After briefly discussing the matter, Commissioners advised that they could not legally make any concessions on penalty and interest. However, County Judge Jim Alvis assured the oil company representative that the court was working toward a plan of equitable assessment of oil properties in the county that would meet with the approval of Fletcher and other oil industry concerns.

No Newspapers

Not long ago a businessman was standing in the lobby of the local post office, says The Listowel Banner. He noticed a man remove his mail from his box and glance through it. Without taking half a look at the brightly colored circular he tossed it unopened into the large waste basket. We are certain that he devoted no time to even ascertain what the contents of the circular sought to bring to his attention. We are doubtful if he even knew what company was sending him the advertising.

Another local businessman noticed the fate of the brightly-colored circular, and the two men got to talking about the affair. They investigated the waste basket and found several of the circulars. The curious part of the whole thing was that not one of them had been opened. It cost money in postage to mail them to the local boxholders, but yet their message did not strike home.

The odd part of the whole transaction was the fact that the men in their search through the waste basket did not find a single newspaper. Not one. You can draw your own conclusions.

The current partisan squabbles over defense spending, medical care for the aged, and such federal programs remind us of a story: Several years ago the Baltimore Sun offered a $100 prize for the best answer to the query, "What is the difference between a Republican and a Democrat?"

The cash was won by a woman who wrote: "A Republican is a person who believes that a Democratic administration is bad for business. A Democrat is a person who believes a Republican administration is bad for business.—Both are right."

One-third of the nation's working force today is composed of women. They hold every position listed in U. S. census job categories except three—firefighter, locomotive engineer and locomotive firemen.

One of the fields in which women enjoy a much higher employment rate than the average is in banking. Just how far the female sex has climbed is indicated in figures reported at the National Association of Bank Women's convention in Pasadena, Calif.

Women now hold 11 per cent of bank officer positions in the country. They outnumber men 2 to 1 in the total number of bank employees. Since women first entered the banking field in 1893 they have filled every type of banking job. Today 45 hold the position of chairman, 162 are presidents, 688 are vice presidents, and 1,583 are directors.

Despite the date given in last week's Free Press, the Senior Class play will be presented on Friday night, Nov. 18, at the Haskell High School auditorium. Curtain time is 7:30 sharp.

Without rhyme or reason, the date of Nov. 17 was given for the play in a news story last week. Fact is, the cast and all concerned have done such a swell job of rehearsing that the comedy could be presented well in advance of the advertised date. However, the date of Nov. 18 was selected because it will not conflict with any other local event.

Advance sale of tickets has been encouraging, and Seniors hope for a full house Friday night.

If you haven't already done so get your tickets today and see the play—you'll enjoy it and the Seniors will appreciate your support.

Fewer than half a dozen flags were displayed in the business section of Haskell on Armistice, or Veterans Day, last Friday. This is quite a contrast to the practice a few years ago when every business firm would display the U. S. Flag on Armistice, July 4th, Memorial Day, and other occasions.

Our town didn't look good in this respect when compared to neighboring towns, a Haskell man declared.

Harold Hodge who had occasion to be in Munday on Veterans Day, said that scores of U. S. Flags were flying there, almost one to a building.

Progress, in the form of rural mail delivery, was slow in getting round to the H. B. Hilliard farm southeast of town, but it finally became a reality last week.

For the first time since 1929, Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard are enjoying the convenience of having their mail delivered to within 50 yards of their front door.

This came about with building of the F-M Road to the WTU Power Plant and Scott Memorial Park area.

The Hilliards moved to their present farm some 30 years ago.

Until the new F-M Road was built this year nearest point the Rural Route came to the Hilliard farm was two miles distant.

Clay Smith says the good thing about buying rock and roll records is that when they wear out you can't tell the difference.

"Daddy was hanging a picture and it fell on his head," George Riley, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Middleton told his mother, sobbing.

"That's nothing to cry about," his mother suggested. "You should laugh at that."

"I did," George Riley wailed.

As if it wasn't enough to foul up the date of the Senior Play, we've pulled another blooper, this one involving Chaplain (Major) Robert Barnett. But luckily, he's in Germany and more than likely won't be back for a couple of years.

With all the ease in the world we gave him the rank of Colonel in a recent story. That would have been all right if the Pentagon had gone along, which they hadn't at last reports.

Next, we took Chaplain Barnett out of the Army and plopped him down in the Air Force—and there's where we got our hand called.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Air Force is a vital cog in Uncle Sam's military machine, Chaplain Barnett started out with the Army back during the dark days of World War II and that's where he's going to stay.

Probably no one got a bigger kick out of the recent (thank goodness, it's over) political campaign than Dr. J. C. Davis of Rule, a staunch Democrat. And no one laughed more heartily than Dr. Davis when he found out he'd worn a Nixon-Lodge button all one afternoon instead of his favorite Kennedy-Johnson button.

It happened when Dr. Davis walked into a Rule store where several men and women were talking politics. One of the women commented on Doc's colorful pin and asked if she might look at it closely.

Always accommodating, Dr. Davis handed the pin to her. After admiring it she remarked that she'd put it back in his tie and did.

Later, he recalls now that some of his friends would grin when he spoke to them.

But it wasn't until that night that he discovered someone had pulled a fast switch on him.

The woman had replaced Doc's Kennedy-Johnson button with a Nixon-Lodge campaign pin.

A staunch Presbyterian and rugged individualist, George Neely believes in observing Armistice Day. He is a veteran of World War I, having started out on the Mexican border, and Nov. 11 means something to him.

So, on Friday he closes his store and heads for the golf course for a morning of exercise.

Playing right ahead of George was a wild-swinging Munday man. When the man would miff a shot, George couldn't help but hear some of the blistering remarks the man would address to his club, the ball, and the course in general.

In fact, George was hearing an eloquent vocabulary of choice cuss words—and in the meantime he was miffing and slicing some shots himself.

As they finally approached the fifth tee they were in talking distance when George missed what should have been an easy shot. Noting it, the Munday golfer blurted: "That's some of my blankety-blank luck, why don't you cuss the blankety-blank ball!"

"I don't use profanity, my friend," George replied pleasantly, "but I'll have to admit that I've agreed with about 95 per cent of your remarks."

Some of today's Western thrillers on TV are mild compared to the real thing when cowboys went on a rampage around Haskell back in the early days.

Sometimes a lone cowboy, or perhaps several in a group, would get a few drinks under their belt and decide to take in the town." J. V. (Virgil) Hudson, recalls.

There would be an occasional killing, but as a rule the celebrants were just letting off steam, he declares.

His father, the late W. T. Hudson, had one of the first meat markets in Haskell and as a youth Virgil helped in the market, located in a wooden building about where Gene Hunter's store is now.

One day when he was working in the back of the store, leaving the front section unattended, he heard a commotion sounding as if someone was taking the building apart.

Rushing to the front, he was astonished to see a cowboy on his horse, standing in front of the meat counter.

The rider, visibly under the influence of strong liquor told the astonished boy: "S'all right, sonny, jes' thought I'd ride in and tell your Paw hello." With that, he turned his horse, stooped low on the animal's neck and rode out the store and away.

A similar incident had a more serious ending. It involved a cowboy who was about half Indian, and a wiry, 60-year-old storekeeper and Civil War veteran, Capt. B. H. Dodson who was known to be absolutely fearless.

Capt. Dodson was working in a store on the west side, about where Jones-Cox and Company Hardware store is now located.

The part-Indian cowboy, about three sheets in the wind, was having himself a ball riding pell-mell up and down the street whooping at the top of his lungs.

Capt. Dodson was standing in the doorway of his store when the cowboy rode by, suddenly wheeled his horse and jumped him up on the plank sidewalk in front of the store. "Get out of the way old man, I'm riding in to look your place over," he told Dodson.

"Don't do it, young man because if you try to put that horse in here I'll blow you out of the saddle," Capt. Dodson warned.

Regarding the warning the half-breed leaned over his horse and started spurring him through the door. A .45 crashed and the cowboy toppled to the floor while the frightened horse stampeded back out the door and headed for the wide open prairie.

Luckily for the cowboy, the bullet struck in his left shoulder and the wound was not fatal.

After the half-breed recovered, a peculiar thing was noted. He apparently harbored no grudge at all against Capt. Dodson and frequently traded in his store. He continued his "celebrations" occasionally but never once did he show any ill will against the Civil War veteran.

A lot of 30 bales of cotton was sold to a local merchant here Thursday by a group of farmers from Throckmorton County.

The boys and girls basketball team of Haskell High School will go to Abilene next Thursday for a game with the Simmons College team.

Hardy Grissom made a business trip to Olney this week. In the general election held this week, the Democrats carried all boxes in the county except O'Brien, where the Socialists polled 55 votes to the Democrats 34, electing a Socialist Justice of the Peace. The vote was light all over the county. Returns from over the nation show the Democrats vote is the greatest since 1892, with returns indicating that control of Congress will be complete.

Letter Praises Haskell High School Band

The following letter from a former member of the HHS Indian Band, now a resident of Stamford, speaks for itself: "Dear Band Members:

"May I, as an ex-band member, say that I almost burst with pride when the colorful Indian Band marched onto the field at the Stamford game.

"I'm happy to admit that absolutely no one had anything but praise for 'my ole band.' The stunt was unique and obviously required many hours of practice. The quality of it spoke equally well of your band director.

"The 'leading ladies' demonstrated great poise and ability as well as personality. This indeed makes me very happy since I was their twirling instructor when they were all in Sixth Grade—with the exception of the Bell girls.

"I believe your band—and mine—will be successful at contest. My very best to all of you.

Sincerely,
Bobbie Merchant Balze"

"I DID NOT THINK-- I INVESTIGATED"

SIXTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

On November 8, a German physicist looked at something no one had seen before—the bones of a living hand. The man was Wilhelm Roentgen who unexpectedly discovered a new and mysterious kind of ray that could pass through solid substances. And by so doing, he gave birth to the modern science of x-ray—or radiology.

"FEW EVENTS

in the history of science have had so powerful an impact as the discovery of x-ray," says the Encyclopedia Britannica. By allowing radiologists, or specialists in the use of x-ray, to peer into the internal structures of the body, x-ray has become an indispensable tool of 20th Century medicine.

NOBEL PRIZE

EVEN ROENTGEN was not fully aware at once of the importance of his discovery. When asked what he thought when he first saw evidence of this new ray, he replied: "I did not think—I investigated." In 1901, Roentgen received the Nobel Prize for physics. In 1923 he died, making a gift of his x-ray to humanity, seeking no reward and receiving no monetary gain from his great discovery.

Hints Given on Buying Turkeys For Holidays

By F. W. Martin County Agent

Thanksgiving and Christmas are almost here, and turkey buying fever is beginning to rise. Will your dinner centerpiece be something to be proud of, or will it be a bird that does not quite fill the bill? F. W. Martin, county agent, offers the following tips to help homemakers buy a bird they will be proud of at these festive occasions. Factors such as body conformation, size and quality should be considered when shopping for the holiday turkey.

What should you look for in the body conformation? Most important are proportions—a broad breast, deep body and medium length. Also, the legs should have bulging thighs and thick drumsticks.

How large a turkey should you buy? The size will be influenced by the number of people you expect to serve and the attitude of your family toward leftovers. Martin says you should allow about 3-4 pound of oven-ready turkey for each person to be served.

After you have decided on the size of turkey to buy, you should consider quality. Grade A turkeys will have an even covering of fat over the entire body. In addition to this fat, top quality birds will also be broad breasted and have bulging thighs and large drumsticks. Turkeys with these qualities will have the highest ratio of meat to bone, thus giving more edible meat for each dollar spent, the county agent points out. Blemishes such as torn skin and bruises are also factors to consider when determining quality.

Has the turkey been inspected for wholesomeness? Turkeys that have been inspected for wholesomeness under USDA supervision will be tagged Birds that have been graded under USDA supervision will also carry this information. Do not confuse the two.

In addition to buying tips, Martin also passes on these suggestions on cooking. Kathryn Bell Nyles, home economist for the Poultry and Egg National Board, suggests that you allow 15 to 20 minutes cooking time per pound of oven-ready turkey weight. She also recommends a temperature of 325 degrees Fahrenheit. The larger the turkey, the less time per pound will be needed for cooking.

Many New Post Office Buildings Built Since '53

Nearly 5,000 post office buildings have been constructed since the launching of the Department's modern improvement program by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield shortly after his appointment to this position by President Eisenhower in 1953.

Texas got 277 of these new post office buildings, exceeded only by California, Michigan, New York and Pennsylvania. The cost of this new post office construction in Texas has been estimated at $11,215,000.

In an announcement by Postmaster Harold Spain, it was pointed out that while these facilities have been equipped and furnished by the Department, the buildings themselves are either leased or rented in line with the completely new policy which has been closely followed during the past seven years.

"Seven Wells" near Colorado City, was the last watering hole for the buffalo and their tracks still are imprinted in the sandstone rock.

Postmaster Asks Early Mailing For Christmas

Postmaster Harold Spain said today, "Early mailing of all Christmas cards and gifts is the biggest single factor in getting all of the mail delivered before Christmas. Post Office facilities have been expanded, extra help will be available, and everything is geared up to handle a record Christmas mail in Haskell this year."

The entire Christmas mailing period is a big battle against time. Even though Christmas is a month away by the calendar, it's Christmas every day at the Post Office from now on.

The Postmaster advises, "Don't take chances on mailing poorly wrapped packages. Use sturdy corrugated mailing cartons, plenty of heavy wrapping paper and strong cord. Cartons containing several gift packages should be well stuffed with tissue or old newspapers to cushion the contents."

He said further, "If you have articles of unusual size or bulk, better check with the Post Office before attempting to mail them. The limits of size and weight of packages vary, depending on where you mail your packages from."

Always send your Christmas cards by First Class mail and be sure to include your return name and address on each Christmas card envelope.

Send all Christmas mail going long distances before December 10. Follow up promptly with cards and gifts for local delivery. Mail "Early and Often" for a merrier Christmas.

In northeast Texas, near Tyler in Smith County, can be seen the site of an old Confederate Prison, Camp Ford, where 2,000 to 6,000 Federal prisoners were held from 1862 to 1865.

Composing the Haskell delegation were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Middlebrook, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Teas, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Middlebrook, Shelly M. Royall.

Delegates approved a resolution recommending that livestock entering Texas be subject to strict enforcement of inspection regulations at the state line; recommended that the state ASC Committee include bench leveling as an approved practice in the ASC handbook for dry land farming; favored local control of public schools; and voted against any state sales tax.

Activities at the convention included a breakfast of the voting delegates, a welcome address by Mayor R. L. Thornton of Dallas on Thursday morning and talk by Hon. Omar Burleson of Anson at the morning session Friday. Ed Lipscomb was the speaker at the banquet. Lipscomb is Director of Public Relations of the National Cotton Council and gave an interesting talk on "How to Win A War."

Royall, insurance agent was given recognition for his insurance sales by winning a trip to the National Farm Bureau convention in Denver next month. Mrs. Gene Tonn, secretary and treasurer of the local organization was given a token of appreciation for having enrolled the most new families in the Blue Cross group of the entire state for the past year.

Cotton Acreage Allotments for '61 Explained

In response to questions raised by some growers about 1961 upland cotton allotments, B. P. Davenport Jr., chairman, Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, today explained the difference between the 1961 program and the one in effect for the past two cotton crops.

He pointed out that the 1961 national allotment of 18.5 million acres compares with the "regular" 1930 allotment of 16.3 million acres. This 1960 figure was increased to 17.5 million acres under Choice (B) elections. In 1961, there will be only one upland cotton allotment, whereas for the past two crops growers had a choice between the "regular" farm allotment and the 40 per cent larger (B) allotment. All eligible growers in 1961 may receive the full available price support on their cotton, whereas in 1960 the eligible (B) growers received lower support but a larger acreage allotment.

Because of the provisions of the law the effect of the increased national allotment on the size of the state, county, and farm allotments will vary widely. Some farms may receive no increase or possibly a reduction from the available allotment acreage for 1960 primarily because of the operation of the minimum allotment provisions or participation in the Choice (B) program in 1960.

Growers on 1960 Choice (B) farms and on farms with allotments of 10 acres or less should keep these facts in mind when they receive their notices of 1961 allotments. Davenport reminds growers that they should remain in effect for cotton whether or not they approve 1961 market in the national market be held December. Allotments are used as determining eligibility for price support. A two-thirds vote in the referendum quotas for the crop, marketing rates on any "excess" and price support than 70 per cent of position to the quota than a third of would mean no quotas for 1961 and 50 per cent of parcels who complied acreage allotments.

P.T.A.'s Seek New Members In The U.S.—And Overseas

When in Rome—or Oslo or Athens, Fontainebleau or Karlsruhe, Addis Ababa or Reykjavik—American parents and teachers do just about as they do at home: they form a P.T.A.

More than 42,000 P.T.A. members in the European Congress of Parents and Teachers this fall will join in the annual October Membership Month of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Like their nearly 12 million counterparts on U.S. soil, these P.T.A. members who live overseas—from Iceland to the Middle East, most of them on American military bases—will encourage others to "serve where you are: join the P.T.A."

Serving the welfare of American children, wherever they are growing up, is the primary object of the National Congress. It has brought the P.T.A. into many areas of activity during its 63-year history. Since formation of the European branch in 1958, these activities have taken on new flavor:

A European program of scholarships, similar to those provided by many state congresses in the United States, this year awarded $500 against tuition to American colleges for seven students; they were graduates of American overseas schools in Nouasseur, Morocco; Stuttgart, Berlin, Bitburg, and Heidelberg, Germany; and Vicenza, Italy.

Concerned, like other P.T.A.'s, with the interests of mentally and physically handicapped children, the European Congress has initiated a program of special class instruction for these youngsters, providing the funds for additional teacher assistants, helpers, and materials to be used in some 20 schools.

Foreign language education, a natural interest for children whose parents are assigned overseas, has been a major interest of P.T.A.'s in the European Congress. In Air Force schools, extending from Oslo to Libya and from the British Isles to Saudi Arabia, children in grades 3 through 8 are taking classes in foreign language this year.

Adult education programs of the P.T.A., which in the U.S. usually take the form of study-discussion groups, may become adult self-education in overseas areas, where American military, government or civilian members of P.T.A.'s take advantage of opportunities for learning the language of the country and for studying its cultural assets.

As these P.T.A. members, both teachers and parents, return from overseas assignments, they bring broader understanding of other countries to their state-side colleagues.

"This is one great contribution our European members can make," says Mrs. James C. Parker, of Grand Rapids, Mich., president of the National Congress, who acted as a consultant to the European Congress when she attended their convention last April.

"Overseas P.T.A.'s," she points out, "bring to American boys and girls living in other parts of the world some of the home and school experiences they would be enjoying if they lived in the United States."

"The richest result is the relationship between parents and teachers; there is a closer relationship in a foreign environment, because they have so many unusual experiences in common."

The National Congress has always recognized, she says, "that great differences exist among the states and communities"—and still greater ones in overseas communities. But the National Congress program "always allows abundant room for choice" of projects for local P.T.A.'s, serving "as a bank or library of ideas from which the local unit draws to suit its needs."

In its membership programs this October, the P.T.A. card will become "a passport to the best society on earth," says Mrs. Parker, "an organization working in hundreds of ways to create a better world, working for the welfare of all children—the migrant, the delinquent, the average for all children whether they live in cities, suburbs, rural areas, or on military bases abroad—an organization that cares about the homes children live in, the schools they are taught in, and the neighborhoods they grow up in."

The midst of Europe's Bavarian Alps—it's a P.T.A. meeting. Mrs. James C. Parker, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, confers with Fred L. Miller, coordinator for P.T.A.'s in the European Congress of American Parents and Teachers, during conference in Berchtesgaden, Germany. Some 140 parent-teacher associations in Europe, Northern Africa, and the Middle East will join this fall in programs to enroll more than 12,000,000 parents, teachers, and friends of children as P.T.A. members.

The St. Ann Catholic Women's Guild held its regular meeting at 8:00 P. M. at the church parish hall in Stamford.

Conducting the business session was the president, Mrs. J. W. Cloud, Rule. The program "The Story of Advent," was presented by Mrs. Raymond Hilscher, Stamford. In her program, Mrs. Hilscher pointed out that the season of Advent is the first part of the Christmas Cycle. The liturgical year begins with the Advent season as a preparation for the annual celebration of the Birth of Christ. The spirit of this season is expressed in the words of St. John the Baptist who said, "Prepare the way of the Lord: make straight His paths."

She further pointed out that we must rightly prepare ourselves for the coming of Jesus if we are to be enriched with the special virtues and graces that he merited for us by His birth. Mrs. Hilscher said that Advent is therefore a season of repentance. The Masses and liturgy of Advent express the spirit of mortification and prayer. Going further, she stated that the penitential aspect of Advent is lightened by the joyful expectation of the rapidly approaching feast of Christmas.

Mrs. Frank Porter, Haskell, reported to the group the decisions of the recent meeting of the program committee which planned that the programs for the remainder of the club year

PAINT CREEK . . . COMMUNITY NEWS

BY MRS. GENE OVERTON

Sunday and Monday were almost like summer and farmers surely made good use of the wonderful weather to get as much cotton stripped and ginned as they could. Most Paint Creek farmers could use a week of such weather, but the forecasters assure us it won't last.

The school carnival is to be Thursday night, beginning at 5:30 with the coronation of the Queen to be at 9 o'clock. Everybody come and eat supper with the classes that have food booths and have fun with the cake walk and bingo booths. The money is to be used to finish the tennis court and the men have already begun work on it this week. It surely takes a lot of cement to concrete a tennis court. So come help us make the money.

Monday afternoon at the regular assembly time at school, Dr. Middleton, president of the Haskell County T.E. Committee, talked to the student body and to the visiting Mattson pupils on tuberculosis and how it may be treated and controlled.

Speaking of the Community Room at the Bank. That was one of the nicest ideas when the bank planned a community room in their new building. Haskell needed such a room and it has been used by almost every organization in town. I noticed it was a voting place on Tuesday and then the T.E. committee used it for their "stuffing" party on Wednesday. They have a nice kitchenette and we were allowed to use the coffee maker and cups. We surely appreciated it, and want to thank the bank, not only for allowing us to use it, but for having such a nice room for Haskell organizations to use.

Cadets Waller Overton and Dub Sims from A&M College, College Station, Texas, spent last week end at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wells are the proud parents of a little baby daughter who was born at the Haskell Hospital November 9th. She weighed 7 lbs., and 9 oz. and has been named Debra Ann. Her paternal grandmother is Mrs. Emma Wells and her proud uncle is Albert Thane.

The Scouts of troop 48 attended the fall Camporee at Fort Griffin State Park Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 12, 13. They entered all competitive events, after setting up camp Saturday afternoon. Sunday morning they attended church services lead by three Albany pastors, the Baptist, Methodist and Church of Christ. After cooking their noon meal they had the awards ceremony and arrived home about 6 o'clock. The school furnished the small bus for the boys to make the trip.

Several members of the Junior class meet at the home of Mike Overton to label items for the bingo booth which they will sponsor at the Harvest Festival Thursday, Nov. 17. The merchants of Haskell and Stamford were most generous in furnishing prizes for the booth. Those working on the project were Judy Medford, Jane Earles, Martin Coleman, Helen Pustejovsky, Ann McLennan, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pustejovsky, and class sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Van Morrison.

Gene Overton attended the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Chisholm Trail Council Boy Scouts of America in Abilene Tuesday night. His guest was Roy Wiseman, assistant Scoutmaster.

Mr. and Mrs. James Merrie Raughton, Jene Ann, Jimmy Dan and Jamie Lynn from Highland were in the community Tuesday to attend the funeral of Mr. Raughton's uncle, G. W. Raughton. The services were held at the Kinney Funeral Chapel and burial was in Rockdale cemetery. James served as a pallbearer.

Coach Pat Morrison's basketball girls have played two pre-conference games, one with Hawley and one with Lueders. They won them both.

Coach Bill Tate and his boys finished the football season when they played O'Brien Nov. 4. The boys played a winless season, but there were three first string boys injured the entire season, and another ineligible. We lose three seniors and gain three freshmen next year, but those who were unable to play because of injuries will be ready next year and we should have a good season. Coach Tate may have to wait until 1962 for enough boys to have much of a team. We have just had a boy shortage these last few years. Our girls are big and strong and our boys are short and thin.

Mrs. Gene Overton spent Sunday afternoon in Rule visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Jones, her brother, Doc Jones, and his family, and her sister, Mrs. Charles McBeath and Mr. McBeath, who were there from Amarillo to attend the Rule Homecoming.

The Safety and Driver's Education class had a safety demonstration by Sgt. D. L. Cooper of Wichita Falls. Sgt. Cooper was here last year and his pistol shooting demonstration is most unusual and interesting, as well as the driving The Paint Creek and Mattson students both enjoyed and learned from his demonstration.

Miss Billie Boshier and several of her Homemaking girls helped with the T.E. Seal "stuffing" party at the National Bank Community room last Wednesday night. Joann Griffith received credit toward the Homemaking degree that she is working on, and the other girls helped render a community service to their community. The T.E. Committee surely appreciated the work of these girls and of Miss Boshier. They helped us finish the job of getting the letters ready to mail in record time. Girls helping were Joann, Rita Worden, Patsy Tate and Phillie Cockerell.

Those working on the project were Judy Medford, Jane Earles, Martin Coleman, Helen Pustejovsky, Ann McLennan, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pustejovsky, and class sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Van Morrison.

Gene Overton attended the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Chisholm Trail Council Boy Scouts of America in Abilene Tuesday night. His guest was Roy Wiseman, assistant Scoutmaster.

Mr. and Mrs. James Merrie Raughton, Jene Ann, Jimmy Dan and Jamie Lynn from Highland were in the community Tuesday to attend the funeral of Mr. Raughton's uncle, G. W. Raughton. The services were held at the Kinney Funeral Chapel and burial was in Rockdale cemetery. James served as a pallbearer.

Coach Pat Morrison's basketball girls have played two pre-conference games, one with Hawley and one with Lueders. They won them both.

Coach Bill Tate and his boys finished the football season when they played O'Brien Nov. 4. The boys played a winless season, but there were three first string boys injured the entire season, and another ineligible. We lose three seniors and gain three freshmen next year, but those who were unable to play because of injuries will be ready next year and we should have a good season. Coach Tate may have to wait until 1962 for enough boys to have much of a team. We have just had a boy shortage these last few years. Our girls are big and strong and our boys are short and thin.

Mrs. Gene Overton spent Sunday afternoon in Rule visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Jones, her brother, Doc Jones, and his family, and her sister, Mrs. Charles McBeath and Mr. McBeath, who were there from Amarillo to attend the Rule Homecoming.

PAINT CREEK . . . COMMUNITY NEWS

BY MRS. GENE OVERTON

The Safety and Driver's Education class had a safety demonstration by Sgt. D. L. Cooper of Wichita Falls. Sgt. Cooper was here last year and his pistol shooting demonstration is most unusual and interesting, as well as the driving The Paint Creek and Mattson students both enjoyed and learned from his demonstration.

Miss Billie Boshier and several of her Homemaking girls helped with the T.E. Seal "stuffing" party at the National Bank Community room last Wednesday night. Joann Griffith received credit toward the Homemaking degree that she is working on, and the other girls helped render a community service to their community. The T.E. Committee surely appreciated the work of these girls and of Miss Boshier. They helped us finish the job of getting the letters ready to mail in record time. Girls helping were Joann, Rita Worden, Patsy Tate and Phillie Cockerell.

Speaking of the Community Room at the Bank. That was one of the nicest ideas when the bank planned a community room in their new building. Haskell needed such a room and it has been used by almost every organization in town. I noticed it was a voting place on Tuesday and then the T.E. committee used it for their "stuffing" party on Wednesday. They have a nice kitchenette and we were allowed to use the coffee maker and cups. We surely appreciated it, and want to thank the bank, not only for allowing us to use it, but for having such a nice room for Haskell organizations to use.

Cadets Waller Overton and Dub Sims from A&M College, College Station, Texas, spent last week end at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wells are the proud parents of a little baby daughter who was born at the Haskell Hospital November 9th. She weighed 7 lbs., and 9 oz. and has been named Debra Ann. Her paternal grandmother is Mrs. Emma Wells and her proud uncle is Albert Thane.

The Scouts of troop 48 attended the fall Camporee at Fort Griffin State Park Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 12, 13. They entered all competitive events, after setting up camp Saturday afternoon. Sunday morning they attended church services lead by three Albany pastors, the Baptist, Methodist and Church of Christ. After cooking their noon meal they had the awards ceremony and arrived home about 6 o'clock. The school furnished the small bus for the boys to make the trip.

Several members of the Junior class meet at the home of Mike Overton to label items for the bingo booth which they will sponsor at the Harvest Festival Thursday, Nov. 17. The merchants of Haskell and Stamford were most generous in furnishing prizes for the booth. Those working on the project were Judy Medford, Jane Earles, Martin Coleman, Helen Pustejovsky, Ann McLennan, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pustejovsky, and class sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Van Morrison.

Record Holiday Sales Predicted By Magazine

Retail stores are expecting a record of two months in pre-Christmas sales, despite recent worrisome trends in other areas of business, according to Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine.

But, according to an article in the current issue of the magazine, this year's Christmas gifts probably will be paid for when bestowed, curbing the credit practices of the immediate past.

Surveying the outlook for Christmas sales, the magazine found stores around the country reporting stable prices, good quality and ample supplies—and that people have money to spend. What is needed to bring the business in, the editors conclude, is a strong dose of promotion, and that is what the merchants have in mind.

As a result, the magazine predicts there will be a rush of pre-Christmas promotions—prices slashed, great buys in gifts—designed to break down shoppers' caution which has been building up in recent months.

The best buys, according to the article, will be in appliances with prices down and values good. The stores will come up with other good buys, the editors note, but there won't be any bargains in sweaters, lingerie, gloves, and other apparel items. Price levels are high on these and not likely to budge for the holiday buying spree.

The magazine notes that the cloudy business weather of recent months will make people leery of running up their indebtedness, and non-payments are on the increase, causing merchants to be reluctant to give credit too freely. The result of both reactions, the editors state, will be a lot of Christmas presents paid for in cash.

CARD OF THANKS
Words are inadequate to express our appreciation to the many friends who did so much to help and comfort us during J. M.'s three weeks in the hospital following his accident.

We want to express our thanks for all the cards and letters, the flowers and visits; our gratitude to the hospital staff for courteous and efficient service; to the doctors for untiring effort to bring relief from pain.

We appreciate the visits from the Ministers of the city and to all who contributed to our peace of mind in knowledge of their concern and loving kindness.

To all who called and were not admitted, thank you and please understand it was because of the doctors and nurses' concern that be needed absolute rest and quiet.

We are at home now and he is doing well and would enjoy seeing you. God bless you all.—Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Diggs. 46c

VISIT PARENTS HERE DURING WEEKEND

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Headstream and son, Danny, have returned to their home in Tatum, N. M., after visiting from Nov. 11 to 13 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Daniel in this city, parents of Mrs. Headstream.

Haskell Couples Return From Florida Visit

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Conner, accompanied by their daughter and husband and little son, Mr. and Mrs. Don Stephens and Winston Kelly, have returned home after a week's stay in the home of the Conner's daughter and son-in-law, Second Lieutenant and Mrs. Grady R. Cozby Jr., of Pensacola, Fla.

They witnessed the military parade and graduation service of many Navy and Marine men from the school of pre-flight training, one of them being Grady, who will now be test flying.

They went fishing in the Gulf of Mexico. Although they did not catch any big fish, they saw some unusual specimens, porpoise, sharks red fish, Spanish mackerel and needle fish. They caught sea robins (fish with wings) the "puffer" as native Floridians called them, along with angel fish, octopus and several other kinds of small fish and crabs.

It's suicide—that's what it is! All the time we're hunting we try to watch out for "the other fellow." This indicates we'd better be more watchful of our own actions. It's really hard to believe that over half of the fatal shootings are self-inflicted. Makes one stop and think! If you're interested in your own future, perhaps you'd better read further—because here is how those accidents occurred:

1. Weapon fell.
2. Weapon defective.
3. Removing loaded weapon from vehicle.
4. Discharged while being pulled from holster.
5. Climbing tree with loaded weapon.
6. Gun off safety.
7. Stepped on shell.
8. Tossed gun, which hit a rock and discharged. (This one proved fatal.)

All of which prompts our neighbors to the west to remark that "accidents don't just happen—they are caused."

Discharging a firearm in a reckless manner in a hunting area, resulting in injury to another has caused many a hunter in New Mexico to lose his hunting license—for ten years.

Such an incident, that results in a fatality in that state is cause for revocation of hunting privileges—for life.

Texas legislature would do well to adopt the penalties. The least that can be done is to rid the field of careless hunters.

Perhaps this is as good a time as any to repeat the 10 Commandments of Safety. Please, for your own good—read and repeat after me:

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the cardinal rule of gun safety.
2. Guns carried into camp or home must always be unloaded, and taken down, or have actions open; guns always should be encased until reaching shooting area.
3. Always be sure that the barrel and action are clear of obstructions.
4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble. Keep the safety on until you are ready to shoot.
5. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot.
6. Unattended guns should be unloaded; guns and ammunition should be stored safely beyond the reach of children and careless adults.
7. Never climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun.
8. Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water.
9. Do not mix gunpowder with alcohol.

We are told that more Texans hunt in New Mexico than New Mexican hunt in their own state. If this is true, then it's highly possible that a number of those New Mexico casualties were Texans.

HERE FROM DYESS AIR FORCE BASE
Capt. and Mrs. Curtis Cross and children, Curtis Jr. and Barbara of Dyess AFB, Abilene, were weekend visitors in the home of the officer's mother, Mrs. M. O. Brinlee and Mr. Brinlee, and their mother and grandmother, Mrs. A. B. Vaughn.

On the basis of this experience, it is estimated that at least 1,600 new buildings will be added to this total during the current fiscal year.

Post Office Urges 'Mail Early for Christmas'

Faced with the possibility that the 1960 Christmas season will set an all time holiday mailing record, Postmaster Harold R. Spain announced today that he is starting his annual "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign immediately.

The Postmaster offers these helpful mailing tips to insure delivery of your Christmas cards and gifts on time.

First check your Christmas card list very carefully—make sure each address is complete, with full name, street and number, city, zone and state. Second, for your Christmas gift packages, stock up now on heavy cartons, strong cord, and paper wrapping, sturdy corrugated adhesive tape. Third, remember that you can include your Christmas card or letter inside your gift package by adding the appropriate First Class postage to the package itself. Fourth, buy your postage stamps now. Don't wait until the last minute when long lines form at the stamp windows.

The Post Office will help you plan your Christmas mailings. Get a copy of Pamphlet No. 2, which gives full information about proper packing and wrapping of parcels. The Post Office will also supply free labels which read, "All For Local Delivery" and "All For Out of Town Delivery," so that you can sort your Christmas cards into two groups, with addresses all facing one way, thus insuring fast delivery.

Use only First Class postage on your Christmas cards. Cards sent by First Class four-cent, or seven-cent Air Mail, may include personal hand-written messages. First Class mail also receives full forwarding and return service. Don't fail to put your return address on every Christmas card envelope. Not only is this socially correct, but it helps tremendously to keep the mailing lists of both you and your friends up-to-date.

Postmaster Spain says that with your help he'll get the Christmas mails through on time. He is making many advance preparations to handle the 1960 Christmas mail rush by putting on extra mail clerks and carriers, and by arranging for expanded facilities all around.

The Postmaster requests that you make it a point to mail your Christmas cards and gifts for the most distant points well before December 10. Those for nearby destinations should be mailed by December 15, or at least a week before Christmas.

C. C. Directors Hear Report On Paving, Christmas Program

At their monthly breakfast meeting Tuesday morning in the Highway Drive Inn, chairman of commerce directors heard a report on the current street paving program, and were given an outline of this year's Christmas Program.

Jimmy Turner was a guest of the board and gave a report on paving done in the northwest section of Haskell. He stated that streets had been paved along 21 blocks in that part of town to date. This makes a total of 40 blocks paved this year, he explained.

Harold Spain, United Fund Chairman, stated that all pledge cards were being called in and that the campaign goal was in sight. A total of $10,805.37 in cash and pledges had been reported raised on the $11,300.00 quota.

Dr. T. W. Williams discussed the Texas State Board of Health and indicated on a Texas map where each member of the board lives. All but one of the nine members live in the south and eastern part of Texas, one member lives in El Paso. Members are appointed by the Governor and serve for a period of from two to six years. Need for a member of this board to be located in the central part of the state was emphasized.

In order to keep the needs of the Haskell County Hospital before the board, a meeting with the board has been scheduled for 1 p. m. on Sunday, Dec. 4 in Austin. Bonds have been voted to enlarge the hospital but the state board will not approve building this addition until Haskell's municipal water supply is approved, Dr. Williams stated.

An outline of the 1960 Christmas Program was given by Harold Spain. Added feature of the annual Christmas Parade will be the addition of a Children's Pet Parade, sponsored by the Rotary Club. More merchants are cooperating in the program than ever before, Spain reported, with 51 signed up to date.

Directors were told of a study being made relative to salt water infiltration reported in water wells recently at several points in Haskell County. An oil map is now available at the Chamber of Commerce office showing the oil well locations and drilling sites of dry wells in Haskell County. At present, a map is being compiled by a Wichita Falls firm showing irrigation water wells drilled since 1926, the only map now available having been made prior to 1926. The C. C. office will have the new map as soon as it is completed.

CHANGING A FLAT TIRE IS MAN'S WORK, BUT THESE TIPS MAKE IT EASIER FOR WOMEN WHO MAY HAVE TO DO IT.

- PULL THE CAR OFF THE ROAD ON LEVEL GROUND IF POSSIBLE. GET HANDBRAKE. WEDGE A ROCK UNDER A WHEEL SO CAR CAN'T ROLL.
- SET THE JACK UNDER THE BUMPER. RAISE IT SO FLAT TIRE BARELY TOUCHES THE GROUND. PRY OFF HUB CAP.
- LOOSEN ALL WHEEL NUTS THEN RAISE JACK UNTIL THE FLAT TIRE CLEARS THE GROUND. REMOVE NUTS AND WHEEL. PUT ON THE SPARE. PARTIALLY TIGHTEN ALL NUTS. LOWER JACK. FINISH TIGHTENING ALL AROUND.
- IF YOU HAVE A FLAT AT NIGHT, LEAVE TAIL LIGHTS, BUNKER ON. RAY OR NIGHT... CARRY A GOOD SPARE.

Cold Weather Hints on Care Of Poultry

Moisture and poultry houses don't mix in any kind of weather, but excess moisture is especially undesirable during the cold winter months. One thousand laying hens give off nearly a barrel of water per day, and this water must be removed by good ventilation, says Ben Wormeli, extension poultry husbandman. Where birds are overcrowded, proper ventilation and moisture removal become more difficult. Proper floor management of birds on litter will greatly reduce the problem of moisture, the specialist continues.

Because of the wide range of outdoor temperature conditions during the winter months, it is important that the sidewall construction of the house be of the type that will enable the poultryman to vary the ventilation conditions according to the weather. It is important that the house should be opened. This opening will allow air movement to remove the excess moisture and ammonia from the litter, Wormeli explains.

"Remember," he says, "the function of litter is to provide a dry, clean place for the birds to live and work."

The moisture which causes damp litter may come from sources other than the birds themselves. Inefficient water fountains and leaky roofs or sidewalls are common sources of unwanted moisture. The basic precautions for keeping the litter dry are grading around the house to provide drainage, making sure the floor of the house is higher than the surrounding area and providing adequate roof overhang to carry rain away from the walls.

Providing housed poultry with dry, loose floor covering material requires planning and regular attention, but the individual poultryman has a wide choice of litter material. Among the more common litters used in Texas are wood shavings, bagasse, peanut shells, crushed corn cobs, cut straw and peat. The important thing is to use a sufficient amount of litter to form a good, loose, dry bedding, says Wormeli.

A poultry flock that has been with an adequate amount of clean, dry, well-managed litter has been proved one of the essentials of a high level rate of performance. In today's highly competitive poultry industry, this can mean money in the poultryman's pocket, Wormeli concludes.

County Has Five Rural Accidents During October

The Highway Patrol investigated 5 rural accidents in Haskell County during the month of October, according to Sergeant F. P. Jirick, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks have accounted for two persons injured, and a property damage of $1,905.00.

This brings the total for the year in this county to two persons killed, 21 injured, and a property damage of $18,500.00.

"In 1959, eight thousand and two pedestrians were killed on the streets and roads of America," Sergeant Jirick said. That figure represents about twenty-four per cent of all traffic fatalities in this country in one year's time. If we could eliminate this one category from our death toll, it would contribute heavily toward a general massive reduction in traffic fatalities.

True, a pedestrian doesn't have much chance against tons of steel. But, if the driver and pedestrian both would use good defensive measures and common sense this type of casualty could be averted.

Make Your Reservation Now! for a... ROCKET TRIP TO THE MOON!

If and when Uncle Sam decides to launch a space craft, he will have no problem in recruiting a crew to man the ship. Newspaper advertising can do the recruiting job. In fact one such advertisement has been run in one newspaper. It brought a flock of responses from prospective space travelers.

Last spring Farr Tours, a travel agency, published an ad in a Florida newspaper with the headline, "Space Available Now! New Deluxe Ion Rocket Ship to the Moon." The advertisement was a gimmick intending to show what the agency's offerings might be in 1987.

When the travel agency received 150 requests for reservations, the copy writer who prepared the advertisement concluded that newspaper advertising could sell anything. "It proves again that people read newspaper advertising and act on it," he said.
