Area Scouts Celebrate Founding Anniversaries

Feb. 3 through Feb. 10 has been designated as Scout Week in observance of the 50th anniversary of the founding of Cub Scouts and the 70th anniversary of the founding of Boy Scouts.

Locally, the main activity planned is a meeting Thursday night of the district Boy Scout committee members and representatives from chartered institutions sponsoring scout organizations. That meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. at First United Methodist Church.

Scouting in Scurry County dates back to 1913 when a Sunday School teacher, Mrs. Nancy Caton, started the first Boy Scout troop. Presently there are 20 Boy Scout and Cub Scout units in the Lone Buffalo District, which includes Snyder, Colorado City, Loraine, Hermleigh, Westbrook, and Ira.

"I believe it teaches boys character, and spiritual growth," said Ruby Shaw, publicity chairman and unit commissioner. Mrs. Shaw has had two sons to become Eagle Scouts.

"It helps a boy develop habits and attitudes of good citizenship," she added, "and it encourages good sportsmanship. It strengthens his ability to get along with others."

Medicare System Probed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Paul Simon has announced that the General Accounting Office will start a full-scale investigation of how well a company headed by Texas millionaire H. Ross Perot is performing on its Medicare contract in Illinois.

The company, Electronic Data System Federal Corp., is processing Illinois "Part B" Medicare claims from beneficiaries and doctors under a 5-year, $41.8 million contract with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare that started last April.

GOP Ponders Draft

EASTON, Md. (AP)—Some of the nation's top Republican officials are trying to reach a consensus on whether the military draft should be revived, U.S. troops committed to counter Soviet aggression and the CIA granted broad new powers.

These are among the proposed resolutions awaiting action at the third annual GOP Tidewater Conference held here on Maryland's Eastern Shore.

Ex-Bandido To Testify

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A former member of the Bandidos Motorcycle Club, identified by the FBI as "a prime suspect" in the November 1978 attempted slaying of a federal prosecutor, is due to testify next week before a federal grand jury investigating the case.

The SDN Column

Earthquakes have been rumbling in California recently, especially in the area of San Francisco. This is not unusual because that area sits over a great underground fault. These have been the subject of speculation, apprehension and even humor.

The big one, of course, occurred in 1906, and we are told that even it had its humorous sidelights. One concerned the famous opera star, Enrico Caruso.

He was staying at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco, whose eight-foot walls had withstood the quake. But the accompanying holocaust was coming near and had attacked the rear corner of the Palace. Caruso was one of the first guests to leave the hotel when it was evacuated. The incomparable, wildly excited tenor rushed down the main stairs in his pajamas. Clutched under his arm was his most prized possession, an autographed photograph of Theodore Roosevelt.

Equality has become a big word in our vocabulary. Sometimes it is difficult to pin down a firm definition, however. We have suspected for some time that many people today, especially some of those who sit on federal court benches, regard the word "equal" as a synonym for "identical," which of course it is not and never shall be, no matter how much the agitators rave and rant.

But the word "equal" may mean more to some than to others. Like the woman who hired a lawyer to handle her divorce case.

Making a report to his client, the lawyer said, "I have succeeded in making a settlement with your husband that is imminently fair to both of you."

"Fair to both of us?" said the woman. "I could have done that myself. Why do you think I hired a lawyer?"

Inmates Control Prison

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Inmates armed with pipes and clubs seized the New Mexico State Penitentiary today and took at least 11 hostages, demanding the resignation of the deputy warden and a meeting with new reporters.

Some 240 policemen and National Guardsmen surrounded the prison, which houses 1,136 prisoners, including eight women.

At least one hostage was released, but there were conflicting reports on the number of hostages inside the prison.

Inmates told Deputy Warden Robert Montoya they had four hostages in cellblock 3. They said all four were injured, but not seriously.

Santa Fe Police Chief Jesus Sosa said 11 to 15 guards were being held hostage.

John Ramming, a spokesman for the Corrections Department, said one injured guard was taken from the prison by ambulance.

"The prisoners are allowing those who were injured to leave," he said.

Warden Jerry Griffin said the prisoners started setting some fires inside, apparently burning mattresses. "They're hurting themselves because they're making it difficult to breathe," he said.

State Police Chief Martin Vigil said an inmate also had been injured. "I understand that he had been hit over the head with a cleaver and stabbed numerous times," he said.

Griffin said he was not sure what the inmates wanted, other than the resignation of Montoya, who was handling negotiations with inmates via two-way radio.

Montoya's resignation is the only thing I've heard they want, but they do want to talk," Griffin said.

Griffin said the prisoners were armed with pipes and clubs. He said they did not have firearms.

The prisoners were in control of the entire cell-block area and an information booth inside the main gate. They told Montoya they wanted to meet with members of the news media inside the gate, but would not allow them to come to the cell-blocks.

Montoya told the inmates he would not negotiate with them until all the injured were out of the prison.

Gov. Bruce King said he had agreed to meet with the inmates.

Sosa said the city's SWAT team was called in to assist officers who had surrounded the prison.

Jack Contella Dies Saturday

Jack Contella, 69, well-known Snyder restaurateur, who lived at 707 26th St., died at 9:45 a.m. Saturday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital following a long illness.

Funeral arrangements were pending at Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

A native of Burleson County, he had lived in Snyder since 1946. He was married in 1921 to Bryan to Rosie Cremona, who survives. Also surviving are a daughter, Ellie Otto of Tucson, Ariz.; a son, Tom Coqtella of Dallas; two sisters, Mrs. Joe Baumann and Mrs. Clifford LaGrange, both of Houston, and a grandson.

He was a member of St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church and served in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

Pierel Art On Exhibit Here

An exhibit of watercolors by Pierel, an Austin artist, will be featured in the Scurry County Museum through the month of February.

A reception in honor of the artist is scheduled from 1-5 o'clock this afternoon in the museum and the public is invited to attend.

Pierel has been a full-time artist since 1976, and conducts watercolor workshops in addition to painting.

In Texas Politics...

Congressional Races Thrust Into Spotlight

AUSTIN (AP)—With no Texas governor's race or a contest for U.S. Senate on the ballot this year, congressional contests will furnish much of the political action outside of the presidential struggle.

Through Friday there were official indications of at least eight congressional battles among Democrats in 24 Texas districts.

In four of the districts, the Democratic winner will face a Republican candidate in November.

The figures undoubtedly will change before the 6 p.m. filing deadline Monday.

One of the hottest battles may be in the old Speaker Sam Rayburn district of North Texas, which stretches from Denton to Tyler and Longview, with a piece of Dallas included.

Former state Sen. Ralph Hall, 56, Rockwall, once an unsuccessful candidate for lieutenant governor, filed Friday as a Democratic candidate for Congressional District No. 4, where Rep. Ray Roberts of McKinney is retiring.

Earlier, Denison oil company president Jerdy Gary, 46, filed as a candidate for Roberts' seat in the Democratic primary.

Ask Us

Q—How can Scurry County set up the new tax appraisal system before the state law says it shall go into effect?

A—The law makes it optional now and mandatory later. Officials of local taxing agencies have said that they believe if it will be good in 1982, it should be good in 1980, and why wait around when you know it must be done. Incidentally, other counties are going into it earlier also, including Kent County which has already set up its office.

College Duplexes Making Progress

"In the process of teaching them, we'll build the apartments," said Abel Garza, residential construction instructor at Western Texas College.

Garza is referring to the students he is teaching and to the apartment duplexes they are building on the south side of the college campus.

Garza, the residential construction instructor at WTC since the last of October, is presently instructing seven students in the business of how to build dwellings. The primary classroom for the students is the construction site.

The students, upon completion of academic courses and construction training, are given a one year certificate which they can use in locating a job in the construction industry.

The students are getting on-the-job training and the college is getting its apartment duplexes built to house surplus student population. Garza says it is the training of his students that takes priority over any timetable.

"In working with students, I have to stop and explain a lot of things to them," said Garza, an ex-industrial arts teacher and ex-carpenter contractor.

The purpose of the program, he said, is to introduce students to all aspects of the building trades, from pouring the foundation to putting on the finish.

Even in construction training, Garza noted, students have to have some classroom work. It is conducted in a shop building near the construction site. The rest, as he puts it, is "handsawing."

Already, one duplex apartment, housing eight coeds, has been completed. It was finished just prior to the start of school last fall. The framing is about half completed on another duplex, and the foundation for another apartment has been poured. Approximately 13 duplexes will be built in all.

The students living in the apartments seem to like it. "I love it," said Benita Lopez, a cosmetology student. "It's more private here and its open all year round."

A roommate of hers, Janice Bradbury, a legal secretarial student, said she also likes it.

"It's private and you can have people over whenever you want," she said.

Few Candidates Seeking Scurry Public Offices

Political activity was lagging in Scurry County as the filing deadline for county and state offices approached.

Only three contested races had developed for primary elections Friday, all in the Democratic Primary, with one day left for candidates to file. County Democratic Chairman Gene Bowlin was reported out of town for the weekend, but candidates have until 6 p.m. Monday to file for places on the May 3 primary ballot.

No Republican candidates had filed for offices here.

However, one office, that of District Attorney for the 132nd Judicial District, still had no announced candidate at the end of the week. District Attorney Pete Greene was reported out of town and it was not known whether he would file for re-election.

Candidates for school boards, city council and the Scurry County Junior College District Board of Trustees still have a month to file.

At the end of the week, the only contested races for the Democratic Primary in Scurry County were for District Judge, with Wayland G. Holt and James Clark candidates; for sheriff, with Keith Collier and Bobby Goodwin candidates; and for constable in Precinct No. 1, with Bill Love and Lloyd Merritt candidates. Still unopposed were Gary Terrell in the county attorney's race, and two county commissioners, Eldon Perry in Precinct No. 1 and Charlie Yoast in Precinct No. 3.

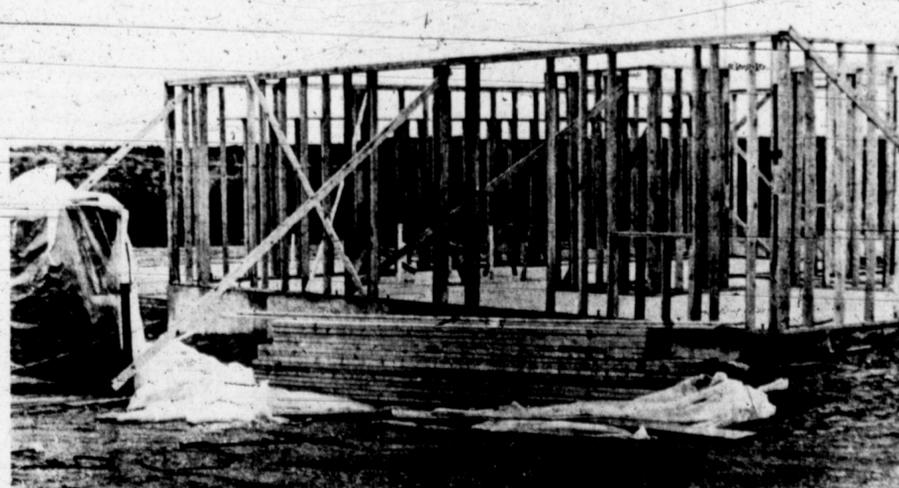

Mike Ezzell, state representative for the 63rd District, which includes Scurry County, still had no opponent Saturday.

The Scurry County Junior College District and the Snyder Independent School District will fill three places on their respective boards on April 5. Filing for these offices, along with board posts in other school districts and city council posts, will begin this week. Three candidates had filed for the Snyder School board earlier, but it was learned that the filing period would not begin officially until Feb. 5, and they have been notified to re-file. Those announcing as candidates for the Snyder School board are Michael Reed for Place 3, Jerry Rice for Place 4 and Jan McCathern for Place 5.

Hermleigh and Ira School Districts each will fill two board posts on April 5.

Candidates for the Snyder School board may file at the school administration building, and candidates for junior college district board posts may file at the Western Texas College Administration Building. Filing at Hermleigh and Ira will be at school offices.

GOING UP—Work is continuing on duplex apartments at Western Texas College. The framing is about half completed on the unit shown above, and the foundation has been poured for another. One is finished and presently houses eight students. (SDN Staff Photo)

Paintings by Dr. Clarence E. Kincaid, professor of art at Texas Tech University, will be shown in a one-man exhibit in the Fine Arts Gallery at Western Texas College from Feb. 4-29.

Hours in the gallery are 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. each weekday and there is no admission charge. Kincaid will be showing watercolors at WTC. Watercolors by Pierel of Austin will be on display in the Scurry County Museum at WTC from Feb. 3-March 2, and visitors are also invited to see that show.

The majority of Kincaid's painting depict southwestern landscape forms, although at times he turns his attention to still-life and portraiture. He tries not to be limited to any single style of expression; however, the element of light tends to dominate his thoughts while in the process of developing a painting. He has found that through the manipulation of light in painting a particular mood, a feeling of excitement, or the nature of a certain structure can be realized relative to his own expectations.

It is also Kincaid's belief that an artist must be knowledgeable of historical developments in art in order to enrich his personal feeling for painting.

"I find watercolor to be a challenging medium because of its variable nature," Kincaid says. "Relative to mood and talent, I exploit the medium in terms of technique and design. It may be a swift, spontaneous, erratic statement, or something that results from much contemplative consideration of compositional structure and technique experimentation. Watercolor techniques may range from the traditional transparent approach to more complex variations of mixed media; including casein, inks, acrylic glazes and chalks, to mention a few. The endless possibilities of technique make watercolor a very interesting experience."

The process of painting with a water soluble medium represents one of the oldest techniques known to man, Kincaid explains. Watercolor in some form has been used by artists since prehistoric times. Oil painting is usually thought of as an old, time-tested medium, but in comparison to watercolor painting the practice of painting with oils is a relatively new activity.

Kincaid's paintings are handled by the Baker Gallery of Fine Art in Lubbock and a list of his works is available from the gallery upon request. Paintings in the show at WTC will be for sale, with 10 percent of the proceeds going to scholarships for the Fine Arts division.

SHOW SET—Dr. Clarence E. Kincaid will be exhibiting watercolors in the Fine Arts gallery at WTC in a show opening Monday. He has been a member of the Texas Tech faculty since 1969 and as part of his academic assignment he is the graduate coordinator for the Ph. D in Fine Arts and Master of Art Education degree programs.

Rehearsal Of Play Begins

Rehearsals are underway for the Western Texas College dinner theatre production of "See How They Run."

The play will open Feb. 28 and continue Feb. 29-March 1, then will be repeated March 6-8.

Vocational Nursing Class Set March 1

Students interested in enrolling in the Vocational Nursing class starting March 1 at Western Texas College may make application now by contacting Winnie Poyner or Diane Beard at the college.

Tickets will be $9 per person for dinner and the show. The box office is to open on Feb. 11, and reservations may be made by calling 573-8511, extension 233 during regular business hours on campus. Dinner will be served starting at 7 p.m. each evening in the Student Center cafeteria, with the play starting at 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts Theatre.

Vocational Nursing students attend classes the year around and complete the course in one calendar year. Vocational Nursing classes are limited to 15 students, and applications must be received in advance of the starting date of each class. The next class will begin in September, 1980.

"See How They Run" is a British farce set in the 1940s, written by Philip King.

Controversial Heart Treatment Vindicated

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP)—A Corpus Christi physician who treats poor children with heart defects hopes a new review of his work will end his troubles with the State Health Department.

The review, by three out-of-state doctors, said the Pediatric Cardiology Diagnostic and Treatment Center at the Driscoll Children's Hospital in Corpus Christi was "more than acceptable" and could become "outstanding."

Dr. James Simpson says he was getting along fine with the department until Gov. Bill Clements told it last summer to spend some of its money on Simpson's Children's Heart Program of South Texas.

The program is based at the Driscoll Hospital, where Simpson is director of pediatric cardiology.

Clements, on the advice of the department, had vetoed $300,000 appropriated to the program by the 1979 Legislature.

The governor later regretted the decision and instructed the department over which he has no direct authority to give Simpson's program money from the department's funds.

Then, suddenly, came a critical report of the program, written by a group of doctors who advise the department. Simpson said the doctors came from hospitals that compete with Driscoll Hospital.

Criticism centered on the heart program's admittedly poor record keeping and, primarily, Simpson's occasional practice of performing more than one heart catheterization on a young patient before operating.

Catheterization involves running a tube through a vein and into the heart to examine it.

Simpson said he was "saddened" when the health department gave the critical—and, he said, unfair—report to the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, where he had a pending request for funds.

back. Simpson's complaints prompted the department to have three out-of-state physicians travel to Corpus Christi and evaluate the program.

The team consisted of Drs. Saul Robinson, a San Francisco pediatric cardiologist and past president of the American Academy of Pediatrics; J.B. Norton, director of pediatric cardiology at the University of Arkansas Medical School; and Thomas Bartley, a Gainesville, Fla., heart surgeon.

The team's report faulted the one prepared by the health department's advisers last summer because they employed no guidelines or standards against which to measure Simpson's program.

It said that multiple catheterizations appeared justified in the cases that were reviewed and were used when other means failed to provide the information needed.

Records were "satisfactory, with some omissions," the review team said. It found some unnecessary diagnostic tests were performed. Surgical results were good, the team said, "with only two excusable untoward outcomes in the cases reviewed."

"Certainly, at this time, the program at the Driscoll Hospital in Corpus Christi is more than an acceptable one and with the changes suggested and already in progress, it may well become an outstanding one," the report said.

Asked if he felt the new report vindicated his work, Simpson replied, "Yes."

Dr. Clift Price, the State Health Department's man in charge of grants for children's programs, said the out-of-state team's report was "worded so the program is given credit for its positive accomplishments."

But, he insisted, it "generally supports the findings of the first committee, though in softer language."

Simpson said the first, unfavorable report was "done by people with a conflict of interests" because their hospitals were in competition with the Driscoll hospital for patients.

Simpson said multiple catheterizations are done to prepare for surgery in heart cases that would have been considered hopeless a few years ago. "When you wait for an age where the risk is low, you have to follow changes as they occur," he said.

Video-Taped Lectures Taking On A New Role At Snyder High

Television in the classroom is taking on a new meaning at Snyder High School with the introduction of video taping.

In video taping, a tape recording both sights and sounds is made then played back over a television screen for student viewing. Albert Taylor, an English teacher at high school, is using it.

"We have the capabilities of a TV studio, as it were, I guess, on wheels," said Taylor.

Taylor, who is preparing to teach his sophomore English classes Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar," has already video-taped a lecture by history teacher Robert Adams and expects to soon record a drama lecture by Jerry Worsham.

Once the lectures have been put down on tape they can be played back to students in other class periods. The tapes can be filed and used in later Workshop Set years. Taylor, noting that the television set in the average home is on several hours each day, said, "It's a cinch young people get more than enough exposure to television and they relate well to it."

Alien Child Retrieved By Six Federal Agents

EL PASO (AP)—Six FBI agents plowed through deep snow to retrieve a baby boy—an illegal Mexican alien—from a Colorado ranch where his mother says he was held involuntarily, agents said.

Agents went to the ranch in eastern Colorado near the town of Kit Carson after Martha Alvarez Esparza, 17, told Mexican authorities here her 13-month-old son, Carlos, was being held "as security" to make sure she returned to her ranch job, Special Agent James E. Decker said.

Decker said, "We did successfully locate the infant child of Martha Alvarez. We entered the case after discussion with the U.S. Attorney's office was based on involuntary servitude and slavery or possible kidnapping."

No charges have been filed, Decker emphasized agents received full cooperation when they found the boy. Decker said the case is being reviewed by the U.S. Department of Justice. Decker refused to identify the rancher.

Mrs. Alvarez, an undocumented worker from Juarez, Mexico, said Friday she tended cows and pigs on the ranch and earned about $40 weekly until that wage was cut in half "to pay for food."

It was unclear why Mrs. Alvarez left the ranch two days before Christmas. The FBI said she told agents she wanted to go to Juarez for the holidays. Juan Manuel Gallastegui C., Mexican Consul General here, said she was forced to leave with a friend of the employer.

Mrs. Alvarez said she called the Mexican consulate here Monday after getting no answer when she telephoned the ranch. The case was turned over to the FBI Tuesday.

A female FBI agent, carrying the toddler and a shopping bag full of diapers arrived here late Friday on a commercial flight from Denver.

Decker said Colorado Springs agents "had to use a four-wheel drive to get into the area. They were not undercover."

Decker added, "According to the statement given to us by the mother, the child was held to ensure her safe return back to the ranch after being at her home for the holidays."

"I'm happy," a smiling Mrs. Alvarez said Friday.

Strange Puppy Was Lion's Cub

BRESCIA, Italy (AP)—A man who bought a strange-looking "puppy" at a fair here recently wondered why it never barked.

He also wondered why at 4 months old it was strong enough to break a heavy leather leash. When the owner tried to put another leash on, the animal bit him.

Both animal and master were taken to a hospital where a veterinarian announced, "This is no dog, it's a lion cub."

32 Students At WTC Named To Who's Who

Thirty-two students at Western Texas College have been named to Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges for 1979-80.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual Who's Who directory select these students on the basis of their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential.

Students named this year from WTC are Darrell Ashley of Snyder, Scott Barrett of Pampa, Bill Bass of Snyder, Betsy Benson of Ewa Beach, Hawaii, Andra Crenshaw of Snyder, Jeana von Roeder Duke of Snyder, Paiga Lou Eiland of Stanton, Beckye Everett of Snyder, Tim Garland of Hermleigh, Brigitte Hamilton of Jayton, Annette Harris of Dickens, Jerry Lee Hendon of Snyder, Jan Holley of Pecos, and Kenneth Levens of Anson.

Also Mike Mahan of Midland, Belva Marsh of Ralls, Danny McCormack of Snyder, Laurie Partain of Snyder, Ginger Peden of Levelland, Susan Pherigo of Snyder, Joyce Plagens of Rankin, Delbra Ray of Industry, Sheila Sandbothe of Anson, Soylia Santos of O'Donnell, Monette Sentell of Snyder, Patrick Toombs of Fluvanna, Carolyn Weems of Snyder, Tracey Kruger Williamson of Hermleigh, Lynn Wimmer of Snyder, Rocky Youngblood of Snyder, and Mark Zimmerman of Roscoe.

Ashley, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ashley, is a sophomore Petroleum Technology major. He plans to continue his education and earn a bachelor of science in petroleum engineering. He was graduated from Seminole High School and has been named to the Dean's List at WTC.

Barrett is a co-captain of the Westerner golf team and a sophomore pre-law major. He serves as vice president of the judo team and is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, a national honor society for students in junior colleges. He was recognized as an Outstanding Government Student as last spring's Recognition Program and has been named to the Dean's List and the President's List. He plans to transfer to Texas Tech University and attend law school there.

A graduate of Pampa High School, Barrett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Barrett.

Bass is a business major and plans to continue his education at the University of Texas at Austin. He is a member of Phi Theta Kappa and was a freshman representative to the Student Senate. He has been named to the Dean's List. He is a graduate of Snyder High School and the son of Mr. and Mrs. W.P. Bass.

Miss Crenshaw is also a Snyder High School graduate and is majoring in general business. She is vice president of Phi Theta Kappa and secretary of the Student Senate. She was a Student Senate representative in her freshman year and secretary for Kappa Chi. She has been named to the Dean's List. She plans to seek secretarial work in public relations after leaving WTC.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Crenshaw.

Mrs. Everett, an elementary education major, has already begun working toward a degree at Texas Tech University. She is a member of Phi Theta Kappa and received two scholarships from the American Business Women's Association while at WTC. She was named to the WTC Dean's List. She plans for a career in teaching upon completion of her degree requirements at Tech.

A graduate of Snyder High School, Mrs. Everett is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.D. Grose-close.

Fuqua, a sophomore journalism major, is vice president of the WTC Press Club and is on the staff of the campus newspaper, The Western Texan. He plans to transfer to Texas Tech University. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Brice Fuqua, Britt is a graduate of Hermleigh High School.

Garland is a sophomore physical education major and plans a career in coaching after earning a four-year degree. He is vice president of the WTC chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and a member of Phi Theta Kappa. He is active in the intramural sports program at WTC and enjoys sports as hobbies as well. He is a graduate of New Deal High School.

Miss Hamilton is a representative to the Student Senate and a member of Phi Theta Kappa. She was a member of the Dusters basketball squad in her freshman year and was a Campus Favorite for 1978-79. She is a sophomore majoring in petroleum engineering and plans to transfer to Texas Tech to continue her studies in engineering.

Levens was graduated from Anson High School and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Levens. Mahan came to WTC from Midland High School and has been chosen a petroleum engineering major. He is a co-captain of the WTC Westerner golf team, a member of the Student Senate and of Phi Theta Kappa. He was named an Outstanding Government Student last spring and was a nominee for Mr. Trailhand for 1979. He appeared in the WTC drama department production of "The Little Foxes." He plans to transfer to a four-year school to complete a baccalaureate degree and would also like to continue playing golf.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. J.T. Mays of Midland. Miss Marsh is a WTC cheerleader, a member of the Student Senate and of Phi Theta Kappa. She is a sophomore physical education major and played on the Duster basketball squad in her freshman year. She enjoys other sports as well and is considering a career in coaching. A graduate of Ralls High School, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wideman.

McCormack, a Mid-Management major, has completed his studies at WTC and will be employed by Hughes Tool Company in Gainesville. He is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, DECA (Distributive Educations Clubs of America) and was recognized as an Outstanding Mid-Management Student. He is a Snyder High School graduate and the son of Mr. and Mrs. H.L. McCormack.

Miss Partain, a sophomore psychology major, is a member of Phi Theta Kappa. She plans to continue her studies at Texas Tech University. She was graduated from Snyder High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Partain. Miss Peden is a member of the Dusters basketball squad and a sophomore physical education major. She would like to continue her studies and become a basketball coach.

At WTC, Miss Peden is a member of Phi Theta Kappa and was a nominee for the title of Miss WTC. She received a basketball scholarship following her graduation from Whiteface High School. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Oren Peden. Mrs. Pherigo was an elementary education major at WTC and is continuing her studies at Texas Tech. She was graduated from Coahoma High School and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Balzer, live in Coahoma. She and her husband, Keith, have two children, Melissa and Matt.

Miss Plagens came to WTC from Rankin High School and received a basketball scholarship. She is a member of the Dusters basketball squad and of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. She is a member of Phi Theta Kappa and was named to the Dean's List for the 1979 fall semester. She is interested in pursuing a career in coaching. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Plagens. Miss Ray is also a member of the Dusters basketball squad and came to WTC following her graduation from Bellville High School in the fall of 1978. She had played basketball for Duster Coach Joe Cushing at Bellville High.

She is a sophomore physical education major and plans to transfer to Huston-Tillotson College in Austin. She is a member of Phi Theta Kappa and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. She is the daughter of Mrs. Lucille Ray.

Miss Sandbothe is president of Phi Theta Kappa and treasurer of the Student Senate. She served as co-editor of The Western Texan in the 1979 fall semester and was chosen Anniversary Queen during WTC's 10th anniversary celebration. She is a legal secretarial studied major and a member of the Office Education Association, an organization for office occupations students. She was a nominee for the Miss Trailhand 1979 title.

A graduate of Anson High School, Miss Sandbothe is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.J. Sandbothe. Miss Santos is also a legal secretarial studied major, vice president of the Judo Club, a member of Phi Theta Kappa and a sophomore representative to the Student Senate. She is on the staff of The Western Texan and assists with the operation of the WTC planetarium. She has been named to the Dean's List. She plans to work and continue her studies at Texas Tech.

Miss Santos is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Santos and a graduate of O'Donnell High School. Mrs. Sentell, a journalism major at WTC, is presently enrolled at Texas Tech with a major in Mass Communications. At WTC, she was co-editor of The Western Texan for the 1979 fall semester, a member of the Press Club, on the Dean's List and the President's List. She was recognized for special contribution to the WTC theatre department last spring. She received second place for her entry in the commercial writing contest at the Rocky Mountain College Press Association meeting in Colorado Springs in 1979. Mrs. Sentell was graduate from Snyder High School. She is the wife of Joe Sentell and has two daughters, ages 10 and 12.

Toombs, a general agriculture major, plans to transfer to Texas Tech to complete requirements for a bachelor's degree and then to attend law school at Tech or the University of Texas. He is a member of Phi Theta Kappa.

He was graduated from Borden County High School, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Toombs. Miss Weems is a sophomore psychology major and plans a career in the area of counseling. She is a member of the Baptist Student Union.

A graduate of Rotan High School, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil R. Weems. Mrs. Williamson is a member of Phi Theta Kappa and recipient of a social sciences scholarship. She plans to transfer to an Abilene College to continue her studies. She has been named to the WTC Dean's List.

Volcker Wants Balanced Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) - The chairman of the Federal Reserve Board thinks a balanced 1981 budget would help show the world that the United States is serious about fighting inflation.

"If we could get a balanced budget in 1981, I would favor it," Fed Chairman Paul A. Volcker said Friday. But he said he did not consider President Carter's proposed fiscal 1981 budget, with a $16 billion deficit, "irresponsible."

Public Comment Invited In Conservation Review

The past week launched a 60-day public review period during which time interested people are being asked to comment on the direction they think future U.S. Department of Agriculture conservation programs should take.

The public review period began Jan. 28 and ends March 28.

Four draft documents describing the nation's non-federal soil and water resources, their condition, projected demands, and seven proposed alternative strategies can be reviewed at the local Soil Conservation Service Field Office.

Erwin Pavlik, Soil Conservation Service District Conservationist, said the proposals for a national soil and water conservation program were developed by a coordinating committee made up of members from nine U.S. Department of Agriculture agencies plus the Office of Management and Budget and the Council on Environmental Quality. The process, mandated by the Soil and Water Resources Conservation Act of 1977 (RCA), included consideration of public input from 9,000 public meetings held in the United States during 1978.

The Act directs the USDA to appraise the condition of the nation's renewable natural resources and to propose alternative programs to guide the Nation's conservation activities. The appraisal revealed that one-third of the Nation's cropland — 136 million acres — is eroding at an excessive rate.

Basic information about the RCA process and proposals may be seen in four documents:

The first document, Draft Appraisal Part I, describes the status and condition of our natural resources and provides information on their quantity and quality and major uses of nonfederal land. The completed draft identifies national conservation objectives for:

- Reducing erosion and preserving prime farmlands.
- Improving water quality.
- Conserving water.
- Improving fish and wildlife habitat, including the preservation of wetlands.
- Reducing upstream flood damages.
- Conserving energy.
- Solving related resource problems.

The second document, Draft Appraisal Part II, projects demands on soil and water resources to the year 2030 and suggests levels of management that could be used to preserve these resources. It also summarizes trends in rural land ownership and describes the contribution of state and local programs to soil and water conservation.

The third document, Program Report and Environmental Impact Statement, outlines seven possible approaches — called alternative strategies — for changing USDA conservation programs and outlines the probable environmental impact.

The fourth document, Summary of Appraisal, Parts I and II, and Program Report is a brief summary of the other three documents.

During the public review period, three public meetings will be held in Texas to discuss content of the documents and provide an opportunity for comments. The meetings will be held in Arlington on Feb. 26; Lubbock, March 4; and San Antonio, March 6.

Interested citizens are invited to send written comments about the documents or suggestions about future conservation programs to the RCA Response Analysis Center, P.O. Box 888, Athens, Ga. 30603.

Anyone interested in reviewing the documents or finding out more information about upcoming RCA meetings should contact Soil Conservation Service District Conservationist Erwin Pavlik, in the Agricultural Service Center, 3423 Avenue T. The office is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

PLANS READIED—Bhly Bob McMullan, left, and Floyd Collins, two agriculture teachers at Snyder High School, confer on the upcoming livestock show. The Snyder show, which will be held Feb. 10 and 11, is a prelude to the county show which will be held Feb. 13-16. (SDN Staff Photo)

Stock Show Set By Snyder FFA

The annual Snyder FFA Junior Livestock Show will be held Feb. 10 and 11 at the agriculture annex at the Scurry County Coliseum, announced Billy Bob McMullan, Snyder High School agriculture teacher.

The 10th, which falls on a Sunday, will be devoted to grooming the animals and weighing them. Judging will be held the 11th, a Monday.

On the 11th, said McMullan, judging will begin about 1 p.m. and will continue until 5 p.m. Expected to be in the show this year, he said, are six calves, about 30 lambs, and about 125 hogs.

"The competition is going to be tough just among our chapters," McMullan said, "and it will be tougher in the county show."

The county show, which will feature animals raised by students in Snyder, Ira, and Hermleigh, will be held at the coliseum annex Feb. 13-16.

Newsmen Sat On Fugitive Story

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several Washington reporters withheld for many weeks the story that six American fugitives were being sheltered in the Canadian Embassy in Tehran.

Jean Pelletier, the Canadian reporter who broke the story on Tuesday, knew about the Americans' plight since Dec. 10.

Wet Weather In East, Cold In West Halt Farm Work In Texas

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Agricultural activity has generally been at a standstill over Texas except for continued care and feeding of livestock, says Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Wet conditions over the eastern half of the state and cold weather in western sections combined to reduce field work.

Much cropland over eastern, central and southern parts of the state has been prepared for spring planting, and recent rains are providing good reserve moisture. Pfannstiel said in his weekly crop report. Soil moisture is adequate over all the eastern half of Texas while most western areas and parts of South Texas remain dry, he said.

Cotton ginning remains active over the Plains and Far West Texas due to the large amount of cotton field-stored in modules. A few pecans are still being harvested along with citrus and some winter vegetables in the Rio Grande Valley and Winter Garden. The sugar cane harvest has been completed in the Valley.

Spring planting is just around the corner in South Texas and the Coastal Bend. Some early spring vegetables are already been planted in these areas as well as in parts of East Texas, Pfannstiel said.

Livestock are holding up well over the state, largely due to the mild winter weather, although western and northern sections had some freezing rain and snow the past week. Supplemental feeding remains widespread over the state but in many areas has not been as heavy as in past years due to the lack of adverse weather, he said.

Reports from District Extension agents showed the following conditions.

PANHANDLE — Rain, sleet and snow brought some moisture to the area the past week although some counties still remain dry. A few cotton modules remain to be ginned. Wheat is dormant and is providing little grazing. Livestock remain in good condition due to widespread supplemental feeding.

SOUTH PLAINS — Icy conditions over the area have all agricultural activity at a standstill except for some cotton ginning and feeding of range cattle. Recent snow did not provide much moisture, so the areas remain generally dry. Dryland wheat needs moisture but wheat under irrigation looks good.

ROLLING PLAINS — Ginning of moduled cotton continues. The past season's cotton crop was a good one, with above average yields and generally good prices. Small grains have improved due to recent rains and should provide some grazing in the weeks to come. However, greenbug activity has increased.

FAR WEST — The cotton harvest is virtually complete but a lot of module cotton remains to be ginned. Carrot harvesting continues in the Coyanosa area. Irrigated small grains are being grazed by livestock. Farmers are busy with spring land preparation, and ranchers continue to feed livestock. Lambing and calving continue.

WEST-CENTRAL — Rains have boosted small grains but cold is limiting growth. Livestock are fair to good, with lambing and calving increasing. Many lambs are thin and weak. Livestock feeding remains heavy.

CENTRAL — Moisture is adequate throughout the area. Small grains are growing well though acreage is limited. Livestock feeding continues but is not as heavy as in past winters due to mild weather. Spring land preparations are under way as weather permits.

SOUTHWEST — Moisture remains short over the area despite recent scattered rains. Wheat and oats are generally growing well but are providing only limited grazing.

Jury Says Firing Of Nelson Wrong

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A state jury says Associated Milk Producers Inc. must pay $919,000 to former general manager Harold Nelson, who was fired after he was convicted of conspiring to bribe then-U.S. Treasury Secretary John Connally in 1971.

The jury in the civil suit granted the back pay and retirement benefits Friday after determining that AMPI did not have the right to fire Nelson because its directors knew of the illegal activity.

AMPI attorneys said they would appeal the verdict.

AMPI fired Nelson, 62, on Sept. 12, 1974, after paying him $180,000 on a seven-year contract worth $700,000. Nelson's retirement benefits dating back to 1949 were also terminated.

The firing came after Nelson's July 31, 1974 conviction for conspiring to bribe Connally with a $10,000 payment allegedly made by Austin lobbyist Jake Jacobsen. The conviction came in the wake of the Watergate investigation.

The payment supposedly was to have ensured that Connally would influence President Nixon to raise milk price support payments.

Nelson, a founder of the non-profit dairy marketing cooperative, served 120 days of a three-year prison sentence and paid a $10,000 fine.

Connally, who now seeks the Republican presidential nomination, was acquitted on a charge of accepting a bribe.

AMPI was fined $35,000 after pleading guilty to making $332,000 in illegal corporate campaign contributions to various politicians, including Nixon, Hubert Humphrey and Edmund Muskie.

HEALTH TIP from DEAN

The word 'asylum' means a 'place of security and retreat.' Dr. D. A. Treffert of Winnebago, Wis. Mental Health Inst. believes there should be asylums for sane people who need to get away from it all. Why not retreats where people could check in or out at will, join with others or be alone, enjoy a range of activities or loaf, and get professional help if desired? Dr. Treffert suggests sane asylums set up at church camps, college campuses, psychiatric hospitals, and costing less than $30 per day.

Brownfield Poses No Problem As...

Tigers Clinch First-Round Title

Snyder's Tigers ran up a quick 10-2 lead, extended it to as much as 29 points in the fourth quarter and held on to burn Brownfield 79-55 here Friday night.

Coach George Byerly and company the first-round District 3-AAA title. The Tigers begin round-two play Feb. 8 in Sweetwater. Before that, on Feb. 5, Snyder plays host to Abilene Christian High School in non-district action. Mark Preston set fire to the Tiger offense, scoring 14 of his game-high 19 points in the first half. He got plenty of help along the way by eight other Snyder players who put points on the board.

Only Brent Taylor, who had missed the past several games with an ankle injury, failed to score. That may change soon, however. Taylor saw action in the final minutes of Friday's game, and looks to be in the lineup more frequently next week.

Kyle Short scored 15 points and Brad Richardson 13 to add to Preston's horde. Snyder tucked the game away as early as the second period when Preston hit for four straight free throws and Richardson came back with two buckets to put the Tigers in front 28-14. After Brownfield's Dirk Bush scored a three-point play, the Tigers continued rolling.

Barry Blackmon tipped in a shot, followed by two free throws from Short and a driving layup from Thomas Selmon, to give the home team a commanding 34-17 lead, which stretched to 40-22 by half-time.

Solid defense the Tiger's mainstay all season kept Brownfield from making any comeback attempt. Blackmon pulled down seven of Snyder's 25 rebounds and walked off with eight steals to lead the defense.

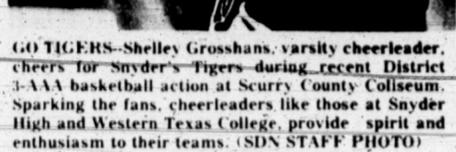

Offensively, Snyder hit 24 of 42 field goal efforts. Selmon aided in the overall effort with nine assists and nine points. Bush paced the Cubs with 18 points. Brent Wilkes was the only other Brownfield player in double figures with 10. The visitors brought down 18 rebounds and hit 20 of 45 from the floor.

Earlier in the evening, at Snyder High School gym, the Tiger junior varsity slapped Brownfield 58-40.

Nolan Richardson and John Wilson scored 15 points each for Snyder. Keith Wallace added nine.

Cats Control Jayton Meet

JAYTON — Snyder boys sophomores defeated Jayton freshman on Thursday and Motley County on Friday to advance to the finals of the Jayton Tournament which was slated for 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Felines Escape Brownfield Rally

Brownfield's Lady Cubs played only three quarters here Friday night, but that was almost enough as Snyder Felines had to basket eight overtime points to hold off the upset-minded visitors and take a 46-38 win.

Coretz hit a 12-foot jumper with seven seconds left to make it 38-38 and push things into extra innings. It was all Snyder in the three-minute overtime.

stanza however. Kim Harlin basketed a pair of charity shots with 2:28 left to give the Felines the lead. Brenda Anderson made it 42-38 with 1:27 remaining and a free shot by Pam Gray and three more by Sandy Sewell put the game in the freezer.

'Too Tall' Cleared

DALLAS (AP) — A 25-year-old woman who described Dallas Cowboy turned boxer Ed "Too Tall" Jones as a "nice man" has dropped the rape complaint she signed against him earlier this week.

Anderson led Snyder scorers with 16 points for the night. Jamie Hataway added 10 and Sewell and Tracey O'Day punched in eight apiece.

Snyder handled Jayton 54-39, but had to score 11 overtime points to get past Motley County 59-52. Snyder girls also defeated Motley County to reach the tourney finals. Information on that game was not accessible, however, they were to play again Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

It was not until the clock showed 7:32 in the second quarter that Brownfield scored its first point of the game. Snyder, which had taken a 12-0 first-period advantage, went into the dressing room at halftime ahead 22-9, and all looked well for the Felines.

The woman signed a statement for Dallas Police Friday night saying she wished to drop the complaint.

Holladay's 21 points guided the Cubs, now 9-13 for the campaign and 1-4 in loop play. Angela Russell had nine points.

King resigned, effective immediately, citing what spokesman called a disappointing season and family concerns.

But Brownfield wasn't through playing yet. The Cubs, led by Marcy Holladay's 16 second-half points, won the third quarter 16-8 and the fourth 13-8 to tie the game. Jamie

Jones, a 6-foot, 9-inch tall, 225-pound former defensive lineman on three Super Bowl teams who is now pursuing the heavy-weight championship, has been arrested by Dallas officers early Thursday after the woman, a nurse, claimed Jones raped her.

After signing a notarized statement that she did not want to press the complaint or seek prosecution, the woman told reporters, "Mr. Jones is a nice man, and I don't want to do anything to hurt his career."

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — University of Tulsa officials are expected to name a search committee next week to find a replacement for basketball coach Jim King, who resigned Friday.

King resigned, effective immediately, citing what spokesman called a disappointing season and family concerns.

Athletic Director Emery Turner appointed Bill Franey, assistant coach for the Hurricane, as King's replacement beginning with tonight's home contest against Bradley.

King, Tulsa coach since 1975, resigned during a late Friday afternoon meeting with school President J. Paschal Twyman.

The Hurricane lost its third straight game Thursday night to Creighton in Omaha, Neb. The loss dropped Tulsa's record to 6-12.

It had been rumored that King's contract would not be renewed after the current season. The school's board of trustees meets next week.

Twyman said King chose to resign effective immediately although he was encouraged to complete the season.

"Jim King is a man of character and in this most difficult time that character is foremost," Twyman said. "As a TU alumnus, King is concerned enough to act in what he believes to be the best interests of the team and the university."

"I'm stepping back to get my family away from all the negative things," King said.

The woman told police she was dropping the complaint because she wanted to avoid going "through the emotional trauma and publicity of a trial."

After signing a notarized statement that she did not want to press the complaint or seek prosecution, the woman told reporters, "Mr. Jones is a nice man, and I don't want to do anything to hurt his career."

Dusters Stomp Ranger

There's not a lot to be said when one team beats another by 33 points, and Coach Joe Cushing's Dusters did just that Friday, ripping Ranger Junior College 74-41 in the WTC Gym.

"It was just a good, overall team effort," Cushing commented. "Everybody helped out." "Imagine a score of 71 points and only one girl in double-figures? That's the way it was as all 14 Dusters put points on the board. A dozen helped on the rebounding.

Linda Holubec scored 10 points to lead the charge, but she had a host of help from Jenni Anderson with nine points, Delbra Ray with eight, and Tonya Ivie, Liz Hooper, and Stella Bickley with six apiece. The list goes on and on, including five points each from Shari Teal, Bonnie Bludworth and Ginger Peden.

Holubec, a 5-10 freshman, also led in rebounding with nine. Bludworth had eight, Joyce Plagens seven and Teal six. WTC out-rebounded the Ranger team 48-20.

The Dusters, who expanded their season record to 21-7, led the non-conference opponent 37-17 at half time and coasted in the second half.

Despite the win, which puts WTC ever-nearer breaking the record of 23 here, Cushing was anything but passive. Saturday morning.

"My morning is all in knots," he said, thinking of Monday's bout with Howard County College in Big Spring. The Dusters defeated the Hawk Queens in earlier conference play, and in the Tarleton Tournament, but both games were close, and Howard College is currently tied with WTC for the conference lead with a 5-1 record.

"We'll have to really get after it now," he added. "It would help to have some of our fans over at Big Spring on Monday to cheer us on. This is a very important game for both teams."

WTC Faces HCC Monday

BIG-SPRING--Double-header Western Junior College Athletic Conference play returns to this area Monday night as Howard County College hosts Western Texas in Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

Western Texas College would like to leave here as sole leaders in the WJAC, but there's a good bet Howard County will try and stop that show of force.

Highlighting the twin-bill will be the 6 p.m. game between HC's Hawk Queens and WTC's Dusters, both locked for the conference lead with 5-1 records. A three-way tie between those two schools and Odessa was snapped Thursday when Amarillo's Lady Badgers snuffed Odessa 88-73.

The 8 p.m. men's games should be a wild affair also, pitting two of the National Junior College Athletic Association's strongest offensive machines.

Coach Nolan Richardson's Westerners, the No. 1 junior college team in the nation, average 100.2 points a game - second in the NJCAA. The Hawks, led by impressive Mike Wallace, are third in team offense, scoring an average of 98.2. Wallace, who sticks up over 28 points an outing, is the nation's No. 5 junior college scorer.

Howard College, unranked in the NJCAA top 20 poll, is 14-9 on the season and 5-5 in the conference action. The Westerners are 22-0 and 10-0.

Other WJAC games set for Monday, along with conference records, included:

Controversy Hangs Over Olympics

By The Associated Press

While the Olympic Torch moves on a steady course to ignite the Winter Games in Lake Placid, N.Y., the controversy over the Summer Games in Moscow continues to flare on several fronts.

Some three dozen countries, according to the U.S. State Department, have indicated their belief that Moscow would be an inappropriate place to hold the Olympics this summer.

But State Department spokesman Hodding Carter said Friday that only 17 of the countries have publicly announced their positions. And to further cloud the situation, Olympic executives from five of them voted at a meeting in Frankfurt, Germany, to support the concept of participation in the Moscow Games.

The 17 countries who have publicly announced their anti-Moscow positions, according to Carter, include:

Canada, Great Britain,

The Netherlands, Norway, Luxembourg, Chile, Haiti, Australia, Fiji, New Guinea, New Zealand, China, Djibouti, Zaire, Egypt, Qatar and Saudi Arabia.

But in the wake of this dramatic announcement, Olympic committees of 10 Western European nations and Egypt met in Frankfurt for four hours Friday, and generally expressed support of the Moscow Games. Represented at the meeting were Great Britain, Norway, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Egypt, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Denmark, Switzerland and Spain.

The respective Olympic committees, however, left open a final decision, pending a meeting Feb. 10 in Lake Placid of the International Olympic Committee. In effect, they did not agree as a group whether their countries would be represented in Moscow, but left that question up to the national Olympic committee in each nation.

WHAM!-WTC freshman Shari Teal shows she's a force to be reckoned with as she plows over a Ranger player during Duster basketball Friday night. Unfortunately, Teal's aggressiveness didn't pay off this time. The opponent was set and Teal was called for charging. (SDN STAFF PHOTO)

Holmes Fight May Not Be The Best

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) - Two world championship fights are on the card at Caesars Palace on Sunday, yet the best fight might well be between Thomas Hearns and Jim Richards.

Hearns is the No. 2 World Boxing Council welterweight contender, and Richards is No. 4.

The headlined bouts have WBC heavy weight champion Larry Holmes going against Itlay's Lorenzo Zanon and super bantamweight king Wilfredo Gomez meeting the No. 2 contender Ruben Valdez.

Holmes hails from Easton, Pa., Gomez from Puerto Rico and Valdez from Colombia.

Hearns fights out of Detroit as an undefeated welterweight aiming at the crown of either Sugar Ray Leonard or Pipino Cuevas.

Both Holmes and Gomez are considered outstanding favorites for their Sunday bouts, which will be nationally televised by ABC in a card that starts at Caesars Palace Sports Pavilion at 2:15 p.m.

Hearns might have some trouble but already looks forward to fighting Leonard, Cuevas or Roberto Duran, the former lightweight king who has now moved into the 147-pound class.

"Basically, I would like to fight anybody at the top," said Hearns, who is disappointed that his fight probably will not be nationally televised. With a 24-0 record, including 22 knockouts, he feels he's been cheated by television.

"I'm getting bad breaks and no good breaks as far as television goes," said the 6-foot-1 skinny fighter who hits like a heavy-weight. He said he would rather meet Leonard or Cuevas than Duran because the latter, one of history's best lightweights, still hasn't won the welterweight title.

Only if both of the two title fights end in early rounds will Hearns be seen over television, and this bugs him.

"I wish people could see me the same way they see Leonard," he said.

It happens. When people advertise a car, furniture, appliance, musical instruments and other good usable items for sale in Classified, results come quickly. This points up two facts which have meaning for you. (1) When you are in the market for a particular item, read the Classified ads regularly and respond to those which have appeal to you as quickly as possible, and (2) When you have something you'd like to sell, advertise it in Classified.

Reading and using Classified is rewarding to buyer and seller alike!

Salt Diversion System Gradually Cleans Lakes

Admittedly, that part of Colorado River Municipal Water District water which comes from Lake E.V. Spence has a substantial salt content, but for a diversion program, it could and would be much worse.

During 1979, CRMWD diverted 18,000 tons of chloride (or twice that much in the form of salt) from the Lake Spence watershed. Since activating the Colorado City diversion works in 1969 and the Beals Creek diversion in 1974, the district has removed an aggregate of 206,363 tons of chlorides, or about 472,000 tons of salt which otherwise ultimately would have made its way into Lake Spence.

The Colorado City diversion, which began operations in 1969, has resulted in withdrawal of 132,518 tons of chlorides in 11 years. The Beals Creek project, which started in 1974, has diverted 73,215 tons of chlorides in its six years of operation.

There are signs that the program is producing something besides statistical results. In both the river flow below the Colorado City diversion works, and the Beals Creek crossing at Big Spring, there has been a marked decline in parts per million chlorides in the normal low flow of the river.

The volume of withdrawal has a lot to do with total volume of stream flow in a given year, hence it is not possible to compare the diverted tonnage at the start of the program and at the past year and reach definite conclusions. However, in the first two years of good flow after activation of the Colorado City diversion works, CRMWD diverted an average of 13,500 tons. The average for the past four years has been 10,800 tons. The first two years when the accumulated concentration in Three-Mile and Four-Mile Lakes on Beals Creek above Big Spring was largely pumped out, the district averaged 18,000 tons a year. Now that figure has dropped to 8,200 tons for the past four years.

While there doubtless is some natural salt pollution of the Colorado River below Lake J.B. Thomas, much of the salt intrusion is thought to be the cumulative result of a quarter of a century of disposing of oilfield brines into earthen pits on the watershed. It will take this long or longer for most of this pollution to be leached out of the soil, noted O.H. Ivie, general manager of CRMWD, but signs point to a gradual but steady diminution of the chlorides reaching the river. The Beals Creek pollution west of Big Spring is natural, but it is thought to represent mostly the accumulation of chlorides from centuries of playa lake evaporation.

At Colorado City, the district intercepts the Colorado River normal low flow, which has a high concentration of chlorides, by means of a low channel-dam. This is pumped back into nearby reservoirs from whence several oil companies obtain supplies of unpotable water for secondary oil recovery operations. Pumps draw water from Three and Four-Mile lakes and boost it six miles west behind the Natural Dam which impounds on Sulphur Draw one of the saltiest lakes in the world. As contents of the two lakes are emptied year by year, the new inflow has less and less chlorides.

Fair Housing Course To Open Tuesday

A three-hour course in Fair Housing Practices is scheduled Tuesday night at Western Texas College.

The class will meet from 6:30-9:30 p.m. in room 101 of the Learning Resource Center. The fee will be $10 per student. Brenda Hedges and Mike Graves will be instructors.

Persons seeking real estate licensure in Texas must complete three classroom hours of instruction on federal, state and local laws governing housing discrimination, housing credit discrimination and community reinvestment. This course will meet that requirement. It is also recommended for all agents and brokers already licensed. They are reminded that the Texas Real Estate Commission has the power to revoke or suspend licenses of any person practicing discrimination.

Details of the course may be obtained by contacting the WTC Community Services office at 573-8511, extension 240.

It Could Be Worse In Chicago, But Not Much

CHICAGO (AP)—It hasn't snowed much this winter, so things could be worse in Chicago.

In America's second-largest city, which once called itself "The City that Works" in an advertising campaign, less and less seems to be working?

The city government is strapped for cash and it will find borrowing a more difficult and costly task as a result of the lower rating hung on its credit this week.

Chicago firefighters want a contract and a pay raise; and their leaders have voted to call a strike, possibly today.

It has been three months since the school board's credit rating was lowered, but the system continues to struggle. Schools were open this week, but teachers walked out when their pay from mid-January was delayed and few students showed up.

A year ago, the snowstorms that finished Michael Bilandic's tenure as mayor had just fallen. Jane Byrne made a camaign issue of the city's sluggish response to the snow and rode it to victory.

Mrs. Byrne blames many of her problems, particularly the financial ones, on previous administrations. And some of her critics agree the city is now paying for not facing up to problems in the past.

"The city that works was for 20 years the city that juggled its books," says Alderman Edward Vrdolyak.

Oil Profits Like Replay of 1974

NEW YORK (AP)—The oil industry's profit reports for 1979 sounded like a replay of 1974; earnings jumping higher as world oil prices soared.

In 1979, as prices charged by Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries members nearly doubled, the five largest oil companies in the United States had profits that totaled $11.2 billion, up 69 percent from 1978's $6.6 billion.

Exxon Corp. alone accounted for $4.3 billion of the total as the world's largest oil company logged a 55 percent profit gain and became the first industrial corporation to earn more than $4 billion in one year.

All in all, 1979 was a good year, said Exxon Chairman Clifton C. Garvin Jr. But Garvin noted the company's energy exploration and development expenditures rose by 29 percent in 1979 to $6.9 billion and will increase to $7.5 billion in 1980.

Among other major oil companies, earnings at No. 2-ranked Mobil Corp. were up 78 percent from 1978 at $2.01 billion; No. 3-ranked Texaco Inc. up 106 percent at $1.76 billion; fourth-ranked Standard Oil Company of California, ahead by 64 percent at $1.79 billion; and fifth-ranked Gulf Oil Corp., up 68 percent at $1.32 billion.

Percentage earnings gains at some oil companies were far larger. Fourteenth-ranked Standard Oil Co. Ohio, for instance, tallied a gain of 163 percent to $1.2 billion as Alaskan crude oil production and prices both rose sharply.

Another major contributor to earnings was an increase in overseas profitability as both profit margins and prices climbed.

Entries In Contest Due

The Snyder Writers' Guild is accepting entries in a writing contest planned in conjunction with a workshop on March 29.

Entries in the contest are due by Feb. 27 and are to be delivered or mailed to Mrs. Roy Burk at 2302 40th Street or Dr. Edward Barkowsky at Western Texas College.

Entries must not exceed 3,500 words in length, and are to be entered in the fiction or non-fiction category. Manuscripts must be typewritten, double spaced, and on standard size paper.

Cash prizes will be awarded the first place winner in each division at the workshop. Etta Lynch, Lubbock writer and editor, will judge the contest entries and conduct the workshop.

The average farmer today is in his late 50s, and for every four farmers who die or retire only one new person is entering farming.

But Analyst Constantine G. Fliakos of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Inc. noted new price rises by OPEC and others may "squeeze profit margins" of major oil companies whose inventories are unusually high just as an economic slowdown is expected to trim oil consumption.

The 1979 profit jumps came after four years of generally slow earnings growth. Last year in general was the most profitable year since the explosion of 1973 and 1974 sparked by the quadrupling of OPEC oil prices and the Arab oil embargo against the United States.

For the five largest oil companies, earnings fell from a total $7.8 billion in 1974 to $5.6 billion in 1975, came to about $6.1 billion in 1976 and again in 1977, and rose to $6.6 billion in 1978 before jumping to $11.2 billion last year.

During that time, inflation cut the purchasing power of the dollar by about 64 percent, the U.S. government says.

While there doubtless is some natural salt pollution of the Colorado River below Lake J.B. Thomas, much of the salt intrusion is thought to be the cumulative result of a quarter of a century of disposing of oilfield brines into earthen pits on the watershed. It will take this long or longer for most of this pollution to be leached out of the soil, noted O.H. Ivie, general manager of

While the diversion programs are helping, they are slow, said Ivie. The most rapid and dramatic improvement in quality will come when there is a flood condition on the watersheds because flood flow is excellent quality. Because Lake J.B. Thomas is extremely low and lake E.V. Spence in the lower one-third of capacity, huge inflows would revolutionize quality, he said.

A French decree abolishing feudalism was proclaimed in 1789.

Wedding Vows Exchanged In Seminole Presbyterian Church

At a candlelight ceremony in the sanctuary of the Seminole First Presbyterian Church, Miss Dana Gay Cotton became the bride of Paul J. Starr Friday, January 11. The Rev. Cornelio C. Ramirez, pastor of St. James Catholic Church, performed the double ring service at 6 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cotton, 1007 NW Avenue J, Seminole, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Starr of New Orleans, La. Grandparents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Millsap of Colorado City, Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Cotton of Dunn and Mrs. Odie Craig of Snyder.

The scene at the altar was lighted by a myriad of white bridal tapers in tiered seven-branch candelabra that formed a background for twin white cathedral baskets of greenery at either side. The bridal aisle was lighted by pew candles attacked by pink and burgundy satin ribbons and bows. A pink unity candle in a ring or greenery was lighted by the couple as Mrs. John E. Moffatt, pianist, softly played "Whither Thou Goest." She also played the traditional wedding marches and nuptial selections that included "Love Theme from Romeo and Juliet," "Evergreen," "Love Story" and "The Wedding Song."

As the bride approached the altar she paused to hand her mother and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Arthur Millsap, long stemmed white silk roses. As the recessional began, she repeated the gesture by presenting her mother-in-law with an identical flower.

A vase of rose buds marked the guest registry at the entrance to the sanctuary where Kathy

MRS. PAUL J. STARR

Norvell of Lubbock presided.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted by her father, the bride wore an A-line silhouette of silk and peau d'ange lace gown. The fitted empire bodice was enhanced by an overlay of Chantilly lace. Peau d'ange lace formed scallops around the Queen Anne neckline and traced the waist. The full bishop sleeves of lace were gathered to deep, tapered cuffs, and the lace details were re-embroidered with bridal seed pearls. The bouffant A-line skirt featured a deep lace border on the three-tiered hemline which extended the full length of the chapel train. Her face was framed by matching lace which edged her waltz length veil of French silk illusion. It was gathered to a matching lace and pearl Camelot headpiece. The bride carried a cascade of feathered pink carnations and deep red roses tied with pink and burgundy satin streamers looped in lover's knots. Her costume was completed by a pair of heirloom diamond earrings belonging to her maternal grandmother and a treasured gold locket belonging to her mother.

W. John Starr of Lockhart served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Maxie Cotton, brother of the bride, and Dick Oppenheimer of Austin, and seating guests were cousins of the bride, Henry Devers of Snyder and Herman McAnelly of Odessa.

Vanessa Ivy of Colorado Springs, Colo., attended the bride as matron of honor and bridesmaids were cousins of the bride, Patty McAnelly of Odessa and Martha Devers of Snyder. The attendants wore floor length gowns of burgundy Quiana. The bodices featured a deep circular collar which extended to the waistline of the wrap-around creations. They wore sprays of pink carnations and baby's breath in their hair and carried bouquets of feathered pink carnations and baby's breath.

Amy and Angie Fuller of Lubbock were twin flower girls who wore pink dotted Swiss frocks styled with puff sleeves and trimmed with white lace. Each wore a hairpiece of pink carnations and baby's breath and carried a white lace basket filled with pink rose petals. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Norvell of Lubbock.

At a reception in the fellowship hall of the church immediately following the ceremony, the couple were assisted in receiving guests by their parents, and the bride's grandmothers, Mrs. Millsap and Mrs. Cotton of Dunn.

The bride's table was laid with white Quaker lace highlighted by pink and burgundy satin bows and streamers at each end. The centerpiece was pink and burgundy carnations in a gold table candelabrum holding pink tapers. The bride's cake was a two-tiered heart-shaped confection decorated with burgundy roses. Presiding to serve from the gold and crystal appointments were Mrs. Dan Procter of Seminole and Mrs. Bobby Norvell of Lubbock.

Serving at the groom's table where the traditional dark cake and gold coffee service were placed was Mrs. Frank Neugent of Seminole. Reception guests were seated at quartet tables that were centered by pink bowls filled with floating burgundy flowers.

Wedding and reception guests were from Odessa, Snyder, Andrews, Colorado City, Dunn, Lockhart, Austin, Lubbock, New Orleans, La., Ruidoso, N.M., Colorado Springs, Colo. and Seminole.

When the couple left for a wedding trip, the bride traveled in a pink velour pantsuit. On their return they will be at home at 501 S.W. Avenue H, Seminole. Mrs. Starr is a 1978 graduate of Seminole High School, attended Odessa College and is currently employed by KIKZ Radio. The bridegroom is general manager for Seminole radio station KIKZ. He is a 1970 graduate of Fairfield University at Fairfield, Conn., with a BA degree in English and has been occupied in some phase of broadcasting since.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Starr, parents of the bridegroom, were hosts at a rehearsal dinner Thursday evening.

BE A 'SUPER' CONSUMER
Be a "super" consumer - know the life-cycle cost of each appliance, you buy.

"real" cost of your appliance - over its lifetime, rather than just the store's price tag.

Appliances drain away much of our money, so their total cost is a major factor in each family's budget.

Recent research showed that in one year consumers spent 12 billion to buy appliances, plus $19 billion to run all their appliances, and $3 billion more to have them repaired and serviced.

HOW TO FIGURE
To figure life-cycle cost, start with the life expectancy (in years) times the yearly energy cost. Then add the purchase price plus the estimated repair and maintenance costs.

LABELS TO HELP
New labeling rules will help consumers figure life-cycle costs of appliances.

Labels will tell you the average annual energy cost of an appliance - based on average utility rates.

They'll also include a chart to help you estimate the yearly cost of running the appliance based on local utility rates, and they will tell you the range of energy costs for similar models.

Ask your dealer for life-expectancy figures and the cost estimate for repair and maintenance.

Snyder Daily News Society Page Policy
The Snyder Daily News welcomes wedding stories and pictures. Wedding stories should be no more than 500 words in length and pictures should be black and white glossy prints, preferably 5x7 or 8x10-inch size. If a different size is all that is available, we will make every effort to use it, provided it is a good, sharp photograph. Wedding stories and pictures must be submitted by noon Thursday for publication in the following Sunday's issue of the paper. The story and picture must be submitted no later than two weeks following the ceremony.
Engagement pictures are accepted, provided they are submitted at least six weeks prior to the wedding date. These should be 5x7 or 8x10 glossy prints, but other sizes are accepted if they are good, sharp prints. Both the bride-elect and the prospective bridegroom may be in the engagement picture. Engagement pictures must be submitted by noon Thursday to be published in the issue of the following Sunday.

Economic Conditions Change Outlook On Fashions For 80's

COLLEGE STATION—Fashions for the 80's promise four things: to make more sense; to emphasize comfort; to focus on "self"; and to change. "People will be more particular about what they accept—because of economic conditions, energy conditions, energy and social trends," says Becky Saunders, a clothing specialist.

"Fashion trends will change at a slower pace, but there will always be room for the fun and frivolous. It's human nature to always want something new," she adds.

Ms. Saunders is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

FASHION SENSE
Due to increasing clothing costs, more consumers will make a special effort to sew quality fabrics and buy quality garments.

"Cost-per-wearing" will be important. We'll see longer-lasting, less-faddish garments.

For example, more women will reject suddenly shorter hemlines for spring, but may gradually inch them upward instead.

Clothing purchases may be postponed or budgeted carefully due to rising costs of other items, too, such as housing, transportation, medical care and food.

More consumers will update garments they already own to save money by accessorizing, mixing and matching or changing hem-lengths.

FASHION COMFORT
Energy will affect fashion two ways—fabric and style.

We'll see more fabrics designed to offset warmer living conditions in the summer and cooler ones in the winter.

Styles will do the same. For example, the business world will wear more short sleeves, two-piece suits and open collars.

Also, if transportation becomes scarce—or prices spiral, one-stop shopping in shopping centers and "mail-order-buying" will increase.

FASHIONS FOR SELF
"Individualized" will be a key mood for the 80's fashion atmosphere, Ms. Saunders says.

More consumers will insist on the "right" design for them to get the most becoming looks.

Also, "image dressing" will be important, especially in career apparel. In other words, looking your best will pay off in the business world, the specialist says.

One recent survey study seems to confirm that appearance made an 8-20 percent difference in starting salaries.

What's best, healthy, suitable or impressive will be an overriding influence in 1980's fashions.

For example, more cosmetics will be dual purpose—good for skin care and appearance.

Sporty looks will be big for the 80's.

People involved in keeping fit will make active sportswear important throughout the decade, and the sporty look will influence fashion in general along the way.

TIME, RULES FACTORS
Time management and government regulations will make their mark on the 80's fashions, too.

Technology will promote faster, easier ways to do anything—even use home computers to scan wardrobe needs, program the laundry or order merchandise.

Government rules will keep an eye on safety and health, and that will make prices rise—to pay for enforced testing and environmental control.

More products will be recalled, such as cosmetic ingredients and fabric finishes.

Also, labels will be more sophisticated.

'CHANGE' GUARANTEED
All in all, the only guarantee for 1980's fashion trends is "change," as the next decade sees the world searching for the "individual" for more energy and for improved economic conditions.

Preemptive opening calls
By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

In general, you need at least 11 HCP for an opening bid. In other words, you need ammunition to start the attack. The exception to this is the preemptive opening bid of three or four in a suit.

The idea in back of a preemptive opening is that you can't be hurt at your preemptive contract; that you are going to make it hard for your opponents to find the right contract with their own high cards; and finally that you are suggesting a possible sacrifice against an enemy slam.

There are two basic requirements for a preemptive bid. The first is that you don't expect to be set more than 500 points (three tricks not vulnerable or two tricks vulnerable) if forced to play three doubled. A Q J 10 8 6 5 of a suit may only take five tricks, but year in and year

Hope's Overseas Tours To Be Shown In Two-Part Special

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The incredible faces of those GIs from three wars fascinated documentary filmmakers Andrew Solt and Malcolm Leo. They're putting together a history of the entertainment of American troops overseas, with a primary focus on Bob Hope's Christmas specials. The show covers World War II, the Korean War and Vietnam.

"All those incredible faces over the years," said Leo. "Andrew and I have actually seen the faces of people we went to school with—Some of the editors have seen people they knew. One film technician actually found himself—holding up a sign in Vietnam. So you can imagine the people across the country and the faces they'll recognize."

"Bob Hope's Overseas Christmas Tours Around the World with the Troops, 1941-1972," will air two Sundays on NBC. The first three-hour segment, is this Sunday night, the second next week.

NBC had wanted for some time to do a retrospective of Hope's Christmas shows, but the entertainer said he would not take the project unless he was given enough time to do the material justice. NBC agreed, and is clearing its entire prime-time schedule for the two nights.

Hope, oddly enough, turned not to his usual producers but to the two documentary-makers.

Solt had worked on National Geographic and Jacques Cousteau specials and Leo on "Life Goes to the Movies" and "Life Goes to War." They have also done films on entertainment subjects and formed their partnership last year to do "Heroes of Rock 'n' Roll."

The two-part special isn't solely about Hope. Solt and Leo mined many sources for film on Al Jolson, Bing Crosby, Jack Benny, Carole Landis, Gary Cooper, Chico Marx, Irving Berlin, Jinx Falkenberg, John Wayne, Raymond Burr, Arthur Godfrey, Julie Andrews, Sammy Davis Jr., Hugh O'Brian, Danny Kaye, Connie Francis, Martha Raye, Johnny Grant, Gene Autry, Vikki Carr, Vicki Lawrence and many more.

They have pictures of Marilyn Monroe, when she did six shows a day for two weeks, wearing only a purple silk dress in the frigid cold of Korea. After each show, stagehands had to wrap the actress in blankets and serve her hot coffee to overcome her shivering. They also found some rare film of Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin and Douglas Fairbanks at a World War I bond rally.

It was during World War II and the Berlin Airlift that Hope established the procedures for his televised appearances overseas. Hope began his Christmas trips in 1948 in Berlin, although he had been making USO trips since 1941. His last trip in 1972 took him to the Aleutians, Japan, Korea, Thailand, Vietnam, Guam and Diego Garcia.

'Gypsy' Painting

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—The Princeton University Art Museum says it has acquired Edouard Manet's painting "Gypsy With a Cigarette."

The museum says the painting was received through the bequest of Archibald S. Alexander, Princeton class of 1928.

The painting shows a gypsy woman, dressed in colorful costume and with a cigarette in her mouth, leaning against a black horse.

ASTROGRAPH

Bernice Bede Osol

February 4, 1980

You could enter into an unusual type of partnership arrangement this coming year which would have long-term advantages for both parties—Watch for such a union.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) An ally on whom you hadn't counted could bail you out of a situation that a third party had placed you in and which was becoming costly. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your quick thinking will save a precarious situation which is in need of diplomatic handling. Keep yourself open-minded and this will be easy.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Busy yourself with your work today and then Monday blues will quickly fade in fact, as you get into things you could uncover a neat surprise.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your practical, no-nonsense approach to a petty situation involving an acquaintance is definitely the way to squelch it before it has a chance to do any harm.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Taking your irritability out on the family is not the way to put yourself in a better mood. Busy hands will soothe your emotions, so use them.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Although your early morning hours may look like the beginning of a frustrating day, the afternoon should turn out to be anything but. Look for something unexpected.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) No matter how impossible a situation may appear, keep the faith and continue to work on it. A change will occur out of the blue and make things right.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Not until you loosen up and take things less seriously will you be able to turn this day into one of fun and lightheartedness. Look for the humor in things.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Just when you think something you've worked hard for doesn't have a chance of paying off, a least-expected source will reverse this, making benefits possible.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Be flexible with others, or you're likely to take a position today and find yourself backed into a corner which will be tough to get out of.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) It's not your nature to be dictatorial, yet today you have a tendency to push a little too hard. Ease up. You'll get more cooperation.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) The quickest way to show someone he or she is wrong is to let this person have his or her way. Experience is the best teacher.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

February 3, 1980
Underlings in which you are allied with others promise benefits this coming year. Associate with those who have been winners in the past.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You have the unique gift today to be able to manage things for others better than they can for themselves—Your talents may be called upon. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You tend to mirror the characteristics of those with whom you associate today. If you want an active day, select a doer for a companion.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You'll enjoy today more if you find productive ways to spend your time—Busy yourself with your favorite hobby or a little fix-it work.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Organizing things for greater efficiency is your cup of tea today. Put the bits and pieces of projects or enterprises together so they'll run as smoothly as clockwork.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You're a strong stretch runner today, especially if you are motivated to bring something to a conclusion. You'll not rest until it is finished properly.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your words carry considerable weight today. You have the ability to sell others on your views. Put your salesmanship to advantageous uses.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Possibilities for personal gain serve to motivate you today. You won't be greedy or selfish, but you will get what you go after.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your leadership qualities are very pronounced today. Should something occur where you'd have to demonstrate your abilities, it could awe others.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Lucky is the person who has you standing behind him or her today. When it comes to backing up those you care for, you'll go all out.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Without even trying today, you'll be the center of attraction with groups at a gathering. Your dynamic presence is commanding.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You should find competitive situations very stimulating today. The thought of being second best won't rest well with you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Select activities today that give you the opportunity to move around both physically and mentally. You need some time out of doors in the fresh air.

Unemployment Compensation To Be Reported

A new tax law, effective for tax years beginning in 1979, will require persons receiving unemployment compensation from a state or federal program to report the entire amount they received on their tax return, according to Wernette Smith, district manager for H&R Block, Inc.

Individuals who received $10 or more will receive Form 1099UC showing the amount of payments received. If a married couple, filing a joint return, has a combined gross income (including the unemployment compensation) of $25,000 or less, none of the unemployment compensation will be included in the taxable income, Ms. Smith explained. Also, for single persons with a gross income (including the unemployment compensation) of $20,000 or less, the unemployment compensation will not be included in the taxable income.

Married persons filing separate returns will generally have to include the unemployment compensation in their taxable income, she said.

This new law does not affect regulations applicable to unemployment fund, only payments received from other sources.

Money Seen In Recycled Buildings

FARMINGTON, Conn. (AP)—Recycled school buildings could make more than a $30 billion rehabilitation market in the 1980s, according to projections made by a multinational hardware and machinery producer here.

Some 10,000 school buildings will be abandoned in the next 10 years as high-school enrollments drop off by 2½ million in this period, the Emhart Corp. study indicated. A panel of experts assembled by the company to peer ahead into the next decade believed these unused facilities could be converted into community centers, offices, adult and cultural centers, and apartment buildings.

The panel saw the projected 20 percent increase in white-collar over blue-collar employees—managers, office staff, professional people—largely single, being attracted to the diversity of city life. The conversion of old school buildings into facilities needed by this urban trend would represent an immediate cost-effective solution, the panel concluded.

Ms. Smith said Supplemental unemployment received from a union or company-financed fund continues to be fully taxable. For persons voluntarily contributing to an unemployment fund, only payments received that exceed the total amount they paid are taxable.

Workmen's compensation received because of work related injury or illness continues to be totally nontaxable and is not reported on tax returns, she added.

Persons who will be receiving unemployment compensation in 1980 may need to file a declaration of estimated tax and make estimated tax payments since income tax is not withheld from unemployment compensation, Ms. Smith cautioned.

Being Present Can Be A Gift

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1980 by Chicago Tribune, N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I will be married 40 years soon and plan to give a dinner party to celebrate this joyous occasion.

Our family and most of our friends are aware that this will be our 40th wedding anniversary, but we positively do not want any gifts!

You once stated in your column that it was improper to indicate, "No gifts, please," on an invitation. Later you not only reversed yourself but offered some excellent alternatives. What were they?

KANSAS CITY INQUIRY

DEAR K.C.: I have stated many times that any mention whatsoever of gifts was improper on an invitation. This includes the forthright "No gifts, please," as well as the tasteless (in my view) suggestion that cash is preferred to any other type of gift.

Many sent sample invitations in which gifts were mentioned. Below are two that changed my mind:

"Mary and John Jones invite you to dine with us on the evening of June 1 at our home at 7:30 p.m."

"It is in celebration of our 20th wedding anniversary. Your friendship is a cherished gift. We respectfully request no other."

"The children of Alice and Donald Brown invite you to celebrate with them the 50th wedding anniversary of their parents. A reception will be held May 20, 5 p.m. at Hillcrest Country Club."

"We request your help in compiling a book which recalls memories from our parents' first 50 years of marriage. On the enclosed sheet, we ask that you write one memory or event that you have shared with them, and return it to us by April 25. We believe that loving memories they have shared with you, their friends, would be the most treasured gift they could receive; therefore, we request that no other gift be sent."

DEAR ABBY: Years ago, when married people were invited to weddings, the invitations were addressed to "Mr. and Mrs."

Have times changed? Recently my physician husband received two wedding invitations addressed to him only. One was from a nurse, the other from a patient. He said both knew he was married.

He attended both weddings by himself because he is dedicated to his profession; but I feel my not being invited, and his accepting without me, was rude.

Can you update me on the present customs?

INVISIBLE PARTNER

DEAR PARTNER: Forget customs, etiquette and all the rest. Kindness and common sense outranks propriety and tradition in my book.

The invitations should have included you. But since they did not, your husband should have either requested permission to bring you—or stayed home himself.

DEAR ABBY: Please settle an argument. Where I work, there is this woman who has silver gray hair but a young face and a good figure. She must be about 50 but looks younger. She has 12 grandchildren, but she swims with them, rides a bicycle with them and belongs to three bowling teams.

She says she never babysits with her grandchildren unless there is an emergency. Everyone says I am all-wet with my ideas but I think a grandmother should act like a grandmother and should be more proud of her grandchildren than her bowling score.

A MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: This grandmother is acting like a grandmother. A modern one. Nowadays you can't tell a grandmother by looking at her, and I say more power to her!

Great Flood Faces London

By MICHAEL WEST
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP)—We have all the ingredients of the worst disaster to hit London since the Black Death plague of the 14th century," says Stanley Bolton, chairman of the Public Services and Safety Committee.

"The flood now facing London would be the greatest natural disaster this country has ever faced. It would achieve in one night what months of Nazi bombing failed to do in World War II," says city official Peter Black.

It sounds like the plot of a disaster movie. But the flood threat to London is real, and officials of the Greater London Council, not normally out-spoken, resort to near apocalyptic terms to describe it.

They envision billions of tons of muddy, debris-strewn water from the River Thames inundating 45 square miles of London, threatening 2.25 million lives and cutting the city in half.

All that is needed to release watery chaos is the right combination of weather and tides from the North Sea.

This winter, authorities say, is one of the likeliest times the disaster could occur, causing damage projections of $7.7 billion.

Until the world's biggest movable flood barrier is completed at Woolwich 12 miles down the Thames, only luck holds back the water.

At the press of buttons, the gates of the $825-million Thames Barrier will swing up through nearly 90 degrees from their normal resting place on the river bed. Four smaller gates will drop down to block the barrier's four unnavigable channels. The gates will present a 52-foot-high steel wall to stop the water from reaching London.

But work on the barrier, begun in 1974, is three years behind schedule and will not be finished until the end of 1982.

Until then, says Sir Herman Bondi, chief scientist at the Department of Energy who suggested the barrier in 1967, chances of catastrophe are 1 in 70, and risk of lesser flooding is about 1 in 17.

Pain was from pancreas

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I had some severe pain in my stomach and was in the hospital for four days. My tests showed that I had swelling and inflammation of the pancreas. I had another sonar picture test in three weeks and there was some enlargement of the head of the pancreas. Then I had another test in one month and it's still a little enlarged. The doctor wants another scanner test.

The doctor said alcohol is very bad for this condition and I haven't had any since the attack. After the swelling has gone down and he releases me, can I have a few drinks at a dance as long as I don't use it steady? I can control it with no problems. Also the doctor and radiologist don't think there's any cancer involved. I've gained weight by eating properly. I'm 58 years old and male. Incidentally I'd appreciate an early reply as I'm getting married in about three months.

DEAR READER — Congratulations on both your prospective marriage and on your recovery from an unpleasant illness.

You had what we call pancreatitis. The pancreas is an important digestive organ and supplies most of the enzymes that enable you to digest your food properly. If it gets inflamed it can cause acute severe pain in the abdomen that often resembles a ruptured appendix or other acute surgical problems of the abdomen.

It's a very tricky disease and it can be caused by several different things. One of them is the excessive use of alcohol. Another is the blockage of the duct that drains the pancreatic juice into the intestine with a gallstone. The duct from the pancreas and the bile duct from the liver empty together at one spot in the small intestine and if the gallstone lodges at that point it can obstruct the pancreatic duct. As the pancreas becomes overdistended with its own secretions, a chemical irritation is set up that causes the pancreatitis.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 11-4, the Pancreas. Your Enzyme Organ. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long stamped self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. It will tell you how important this organ is to your body and discuss the problems of pancreatitis and how it's managed.

Some people seem to recover totally from such an attack and others have recurrent episodes. The fact that you've continued to have some enlargement suggests to me that you should be particularly careful and avoid doing anything that might complicate your disease. You do not want to have a chronic form of pancreatitis if you can avoid it.

It's absolutely true that alcohol is very bad for such a condition regardless of what caused the condition in the first place. I'm afraid that I would not be able to recommend your having any alcohol at any time in the future in view of the genuinely serious consequences that can develop from chronic pancreatitis.

There are people who live with chronic pancreatic disease but it's a lot more pleasant if you don't have to. Eliminating alcohol entirely is a small price to pay considering the real health benefits that you can gain in your particular case.

taxing for taxation

The adage about teaching an old dog new tricks probably is no truer anywhere than in the field of politics.

The law establishing county-wide tax appraisal districts is one of the latest cases in point. It sounded rather simple when the system was announced, and practical, also.

The experience of the taxing agencies in Scurry County has opened some eyes and by the time other counties get on the road, look for recommendations for some amendments to the system.

Governing bodies of the agencies generally agree that the theory of county-wide appraisals and county-wide collections of taxes is attractive.

All agree that the money for funding the system is coming out of the same pockets, regardless of how it reaches the treasury, but no school board, commissioners court or city council wants to "wear the black hat."

japanese are coming

A world that has become accustomed to seeing Japanese products everywhere is now seeing the Japanese themselves.

They are rapidly becoming one of the most traveled peoples among major nations. Some four million visited foreign countries during 1979 by their government's count.

Among the preferred souvenir items are wristwatches. Which might appear to be something like carrying coals to Newcastle.

Perhaps it's the quaint, old-fashioned craftsmanship of the American and European products that appeals.

The feller on Deep Creek says he overheard the following conversation between a small boy and a small girl:

All the talk about the possible reimplementation of registration for possible induction into the armed services has set off debate around the country.

As one who grew up with the draft as a real possibility, we can sympathize with young folks of today who feel that the draft brings back that unwanted feeling of insecurity.

The draft has never been popular, but we have enough confidence in the young people of today to believe that they'll again do whatever is necessary to defend the integrity of this nation.

Some things have changed since our army days, and most of the discussion the last few days has not centered on whether there might again be a draft, but the focus has been on who might be drafted.

Some groups, including women's organizations, have suggested that women be drafted into the armed services. It will be a topic of heated debate for some time to come.

Frankly, the military has only one mission, and that is to defend. Military defense cannot be turned into a social experiment.

Back during the early days of the ERA movement, anti-ERA forces put out a great deal of literature posing certain problems that might occur when and if equal rights among the sexes were extended.

Military service was one of these. Although no decision has been made on drafting women, we thought one wire service story this week was worthy of additional attention.

Army officials at Aberdeen Proving Grounds in Baltimore say that coed barracks and other policies could be contributing to the unprecedented number of rapes occurring at the army post.

The coed barracks, a symbol of the modern Army, has been the scene of five reported rapes in the last year, base officials say. The post in-

People on diets are not the same sweethearts people remember when they are pigging out.

Jolliness turns to irritability, shortness of temper, and a general falling apart. Little things get on their nerves, like discovering the answers to the crossword puzzle are printed upside down.

If there's anything that ticks me off on a diet, it's recipes for diet foods with clever names. I'm an adult, for crying out loud. I can take it. Don't promise me a bowl of "pop-corn" before I go to bed each night if the "pop-corn" is nothing more than a bowl full of carrots, celery and radishes.

Do you know what all that cuteness does to dieters? It makes them suspicious and it makes them mean. I don't trust any food anymore, with quotation marks around it. "Chocolate" eclairs for the dieter (Oh, yeah!) "Beef 'Gravy' (Sure!) Grow Thin "Pizza" (Uh-huh!) "Hollandaise Surprise Sauce" (Ha ha!) Don't give me your "Adam and Eye on a Raft." Tell me it's an imitation egg dropped in a dietary piece of bread with a hole in the middle resting in a skillet that has been sprayed by a substitute oil and has the appeal of lunch at the eye bank. Spare me your "almost" lasagna. Give it to me straight. Dare to reveal that you've put a lasagna pattern over peeled cucumbers and cut out something that resembles pasta, buried them with a sauce substitute, topped by a skim cheese with less calories than your fingernails. You're looking at a woman who has gone down the road before that has been paved with promises and a lot of "Prune Dandy," "Pretend Pate," "Creative Ice Cream," "Virtuous Shortcake," "Confetti Consomme," and "Party Liver." I'm pro. All I have to do is look at the bottom of the recipe and see those nine little letters UNLIMITED and I know I've been had.

Berry's World

"People are calling to find out just what you're going to do about snow conditions at Lake Placid."

To The Daily News:

I write to you at this time as a small operator in the Beef industry in reference to the Beef Referendum. It is my opinion that we do not need this added tax. It will accomplish nothing and only increase, having more hands dipping in the till, and in the long run will cause beef prices to increase to the consumer too.

It seems that anytime the operator of a private enterprise starts to break even, or make a dollar, some organization sets up a program designed to make the operator pay the organization to help run his business.

It has been common knowledge for a long time that the Texas cattleman has been independent, and I for one would like to see it stay that way. Now that most of the Yankee housewives have picked the feathers out of their teeth, and are no longer boycotting beef, prices are holding at a level that the consumer and the seller can both live with.

For 35 years, Josip Broz Tito has managed through political skill, force of personality and sheer determination to hold a half dozen often bitterly antagonistic nationalities together as a nation.

Not only that, he has made that unlikely nation a force in world affairs. Yugoslavia's 1948 break with the Soviet Union would have been sufficient in itself to assure the country and its leader prominent mention in contemporary history.

Tito, at 87, has now added another touch to this already ample reputation as an iron man, returning to the business of running Yugoslavia almost upon emerging from the anesthesia for a leg amputation.

But it is very likely the final touch. This latest doughty performance only emphasizes that one of the most long-awaited and crucial power transfers of the postwar era is at hand.

No one is more aware of the importance of the occasion than Tito himself. Not one to confuse durability with immortality, he has been preparing for it for years. And to the extent that it is within his power he has sought to ensure that that power, unlike the customary chaotic successions in Marxist societies, will devolve without challenge upon his designated successors.

Since 1974 and the adoption of the current constitution, Yugoslavia has been governed by a collective presidency representing the country's major ethnic, political and religious components and with a rotating chairmanship. There is no question at any time as to who is next in line - legally.

Tito's successors are a known quantity and it is expected by both Yugoslavs and the very great number of interested outside observers that the initial transition will be smooth, preserving national unity and discouraging what is regarded as the greatest danger - a Soviet move to return

Yugoslavia to the satellite rejected in 1948.

An overt invasion is generally discounted, despite the evidence of Afghanistan that Moscow is prepared for such eventualities. Paradoxically, Afghanistan may actually be an asset to Yugoslavia at this point. It is questionable that the Soviets would invite another such backlash of world opinion.

And the Yugoslavs are also prepared for eventualities. In addition to a tough-standing force of more than a quarter of a million, they are reported capable of fielding a trained partisan army of a million and a half within days of an attack. And there is the availability of Western assistance, probably not troops but certainly unlimited supplies easily delivered by sea and air.

So in the short term, coming events in Yugoslavia would appear to be a matter of intense world interest but not apprehension.

It is the long term that promises to be the problem. The main immediate threat to national stability could well be economic.

While the country as a whole is far ahead of the rest of Eastern Europe by most standards of comparison, progress has been at a price. Inflation rolls on at something like a 30 percent annual rate. The foreign debt is climbing, unemployment is high and there is a dangerous gap between the better-off parts and the still undeveloped southern regions.

And there is a problem built into the collective presidency. Although its members are Tito's closest associates and can be counted upon to carry on his policies designed to reinforce national unity above all else, most are close to his own generation. They, too, must soon pass from the scene, to be succeeded by whom is a question that can only be a matter for speculation at this point.

It is this coming succession, not the immediate one, that will be most crucial to the Yugoslav future. And there can be no assurance that it will be so carefully programmed as the currently imminent transference or that the international situation will be as advantageous.

Even Tito can't win them all.

To The Daily News: I've got a complaint. Why is it that whenever the rich fellow breaks some of our laws, such as driving under the influence of alcohol, to give one example, and not be stopped by police officers, even though he is driving badly, and in the event he is stopped, his first words are, and I quote, "Do you know who I am?" obviously expecting special treatment because he is wealthy.

Where are our equal rights? He shouldn't be given special treatment because of his position in this town, or because he has money. The law has been broken and he's supposed to be punished in the same way as the poor or uneducated fellows. In the end we all pay our dues to God whether we're rich or poor. The Bible says it's as hard for a rich man to get into heaven as it is for a camel to get through the eye of a needle.

To The Daily News: A letter was written last week about Ann Wedgeworth in Three's Company. In the Jan. 12-18 copy of TV Guide there is this bit of information about her. It said that word had come that Lana (Ann) was being written out of Three's Company. A number of people have been asking when she would be in it again, so it seems that she may not be in it any more.

Any way TV Guide does list another former Snyder man to appear in a TV show. He is Brad Maule and will appear in Charlie's Angels on Feb. 6. He will play the part of Joe Fairgate.

Need For Domestic Oil Production Overlooked

By MAX B. SKELTON
AP Oil Writer
HOUSTON (AP)—Tom P. McAdams says the true issue the federal government should have been facing got lost in the debate over the oil windfall profits tax.

McAdams, chairman of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, says the true issue should have been how to develop a policy that maximizes domestic production of crude oil.

"Instead of a serious debate on how to develop this country's resources, we've been treated first to accusations of 'ripoff', then to an arbitrary numbers game," said the Bristol, Okla., independent.

The conference committee picked a number, $227.3 billion to be exact, and they made the various categories and tax rates add up. But that compromise doesn't add up to the kind of increased domestic oil production this country is capable of and that it needs."

McAdams said making all the numbers add up and deciding who to tax at what rate should not have been the primary concern of the conference committee.

"The majority were more interested in how they would raise and spend $227 billion than in how they could make the energy future of the United States more secure," McAdams said.

"They either ignored or were unaware that the expectation of price and costs is what determines the volume of oil that can be produced economically. They seem still to be unaware the tax will be an additional cost, that will inhibit the production of oil in the United States."

McAdams said it is difficult to predict precisely how much additional oil would be forthcoming from each incremental dollar of investment.

"But I don't think it's exaggerating to say that, without an additional tax, the industry in this decade could deliver another 4 million barrels a day of production," he said.

"Additional production of that magnitude would not only arrest the current decline in production, it would raise production substantially over current levels."

The nation, McAdams said cannot afford to turn its back on such potential production.

McAdams said the House bill would have sacrificed one-half of that potential, 2 million barrels of crude oil a day, by the late 1980s and the Senate bill would have sacrificed about 1 million.

"As a practical matter, the conference committee has split the difference," he said.

McAdams said the conference committee sacrificed 2.5 million barrels of potential production.

"And that production can only be replaced by imports, if they're available, in exchange for American wealth that will have to be exported to oil producing countries to pay for oil," he said.

McAdams said last year's revolution in Iran caused a worldwide crude oil shortage of about 2 million barrels a day, including 700,000 in the United States.

"So, in effect, the conference committee has proposed, and the Congress will probably impose, a shortage of domestic crude oil that is roughly three times greater than that caused by the Iranian revolution," he said.

"They are guaranteeing a greater share of the American market than necessary to the oil exporting countries. In effect, the tax bill will amount to protectionism for the Persian Gulf."

For the rest of American industry, McAdams said, Congress is about to set a precedent.

"If an excise on oil production is good public policy, what about steel, or coal, or other basic industries?" he asked.

For the consumer, he added, there will be higher prices and a worsening balance of payments.

"That need not be the case," McAdams said.

"The domestic industry is capable of making significant inroads on our import dependence. But the industry's effort to displace imported oil is directly related to one thing, and that one thing, to put it bluntly, is money."

Flurry Of Activity Centers In Howard

Howard County this week staked two Wildcat's, one re-entry for Cisco Oil and one extender. Also this week Howard Co. gained 3 producers in the Coahoma North (Fsslm) field.

Borden Co. staked a 8900 foot Ellenburger test in the Fluvanna field.

Scurry County this week only staked one wildcat and had one dry hole.

North American Royalties, Inc. of Midland spotted location for a 9800 foot Fusselman wildcat in Howard County, 3/4 mile northwest of a 2200 foot failure, two and seven-eighths miles southwest of wolfcamp production in the Hutto, South field, which produces at approximately 7421 feet.

The site is 3.25 miles northeast of the Fusselman Discovery well in the Morgan Ranch Field, which produces at 9742 feet.

The firm will drill the No. 1 Flanagan, 3.5 miles southeast of Big Spring, 728' from north and 794' from east lines of section 13, blk. 32, T-1-S, T&P survey.

C.F. Qualia of Midland will re-enter and clean out to 7200 feet for test as a wildcat the No. 1 Collins in Howard County, 3/4 mile southeast of a 7948 foot failure, two miles east of production in the Luther Southeast field, 4.5 miles north of Luther.

Originally drilled by Fullerton Oil Co. as the No. 1 Collins to 8350 feet, it was abandoned in 1951.

Location is 2040' from north and 720' from west lines of section 42, blk. 31, T-3-N, T&P survey.

Paca Pet. Inc. of Dallas announced plans to re-enter and clean out to 9200 feet for test as a Cisco Oil producer in the Brooking, NE field of Howard County, 1/2 mile west of the opener and loan producer of the Brooking, NE (Cisco) field, five miles southeast of Ackerly.

The No. 1 Clara Adams, originally drilled by Dycot Pet. Co. and abandoned in 1976 at 9238 feet in the above field, location spots 790' from north and 200' from west lines of section 42, blk 33, T-3-N, T&P sur.

A.J. Vogel Inc. of Midland filed application to drill the No. 1 Cline as a two mile northeast extender to the Modesta, South (Cisco) field, which has two producing wells.

Well site for the 8800 foot test is 1400' from north and 150' from east lines of section 28, blk. 33, T-3-N, T&P sur, three miles west of Vealmoor.

McCann Corp. Big Spring finalized the No. 5-A Read, 3/4 mile north east of production in the Coahoma, N (Fsslm) field of Howard County, 3.5 miles east of Coahoma.

On 24-hour flowing potential, operator reported making 210 barrels of 45-gty oil and no water, through a 21-64 choke and perforations from 8762 to 8776 feet.

The pay was acidized with 16,000 gallons and fractured with 16,000 gallons, gas-liquid ratio is 1714 to 1.

Total depth is 8835 feet, with 4.5 inch casing set on bottom plugged back depth is 8795 feet.

Location is 660' from north and 1937 from east lines of section 40, block 30, T-1-N, T&P survey.

Campana Pet. Co. of Midland field potential test on the No. 4-A Read, one location northeast of production in the Coahoma, North (Fsslm) field of Howard County, three miles northeast of Coahoma.

Operator reported a 24-hour flowing potential of 248 barrels of 48.2 gty oil and no water through a 12-64 choke and perforations from 8858' to 8874 feet, which was acidized with 1650 gallons. Gas-Liquid ratio is 940-1.

Drilled to 8960 feet, 4.5 inch casing is set at that depth. Plug back total depth is 8939 feet.

Locations is 1140 feet from north and 2170' from east lines of section 41, blk 30, T-1-N, T&P survey.

Amoco Production Co. has finalized the No. 112-AA Texas Land & Mortgage Co. as a 3/4 mile southeast extender to the Coahoma, North (Fsslm) field of Howard County, three miles east of Coahoma.

On 24-hour pumping potential it made 280 barrels of 48.2 gty oil and no water, through perforations between 8834 to 8888 feet, which was acidized with 2000 gallons.

Gas-oil ratio is 343-1. Drilled to 8975 feet, 5.5 inch casing is set on bottom. Plugged back depth is 8973 feet.

Location is 2016' from north and 565' from west lines of section 5, blk 30, T-1-S, T&P survey.

The Superior Oil Co. of Midland spotted location for two 8900' Ellenburger tests in the Fluvanna Field of Borden County, Two miles south west of Fluvanna.
