Including Boxing Team Members...

87 Killed In Plane Crash

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—A Polish airliner carrying members of the U.S. amateur boxing team on a flight from New York crashed into a military fort near Warsaw's International Airport today, killing all 87 passengers and crew, authorities said. It was one of history's worst crashes, involving sports personalities. The Polish Federation of Boxing said the U.S. team, numbering about 24, was aboard the LOT airlines flight, en route to international matches in Warsaw. Most of the remaining passengers were said to be Polish, but one or two other Americans were reported aboard. The Ilyushin 62 aircraft with 77 passengers and a crew of 10 aboard crashed into the old Czarist-era fort about three miles from the runway, on its second approach in clear, sunny weather, witnesses said. Among the team members reportedly aboard was Tom "Sarge" Johnson of Indianapolis, coach of the AAU's national team and former trainer of the 1976 American Olympic team, which won five gold medals. A spokesman for the U.S. Embassy said there were unconfirmed reports that as many as 25 Americans were on the flight. The official Polish news agency, however, said a list of 24 U.S. citizens aboard would be announced this afternoon. A spokesman at LOT offices in New York said the plane carried 22 members of the team, but a spokesman had said earlier that 23 members were aboard, as well as "one or two other Americans." At least 13 of those on the U.S. team were boxers, he said, and the others were team managers, doctors and other personnel. He said a completely verified passenger manifest was not immediately available but that "the very initial report showed there were one or two other Americans aboard. The rest of the 77 passengers were Polish," he said. The crash recalled a Feb. 16, 1961 air disaster that wiped out the United States figure skating team. In that crash near Brussels, Belgium, 73 persons were killed, 15 of them team members on the way to Prague, Czechoslovakia for the world championships. Among the dead were 16-year-old Laurence Owen, who had won the U.S. championship the previous week, her sister, Maribel, a national senior pairs champion, and their mother, Maribel Vinson

Owen, a former champion. A witness to today's crash, Stanislaw Wilczur, 37, told The Associated Press he heard what seemed to be an explosion in one of the engines seconds before the crash. The crash occurred in a densely populated area south of the Polish capital, but there were no casualties on the ground, officials said. According to witnesses, the plane started to dive from the height of about 100 feet and slammed into the earthen wall of a fort built by Russians in 19th century.

Friday update

Prime Rate At 18 1/4 Percent

NEW YORK (AP)—Several major banks have boosted their prime lending rate by a half-point to a record 18 1/4 percent as business borrowing costs continue their sharp upward spiral. The new rate on loans to top-ranked business borrowers was posted by New York's Chase Manhattan Bank, the nation's third-largest, and by others including seventh-ranked Continental Illinois National Bank in Chicago and Security Pacific National Bank in Los Angeles, ranked tenth.

Ask Us

Q—Are any plans being made by Snyder merchants, or the Snyder Chamber of Commerce to have another trades day on the square?
A—Chamber Manager Bill Warner says there will be another such event this year, although it may not be on the square. There are several potential sites that would be suitable, and they may move it around from year to year. Anyway, there will be more information on plans when the weather warms up.

50th Year Celebrated By Snyder Girl Scouts

"Open House" at the Girl Scout hut marked the 50th anniversary of Girl Scouting in Snyder on Thursday afternoon. Among visitors greeted at the event were six members of the original troop formed in Snyder—Mittie Crowder Foree, Irene Spears Smyth, Valdeen Keller Riley, Edna Mae Dunnam Bunt, Nell Carlton Patterson, and Mary Margaret Towle Blum. Mrs. Bunt now lives in Coleman.

Crowder, Elizabeth and Geneva Glascock and Elizabeth Blakey. The second meeting was held on June 12, 1930, with a picnic on the William Scott Ranch, and the third meeting was held on June 16, 1930, in the home of Miss Lemons. Twelve more girls joined. They were Grace Elizabeth Caskey, Frances Stinson, LaRuth Johnston, Nell Carlton, Mary Ruth Pierce, Martha Jo Jenkins, Genevieve Jarrett, Evelyn Erwin, Evelyn Raybon, Maurine Martin, Cecil Travis Smith and Georgia Jones.

The first Girl Scout trip was made June 26, 1930 to Carlsbad Caverns. In addition to parents, Burney Dunnam helped provide transportation. Miss Loyce Clark took charge of a new group at the beginning of the 1930-31 school year to train them for their tenderfoot tests. After that, the new members transferred to Troop I, known as "Long Troop," since it was the only troop in Snyder. In the new group, initiated on May 2, 1931, were Marjorie Reynolds, Roberta Ely, Maureen Wolf, Alice Reichart, Dorothy Dulaney came into the troop by transfer from Rotan, and later, Helen Fuller joined. Four Snyder study clubs were involved as sponsors of Girl Scouts. They were Alpha Study Club, the Altrurian Club, the Twentieth Century Club, and the Art Guild.

Carter Speaks At 3:30

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is what Americans can expect from the new anti-inflation program President Carter is unveiling today. The first balanced budget in 12 years. A 10-cent-a-gallon increase in gasoline prices. An increased wage standard. Pared spending plans, and higher interest rates, credit controls, and no more Saturday mail deliveries. Those are the anticipated highlights of the president's newest strategy to contain inflation. He is announcing the program today in a White House speech at 3:30 p.m. He will hold a nationally broadcast news conference at 8 p.m. to answer questions about the program and other topics.

Scurry Judge Honored By State Association

Judge Preston Wilson of Scurry County has been selected from among the 620 members of the West Texas County Judges' and Commissioners' Association as the "Outstanding County Official of 1979." Judge Wilson, now serving his third term as Judge of Scurry County, was honored at a dinner Thursday evening, during the second day of the association's annual conference being held at the San Angelo Holiday Inn and that city's convention center. The dinner, a highlight of the annual conference, was attended by over 400 delegates, state and local officials and special guests. Hosting the evening's dinner and dance

PRESTON WILSON was Plains Machinery Co. Announcement of Judge Wilson's selection was made by Commissioners

Jim Fletcher of Randall County, last year's honoree, Bernard Eads of Dallam County, and Judge Giles Dalby, both of whom are previous honorees. Joining these officials in the announcement and presentation were Morris E. Bailey, president of Plains Machinery Co., and Judges' and Commissioners' Association. The other officials of the Association also in attendance were: Commissioner Lyn Gregory of Tarrant County, the Association's Secretary-Treasurer, Vice President Judge Bill Young, Dickens County, and Directors Judge Peggy Garner, Upton County, and Judge T. Udell Moore of El Paso County. Judge Wilson is currently serving as second vice president of the West Central Texas Council of Governments which serves a 19-county area. Prior to becoming the Scurry County Judge, he was associated with the sheriff's office for nine years, and was the chief deputy.

The SDN Column

Keeping tab on our neighbors: The Andrews County News reports that a midwestern chair manufacturer says Americans sit down more than they formerly did and that the average person has sat for 37 years by the time he is 70.

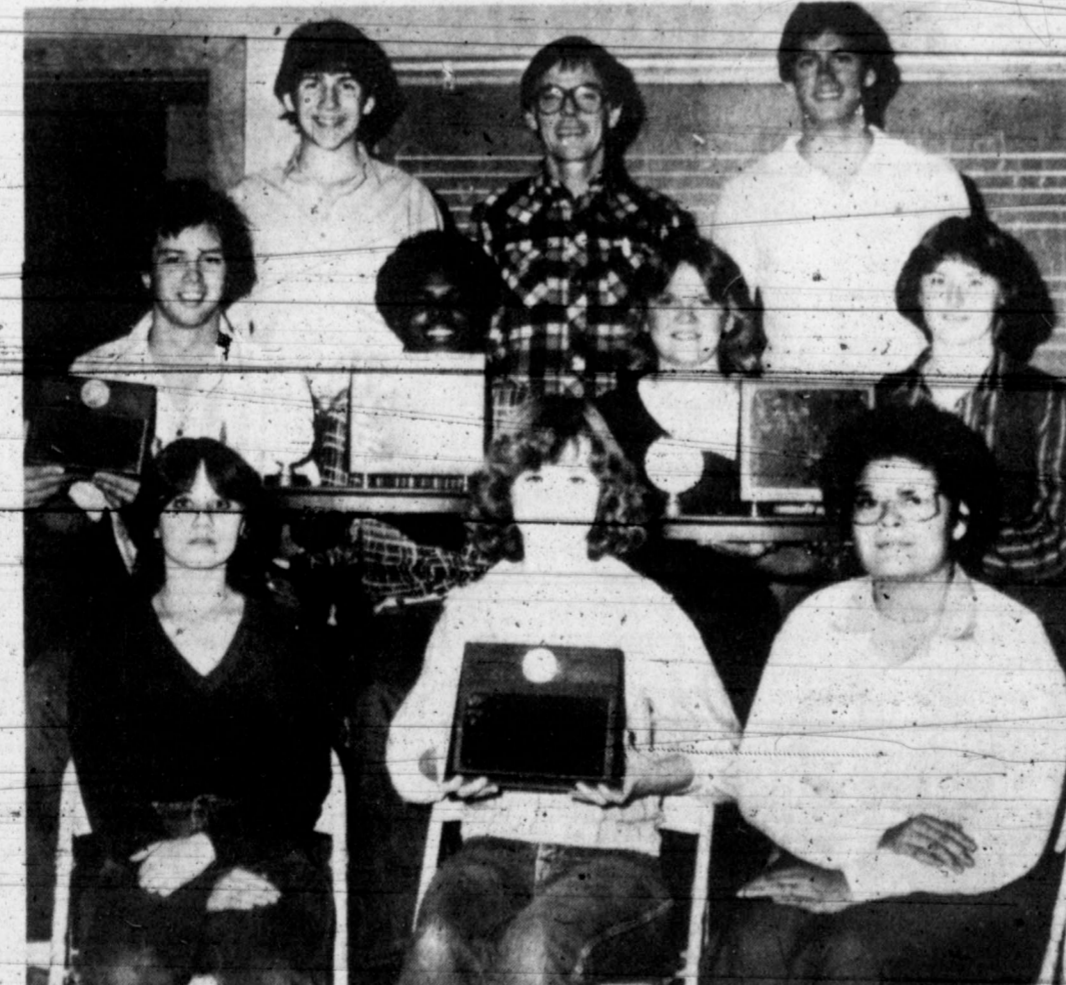

Barbers, waiters, postmen and construction workers do less sitting than others, but even the farmer has grown sedentary on the seats of assorted farm machinery. "Other leaders of the chair brigade, presumably, include people who come up with statistics about how much other people sit. To say nothing of the fellow who sits at a desk reading about their findings."

Jerry Tidwell of the Hood County News reports on a book titled "News from Nowhere," that turns the spotlight on the television networks. Tidwell said it shouldn't surprise people in rural areas to learn that despite the networks' claims of ringing the world with news bureaus, the fact is that more than 90 percent of the news on the television networks came from 10 camera crews stationed in only five U.S. cities.

"Television journalism has a tendency to snub small-town America, with few exceptions," Tidwell observed. "If a small town makes it on the evening news, it's usually due to something bad—like a grisly murder, a fight at city hall, or county government, or a report of possible racial discrimination."

Inflation tests the ingenuity of Americans these days, and Craig Nieman of the Lamb County Leader reports that he saw this classified ad in a newspaper recently: "Reliable and hardworking clerk who is paid on Friday and broke on Tuesday would like to exchange small loans with another who gets paid on Wednesday and is broke on Saturday."

CHOIR TROPHIES DISPLAYED—Members of Snyder High School Choirs display awards earned in University Interscholastic League contests in concert singing and sight reading at Abilene. Both the men's and women's choirs won sweepstakes awards, while the second girls choir won Division I honors in sight reading and Division III in concert, and the mixed choir was rated Division II in both areas. Only four sweepstakes trophies were awarded and Snyder won half of them. ## Kmart Plans To Begin Its Building Here Soon

Construction of a 40,000 square foot K mart in Snyder could begin in the next few weeks. A representative of C & W Manhattan Associates of Houston was in Snyder Tuesday to confer with city officials concerning the site on South College Ave. A plat for the Snyder Mall which was to have included K mart was approved by the city more than a year ago, but changes in the proposed plat will now require the plan to again be considered by the planning and zoning board.

Mike Smith, city engineer, said the changes appeared to be minor and that he anticipated no problems in the plat being approved when submitted. Dirt work could then be started within two or three weeks. C & W Manhattan Associates is a new developer to come into the picture. It was first announced that Ainsbinder and Associates would construct the Snyder Mall. John Martin who is in the C & W construction department, said plans call for K mart to be built as a free standing store. However, it will be built in such a manner that it could be included in any future construction of a mall. Martin said that the development company was now waiting on final tenant approval. He said the company had tentative approval, but some changes in the plan had required another approval from K mart.

Paul Holden with C & W Manhattan Associates was in Snyder earlier this week to discuss the plans with city officials and some adjoining land owners. He indicated that construction would begin as soon as all details can be worked out.

uncle's poor grades

Common cause gives President Carter and Congress poor marks for their dealings with special interests last year. These special interests, according to the self-styled watchdog organization, manipulated the federal government in order to maintain their subsidies and protected status - at the expense of the American people, of course.

The organization's criticism, while not totally on target (sometimes businessmen are in Washington to protect themselves from the government), demonstrates the irony the private business is often free enterprise's worst enemy on Capitol Hill.

A common cause report, entitled The Government Subsidy Squeeze, says that in five major subsidy areas the president and the Congress have done a less-than-satisfactory job at confronting the special interests. Using a classroom-like grading system, they give President Carter a "C" and the Senate a "D" in resisting the pressures of favor-seeking business in 1979.

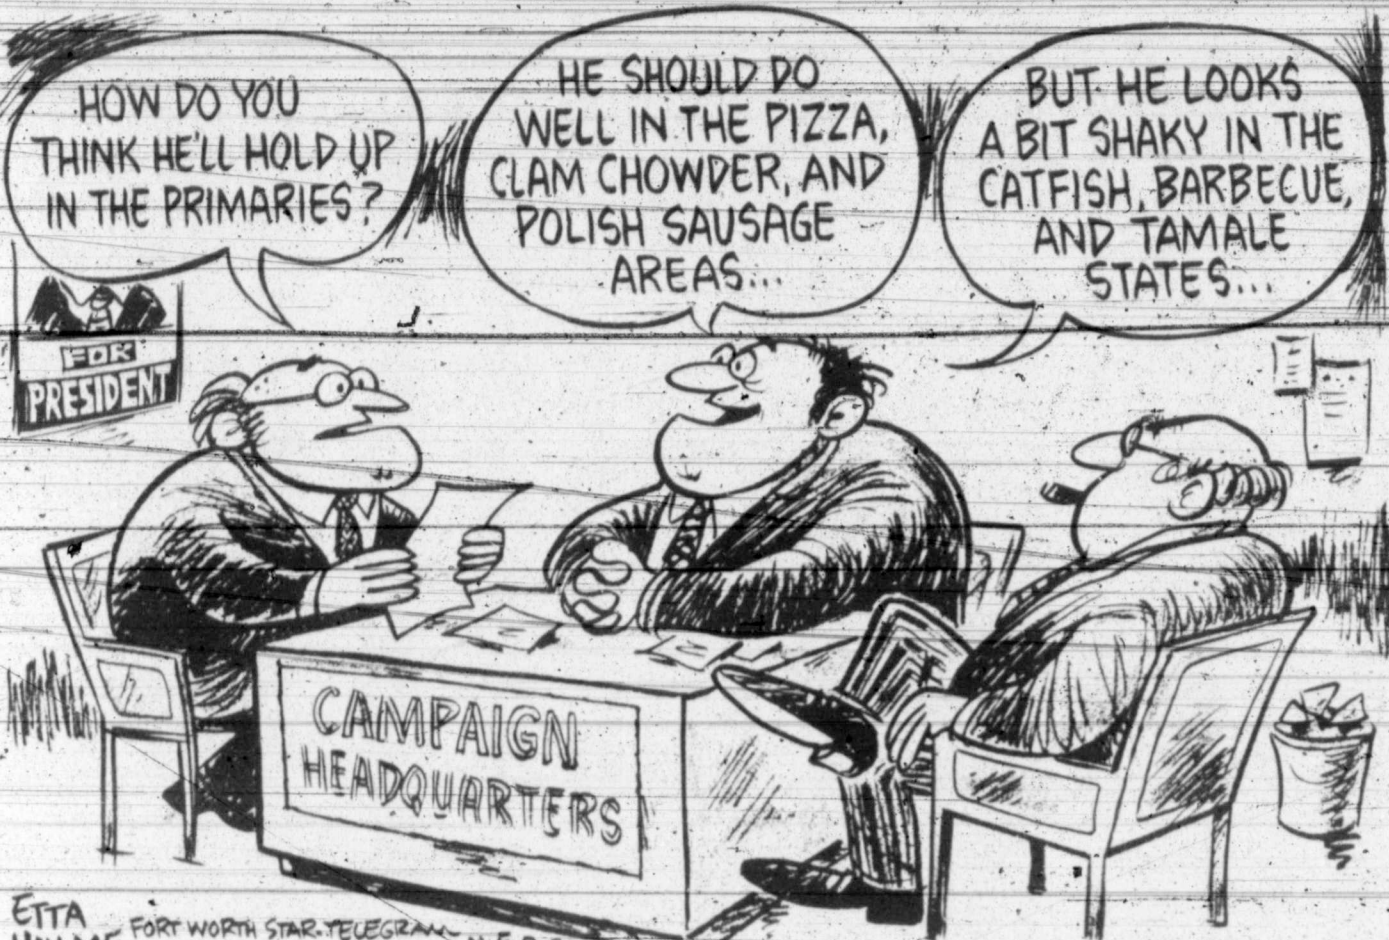

The report details five major areas of governmental subsidy: sugar, dairy, maritime, trucking and reclamation. In these areas Common Cause found narrow interest groups dominate government policy. In some cases, as in the maritime industry, the government uses tax money to subsidize private business. In other cases, as in the dairy industry, government laws protect the industry from competition. The taxpaying public is, of course, the loser in situations like these.

Business, however, is not the only operation making loot off federal action. The Common Cause report found that one of the most successful lobbying operations on Capitol Hill was done in behalf of veterans. Much of what the veterans get, it appears, has nothing whatsoever to do with their service to the nation. Health benefits, for example, are extended to veterans even when the medical treatment is not connected to a military-related disability.

Farmers, too, were found to be important recipients of government largesse. Since the turn of the century large farms have received subsidies, in the form of water and irrigation projects, from the federal government. Farmers who raise bees are also on the receiving end of a little-heard-of government program designed to prevent them from losing money if their bees die.

When Congress begins to discuss these issues each of the interests exerts maximum effort to effect the outcome of specific legislation. The general public, with only minor concern for these specific issues, rarely is able to muster a fight capable of defeating the special interest, whether beekeepers or shipbuilders. Consequently interest groups are able to have their way at public expense.

The solution Common Cause has for this problem is greater public diligence. Unfortunately, we don't think it will work. It will always be more profitable for special interest groups to concentrate on special legislation. The answer is to eliminate government involvement in the economy altogether.

perils of stress

In the wake of Watergate, so many of those involved - however innocently - went to hospitals with very real physical ills that I began to assemble a file of circumstantial evidence linking emotional stress with physical distress.

That file expands every day. The stress of the situation in Iran, already reflected in the face of President Carter, might next manifest itself in some physical ill. This is not to wish him anything but good health - yet the evidence is now irrefutable. We can worry ourselves sick. The Shah of Iran was entirely healthy, vigorously active - until the fright, flight and anguish of this last year sent him to the hospital with cancer. Gen. George Brown, Joint Chiefs Chairman, survived 37 years of military service but controversy and criticism his last year doubtless contributed to the cancer that killed him at 60.

Dr. Marvin Stein, Mt. Sinai School of Medicine in New York, says, "There is considerable evidence that grief and stress retard the body's ability to fight disease." A recent conference on the "Dynamics of Stress" at Columbia University, New York, heard no dissent from the premise that men - and now women also - climbing the ladder of professional success are likely to develop health problems stemming from stress. From that conference there evolved a very complicated definition of "stress": "A dynamic interaction between an individual and his or her response pattern to the usual or unusual demands of living."

He says, "The circumstantial evidence is very convincing that psychological experience can trigger a spasm." Cardiologist Robert Elliott of the University of Nebraska Medical Center seconds the notion: "Stress is a more significant cause of heart disease than is cholesterol."

For Cleveland's ex-Mayor Dennis Kucinich the red ink and hot water of that office gave him ulcers at 32. Princess Margaret's divorce and resultant criticism in Parliament sent her to the hospital. Sen. Joseph Montoya never had a sick day in his 62 years until he was ac-

They recommended that all wall and ceiling cracks be repaired, and that damp basements be waterproofed or painted with a waterproof-base paint. While such items might be minor, their impact is major. The advice comes at a time when thousands of homeowners are waiting months instead of weeks to dispose of properties because would-be buyers, desperate for good housing, listen to their fears instead.

In spite of high borrowing costs and prices for resale homes - the National Association of Realtors estimates the national average is above $56,000 - an underlying demand is still believed to exist. That latent demand, housing authorities say, is based on a least three vital factors: 1. Demographic studies that show a population bulge in the age 25 to 35-year category will continue until the middle of the decade. 2. Relatively few rental apartments, partly because high financing costs and rising maintenance expenditures have discouraged apartment-house construction. 3. An abrupt slowdown in the construction rate of new single-family homes. What keeps the demand latent, experienced real estate people say, is more the inability to obtain financing than high prices. But many sellers have found an answer to that by offering their own financing.

sellors not helpless

NEW YORK (AP) Families seeking to sell homes don't have to sit around helpless while high prices and soaring interest rates scare away buyers. And they might not have to lower their prices to do so. Simple repairs and touch-up, say experienced real estate agents, can often do the trick, and even return to the seller more than the cost of the improvements. The Realtors National Marketing Institute asked five specialists in residential sales to recommend improvements that might help to move properties in spite of buyer financial problems and misgivings. For the exterior, they recommended that lawns and shrubs be manicured, that shutters, storm doors, windows, gutters and downspouts be repaired or replaced, and that window boxes and awnings be considered. They advised that interiors should be examined to eliminate nuisances that could have a negative impact. Leaky faucets should be repaired, clogged drains cleaned and worn bathtub grouting replaced, for example, because they suggest major plumbing problems might also exist. ## my turn

by john dunnam

If you chanced on my previous rantings in this column you might have gotten the idea that I'm down on dining out and had rather go to a dentist than a restaurant. Nothing could be farther from the truth. A few years back, when I made my living working on tugboats, trading a few weeks on the water for a few weeks of unbridled freedom ashore, the first place I headed once I scrubbed off the salt and got my sea legs accustomed to solid ground again, was the fanciest restaurant in town.

take a chance on a lonely sailor stricken with a perpetual case of the munchies. My mouth waters just thinking of those days. From the seafood shacks on Galveston Bay, where I sat upright on a wooden bench and swished my sandalled feet in the sawdust on the floor and told outrageous sea stories to my date while we feasted on crab and watched the shrimp boats come in and tie up in the rear of the cafe; to the tip-top of the Marriott Hotel via a glass elevator, where a panorama of downtown Houston lit up like something out of Star Wars, held me in such awe that I couldn't think of one decent romantic lie through a full course steak dinner; to an underground Oriental joint, I forget exactly where, where we sat on the floor with our legs crossed and cautiously tested our taste buds on ultra-expensive Peking Duck; to places so exotic, bizarre or charming that I couldn't possibly begin to describe them here, I wined, dined and wooed. Sure, some occasions were more memorable than others, but never, never, never did I suffer more than a mild case of heartburn for all my wild indulgences. Well, there was that time in the Greek restaurant on the ship channel but that is the next column. So until Tuesday, cheers, and as the Irish like to say, "If you should die before we meet again, may you arrive in heaven an hour before the devil even knows you are dead."

New Orleans was the champ for just plain good eating but Houston had the edge in another way. I somehow acquired one of these coupon books that offer two-for-the-price-of-one meals. It was similar to the package being sold here by the Optimist Club except that it was devoted strictly to restaurants. Order any entree on the menu and get another meal of equal or less value thrown in for gratis. The quality and diversity of restaurants available were astounding, presenting a challenge even to a hardcore glutton like myself. And the two-for-one deal allowed me to invite along some of Houston's finest hungry women willing to guaranteed to go unfilled - one from the politicians and the other from executives of the nation's television networks. The candidates claim that their installation in the White House certainly will produce peace, prosperity and general good feeling around the world. The reliability of those campaign pledges already has been widely discussed. Considerably less attention has been paid to the rhetoric offered by the news divisions of the commercial networks: "We've learned from the errors and omissions of the last campaign and we're committed to covering this year's race in a comprehensive, honest and intelligent manner." But just as surely as the politicians never seem to be able to produce abundant energy or, lower inflation, the broadcasters never manage to report on the campaign in a manner befitting the importance of electing the country's chief executive officer. A case in point: On four occasions during the past two months, contenders for the Republican presidential nomination have agreed to face-to-face meetings to discuss and debate campaign issues. And for the fourth time in two months, the networks have rebuffed the debate sponsor's offers to make the event available, at no cost, for live broadcast to a nationwide television audience. The most recent forum was held here, under the joint sponsorship of the University of South Carolina and Columbia Newspapers Inc. Earlier debates occurred in Manchester and Nashua, N.H., and Des Moines, Iowa. To its credit, the Public Broadcasting Service has offered to its affiliates live coverage of three of the four events. But the commercial networks have provided little more than sporadic, delayed middle-of-the-night broadcasts. Nobody who witnessed those debates would claim that they are uniformly engrossing or provocative. In fact, each event has ranged from stimulating and spellbinding to soporific and stupefying. They have been, however, the most enlightening, educational and instructive events of the presidential campaign, offering an exceptional opportunity to assess the candidates. The networks briefly were interested in the prospect of televising the debates when President Carter was scheduled to meet Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., in the Iowa forum. But after Carter withdrew and the debates were stripped of their Teddy-confronts-Jimmy show-business appeal, the networks abandoned all plans for live coverage. Instead, a typical campaign segment packaged for the networks' early evening news programs lasts about one minute and 50 seconds, with the candidates actually speaking for 30 seconds or less. In place of ideas, positions or philosophies, the viewers are offered indistinguishable photographs of interchangeable candidates boarding airplanes, emerging from cars, shaking voters' hands and waving at crowds. One network report from New Hampshire featured photographs of two horses grazing in a field while the correspondent talked about "front-runners" and "dark horses." Another network illustrated a primary-night story with photos of a bird. That insipid coverage isn't cheap. The three networks' news divisions have annual budgets of about $100 million each, with an additional $35 million to $50 million allo-

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm wondering if vitamins have any effect on high blood pressure. Does constipation have anything to do with high blood pressure? I have them both. I'm 66 years old and have had bowel trouble or dry stools for some time. Could you give me some advice? As long as my bowels are active, I feel pretty good. Is there something I could eat or take for this problem?

DEAR READER — If left alone there's no real relationship between high blood pressure and constipation. However, there are a number of medicines used in the treatment of high blood pressure that can contribute to constipation or make it worse. These include the diuretics or water pills that are frequently used to help lower blood pressure. In these instances, the loss of water may cause the bowel to extract more water from the undigested food residue which ends up producing hard dry stools.

If that's a particular problem, it's wise to discuss the condition with your doctor and see if there's some way that your medicines can be adjusted to decrease the severity of the problem.

Otherwise, many people who have simple constipation are benefited by increasing the bulk in their diet, particularly cereal fiber as found in bran, or they may want to use one of the bulk expanders such as Metamucil. Drinking lots of water also helps and developing a regular bowel habit will help. I am sending you The Health Letter number 2-1, Irritable or Spastic Colon and Constipation, to give you some more information on what you could do to train your bowel. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Also I'm sending you The Health Letter number 1-8, Blood Pressure. There are no vitamins that will correct elevated blood pressure but elimination of excess body fat will help.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a 22-year-old female. I am 5 feet 6 and weigh 135 pounds. I have been walking a 15-minute mile daily followed by a slow 25 minute walk. Could you please tell me how to figure the number of calories burned during this walk?

DEAR READER — The number of calories used for walking or even for slow comfortable jogging is really based on your body weight and the distance traveled. It really doesn't make any difference in terms of calories used whether you walk a mile in 13 minutes or at a comfortable speed. For your size you will use about 55 calories per mile in addition to the basal calories your body would use if you were resting.

While running fast, you can lose some of the body's normal efficiency and require more energy per mile. But running at slow and moderate speeds will use about the same amount of calories it takes to walk a mile.

People sometimes get confused on this because they mix time and distance. If you walk fast for 30 minutes you'll use more calories than if you walk slow. But the reason is because you'll cover a lot more distance walking fast than you will walking slow.

1990 is a leap year. Julius Caesar invented the leap year about 45 B.C. in the first attempt to straighten out the calendar and keep it in line with the seasons. Caesar divided the year into 12 months totaling 365 days. However, the earth takes about one-fourth of a day longer than that to orbit the sun. Caesar remedied the situation by adding an extra day to every fourth year, tacking it on the shortest month — February.

dummy's king of spades and discarded the three of hearts to give West a surprise trick with the ace. West was now given a Hobson's choice. He could lead a heart up to the ace-queen or give South a ruff and discard.

Of course, four notrump would make easily. But it was almost impossible to get to that fine contract.

'SURE, I WAS HOLDIN' HANDS WITH GINA... WHEN SHE GETS MAD, YOU BETTER BE HOLDIN' HER HANDS!'

Widower Not Tarrying Kind

By Abigail Van Buren
1980 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: A Texas widow complained because her friends never got around to introducing her to any eligible men.

May I say a word from the man's point of view? I was 55 when my wife died. Soon, well-meaning friends started to fix me up with eligible women.

Good ole Bill and his cute wife, Jeanette, had me to dinner. The only other guest was Jeanette's widowed mother—a pleasant, quiet little lady (about 60) whose only claim to fame was her ability to make pumpkin pie. Frankly, she was not my cup of tea, but I felt obligated to ask her for a date anyway.

Then good ole Charlie and his kind hearted wife, Lueille, fixed me up with a "terrific" woman who had loads of money and was a whiz at bridge. Well, I hate bridge and wasn't looking for a meal ticket, so that didn't work out. I had many such experiences. All flops.

I am no great catch myself, but I know what I want in a woman and none of my friends came up with anything that filled the bill.

Abby, if people really want to help singles meet someone, they should invite them to a casual cocktail party with lots of people. An eyeball-to-eyeball confrontation is not fertile soil in which the fragile seedling of romance can flower.

Fortunately, I found a lovely lady all by myself with no help from anyone.

TERRY IN COLUMBUS

DEAR TERRY: Congratulations. But don't knock the one-to-one date. My mail tells me that there's a lot of loneliness in the world, and although you may prefer the large-cocktail party, it is not the happiest hunting ground for all singles.

DEAR ABBY: A few weeks ago, I read in your column, CONFIDENTIAL TO "THIRTEEN AND SCARED TO DEATH OF MY STEPDAD." It weighed heavily on my mind because at 13, I, too, was scared to death of my stepfather who had been sexually molesting me since I was barely 11. He was even violent at times. My scars speak for themselves.

When I told my mother, she gave the excuse that he was drunk. (End of subject for her.)

When I got married at 18, my stepfather was still after me. One day he came to my home and tried to overpower me; I pumped seven bullets into his body and killed him on the spot.

I stood trial for second-degree murder. The jury deliberated 10 minutes and ruled it self-defense.

After two years with a psychologist I am finally beginning to feel human. Understanding yourself and your motivations is a wealth beyond measure.

I pray with all my heart that the 13-year-old girl takes your advice and tells the police, the welfare office, a teacher or someone who can help her. The day-to-day fear of being molested is terrible to live with. I know.

Thanks for printing letters like this. You do more good than you realize. Keep up the goodwork.

BEEN THROUGH IT

DEAR ABBY: ANONYMOUSLY YOURS told of not visiting her 87-year-old father because her stepmother is a non-stop talker.

Please tell her more strongly to visit them! Our dear father, now dead, was denied frequent visits from his children due to our over-aggressive, talkative stepmother, whom Dad married for companionship after a long and loving marriage with our mother.

My children never got to know my father as they should have. And my stepmother has mellowed with the years so that we can all enjoy her now.

ANOTHER ANONYMOUS

DEAR ANOTHER: Thanks for offering my readers some valuable advice. It's free to them, but you have already paid for it. And dearly.

Do you wish you had more friends? For the secret of popularity, get Abby's new booklet: "How To Be Popular: You're Never Too Young or Too Old." Send $1 with a long, self-addressed, stamped (28 cents) envelope to Abby, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Alcohol Plant At Brownfield Finds Support

BROWNFIELD (AP)—Area businessmen expressed support for a $30 million alcohol plant on the South Plains when they met with organizers of a 12-county grain cooperative Thursday.

Organizers said they expect the South Plains Grain Products Cooperative to be in business in about six months. The alcohol plant would cover 20 to 30 acres, employ up to 60 persons and manufacture 20 to 30 million gallons of alcohol a year from grain sorghum.

Rusty Andrews, a Brownfield area farmer, told the group the cooperative could add $40 million to $50 million to the local economy at first, and up to $200 million eventually.

"We're figuring conservatively that we could get $6.66 a hundred pounds for grain sorghum as compared with the $4 a hundred we're looking at now," Andrews said.

Similar co-ops are planned in Dumas and Mulhouse.

Voting In Iran Begins

By The Associated Press Voting began in Iran today to elect a new Parliament that is supposed to decide whether to free the American hostages if Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini doesn't change his mind. President Abolhassan Bai-Sadr said, meanwhile, that holding the Americans weakened Iran's position in the world community.

Tehran Radio said Khomeini, the 79-year-old leader of the Iranian revolution, dropped his "secret vote" this morning into a mobile ballot box brought to his temporary residence in the Iranian capital.

Khomeini two weeks ago said the 270-member Majlis, or Parliament, would decide the fate of the 50 Americans who today began their 132nd day as hostages of the young militants who occupied the U.S. Embassy in Tehran on Nov. 4. But U.S. officials in Washington cautioned that the Ayatollah has changed his signals before and could do so again.

Iran's ruling revolutionary Council, dominated by the politically conservative Moslem clergy, chose a two-stage election procedure opposed by moderates, liberals, leftists and autonomy-minded ethnic minorities. In districts where no candidate wins a majority in the voting today, the two candidates with the largest totals will oppose each other in a runoff April 4.

West Texas Expecting More Dust

It was to be warm and windy in West Texas where some blowing dust was again expected to cloud skies over the South Plains.

Two Men Arrested In Drug Bust

Two men were arrested and about two pounds of marijuana seized in a drug raid early this morning in the 3700 block of Austin St.

The marijuana, which police described as being of high quality and extra potent, has a street value of approximately $4,000. In addition to the marijuana, police said they seized two marijuana plant seedlings and an unknown white powdery substance.

The two subjects taken into custody, aged 19 and 22, were booked on felony charges of possession of marijuana. They were arrested in the raid that began shortly after midnight.

Police are also investigating two other incidents.

In one, Teresa Gillham told officer Dale Burns early this morning that her billfold containing $285 disappeared while she was at a local club late last night.

In the other incident, reported Thursday morning, Ruth Fleer told Sgt. Jerry Parker she was missing a tire and wheel valued at $80.

Cheer Gacy's Death Sentence

CHICAGO (AP)—The victims' relatives and friends cheered and applauded as John W. Gacy Jr. was sentenced to die in the electric chair for the sex slayings of 12 young men and boys. But it was only the beginning of another legal battle for the 37-year-old contractor.

Circuit Court Judge Louis B. Garippo on Thursday set June 2 for the execution of Gacy, convicted of murdering 33 young men and boys. An appeal to the Illinois Supreme Court is automatic with imposition of the death sentence.

Bengals Squeak Past Andrews

MONAHANS - Snyder's Bengals snapped a week-long losing streak here yesterday, edging Andrews in extra innings, 2-1.

The game was tied up 1-1 after the regulation seven, and stayed that way until the bottom of the ninth. Sam Willis flied out to open the second half of the inning, but Shawn Ragland and Mike Roemisch drew walks. Ricky Gambol rolled out an infield base hit to load the bases. Kyle Short struck out for Snyder's second out, but with the bases stacked Bryan Vincent came up with another walk to stroll in the winning run.

The win pits Snyder against tourney host Monahans at 7:15 this evening. Monahans edged Fort Stockton 3-1 yesterday. Other outcomes saw Pecos crush Seminole 15-2 and Odessa Permian nail Kermit 4-1.

Stangs made a throwing error on Neves' shot and Gafford raced home. Mike Roemisch, who relieved starting pitcher Tony Degrate at the start of the ninth, picked up the win. Roemisch struck out all three batters he faced. Degrate, who went eight innings, had 11 strike outs and gave up three hits, two of which were bunts.

Ernie Estrada was tagged with the loss. He was relieved in the ninth after walking Ragland - eventually the winning run. He allowed seven hits, Vincent and Gambol garnered two apiece while Neves, Willis and Ragland got one.

Snyder made no errors in the contest.

Tiger Troops Stronger For Bluebonnet Relays

By SDN Sports Staff
BROWNWOOD - Snyder's Tiger Troops have all their guns this weekend as they head here for Saturday's Bluebonnet Relays.

Just how well polished they are remains to be seen.

The conclusion of a fine basketball season last week has given the Tiger Troops another four athletes to work with. That adds up to 10 events; a lot of extra punch in anybody's book.

The "new" performers and their proposed events include Brad Richardson, high jump; Thomas Selmon, long jump; 100 meter dash and sprint relay; Keith McClain, both hurdles and the 1600 relay; and Keith Wallace, sprint relay, hurdles and long jump.

Selmon and Richardson went to state last year, and McClain is expected to be top material in the hurdles. Add them to Dale Jenkins in the pole vault and hurdles, Tommy Peek in the shot and discus, Lloyd Benson in the 200, 400 meters and 1600 relay, Miguel Ortega in the 400 meters and 1600 relay, and Glenn Parham in three of four other events, and last year's District 3-AAA championship team begins to materialize.

There is other talent out there also, including Raymond Jeffery and Robbie Davenport in the sprint relay, and others too numerous to mention.

number of Waco schools. "It's going to be a tough one," said Coach Winfred Shipp. "Abilene, Big Spring and Marlin are all supposed to be tough, and I understand Waco Midway is very strong in the relays. Gatesville has a hurdler who was third in region last year, and a pole vaulter who was third at state."

"But the large amount of teams maybe helpful to Snyder, one of the smaller schools represented."

"With this many people, nobody is going to run off with it, I don't believe," Shipp noted. "It is a good meet for us to go to. We'll do okay if they all (Snyder athletes) perform up to

Saturday's 4A-3A division, in which Snyder will compete, boasts 17 teams, including Abilene High, Big Spring, Brownwood, Fort Worth Bishop Dunn, Gatesville, San Angelo Lake View, Lampasas, DeSoto, Graham, and a Field events begin at 9 a.m. with preliminaries starting at 9:30. Finals get going at 2 p.m.

Aggie Crowd Expected Large At Tournament

HOUSTON (AP) - Third ranked Louisiana State may have as much of a home court advantage as the regionally favored Texas Aggies tonight in the opening games of the NCAA Midwest Regional Basketball Tournament in The Summit.

The Aggies, whose home base is only 100 miles away, will have the capacity crowd of 15,400 on their side but the Tigers, unbothered by foreign territory, have won 28 of their last 37 road games.

don't lock them in their rooms like POWs. Tonight (Thursday) we'll find the best restaurant we can find and relax.

Friday night the Tigers hope to dine on wounded Missouri, the youngest team in the final 16. Missouri, which has won back to back Big Eight titles, will be playing without forward Curtis Berry, the team's leading rebounder and No. 2 scorer. Missouri, 25-5, lost to Kansas State in the Big Eight tournament, but got a at-large invitation into the playoffs and upset Notre Dame to gain the Midwest Regional.

Louisville, 29-3, also has proved to be a good traveler this season.

Andrews scored first in yesterday's game as the Mustangs slapped a fourth-inning triple and later squeezed the runner home. Snyder tied it up in the bottom of the inning. Vincent flied out, Paul Gafford walked and Toby Neves got a base hit. The Texas Falls

Fourth Time

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) - Reggie Jackson and Bobby Murcer each had two hits Thursday to pace the New York Yankees to a 3-1 exhibition baseball win over the Texas Rangers.

The loss was the fourth straight for Texas. New York is 2-1.

Jackson opened the two-run Yankee fourth inning with a bad-hop triple against rookie righthander Don Kainer. Jim Spencer followed with a ground ball to Buddy Bell at third. Bell threw home too late to catch Jackson and Spencer was safe at first on the fielder's choice. After Craig Nettles walked, Murcer singled to score Spencer.

The Southwest Conference champion Aggies, who upset North Carolina to get a berth here, will meet second ranked Louisville in the first game and LSU will take a favorites' role into the second game against Big Eight Conference champ Missouri.

The winners meet Sunday with a berth in the national championship tournament next weekend at Indianapolis, Ind.

Young Felines Set For Mustang Meet

SWEETWATER - Snyder takes its young but energetic girls track team here Saturday to challenge six other schools in the Mustang Relays.

The "boy girls" meet begins at 9:30 a.m. with field events, 10 with prelims. Finals will be held beginning at 2 p.m.

San Angelo Lake View, Sweetwater, Colorado City, Childress, Klein, and Floydada fill out the girls field.

The boy's division includes Sweetwater, Seymour, Colorado City, Tahoka, Stamford, Clyde and Abilene Christian High School.

Snyder's strongest events are in the sprints where state qualifier Pam Brown returns, joined by Brenda Anderson. Both are sophomores. They'll be joined by Taina Barrett, senior, and Tammy Pruitt, freshman in the sprint relay.

Anderson, Brown, Pruitt and another freshman, Sherry Spells, run the 800 relay.

Anderson also competes in the shot put, and Barrett is expected to do well in the 100 meter hurdles, and the high jump.

Coach Patty Grimmitt also likes the possibilities of her 1600 meter relay team which consists of Patty Gleastine, Penny Wolfe, Lisa Waller and Spells, all freshman. Gleastine, Wolfe and Waller run the 400 meters also.

"The girls are young and haven't quite learned how to pace themselves yet," said Grimmitt. "But that's coming. We have a chance to do pretty well at the meet."

Time is in favor of the freshman-laden team, which seems to get better with experience.

Kentucky Beaten; Indiana Goes, Too

By The Associated Press
Kentucky's season has come to an abrupt end the same way it began, with a loss to Duke, but the final chapter remains to be written by UCLA's remarkable young Bruin.

Gene Banks' free throw with 22 seconds to play was the difference as 14th-ranked Duke knocked No. 4 Kentucky out of the NCAA basketball championships 55-54 Thursday night in the Midwest Regional at Lexington, Ky. In the other game of the doubleheader, No. 20 Purdue surprised No. 7 Indiana 76-67.

"It wasn't picture-perfect, but I'll take it," said Duke Coach Bill Foster, whose club blew a 14-point lead before pulling it out.

"We have played a lot better, but I'm sure they've played a lot better, too."

ding success story by beating No. 10 Ohio State 72-68 behind 14 points apiece by freshman Rod Foster and sophomore Mike Sanders. In the first game, Clemson defeated Lamar 74-66.

"These kids keep surprising me - this has been a year to remember," said Larry Brown, who stepped into the prestigious, but pressure-laden, UCLA coaching job last summer and rebuilt the squad in midseason around talented youngsters like Foster and Sanders.

"We played as well tonight as we have anytime this year," added Brown. Duke will play Purdue and UCLA will meet Clemson on Saturday for berths in the Final Four at Indianapolis March 22 and 24.

The East and Midwest Regionals resume tonight in Philadelphia and Houston.

In the East, unranked Iowa, 21-8, takes on No. 6

Syracuse, 26-3, and No. 8 Maryland, 24-6, faces No. 11 Georgetown 25-5. In the Midwest, No. 2 Louisville goes against unranked Texas A&M, 26-7, and No. 16 Missouri, 25-5, opposes No. 3 Louisiana State, 25-5. Mike Gminski scored 17 points for Duke, which reeled off the first seven points on Kentucky's home floor and led by as many as 14 before the Wildcats came back behind Fred Cowan, who scored Kentucky's last 15 points and had 26 overall. Cowan's hook shot over Duke's Mike Gminski knotted the game 54-54 with 37 seconds to go, but Banks hit one of two free throws 17 seconds later.

In 1938, Penn State allowed eight football opponents an average of only 13.1 yards per game by passing.

Beck Decides To Pack Bags

SWEETWATER - One year was enough for Don Beck. He quit Thursday night.

Beck took over reins at Sweetwater High School a year ago, and after suffering through a 1-9 football season - the worst of his career - he submitted his resignation last night.

He told the SHS school board, "I feel it necessary for me to step down from the head football coaching position due to the fact that it would not be in the best interest of my wife and myself physically and mentally. We have been big winners throughout our coaching career until this past season and being a failure is more than my wife and I can stand. The stress of this position is killing us."

Beck, who compiled a 119-46 coaching record prior to coming to Sweetwater, agreed to stay on as athletic director if the board wanted him to, but president Temple Dickinson was quoted as saying, "I think the practical thing for us to do is hire a new coach and athletic director."

Beck added that it would take "three or four years" to turn the Sweetwater program around. "If I was younger, I would have stayed until we got this thing completely turned around," said the 44-year old coach.

The board plans to look for a replacement immediately.
