Iran Must Move Towards Freeing Hostages By May

By The Associated Press
The Carter administration today gave Iran until mid-May to move toward the release of the U.S. Embassy hostages or face possible military pressure. But in Tehran the Iranian government was considering postponing still further the election of the new Parliament that must decide the hostages' fate.

White House press secretary Jody Powell called the report "inaccurate" and said no decision on a possible blockade or similar move "has been taken or communicated." A West German spokesman denied his government had been informed of such a decision. An aide to President Carter, who declined to be identified, told reporters Carter might impose new economic and diplomatic sanctions against Iran as early as Thursday but would not consider any military moves until mid-May. That should give the Iranians ample time to "respond positively" to the U.S. sanctions already in force, the aide said.

mid-May looked less likely than ever today. The official Pars news agency said the already-postponed second round of the parliamentary elections is likely to be put off again -- from May 2 to the following week. The ruling Revolutionary Council will decide whether to order the new postponement, it said. Revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini says the Parliament must decide whether and when to release the hostages, held by Muslim militants occupying the U.S. Embassy since last Nov. 4. Ayatollah Mohammad Beheshti, influential secretary of the Revolutionary Council, told a news conference today the debate on the hostages would take place "perhaps in June or July."

Calls For Holy War

By The Associated Press
Iran's government radio announced formation of an "Islamic Revolutionary Army for the Liberation of Iraq" and called for a holy war, or jihad, to overthrow the secular Iraqi government vying with Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini for dominance of the Persian Gulf.

Sadr. In Beirut, Lebanon, Shiite supporters of Khomeini and pro-Iraqi Palestinians battled with guns and mortars for the second straight day, and authorities said four persons were believed killed. A bomb wrecked the Beirut office of the Iranian airline, apparently in retaliation for bomb attacks earlier this week on the Iraqi commercial center and the Iraqi airline's office in the Lebanese capital.

TWO KILLED—Two persons, a father and his 2-year-old son, were killed in a collision north of Snyder late last night. The accident occurred about 11:40 p.m. and took the lives of Victor Vega, 24, and his son, 2-year-old Ruben, of Muleshoe. Seven other persons were also present at the crash site, but none was injured. (SDN Staff Photo)

Ordinarily the award shows, even the Oscars, come and go without any preferences on our part. If we have an evening of leisure, we watch them for entertainment, not because we are pulling for any individual. Chances are about one in half a million that we will have seen any of the shows involved.

But we had a favorite Monday night when the 52nd annual Motion Picture Academy Awards were presented, and, for a change, we picked a winner. We were pulling for Sally Field to win the top award for an actress and she did.

As for the top actor's award, it made little difference to us, but we wanted Sally Field to win the Oscar over Jane Fonda, who is a fine actress but in our estimation has some of her values all mixed up. There are those who would say that the Oscar judging does not take into account anything except the performance in the picture involved. But we know better. You can't help but lend an ear to public opinion when such things are considered.

We have for some time regarded it as unfortunate that an actress with the ability of Jane Fonda goes so far out in her politics and social values. And we know that these things don't go unnoticed by the public and consequently the Oscar judges must be conscious of it.

Anyway Sally Field won, and we're glad. As for Dustin Hoffman, his attempt to be noble about his triumph has something to recommend it. At least it is better than what's-his-name who was more interested in the Indians a few years ago than he was in an Oscar, but never seemed to get around to spending any of the millions he made in the movies to help any of them.

But overall, we wonder sometime whether these gestures are an expression of guilt feelings. We like those who take pride in their industry and who express appreciation with an air of sincerity when they win. If they don't believe in what they are doing, or what this organization within their industry is doing, they should get out, or at least serve notice in advance that they do not wish to be considered for any personal honors.

So, hooray for Sally Field, who unabashedly expressed her joy at winning and even shed a few tears of happiness.

Ask Us

Q—Is it going to cost the city an additional $34,000 a year to take care of stray dogs under its new arrangement with a veterinarian?

A—No. That is the estimated cost of the entire animal control program for next year. It includes the animal warden's salary, the truck, gasoline, animal food, etc.—expenditures that already exist.

Two Killed In Highway Crash North Of Snyder

Charges are pending against a 24-year-old Lubbock truck driver involved in a collision late last night that claimed the lives of two persons.

Killed were Victor Vega, 24, and his 2-year-old son, Ruben, both of Muleshoe. Investigating highway patrolman Gary Brewer said the truck, a 1979 International "bob-tail" driven by Maurice Brown of Lubbock, struck from the rear a 1976 Vega Station Wagon that was being towed by a 1974 Pontiac.

Both passenger vehicles were stopped and pulled off to the right shoulder of the west-bound lane of Highway 84, about 10 miles north of Snyder. The accident occurred about 11:40 p.m.

Seven other persons were also present at the wreck site, huddled in or around the parked vehicles, but none was injured. Brewer indicated the vehicles were stopped as efforts were made to repair some lights.

The 2-year-old boy, said Brewer, was inside the Vega station wagon and the boy's father was standing beside the vehicle when the truck crashed into the parked vehicles.

They are the first two fatalities in Scurry County this year.

The bodies were taken to Bell-Seale Funeral Home, and were to be forwarded to Muleshoe where funeral arrangements were to be made.

New Officers Elected...

Tax Discount Rejected By School Trustees

Snyder school trustees last night canvassed the April 5 election, installed new officers, and refused to grant a discount for the early payment of 1980 taxes, the identical move taken last week by the Snyder City Council.

The official canvass showed Mike Reed to be the winner in the Place 3 election, G.A. Parks to be the winner of the Place 5 vote, and Jerry Rice, Place 4 incumbent, to be re-elected to his seat. They were all officially sworn in during the meeting last night.

Outgoing board members Bill Clayton and Bill Voss were presented plaques of appreciation of their work on the school board.

Ted Crenwelge was elected president of the school board and Bill Seale was elected vice president. E.D. Flynn was re-elected secretary.

Acting on Superintendent Bill J. Hood's recommendation, board members decided not to grant a discount for the early payment of school taxes.

Hood pointed out that those persons who pay their taxes early receive no "actual discount. He noted too that the term "discount" is a misnomer, claiming it only seems to be a discount because budgets must make up for any decreases granted for early payments.

Because taxes would have to be increased by at least the amount of the so-called discount, Hood said the action of granting the discount would be far more costly than the expense of a second tax roll which would be necessary if the discount were not allowed.

The motion not to grant the discount was made by Seale and seconded by Rice. It received the unanimous vote of the board members present.

Trustees also authorized Hood to seek bids for re-

Road Project Scheduled Here

A seal-coating project in Scurry County is included in a $58.7 million improvement program approved by the Texas State Highway and Public Transportation Commission, Roger G. Welsch, district engineer at Abilene, has announced.

Scheduled for seal-coating with one course of asphalt and aggregate overlay is a segment of U.S. Highway 180 west from Snyder for a distance of 6.1 miles.

Bank Drops Prime Rate

NEW YORK (AP)—Chase Manhattan Bank today reduced its prime lending rate from the record 20 percent to 19 1/4 percent, becoming the first major bank to lower the rate since December.

In announcing the move, Chase said it reflected a widespread decline in interest rates in recent days, but cautioned the rate still might rise in the future, depending on market conditions.

The reduction was the first by Chase, the nation's third-largest bank, since Nov. 27, when it reduced its rate from 15 3/4 percent to 15 1/4 percent.

A few banks reduced the rate to 15 percent in December, but after that it rose steadily until it reached 20 percent two weeks ago.

The prime lending rate is the rate banks charge on loans to their most credit-worthy corporate customers, with most other corporate and industrial customers paying more.

Rates rose sharply in recent months as the Federal Reserve tightened credit and as loan business remained relatively strong. But the economy has weakened in recent weeks and some economists think it may have entered a recession.

Wednesday update

Summit Talks Continue

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Carter and Prime Minister Menachem Begin resumed their summit talks today with their differences showing. But there are some superficial signs of progress toward ending the deadlock between Egypt and Israel over the political future of 1.2 million Palestinian Arabs.

Liability For Civil Suits

WASHINGTON (AP)—A deeply divided Supreme Court today made the nation's cities and counties easier targets for civil rights lawsuits.

By a 5-4 vote, the court ruled that the cities and counties enjoy no immunity from lawsuits by persons seeking money for alleged federal law violations—even unintentional violations—of their civil rights.

The court said that if an individual proves city officials while carrying out official policy violated his or her rights, the city must pay damages.

Carter's Net Worth Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jimmy and Rosalynn Carter, their net worth cut by inflation, are no longer millionaires. But the first couple's tax forms show the president's frozen salary and rising interest rates on loans also helped reduce their 1979 income tax bill by $26,295.

According to financial documents made public Tuesday, their net worth was $893,304.35 as of Dec. 31, down from $1,005,910.25 a year earlier.

The Carter's claimed a 1979 tax refund of $16,703.59. They paid $64,944.81 in federal income taxes—down from $91,239—on an adjusted gross income of $193,823.77.

HONORED ON SPECIAL DAY—Nolan Richardson and his wife, Rose, were guests of honor Tuesday night at the Western Texas College sports award banquet in the Scurry County Coliseum. Tuesday had been proclaimed "Nolan and Rose Richardson Day" honoring the popular WTC basketball coach whose team won the national junior college title with a 37-0 record. Richardson is leaving WTC to become head basketball coach at the University of Tulsa. See story and more pictures on banquet on Page 8. (SDN Staff Photo)

power of the dole

In his book Welfare, Martin Anderson, of Stanford University's Hoover Institution suggests that the federal dole may be impossible to cut because recipients and the government workers hired to oversee the programs are now so numerous that they constitute a major political force in congressional districts around the nation.

Over the last decade the poverty industry has become one of American's largest. About 5 million people have jobs relating to the welfare system and about 44 million people are, in one form or another, on the receiving end of what has to be considered government welfare.

This new force in American politics is pursuing its own interests in the halls of power - federal, state and local. Importantly, it is not in the interest of any of those involved to cut down on welfare - thus there has been for a number of years a momentum aimed at expanding people's dependency on welfare programs.

All of this could have been, and was, predicted by opponents of the welfare programs when they were first suggested. John Kennedy's New Frontier and Lyndon Johnson's Great Society have resulted in a dead-end life for those on the dole and an economic quagmire that defies political solution.

April, May and June are major months for tornadoes. Offentimes now we will begin to see some heavy, dark massive clouds with angry whirling edges which we'll want to keep a sharp eye on.

my turn

by jo ann nunley

Being one of the acts of nature man will probably never be able to conquer, there are precautions we should take which may save our lives.

Schools should hold pre-season and periodic in-season severe weather drills to ensure that staff and students know what to do when a tornado approaches.

Spotters should be posted at social and athletic events to provide ample advance warning and dismissal with take-shelter instructions if danger appears imminent.

Gymnasiums and auditoriums with wide-span roofs are not safe in such situations. As many persons as possible should be sheltered in relatively safe areas like passage tunnels under solid stands, in basements and inner hallways.

School bus procedures should be set up and drivers drilled to help children take cover in a shelter, ditch, or ravine if the bus is caught in the open by a tornado.

If the school building is of reinforced construction, stay inside but away from windows. Whenever possible, go to an interior hallway on the lowest floor. Otherwise, occupants should go to a ravine or an open ditch and told to lie flat.

If you are a student at a school, try to help teachers by following orders. Help other children who might be frightened. Go to an inside hall on the lowest floor. Crouch on the floor facing the wall. Bend over with your hands on the back of your head. Be sure to keep away from glass doors, windows, and big rooms like the gym, cafeteria and auditorium.

If you're in a city or town, seek inside shelter, preferably in a tornado cellar, underground excavation, or a steel-framed or reinforced concrete building of substantial construction. Stay away from windows!

In homes, the corner of the basement toward the tornado usually offers the greatest safety. Unfortunately, not many homes hereabouts have basements. In a home with no basement, take cover under heavy furniture in the center part of the house. Keep some windows open, but stay away from them.

In factories, after receiving a tornado warning, post a lookout. In accordance with advance plans, workers should move quickly to sections of the plant offering the greatest protection.

Listen and take seriously all warnings issued by the weather bureau.

NEW YORK (AP)—Yesterday was "a national day of shame." Tomorrow is "anti-big business day" to some, "economic growth day" to others. This week is "private property week."

Economic declaration, protest and counter-protest are elbowing each other for time in the sun, competing with each other and with the usual seasonal rites: annual meetings, reunions, weddings and graduations.

Angry about federal waste, overspending and taxation, Richard Leshner, National Chamber of Commerce president, recently christened April 15, tax deadline day, as a national day of shame, "even disgrace."

One group, however, disagrees, said Leshner, and that group, made up of Ralph Nader followers, is sponsoring "Big Business Day," during which they hope to emphasize corporate crime, pollution and price-fixing.

Some big-business executives have decided to ignore the event, but others are ready to fight. Calling it "anti-big business day," they hope to counter it by proclaiming the benefits corporations bestow.

The Business Roundtable, for example, has distributed position papers that talk of business as a source of jobs, as a taxpayer, as an agent of social justice, as a source of physical and financial security.

The table, made up solely of men who head the nation's biggest companies, seeks to convince people that business is the source of the nation's wealth and that it should be preserved not destroyed.

Economic growth day, a day closely related in spirit as well as date, is being observed by the National Coalition for Growth, an offshoot of the Heritage Foundation, a pro-business think tank.

Growth day seeks to undermine the popularity of the notion that no growth, the antithesis of business philosophy, is the only possible response to conservation and environmental preservation.

Private property week is sponsored by the National Association of Realtors, which is quite upset about what it sees as threats to private property rights guaranteed by the 5th and 14th amendments.

These amendments, the Realtors say, protect Americans in owning, using and disposing of private property without undue government interference. But, its leaders maintain, interference is growing.

Rent control is seen as interference. So are some local restrictions imposed by building codes, and limitations set by arbitrary zoning. Most dangerous to some Realtors are local proposals, none enacted, to prevent owners from selling without first obtaining permission.

The Realtors also see government spending, taxation and inflation as ominous threats, and seek public support from what they call the 2 percent solution.

"The 2 percent solution recommends that federal spending be slowed by at least 2 percent, or $6 billion, by September 30, and another 2 percent or $18 billion in 1981," said Ralph Pritchard, president.

Berry's World

"Now then! Who is responsible for what chores?"

WASHINGTON (NEA)—If Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Ill., decides to seek the presidency outside the framework of the two dominant political parties, he will be doing a disservice to himself and his supporters if he runs as an independent.

But another option available to Anderson — establishing a new political party and running for president as its nominee — could be the vehicle to not only advance his cause but also rejuvenate the country's ailing political system.

Neither alternative would have a chance of proving fruitful if President Carter and former California Gov. Ronald W. Reagan were both not moving inexorably toward their parties' presidential nominations.

But if the Democrats and Republicans are determined to choose Carter and Reagan, Anderson could well be the beneficiary of support from millions of alienated voters who previously identified themselves as independents or members of one of the major parties.

The distinction between an independent candidacy and a third-party nomination, obscured in the recent flurry of ill-informed speculation about Anderson's intentions, assumes critical importance in terms of initiating a serious effort to revitalize contemporary politics.

An independent candidacy is, almost by definition, little more than an exercise in ego gratification and self-aggrandizement for the candidate. The major parties may view it as a temporary irritant but will not be bestirred from their torpor by a political fad whose life span probably is limited to one election.

But the country's political system is in desperate need of stimulation — possibly leading to a major realignment — precisely because the current institutional arrangement has become increasingly irrelevant to the needs and interests of the voters.

The unmistakable signs of lethargy, disarray and even paralysis have become obvious throughout the past three decades, with participation in the electoral process plummeting almost as rapidly as party loyalty.

Neither of the two major parties has experienced any growth since the early 1950s. Voter identification with both the Republicans and Democrats has, in fact, gradually declined during that period.

The only substantial growth during those years has been among voters who proudly proclaim themselves to be independents — a self-classification that clearly represents a rejection of the two existing but discredited alternatives.

Contemporary methodology notwithstanding, there is nothing especially sacred about the perpetuation of existing political parties. Many of the nation's founding fathers, for example, were organizers of the Federalist Party, but it collapsed in the early 1800s after controlling the federal government for only slightly more than a decade.

Similarly, the Democratic-Republicans, the National Republicans and the Whigs all were, at one time or another in the nation's history, one of the two major parties — and all died a natural death when they no longer fulfilled a public need.

There are two especially relevant precedents for a third party formed by Anderson's supporters, both involving new parties organized around the presidential candidacies of men who were progressive Republicans.

In 1912, the Progressive

Party — commonly called the "Bull Moose" Party — was created by former President Theodore Roosevelt. In 1924, Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, R-Wis., also bolted from the GOP and led the campaign to form a new Progressive Party.

Both of those efforts, it must be noted, suffered from the weaknesses that too often plague independent candidacies. Each was organized exclusively around a charismatic leader and each collapsed when that man no longer was available to seek the presidency.

But the circumstances may be more propitious today. If Anderson and his backers are seriously committed to institutional reform, they could have a profound and lasting impact on the future of American politics.

Your Birthday

Learning will come easy this coming year if you study things you're fond of. Expanding your knowledge in these areas will be mentally rewarding and could also prove profitable.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Sometimes we can do a little harmless exaggerating and nothing comes of it. Today, however, lack of candor could cause you embarrassment. Getting along with other signs is one of the sections you'll enjoy in your Astro-Graph Letter, which begins with your birthday.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Minor-commercial dealings will be capably handled by you today, but situations involving larger stakes could be mismanaged. Take greater care with the latter.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be positive and hopeful today, but try not to magnify things of small promise into something larger than they are. Kidding yourself will lead to disappointment.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Rewards will come to you today in a ratio to your achievements. Don't expect a larger return than you are honestly entitled to.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You don't have to do expensive things for pals today to let them know you like them. Small, thoughtful gestures will do the job better.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) When doing things in concert with another today, don't take a greater share of the glory. Praise and rewards for joint efforts should be equal.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Make your decisions today based on reality and facts. Blue-sky input could destroy your judgment and lead you astray.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Avoid tendencies to turn small tasks into larger ones. Thinking something is hard will make it so.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Business favors should not be expected today from persons you know on a limited social basis. Wait till you become better friends or have more in common.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Once you get going today, you are a productive, industrious worker, but there's a chance you could schedule your time poorly, thereby cutting down your effective hours.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Discussions with friends could prove very enlightening today, but don't lock yourself into any business or money deals without deeper investigation.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You have the ingenuity to turn something unprofitable into a money-maker. Be alert so you're able to recognize opportunity.

Bobby Goldman, one of our greatest bridge players, has written an unusual bridge book called "Winners and Losers at the Bridge Table." It consists of some 50 cartoons. Each cartoon is accompanied by such advice as "A loser thinks 'It's up to me.' A winner knows 'It depends on us.'"

South was a loser and a hand hog. His right bid was two clubs, but he took personal command and bid two notrump. North raised to three and West opened the eight of spades.

South thought a while and finally played low from dummy—East played the 10 and South took his king. He had to go after clubs and when West took his ace he was able to lead a spade to give East four spade tricks.

"I was sure East held the ace of clubs for his vulnerable overcall," complained South.

"If I had played West for that card I would have wrapped up game and rubber."

"Tough luck, partner," said winner North and the next hand was dealt.

"I wanted to kill the blank, blank," North told us later. "But I still had to finish the rubber with him."

As you readers can see, if South had bid two clubs North would have bid two notrump and played the notrump game.

With North as declarer the spade lead would cause no problem. North would make a lot of tricks — maybe as many as 11, but South had bid the notrump first.

Winds Of Recession Blowing From Detroit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Once again, the early winds of recession are blowing from Detroit.

The auto industry traditionally leads the way when the nation's economy goes into recession, and the car makers provided dramatic evidence Tuesday that another economic downturn is at hand.

Domestic car sales got off to the worst start for an April since the recession year of 1975, and were down 25 percent from a year ago, the industry reported.

Ford Motor Co. announced it is closing three plants and reducing work at four other locations, eliminating about 15,000 jobs. More than 200,000 auto workers already are on layoff because of poor sales.

Moody's Investors Services, a major bond-rating service, cut its ratings on Chrysler Corp. bonds, saying the company's rising estimate of 1980 losses is making it "extremely difficult" for Chrysler to raise the funds it needs to stay in business.

The signals from Detroit that the economy is falling into a recession were bolstered by a Federal Reserve Board report that industrial output fell at a 10 percent annual rate in March, with the decline most pronounced in the auto and construction industries.

On top of that, the Commerce Department reported that corporate profits declined 0.9 percent from the third quarter of last year to the fourth quarter, a worse performance than earlier estimated.

"We're seeing a picture of an economy that is shifting gears into a decline," said William A. Cox, a Commerce Department economist.

Treasury Secretary G. William Miller said recent economic events show "the makings of a new recession" but that it can't be confirmed yet, even though he expects a mild recession will occur.

A recession generally is said to occur when there are two consecutive quarters of decline in the nation's total economic output. Since the economy is thought to have expanded in the first quarter of the year, the earliest starting point for the recession under that classic definition would be the April through June period.

Automaker Says Layoffs Warning

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP)—Ford Motor Co., through cutbacks of 15,000 employees and 14 percent of its production capacity, is warning workers from top to bottom to shape up or get shipped out.

The lesson is expected to save Ford $1.5 billion a year, but it has left some officials in New Jersey wondering how their region will cope with the loss of more than 3,700 assembly plant jobs.

"In our immediate area, this will be a disaster..." said Joseph P. O'Hara, president of United Auto Workers Local 906 in Mahwah, N.J.

"The repercussions will be felt throughout the surrounding counties in New Jersey and New York."

The troubled No. 2 automaker announced Tuesday the closing of three plants—the assembly plant at Mahwah, a specialty foundry at Dearborn, Mich., and a castings plant at Windsor, Ontario.

The closings will add about 8,900 blue-collar workers to the 43,200 on indefinite layoff from Ford. Some 203,000—more than one in four—already are idled from the fine U.S. automakers.

Ford will reduce its white-collar workforce by 6,100.

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Help for 'rummy' nose

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—A long time ago I read in your column about blood vessels on the nose. Mine are broken and I'm afraid my nose will become bulbous. Your article mentioned a medication that you can take to prevent this. I asked my doctor about it and he said it was just from blowing one's nose the wrong way. His, by the way, is really bad. I realize no physician can know everything so I dropped the subject. It's getting worse, though, and before it's beyond the help of medication I'd appreciate some information from you on what could be done about it.

DEAR READER—It's not uncommon to have increased prominence of small veins in the nose as a person gets older. It's part of life. However, if you're talking about the problem of acne rosacea, which is the enlarged bulbous red nose that some people develop, there are things that can be done to help prevent progression of the condition.

It used to be said that people with the large red nose had a "rummy nose" and it was associated with drinking alcohol. It is true that anything that increases the blood flow through the skin and, consequently, to the skin over the nose may contribute to the problem. However, people who have never had a drop of alcohol to drink may develop such a nose. In the extreme case, plastic surgery is sometimes required to produce a more acceptable looking nose.

Individuals who have any evidence of this, such as lots of prominent veins, can be put on tetracycline antibiotics. For best results, tetracycline is given as 500 milligrams twice a day. As the condition begins to improve, the dose may be reduced to 250 milligrams daily, as even more improvement is noted, it may eventually be reduced to 250 milligrams every other day.

If the condition begins to flare up after the antibiotic is stopped, it can be reinstated. Some doctors recommend continuing a low dosage of tetracycline for a year or more to induce a good remission. The exact reason that the antibiotic helps is not known but it is a well-documented observation.

In addition, an individual with such a problem should avoid all alcohol, hot foods and drinks and spicy foods. It's probably also a good idea to eliminate coffee, tea and all drinks containing caffeine, which, by the way, include chocolate.

DEAR DR. LAMB—If you eat a lot of sugar and then drink alcohol, will you lose weight? Does the alcohol work on the sugar somehow?

DEAR READER—That's a pretty wild question. Sugar has a lot of calories and contributes to obesity. Alcohol has even more calories—seven calories per gram—and is a major cause of the national problem of obesity, because there are so many people who drink too much alcohol. The only thing that alcohol and sugar do together is to make you fat. Neither contains any important vitamins or minerals that are useful for your health.

Readers who want information about alcohol can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for The Health Letter number 14-6. Alcohol Can Be Hazardous to Your Health. Send your request to Dr. Lamb, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

FDA Fears Half Million Cows Fattened With DES

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government, raising sharply its count of cattle fattened with a banned cancer-causing growth stimulant, says its earlier estimates of the problem have been greatly exceeded.

The Food and Drug Administration and the Agriculture Department said Tuesday at least 344,000 cattle from 115 feedlots in 16 states had been treated with DES after the ban took effect last year.

And that estimate, up from the initial one of 105,000 at 46 feedlots and a revised one last week of 200,000 at about 50 feedlots, could go even higher.

Present indications are that the final figure will be in the neighborhood of 500,000 by the time the government investigation ends, said FDA spokesman Wayne Pines, who added: "The figure could go higher."

DES, a synthetic hormone, has been shown to cause cancer and birth defects in animals and has been linked to cancer and other disorders in humans.

Pines acknowledged, as officials have previously, that some contaminated meat may be reaching consumers. But officials maintain there is "no appreciable health risk" from consuming the DES-treated beef still finding its way to consumers' tables and contend that "the hazard is not from a few exposures, but from continuing exposures over a number of years."

The agencies also said they had found 24 firms that continued to sell DES implants after the July 13 federal sales ban. All uses of DES, which can be mixed in feed or implanted as a pellet in an animal's ear, were to end by Nov. 1.

The number of cattle and feedlots involved do not represent a large proportion of the industry. But the figures do suggest the frequency with which the regulations have been ignored.

The maximum penalty for violating the ban is three years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

The FDA refused to provide a list of the feedlots and distributors involved until it is certain that each of them has received an official notice.

But it did list the states and the number of feedlots in each: Arizona, one; California 13; Colorado, 10; Idaho, three; Illinois, one; Iowa, four; Kansas, 43; Michigan, two; Nebraska, two; Ohio, one; Oklahoma, nine; Oregon, one; South Dakota, one; Texas, 22; Virginia, one; Wisconsin, one.

Concorde Losing Only U.S. Route

WASHINGTON (AP)—The supersonic Concorde

jetliner, an economically crippled bird, is losing its only domestic route in the United States—from Washington's Dulles Airport to Dallas-Fort Worth.

The rising cost of jet fuel finally tripped up the Concorde, and Braniff Airways announced Tuesday it will halt the Washington-Texas service June 1.

The move comes as interest is stirring in some U.S. quarters for a second-generation American SST to compete for future world aviation sales.

The Concorde can cross the Atlantic in half the time of a Boeing 747. But it uses four times as much fuel.

Jack Cypert, vice president of Bell-Scate General Home, Tuesday was elected president of the Snyder Lions Club.

He will succeed Max von Roeder as Lion Boss. Installation of the new officers elected Tuesday will be held in June. Also elected were Tom Scannicchio, first vice president; Milton Ham, vice president; Glen Polk, third vice president; Brian Boswell, secretary; and C.A. McCown, treasurer.

Also chosen were H.O. Beard and Bill Sealy Lion Tamer; John Boren and Roy McQueen, Tail-Pwnters.

Directors elected were Sonny Greenfield, John

Jarrell, Jerry Webb, Dennis Chisum, Rod Waller, Gary Landes, Fred Costello and Duane Seay.

The World Bank recently estimated that recoverable coal reserves are almost five times greater than presently known oil reserves. In addition, known coal resources and reserves are located in as many as 80 countries.

Alaskans Sharing Wealth From Oil

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—While Americans raced to meet the nation's tax deadline, Gov. Jay Hammond signed legislation to wipe out Alaska's income tax and pay Alaskans cash dividends from the state's burgeoning oil wealth.

The state's estimated 400,000 residents will pocket $405 million by the end of the year—$2,000 for the average adult—through tax refunds and the "share-the-oil-wealth" plan.

Thousands more could be pocketed in future years, especially by long-time residents—making the legislation the biggest cash payment law for Alaskans since the $1 billion Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act in 1971.

"Some people call this socialistic," Hammond said. "But it really is very conservative. The idea is to let the public decide how they want to use their money."

Since huge oil deposits were discovered in Alaska, legislators have wrestled with a way to let their constituents benefit directly. A $900 million windfall from the first big lease sale—Prudhoe Bay in 1969—was spent mostly on public works projects in what legislators then said was "catch up" after years of inadequate services.

Subsequent oil revenues of under $1 billion a year were used to continue government services. But now, Alaska expects to receive more than $4 billion in revenues by mid-1981, largely since the price of the state's oil has been tied to Mideast crude, and because of decontrol of domestic oil.

Legislators agreed this week that rather than let politicians and bureaucrats spend it all, the people should be allowed to get some of the money directly and spend it as they wish. Some view it as an endurance reward.

"I live in a town where temperatures can range 175 degrees," said Rep. Fred Brown, D-Fairbanks. "That's a very harsh environment and there's no other state that has conditions like this. Partly because of the extreme environment, the cost of living is higher."

The annual distribution plan will give residents at least $50 cash for each year they've lived here since 1959, when Alaska became a state. That means a 21-year resident will receive $1,050 this year.

The $50 base dividend is expected to increase because it is tied to earnings from a constitutionally established trust fund fed by oil revenues. As revenues increase, the trust builds and the dividend grows.

Both taxpayers and non-taxpayers will get the dividends.

"It will change the whole face of Alaska in time. In 15 or 20 years it will be the collateral that has fueled the construction and the change that took place here," said Senate President Clem Tillion.

"It has brought us all into the corporate world with every Alaskan collecting dividends."

Dear Abby

Don't Pursue "Dropout" Dad

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl. My parents were divorced when I was 2, and my mother agreed that my father should have no obligation to her or me. I never saw him again. My mother died six years ago and I have been living with my aunt and uncle. (She's my mother's sister.) I've always wanted to see my father but I had no idea where he was. I remember my mother saying once that Dad had a brother living in St. Louis, so I got up the nerve to call him on the phone. I told him who I was, and said I didn't want to cause any trouble, but I wanted to get in touch with my father. He said my father was married and had a family — that he'd never told anyone that he had been married before or had a daughter. He refused to give me my father's number or even tell me where he was, but he said if I gave him my number he would give it to my father in case he wanted to call me.

I gave it to him, and didn't hear anything from anybody for five months, so I called my uncle again, and he told me I should quit looking for my father because he didn't want to see me. The aunt and uncle I live with don't know I called my uncle in St. Louis. They would have a fit if they knew because they hate my father. (Everybody on my mother's side does.)

What do you advise me to do? I really want to know my dad.

LOOKING FOR DAD

DEAR LOOKING: Your father has been told where he can reach you, so if he chooses not to get in touch with you, forget him. Perhaps when you are older, you may want to pursue this search, but for the time being, dear, cool it.

DEAR ABBY: INVISIBLE WIFE shouldn't feel too bad about not being included in two wedding invitations addressed only to her physician husband. At least the guest list was made up by outsiders.

My husband looked me straight in the eye and told me that he was attending "a little retirement party" for one of his employees (female). I later learned the he had been the host to this $1,000 sit-down dinner at an exclusive hotel; the guest list included several couples that we socialize with, plus all his employees, whom I know well.

Abby, I have worked hard and long so that he is now able to afford such things, and imagine the shock when three days later a friend who had attended this "little retirement party" asked if I had been ill and unable to attend. Please comment.

NO FRUMP IN BEL AIR

DEAR NO FRUMP: I nominate your husband for "Stinker of the Year."

DEAR ABBY: There is a self-made businessman in our town, a bachelor, who has made a lot of money and is very much in demand socially. This man never writes to accept or decline an invitation — of to thank his hostess after he has enjoyed her hospitality. He always uses the telephone. (He travels a lot and usually calls long-distance, which flatters the recipient.)

I'm sure he telephones instead of writes because he has had very little education (sixth grade, perhaps) and he probably can't spell or write very well. However, he is extremely articulate orally.

Would you say that a phone call to convey thanks is adequate and proper? I was taught that the personally written note was the only socially acceptable way.

ETTA KETT

DEAR ETTA: An expression of thanks, written, telephoned or sent by carrier pigeon, is "adequate and proper," if it's prompt and sincere.

CBS Scores With Movies

NEW YORK (AP)—Clint Eastwood scored twice, once for ABC and once for CBS, and "Patton" destroyed "Coming Home" in head-to-head competition as the TV networks battled for late-season ratings points.

CBS won a surprisingly easy race in the week ending April 13, thanks to a couple of made-for-TV films, and pulled ahead of defending champ ABC by one-tenth of a point with a week to go in the 1979-80 season.

"Kenny Rogers as The Gambler," broadcast by CBS, was the week's highest rated show, with another CBS movie, "Nurse," with Michael Learned from "The Waltons," in sixth place.

CBS, in fact, had eight of the week's 10 most-watched programs, and compiled a rating of 20.9 to 17.9 for ABC and a season-low 14.7 for NBC. The networks say that means in an average prime-time minute during the week, 20.9 percent of the homes in the country with television were watching CBS.

CBS' rather decisive triumph in the latest survey sent the challenger into the final week of the season a tenth of a point ahead of ABC — 19.6 to 19.5. CBS now has won the weekly competition 15 times to 12 for ABC and two for NBC.

Ratings help determine advertising rates, and all three networks scheduled blockbuster programming for the last week of the season.

Eastwood showed up twice in the A.C. Nielsen Co.'s Top 20 for the week, in "High Plains Drifter" on ABC and "Magnum Force" on CBS. The ABC movie was 12th in the ratings, and "Magnum Force" 15th.

"Patton," another ABC movie, finished 25th in the ratings, thwarting NBC's effort to score twice this season with Jane Fonda and Jon Voight in "Coming Home." "Coming Home" finished 48th.

NBC stumbled, too, with Henry Fonda in "The Oldest Living Graduate," a live theatrical production from Southern Methodist University. It was No. 59 for the week.

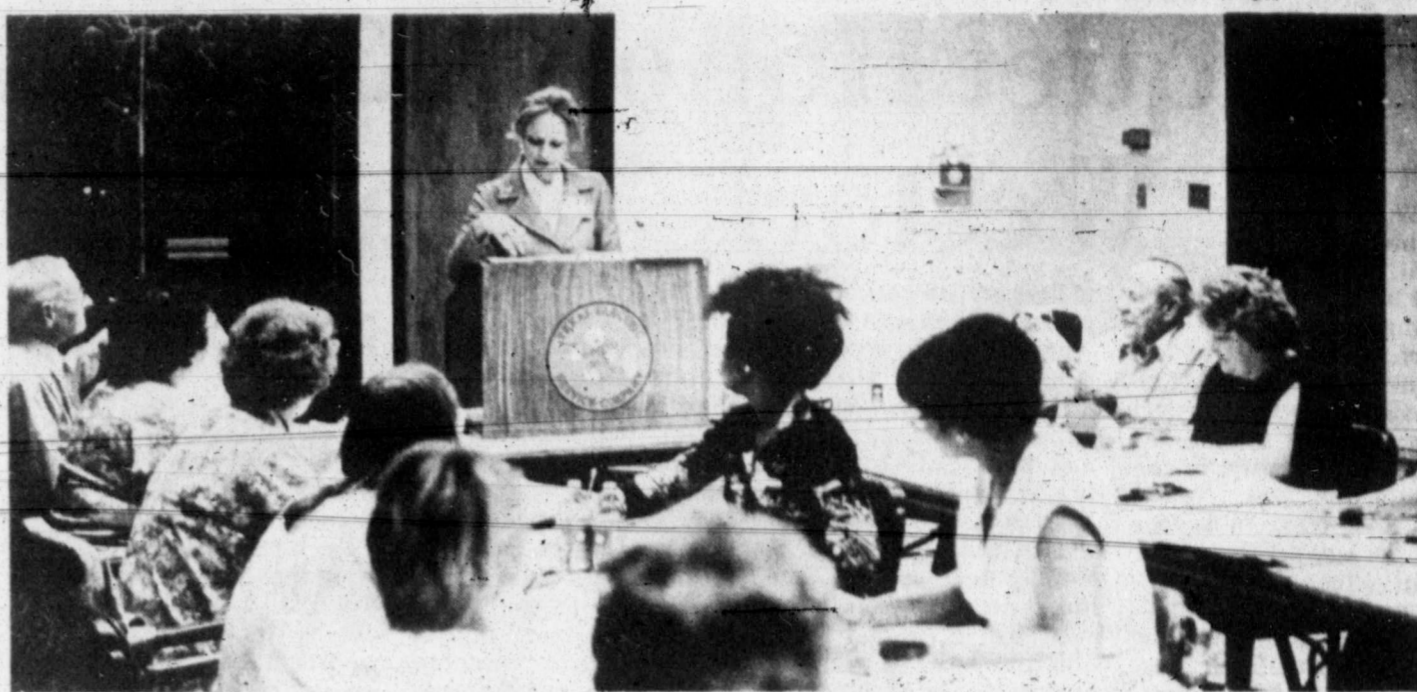

The rating for "The Gambler" on CBS was 31.2. Nielsen says that means of all the TV-equipped homes in the country, 31.2 percent saw at least part of the movie.

NBC suffered further from the week's five lowest-rated shows, beginning with a carryover into prime-time of the extra-inning baseball game Saturday between Los Angeles and Houston, No. 65 in the ratings. That was followed by "The Dobermans," "Sneak Preview" — the Oscar Race, a 10 p.m. episode of "United States" and a 10:30 p.m. segment of the same series.

Here are the week's 10 highest-rated shows: Movie "Kenny Rogers as The Gambler," with a rating of 31.2 or 23.8 million homes, and "60 Minutes," 29 or 22.1 million, both CBS; "The Best of That's Incredible," 26.1 or 19.9 million, ABC; "Real People," 25.3 or 19.2 million, NBC; "The Jeffersons," 24.7 or 18.8 million, and "Nurse," 24.3 or 18.5 million, both CBS; "Alice" and "M-A-S-H" both CBS, both 23.6 or 18 million, and "Flo," 23 or 17.5 million, and "Dukes of Hazzard," 22.4 or 17.1 million, both CBS.

Thirty-four percent of the nation's timber lies within federally owned national forests.

Banquet Honors Richardsons And Western Texas Athletes

As usual, Nolan Richardson stole the show. But then, a large part of last night's Western Texas College All-Sports Banquet was centered around the coach and his wife, Rose. Yesterday was "Nolan and Rose Day" in Snyder and the small tribute ended at Scurry County Coliseum where over 200 colleagues, fans and friends came to give their respects to Western Texas' athletes and probably one of the greatest coaches the college will ever know. Awards were presented to a number of athletes, and special honors went to almost as many other individuals, who took part in a highly successful 1979-80 season. "This will probably be the greatest year of my life," commented an almost tearful Richardson, who may have spoken his final words to a gathered audience in Snyder yesterday. He will be leaving for Tulsa University soon, for a major college coaching position which has been his dream since boyhood. Almost every individual who took the podium had something to say about the standout coach, who led Western Texas to a record of 37-0 this season. Some began with jokes, but all ended with a sincere moment of thanks and good wishes for the future.

Richardson voiced his appreciation for friends and citizens of the community, his colleagues and team. "As I've said many, many times before," he stated, "I may be leaving Snyder but Snyder will never leave me." The coach, his team and wife presented several special awards themselves, including gifts of appreciation to athletic secretary Glenys Tobin and "No. 1 Fan" Virginia Whitson. Each group of athletes—basketball, golf, judo and rodeo, and cheerleaders—were introduced to the audience. A number of awards were presented in basketball, both men's and women's. In men's basketball, Paul Pressey was named the year's "Most Valuable Player." David Brown was Most Improved; Ronald Portee received an award for Leadership; Bill Patterson was named "Mr. Clutch." Franklin Bennett, who "took Charge," Phil Spradling for Sportsmanship, and Greg Stewart as "Chairman of the Boards." Bennett's award was for what is called taking the charge in basketball, a move which, if successful, leads to a foul by the opposing team, or a missed shot, or both. "Chairman of the Boards" refers to the top rebounder in the group. Richardson also noted that Stewart, 6-9, has signed a letter of intent to play with Tulsa University next year. Pressey and Spradling had already inked with Tulsa. Portee has been recruited by Cal State Fullerton. Women's basketball coach, Joe Cushing, also presented several awards. Katie Fisher was named "Most Valuable Player" and was "Best Defensive Player" along with Joyce Plagens. Plagens was named "Most Improved," freshman Shari Teal was termed "Most Talented," and freshman Linda Holubec won the "Duster Heart Award." Plaques were given to all outgoing sophomores. Bob O'Day, golf coach, presented plaques to his sophomores. Scott Barrett, Mike Cotter, Phil Kuss, Ken Lawrence, and Mike Mahan. O'Day also presented a plaque to T.W. Holder as the golf team's No. 1 Fan. Other awards included gifts to Mrs. Whitson and Coach Cushing from the women's basketball team; and a plaque of appreciation to Dr. Jim Tully. Gifts of appreciation were given to Mickey Baird and Gail Cushing, also, times before," he stated. Bob O'Day, golf coach, Judge Wayland Holt, former Booster Club president, presented a gift to Rose Richardson, and Colleagues O'Day and Cushing presented a plaque to Nolan Richardson. Chairman of the executive committee, Guy Sullivan, presented a set of golf clubs and bag to Richardson as the evening's program drew to a close. Larry Genuchi was master of ceremonies for the banquet. Invocation and benediction were given by Kenneth Levens and Paige Lou Eiland.

Sonics Need Reprieve; Cage Playoffs Tough

By The Associated Press
Philadelphia and Los Angeles have joined Boston in the conference finals of the National Basketball Association playoffs, which means the teams with the three best records during the regular season have qualified for the round-of-four.

But for the club with the fourth-best mark, the defending champion Seattle SuperSonics, the outlook is bleak.

The Sonics were beaten by the Milwaukee Bucks 108-97 Tuesday night and now trail in their best-of-seven second-round series 3-2. The Bucks can wrap it up at home Friday night.

And the Sonics, who fell behind in the series 2-1 only to tie it at Milwaukee and thought they were in the driver's seat with two of the last three games at home, now find themselves in trouble.

Philadelphia and Los Angeles did it on Tuesday. The 76ers, getting 30 points apiece from Julius Erving and Darryl Dawkins, beat the Atlanta Hawks 105-100 to win their series 4-1. Philadelphia will meet the Celtics in the Eastern Conference finals starting in Boston Friday night.

The Lakers, with Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scoring 35 points and grabbing 16 rebounds, whipped the Phoenix Suns 126-101 to win their series, also by a 4-1 margin. The Lakers will face the winner of Milwaukee-Seattle in the Western Conference final.

Boston had advanced to the round of four by completing a sweep of the Houston Rockets Monday night.

Milwaukee's win may have been costly, because forward Dave Meyers suffered a bruised knee and sixth man Junior Bridgeman bruised his lower back during the game.

Rangers Defeat Battered Indians

ARLINGTON (AP)—The Cleveland Indians were the victims Tuesday night as John Matlack twirled a five-hitter in a 5-0 Rangers victory. Matlack out-duced Cleveland left-hander Bob Ojwinko, who was touched for eight hits and three runs in six and two-thirds innings. It was Ojwinko's American League debut.

Cleveland manager Dave Garcia said, "Matlack was just excellent. What control. That was a good duel between him and Ojwinko."

of his batterymate: "If he was a seven before on a scale of 10, he is a nine now. He's gone up a couple of grades."

Smith-Wesson Take District... Netters Scoop Up Wins

After running into misfortune over the weekend at Brownfield, Snyder netters found luck waiting for them back home.

The Tigers had qualified for regional in both girl's and boy's singles last week but had to settle for the district runner-up spot in both cases after losing 3-AAA championship games to Brownfield athletes.

Weather conditions in Brownfield called a halt to a number of matches however, and they were made up in Snyder's

Tigers Hold Lamesa To Single-Hit Game

Coach Albert Lewis said his Tigers would need some pitching this year. It looks like he's beginning to get it.

The Tigers have allowed only 13 hits in their five district ballgames, including yesterday's one-hitter over Lamesa here as Tony Degrate manned the hill for a 6-0 victory.

Snyder's latest win throws the District 3-AAA race into a tie again. Both Snyder and Brownfield have 4-1 records while Lamesa is out of the running at 0-6.

The whole thing comes to a showdown Thursday as Snyder's Tigers travel to Brownfield for a 4:30 p.m. contest with the Cubs. It wasn't set up that way, but the game will be for the first-round title; a share of the District 3-AAA championship.

Degrate struck out five of the first seven batters he faced yesterday and wept on to record 14 strikeouts for the day. Lamesa's lone hit came in the sixth inning as losing pitcher Ross Whitley looped a single. Degrate promptly took care of the situation by fanning the next batter and retiring the side.

Golf Bid

WATERWOOD (AP)—Robert Thompson fired a one-under par 70 to pace San Houston State to an easy 29-stroke victory Tuesday in the second of four tournaments to determine the Lone Star conference golf champion.

Sam Houston, the defending NAA national champion, finished the 36-hole tournament with a team total of 596. The Bearcats won the first tournament by a 21-stroke margin.

Sam Houston's Robert Singletary finished second in the medalist race, shooting a 75 Tuesday at the Waterwood National course.

Stephen F. Austin is second after two tournaments, followed by Angelo State, Southwest Texas, East Texas State, Texas A&I, Abilene Christian and Howard Payne.

Snyder picked up a run in the first inning, three in the third and two more in the second while scattering eight hits. Sam Willis was the "heavy" hitter, going two-for-three for the afternoon.

Strong winds kept everything in the ballpark.

Paul Gafford, shortstop, drew a first inning walk to get Snyder going. Two outs later, Toby Neves brought him home with a single.

In the third inning, Gafford again secured base, this time on an error. Mike Roemisch moved him around with a single and Bobby Degrate followed with another base hit to bring him home. Neves came up with a run-scoring sacrifice and Shawn Ragland made it 4-0 when he tacked on another single.

Kyle Short and Willis singled on in the sixth inning. Trussell Thane's two-out single brought them in for Snyder's final points of the afternoon.

Stewart Joins Tulsa Troops

Greg Stewart, 6-9 sophomore, has announced his decision to follow Coach Nolan Richardson to Tulsa University next year.

Richardson made the decision public at last night's All-Sports Banquet.

Stewart, who received honors at every tournament Western Texas Westerners participated in for the past two years, joins two other WTC teammates at Tulsa.

Paul Pressey, 6-5, and Phil Spradling, 6-4, had announced they would go with Richardson earlier in the week.

Another Westerners player, Ronald Portee, 6-0, has signed a letter with Cal State Fullerton, California.

Niekro Steers Astros Victory

HOUSTON (AP)—Perhaps Atlanta Braves batters should take the advice of Houston catcher Luis Pujols concerning the fluttering knuckle ball pitches of Joe Niekro.

"If you watch the ball from the time it leaves Joe's hand you go crazy, better to wait until just before it gets to you," said Pujols, who caught Niekro's most devious pitches Tuesday night as the Astros blasted the Braves 6-2.

Pujols not only snagged all of Niekro's pitches but also started a four-run second inning with a lead-off double that provided all the runs the Astros needed against the punchless Braves, now 0-6 for the season.

Niekro scattered six hits and pitched his way out of a ninth inning jam to post his first win of the season. Pujols, shortstop Julio Gonzalez and platoon rightfielder Jeff Leonard all turned in two-for-four performances in relief of the regulars.

The Astros took a 2-0 first inning lead off Atlanta starter Larry McWilliams on back-to-back singles by Jose Cruz and Enos Cabell.

The roof fell in on the Braves in the four-run second inning on three consecutive runs-scoring hits by Leonard, Gonzalez and Cesar Cedeno and Joe Morgan's fielder's choice grounder.

Taking Second Look At Domestic Spending Cuts

By ROBERT PARRY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Budget Committee's guns-over-butter spending plan is coming under fire from leading liberals, but it seems unlikely the Senate will roll back proposed increases in defense spending.

In the face of the liberal opposition Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd called for a review of the 1981 budget by Senate leaders, delaying the start of floor debate from Tuesday until next week.

"I think we need more time to have discussions," Byrd said Tuesday of the proposed balanced budget for fiscal 1981, which starts Oct. 1.

The Senate committee plan, like ones recommended by President Carter and the House Budget Committee, would balance the budget for the first time in 12 years. But it differs sharply in its priorities.

The Senate committee's $612.9 billion plan recommends $5.2 billion more for defense than the $150.5 billion Carter sought in his $611.5 billion budget. It would pay for that higher military spending by making deeper cuts in domestic programs.

The House Budget Committee's $611.8 billion version, which is expected to reach the House floor next Wednesday, is closer to Carter's package although it favors $2.6 billion less in defense spending than the president wants.

Several congressional sources felt the Senate was unlikely to cut defense spending, a major Senate priority in recent years. But they noted that the final allotment for defense would probably be a compromise between the House and Senate figures. Meanwhile, the Carter administration also has objected to some of the Senate committee's reductions.

Carol Foreman, an assistant agriculture secretary, said Tuesday while the administration backs some cuts in food programs, she was shocked by the Senate panel's "action against the nation's poor."

While Carter recommended saving about $500 million from food stamp and nutrition programs, the Senate committee proposed about $1.9 billion in such cuts.

The major Senate committee change would reduce food stamp benefits to families with children who receive free school lunches.

Members of the Scurry County Board of Development got reports on industrial development activities and other projects at a meeting held at noon Tuesday at the Snyder Country Club.

Bill Warner, chamber of commerce manager and consultant to the BCD, told the group that there has been continuing contact with Teledyne Wah Chang and that additional information has been provided from time to time on possible plant sites and other factors requested by the firm which is considering a plant in this area.

The board approved financial reports and payment of bills through the month of March.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—The first group of 150 Cuban refugees arrived in San Jose today at the start of an airlift of almost 11,000 persons who had swarmed into the grounds of the Peruvian Embassy in Havana to escape from Fidel Castro's communist rule of their homeland.

Some of the refugees had tears in their eyes.

"This is an important psychological symbol to get this air bridge started," said Carlos Aguilar of the Costa Rican Foreign Ministry. "This first flight is independent of Peru or any other government. We just want to get the first stage started for humanitarian reasons."

Florida Controversy...

Great Juice Dispute

By IKE FLORES
Associated Press Writer
ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—
Leaders of Florida's $2 billion citrus industry are squaring off over a plan to take a little of the orange out of orange juice.

The conflict in the vast industry is over brix — the scale used to measure the amount of natural orange solids, sugar and citric acid contained in concentrated juice. Processors want to lower the Florida standard for the minimum amount of solids required. The principal growers' organizations and a number of leading individual growers want it to remain as has since 1964.

The proposed change would mean "there would be one less orange and its nutritional equivalents in each six-ounce can of concentrate," said Wilson McGee, executive vice president of the United Growers and Shippers Association and an outspoken opponent of the change.

McGee says Florida's orange juice — made at home by mixing one part concentrate and three parts water — is "unique" and the proposal would be a "retrogressive move. It's a major issue."

Cavazos Is Handed Texas Tech Reins

LUBBOCK (AP)—Lauro Cavazos has taken the helm at his alma mater and promised to steer Texas Tech University on a path toward developing more energy and health alternatives during the decade.

Cavazos, 53, urged faculty, students, administrators and dignitaries attending inauguration ceremonies Tuesday to dedicate themselves to pursuing further strides in energy, food and nutrition and health development.

"I submit to you that these will be critical issues and society must resolve them in this decade and certainly before the turn of the century," said Cavazos, the 10th person and first alumnus to hold the university's highest office.

The school's location of

DR. LAURO CAVAZOS offers the perfect setting to study non-renewable energy, aided by interdisciplinary studies of architecture, atmospheric sciences, physics, business administration and home economics, he said.

The standard for Florida — which produces more than 90 percent of the nation's orange juice — is 44.8 brix, or 44.8 percent fruit solids. The requirement set down by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration is 41.8 brix.

The Florida Citrus Processors Association sought the new standard on grounds they cannot compete fairly with non-Florida processors and packers using the FDA standard. They contend some competitors buy Florida juice and reconstitute it into the lower quality product.

Growers representing a sizable proportion of the producing side of the industry say they will go to court if necessary to prevent the state Citrus Commission from diluting Florida juice.

The 12-member commission, a state agency funded by the industry, voted 8-4 March 19 to lower the state standard to the FDA level. The commission meets again Thursday in nearby Lakeland for a final vote.

SONGSTERS—These Patchwork Singers from the First United Methodist Church entertained visitors to the Senior Citizens Center before lunch on Tuesday. Singers on the front row are Jeff Fowler, Teresa Dodson and Mark Robertson. On the back row are Doug Webb, Gary Waller, Susie Lee, Director Chuck Weatherford, Neal Paige and Kelly Givens. Musical entertainment will be featured in the Center again Thursday when the Senior Citizens are invited to participate in a Sing-Along.

Jean-Paul Sartre Dies At 74

PARIS (AP)—Jean-Paul Sartre, the pope of the existentialist movement and one of France's most notable postwar literary figures, has died at the age of 74.

With him when he died Tuesday night at Broussais Hospital were Simone de Beauvoir, the feminist writer who was his lifelong companion;

Arlette el Kaim, his adopted Algerian daughter, and Lilian Siegel, one of his biographers.

Sartre had been admitted to the hospital March 19 for treatment of pulmonary edema, an accumulation of fluid in the lungs.

Sartre was a philosopher, a teacher, a political activist and a prolific writer of plays, novels, pamphlets and articles. He was best known to the public, however, for the philosophy of existentialism which he adopted from German philosopher Martin Heidegger, expanded and made a potent cultural force in post-war Europe and America. Sartre held that there is no God and no fixed human nature, and that man is therefore completely free and entirely responsible for his actions. But he also saw man as a lonely being, terrified by his freedom, without soul or meaning unless he is committed to a cause. It was that commitment, he said, that separated man from animals and inanimate objects.
