If Military Intervenes...

Iran Threatening To Kill Hostages

By The Associated Press
The Moslem militants occupying the U.S. Embassy in Tehran today threatened to kill their 50 American hostages -- "burn them into ashes" -- if the Carter administration takes any military action against Iran.

Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh, meanwhile, declared Iran has "decided to overthrow" the regime in neighboring Iraq.

The militants' grim threat came as U.S. officials were hinting at a naval blockade or mining of Iran's ports if President Carter's new economic and diplomatic sanctions fail to free the hostages, who were in their 158th day in captivity today.

"In the name of God the avenger we plainly warn the criminal government of the United States that if it undertakes even the smallest military intervention in Iran we will kill all the spies hostages together and we emphatically warn the respected U.S. nation that the criminals of the U.S. administration will be directly responsible for such an event," said the militants' statement, carried by Tehran Radio.

A Western reporter who called the embassy for clarification of what was meant by "spies-hostages" was told the militants meant all the hostages would be killed, and that they were not making any distinction between alleged spies and the other captives.

In the early days of the crisis the militants said they would kill the hostages if the United States made a military attempt to rescue them. They said they had rigged the embassy compound with explosives.

Later today, Iran's official news agency Pars carried another militant statement declaring, "We will burn into ashes the spy, hostages and the building they are living in if we see any suspicious military move or the least military attack by the U.S. against the territory of Iran."

Ghotbzadeh, interviewed by American television this morning, said he doubted that his government could stop the militants if they decided to carry out their threat, "but I hope we never go to that end."

In Washington, Carter administration officials declined to make immediate comment on the threat. In the past, Carter has warned of severe retaliation if any hostages are harmed.

Ghotbzadeh's announcement on Iraq was carried by Tehran radio, which quoted him as saying: "We have decided to overthrow the Baathist regime of Iraq." There (See Iran, Page 5)

Local Building At A Standstill

Construction activity was at a virtual standstill in Snyder during the month of March, city building permit figures show.

Only nine permits were issued during the month for a total value of $64,400. This made March one of the lightest months for construction here in several years.

High mortgage interest rates were blamed for the slowdown.

The March activity ran the 1980 total to $664,800 and edged the total for the city's current fiscal year up to $1,428,811. At this time last year, the fiscal year total had reached $4,611,038.

Four of the permits for March were for mobile homes and the remainder went for minor additions, alterations and accessory buildings.

So far this calendar year the city has issued 77 building permits, including 35 for residential units. Seventeen of these have been for single-family residences and 18 for mobile homes.

Warnings Issued On Chain Letters

Warnings have been issued here concerning chain letter schemes that have emerged in the region.

Bill Warner, chamber of commerce manager, said that word had been received from some area cities, that chain letters were in circulation and that people should be reminded that they are illegal.

"Some people apparently are under the impression that if these letters do not go into the mail, they are legal, but that is not the case," Warner said he had been advised. If the money they generate comes by mail it is illegal.

One of the schemes cited recently was called "Circle of Gold." This letter promotion incorporates an appealing new angle -- the prospect of immediately recouping money invested through resale of the letter. The exchange involves a cost of $100. After paying $50 for the letter and sending $50 to the first person on a list of 12, a buyer removes the top name, adds his name at the bottom, sells two copies and, presto, $100 back. Then, according to the more traditional part of the pitch, participants need only sit and watch the money roll in as the letters including their names spread to a geometrically increasing portion of the population.

The catch is, that just when the expansion of participation reaches its maximum, you run out of participants, regardless of whether anybody breaks the chain. This means that many exploit a few by the scheme.

Americans Go More Deeply Into Debt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans continued to go more deeply in debt in February, borrowing more and repaying less, the Federal Reserve Board reported.

The report said the February expansion in consumer debt was slightly higher than an 11 percent annual rate, more than December and January put together. New consumer installment borrowing increased 2.4 percent from January's $26.7 billion to $27.3 billion in February. Repayments fell 3.5 percent from $25.3 billion in January to $24.4 billion in February.

Tornadoes Continue Rampage

By The Associated Press
New tornadoes swirled through the Ohio Valley and pummeled the Appalachian states after a family of twisters roared up from the legendary Tornado Alley of the Southwest, bringing destruction and death during its two-day rampage across 14 states.

The twisters -- "part of a family of storms," according to meteorologists -- killed four persons and left nearly 200 injured and hundreds more homeless. The National Severe Storms Forecast Center in Kansas City, Mo., reported 75 tornadoes on Monday and Tuesday.

Damage was estimated at more than $14 million in the five states where estimates were available -- Arkansas, Kentucky, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Tennessee. A line of thunderstorms spawning hail, funnel clouds and twisters extended from Texas to Wisconsin, ranging eastward through Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Mississippi, Kentucky, Tennessee and West Virginia.

700 Expected For Chamber Banquet

Some 700 persons are expected to be on hand Thursday night for the annual banquet of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce, which will have Gov. Bill Clements as speaker.

The governor is scheduled to arrive here by plane at about 5:30 p.m. Thursday. He will be greeted at the airport by a delegation of Snyder Goldcoaters.

Meanwhile, the Scurry County Coliseum was being decorated today by participants in the local Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP).

Tickets sales were continuing at the chamber office, and time was running out for those planning to attend who had not reserved tickets. The tickets are priced at $10 each. Reservations had passed the 600 mark early this morning and they were still coming in at a steady pace.

In addition to the governor's address, several awards will be presented during the banquet program.

Bullock's Win To Hike Taxes For Utilities

AUSTIN (AP)—Comptroller Bob Bullock today won a Texas Supreme Court victory that should mean millions of dollars in additional state tax collections from utility companies.

The court said, without writing a new opinion, that it could find "no reversible error" in a Beaumont Court of Civil Appeals decision upholding a Bullock rule for computing franchise taxes.

Bullock dropped 14 years of precedent on Jan. 1, 1976, by saying utility companies' investment tax credits immediately become an asset against which the franchise tax is computed.

Before that, companies were allowed to put the credit on their books as a deferred item, spreading its effect on their taxes over many years.

The credit reduces a corporation's federal income taxes by 10 percent of the amount paid for new capital equipment.

The effect of Bullock's decision was to increase tax payments by the companies.

Dallas Power & Light, Texas Power & Light, Community Public Service Corp., Southwestern Electric Service Co. and Texas Electric Service Co. sued to strike down the decision.

They sought recovery of $626,030 in franchise taxes paid under protest in 1976 and 1977.

Houston Lighting & Power Co. paid in a separate brief that Bullock already had served notice he would seek $1,529,744 in additional tax payments from the company because of his ruling.

The court of civil appeals decision, which the Supreme Court's ruling upheld, said it wasn't Bullock's job to worry about how a utility company carries the tax credit on the books -- either as a one-time addition to assets or prorated over the life of the equipment.

American Jetliner Hijacked

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP)—A hijacker armed with an automatic pistol seized an American Airlines jetliner with only the crew aboard this morning and demanded to be flown to Cuba, authorities said.

Federal Aviation Administration spokesman Dick Hallen said the Chicago-bound Boeing 727 was seized at Ontario International Airport around 7:58 a.m.

"It's an American Airlines Boeing 727. They're only the crew aboard plus the hijacker. He's demanding to go to Cuba," Hallen said.

Girl's Hand Reattached

DALLAS (AP)—Surgeons early today reattached the nearly severed left hand of a North Texas State University coed whose arm was sliced by a band saw during an art class.

The surgery for Christie Legg, 21, of Longview, began about 3 p.m. Tuesday at Baylor Medical Center, and was completed about 5 a.m. today, said spokeswoman Gay Robards.

Two physicians who performed the delicate microsurgery procedure listed Miss Legg's condition as satisfactory.

The young woman was cutting wood with a band saw in class at nearby Denton on Tuesday morning when the saw slipped and cut into her arm, nearly severing the left hand just above the wrist.

Soviets Launch Space Capsule

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today launched a two-man space capsule for linkup with the orbiting Salyut 6 space station. Tass reported.

The news agency said the spacecraft was manned by Lt. Col. Leonid Popov, the commander, and Valery Ryumin, the pilot and flight engineer.

The flight was Popov's first, but Ryumin made space trips in 1977 and last year.

Ryumin, 40, shares the world record for time spent in space. He and Col. Vladimir Lyakhov spent 175 days and 36 minutes in orbit in the Soviet Union's last previous space flight, returning to earth Aug. 19, 1979.

Tass said the two cosmonauts were feeling good and all systems were functioning normally. The Agency said their mission was to carry out maintenance and repair work on the Salyut 6 station and to conduct scientific and technical experiments.

"We know you are busy with many important duties..." the cover letter begins. "But we feel that this survey will provide vital information for an important industry and hope that you will be able to take a few minutes of your valuable time to complete the questionnaire."

Or, "we realize that you are a busy person, so our questionnaire has been designed to be completed in less than 15 minutes."

The survey business certainly must be one of the nation's biggest industries these days. They cover everything. Those that most of us hear about are the television rating surveys and the political surveys. But these are merely the tip of the iceberg, to use a time-worn expression.

Every so often we hear people express doubt that these modern researchers actually conduct any surveys. We can assure them that such things are really going on. And the topics are endless.

In addition to the TV ratings and the political polls there are scores of surveys being taken every minute for business and industry. There are others being taken by graduate students in colleges and universities working on research projects and theses. They are so prolific that we wonder sometimes what would happen if the country should awaken some morning with no surveys.

Would giant businesses and industries come to a halt? Would there be pandemonium in the business offices as executives tried to plan their day without the benefit of current statistics acquired by the overnight surveys?

Perhaps. But there's one thing we have come to believe. That is, the surveyors can usually produce the answers that their sponsor desires. And in those rare cases where this is impossible, they have a modern scapegoat. It's called "computer error."

the art of politics

Politics is a very ancient pastime. Sallust, for example, could have been writing for the 20th century A.D. instead of for the first century B.C. when he said: "In public life, instead of modesty, incorruptibility and honesty - shamelessness, bribery and rapacity hold sway."

Few politicians, however, would agree with Will Rogers, who said: "I tell you folks, all politics is apple sauce."

George Washington warned in his Farewell Address against "the spirit of faction." Emerson, very much above the battle said haughtily: "Politics is a deleterious profession." The best party, said Lord Halifax, "is but a kind of conspiracy against the rest of the nation...ignorance maketh men go into a party, and shame keepeth them from going out of it." Cowper thought: "The age of virtuous politics is past." Party spirit, according to Pope, is "at best the madness of many for the gain of a few."

So people go on discovering that men do not become saints when they go into politics, and the old cry "turn the rascals out!" sounds as fresh today as it did when Charles A. Dana used it in the campaign of 1872.

Many of these critics were perfectionists. Politics is the art of compromise. "No man," as Sydney Smith said, "can effect great benefits for his country without some sacrifice of the minor virtues."

new 'fashion' trends

What's fashionable isn't always what's currently in fashion.

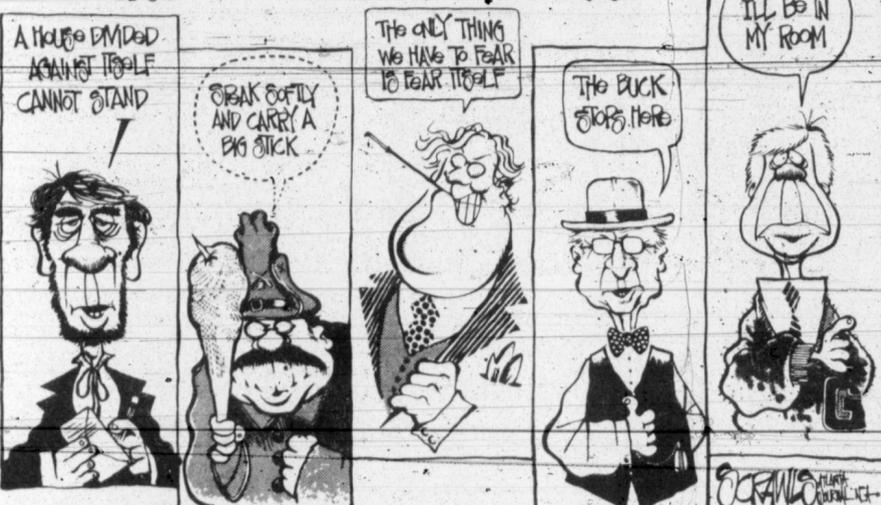

At least that would seem to be the message from the second-hand clothing industry these days. Goodwill Industries, Salvation Army stores and similar volume dealers in used apparel that traditionally have been oriented toward lower-income brackets now are attracting a noticeably more affluent clientele, according to a recent Christian Science Monitor report.

The new customers are already well dressed and looking for more of the same, which is one striking differentiation from the cheap-is-chic crowd that made a big thing of old things during the '70s. Another is their interest in workmanship - that of a few years back often being significantly better than found in garments turned out today.

In fact, dealers in the almost-as-good-as-new are reported to regard this quest for quality as the primary reason for the sudden new interest in shops where designer items that retailed originally for hundreds of dollars may with luck be picked up for as little as ten. Not the zooming cost of new clothing in these inflationary times.

Sure, sure.

GREAT PRESIDENTIAL QUOTES IN TIMES OF CRISIS.....

at wit's end

by erma bombeck

All my life I've heard about "Everyone Else's mother."

Every time I told my kids they had to have the car home by 11, I was informed, "Everyone Else's mother said they could stay out until 2."

When I stood firm that they could not have a phone of their own or a separate listing, they grumbled, "Everyone Else's mother lets them have their own phone."

No bathing suit was too revealing for Everyone Else's mother to put her stamp of approval on. No allowance was too generous for her to shell out. She was the Good Queen of Children everywhere.

My friends and I used to talk about this mother a lot. Was she a myth created in the minds of children who wanted to be free from parental decrees, or did she really exist?

All I really knew was that she was always with us.... following us around from city to city, school to school, year in and year out.

You cannot imagine my surprise recently when I met Everyone Else face to face. She called herself Jan, but I knew from the moment she opened her mouth she was "Everyone Else" with the famous mother.

From the moment she was born she got to do whatever she wanted to do. She went to bed when she felt like it, and got up the same way. If she craved jelly beans and coffee for breakfast, she got it. No one nagged her to shut the door, sit up straight, clear the table, or make her own bed. She could drink out of everyone's glass at parties...if she wanted to.

She drank milk out of the carton and no one yelled at her. She was rude to people and never had to apologize. She made mistakes and never had to be accountable for them. She picked her own clothes, her own schools, her own friends. She was the envy of all her contemporaries.

Finally, I could stand it no longer. "Jan, for years I've heard about your mother. Somehow, she's the perfection that none of us has been able to touch. I would love to meet her."

"Everyone Else" just look at me and slowly repeated the word, "love." You'd have thought it was the first time she had ever heard it.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Most victims of disasters such as the recent Southern California floods never recover, financially despite receiving low-cost loans and other government aid, says an economist who has studied similar problems elsewhere.

Families who lose their homes and belongings wind-up deeper in debt after obtaining loans and other assistance than they were immediately after the disaster struck, says Dr. Joseph Vinso, associate professor of finance and business economics at the University of Southern California.

"The major assets in most people's balance sheet is their property - land plus their house - and that is usually financed by some kind of mortgage," Vinso said in an interview. "When a disaster strikes, you lose part of your assets but you don't lose any of your debts, so it all comes out of your net worth."

Homeowners who get low-cost loans may rebuild their homes, Vinso says, but their overall financial picture worsens. "Government programs have essentially been aimed at the replacement of assets," he said, "but returning victims back to where they were involves liabilities as well as assets. They lose equity and unless they can get a banker to forgive a loan, which I've never heard of, they need to replace their equity."

"Now what happens is that the government comes in and offers them loans - low-interest loans - but loans nevertheless," he said. "So what you have is that you have replaced equity with debt and the people are worse off after recovery than they were right after the disaster!"

Vinso bases his conclusions on seven years of study that began with an examination of families in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., who were affected by tropical storm Agnes in 1972. Most of them wound up with three times the debt they had before Agnes hit, he said, and had less to spend on everyday expenses.

"People say, 'I don't know why they're complaining, they're getting 3 percent loans,'" he said. "But it takes away disposable income and they now have a liability they didn't have before, and their primary asset - their home - is now being claimed by the government."

"The person now has an extra payment of $100 or $150 which they didn't have before, and if their income doesn't change, some expenditures must be sacrificed," he said. "They're less likely to buy a new car and more likely to repair the old one. Instead of getting new clothes, they may use last year's longer."

Decreased spending by disaster victims also can hurt local merchants, Vinso notes, a "ripple" effect that weakens the overall economy of the area. Local governments usually come out the winners.

"Public facilities such as sewer systems, schools, hospitals and city halls are upgraded at little or no cost to localities because the federal government pays for the replacement."

"I'm tired of role reversal. Let's go back to the original arrangement. I'll lie on the couch and you nag."

When asked the question during the Wisconsin primary, Anderson said: "I really don't know. I have not made a decision."

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Publicly, the posture around Carter-Mondale campaign headquarters has been somewhat depressed ever since the New York and Connecticut primary disasters late last month.

Privately, however, most members of the Carter brain trust say renomination isn't a problem. It already has been won. They say things are breaking for them in Campaign 1980 better than they had expected.

The most fervent wish of the Carter-Mondale campaign (after whipping Sen. Edward Kennedy, of course) was that the Republicans would nominate Ronald Reagan, the man all the polls showed the president had the best chance of beating in November. It looks as though the GOP will comply.

But into this best of all possible worlds, a major doubt is inching forward that has the Carter planners worried sick: a third-party candidacy for John Anderson.

In recent days, the Carter people have started polling to see how things will stack up against Reagan in November. The results apparently show that they are in good shape against Reagan alone.

One poll reportedly indicates that even with the president's plunging job ratings, even with inflation and other problems continuing and unless there is some extremely negative result to the Iranian problem, Carter stands to beat Reagan by about 60 percent to 40 percent, a very comfortable margin and a much wider one than most recent presidential elections.

According to these polls, however, this changes drastically when Anderson is thrown into the picture. If the election were held now, Anderson would get anywhere from 12 percent to 16 percent of the independent vote and another 4 percent to 8 percent from Democrats.

Thus, the total Anderson vote could approach 20 percent and would be especially heavy in the industrial states of the North with their large blocks of electoral votes.

The big problem for Carter is that this entire Anderson vote would be at the president's expense. Reagan's supporters have no stomach for the liberalism of Anderson.

Consequently, if Anderson runs, the election would be a toss-up. Both Carter and Reagan would get about 40 percent of the popular vote and Anderson the rest.

With Anderson pulling 20 percent, getting the needed majority of Electoral College votes would not be easy for either Reagan or Carter. That could result in the candidate with the popular plurality losing the election.

Or, even worse, no one would get an electoral-vote majority and the presidency would be the subject of horse-trading in the Electoral College or could even be thrown into the House of Representatives. (Presidential electors are bound traditionally but not legally by the popular votes of their states.)

Will Anderson run as an independent? For a long while, he consistently said no. But you had to listen carefully to the way he said so.

It always was no "because I'm going to win the Republican nomination." Or no "because I don't see how at this late date I could mount any kind of effective campaign as a third-party candidate."

Never was the answer no "because I am philosophically opposed to third-party candidacies and would not mount one under any circumstances."

Now even the qualified no has been eliminated.

Anderson as something of a political gadfly interested in furthering certain political ideas and forcefully interjecting various issues into the campaign.

They fear that when Anderson has clearly been denied the Republican nomination, he might well listen to the siren's song and run as an independent. He could qualify for the ballot in about 30 states as an independent even if he did not make that decision until after the Republican convention in July.

So, while the Carter people are talking big about meeting Reagan in November, those with access to the new polls worry a lot about the effect of Anderson.

3 New Members Present Program

Paula Middleton, Twila Polk and Sue Sewell entertained members of Beta Sigma Phi with their program on "Beauty Alive." Mrs. Polk introduced the program by pointing out characteristics which make up personal beauty. Since all three of those presenting the program are new to the local club this year, they gave members an insight into some of their personal interests and hobbies. Mrs. Polk shared experiences of her families' hobbies and vacations. Mrs. Middleton led the club in some exercises set to music, while Mrs. Sewell chose to play a selection of music from "Chorale" by Bach to "Polka for a Duck" by Mowrey. Service chairman, Carolyn Limmer, announced that 10 people from the club would be helping with the Cancer Crusade this year. Deadlines for entering the yearbook and scrapbook for the state Beta Sigma Phi convention were also given. Charlotte Seay and Kay Hickman served refreshments to the 20 members attending the meeting.

Music Role Important

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—The antiseptic and dehumanized future often described in science fiction could become a reality if that future world is planned by a generation deprived of the beauty of music in schooling today, says a Syracuse University dean. Douglas M. Soyars of the School of Music says the tendency of school districts to discard music programs as "frills" because of tight budgeting could develop into a major national problem. "If the current threats to eliminate music from high school programs are carried out on a broad scale, the future could look pretty bleak," he warns. "Imagine a generation that has grown up without the cultural education now offered in the public school, and without the sensitivity to beauty. Then, I think, we would face a cold, stark, almost inhuman kind of existence in the United States."

Buying A Suit Major Investment These Days

NEW YORK (AP)—Buying a suit is a major investment these days, says an expert in the men's clothing field who cautions that the choice should be made on the basis of quality as well as style. Durability is an important factor in selecting a suit, adds Marvin A. Blumenfeld of April-Marcus Inc., a merchandising consulting firm which represents more than 140 men's clothing stores around the country. He offers these tips on shopping for a suit: Check your appearance by standing in front of a triple mirror. If the garment doesn't look good on you, don't consider it, no matter what its other positive aspects. Check the fit. If the suit needs major alterations, reject it. It will be too costly and you will probably not be satisfied with the results. Consider the style and color. Deep, darker tones, subdued patterns and stripes help make you look taller and slimmer. Note the seams. Are they puckered or do they lie smooth? Do the seams in the trousers hang straight or are they jagged? Better-made garments do not have puckered or jagged seams. Examine the collar. Does it lie flat or curl up? Collars on better garments lie flat because more care is given to the tailoring. Check the lining. Has it been sewn in properly. In better-made garments, the lining is tailored and lies flat and neat. In cheaper garments, the linings are ruffled because cheaper material is used and the workmanship is not as precise. Also, less care is taken in cheaper garments in the sewing and pressing stages. Examine the fabric. Does it feel firm in your hand or does it feel flimsy? Does it have body and firmness? In more expensive suits, fabric has a soft, luxurious and supple feel, or "hand."

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag
 Here is a hand for pessimists. They are going to win the game and rubber. Optimists will finess the spade at trick one. "Old devil East" will take his king and shift to the jack of clubs and there will be no way for optimist South to avoid the loss of a spade, two clubs and a diamond. Of course, he will be able to explain how unlucky he was to find East with the king of spades, ace of diamonds and the right club combination to be able to hold the lead in case South decided to duck the first club. Now look at how the pessimist plays the hand. He goes right up with dummy's ace of spades and draws trump. Then he leads his king of diamonds. East takes his ace and shifts to the jack of clubs. Pessimist South tries a finesse with his queen. This finesse can't cost him anything and could give him an extra trick if it works. It does, but the contract still makes South win the club return, cashes his jack of diamonds, goes to dummy with the jack of trumps, discards his trey of clubs on the diamond queen, concedes a trick to the king of spades and will be able to go to the bank with game and rubber. Solar Energy For Hot Dogs

PERRY, Iowa (AP)—A maker of hot dogs will get a little help from the hot sun when a $1.7 million solar energy project is completed here next year, says an energy-oriented publication. The project is aimed at heating water used for cleaning carcasses and other sanitizing operations at a hog slaughtering plant, according to Energy User News. Solar energy could heat up to 50 percent of the hot water used by the plant and would eliminate the need for some 12.5 billion British thermal units now produced by burning natural gas or fuel oil.

PRISCILLA'S POP

DENNIS THE MENACE

Dear Abby

Grandma's Knitting Needles Family

DEAR ABBY: Ours is a sticky family problem. Grandma loves to knit, and she gives her handiwork to members of the family for Christmas. She never asks anyone's size — she guesses. And Abby, some of her creations are unreal! She'll start knitting a sweater, and if she runs out of yarn, she finishes it with another color.

She made one nephew who loves to ski a scarf about five yards long. ("Just keep wrapping it around your neck," she told him.)

The colors she puts together are atrocious and the styles are from 30 years ago. But her knitting is flawless; it's a pity nobody can wear what she knits.

We don't want to hurt her feelings, but we don't know what to say when she asks why none of us ever wears one of her presents. Any suggestions? Grandma is already knitting our gifts for next Christmas, and if that orange and purple sweater she's making is for me, I'm in trouble.

LOVES GRANDMA

DEAR LOVES: The solution is so obvious, I'm amazed you didn't think of it yourself. Anyone whose knitting is "flawless" can make things people can wear. The family should provide Grandma with yarn and patterns! (Obviously she can use them.) She will appreciate the guidance, and in return "the family" will receive wearable gifts they can enjoy.

DEAR ABBY: I am a single woman, 29, who has been in love with a married man for seven years. He's 50 and my employer. He has not been happy at home since I've known him, but he is a family man and there are many reasons why he won't leave his wife. He never promised me marriage, but, of course, I always hoped that one day it would happen. I am a very attractive woman, and I have never gone out with another man since I started seeing him.

I know he loves me, but lately he has been telling me that we should call it quits, that I should forget him and find a younger man to love and marry.

Abby, I don't want a younger man. I may be foolish, but I am happy to go on the way we are, and if I never marry, that's not the worst fate in the world.

My best friend and confidante has told me I should quit my job, say goodbye to this man, and try to build a life for myself without him. What do you say?

IN LOVE IN S. CAROLINA

DEAR IN: Well, a best friend and confidante as wise as yours, you don't need any advice from Dear Abby.

DEAR ABBY: Why do people insist on trying to persuade guests to stay longer after they have spent hours at a party, wedding, etc., and feel that they have had enough of it?

Last Sunday we attended an afternoon party where we knew very few people. After five hours we said goodbye, and the hostess wanted to know why we were leaving so soon. Frankly, I think we did well to stay as long as we did, amidst all that smoke and noise, but we were made to feel "guilty" for wanting to leave.

Abby, please put this in your own words, and tell people that when guests say goodbye, it is very poor manners for the host and hostess to make them feel they are leaving prematurely. Thank you.

CINDERELLA

DEAR CINDERELLA: You've said it well. Readers, if the slipper fits, wear it!

In War Against Arson...

Companies Get 90 Days To Terminate Insurance

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Insurance Board has handed insurance companies a new tool to avoid selling fire insurance policies to people who plan to burn their houses down.

Overriding a staff recommendation, the board voted 3-0 to give companies 90 days instead of the present 60 to cancel a policy after an agent has written it.

A Texas Advisory Council on Arson (ATAC) on had recommended the rule at the Board's property insurance hearing in February.

Spokesmen for the organization said 60 days does not allow a company long enough to investigate a new risk and as a result, the company must remain on a recognized time bomb.

After the cancellation deadline passes, a company must continue to insure a house or other building until the policy expires — usually for a year after it is written.

G. J. Jones, the board's property actuary, opposed the recommendation, saying "60 days is ample time for companies to underwrite their business."

"Ninety-five percent of the people are honest. You are dealing with honest people, not the crooks. I hate to see honest people penalized," Jones said.

Board member Durwood Manford said arson causes insurance rates to be higher than they should be, and "I see no tragedy in giving them (the companies) 90 days."

Manford was voted down, 2-1, in a decision to let Texans buy coverage that would pay the full cost of replacing the contents of second homes, such as lake houses.

Companies, speaking through the Texas Insurance Advisory Association (TIAA) opposed the measure and would not be required to sell the coverage if they chose not to.

"I don't feel the same obligation to look after the consumer who can afford a second residence as I do the one who can afford only one," said board Chairman Bill Daves, who later voted to allow the optional coverage.

The board decided to appoint a special advisory committee to study new problems arising from the proliferation of town houses and condominiums.

Jones said the Legislature might need to pass new laws on the subject, particularly in the area of a property owner's liability for accidents occurring at his home.

NEW WORK OVER UNIT—Baker Oil Tools company brought this long-stroke hydraulic workover unit to Snyder yesterday and rigged it up for inspection and demonstrations. Oilmen from throughout the eastern part of the Permian Basin attended the show. Hood Jones, manager of the local Baker office, said the rig represents a one-half million dollar investment. From here the unit is going to the Ector County Coliseum in Odessa. (SDN Staff Photo)

Those hot flashes

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR LAMB — I'm a 67-year-old female and for years, ever since my menopause, I've been getting these terrible sweats. My whole upper torso from my head down to my waist is drenched with sweat. Sometimes these occur every hour. It's very uncomfortable and my clothes get soaking wet. I have friends with the same problem, too, and our doctors can't help us. Will you?

DEAR READER — I wish I could help but it's difficult to treat this problem. Anyone who continues to have such a disorder certainly should have a medical examination. Hot flashes with sweats associated with the menopause phase of life really shouldn't last more than a couple of years at the most.

I'm afraid the general understanding of this problem is limited. There is some new information, however, that suggests that these attacks are associated with some abnormal function of the thermostat in your brain that regulates your body temperature. Whenever your body needs to be cooled, there is a whole heat-loss mechanism that is turned on that causes increased circulation to the skin and sweating. This area is located very close to the pituitary gland in the floor of the brain that's associated with your hormone system. Apparently that's why the whole mechanism gets out of whack at the menopause time.

Some doctors are now testing the use of progesterone, the other common female hormone besides estrogen, to see if it can help control these.

There's also some evidence that these are associated with the release of adrenaline. That can be associated with stress or, perhaps other factors. For this reason, some doctors are now treating such disorders with Inderal. Normally this medicine is used for high blood pressure and irregular heartbeats and a variety of other disorders.

You might ask your doctor about this. If he's willing, he might want to try you on Inderal and see if that will relieve your problem for you. Inderal is not a medicine that everyone can take, but it just could be the answer to some women's problems with recurrent episodes of hot flashes and sweating. You can take my column along to your doctor. He won't mind.

DEAR DR LAMB — I'm going on a weekend fishing trip where females will be present. I'm afraid of cancer. If it so happens that we do have sex and one may have a trace or more, even of skin cancer, would I catch it? I'm

But Only 54% Of What Was On Sale...

Government Buys More Grain

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has bought an additional 43.9 million bushels of wheat for $160.5 million to help bolster farmers' grain prices.

But the Agriculture Department said Tuesday the purchases represented only about 54 percent of the grain actually offered for sale. Thousands of bids were rejected because asking prices were too high.

The purchase was the larger of the two the government has made. In the previous purchase two weeks ago, USDA bought 16.6 million bushels at a cost of $66.1 million.

Officials said the price paid averaged $3.89 a bushel, compared to $3.99 for the wheat bought previously. However, prices varied greatly because of location and kinds of wheat.

The department also said it began making offers to buy wheat from farmers at prices posted in county offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. The direct buying was undertaken because, as Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland has said, not enough wheat was being offered by grain companies, including country elevators, at reasonable prices.

But the bid system, under which elevators offer to sell wheat to the government, will continue along with the new direct-purchase program, officials said.

Jaw Fractured In Accident

A fractured jaw was suffered by Van Powell when a truck tire blew up in his face Tuesday, report ambulance attendants making the run to Triple S Tire Service, where the accident occurred.

Powell was taken first to Cogdell Memorial Hospital and later transferred to St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock.

Palmer EMS answered the call. The accident occurred about noon.

Bergland says the wheat buying will continue until about 4 million metric tons — 146.8 million bushels — are removed from the market. That represents the amount of wheat left over when President Carter canceled further shipments to the Soviet Union Jan. 4, in response to the Soviet occupation of Afghanistan.

The wheat bought thus far totals about 60.5 million bushels or early 1.65 million metric tons. That is roughly 41 percent of the total wheat Bergland says will be bought.

A metric ton is about 2,205 pounds and is equal to 36.7 bushels of wheat.

According to figures released by the department's commodity office in Kansas City, Mo., there were 5,824 bids to sell wheat this time, a total of nearly 81 million bushels.

Of those, 2975 bids — representing the 43.9 million bushels — were accepted by the department's Commodity Credit Corp. The breakdown by state, including prices or a range of prices paid for the wheat, in dollars, by class of wheat, included: No. 2, Hard Winter—California, 500,000 bushels and 4.26; Colorado, 1,181,894 and 3.35 to 3.83; Idaho, 8,400 and 3.35 to 3.83; Kansas, 14,001,118 and 2.78 to 4.01; Montana, 1,880,037 and 2.76 to 3.76; Nebraska, 1,913,264 and 3.30 to 3.95; New Mexico, 88,100 and 3.95 to 4.02; Oklahoma, 10,584,779 and 3.33 to 4.12; South Dakota, 253,550 and 3.40 to 3.75; Texas, 5,610,715 and 3.64 to 4.38; Utah, 200,000 and 3.83; Washington, 137,000 and 4.05 to 4.24; and Wyoming, 13,200 and 3.24 to 3.50.

Child Back With Folks

"I'm so excited I can't think straight," said her mother, Angela, as the child was reunited with her family on Tuesday.

Miss Cahail was rescued by police in Red Bluff, 450 miles to the north, earlier in the day after she was found asleep in a camper parked behind a restaurant. A 41-year-old convicted sex offender, John William Dickey of Riverside, was arrested and charged with kidnapping in a San Bernardino County Municipal Court warrant.

Also in custody for investigation of kidnapping was the girl's 16-year-old cousin and his 15-year-old girlfriend, said Sgt. Gary Eisenbretz.

Dickey, who pleaded guilty in 1976 to lewd and lascivious acts with a child, was placed on three years probation in March 1979 after treatment as a mentally disordered sex offender. Sheriff Frank Bland said

Tigers Batter Lamesa; Entertain Cubs Friday

LAMESA — Snyder's Tigers won their second district game of the season here yesterday, battering Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes 13-3.

The victory gives Snyder a 2-1 loop record heading into Friday's 4:30 p.m. game with 2-0 Brownfield. Lamesa falls to 0-3.

Paul Gafford and Toby Neves led the Tigers from the batter's box. Gafford smacked three singles and a double, accounting for three runs batted in. Neves went three-for-three during the afternoon, collecting a triple and two singles. He and Neil Evans came up with two more RBI. Mike Ro-misch, who belted a fifth-inning three-run homer, got three more.

In all, the Tigers peppered the hosts for 13 hits and scored in five of seven innings.

Snyder went up by four runs before Lamesa got an unearned score in the bottom of the third stanza. The Tigers added another in the fourth, and managed five in the fifth to take a brief 10-1 lead.

Lamesa countered with two scores in the fifth - its last runs of the game. Snyder picked up some double insurance in the seventh inning with three more scores.

Accenting the heavy hitting show by Snyder was some of the best pitching the Tigers have come up with all season. Tony Degrate, 2-4, picked up the win with relief help from Roemisch. Degrate pitched four innings. Roemisch went the final three.

Between the two hurlers, Lamesa managed only one hit, a third-inning single by Tony Lara. The Golden Tors received five free trips to first base and got help from seven Tiger errors, but that good pitching - which included 13 strike outs - kept the hosts in check all afternoon.

Friday's game with Brownfield will be held in Snyder at Moffett Field. A victory for Snyder would throw the loop into a tie with only two first-round games remaining for the Cats - in Lamesa on April 15 and at Brownfield, April 18.

By The Associated Press
If what Los Angeles Earvin Johnson Johnson did to the Phoenix Suns was magic, then what Seattle's Dennis Johnson did to the Milwaukee Bucks was downright legerdemain.

In Los Angeles, Earvin "Magic" Johnson had 13 points, 16 assists and 12 rebounds to lead the Lakers to a 119-110 victory over the Suns. While the Magic Show was doing its tricks, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar contributed 30 points, Norn Nixon 26 and Jamaal Wilkes 19.

Up the coast in Seattle, Dennis Johnson's three-point basket from about 26 feet with one second to play in overtime lifted the defending NBA-champion SuperSonics to a 114-113 now you've won if now you haven't triumph over the Milwaukee Bucks.

Western Conference semifinals resume tonight in Los Angeles and Seattle. In the East, the

by the SDN Sports Staff
Some of the area's top class B talent will congregate here Friday when the finals of the District 7-B track and field meet are held at Tiger Stadium.

The meet was scheduled to begin at 1 today with junior high field events, followed later in the afternoon by junior high and high school running preliminaries.

Varsity field events open Friday's fare at 9 a.m. All running finals will be held Friday afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock.

Roby High School, which features several outstanding athletes and boasts one of the larger teams at the meet, is a favorite to win the varsity girl's division. The Lions are led by state-class competitor Marynell Clayton, who is back to defend district blue ribbons in the long jump and triple jump. Clayton won the class B state long jump last year and was second in the triple jump.

Fighting Clayton for high-point individual will be Lorraine's Sylvia Barerra, who finished second in the high jump and triple jump last year. Barerra also figures to do well in the 100 and 200 meters.

Ira and Highland have been pegged as favorites in the boy's varsity division, though they can expect strong competition from Lorraine.

Highland offers the district's top two pole vaulters in John Paul Jones, 13-6, and Monty Richburg, 11-6. Jones also holds the district's best in the long jump this year at 20-0.

Ira will make it tough on the Hornets with depth in the hurdles and weights. Wade Pierson rules in both the 110's and 300's, with times in the high 14s and low 40s respectively. Teammate Robert Mitchell runs the high hurdles in the mid-15s.

Mitchell is a strong contender in the weights where he placed second in both the shot and discus last year. Another Ira athlete, Keith Bryant, won the discus and placed third in the shot. He'll be back too.

Hermleigh's Kenny Riley will give the Bulldog pair trouble in the weights though, and his teammate Johnny Arellano will not let Paul Jones take the long jump title without a fight. Another Cardinal, Dennis Jones, can be expected to show well in the 400 meters.

'Standout performers' for the boy's division include Pierson, Mitchell, Terry Webb of Westbrook and Junior Martinez of Lorraine.

Webb is the district favorite in the 100 meters, 200 meters and high jump.

Sideline Glances Watches As...

Krop Racing To Top

By BILL McCLELLAN
RECEIVED WORD about another Snyder kid done good recently.

Local folks will remember Keith Krop, a 1966 grad of Snyder High School, and son of Mrs. Mae Hancock and Earl Krop, also of Snyder.

KROP, 32, works for Texas Instruments in the Dallas-Fort Worth area as a tooling and test equipment administrator.

He also races automobiles... successfully.

ROAD RACING is Krop's love, and if he does as well at it as he does on the course, he may be president in a year or two.

A class split at the end of the 1979 racing season left the Snyder native with the No. 2 car in the nation. Competing in the GT-4 division, he won two races in February of this year, the Great Southwestern at Fort Worth, and at College Station's Texas Speedway. He's scheduled for another run at College Station this weekend.

THE CAR is a 1972 Datsun 1200 and is sponsored by Earl Hughes Datsun of Fort Worth and Japanese Auto Parts of Dallas. Krop and his crew - all Texas Instruments personnel - are expecting a new car from Datsun soon, and will be shooting for the No. 1 spot in the nation in their class.

Until the split, the car competed in C-Sedan, a class of small sedans with engines having less than 1,300 cc displacement.

LAST YEAR, Krop took four firsts in eight races and set two track records. He also won the Southwest Division Championship and was seventh in the nation in the U.S. Road Racing Championships in Atlanta, GA.

KROP DOESN'T go into hibernation in the off-season. He tours International Show Car Association shows where he has picked up a bucket of awards, including five class wins, two best competition car in show awards, and one outstanding competition car in show award.

We'll be hearing a lot more from this Snyder kid.

Nine-Man Season Will Open Today

CINCINNATI (AP) — Tom Seaver was hoping to win his first opening day game in three tries for the Cincinnati Reds but the Atlanta Braves' Phil Niekro and the National Weather Service might not cooperate.

The Reds and Braves were to get the National League's 96th season underway this afternoon, but the weatherman predicted a 40 percent chance of rain with temperatures in the low 50s by the 1 p.m. CST game time.

The American League gets underway with a game in Seattle, as the hometown Mariners entertain the Toronto Blue Jays in a indoor Kingdome battle of four-year-old expansion teams.

Baseball is opening under a cloud, but there will be at least six weeks of the national pastime before the next confrontation.

The Major League Players Association has scheduled a strike if a new Basic Agreement is not signed with the owners by May 4.

Last year's World Series foes get under way Thursday, both on the road. The world champion Pittsburgh Pirates meet the Cardinals in St. Louis while elsewhere in the National League, the New York Mets entertain the Chicago Cubs, the Los Angeles Dodgers visit the Houston Astros and the San Diego Padres host the San Francisco Giants.

The American League champion Baltimore Orioles are at Chicago, with Boston at Milwaukee, New York at Texas, Detroit at Kansas City and Minnesota at Oakland.

Kenny Rogers $11.7 Million Suit In Fair Accident

Buys Flying Poker Palace

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Country and western star Kenny Rogers, whose hit song "The Gambler" was made into a TV movie, has bought himself a flying poker palace.

"Kenny loves to play cards," said spokesman Guy Thomas.

DALLAS (AP)—A suit seeking $11.7 million has been filed by a 20-year-old woman who was injured last fall in an accident on the Swiss Skyride at the State Fair of Texas.

The suit, filed in federal court here Monday by Cindy Holden and her husband, Dennis, seeks $2 million punitive damages on grounds that the fair continued to operate the ride despite alleged warnings that the ride needed "safety modification." The suit also seeks $9.7 million in real damages.

The Holdens were riding in one of the two cable cars that crashed to the ground 85 feet below. A man on the ground was killed and 17 persons were injured last October 21, the last day of the fair.

Mrs. Holden contends

she was permanently paralyzed from the waist down as a result of the accident. The Holdens have since moved from Dallas to Eldridge, La. Defendants in the suit include the state fair, Steck & Staph, Von Roll Ltd., the manufacturer of the ride, and VSL Corp., distributor of parts and accessories for the ride.

Sun Bids On Seagram Oil

NEW YORK (AP)—Sun Co. Inc., the nation's 10th-largest oil company, is seeking to expand its domestic operations with a $2.3 billion offer for the oil and gas properties owned by The Seagram Co. Ltd. in the United States.

Sun said its offer for the U.S. properties owned by Seagram's Dallas-based subsidiary, Texas-Pacific Oil Co. Inc., is a "friendly one. Spokesman Kurt Van Vladren said Sun's bid was made only after the world's largest liquor distiller "invited us to take a look."

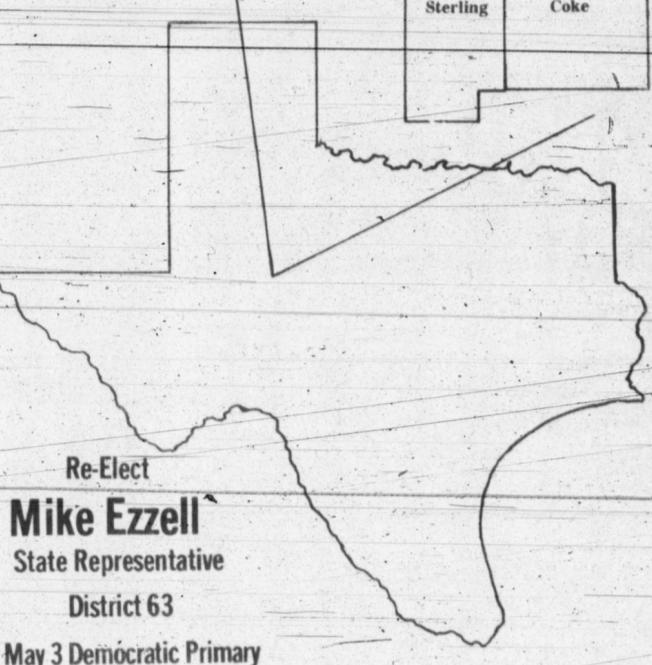

It also said it is willing to spend as much as $400 million more to develop the Texas Pacific properties. Additionally, Seagram could retain a substantial interest in the U.S. operations after the contemplated sale.

But officials for the Montreal-based Seagram field out the possibility that others might bid for the properties, which include 3 million acres of unexplored oil and gas lands primarily in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana. Sun's current unexplored U.S. oil and gas properties cover 4 million acres.

Three college football players, Steve Little, Russell Exleben and Joe Williams, share the NCAA record for the longest field goal, 67 yards.
