New Explosion Of Fighting In Iran

By The Associated Press
A new explosion of fighting in Iran's rebellious Kurdistan region has left at least 50 persons dead over the past two days, a rebel spokesman said today. Some Kurdish leaders appealed to the hospitalized Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini to intervene personally to stem the bloodshed.

At the same time anti-government violence was reported around Shahr-e Kord, an area of central Iran populated by Lur and Bakhtiari tribesmen, who have often resisted central government control. And Tehran Radio gave the first details of clashes Wednesday in the heart of Tehran between Marxist and anti-Marxist militants.

The worsening of Iran's domestic woes came as Carter administration officials worked on diplomatic initiatives that a Senate leader said gave "some ground for hope" for the release of the U.S. Embassy hostages.

Kurds and other ethnic minorities in Iran have been battling the central government for more autonomy for centuries, and Khomeini's regime has been plagued by the same insurrections since his revolution ousted Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi nearly a year ago.

The rebel spokesman in the Kurdish city of Sanandaj, reached by a Western journalist by telephone from Tehran, said the Kurds fighting the past two days raged in the towns of Kamyaran, Bijar and Paveh.

He said most of the 50 or so dead and scores wounded were revolutionary guardsmen of the Khomeini regime. Reports reaching Tehran Wednesday said at least 10 persons had been killed in battles between the guard and Kurdish rebels.

Iran's official Pars news agency said Daftush Forouhar, a government representative on a goodwill mission that has been trying to settle the Kurds. See Iran, Page 5

Charged With Overcharging

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional investigators say U.S. refiners took more than $3 billion in unwarranted profits last year through unjustified price increases for heating oil and diesel fuel.

The increases will add about $130 to this winter's fuel bill for the typical American family using heating oil, the investigators say.

An industry group said the rising cost of crude oil was responsible for higher fuel prices, and a leading supplier said prices had not kept up with industry costs.

Ali On Mideast Mission

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Muhammad Ali, former world heavyweight boxing champion, canceled his tour of India today and said President Carter had asked him to undertake a "sensitive mission" to the Middle East and Africa.

A U.S. Embassy source here said Ali's trip was aimed at persuading five countries in the area to pull out of the Moscow Olympics. The source, who asked not to be identified, said Ali will be "provided transport" by the U.S. government to go to Africa from India, but did not elaborate.

Soviets Were Warned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States spotted suspicious Soviet military activity near Afghanistan months ago and warned the Kremlin repeatedly that armed intervention would have serious consequences, the State Department's top Soviet expert says.

"The matter was not ignored; it was taken seriously," Dr. Marshall Shulman told the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on the Mideast.

"We did go to the Russians and express our concern at least three or four or five times.... We warned them about the seriousness with which we would take any military activity on their part in Afghanistan."

Winter finally flexed its muscles again this week, but so far, the season has been milder than usual overall. We haven't had icy conditions such as those endured during January last year and the year before, and there haven't been any reports of weather extremes up north, even in Buffalo.

The disappointing factor in our cold spell this week was the absence of moisture. The little that fell only served to glaze streets and roads and to build up ice on trees and utility lines. Very little reached the ground, which is one reason that West Texas has learned to conserve water.

It reminded us of the story about the farmhand who came up from the swamps of Louisiana to work in West Texas. One day, a shower of rain began to fall, but the farmhand, accustomed to such things in his native land, remained in the field and kept working.

"Come on in out of the rain," yelled the farmer.

"I don't mind it at all," said the farmhand.

"Well I do," said the farmer. "I want every drop of that rain to fall on my soil."

Tax Office Fund Proposal Revised

Officials of taxing entities of Scurry County were preparing today to take revised proposals for funding the county-wide appraisal office to their respective governing bodies in an effort to speed the process of opening the newly-created office.

Proposals for collecting taxes through the county office also have been made a part of the package, since all taxing agencies have indicated that they prefer a central system for collections as well as appraisals.

Funding proposals submitted earlier this week were rejected by Snyder Public School because they would cost the school district more than it now pays for operating its own tax office. Also, the fee to the Scurry County Junior College District would have been considered, while other entities would have had substantial decreases in their costs.

To function this year, the county appraisal office must have contracts with the various taxing agencies since the county-wide system does not become mandatory until 1981.

This morning it was learned that new proposals for financing the county office were ready and that the Snyder School Board had been called to a special session at noon to consider the latest figures.

Governing bodies of the college district, the city of Snyder, Ira and Hermleigh School Districts and Scurry County are due to get the proposals promptly, it was indicated. The effort is being pushed because work on appraisals for 1980 taxes must begin immediately if they are to be completed in time for levies this fall.

Stacy Dam Suit Hearing Begins

AUSTIN (AP)—The Colorado River Municipal Water District, supplier of water for Snyder, Big Spring, Odessa and several other West Texas cities and towns, goes into district court here today to defend its permit to construct a new reservoir.

A suit filed by the Lower Colorado River Authority to block construction of the $60 million Stacy Dam and Reservoir will be heard by Judge Herman Jones.

The CRMWD has been granted a permit by the Texas Water Commission to build the dam at Stacy, located on the Colorado River south of Balinger near the Colorado's confluence with the Concho River. The commission acted on the application several months ago following lengthy hearings during which the LCRA, the City of Austin and other interests in Central and South Texas vigorously opposed the new reservoir.

The CRMWD claims that the water which would be impounded by the Stacy dam is needed for domestic consumption in the cities and towns it serves and that this is the last source available for surface water of drinking quality in the region.

The LCRA claims the project will deplete water supplies in areas to the south. The suit claims that the dam would hold back more than 36 billion gallons of water that flow into the LCRA's Highland Lakes chain each year.

The CRMWD was organized more than a quarter of a century ago by Big Spring, Snyder and Odessa, who continue as the member cities. Subsequently it built two major reservoirs, Lake J.B. Thomas southwest of Snyder and Lake E.V. Spence at Robert Lee, and acquired rights to well fields in Martin and Ward Counties. In addition to the member cities, the CRMWD now is a source of drinking water for San Angelo, Midland, Stanton, Rotan and some smaller communities.

Ask Us

Q—Shouldn't the city trim tree limbs that spread out over the streets?

A—The city does prune trees, etc., if the foliage becomes a hazard, such as covering traffic signs and/or obstructing the vision of drivers. If you know of such a hazard, it should be reported to city hall.

Plans Progressing For 84 By-Pass At Roscoe

Steps taken by Nolan County this week are due to clear the last major hurdle for a U.S. Highway 84 by-pass route at Roscoe.

The project, which was approved by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation earlier, has been regarded as one of the major objectives in efforts to improve U.S. 84 for possible designation as a "Port-to-Plains" highway in the future.

Nolan County Commissioners Court has approved a resolution declaring that the project is a necessity and would be a public convenience, which clears the way for condemnation proceedings for acquisition of right-of-way.

Ed Vernon, resident engineer here for the highway department, said 21 pieces of property are involved and that nine of these already have been purchased. So far, only one of the remaining 12 owners has definitely refused to sell. However, no word has been heard from others, and any who do not accept terms of the state's offer by Feb. 4 will be included in the condemnation proceedings.

Meanwhile, Vernon said the working plans for the by-pass are proceeding and should be completed by the time any right-of-way condemnation hearing begins. The by-pass will begin just north of Roscoe and proceed south-easterly to the present intersection of U.S. 84 and Interstate 20. When completed, through traffic will no longer have to go through Roscoe's business district.

During hearings concerning a possible Interstate 27 or Port-to-Plains designation held here three years ago, the U.S. 84 route through Roscoe was cited as a major bottleneck.

Texaco Workers Join Oil Strike

DENVER (AP)—Striking Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers union members have been joined in their effort against oil companies by about 400 Texaco oil field production workers for Texaco Inc., a union spokesman says.

On another front Wednesday, strikers at Pester Refining Co. in El Dorado, Kan., rejected a contract proposal submitted by company negotiators, but agreed to begin another round of negotiations today. About 150 union workers are employed at Pester.

"Unacceptable language" caused union negotiators to reject Pester's latest contract proposal, said Tom Rice, a national OCAW representative.

In yet another development, members of two union locals who had offered to return to their refinery jobs in Sinclair, Wyo., unconditionally were turned down by the Sinclair Oil Corp., Jerry Archuleta, spokesman for the Denver-based OCAW, added.

The OCAW struck 100 oil companies on Jan. 8 after failing to negotiate more wages and benefits during an authorized reopening of a two-year contract. The contract expires next Jan. 8.

Archuleta said the 55,000 striking workers are seeking a $1 minimum wage increase which includes a 5 percent wage hike already authorized by the existing contract.

He said the workers also want another $125 a

Thatcher Firm Carter Backer

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher has become Europe's strongest supporter of President Carter's policy on Iran and Afghanistan.

Mrs. Thatcher's Conservative government has been the first in Europe to show support for almost every measure adopted by the Carter administration in its confrontation with the Kremlin over Afghanistan.

Some veteran Western diplomats see it as the closest U.S.-British alliance since World War II.

"The United States is the final guarantor of European security," she told the House of Commons the other day.

"They are giving clear leadership, and we should back them."

Candidates To Re-File

Candidates for the board of trustees in Snyder Independent School District have been advised to file again on Feb. 5 or later following word that the filing period is limited to a 30-day period, said E.D. Flynn, board secretary.

Flynn said he had received no official information on the situation, but he had advised the candidates here following word from Lubbock that a change in the law set the filing period there to begin Feb. 5. He said the school had received no information from other sources on the matter.

Three candidates had filed here. They are Jerry Rice, an incumbent, Michael Reed and Jan McCathern.

bush enlivens race

It appears now, far in advance of the time when the political heavy-weights will be hurling thunderbolts at each other in the presidential campaign, that George Bush will make a run at the top job in the country.

That should please a lot of West Texans: The Republican moderate used to earn his bread in nearby Midland. The upset Bush pulled in the Iowa caucuses shocked Republicans and Democrats alike.

The Bush victory had a positive effect on Ronald Reagan, for one thing. The former California governor was so sure the constituency was ready for his aria he stayed in the wings to take bows while the rest of the GOP hopefuls debated in Des Moines.

Apparently there's a lot to be said for the old saw, "out of sight, out of mind." The voters couldn't remember who Reagan was when they took part in the caucuses, at least not enough of them. Reagan quickly concluded that it would be wise for him to become a little more visible in the campaign.

Bush's margin of victory over Reagan in Iowa was by six per cent, a margin he built up by campaigning heavily in the tall corn country.

Bush may not agree many times with what President Jimmy Carter has to say, but he benefitted from the lesson Carter gave in the 1976 campaign: That year, Carter created a well-oiled organization and spent a succession of days criss-crossing the countryside.

Like Carter, Bush seemed to come from nowhere to victory.

Reagan knows now his strategy backfired on him and its just as well, perhaps, that he found out early in the campaign. We can look for him to change his tactics.

Of course, working the beat doesn't always pay dividends. Teddy Kennedy was very visible in Iowa, yet he failed to make a dent against Carter. The incumbent president's margin of victory was roughly 2-1.

Kennedy did little to enhance his less-than-conservative state with several anti-Carter comments.

Iowans, at least from the reading of the caucuses, found little fault with Carter's handling of either the Iranian crisis or the Russian invasion of Afghanistan.

The Iowa caucuses didn't amount to much, other than to serve as a prelude to the avalanche of other statewide tests to follow. Still, the action represents the first step along the presidential path. If they served no other purpose, they got the populace to "thinking" politics.

Will Bush and Carter continue their successes in New Hampshire? It's not too likely. Reagan will be on hand to press the flesh in that state and he is still the man to beat. Carter must know that Kennedy should be strong in his home country.

Most people interested in politics found the tests in Iowa interesting, if for no other reason than it established a different set of leaders than most politicians would have dared believe.

It could be a very interesting year.

choking remedy

When somebody's choking, what should you do? Conceivably you could be sued if you should do the wrong thing. Yet you can't allow the choking person to gag, turn gray and stop breathing - without trying something. Do you give him a bear hug or reach down his throat or pound on his back? What do you do? Tom Darlington, Scottsdale, Ariz., pioneer developer and one of the founders of the community of Carefree, died - probably many years prematurely - because he choked on stringy food in a public restaurant.

My personal acquaintance with Tom and my understandable resentment that he was not rescued has led me to want to know more about "safe coronary" and appropriate remedies.

Recently, NBC newsmen John Chancellor choked during lunch, Newsman Tom Brokaw alertly gave Chancellor's rib cage a bear hug from behind and dislodged the chunk of cheese.

The American Red Cross would not approve what Mr. Brokaw did. This led the Wall Street Journal to seek a consensus on what you and I should do in such a situation - and there is none.

Medical men and women remain divided. Dr. Henry Heimlich of Xavier is convinced that the proper response is to get behind the victim, wrap both arms around his or her waist. With elbows winged out and one hand in a fist in the victim's abdomen just above the navel - the rescuer should squeeze, hard thrusts inward and upward until the impediment is dislodged.

This has come to be known as the Heimlich maneuver. Dr. Heimlich says he has documented reports on more than 1,200 people, ranging in age from four months to 93 years, who have been rescued in this manner.

However, a separate school of medical practitioners remain convinced that this method should be preceded by four sharp slaps on the victim's back.

Proponents of the two-step procedure insist that the slaps on the back may be enough - thus there would be no need for the bear hug which conceivably could injure internal organs.

Dr. Heimlich says the slapping wastes time and could cause the food to lodge even more tightly in the victim's throat.

This, is more than a disagreement; it is a boiling controversy.

Some medical men say the debate is brought on mostly by Dr. Heimlich's zealotry.

He has made himself available for many television talk shows and there is altogether as much jealousy among scientists as among Hollywood starlets.

Some cities and states are unilaterally ignoring the back slap, recommending the Heimlich maneuver.

The Red Cross and the Heart Association are allied with the two-slap procedure.

Paul Harvey recommends you "take small bites."

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The Grand Old Party must really believe 1980 is its year, because party strategists are predicting substantial gains on Capitol Hill. And not just in the Senate, either, where the Republicans have a good chance of capturing control.

Along with that hoped-for gain, party strategists are saying that, with a little luck, as many as 35 Democratic seats in the House of Representatives will go to the GOP come November.

This, more than Senate control or a return to White House power, will mean Republican progress to the pro-ports behind the scenes. That's because House seats are won on local levels, congressional district by congressional district. It has nothing to do with who heads the ticket; instead, it reflects how the party is doing at the far more important ward and precinct levels, where rest the power and the patronage.

The relative numbers of Democrats and Republicans in the House have changed little in the last six years. They currently stand at 276 Democrats and 159 Republicans. The last major shift came in 1974, but that was mainly a result of Watergate. Forty seats swung to the Democrats that year and, most of those newly Democratic seats were kept in 1976 and 1978.

But the GOP believes this could be the year. To this end, it has targeted 35 current Democratic seats it believes are ripe for the picking. In three cases, the Democratic incumbents already have announced they will not seek re-election. The other seats are held by incumbents who "appear to be substantially more liberal than demographic studies say their districts are or who won their last election by a very narrow margin."

Six of the districts are in California. There are three each in Missouri and Pennsylvania; two each in Colorado, Ohio and Texas. The remaining 17 are spread around the country.

GOP challengers already have been picked in each of the targeted districts. Almost without exception, the candidates are young and articulate. Three of them are women.

The National Republican Congressional Committee has held three special workshops for the candidates to help them put together effective campaign organizations. Special training sessions have been held for campaign managers and fund-raising chairmen. Even direct help from party experts has been available.

Once the individual campaigns get into high gear next fall, major GOP figures will be sent into the 35 districts to campaign and direct financial support from a national campaign fund.

Republican planners say the Democratic Party will lose much of its strength in the House if its share of representatives drops to around 240. Party unity is becoming a thing of the past and, with conservative Democrats voting with Republicans on ever more issues, a 35-seat swing could represent a major shift in the House power balance.

Many political observers here say the GOP is a bit too optimistic in talking of capturing 35 seats. One private study of House races shows that only one of the 276 seats currently held by Democrats is now openly leaning the other way. Eight are toss-ups at the moment, 23 more are possible upsets if all goes well, and 26 are remotely possible upsets, but don't bet on any of them.

While the study shows 34 current Democratic seats possibly going Republican, which is close enough to the GOP's 35, there is another side to the coin. The study shows 14 currently Republican seats in serious danger of going Democratic, with another 19 listed as possible upsets.

The survey suggests that the Republicans can hope to pick up 11 House seats in November, about what they managed to win in 1978.

About the only way for the GOP to gain many more, say the experts here, would be for the Republicans to nominate a presidential candidate with very strong "coat-tails." That, however, appears even less likely than the 35-seat net gain.

business women face bias

WASHINGTON (AP)—Women are growing militant in their efforts to start businesses, claiming that too many loan officers discriminate against them for reasons that are emotional, not economic.

That message was heard loudly and often at the recent White House conference on small business. The anger is founded on a set of imposing statistics. Women own less than 5 percent of U.S. businesses and earn a minuscule 0.3 percent of all gross receipts. But, they make up more than 50 percent of the workforce.

"Women face the same obstacles as all small business owners, only it's worse for us," says Betty Orrell, president of a Houston insurance company.

The young executive talks firmly and slowly. "It's amazing how many bankers, subconsciously at least, still say a woman's place is in the home."

At many hearings across the country, prior to the White House conference, women entrepreneurs testified repeatedly about being discriminated against by government and bank loan officers.

The Senate's select committee on small business agrees.

Women lack access to capital and management skills. "But, in addition, they face further barriers imposed by societal attitudes which persist in the business community," the panel report says.

"No legislation or executive order can reverse those attitudes," it adds. Most businesses owned by women are very tiny, the government says, and that complicates the plight of these entrepreneurs.

While they need capital no more desperately than men, the dollar amount women seek often is below $25,000.

But in this period of high interest rates and rapid inflation, many banks are hesitant to make such small loans.

Where else can women go? The Small Business Administration has "targeted" $50 million for direct loans to businesswomen this fiscal year. But that target is more a statement of concern than a guarantee, the Senate committee says.

The SBA also has created a mini-loan program for women who need less than $20,000. But it has been criticized as being too small and too slow. Women were among the most organized groups at the White House conference. They caucused frequently, pressing a five-part platform.

Their key call was for equal access to commercial credit. It was the only strictly woman's proposal adopted as a top priority by the male-dominated conference.

The women want increased SBA funds for management programs and closer scrutiny of federal loan officers to make sure they don't discriminate.

my turn

by john long

Whatever happened to the art of writing letters? In this day and age it seems that letter writing, as well as writing in general, has fallen by the wayside. People no longer seem to think of letter writing as something important. They view it as a nuisance, as something to be done only when the telephone is out of order.

Granted, the telephone has its place in society. Business-wise, I use the telephone as much or more than the average person, I guess. Information can be exchanged over the telephone in only a few minutes' time. But where is the joy in dialing numbers? Anybody can do that.

It takes no special talent or ability to dial numbers. And if you get a wrong number every now and then, so what? People think nothing these days of invading someone else's privacy via the telephone.

The lowest form of life is not the amoeba but the telephone solicitor. How many times have I been awakened from a blissful nap, disturbed while in the bathroom, or had just plain contemplative silence shattered by the strident ringing of my telephone by someone who is trying to sell me a picture portrait package or house siding?

When my peace of mind is disturbed by some well-meaning relative, it hardly makes me feel any better.

I find a kind of pristine joy in sitting down at my typewriter and composing my thoughts. Letter writing is not difficult and it doesn't take very long, either. Letters never arrive at an inopportune time. They cannot invade a person's privacy like telephone calls.

Letters can be read and re-read. A letter has something of substance to it. It can be touched, handled, even saved and treasured.

Letters, because they do require some thought and effort on the part of the person sending them, are much more personal to me than telephone calls.

A letter, or even a few thoughts quickly jotted down on a greeting card, seems to me to be a more natural means of communication than hearing some incorporeal voice strained through hundreds of miles of telephone cables.

Throughout history, the United States has been weak on foreign policy. During President Truman's reign, it became apparent that Russia was not going to abide by the peace treaty signed by the allied countries. The United States, the only country in the world with an atomic bomb, could have dictated an agreement of world government to police and forbid every government to have an army. The atomic bomb was enough arsenal to enforce this plan at that time. Now it is too late for the United States to think of ruling the world. It will take all of our resources to survive.

Pastors Find Pantsuitable

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1980 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I can't believe that you let Mrs. B. (the lady in pants) get away with one of the oldest dodges in the Christian world. She stated that she asked "someone" if it was all right to wear pantsuits to church and was told it was "frowned upon." So now Mrs. B. sits at home in front of her television, filled with anger and bitterness against "church people."

This is one of the saddest situations a minister has to deal with. It's just another case of a person who was looking for an excuse not to attend church — and found one.

That lady couldn't have been very sincere about her faith in Jesus Christ to let one person's answer to a "set-up" question keep her away from the worshipping family of the church. God doesn't care what she wears to church, and most Christians would have been sympathetic if they had known the reason behind her inquiry.

So please, Abby, don't let Mrs. B. feel that she was justified in cutting herself off from other Christians for any reason. She will be the loser in the long run by denying many fine Christian people the opportunity to show her the kind of Christian love she obviously needs so badly.

REV. DAVID BASS

DEAR REVEREND BASS: Let's hear it from a Methodist minister in Texas:

DEAR ABBY: Mrs. B. from De Funiak Springs, Fla., who has to wear heavy surgical stockings because of varicose veins, said she asked someone if it was acceptable for a woman to wear pantsuits to church. She was told that it was "frowned upon."

You said people should not criticize until they have walked 20 years in her surgical stockings. You may have given some comfort to the lady, but with all the experience she's had with doctors, surely she knows how important it is to get a second opinion; in this case, from the minister of the church.

Perhaps you already have received a communication from the De Funiak Springs Ministerial Alliance telling you that "someone" does not speak for the churches. If not, why don't you have your editor there poll the ministers as to how much, if any, frowning would be done upon a woman worshipping in a pantsuit?

Incidentally, recently at a formal church wedding, I noticed that several attractive pantsuits in the congregation brought admiring glances — not frowns.

ARTHUR O. ACKENBOM
MINISTER, UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
LONE OAK, TEXAS

DEAR Reverend ACKENBOM: No word thus far from the Ministerial Alliance. However, concerning pantsuits in church: Unless the "nay" comes from the horse's mouth (meaning the minister), I would consider it acceptable.

DEAR ABBY: Would you have any use for this poem written by my husband's cousin? Her name is Jean Sidebottom. She recently lost 20 pounds, and is having a tough time trying to keep it off.

"DIETER'S PRAYER"

Give me strength, Oh Lord, I pray —
Help me make it through the day.
Deliver me from snacks and sweets,
Keep my mind off high cal treats,
Tempt me not with French cuisines,
Bid me flee soft drink machines,
Turn my eyes from ice cream bars,
Stay my hand from cookie jars,
Till I'm back in shape again
Hang in there with me, Lord, Amen.

DOLLY GAEDE, LARNED, KANSAS

HELLO, DOLLY: The prayer is tops! Tell Jean Sidebottom I'm on her side.

Thank-you notes, sympathy letters, congratulations, how to decline and accept invitations and how to write an interesting letter are included in Abby's booklet, "How To Write Letters for all Occasions." Beef Output To Decline

In an interview with Pars, Forouhar blamed bellicose elements on both sides for the fighting and demanded that the peace mission be given control of all military and civilian affairs in Kurdistan.

Meanwhile, Agriculture Minister Abbas Sheibani ordered rationing of fresh meat. He cited high prices, short supplies and a ban on imports of frozen meat. Tehran Radio said the quota for families in southern Iran would be up to 4.4 pounds each week, and families elsewhere would get 8.8

The disappearance of a five-gram gold wafer, valued at $300 is being investigated by Snyder police.

Reporting the loss was Bill Bass. He told police the wafer was either stolen or lost at a local club early this morning. The case is being handled by officer Dale Burns.

In other reports, police investigated a minor traffic accident. The accident took place Wednesday about 12:35 p.m. at 1616 26th St. Involved in it were a 1970 Chevrolet driven by Foy Palmer and a parked 1971 Ford owned by Vestal Duncan. The accident was worked by Kerry Fritz.

Both Sides Of ERA Issue Claim Draft Debate Will Benefit Them

By JANE SEE WHITE, Associated Press Writer
Supporters of the Equal Rights Amendment believe the swelling debate over possible draft registration for women will boost their cause. ERA opponents say no, the controversy will help them.

Yet neither side is beating the drums in support of restoring the draft for men or for women.

Pointing to the growing debate on registering women, anti-ERA leader Phyllis Schlafly said Wednesday there would be no need for discussion if the ERA - which bans discrimination on the basis of sex - had been ratified. She believes it would make drafting women mandatory.

"If we had ERA, it wouldn't make any difference what the American people wanted," said Mrs. Schlafly, head of Stop-ERA. She said equality under the ERA "means drafting girls and putting them in military combat."

Kathleen Currie of ERA America takes the opposite view: "This whole question on the draft has pointed out what we've said all along, that Congress already has the power to draft women; it has nothing to do with ERA. Whether the draft women is a political decision, not a legal one."

To become part of the Constitution, the ERA must be ratified by 38 states by June 30, 1982. It has been approved by 35 states. Five states have rescinded their approval, but the validity of that action is in question.

When President Carter called last week for renewal of draft registration, he did not say whether women would be required to register. He is expected to decide the matter by Feb. 9. Meanwhile, debate on the issue has grown.

In states that have not endorsed the ERA, many of the amendment's opponents and proponents are claiming the debate over drafting women reinforces their positions. Yet there was no clear indication that the draft debate would directly affect ERA's ratification.

In Illinois, anti-ERA Rep. George Hudson, a Republican, noted that Congress now can decide whether to draft women, but "if ERA becomes part of our Constitution, I don't think there will be any option."

Florida National Organization for Women Executive Director Lis Handley said a call to draft women would "probably help" ERA passage because "it would be awfully hard to deny women equal rights if we expect them to serve their country in time of war."

In Virginia, Democratic Delegate Hardway Marks predicted that "if President Carter reinstates the draft or registration, it will really set back the ERA movement across the country."

An Arizona ERA opponent, State Sen. Trudy Camping, said the controversy is a "setback" for ERA because "I'm sure the ERA backers would be supporting a draft for women. It's what we've been saying all the time."

Meanwhile, the ERA sponsor in the Missouri Senate, Gwen Giles, withdrew the amendment from consideration Wednesday, saying she considered it dead for the year. Mrs. Giles on Tuesday had decided to delay the vote for a week or more because of the controversy over registering women.

A Harris poll conducted late in 1979 and released Wednesday found 56 percent of Americans favor the ERA even though 55 percent believe women would be drafted into combat jobs if the amendment were ratified.

Montgomery Ward Blushes Over Obscenity In Catalog

CHICAGO (AP)—The word has ancient roots, says Eric Partridge's Dictionary of Slang and Unconventional English. The revered Oxford English Dictionary credits a 15th century satirist with introducing it to Anglo-Saxon usage.

But Montgomery Ward officials are embarrassed and apologetic over the four-letter obscenity that showed up on a bedroom wall pictured on page 122 of the nearly eight million copies of its latest sales catalog.

"They believe the offending work - the most common Anglo-Saxon term for sexual intercourse - was sneaked into the catalog just before printing."

"There is a word in the background, but it's very, very hard to see," spokesman Ken Darre said Wednesday. "It slipped by the proofreaders and everyone else because unless you're specifically looking for it, it's too vague to make out."

The full-color, full-page advertisement for bedspreads on page 122 says, "Create a dramatic bedroom setting."

The word appears near the reddish-brown, floral bedspread and brass headboard, apparently scratched into the negative by an employee of one of the photographic studios that prints the catalog.

"I believe the employee in question has resigned, but not a thing can be done," Darre said. "We will apologize to anyone that calls, of course, but otherwise, we're handcuffed. Anyway, I doubt whether it will have any long-range effect."

The sales catalogs, one of 12 issued annually by the retailer, were sent out about two weeks ago. Darre said the problem was first brought to Montgomery Ward's attention by a customer who called and asked about it.

"There haven't been many others," he said. Several years ago, Sears, Roebuck and Co. was similarly embarrassed by a men's underwear advertisement in one of its catalogs. A shadow in the photograph made the model appear to be aroused.

Shoes, Or No Shoes, ...

Stomping Death Sentence Upheld

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals has upheld the conviction of a Gainesville man who claimed his life sentence should be overturned because the indictment did not say he wore shoes when he stomped his wife to death.

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, calling the appeal "surely the most audacious bit of advocacy in recent times," upheld the conviction and life sentence of Donald Vaughn.

Vaughn was found guilty in the August 1976 slaying of Teresa Vaughn, a waitress in a Gainesville cafe. The appeals court said its decision marked "the previously unheralded demise" of the legal precedent established by the court's decision in the Buster Northern case in 1947.

Northern was convicted of stomping his victim to death, but the verdict was overturned because the indictment did not say Northern used his feet in the fatal attack.

Vaughn's lawyer cited the Northern decision in asking the court to strike down the indictment against Vaughn because it failed to allege he stomped and kicked his wife with shoes on his feet. "To have alleged that the kicking and stomping was effected with boots or shoes or whatever would have placed a well-nigh impossible burden on the state, in this circumstantial evidence case. The manner, kicking and stomping, and the means, with his feet, are plainly set forth," the court said. It said the Northern precedent had quietly been overruled in a series of cases since 1947, "thereby obviating any further need to overrule it expressly."

HAPPY 64th BIRTHDAY TO: THE ROUND MAN FROM: SHADE TREE

Clements Supports TSU After Closed Session

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Bill Clements, in a possibly illegal closed door meeting, assured Texas Southern University regents of his support but gave them a report saying the school is in a management crisis.

The Society of Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi, protested the meeting and later reported it to the Travis County district attorney's office.

Seven of the nine TSU regents met with Clements for 30 minutes, then followed him out to a quick news conference.

Clements said he had heard rumors that he would attempt to get TSU closed or merged with the University of Houston. On the contrary, he said, he wants predominantly black TSU continued as a separate university.

"I am confident that whatever faults are in the administration and the faculty and the school generally, these can be corrected," Clements said.

He handed each regent a copy of a report issued by his Special Audit Group, which spent 23 days at TSU in November and December.

The report said TSU is "in a crisis situation." It asserted that Arthur Danner, who recently resigned as vice president for fiscal affairs, effective April 1, "is, to a certain extent, responsible for this crisis."

The report also implied that acting TSU president Everett Bell withheld from the audit team information about fraudulent scholarships for foreign students.

Houston newspapers broke the story about the scholarships three days after the audit team left the campus on Dec. 18, assured by Bell — the team said — that there were "no other situations that we should be told about."

Foreign students at Texas state colleges pay reduced tuition if they hold competitive scholarships. The gist of the stories was that certain TSU administrators arranged for churches to award bogus competitive scholarships to 800 foreign students — costing the state $300,000 in tuition but boosting the school's enrollment.

The report said that when confronted after the story broke, Bell acknowledged hearing "rumors" of phony scholarships but did not pass them on because he "did not customarily report rumors or allegations."

"Since it now seems probable that many fall registration difficulties resulted from such an unprecedented volume of competitive scholarships for foreign students, these disclaimers of knowledge of the scheme during fall registration do not seem acceptable," the report said.

The audit group said TSU had failed to submit its 1978 annual report and was two years behind in its bookkeeping.

It said fall registration was "chaotic" because of computer problems and a "rigid and inflexible policy on the calculation of fees, charges and financial aid." Students would pay their money one day and have to return the next for a receipt.

A coffee and doughnut service operated for students by a faculty member takes in $5,000 a month but there are no records and no apparent effort by the university to control it, the report said.

The audit group said university employees might be paying illegally high interest rates to a lending firm controlled by faculty members.

"During our observation of warrant delivery on payday, we learned of the existence of Texas Southern Finance Corp. which lends money to employees to be repaid when the warrant is received."

"Further inquiry resulted in an indication that this organization is controlled by faculty members, that it may be charging excessive interest and service charges, and that it is apparently operating without being registered with the Consumer Credit Commission," the report said.

The report said the TSU administration has a "clear responsibility" to help the state consumer credit commissioner to determine if excess interest had been collected and to see that restitution is made.

Other criticisms made in the report include:

- "Liberal use" of signature stamps instead of actual signatures on important documents.
- "Holidays in excess of those authorized by the general appropriation act for the past four years."
- "Lack of security of a $30,000 petty cash fund."
- "School funds in banks

where at least two TSU regents and former president Granville Sawyer are directors, in an apparent conflict of public with private interests.

Severe computer problems, including lack of documentation, minimal fire protection, inadequate security and location of computers in a room "subject to serious flooding." The computer room is in a high-traffic area, with two outside walls of glass, making "data and equipment extremely vulnerable to vandalism or more violent actions."

Clements said it did not violate the open meetings law for TSU regents to meet with him behind closed doors because it was a "briefing session."

He read the regents a statement, later distributed, instructing them not to "vote, deliberate, reach a consensus opinion or decide as a body on any formal action."

The Society of Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi, handed each regent a letter protesting the secrecy.

"We kindly request that you examine the law and comply with the letter and spirit of its intent. If not, this issue will be referred to the special crimes division of the Travis County district attorney's office," the letter said.

Austin chapter president Stewart Davis said he would report the occurrence to the district attorney's office and submit documents, including Clements' statements defending the meeting and instructing the regents.

Winnipeg became a city in 1873.

Storms Leave Ice, Flooding, Death

The Snyder (Tex.) Daily News, Thu., Jan. 31, 1980

By BARRY HANSON
Associated Press Writer
Winter's first hefty blast laid a glaze of ice over much of the South today after flooding spawned by drenching rains left nine people dead and forced thousands from their homes in Mexico's northern Baja Peninsula.

At least 15 weather-related deaths have been reported in the United States since Tuesday as a storm moved across the West through Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee and into West Virginia, disrupting travel, snapping trees and power lines and closing schools. Ice storm warnings were in effect overnight for parts of northern Georgia and Alabama, and motorists in Atlanta were told to expect hazardous driving due to sleet and freezing rain.

Cars were sliding on ice-slick highways and bridges like bumper cars, and numerous accidents were reported. The highway patrol in Greenville, S.C., reported 22 accidents in a 1 1/2 hour period Wednesday night. Slick streets halted bus service in Oklahoma City.

Mexican authorities said an estimated 10,000 persons were evacuated in the border town of Tijuana, when heavy rains in the mountains caused a small dam to break, overflowing a second dam downstream and sending the Tijuana River on a rampage.

The Mexican death toll included six members of one family who had climbed atop a roof and screamed for help before being swept to their deaths in the raging river, authorities said. Another flooding victim was confirmed in Tijuana and two others, including a Mexican highway patrolman, died when rising rivers washed out bridges near El Descanso and Ensenada, authorities said.

Baja California Gov. Roberto de la Madrid, who toured the area Wednesday with Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo, said buses took evacuees to relocation centers.

Utah residents were digging out from under 12 to 18 inches of snow from the storm. Colorado got up to 20 inches of new snow, Flagstaff, Ariz., was buried under 25 inches, and up to 5 inches was reported in Missouri and Illinois with 3 to 4 inches across Nebraska and Kansas.

Bitter cold lingered in much of the West. Kcdmond, Ore., recorded a minus 10 early Wednesday, and the Idaho Power Co. warned customers that it may have to cut power to some customers because of the cold and supply problems.

Utah residents were digging out from under 12 to 18 inches of snow from the storm. Colorado got up to 20 inches of new snow, Flagstaff, Ariz., was buried under 25 inches, and up to 5 inches was reported in Missouri and Illinois with 3 to 4 inches across Nebraska and Kansas.

His heart's too slow

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—What can you tell a young man of 80 years about a slow beating heart? It varies from 36 to 42 and 48 to 52 per minute. I'm 5 feet 10 and weigh 150 pounds. My blood pressure is normal. I had an electrocardiogram and brain scan and a chest X-ray. I don't smoke or drink. I have had diabetes for 15 years and use one diabetic tablet a day. My specimens are O.K. I have a bronchial condition that interferes with my speech and breathing. This leaves me weak and tired. In the last two months I have had two blackouts. They occurred after urinating early in the morning. After using a Holter monitor and other tests, my doctor told me that I'm a candidate for a pacemaker and he will take this one step at a time. In the meanwhile, I'm on Lasix and I feel a bit lightheaded and tire easily. Will you please tell me more about a slow beating heart condition that would help me understand it better and perhaps do something about it?

DEAR READER—As I've mentioned before, many healthy young people have very slow resting heart rates. A well-trained endurance athlete commonly has a resting heart rate below 50. When it's a normal response to physical conditioning, we really don't think much about it.

The difficulty in understanding the problem is that the exceptionally healthy individual can have a slow rate but older people with heart disease can also develop a slow rate from entirely different reasons.

Your story sounds like you have heart block. That means that the normal electrical impulse passing down from the top of the heart to the heavy beating chambers is blocked. That's O.K. too as long as the heartbeat doesn't get too slow. But as a person gets older and has some underlying heart disease anyway, those slow rates are not effective in providing adequate blood flow to the brain. That's why individuals with this problem may feel faint or actually pass out. Whenever a person starts having fainting spells associated with a heart block, it's time to have a pacemaker put in.

To give you some more general information on heart rate and its significance, I'm sending you The Health Letter number 9-8, Your Heart Rate: What It Means. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Now the problem with telling you exactly what to do is that I really don't know for certain that you have heart block. That has to be proved by your electrocardiogram. For the benefit of other readers, the Holter monitor that you wore records the electrocardiogram continuously for hours at a time. By examining such a record, a doctor can see if there are periods of blocks that might be associated with fainting.

You could have blocked out or had a fainting spell for entirely different reasons. It could be that you are low on salt and water which may be related to the Lasix medicine you're taking. It's also true that a number of men are prone to feeling faint or actually fainting immediately after urination. This sets off powerful reflexes that can cause such a reaction.

In 1886, David Bruce, a British microbiologist, discovered the organism causing febrile, debilitating disease on the island of Malta which he designated Mediterranean fever. The disease today is known as Brucellosis or undulant fever in humans.

Snyder-Lamesans Clash Tonight

By BILL MCCLELLAN
LAMESA—Put on a new bait and cast again, Snyder and Lamesa have a problem to settle here tonight and let's hope the fish are biting this time.ICY roads called a halt to Tuesday's scheduled games between the two schools. Officials reset the tip off times for tonight. The agenda should get going, weather permitting of course, with a boys JV game at 4:30, followed by boys varsity and girls varsity tilts at 6:15 and 8 respectively.

boys are 2-0 in the conference, and while the Tigers would be ill-advised to ignore a Friday date with 2-1 Brownfield, the talk is that tonight's conflict here should all but clinch a first-round title. As usual the boys varsity contest is expected to be played in a packed house, despite the weather, primarily due to an intense rivalry between the two teams. Last year Snyder came into Lamesa Junior High School Gym the site of tonight's games—and limped away with a 51-50 loss. A No. 3 state-ranking dwindled to No. 6, and frankly, Snyder never seemed to play with the same intensity again, though the Tigers did eventually win the district championship.

This time Snyder is ranked No. 2 in the state with a 19-4 record, and while Lamesa is unrated, no one is underestimating the Tors, who boast a healthy 15-6 mark themselves. Snyder girls however, can be expected to show a tad of overconfidence tonight, after pouncing Lamesa 72-38 earlier in the season. The Tor girls, in their first year to compete district-wide on the varsity level, were 0-4 in round-one play while Snyder went 3-1.

Tonight's varsity girls play begins round two, with Snyder, San Angelo Lake View and Sweetwater all tied up with equal records.

Games between Lake View and Sweetwater, originally scheduled for Tuesday also, have been shifted to Saturday.

Military Can Be Tough...

Broncos Not Another Colt

New Mexico Military Institute may not have the caliber of team it possessed two years ago when Lewis Lloyd was a freshman, but Western Texas Coach Nolan Richardson is not taking them lightly at any rate. NMMI, 11-9 on the season and 4-4 in Western JC Athletic Conference play, comes into Scurry County Coliseum tonight at 8 to vie against the No. 1 ranked Westerners.

"Traditionally, New Mexico has always been tough," said Richardson whose Westerners hold a 4-3 edge over the Broncos in recent years. "I'm sure they'll get after it because they do have a shot at making the Regional Tournament. Right now the fourth and fifth spots are up for grabs. Mathematically of course, the conference championship is up for grabs."

That 4-4 conference record puts the Military in the thick of the running for a tournament berth, along with 5-4 Frank Phillips, 4-5 Howard College and 4-4 Amarillo. Western Texas leads the loop race with a 9-0 mark, followed by 8-1 Midland and 7-2 Odessa. The top five teams at the end of the season earn berth into the Region V Tournament. WJCAC play is approximately half way through with nine games remaining, though two teams, NMMI and Amarillo, have 10 left. "They (NMMI) are in the do-or-die type area as far as going to the tournament is concerned, so I'm sure they'll be ready to play basketball."

The Broncos are traditionally a fast-break type team, but Richardson feels they may slow it up tonight. "I have the feeling that they may not break so much. It's just a feeling, but I think they may slow down on us and that's what we're working on. It may not happen, but we want to be ready if it does. I know if I had a team playing WTC that's what I would do," Richardson added.

In contrast, the Westerners won't prepare for the fast break, because as Richardson and 21 opponents this season can attest to, "That's playing our kind of basketball. That's what we do best."

Key personnel for the Broncos include 6-5 sophomore Carlos Judkins, the conference's No. 7 scorer with a 17.6 average, and 6-4 freshman Joseph Brown, who averages 16 points a game. Coaching the Military is four-year veteran David Campbell. "We expect a good ball game," said Richardson. "I realize this weather is kind of sloppy, but we'd like to see the fans come out and support us like they have the past couple of home games. There's nothing nicer for the kids and myself than to look up in the stands and see all those fans. We've made it through the first half of conference play now and the biggest factor this half is to keep momentum on our side and not become complacent. This means mental preparation, and fans play the biggest part of being mentally prepared."

Tickets for the game are $2 adults and $1 students. Western Texas College defeated New Mexico Military in an earlier WJCAC confrontation 99-81.

There will be no Dusters game tonight. Instead, the Dusters, 20-7, will host Ranger at WTC Gym 6 p.m. Friday in a non-conference contest.

A & M Edges Baylor; Reaches 9-0 Mark

By The Associated Press
Terry Teagle was pouring points through the hoop so fast in the first half of Baylor's game with Texas A&M that Aggie coach Shelby Metcalf observed, "He just looked unconscious out there."

But Texas A&M took a 27-25 halftime lead then took advantage of a Baylor dry spell at the start of the second half and remained unbeaten in Southwest Conference play with a 59-50 victory Wednesday night in Waco.

In other games in a full slate of league activity, Houston handed Texas Tech its third straight SWC defeat 75-63, Texas drubbed SMU 113-80 as Ron Baxter broke the Longhorn career scoring mark, and Rice nipped TCU 60-59 on Ricky Pierce's tip-in with 2 seconds to play.

Arkansas, which was idle, fell 1 1/2 games behind the front-running Aggies, who raised their league record to 9-0. In the past 20 years, only Arkansas' 1977 team has gone unbeaten in SWC play.

Teagle, the conference's leading scorer, scored 16 of his 24 points in the first half. "Teagle is a great player. All of our guys wanted to shake his hand when the game was over. They really respect him," Metcalf said. "But as fine a player as Teagle is, I think the best player on the court tonight was Rynn Wright. He did a super job for us."

Wright and Vernon Smith triggered the second-half rally that led A&M to victory. Texas A&M outscored Baylor 15-4 in the first 10 minutes of the second half to put the game out of reach. Jim Haller, the Baylor coach, said his team's failure to score on any of its first three possessions of the second half was a setback the Bears couldn't overcome. "Those misses were as big a factor in the game as anything. In fact, that was probably the difference in the game," Haller said.

The Bear coach said A&M still has tough games at Texas Tech and Fayetteville, "but A&M does what it takes to win. You name it, size, speed and shooting, and they are better than anyone. They're the top team in the league. If they have a weakness, I don't know what it is."

Texas Tech picked up five technicals in the second half, three of them on coach Gerald Myers.

Weather Cancels Underclassmen Contests Tonight

Skies this morning were clear over Snyder, but not elsewhere it seems. The community opened the day with the prospects of 11 of its basketball teams in competition this afternoon and evening, but by noon, most had been cancelled.

Highlighting the evening's play (see related articles above) are a junior college and two varsity high school games, still on tap at last word.

New Mexico Military Institute is scheduled to play Western Texas College's Westerners at 8 in Scurry County Coliseum. At Lamesa, three games are slated, beginning with a boys JV tilt at 4:30, and followed by boys varsity and girls varsity games at 6:15 and 8 respectively. Those games will be held at Lamesa Middle School Gym.

Also to be held, apparently, is the Jayton Tournament. Snyder girls JV team was to face Jayton at 1 p.m. The local boys sophomore team was to vie against an unnamed opponent at 2:30. Among those games cancelled were a Snyder eighth grade Black Big Spring game here, two games featuring Snyder eighth grade girls at Big Spring, and the entire Odessa-Midland Tournament, which include among its competitors Snyder Black and Gold ninth grade boys teams.

Snyder freshman girls were still scheduled against Sweetwater here in the high school gym at 5.

Negotiations Continue Between Players, Top

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiations on a new collective bargaining agreement between baseball's team owners and players are to resume Friday and will continue, on a "stepped up" basis, until agreement is reached, according to Marvin Miller.

Miller, adding the players' document was submitted to the owners "eight or nine weeks ago" and the owners' response, a revised document, was delivered "not more than two weeks ago."

Pastorini Nixes Talk Of Trade

HOUSTON (AP)—Houston Oilers quarterback Dan Pastorini, once again the center of controversy, says he doesn't want to be traded — unless the Oilers don't want him any more.

Vance explained. "I have not requested to be traded," Pastorini said. "I don't know what the Oilers have in mind. Maybe they want to trade me because of economic reasons. I don't know."

Metroplex Offers To Stage 'Games'

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas-Fort Worth area stands ready to host an alternative Olympics should the United States decide against competing in Moscow this summer, the U.S. Olympic Committee has been told.

The use of those facilities is not expensive, however, and that's our only consideration," he said.

Tom Vance, Pastorini's agent, said the idea that Pastorini had asked to be traded, started as a rumor. "A reporter called Dan late last night (Tuesday) and said he had heard from reliable sources that Dan was being traded," Vance said.

ASTRO-GRAPH

Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

February 1, 1980

Two important new friends are likely to enter your life this coming year. Each in his or her own way will help freshen your outlook and broaden your horizons.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't anticipate today how another may react to a given situation. This person could do something totally unexpected, so be prepared. How to get along with others is one of the sections you'll enjoy in your Astro-Graph Letter that begins anew with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your attitude toward your work is very important today if you believe something to be harder than it really is, you could be right.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Opposing viewpoints should not be allowed to get out of hand today if someone doesn't think the way you do. Just ignore it by changing the subject.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Someone would like to lead you to believe he or she is better than you are. It would be a waste of your good time to accept the challenge.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Try to bring creativity into all of your tasks today. Should you fail to use your imagination productively, you may do work you won't be too proud of.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) The temptation to take risks that could jeopardize your security may be very strong today. Subdue impulses to buck the odds.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Routine matters you'll handle with ease today, but you could have some difficulties in dealing with the unexpected. Be flexible mentally.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Others will be willing to help you fulfill your ambitions today provided you lay all of your cards on the table. If you hold back, they're apt to, too.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your purse will appreciate it if you avoid the company of loose-spending friends today. Trying to keep pace may lead you to lay out more than you should.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Making abrupt changes in your plans in order to achieve goals could work to your disadvantage today. Leave well enough alone if things are going smoothly.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) In dealing with friends today, you may have to be a bit more tolerant than usual. Be ready to speedily forgive if they do something you don't like.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be careful today about involving yourself in business situations you don't fully understand. You could be outsmarted without realizing it.

George Bush Forces Here

Dalton Walton, president of Walton Construction Co., today was named Scurry County campaign coordinator for Republican Presidential candidate George Bush.

Walton, a graduate of Snyder High School and the University of Texas, is immediate past president of the Snyder chamber of commerce.

Walton said he hoped to get a local organization formed in the near future to work in Bush's behalf.

Hobbs May Lose Its Upper Grades

grades; another would keep grades of kindergarten through the 8th grade, and the other would keep grades of kindergarten through the 6th grade.

In the event that high school grades are dropped, pupils in those grades would be free to attend any area school, it was reported. The board could contract with one area school for the purpose of state transportation funds, but the high school pupils could enroll wherever they might choose.

HOBBS - The Hobbs School Board is due to decide Monday night whether to reduce the number of grades taught in the school system here.

A sharp decline in the average daily attendance has resulted in a problem which will be discussed by the board at a called meeting set for 7 p.m. Monday.

Supt. M.B. Maxwell said the board is expected to make a decision after considering three proposals. One would keep all 12
