By Red Cross, Iranians...

Hostages Visited Today

By The Associated Press
Two representatives of the International Red Cross and a group of Iranians visited the 50 American hostages in the U.S. Embassy to check on their condition and report their findings to the families of the captives.
The Red Cross representatives were Harold Schmidt of Guernecke, the permanent Red Cross representative in Tehran, and Dr. Bernard Liebeskind, a physician. Both are Swiss.
They were accompanied by an official of the Red Lion and Sun, the Iranian equivalent of the Red Cross, and Iranian Health Minister Mousa Zargar. Hojatoleslam Seyyed Ali Khamenei, the Moslem clergyman who leads the weekly Sabbath prayers in Tehran, also was scheduled to be a member of the group, but it was not known if he was already inside the embassy. A spokesman for the militants occupying the embassy since Nov. 4 said he was added to the group at their insistence.

A spokeswoman at the Geneva headquarters of the Red Cross said the Iranian government agreed to three conditions set by the organization — that its representatives meet with all the hostages, that they be allowed to make a list of their identities and that they be allowed to notify the captives' families of the state of their health.

Today was the Americans' 163rd day of captivity. The militants' spokesman said the visit was "imposed" on them by the Iranian government. Apparently the government hoped it would help to undercut President Carter's campaign to get Japan and America's major European allies to take the same economic and diplomatic sanctions against Iran that he ordered.
The ambassadors of Japan and the nine European Common Market countries on Saturday called on President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr and relayed demands from their governments for the immediate release of the hostages. A press aide said Bani-Sadr rejected the demand and warned the foreign governments against taking punitive action against Iran. But he said he would ask some international organization to check on the condition of the captive Americans and report to the world on their treatment.

The Americans' last foreign visitors were three American clergymen who held Easter services eight days ago and reported they were in excellent physical and mental shape.
The militant also renewed their threat to kill all the hostages, saying they would "blow them sky-high," if the United States took military action against Iran. They announced last December that they had mined the embassy walls with explosives.

Carter told a group of European television correspondents on Saturday that if further U.S. action were necessary to free the hostages, it "would be very strong and forceful and might well involve military means."

Despite Arizona...

Carter Adds To Delegates

By The Associated Press
Sen. Edward Kennedy claims his victory in Arizona Democratic Party caucuses has unearthed a cactus in President Carter's Rose Garden, but in party meetings in three other states the president's lead for the party's presidential nomination grew.

ia, where 185 delegates are at stake in the April 22 primary.
"The Southwest has spoken," Kennedy said Sunday in Philadelphia when he learned of the Arizona results.
"The Northeast has spoken," he said, referring to his earlier victories in New York and Connecticut. "The next state is Pennsylvania and we look forward to carrying the same message ... and we're hopeful of getting a similar response."
Then, aiming a barb at Carter's tactic of staying in the White House, Kennedy added: "I think yesterday that Jimmy Carter found that there's a little cactus ... growing in the Rose Garden."
Going into the weekend caucuses, Carter had 891 of the 1,999 delegate votes needed for the party nomination. Kennedy had 491.

In fact, the delegate selection process in South Carolina, Virginia and Washington this weekend added to the president's margin over Kennedy despite the Massachusetts senator's showing in Arizona and a likelihood of similar results in Alaska.
But Kennedy saw his Arizona victory ... he seemed assured of gaining 16 of the state's 29 delegates to the Democratic National Convention — as leading to similar results in Pennsylvania.

Storms Wash Across South

Begin To Arrive For Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin's arrival today for resumption of summit diplomacy on a self-rule plan for Palestinian Arabs sets the stage for what is expected to be a tough encounter with President Carter on Jewish settlements.
Begin's visit comes on the heels of a similar one last week by Egyptian President Anwar Sadat in which the increasingly popular Arab leader blended earnest appeals for peace in the Middle East with accusations that Israeli policies prevent its achievement.

Mandel's Conviction Stands

WASHINGTON (AP) Former Maryland Gov. Marvin Mandel's political corruption conviction was left intact by the Supreme Court today. Mandel could be ordered to start a four-year prison sentence within a month.
Mandel and the others were convicted of participating in a favors-trading scheme that allegedly brought Mandel some $350,000 worth of gifts, vacations and interests in business deals.

New Yorkers Riding Again

NEW YORK (AP) New Yorkers returned to work today in the first normal rush hour since strike-bound buses and subways resumed their runs — but taxi fares went up and officials warned that the 50-cent transit fare is likely on its way out.
Meanwhile, a teen-age boy was shot and killed in Brooklyn shortly after midnight Sunday — the first death in the underground system since traffic resumed.

Escapes Assassin's Knife

NEW DELHI, India (AP) Prime Minister Indira Gandhi escaped assassination today when a knife hurled at her in a crowd outside the Parliament building narrowly missed her, a New Delhi police official said.
Three police officers overpowered the assailant and arrested him. He was charged with attempted murder, Deputy Police Commissioner Gurcharan Singh said.
He was identified as Ram Bulchand Lalwani of Baroda, in western India. His motive was not immediately learned.

Floodwater washed across the South today, forcing hundreds of families to flee, and mid-April storms that killed at least seven persons spread snow up to 6 inches deep across northern Arkansas and Missouri.
Several cities in the Gulf Coast region had their coldest April day on record, with the temperature dropping to 27 in Oklahoma City and 38 in Brownsville, Texas, the Southernmost point in the contiguous United States.
Columbia, Mo., got 5 inches of snow in 6 hours this morning.
Rivers were on the rise in Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana where weekend thunderstorms spawned devastating tornadoes and flooded some communities with up to 3 feet of water.
"Noah said it's got to stop sometime. We're still looking for the dove with the olive branch," said F.M. Pearce, civil defense director in Louisiana's St. Tammany Parish, as the Pearl River rose.
A half-mile stretch of a levee gave way in the New Orleans suburb of Avondale on Sunday night, forcing the evacuation of about 600 people.
About 40 Avondale residents clambered aboard the community's lone fire truck, the only vehicle big enough to get through floodwaters up to three deep, to be taken to shelter at an elementary school, according to volunteer fireman Glen Dastague.

Much of Jefferson Parish, New Orleans' most populous suburb, was under as much as 3 feet of water today after nearly 14.5 inches of rain fell in three days, killing two people, stranding thousands and sending water into posh French Quarter bars and restaurants.

Sales Tax Rebates Decline In State

A decline state-wide in retail sales tax rebates, was reflected in reports for Snyder the past month, according to figures released by Bob Bullock, state comptroller.
The state total was $21.1 million, some $10 million below the total for the corresponding month in 1979. However, Bullock said it is too early to say whether the decreased monthly payments reflect a downward trend in taxable sales, or simply seasonal adjustments. The monthly rebates are affected by dates that retail firms make their sales tax payments to the comptroller's office, and a day or two can make a significant difference.
Bullock said the rebate for Dallas dropped from $4.9 million to $2.6 million

Ask Us

Q—Since a statement signed by a doctor is required of a public school teacher who is absent five days or more because of illness, why doesn't the superintendent require the same doctor's state form from students?
A—Supt. Bill J. Hood says the requirement of teachers is a state regulation because it affects payment of state funds. Administrators check on pupil absences and look to the parents for reasons for absences since this is regarded as a responsibility of the parents.

Those who will be out of the county on election day may vote absentee at the county clerk's office in the county courthouse.
The primary elections will determine party nominees for county and state offices to be filled this year. Also, the Republican Party will have a presidential primary and the Democratic Party a straw poll in connection with the primary voting this year.

BRIDGE Dubious double stands up

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

Oswald: "One of the many differences between match point duplicate and regular bridge is the so-called match point double."

Alan: "This is a double of a vulnerable opponent's part-score bid in order to inflict a one-trick penalty and score a 200-point plus. Such doubles are downright silly in rubber bridge since they risk a tremendous point loss, but in match points the doubler is betting a top against a bottom."

Oswald: "Such doubles frequently win tournaments when they work. They lose them when they misfire."

Alan: "East's double of three spades is an example of this double at its worst. East hoped to scrounge five tricks and get that magic 200 points. He got them, too."

Oswald: "It wasn't quite as bad a double as it looks. After all West had bid a notrump earlier in the bidding and West certainly didn't have his values. In any event East took his ace of hearts at trick one and returned his singleton diamond. South won in dummy and led the three of spades."

Alan: "When you make desperate bids you must make exceptional plays. East hopped with his ace of trumps and led a club. West took his ace and led a diamond. East ruffed for the fourth defensive trick and West set the hand with his king of trumps."

Oswald: "As Shakespeare said, 'All's well that ends well.'"

This Big Meatball Has A Greek Accent

By Aileen Claire, NEA Food Editor

A meatball is a meatball is a meatball. But it can bear one of many names depending upon where it originated.

This souvlaki is a cousin of the many types of ground-meat dishes served at quick-order shops in the United States and abroad. It combines seasoned ground pork and beef, which is then marinated for heightened flavor and tenderness.

Serve thinly sliced alone or in sandwiches.

- SOUVLAKI
1 pound ground pork
1 pound ground beef
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon dried leaf oregano
1/8 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 clove garlic, crushed
Marinade

Remove from oven and brush with marinade again before serving. To serve, slice thinly. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8 servings. NOTE: Ground lamb or veal may also be used.

Bucks Hold Edge Over SuperSonics

By The Associated Press—Bob Lanier's scoring and Harvey Catchings' shot-blocking have helped the Milwaukee Bucks take the upper hand in their playoff series with the Seattle SuperSonics, but Coach Don Nelson isn't ready to count the defending National Basketball Association champions out...

The Celtics, although not playing their best, defeated the Rockets 100-81 Sunday for the ninth consecutive time this season to take a 3-0 lead in the best of seven series. And talking about making it 10 in a row only brings out comments that have been repeated nine times...

Each camp has its lines memorized perfectly. The Celtics can't slack up and the Rockets can't give up. "I'm just glad that if we had to start a seven-game series tomorrow, we wouldn't have to play the Rockets," Boston Coach Bill Fitch said.

"You'd think after losing that many games to us, they might give us one. But they have never given up. They just keep coming at you. They haven't really played poorly in any of the games."

Rockets Coach Del Harris picks up the monologue with the "stiff upper lip" approach. "If a baseball player goes 0 for 10, he doesn't quit and say he'll never get another hit," Harris said. "There's always a tendency when you lose a few games to blame anyone but yourself, the referees, the coach, your teammates. We've got to keep from doing that."

The script for Sunday's game called for Nate Archibald to come off the bench, hit nine of 10 shots from the field and to combine with Larry Bird to lead a game-winning third-quarter surge.

Archibald followed the script with 20 points and Bird had 18 as the pair helped outscore the Rockets 16-4 over the final 4:44 of the third quarter. The Celtics, who shot only 36 percent in the first quarter, finished on the run, pumping 67 percent in the third period.

"We were rolling in the fourth quarter," said Bird. "We had to keep the pressure on them. Just because we were ahead by 14 doesn't mean we win the game. You have to pressure and play defense to the end."

Yankees Pop Texas Twice

ARLINGTON (AP)—Dick Houser sat bundled up in his dank office with droplets of water falling from the ceiling into nearby buckets. He had just registered his first major league victory Sunday as the manager of the New York Yankees and the relief was obvious, despite the miserable weather conditions...

Both matches were held in the Brownfield High School Gymnasium. Strong winds, faced with snow and rain, prevented the competitors from going outdoors. Boy's doubles -- held over until Tuesday afternoon -- will be between the No. 1 seeded team of Jon Smith and Jeff Wesson of Snyder against the No. 2 seeded team from Sweetwater, Smith, and Williams. That match will be played in Snyder, as will all of the finals in the junior division of play.

Forsch Delivers Astro Victory

HOUSTON (AP)—Houston pitcher Ken Forsch fully realized the importance of Houston's four-game season-opening series against the Los Angeles Dodgers. "Winning these three games against a contender like the Dodgers was critical for us. The way we're going, even a split wouldn't have been that great," Forsch said.

Back-to-back singles by Jose Cruz and Dennis Walling preceded a run-scoring single by Enochs Cabell. Jeff Leonard followed with a single which loaded the bases and Forsch then stroked a 2-run single to right field, scoring Walling and Cabell.

Little League sign-up will be held today and tomorrow from 7-9 p.m. in the community room of Snyder Savings and Loan. The registration is for boys ages 9-12. Tryouts will be held next week at the Farm League Field in Towle Park. Nine-year olds will try out on April 21; 10-year olds April 22; 11-year olds April 23; and 12-year olds April 24.

Forsch combined with Frank LaCorte on a seventh-inning run in two runs with a second-inning single Sunday to pace the Astros to a 4-2 victory over the Dodgers and their third decision over Los Angeles in four games. Forsch, who opened the 1979 season by hurling a no-hitter last year, but that was against the Atlanta Braves, said his opening performance this year was even more satisfying.

Cabell drove in a third-inning run for the Astros with his second of three singles on the day. Los Angeles scored a seventh-inning run on a double by Dusty Baker and a single by Ron Cey and knocked Forsch out in the eighth on Davey Lopes' third single of the game and a run-scoring hit by Steve Garvey.

LaCorte came in to retire four of the five batters he faced to save the game for Forsch. "A game like today, though, is very important to the team." Houston-shelled, free-agent pitcher Dave Goltz for five singles and three runs in the second inning.

Las Vegas oddsmaker Bob Martin has made "Kramer vs. Kramer" the favorite for best picture, and Dustin Hoffman and Sally Field favorites for best performers. All but favorite Melvyn Douglas "Being There" will appear for the supporting actor award. The others: Robert Duvall, "Apocalypse Now"; Frederick Forrest, "The Rose"; Justin Henry, "Kramer vs. Kramer," and Mickey Rooney, "The Black Stallion." Awaiting the envelope for supporting actress will be Barbara Barrie, "Breaking Away"; Candice Bergen, "Starting Over"; Mariel Hemingway, "Manhattan," and Meryl Streep, "Kramer vs. Kramer." A no-show is Jane Alexander of "Kramer vs. Kramer." Producer Howard W. Koch has assembled a crew of presenters that symbolize Old Hollywood and New. Among the veterans: Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Charlton Heston, Kirk Douglas, Gene Kelly, Ann Miller, Walter Matthau. The newcomers include Bo Derek, Farrah Fawcett, Richard Gere, Kristy McNichol, Olivia Newton-John, Ben Vereen, as well as Persis Khambatta, whose hair has grown back since "Star Trek - The Motion Picture." Dustin Hoffman will present an honorary award to Sir Alce Guinness, who won best actor in 1957 for "The Bridge on the River Kwai." A second honorary award will be given to Academy treasurer Hal Elias by producer Walter Mirisch. The telecast has been scheduled on ABC at 9 p.m. EST, an hour earlier than usual. Johnny Carson returns as emcee.

In Midwest... April's Showers Changing To Snow

By The Associated Press
 April's showers were changing to snow in the Midwest early today after spring thunderstorms turned into torrential rains and twisters over much of the deep South, claiming at least seven lives. Showers and thunderstorms were expected to reach from the eastern Gulf Coast region through the Tennessee and Ohio valleys and to the Atlantic Coast and lower Michigan. Scattered rain and some snow was forecast from Arkansas to Illinois and rain was expected across the northern and central Pacific Coast. Early today, rain fell over Georgia and Louisiana, adding a burden to rivers and streams swollen by as much as 10 inches of rain over the weekend. Flood waters were blamed for deaths in Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana and tornado damage was reported through the South on Sunday. Snow was reported early today over Arkansas and southeastern Missouri. Light rain blanketed parts of Ohio and the mid-Atlantic region while cloudy skies stretched over the Midwest and generally clear skies were reported over the West. Temperatures early today ranged from 23 in Valentine, Neb., to 75 in Miami and Key West, Fla.

Texan Takes Shot At Longest Horse Ride

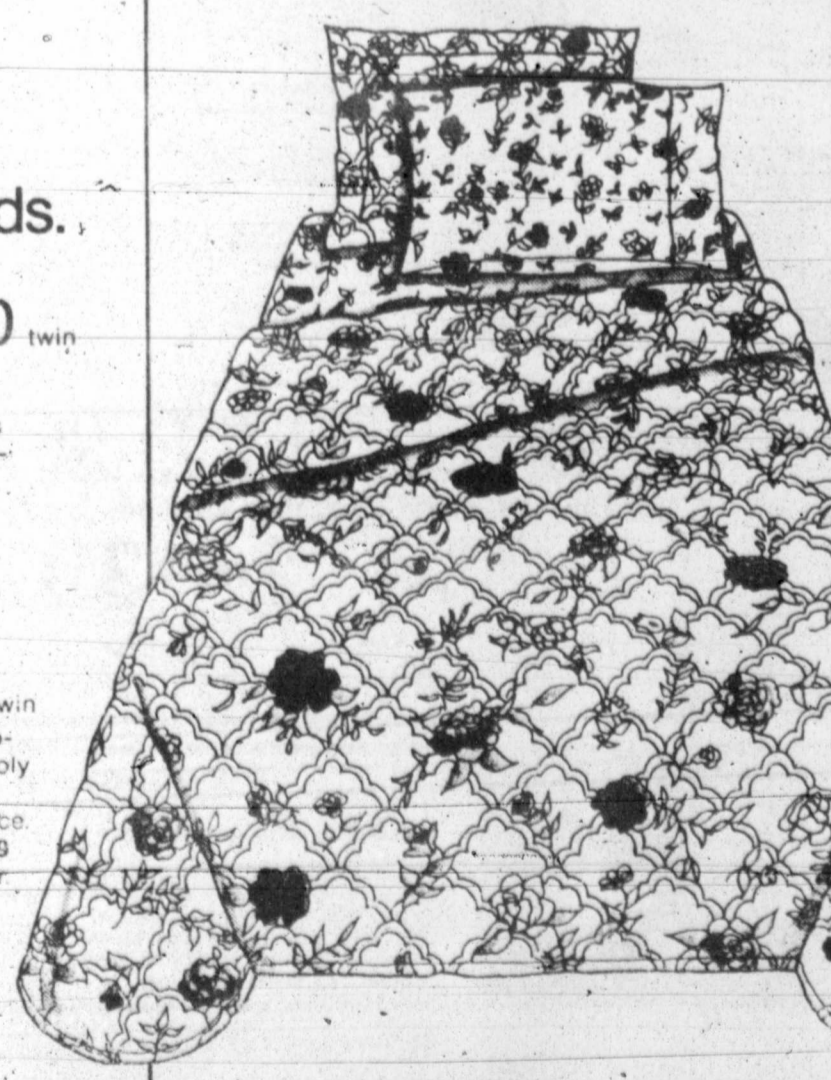

BRUSH, Colo. (AP)—When horseback rider Thomas Gaddie galloped through northeastern Colorado, he'd already been in the saddle for two months attempting a record-breaking 12,000-mile ride from Dallas to Prudhoe Bay, Alaska and then back to Texas. Gaddie conceived his journey 20 years ago while leafing through a copy of the Guinness Book of World Records. He spotted an entry attributing the world's longest horseback ride — 10,000 miles — to an Argentinian. Gaddie said his blood boiled at the thought the record wasn't held by an American, and he became obsessed with the idea he might do something about it. On Feb. 12, Gaddie, a prominent Dallas contractor, shut down a major portion of his lucrative fireplace building business and set out to realize his American Dream. Founding "The Texas Big 'Un, Inc." with the motto "Clear Across Texas... Then Some," he billed his 12,000-mile trek as The World's Greatest Horseback Ride, and said he would complete the journey in 10 months at a cost of $200,000. Gaddie, who passed near Brush last week, rides behind a safari of eight vehicles — two pulling horse trailers with six other spirited geldings. There's also a cook-shack van, a pickup and assist vehicles. All 12 people accompanying the expedition are related to him in some way, including his wife and son, except for the advance publicity man, Warren Lathrop. The horses are ridden intermittently for several miles at a time; then there's a momentary break as Gaddie changes mounts well behind the point he stopped and the journey continues. "I was riding between Wild Horse and Kit Carson, riding in snow," Gaddie said. "A little foreign car pulled up alongside me, and a gentleman got out and we stopped and he asked me, what are you doing, riding this horse?" "He said he was a minister. Said it was incredible, one of the most incredible things he had ever seen or heard of, and it was fantastic and I was great for doing it. And he asked me, do you mind if we have a prayer, and standing by the road we had a prayer. It was snowing and the wind was howling. I do not know what faith he was, and I didn't think to ask him," Gaddie said. On a good day, the horseman puts in 50-60 miles, par for the course for a man who's spent 50 of his 56 years in the saddle. On bad days, 20 miles might suffice — or none at all if he's snowbound.

Rally Mixed Up On Directions

DALLAS (AP)—About 40 ACORN members and sympathizers rallied against Texas Railroad Commissioner Jim Nugent at the Dallas Athletic Club, but Nugent was eight miles away at the Dallas Country Club in Highland Park. "We, uh, got mixed up," said ACORN spokesman Lafe Larson after the Thursday mix-up. "We ended up going to the wrong place." ACORN - the Association of Community Organizations for Reform Now - wanted to seek Nugent's support of a proposed natural gas customers' "bill of rights" now pending before the commission. They say they'll try again when Railroad Commissioner John Poerner comes to town later this month. Though named for the Equator it straddles, Ecuador has extremes of climate ranging from tropical heat to polar-like cold.

Analyst Says Gasoline Prices May Soon Drop

By JAY ARNOLD, Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—After rising this year at an average rate of 1.5 cents per gallon a week, retail gasoline price increases have slowed dramatically in the last three weeks, possibly foreshadowing a drop in prices at the pump, oil industry analyst Dan Lundberg says. The average price of all grades of gasoline nationwide from March 21 through April 11 rose only 0.36 cents a gallon to $1.237, an indicator of an overall cooling of the U.S. economy, said the publisher of the weekly oil industry Lundberg Letter. In an interview Sunday, Lundberg said the slackening pace of gas price increases will probably lead to a rollback in prices. "There is a slight but clear turnaround in the price acceleration to an actual deceleration," Lundberg said. That turnaround, according to Lundberg, reflects a "price sensitivity" by motorists which demonstrates the American consumer's growing resistance to price increases in all areas of the marketplace. "This deceleration in price increases, both at wholesale and retail levels, is not a price sensitivity that should be judged in a single frame of reference. What motorists are paying for all things—food, rent, clothing—is reflected in their price sensitivity to gasoline." Lundberg said the group's objection to the prayer on constitutional grounds of separation of church and state. The group said the devotionals should be replaced by a moment of silence at the suburban Dallas school. The letter, sent to Dr. E.A. Sigler, stated the line." Lundberg said the group's objection to the prayer on constitutional grounds of separation of church and state. The group said the devotionals should be replaced by a moment of silence at the suburban Dallas school. The letter, sent to Dr. E.A. Sigler, stated the line price turnaround is a potential indicator for the economy as a whole. "Perhaps we have nationally peaked on the inflationary cycle. That may indicate that that is the direction of the whole economy." The slowdown in gasoline price increases, Lundberg pointed out, has actually been developing over a period of weeks. Prices, which jumped markedly early in the year from the average $1.021 price at the end of 1979, have increased at a lower rate recently. "The rate slowed in late March and has decelerated further in April," the analyst said. "This may actually mark the beginning of gas prices coming down."

Oil, Gas Drilling Up 17.5% In 1st Quarter

DENVER (AP)—Petroleum Information Inc., the oil and gas industry's reporting service, says 17.5 percent more oil and gas wells were drilled during the first quarter of this year than during the same period last year.

And the overall success rate during the first quarter of this year was 72.1 percent, compared with 68 percent during the same period last year.

weather slowed activity in that state and only 3,862 wells were drilled, the reporting service said.

The second most active state was Oklahoma with 1,730 new wells, followed by Kansas with 1,028, Louisiana with 909; Pennsylvania 901; West Virginia 389; Illinois 284; Wyoming 269; Indiana 131; New York 109; and North Dakota 100.

California reported 405 new wells drilled during the quarter, up from 275 during the same period in 1979, Petroleum Information said.

Environmentalists Shift Emphasis To Energy Issues

ESTES PARK, Colo. (AP)—Leaders of many of America's major environmental and conservation organizations say they are shifting their focus from pollution to energy as the primary issue for the 1980s.

Such a shift, they say, is crucial to harnessing the public support necessary to continue the environmental campaigns of the 1970s.

"The big guys can outspend us at every turn, but as soon as we can outvote them we're going to start winning," said Brock Evans, associate director of the Sierra Club.

Evans was among 280 environmental leaders attending an Environmental Decade Conference this past weekend at a YMCA camp in the Colorado Rockies. Also present were ranking officials of Friends of the Earth, the Environmental Defense Fund, the Conservation Foundation and scores of other organizations.

The conference, coming 10 years after passage of the National Environmental Protection Act, was designed to give members of the decentralized environmental movement a chance to map informal strategies for the 1980s.

The conferees made no formal policy decisions, and they came no closer to a national movement than their fierce independence has allowed in the past.

The only specific action taken at the conference was the drafting of a letter to President Carter asking him to state publicly his opposition to granting the proposed Energy Mobilization Board power to waive existing environmental standards to expedite energy projects. Congress still is debating the issue.

Other issues were raised at the three-day conference, but energy and energy conservation repeatedly surfaced as the No. 1 priority for the coming decade.

The energy challenge must be met in the 1980s or the world economy will be unsustainable, conference participants warned. Several speakers talked of an "either-or" choice—save the world now or don't save it.

EASY OFF—The bull known as 777 shows why he was rated the Bucking Bull of the Year for 1979 as he dumps Ken Kenry at the collegiate National Finals Rodeo. Harry Vold of Fowler, Colo., owner of 777, will be providing stock for the Western Texas College NIRA rodeo in Snyder April 24-26. The public is invited to attend the WTC rodeo, to be held in the rodeo arena on West 30th Street.

Vold To Furnish Stock For WTC's '80 Rodeo

Harry Vold of Fowler, Colo., top PRCA producer, will furnish the bucking stock for the Western Texas College NIRA rodeo April 24-26.

The rodeo will be held in the rodeo arena on West 30th Street, with performances at 8 each night. Tickets may be purchased from WTC Rodeo Club members or at the gate. Admission is $3 for adults and $2 for students.

Bob Doty, WTC rodeo sponsor, said that WTC is very fortunate to have Vold produce the rodeo. "Normally we would not be able to afford such a contractor," he added. "However, Vold winters his stock in the West Texas area and is able to help us out."

In 1979, the Vold company had both the co-saddle bronc of the year and the bucking bull of the year as voted by the top 15 cowboys in the PRCA.

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Could she have cancer?

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — For 16 years I've had a bowel problem. When I eat just about anything I get cramps and recurring diarrhea. I can't sit down and eat as normal people do because I generally have to make a mad dash for the bathroom. I can't eat any food that's served warm and so live on bread, cheese, crackers, potatoes—anything bland. But at times these mild foods even bother me.

I've had my bowels X-rayed a few times but have never been examined with a proctoscope. My grandmother had cancer of the bowels and she had some of the same problems, but I'm 41 years old. I may have another 40 years ahead of me and I want to participate in life. Are there doctors who specialize in this type of disease and, if so, what are they called?

DEAR READER — Diarrhea is a symptom. It can be caused by an acute infection such as occurs in food poisoning.

Some non-infectious diseases cause diarrhea. These include Crohn's Disease and ulcerative colitis. There are other people who simply have diarrhea from anxiety.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 13-8, What You Need to Know About Diarrhea. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. It will tell you the various mechanisms that are involved in causing different forms of diarrhea. I'm sure that you do not use it, but alcohol is one cause of diarrhea. To some people with a sensitive bowel, coffee, including the decaffeinated type, also may cause diarrhea. So will tea.

Very little can be done about chronic diarrhea until its real cause is determined. That's why you must see a physician. You can see your family doctor if you like and he may be able to solve the problem. If not, he may want you to see a specialist in gastroenterology. You can probably be pretty certain that you don't have cancer of the bowel since you've had the problem for 16 years.

DEAR DR. LAMB — At present I'm considering a tubal ligation. Would you please write an article on the possible side effects? About a year ago we read an article in a magazine about the effects of vasectomy. Because of some of the problems that were mentioned (or men, we decided against that method. I'm in my early 40s and am about to have a baby and we certainly don't want any more after this one based on my age and the size of our family already. We need an honest answer about tubal ligations.

DEAR READER — From a medical point of view, it's one of the safest and surest forms of birth control. Some of the questions that have been raised about vasectomies have not been observed with tubal ligations. Specifically, the problems associated with the immune system and some questions about the relationship of fatty-cholesterol deposits in the arteries. Also, tubal ligations have been done for years. That means that the medical profession has years and years of experience with the procedure and still has failed to note many significant complications from the procedure.
