More Delays For Hostage Transfer

By The Associated Press
Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh said he will address the nation tonight, apparently signaling at least a temporary postponement of today's scheduled transfer of the American hostages to the Revolutionary Council. State Department officials said "things seem confused" in Iran and doubted the transfer would be made as scheduled.

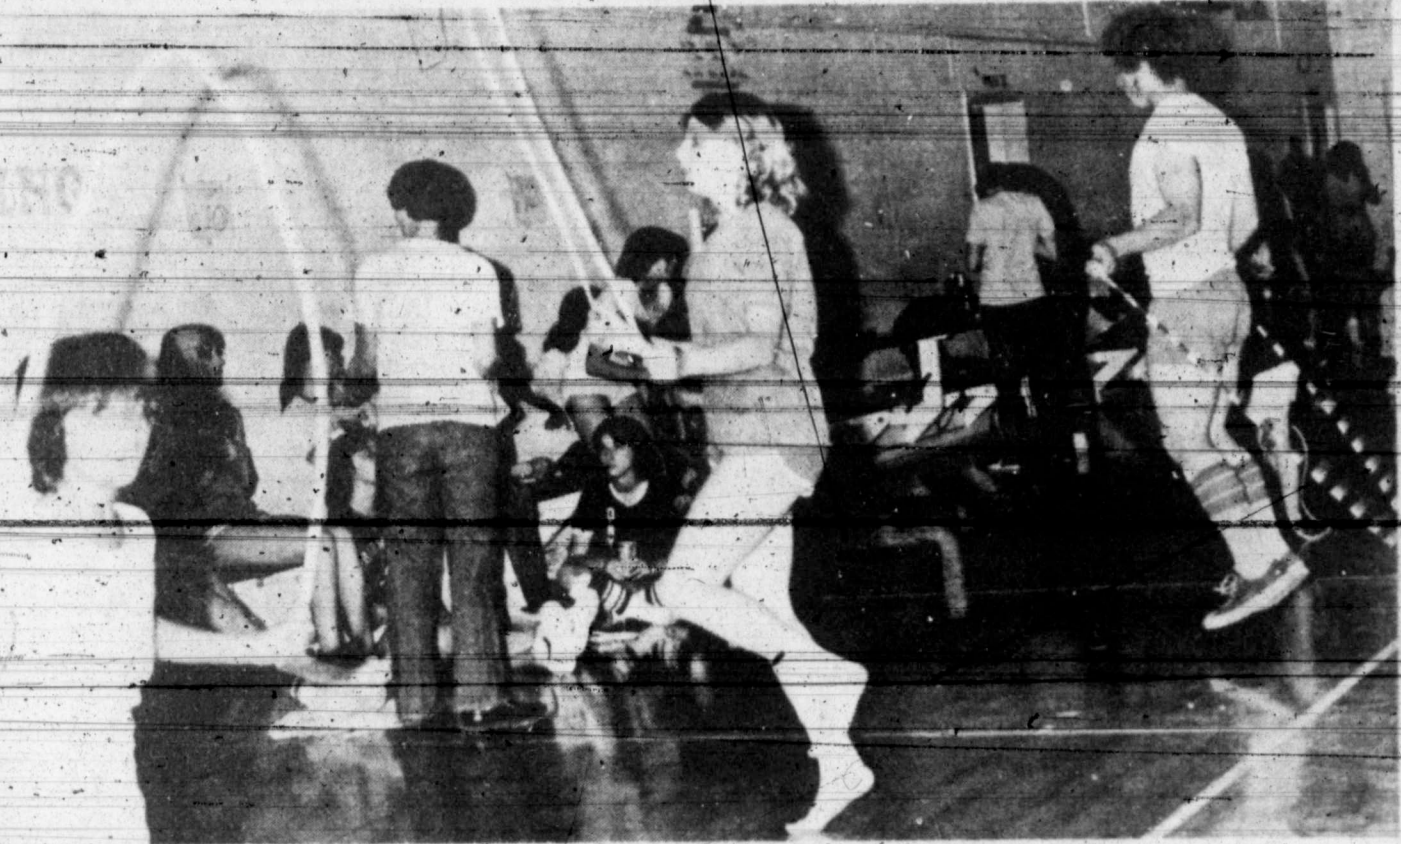

At the U.S. Embassy in Tehran, a spokesman for the militants refused to say whether the transfer would be called off for the day, saying only many developments were possible in the coming hours. But he said Ghotbzadeh's decision to give an interview indicated he would not come to the embassy today to receive the hostages. The transfer first appeared in doubt only hours before it was to occur, when Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's office issued a statement denying council claims that he had approved the move. Militants holding the hostages announced they would hand over control of the Americans to the Revolutionary Council at 5:00 p.m. local time, 8:30 a.m. EST. But in a separate announcement broadcast on Tehran radio and monitored in London, they insisted they would not turn the hostages over to Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh, appointed by the council to handle the situation. They accused Ghotbzadeh of lying to them by saying revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini had ordered the Americans transferred to the control of the council. They said they wanted the council to delegate another representative to take custody of the hostages.

Meanwhile, Khomeini's office issued a statement saying some newspapers "have attributed the arrangements of the transfer to the imam." "Imam Khomeini continues to maintain silence on the issue and he has delegated responsibility for the hostages to the Islamic National Assembly," the brief statement said. Members of the assembly will not be fully elected until next month. The radio report of Khomeini's statement was greeted with great enthusiasm outside the embassy where a crowd of several thousands had gathered to chant slogans of support for the militants. In another development, Tehran radio broadcast a further clarification of the situation from President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr.

The radio quoted Bani-Sadr as saying the militants first proposed to an unidentified member of the council and to Khomeini's son Ahmad that they hand over the hostages and the embassy to the council.

"When I met with the imam (Khomeini), his son praised the proposal with me and I agreed. Then I raised it with the council and it was endorsed," Bani-Sadr said.

JUMPING FOR THE HELATH OF IT-Thirteen teams of six participated in a jump-rope-a-thon for the American Heart Association Friday at Hermleigh. The charity contest began after lunch and was still going strong when this photo was taken at 3 p.m. Students found sponsors who pledged money to the Heart Association for the length of time jumped. One team collected over $200 winning each member a warm-up suit. One individual collected over $100 and will receive a windbreaker jacket. Snyder has a jump rope-a-thon coming up later this month. Pictured above are Lucy Morales, Ann Fletcher and Paul Fletcher. (SDN Staff Photo)

Tightening Of Budget Close, Says Carter Aide

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Carter's advisers are close to completing a "substantial tightening" of the 1981 budget as part of the administration's new anti-inflation strategy, the president's top economic adviser says. Charles L. Schultze, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, also said Friday that

"round-the-clock" discussions are underway between the administration and Congress. "We are close" to final decisions, he said. However, it was learned from sources in the administration and Congress that Carter may not be ready to unveil his program until the middle of next week, if then.

Weekend Update

FRB May Get Breather

NEW YORK (AP)—A report that shows the amount of money in circulation in the United States has dropped $2.8 billion has raised hopes in the financial community that the Federal Reserve Board may take a breather after a series of aggressive credit tightening moves. In the bond markets, where prices have tumbled recently because of spiraling interest rates, prices rose slightly after the Federal Reserve's announcement late Friday.

Retired Couple Slain

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A wealthy retired couple found dead in the ruins of their burned-out home were shot to death by a gunman who robbed them before setting the suburban house afire, police said Friday. Originally authorities thought Allen James Lowe, 71, a retired hotel owner from Cleveland, Ohio, and his wife, DeNage, 62, were burned to death when a faulty heating unit started the Wednesday two-alarm fire.

But Bexar County Medical Examiner Dr. Ruben Santos Ruled Friday, following an autopsy, that both died of gunshot wounds before their bodies were burned.

C.H. Grumbles, police chief in the suburb of Windcrest, said jewelry and several other items were missing from the house, which suffered $100,000 damage, and a state investigator said the fire was set through the use of a flammable liquid.

OSHA Threatens Suit

TEXAS CITY (AP)—An Occupational Safety and Health Administration official says a contempt order may be sought after Amoco Oil Co. refused to allow a striking union member access to an accident site. David Layne, area director for OSHA, said the government agency may ask a federal court to hold Amoco in contempt after an Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers union member was refused entrance to the refinery Friday.

OSHA inspectors and the union member were at the plant to investigate a Feb. 13 accident that killed two construction workers.

An OCAW representative accompanying federal inspectors had been turned away previously by Amoco officials two days after the accident.

Amoco went to federal court to obtain an injunction barring the OCAW from the accident site, but U.S. District Judge Hugh Gibson denied the company's injunction.

Firefighters End Walkout

CHICAGO (AP)—Striking firefighters in the nation's second-largest city returned to their fire stations Saturday after ratifying an agreement to end a bitter 23-day walkout.

Hospital Lets Contract For Roofing Work

The board of managers of Cogdell Memorial Hospital accepted a bid of $18,840 Saturday for re-roofing a portion of the hospital building.

The contract went to Lydick-Hooks of Abilene, the only bidder on the project. Re-roofing is planned for all except the two-story portion of the existing hospital building.

The Abilene firm bid $19,685 to do the job piece-meal, or $18,840 to do the entire project at one time. The board accepted the latter proposal.

It was reported that the contractor and architects had advised that the new hospital wing will be ready for occupancy by late summer. The board then reaffirmed its approval of floor covering, etc., which had been presented several months ago.

In other business, the board approved payment of bills for the past month. Rex Robinson, president of the board, presided, and other board members attending the called meeting were Roy Kidd, John Jarrell, Leon Autry and County Judge Preston Wilson.

Ask Us

Q-If the public schools were going to invite parents to eat with their children during Public School Week, why couldn't they serve something better than peanut butter and jelly sandwiches and soup?
A-You apparently visited a school lunchroom on a day when there were many more visitors than expected. We are told that one lunchroom did exhaust its supply of the regular menu one day and that last-minute substitutions were required to feed some of the overflow. Since no reservations were required, they had no way of knowing how many to prepare for. Peanut butter and jelly sandwiches and soup were not the menu of the day.

'80 Building Past $600,000 Mark

Snyder construction figures had moved past the $600,000 mark for 1980 by the end of February, with residential contracts accounting for most of it.

The February total, one of the best in several months, showed 17 permits issued, including 11 for single-family dwellings and three for mobile homes, for a total of $489,200.

The total for the city's current fiscal year, which began last Oct. 1, is $1,364,411.

So far this fiscal year, the city has issued 67 building permits, with 34 of them for dwellings. These include 17 single family residences, 14 mobile homes and three multi-family dwellings.

Other permits during February included one commercial for $7,600, four for accessory buildings for a total of $6,600 and one for an addition to a dwelling for $9,000.

This put the total for the calendar year up to $600,200.

Bogota Efforts Hit Deadlock

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Efforts to free the hostages held at the Dominican Republic's Embassy here appeared stalemated Saturday after a third round of face-to-face talks failed to yield a compromise between the government and guerrillas holding the captives.

As in the previous negotiations since the embassy was seized 10 days ago, the talks Friday took place in a beige van parked near the front of the besieged building. The rear doors of the van have been removed so the guerrillas inside the embassy can watch the goings-on. Once again, a woman, her head masked by a hood, represented the guerrillas. She was accompanied by Mexican Ambassador Ricardo Galan, one of the 14 ambassadors and acting ambassadors still held hostage along with at least a dozen other captives. Galan appears to be acting as a go-between. Deputy Foreign Ministers Camillo Jimenez and Ramiro Zambrano again spoke for the government in the one-hour, 13 minute session, the shortest to date.

The SDN Column

With all of the basketball going on the past week, you could expect a lot of pressure on the players and coaches. But local fans probably never had so many grave decisions to make, such as whether to go to Midland or Austin on Thursday.

Work schedules resolved that one for some of us. This dictated that it was off to Midland via Big Spring on Thursday with full confidence that there would still be action of interest to Snyderites in Austin later in the week.

It seems a shame that all of these tournaments had to be played almost simultaneously, but that's the way it is as the season draws to a close. Champions must be determined on specific schedules.

As the state high school tournament began in Austin we couldn't help but marvel at the wisdom of those who compiled the state-wide ratings during the regular season. In Class AAA, it was Beaumont Hebert and Snyder first and second, respectively, all season long, and when the decks were cleared for the final game, these were the two left to square off for the big trophy.

And we couldn't help but marvel at the apparent oversight among those who selected the all-conference women's team in the Western Junior College loop.

WTC's Joyce Plagens and Shari Teal set five school records apiece, yet they wound up on the second team and on the honorable mention list, respectively. How could they?

- You feel like the night before and you haven't been anywhere.
- Your little black book has only names ending in M.D.
- You finally reach the top of the ladder, and find it leaning against the wrong wall.
- You join a health club and don't go.
- You begin to outlive enthusiasm.

Clements Wants Delay Of Union Deductions

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Bill Clements is asking all state agency heads to delay action on deducting union dues from state employee salary checks until the 1981 Legislature gets a say on the issue.

Clements told a news conference Friday there will be no union dues withheld from salaries of the governor's employees, no matter what Attorney General Mark White or Comptroller Bob Bullock say.

"The attorney general's opinion will most assuredly be reversed by the next regular session of the Legislature, if not earlier by court action," Clements said in a letter addressed to each of the state agency chief executives.

"In view of the questionable legal authority, the contemplated legislative action and the attendant costs to your agency, you would be well advised not to implement this practice."

Bullock told Texas AFL-CIO political leaders Thursday he will institute a union dues checkoff in his department by June 1. Bullock earlier urged state employees to organize in labor unions.

The dues checkoff system, where union dues are automatically deducted from a paycheck before it is delivered to the employee, was approved by White in a legal opinion about a year ago.

Clements also told reporters that he did not agree with Speaker Bill Clayton that the 1981 Legislature may have to raise some new state taxes.

"As I have said before that is all nonsense," Clements said. "I do not know what his purposes are in advocating a tax increase."

The governor said he would repeat a statement he has made before. "I will veto a tax increase if the Legislature passes it," he said. On other subjects Clements said:

—He does not agree with Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby that the Department of Public Safety should stop using unmarked patrol cars to snare speeding drivers. Hobby said Wednesday that DPS Director Jim Adams overstepped his authority by not getting approval first from the Legislature. "I fully support the DPS and Mr. Adams," Clements said.

"By enforcing the speed laws we are not only saving energy but we are saving lives. Mr. Hobby is wrong and we have no intention of changing our methods of enforcing the law."

—He has no intention of changing his policy of not taking part in the GOP presidential campaign until after the May 3 Texas primary, even with former President Gerald Ford considering the race. "Mr. Ford knows the way I feel," he said. When asked if he thought Ford would eventually become a candidate, Clements said "he is certainly making all the noises of a candidate. You know as much as I do."

Woman Indicted In Fire Killing

HOUSTON (AP)—Grand jurors indicted a 18-year-old woman on a capital murder charge in the death of a 6-month-old boy, one of four children killed in a fire allegedly set by the woman.

Pearl Mae Taylor, who reportedly set the fire after an argument with her boyfriend, was being held without bond Friday after she was indicted in the death of Frankie Dewane Wells.

"We picked this case partially because the state can't seek four life sentences or four death penalties," said assistant district attorney Doug O'Brien.

He said the woman was charged with the death of the infant because "he was six months old and he had no way of getting out."

Tolisa Williams, 5, Gwendlin Ann Wells, 14, and Brigit Chenette Gray, 1, all died in the fire, which occurred about 3 a.m. Thursday.

Four other persons sustained minor injuries and five escaped from the flaming three-bedroom home unharmed. Officials said the woman's boyfriend was not in the home when the fire broke out.

Ms. Taylor was arrested by arson investigators who found her about nine hours after the fire hiding under a vacant building near the scene of the blaze.

Shirley Ann Wells, the mother of the dead infant, said she awoke early Thursday to find her bedroom filled with smoke.

"I was reaching for my baby (Frankie)," she said, "and couldn't find him and I ran outside. I busted out a window and flames hit me in the face. I could hear him crying."

Barbara Williams, mother of Tolisa, said the suspect came to the house late Wednesday night and accused her boyfriend, Donald Ray Wells, of being involved with another woman.

Relatives said the woman had argued with Wells several times in the past and that fires had been set. But they said the fires were extinguished each time and neither the fire department nor the police were called.

O'Brien said it had not yet been determined whether the woman would be undergoing psychiatric examination to see if she is competent to stand trial.

Actress Ginger Rogers was born Virginia Katherine McMath.

Gasoline, Heating Oil Top Inflation Culprits

By KRISTIN GOFF
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Inflation is like toothpaste, a West German banking official was quoted as saying recently. "Once it's out, you can hardly get it back in again. So the best thing is not to squeeze too hard on the tube."

While Europe is experiencing some inflation problems, the evidence is abundant in the United States that someone has squeezed the tube too much.

The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries is a popular target to blame for the inflation squeeze.

A government analysis of the 13.3 percent inflation rate last year indicates that gasoline and home heating oil price increases accounted for 3.4 percentage points of that.

Rising interest rates, another frequently cited culprit, which shows up in consumer prices largely through higher mortgage rates, added another 1.4 percent of last year's 13 percent inflation.

But that left consumer prices on all other goods rising at rate of 8.5 percent, or close to the inflation rate on all goods in 1978.

So far this year things seem to be getting worse. The consumer price report for January showed inflation, running at an annual rate of more than 18 percent. Producer and wholesale price reports for January and February showed those prices jumping at close to a 20 percent rate.

There are still substantial price increases working their way through the economy to the consumer," said Lawrence Chimerine, chairman of Chase Econometrics, a forecasting company in suburban Philadelphia. He predicts that inflation in the first half of the year will average 15 percent; up from a 13 percent annual rate at the end of last year.

White House economic advisors, who in January forecast 10.4 percent inflation for 1980, also clearly are worried.

And, President Carter is in the process of drafting an inflation-fighting package that is expected to include steep budget cuts. Other steps, including credit controls to restrict borrowing, are being reviewed by the administration.

In other business developments this past week: Business borrowing costs continued to soar as the prime lending rate rose to between 17 1/4 and 18 percent at major banks. The rate has spiraled from 15 1/4 percent Feb. 15, when the Federal Reserve launched its latest effort to slow inflation and curb economic activity by making money harder to obtain.

The nation's unemployment rate dipped slightly in February to 6 percent from 6.2 percent in January.

A number of supermarket chains, including Safeway Stores Inc. and The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., announced that they would comply with a government request to set a voluntary ceiling on food prices.

Eight Sentenced In County Court

Eight persons were sentenced last week in county court.

One case, a traffic violation, was an appeal from justice of the peace court. In that case, Buford Patterson of Sweetwater was fined $20.

Charged with cruelty to an animal, Jeanette Minter pleaded no contest to the offense and drew a $25 fine. The charge alleges Ms. Minter, 1807 40th St., failed to provide food and shelter to a shetland pony.

David Gomez, 1911 Ave. G., pleaded guilty to a charge of resisting arrest. He drew a $100 fine and a 30-day jail sentence.

A charge of evading arrest netted John Ramon Gonzales a $100 fine and a 30-day jail sentence. He resides at Rt. 2, Box 203.

The remaining four cases dealt with drunken driving. Named in them were Sidney Jay Everton, Burl Perry, Bob Jack Huffman, and Edward Earl Jones.

Everton, 2803 47th St., and Jones, 2701 Ave. X, each received a $200 fine and 30-day jail sentences that were probated two years.

Perry, 3010 39th St., was given a $200 fine and a three-day jail sentence. Huffman, an Abilene man, was levied a $50 fine and a three-day jail sentence.

All the drunken driving charges involved guilty pleas.

When selecting peaches, choose those that are firm but that will yield slightly to pressure. Avoid very firm or hard peaches with a distinctly green color because they are probably immature and will never ripen properly.

Demands Increase For 'Experience Unlimited'

Senior Citizens who would like to supplement their present income with money earned in part-time or temporary jobs are being sought by the Experience Unlimited office in the Senior Center.

Requests for workers have outnumbered the workers available since the program began in mid-December. Virginia Whitson, office coordinator, said. The office is staffed by members of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) who work without pay and Mrs. Whitson also works as an unpaid volunteer to coordinate office activities.

"We have had 22 Senior Citizens register," Mrs. Whitson said, "and 12 of these have accepted jobs. There have been 34 requests for workers. We estimate that more than $400 has been earned by the Senior Citizens who have accepted jobs."

Experience Unlimited is a statewide program which is sponsored locally by the Senior Citizens Center. The office is open each weekday. It serves as a referral service and does not recommend workers for jobs. Instead it gives prospective employers the names of persons they may contact. There is no charge to either party. Experience Unlimited does not set pay scales and Senior Citizens do not report the amount of pay they receive unless they choose to do so as a matter of general interest.

"We want all Senior Citizens to know they are welcome to use Experience Unlimited to help them find work," Mrs. Whitson said. "The service isn't just for people who come to the Senior Center every day or every week or so. Anybody 60 or older is classed as a Senior Citizen and we invite them to register with our office. Experience Unlimited was begun in Texas because it became apparent that many Senior Citizens want or need to work but often have no way to find jobs they can fill," Mrs. Whitson said. "This program seeks out part-time or temporary jobs and Senior Citizens who can do those jobs. Many Senior Citizens have skills and talents acquired through years of experience which can be a real asset to the community, and they

Scholarships Are Available

Two $800 scholarships will be awarded Petroleum Technology students at Western Texas College for the 1980-81 school year. Randy Mosley, assistant professor of Engineering Technology, has announced.

NCAA Tournament...

Alcorn Slows Things Down A Bit

By The Associated Press
The Alcorn State Braves are off-and-running in their very first NCAA Basketball Tournament. Oops, better make that off-and-walking.

Although they boast the nation's longest winning streak — 27 games — and are the highest scoring team in the country with a 91.2 average, the run-and-gun Braves survived their lowest output of the season to defeat South Alabama 70-62 in a first-round Midwest game Friday night.

The victory earned the predominantly black institution the dubious honor of meeting third-ranked Louisiana State on Sunday.

"Yeah, South Alabama did hold the score down," said Coach Davey Whitney of 28-1 Alcorn, "but it was because of the type of offense they were running. They were running sort of a delay game and their patience helped keep the score down. We just played well enough to win. We work against the slow-down type of game in practice."

In the other half of the Midwest doubleheader at Denton, Dave Goff stole the ball with five seconds left and made a pair of free throws four seconds later to give Texas A&M a 55-53 victory over Bradley.

Three other twin-bills completed the first round of the 48-team NCAA extravaganza, which winds down to the Final Four at Indianapolis, Ind., March 22-24.

In the West at Tempe, Ariz., UCLA, which has won more national titles than any other team, whipped Old Dominion 87-

74 — the Bruins will meet top-ranked DePaul on Sunday — while No. 18 Arizona State crushed Loyola, Marymount 99-71. A Midwest doubleheader at Bowling Green, Ky., saw Florida State edge Toledo 94-91 while Virginia Tech nipped Western Kentucky 89-85 in overtime on the losers' court. The East's first-round took place at Providence, R.I., with No. 19 Iowa downing Holy Cross 84-78, and Villanova thrashing Marquette 77-

Sunday's lineup finds Villanova vs. No. 4 Syracuse and Iowa vs. No. 11 Georgetown in the East, Florida State vs. No. 4 Kentucky and Virginia Tech vs. No. 7 Indiana in the Midwest, Alcorn vs. LSU and Texas A&M vs. No. 15 North Carolina in the Midwest and UCLA vs. No. 1 DePaul and Arizona State vs. No. 10 Ohio State in the West.

A&M Takes On Carolina; Four Corners Shootout?

DENTON (AP)—Texas A&M's Shelby Metcalf, who has made use of the four-corner offense all year, hopes he gets to run it against the inventor Sunday.

The Southwest Conference champion Aggies earned a shot at North Carolina and coach Dean Smith Friday night with a pulsating 55-53 victory over Bradley in the NCAA Midwest Regional first round.

In the opener, Alcorn State which possesses the nation's longest winning streak at 27, downed South Alabama, 70-62, to match up against Louisiana State Sunday in the NCAA second round.

Senior guard Dave Goff stole the ball and then made two free throws with one second to play to give the Aggies their 25th victory against 7 losses. It's the most wins in a season in the school's history.

Argentina Leads United States

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Guillermo Vilas beat Brian Gottfried 7-5, 6-4, 6-3 and Jose-Luis Clerc took a 6-3, 6-2, 4-6 lead over John McEnroe as Argentina took a 1-0 lead over the United States in their opening round Davis cup matches.

Darkness forced Clerc and McEnroe to suspend the rest of their match at the Buenos Aires Lawn Tennis Club until today.

run the four-corner against North Carolina because that would mean we're ahead," said Metcalf. "I read his book, but I don't want a demonstration of it from him."

Mitchell Anderson and Hasan Houston each scored 17 points for the Missouri Valley Conference champion Bradley Braves, but it was Houton whose pocket was poked by Goff on the game's deciding play.

The Aggies were led by Rynn Wright, who scored 15 points, and freshman Claude Riley, who came off the bench and scored 12 points.

Alcorn will play LSU at 12:07 Sunday and the Aggies will meet North Carolina in the second game.

Switch Makes Rebs Tough For Huskies

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Nevada-Las Vegas Coach Jerry Tarkanian made a change in his starting lineup for his team's opening round game in the National Invitation Tournament playoffs and it worked like a charm.

"It gave me confidence going out there as a starter," said 6-foot-8 center Michael Johnson, who was inserted into the lineup and responded by scoring 23 points to lead his team to a 93-73 victory over the Washington Huskies Friday night.

Johnson hit on eight of 14 field goal attempts and was perfect in seven attempts from the free throw line. He also led his team with 14 rebounds.

The win moved the Rebels into the second round competition. The Rebels will host Long Beach State, 21-11, Monday night.

Freshman Sidney Green was moved to forward to make way in the Nevada-Las Vegas lineup for the 240-pound Johnson, Green contributed 18 points and also grabbed 10 rebounds.

The Rebels, 21-7, took a 49-30 lead at halftime and expanded the margin to 31 points, 86-55, with 4:30 remaining.

Washington, now 18-11, was led by guard Bob Frank with 12 points.

There will be seven other second-round games Monday night that will pare the field to eight.

In those matchups, Boston College (19-9) is at Virginia (20-10); Murray State (22-7) plays at Alabama (18-11); Illinois (19-12) hosts Illinois State (20-8); St. Peters (21-8) is at Dequesne (18-8); Southwestern Louisiana (20-8) is at Texas (19-10); Mississippi (17-12) is at Minnesota (18-10) and Texas-El Paso (20-7) plays at Michigan (16-12).

Westerners Stats Impressive For Region V Tourney

Western Texas College's Westerners pulled the plug on the rest of the region last week, leaving little doubt as to which team could best represent the area in the NJCAA National Tournament.

The Westerners, 33-0, averaged 101.7 points a game in defeating Amarillo, Cooke County and Midland College, and allowed only 60.0. As a team, the group shot 58 percent for the three-day tournament.

Most amazing is the overall show of team strength displayed by the Westerners. Coach Nolan Richardson's troops averaged 18 assists a game, and an unreal 16.7 steals.

"People don't understand it," said Richardson after WTC had defeated Midland 101-80 Thursday for the Region V championship. "They don't realize that our defense is our offense. When you get that many steals in a game and most are turned into points, you see what I mean. That's what we were doing tonight (Thursday). We got three or four steals in a row, and all of a sudden it's a landslide. We go up by 20 points."

Western Texas had 50 steals during the three games, led by Paul Pressey's 15. Six other Westerners had three or more, including Greg Stewart, who also came away with five blocked shots.

The Westerners will advance to the National Tournament in Hutchinson, Kan. next week. It has not been determined which team or at what time Western Texas will play. The tournament runs March 18-22.

Lundquist Sets Swim Record

DALLAS (AP)—Southern Methodist's Steve Lundquist set a record for the 100-yard breast stroke, but the Texas Longhorns appeared to be on the verge of breaking SMU's 23-year stranglehold on the Southwest Conference swimming championship.

The Longhorns held a commanding lead going into today's finals.

Lundquist had the fastest time ever recorded by a collegian in the breast stroke Friday night.

He broke away from a star-studded field and won in 54.22 seconds, shattering the old conference mark by more than 2 seconds.

His time is the fastest in the United States this year and bettered the existing NCAA meet record.

Texas won four of the five other events Friday, however, and took a commanding lead in the team standings.

Kelly Rives opened the night with a 3:57.85 clocking in the 400-yard individual medley for the Longhorns' first win, setting the stage for Texas' big showing.

Going into the finals, Texas has accumulated 403 points to 341 for host Southern Methodist.

"We're in very good shape. We've got a bigger lead than I thought we'd have, and we've got our best day coming up tomorrow," Texas coach Eddie Reese admitted Friday night.

SMU's Greg Kraus battled back to win the 200-yard freestyle in 1:37.50, but Texas swimmers took second, third, fourth and sixth.

Clay Britt took the 100-yard backstroke in 50.17 and teammate William Paulas won the 100-yard butterfly in 48.08 for Texas' other single victories.

The Longhorns then wrapped up the evening with a victory in the 800-yard freestyle relay. Wayne Madsen, Eric Finical, Kris Kirchner and Joe Lajoie teamed to win in 6:34.65.

Campbell Spends Day Locked Up

MONTREAL (AP)—Clarence Campbell, former president of the National Hockey League, has spent one "symbolic" day in prison and has been fined $25,000 for conspiring to bribe a senator.

Justice Melvin Rothman of Quebec Superior Court imposed identical sentences on the 75-year-old Campbell and Bahamas-based businessman Gordon Brown, 65. A key reason for the short prison term, the judge said, was Campbell's failing health and his distinguished record as a Rhodes scholar, soldier, special prosecutor of Nazi war criminals.

In a 1943 football game, the University of North Carolina permitted Virginia to run the ball only seven times for net gain of five yards.

Van Wreck Kills Two TSU Players

SIERRA BLANCA (AP)—A week-long road trip to California turned into a double tragedy for the Texas Southern University baseball team when two players were killed in a van accident only days after a team member accidentally drowned in Los Angeles.

Seven others were injured when the TSU van overturned Friday, near this far West Texas town.

Monday, the body of player Maurice Christian had been found in the swimming pool of a Los Angeles motel. Accidental drowning was ruled.

Department of Public Safety Trooper Bob Newman of El Paso said.

Friday's accident occurred as the team van was eastbound on Interstate 10, left the freeway, went out of control and overturned twice as the driver tried to steer back onto the highway, about 55 miles east of El Paso.

The dead were identified as Daryl S. Quinn, 18, and Dale Crummie, 21, both of Los Angeles. Quinn, a freshman, was pronounced dead at the scene and Crummie was dead on arrival by helicopter at Sierra Medical Center in El Paso, according to a TSU statement issued in Houston, where the university is located.

Hospitalized were James Brown, 21, of Los Angeles; Michael Felder, 22, of Dallas; and Ira LeRay Lane, 20, of Greenville, Texas. A nurse's supervisor said Lane was in satisfactory condition with bruises and Brown and Felder were in stable, but not serious, condition.

Brown was being treated for face cuts and possible internal injuries and Felder suffered a possible concussion, the hospital official said.

The others, who were treated and released, were identified as the driver Edellano Long, 20, of Los Angeles; Lamerline Martin, 22, of Kenner, La.; Larry Cole, 21, of Birmingham, Ala.; and Kevin Johnson, 20, of Detroit, Mich.

DUSTERS—Shari Teal, freshman, fires in two points for Western Texas' Dusters during regular season play. The Dusters fell to Weatherford in the Region V Tournament last week. None the less, it was a good year for Coach Joe Cushing's troops. See article at right. (SDN STAFF PHOTO)

Dusters Season Bright Despite Regional Show

By BILL MCCLELLAN Western Texas College's women concluded their season on an unhappy note Thursday afternoon, falling to Weatherford 97-89 in quarterfinal action of the Region V Tournament.

Eighty fouls were called in the whistle-laden contest which will, no doubt, remain on the minds of the Dusters for some time to come. Certainly Coach Joe Cushing won't forget it for a while.

"I had two other officials come over to me after the game and apologize for the way the game was called. They said it was a bad reflection of their chapter. The heck with how it makes them look. What am I supposed to tell my team? How does that help them? Now I've got to go back over there (Big Spring) and watch the rest of the tournament, knowing that we should be in it," he said Friday afternoon.

The Dusters didn't have one of their better games, but Cushing felt it was because of the officiating. His girls were never able to get into their game plan.

"We came out in the second half with only two girls in any kind of foul trouble, and bang, all of a sudden Weatherford is shooting one and one. When you have 12 girls in a game and you finish the game with only four on the floor, then something's wrong with the officiating."

The officiating was extremely tight—not what one could call one-sided—but it did seem to hurt the Dusters more than Weatherford. A number of Coyotes girls also fouled out of the game, but three starters remained, and their floor knowledge took its toll on the depleted Duster ranks in the overtime period.

Western Texas was charged with 47 fouls while Weatherford had 33 in the game. The Coyote girls went to the line an amazing 51 times.

"The second half wasn't a basketball game. We were just running up and down the court seeing which one (of the two teams) would be sent to the (free throw) line next," Cushing added.

Though it is difficult to look at the season objectively after Thursday's loss, 1979-80 will be remembered for a lot of good things. The Dusters, for instance, snapped or tied 17 school records on their way to a 26-10 season.

For starters, those 26 wins added up to the most ever for a Duster team. Most points in a single game and season, as well as a high average of 71.6 points a game were other team records set by the crew.

The Dusters set 12 individual records and tied another. Sophomore Joyce Plagens re-wrote four entries into the book. Katie Fisher, another sophomore, had four also, while freshman sensation Shari Teal changed four and tied another.

A good nucleus, including Teal, Linda Holubec, Jennifer Gregg and several others, returns next year—a year which Cushing admits, "Looks like it could be better than this (1980) one."

It will take a while to forget Thursday's loss, but in time, the 1979-80 season will no doubt be remembered for its high points. As always, time rolls on.

Peden Wins 40 Tourney

HARLINGEN, Texas (AP)—Roy L. Peden of Kermit came on strong on the final nine holes Friday to win the championship at the 28th annual Life Begins at 40 golf tournament.

Peden, a former Texas A&M catcher, overcame a three-hole deficit at the turn and overtook Jack Williams of Plainview for a dramatic 2-and-1 victory on the wind-swept Harlingen Country Club golf course.

The battle between the two former champions was staged in winds that gusted to 35 mph and more, but Peden was 2-under par for the day and Williams was 2-over.

Williams, who won the 1977 tournament, appeared en route to an easy victory when he birdied the ninth hole to take a three-hole lead.

But Peden, a previous winner here in 1976, sank a 9-foot putt to save par on the 10th hole and parred the 11th hole to cut his deficit to a single hole while Williams eyed both holes.

The 60-year-old Peden then hit what he called "my best shot of the day" on the par-3, 187-yard No. 12 to deadlock the match. Hitting against the wind, Peden put his tee shot within a yard of the cup and tapped in the short putt for his first birdie of the day.

Peden took the lead over Williams, 52, who had birdied three of the first five holes, by getting a birdie on the 13th. Both players birdied No. 14, and Peden took a two-hole lead with only two to play when Williams bogeyed the 16th.

Peden's 2-foot birdie putt on No. 17 closed out the match, giving him six of the final eight holes.

Fitch Not Secure, Though...
The Celtics extended their season-high winning streak to nine games. The 76ers, who had a six-game winning streak snapped, made just 38.4 percent of their field goal attempts.

Despite 26 second-half points by Julius Erving, Philadelphia came no closer than 11 points after intermission.

"I'd rather lose by 20 points than one" said Erving, who led all scorers with 36 points and has scored 111 over his last three games. "In a one-point loss you worry about the little mistakes for three or four days. This one you just write off."

Boston had five men in double figures, led by Larry Bird with 27 points, Cedric Maxwell with 20 and Rick Robey with 18. Robey also snared 12 rebounds, one less than Erving's game high of 13.

In the other NBA games Friday night, the Washington Bullets edged the Detroit Pistons 106-105, the Houston Rockets nipped the New Jersey Nets 111-110 in double overtime, the Atlanta Hawks bested the Indiana Pacers 99-94, the Cleveland Cavaliers downed the Kansas City Kings 111-104, the New York Knicks defeated the San Antonio Spurs 118-112, the Phoenix Suns blasted the Utah Jazz 110-94, the Portland Trail Blazers beat the Denver Nuggets 113-104, and the Los Angeles Lakers trimmed the Chicago Bulls 101-99.

Bullets 106, Pistons 105. Elvin Hayes scored 25 points, 11 of them in the fourth-quarter that rallied Washington to its victory over Detroit. Greg Ballard also had 25 points for the Bullets, who squandered a 12-point halftime lead and trailed 101-100 with 2½ minutes to play before a Larry Wright layup gave them the lead for good.

John Long scored 27 for Detroit.

Rockets 111, Nets 110. Robert Reid ignored the fans waving pictures of naked women under the basket and made two foul shots with 11 seconds left in the second overtime to give Houston its victory over New Jersey.

"The pictures tickled me a little bit," said Reid, "but like teammate Rick Barry says, foul shots just take concentration."

Presidential Political Talk Real Purpose Of Parties' Austin Meet

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP)—Texas Democratic and Republican party leaders gathered here Monday, technically to certify their primary candidate but really to talk presidential politics.
Under state laws both the state committees must meet on March 10 to officially list all their party's candidates that will appear on the May 3 primary ballots.
However, the two 62-member committees also will discuss, and maybe act, on presidential primary polls that could vitally affect voter turnout.
Much of the attention will be directed at the State Democratic Executive Committee which has promised it will decide Monday whether or not Texas Democrats get to express their views May 3 on presidential candidates.

come discussion of the GOP presidential poll and any other straw votes they want on the ballot.
Course On Maintenance For Diesels
Preventive maintenance for diesel engines will be stressed in a Community Services course planned to begin Tuesday night at Western Texas College. Classes will meet Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights from 6:30-9:30 in the diesel shop, and will continue Tuesday and Wednesday nights next week. Fees are $27 per person.
John Pilgrim will be instructor for the class. The course is designed especially for farmers who operate diesel tractors and other persons who need to be able to perform maintenance jobs on their equipment.
Students are to register by calling the Adult Vocational Education office at 573-8511, extension 240.

Republican candidates John Connally, George Bush, Ronald Reagan and Howard Baker qualified for a place on the presidential primary ballot, which will determine how many national convention delegates each gets. Since Baker has withdrawn from the race, his name may be erased Monday for the Texas ballot.
There also has been discussion among Texas Republicans about straw votes on horse race betting, initiative and referendum, and wiretapping for drug control. The committee decides Monday whether these will be added in hopes of attracting a few more voters away from the Democratic primaries.

Writers Guild Workshop Set

The Snyder Writers Guild invites everyone interested in writing as a hobby or a vocation to attend a workshop scheduled March 29 at Western Texas College.
The registration fee of $12.50 includes a salad luncheon. Registration will start at 8:30 a.m. with workshop sessions to begin at 9 a.m. Etta Lynch of Lubbock will direct the program, discussing fiction writing and feature writing.
Details about the workshop may be obtained from Mrs. Roy Burk, Guild president, or other members of the organization. The workshop is being co-sponsored by the WTC division of Communications and Letters.

"NOTHING TO FEAR"
By Rev. Jas. R. Jackson
Pastor, 1st Assembly of God
II Thessalonians 3:3-4
"The Lord is faithful, who shall establish you, and keep you from evil."
A young boy and his father, while fishing on one of the Great Lakes, were suddenly caught in a vicious storm. People on shore, knowing of their plight, were fearful the two would be drowned. However, somehow they made it through the storm and brought their boat safely to shore. Interviewing the youngster later, a reporter asked, "Weren't you afraid?" To this the little boy replied, "No, because my dad was with me."

GREEN UP YOUR LAWN

About this time of the year home lawns need a boost to get them in shape for the spring season just around the corner.
Three operations can get a lawn off to a good start—scalping, fertilizing and applying a weed killer.
Scalping a lawn in late winter serves to revitalize it and promote spring and summer plant growth.
Begin the operation by lowering the blade of your lawnmower one-half inch below the normal setting. Then mow the lawn in two directions that are at right angles to each other. Remove the clippings after each mowing. Keep the lawnmower blade lowered until mid-summer.
After scalping the lawn, apply a complete fertilizer (one containing nitrogen, phosphorus), in our area potassium is optional to promote leaf and root growth. Use one pound of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn area. This is equal to 12 points of an 8-8-8 fertilizer or 7-8 pounds of a 16-20-0 fertilizer. Repeat the application in the fall.

For a dark green lawn, apply nitrogen every 60 days at the rate of one pound to 1,000 square feet. Monthly applications of iron chelate or iron sulfate during the spring and summer promote a healthy color in St. Augustine lawns.
To keep crabgrass or other unsightly weeds from appearing, apply a preemergence herbicide (weed killer) containing benefin, dacthal or bensulide early in the spring. Combinations of herbicides with fertilizers are available and convenient to use but should only be used according to instructions on the label. Formulations containing atrazine should not be applied near trees or shrubs.
Proper maintenance is essential for a healthy lawn, and these practices will give new life to a dormant, weedy lawn.

PREPARING FOR SALE—Tommy McNally displays one of the steers that will be sold by a Missouri cattle breeder this afternoon (Sunday). In the sale, which will be held at the Scurry County Coliseum, are 86 head of cattle. (SDN Staff Photo)

New Growth Halted By Late Season Cold Snap

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—March came in like a lion last weekend, bringing the coldest weather of the year to much of Texas, including freezing temperatures in the Rio Grande Valley, noted Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, in his weekly crop report.
The late-season cold snap dropped temperatures to record lows in many areas and brought an abrupt halt to grasses, trees and other plants that were starting to put out new growth, he said.
Fruit trees were damaged in Central Texas and the Hill Country and some early-season crops such as cantaloupes and watermelons in the Rio Grande Valley and Winter Garden also were hurt, Pfannstiel said.
Small grains suffered a setback and will be offering little grazing for several weeks, meaning continued livestock feeding, he noted.
Meanwhile in the Rio Grande Valley, corn, sorghum and cotton planting is in full swing and is getting started in Coastal Bend. Corn and sorghum planting has also started in South Central and Southeast Texas.
But warm weather is needed to raise soil temperatures and improve seed germination, Pfannstiel said. Average planting temperatures at the four-inch depth should be 50 degrees Fahrenheit for corn, 55 for sorghum, 60 for rice, 65 for cotton and 70 for soybeans and peanuts.
Many gardeners have already planted such early season vegetables as onions and potatoes, and are keeping an eye on the average last frost for their areas before planting warm-season crops such as tomatoes, squash, cucumbers and beans, Pfannstiel said.
Dry conditions continue to plague the Plains, Far West Texas and Southwest Texas, said Pfannstiel. Soils are extremely dry in those areas and are prone to wind erosion. Preplant irrigation is under way in some areas although farmers are trying to hold back due to spiraling energy costs.
Reports from district Extension agents showed the following condition.
PANHANDLE - Wheat was greening up but the cold snap brought a setback. Cold weather required more supplemental feeding of range cattle. The area remains dry, with farmers trying to get land in shape for spring planting.
SOUTH PLAINS - Land preparation is under way, with preplant irrigation increasing. Soil is highly susceptible to wind erosion in the dry weather. Cold slowed wheat growth and boosted cattle feeding.

ROLLING PLAINS
Temperatures as low as 10 degrees burned topgrowth of small grains and required an increase in livestock feeding. Farmers are getting land in shape for spring planting, and some gardening activities are under way.
NORTH CENTRAL
Small grains were making excellent growth and providing good grazing before the cold snap. Most fields need moisture; farmers are topdressing some fields with nitrogen. Livestock are in good shape with a good calf crop on the ground.
NORTHEAST
Cold weather slowed gardening and brought increased livestock feeding. Small grains suffered some freeze damage; greenbugs are infesting some fields. Most cattle are in good shape with abundant winter forages. Buffalo winters are active in parts of Bowie County.
FAR WEST
The coldest weather of the year damaged early trees, shrubs and tender plants. Land preparation continues. Livestock feeding remains active due to cold and lack of grazing. Sheep and goat shearing continues. Dry conditions persist.
WEST CENTRAL
Small grain and gardening have been slowed by cold weather. Forage is generally below average due to dryness. Livestock are in fair to good shape, with feeding and lambing active.
Ground School Begins Monday
Aviation Ground School will begin Monday night at Western Texas College as a Community Services course.
Dr. Gene McClurg will be instructor for the course, which is designed to help students prepare for FAA tests. Fees are $55 per person and students will need to purchase a book costing about $25.
Classes will meet from 6:30-9:30 p.m. on Mondays and Thursdays in room 101 of the Learning Resource Center through May 1 for a total of 40 hours of instruction.
Students wishing to register for the course are to call the Adult Vocational Education office at 573-8511, extension 240.

Water Deliveries Purposely Pared

Production by the Colorado River Municipal Water District has started off slower than in 1979, but virtually all of a 14.8 per cent decline through February is due to cutting off a major customer to protect water quality and supply.
The two-month total of 1,841,293,634 gallons delivered is 321,000,000 gallons less than the corresponding period last year, but for the same period in 1979 Texas Electric Service had taken 315,000,000 gallons. Since last June, however, TESCO has been cutoff in order that the west end of the CRMWD system will have more reserve, also more water available for mixing to upgrade quality.
Municipalities have taken virtually the same, despite a cold winter; 1,533,410,000 gallons, off only .23 of one per cent. Oil companies and industries took 147,158,874 gallons in February, down 50.77 per cent from 1979, and for the first two months 307,883,634 gallons, down 50.77 per cent. Had the TESCO deliveries been up to 1979 levels, there would have been a gain.
City deliveries in February included Odessa 326,316,000, up 4.31, over the same month a year ago; Big Spring 169,504,000, up 4.56 per cent; Snyder 55,818,000, up 3.03 per cent; Stanton 8,832,000, up 14.58 per cent; Midland 184,013, down 14.58 per cent. Robert Lee took no water, whereas a year ago it drew 6,460,000 gallons in February.

Whole Family Goes to Pot

By Abigail Van Buren
1980 by Chicago Tribune, News Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I've been reading your column for 23 years, and have always thought you were fair and intelligent, but when you said that the parents who smoked marijuana in front of their four-year-old child were guilty of child abuse, I couldn't believe myself. I am a 37-year-old housewife married to a psychologist. We have four teenagers. My husband and I do not drink, but we do smoke marijuana. We have smoked it for over 20 years (nearly every day) and we've never hidden the fact from our children. We do not allow our children to drink or to associate with people who do, but there is nothing wrong with pot. In case you didn't know it, pot is legal in Alaska. Are all Alaskans guilty of child abuse? Alaskans are allowed to grow their own for consumption. I think you are guilty of obvious abuse! Please get the facts, Abby!

INFORMED

DEAR INFORMED: I did. Marijuana is no more "legal" in Alaska than it is in any other state of the United States. It is decriminalized (under Statute No. 77.12.110.) Some of the restrictions are: Nobody under 18 years of age can possess or use marijuana. If over 18, a person may not have more than one ounce on his person in public (this means on public streets, sidewalks, buildings, buses, etc.). He may not use marijuana while operating a motor vehicle, airplane, etc. If convicted it would be a misdemeanor with a fine of not more than $1,000. Marijuana may be used in private by those who are 18 or older. Nothing is said about the legality of growing marijuana for one's own use.

DEAR ABBY: I was glad to see your warning about angel dust. Everything you said about it was true. It makes you violent, and can really mess up your head. I know, I was in high school, ready to graduate, when I smoked that dust. I didn't even know it. I smoked some pot and had been laced with angel dust. I didn't get high, I just went crazy. I was sent to Camarillo State (a mental hospital) where I spent three months. I put my poor parents through hell. I'm out now, but I have to see a social worker every week. I'm still on medication, and my head still hurts. But at least I can dress myself and comb my own hair. My biggest fear is that one day I will go completely crazy again and end up back in the hospital. I saw kids at Camarillo who'd had that experience. My God, what a terrible price to pay for wanting to get high! Abby, please keep telling kids to stay away from pot. You never know what's in it! I am signing my name and address just to prove this letter is not a phony, but if you print it, sign me.

PAID DEAR PAID: If your letter makes just one person say no to pot, it will have been worth space in my column. Thanks for writing. God bless.

DEAR ABBY: Do I need a nose job? Many of my friends think I do, but my nose has never bothered me. It's big, but it's not a real schnozzola like some I've seen. An aunt even offered to treat me to a nose job when I graduated from high school, but I never took her up on it. People I hardly know have asked me how come I never did something about my nose. It must be pretty bad, but I never thought it was. I honestly don't think I should fool around with the nose that God gave me, but then people never see themselves as others see them. I am enclosing my picture. What do you think, Abby?

NOSE TROUBLE

DEAR NOSE: It matters not what I think, or what anyone else thinks, what counts is what you think! As long as it doesn't bother you (and it runs all right), leave it alone.

Vows Repeated In Faith Baptist

Nuptial vows were exchanged at Faith Baptist Church between Rhonda Lynn Gohlke and Bobby Don Ford with the Rev. Buck Hatfield officiating. The ceremony was performed Feb. 19 at 6 p.m. before an altar featuring two heart-shaped candelabra and an archway trimmed with baby's breath and red and white sweet-heart roses.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Thehna Gardner and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Gene Ford, all of Snyder.

Donald Chandler, cousin of the bride, escorted and presented her in marriage as she was attired in a gown of white slipper satin with an overlay of nylon chiffon. Her neckline and long sheer sleeves were adorned with lace medallions and seed pearls. Her gathered skirt, trimmed down the front with lace daisy medallion and seed pearls, featured a large flounce self ruffle around the bottom edged with lace medallions and pearls. The bride's two tiered elbow length veil was of nylon net sewn to a caplet covered with slipper satin and matching large daisy medallions and seed pearls.

The bride carried a cascade of red and white carnations accented with baby's breath tied with red and white ribbons falling to the floor.

In keeping with tradition, for something old the bride wore a rhinestone necklace that her mother wore in her wedding, something new was a gold bracelet given to her by her mother, something borrowed was her wedding dress, and something blue was her garter holding pennies minted in the couple's births.

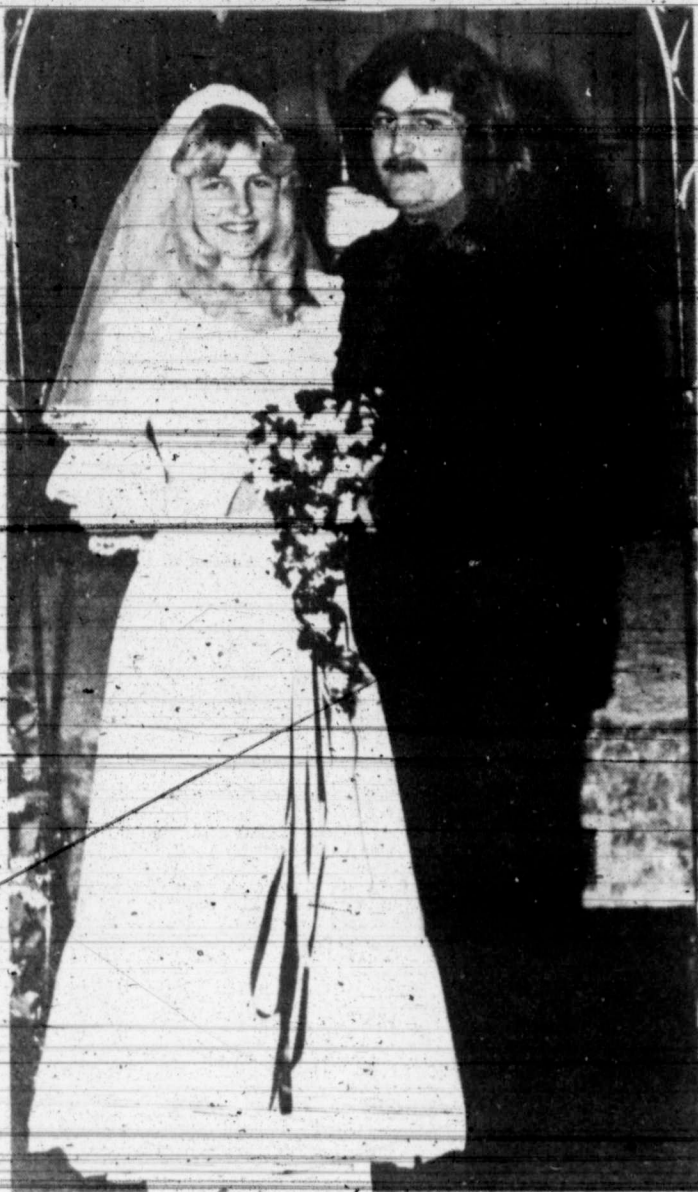

Tonya Gohlke of Lubbock, bride's sister, was maid of honor. She wore a full length red and white polka dot Swiss with sweetheart lace around neckline. Lace roses were designed in the side of her dress.

On her way to the altar, the bride presented her mother with a long stemmed rose and a kiss.

Lighting candles were James Ford, groom's brother, and Lisa Gibson, groom's cousin.

Flower girl Lafonda Ford, groom's sister, was dressed identically to the maid of honor.

Ray Wheelus was best man and Troy Ford, groom's brother, and Ricky Gibson of Rotan, groom's cousin, were ushers. The groom wore a black tuxedo, accented with velvet, and a red ruffled shirt.

MR. AND MRS. BOBBY DON FORD

A reception was held honoring the couple in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table held a three tiered cake with each layer trimmed in red satin lace. The bottom layer held wedding bells, the second layer featured doves and the top layer held a miniature bride and groom. The crystal punch bowl featured floating carnations surrounded by greenery and baby's breath. A candelabrum holding four red burning tapers centered the table. Carla Baker, Lisa Gibson and Rene Palmer served. Registering guests was Vondell King.

For the couple's wedding trip to Lubbock, the bride chose a floral print silk dress. The couple are at home at 2711 Ave. U, the bridegroom is employed by F&F Contractors.

Out of town guests registered from Denver City, Rotan, Midland, Hermleigh and Lubbock.

HOW TO TAKE CRITICISM
Don't let criticism destroy confidence, friendships or career - use it to improve all three. Learn how to take criticism - it's critical to individual happiness. Use the following rules for taking criticism gracefully:

- Look directly at the person to show a willingness to listen.
- Mentally rephrase the criticism in terms of the ways you choose to act. Look for actions to change the next time around.
- Try to make the criticism clear in your mind. You may say: "I understand that you are saying..."
- Don't imply that the critic has a motive for making the objection other than helping you.
- Try asking the critic politely what you could have done differently and why that would have been better.

- Whether you agree or not, let the critic know that you heard and understood the criticism.
- If you think the criticism is unwarranted, say so only after hearing the person out and following these rules.

- If you agree you were wrong and are willing to try not to repeat the mistake, say you are sorry.
- Thank anyone who offers honest criticism.

Proper limit jump raises

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

In the early days of contract, single jump raises were fairly strong bids, but definitely not forcing.

By 1932, expert players saw that some forcing raise was essential and the limited technology of that day added single jump raises to the game-forcing category. This change led to one of the silliest bidding sequences where responder would first bid a suit and then go to three of his partner's suit as what was then called the raise to two and a half.

Standard American today still plays all single jump raises as forcing, but in the last 30 years expert bidders have been using limit jump raises.

Our suggestion is that you try to learn their use. You play them as showing from 10-plus to 13-minus supporting points.

You expect partner to go on more than 90 percent of the time. But if he has opened with something like S-A Q 7 3 2 H-Q 5 4 D-K 7 6 C-Q 2, he should pass a three-spade response. Improve the hand to S-A Q 10 9 5 H-Q 10 4 D-K 7 6 C-Q 2 and he should go on to game.

When you use limit jump raises, you can handle the forcing raise by simply bidding a new suit, but there are many ways to use artificial bids for that purpose. The chief ones are the Jacoby two notrump, the Ingberman three notrump and various conventions with the general name of Swiss. They are all too complicated for a bridge column, but all have some merit.

Now for a word of warning. Don't try limit jump raises unless you can persuade your partners to use them with you.

When we use plus or minus, we mean that when you have tens and nines to support high cards or have your points in ace and king, you have a plus. Low spot cards and queen and jack points are minus.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED-Mr. and Mrs. Hal Foster of Hennepin, Okla., announce the marriage of their daughter, Brenda Sue, to Daniel Johnson, son of Rev. and Mrs. F.R. Johnson of Hennepin. They were married in the United Pentecostal Church Feb. 2 at 7 p.m. with the groom's father performing the ceremony. Johnson is the grandson of Mrs. Viola Bailey of Snyder.

Ms. Shaw Presents Program At Guild

The Art Guild Club met March 4 at 6:30 p.m. at the Martha Ann Woman's Club with Mrs. Silas Devenport as hostess and program leader.

Mrs. Devenport presented Gloria Shaw, director of the Senior Center Service who gave a report on the senior Center and it's services to the senior citizens of the community.

Mrs. Shaw described the center as being a special place that has been very effective in changing the lives of those who come in contact with the numerous activities held there.

Some of the activities are games of all kinds, crafts, quilting, square dancing and sing-alongs. Bowling is available at Snyder Lanes and swimming is held at Western Texas College.

The center owns two vans used to transport senior citizens to lunch, doctors' offices, grocery shopping or other places as the needs arise, she said. When the noon meals started there were about 60 people attending, she said, they now serve around 115.

According to Mrs. Shaw, the Center was established at Western Texas College in September, 1973. In January, 1979 they moved in the new building at 2700 Ave. M.

Mrs. Hugh Howry, club president conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Devenport served refreshment to one guest and 16 members.

Creativity in children or adults is a process, not a product, and it is goal directed, says Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Popping Corn May Damage Microwave

COLLEGE STATION-Be careful with microwave popcorn - there's a slight danger of damage, and the popcorn may be dried out, a family resource management specialist cautions.

If you're popping corn in your microwave, you could damage the oven itself - even if you have a special popper for the oven, Lillian Chenoweth says.

Mrs. Chenoweth is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

There are so many variables involved that at least one major microwave manufacturer recommends against the practice.

Another manufacturer can recommend only their brand of popper for use only in their oven with strict adherence to the precise times.

If you still want to try microwave popcorn, first check the cookbook that came with your oven. Although many food-product packages offer information and directions, these may not apply to your oven.

Since other popcorn methods take about as little time as microwave popcorn, it may be wise to use one of these.

Growing up isn't easy - neither is parenting

Confident Parenting will help. We offer no simplistic formulas. We take parents too seriously to contribute to their confusion and guilt.

Confident Parenting is a dramatic, nationwide break-through in parent education. This seven-hour workshop will help parents find real answers to these concerns:

- How can I listen so my children will feel free to talk openly?
- How can we successfully discipline our children?
- How can we handle daily frustration and family conflict?
- How can we be more confident as parents?

BEAUTY DIGEST
Diane Robbins

By Diane Robbins, editor
Beauty Digest magazine

Basic skin routine
Beauty expert Gloria Natale gave Beauty Digest magazine the basic skin care routine she recommends all women follow twice daily. First, apply a thin film of salicylic acid or baby oil to the entire face. Second, wash using a mild facial soap and warm water, then rinse well. Third, wipe entire face except eye area with a piece of cotton moistened with skin toner, freeminer or witch hazel. Moisturizer is the last step and should be applied while skin is still damp.

swing my legs outwards, back and forth, keeping legs straight. Then I turn to the other side and repeat.

Shampoo ingredients
Wonder what those fancy sounding ingredients on the shampoo labels do for your hair? Panthenol prevents scaly dandruff, maintains elasticity and moisture balance while it softens and adds body. Hydrolyzed animal protein improves manageability, softens, shines, repairs split ends, detangles, strengthens and controls "fly-away." Galquat polymer protects against heat damage.

Star shape
Opera star Roberta Peters told Beauty Digest magazine her special program for keeping in shape. "Before I take my bath at night, I go through 50 sit-ups, push-ups and bending and stretching exercises. All that takes about 35 minutes. I finish with a 'scissors': I lie on one side and

Eye fashion
The newest eye shape is horizontal, with eyeliner or pencil underneath the eye and shadow extended subtly out towards the temples. Try a purple or garnet shadow on the outside of the upper lid, with a highlighting shade of lilac or pink on the inside corner. Smudge to blend.

Beauty bath
Bran added to your bath will clean, soothe and smooth sensitive skin. Sew several handfuls of bran into a cheesecloth pouch. Place the pouch under the faucet as you fill the tub with warm water. While in the bath, rub your body all over with the pouch. Finish your bath with a vigorous towel rub.

Longest Name A Whopper

SKOKIE, Ill. (AP)—An Indian name for a New England lake wins the prize as the longest name among all the more than 66,000 towns and physical features identified in the 1980 Rand McNally Road Atlas.

It is labeled "Lake Chaubunagungamaug" of the Massachusetts border. But that is only a shortened version of the 44-letter full name which is virtually impossible to squeeze in on a heavily detailed road map in readable form.

The complete name is hargoggagoggmanchaggogoggchaubunagungamaugg, and translates as "I fish on my side, you fish on your side, and nobody fishes in the middle."

The shortest town name in the atlas is Ti, Okla. It was coined from the initials for Indian Territory spelled backwards.

Banks Boost Rate To 18%

NEW YORK (AP)—The prime lending rate jumped as high as a record 18 percent at major banks today as interest rates continued their upward spiral in the wake of Federal Reserve credit-tightening actions.

Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago, the nation's 24th-largest bank, posted an 18 percent rate on loans to top-rated business borrowers, up from 17 1/4 percent. The 18 percent mark is the interest rate most consumers pay on credit card loans.

No. 2-ranked Citibank and several others moved to 17 1/2 percent from 17 1/4 percent.

Kansas City Motel Financed By Grant

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—A recent $10 million federal grant will not only help alleviate this city's unemployment problem, but will also generate more tax revenues and stimulate business, according to officials here.

The grant will be used to complete financing of a $42 million, 600-room deluxe downtown hotel and other Convention Center improvements totaling $75 million. Mayor Richard L. Berkley says as a result "it will generate more than 1,000 new jobs, $1 million annually in increased tax revenues, and added convention business that will pump an estimated $26 million into the coffers of local business."

Construction should begin by summer and will be completed in about two years.

"Be Prepared," the motto of the Boy Scouts of America, was originally the slogan for the South African Constabulary in the Boer War, 1898-1901. The constabulary's leader, Lord Baden-Powell, founder of Scouting, said the words spoke of his men's readiness "to take on any kind of duty at any time."

Coal Interests Say It's Time For Their Product

By MAX SKELTON AP Oil Writer
HOUSTON (AP)—Coal miners and operators say it is time for coal to be established as the cornerstone of America's energy policy.

They say events in Iran and the dangers posed by the Soviets in Afghanistan underscore a need for the nation to seize firmly and decisively the opportunity presented by coal.

The United Mine Workers and three coal trade associations have outlined six objectives with 18 specific recommendations to permit coal to supply an increasing share of the nation's energy needs.

They contend the nation has the coal needed to reduce the "dangerous and debilitating" dependence on imported oil and to assure continued economic growth.

But, they add, demand for coal has not kept pace with that capability.

The result: 20,000 unemployed miners and 100 million tons of unused coal capacity as oil imports drain $80 billion a year from the nation.

The six objectives range from a rapid increase in the substitution of coal for oil and natural gas by the electric utility industry to "a practical and sensible" implementation of environmental statutes and goals.

Domestic coal consumption is estimated to have approximated 673 million tons in 1979, representing a 4.1 percent annual increase in two years. The Department of Energy has estimated last year's domestic coal production at 770 million tons, indicating a 5.5 percent annual increase rate since 1977. After two years of decline, exports were said to have increased slightly in 1979. Domestic stocks were said to have increased substantially.

"While these increases are promising, they are far less than the potential and represent little progress in increasing the share of total energy needs supplied from domestic coal resources from its level of 19 percent," the coal group said.

"Rapid increases in the future are dependent upon aggressive actions to increase the demand for coal."

The miners and trade associations say utilities account for almost 80 percent of the domestic coal market, "and offer the best opportunity for early and large increases in coal demand."

They estimated utilities consumed about 530 million tons last year, up from 476 million tons in 1978.

They added, however, that utilities also used an estimated 570 million barrels of oil and 3.2 trillion cubic feet of natural gas last year.

"Utilities consumed about 9.5 percent of all the oil used in the United States in 1979," the coal group said. "Reduced utility oil consumption represents a prime opportunity to lessen dependence on imported oil."

However, faster displacement of oil and natural gas was said to be impeded or prevented by the limited financial capability of the affected utilities and by rate treatment by public utility commissions.

Recent Department of Energy estimates, the coal group contends, suggest utility coal consumption could be increased some 50 million tons by 1995 over and above conversions of existing facilities.

And, the group adds, plans by the utilities proposed a number of regulatory steps which would encourage continued or expanded utility use of natural gas," the miners and operators said.

LOW-SALT FOR SPRAINS

A low-salt diet, recommended for high blood pressure and congestive heart failure, can also be good for a sprained ankle, foot, or wrist. Reduction of salt intake helps rid the body of excess fluids.

Accumulation of fluids with focal swelling adds considerably to the pain of a sprain. A high salt diet, also contributes to overweight, as it holds excess moisture in the body cells.

born-again currency

Things aren't as bad on the American inflation front as they could be - although if we just wait long enough they probably will be.

But at the moment they are not as bad as, for example, in Israel, where a new unit of the national currency is being introduced.

The shekel is replacing, and will be worth 10 of, the former Israeli pound, a victim of inflation compared to which the dollar appears almost disgustingly robust.

The pound has been devalued 400 percent in the last two years alone, and with the Israeli inflation rate hitting a feverish 111 percent last year, more of the same has been in prospect.

The new franc is a conscious invoking of national pride, reaching deep into the biblical past to what was originally a measure of weight - shekel comes from Hebrew "to weigh."

The Israeli authorities are contemplating nothing of the same. And since this means nothing is being done about the country's underlying inflationary pressures, there are doubts even in Israel as to what realistically can be expected of a new name and pride.

Under these Israeli circumstances, even the 18 percent projected annual inflation rate that the United States hit in the January statistics tends to look good. Which may be cause for some relief, since reaching back into the past for a new unit of currency might not work out so conveniently for Americans.

an-old, old story

It's a familiar enough story by now. Congress, with some reluctance, has agreed to prop up a shaky foreign government with an emergency package.

The pricetag is $75 million and the recipient is Nicaragua, the Central American country that has still not found the answer to the question of what is to follow the Somoza dictatorship overthrown last year - a reasonable facsimile of democracy or radical chaos.

At a time when a figure of $100 million is being discussed as a possible beginning of aid to a Pakistan that may or may not be threatened by the Soviet advance into Afghanistan, $75 million is not exactly high stakes. Particularly not for a country virtually next door, rather than half a world away, and in an area in which the United States has long been deeply interested and intimately involved.

Why, then, the dragging of congressional feet? The decision was especially close in the House, a five-vote margin. There were and are, however, strong reservations as to the intention of the new Nicaraguan regime.

With reason. The revolutionary junta is a mixed bag of Marxists and moderate elements. Communist influence is a potent fact of the new Nicaragua, manifested most visibly by a Cuban presence of more than a thousand teachers.

Nicaragua could become another Cuba. But it has not gone the route yet. Should it eventually do so, Washington will have to write off the $75 million as a bad investment, as it has had to do over the years with much larger sums.

But if the aid, designed primarily for recovery of private business and to restore public facilities destroyed in the civil war, encourages development of a democratic new Nicaragua, it could prove one of the most profitable U.S. investments of recent years.

ETTA HULME FORT WORTH STAR TELEGRAM

at wit's end

by erma bombeck

I never minded getting mail addressed to "occupant."

Oh, occasionally when our children wrote home from school we felt it was a little impersonal, but generally "occupant" mail told me, where I stood. It told me the firm didn't care if I was Ms., Mr., Miss or Mrs.

I knew just what was expected of me as an "occupant." Have a pulse and be there when the mail came.

In recent years, there's been a trend to trick the "occupant" by personalizing junk mail via computers. A few settings on the machine, a tape inserted, a button pushed, and voila... "occupant" becomes a real person and by the third paragraph, the computer is calling me Erma and hoping the entire Bombeck family will share in the sweepstakes that are within my grasp.

Personalized junk mail has a few bugs to be worked out. Like the letter sent recently to a random sampling of names and addresses in the hopes of selling subscriptions to a national magazine.

Instead of "occupant," it was addressed to Department O. Welfare and began the pitch with "Dear Department Welfare (Ms., Miss, Mrs. Mr?); I've got a bet for you, Department Welfare, and I'm backing it with the unusual special offer you'll find enclosed."

The offer spelled out stories they could expect to read and then added, "Could any of the Welfare be endangering their health with fat diets?"

A friend of mine was also the victim of a computer that got his name and address right, but then went berserk while the automation continued.

"It is a pleasure and pigglee go add your name go our list of chare pagyour confidence is us." Roberg A. Raggy, president

I'll just bet Mr. Raggy is going to kick a few buttons when he sees this one.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Diplomacy is the art of saying 'nice doggie' until you can find a rock."

Just over two years ago, Snyder had a large, empty building on its hands. In fact, the interest on the loan was something like $85 per day, and there was no income.

About the only bright thing is that the 70,000 square foot building attracted several industrial prospects to Snyder. In almost every instance, it was too large.

It seemed that the old Wickes building located on the north 84 bypass was a milestone around the community's neck.

one day the building would be an asset, and that Snyder once again would be extremely proud of the building and its occupant.

Well that time came. Northern Electric, a subsidiary of Sunbeam Corp., moved into the building and started production of electric blankets.

Two years later, Northern has manufactured its millionth electric blanket - a milestone for the company and its 160-plus employees.

The event was observed Wednesday afternoon with the presentation of the millionth blanket to the Snyder chamber of commerce. On hand for the occasion were chamber officials, industrial foundation representatives and members of the financial community who had worked to secure this new payroll for Snyder.

It was a great occasion - both for the firm and for Snyder. In two years, the company has increased employment, has stabilized a key work force and has increased its production efficiency to where it will take only one year to produce the second million blankets.

We're extremely proud that Northern Electric has chosen Snyder as its plant home. Plant Manager Jimmy Daniels and all the crew at Northern are proud additions to the Snyder community.

We look forward to Snyder and Northern growing together in the years to come.

Embarrassing gas problem

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB— My husband and I were wondering what causes intestinal gas. It doesn't hurt but does have an odor that can be embarrassing. I always thought only foods such as beans or cabbage or broccoli caused gas. But sometimes our whole family has gas and we can't trace it to foods. One thing we notice is we eat a lot more fresh vegetables during the summer. Can changing your diet from winter frozen vegetables to summer fresh ones cause you to have gas?

DEAR READER— Everybody has some gas. Not everyone has symptoms from it. Nevertheless, about one in 10 persons in the general population has symptoms from gas and that's the complaint that drives about one out of two patients to visit a specialist in gastroenterology.

Some gas comes from swallowing air, so naturally it contains nitrogen and oxygen. We all swallow some air when we eat or drink; others swallow as a nervous habit. In many people the swallowed air merely passes through the digestive tract unnoticed. In others, because of spasm of the colon, swallowed air may become trapped and cause distension and pain. Or swallowed air may fill the stomach and then when you eat you feel excessively full.

To give you more detailed information about the sources of gas and how to eliminate the symptoms, I'm sending you The Health Letter number 68, "Controlling Gaseousness." Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

The other major source of gas is from food fermentation. And, of course, a person can have gas from both sources. People sometimes have difficulty digesting carbohydrates, which ferment, releasing gases.

The malodorous gases that you speak of usually represent less than 1 percent of the gases that are formed. They usually include ammonia, hydrogen sulfide (that's the gas that smells like rotten eggs), indole and skatole products from the amines in amino acids that are part of protein.

These particularly unpleasant odors are not an indication of disease. Interestingly enough, the nose is a much better detector for the presence of these gases than almost any of the extremely delicate instruments that have been developed by modern science.

I doubt that just switching from winter frozen vegetables to summer vegetables will cause you gas. But different foods affect people in different ways. In addition to the list of foods you mentioned, other gas formers include turnips, cucumbers, radishes and onions. Applesauce happens to be a great gas producer for some people. Strangely, it's a frequent dish on the tray for hospital patients, who least of all need to be consuming anything that produces gases. The Health Letter I'm sending you will include a few tricks that you might use to help determine whether you swallow air and how to stop the habit, as well as other hints on what can be done about changing your diet to help avoid the gas problem.

Hot Water Drawing Geologists To Marlin

MARLIN (AP)—Marlin once drew thousands of visitors who swore by the curative powers of the town's bubbling mineral waters. Now, geologists and government officials are flocking here to observe an achievement in geothermal energy.

By next winter, the Torbett-Hutchings-Smith Memorial Hospital is scheduled to begin heating its water and air with energy from the famed mineral waters that run beneath the town. A geothermal well on the hospital parking lot will pump the naturally heated water, which is expected to reduce the hospital's natural gas use by about 85 percent. Experts say the project has "enormous" potential for use in industry.

AUSTIN—Kenneth E. Graeber, executive director of the State Property Tax Board (SPTB), announced a statewide program to make citizens more aware of their rights, remedies and responsibilities as taxpayers.

"This public education program is the most comprehensive effort of its kind in the state's history. It will involve the State Property Tax Board, local tax assessors throughout Texas, and the newspaper and broadcast industries," Graeber noted.

The state property tax official said the program consists of two elements. The first involves distribution of a comprehensive 12-page pamphlet titled "Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies and Responsibilities."

"The pamphlet discusses a broad range of tax-related matters, and will help Texans become much more knowledgeable on how the property tax system operates," the SPTB executive director said.

Taxpayers may obtain a free copy by contacting county, city or school tax offices in their area.

"The second element of the program consists of efforts by the news media to inform all Texans of tax rendition deadlines, and the procedures and requirements to apply for homestead exemptions and productivity values.

"Local tax assessors will also be cooperating in this part of the taxpayer education program," Graeber noted.

According to Graeber, the program is being conducted in March to enable Texans to apply for all tax relief to which they may be entitled before local tax rendition deadlines. "To qualify for most homestead exemptions and productivity valuation for agricultural land, applications must be made to each jurisdiction before the rendition periods ends. Most of the state's local taxing units have rendition deadlines of April 1 or April 30, and failure to make timely application causes loss of the tax relief until the next tax year," Graeber added.

He noted that when the new State Property Tax Code is fully implemented in 1982, all jurisdictions will have a rendition deadline of April 1.

SPTB officials said these categories of homestead exemptions are available: —General Homestead. Those persons qualifying for a residence homestead are entitled to a $5,000 exemption off the market value of the homestead for school tax purposes. An additional $3,000 county homestead exemption from assessed value is available against the portion of the county tax rate for farm-to-market roads or flood control.

Persons 65 or older. Elderly citizens are entitled to an additional $10,000 exemption off the market value of their residence homestead for school taxes. And, while an elderly citizen's property may increase in value through the years, the school taxes owed in any one year cannot be greater than the amount owed in 1979 or in the first year the property owner qualified for the exemption, whichever is greater. An annual application to the school tax office is required.

By local option, school districts, cities and counties may offer additional exemptions to elderly homeowners of not less than $3,000.

—Disability Exemption. Citizens who are disabled and qualify for the residence homestead exemption are entitled to an additional exemption of $10,000 off the market value of their residence homestead. This exemption applies to school taxes only, and a property owner may not receive both the disability exemption and $10,000 exemption for the elderly.

School districts, cities and counties may offer an additional local option disability exemption of not less than $3,000.

—Disabled Veteran or Qualifying Survivor. Certain disabled veterans or their survivors may be entitled to an exemption ranging from $1,500 to $3,000, depending on the percentage of service-connected disability.

This exemption may be applied against the value of any property owned on January 1 of the year in which the application is made. The disabled veteran must be a Texas resident and complete an annual application at local tax offices. Only one property may receive the exemption, and VA or armed forces documents verifying disability are required.

State Property Tax Board officials said agricultural productivity values mentioned earlier, may reduce the tax liability of qualified farmers and ranchers. Details on what types of land may be taxed on productivity rather than market value are available in local tax offices, or in the "Remedies" pamphlet.

New Village Puts Sun To Work

EDITOR'S NOTE—Residents of New Village will put the sun to work for them. The community, designed and built by the people who will live there, is a test of solar living.

By EARL BOHN
Associated Press Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP)—With a hand on their bootstraps and an eye to the future, 50 families are building a town where homes won't have furnaces and "Thou shalt not block thy neighbors' sun" is the 11th commandment. Taking shape on 200 acres of cornfields and forest about an hour's drive southeast of Pittsburgh is New Village, a low-energy community where moderate and low-income families can afford solar living.

The future residents say they can save money by designing and building their own homes. The experiment also could help shorten the path to U.S. energy self-sufficiency.

"Other communities have aspects of solar technology," says Charlotte Stevens, a planning consultant. "But New Village is unique in that it has such a strong ingredient of self help."

The project was fostered by the private, nonprofit Institute of Man and Science of Rensselaerville, N.Y., which specializes in helping communities help themselves.

The Institute combined $250,000 of its own with a $750,000 grant from the Charles Stewart Mott Foundation to provide interest-free seed money for New Village.
