

Area Gets Rain, Hail, Winds

Spring thunderstorms brought gusty winds, light showers of rain and some pea-sized hail to the Snyder area Thursday afternoon. At the same time, tornadoes were reported southwest of Colorado City, near San Angelo and on the High Plains, but no damage or injuries were reported.

The official rain gauge at the Snyder water treatment plant measured .27 inch of rain during the showers. The small hailstones were mixed with the rain in some local areas.

Most of the rain reports over the region were light, with a few ranging up to nearly an inch. The rainfall here ran the total for the year to 1.51 inches.

Lending Rate Goes To 19 1/2 %

NEW YORK (AP)—The prime lending rate jumped today to a record 19 1/2 percent when Continental Illinois National Bank of Chicago leapfrogged over the 19 1/4 percent rate established earlier in the day by Citibank in New York.

Citibank, the nation's second-largest bank, led the latest round of prime rate increases by setting the 19 1/4 percent rate, a record at the time.

ERA Wins Boycott Right

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A federal appeals court ruled today that the National Organization for Women may boycott states which have not ratified the Equal Rights Amendment.

Missouri Attorney General John Ashcroft had filed suit against NOW two years ago, charging that the organization had cost St. Louis $11 million and Kansas City $8 million in convention business.

But U.S. District Court Judge Elmo B. Hunter ruled that the boycott does not violate the Sherman Act or other anti-trust laws, and the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals today affirmed that ruling.

Passage of the ERA, which would prohibit discrimination based on sex, requires ratification by 38 states. Thirty five have approved the proposed constitutional amendment, but five states have attempted to rescind that ratification. Missouri has not ratified the amendment.

Stage Potato Protest

HOULTON, Maine (AP)—About 40 potato farmers protesting the lower prices of Canadian imports set up another blockade today at the U.S.-Canadian border crossing in Houlton, dumping more than 30,000 pounds of potatoes on the highway.

Removing Bodies From Crash

DENVER (AP)—Sheriff's deputies and the county coroner today went about the task of removing the bodies of 10 men from the charred wreckage of a corporate plane that crashed and burned in the farmlands southeast of Denver during a snowstorm.

The pilot of the plane, owned by a Texas firm that manufactures oil-field equipment, radioed shortly before the crash that he was having icing problems and was fighting to maintain altitude after taking off Thursday from Arapahoe County Airport near Denver.

The twin-engine Beechcraft King Air owned by Lufkin Industries Inc. of Lufkin, Texas, crashed moments later.

Divers Search For Survivors In Rig Mishap

STAVANGER, Norway (AP)—Divers hammered on the hull of an upside-down oil workers' "floating hotel" today looking for survivors of the worst disaster in the North Sea oilfields.

With 38 bodies found and 101 men reported missing, the biggest rescue operation since World War II was under way by more than 2,000 people manning scores of ships, planes and helicopters.

Phillips Petroleum Co., which leased the 10,000-ton Alexander I. Kiliand rig, released new figures showing 228 people were aboard and a lower number of survivors than was first reported.

Spokesman Per Erik Bjorklund said 101 men were still missing, 38 bodies had been recovered and 89 survivors found. Previously 149 survivors had been reported.

Divers dropped 90 feet to check for signs of life in the platform's submerged living quarters. They were using underwater television cameras to check the hull.

"They are hammering on the hull, but so far there has been no response," said Per Erik Bjorklund, spokesman for the Phillips Petroleum Co. which leased the 10,000-ton Alexander I. Kiliand. "We are giving every priority to the search for survivors."

Tugboats were standing by to latch onto the rig.

More Fighting In NW Iran

By The Associated Press
New fighting has broken out in northwestern Iran, adding to the domestic turmoil as the American hostages enter their 146th day of captivity in Tehran and the United States indicates new measures are being prepared to force their release.

Fighting was reported Wednesday and Thursday in Iran's Kurdistan province, where the ethnic Kurds renewed their campaign for autonomy after the overthrow of Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi.

Abdolrahman Qasemi, secretary-general of the Kurdish Democratic Party, told the French news agency that at least 23 persons were killed in fighting Wednesday, and army helicopters bombed a number of villages in the region Thursday.

Governor General Jamshid Haqgu of Western Azerbaijan, which borders on Kurdistan, said in a Tehran Radio interview that a number of people had been killed but he did not know the exact number.

He denied that army helicopters had been in action and said the fighting started when an army column on maneuvers was fired on.

Tehran Radio also reported that a mob attacked an exhibit of photographs and books at the town hall in the town of Maku. The broadcast reported fighting around the town of Oshnaviyeh, with landowners, police, revolutionary guards and peasants involved, and a number of people killed.

In Egypt, the deposed shah's doctors examined results of tests on him in preparation for the removal of his enlarged, cancerous spleen but would not say when the surgery would be performed.

"You will be told when the time comes," reporters were told by Houston surgeon Dr. Michael DeBakey, who will perform the operation.

A brief announcement said the patient's fever had been reduced slightly.

In Washington, the State Department indicated policy decisions have been reached in recent days on new steps to try to secure the release of the 50 Americans held in the U.S. Embassy in Tehran and three U.S. diplomats at the Iranian Foreign Ministry.

Carter Eager To Sign Oil Profits Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—After 11 months of pleading with Congress, President Carter is eager to sign a compromise $22.7 billion "windfall" tax on the oil industry.

"You can leave the ribbons off this one in order to get it on down here," the president said Thursday in a telephone call to Senate Democratic Leader Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia and Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., manager of the bill.

"This is good news for the country and, I think, good news for the whole world," Carter said after the Senate completed congressional action on the tax by passing it 66-31. Elsewhere on Capitol Hill, the news was not so good for Carter.

Mount St. Helen Spews Gas, Ash

COUGAR, Wash. (AP)—An "eruptive plume" of volcanic gas and ash spewed 16,000 feet above the summit of Mount St. Helens early today and officials evacuated all areas within 15 miles of the peak.

The first eruptions in more than 120 years from the snow-covered volcano 40 miles northeast of Vancouver, Wash., apparently posed no immediate threat to life.

But officials feared it could signal a rise of lava within the 9,677 foot peak that would suddenly thaw snow and icefields, triggering mudslides and flooding, said Nolan Lewis, director of emergency services for Cowlitz County.

River watchers, who keep an eye on area rivers during times of heavy rainfall and spring melt, have been alerted to watch for rising water, Lewis said.

"On Thursday night, officials evacuated loggers and the few nearby residents as the volcano twisted in the grip of powerful internal forces and erupted with an explosion heard 45 miles away, belching volcanic ash over acres of pristine snow.

The Cowlitz County Department of Emergency Services and Skamania County sheriff's office said they had not determined how many persons had been evacuated from

Jerry House Heads Cotton Producers

Jerry House was elected president of the Scurry County Producers Association at a meeting of the board of directors last night.

Johnny Richardson, who has served as president the past year, was elected vice president, and Glenn Thompson was elected secretary-treasurer of the cotton growers' organization.

Richardson stressed that the uniform planting date of May 19 adopted at a recent meeting of the association's membership is important in the boll weevil control program.

Contract Extended... Hospital Load Hits Peak Here

The daily patient census at Cogdell Memorial Hospital has soared this year, hitting an all-time peak a week ago, the board of managers was told at its regular meeting last night.

Cy Miller, whose contract as administrator was extended during the session, said the hospital had 106 patients on Friday, March 21.

"To my knowledge that is the most patients the hospital has ever had at one time," Miller told the board.

Normal capacity at present is 85. However, the hospital has under construction a new, three-story addition that will increase capacity by 50 beds.

The daily patient census averaged 77 in January and 78 in February.

Miller also reported that the state health facilities commission was scheduled to take action this week on the local hospital's request for authority to purchase an ultrasound machine. He said he expected to receive word on the action at any time now.

Following the administrator's report, the board of managers went into a brief executive session, after which the open session was resumed and the board voted to extend Miller's contract as administrator to March of 1982, a one year extension, and set his salary at $34,500 per year.

Keeping tab on our neighbors: Nearly everyone appreciates a little help once in a while, and it is not uncommon for some people to turn to their Congressman when they have problems. But even help can be overdone.

Craig Nieman of the Lamb County Leader-News passes along this letter to a Congressman complaining about such a situation.

"Dear Sir: I have a dependent relative who has very little fiscal responsibility. He means well, but he keeps buying presents for my parents and me, charging them to our account.

"When he sees something that he thinks we might need, he buys it and we have to pay. These things are rarely what we'd have bought ourselves. Because he doesn't work for a living, money doesn't mean much to him. He is generous to the poor and needy with our money, but gives to the underserving, too.

"We just received a bill for his last spending spree, and it gives me a sick, hopeless feeling. How much better things would be if we could spend our own money for the things we want.

"He won't listen to me, but he will listen to you. Please use your influence to cut the spending of my Uncle Sam."

Communication with legislators has become so important that entrepreneurs are trying to capitalize on it, according to Orlin Brewer of the Vernon Record. He says a Vernon merchant got a visit recently by a man selling membership to a "Write-Your-Congressman-Club." It is for busy people who want to let their Congressman know how they feel about issues, but don't have time to write him themselves. For a fee, $49 a year, this club promises to swamp your Congressman with mail.

The Rotan Advance reports that Kim Ratliff, a 1978 graduate of Hobbs High School, has been accepted as one of some 300 Texas girls to compete for the 25 openings on the Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders squad. She will go to Irving Sunday for tryouts. An invitation to try out, along with an audition form, came after she sent a recent photograph to the Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders organization a few weeks ago.

Speedy Nieman of the Hereford Brand says this comment was overheard in a doctor's waiting room: "I'm at that stage of life where I'm not quite sure what kind of insurance to take out—major medical or minor miracle."—WACIL McNAIR welfare nightmare

The money taken from the citizens of this country to support welfare programs is outrageous, but in Europe the situation is even worse. Recent reports suggest that social welfare spending is causing major economic problems in at least four Western European nations. Statistics from these countries show just how quickly welfare spending can get out of hand.

Europeans generally have one national welfare system, unlike the United States, appropriately labeled Social Security. These European systems encompass much more than the pensions and disability payments provided by Social Security in the United States. Most European systems also include complete health and medical payments, unemployment benefits, subsidies to the poor, child payments, and a host of other services. It all sounds good if the price isn't considered.

A quick comparison with their American counterparts demonstrates the cost of the Europeans' social security folly. Last year an American wage earner making $35,000 paid out 26 percent of his income to taxes and social security. In Denmark that same individual would have paid out 54.1 percent; in Sweden 55 percent; Belgium 38.9 percent; in the Netherlands 33.3 percent. Statistics for lower paid workers are not much better. An American making $13,800 paid 21 percent in taxes and social security last year while that person's Danish counterpart paid 41.2 percent - and so on.

Economists in Western Europe stunned by the growth of the welfare system, are labeling the economic consequences of all this a disaster. If the current trends continue, by 1990 the government sector in Sweden will control 95 percent of the economy. The situation is not that much better in the other European nations. Social welfare programs in Belgium took 32 percent of all workers' wages only 10 years ago, now it's 46 percent. In the same time period the Netherlands, due primarily to spiraling social security costs, increased the government's share of its economy from 45 to 60 percent.

Predictably, these European nations are beginning to experience the economic turmoil that results from too much government. Last year in Belgium, students and doctors demonstrated in the streets against proposed cuts in their government payments. In the Netherlands the government imposed a three-month freeze on wage increases and put a lid on any increase on social welfare payments. When one considers that 60 percent of that country's economy is tied to government spending the enormity of that decision is apparent.

What happened in these European nations is nothing less than a loss of freedom. No foreign tanks crossed their borders in the last decade, but those people are as enslaved to their own welfare system as they would be to a foreign power. Ironically it was accomplished in the name of the people's welfare. The same thing could easily happen here. Maybe it is happening at this moment.

I was watching a policeman being interviewed on the 10 o'clock news the other night.

Instead of saying, "I chased that sucker for three blocks before I finally nailed 'em," he stood erect, his eyes staring straight ahead, and recited, "I pursued the suspect for three blocks on foot before radioing a code five."

Even the newsman was a little unsure of what happened. "Does that mean you caught him?"

The policeman remained at attention and said mechanically, "That is correct. The subject, upon being apprehended, fired three shots before being restrained and remanded into custody."

It's happened so many times it makes one wonder if policemen are able to stop speaking in fluent law enforcement when they get home and take off their uniform.

Somehow I visualize a wife greeting her officer-husband at the door, smiling. "Hi, honey, dinner will be ready in a few minutes. Who was that I saw you waving to?"

"The white Caucasian adult, approximately 62 inches tall, weighing 119 pounds, green eyes, brown hair and no visible distinguishing mark?"

"That's the one."

"She has been identified tentatively as our new neighbor, but we'll have to check it out. By the way, where is 4517?"

"I wish you'd stop referring to our son as the code number for 'accident.' If you want to know, he's being punished for playing ball in the living room and nearly breaking a lamp. Where is the suspect?"

"Watchin' TV."

"I'll see if he's ready to make a statement yet."

"The last time you tried to interrogate him he took off on you."

"Yes, that is correct, and you remember I charged him with a moving violation."

The domestic scene ends with the father rushing into the television room, grabbing the TV remote and shouting, "Freeze!"

Things may get worse before they get better. In a sheriff's newsletter recently, I noted an English-Spanish lesson for policemen. It was clipped and to the point. "Buenos dias. Como se llama? Gracias. Suba al coche, por favor. Usted esta arrestado."

Translation: "Good morning. What is your name? Thank you. Get in your car, please. You are under arrest."

It doesn't sound like English to me.

NEW YORK (AP)—Small investors are again being presented with one of those trying, tempting situations that call for more risk than they can afford to take. But in this case there is a solution.

The temptation arises from what many see as the low, low prices of many blue chip stocks. The risk is that the low, low prices could go lower still, because the future of these seems to be a minefield.

Most small investors still believe they must test that field with an all or nothing commitment - that their choice is simply to buy or not to buy, and that they must then live or die with the consequences.

But the choice needn't be that final if the investor uses the dividend reinvestment plans now offered by large companies. Under the plans, an investor can buy even fractions of shares.

The procedure followed by many investors is to buy from their broker a few shares of the company in which they are interested, paying the regular commission and having the shares registered in their name.

Shortly thereafter the company advises the buyer that he or she is entitled to join the investment plan, in which dividends are automatically reinvested in additional shares or fractions of shares.

The procedure followed by many investors is to buy from their broker a few shares of the company in which they are interested, paying the regular commission and having the shares registered in their name.

Shortly thereafter the company advises the buyer that he or she is will not actively become a candidate for the Republican nomination for president. He left the door open to accepting that nomination if a locked convention came to him, but he will not openly go to it.

The former president means what he says, according to his close advisers. Accepting that, however, raises an interesting question: In light of his firm decision, how does one explain the recent strange behavior of Jerry Ford?

There was the trial balloon floated in a New York Times interview in which for the first time he said publicly that he was available.

There were the frantic gatherings of old Ford advisers like Stu Spencer, his 1976 campaign chief; Rep. Richard Cheney, R-Wyo., his former deputy; and Dean Burch, a former chairman of the Republican National Committee.

And there were the public interviews and the private conversations in which Ford said the same thing: "Reagan can't win"; "my ego can't stand a defeat"; "I'm pretty sure I'll run"; "I'm really looking forward to getting back into the thick of it."

Finally came the announcement on Sunday, March 16, less than 24 hours after Ford told a political reporter in confidence that he was going to run: Count me out.

What happened? Those close to Ford say it was a combination of factors. To some extent, it was worry about his wife's ability to go through a campaign, although she was willing to give it a try. (She even appeared on the Today Show on March 14, sounding very much like a candidate's wife.) To some extent, also, it was the unwillingness of a number of key Republicans, all of whom had privately urged him to run, to translate those urgings into public support.

More than anything, however, say those who know, was that Ford, in the end, doubted he could deny Ronald Reagan the nomination. It was just too late.

The key to Ford's 11th hour change of heart is the recent failure of a lawsuit in California to change the way the state Republican primary is held.

In most GOP primaries, delegates are elected proportionately; each candidate gets delegates to the national convention in proportion to the votes he wins in the primary. In California, though, it's winner take all. Winning by just one vote gives a candidate all of the state's 168 delegates.

There will be 1,990 voting delegates at the convention in Detroit, and 996 votes will capture the nomination. Thus, the winner in California will get almost 20 percent of the delegates needed to become the nominee.

The non-proportional selection process in California twice has come under challenge in the last six months. The effort has been led by Republicans in the state who oppose Reagan's candidacy.

First, a petition drive sought to put an initiative on the June 3 ballot. If passed, the initiative would have resulted in immediate proportional delegate selection.

Backers of the move spent a reported $250,000 to get a quarter of a million signatures on petitions. Many of those signatures were invalidated, however, and their effort fell short.

Next, they took the case to the courts, but lost there, too. It still is winmy turn

Like Jethro of the Beverly Hillbillies, I always wanted to be either a short order cook or a brain surgeon. When I found I couldn't cook, I thought that by elimination my decision had been made.

But alas, I found myself deficient in another area, except for which I'm certain that by now I would be considered one of the world's great physicians along with DeBakey, Pasteur and Dr. Hook, or at least out in Hollywood doing nose jobs.

I'm sure I could have spent that $80 thou a year and played golf every Wednesday like you gotta do when you hire on as a doctor. My problem was that my tolerance for human suffering was way below the level required of those in the medical profession.

I went on a crash program designed to deepen my capacity for misery. It started out with light afternoon soap operas. Then I progressed to Little House on the Prairie. Soon, I felt I was ready for what I believed was the ultimate reruns of The Waltons. When I could watch John Boy slobber all over himself while explaining to some other ignorant hillbilly about how these were the good old days, (the Depression) I felt I was ready for anything.

But when I stepped out into the real world again and saw what it can do to a guy when he pumps $22 of gas into what looks more like an oversized roller skate than a car, I fell apart.

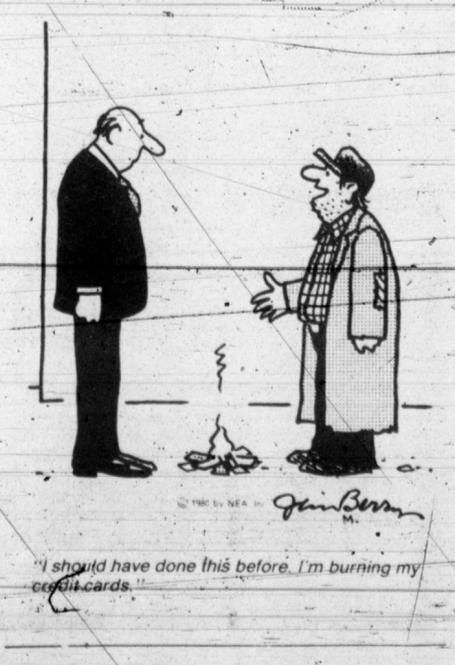

What really dashed my fantasy of a life in white was when I dreamed I had wrangled a date with this nurse I had long admired from afar.

Over a candle light dinner I popped the question. "Will you tell me why you became a nurse?"

"No stupid," she said, "I enjoyed it, so naturally I became a nurse."

All in the same night I gave up on medicine, nurses and sardines and ice cream for supper.

Playing percentages pays

The Professor's four-spade opening is not recommended here, but the Professor tends to bid as the spirit moves him and not necessarily as writer's recommend.

He ruffed the heart lead and promptly played out his ace and queen of trumps. This pickled West's 10.

East led a second heart. The Professor ruffed again and led his nine of trumps to East's jack. Another heart lead forced the Prof to ruff the third time. He was down to one trump, but that was enough to pull East's five spot. Then he ran off the five good diamonds and conceded one club at the finish.

"Why did you play the queen of trumps instead of the nine at your second trump lead? Wouldn't you have lost three trump tricks if West had been dealt king-three instead of ten-three?"

"It was a matter of percentage and in the long run the winning player takes the best percentage play. If trumps were going to break 3-3 all plays were equal. I was only concerned with 4-2 breaks. My play was going to win against 10 x or J x and would only cost me against K x. The odds were two to one in favor of my play and that is pretty good odds."

Renovate Frames For Home Decor

COLLEGE STATION-Old picture frames may offer exciting, meaningful decorating possibilities.

Some are sturdy and in good condition except for the finish, says Sue Young, a housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Many frames need only cleaning or slight mending, she says.

Before deciding to refinish an old picture frame, look it over carefully, she advises.

Ask yourself these questions:

Is the frame sturdy? Is it warped?

Are corners securely glued or fastened together?

If it's a gesso or some type of plaster moulding, is it too badly damaged for easy repair?

Is the style one that will harmonize with other furnishings in your home?

Is it the size and type to fit the picture you wish to frame?

Not all frames are worth refinishing. Some are much too ornate for today's homes and for most pictures, Mrs. Young says.

A frame should not compete with the picture for attention. However, beveling beading, scallops, piercing and carving are enriching to a molding if not overdone. Sometimes an overly ornate frame can "tone down" simply with removal of one extra border or ridge.

If scrolls and other decorations on a frame are made of papier-mache or gesso plaster, you usually can loosen and remove them just by tapping the frame. You may find lovely wood underneath, the specialist says.

Dear Abby

This Counselor Needs a Cure

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1980 By Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am a straight "A" high school student (girl) who has always wanted to be a nurse. When I told my high school counselor that I had chosen nursing, he seemed disappointed, and asked, "Why?"

I told him I wanted to help people, and he said, "With your brains, you should consider medicine; all a nurse does is carry bedpans and follow the doctor's orders."

Now I'm confused. What is your opinion?

PLANNING MY FUTURE

DEAR PLANNING: Nursing is one of the most interesting and rewarding professions a caring person could choose. As a nurse, you may indeed carry a bedpan; but you will also comfort a frightened child, calm and reassure an anxious patient, alert a physician to a change in a patient's condition, teach people how to care for themselves, and much, much more. And you can do these in a variety of settings—hospitals, clinics, physicians' offices, schools, public health agencies and in private practice.

Talk with your school nurse or contact a school of nursing in your community for information about professional nursing. Then share that information with your high school counselor. He has a lot to learn!

DEAR ABBY: I am a 45-year-old woman who has always had a very deep voice. I think it is getting deeper with age, because I am being called "sir" more frequently when I talk on the telephone.

Can you think of something snappy I can say to correct these people who call me "sir" without embarrassing them too much?

GETTING IN DEEPER

DEAR GETTING: Skip the correction unless it's important for the gender-bender to know whether you're a "sir" or a "madame."

DEAR ABBY: I went out to dinner recently with friends and asked for a doggie bag for the leftover rolls. I heard that according to the laws, once a basket of rolls is placed on your table, they are not to be served to anyone else.

My friend said I was mistaken—that bread and dinner rolls should not be taken home. I left the crackers because they were individually wrapped in cellophane and could be used again.

Who is right?

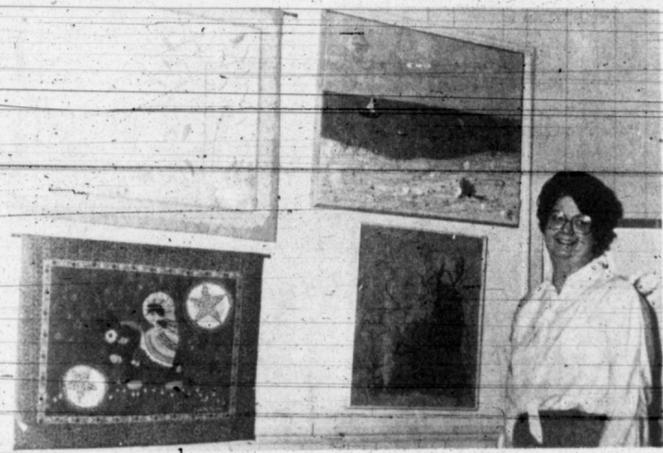

MARGARET H.

DEAR MARGARET: You are.

C-City Play Auditions Set Monday, Tuesday

Auditions for "Picnic" will be held Monday and Tuesday, March 31 and April 1, at 7 p.m. at the Colorado City Playhouse, 337 Walnut St. in Colorado City.

men: Hal Carter, the young vagabond, in his twenties; Boniber, the paper boy, in his teens; Alan Seymore, suitor to Midge, in his twenties; Howard Bevins, a friend of Miss Sidney, middle-aged; Midge Owens, a beautiful girl, about twenty; Millie Owens, a sixteen year old girl; Flo Owens, the girls' mother, about forty; Rosemary Sidney, the spinster, about forty; Helen Potts, the neighbor, middle-aged; Irma Kronkite, a middleaged school teacher; and Christine Schoenwalder, another middleaged school teacher.

Directing the production will be Gwen Wistrand of Roscoe. Mrs. Wistrand said that she is not particularly concerned that the actors actually be the age of the characters. She believes that acting ability and makeup can compensate for any age differences and openly invites all interested people to the audition.

The production is tentatively scheduled for performance during the first two weeks of June.

Predicts Rapture Tuesday

DALLAS (AP)—Radio evangelist Willie Day Smith says according to his calculations, the "Rapture" predicted in the Bible when all Christians will be swept up into Heaven will occur next Tuesday.

Smith says he, for one, is not planning to remain on earth that day.

"I'm going to cancel my radio programs. If I leave April 1, I can't make the radio programs," said Smith, whose sermons are broadcast by 29 radio stations.

The 49-year-old evangelist said he arrived at his prediction by carefully reading the Bible and making calculations. He said the Rapture is linked to the birth of Israel, which became a nation in 1948.

He said thousands of Christians will be changed to immortal bodies, swept up and transported to Heaven, leaving the non-believers behind on April 1.

Those remaining will assume the Christians were kidnapped by "aliens from outer space and we need to band together as a world government and have a world president," Smith said.

He acknowledged the risks of making such a pinpoint prediction.

"I have nothing to lose but my reputation," he said. "Nobody likes to be seen as a fool, but I wouldn't go out and blow my brains out if I'm wrong."

town women. One has an invalid mother and the other has two maturing daughters and a boarder who is a spinster school teacher. Into this congested female atmosphere comes a young man of neither polish nor promise. However, his animal magnetism has varied affects on the women and his presence soon upsets the entire group.

High eye pressure

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Recently I had an over-60 physical examination offered by our city. I was told that the glaucoma test showed one eye 21 and the other 22 which was borderline. Please explain what these figures mean. Is the cause of this disease known and is there any medication that might halt the progress? I'm 75 years old.

DEAR READER—Your eyeball is really a rounded flexible globe filled with fluid and jelly-like material. It has an internal pressure. Otherwise it would collapse like a flat tire. There is a normal range of pressure inside the eye. It's usually stated to be between 10 and 20. Thus the reading you quote of 21 and 22 is just above the upper limits of normal. There are some variations in the test and technique so that's nothing to get real excited about.

It is an indication that you should be carefully checked by your ophthalmologist at frequent intervals.

There are a number of causes for glaucoma but all of them result in an increased amount of pressure inside the eye. That increased pressure can lead to damage and destruction of the delicate structures inside the eye that enable you to see.

Yes, there are treatments for the control of glaucoma. They're most effective if the cause is found early and treatment is begun early. That is why I'm recommending that you have frequent evaluations by your eye doctor. Glaucoma can lead to irreversible blindness if it is not detected and treated early.

Considering the serious nature of blindness that everyone would like to avoid, it's important for all people past 50 years of age to have their eyes examined regularly, probably once a year or more often if their eye doctor recommends it.

One of the many causes of glaucoma is a neglected cataract. The hardened lens can put pressure on the normal fluid drainage mechanism inside the eye. That is one reason why an advanced cataract should usually be removed to prevent glaucoma.

You apparently have no significant problems from cataracts now, yet as you get older the chances will increase as they do for everyone. So I'm sending you The Health Letter number 13-6, Your Cataracts Are Coming. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB—If a husband has a bad case of gout, can a woman catch the gout by having sex? Gout is in the uric acid tract so why can't a woman get the infection too?

DEAR READER—Gout is not an infectious disease. It is caused by overproduction of uric acid and has nothing to do with the urinary tract. Some uric acid salts along with urea and other substances are eliminated through the urine. And people with gout have an increased tendency to have kidney stones and kidney problems. But gout is a metabolic disease and a person cannot catch it through sex.

Reception For Artist Sunday

Watercolors by Dr. A.N. Densmore of Sweetwater will be exhibited in the Fine Arts Gallery of Western Texas College March 30-April 30.

A reception honoring the artist, is planned from 2-4 p.m. Sunday and the public is invited to attend. There will be no admission charge.

The gallery is in the Fine Arts Building and is open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. each weekday.

Dr. Densmore was graduated from high school in Kenosha, Wis., in 1937 and attended the University of Wisconsin until entering the Air Force in 1941. At the end of World War II, he returned to Wisconsin to earn the doctorate in dentistry from Marquette University in 1950. He opened his office in Sweetwater the same year.

He began to experiment with oil painting while recuperating from a serious illness in 1967, and after several years began to work with watercolors and pencil sketching. He has received instruction from two Sweetwater artists, Pat Smith and Mildred Shaffer.

Works by Dr. Densmore have been shown on several "Texas Dental Journal" covers and his paintings were exhibited at the Dallas Midwinter Dental Meeting in 1973.

No Injury In Road Mishap

A Fort Hood soldier escaped injury early this morning when the pickup truck he was driving left the road and overturned north of Snyder on Highway 84.

The accident occurred about 6:30 a.m. and involved a 1968 Ford pickup driven by Richard Nisbett. Investigating troopers of the Department of Public Safety said Nisbett was enroute to Lubbock when the accident occurred 16 miles north of town.

Although no injuries were reported in the single vehicle accident, DES troopers said the pickup received heavy damage.

The activities will be highlighted by the final session at 7:15 when Ben Zickefoose will present "Gymnastics to the Glory of God" at the Towle Park Barn.

English poet Thomas Chatterton was born in Bristol in 1752. An orphan, the boy spent his time reading old manuscripts and, at the age of 12, composing poems which he claimed were the work of a 15th-century monk named Rowley. The poems were accepted by Horace Walpole, among others, as genuine. In 1770, Chatterton went to London where he found literary success and financial disaster. He died a suicide three months before his 18th birthday.

Other speakers will include Bill Richardson and Jim Nutt, both from Abilene. The program is under the direction of Brian Sharp, youth minister at 37th Street. The program is open to the public.

Suspect Held In Burglary Attempt

A 21-year-old Snyder man was arrested early this morning when he was found beside a battered door that police believe was an attempt to break into Skinny's convenience store on 37th St.

The subject was taken into custody about 1 a.m. today by Sgt. Wade Norris for investigation of burglary.

Officers said there appeared to be no evidence that entry to the store was gained or that anything was taken.

Mexico Going Up On Tab For Natural Gas

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Mexican government announced Thursday that it is raising the price of natural gas exported to the United States from $3.625 to $4.47 per 1,000 cubic feet, effective immediately.

Foreign Minister Jorge Castaneda said the new price is "exactly the price the United States is paying this minute for Canadian gas." Jorge Serrano Diaz, the president of Pemex, the Mexican state oil monopoly, said earlier this month that Mexico would not sell gas to the United States "for one cent less" than Canada.

Castaneda said U.S. Undersecretary of Energy Leslie Goldman and other officials agreed to the new price during a two-day visit to Mexico City this week.

The United States imports about 300 million cubic feet of gas daily from Mexico and nearly 10 times that much from Canada.

The United States and Mexico reached an agreement last year on the export of Mexican natural gas to the United States after two years of price negotiations. Mexico reserved the right to renegotiate the price every three months.

Of all the Seven Wonders of the ancient world, only the pyramids at Giza—often called the first wonder—survive.

Sgt. Wright Resigns His Police Post

Sgt. Bill Wright, a member of the Snyder Police Department for the past five years, has resigned to accept a position with an oil company in Andrews.

Wright, 26, came to Snyder from Sam Houston State University where he was graduated with a bachelor's degree in law enforcement. He was promoted to the rank of sergeant last May.

In December 1976, he married Dotsy Rosson. They have one daughter, Brooke.

Wright's resignation is effective today.

In Andrews, Wright will be assistant administrative analyst for Amoco. "I have enjoyed my five years with the City of Snyder," he said, "but I'm looking forward to my new position with enthusiasm."

One of the richest deposits of petroleum shale is found in the Green River underlying Utah, Colorado and Wyoming.

Silver Slides To Lowest In Seven Months

NEW YORK (AP)—The frantic slide of silver markets, involving a huge sell-off of billionaire Nelson Bunker Hunt's holdings, has brought silver prices to their lowest level in seven months.

The price of a contract for delivery of silver in April closed at $10.80 an ounce at the Commodity Exchange in New York, down $5 from the spot-contract month the previous day and off almost $42 dollars from a peak reached on Jan. 21.

Thursday's close was the lowest at the Comex since Aug. 31 last year when it closed at $10.48 an ounce. In London, silver continued to fall this morning, while gold rallied slightly in Europe. Silver sold in London for $13.25 an ounce, down from $14.50. Gold was fixed in London at $490 an ounce, up from $474 Thursday.

In Zurich, the metal sold for $483.50, up $3. Gold closed $2.97 lower in Hong Kong at $485.91. Prices of gold and platinum followed silver's trail to a sharp drop. The price of gold was bid at $475 an ounce, down $22, at Republican National Bank late Thursday. Contracts for spot delivery of platinum fell $25.40 an ounce to $482.60 at the New York Mercantile Exchange.

Both Texas Senators Voted No On Oil Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Both Texas senators reiterating their stand that the "windfall profits" tax will discourage domestic oil production, lined up against final approval of the $227.7 billion measure.

The bill was sent Thursday to the White House for President Carter's signature after the Senate approved it 66-31.

Eight Cases Heard Here In County Court

Eight cases have been heard in county court. Ronnie Hale Farmer, 605 35th St., was sentenced on two counts of driving while his driver's license was suspended. On one offense, he was fined $25 and sentenced to 10 days in the county lockup and on the other offense he was fined $20 and sentenced to serve 72 hours in jail. Guilty pleas had been entered in both cases.

A guilty plea to a theft charge netted Jimmy Lackey a 30-day sentence in the county jail. Lackey resides at the Travel Inn. A $500 fine was levied against Niguel Mata Herrera, 2405 Ave. N, on an assault charge. He pleaded guilty to the offense.

Charged with fleeing to elude a peace officer, John Ramon Gonzales, Rt. 2, Snyder, drew a $100 fine and a 30-day stretch in the county jail. He had pleaded guilty to the offense.

The remaining three cases involved charges of driving while intoxicated. Named in them were Merwin Allen Watts, Box 995, Snyder, Wayne Evalt, Hobbs, N.M., and Florino Alonzo, Ira.

Watts drew a 30-day jail term, that was probated two years and a $200 fine. Evalt and Alonzo both got $200 fines and three-day jail sentences. Guilty pleas had been entered to all the DWI cases.

"It isn't logical, in a time of energy shortage, with our country's unhealthy dependence on foreign oil, to levy a tax that everyone acknowledges will cut back domestic production of oil," Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, said in a statement following the vote.

He pointed, however, to ways the tax might have been heavier.

CARTER

(Continued From Page 1) Energy Department to carry out his plan to impose a $10.3 million import fee on imported oil and have all of it reflected in a 10-cent per gallon increase in gasoline prices.

But the amendment proposed by the subcommittee has a long way to go before becoming law. Moreover, Carter's press secretary said the president has vowed to veto the Energy Department authorization bill if it has the import fee restriction in it by the time the measure reaches his desk.

The windfall tax bill, however, could reach Carter's desk as early as today - after technicians put it in proper form.

The tax, a major part of Carter's energy program, will take for the government $227.7 billion of the estimated $1 trillion in additional charges consumers will pay the oil industry in the 1980 because of the president's decision to end price controls on U.S. crude oil.

The four, all Democrats, who voted for final approval, were House Majority Leader Jim Wright of Fort Worth, Rep. Martin Frost of Dallas and Reps. Bob Eckhardt and Mickey Leland of Houston. Oil-related contributions to members of the Texas congressional delegation are generally heavy.

Mine Mishap Death Count Now At 31

ORKNEY, South Africa (AP)—Standing beside a mine shaft more than a mile deep in the world's largest gold mine, Aaron Masiza suddenly heard screams. He looked up and saw a "mary ann," an elevator loaded with fellow miners, hurtling down.

"Before I knew what was happening I saw strange particles fly through the air ... and later noticed it was human flesh. I also saw limbs," Masiza said.

This morning, the day after the accident in the Vaal Reefs mine, John Eplett, the mine manager, said the original reported death toll had been revised from 23 to 31. Originally it had been reported that 20 blacks and 3 whites died when the mine hoist plummeted to the bottom of the shaft at an estimated 160 miles an hour.

But Eplett said, "Looks as if there were more blacks dead than we feared. Twenty-eight, we think. The top deck must have been almost full."

The two-deck elevator cage has a capacity of 40 miners. Eplett said the hoist apparently jammed against the shaft wall as it began its descent. It jerked free, but in the meantime the hoist cable had been piling up above the lift. Suddenly freed, the cage dropped abruptly.

Eplett said this sudden strain apparently sheered off the bridle, the mechanism that connects the hoist to the cable. He said it was "the most unusual accident in my mining experience."

Strong Field Expected At Sparkle City Relays

This year's Snyder Girls' Track meet - dubbed the Sparkle City Relays - may be the best ever in terms of talent and amount of teams entered. The single-day meet begins at 9:30 Saturday in Tiger Stadium.

Fourteen teams will compete in the single division meet: Big Spring, Colorado City, Lubbock, Coronado, Ira, Lubbock High, Midland High, Midland Lee, Odessa High, Rotan, San Angelo Central, San Angelo Lake View, Slaton, Snyder and Stanton.

Field events open the show, followed by running preliminaries at 10. Finals begin at 2 p.m.

Five girls return to protect records they set in the meet over the past two years. Gail Carter of Lake View, who holds the record of 5-2 in the high jump, will return. She will be joined by running mate Cindy Golt, a prolific point-gatherer for the Maidens this year. Golt holds the 80-yard hurdle mark for the meet, set at 11-flat.

This year the event has been changed to the 100 meter hurdles, but Golt remains a favorite again.

Lubbock Coronado brings back two record holders; 800 meter specialist Karen Payne, who tied the former record of 2:34.0 last year, and Pat Jefferson, who holds the best mark in the discus at 115-11.

The other returned is Colorado City's Brenda Smith, who holds the best 200 meters time of 27.3.

Coronado and San Angelo Central are considered the favorites in the meet, but the amount of competitors entered will make a run-away victory almost impossible. Central has turned in an amazing 48.5 clocking in the 400 meter relay, which would break the record by more than two seconds. Coronado has run a 50.1, which would also snap the mark of 50.8 set by Lake View last season.

Central will also take a shot at the 800 meter relay. The San Angelo team has run the distance in 1:45.0 this year, over five seconds faster than the 1:50.5 record time set by Coahoma in 1979.

Other records may fall also, including Rhonda Herndon's (Lake View) 34-5/8 leap in the triple jump. Kelly Bryant, Ira, has gone over 36 feet this season.

Top talent from Snyder includes Brenda Anderson in the shot put and 100 meter dash; Tania Barrett in the hurdles and high jump; Lisa Waller in the 400 meters; Suzy Fisher in the 800 meters; and the Feline 1600 meter relay team.

Diego Clippers Sink; Blazers Still Afloat

By The Associated Press "Isn't it ironic?" asked Kermit Washington. It was 10 1/2 months ago, 1973 to be exact, that the San Diego Clippers announced the signing of Bill Walton as a free agent. "I not only visualize a championship here, I expect it," the 6-foot-11 center told a nationally televised news conference. Not this year. With Walton on the sidelines - as he has been for most of the season - because of recurring problems with his injured foot, the San Diego Clippers were eliminated from contention for the National Basketball Association playoffs Thursday night.

Snyder Hosts Golf Tourney

Snyder High School will host the second District 3-AAA tournament of the season here Saturday at Western Texas College Golf Course.

Snyder placed third in the first loop tourney, held in Sweetwater on March 15. Sweetwater took first place, while Lamesa was second and Brownfield fourth.

Fittingly, they were eliminated by none other than the team Walton left behind, the Portland Trail Blazers, who assured themselves of the sixth and final Western Conference playoff berth by beating the Clippers 96-93.

The machine the U.S. Golf Association uses to test balls at its Far Hills, N.J., headquarters is called "Iron Byron."

Steers Defeat Snyder; District Play Set Soon

EDITOR'S NOTE: Snyder High School varsity baseball team was scheduled to host Lubbock Coronado at 4 p.m. today. That game has been cancelled due to wet ground. The Tigers will open District 3-AAA competition here April 1 against Lamesa at 4:30 p.m.

BIG SPRING - Hitting was the theme of yesterday's Snyder Tiger-Big Spring Steer contest, and the hosts came out on top, 14-13.

Snyder, which used five hurlers in the game, slamed 18 hits, including two home runs, two triples and two doubles. Big Spring came away with 14 hits, but got the ones that counted.

The Tigers, now 4-10 on the season, will begin District 3-AAA play April 1, hosting Lamesa at 4:30 p.m. at Moffett Field.

Snyder rapped out two runs in the first inning, two in the third, one in the fourth and eight in the fifth - including a bases loaded home run by Paul Gafford - but couldn't come up with the pitching to quiet the Steers.

Big Spring scored only one run in the first inning, but took the lead with six in the second, added four in the third and one in the fourth, and lapped in two in the seventh for the win. For Snyder, Gafford and Bryan Vincent each collected a home run, Bobby Degrate and Ricky Gambol belted triples, and Kyle Short had two doubles.

Tony Degrate, 1-3, was charged with the loss. Files took the win for Big Spring.

Baseball Talks Seem Headed To Dead End

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) - A scheduled three-day negotiating session between representatives of major league baseball owners and players turned out to be a two-day waste of time, says the head of the players' union.

The talks, aimed at formulating a new four-year basic agreement between owners and players, broke off abruptly Thursday, and today's session was canceled.

The meetings will resume Sunday in Palm Springs, Calif., with the help of a federal mediator requested by the owners.

Two days later, the Players Association's executive board plans to meet in Dallas to determine if and when a strike will be called.

"I regret they saw fit to waste yesterday, today and tomorrow," Players Association executive director Marvin Miller said Thursday.

"There was no bargaining Wednesday or today," Miller had met for about two hours Wednesday with Ray Grebey, the chief negotiator for the owners. He said it was Grebey's decision to recess the talks until Sunday.

Grebeby said the owners asked the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service to participate in the negotiations, and reiterated their contention that the season should open on schedule April 9 whether or not an agreement has been reached.

For Seminole Track Meet Tigers One Of Favorites

SEMINOLE - Snyder High School joins Lubbock Estacado, Lamesa, Lovington, N.M. and Lubbock Dunbar in track and field action at the Indian Relays here Saturday.

Field events begin at 9, followed by preliminaries in the running events at 9:30. Finals begin at 2 p.m.

The meet consists of four divisions; class AAA and class AA, boys and girls. Girls' AAA schools entered include Estacado, Dunbar, Odessa Ector, Lamesa, Brownfield, Andrews, Levelland and Monahans.

Snyder won its own Canyon Reef Relays last week, and comes into Saturday's meet as one of the favorites. Dunbar and Estacado, boasting the most overall team speed, are expected to be in the running also.

Coach Winfred Shipp's Tigers locate most of their strength in the pole vault, high jump, long jump and 200 and 400 meters.

Snyder's Dale Jenkins holds West Texas' AAA best in the pole vault with a 15-6 mark. Likewise, teammate Brad Richardson is the "heavy" in the high jump with a 6-8 best.

Thomas Selmon, ranked second through West Texas in the AAA long jump with a 23-2, holds an edge over the rest of the competition here. Selmon will also compete in the 100 meters, where he is likely to find the competition tougher. Holmes of Dunbar holds the best coming into the meet with a 10.9. Selmon and Kelvin White of Estacado have run an 11-flat.

Snyder can also expect to do well in the dashes, where Lloyd Benson boasts times of 22.0 in the 200 meters and 48.73 in the 400 meters. Walker of Dunbar has run a 50.3 in the 400 and may be Benson's closest rival here Saturday.

The Lubbock schools find a lot of talent in the hurdles and relays. Crawford of Dunbar holds the area's best AAA time in the 300 intermediates with a 39.4. Snyder's Keith McClain - coming off of an injury - has gone the distance in 41.4. Estacado brags a blazing 42.3 in the 440 yard relay; Dunbar a 43.1 in the 400 meter relay. Dunbar also leads all contestants in the 1600 relay with a time of 3:22.5.

While Snyder has not made great waves with its relay teams, the Tigers may do better this week. Selmon is haggled with a minor leg injury, but McClain could be back running strong, and Miguel Ortegon, injured early in the season, will be on the team again.

Ortegon, a good 400 dash man, should help Snyder pick up some depth points in that event also. Snyder's other key entry in the meet will be in the discus, with Tommy Peek. He has a best of 147-10 1/2.
