

Despite Drops At Supermarket...

Prices Surge In January

WASHINGTON (AP) - Despite a welcome drop in food costs, wholesale prices surged 1.6 percent in January, the biggest monthly jump since November 1974, the Labor Department reported today.

decline in food prices, the department said.

Shortly after the figures were announced, the Federal Reserve Board increased its bank discount rate by a full percentage point to 13 percent, a clear reflection of its concern over worsening inflation.

The move is sure to send interest rates higher throughout the economy. The stock market fell sharply in early trading as investors noted the unpleasant inflation news and the Federal Reserve's action.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials slid 10.24 points to 883.53 in the first half hour of trading.

Prices increased 0.8 percent at the wholesale level in December, the most moderate rise since June, after climbing 1.3 percent in November.

Economists at Georgia State University, who prepare their own monthly wholesale-price analysis, said January's overall increase matched the 0.8 percent of December.

Wholesale food prices fell 1.5 percent, in large part because prices "softened" after President Carter announced the embargo of U.S. grain to the Soviet Union, the university economist said.

However, higher energy costs pushed the prices of non-food consumer items up 1.9 percent.

Because some of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries raised their prices retroactive to November, signs of re-accelerated energy prices are apparent in our January survey," the university report said. "Because the energy components are lagged, more substantial increases are certain in coming months."

Prices rose 12.5 percent at wholesale from December 1978 to December 1979, helping to push retail prices up at the fastest rate in more than 30 years.

Although the Carter administration is predicting some moderation of the trend this year, officials admit that a surge in oil prices could upset their projections.

Saudi Arabia, the largest foreign oil supplier for the United States, and a number of other OPEC nations have in recent days announced a new round of crude oil price hikes for 1980.

Prices are falling in one area, however.

The Commerce Department reported Thursday that the average price of new homes fell 1.6 percent in the final three months of 1979. That was the first quarterly drop in more than two years.

The average price of a new, single-family home was $73,000 in the fourth quarter of last year, down from $74,200 in the previous quarter.

Formation Of Panel Near

By The Associated Press Iran Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh said today the international commission to investigate charges against the deposed shah may be formed "within a few hours," but the American hostages in Tehran will not be released until the panel finishes its work, according to an Italian news agency.

But former Irish Foreign Minister Sean MacBride said today "the commission could hardly begin its work until the hostages have been released. Either they are released before the commission meets or they could be released concurrently with the setting up of the commission."

Cronkite To Step Aside

NEW YORK (AP) - Walter Cronkite, for many years one of the nation's most trusted television newsmen, will step aside early next year as "CBS Evening News" anchorman for a man he calls "the new champion" - Dan Rather.

"We - and you - will be in the best of hands," the grandfatherly Cronkite said Thursday in reporting the network's decision moments before signing off with his familiar "And that's the way it is."

CBS News' selection of Rather to succeed America's best-known broadcast journalist climaxed years of speculation as to who would guide network television's No. 1 nightly news program after Cronkite. Rather, as did Cronkite, will double as anchorman and managing editor for the "Evening News."

Brilab Testimony Continues

HOUSTON (AP) - A federal grand jury probe into alleged insurance kickback schemes arising from the FBI's undercover Operation Brilab continued today even though the scheduled appearance by Texas House Speaker Billy Clayton has been delayed until March.

Union official L. G. Moore, another vital link in the investigation of alleged corruption in labor and politics, appeared with his lawyer, Michael Ramsey. Ramsey said, however, he will continue his efforts to delay Moore's testimony.

Set For Lance Trial

ATLANTA (AP) - Government attorneys say they plan to introduce about 150 documents from the Georgia bank once headed by Bert Lance, and the prosecution says it has nearly finished offering bank records as evidence in the former U.S. budget director's bank fraud trial.

Some of the exhibits from the First Calhoun National Bank are single documents, while others are thick file folders of related records, prosecutor Edwin Tomko said.

Mudslides In California

LOS ANGELES (AP) - A Pacific storm driven by high winds battered Southern California with heavy rain for a third day today, triggering flash floods and mudslides.

James Roberts of the Andrews County News says he's burned up over a wire service report from Paris which noted that the French will build three more nuclear generating plants this year and by the end of the year, all electricity consumed in France will be produced by nuclear plants. This makes France the first nation in the world to be totally nuclear as far as power is concerned.

"The USA invented nuclear energy, but we have been so hamstrung in this country by the kooks that we're still using crude oil and gas to produce electricity," Robert laments.

Shaw Promises No 'Foolish Promises'

"I will make no foolish promises," Larry Don Shaw of Big Spring told a group of supporters and the curious this morning who attended a reception at the Los Palmas Restaurant to hear him officially announce that he is running as a Democrat for State Representative from the 63rd District. He opposes the incumbent Democrat, Mike Ezzell of Snyder.

"I have decided to make a contest of it because I feel the people are being used-if not altogether ignored. When we do talk at what's going on, we are told that we don't understand the issues. We are the issues," he said.

Shaw, 27, is a fourth generation West Texan born in Big Spring. He graduated from Texas Tech in 1975 with a bachelor of science degree in Agricultural Communications. He is currently a partner in the Lazy S Cattle Co. and the Lazy S Farms in Knott.

"I don't expect your support as a gift," he told the group over breakfast and coffee. "Before I have earned your support, I know that I am going to have to prove myself. What I have to offer is youth, intelligence, energy, enthusiasm and open mindedness."

Shaw promised to talk to the different people of the district, getting all possible views and acting on what he hears. If elected, he said it is vital to the office to keep open avenues of communication with the constituents.

The 63rd District includes Scurry, Borden, Howard, Sterling, Dawson and Coke Counties.

3 Candidates For Ira Board

Hermleigh Youths Big Winners In Hog Show

Hermleigh school boys made a near clean sweep of awards and honors during the hog judging of the 36th annual Scurry County Junior Livestock Show last night.

Hermleigh youngsters won the show's championship and reserve championship honors, plus championship and reserve championship awards in each of the four breed divisions and won one of two showmanship trophies. The breeder's award went to a Hermleigh man.

A record 346 hogs were shown, making last night's hog show the biggest ever. Lamb judging was started this afternoon and steer judging was to be held tonight. An auction will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow. All events are taking place in the agriculture annex of the Scurry County Coliseum.

Winning championship honors last night was a heavyweight Duroc shown by Darrell Mayo, the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Mayo. Reserve championship honors went to 10-year-old Mark Spieker, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Spieker. He showed a heavyweight Chester bred by his father. Clarence Spieker was presented the breeder's trophy.

The only award not to be won by a Hermleigh resident was the 4-H showmanship award. It went to a Snyder youth, Jody Gilbert. The other showmanship award, one for the Future Farmers of America, went to Gerald Rodriguez of Hermleigh.

The complete results from the Thursday night hog show are as follows:

Robert Walters

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Will the real President Carter please stand up? Is he the "dove" on the left side of the table who for years has been shaping a foreign policy emphasizing détente, human rights, nuclear nonproliferation, reduced defense budgets and global demilitarization?

Or is he the "hawk" on the right side of the table who now is issuing ultimatums to the Soviet Union, shipping arms around the globe, calling for renewed draft registration and proposing massive increases in defense spending?

In the wake of the crises in Iran and Afghanistan, Carter has confounded friend and foe alike by suddenly deemphasizing — if not summarily abandoning — virtually all of the principles he firmly articulated and aggressively promoted as the foundation of his foreign policy during his first three years in the White House.

One of the most striking examples of the president's sudden policy reversal is his administration's decision to offer $400 million worth of military and economic aid to the government of Pakistan during the next two years.

The Soviet invasion of Afghanistan provided the geopolitical rationale for that action, but Carter's move meant ignoring three touchstones of his earlier foreign policy — discouraging the proliferation of nuclear weapons, stressing human rights and reducing foreign military sales.

All three considerations were crucial elements in the Carter administration's mid-1977 decision to abandon the proposed sale of 110 A-7 attack planes sought by Pakistan.

The president last year cut off all military assistance to Pakistan because that nation refused to allow international inspection of a nuclear research program suspected of being designed to produce nuclear weaponry.

The Carter administration also has been critical of the human rights policies of Pakistani President Mohammed Zia ul-Haq, an army general who seized power in a 1977 military coup, now rules under martial law and repeatedly has postponed promised parliamentary elections to install a civilian government.

Similarly, Carter earlier pledged to reduce the United States' role as the world's leading arms merchant because "competition in arms sales is inimical to peace."

But Pakistan isn't the only country to benefit from a resurgence in munitions trade. During the past year, the Carter administration has expanded its sale of everything from small arms to jet fighters throughout the Middle East — the one region of the world where Carter earlier stressed the need for political stabilization.

Beneficiaries of a vastly expanded military aid program have included not only the powerful nations of the region — Israel, Egypt and Saudi Arabia — but also lesser-developed countries such as Oman and North Yemen.

Other examples abound. Demilitarization of the Indian Ocean was a goal propounded in Carter's State of the Union message only two years ago. Today, approximately two dozen United States warships and an equal number of Soviet military vessels are stationed in the Indian Ocean of the adjoining Persian Gulf.

During the 1976 presidential campaign, Carter proposed a $15 billion cut in defense spending, then scaled that down to a reduction of $5 billion to $10 billion. He has just offered a 1981 federal budget calling for an increase of more than $15 billion in military appropriations.

Finally, there's the central issue of relations with the Soviet Union. The man who four years ago said we should "continue our friendly relationships with Russia" now says that nation's invasion of Afghanistan "could pose the most serious threat to peace since the Second World War."

One thing, however, has remained constant — the validity of an observation Carter offered in a March 1976 speech during the last presidential campaign: "Our foreign policy today is in greater disarray than at any time in recent history."

ASTRO-GRAPH

Your Birthday

February 16, 1980

This coming year you are likely to be more fortunate with new projects or enterprises than you will be with old ones. If something fresh comes along that looks good give it a go.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Before entering into any joint venture today, be certain your counterpart can offer as much as you. No one will benefit if the deal is lopsided. How to get along with persons born under other signs is one of the sections you'll enjoy in your new Astro-Graph letter which begins with your birthday. Mail $5 for each Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10101. Be sure to specify birth date.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Make it a point today to share any good fortune with those who have helped you in the past. Be as generous with them as they were with you.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Before taking on new projects today, be sure to finish what you've already begun. Don't let your impulsiveness overload you. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Rather than spoil the fun for yourself or others, it may be wiser today to forego gatherings where there are persons you don't enjoy.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Challenges may hold a particular appeal today, but you must be careful not to attempt anything foolish or anything where the odds are obviously stacked against you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't allow yourself to be caught in one-upmanship situations today because you could say or do something that might prove embarrassing. Play it humble.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Careless or impulsive buying today could cause you problems later. Be sure that what you purchase has warranties or can be taken back. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Both you and your mate could hold very strong opinions today regarding the way something should be done. Neither will want to yield. Avoid situations that could yield impasses.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't delude yourself into believing problems that should be tended to today will somehow take care of themselves. Just saying " presto " won't make them disappear.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You could experience some peer pressure today and feel you have to do something just because it's the thing to do. Go along with the group unless it violates your standards.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Contribute to the tranquility on the home front today instead of being disruptive. Selfish demands could cause family members to behave similarly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Someone you know from experience to be overbearing should be avoided today. You won't appreciate being told what to do or how to think.

one peril fades out

The international situation, the high cost of living and the use of drugs among a large portion of our people create more than enough stress in today's harried American.

There is no way to get around it. Mankind has always lived with pressures. It's just that he's being told more often that Doomsday appears to be just ahead, that his days are numbered.

It's nice to report then that one small threat, which was to have come to pass sometime in the 1980s, has been diminished if not eliminated altogether. The great Killer Bee Menace is no more.

Most Americans will recall the scare headlines which occurred when bad-tempered African bees were mated with easy-going Italian bees before they were accidentally imported across the South Atlantic into Brazil. A succession of stories originating in Brazil told how swarms of bees had caused the deaths of several people and even more animals.

Shudders went up and down most everyone's spine when the bees turned north and began an inexorable migration to North America and the United States.

A few very cautious individuals even started strengthening the screens of their homes, setting in stocks of powerful insect sprays and buying hats with hoods all the way to their shoulders.

The tabloids got a lot of mileage out of the scare and a few reporters even flew to South America to interview people who had survived attacks by the belligerent strain of insects. At least one movie about the Killer Bees was made, although it was never mentioned at Academy Award time.

According to the Wall Street Journal, whose interests range rather far afield at times, the testy hybrids have in the natural way of things intermingled with more even-tempered Brazilian bees, producing yet another strain. Granted the new breed is still formidable but nowhere nearly as antagonistic as the original Killer Bees. We're being advised not to fool around with them, but at least they no longer pose an imminent threat to life and limb.

Are you disappointed, after worrying as much as you probably did about this particular peril? If you are, look on the bright side. It gives you more time to stew over other matters of great concern. Consider the case of the student who allegedly turned loose a quantity of baby alligators in one of the lakes in the Austin area. Now that is something that occurred a lot closer to home. Have you checked your bird bath lately?

my turn

by John Dunnam

Girls have it made really. From childhood they are trained in the little domestic skills that make life around the house easier. It's technical stuff mostly, like how to read those dials on the stove and why it's fine to put starch in shirt collars but not Jockey shorts.

With boys, such upbringings are not the case. After high school they learn a trade or go to college and then suddenly find themselves shoved out into the world doomed to a life of cold cereal and ring-around-the-collar. What good is $20,000 a year if a man is not happy?

To be truly successful, a man must be able to point to his personal habits with pride. This means adhering to the highest possible standards of sanitation and hygiene.

For the young bachelor just starting out here are a few household tips.

There is no need to throw away that towel in the bathroom just because it has become so stiff and covered with crud that you can't get it off the rack much less dry off on it anymore. Simply pry it loose with the tire tool out of the back of your car and wash it. It's as simple as changing a flat tire.

When you suddenly remember that those pretty, green sheets on the bed used to be white it's time to start thinking about changing them.

Milk, bread, peanut butter and a bottle of ketchup for emergencies is all the food you'll ever need. All this talk about vitamins, protein and fiber is just a bunch of hype dreamed up by the grocers. I've seen infants grow to over six-foot tall on a diet of nothing but Pepsi-Cola and potato chips.

The ketchup bottle placed strategically in the refrigerator gives the appearance of a functional appliance. Also, I have found that if you don't drink all of the half-gallon of milk at one sitting what's left will keep better in the fridge.

Clothes are very important. How can you tell if your clothes are dirty? Try this test. Walk into a crowded restaurant and pull off a sock. If more than two people throw up it's safe to assume your socks are ready for the laundry. If you're not wearing socks, wash your feet.

For peak efficiency never go to a laundromat until every stitch of clothing you own is dirty. I have found that the best time to go if you don't want to wait around for a machine is between 3 and 5 a.m. Mondays.

When your tee-shirt starts talking back to you burn it and buy another. Don't try to make a pet out of it. Too much is at stake. To cite an extreme case of just how out of hand things can get I know a guy who is actually afraid of his underwear.

I have never sunk to such depths but I must confess that I did wear a pair of jeans so long once that when I finally did pull them off they followed me to work the next day.

Finally, pay attention to the detergent commercials on television. You've seen that one where the woman uses the wrong brand and her wash only comes out white, not whiter than white. Isn't that disgusting?

Poets write so glowingly of love... it leads me to believe that none of them ever married.

According to them, love makes the world go around... means never having to say you're sorry... is the crown of all our bliss... is the sun, earth, moon and stars... is the living essence of a divine neighbor, and being in it at least once is better than never to have been in it at all.

When I was young, I too was a poet on the subject. And why not? Love was everywhere I turned. I could see it, touch it, smell it and feel it. (Mother slapped a lot in the name of parental love.)

After I was married, love became nocturnal... its expressions reduce to a Candygram and an embarrassed, "You KNOW I do. Do I have to say it?"

I wondered what happened to love. Was it to be like the bottle of champagne at the wedding where the bubbles no longer tickled your senses, the liquid lost its kick, and finally everything went flat? Was it gone? Had it taken a new form? Would I know it when I saw it? What should I look for?

When your tee-shirt starts talking back to you burn it and buy another. Don't try to make a pet out of it. Too much is at stake. To cite an extreme case of just how out of hand things can get I know a guy who is actually afraid of his underwear.

Berry's World

"Maybe we could ask THE RUSSIANS to release the hostages on their way through Tehran."

I had remembered love as something thoughtful. I still said, "Sit still, I'll get you a beer while I'm up." (Mom, it had to be more than that.)

I recalled it had to do with sharing. There had been the day when we buried his mother. We lay side by side in her bed and cried silently, neither of speaking a word until morning.

But that was instinctive, wasn't it? I seemed to remember love meant sensitivity.

There was, of course, the day when one of the kids mouthed off and told me to shut up and my husband grabbed him by the shoulder and said, "How dare you talk to my wife that way." (Could it be?)

Love was a lot of patience. How could I forget when I couldn't make it the nine miles into the Grand Canyon and gave up on the trail only to have him hike the last two miles down and back again with a Dixie cup full of water. (Was that love?)

Could it be that love in its refined state is odorless, colorless, and without the usual heart-shaped form? Could it be something so simple as a tear when you are sad? A smile when you need it? Lips brushing your hair? A hand touching as you exchanged a cold beer?

James Grover Thurber in his wisdom asked a 47-year-old woman who had been married 27 years and had six children, to describe what love really is.

She said, "Love is what you've been through with somebody."

Round Table Award

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)-The American Revolution Round Table Award for the best book on the American Revolution published in 1979 has been awarded to Joseph P. Tustin. Tustin was honored for his work on "Diary of the American War: A Hessian Journal," by Capt. Johann Ewald. Tustin spent 30 years editing and translating the diary, an account of the revolutionary War kept by a Hessian mercenary soldier who arrived in this country in 1776 to fight for the British. The book was published in 1979 by Yale University Press. Thoughtfully locate a window greenhouse to give both your home and your plants a lift. Avoid placing the unit where intense heat and glare will result in an uncomfortable room and "Over-cooked" plants.

Tissue Issue No Bowl Game

By Abigail Van Buren
1980 by Chicago Tribune N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: What would you think of a daughter-in-law telling you at the dinner table that she thought you used too much toilet tissue? She said this right in front of her husband, my son!

I told her I would be happy to buy her some more toilet tissue if she was low on it, but she insisted she had plenty - she just resented my extravagance!

This same daughter-in-law informed me shortly after her baby was born that I would have to telephone a week in advance for an appointment to see the baby. Meanwhile, her mother runs in and out whenever she feels like it.

I am not a difficult mother-in-law, Abby. I have another daughter-in-law with whom I get along beautifully.

I am so upset about the way I have been treated that I am considering selling my property and using the money to travel and enjoy myself instead of leaving everything to my two sons. I am a widow (only 56) and am considered quite well to do.

The other son (with the nice wife) says I should sell everything, travel and live it up. The son with the dreadful wife says, "Don't sell. Keep it. You'll get more for it later."

What should I do? If my husband were alive, he would have nothing to do with the terrible wife, since he never liked the girl. Your advice is needed.

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: If it's necessary to sell your property in order to travel and live it up, sell it. Just keep enough to insure your future security. (P.S. Widows would be wise to discuss their financial matters with the trust officer of their banks, rather than with their children.)

DEAR ABBY: Please do us lawyers a favor and publish this. I vowed that if one more "friend" called me at home for free legal advice, I'd write to DEAR ABBY!

The cheapskate who calls a lawyer at home, asks if he has a minute, and usually ends up talking half an hour. He calls us at home because he's afraid he'll get a bill if he calls the office. The cheapskate tries to make it sound like a "personal call" - "How's the family, etc." but he always wants some legal advice.

My free advice today is: Do not call your lawyer at home except in a real emergency. Do call your lawyer's secretary for an appointment and expect to pay for the advice.

LEGAL EAGLE

DEAR EAGLE: You could cure your cheapskate callers quickly by billing them for legal advice dispensed from your home as well as from your office.

DEAR ABBY: When a 17 year-old boy asks a girl to a school dance, how long should he be kept waiting for her answer?

The boy is our son, and the girl has kept him dangling for a week. I think she's keeping him dangling, hoping she will get a better offer, and if she doesn't get one, she'll go with him.

So, how long should he dangle?

HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: If he's been dangling for a week, he should consider himself cut down and free to ask another girl.

Getting married? Whether you want a formal church wedding or a simple do-your-own-thing ceremony, get Abby's new booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents) self-addressed envelope to Abby: 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

of clubs, led a club to dummy's king, discarded a club to the king of diamonds and ruffed a club.

Clubs failed to break and as you can see the spade finesse was off, but as long as West held the last diamond the slam was home.

All Tommy had to do was to lead a spade and stick in dummy's nine. East took his jack and had to lead a spade right back into dummy's ace-queen.

Note that if West had played his 10 spot the play of the queen from dummy would have caught East in the same end play.

The heart slam is a really good one. After the diamond lead, it will make if the spade finesse is on; if clubs break 3-3, if a squeeze or end play can be developed; and, failing all that, if the defense slips a trifle.

There actually are several lines of play that will bring it in despite the actual bad breaks. We rather fancy the line that Tom Sanders of Nashville adopted:

He won the diamond with his ace, played three rounds of trumps while discarding a diamond from dummy, cashed his queen of diamonds and ace

OPTIMIST AWARD—Andrew Contreras, Snyder High School senior, is the local Optimist's Club's nomination for Young Texan of the month. Contreras, 18, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Santos Contreras. The presentation was made last night at K-Bob's Restaurant after the club held its regular meeting. Contreras will be vying for statewide honors on the basis of his accomplishments. Among other honors, he participated in the American Field Service's program as a foreign exchange student to Germany; is on the superior honor roll at SHS and has been active in track and industrial arts during his school career. Vocational Courses Best Bet For Jobs

The six hottest fields for 1980 jobs seekers, according to a national survey by Fox-Morris personnel consultants in Houston, are data processing, engineering, accounting and finance, personnel recruiting, marketing and sales, and secretarial work.

Vocational Education courses, offered by 67 junior and community colleges in Texas including Western Texas College, provide training in most of these fields as well as many others.

Feb. 10-16 is being observed as Vocational Education week nationwide, calling attention to the availability of Vocational Education courses and the opportunities they offer students.

In all, WTC offers 18 occupational-technical programs in its day and evening schedule, ranging from Automobile Mechanics to Welding. Persons interested in Vocational Education course are invited to consult the college catalog, then talk with counselors or the office of Dr. Gene McClurg, Dean of Occupational-Technical Education.

In 1941, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill met at sea to draft the Atlantic Charter.

The United States annexed Hawaii in 1898, after being requested to do so by the island republic. The U.S. had leased the naval base at Pearl Harbor since 1884. The island succeeded in its long campaign for statehood in 1959 to become the 50th state of the union. Hawaii is the first overseas and second non-contiguous state.

VALENTINE ROYALTY—Mr. and Mrs. Andy Deen were crowned Valentine King and Queen at the Senior Citizens Center last night. Mr. and Mrs. Deen are members of the Center's Sunshine Choir and coordinate the work of the Host and Hostess Committee.

Royalty Crowned At Senior Center

The coronation of a new Valentine King and Queen for 1980 highlighted a Valentine banquet and party at the Senior Citizens Center Thursday night.

The new royalty, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Deen, were presented their crowns by the 1979 King and Queen, Owen Miller and Mrs. Frances Martin.

Dr. Ben Broek, vice president of Western Texas College, was the program speaker. Entertainment was provided by the Sunshine Choir, made up of senior citizens and directed by Chuck Weatherford.

About 150 persons attended the banquet. E.B. "Pete" Glass, chairman of the Senior Center's Advisory Council, welcomed those attending following the invocation by Dean Cochran.

Gloria Shaw, director of the center, served as master of ceremonies.

Aspirin Is Prominent In All Pain Relievers

EDITOR'S NOTE—Seven years after the Federal Trade Commission first tackled the problem of misleading and confusing ads for pain relievers, the ads haven't changed much. This is the last of a three-part series.

By KEVIN MCKEAN
AP Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Most of the pain relievers Americans spend nearly $1 billion a year on are mostly aspirin.

But you would never know it by searching the typical drug store display, or confronting the bewildering advertisements on television, radio and in print.

Anacin promises "Fast pain relief." Bufferin says it is "Twice as fast as aspirin." Alka-Seltzer has "The sound of fast relief." Yet the pain-relieving ingredient in each is aspirin.

"This is a separate species of unfairness to the public. They're essentially creating the confusion they're capitalizing on," says Joel Brewer, a Federal Trade Commission lawyer who is senior attorney for over-the-counter drug advertising.

You can pay more than three cents a tablet for aspirin in the 24-tablet size of Bayer, or less than one-tenth that for the large size of an unknown brand. Yet they may be equally good for your headache.

The makers of non-prescription drugs defend the ads. "Everybody knows that Bufferin is aspirin with buffering agents. I don't think there's anything misleading about that," says Harry Levine, vice president for corporate communications for the maker of Bufferin.

The premium that consumers pay for name-brand products helps support advertising. But, much of the pain reliever advertising is "confusing and misleading to the consumer," a panel of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration has concluded.

In 1973, the FTC challenged ad claims of three drug makers - American Home Products Anacin, Bristol-Myers Bufferin and Sterling Drug Bayer. An administrative law judge has ruled that the first two firms must back up their claims with scientific proof, but both cases are under appeal to the commission. The Sterling case is still pending.

The FDA panel advises these people to consult a doctor before taking aspirin.

The approximately two in 1,000 people who are allergic to aspirin; this includes from 6 percent to 20 percent of asthmatics.

"People who have a history of ulcers, stomach distress or problems of internal bleeding, since aspirin tends to increase bleeding.

Women in the last three months of pregnancy, since aspirin can interfere with infant blood clotting or delay or prolong labor.

Hemophiliacs or persons who are taking drugs to prevent blood clotting anti-coagulants, because aspirin's anti-clotting action make them dangerously liable to bleed.

"Diabetics or sufferers of gout, since aspirin can interact or interfere with prescription drugs for these conditions.

Arthritis, since, despite the sales of "arthritis strength" aspirin products, doctors say it is dangerous to self-medicate arthritis, which can develop into a crippling disease.

When buying aspirin, check to see that it is pure white, does not contain broken tablets and does not have a vinegary smell, all signs of age or poor manufacture.

Be especially careful in giving aspirin to children. Many of the roughly 100 people a year who die of aspirin overdoses are children accidentally poisoned by well-meaning parents. Use children's aspirin and follow carefully the directions on the label.

The first symptom of aspirin overdose is a ringing in the ears. That means you should stop taking aspirin, or, if you think you may already have taken too much, contact a doctor or poison control center.

Here is a rundown on some other pain relievers: Anacin: aspirin plus the wake up ingredient caffeine, about one-quarter the amount in a cup of coffee. Anacin has slightly more aspirin per tablet than regular aspirin (400 milligrams versus 325 milligrams) but you take fewer tablets, so it all evens out.

Bufferin: aspirin plus two buffering agents which help reduce the acidity of the stomach which causes some of aspirin's irritation. But the amount of buffering may be insufficient to completely overcome aspirin's acidity, and some doctors recommend taking aspirin with food, with a glass of milk or with an antacid like Maalox, Di-Gel or Mylanta.

Alka-Seltzer: aspirin plus large amounts of buffers, adequate to overcome aspirin's acidity. But it is, unwise to mix aspirin with alcohol since both irritate the stomach, diminishing Alka-Seltzer's value as a hangover remedy. Alka-Seltzer also has a high sodium content and so may be inappropriate for persons on a low-salt diet.

Tylenol, Datril, Bayer Non-Aspirin Pain Reliever, Anacin-3, etc.: these all contain acetaminophen; the leading aspirin substitute. Acetaminophen has the same pain and fever-reducing power as aspirin, but has no effect on inflammation and so is of little value in arthritis or pains that are caused by swelling. Acetaminophen provoke less stomach upset than aspirin. But it is not a harmless drug, and overdoses can cause severe liver poisoning. Some doctors believe the danger of overdose is greater in alcoholics, whose liver metabolism is altered by drinking.

Combination drugs: Excedrin, Vanquish, Empirin Compound, etc.: these contain combinations of aspirin, acetaminophen, and other related pain relievers, plus caffeine and other mild stimulants, buffers or, in some cases, antihistamines to promote drowsiness. Excedrin P.M. for example. These products claim relief superior to plain aspirin or acetaminophen, but there is no good scientific proof for it.

Some even contain phenacetin, a pain reliever that the FDA panel concluded was not safe owing to the possibility of kidney damage with chronic use. Phenacetin is metabolized to acetaminophen in the body, and so a dose of acetaminophen should have the same effect with less danger.

Licenses Favored For Child Care

By SUSAN STOLER
Associated Press Writer
McALLEN (AP)—Many Christian denominations think the state should license child care facilities run by churches contrary to what evangelist Lester Roloff feels, says a Texas Conference of Churches official.

"The major publicity on this issue has been on those who object to the law," said the Rev. Willis Erickson of Austin.

"Most of our denominations are in favor of it. When you offer public facilities, the state has a right to provide licensing for the safety of the children."

Erickson, a Lutheran minister, is chairman of the Division of Church and Society, which authorized several resolutions before the conference assembly.

Delegates are expected to debate and vote on the issues today.

Roloff, a Baptist, has refused to license his homes for troubled youngsters. He closed two facilities last year rather than bow to what he called "un-Christian, un-Biblical" state regulation.

His Rebekah Home for Girls has reopened without a license and is operated by the People's Baptist Church. Roloff is pastor of the congregation and claims the home is now exempt from the law.

Texas Attorney General Mark White says the home must be licensed and has sued to bring it under state regulation or close it.

The 10-year-old church conference has members from 13 Protestant denominations, the Greek Orthodox Church and the Roman Catholic Church.

Bible Conference At Colonial Hill

A weekend Bible Conference will begin this evening at Colonial Hill Baptist Church.

Teaching adults in the conference will be Dr. Huber L. Drumwright Jr., dean of the school of theology at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Tonight's session will begin at 7 p.m. and continue to 9 p.m. Another session is set for the same hours on Saturday night and the conference will be concluded Sunday morning, with a class from 9:45 a.m. to 11 a.m.

There will be classes for all age groups and the nursery of the church will be open during the conference.

A native of Walters, Okla.

Dr. Drumwright is a graduate of Baylor University and Southwestern Baptist Seminary. He has done graduate study at Princeton Seminary and post-doctoral research at the American School of Classical Studies in Athens, Greece.

He held pastorates in Allen, Dallas, Fort Worth and in Ada, Okla., prior to joining the faculty at the seminary. He also has written teaching and student guides for Bible studies and has had a number of articles published.

The public is invited to attend any or all of the conference sessions, said the Rev. Miller F. Robinson, Colonial Hill pastor.

Game Night At Hermleigh

Hermleigh community will have a game night Saturday at 7 p.m. in the community center. Efforts are being made to make this a regular activity. Everyone is invited.

Talent Show Set In Borden County

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Many causes for fatigue

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I'm 45 years old, 5 feet 1 and weigh 180 pounds. I have seven children from 10 to 28. I lost my husband three years ago and have a 10-year-old with leukemia. He's been in total remission for three years. I am a high-strung person and have trouble sleeping most of the time.

About a year-and-a-half ago I started having extreme fatigue. I went to the hospital and had a complete evaluation with X-rays and everything, and was told that all I had was a slight sinus infection which couldn't be the cause. My blood sugar was 180.

I was told I was in my menopause and to lose weight, try to relax and I would be fine. I asked the doctor for estrogen since I'd been told that makes you feel so much better but he said he would not recommend it and with that, I was discharged.

I am still fatigued and can't believe there is not a physical reason for my condition. Some days it's so bad that I lie down all day and can't do a thing. Can you please comment on what I told you or help me in any way? I don't have to work since we have a business which my son runs.

DEAR READER - You did the right thing in having a complete medical examination. Fatigue or loss of energy is a frequent problem. In about 80 percent of the cases that doctors see for this complaint, there is no medical reason for it. That means, however, that in 20 percent there is a medical cause. These can run the gamut of such things as infectious diseases, diabetes, anemia, endocrine (glandular) or nutritional problems.

Of course, if there is a disease present that's causing the fatigue, the correct approach is to try to cure the disease. If there isn't any obvious disease, then you have to look elsewhere for causes.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 9-6, "Fatigue: Feeling Tired and Weary." Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. It will give you a more complete discussion of the many things that can contribute to fatigue.

You've had a lot of responsibility for a long time and the stress of this may have contributed to your feeling of fatigue.

The other question is how much fun you're getting out of life. People who don't have goals and aren't engaged in doing something they enjoy often get tired. Part of the problem is boredom. Everyone needs to be involved with people, needs to do things that they enjoy and needs to have goals to accomplish. You'd be surprised how much energy a person can have if she is suddenly told that she is going to be able to make a trip that she had wanted to make for a long time or some other pleasant event enters her life.

Some people actually have a depression and that's the two reasons they feel fatigued. These often require professional help. I'm also sending you The Health Letter number 10-10, "Depression: The Ups and Downs of Life." Very frequently both men and women have mild and sometimes relatively severe depression in the middle years. In women there's a tendency to attribute these to the menopause and in men, it's even popular to call it the male menopause.

Headed For District Playoff...

Felines Slug Sweetwater!

SWEETWATER — To use a rather outdated axiom, Snyder's Felines got going when the going got tough here last night and sent Sweetwater's Mustangs out to pasture, 52-42.

The victory puts Snyder girls against San Angelo Lake View in a playoff for the District 3-AAA championship Saturday night, 6 o'clock, at the Big Spring High School Gym.

It was perhaps the best played game of the season for Coach Ken Housden's bunch, who had some trouble in the early going with Sweetwater's fast break, but corrected the problem after the first quarter.

A team effort, offensively and defensively, led to the win. Snyder's 18th on the season. Tracey O'Day and Jamie Hataway combined to put up 15 of the Felines' 20 points in the second quarter. Sandy Sewell ignited the group again in the third, and good free throw shooting, led by Pam Gray, kept Snyder in front during the final period.

ahead in the second period, but a three-point play by Teresa West gave it back to the hosts. Hataway, Snyder's leading point-gatherer on the season, then slammed for two buckets and Gray added a third to shove the 21-21. O'Day countered with a basket followed by two free throws and Sewell hit one from mid-key range as Snyder clawed its way for a 27-21 lead. The teams exchanged buckets the rest of the quarter to go into intermission at 32-26, Snyder's lead.

Kim Harlin and O'Day combined to stretch the advantage to 36-26 at the beginning of the third quarter. After a two-pointer by Sewell, Sweetwater made another attack at the Snyder lead.

Dorman scored two free throws and West dropped in back-to-back buckets to make it 38-34. Sewell, who scored 12 points for the night and pulled down seven rebounds, hit for a pair of goals and Billie Owens added another, giving the Felines a 44-34 lead going into the final stretch.

The final period was mired by fouls and turnovers from both teams. Sweetwater tried time and time again to get the ball inside to West, but Snyder crowded the middle and gave the all-district selection little chance at a good shot.

The Felines went to the stripe 13 times and hit eight points in the quarter. It was Hataway's two from the charity line with 1:25 left that all but put the contest away, however.

Gray made sure it stayed that way by hitting two more with 38 seconds left and another pair with only 21 seconds remaining.

Sewell's 12 points led the Felines, and she got plenty of help from O'Day, 11 points, Hataway, 9, Gray, 7, Harlin, 6, Brenda Anderson, 4, and Billie Owens, 2.

West scored 24 points for Sweetwater. Leticia Garrett had 7.

Track Meet

Is Cancelled

A dual track meet, set for Saturday afternoon between Odessa Permian and Snyder High School boys, has been cancelled. SHS Coach Winfred Shipp announced this morning.

Shipp cited the lack of athletes available from the Snyder team as the reason for the cancellation.

RETURNS IT—Donna McGee, varsity netter, returns a serve in tennis action between Snyder and Lamesa here yesterday. McGee combined with Diane Sentell to win in girls doubles, and also won her singles match against Debbie Hernandez. Snyder won the meet 8-1. See related article. (SDN STAFF PHOTO)

Fems Swat Lamesa; Begin Tourney Play

Snyder's varsity girls made it two in a row toward the district tennis title here Tuesday by defeating Lamesa, 8-1.

The girls had won over Sweetwater earlier, and now boast a 2-0 record.

Both boys and girls varsity team members will be in Sweetwater Friday and Saturday competing in the Texas Tennis Coaches' Association Regional Tournament. Snyder was to try Weatherford in the first round Friday morning. Others in the tourney are Andrews, Monahans, Mineral Wells, Wichita Falls Hirschi, Burkburnett, Fort Stockton and Sweetwater.

The top four teams in regional play will advance to the state TTCA tournament Feb. 29 and March 1 on the Texas A&M campus in College Station.

In girls' singles yesterday Donna McGee defeated Debbie Hernandez 6-4, 6-1; Diane Sentell won over Marsha Daffern 6-3, 4-6, 6-4; Kelley Scott bested Jeannie Crawley 6-0, 6-2; Cathy Cypert defeated Michelle McKinney 6-1, 6-0; Dee Gilbert won over Kecia Dyer 6-2, 5-7, 6-4; and Pam Smith defeated Waylana Holladay 6-1, 6-0.

In doubles, Cypert and Scott lost to Hernandez and Daffern, 6-7, 4-6; McGee and Sentell defeated Crawley and McKinney 6-1, 6-1; and Gilbert and Smith won over Dyer and Baldon 5-7, 6-3, 6-1.

In exhibition, non-district matches, Rosie Peralez defeated Mary Ellen Hilburn 6-2, 6-0 and Mindy Aldridge won over Jana Jarrett 6-3, 6-1.

Westerners Mark 26; Try Amarillo Monday

HOBBS, N.M.—Coach Nolan Richardson relied on a wealth of bench strength to make it 26 in a row here last night as the Western Texas College Westerners bopped New Mexico Junior College 100-66.

Greg Stewart and Paul Pressey combined for 32 of those points with Stewart hitting 18 and Pressey adding 14, but the real story, according to Richardson, was help from the sidelines.

"We led 10-12 points throughout the first half. In the dressing room I could tell that some of our guys that have been getting most of the playing time just didn't have much enthusiasm, so we played guys that hadn't been playing a lot during the second half. They went in and played real hard."

Jim Price, playing "pro-Optimists Hold 'Open House'

The Snyder Optimist Club will sponsor an open house at the Scurry County Boy's Club, Saturday from 7 until 11 p.m.

All area junior high and high schools boys and girls are invited.

Highlighting the activities will be a judo and aikido demonstration put on by students from Western Texas College.

Area youth will have pool, basketball, racketball, ping-pong, bumper pool, shuffleboard, television and other activities available to them, and the club will present trophies.

Somewhat overshadowed by Thursday's varsity girls' game, the junior college cage race, the opening of baseball and track seasons and district tennis bouts is tonight's 3-AAA clash between Snyder and Lamesa here.

THRILL OF VICTORY—Pam Gray (45) congratulates teammate Jamie Hataway as the final buzzers sound in Snyder's 52-42 victory over Sweetwater last night. The Felines will now play San Angelo Lake View, 6 p.m. Saturday in the Big Spring Gym, for the district title. This photo is all too typical. The losing team walks slowly to the dressing room; the winners embrace in joy; and the referees run out the back door. (SDN STAFF PHOTO)

Boys Clash Tonight As...

Tigers Bout Tornadoes

Snyder won the first round of district play, thereby assuring itself of a post-season playoff berth if necessary.

The second round is currently up for grabs as both Snyder and Lamesa are undefeated.

Fans can look back to last year and realize the importance of the shoot-out. In the first half of district play Lamesa upset a No. 3 rated Tiger team 51-50. Snyder later edged the Tornadoes 43-41 in the coliseum, and then won a district playoff held in Big Spring, 51-49.

The Tigers can avoid that this time around by nailing Lamesa tonight, and adding Brownfield and Sweetwater to the list in upcoming weeks.

The Tors are led by all-district performer Pepe Lucio, who scored 23 points despite Snyder's 55-49 victory earlier this season. In that game, held at Lamesa Middle School Gym, the Tors edged out to a 10-8 lead before Snyder went up 21-18 at halftime. Lamesa controlled most of the third period but the Tigers cashed in on some late points to take a 37-34 lead into the fourth. Hitting 12 consecutive points, Snyder stretched the margin to 45-34 with 4:40 remaining, until Lamesa rallied for seven straight with only seconds left to make a ballgame of it.

Lamesa comes into the game with an 18-7 record. Snyder is 23-4. A boys' junior varsity contest, set for 6:30, will precede the varsity tilt. Tickets are $1.50 adults and .75 students.

Lamesa Coach O.W. Folis can set a national record 811 wins with a victory tonight.

Upsets Are Plenty At Winter Olympics

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP)—The pre-Olympics form chart didn't mention young Austrian Leonhard Stock in the men's downhill skiing or Annie Borchink of the Netherlands in women's speed skating because they were long shots who weren't even supposed to be on the track.

But Stock and Borchink own gold medals of the 1980 Winter Games today after conquering challenging events with spectacular performances that could set the tone for this ice and snow sports carnival.

Russian cross-country skier Nikolai Zimjatov also won a gold medal, but hasn't yet received it. There was a massive foulup at the first awards ceremony. The Russians, apparently, didn't get the word as to when and where it was taking place. They didn't appear. No feelings were hurt. Many apologies were made.

There were several disappointments for the United States, relieved only by a surprising fifth-place finish by Pete Patterson in the downhill skiing and a rousing, 7-3 upset hockey victory over favored and second-seeded Czechoslovakia. The American hockey team now has gained three of a possible four points against the two toughest teams in its division.

Beth Heiden and Bill Koch, considered medal hopes in the speed skating and cross country, finished far out of the money. Heiden was seventh in her event and Koch, a silver medalist in the 30 kilometers at Innsbruck in 1976, never finished his race, dropping out with five kilometers to go.

America hoped for better results today when Heiden's brilliant brother, Eric, went after the first of a potential five golds, skating in the 500-meter race. Beth was entered in the women's 500, also on today's schedule.

Figure skating also gets underway with Tai Babilonia and Randy Gardner beginning their bid to beat defending champions Irina Rodnina and Aleksandr Zaitsev of the Soviet Union in the pairs competition.

Stock, a 21-year-old who almost was left off the Austrian Olympic squad, whipped Whiteface Mountain's physically demanding downhill course, flashing through the 3,009 meter run in 1 minute, 45.50 seconds.
