WASHINGTON (AP) A $227.3-billion "windfall" tax on the oil industry, a compromise congressional negotiators took two months to hammer out, is awaiting formal approval in the House and Senate. The Carter administration says the final bill is landmark legislation.

If earmarks about $136 billion, or 60 percent of the revenue the tax would produce in the 1980s, for across-the-board income tax cuts for individuals and corporations. Any tax cut, which would have to be approved by Congress in a separate bill, could take effect as early as Oct. 1.

Draft Plan Attacked

WASHINGTON (AP) President Carter's proposed draft registration system was attacked in Congress today as an unnecessary step that will do little to improve U.S. military readiness.

"The Soviets, in fact, are not losing any sleep over this proposal, and the only people losing sleep are our own young people," said Barry Lynn, head of a coalition opposing the draft and registration.

Resolve To Cut Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) More than 40 percent of the Senate joined today in introducing legislation that calls for fighting inflation by cutting federal spending far more than President Carter is reported to be considering.

The Senate resolution would not be binding on congressional budget writers, but several senators found it important enough to threaten a filibuster if halting Senate proceedings turns out to be the only way to bring a quick vote.

Sen. William Roth, R-De. said he normally opposes the idea of filibusters, the long "debates" that tie up lawmaking activities for tactical purposes. But he added, "I think it's worthy to filibuster against inflation."

Forty-one of the Senate's 100 members signed the resolution as co-sponsors.

3 Missing From Crash

MANILA, Philippines (AP) A Taiwanese Boeing 707 jetliner carrying 135 persons, including seven Americans, exploded in flames today after an engine fell off on landing at Manila's international airport, and the airline said all but three persons aboard were known to have survived.

The three others were listed as missing. The chief of the Manila rescue center, Jaime Cruz, said no bodies were found on the plane. Officials speculated that the three may have survived but did not report to rescue workers.

Everybody's Thriftway Sold To Rotan Grocers

Mrs. Rex Miller, owner of Snyder's oldest supermarket, today announced sale of Everybody's Thriftway to a third generation grocery family.

Sale of the supermarket to Glen and Sandra Holt of Rotan becomes effective March 23.

Holt is owner of Thriftway in Rotan, also a member of Affiliated Foods. Slated to be manager of the store is Holt's son and his wife, Ken and Cindy Holt.

Ken, 21, and Cindy will graduate in March from Texas State Technical Institute in Waco where he is studying supermarket management and Cindy is completing a study in computer programming.

Glen Holt said his grandfather and father were both in the grocery business. His father operated Holt's Finer Foods in Lubbock for 37 years. He moved to Rotan in 1966 and took over the Thriftway operation there. Holt said he also has a brother in the grocery business in Idalou.

Glen Holt is a 1956 graduate of Lubbock High School and after graduation went to work in his father's store. Ken Holt also has grown up in the grocery business, working for his father in Rotan for many years.

Mrs. Miller said she was delighted to be able to sell the store to people that she knew and had confidence in. "Rex and Glen were friends for many years, and I recommend him to you highly," Mrs. Miller said.

Holt said he was pleased to have the opportunity to carry on the fine tradition of service that the Miller family has given Snyder during the past years.

Holt said he anticipated no changes in operation of Everybody's Thriftway, however, he said some new fixtures would be purchased and put into service.

Mrs. Miller has been active in management of Everybody's Thriftway since January, 1977, when Mr. Miller died. The Miller family began in the grocery business in Snyder 35 years ago as a partner with Doc Griffin in D&R Grocery, located on the east side of the square.

In 1952 the store was moved to College Ave. and Deep Creek, in the building presently occupied by Hinshaw's, and the name was changed to Everybody's. The firm moved into its present location in Snyder Shopping Center in 1960.

In Rotan the Holt family attends the Methodist Church and he is a past-president of the Rotan Lions Club and is a former Jaycee. He currently serves on the board of directors of Affiliated Foods and is a director of the Texas Retail Grocers Association.

Merchants who staged a general strike to protest the occupation began returning to work today in the Afghan capital of Kabul, Western diplomatic sources here said.

The sources said as many as 25 percent of the shops in Kabul reopened today, the seventh day of the strike, but one diplomat quoted reports from the Afghan capital as saying Kabul was still "very tense" in the aftermath of the anti-Soviet riots.

The Snyder City Council last night accepted a bid by IBM for the purchase of computer components needed to provide data processing for local tax agencies.

IBM's quotation of $25,420 was the only bid received. The council also authorized the mayor to contract for software services involved in the city's contract with tax appraisal and collection offices.

Both the Scurry County Appraisal District and the Scurry County Tax office have contracts with the city for data processing service.

May At Earliest...

Hostages' Fate Delayed Again

By The Associated Press
A top Iranian official said today the fate of the American hostages in Tehran will not be decided by Iran's new Parliament until May at the earliest.

Mohammed Behesti, first secretary of the ruling

Revolutionary Council, said it would be that long 10 weeks before the Majlis, or parliament, would be sufficiently organized to deal with the issue. The two rounds of elections for the Parliament will be completed April 3.

Iranian revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini said last weekend it would be up to the Parliament to decide whether to release the approximately 50 hostages at the occupied U.S. Embassy. Behesti, speaking with reporters, conceded that a new ruling by Khomeini could quickly change the situation.

Even if the hostage crisis became the Parliament's first item of business, it was not likely a decision could be made before the end of April, the council secretary said.

How much time would be needed for a decision I don't know," he said.

Any delay in the elections for the 270-seat legislature, a possibility because of a dispute now raging over the rules, would push back consideration of the issue even further.

A State Department official in Washington acknowledged privately Tuesday that the release of the hostages could take a lot longer than any of us would like.

Today was the 116th day of captivity for the hostages. The Carter administration had believed that its agreement to a U.N. investigation of the ex-shah's regime would result in their speedy release.

The U.N. investigative panel met with Foreign Ministry officials today.

A ministry spokesman refused to disclose details of the meeting. The five-man commission later was scheduled to tour palaces where deposed Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi resided, a tour the Iranians say will demonstrate the ousted monarch's exploitation of his people.

The Iranian government said Tuesday it is easing its six-week-old ban on American journalists, and those who can convince the Iranian Embassy in Washington that they are impartial can return to Iran.

Ask Us

Q. Who determines the classification of public schools for athletic competition and what do they base their decisions on?

A. A state-wide organization called the University Interscholastic League, with membership made up of the school districts themselves, classifies the schools for interscholastic competition in Texas. The assignments are based on membership (school enrollment) Snyder is competing this year in Class 3-A made up of schools with enrollment of 580 to 1,259 in the top four grades. Beginning next school year, the UIL is revamping its classifications and Snyder will be in Class 4-A. However, it will still be in the next to highest bracket, since the classes beginning in 1980-81 will range from Class 5-A (the largest schools) to Class 1-A (the smallest).

Through this term, the classes range from Class 4-A (the largest) to Class B (the smallest). Thus, all classes are moving up a notch so that nobody will be labeled Class B after this semester.

Chamber Plans Fun Breakfast

A March 10 Snyder chamber of commerce membership breakfast was approved by members of the chamber board at its regular monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The membership breakfast is designed to involve more members in chamber activities and to inform members of current activities. Chamber manager Bill Warner said the format of the breakfast will be lighthearted and that it would begin at 6:30 a.m. and be over in time for members to be on the job at 8 a.m.

The membership breakfast will be patterned after those held in several area towns where the emphasis is on having fun and becoming better acquainted with fellow chamber members.

Warner also gave the board an update on the April 10 chamber of commerce banquet set for 7:30 in the Scurry County Coliseum. Gov. Bill Clements will be guest speaker.

Jerry Vestal is chairman of the 1980 banquet, and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Dulaney will host a reception for the governor prior to the banquet.

Joe Flack gave a report on 1980 suggested program of work. The program of work committee has mailed out questionnaires to chamber members seeking interest in areas of work. As of Tuesday, only 45 had been returned.

Result of those survey returns will be used by Chamber President Charlie Henderson in making committee appointments early next month.

The board also approved two other membership opinion surveys. One will deal with freight service in Snyder, and the second will deal with desired recreational activities for young people.

Warner said the chamber would like to work in conjunction with the public schools in surveying the desires of the community's young people.

The board rejected a proposal to sponsor an "Up With People" performance here. The group's last appearance failed to attract a large crowd and the board felt that the $7,500 guarantee was too large.

Warner said that the chamber had sponsored six basketball playoffs in the past eight days, and that the chamber also assisted in the winter meeting of area Soil and Water Conservation Districts held at Western Texas College.

The board also discussed ways of improving the chamber's relationship with other communities in Scurry County.

Richardson Contacted By Tulsa U.

Western Texas College athletic director and basketball coach Nolan Richardson confirmed this morning that Tulsa University has contacted him for an interview.

"They are definitely interested in talking to me," said Richardson who has taken WTC's Westerners to a 29-0 record and the top ranking in the NJCAA.

"I want to stress that they have not offered me a position. They are only wanting to talk to me. I've heard they are talking to several others.

"Right now I have a few other things on my mind. Thursday's ballgame (with South Plains), the regional playoffs and hopefully the national tournament are the things that are most important to me right now," he explained.

"We'll talk, and I'll have to decide what is best for me if they do offer, but right now I really want to concentrate on this team. (WTC's Westerners)."

The SDN Column

The Texas Tourist Development Agency reports that 76 whooping cranes made the trip to Port Aransas on the Texas Gulf Coast from Canada last fall. This is 10 more than the count three years ago.

Ten birds may not sound like a big flock, but in the whooping crane kingdom, it means a lot. This huge, picturesque bird has been on the verge of extinction for half a century with the known population once declining to the 20s.

Today, after years of conservation and reclamation work, there are around 120 known whoopers world-wide. The biggest group is that which migrates annually between Canada and the Port Aransas refuge. There are others in their wild state among sandhill cranes which shuttle between Alberta, Canada, and New Mexico, and still others that reside in zoos.

The sandhill-whooper situation is an integration project introduced by man. They take a few whooper eggs each year and place them in the nests of sandhill cranes. Eighteen of these hatched last year. Eleven died and one was lost in migration, leaving six survivors from last year's crop.

The whooping crane has attracted a lot of attention over the years and many people not necessarily active in wildlife preservation projects have become whooping crane fans.

Unfortunately the whooping crane does not have the recuperative powers of the alligator. This lowly reptile of the southland was "endangered" a few years ago, but now has been replenished to the point that alligator hunting seasons have been re-instated and it is no longer a no-no to be seen wearing alligator shoes or carrying an alligator purse.

Some species of wildlife are victims of the disappearance of their habitat, or their sources of food. The ivory-billed woodpecker is believed by many to be extinct, although there have been reports of sightings in East Texas in recent years—around Longview and in the Big Thicket area.

Rayburn Burgess noted the other day that he had read that a search was being made for the black-footed ferret, which hasn't been seen for several years. One of this animal's big problems is that his diet is limited to prairie dogs. There are not enough prairie dogs on the loose to feed a ferret these days.

Man takes the blame for causing some things to become extinct, but he may not be guilty in all cases. A scientist recently reminded that everything on earth has been moving toward extinction since the beginning and archaeologists have found evidence of both animal and plant life that faded from the scene long before man ever built a dam or a power plant.

was that the first person he encountered upon entering the college administration building here was a young man highly enthusiastic about his presidential campaign.

The bad news was that the Daniel Webster College student, Eric Simm, immediately blurted out the awful truth about Anderson's candidacy: "Anyone who tries to sell intelligence to the American people is doomed to failure."

Waging a low-key, low-budget campaign benefit of all the hoopla traditionally attendant to such efforts, Anderson nevertheless has gained wide acclaim for his courage and compassion, wit and wisdom, intelligence and integrity.

He has earned the unofficial title of "the thinking man's candidate" in the 1980 presidential race. Even a competitor in the contest for the Republican nomination, Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kans., flatly proclaims: "Anderson is the brightest man running for president."

James P. Gannon, executive editor of the Des Moines Register and Tribune, the newspapers that sponsored last month's televised debate among the GOP contenders, describes Anderson as "a silver-haired orator with a golden tongue, a 17-jewel mind and a brass backbone."

"Sally Quinn, the Washington Post writer famed for her etched-in-acid prose portraits of public figures, was lyrical about Anderson in a recent profile.

"He's right there looking you in the eye, talking straight, telling you what he believes whether you like it or not. He is opinionated without being judgmental, open-minded without being vacillating, unglamorous yet not boring. He seems like a good, decent, honest, intelligent, dedicated man."

Yet the pundits, pollsters and prognosticators have hung a "can't win" albatross around Anderson's neck, insisting that he is too progressive for the Republican party, too serious for the American voters and too honest for his own good.

But Anderson is pursuing a highly unorthodox strategy — purposely distinguishing his positions on major issues from those embraced by all other Republican contenders — that could produce unexpected results.

At the political debate in Des Moines, that approach earned him instant nationwide recognition and 4.3 percent of the votes in Iowa's subsequent GOP precinct caucuses, a barely respectable showing for a candidate who didn't campaign in the Hawkeye State.

His most recent radio commercials stress "the Anderson differences" and a newly printed campaign leaflet features a chart that graphically illustrates Anderson's differences with the other Republican contenders on issues ranging from federally funded abortions to the Panama Canal treaties.

Although a fiscal conservative, Anderson is well aware that he is more liberal than many Republicans on national defense and domestic social issues — but he's using those positions to attract independent and even Democratic support.

After New Hampshire, Anderson hopes to do well in Massachusetts, a state whose Republican party is widely regarded as the most progressive in the nation, then maximize his home state advantage in the Illinois primary. Anderson candidly acknowledges that in those states, "I am trying to use the primaries to get independents and Democrats to change their registration" so they can vote for him.

After Illinois, he has high expectations for Wisconsin, the last state in the nation still conducting an "open primary" that allows cross-over voting without regard to party affiliation.

Even if Anderson succeeds beyond his expectations in those primaries, there is one last major obstacle — a Republican National Convention dominated in recent decades by conservatives. "I literally have to overpower a certain obtuseness within the Republican party about how to win elections," he admits.

"I could hopefully pull off one of the all-time political upsets," Anderson adds. It's not very likely to happen, but far more surprising — and far less salutary — events have occurred in recent political history.

Partners are likely to play very prominent roles in your affairs this coming year. You may form several beneficial alliances in order to accomplish different goals.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Don't let anyone push you into making hasty decisions today. It could be against your best interests.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you permit outside diversions to gain the upper hand, the day will not be as productive as it should be. Focus on practical endeavors.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) In the morning hours your mate may be a trifle difficult to get along with. However, he or she can be quickly placated if you make light of the issues.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Do not attempt tasks today until you are prepared to give the your undivided attention. Lack of concentration could cause errors.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Should you decide to go on a shopping spree today, be wary of making impulsive buys. Choose your items only after making comparisons.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Don't be discouraged today if you're subjected to a few false starts. Once you get in gear, you'll be able to correct earlier mistakes.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Jumping to conclusions could cause you unnecessary problems today. Reserve your judgment till you have full command of all the facts.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Conditions are rather unusual for you today in that you should be able to turn an unprofitable situation into something gainful. Use your smarts.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Don't be afraid to go to friends today for help with something you cannot do on your own. Their luck will rub off on you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Major achievements are possible today, but they may not be accomplished with your initial effort. The harder you try, the luckier you get.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be prepared to make adjustments in your plans if things aren't working out as you hoped they would. A few proper changes could put you on the path to success.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You're luckiest today in situations where you manage something for another and you're also cut in for a piece of the action. All will come out ahead.

underground exchange

It is interesting to observe the fast-paced twilight or underground system of exchange that is rapidly rising to a universal acceptance in America.

It may be anti-establishment, so far as the federal government is concerned, or any other lesser government, for that matter, but, then, government has created the climate for its thriving.

We are referring to the barter system in which little or no "money" is used. There is a vast amount of trading going on, the exchanging of goods for goods. One sees a growing disdain in America for the legal tender of the nation in this era of government-created super inflation. One sees the withdrawals from savings accounts by masses of people who are putting their cheap dollars that draw cheap dollars in interest into tangibles, very often metallic, that appreciate faster in value than savings. And then they barter the tangibles among themselves.

One observes retailers who offer goods for dimes and quarters and half-dollars and dollars, and silver coinage that the government abandoned in 1965, and a consumer may obtain an item worth a "dollar" or more in today's cheap money for a dime in the pre-1965 coinage.

Despite the broad fluctuations in the prices of gold and silver, one sees many still investing savings in those precious metals, and even using the metals as a medium of exchange rather than the junky "cash of the realm."

This is a political year — and one cannot expect the depressing inflation to disappear, for the "in" seeking re-election may see it as their roller-coaster back into office, and there likely will be no more than token effort to stay it.

In the underground exchange of goods, all regulations and rules heaped on trade by government may be ignored. This is the action of a large number, that is growing, of citizens who have lost faith in the government that taxes heavily, and regulates severely.

The situation cries loudly for a solution, but what is it? The solution lies with the government's sharp turning to conservatism, its ending immediately the reckless, wasteful spending that calls for the printing of more and more cheap dollars, and the dissolution of the federal bureaucracy that now is even bigger than its mother government and is the tail wagging the dog.

It is now a time for a sober study of what is happening. Is the turn to a separate private system of exchange in America a symptom of the debilitating socio-economic disease that will prove fatal to the Republic if the cure is not applied immediately? Will those in government never awaken to the knowledge that what is going on is a citizenry grasping for the economic security of free trade, unhampered by a manipulating government that thrives on inflation?

Fashions come and fashions go, but there is one type of clothing that goes back in history but remains at the top of the list of priorities in clothing today and knows no season-jeans.

What other garment can give more wear for its worth than jeans? Plain ones, brightly-stitched ones, and some bleached to an unnamed color.

When the knees are worn headbare, just a common pair of scissors can evamp the garment into a new one—a pair of cut-offs or shorts, for summer. Other worn areas are topped with patches from any thing Not another garment, unless a favorite old T-shirt can lay claim to being worn or enjoyed being worn until threadbare.

History recognized jeans as a work garment, mainly those donning jeans indicated they were associated with horses in some way. Not so for some time now. Walk down any street, go through any neighborhood, walk into any restaurant, and jeans hit you right between the eyes. Everybody's wearing jeans in some form.

Some boys and girls wear the looser variety; others seem to be poured into the pants. Girls wear denim bikinis and skirts, swing denim purses and wear denim clogs.

Underwear, although cotton or silk, comes designed like a pair of jeans. Soap, deodorant, after shave and even soft drinks are packaged in denim-designed containers.

The parents of infant sons and daughters, can't wait until baby is big enough for his first pair of real-jeans, now available in size 0.

The jeans could be made part of an official school uniform for the American student from kindergarten on. They are accepted in many businesses as wearing apparel for employees. The white-collar workers make a quick change from their three-piece suits to jeans at the end of the work day.

I'm assuming the Americans were among the first to wear jeans since it was not until the 1950's that jeans were produced in Sweden, for instance. This came about because of their connection with the United States. There was a time when the Swedes would pay $50 for a pair of American jeans.

That country now has exhibits in museums displaying new, old and faded, refurbished and decorated jeans. They show jeans which belonged to kings and royalty which is no surprise to us since they are part of our own White House wardrobe.

There is one pair of size 2 or 3 boy's jeans that remain at the top of the list of priorities in my box of family memories. They plainly show patches on top of patches and unre-movable stains on top of stains that depict many hours of how my time was spent during that year. They are definitely museum material; if only I could part with them.

I was shuffling through my fourth-class mail the other day when I came upon a letter making a pitch for one of the new magazines geared toward the "woman who works." (Do they come in any other flavors?)

The magazine promised me such provocative articles as, "How to Keep Sex Out of the Office and in the Mail Room where it Belongs," "What to Do When the Cost of Living Exceeds Your Deductions," "How to Handle a House-Husband, Who Dates," "Writing a Long Resume from a Short Life," "How Does a Pigeon Know You're Dressed for Success?"

Then, in bright red letters, was a sentence that took every bit of credibility away from the magazine. It read, "We'd like to send you your first copy, to examine at your leisure."

Do you know that out of 35 women I personally interviewed who worked outside the home, not one of them knew what the word leisure meant?

Twenty of them thought it was a man's suit.

slipping productivity

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans have known for at least 15 years that they have been slipping behind other countries in the rate at which they improve their production efficiency.

They have known, but maybe haven't cared, though the steady decline has coincided with inflation.

The relationship still may not be comprehended, even after Congress' Joint Economic Committee last year released to a people accustomed to higher living standards a conclusion designed to startle.

Said the committee: "The average American is likely to see his standard of living drastically decline in the 1980s unless the United States accelerates its rate of productivity growth."

For many Americans the process has begun; hourly workers in 1979 earned about 6 percent or 7 percent more than in 1978 in terms of dollars, but with inflation of 13.4 percent their takehome pay was less.

Still, says C. Jackson Grayson Jr., chairman and founder of the American Productivity Center, whose mission is to raise the efficiency of American output, millions might still not comprehend the message. Can people understand, he was asked? "If they're afraid enough," he replied.

But, said Grayson, who was President Nixon's price commissioner, an experience that convinced him that controls don't work, too seldom is the connection made between inflation and low productivity.

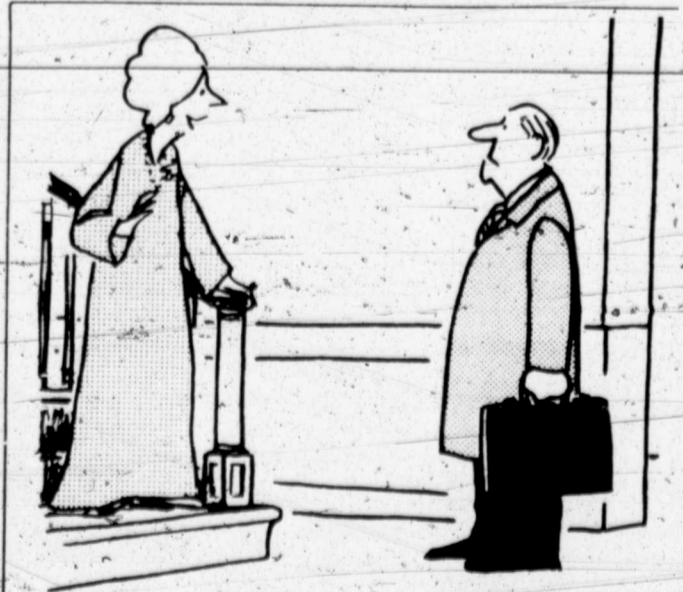

The relationship is direct. If it costs less to turn out a product then all — shareholders, employees and purchasers, benefit — without depriving the other of their share.

Government intervention in the marketplace, some of it necessary, is one cause for the lag of growth in productivity, Grayson says. Tax disincentives to investments are another, he believes.

Grayson would like to see annual reports include a productivity measurement along with the money measures. High productivity, he feels, would show that management was looking to the future, building the company's strength rather than squeezing out quick dollars.

He is distressed at how little business knows about productivity. "I keep telling business people they don't know as much about it as they think they do," he says. Individual companies, mainly small and medium size, can call the Houston center and receive answers to their questions, and even have individual surveys made and their future performance monitored.

We have no idea as to the identity of the old-time card player who first said, "Bad cards make bad players," but he certainly hit the nail on the head.

Bad cards dull the senses and cause their holders to act carelessly on the theory that when lady luck smiled on the world she frowned on him.

East took his ace of spades and led the suit right back. He had taken a trick with his one high card and was through for the hand.

An East player who was even slightly alert would have taken the trouble to think. He would have seen one slight possibility of taking a trick with his remaining garbage and would have led back a club. West would take his ace and lead the suit back. Later on, when West would get in with the king of hearts, East would get to ruff a club and

The Boy Scouts' symbol, the fleur-de-lis, is based on the design of an ornate pointer on a compass.

The fleur-de-lis in history stood for France, but the Boy Scout version has an American eagle superimposed in the design.

Business Rival Blamed In Slayings

HELLO THERE!—Cpl. Clive Winton (Mark White) and Penelope Toop (Toni Disko) have a joyous reunion in this scene from "See How They Run." WTC's dinner theatre production which opens Thursday. Winton, an American actor serving in the Air Force, has been assigned to England and there visits Penelope, an old friend. Penelope is now married to the Rev. Lionel Toop and lives in the vicarage which provides the setting for the comedy.

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—"I don't know if we'll ever know who. But I have to know the why," Lloyd Cotsen, a businessman haunted by the slayings of his wife and son, said last year.

On Tuesday, police announced the answers to the questions that had forced the soap tycoon to hire bodyguards—the 1979 slayings were committed by a Belgian business rival who committed suicide as authorities closed in on him.

The announcement came four months after the apparent suicide of Erich Arnold Tali. Police had said they would make no statement until they were satisfied with their case, which began May 23 when a gunman invaded the Beverly Hills home of the president of Neutrogena Corp., who was on a business trip to New York at the time.

The masked man tied up Joanne Cotsen, 49, her son, Noah, 14, and houseguest Christopher Doering, 16, then shot all three in the head.

A man who was renting a cottage on the estate walked into the house with his girlfriend. The two were taken hostage, but escaped after the gunman tried to rape the woman. They later dropped from sight.

Police Chief Lee Tracy said Tali, 46, apparently killed himself in Brussels on Oct. 15, just hours before he was to be interviewed by Beverly Hills police.

Tracy said business rivalry was the motive. Evidence showed the killer waited in the home for five hours and that Cotsen was the intended victim, Tracy said.

According to Tracy, Cotsen visited Laboratories Fromont S.A. in Brussels more than 20 years ago and paid for the rights to the soap product that became Neutrogena.

When the founder of the company died, he left it to his mistress. She married Tali, who apparently felt Cotsen was stealing the world rights to sell the soap, Tracy said.

Tali had lost three lawsuits he brought in Europe against Cotsen over rights to the Neutrogena trademark, and others were pending.

"This had caused Tali much financial hardship, and he had developed a deep hate for Cotsen," Tracy said.

A chloroform bottle found at the scene of the killings was found to be a brand manufactured exclusively in Belgium, Tracy said.

In addition, "scientists say they are 98-99 percent certain that the hair samples found in the ski mask and sweater in the van left by the murderer near the Cotsen home belong to Tali," said Tracy.

A police officer who saw a man walking near the home later identified Tali from photographs, and credit card receipts showed Tali flew from New York City to Brussels the day after the killings.

The couple that walked in on the killer had thought the gunman spoke with a Middle Eastern accent. Cotsen is Jewish and his wife had been serving on a jury trying an Iranian student on assault charges.

In 1846, anesthetics were first used in surgery in Europe.

English Village Play's Setting

The pleasantly furnished hall in the Vicarage at Merton-cum-Middlewick, a small village in England, provides the setting for the Western Texas College dinner theatre production of "See How They Run."

The show opens Thursday night and continues Friday and Saturday nights, then repeats March 6-8.

The time in "See How They Run" is the middle 1940s, and the cast of characters includes an American actor stationed with the Air Force in England. It may take some theatregoers back to their own experiences as servicemen and women in England, but the action probably won't because it involves a zany mix-up of identities that rarely occurs.

Included in the cast are five drama scholarship students—Donna Browning of Snyder, Rob Clark of Mineral Wells, Toni Disko of Keller, Mark White of Midland, and Darrell Hayes of Caldwell.

Bill Martin, who was a student in WTC's first drama department, will be returning to join the cast, along with Seth Cox, a freshman from El Paso, John Hopkins, a sophomore from Snyder, and Doni Douglas, a freshman from Colorado City.

Dinner will be served starting at 7 o'clock nightly in the WTC Student Center cafeteria. Curtain time is 8 o'clock in the Fine Arts Theatre. Tickets may be reserved by calling the Fine Arts Division office at 573-8511, extension 234, and must be paid for in advance. All the transactions can be handled by mail so theatre patrons will not have to pick up tickets in person.

Two Vehicles Are In Mishap

A minor two-vehicle traffic accident was investigated Monday by city police.

The accident occurred in the 2200 block of College Ave. at 10:17 a.m. and involved a 1972 Ford driven by Rollen Higdon of Ira and a 1978 Buick driven by Helen Jo Roberts.

The accident was worked by officer Don Cheek.

Sentence Levied

A two-year term of probation was levied against Tom Jerry Luera as he pleaded guilty in district court.

Luera, 405 34th St., pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He had been arrested Feb. 1.

In 1966, the United Nations approved a treaty banning weapons in space.

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Wants diabetic menu

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Recently I had a glucose tolerance test taken. My father was a diabetic. When my eyes were examined for glasses, the doctor advised for a test. I had had the first test about four years ago and this one showed that my sugar was a little higher. The doctor told me that I was a potential diabetic and just advised me to watch my weight. I am a little overweight and I do eat the wrong foods for a potential diabetic but he only told me to cut down on fats and carbohydrates. Could you please give me a menu for possible diabetes instead of just recommending so many grams of this or so many grams of that as most diabetic literature does?

DEAR READER — Evidently, your doctor feels on the basis of your test that what you really need to do is simply reduce your weight. Many people who have moderate elevations of their blood sugar levels on such tests will have perfectly normal tests after they have eliminated excess pounds of fat.

The reason he didn't give you a more specific diet is that the source of the extra calories most of us get is fat and sweets. There are a lot of good carbohydrates that aren't particularly fattening and you do need a certain amount of those in your diet. That's where the fresh fruits and vegetables come in as well as cereals. But the concentrated carbohydrates such as the sugars and sweets are the foods that are loaded with calories.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 4-7, Weight Losing Diet. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. You can use this diet to help you lose weight and it's perfectly satisfactory for your needs. If you lose too much weight too rapidly with it, you can add a limited number of foods to round out the diet.

There isn't really a specific diabetic diet. Each diet has to be tailor-made to that patient's needs. If the diabetes is severe enough to require insulin, then the diet has to be fairly rigid in relationship to the insulin each day. For the person who has moderately elevated blood sugar levels and is otherwise all right, the emphasis should be on eliminating excess fat and probably on eliminating sweets.

It wouldn't hurt you, to include some exercise in your program as well. Exercise, incidentally, uses calories and lowers blood sugar. That's why severe diabetics who take insulin should have about the same amount of exercise every day as well as a standard diet. The consistency of diet, exercise and insulin — all three — is what keeps a person properly regulated.

For people like yourself who do not take insulin or medicines that affect blood glucose, you don't have to be that scheduled. You can go ahead and develop a daily exercise program with your diet. Both will help you lose weight and improve your health.

Gem, Mineral Show Set At Big Spring

BIG SPRING — The Big Spring Prospectors Club will hold its 11th annual gem and mineral show Saturday and Sunday in the Dora Roberts Exhibit Building on the Howard County Fair Grounds.

Special features will include an exhibit of a "moon rock" from Apollo XVII and a seminar by Terry Gilbreth, curator of the Diamond M Museum in Snyder. Gilbreth will bring a slide presentation on the lost wax method of bronze casting. There also will be 14 other working demonstrations and a geologist will be on hand to identify gems and minerals free of charge. Nine dealers will exhibit and sell.

Admission fee will be $2 per person for adults and $1 for children 6-12. However, there will be no admission charge to merely see the moon rock. Hours will be from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday.

No Unity On Reunions
By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have no sympathy for the wife who went to her husband's 10th high school reunion, didn't know a soul, and was hurt and miserable because she was ignored. When I wanted to attend my 20th high school reunion, I invited my wife to come along to show my old pals how well I had married. She thanked me for the compliment, but insisted that I go alone so I could reminisce freely without having to spend part of my time looking after her.

AMSTERDAM ALUMNI

DEAR ALUMNI: Read on for a letter from a wife who went, but should have stayed home:

DEAR ABBY: This past summer I attended my husband's high school reunion. He made a gallant effort at introducing me around. I got smart and told him not to worry about me, but to enjoy himself with his chums. After all it was his reunion.

It sure didn't kill me to be less than amused for one night. I'm secure enough to know that I'm no "dog," and adult enough not to get choked up over one night in 10 years.

MICHELLE IN LA PUENTE

DEAR MICHELLE: And here's a letter from a wife who stayed home and wished she had gone:

DEAR ABBY: My husband asked me if I wanted to go back to his hometown for his 25th high school reunion. I didn't know anybody back there, so I told him to go without me. What a dummy I was!

He went alone and met his old high school sweetheart—a blonde with a shell—recently divorced.

Well, she picked up where they had left off, rekindled the old flame, and who's without a husband now? That's right. Sign me.

DUMMY IN MUSCATINE, IA

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I are in total disagreement about my father-in-law's upcoming third marriage. My wife is on the outs with her father, and she doesn't like the woman he is marrying. She has refused to attend the wedding and wants me to stay home, too.

I have no ill feeling against my father-in-law. As a matter of a fact, I am rather fond of him.

I want to attend the wedding. My wife says I shouldn't. What do you say?

M.J. ARGUMENT

DEAR M.J.: Your wife can stay home if she wants to, but she has no right to tell you what to do.

DEAR ABBY: ILLINOIS FARMER wrote to say that pigs do not overeat; they eat only enough to satisfy their hunger. And you bought it, saying that more people should eat like pigs!

Sorry, Abby, but that farmer is misinformed. I grew up on a farm in Oklahoma, and we fattened four or five hogs every year to butcher. We used hog lard to fatten our hogs, and we got them so fat they could hardly get their hind quarters off the ground; some could hardly rise to their feet. We could hear their heavy breathing for several yards before we got to the hog pens.

Hogs will literally eat themselves to death if given the opportunity. They will eat almost anything, and in almost unlimited quantity.

Cotton Inc. Facing New Charges

By JAMES RUBIN Associated Press Writer
 WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressional subcommittee has raised questions of possible obstruction of justice by a federally supported organization created in 1966 to help the cotton industry.
 The new charges arose before a House Agriculture subcommittee looking into alleged favoritism, expense account junkets and mismanagement by the quasi-public company, Cotton Inc. They stem from charges originally made last August by the Agriculture Department's inspector general's office.
 Officials of Cotton Inc. testified Tuesday that past mistakes were exaggerated by the inspector general and sensationalized in the media. J. Dukes Wooters, president of Cotton Inc., denied charges by the inspector general that favorable treatment was accorded certain cotton producers seeking to expand their export trade. The major beneficiary of the alleged favoritism was said to be J.B. Boswell Co. of Los Angeles.

 "There's no conflict of interest here," Wooters said. "We try to move cotton."
 He said the policy of Cotton Inc. has been to promote exports by "serving as a conduit," Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., a leading critic of Cotton Inc., raised the possibility of obstruction of justice by Cotton Inc. officials. Findley said he was concerned that the company tried to conceal information about alleged favoritism from the Agriculture Department's inspector general.

 "We should ask the Justice Department to see if it's obstruction of justice," Findley said.
 He based his position on testimony by Richard Abes, vice president of operations for Cotton Inc., that officials ordered a review of company files to determine if any information was "privileged on the basis of the attorney-client relationship."
 Findley said the testimony made it appear that the company might have tried to conceal information from the inspector general.
 Cotton Inc. also was accused by a Washington research organization, Schnitker Associates, of failing to slow the decline of cotton in U.S. markets.
 Cotton Inc., with headquarters in New York City and Raleigh, N.C., has spent millions of dollars to accomplish minimal improvement in the industry, said John Schnitker, head of the consulting firm.
 Cotton Inc. gets $3 million a year from the Agriculture Department and has collected over $150 million from cotton producers who are assessed a fixed amount per bale of cotton. The farmers can get a refund on the money if they ask for it.

Caffeine Feared To Be Hazardous

WASHINGTON (AP)—Caffeine is the latest substance scientists say may cause damage to the human body.
 Caffeine, the stimulant in coffee, tea, chocolate and some soft drinks, caused birth defects in rats, the Food and Drug Administration said Tuesday.
 There's no immediate cause for alarm, the FDA said, but the agency has already begun considering its options if the preliminary results are borne out by the final report, expected in about two months.
 The options include warning labels and a consumer education program aimed at pregnant women.
 The amount of caffeine given the rats was more than a human would normally consume, but an FDA spokesman said the gap between the two amounts was "not a comfortable difference."
 Earlier studies had linked caffeine to birth defects and the FDA has been asked to restrict its use. Several consumer groups have asked that label warnings be required on products where caffeine is a natural ingredient.
 Last June, a panel of experts commissioned by the FDA recommended that caffeine be removed from the list of substances generally regarded as safe.
 The group's concern was based on the possible link between caffeine and birth defects and the possibility caffeine may impair the development of children's nervous systems.

Sears Named In TV Dumping Case

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sears, Roebuck and Co. faces federal grand jury charges of conspiracy and of making false statements to U.S. Customs officials in an alleged nine-year scheme to conceal $1.1 million in rebates from a Japanese television set manufacturer.
 The indictment against the nation's largest retailer was issued Tuesday by a federal grand jury sitting in Los Angeles. It was the first of a series of indictments expected out of grand juries in Los Angeles and elsewhere that have been conducting a year-long probe of so-called "dumping" of Japanese television sets on U.S. markets.
 Such actions may have resulted in millions of dollars in unpaid customs duties by American retailers.
 Dumping is the sale of foreign-made items in the U.S. at prices below those in the producing country. While the practice is not illegal, U.S. Customs requires that the importing retailer pay duties on the difference between the domestic and overseas retail price.
 Such laws are designed to protect U.S. manufacturers and laborers from what is seen as unfair competition from cheap foreign imports.
 The indictment charges Sears with understating on Customs forms the retail price in Japan of the television sets and of paying kickbacks to Japanese manufacturers.
 Thus, the indictment alleges, Sears avoided paying Customs duties by making false declarations that did not disclose "kickbacks, rebates and credits privately arranged between Sears and others."

Grammy Awards Ceremony Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Disco has its own category and so does rock 'n' roll, again, as some of the biggest stars in the music industry meet for the 22nd Annual Grammy Awards ceremonies tonight.

Country singer Kenny Rogers is host of the two-hour CBS telecast that will include appearances by George Burns, Natalie Cole, Bob Dylan, Deborah Harry of Blondie, Isaac Hayes, Kris Kristofferson, Barbara Mandrell, Chuck Mangione and Sarah Vaughn.

Awards will be made in a record 58 categories, but only 14 winners will be named on the air. The rest will be announced just before the telecast.

In keeping with what has become a virtual Grammy tradition, there were six new categories added this year - one in disco, one in jazz-fusion and four in rock.

The rock categories are more like reincarnations than innovations. In 1961, the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences first acknowledged the rock explosion by introducing a best rock recording award.

Four years later, there were four rock categories, called contemporary, R&R categories. Soon the "R&R" designation was dropped and by 1971 the term pop was substituted for contemporary. Until last year, the pop category encompassed pop, rock and folk.

Rock was segregated again this year "because of its increased prominence and the New Wave and all," said NARAS spokeswoman Chris Farnon.

Artists can be nominated in more than one category; Donna Summer, for example, is up for best female performance in the rock, pop and rhythm and blues sections.

But the same song cannot be nominated in more than one category. Miss Farnon said special screening committees composed of experts from NARAS, trade magazines and radio stations decide what category a song falls into during the nominating phase.

Award winners are determined by balloting among some 4,500 NARAS members nationwide. All vote in the four general categories; best new artist, record and album of the year - which honor artists and producers - and song of the year, a songwriter's award.

Besides Miss Summer, top nominees this year include the Doobie Brothers, up for album of the year, record of the year and best pop vocal performance by a group. Doobie Brother Michael McDonald, also is nominated for two songs, he co-authored "Minute By Minute" and "What a Fool Believes" and an arranging award.

Oksana Kasenkina, a Russian teacher, jumped from the Soviet consulate in New York City in 1948 to avoid deportation to her homeland.

THE COST OF resisting Soviet aggression is lower now than it could be later, warns Henry Kissinger, who once helped establish detente between Washington and Moscow. "In 1936, it would have been easy for the democracies to resist Hitler physically, but psychologically it was not," says the former secretary of state. "Five years later... they paid for their psychological uncertainty with 20 million lives."

Special Phone Number For Hermleigh Fires

HERMLEIGH -- The number for residents to call to report a fire in Hermleigh is 863-2722, reports the fire chief here, Lee Hopper.

Five phones ring when Food Freezer Fire Doused

A fire in a food freezer at 2405 30th St. was doused last night by city firefighters.

The fire was reported at 8:15 p.m., and it occurred at the Bill Cisneros residence.

King George VI, who guided his country and the British Commonwealth through World War II, died in his sleep at the royal residence in Sandringham in 1952.

that number is dialed, he said, insuring quick service. For major fires the Snyder Fire Department will also be dispatched. That number is 573-3546.

Hopper said he and the entire Hermleigh volunteer fire department wished to thank everyone who contributes money which made the fire truck and now the phone lines possible.

Thanks also goes to the Hermleigh Community Association for picking up the tab for the initial installation of the phones, he said.

The phones are located in the homes of Hopper, Tom Henry, Vance Cliff, Foster Watson and in Boyce Jones Grocery Store.

Weatherford Holds Little Challenge

Tigers Hop Past 'Roos; Play Borger Friday

ABILENE—If a an Abilenian walked into Moody Coliseum at 9:40 last night he didn't have to ask who won the class

AAA bi-district basketball playoff held there. All he had to do was watch Snyder Coach George Beyerly cut the final cord from under the hoop and waye the net into the air to the delight of the 400-plus Tiger fans.

Snyder's Tigers, ranked No. 2 in the state, flashed by Weatherford 86-34 to sew up a berth to the regional playoffs.

Snyder, which extended its record to 26-4 on the season, will play Borger, a 73-70 winner over Andrews last night, in regional competition Friday at 8 p.m. in Plainview. Tickets will be $3 adults and $2 students.

The 32-point margin of victory would indicate the Tigers had no trouble from the 43A champion Kangaroos, and that is the way it was. Snyder hopped out in front 8-2 early in the game and extended it to 26-10 by the end of the first quarter. Nearly every Tiger Coach Beyerly put on the floor found the laces. While the Cats weren't scoring at their end of the court, they were pulling down rebounds from the Weatherford board.

The Kangaroos meanwhile, appeared tight in the first quarter. Known for their good outside shooting ability, the 'Roos simply couldn't find the bucket. Most of the time they were given little opportunity by the Tigers, who played as well defensively as offensively.

In the second period, the margin wavered between 16 and 20 points most of the way. Barry Blackmon led the second-quarter charge for the Tigers, but got plenty of help. Weatherford, which came to life for 20 points, scored 12 of those from the charity-stripe.

Despite a 51-30 halftime lead it was hard to ignore the threat of a Weatherford bombing attack which everyone had expected. But though the 'Roos came out in the third quarter and chisled the lead to 17, it wasn't long before Snyder kicked into overdrive and knocked the opponent out of the air altogether.

At 55-38, Brad Richardson and Eric Arnold hit back-to-back buckets for a 59-38 lead. It advanced to 61-42 moments later, and stayed that way until late in the quarter when Greg Willis hit a long shot from the corner to end the period.

Snyder then sank the first six points of the final quarter to give itself a 69-44 lead, and at that point Beyerly began pulling his "starters" one at a time.

The Tigers continued to dominate though, and with 3:29 left Dayton Robertson connected on a three-point play to make it 80-48.

Arnold's 20 points was high for the Tigers. Richardson, who led on the boards with 11 rebounds, scored 16 points while Mark Preston added 15. Floor leader Kyle Short picked up 12 points and had nine assists. Thomas Selmon garnered eight points and Blackmon got six. In all, 10 Tiger players put points on the board.

Defensively, the Tigers all but covered up the less agile Kangaroos. Switching defenses frequently, especially from man to zone, seemed to keep the opponents off balance all night.

Greg Willis' 14 points paced the 'Roos. Wade Matthews got 13 points and Doug Jefferson and Paul Wikstrom scored 10 apiece.

Murphy Keys Houston, Pacers Cannot Keep Up

HOUSTON (AP)—Guard Calvin Murphy didn't look a bit tired after scoring his 15,000th National Basketball Association point.

In fact, he didn't even know he had scored it. "That's a lot of points," Murphy said, following Houston's 93-88 win over the Indiana Pacers Tuesday night in NBA play.

"I didn't even realize I was close... that it had happened until the announcer told the crowd over the PA system."

And, while Houston could have used several more of Murphy's points to give the Rockets a little breathing room, coach Del Harris wasn't that displeased.

"We played a good team defense," Harris said. "That's twice in recent games that we have held the opponents to under 90 points."

Not only did Houston hold the Pacers to less than 90 points, they allowed Indiana only 37 points in the second half, 19 of those in the crucial fourth quarter.

Twice Houston moved out to 10-point leads in the fourth period, and twice the Pacers pulled back.

Moses Malone, who led all scorers with 24 points, hit a basket but missed the ensuing foul shot with 11:05 remaining.

But rookie guard Allen Leavell, who canned 14 points, tipped in Malone's errant free throw to give Houston a 79-69 edge.

Spurred by Clemon Johnson's six straight points, the Pacers closed the gap to four, 81-77, with 8:34 left, but Houston moved out again after two Major Jones field goals and a Billy Paultz bucket.

The Rockets' sticky defense forced Indiana to commit eight turnovers in the fourth quarter.

Both teams stalled offensively in the last seven minutes of the game, with Indiana never able to get closer than five points.

The Pacers had led 51-50 at halftime, but Paultz put Houston ahead to stay when he hit the first basket of the second half.

Leavell said his club executed well "for the most part. We got a little sloppy at times, but we did what we were supposed to do most of the time."

Indiana coach Bob Leonard said "we really shot it badly tonight, but they (Houston) really worked hard on defense."

"Allen Leavell was a big key in the game," Leonard said. "You can't let him go up the middle. He will kill you. He is a tough kid."

Murphy and Rudy Tomjaovich totaled 16 points each for Houston.

BASKETS BI-DISTRICT—Snyder High School wrapped up a bi-district basketball crown last night, sacking Weatherford 86-34 in Abilene. ## WTC Tackles SPC Thursday

The Dusters are looking for their 26th win of the season against the losses. Both teams have cinched playoff spots in the respective Region V tournaments. Coach Nolan Richardson's Westerners will get the top seed in the men's tournament, held March 3-6 in Midland.

The Westerners will begin tournament play March 4 at 7 p.m. against the winner of a WJCAC No. 5 or a NJCAC No. 4 team. Schools to fill those spots have yet to be determined.

The Dusters, who have sacked a No. 3 seed, will reportedly play the No. 2 team from the northern conference on Thursday evening of next week. The women's tournament runs March 5-8 in Big Spring.

"But we're not looking ahead at all," said Coach Richardson of the tournament. "We've got South Plains here Thursday, and that is who we'll concentrate on."

Duster Coach Joe Cushing agrees. "We're ready for South Plains. We hope we can get a good crowd out to cheer us on and help us build momentum for the regional tournament. We're playing well right now. We're getting after it."

Tickets for the double header, are $2 adults and $1 students. The women's game will begin at 6, followed by the men's game at 8.

Seminole Outlasts Hopeful Ballinger

Jay Starkey hit for 17 points and Leonard Sheets and Mike Grass added 16 apiece as Seminole raced from behind to knock off Ballinger 65-52 in class AA bi-district playoffs last night.

Ballinger, led by Marty Akins 30 points, went in front 10-2 early in the game, but Seminole fought back to take an 18-14 lead at the buzzer.

The Indians then won the second period 21-19 and sacked up the win by out-pointing the Bearcats 16-6 in the third period.

Akins, who had 18 first-half points, went to ice in the third stanza. He hit for 12 in the final period, but the spree fell short.

Kenneth Manley added 14 for Ballinger and Greg Hubbard had 6. Ballinger concludes the season with a 23-8 record.

Seminole will advance to regional playoffs, later in the week.

Bulldogs Fall in Bi-District Ira Covered By Sands

LAMESA-Sands High School fell behind by a dozen points early in a class B playoff game here last night, but Mustangs galloped out of the problem and out-ran Ira's Bulldogs to the end, 68-47.

"They had been there before," said Ira Coach Gary Fox. "We had them down, but it didn't seem to bother them. When they had us down later, it hurt us. You could see the inexperience."

Martin and Gomez punched 16 points apiece into the Sands hoops as the Stangs scored 23 points in the second quarter and 21 in the third to take over the scoreboard.

Ira, which had shot 65 percent the first half, fell to 30 in the second and could never get going again.

"We didn't handle their press real well," added Fox. "We felt like we could beat them, but we knew we would have to handle their press. We had them 14-6 at the first quarter and something like 19-8 in the second, but made a few mistakes and it was them (Sands) from there on in."

"I felt like the kids (Ira) did a good job though. We played a good ballgame overall. I'm proud of the kids."

Robert Mitchell led the Dogs with 21 points. Keith Bryant added eight while R.D. Phillips and Scott Sharp notched six apiece.

The final score became more lopsided than the game would indicate, noted Fox, because he put in players that hadn't seen much action during the final minutes.

Ira, winning its first-ever boys district championship, finishes the season at 17-8. Sands, which will advance to regions, is 31-3.

Hays Released From Prison Today

HUNTSVILLE (AP)—Former Olympian and Dallas Cowboy star Bob Hayes was released from the Texas state prison today after serving 10 months on a narcotics conviction.

Before dawn, Hayes slipped quietly out the front of the red brick building called "The Walls" by prison inmates. Officials had said Hayes would be freed between 8:30 a.m. and 10 a.m., but they said today Hayes had made a special request for an earlier release time.

Rick Hartley, the prison's director of public affairs, said, "Bob Hayes told the warden he did not want to talk to the news media and asked if it were possible for him to leave early."

"This was no problem for the warden," Hartley said, "because the release papers were dated for the 27th of February and that means any time after midnight."

Prison officials said they had no idea where Hayes had gone and that he had not mentioned to them on his departure when he would be willing to talk to reporters.

"Hayes, once dubbed the 'world's fastest human,' was sentenced to a maximum five years last April after being convicted of delivering cocaine to an undercover police officer. He became eligible for parole this month."

Quit Putting Off That Remodeling Job...

T. E. Shelburne And Son Plans, Coordinates As Well As Builds

"If you've been considering some remodeling, come see us," says D.D. Shelburne at T.E. Shelburne and Son.

Almost everyone has some home improvement or remodeling job that they have been thinking about. But all too often that's as far as it gets because of hesitancy to tackle the job. And that's where the Shelburne company comes in. They can help you plan what you want to do and then they can do it.

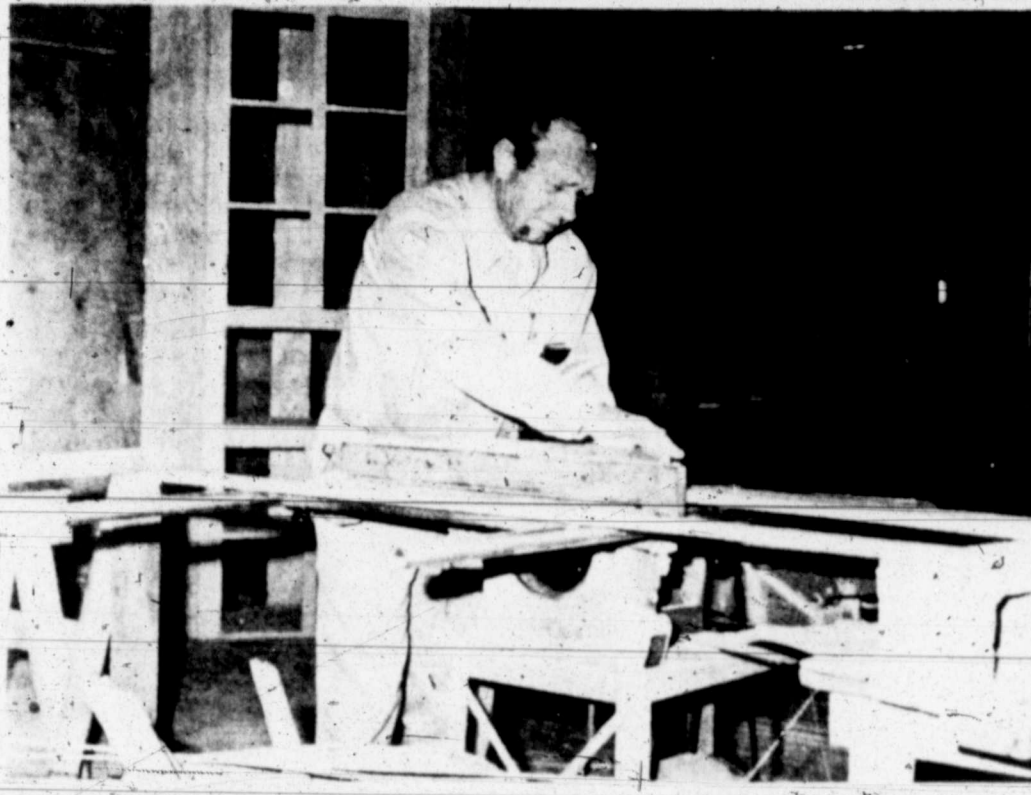

Kitchen and bathroom remodeling jobs are an important part of Shelburne's services and are in great demand presently. The firm custom builds their shelf and cabinet units to perfectly fit and suit the needs of that particular individual.

The firm also handles commercial and residential building and is a dealer for Gulf States metal buildings.

At T.E. Shelburne and Son the customer is first and his interests and wants are foremost on the company's list. D.D. Shelburne says, "We work with people to accomplish what they want to accomplish."

Often a building or remodeling project is postponed simply because the home or business owner thinks that he will have to coordinate the work of several different specialists and he feels that this will be a real headache for him.

This worry isn't necessary, however, because Shelburne can take care of the whole job from beginning to end.

CUSTOM BUILT T.E. Shelburne and son employee, Willard Ervin, is shown here doing some custom cabinet work that the firm specializes in. (SDN Staff Photo)

The firm feels that each project is individual and different, so they strive to handle each job in a way that is right for it.

If you are a businessman and your business has outgrown the facilities that you have now, perhaps you should consider a Gulf States metal building. These buildings can be erected in a short period of time and the individual can maximize the space for his benefit.

You can feel comfortable trusting your building project to Shelburne—they have been in Snyder since 1955, and D.D. Shelburne has been in the business for 42 years.

Whatever your building needs—call T.E. Shelburne and Son, Inc., 573-6359 or go by 1611 24th St.

Answer To Your Fuel Needs...

Lindy Clark Farm Service Center Specialist In Propane Delivery

Lindy Clark Farm Service Center personnel are the specialists when it comes to metered delivery of propane for both the home and farm service applications.

Once you're on Lindy Clark's route list you'll never have to worry about how low you're running—they'll be responsible for keeping gas in your tank. As a special service, Lindy Clark Farm Service Center offers same day and after hour delivery in emergency situations.

The center has rental tanks and they also sell tanks for your convenience.

Hook-up is offered on tanks rented or purchased from Lindy Clark.

Secretary Joy Keller will take your phone orders, and delivery is handled by Marvin Collier.

Lindy Clark Farm Service Center is located at 1609 25th and is open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to noon, and 1 to 5:30 p.m. Call them at 573-3516.

Twins Choose Suicide Over Mental Clinic

CRESPANO DEL GRAPPA, Italy (AP)—Twin 18-year-old brothers jumped to their deaths from a 165-foot-high bridge to avoid being put into a mental clinic, and their mother witnessed the suicide after vainly trying to prevent them from leaping, authorities reported today.

Andrea and David Camerini, both suffering from mental problems, ran to the bridge near their home Tuesday as an ambulance and two nurses showed up to take them to the clinic. The brothers stayed a few minutes on the edge of the bridge then jumped, police said.

Oklahoma May Operate Rail

LAWTON, Okla. (AP)—A meeting was scheduled to be held today with representatives of Gov. George Nigh concerning the abandonment of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas rail line between Altus and Burk Burnett, Texas.

The decision issued in Washington D.C. Tuesday by the Interstate Commerce Commission has scheduled March 10 as the abandonment date of 64.5 miles of rail line. The meeting today was
