peace and submission to God's will, following the right path, "serattum musteqim," as shown through the Koran and the Prophet Mohammed's life. he told police his accomplice helped plan the robberies and drove the getaway car. The older teenager was arrested and jailed Friday. Geeslin said the youth estimated $7,000 was taken in both robberies, but that his partner kept all but $50. At all the banks, the youth shoved a cloth bag toward the teller with a note saying, "Keep smiling," and demanded money. The suspect's picture was taken by all the banks' cameras and widely circulated by the FBI and police. Geeslin said the teenager told him he tried a second robbery at one bank, but said he ran after the teller recognized him. In a second attempted robbery, the youth "said he went in the bank but backed out, telling his companion there were too many cops inside," Geeslin said. "He also told his companion he wanted to quit robbing banks."

Two Mishaps Reported Here

Two minor traffic accidents, both hit and runs, were reported to city police Friday. The first was called in about 8:30 a.m. and occurred in the 2200 block of 40th St. Involved in it was a parked 1974 Chevrolet owned by Ruby Reeves. The other vehicle left the scene. It was worked by officer Kerry Fritz. Sgt. Bill Wright worked the next accident at Western Texas College. It was reported at 8:55 a.m. and involved a parked 1977 Chevrolet owned by Nona Sutton.

Teen-Agers Held In Bank Heists

FORT WORTH (AP)—Two teen-agers were being held late Friday pending charges in two bank robberies, Fort Worth police said. Police Capt. Garland Geeslin said a 15-year-old boy confessed to two robberies and two attempted robberies in the past two months, and implicated an 18-year-old accomplice. The younger boy was being held at the Tarrant County Juvenile Detention Center. Geeslin said he told police his accomplice helped plan the robberies and drove the getaway car. The older teenager was arrested and jailed Friday. Geeslin said the youth estimated $7,000 was taken in both robberies, but that his partner kept all but $50. At all the banks, the youth shoved a cloth bag toward the teller with a note saying, "Keep smiling," and demanded money. Scientist Thinks Apes May Learn A Language

By ROB WOOD
 Associated Press Writer
 HOUSTON (AP)—The chimpanzee named Washoe rested on the limb of a tree, flipping through the pages of a magazine, and on occasions using sign language to describe some of the objects she recognized in the printed pictures.

Another time, Washoe asked for a treat but the request was refused by a researcher. The chimp then gave the scientist the sign for "dirty", about as insulting as an ape can be within the limits of his knowledge of the American Sign Language.

This has convinced Roger Fouts, an associate psychology professor at the University of Oklahoma, that apes can develop human-like linguistics and thinking abilities.

Fouts believes with proper training, the primates eventually will be able to talk with humans and even begin and end conversations without prompting.

To Herbert Terrace, psychology professor at Columbia University, it means only that apes can be taught a sign language, but do not understand it, and will never be able to construct sentences.

Terrace believes the apes put together two, three, even four signs in an effort to receive a treat or to imitate the teacher. He insists that use of the signs are always triggered first by questions from the teachers.

Fouts and Terrace, two of the world's most widely known researchers in primate language, have been at odds over this research project for several months.

Terrace, after a four years of work with a chimpanzee named Nim Chimpsky, can do no better than a clever fake of sentence construction. His findings were printed in Science Magazine and Psychology Today.

Fouts, who has worked with Washoe since 1965, said his chimp learned 240 signs and understood the equivalent in spoken English, though she cannot make sounds.

For the first time since the scientific feud began, the two researchers debated the issue in public during a seminar on the campus of the University of Houston.

Fouts said Terrace had not used the proper methods to teach the chimp Nim and that "we don't think the sentence is the center kernel of this research, but instead it is the utterances by the apes."

"We didn't expect the chimp to learn the King's English. And, Nim was taught, trained, Washoe learned," he said.

Terrace said, "Just because Nim could use a sequence of signs didn't mean he could create a sentence. Nim initiated the teacher in mag signs for many words. And then by prompting it was easy to teach a chimp words."

Terrace also argued that when a child begins to put words together it comes out something like, "daddy car, daddy drive, daddy drive car."

"But when apes make sign combinations, it is only eat, drink, eat, drink," he said.

Fouts answered, "Terrace's research is just a determination of what he thinks language should be. Not what the chimp thinks it is."

Fouts cited several examples of his chimp, Washoe, using the sign language to herself, and while not knowing she was being observed.

"How do you explain that if you believe the ape is only imitating the teacher or seeking a reward?"

Terrace answered, "Washoe had been drilled during the day in sign language and it is not unreasonable to expect him to continue that later while alone."

The Columbia University scientist said chimps "are loveable, and it is so easy to project human meanings into their actions."

Fouts said the major difference between the scientists apparently is whether humans are unique. He said, "We are not unique."

Also participating in the seminar was Philip Peterson, professor of philosophy at Syracuse University.

Peterson said, "It doesn't seem to me that Fouts has answered Terrace's criticisms. Fouts hasn't presented the evidence that apes can construct sentences. Show us an ape that uses seven or eight words in a sentence, rather than just repeating words."

Guest Artists In Recital At WTC

Barbara Barber, violinist, and Lora Deahl, pianist, will present a guest artist recital at 8:15 Thursday night in the Fine Arts Theatre at Western Texas College.

The public is invited to attend and admission is free.

Mrs. Barber, originally of Amarillo, is the director of the Suzuki String Program at Texas Tech University where she has earned both the Bachelor and Master of Music degrees. She has appeared as a soloist throughout Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, and performs actively in solo and chamber concerts at Tech. She has appeared as soloist with the Amarillo, Lubbock, Midland-Odessa, Oklahoma City and Texas Tech University symphonies.

Mrs. Deahl, professor of piano at Tech, holds a Bachelor of Music degree from Oberlin College and the Master of Music degree from Indiana University. She was both a National Merit and a Presidential Scholar while at Oberlin and Indiana University, and graduated with highest honors as a member of Pi Kappa Lambda. She has appeared as a soloist with the Honolulu Symphony Orchestra on two occasions, and lists numerous solo and chamber music recitals throughout the United States. She performs many times each year at Tech as a faculty accompanist as well as solo pianist.

HEALTH TIP
 from DEAN

Carbon monoxide, a lethal gas emitted by automobiles and gas-burning stoves, is insidious because it cannot be seen, smelled or tasted. It is most dangerous during cold weather when people warm up cold engines inside garages or use stoves or heaters in poorly ventilated rooms. Drowsiness or headache may warn of carbon monoxide poisoning. Be aware of the danger, and be sure of adequate fresh air.

WTC, Crosby County Groups Discuss Plans

The possibilities for Adult Vocational Education and Continuing Education in the Crosby County area were discussed at a meeting of representatives from Western Texas College and the Area Council of Education in Crosbyton Thursday night.

WTC operates an extension center in Crosbyton, and preliminary enrollment figures show a total of 90 students in academic and occupational-technical courses with an additional 13 students in an Adult Vocational Education course on Principles of Real Estate.

George McNeil, Crosby County rancher, serves as president of the recently organized Area Council of Education. The Council is designed to coordinate educational opportunities for residents of the Crosby County area and includes representatives from Spur, Ralls, Lorenzo, Dickens, and Floydada as well as Crosbyton. Chester Dye is Community Education Coordinator and serves as coordinator for the WTC extension center.

Presenting information about courses and instruction available through WTC were Betty Sandel, Kent Mills and Randy Mosley. Ms. Sandel is working with the Continuing Education department at WTC and also instructs Mid-Management courses at the Crosbyton Center. Mills is assistant professor of Farm & Ranch Management and Mosley is assistant professor of Engineering Technology. Mills and Mosley outlined courses they could prepare for residents of the Area Council of Education area, ranging in length from three-hour short courses to extended formats.

Ms. Sandel emphasized that WTC's Continuing Education department wants to work with residents of the area in offering courses in demand, and invites inquiries about programs which can be made available. Adult Vocational Education and Community Services courses do not carry college credit, but are designed to meet specific needs either to provide or improve work skills or hobby interests.

Chicago Schools May Not Re-Open

CHICAGO (AP)—The 475,000 students of Chicago's public schools may not start the second semester as scheduled Monday because an agreement to keep teachers on the job has broken down.

"I expect us to be out a hell of a long time," yelled Chicago Teachers Union President Robert Healey just before the union's House of Delegates voted 700-1 Friday not to return to classes.

The lone dissenter thought the union had taken too soft a position.

But Mayor Jane Byrne, who negotiated the agreement Thursday with Healey and other leaders, of school workers unions, McMullen also suggested that Healey backed off his support of the agreement because the House of Delegates was against it. The system's 48,600 employees went without bi-weekly paychecks Jan. 18.

The agreement called for the teachers and other employees to work Monday with the promise of getting a week's pay immediately and the rest by the end of the week.

The teachers on Friday had given the school board a 4:30 p.m. deadline to approve $51 million in cuts Healey and other union leaders agreed to Thursday. The board missed the deadline by two hours and the cuts were about $9 million shy of those agreed upon.

"Our patience has expired," said Healey. "There will be no Saturday or Sunday meetings. We're out on Monday."

Scientist Thinks Apes May Learn A Language

By ROB WOOD
Associated Press Writer
HOUSTON (AP)—The chimpanzee named Washoe rested on the limb of a tree, flipping through the pages of a magazine, and on occasions using sign language to describe some of the objects she recognized in the printed pictures.

Another time, Washoe asked for a treat but the request was refused by a researcher. The chimp then gave the scientist the sign for "dirty," about as insulting as an ape can be within the limits of his knowledge of the American Sign Language.

This has convinced Roger Fouts, an associate psychology professor at the University of Oklahoma, that apes can develop human-like linguistics and thinking abilities. Fouts believes with proper training, the primates eventually will be able to talk with humans and even begin and end conversations without prompting.

To Herbert Terrace, psychology professor at Columbia University, it means only that apes can be taught a sign language, but do not understand it, and will never be able to construct sentences.

Terrace believes the apes put together two, three, even four signs in an effort to receive a treat or to imitate the teacher. He insists that use of the signs are always triggered first by questions from the teachers.

Fouts and Terrace, two of the world's most widely known researchers in primate language, have been at odds over this research project for several months.

Terrace, after a four years of work with a chimpanzee named Nim Chimpsky, can do no better than a clever fake of sentence construction. His findings were printed in Science Magazine and Psychology Today.

Fouts, who has worked with Washoe since 1965, said his chimp learned 240 signs and understood the equivalent in spoken English, though she cannot make sounds.

For the first time since the scientific feud began, the two researchers debated the issue in public during a seminar on the campus of the University of Houston.

Fouts said Terrace had not used the proper methods to teach the chimp Nim and that "we don't think the sentence is the center kernel of this research, but instead it is the utterances by the apes."

"We didn't expect the chimp to learn the King's English. And, Nim was taught, trained, Washoe learned," he said.

Terrace said, "Just because Nim could use a sequence of signs didn't mean he could create a sentence. Nim initiated the teacher in mag signs for many words. And then by prompting it was easy to teach a chimp words."

Terrace also argued that when a child begins to put words together it comes out something like, "daddy car; daddy drive; daddy drive car."

"But when apes make sign combinations, it is only eat, drink, eat, drink," he said.

Fouts answered, "Terrace's research is just a determination of what he thinks language should be. Not what the chimp thinks it is."

Fouts cited several examples of his chimp, Washoe, using the sign language to herself, and while not knowing she was being observed.

"How do you explain that if you believe the ape is only imitating the teacher or seeking a reward?"

Terrace answered, "Washoe had been drilled during the day in sign language and it is not unreasonable to expect him to continue that later while alone."

The Columbia University scientist said chimps "are loveable, and it is so easy to project human meanings into their actions."

Fouts said the major difference between the scientists apparently is whether humans are unique. He said, "We are not unique."

Also participating in the seminar was Philip Peterson, professor of philosophy at Syracuse University.

Peterson said, "It doesn't seem to me that Fouts has answered Terrace's criticisms. Fouts hasn't presented the evidence that apes can construct sentences: Show us an ape that uses seven or eight words in a sentence, rather than just repeating words."

HEALTH TIP
from DEAN

Carbon monoxide, a lethal gas emitted by automobiles and gas-burning stoves, is insidious because it cannot be seen, smelled or tasted. It is most dangerous during cold weather when people warm up cold engines inside garages or use stoves or heaters in poorly ventilated rooms. Drowsiness or headache may warn of carbon monoxide poisoning. Be aware of the danger, and be sure of adequate fresh air.

WTC, Crosby County Groups Discuss Plans

The possibilities for Adult Vocational Education and Continuing Education in the Crosby County area were discussed at a meeting of representatives from Western Texas College and the Area Council of Education in Crosbyton Thursday night.

WTC operates an extension center in Crosbyton, and preliminary enrollment figures show a total of 90 students in academic and occupational-technical courses with an additional 13 students in an Adult Vocational Education course on Principles of Real Estate.

George McNeil, Crosby County rancher, serves as president of the recently organized Area Council of Education. The Council is designed to coordinate educational opportunities for residents of the Crosby County area and includes representatives from Spur, Ralls, Lorenzo, Dickens, and Floydada as well as Crosbyton. Chester Dye is Community Education Coordinator and serves as coordinator for the WTC extension center.

Presenting information about courses and instruction available through WTC were Betty Sandel, Kent Mills and Randy Mosley. Ms. Sandel is working with the Continuing Education department at WTC and also instructs Mid-Management courses at the Crosbyton Center. Mills is assistant professor of Farm & Ranch Management and Mosley is assistant professor of Engineering Technology. Mills and Mosley outlined courses they could prepare for residents of the Area Council of Education area, ranging in length from three-hour short courses to extended formats.

Ms. Sandel emphasized that WTC's Continuing Education department wants to work with residents of the area in offering courses in demand, and invites inquiries about programs which can be made available. Adult Vocational Education and Community Services courses do not carry college credit, but are designed to meet specific needs either to provide or improve work skills or hobby interests.

Chicago Schools May Not Re-Open

CHICAGO (AP)—The 475,000 students of Chicago's public schools may not start the second semester as scheduled Monday because an agreement to keep teachers on the job has broken down.

"I expect us to be out a hell of a long time," yelled Chicago Teachers Union President Robert Healey just before the union's House of Delegates voted 700-1 Friday not to return to classes.

The lone dissenter thought the union had taken too soft a position.

But Mayor Jane Byrne, who negotiated the agreement Thursday with Healey and other leaders of school workers unions, was reported trying to set up a new round of talks today.

"She's going to have to get out a big pot of glue and try to put the whole thing back together again," said her press secretary, Jay McMullen.

McMullen also suggested that Healey backed off his support of the agreement because the House of Delegates was against it. The system's 48,600 employees went without bi-weekly paychecks Jan. 18.

The agreement called for the teachers and other employees to work Monday with the promise of getting a week's pay immediately and the rest by the end of the week.

The teachers on Friday had given the school board a 4:30 p.m. deadline to approve $51 million in cuts Healey and other union leaders agreed to Thursday. The board missed the deadline by two hours and the cuts were about $9 million shy of those agreed upon.

"Our patience has expired," said Healey. "There will be no Saturday or Sunday meetings. We're out on Monday."

Breast Feeding Making Comeback

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government statistics show breast feeding is making a modest comeback among America's mothers.

Figures released Friday by the National Center for Health Statistics showed that 35 percent of the nation's babies were being breast fed in 1975 compared with 25 percent in 1973. That reverses a 20-year decline in breast feeding.

Top Teams Lose In NBA

By The Associated Press
It was a night when the big boys of the National Basketball Association got shot down to size.
The three teams with the best records in the league - the Philadelphia 76ers, Boston Celtics and Seattle SuperSonics - all came up losers Friday, and so did the Kansas City Kings, who lead the Midwest Division.

cutive victory at home, a 124-103 defeat of the 76ers, whose nine-game winning streak came to an end.
In other games, the Washington Bullets defeated the Celtics 118-107, the Chicago Bulls downed the Kings 113-107 in overtime, the San Antonio Spurs whipped the SuperSonics 125-116, the Phoenix Suns trounced the Milwaukee Bucks 110-96, the New York Knicks overtook the Golden State Warriors 110-105, the Indiana Pacers trimmed the San Diego Clippers 139-117 and the Detroit Pistons beat the New Jersey Nets 119-116. The Lakers picked up a full game on the Sonics in the Pacific division and trail Seattle by 1 1/2 games. Wilkes was followed in the scoring column by Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Norm Nixon, each with 24 points, Jim Chones with 16 and Michael Cooper with 14. Earvin "Magic" Johnson, recuperating from a pulled groin muscle, came off the bench and scored 10 points, while Julius Erving led the 76ers with 24.

Philadelphia led by as many as nine points in the first quarter before the Lakers caught fire and outscored the 76ers 22-8 during the first 6 1/2 minutes of the second quarter to take a 48-38 lead.
Bullets 118, Celtics 107
Swingman Roger Phegley came off the bench to score eight points in both the second and fourth periods and help Washington hand Boston only its fourth home loss in 25 games. Elvin Hayes and Bob Dandridge led the Bullets with 25 points apiece and Wes Unseld contributed 17.

Bulls 113, Kings 107
Ricky Sobers scored eight points in overtime and David Greenwood added four for Chicago. Reggie Theus hit a three-point basket with 10 seconds to go.
Spurs 125, SuperSonics 116
George Gervin and James Silas teamed up for 21 points in the final period as San Antonio won its fourth game in a row, ended Seattle's eight-game winning streak and climbed within one-half game of Atlanta in the Central Division.
Suns 110, Bucks 96
Truck Robinson's 23 points led a balanced Phoenix attack. The Suns led by as many as 20 in the first half and took a 64-46 halftime lead and the closest the Bucks came after that was 14 points behind. 32 by Marques Johnson and 24 by Sidney Moncreif.
Knicks 110, Warriors 105
The Knicks, led by rookie Bill Cartwright and Michael Ray Richardson, came from 15 points behind in the final period. Cartwright, the former University of San Francisco star playing in his first NBA game in his home area, scored 31 points, including 10 in the last quarter.

HONOLULU (AP) - The Pro Bowl, the National Football League's "orphan" game, is a sell-out this year. And while it may not help Hawaii snare an NFL expansion franchise someday, it can't hurt, either.
"It confirms our judgment that this is a great sports city, that there's a great deal of sports interest out here," NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle said Friday of the fact that all 49,800 seats for Sunday's all-star game in

New Mets Owners Want To Deliver For New York Fans

NEW YORK (AP) - "Comon-back! We really want you. We'll show you that by our actions."
That was the message today to missing New York Mets fans from Fred Wilpon, 43-year old real estate agent who is the new president and chief executive officer of the baseball club.

Wilpon, Nelson Doubleday - who will act as chairman of the board - and Steve O'Neil, representing City Investing Co., Inc. pledged an aggressive new approach Friday as they took over ownership of the team that has fallen on hard times.

Pro Bowl Announces Sellout For Sunday

Aloha Stadium were sold out before New Year's Day.
Rozelle, who appeared at Friday's practice, was also to attend today's formal announcement of this year's four inductees into the Pro Football Hall of Fame - Bob Lilly, Deacon Jones, Herb Adderley and Jim Otto.
Fan interest may be only a marginal consideration in Hawaii's NFL dreams a year or two - or more - from now when the league expands to two more cities to bring its membership to 30 franchises.

between the American and National Conferences, Rozelle noted.
The NFC has won five of nine Pro Bowl games, including the past two a year ago in Los Angeles. The AFC was a 13-7 winner. It's about the only thing the NFC has to brag about. The AFC won 36 of 52 games in 1979, the seventh time in the past eight seasons the AFC has won the series (the eighth was a tie). And Pittsburgh's 31-19 victory over Los Angeles gave the AFC the Super Bowl title for the seventh time in eight years and the 10th 14 games overall.

The group paid a staggering $21.1 million, a record price for a sports franchise, to get the Mets away from the Payson family, which has been principal owner of the team since it was born out of National League expansion in 1962.

"We wouldn't pay it if we didn't think it was worth it," Wilpon said of the purchase price. "We think the National League baseball franchise in New York is the most valuable franchise in all sports."

The Mets have been a sad-sack, last-place team for the last three seasons and in 1979, when major league attendance soared to an all-time record of more than 43 million fans, less than 800,000 bothered to turn out at Shea Stadium to watch the club.

First Round In Three-Way Tie As...

Maids Stop Snyder Comeback

SAN ANGELO—Lake View's Maidens held off a last-minute rally by Snyder here Friday night, preventing any one of the five District 3-AAA teams from winning the first half of loop play outright. San Angelo, which led by 12 points with four minutes left in the game, watched as the Felines scrambled back to within two before the buzzer sounded to end the game at 57-55.

It was the second district game in a row which ended with hopes shattered.

King Downs Fromholtz

CHICAGO (AP)—Billie Jean King, despite temper tantrums, kept enough of her cool to squeeze out a 4-6, 6-4, 7-6 victory over Diane Fromholtz in a $200,000 women's tournament.

In other matches, Wendy Turnbull of Australia beat Sylvia Hanika of West Germany 7-6, 3-6, 6-1; top-seeded Martina Navratilova overpowered Greer Stevens 6-4, 6-3.

tered for a would-be champion team. Snyder downed a 3-0 Sweetwater team on Tuesday to gain a lock on the loop lead, but Lake View's efforts here Friday brought the Feline hopes to half in return.

The Lake View victory left Snyder, Sweetwater and the Maids all tied with one district loss apiece, though San Angelo was to face Brownfield in a make-up game Saturday.

A full-court press initiated by the Maids was apparently the key to the game. Snyder shot well from the floor, but committed a number of costly turnovers. The Felines also effected a strong press, but San Angelo's did the trick in the third quarter, and it was enough to take the victory.

Snyder led only once in the game, when Jamie Hataway hit a 15-footer with 6 minutes left in the second quarter to put the Felines ahead 20-19. But Lake View's Cindy Gold and Denise Baker countered with back-to-back buckets and Snyder never quite saw daylight again.

The Maids had built a 32-28 halftime lead and Snyder threatened when Tracey O'Day scored early in the third quarter to make it a two-point game. The hosts committed several turnovers, giving Snyder a chance, but the Felines were unable to add more points.

Gold and Baker hit consecutive baskets again, and Lake View eventually took a 48-41 lead into the fourth quarter. The Maids pushed it to 56-44 with four minutes to play before Snyder scored the next nine points to trim the margin to 56-53.

Lake View failed to take advantage of some late trips to the stripe during that scoring spree by Snyder, led by five points from Hataway, two from O'Day and a pair of free throws from Sandy Sewell.

Within the 30-second range, Snyder had a couple of opportunities to cut the margin more, but the shots bounced from the rim. Maiden Amy Abbott scored a free throw with 25 seconds left to put Lake View up 57-53. Hataway then delivered a long jumper to cut the lead to two points, but time ran out before the Felines could get the ball back.

O'Day led Snyder scorers with 22 points while Hataway racked up 15 and Sewell had seven. Gold dropped in 20 points for the Maids and Lynda Rogers and Abbott had 12 and 10 respectively.

The loss puts Snyder at 14-8 on the season and 3-1 in loop play. Lake View is 2-1 and 17-5. Snyder travels to Lamesa on Jan. 29 for an 8 p.m. ballgame which will open round-two play.

Lake View junior varsity also won here Friday, defeating Snyder 40-39. Michelle Townsel scored 18 points for Snyder.

Bruised Dusters Win Over Cisco College

STEPHENVILLE—Western Texas College's Dusters were to battle Howard County College at noon Saturday in semifinal action of the Tarleton State Tournament. The victor was to meet either Tarleton or Midwestern in the championship game at 8 p.m.

The Dusters, which have extended their record to 18-6 here, galloped past Cisco Junior College 76-64 Friday night. WTC had downed East Texas State University 92-65 in the tourney opener Thursday.

Coach Joe Cushing meanwhile, is happy about the wins, but less than pleased about the officiating here.

"We're bruised all over," he said. "I was afraid we'd get somebody hurt. It's like a battle out there (on the court)."

You wouldn't think so. After all, WTC has shot 73 free throws in the last two games to score 56 points from the charity stripe alone. But Cushing says that's not enough.

"Shoot, they (the officials) could be calling a lot more. It's unreal. You wouldn't believe it."

Back to the situation at hand, almost, he added. "Hopefully we can get past Howard and play in the championship game tonight (Saturday)." This one's going to be tough, though."

Howard and WTC have met once before this season, in conference play with the Dusters taking a 77-69 win. Though they haven't met on the court other than that, they've been at two other tournaments together.

Linda Holubec got on track to lead the Dusters with 24 points against Cisco Friday. Teammate Katie Fisher added 14 and Shari Teal basketed 15. Jennifer Gregg and Liz Hooper scored nine points apiece.

Velencia Douglas got nearly half of Cisco's points to lead the Wranglers with 30.

Tigers Take Care Of Chiefs, 48-36

SAN ANGELO—Coach George Byerly might agree that his Snyder Tigers didn't look like world-beaters here Friday night, but don't underestimate his feelings. "Anytime you win on the road you're happy," he said, grinning as evidence of his club's 48-36 victory over the Lake View Chiefs. "I'm just glad we won. We got good play out of a lot of people. That's one of the things we've had going for us all year, our bench strength. When somebody is down, someone else can come in and do the job."

Snyder began doing a job on the Chiefs when Eric Arnold came up with a three-point play midway through the third quarter to give the Tigers a 30-27 lead. Mark Preston made it 32-27 with 1:45 left the period, and that's the way the stanza ended.

Kyle Short hit a pair of free throws and Thomas Selmon bagged a field goal to open the final quarter, pushing the visitors in front 36-27.

Lake View got two points back from the charity stripe, but with 3:42 left, Arnold re-strung the cords on another three-point play. Brad Richardson added a bucket, and Snyder had a 41-29 advantage.

A solid zone defense kept the Lake View offense from being more effective. Snyder held the district's leading scorer, Charles Clemons, to 13 points, and limited 6-4 Stanley Laing to nine.

The Tigers had a chance to stack up the points against the Chiefs, but were unable to take real advantage of several trips to the free stripe late in the game. Arnold, who led the Cat scoring with 15 points, did go five-for-five from the line, and Short, who had 12 points, was four-for-five. Richardson and Kris Seale basketed eight points apiece.

The victory gives Snyder a 19-4 record, 2-0 in District 3-AAA play. Lake View falls to 10-7 and 0-2.

In other play here Friday, Lake View boy's junior varsity nipped the visitors 39-36. Keith Wallace scored 10 points while Joe Garcia had seven for Snyder.

Jan. 29, Snyder travels to Lamesa. The Tors, 15-6 on the season and 2-0 in loop play, defeated Brownfield on Friday, 54-44.

TOUGH DEFENSE—Snyder and Lake View both gave good defensive efforts Friday, but San Angelo's press enabled the Maidens to take a 12-point lead early in the fourth quarter and hang on to defeat the Felines 57-55. At top above, Sandy Sewell under pressure from Lavonne Cauley, looks for a teammate. In the lower photo, Cindy Gold and Cauley work on Snyder's Tracey O'Day. (SDN STAFF PHOTO)

Saving doesn't necessarily mean not spending. It means shopping for value and spending wisely. That's why people who want to save shop the many values advertised in the Classified columns of their newspaper.

to," she said.
Robby Trevey, a senior at high school, said, "If the Russians don't pull out of Afghanistan, we'll have to do something."
Trevey indicated he favored a return to the draft because it's the only way we can get a strong enough army.

A native of New York, Tonya Johnson has lived in Sweetwater the past two years. She is now a freshman at WTC. She does not favor an American boycott of the Olympics.
"The others (countries) will compete," she said. The U.S., she indicated, would be depriving itself by a boycott.

The draft question drew the following response from Miss Johnson: "A person should decide for himself if he wants to go into the armed services."
Mark Thomas, a WTC sophomore from Alaska, said the Soviet Union should be penalized for its Afghanistan incursion.
"I think the Olympics should be moved to the U.S. or Canada," he said.
A return to the draft is needed, he feels.

"Yes, we need it," he said. In a draft, he indicated, a wide mixture of people are inducted into the armed forces and that action captures a "higher caliber of people."

Senior Citizen Handles Burglar With Equalizer

By GREG THOMPSON
Associated Press Writer
SAN ANTONIO (AP)—There's nothing like a loaded pistol to even things up. Just ask 89-year-old Fred Green and the unarmed, 24-year-old alleged burglar he apprehended—thanks to a warning shot through the man's trouser leg.

"I wasn't scared of him," Green said Friday. "I had the difference there in my hand. I would have had to kill him if he'd tried to wrestle that pistol away from me. I told him that.
"I don't want to hurt anybody; I'm a Christian man," he added. "But I have to protect my property."

He wanted to take that pistol from me. I backed off, but he kept coming at me. I told him I wasn't going to kill him, but I was going to shoot his legs.

Course Set On Keeping Farm Records

Methods of farm and ranch records will be studied in a Community Services course scheduled to begin Feb. 11 at Western Texas College.

Classes will meet from 6:30-9:30 p.m. on Mondays and Thursdays for two weeks, a total of 24 hours of instruction. Fees will be $25 per person.

Kent Mills, assistant professor of Farm & Ranch Management, will be instructor for the course.

Included in the course will be a description of types and uses of records, methods of setting up a record system, the "hows" of keeping records, analyzing records, budgeting and planning, and income tax.

Persons interested in enrolling are to call the Community Services office at 573-8511, extension 240. Fees may be paid at the first class meeting, but advance registration is urged so that plans for the course can be finalized.

Senior Center To Mark Anniversary

Senior Citizens will mark the first anniversary of the Senior Center in its present location with a special skit before lunch on Monday.

The Senior Center was first housed in the Learning Resource Center at Western Texas College. It was moved to the county-owned building at 2603 Avenue M along with several county offices after a major remodeling project and dedication ceremonies were held on Jan. 28, 1979. The first meal was served in the Center's spacious dining room on Jan. 29, 1979.

County commissioners have been invited to be guests for the Monday program. The skit will be a take-off on some situations the commissioners encountered during the preparation of the new Center. Appearing in the skit will be Estelle Gary, Mildred Lewis, Millie Tutor, Blanche Arnold, Edna Harris, Owen Miller and Virginia Whitson.

Blanche Chisum, Scurry County Home Economics Extension Agent, will present a program on nutrition before the noon meal on Wednesday.

All Scurry County residents 60 years of age or older are invited to participate in activities at the Senior Center. It is open each weekday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and on Thursday evenings. Information about the Center may be obtained by calling the office at 573-0104 or visiting the facility.

3 Students In Workshop

Three Snyder High School students and a teacher attended a student council workshop in Austin, reports high school principal Ray Courtney.

Students attending the Lake Travis Advance Leadership Workshop were Darrell Collins, Melanie Jarrell, and Dalinda Roberts. Eddie Williams, a SHS teacher and faculty sponsor, also went. The workshop was held Thursday and Friday.

ASTRO-GRAPH

Bernice Bede Osol

January 27, 1980
This coming year could be a very lively one socially. If you're in the single category, you may have more offers to change your status than you can handle.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Unfortunately, the odds could be stacked against you today in speculative or risky ventures. Avoid the impulse to take the chances on anything of which you're unsure. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter, Main $1-for-each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) This is definitely not a day to let things go till the last minute. Should you do so, you'll give your tasks a lick and a promise and accomplish nothing well.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You are apt to have a great many irons in the fire today, and that's well and good. However, you'll be rejected if you expect others to do things for you that you should do yourself.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Today you could be plagued with a rash of small expenses. Watch your nickels and dimes. They could add up to more dollars than you want to spend.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Keeping secrets may be difficult for you today. Be especially careful about selecting someone with whom to discuss confidential matters.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Beware of a tendency today to create unnecessary problems for yourself. Don't strew your path with stones on which you might stub your toes.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Mixing business with pleasure could cause unforeseen complications today. Don't pry into friends' business nor permit them to pry yours.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Try not to get into a position today where you feel you have to prove yourself to others. Having someone saw off the limb you've put yourself out on would be very embarrassing.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your hunches could be very misleading today, so rely solely on your logic and common sense. If you don't deem an action totally practical, don't try it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) There is enough for you to do just to take care of your personal affairs today. If you try to manage someone else's you may end up with two headaches instead of one.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) It may be wise to forego making important decisions today because of the difficulty in assessing alternative. Sleep on the matter, then make your move.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Co-workers or helpers could be a trifle thin-skinned today, so treat them with kid gloves. Being too bossy could cause deep resentments.

January 28, 1980
Let your imagination and creativity have free reign this coming year and you'll find several ways to advance your present condition—rely on yourself—and not others to develop those assets.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) It is extremely important today that you don't try to hide anything from anybody. You'll get caught and would suffer severe embarrassment. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter, Main $1-for-each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) It'll pay big dividends if you do everything in your power to cooperate with difficult individuals today. They'll secretly appreciate your patience.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) An unproductive day is very likely today because you have a tendency to look at things in a confused manner. Get organized early.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Watch your pennies today. You could easily be hoodwinked into shelling out dollars for frivolous items, especially by the youngsters.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Personal plans may have to be set aside today in order to fulfill a demanding responsibility. Take care of it and get it out of the way.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) It's difficult to make sense of things today, so don't even try to unravel confusing issues. It would be like beating your head against a brick wall.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Proper handling of your personal resources is a must today. To avoid a permanent loss, take care with whom you do business or to whom you loan.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Facing the realities might prove a little difficult today. Don't let your desire for something overshadow the truth.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Hasty decisions will bring regrets later. Take the time to think things out, only then act on what you believe to be right.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) A strain might be felt today on a relationship of which you've always felt sure. Jumping to conclusions as to the reasons would be a mistake. Things will look better tomorrow.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your judgment might be slightly off course. Your usual optimistic attitude has deserted you today. Don't look at things so sternly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Trusting your memory to guide you when performing an important task could be a gross mistake. You could really botch the job.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The Indianapolis Museum of Art has published a comprehensive study of American artist William McGregor Paxton 1896-1941, illustrated with 53 full color plates.

Farm residents make up about 3 percent of the total United States population. The figure was 30 percent in 1920.

Kennedy Plans Policy Talk Monday

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy intends to end a long, private reassessment of his faltering presidential campaign next week with what aides say will be a "tough" major policy speech Monday followed by a two-week campaign blitz concentrating on New England.

Kennedy, battling for a comeback after his lead-off loss to President Carter in the Iowa caucuses, will try in his speech to "crystallize the issues he's been talking about" in his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination, an aide said Friday.

The aide, asking not to be identified by name, said Kennedy would discuss many of the same issues and events he speaks about on the campaign stump, including inflation, energy policies, national health insurance and events in Iran and Afghanistan as well as the general theme for leadership.

But this aide added, "I think it probably will be a lot tougher on the president, but also laying it on the line about the problems before the party and the country."

Kennedy has a very different view of the state of the union and of the Democratic Party than Carter does, the aide said. Kennedy also has purchased 30 minutes of television time Monday night throughout New England for an advertisement.

Kennedy's TV message will be "very similar to the speech," the official said. Press secretary Tom Southwick said Kennedy's cash short campaign already has the money for the 7:30 p.m. EST telecast. But he said he didn't know how much it would cost.

Meanwhile, a Carter aide said Friday that even if Kennedy wins in New England, his candidacy could be doomed if he spends all his remaining campaign money there.

The White House official, who asked not to be named, made it clear the Carter campaign will try to force Kennedy into heavy spending in New England in hopes he will have little left for later contests in other states.

"Our view is not to try to match him dollar for dollar and person for person but to make sure we respond to the allocation of resources in a way that will keep the pressure on," the official said.

Kennedy's new calendar calls for 15 days of non-stop campaigning beginning in New England on Wednesday. He leaves the Northeast Feb. 6 for two days in Florida and two more in Puerto Rico before returning to New England Feb. 10-15.

Kennedy abruptly canceled a scheduled weekend campaign trip to New England Thursday to prepare for his speech. He held a private meeting Friday with United Nations Secretary General Kurt Waldheim and arranged to receive private briefings today at the State Department and the Pentagon and at his Senate office from CIA officials.

Kennedy received a boost Friday when he won the endorsement of the 200,000-member Brotherhood of Railway and Airline Clerks. Union president Fred J. Kroll had given Kennedy his personal endorsement earlier.

Kennedy himself has said he must defeat Carter at their next two encounters—the Maine caucuses Feb. 10 and the New Hampshire primary Feb. 26—if he is to keep his candidacy alive.

Einstein Is Lecture Topic At Museum

The Universe of Dr. Einstein will be explored in a slide-lecture program set for 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Seurry County Museum at Western Texas College.

Dr. Shel Hillis, chairman of the Science and Mathematics Division at WTC, will present the 45-minute program. There will be no admission charge and the public is invited to attend. The program touches on the influence of Einstein's theories on our model of the universe, Hillis said. This program will be available for showing in the WTC planetarium at later times, Hillis added, and teachers who would like to arrange to have it shown for classes may contact him to make arrangements.

Medical Fund In Hermleigh

A fund has been started to defray the medical expenses of Mrs. Harold (Bobbie) Mason of Hermleigh. Mrs. Mason is currently at St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock where she underwent open heart surgery last week. This was the second open heart surgery she has had in the last year. Donations may be made through West Texas State Bank (the Bobbie Mason Fund) at several business locations in Hermleigh.

CLARK LUMBER

Couple Repeats Vows In Home Ceremony

Lisa Renea Dennis became the bride of Charles Ray Lee Jr. Dec. 21 in a ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Dennis. Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Lee Sr. of La Grange are parents of the bridegroom.

David Robertson, pastor of the First United Methodist Church performed the double ring ceremony. The couple exchanged silver wedding bands edged in gold with their names and wedding dates inscribed in each.

Rev. Robertson stood under a silver partitioned door covered with silk lily-of-the-valley. The couple stood between two white columnar pedestals topped with potted white azaleas. To the groom's right stood a grandfather clock belonging to the bride, handmade by the bride's paternal grandfather, the late Clyde Dennis. To the bride's left, the family Bible lay open at the genealogy table. Candlelight lent a soft glow to the entire setting. The wedding party entered the room as the clock struck 7.

Glenna Dennis, cousin of the bride, played the theme from "Ice Castles" as the matron of honor and flower girl entered. Theresa Bawcum, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a formal length mauve quiana gown with a blouson bodice, bell sleeves and a straight skirt and was adorned at the neckline with ivory lace.

Shanna Smith, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl. She wore a fitted cotton dress of printed mauve and ivory. Matching ribbon and ivory lace created the waistline. Ivory lace trimmed her full bell sleeves and formal length ruffled skirt. Baby's breath adorned her hair.

She carried a small nosegay of pink rosebuds, pink carnations and silk flowers of mauve tied with streamers of mauve ribbon. Miss Smith carried two long stemmed pink carnations and two silk roses that were presented to each mother.

The bride entered as the traditional "Wedding March" was played. She wore a formal length gown of ivory creped-back satin with hand applied roses of Alencon lace completely covering the skirt. A natural train tapered to the back of the dress from the empire waist. A rounded yoke of organza trimmed in lace and rose appliques featured a Victorian neckline. Her fitted sleeves were trimmed in the organza and matching lace.

The bride wore a wide-brimmed ivory hat of Alencon lace and appliques adorning the brim. A veil, encircling the crown of the hat and gathered at the back, falling to a three-quarter length, was adorned with appliques.

The bride carried a crescent shaded bouquet centered with a glamelia and filled with white feathered carnations. Springarie, greenery and lily-of-the-valley accented the shape.

Following tradition, the bride wore a diamond ring set belonging to her maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. C.U. McDaniel, and a cameo ring that belonged to her paternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Clyde Dennis. Something new was her gown, and a gold locket given to her by the groom. Something borrowed was a set of ruby earrings belonging to her sister, Theresa Bawcum, and a diamond necklace belonging to her mother. A blue garter made by Ms. Peggy English completed the tradition.

The groom was attired in a dark brown suit, beige shirt and brown printed tie. He wore a silk lily-of-the-valley boutonniere. Terry Kubena of Hermligh served as best man. All male attendants wore white carnation boutonnieres.

The bride's mother wore a burgundy velvet skirt with a long-sleeved pink lace blouse accented with a cameo necklace. The groom's mother was dressed in a blue and white checked knit dress with a sailor collar. Her matching dress coat completed the outfit.

A reception was held at the Snyder Country Club honoring the couple. Mrs. Sam McDaniel and Mrs. Ed McDaniel served in the houseparty. Mrs. Ricky Rice of Snyder presided at the registry. The bride's table was covered by a white lace tablecloth belonging to Mrs. Ed McDaniel. The square, three tiered ivory wedding cake was topped with a silk arrangement of mauve flowers and baby's breath. A mixed fruit punch was served by Dody Banks of New Home, while Clint Lester of Lubbock served the cake. The bride's bouquet was used as the centerpiece along with tall pedestals holding arrangements of fresh flowers.

The groom's table was also covered by a white lace tablecloth and held a square two-tiered chocolate cake covered with ivory flowers. Debra Littlepage served coffee from a pewter coffee service belonging to the bride's aunt, Mrs. Ed McDaniel. The matron of honor's nosegay was the centerpiece. Rose mints, of pink and mauve, and mixed nuts were served at both tables.

For her going away attire, the bride wore a cream-colored polyester blouse with rose corduroy slacks and matching plaid jacket. Her corsage was lifted from her bouquet.

The groom is a 1974 graduate of Snyder High School. He attended Texas Tech before entering the Navy in 1977. He is presently employed with Chevron.

The bride is a 1978 graduate of Snyder High, attended Texas Tech and is a candidate for spring graduation at WTC.

Following their brief wedding trip to Carlsbad, N.M., the couple resides at 901 23rd.

Out of town guests were from Lubbock, Wichita Falls, New Home, Houston, Splendor, Cisco and Oklahoma City, Okla.

Plan a half-and-half mix of upholstered and wood furniture, suggests Sue Young, a housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Upholstery adds softness to the total scheme while wood pieces provide an architectural solidity, the specialist explains.

HERMLEIGH NEWS

By ADALA DRENNAN

Mr. and Mrs. Dan (Val-aree) Wright of Abernathy and daughter Mona of Olton, and Mrs. Dessie Lee Beavers of Lubbock visited Mr. and Mrs. Herman Richburg and Mrs. Carrie Lou McQuaid Saturday morning. They were enroute to Sweetwater where they were to be the guests of their brother, Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Ruminer. The Wrights' son, Robin, is attending Lubbock Christian College in Lubbock and is to graduate in April. He has gone into the ministry and will further his ministerial studies for three years elsewhere. Mr. and Mrs. Wright and her sister, Mrs. Beavers, are former residents of Hermleigh.

The Sons of Herman held their regular meeting Jan. 12 at the German School House. During the social hour The Southern Instrumentalist (Quincy and Jay Richburg) of Sweetwater furnished music for dancing. They recently played at the Roscoe Nursing home and about 30 patients enjoyed their music. In observance of Heart Week, this group will play there Feb. 11, and friends of the patients and Richburg's are asking those interested to attend.

Sunday afternoon Mrs. Imogene Nixon, Mrs. Louise Vest, Mrs. Sharon Nixon and Mrs. Marlene Richburg were hostesses for a surprise birthday party at the Hermleigh Community Center honoring Mrs. Pearl Watts on her 82 birthday. Mrs. Nixon gave a brief history of Mrs. Watts' life, showing pictures of her courtship days and told of the many people who had practically adopted her as their "Aunt Pearl."

Several guests added memories that were of interest. Mrs. Vernon Vest poured punch from a crystal punch service and Mrs. Jerry Vernon served beautiful trimmed birthday cake, with nuts and mints from a lace-covered table over pink with an arrangement of pink asters and white daisies centering the table. Guests attending were Mrs. Ben Nachlinger, Jerry Vernon, Sharon Farmer, Jennifer and Tony Farmer, Mary Neal Mayo, Vera Farr, Eula Farr, Charlene Merritt, Evelyn and Martin Murphy, Loraine Barfoot, Linda Hughes, Jean Henry, Mildred Garrett, Dean Wemken, Charlene Dacus, Rhonda Dacus, Ophelia Hobbs, Rev. Claude Nixon, Cecil Nixon and little Charlie Nixon, Ocene Mayo, Winnie Richburg, Wanda Nixon, Pattie Melton, Nina Aihart, Olin and Verda Johnson, Mary Evelyn Hanson and Adala Drennan. Many sent gifts who were unable to attend. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Paul Stratton of Wichita Falls are the parents of a baby boy born Jan. 19, and has been named Randy Paul. Mrs. Stratton is the former Teresa Gannaway, daughter of the Homer Rueben Gannaways. Stratton is in the Air Force in Wichita Falls. Little Randy Paul has the honor of having 12 living grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo Soules made a trip to El Paso recently to visit his sister, Mrs. Carl Price, who is in the Providence Hospital. Mrs. Mary Zalman, who was rushed to Cogdell Hospital Wednesday night, is reported to be resting much better. Jackie Roemisch, who has been in Cogdell hospital for the past three weeks with a broken foot, is due to be released Thursday, and is doing satisfactorily.

The Needlecraft Club met Wednesday for their covered-dish luncheon and needle work instead of the usual Tuesday, due to the bad weather. Nine members attended. Renea and Matt Jackson of Snyder visited their paternal grandparents the O.B. Jackson's last week. Mrs. Bobby Mason is still in critical condition from heart surgery in Lubbock at St. Mary's Hospital. A "Bobby Mason" fund has been started at the West Texas State Bank, and anyone contributing to this fund may either pay there or mail in their contribution. The Hermleigh Community group met for their monthly business meeting and covered dish supper on Thursday evening. A large group attended. Plans were discussed for the annual spring bazaar and bake sale in March. A clean up project for the entire town is also set for March. A committee was appointed to start work on the scrapbook, which will be of interest to everyone.

The Booster Club extends their sincere thanks to all who participated in the candy sale before Christmas. The sale was reported successful. Four local businesses will take donations toward the "Bobby Mason" fund. They are Merle's Beauty Shop, Boyce Jones Grocery, Julie Reece Beauty Shop and Hollis Ward Butane Company.

Lonnie Bruce is still in the Health Science Hospital in Lubbock on 6th St. undergoing tests, then he is to be transferred to Cogdell Hospital. Herbert Zinke is critically ill in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. The recent snow has put quite a bit of much needed moisture in the ground, but a good rain would be appreciated also. There are still quite a few modules of cotton still in the fields.

Curtis Tate, son of Donald Tate and student at ACU in Abilene made the honor role the first semester. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Tate and Mrs. Johnny Paul.

The Supreme Court upheld prohibition in 1919.

ZAP CLUTTER. GET ORGANIZED.

Lost recipes. Missing music scores. Bulging closets. A sea of newspaper clippings. Vanishing warranty books. Clutter everywhere! Sound familiar? If so, you may be suffering from a common malady—disorganization. Start now for a new organized year!

Don't let it control your life. Be your own expert organizer and make clutter disappear.

Disorganization can strike anyone—advanced symptoms include absolute chaos and growing despair.

If you are spending more time searching for things than using them, it's time to put life in order and cope more effectively with everyday living.

Anyone can become organized if they are willing to spend enough time to study and solve their problems.

Only four things need organizing: space, things, time and tasks.

Try a few ideas for starters:

SPACE
● Organize storage space. Kitchens and closets need periodic reviews. To make storage space usable, keep often-used items close to the area of use. Make items easy-to-see and reach.

THINGS
● Assess clutter realistically. Just how much of it is really needed? Learn when to discard or recycle things—unless creating a national museum in your home is a goal.

Learn how to deal with paper—toss it, use it or file it.

Set up a home filing system for readily accessible papers. Use different color folders for stashing papers—and don't forget about the alphabet!

TIME
● Learn to make the most of time. Use a central family calendar to keep track of everyone's activities and responsibilities.

Don't over-organize your time. Instead, use odd moments and waiting time for mini-projects.

TASKS
● Organize routine tasks, such as housecleaning. Make a list of housecleaning activities to be completed weekly, monthly and annually. Schedule them on the calendar. Divide responsibilities among family members.

Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

One notrump opening hand

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

In the first days of contract the notrump bid was a sort of football to be kicked around by writers. Culbertson used a different notrump every year. Sims used a strong notrump. No one knew just how strong, but it varied from what would be a modern 18 HCP up to 23 or 24.

Lenz used a weak notrump. And so on, ad infinitum. It remained for Oswald Jacoby, who was trying to teach his tennis playing wife the game of bridge, to introduce a point-count notrump that has been practically unchanged since 1932. Maybe that notrump has real permanency. 1980 will mark the Jacobys' 48th wedding anniversary. And Mrs. J still claims that her husband tends to cheat and open 15-point notrumps when he plays with her. Mr. J claims that the husband still has the right to bid most of the notrumps (women's lib to the contrary) and has the overtricks to prove it.

Seriously, the standard notrump is 16-18 HCP but nearly all experts reduce the limits to 15-17. You readers take your pick, but do not, repeat do not, use 15-18. All notrump openings should be precise bids and if you have too wide a high-card margin, you lose too much precision.

Notrump Pattern
The opening notrump should show a balanced hand with one of these three patterns: 4-3-3-3, 4-4-3-2, or 5-3-3-2. This has been standard since 1932, but there has been one change. In 1932 we required that if there were a doubleton, it had to include one of the three top honors. Today we bid it with the jack and lots of players open notrump with any doubleton at all.

What Not to Do
Don't fall too much in love with notrump openings. In particular, don't bid a 19-point notrump. More important, don't ever open notrump with a singleton. Such hands are so likely to play better in a suit that you want to start with a suit bid. Finally, when your partner opens notrump tend to prefer a final notrump game contract to an 11-trick minor suit game. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Strawberry Mousse For Sweethearts

By Aileen Claire
NEA Food Editor
St. Valentine's Day is a perfect time to send sweet notes or cards to loved ones of all ages. Especially thoughtful at this time is a gift of a sweet, preferably one that is homemade.

A strawberry mousse with rum makes a party treat that all your sweethearts will enjoy. You may divide the recipe into small individual cups to take to those who are bedridden or in senior citizens residences.

STRAWBERRY MOUSSE WITH RUM

1 quart fresh strawberries
3/4 cup sugar
2 tablespoons Bacardi light rum
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 pint heavy cream, whipped
Fresh mint leaves or shaved chocolate curls or extra whole perfect berries (optional)

Wash and hull strawberries. Mash or process in food processor or blender until crushed. Add sugar. Stir gently until sugar is dissolved.

Measure rum into small pan. Sprinkle gelatin over rum. Allow to stand a moment or two until gelatin is softened.

Place over low heat. Cook, stirring until mixture is clear, and gelatin is dissolved, about 2 or 3 minutes. Cool then combine with sweetened fruit.

Fold whipped cream into strawberry mixture. Spoon into oiled mold or decorative bowl. Refrigerate until firm, about 3 hours. (You may refrigerate up to 2 days before serving.)

To serve, unmold onto chilled platter. Decorate with berries, fresh mint leaves or shaved chocolate curls.

This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8 servings.

Hear The Pigs Feet?

By Gaynor Maddox
Can you hear the sound of little pigs' feet trotting to your table?
Pork is coming back. There are several reasons. First, pork is no longer a fat meat. Breeders have insured that today's young pig has the same ratio of fat as a young beef steer.

Pork is a good source of protein. It has no more calories than beef and comes in many cuts.

Another reason for pork's popularity in these inflationary times is that it is less expensive than beef, lamb or veal.

The Agriculture Department predicts record levels of pork production through much of 1980. Production may exceed the 1979 total by 8 percent to 11 percent.

These large pork supplies will keep downward pressure on retail pork and market hog prices, notes the government.

This does not mean inexpensive food, of course. But it does mean less expensive food.

Years ago pork was the favorite meat in most American homes. Then beef rose to the top. Now the two are running close.

A lordly roast loin of pork used to appear often on the dinner table. Today it is seldom served.

Yet, pork loin makes a tasty and relatively economical roast for a large family. Serve it with applesauce spiked with horseradish.

Among the fresh pork cuts recommended by the American Meat Institute are the following:

Pork leg whole, fresh ham, pork leg fresh ham whole. To cook, roast.

Roiled fresh ham, pork leg roast (boneless), fresh ham (boneless). To cook, roast.

Butt portion, fresh ham, pork leg, butt portion, fresh ham butt, pork leg-roast sirloin portion. To cook, roast.
Fresh ham center-cut-roast, pork leg center-roast, center roast fresh ham. To cook, roast.
Fresh ham center slices, center fresh ham slices, fresh pork leg steak, leg of pork steak, fresh ham center cut. To cook, braise, broil or pan fry.

Pork leg shank portion, fresh ham shank portion, pork leg roast shank portion. To cook, roast or cook in liquid.
We may even start enjoying pigs feet again. Incidentally, you can buy them in jars or make them yourself.

Sweater girl

Sweaters are the "in" fashion this year, and what better way to stay warm while flattering your figure. If you're small-busted and tall, try any of the new styles: bulky hand knits, bright colors, gathered or padded shoulders, patterns. If you're short, avoid overpowering details and colors that contrast sharply with pants or shirt.

Big-busted women should choose flat, non-cungy knits in solid colors and make sure to wear a bra that molds and supports. A cardigan will divert attention from a too-large stomach or hips.

She Has Titanic Sinking Feeling

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1980 by Chicago Tribune News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My friend Alice has been terrified of water all her life. She wants to take some cruises, so Alice consulted a therapist to help her overcome her fear of water.

She said that her therapist hypnotized her and learned that in a previous life Alice had been a passenger on the Titanic and was drowned when it sank, and that is why she has such a terrible fear of water!

I am beginning to think my friend is bonkers, and her therapist is either a nut or a fraud.

Abby, what do you make of all this "previous life" business?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: I wouldn't say that Alice is bonkers, nor would I call her therapist a nut or a fraud. Some very knowledgeable and intelligent people buy the theory that we have all lived previous lives and will return after this life to live many more.

I don't buy it. And until there is evidence that I can understand and accept, I remain,

Very truly yours,
UNCONVINCED

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my 14-year daughter. She's a tall, pretty girl, but her posture is terrible! I keep reminding her to hold her shoulders back and to sit and stand straight, but every time I look at her she's all hunched over and stooped shouldered. (She sits in a crouched position with one leg curled under her.)

She says maybe she would improve if I quit nagging her. How can I quit? I love her and want her to have a lovely posture. I'm afraid it's too late already because she's made a habit of slouching. I just hate to see a young, beautiful girl look like a hunchbacked old lady. Can you help me? No names, please. She's hostile enough as it is.

WELL-MEANING MOM

DEAR MOM: Poor posture can be due to a growth disturbance of the spine. Untreated, it becomes a permanent hunchback, but if treated early it can be corrected. Ask your daughter to remove her clothes and bend forward. If there is a noticeable "hump" on her back, or if her ribs are more prominent on one side than the other, she has an actual deformity, and should be examined by an orthopedic surgeon.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a rather large woman, 56, neat, well-groomed and far from ugly. I've been married for 35 years to a handsome man who neither drinks nor smokes, but he loves to dance. I love to dance, too, but I have arthritis in both knees, so my dancing days are over.

I have no money worries, live in a nice home, own my own car, so I can come and go as I please. I play bingo about three times a week.

My problem is that my husband goes dancing every Friday and Sunday, while I'm playing bingo. Different friends have told me that I'm a fool to let my husband go dancing without me, but it's no fun to go and sit while he dances with other women. He tells me that all the women he dances with know he's married. He always wears his wedding band and is usually home before I am. I could make things miserable by telling him I would rather he didn't go dancing since I can't dance, but why should I begrudge him the pleasure of doing something I know he enjoys so much?

Abby, I'm so afraid that one day he will come home and tell me he has found someone else. I don't nag him about it, but do you think I'm a fool for letting him go dancing without me?

WORRIED WIFE

DEAR WORRIED: Yes, as long as you feel threatened. Go with him for a while. It may not be "fun," but it may clear up some of those doubts. It's usually the fear of the unknown that creates uneasiness and worry.

CONFIDENTIAL TO K.D. IN K.C.: To paraphrase an old Chinese saying, "The tongue is the sword that slits the throat." Keep your lip zipped.

Teen: Are there some questions you just can't ask anyone about sex, drugs, your own feelings? Get Abby's new booklet, WHAT TEENAGERS OUGHT TO KNOW. Send $2 to Abby, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Enclose a long, stamped (28 cents), self-addressed envelope.

Double Murder Suspect Charged

CLEBURNE (AP)— A 24-year-old Cleburne man wife, Joyce Jean Ingram, has been charged with strangling his wife and suffocating the couple's 5-month-old son.

The body of Ingram was recovered Thursday afternoon from Nolan River, west of the Rio Vista community, about nine miles south of Cleburne. Shortly before midnight Thursday, the body of David Wayne Ingram II, 5 months, was recovered from Old Foamy Creek about two miles south of Cleburne.

David Wayne Ingram was in Johnson County Jail. Justice of the Peace Joe Y. Post arraigned Ingram Thursday night and set his bond at $100,000 on each count.

robert walters

WASHINGTON (NEA)— Jimmy Carter's campaign team is proving to be as inept and disorganized as the president's White House staff. It could cause him much trouble at a time when his political star appears to be on the rise.

Political foul-ups large and small are the order of the day—and some of them are almost funny. Take, for example, the president sending letters to a large group of Democrats congratulating them on their election victories last month. It made good sense, but for one small detail: They all had lost in November. The White House had used the wrong list.

Some of the errors, though, are far more serious. The political pros are still shaking their heads over the monumental Carter goof in Illinois.

Immediately after Chicago Mayor Jane Byrne jumped ship, the Carter people, led by campaign boss Bob Strauss, began to woo her biggest foes in the party, including Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, State Sen. Richard Daley and several other influential members of the Cook County Democratic Central Committee. Strauss and Company were making real progress and some major endorsements loomed that would lessen the impact of Mayor Byrne's defection.

Meanwhile, over on the Kennedy side, the situation was deteriorating for Jerry Dougherty, a Boston attorney and long-time political organizer who ran the 1976 Carter campaign in New York. Now he is Kennedy's man in Illinois and Mayor Byrne's support was causing him big problems with Cook County independents and anti-Byrne party regulars. Even those people who were expected to be pro-Kennedy were telling Dougherty they could not support anyone the mayor backed.

Enter Transportation Secretary Neil Goldschmidt. He told a press conference it was time for the administration to play hardball and he would start the game by withholding federal funds under his control from Chicago because "you just can't take the woman's (Mayor Byrne's) word."

Within hours the roof caved in. The Carter people in Illinois began a series of frantic calls to the White House. All their delicate negotiations were falling apart, they said, and the publicly made blunt threat was causing local Democrats to close ranks behind Mayor Byrne.

Goldschmidt and high White House aides then began to make frantic calls of their own, telling the anti-Byrne powerhouses that the administration didn't mean it. It was too late, though, and key Chicago Democrats who were set to rally behind Carter now say they do not dare.

Most of the experts believe the problem in the Carter camp is that, until Strauss was appointed, no one was in charge. And Strauss's appointment, instead of infusing the campaign with a degree of professionalism, has only managed to make things worse.

The reason? Bruised egos. No one doubts that Strauss, a former Democratic national chairman, has what it takes to do the job. But Carter regulars, fiercely loyal to campaign manager Tim Kraft, resent an "outsider" being brought in over him. Kraft himself reportedly regards Strauss's appointment as a personal affront.

The Strauss-Kraft feud already has manifested itself in a number of damaging ways.

Strauss, for example, hired Bob Squire, considered by many to be the best political media man around these days, who had the winning John Y. Brown campaign in Kentucky, to produce the initial Carter campaign film. Those who have seen it say it is a political masterpiece. Strauss apparently agrees because he wanted Squire to handle media for the entire campaign.

That did not sit well with the Kraft crowd, who saw another outsider being brought in over another insider, in this case Carter intimate Gerald Raftershoon. Exm Squire, who is undoubtedly much more talented than Raftershoon.

Caught in the middle of all this is Hamilton Jordan. It was Jordan who pushed Strauss into the top campaign spot, but he can't seem to convince his cronies to accept Strauss and his leadership.

He knows he has to, though, because Carter cannot endure too many more goofs such as Goldschmidt's press conference.

freedom shows gains

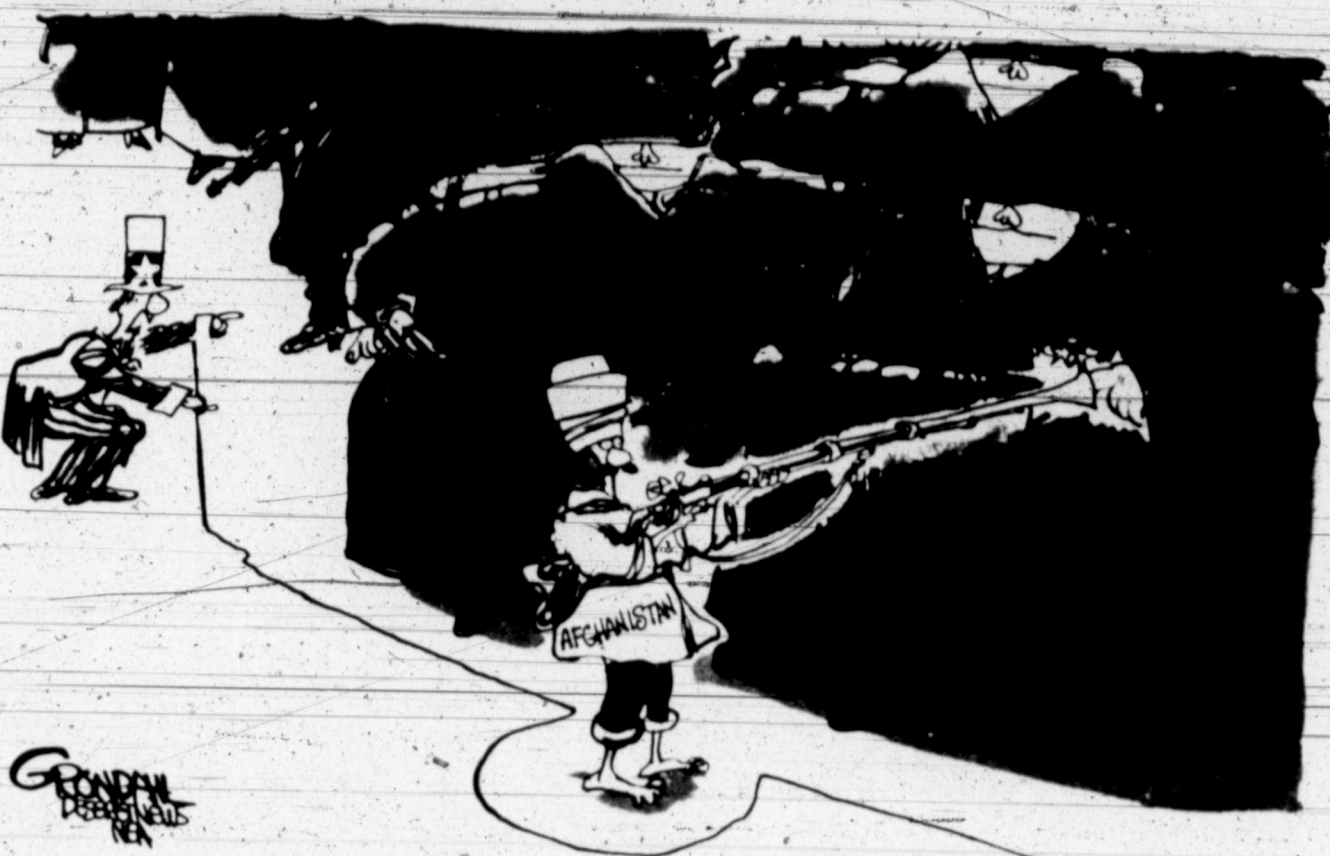

Good news: Last year the number of people living in comparative freedom increased—this according to Freedom House. The non-partisan national organization says about 1,601,300,000 people, 37 percent of the world's population, are now living in what can be considered a free nation. This is fewer than four out of ten people, but it is an improvement over last year—and any improvement in these statistics is reason for cheer.

Freedom House has kept up a close surveillance on the conditions in the various nations for eight years, and what they observed was not always as positive as this year's findings. Freedom House has established criteria which helps them monitor conditions of freedom around the world. Their criteria include: the right to organize for religious, economic, and recreational purposes; the lack of restrictions on travel, residency, occupation, and education; free express in newspapers, radio, and television. With these things in mind Freedom House found that out of 161 countries: 51 are free; 55 are partly free; and 55 are not free.

Although free nations are still outnumbered, some interesting things took place in 1979. Four of the world's most brutal regimes were overthrown. These governments—in Cambodia, Uganda, Equatorial Guinea, and the Central African Empire—were a blot on humanity. Progress, although less dramatic, was made in Nigeria, Brazil, Chile, Ecuador, Peru, Rhodesia, and several European nations, according to Freedom House.

Obviously all the news from last year was not good news. Freedom lost ground in Pakistan, Turkey, and tiny Grenada. The degree of freedom also decreased in the Dominican Republic, Guyana, Taiwan, and Transkei. Conditions remained as bleak as ever in the rest of the many unfree nations.

One interesting phenomenon last year was the increased and subsequent decrease of freedom in China and Iran. In China wall posters called for democracy early in 1979; by the end of the year those who painted the posters had been arrested. In Iran freedom of expression reached a peak in January and February. The shah left on Jan. 16, 1979, and by the end of the year Freedom House found that freedom had again declined—perhaps to a level below that of when the shah was in control.

"And don't you DARE step across this line!"

throwing away oil

Big Oil is not too big to be moved by public pressure. In early January, Exxon and Gulf announced they would not allow their affiliated stations to charge gasohol on company credit cards.

The oil companies have been publicly proclaiming themselves in favor of developing and using other forms of energy, yet their instinctive resentment of this competition from alcohol fuel became apparent when they limited its sale by company stations.

Some of us publicly lamented those companies' arrogant ineptitude; within a week the companies announced they would accept credit cards for the purchase of gasohol and Texaco announced that it would be selling gasohol at 1,100 stations by early spring.

There is something else we can do to extend our petroleum supplies. We can stop throwing away plastic items made of petroleum.

But again, Big Oil, instinctively, is going to resent and resist this husbandry.

In a complex, interlaced economic system, significant changes necessarily come slowly.

Only a dictator could switch us to other energies overnight with no regard for the disruption, displacement and unemployment that would inevitably result.

Evolution, at its most accelerated pace, is agonizingly gradual.

But there are some things our nation can do immediately to make more fuel available.

We can use more nuclear energy. We can use more coal. We can use more alcohol fuel.

And we can stop throwing away oil—in the form of plastics.

Most plastics are made from petroleum; 1.5 percent of all petroleum goes into plastics. During the days when oil was $2 a barrel, we discovered we could easily afford to make many things "disposable."

Thus we developed throwaway cigarette lighters and coffee cups, throwaway flashlights and safety razors.

Now that $2 oil is costing us $30 and more, we can no longer afford to throw it away.

Yet we still do.

We throw away coffee

stirrers and ballpoint pens. We throw away diapers with plastic liners. We throw away the total output of a lot of oil wells when we throw away plastic pop bottles.

Let me say that eventually the cost factor will drive us away from plastic containers and back to glass—made of sand—of which our nation has more than enough. Also, glass containers can be recycled with a further energy saving.

And it's not necessary to plow under the entire plastics industry. We merely need to reach Americans to wash diapers and refill their lighters and their safety razors.

It's difficult to realize that we once got along without those plastic garbage bags—but we did.

historical litter

The more that is learned about man's existence in ancient times, the more it displays an uncanny similarity to some aspects of life today.

A recent discovery is reported from Egypt where archaeologists have dug up quantities of amphorae—containers once used to transport wine and other liquids. Holding more than 6 gallons each and dating from the period of the Roman occupation, the amphorae were similar to those found at many other sites dating from that earlier era except for one touch new to the archaeologists.

Masses of discarded plugs were also found. These apparently had once been placed in the mouths of the amphorae, impressed with a seal and covered with distinctive paint in what the discoverers interpret as a significant advance toward modern marketing. They provided a means of standardizing and systemizing bulk shipments in the flourishing trade of the times.

More, each plug was attached to strings, obviously intended for facilitating their removal. In short, history's first pop tops.

There is no indication as yet, however, whether deposits were required on the amphorae.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "With so many women filling men's shoes today, we wonder if their feet are getting any bigger."

It's a rare person that doesn't get discouraged. Whether it happens to us or an associate we're trying to cheer up, the answer centers around one word: perseverance.

The value of courage, persistence and perseverance has rarely been illustrated more than in the life story of one man. Below are some events that occurred with his age at that time:

- Failed in business, 22; defeated for legislator, 23; failed again in business, 24; elected to legislature, 25; sweetheart died, 26; had nervous breakdown, 27; defeated for speaker, 29; defeated for elector, 31; defeated for congress, 34; elected to congress, 37; defeated for congress, 39; defeated for senate, 46; defeated for vice president, 47; defeated for senate, 49; elected president, age 51.

That's the record of Abraham Lincoln.

Down at the Texas Press Association convention in Arlington this week, a publisher friend of ours reported that a friend of his had retired as publisher of a country newspaper in Oregon.

"At the tender age of 49," he said, "this friend has cashed in his chips, a millionaire. When pressed, he related how he was able to retire with $991,535 in the bank."

The man revealed his secret for success which included the following items:

- 1. Insistence on a quality product.
- 2. Strict adherence to the principles of effective management.
- 3. Stringent operating efficiencies.
- 4. Close relationship with employees.
- 5. A devotion to study and adoption of new processes.
- 5. To the recent death of a relative who left me $991,000 in cash.

Even with all the current problems, there's no better land than the good of USA.

For instance, Sweden, that lovely land that made it illegal for parents to spank their children, has really outdone itself.

The latest brainstorm seeks to give children the right to divorce their parents. One divorce proceedings are initiated, according to the proposed bill, a court would decide whether or not to grant the separation.

KUTZEBUE, Alaska (AP)—Brigham Young University is lending a hand to the Eskimos of Kutzebue in the tundra regions not far from Russia.

In an effort to help increase production in family gardens, fertilizer, irrigation equipment and know-how have been brought into areas that previously were dependent upon hauling water by hand.

Tony Scheurch, a BYU graduate who lives in Kutzebue, directs the project and, when necessary, travels by air to aid individual families.

I reserve judgment. You haven't the nerve to speak up.

A not-so-old-timer is any one who can recall when you got a cheburger instead of an in-car radio when you asked for a car.

We wish that people who insist on using nonsense words like "tough" would upshut.

I hesitated a moment before rolling the window down, and then only rolled it down partway and tried to say "I was sorry."

But he wouldn't let me utter a word! I tried to interrupt him, but he would just go off on another tirade. I tried smiling, but that only made him madder.

I wanted to break some good news to him, but he wouldn't give me the chance. Fortunately he had to take a breath, so I jumped in.

(Now I really know why God made the lungs with a limited capacity—it's the only way negative people can be turned off for a second.)

In the brief time, I looked him in the eye and said, "God loves you and I'm trying!"

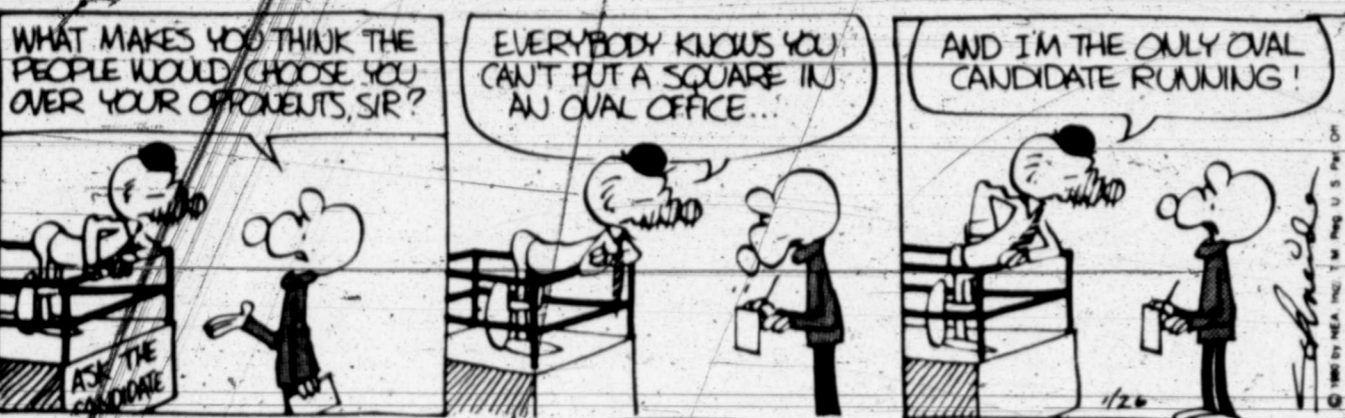

Suddenly I saw a look come across his face that I've seen many times before when people recognize me from television. He turned several shades of pink and went to his car without saying another word.

Regardless of the obstacles, I want to encourage you to read all the good news you can today. The media is filled with bad news, so your task is extremely important.

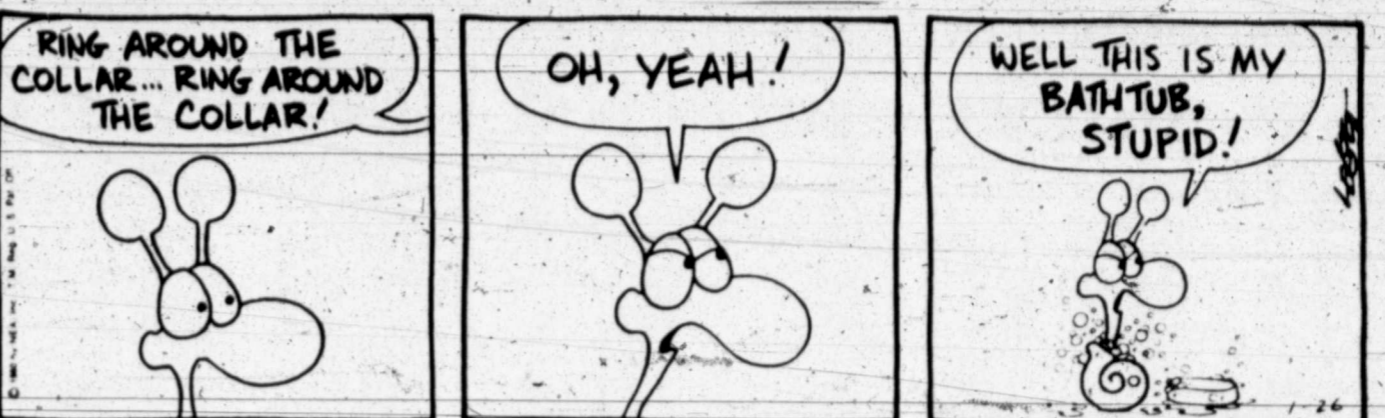

Be an ambassador of the good news wherever you are today. Begin by sharing your faith! Then look for the good in every situation. And remember, good news doesn't just happen, you can make it happen.

Tertiary Production Cheaper Than Foreign Oil

By MAX B. SKELTON
AP Oil Writer

HOUSTON (AP)—J. Hugh Liedtke says exploring for oil is like catching the measles.

"The more often you are exposed, the better the chances of finding something," said the Pennzoil

Co. chairman and chief executive officer.

"There have been years when we couldn't find oil in a filling station. And then there are years when you drill the least likely prospects and come up with good discoveries." Liedtke and Pennzoil directors huddled this past week to finalize an oil and gas operations budget he anticipated would fall in the $300 million range, up a bit from 1979.

"The emphasis will be on wildcatting and tertiary, a form of wildcatting in my opinion," Liedtke said. "Tertiary methods of producing crude oil involve injection of such stimulants as chemicals and carbon dioxide into reservoirs.

"To Pennzoil and the entire industry, tertiary is going to be a great thing," Liedtke said. "It is very expensive but cheaper than foreign crude if they don't tax it all away."

Figuring prominently in Pennzoil's tertiary plans is the old Bradford Field in Pennsylvania, an 1871 discovery that became the world's first billion-barrel oil field. Pennzoil now has headquarters in Houston but it traces its history to the 1880s and the old South Penn Oil Co., an exploration and production firm that held a 60 percent interest in Bradford.

Pennzoil's 1978 annual report said the Bradford Field, like many of the fields of the Appalachian Basin, has long since reached the stage where primary production has been exhausted and traditional secondary waterflooding has been used extensively. It said new field tests were being conducted to develop more cost-effective chemical systems to apply to less permeable oil sands.

"This process, coupled with increasing oil prices, could eventually permit a portion of this 'possible' oil to be economically recovered," the report said. "Pennzoil believes this technique may be, applicable in a number of other areas."

Liedtke told newsmen Bradford's current tertiary needs can be traced in part to early day operations when operators wasted natural gas that was vital to the flow of reservoir oil to the field's wells. He said the gas was worthless then but its loss probably curtailed oil production sharply.

"There are estimates those methods trapped to 80 to 85 percent of all the oil that was down there, possibly 85 percent on our West Virginia properties," Liedtke said.

He said the Bradford estimates and similar estimates elsewhere offer great prospects for Pennzoil and the industry.

"You might be able to recover maybe 10 percent of what is still down-there," he said. The 1978 annual report said not all reservoirs are susceptible to the application of known enhanced recovery techniques.

The costs of secondary and, especially, tertiary recovery techniques are much higher than those for primary recovery," the report said.

"For this reason the technological potential in many instances cannot be realized absent increased hydrocarbon prices. Generally, known enhanced recovery technology is applicable only to oil reservoirs and, because of cost, more feasible as applied to onshore oil reservoirs."

"With tertiary, you literally have millions of dollars tied up, and then it takes time before you know the results," Liedtke said.

Extender Completed In Borden County

Amoco Production Co. of Midland has completed the No. 1-B C.C. Nunnally in the Borden (Spraberry) field of Borden County, 3/4 mile north of production.

Operator reported a 24-hour pumping potential of 125 barrels of 37-gravity oil and 172 barrels of water, through perforations from 7,398 to 7,405 feet.

The producing zone was acidized with 1,000 gallons and fractured with 30,000 gallons.

Gas-oil ratio is 336-1. Drilled to 7,500 feet, 5.5-inch casing is set on bottom.

Location is 1,700 from north and 1,707 from east lines of section 39, H&B survey, 10 miles northwest of Gail.

Cobra Oil & Gas Corp. of Wichita Falls announced plans to drill the No. 2 R.N. Miller as an 8,500-foot wildcat in Borden County, one mile west of an 8,311-foot failure, one and three-eighths mile northwest of Strawn production in the Seven J field and the same distance southwest of Ellenburger production in the Fluvanna, southwest field, which produces at approximately 8,306 feet.

Drillsite is 1,320 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 524, block 97, H&TC survey, 12 miles northeast of Gail.

Ground elevation is 2,602 feet.

Cola Petroleum Co. of Midland completed the No. 2 Reid, 3/8 miles northeast of production in the Coahoma, North (Fusselman) field of Howard County, 2.5 miles northeast of Coahoma.

On 24-hour flowing test it made 180 barrels of 40-gravity oil and 68 barrels of load water, through a 20-64-inch choke and perforations from 8,869 to 8,884 feet.

The producing zone was acidized with 15,000 gallons and fractured with 26,000 gallons. Gas-liquid ratio is 1,941-1.

Drilled to 8,950 feet, operator set 4.5-inch casing at that depth. Plugged back depth is 8,910 feet. Ground elevation is 2,394 feet.

Location is 660 from south and 1,980 from east lines of section 32, block 30, T-1-N, T&P survey.

Marshall R. Young Oil Co. of Midland has finished a strawn oil discovery in Howard County, surrounded by production in the Moore field, four miles southwest of Big Spring.

The firm's No. 1 Willcox and others finished for a 24-hour pumping potential of 39 barrels of 39-gravity oil and two barrels of water, through perforations from 8,507 to 9,375 feet, which was acidized with 8,500 gallons. Gas-liquid ratio is 990-1.

Scheduled to 10,500 feet, operator drilled to 10,446 feet and set 4.5-inch casing at 9,665 feet. Plugged back depth is 9,410 feet.

On ground elevation of 2,507 feet, operator picked the following tops; Dean, 7,130 feet; Wolfcamp, 7,295 feet; Strawn, 9,460 feet; Atoka, 9,645 feet; Mississippian, 9,822 feet; Fusselman, 10,170 feet and Ellenburger, 10,368 feet.

Location is 475 from south and 2,186 from west lines of section 20, block 33, T-1-S, T&P survey.

Campana Petroleum Co. of Midland filed potential test on the No. 4-A Read, one location northeast of production in the Coahoma, North (Fusselman) field of Howard County, three miles northeast of Coahoma.

Operator reported a 24-hour flowing potential of 248 barrels of 48.2-gravity oil and no water, through a 12-64-inch choke and perforations from 8,858 to 8,874 feet, which was acidized with 1,650 gallons.

Gas-liquid ratio is 940-1. Drilled to 8,960 feet, 4.5-inch casing is set at that depth. Plugged back depth is 8,938 feet.

Location is 1,140 from north and 2,170 from east lines of section 41, block 30, T-1-N, T&P survey.

Convast Energy Corp. of Houston will drill the No. 4 Wayne Williams, 3/8 mile northeast of production in the Pollan (Ellenburger) field of Kent County, two miles southwest of Polar.

The 7,800-foot test is located 1,032 from south and 2,300 from west lines of section 59, block 5, H&GN survey.

Hammion Oil & Refining Co. of Houston has completed a Strawn discovery in Kent County, one and one-eighth miles north east of production in the Ida Sue (Strawn oil) pool, one location southwest of the field's depleted discovery well, 13 miles southwest of Clairmont.

The No. 1 Ida Sue Johnson finished to pump 18 barrels of 36-gravity oil and 46 barrels of water, through strawn perforations from 6,970 to 7,064 feet.

Gas-oil ratio is 111-1. No stimulation, if any, was reported.

Scheduled as a 7,700-foot wildcat, it drilled to 7,657 feet, where 4.5-inch casing is set.

Operator picked the following tops on Kelly Bushing elevation of 2,148 feet; Strawn, 6,332 feet; Mississippian, 7,410 feet and Ellenburger, 7,638 feet. Location is 467 feet from north and east lines of section 31, block 5, H&GN survey.

The Superior Oil Co., operating from Conroe, staked the No. 5 W.F. Mathis as a 3/4-mile south-east extension to the Fluvanna (Ellenburger) field of Scurry County, one location north of Strawn production in the Fluvanna field.

Location for the 9,900-foot test is 2,440 from north and 1,980 from west lines of section 637, block 97, H&TC survey, two miles northwest of Fluvanna.

Exxon Corp. of Midland spotted location for an 8,400-foot wildcat in Scurry County, surrounded by San Andres production in the Corazon field, one mile southeast of the Glorieta discovery and one producer in the Pennyburger field, 3.5 miles northeast of Fluvanna.

The No. 3-C Annie Martin is located 1,130 feet from north and 2,310 feet from west lines of section 575, block 97, H&TC survey.
