HOMEMADE CAR—A little bit Ford, a little bit Chevrolet and a little bit of everything else too. John Miller says he built this car from the ground up. Miller, the ring master for the circus performing here tomorrow night, says he built the car during the off season to pull the trailer that is his home when traveling with the circus. Total cost to him, he said, was $1800. The car has 143 inch wheel-base, is powered by a 383 cubic inch engine and gets from 7-10 miles to the gallon pulling the trailer. (SDN Staff Photo)

School Board Tables Tax Discount Proposal

Snyder School Trustees last night tabled for further study a proposal for the school district to allow discounts for early payment of taxes and indicated that the school district would not under any circumstances favor split payments of taxes. Contracts of elementary and secondary principals, the head football coach and secondary assistant principals were extended one year. The contracts of principals and assistant principals now run through June 30, 1982, while the head football coach's contract now runs through May 31, 1982. Clarence Minton, county tax collector, and Ray Peveler, chief appraiser for the Scurry County Appraisal District, discussed the tax discount proposal with the board. They had proposed the discount plan since it is allowed by the county and if other taxing jurisdictions approve it, uniformity could be established for paper work in the appraisal and collection offices. Henceforth, the county-wide appraisal district will handle appraisals and the county tax office will handle tax collections for all taxing jurisdictions in the county. Discounts of three percent for payments in October, two percent in November and one percent in December are permitted if approved by the taxing entity. During the discussion it was pointed out that such discounts actually provide no advantage to the taxpayer since budgets must be adjusted upward to take care of any discounts allowed. Also, it was noted that interest rates paid by financial institutions today make it more attractive for many to keep their money as long as possible before paying taxes because they can realize more from investments than from any tax discount. The subject of split payments (December and June) came up, but school officials said it would be impossible for the school district to operate under such a system. Minton said he and Peveler had been in contact with the state tax board seeking information of possible alternatives, but firm opinions on some of the regulations have not yet been received. Following the discussion, the school board tabled the proposal and indicated that discussions with other local taxing jurisdictions would be sought.

Texas Democrats are going to have candidates for president on a ballot May 3, but no matter how the voting goes, it won't guarantee anyone the nomination, or even the support of Texas at the Democratic National Convention. Texans and most other Americans often find themselves embroiled in politics one way or another. There are those who want to vote on everything and those who are suspicious of the whole thing. And then there are those who can take or leave it. Too often it boils down to those in the first category casting the ballots while others fail to show up at the polls due either to apathy or outright disinterest. But the presidential primary will have no more significance than one of the professional polls or the Nielsen ratings for television the way the Texas Democrats are going to do it.

Voters who turn out (and if recent history is a criterion, little more than half of them will) merely will be participating in a "popularity poll." But the idea of voting is popular these days. In fact, we are more of a voting nation than ever before. There was a time when many of our public officials were selected by other methods, and this surprises some people who think that the founding fathers of the country set up our election process. Many are surprised when they learn that the country was well over 100 years old before U.S. Senators were elected by popular vote (the state legislature used to pick them), and that prior to 1919, women were not permitted to vote. And probably even more would be surprised to learn that women were granted the vote—for whatever it is worth—in Russia two years before the 19th amendment was adopted in the United States.

Now it seems that we have more and more "elections" but fewer people actually listen to what the candidates are saying. Perhaps that is the reason that we have just about run out of true orators, such as the Dirksens, the Barkleys, etc. It reminds us of a story about two voters who were sizing up a couple of candidates. In the case of one candidate, they noted that "he doesn't have much to say, but can make that sound awfully important." Of the other, they observed, "He's rather good at clearing his throat, but after that, he's in a good deal of trouble."

House To Vote On Oil Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House is getting a chance to vote on whether most of the $227.7 billion from the proposed "windfall" tax on the oil industry should pay for an energy program or for income tax reductions. But the vote won't be binding, and there's a good chance the House will vote for both ideas. Separate legislation would have to be passed later before either approach could be implemented. The confusing situation developed Tuesday, when the House Rules Committee agreed to procedures under which the House would begin final consideration of the compromise "windfall" tax today. The committee rejected Republican efforts to get a vote on a proposal, which would allow an oil producer to avoid most of the tax by reinvesting his profits in the search for more energy. The panel also refused to allow consideration of a GOP provision that would have exempted from the tax the first 1,000 barrels of oil pumped each day by an independent producer.

Sixty Congressmen Offer Budget Cuts

By SOLL SUSSMAN Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP)—A bipartisan group of 60 congressmen unveiled a program today to balance next year's budget by slashing $24.6 billion in programs said to affect every family in the nation. Rep. Phil Gramm, D-Texas, said the program, developed in five months, represented a bitter pill to end a 20-year spending spree that fueled the current inflation rate.

The bill collector is at the door," he said. Gramm said the proposal makes cuts in 70 full programs but leaves defense and public works spending untouched because it would be unfeasible to get House and Senate majorities to back cuts in those areas. Among the largest cuts could be $4 billion from the CETA program of job training program untouched; $2.4 billion from terminating the general revenue sharing program to the states; $1.9 billion from education, social services and anti-poverty programs; $1.6 billion in income security programs; and $1.1 billion in the food stamp program. The plan also would cut $4.9 billion from federal departments' overhead such as staff travel and publications and $71,000 in regulatory agencies' budgets. "Our objective is to come up with something realistic politically and realistic economically," Gramm said. "Congress is capable of ordering priorities in spending." He said he expected the most massive lobbying effort in American history as each special interest works to make sure budget cuts are made in someone else's program. Rep. Dave Stockman, R-Mich., was asked what he would tell the governor and mayors from his state when they came to Washington to let him know the group's proposed federal budget cuts would devastate state and local budgets. "I'll tell them that the picnic is over," he replied. The other conservative congressmen announcing the proposal were Rep. John Roussetol, R-Calif.; Rep. Charles Stenholm, D-Texas; and Rep. Marvin Leath, D-Texas.

Says DOE...

Oil Embargo Not Broken

WASHINGTON (AP)—Department of Energy officials denied today that oil companies have broken President Carter's embargo on oil imports from Iran, despite government figures showing January shipments of 7.3 million barrels. Ed Vilade, a DOE spokesman, said all of the Iranian oil received in this country in January had been loaded onto ships before the president's Nov. 12 order cutting off Iranian oil purchases in retaliation for the seizure of the American embassy. "The embargo has not been broken. Any other story is just not factually correct," Vilade said in denying a broadcast report. He said DOE figures showed 11 shipments of oil received in January and none for February or so far in March, thus proving that Carter's embargo is taking effect.

"The only landings since the embargo have been landings of oil that left prior to the embargo," Vilade said. Vilade refused to name the oil companies that received the January shipments. Zbigniew Brzezinski, Carter's top national security adviser, told reporters today that while all of the oil was shipped before the embargo, some of it had been stored in the Caribbean before entering the United States.

"There is nothing unusual or remarkable about that," Brzezinski said, adding that the administration was certain the embargo was not being broken.

Khmeini Urging Iran Voters To Polls Today

By The Associated Press Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini today urged Iranians to strengthen the Islamic Republic and dash the hopes of the "oppressive U.S. government" by turning out en masse to elect a new parliament. Khomeini has said the parliament will decide the fate of the American hostages. "In a message broadcast by Tehran Radio on the eve of the first round of parliamentary voting Friday, Iran's 79-year-old revolutionary leader said the enemies of Islam want a small turnout. But he added: "I hope that by your public participation in the elections you will dash the hopes of the enemies of the Islamic republic, the agents of the overthrown regime and its followers, especially the oppressive U.S. Government. Arise on the day of determining this country's fate and storm the ballot boxes to cast your votes. "I hope the nation, after carefully studying the backgrounds of individuals and groups, will vote for those who are faithful to Islam and the constitution, are free of tendencies toward left or right, and are renowned for their good record and commitment to Islam. The nation should know that to stray from his important Islamic task would be treason to Islam and the country." Khomeini said he feared hostile propaganda might influence some of the public so that they vote for those basically opposed to Islam for the benefit of foreigners. The second round of parliamentary voting takes place April 4, and the legislature, known as the Majlis, is expected to convene several weeks later. Khomeini has said the parliament should decide whether to free the approximately 50 hostages, seized 130 days ago by Moslem militants in the U.S. Embassy. President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr has predicted the captives won't be released before "mid-May at the earliest." Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance sees no breakthrough in the hostage crisis before then, and U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim says even that forecast may be too optimistic. In separate statements, Vance and Waldheim counseled patience despite the failure of the U.N. investigating commission to make progress toward release of the hostages during its 17-day stay in Tehran, which ended Tuesday. Vance was meeting with Waldheim today in New York to see if the commission can be revived. Waldheim said Iran needs time to iron out the "strange power situation" that prevails in that country.

Shah Reported Ill Again

PANAMA CITY, Panama (AP)—Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi is reported being readied for another serious operation in a Panamanian hospital. A privately owned local television station said sources at Paitilla Hospital, a private medical center, told it the deposed monarch, who is living on an island off the Pacific coast of Panama, would be admitted soon for the surgery. The report could not be confirmed, but most media in Panama clear such reports with the government.

Court To Decide Phone Case

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Supreme Court today agreed to decide whether Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. must pay $3 million to a fired executive and the widow of another executive. The high court scheduled an April 16 hearing on the case. James H. Ashley, Bell's former commercial manager in San Antonio, and Oleta Gravitt Dixon widow of T.O. Gravitt, Bell's vice president for Texas when he committed suicide Oct. 17, 1974, each won a $1.5 million judgment in a San Antonio trial court. The jury found in 1977 Bell had slandered Gravitt and Ashley during an internal investigation and drove Gravitt to suicide. But the San Antonio Court of Civil Appeals reversed the verdict, saying there was no evidence to support it.

Gold Heist Sets Record

MIAMI (AP)—It was a "monster hit" — perhaps the nation's largest — and whoever walked out of the Miami jewelry store with as much as $8 million in gold knew his trade, an insurance investigator says. "Sophisticated crime hell, this is almost a masterpiece," Richard F. Andrews said Tuesday. "Nobody even knew the place was hit until about 2:45 Sunday afternoon." The robbery is history's largest gold theft and the biggest robbery of any kind ever in Florida, he said.

108 In Special Spring Courses

One hundred eight students have taken advantage of the Spring Opportunity Session courses offered at Western Texas College, Dr. Duane Hood, Dean of Student Services and Registrar, said. "Aerobic Dance (HPE 111) was by far the most popular course offered, with 38 students enrolling. Art 237 offered for students at the Haskell extension center is the second largest class with 19 students. John Gibson, WTC art instructor, is teaching the Haskell class. Other classes in the short session are Art 132 at the Sweetwater extension center with 13 students; Art 133 being taught by Mike Thornton, WTC Fine Arts Division chairman, for 13 students at the Ballinger extension center; Art 237, a sculpture course being taught at WTC by Terry Gilbreth with 12 students, and Sociology 233 at WTC with 13 students. New quarters have also begun for some vocational classes at WTC. Enrollment for the quarter totals 55, with 23 in Cosmetology, two in Golf & Grounds, 5 in Residential Construction, 14 in the beginning Vocational Nursing class and 11 in the advanced Vocational Nursing class. Spring Opportunity Session classes carry college credit but do not conform to the master calendar. They give high school seniors the opportunity to begin earning college credit through the Early Admissions program and give other students the opportunity to pick up additional hours as well.

Nugent Due Here Thursday

James Nugent, Texas Railroad Commissioner, is scheduled to visit Snyder tomorrow in his campaign in the Democratic Primary election. Nugent, who was appointed to the commission by Gov. Dolph Briscoe, is scheduled to arrive by plane at Winston Field at 10 a.m. and plans to campaign briefly in Snyder. His supporters have been invited to greet him at the airport.

politics and paychecks

The nation is in the middle of a foreign crisis so grave that the president is calling for draft registration; yet the public, according to a recent Newsweek poll, is more concerned about domestic issues, especially inflation. Politicians should take note, especially Jimmy Carter.

Last month the consumer price index shot up 1.4 percent; that is an annual rate of 16.8 percent. No matter what's going on in Afghanistan the American people, undoubtedly, think what's happening in their supermarkets is more important. The political significance of this is hard to miss. Carter's popularity jumped up from an all-time low on the heels of a foreign crisis. His low popularity was, among other things, caused by last year's high inflation. As the public's attention begins to swing back to domestic prices, the president's popularity may dip. If it does, expect him to announce a bold plan to deal with inflation.

Until now, Carter has opposed any suggestion that the federal government impose wage and price controls. Nevertheless, Carter reversed himself before when it was expedient, and now the political pressure to do something dramatic is building. Teddy Kennedy, sensing the depth of resentment about inflation, is banging on the podium about the supposed need for federal controls. He, of course, would like the government to control just about everything else, too, but he is now stressing this as a solution to inflation. Ironically, as one of the biggest spenders in the Senate, Kennedy has probably done more than most to create the rampant inflation we now suffer.

If the inflation rate continues to climb, as it likely will, the president may announce the imposition of wage and price controls as a method of blunting the political damage he will suffer. Unfortunately, democracy demands dramatic action whereas a steady low-expansion monetary policy and federal spending curbs are the most sensible available means to keep inflation down. But politics mixed with economics often produces dire results. One need only look at the consumer price index to understand that.

Carter is at this moment substantially ahead of any Republican or Democratic opponent in the popularity polls. Nevertheless, inflation looms as a serious threat to his political future. If by Election Day the inflation rate is 20 percent, as it could be, Jimmy Carter could be vulnerable to a Ronald Reagan. Richard Nixon has often been quoted as saying that it is domestic economics that determine elections in the United States. He could be right and if he is, Jimmy Carter is in trouble. All this could result in the elimination of the people's right to negotiate the wage and prices they charge for their labor and their goods and services.

our time to luck out

It's back to the drawing board for the Carter Doctrine.

The first exercise of a designed for the '80s master plan to contain Soviet expansion has produced zilch. Pakistan is not interested in an emergency American aid package to beef up its resistance to the Soviet threat across the border in Afghanistan.

So there will be no $400 million worth of peanuts as a starter in long-term military and economic assistance, no American defense commitment to a state of dubious durability patched together from antagonistic tribes, no close political association with another strong-arm military regime.

Who says we don't occasionally luck out?

March having no national holidays to boast about, has more of the less favorable sayings to its credit than other months of the year.

Everyone welcomes March after a long winter, despite the discomforts which we seem to tolerate, and can really enjoy its good point. After all, March brings in spring and ends the winter, which is, personally, the best part of it all.

Much to my surprise, I let March slip right by and didn't make note of whether the first day of the month came in like a roaring lion or a meek lamb. (It doesn't matter too much; that saying may hold true some places but West Texas has its own way of doing things weatherwise.

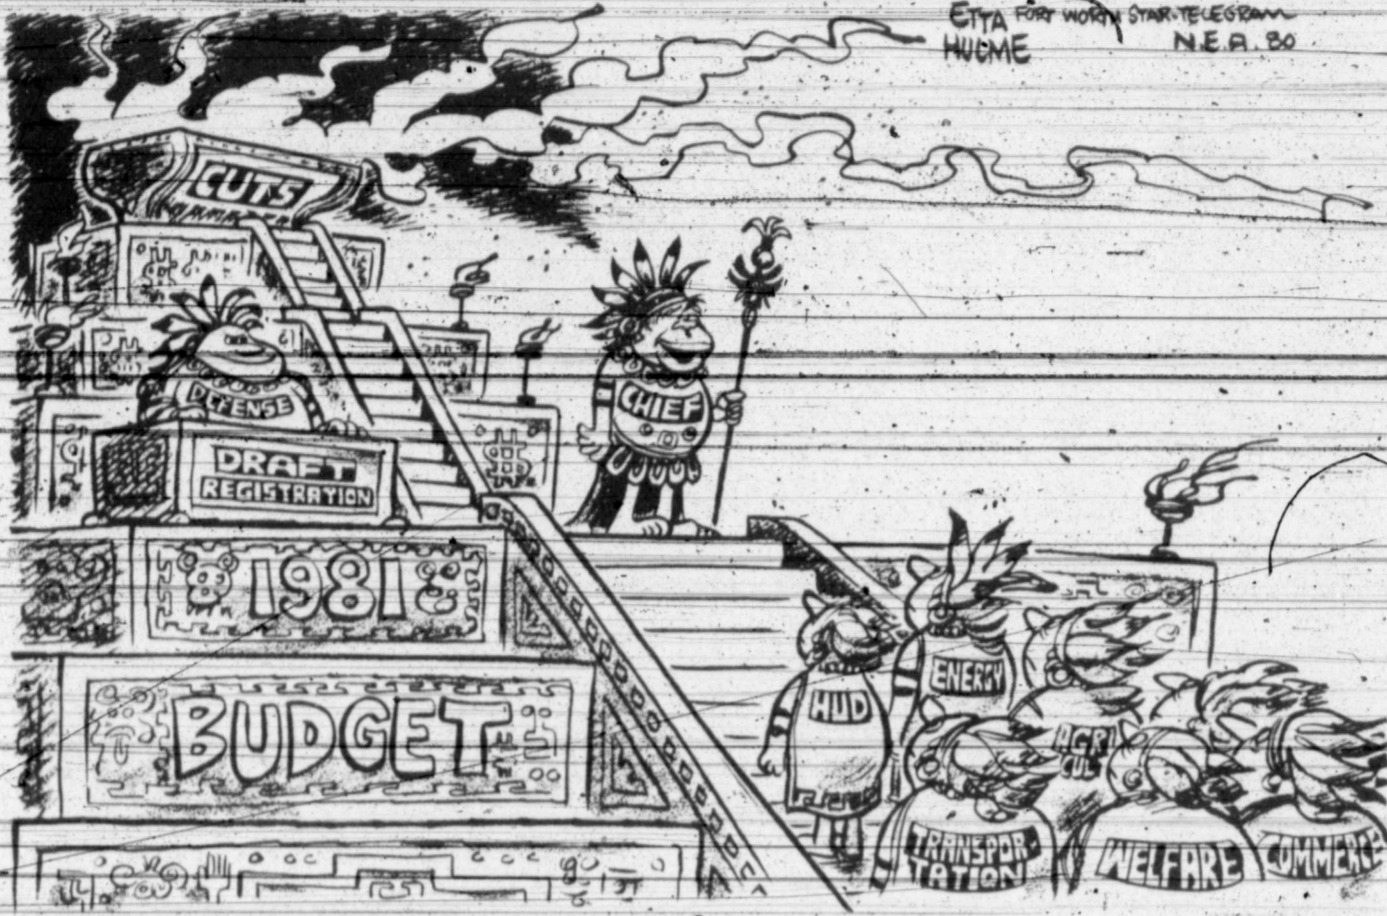

We are familiar with the superstition, "If March comes in like a lion it will go out like a lamb," but there is another one referring to the last of March and first of April. It goes, "April borrowed from March three days and they were ill," which are generally rough and blustery like March. Yet another saying calls the first three days of March "blind days" because they are poor harvests. Some farmers are so superstitious about the three unlucky days that they will not plant seed until March 4.

The saying "Wild as a March Hare" has always been a somewhat puzzling statement. After reading about the habits of this particular animal the association of our occasional actions can be related to the hare's. This phrase derived from the hare's actions in the early spring. They thump the ground with their long, powerful hind legs, jump up and down, twist their bodies in the air, and act as though they were drunk.

Several days of March mark important happenings, like Nebraska's admission to the Union, March 1, Texas' independence from Mexico, March 2, Pennsylvanians commemorate the anniversary of Penn's Charter, the Irish celebrate St. Patrick's Day, March 17, and Maryland celebrates the arrival of the first colonists in 1634. Out of these days with cause for noting special events, we pay more homage to the coming of spring, March 20. St. Patrick's Day runs a close second for its celebrants.

We begin to look for the first robin (or scissortail), leaves on mesquites, and the ever so green sprigs of rye grass.

When do parents stop worrying about their children?

No question has been asked more or answered less.

Is there a magic cut-off period when offspring become accountable for their own actions? Is there a wonderful moment when parents can become detached spectators in the lives of their children and shrug, "It's their life," and feel nothing?

When I was in my 20s, I stood in a hospital corridor waiting for doctors to put a few stitches in my son's head and I asked, "When do you stop worrying?" and a nurse with authority said, "When they get out of the accident-prone stage."

My mother just smiled faintly and said nothing.

When I was in my 30s, I sat on a little chair in a classroom and heard how one of my children talked incessantly, disrupted the class, and was headed for a career making license plates. As if to read my mind, a teacher said, "Don't worry. They all go through this stage and then you can sit back and enjoy them."

My mother listened and said nothing.

When I was in my 40s, I spent a lifetime waiting for the phone to ring, the car's to come home, the front door to open. A friend said, "They're trying to find themselves. In a few years, you can stop worrying. They'll be adults."

By the time I was 50, I was sick and tired of being vulnerable. I was still worrying over my children, but there was a new wrinkle. There was nothing I could do about it. Yet I continued to anguish in their failures, be tormented by their frustrations and absorbed in their disappointments. My friends said when my kids got married I could stop worrying and lead my own life.

I wanted to believe that, but I was haunted by that mother's wan smile and her occasional, "You look pale. Are you all right?" Call me the minute you get home. "Are you depressed about something?"

Can it be that parents are sentenced to a lifetime of worry? Is concern for one, another handed down like a torch to blaze the trail of human frailties and the fears of the unknown? Is concern a curse? Or is it a virtue that elevates us to the highest form of life?

One of my children became quite irritable recently when he said, "Where were you? I've been calling for three days and no one answered. I was worried."

I smiled a wan smile.

The torch has been passed.

boom in regulations

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the fastest growing enterprises in America is the federal regulation of business, says Kenneth Chilton of Washington University's Center for the Study of American Business.

Its growth, he says, "would be the envy of any business executive tracking a company's sales," rising 400 percent from $1.2 billion in 1971 to an estimated $6 billion for 1980.

Some regulations are needed, even those affected concede, but other regulations, even regulators agree, impede output, shrink markets, impose impossible standards and tangle industry in paperwork.

In short, they are inflationary, adding costs to business without any offsetting increases in production. Since the costs cannot be absorbed, they are passed on to buyers and show up in the consumer price index.

Chilton's estimates of the impact on all industry, issued last March by the St. Louis-based center, now are refined to show the impact on small business performance. The impact: devastating.

Chilton teamed with Murray L. Weidenbaum, the center's director, to show that the very existence of many small businesses is endangered by regulations that appear to have overlooked their special needs.

Say the authors: "There seems to be a naive belief on the part of some government policymakers and much of the public that the regulatory system is neutral with respect to the size of the business firm."

Small business, however, has special problems (big ones). The small company, for inscribed by one personnel official as "frenzied." The reason: There are a record number of vacancies to fill, but there may be little time in which to fill them; for there now exists the threat of an administration-imposed hiring freeze.

About two weeks ago, word of a possible freeze began leaking out of the Carter White House. Inflation was heating up as an issue in the presidential primaries and Carter knew he soon would have to make some sort of belt-tightening gesture to relieve some of that campaign pressure. That gesture was going to be a hiring freeze which would be announced sometime during the first week in March.

Apparently, the White House first told this to the congressional leadership. The word quickly leaked down from the Hill to the various agencies as congressmen attempted to make certain their friends and constituents who were up for federal jobs got on board before any freeze took effect. Once the word was out, it spread around town like a California brushfire. It's a safe bet that nearly every federal personnel manager learned of the coming freeze within 24 hours of the first-person tipped.

For most agencies, this freeze could not come at a worse time. Normally, between 8,000 and 12,000 federal workers retire, leave government, or transfer within the bureaucracy each month. This month, however, there apparently were a record number of vacancies, mainly due to record retirements.

What brought on the record retirement was a change in the way federal retirement incomes are figured, which took effect March 1. Retirement income is based on such factors as length of employment, age, pay rates, etc. Almost without exception, however, a worker eligible for retirement who retired before the end of February will get more in retirement than if he or she left after March 1. This is primarily due to a 6 percent cost-of-living increase granted retirees effective March 1. To be eligible, the retiree had to have been on the retirement rolls by February.

In some cases, the difference was so small that it was not enough to induce a worker to leave. In a great many cases, however, the amount involved was several thousand dollars a year, and that adds up to a tidy sum over a 20- or 25-year retirement period.

According to Office of Personnel Management estimates, there were about 250,000 federal workers who were eligible for retirement on February 1. How many actually chose to take the higher retirement benefits and get out has not been compiled yet, but at mid-month one OPM estimate pegged the number at 75,000.

Thus, it is easy to see the potential effect of a hiring freeze that would be imposed now. The way to get around it, of course, is to hire before the freeze is imposed, which explains why all the late hours by agency personnel people.

The idea was to get "commitment letters" in the mail before any freeze was imposed. This is what happened on February 29. Every agency sought to get its commitment letters out on every vacancy by the end of the day.

The idea was to get "commitment letters" in the mail before any freeze was imposed. This is what happened on February 29. Every agency sought to get its commitment letters out on every vacancy by the end of the day.

In some cases, though, this may backfire. According to an agency personnel officer who asked to remain nameless, the situation late last week was something akin to the recruiting season for potential college basketball stars.

"You know that the good people," the ones who scored well and had gotten good ratings on the tests, had applications pending all over town," the source said. "And you also know that, given the number of openings that had to be filled instantly, that these people were going to get more than one offer. So you wanted to try to get a prior commitment from a person that, if you made them a binding offer, they would accept it. You did not want to waste a commitment."

The source admits, however, that this procedure really won't mean much in some cases. Simply put, some of the applicants who scored well on civil service tests undoubtedly applied to a number of different agencies. Just as undoubtedly, more than one of those agencies will seek a commitment from the applicant. If these applicants do not immediately inform the agencies of their choices, the losers likely will be left out in the cold. And that could leave the agencies involved frozen at a lower personnel level than administrators believe is necessary to function with even minimum efficiency.

Mesquite District Plans 20th Annual Convention At MAWC

The Mesquite District's 20th annual convention of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs (TFWC) will be held March 14-15 in Snyder.

Representatives from the 34 clubs in the Mesquite District are expected for the two-day meeting at the Martha Ann Woman's Club.

District officers, club presidents and members are invited to attend, said Mrs. J.C. McGee of Knox City, Mesquite District president.

"Since emphasis these past two years has been on Federation Heritage, we will carry out this theme throughout the convention," said Mrs. McGee.

Using the theme "Federation Trails Remembering With Unity and Diversity," pre-convention activities will begin with executive committee meetings at 1 p.m. March 14.

Following the opening of the convention at 1:30 p.m. a business session will be held. Mrs. Harold Green of Tahoka, TFWC second vice president, will be the featured speaker.

A tour to the Diamond M Museum will begin at 4 p.m. After the Pioneer Trails Dinner honoring club presidents, Mrs. McGee will host a "Last Round Up Snacks" gathering in her room at the American Motor Inn.

Saturday's activities will include reports of projects, contests and an "End of the Trail" luncheon.

Prairie prizes (door prizes) will be given throughout the convention.

General chairman for the convention is Mrs. Lester Moore and Miss Margaret Miller is co-chairman, both of Snyder. Mrs. A.J. Smith of Anson planned the convention program. Hostess clubs for the convention are Alpha Study Club, Altrurian Club, Altrurian Daughters Study Club, Amie Junior Study Club, Art Guild Study Club and Twentieth Century Club, all of Snyder.

The first Ladies Day in major league baseball was held by the Chicago Cubs in 1929.

'A TASTE OF SPRING' PLANNED Six home extension clubs of Scurry County will have a tasting tea and craft day to be held March 20, beginning at 10 a.m. in Scurry County Coliseum, room A. The tasting tea will be a full course lunch; with each dish there will be a recipe available. A $3.50 ticket entitles one to get instruction in four out of six crafts available and the luncheon. Crafts to chose from will include silk flowers and fabric butterflies by Patchwork HE, broomstick lace by Stargazers, carpet scrap craft by Knapp, liquid embroiders by Plain Sew, T-shirts by Herneigh and spice ropes by Union. Serving on the planning committee above are, from left, Mae Shafer, Dena Martinez, Clovis Robinson, Brenda Lee, chairman, Janet Spence and her son Brian, and not pictured, Jo Ann Nunley. Deft drop dumps declarer

North and South were using a 15-17 point notrump, which explains why North opened one club and jumped to two notrump over the heart response.

South's three-diamond call was normal, as was North's three hearts. At this point South might well have tried three notrump instead of four hearts. Three notrump would have waltzed home, and four hearts might have made, but South went wrong at trick one and gave East a chance to make the killing defensive play.

defense its only chance. If South had ducked that queen he would have made the game. But he decided that maybe there was a 5-1 spade break against him, so South clattered up with dummy's ace.

Now it was East's turn to think. If he followed small to the ace, as most players would automatically do, South would still make his heart game. He would come to one spade trick, three hearts, four diamonds and two clubs.

East knew his side had two tricks: one spade and two trump. If West held the jack of spades, as his lead indicated, there was a way. East realized, of scoring three trump tricks and one spade trick.

Consequently, East dropped his king on the ace of spades and now declarer could no longer make his game. When East won the first heart with his queen, he returned a spade to West's jack and ruffed the spade return. The ace of trump was the defense's fourth trick.

NEW YORK (AP)—A visual history of the working woman in various occupations is the subject of an exhibition at the Downtown Branch of the Whitney Museum of American Art from March 13 through April 16.

Paintings, prints, drawings, photographs, illustrations and postcards showing the diversity of interpretations by artists are included in the more than 100 works in "The Working Woman, 1840-1945." They are presented chronologically in three groupings: 1840 through the Civil War; post-Civil War through 1914; and World War I through 1945.

Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

March 13, 1980

There are a lot of good surprises in store for you this coming year, but you must be careful that negative thinking doesn't spoil them. Look for the positive side in all your endeavors.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You may feel a bit like you're being pulled in two directions today. Chances are you will be, if you allow others to overly influence you. Romance, travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph Letter, which begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be careful today about making any commitments without first having a clear understanding of what you're getting into. You could bite off more than you can chew.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Steer a middle course if you're with people who have conflicting views. It's all right to arbitrate, but don't take sides.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Use no methods to advance your aims that could tarnish your image. The means will not justify the ends.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You may be tempted to poke your nose into a situation with no direct bearing on you. You'll have a sticky time getting out of it if you do.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Make no transactions today where there is something of material value at stake, unless you know exactly what you're doing. You could suffer a permanent loss.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Stall for time if you feel you're being pressed into making a decision you're unsure of, especially if it involves your work. There could be long-term effects.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You're likely to have a heavier work load than usual today. Pace yourself wisely so you don't create additional stress.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Be very selective as to whom you chum around with. Associating with the wrong types could leave a permanent scar on your reputation.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Don't skim over important situations. Things swept under the rug may later surface in an ugly fashion.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Nothing advantageous will be gained today by trying to impose unpopular ideas or suggestions on unwilling listeners. Know when to be quiet.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Better put a lock and key on the old money belt today. You could be talked into spending far more than you can really afford. Be prudent in all your dealings.

DENNIS THE MENACE

Boys Scouts New Uniform Unveiled

Takes Exception To 'Exceptional'

By Abigail Van Buren

1980 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: You recently published a letter from the mother of a Mongoloid child in which she refers to him as "exceptional" and "special." I must thank you for printing such letters, since they always give me a good laugh. Imagine having the gall to use words describing excellence, superiority and noteworthiness in reference to people with mental and physical deficiencies.

I can hardly wait for a SWAT team to discover that their "special" weapons are slingshots, or to hear of the shock of a teacher who has been refused tenure as a result of his or her "exceptional" work in the field of education.

WILLIAM G. ANDERSON, JR.

DEAR MR. ANDERSON: My Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary defines "exceptional" as "forming an exception; rare," "better than average," and "below average."

And "special" is defined as "that which is distinguished by some unusual quality; being other than usual; unique." I am always pleased when a reader "gets a good laugh" from something in my column, but the letter I published about the Down's-Syndrome (please, not "Mongoloid") child was not meant to be amusing. Furthermore, what gives you a good laugh strikes me as being funny—meaning "different from the ordinary." And more than a little cruel.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is engaged to marry a young man she went with all through high school. (She is 21 and he is 22.) He went overseas, but was sent home before his hitch was up because he had been having "blackouts." He spent several months in the hospital under observation, and was then discharged, but he still sees a psychiatrist once a month at the VA hospital here.

My daughter told me he has struck her several times lately. She said last night he slapped her hard across the mouth because she disagreed with him on some small thing. He cried and apologized afterward so she forgave him.

What worries me is that after they are married they will be living in another state and I am afraid of what he may do to her.

How can I get her to postpone her wedding until I am sure he is all right? Or should I just leave well enough alone and hope for the best? She says she loves him, but at times she's afraid of him.

I don't like to interfere, but I can't let my daughter make what could be a serious mistake. Should I contact the boy's doctor and ask him some questions? Please give me some advice.

CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: Your daughter should postpone her marriage. She should ask to accompany her fiancé on his next visit to the doctor, and together they should get a complete report on his condition and the prognosis. No girl should marry a man she is afraid of.

DEAR ABBY: After 27 years with me, my wife, Phyllis, is reasonably able to cope with weirdos of any stripe. She recently had an encounter with a flasher here at our railroad station in Connecticut, and I'd like to pass on her solution to the confrontation as a sort of primer for future victims.

Confronted by our Westport flasher, raincoat agape, my fashion-conscious wife glanced briefly at the man, then whispered to him, "Sorry, Shorty, I can't read the label on the coat," whereupon he angrily buttoned up and slunk off in a snit.

IRVING (AP)—Boy Scouts could purchase their entire outfit for $11 after the last uniform change, but that was 58 years before fashion designer Oscar de la Renta added his touch.

The Boy Scouts of America haven't changed much about their uniform since the alterations of 1922. But today BSA officials are unveiling a new designer line of uniforms that will cost a Scout in the neighborhood of $38, sans coat.

De la Renta kept the basic look of the traditional uniform, but he did away with the outdated garter tabs on the shorts and added a few extra pockets.

"We felt the uniform should meet several criteria," de la Renta said. "It should be suitable for strenuous activity; it should be made from an easy care fabric; and at the same time the wearer should still look like a Scout."

The new uniforms won't be in use for the four million American Cubs and Scouts until August.

But the old-style shorts and slacks will still be considered "regulation," officials said. In fact, they've reduced the prices of the older uniforms as the designer stock moves in.

Little old ladies who need help crossing the street will still recognize a Scout, since the only noticeable change is that the once all tan regular uniforms will have dark, olive green slacks and a tan shirt.

BSA officials say the changes were made in response to requests received from the membership.

"It was just a question of updating," said marketing director Matt Dorfman. "Members said they never had enough pockets, so we added patch pockets to the pants. We're also using a heavier weight of fabric for durability."

The fabric weave also is tighter, "so a Cub Scout in Minnesota is not going to be standing outside with the cold wind blowing through his trousers," said J. Jay Cassen, national director of the BSA supply division, who asked de la Renta for the new designs two years ago.

"We've had a lot of positive feedback." The uniform also sports new headgear, including a cap that looks more like a baseball cap than the traditional beanie-type cap.

Cub Scouts, troop leaders and den mothers also get a new look, although the younger Scout uniforms are still the traditional navy blue with yellow trim.

The newest feature on Cub outfits are reversible shirts with collars that can be tucked in when a neck scarf is worn. Leader uniforms are basically the same with heavier fabric and a wider selection of uniform styles.

Application For Lions' Camp Due

The Snyder Lions Club is presently accepting applications for the Texas Lions Camp for Crippled and Diabetic Children in Kerrville.

Eligible campers include blind or visually impaired children, deaf or hearing impaired, physical handicaps affecting one or more limbs, or children with diabetes who are insulin dependent.

Four different two-week sessions will be held throughout the summer for physically handicapped children, ages 7-16, and two different two-week sessions for children with diabetes, ages 6-16.

Campers are well supervised in a variety of recreational activities and the child's health care and safety is a primary concern of staff while at camp.

No charge is made to parents because Lions believe in giving service to others equally. This summer marks the 27th year for the Texas Lions to sponsor the physically handicapped children's camp and the 10th year for the diabetic camp.

Parents and the general public are invited to contact any Snyder Lions Club member for additional information or for referring a child for camp. Snyder Lions Camp Committee members include Bill Dryden, Dr. Michael Dunham, Tom Machen, Carmen McCown, Dr. Shasi Rao and Bob Wainington.

Stanfield To Get 'Dinosaur'

"We are preparing for a dinosaur invasion at Stanfield Elementary," says Principal Wayne Kennedy. "But the children are not afraid, they're excited."

This is probably because instead of the real thing the "dinosaur" Kennedy is referring to is a 25 foot-long and 9 feet-high plastic inflatable model.

The creation is a project of Mrs. Cannon's and Mrs. Bailey's kindergarten class. The project will highlight the Year of the Dinosaur celebrated by the Weekly Reader, a newspaper aimed at young people and the supplier of the dinosaur.

Hang a paper bag beside your sewing machine and toss in scraps and threads as you work. The cleanup will be easier and the bits and pieces make a good filling for small throw pillows.

Scattered Showers In Central Texas

By The Associated Press
Scattered thundershowers covered central Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas today while a mixture of rain and snow hit northeast Kansas and much of Missouri.
Winter storm watches are up for much of the Midwest. Snow and blowing snow were reported along the Red River Valley in Minnesota and North Dakota. Snow was also falling over the central Rockies. The Pacific Northwest had scattered rain showers, with snow in the higher elevations. There was some snow over the lower Great Lakes and northern Appalachians.
To remove peach skins, drop them into boiling water for one minute, then plunge them into cold water. The skins should slip off readily.

OBITUARIES

Minnie George
Minnie Maxie George, 79, who lived at 3106 Ave. T, died at 6:30 a.m. today at Leisure Lodge.
Funeral arrangements were pending at Bell-Seale Funeral Home.
She is survived by two sisters, Maude Holcomb of Snyder and Eula Easterling of Monahans; a brother, Earnest Cook of Oklahoma City; and two nephews, Don S. Stevens of Davis, Okla., and John Lee Stevens of New York City.

J. F. Hinton
Funeral service has been set for 3 p.m. Friday in the Bell-Seale Chapel for Joseph French Hinton, 74, of San Angelo, who died in Community Hospital there at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday.
The Rev. Miller F. Robinson will officiate. He will be assisted by the Rev. Mike Hinton of Lexington, Ky., a grandson. Burial will be in Hillside Memorial Gardens, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.
A native of Pond Creek, Okla., Mr. Hinton was a graduate of the University of Oklahoma and served as a high school teacher and principal for nine years, in addition to other positions in the field of education. He joined the Oklahoma National Guard in 1928 and was called to active duty in 1942, attaining the rank of colonel in the Army Reserve. He served as educational officer at Goodfellow Air Force Base from 1964 until his retirement in 1972.
Surviving are his wife, Verna; of San Angelo; a son, Joseph D. Hinton of Snyder; a daughter, Mrs. James V. Massy Jr. of Fort Worth; four grandsons and one great-grandson.

Two Vehicles Are In Mishap
A minor two-vehicle traffic accident was investigated Tuesday morning by city police.
The accident occurred at 9:10 a.m. at the intersection of 23rd St. and Ave. B and was worked by officer Joe Bob Martinez. It involved a 1973 Oldsmobile driven by Antonio Ramirez and a 1976 Chevrolet driven by Pamela Williams.

Monahans Tournament Next...

Cooper Outlasts Tigers, 7-3

Snyder High School dropped its sixth straight game here yesterday, falling to Abilene Cooper 7-3. The Tigers, 1-6 on the season, will attempt to get on the winning track Thursday as they enter Monahans' Tournament play. Snyder will play its first class, AAA opponent of the season in the tourney opener, Andrews, at 7:45 p.m. Winner will play a Fort Stockton-Monahans victor at 7:15 Friday. Losers vie at 2:45. Other teams in the three-day tournament are Pecos, Seminole, Odessa Permian and Kermit. Cooper took a 1-0 lead in the first inning, with help of a couple of Tiger errors. Snyder came back to go in front in the bottom of the stanza, however, 3-1.

Bryan Vincent drew a walk and advanced to second base on a ground out. Bobby Degrate also drew a walk, and a double by Tracey Neves brought Vincent in for Snyder's first score of the afternoon. Sam Willis then reached first on a fielder's choice which tagged Degrate. Mike Roemisch got the third Tiger walk of the inning, and Shawn Ragland slapped a single which scored both Willis and Neves.

The double by Neves and Ragland's single were the only two hits Snyder was to get all day. After two-thirds of the first inning, Cooper coaches pulled their starting pitcher and put shortstop Kurt Russell on the mound. Russell, 2-0, rode herd over the hosts for the remainder of the contest. Abilene picked up another run in the fourth inning as Stuard knocked one over the fence. The Eagles passed Snyder in the fifth with two runs helped in with a double and a single, and added three more in the seventh. Snyder came up with one double play in the game. With one Eagle player on first base, Tiger center fielder Ricky Gambol snared a deep fly ball. Gambol hurled the catch to second baseman Mike Roemisch, who zipped it to Willis in time to catch the baserunner who had failed to tag up after the hit.

Texas Trio Head Doral

MIAMI (AP)—A group of fishing buddies from Texas—Ben Crenshaw, Bruce Lietzke and Bill Rogers—could be the men to watch this week in the $250,000 Doral Open Golf Tournament. Their credentials are all in order.

Lietzke and Rogers both played extremely well last week in the Jackie Gleason-Inverrary Classic. Crenshaw, of course, is one of the game's leading lights and must be considered a title threat in any tournament he enters.

All three finished among the top 10 money-winners last season, each won a tournament (Rogers in a prestigious event in England) and they had a combined total of 10 second-place finishes.

The three, frequent fishing companions during the offseason, appear to be reaching a peak and could get an extra boost from the warm, sunny south Florida weather.

"I was just waiting for the weather to turn warm," Rogers, from Texarkana, said after a strong, fourth-place finish last week in Inverrary. "I feel like I've been playing pretty good, but I never do much of anything until we get some warm weather."

"I'm a notoriously bad player in bad weather," said Lietzke, a native of Beaumont. He tied for second last week. "I'd only had one decent tournament this year before Inverrary. I really feel my game is coming around now. I'm very encouraged, very enthusiastic about playing this week."

Post's Past Gives Her Strength For Future

RANCHO BERNARDO, Calif. (AP)—Veteran Sandra Post, who once went 10 years on the women's golf tour without a victory, is a textbook case of tenacity. Not long ago the question the 12-year veteran heard most often was: "When are you going to retire?"

She changed all that last year by winning $195,000—second largest total ever by a woman golfer. With official 1979 earnings of $178,750, she was less than $19,000 shy of Nancy Lopez-Melton's staggering total of $197,488.

"I'm just hitting my peak," said Post, who turns 32 in June. With Lopez-Melton sitting out this week, Post is among 19 of the tour's top 20 money winners entered in the $150,000 Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament at Rancho Bernardo Country Club. Heavy rains have left the Rancho Bernardo course silt-laden and soggy, which will probably affect play at least in the early rounds of the hole event, which is scheduled to run Thursday through Sunday. "It's very soft," said LPGA official Jim Morgan. "We'll have to play preferred lies at least in some places."

Post, who won rookie of the year honors in 1968 after capturing the LPGA championship, had to overcome a confidence crisis to reach the top. "I was 18 when I joined the tour. We're not on the world. I didn't have any fears. Then came my divorce and I began to learn about fears and not being very sure of myself."

From rock bottom earnings of $1,765 in 1970, she capped the decade by winning three tournaments last year during her spectacular season. From the lean years, she said, she learned "not to let a 78 or a 88 hurt me." Even with her stunning emergence, she remains well in the shadow of Lopez-Melton. "I know it's that way, but honestly, it doesn't irritate me. That's just the way people are. Besides, Nancy definitely shot us into the limelight and all of us have been rewarded because of it."

But she added, "I really don't think any one person is the tour. We're not as limited as they are, say, in tennis. We have a lot of women out here who can really play now. That's one of our strong points. We don't have to depend on the same names week after week."

NFL Adds Two Refs; Interprets Some Rules

RANCHO MIRAGE, Calif. (AP)—The feud between National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle and Al Davis continued to hold center stage at the NFL meetings here, but two new officials added for next year's playoff games won't be assigned to arbitrate their differences.

The NFL Competition Committee on Tuesday assigned the two officials to work in playoff games henceforth, but without authority to call penalties. They will merely be there to help the other seven officials assigned to the games and discuss controversial plays.

The additional two would be members of regular crews used on NFL games during the season. "We will have instant replay with live personnel," said Tex Schramm of the Dallas-Cowboys, referring to the demands by many that television replay be used to decide controversial plays. "I suggested it, I'll take the blame," said Schramm, the committee chairman.

Previously, the rule only applied when the quarterback was in the pocket. Meantime, Rozelle said Jack Tatum's book, "They Call Me Assassin," will be studied by the league office to determine if any action should be taken. Tatum wrote that he often took pleasure in meeting out punishment to opponents.

Tatum is a defensive back for the Oakland Raiders. Davis, general manager partner of the Raiders, was still steaming Tuesday over the vote 24 hours earlier by NFL owners' 22-0 with five absences against allowing him to move his team to Los Angeles. Davis announced such an intention last month.

Meanwhile, Monday's vote was felt in Los Angeles where the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors balked at signing a joint powers agreement that would conditionally commit the board to putting up a $5 million loan to help finance the Raiders' move to the L.A. Coliseum.

Supervisors Yvonne Brathwaite Burke and Ed Edelman said they wanted the two other agencies involved in financially backing the Raiders' move, the Los Angeles City Council and the L.A. Olympic Organizing Committee, to "share the risk" in advancing money for that move.

A board vote on the matter was delayed until next week. The concern stems from an agreement reached between the Coliseum, Commission and the Raiders stipulating that if the move collapses, the football team will receive "the amount necessary to compensate it for actual damages, expenses and costs."

North Idaho First Round WTC Foe

HUTCHINSON, Kan. Western Texas Westerners, ranked No. 1 in the nation, will begin their bid for an NJCAA National Tournament title March 18 at 8:30 p.m. here.

The Westerners, boasting an incredible 33-0 record, take on 28.5 North Idaho College of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho as the five-day tourney gets underway in the Hutchinson Sports Arena. Tuesday's entry will mark the fourth straight year Western Texas has put a team in the national tournament. Last year, under present coach Nolan Richardson, the Westerners finished in fourth place. Western Texas has been to the NJCAA tournament four other times in its nine-year athletic history, finishing No. 11, No. 3, No. 6 and No. 4.

North Idaho, coached by Rolly Williams for the past 19 years, made it to the nationals in 1978 and finished tenth. The Cardinals had been ranked as high as No. 19 this season, but were dropped from the final poll.

The matchup should be a good one, though because of that No. 1 ranking—and superior bench strength—the Westerners will be favored to win their 34th game of the season. Both teams like to run, fast break, and play good defense.

Though North Idaho considers itself a running squad, defense has been its mainstay. At one time the Cardinals were among the nation's top ten in points allowed per game, giving up only 60 points per opponent.

A solid front five head up the Cardinal team, which reached the national tournament by defeating Chemeketa Community College of Salem, Ore. 74-64 for the regional title. North Idaho is located in Region 18, the Westerners in Region 5.

NIC is paced by heavily recruited guard Claude Butler, a 6-1 sophomore who averages 18 points a game. The other guard is 6-2 sophomore Jerry Britian, averaging 10 points as a transfer from Butler University. Forwards are 6-6 sophomore John Bell and 6-3 sophomore Wendell Denton, the team's leading outside shooter. Filling the middle is center Greg Wiljer, the only freshman in the lineup, and standing 6-10, Wiljer averages over two blocked shots a game, and three times this season had 10 blocks in a game. North Idaho College's weakness may lie in its bench strength—an area in which Western Texas excels. The Cardinals seldom ever play more than seven athletes a game, and prefer to stay with the original five, which have opened for NIC in every game except one.

Meanwhile, the Westerners frequently utilize 10 players per game, and almost always find room for eight, even when the going is at its toughest.

A full bracket on the tournament has yet to be released, so no future opponents may be speculated upon. Sixteen teams make the trip to Hutchinson each year.

Board Work Desired, Contact Ohio Buckeyes

By The Associated Press
Rebounding from a midseason slump and on the offensive boards is what has gotten Ohio State this far. And it's what the 10th-ranked Buckeyes are hoping to use Thursday night to beat UCLA in the third round of the NCAA basketball tournament.

Collins' Miss... Huge Success

AP Sports Writer
Doug Collins did exactly what he was supposed to do - he missed a free throw.

Collins' miss, with two seconds to play at Atlanta Tuesday night, gave Philadelphia teammate Julius Erving a chance to grab the rebound and sink the tying basket as the buzzer sounded ending regulation play, and the Hawks went on to beat the Nets 102-97.

"It was dogfight, but we managed to pull it out with a miraculous play," said Collins, who almost became the goat when he missed the first of two foul shots with two seconds to play and the Sixers trailing 88-86, but made up for it when he missed the second try.

Had he made that shot, Philadelphia would still have trailed by one point. But by missing, he gave his teammates a shot at the rebound and tying basket.

"What you have to do on a play like that is make sure you box the guys out," said Atlanta forward Dan Roundfield. But Erving refused to be kept away from the rebound and converted it for the tying basket.

Forward Bobby Jones then took command in overtime, scoring six points as the Sixers pulled away.

In other NBA games Tuesday night, the Indiana Pacers beat the Boston Celtics 114-108, the New York Knicks trounced the Houston Rockets 129-109, the San Antonio Spurs defeated the Washington Bullets 111-104, the Chicago Bulls edged the Kansas City Kings 100-98, the Cleveland Cavaliers trimmed the New Jersey Nets 122-119, the Denver Nuggets topped the Golden State Warriors 96-87 and the Los Angeles Lakers beat the San Diego Clippers 123-106.

Philadelphia's victory, combined with Boston's loss, moved the Sixers within one game of first-place Boston in the Atlantic Division race.

Atlanta led by as many as 11 points in the third period before Philadelphia rallied. Jones led the Sixers with 21 points and Erving had 18, while Roundfield had 28 for Atlanta.

Pacers 114, Celtics 108
Reserve guard Joe Hasset, Indiana's outside shooting specialist, scored 13 points in a 17-4 fourth-quarter burst that carried the Pacers past Boston, snapping Indiana's eight-game losing string.

Hasset hit three, three-point goals and a pair of two-pointers as the Pacers turned back a Boston rally that had closed the gap day night's Purdue, 20-9, vs. Indiana, 21-7, and Duke, 23-8, vs. Kentucky, 29-5, in the Midwest Regionals.

In Friday night's regionals it's Iowa, 21-8, vs. Syracuse, 26-3, and Maryland, 24-6, vs. Georgetown, 25-5 in the East and Louisville, 29-3, vs. Texas A&M, 26-7, and Missouri, 25-5, vs. Louisiana State, 25-5 in the Midwest.

"We're getting more of offensive rebounds now,"

Knicks 129, Rockets 109

Knicks guard Ray Williams, playing what he called "my best all-around game of the season," scored 35 points, handed out eight assists and grabbed six steals as New York beat Houston.

"We played badly, our worst game all year," said Rockets Coach Del Harris. "Our defense was gone. Our tempo was gone. It looked like it was the first time we had met all year."

Spurs 111, Bullets 104
San Antonio snapped an eight-game losing streak by beating Washington at Landover, Md., and moving one-half game ahead of the Bullets in their race for the final Eastern Conference playoff spot. NBA scoring leader George Gervin led San Antonio with 41 points and backcourtmate James Silas added 26, including 12 in the final six minutes.

sais Herb Williams, Ohio State's 6-foot-10 center who scored 25 points and grabbed nine rebounds to help the Buckeyes rip apart Arizona State 89-75.

"All of our guys are following their shots and putting the ball back in," Larry Brown, UCLA's coach, is concerned about Williams' presence under the boards for OSU, particularly if the officiating is loose. "If they let it go, it'll be tough on us because Ohio State plays power offense and loves to get the ball inside to Williams," Brown said. "If we win, it'll have to be with defense and quickness."

If the Bruins win the tournament it'll be the surprise of the year - and that in itself must sound strange to fans who remember when the NCAA tournament was known only half-jokingly as the UCLA Invitational.

The Bruins, who won 10 championships in 13 years, entered this year's tournament unranked but they put to rest the suggestion they didn't deserve to be in the 48-team field by shocking top-ranked DePaul 77-71 in last Sunday's second-round game.

UCLA's victory wasn't the only upset of this tournament. Equally shocking was Lamar's 81-77 triumph over fifth-ranked Oregon State. It was Lamar Coach Billy Tubbs said. "The best we played all year," and he said the Cardinals would have to play at least as well to beat Clemson in a meeting of unranked squads.

The natural rivalry of seventh-ranked Indiana against No. 20 Purdue comes into play in the Midwest.

Stewart Selected As Sam Houston Arlington Coach

ARLINGTON - Billy Stewart, a 1964 graduate of Snyder High School, has been named head football coach at Sam Houston High School in Arlington.

Sam Houston High teams compete in District 8-AAA this year and next season will be moving into the new 5-A classification.

Stewart attended the University of Texas at Arlington where he was a star athlete. He received the bachelor of arts degree there in 1969 with majors in physical education and history. Subsequently, he received a masters degree in school administration from East Texas State University.

He joined the coaching staff at Sam Houston High in 1970. He is married to the former Cheryl Wilkie of Grand Prairie. She is a teacher in the Arlington Public Schools and they have one son, Charles, 1 1/2. They live at 1609 Homemaker Hill in Arlington.

Stewart is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Stewart, Rt. 2, Snyder, and is the brother of Lou Meadows and Delores Eckert, both of Snyder.

"We played twice last year and got to go to New York and play them again in the National Invitation Tournament," said Purdue Coach Lee Rose, "and lo and behold we end up against them this year in the NCAA."

Big Ten Dominates NIT Basketball Tournament

By The Associated Press
The Big Ten Conference, which dominated the National Invitation Tournament last year when there was a two-team limit on entries from each conference in the national championship playoffs, is doing it again this year despite a decided second-division lock.

Four Big Ten teams - Indiana, Ohio State, Purdue and Iowa - were invited to the NCAA tournament, but that didn't stop the NIT selectors from picking Illinois, Minnesota and Michigan. And they haven't disappointed so far, with all three advancing through the first two rounds.

In Monday night's second-round games Minnesota, 19-10, nipped Mississippi 58-56; Michigan, only 17-12, nevertheless battered Texas-El Paso 74-65 and Illinois, 20-12, whipped Illinois State 75-63.

Other games saw Virginia edge Boston College 57-55, Murray State stun Alabama 70-62, Nevada Las Vegas beat Long Beach State 90-81, Southwest Louisiana upset Texas 77-76, and St. Peter's outlast Duquesne 34-33.

In Thursday's third round, the last before the final four move on to New York for the semifinals and finals, Michigan will play at Virginia, Illinois will play host to Murray State, Minnesota will entertain Southwestern Louisiana and St. Peter's will visit Nevada-Las Vegas.

Although none of the NIT teams are in The Associated Press' Top Twenty, there are still some individual stars in the tournament - such as All-Americans Andrew Toney of Southwestern Louisiana and stalwart freshman Sidney Green of Nevada-Las Vegas and centers Ralph Sampson of Virginia and Kevin McHale of Minnesota, all honorable mention All-Americans.

Yantis Hired As Snyder Club Pro

Mike Yantis, an assistant at Lubbock Hillcrest Country Club for the past three and one-half years, has been named the new pro at Snyder Country Club.

Yantis, 25, will replace Don Bryant, who resigned in late February to take the post at San Angelo Country Club.

"Mike is a very good player and a good teacher," said Bryant, who leaves Snyder after spending 18 months here. "He is skilled in every phase I couldn't be happier about the choice. I feel very confident he can handle the job and can help continue the program here in a progressive manner."

Yantis, a graduate of Texas A&M, is a native of San Angelo and attended the same high school as Bryant. He assisted Bryant on a committee of the Junior Four the past two years.

In his training to become a professional, Yantis scored in the top five percent in the nation on his Business II test in 1979, earning the commendation of national president Frank Card. He finished fourth in the 1979 chapter golf championship, and tied for first in the 1979 West Texas Chapter Assistants Championships.

Yantis and his wife Patty are expecting a child in early April. He will officially take over as pro here March 20.

WTC Competes In Austin Meet

AUSTIN - Western Texas College will compete in the Texas University Intercollegiate Golf Tournament here Thursday and Friday.

The 54-hole, two-day tournament will be held at Great Hills Country Club, and will consist of 27 holes of play each day.

Representing WTC in the tournament will be freshman bowler results men Chris Johnson, Frank Monfrey, Jeff Wagner and Richard White, and sophomores Ken Lawrence and Mike Mahan. Coaching the team is Bob O'Day.

The Westerners go on spring break March 15-23, but will pick up action again March 27-28 at the Sam Houston Intercollegiate Tournament in Huntsville.

Spring conference meets begin April 11 in Hobbs, N.M.

In 1979, there were at least 1,137,000 unmarried couples living together in the United States. This was a 117 percent increase since 1970, according to the Bureau of the Census.

Grandmother Uses Gun To Nab Bandit

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Mrs. O'Brien, who has five grandchildren, says she may have spoiled her image as a "sweet little old lady" by corralling an intruder in her garage with a gun.

But the 60-year-old grandmother says it's just too bad the handgun was all that was available.

"If I had the shotgun with me, that other kid in the alley would never have gotten away," she said Tuesday.

Mrs. O'Brien, who has five grandchildren, says the whole episode began late Monday when a neighbor, Bill Holland, told her that someone was in the garage. She pressed a burglar alarm and, accompanied by Holland, walked to the garage with her small gun.

"I wasn't scared or angry, but I meant business," the antique dealer said. "I would have used this gun if I had to, but thank goodness I didn't have to."

CIRCUS THURSDAY-The American Continental Circus is coming to the Scurry County Coliseum Thursday for shows at 4:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. Tickets will be on sale at the door one hour before each performance. Attractions include traditional circus fare such as clowns, acrobats and wild animal shows. Above, Josip Marcan puts his lions through the paces in the Ferocious Felines of the Jungles act.

Exhibit Prepared By 5th Graders

"Explorers" will be the theme of a new exhibit opening Sunday in the Scurry County Museum at Western Texas College.

The exhibit is the outgrowth of a class project by fifth grade students of Mrs. Ben Brock at Stanfield Elementary School. They have based their studies this year on an exploring theme, looking at history, the present and the future through traditional classroom activities and special activities, field trips, and through contacts with resource people.

Sharon Sutton, director of the Scurry County Museum, has assisted Mrs. Brock as a resource person and the students have visited the museum to learn more about social science.

"We are pleased to have this exhibit and to have this contact with these young students," Ms. Sutton said. "We think it is important that children develop contact with the museum at an early age and that they continue to think of it as a place they can come to learn, to ask questions, and to use the resources available there."

A special opening reception is planned on Sunday afternoon, and the museum will be open from 1-5 p.m. for those who would like to see the new exhibit. The students will be presenting a program at 1:30 and again at 2:30.

The museum is open each weekday and persons interested in arranging for tours are invited to call the office at 573-6107.

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

What caused cancer?

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I lost my mother a week ago and needless to say I'm heartbroken. I had lived with her for 54 years and we were extremely close.

Her final illness puzzled me. She was 87 years old with a rugged constitution, had arthritis of the knees but walked with a cane. She controlled her gallbladder condition by watching her diet. She entered the hospital because of a tiny stroke on the left side. Her arm was affected and she had congestion from the flu, a low hemoglobin of six and a liver tumor. A total of six pints gradually brought her blood count up and a barium enema was clear.

She did not smoke, drink or eat spicy foods. She got plenty of sleep and rest and did not overeat or overexert. How could she get such a terrible tumor? Did the gallbladder cause it? She fought to live. About two months after she entered the hospital she vomited blood and was very weak and slipped away. I'd be so grateful to hear from you.

DEAR READER—In all the years that I've seen patients I've never found the right words that would ever really replace the loss of a loved one or would really console the grief that a person such as yourself feels. Just saying that you're sorry isn't enough.

Unfortunately, even though a person has an ideal life style and follows healthy living patterns throughout life, that is not a guarantee that he or she will not develop cancer. After all, one out of four people have or will develop cancer. It's possible as more of our population lives to older ages that we may see even a greater number of cancers than we do today.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 14-8, Cancer: A Fact of Life. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it.

Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

The Health Letter I'm sending you will give you some of the basic information about cancers and what we know about their cause and, more importantly, what can be done to prevent them. Many of the cancers people have can be prevented, including cancer of the lungs in about 80 percent of the cases. Many other cancers, if detected early enough, can also be cured.

Liver cancer is fairly rare. It is true that a person with gallbladder disease is more likely to have cancer of the gallbladder. And whether that's what occurred with your mother with extension to the liver or not, I wouldn't know without knowing specifically what the pathology report disclosed. That's one of the arguments for removing a gallbladder full of stones even if it's not causing any symptoms or problems. If your mother had primary cancer of the liver, meaning it originated from liver cells, then it was probably not related to her gallbladder disease at all.

The fact that your mother had a stroke is interesting since severe anemias can contribute to the development of a stroke. The anemia in her case was undoubtedly secondary to the cancer.

The liver often has a tumor in it if a cancer occurs elsewhere in the digestive system. That's because the cancer cells are carried by the bloodstream to the liver.

Funeral Home Listed Wrong In Directory

ABILENE (AP)—The Elliott-Hamil Funeral Home isn't in the frozen food business, but you can't tell by checking the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. Yellow Pages for this West Texas town.

Instead of being listed with the other funeral homes in the Yellow Pages, it's listed under the classification: Frozen Food-Wholesale.

Penny Young, a telephone company spokesman, blames the mixup on a computer error.

"I know that we will make amends with the customer. We're awfully sorry," she said.

The funeral home's co-owner and general manager doesn't find the mix-up the least bit funny although some of the persons who've been calling him think it is.

John Hammil says he is "absolutely heartsick" about the mixup.

"We feel sure that a lot of people will find the unfortunate mistake humorous. We are understandably upset by the error," Hammil said.

The mixup was in all 70,112 new telephone books distributed in Abilene this week.

The telephone company spokesman said Bell is liable only to the funeral home for the cost of the advertisement.

The operators of the funeral home didn't completely miss out on being listed under funeral homes.

An insurance firm owned by the same people, Elliott Insurance Co., is listed under funeral homes instead of under life insurance companies.

The last king of France died in 1850 in exile in England. Louis Philippe, son of the Duke of Orleans, was born 16 years before the French Revolution and allied himself with the republicans until he was forced to flee in 1793. He pledged loyalty to the restored Bourbon kings in 1814, but courted the middle classes, which raised him to the throne in 1830. During his reign he met opposition after he suppressed the press and the national assembly.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Five former members of a University-of-Michigan fraternity, who pleaded no contest in mid-January to charges of torturing and killing the fraternity's house cat, have been ordered to pay $360 in court costs and perform 200 hours of community service work.

The five, former members of the U-M chapter of Alpha Delta Phi, were sentenced Tuesday before 15th District Judge S.J. Elden, who called the cat killing a "cold, calculating, ruthless act."

They had been charged for chopping off the cat's paws, hanging it from a tree and then setting it on fire on Dec. 6. The cat was killed because it sometimes failed to use its litter box.

"In 14 years on the bench, I have never seen such a public response of overwhelming indignation," the judge said at the sentencing. He said he had received letters "from every corner of the U.S." urging him to impose strong penalties.

Signs reading "Burn Frats, Not Cats" also were found on walls and sidewalks on the campus.

Soviets Pay Top Price For Argentina's Corn

AP-News Special
By Richard Boudreaux
ROSARIO, Argentina (AP)—The U.S. grain embargo is forcing the Soviet Union to pay a record high price for Argentine corn, but farmers here in the world's second richest corn belt are having an unhappy harvest.

A six-week drought during the crucial flowering period cut the corn crop from 9.4 million to 7.25 million metric tons, the Agriculture Ministry estimated in late February. The total grain harvest outlook is down to 25 million tons, Argentina's lowest in four summers. Many farmers hauling corn from the surrounding pampas to silos along Route 33 say they lost half their crop.

Those farmers who were saved by scattered rain grumble about inflation and a currency exchange system that underpays them in pesos for the dollars they earn from exports.

"The higher price of corn this year is no windfall for us," said Jose Alberto Marull, president of Corzar, a regional group of 15 farmer associations. "It's hardly enough to cover the higher costs of fertilizer, machinery, fuel and land taxes. It's merely a palliative."

The Soviet Union is paying at least $142 a ton for the dried corn, $22 higher than the bidding on the Chicago market for corn on the U.S. Great Plains.

Export prices for Argentine corn boomed after the Carter administration on Jan. 5 halted the shipment of 17 million tons of grain to the Soviet Union in retaliation for the Kremlin's military intervention in Afghanistan. Most of the embargoed grain is corn, something only the United States and Argentina produce in big exportable quantities.

Under prodding by Washington, which offered to reconsider its criticism of human rights violations here, the Argentine government pledged not to "take commercial advantage" of the embargo. U.S. officials took this as a promise to sell the Soviets no more corn than usual, or about 1.6 million of the 3 million tons of exportable surplus now expected.

But private export firms in Buenos Aires say they are under no restrictions and that the Russians, who have reportedly bought 1.2 million tons of corn already, are the only takers at the current high price.

Economy Ministry sources say a Soviet trade mission that visited Buenos Aires in late January was promised continued access to the Argentine beef, wool, mutton, leather and wine, as well as grain, in the future.

Legionaires!

Former Legionaires potential legionaires everyone who knows and understands what the American Legion is all about. We are asking for your support. We are currently in the process of enlarging our building in order to make it a better, roomier, more comfortable place for legionaires and their guests to relax and enjoy our pleasant atmosphere, and to help participate in our community service projects. You know, each and every legionaire has an equal chance to voice his or her opinion on anything pertaining to the activities and business of the American Legion. There's only one catch to this—members must attend out meetings (which, by the way, are held at 7:30 p.m. on the 2nd & 4th Monday of each month) To voice these opinions effectively. Therefore I, Sam Harris, your commander and speaking in behalf of the executive board, all the officers, and the ladies auxiliary, am earnestly asking that you all come and take an active part in our great organization. Let us know what your suggestions and ideas are. Who knows they may possibly be better than ours. We'll never know until you give it a try.

As I said earlier, we need your support, especially in helping us to pay for our building addition. How? By participating in our series of fund raising drives which will begin on Friday, March 14th, beginning at 5:00 p.m. We will offer hamburger plates for a meager donation of $5.00 each. This is a small price to pay for the privilege of mingling with such a great bunch of people. So, legionaires, bring your guests, all of them, and support us in our time of need. This invitation is also extended to the mayor, the police department, the chamber of commerce, the senior citizens, the press, radio, and anyone else that would like to offer their support.

Also, Saturday and Sunday, March 15th & 16th, we plan to have a gigantic garage sale on the American Legion premises, and we would greatly appreciate any items you would like to donate to this garage sale. If you have no transportation, we will be more than glad to pick the items up. Just call George Kirkpatrick at 573-5225, 573-6833, or Dave Haywood anytime at 573-7296, or the American Legion Post at 573-9215 after 4:00 p.m. Thank You. I know we can depend on you to help us out.
