Soviet Satellite Fails

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first test in almost two years of the Russian satellite-killer apparently was a failure, U.S. experts say. According to U.S. intelligence sources who declined to be named, the hunter satellite, Cosmos 1174, was sent chasing after a target satellite which has been in orbit since April 3.

Lebanese Gunmen Kill Two

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Lebanese gunmen killed two Irish members of the U.N. peacekeeping force in southern Lebanon and seriously wounded a third in an act of revenge. The U.N. Security Council condemned the killings as "cold-blooded murder."

Folk Drug Used For Leukemia

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A common plant once used in folk medicine is providing researchers with a powerful drug that is proving effective against high-risk leukemia cases, doctors say.

The drug, made from the May apple, has been found more effective than most standard anti-leukemic drugs, doctors at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital said Friday.

Tug Sinks In Mississippi

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—A tugboat carrying 10 workers sank in the Mississippi River off an oil company's docks Saturday, killing one person and leaving two missing, the Coast Guard said.

Demonstrations Cause Curfew

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Indian army troops arrested hundreds of demonstrators in the north-eastern state of Assam today. They also slapped a curfew on the state capital of Dispur and the neighboring city of Gauhati, but lifted it after several hours, the United News of India reported.

Ira Students Harness Sun For Water Heating

IRA —In Ira nothing is wasted, not even the sun. Troy Lilly, science teacher at Ira High School has captured the sun's rays and put them to work in a solar powered water heater.

The contraption works on the greenhouse principle, whereby light filters in and begins its business of heating. The water heater worked so well that its plastic pipes were bowed by the heat.

The water heater required about $40 and three days to build. A large glass pane allowed sunlight to enter, and the black interior captures the heat. During a recent experiment, the water went from 61 degrees to 158 in 1 1/2 hours, said Lilly.

Last year Lilly's science class built a solar air heater, and it worked, too. This year his science students tried their hand at making a methane generator using pig manure. Unfortunately, it didn't work very well.

Then they stumbled onto the idea for a solar powered water heater. "We kicked it around for a while and they said they were interested in it," said Lilly of his science students.

Lilly himself likes the idea of putting the sun to work for two reasons. "First, they can't tax it," he said, "and second it's becoming something the homeowner can do himself without having to go through utility companies."

The new building, which will be constructed by Wadleigh Construction Co., will have a concrete floor, heating and air conditioning, proper ventilation with odor control and with isolation pens to keep rabies suspects or other infectious animals separated from healthy animals. The building will have six inches of insulation.

It also will have proper drainage and a pressure cleaning system. Animals picked up by the city animal warden will be taken there for professional care while they are waiting to be claimed by owners. They will be fed and housed properly.

"All in all, we felt that this would be a Cadillac solution to an old problem," said Gayle. Dr. Taylor said he suspected that some who had raised questions about the plans had been under the impression that the animals would be kept in an outside enclosure and that there would be a noise and odor problem.

He said he has regularly kept dogs at the clinic for several years without complaints, and he doesn't expect any additional problems in taking care of animals for the city.

"Actually this new building will upgrade my facilities here," Dr. Taylor concluded.

Dr. Taylor said he had operated the animal clinic without complaint and that the operation would be the same.

New Delay Posed... Determined Mom Arrives In Tehran

By The Associated Press Clutching a copy of the Koran, a determined American mother arrived in Tehran today hoping to see her hostage son. Meanwhile, President Carter said he received reports Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini wants to keep the 50 Americans until after the U.S. presidential election Nov. 4, a year from the day they were captured.

As Iran's leaders faced growing international economic pressures, they also had to grapple with a mounting wave of violence on the nation's campuses. It was reported that at least one youth was killed and numerous others were injured in clashes between Moslem and leftist students overnight.

The fighting was precipitated by a decree of Iran's Revolutionary Council ordering that the university offices of "non-Islamic groups" be closed by Monday.

Informed sources in Tehran said several campuses, including Tehran's teachers' college, changed hands several times as rival student groups fought for control.

The visit by Barbara Timm apparently defied Carter's sanctions against Iran, which Portugal backed and other U.S. allies are considering. Oil Minister Ali Akbar Moirafar announced today that Iran stopped sending oil to Portugal in retaliation and is discussing selling it to the Soviet Union.

Mrs. Timm, of the Milwaukee suburb of Oak Creek, Wis., is the mother of Marine Sgt. Kevin Hermering. She told reporters on arriving in Tehran, "I knew that Kevin felt our presence. Right now, I am very optimistic that we will have an opportunity to see Kevin before we leave Iran."

She said she did not know whether she would see her 20-year-old son today or whether she would see him at all during the trip.

"I don't have to worry about how I'm going to handle myself when I see him," she said. "I have to think about the possibility that I may not see him. That will be the difficult test for myself, that I may be leaving here and never having seen him."

But a TV reporter told Mrs. Timm he had spoken to President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr, that Bani-Sadr said the Iranian government was ready to let her see her son, and that the student militants holding the hostages in the U.S. Embassy agreed to the visit.

Castro Halts Cuban Flight

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Fidel Castro stopped refugee flights from Havana as demonstrators gathered in the Cuban capital for a mass rally Saturday, the 19th anniversary of the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion. Exile groups expressed fears that violent clashes might take place.

Castro ended the flights Friday for the nearly 10,000 anti-communist Cubans who jammed into the Peruvian Embassy in Havana two weeks ago. Castro also demanded that they fly directly to the countries where they are to settle instead of to Costa Rica, the staging area for the exodus.

The refugee flights, which started Wednesday, have brought about 700 Cubans to Costa Rica so far. Some already have left here for Peru. Others have flown directly from Cuba to Spain.

Contract Awarded For New Animal Shelter

Contract has been let for a new building to house dogs for the city at the Scurry County Veterinary Clinic, Dr. Robert Taylor has announced.

The city reached an agreement recently with Dr. Taylor to take care of animals impounded by the city animal warden and to care for them until they are either reclaimed by owners or "put to sleep."

Almost simultaneously, city officials reported that some protests had been lodged concerning the new system for taking care of stray animals. A petition turned in to the city by Robert Montis, 3604 Kola St., and signed by some 35 persons requested that the city pound remain at the sanitary landfill and that facilities be upgraded there and animals kept for seven days before they are disposed of.

City Manager John Gayle said he thought some of the persons who signed the petition were apprehensive of a noise problem and that they probably had not learned the type of facility that Dr. Taylor plans to operate.

Dr. Taylor agreed. "It will be better than facilities where I keep up to 15 dogs now," said Dr. Taylor, whose establishment is located just south of 37th St. near its intersection with the East Highway. Dr. Taylor said he had operated the animal clinic without complaint and that the operation would be the same.

The SDN Column

It is not often that we feel entitled to the luxury of presenting a re-run in this column.

Re-runs seem to work well for the television people during the spring, summer and early fall, but they seldom are considered to be of much value in a newspaper.

So, we were somewhat flattered the other day when we got a bona fide request to re-run a column we published 10 years ago. Dorothy Owens asked us to run again a list of "Communist Rules for Revolution." We vaguely remembered the column, but could not have come within months of pinning down a date. Fortunately, Mrs. Owens was able to give us a clue and we found that it was included in the SDN Column of May 17, 1970. Moreover, that publication apparently was a re-run, because there was reference to it being published earlier.

So, we decided that if one of our readers felt that it still would be of interest, it must be worthy of publication one more time.

Here are those Communist Rules for Revolution, which reportedly were first obtained by some Allied soldiers in 1919 in Dusseldorf, Germany:

- A—Corrupt the young; get them away from religion. Get them interested in sex. Make them superficial, destroy their ruggedness.
- B—Get control of all means of publicity, thereby:
 1. Get the people's minds off their government by focusing their attention on athletics, sexy books and plays and other triviality;
 2. Divide the people into hostile groups by constantly harping on controversial matters of no importance.
 3. Destroy the people's faith in their national leaders by holding the latter up to contempt, ridicule and obloquy.
 4. Always preach true democracy, but seize power as fast and as ruthlessly as possible.
 5. By encouraging government extravagances, destroy its credit, produce fear of inflation with rising prices and general discontent.
 6. Foment unnecessary strikes in vital industries, encourage civil disorders, and foster a lenient and soft attitude on the part of the government toward such disorders.
 7. By specious argument, cause the breakdown of the old moral virtues, honesty, sobriety, continence, faith in the pledged word, ruggedness.
 8. Cause registration of firearms of some pretext with a view of confiscating them and leaving the population helpless.

There you are. Now, you can draw your own conclusions as to how many of these "rules" we have experienced.

Wreck Injures Snyder Woman

A two-car collision Friday sent one Snyder woman to Cogdell Memorial Hospital. Injured was Antonia Jasso. She was taken to the hospital and admitted for observation. Police reports show Ms. Jasso was driving a 1977 AMC that was in collision with a 1980 GMC pickup truck driven by John Thurstonson, also of Snyder.

Ask Us

Q—Why doesn't the city or county clean up the little cemetery which is in the east part of Snyder and within the city limits?
A—This property does not belong to the city or county. However, the city does try to clean it up two or three times a year and cut the grass and weeds in connection with the summer man-power program, says Roe Griffin, city zoning officer.

Small Gas War Brewing...

Houston Has Too Much Gas!

HOUSTON (AP)—It may be a dream that will disappear soon in a cloud of exhaust fumes, but area motorists have noticed gasoline prices dropping and station owners say a small "gas war" may be in the offing.

"I've cut prices by nine cents a gallon in the last three weeks and I'm open Sundays and evenings now because the company is giving me so much gas," Frank Billeter, a Shell station owner in Pasadena said Friday.

The Shamrock stations near me have dropped a couple of cents and other Shell stations in Pasadena are cutting back. We're about to start a price war out here.

But any price war will be short-lived, according to Dave Fellers of the Texas Oil Marketers Association, because of the lack of reduction in wholesale gasoline prices.

"The retailers' profit margin has been frozen since 1974 and many are at the brink of financial disaster," he said. "By reducing the price, they are reducing their income and that's a dangerous game in the long run."

Joe Gunnels, general manager of the 19 Houston-based Shamrock stations, says the gasoline surplus that has led to lower prices means owners will "just have to work harder for the same wage."

He said prices have been reduced at all the Shamrock stations by six cents per gallon this month. "People notice," Gunnels said, "they've begun shopping for gas again."

"What we will be permitted to have under government regulations next year will be predicated on what is sold this year, so we're selling all we can get."

Glenn Nilsson, executive director of the Lone Star Service Station Association, said prices are being rolled back across the state but warned the situation may only be temporary.

DISEASE RESISTANT VARIETIES IMPORTANT FOR GARDENS

Disease control in the home garden begins with the use of disease resistant varieties rather than spraying plants with a particular fungicide.

Use of disease resistant varieties may be the only means of controlling some diseases and can eliminate the need for later fungicide applications. Fusarium wilt of tomatoes is an example of a disease that can be controlled only by resistant varieties.

Although resistance is not available for all diseases, this factor should be considered when available. Homeowners often feel that if the plant is resistant, it will never have the disease. This is not true. There are degrees of resistance, as with pink root of onions. A pink root resistant variety may have 10 to 15 percent damage and produce a crop while a susceptible variety will have 90 percent damage and not produce a crop. The pink root still occurs in the resistant variety but only to a minor degree so that a crop is still produced. If a variety never has a particular disease, then it is immune. Immunity is difficult to obtain.

Certain disease resistant varieties can be damaged by the particular disease when a new strain of the pathogen develops. Thus plant breeders must seek new sources of resistance among the wild plant species throughout the world. Resistance is difficult to develop in some plants, and some disease resistant varieties may require 10 or more years of development.

When selecting varieties for planting, read the variety description thoroughly for information on resistance within that variety. This description may be in the seed catalog or on the seed packet.

Disease resistance in garden plants is a labor and expense-saving investment for the homeowner and should be used when available.

TAC Eyed By Sunset Panel

AUSTIN (AP)—The chairman of the Texas Aeronautics Commission says commuter-airline safety problems "scare me to death" but disagrees with a Senator's suggestion that TAC observers check up on pilots.

Jack McCreary of Austin testified Friday before the Sunset Advisory Commission, which will recommend to the Legislature whether it should continue the TAC or merge it with another agency.

Sen. A.R. Schwartz, D-Galveston, a Sunset Commission member, raised the safety issue in connection with a commuter airline crash in Galveston several years ago and a recent one in Houston.

"I think this commission should have the responsibility, when you're talking about intrastate licensed carriers, to do safety checks on pilots. I mean ride with them and see what they are doing," Schwartz said.

Schwartz, a private pilot, said he believed pilot error was to blame for an Eagle Commuter Airlines crash that killed seven people March 21 at Hobby airport in Houston.

"If I was a check rider and got on a Twin Navajo with a full fuel load and 10 passengers, and the pilot rolled up to an intersection for takeoff, I'd just hit him in the head," said Schwartz.

McCreary restated the TAC's position that the Federal Aviation Agency FAA has exclusive authority over airlines safety.

"Legally, we can't assume any duties delegated to the federal government," he said.

McCreary said, however, "The FAA has limited personnel for inspecting it (commuter airline safety), and...it scares me to death."

Even President Thinks Recession Has Arrived

By KRISTIN GOFF
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Near-ly everyone from the president on down seems to think the long-predicted recession is at hand.

President Carter in a news conference this past week declared that "the economy has slowed and has probably entered a period of recession." In doing so, he joined the ranks of many economists in and out of government who lately have come to believe that a recession is under way.

Carter said he expected any recession to be "short and mild" and accompanied by an easing of the inflation spiral later this year.

But many economists are looking for a recession that will be second only to the 1974-75 recession in severity in the post-World War II period.

During the 1974-75 recession, the nation's output of goods and services, or Gross National Product, fell 5.75 percent from peak to trough, while the unemployment rate went up 4 percentage points to a peak of 9 percent.

While individual forecasts vary somewhat, many economists appear to be looking for a decline in the GNP in the range of 2.5-3 percent during this recession and an increase in unemployment of 2-2.5 percentage points to perhaps 7.75 or 8 percent at its worst point.

"Specifically, we expect the recession to be about half as severe as that in the 1974-75 period," economists at Irving Trust Co. predicted recently. They also believe the recession got under way last month and will "bottom out near year-end."

This is not the first time that economists have generally declared the arrival of the first recession since the one in 1974-75.

Widespread predictions that the recession was at hand go back at least a year and a half, when the government sharply tightened up on interest rates in an effort to protect the dollar, which was then taking a beating on international currency markets.

"Since the autumn of 1978, the U.S. economy has been on a precarious balance," wrote economists at the Chemical Bank in a report "The On-Again, Off-Again Recession Is On Again."

"Widespread agreement that the balance was finally tipping into recession developed on numerous occasions—particularly after the government's moves to rescue the dollar on Nov. 1, 1978, during the gasoline shortage in the spring of 1979, and again following the sharp tightening of monetary policy last Oct. 6."

There is, of course, no way of knowing whether the call will be correct this time. Economists usually define a recession as at least two quarters of decline in the nation's output of goods and services, or Gross National Product. Figures on the current quarter's activity won't be out until mid or late July and those on the subsequent quarter, probably in October.

Interest Rates Continue Slide

NEW YORK (AP)—Interest rates are coming down rapidly, and one result is going to be a sizable reduction in the amount of money that banks and savings institutions pay on popular six-month savings certificates.

A few weeks ago, the rate stood at 15.7 percent. Now it has fallen to 13.549 percent and next week it could drop below 12 percent.

The rate is based on the average discount rate of six-month Treasury bills, auctioned each Monday and goes into effect on the Thursday after the auction.

Those Treasury bills are also traded in the bond market, and this week interest rates fell rapidly amid indications the economy has entered a recession.

On Friday, the rate on such Treasury bills fell to 12.05 percent. That would be the rate next week if rates remain stable through Monday's auction.

The falling interest rates in bond markets Friday came as most major banks reduced their prime lending rates to 19½ percent, down from the peak of 20 percent.

One major banker, John F. McGillicuddy, the president of Manufacturers Hanover Corp., predicted the prime rate will drop to 14 percent by year end.

Eyeing Favorite Son Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP)—Many farm-state Democrats disillusioned with President Carter and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy on farm issues may decide to go to the Democratic National Convention supporting favorite son candidates, says one man considering such a candidacy.

Rep. Tom Harkin, D-Iowa, said in an interview Tuesday that he'll probably decide today whether to mount a favorite-son presidential bid.

Harkin, who until recently was one of Carter's strongest political allies in Congress, accused the administration of "benign neglect" of farmers.

Board Of Human Resources...

Picking Up Slack In Food Stamp Program

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Board of Human Resources has decided to make up an expected deficit of more than $2 million in its program of Aid to Families with Dependent Children.

One result of the board's decision Friday was to transfer money from the food stamp program to AFDC even though there is a "funding crisis" in food stamps.

Commissioner Jerome Chapman of Human Resources said if Congress does not raise the national spending limit of $6.18 billion for food stamps by May 15, the U.S. Department of Agriculture will be forced to suspend or reduce benefits temporarily, effective June 1.

An additional $2.5 billion is needed to keep the program operating at the current level, he said.

Nevertheless, the board accepted a staff recommendation to transfer $700,000 in general revenue money from food stamps to AFDC and to allot an additional $1,564,104 in federal funds to AFDC to meet an expected deficit of $2,264,104 in assistance payments.

The transfer from food stamps will result in a total reduction of $1.4 million in that program, Chapman said.

The AFDC deficit, he said, results from an unexpected increase in the number of cases and the average level of grants. The January projection that 290,339 recipients would receive AFDC payments in fiscal 1980 has been updated to 307,600 recipients, and the grant projections have changed from $32.90 to $33.39.

Chapman submitted to the board a staff report showing two out of three Texas AFDC recipients are on the welfare rolls for the first time.

The report said the average size of Texas AFDC families is 3.2 persons. Also, 13 percent of the family heads in AFDC families are employed and 16 percent are "actively seeking" work.

Nine of 10 AFDC recipients qualify due to the "continued absence" of one parent, usually the father, the report showed.

In 1978, the report said, Texas ranked No. 50 out of 54 states and United States possessions in maximum AFDC payments to a family of four with no income. Hawaii ranked first - $533 - and Puerto Rico last - $54. The Texas payment was $140 a month.

Chapman informed the board the governor's office is conducting an open-end investigation of the Texas food stamp program.

The staff met with an investigator from the governor's office on April 10, Chapman said, and another meeting is scheduled for next week.

Parents To Pay For Children's Damages

FORT WORTH (AP)—Parents are liable for damages of up to $5,000 each for each act of vandalism committed by their children, an appeals court here has ruled.

The Fort Worth Court of Civil Appeals ruled that Clifford Buie and Mrs. Marion Stephense owe $15,000 in damages and more than $4,000 in attorney fees because their 12-year-old daughters damaged three newly completed homes Nov. 30, 1975.

Court records showed that the two girls caused damages estimated at $22,473 when they closed drains and turned on faucets in the newly completed homes.

In making the ruling Thursday, the appeals court rejected claims that a new provision of the Texas Family Code was unconstitutional.

The new provision specifies that "a parent or other person who has the duty of control and reasonable discipline of a child is liable for any property damage resulting from willful or malicious conduct."

The provision applies to any child in Texas who is at least 12 years' old and not yet 18. The owner of the property is entitled to recover "actual damages not to exceed $5,000 plus court costs and reasonable attorney fees," according to the provision.

Buie argued that the $5,000 limit should be placed on all acts committed during an episode of vandalism.

Farm Pest Management

By BILL JANY
Scurry-Mitchell Entomologist

Fleas and ticks are back at it again! Pets are once again biting and scratching and pet owners are pulling their hair out trying to find some means of escape from the vicious parasites. Unfortunately, there usually is no escape. With warm weather making its appearance, the best we can do is try to manage them in the home and yard. Management of these parasites is made easier when their life cycle is understood.

Ticks have four developmental stages: egg, six-legged larva, eight-legged nymph, and adult. After mating on a warm blooded animal, female ticks drop to the ground and deposit from 3000 to 6000 eggs. Larvae hatch from these eggs and climb on to nearby vegetation where they wait in clusters for an unsuspecting warm-blooded host. After a blood meal, the larva drop back to the ground where they shed their skin (molt) and emerge as nymphs. Nymphs also must have a blood meal before they can molt and become adults. Male ticks mate with one or more females and then die; female ticks die soon after depositing their eggs. The tick life cycle usually ranges from 2 months to 2 years depending on the species. Some tick species will only feed on one host throughout its life time.

Fleas are small wingless insects that are flattened from side to side. Adult fleas vary in size from 1-25 to 1/2 inch and are brownish-black in color. Flea development is influenced greatly by temperature and humidity. Under optimum conditions, fleas require 30-75 days to complete their life cycle. A female flea can lay several hundred eggs in sets of 4-8 after each blood meal. The eggs can be laid on the host but occurs mostly in soil, bedding, or nest of the host. The eggs hatch in 2-3 weeks and larvae feed on flea fecus, or organic matter from 9 days up to 200 days before spinning a white cocoon to pupate. Fleas will stay in this cocoon anywhere from 7 days to up to one year before emerging as adults.

Fleas move readily on their host and often move from one host to another. Adult fleas are long lived and can survive several weeks without a blood meal. When trying to control fleas and ticks, keep their life cycle in mind. Remember that successful control of these parasites requires treatment with an approved pesticide of the pet, the pen, the bedding and other areas in the yard or house visited by the pet. Recurring flea and tick problems require treatment of the pet and all above mentioned areas simultaneously. Because fleas and ticks lay their eggs in the house, in cracks in walks, carpeting, and windowsills, effective control can only be achieved when careful treatment of these areas are made. Approved pesticide must be applied to the pets sleeping quarters, baseboards, carpets, drapes, and fabric covered furniture. Reapplication of pesticides may be required to eliminate parasite infestation completely.

Now that warm weather is appearing, pesticide treatment of outdoor areas frequented by pets may be necessary. Grass, crawl spaces, kennels and exercise areas are often infested with fleas and ticks. Confinement of pets within the yard and prevention of infested stray animals visiting or crossing the premises will help prevent reinfesting the areas treated with a pesticide. Pets can be treated with the following materials to kill ticks and fleas: Dursban, Vapona, Sevin, Delnav, Pyrethrins, Lindane, Ronnel, and Malathion. These materials are formulated as dusts, or liquids in dips and shampoos, or impregnated on fleas and tick collars. Houses, yards, kennels can be treated with the following pesticides to control ticks and fleas: Sevin, Ronnel, Dursban, Spectracide.

Remember all pesticides are toxic and should only be used according to the directions given on the label. Follow closely the dosage rates, treatment method, application intervals and the names of animals which can be treated which appear on the label. HEART-ATTACK VICTIM

A lay person can do much to resuscitate someone whose heart has stopped beating, by mouth-to-mouth breathing and external heart compression. Over four times as many heart victims survive when resuscitation is started promptly by lay people than when attempts are delayed until an ambulance team arrives. More people should learn the resuscitation techniques.

ASTROGRAPH

Your Birthday

Bernice Bede Osol

April 20, 1980

Early this coming year you will be laying solid foundations. Near the end of the year you will have been building will be evident.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Unfinished tasks will bother you mentally today and could spoil your fun. Finish them first, then forget them. Romance, travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph Letter, which begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Funds earmarked for domestic needs should not be blown on pleasurable pursuits today.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Today you may look for faults in others rather than for their virtues, and create problems that need not exist. This is especially true of family members.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Bad feelings will grow if you remind another of how much you've done for him or her in the past. This person already feels obligated.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be very careful today if you're doing things with friends where each has to pay a portion of the tab. Someone could get upset if they feel their share is too large.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) There's a possibility that you might underestimate yourself in comparison to the opposition. The odds are really in your favor.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) As long as you rely on your logic today instead of your hunches or intuition, you'll have no problem. Don't attach importance to negative thoughts.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Where joint ventures are concerned it's very important that both of you operate on the same wavelength. Be sure your objectives are in harmony.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) There has been a difficult decision you've been dodging lately and it's not likely to correct itself. Face the issue squarely and fearlessly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Others cannot be counted upon today to help you with a task. It may be slower and more difficult, but do it alone if necessary.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Profit from experience and don't involve yourself in anything that previously caused you problems. Repetition would be asking for trouble.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Even though you may feel your mate is wrong today, bend a little and compromise. Diplomacy dissolves discord.

Partners will play important roles in your affairs this coming year. You may form several successful alliances for projects or enterprises that are unrelated.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) One who usually can be hard to get along with may surprise you as they readily accept your ideas concerning an issue important to you. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Because of your resourcefulness, something you've been wanting will not cost as much as it would have otherwise, making it affordable for you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Keep your schedule as loose and flexible as possible today. Fun things you might least expect to happen could materialize out of the blue.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) A situation that could have been difficult to manage will be resolved with surprising ease today because of an unusual turn of events.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) A break you've been hoping for could come today regarding a project in which you've recently gotten involved. Move promptly if it's to mean something.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Something quite unexpected that could add to your resources or security could develop today. It may come through the good offices of a friend.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) In athletic activities or other situations where you are required to think fast on your feet you should do very well today. Relax. Let your natural abilities prevail.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Someone who has your best interests at heart may come through for you today just when needed, without putting you in the embarrassing position of having to ask.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You can win a new ally over to your cause today by showing your unselfishness and willingness to share fairly. Through giving, you'll get.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) An unusual chain of events may enable you to recoup something today which you deemed a lost cause. Be alert for the unexpected.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You're a bit more enterprising and bold today than you are apt to give yourself credit for. These qualities will come to the fore if situations warrant them.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Early morning hours run especially smooth, as things get done in record time. This should put you in a good mood for the rest of the day.

Says Crime Program Working...

Criminals Must Repay Victims

By LINDA FRANKLIN Associated Press Writer
FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—The old woman stood on a Fort Smith sidewalk clutching a broken strap in her hand, watching a purse snatcher flee with "all her worldly possessions."

Criminals in Sebastian County pay for their crimes, literally. They dole out money for abortions, medical care for beating victims, doors smashed in burglaries, even wrongful deaths.

Ron Fields, prosecutor for the 12th Judicial District in Arkansas, initiated the program in the early 1970s. The catalyst was the theft of a small black-and-white television set from an elderly woman in a public housing project.

The program keeps growing. The program was expanded to include Crawford County this year. While most of the restitution is for thefts, Martha Milam, restitution administrator in Sebastian County, says two men have paid for abortions for raped women.

Fields said, the case may be returned to court and the suspension revoked. Restitution isn't cut and dried. Sometimes the staff agonizes over cases, such as that of a mailman who was struck and killed by a drunken driver.

Recital By Sheryl Burk Set At WTC

Sheryl Burk, voice student of Jane Womack, will be presented in recital at 3 p.m. today in the Fine Arts Theatre at Western Texas College.

Mrs. Womack will be piano accompanist. Also appearing on the program will be Noel Nease of Abilene, another of Mrs. Womack's voice students at WTC.

Miss Burk is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burk of Snyder and a sophomore student at WTC. She will present selections from "The Marriage of Figaro" and "Samson and Delilah," "Summertime" from "Porgy and Bess," the serenade from "The Student Prince," "Music When Soft Voices Die," and "En Priere Gabriel Faure."

Miss Burk and Nease will present "La Ci Darem La Mano" from "Don Giovanni" as a duet. Nease will also sing "Non piu Andrai" from "The Marriage of Figaro."

The public is invited to attend the recital and there is no admission charge. Visitors to the campus may also tour the Scurry County Museum, located on the south side of the campus.

Drivers To Dish Out Another 10¢ A Gallon

HOUSTON (AP)—American motorists, already staggering under skyrocketing gasoline prices, will pay another 10 cents per gallon starting May 15, according to a Department of Energy official.

"We expect that pass-through to the retail level will be fairly quick," Doris Dewton, an assistant administrator in the Economic Regulatory Administration, said Friday at a news conference when asked about President Carter's new oil imports fee.

"As to when it (the increase) will appear at the service station pump, the persons who incur the obligation to purchase the entitlements will be able to pass it (the fee on as of May 15."

The president ordered the $4.62-a-barrel fee on imported oil to start April

2. Under the program, importers of crude oil will pay the fee to the government and then be reimbursed by gasoline marketers when the oil is sold to refineries.

The fee will be shifted entirely to gasoline, she said, adding that Carter will ask that the fee be converted into an ad valorem tax on gasoline.

Ms. Dewton said there could be "delays" in getting approval for a permanent tax on the imported oil. She said the current fee system could turn into a "long, temporary situation."

The fee is expected to reduce imported oil consumption by 100,000 barrels a day this year and up to 250,000 barrels a day by the end of three years.

"There will be month-to-month variances, based on the volumes of oil imports and domestic gasoline production in the fees," she said, adding that the major increases will be seen in May and June.

"Generally, the costs are reflected quite quickly," she said of the coming price hikes. But the total cost of the conservation fee is expected to raise overall consumer prices by one-half of a percentage point, she added.

"Over the following year, additional, but much smaller, indirect effects will be felt elsewhere in the economy," she said.

Ms. Dewton said because of the federal entitlements program, regions that are more dependent on imported oil will not be "disproportionately affected by the new gasoline conservation fee."

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I'm an old codger of 80 years who has read your column ever since you started, and now I have a problem maybe you can help me with.

I've been married for over 55 years to a wonderful woman, but the last few years we have had one slight discord. I have been sending away for some X-rated movies, which I enjoy watching privately at home a couple of times a month. Occasionally I get a new one so I can see some different faces.

The wife objects strongly to this; it's about the only thing we ever argue about.

I have some good qualities. I run my own business, help her with the housework, don't drink or smoke and keep myself clean.

When I was younger I had a few mild flings with a couple of ladies, but that's all ancient history now.

Don't you think I'm entitled to look at these films occasionally without having a hassle about it?

WISCONSIN-GRANDPA

DEAR GRANDPA: I think you're entitled to do whatever you want (as long as it's legal) in the privacy of your own home.

And if it's "new faces" you want, your wife is lucky they're on film.

DEAR ABBY: Our 41-year-old daughter still lives at home. She never married. The problem is she thinks she is an artist. She attended some art classes, but she is far from good. In fact, to be honest with you, she's pretty bad. I don't claim to be an authority on art, but I know what I don't like.

About three years ago she painted some pictures, had them framed and hung them in the living room. What a collection! Abraham Lincoln, Groucho Marx, Mona Lisa and Woody Allen!

Abby, these ugly, amateurish paintings have been staring me in the face for about as long as I can stand it. I would like to take them down, but I don't know how to go about it without hurting her feelings.

FLABBUSH MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Tell your daughter that you want to give her the place a new look, so you've decided to rearrange the furnishings and wash, repaint and paper the walls.

Then take down Abe, Groucho, Mona and Woody and leave them down!

DEAR ABBY: Last year my sister and her husband came from New Jersey to visit us here in Southern California. They are good company, about our age (mid-50s) and are about as well off financially as we are. (Maybe better.)

They stayed at our home for 10 days, during which time we paid for all their entertainment, which included Disneyland, sight-seeing, Universal Studios tour, restaurants nearly every night, and even a side trip to Las Vegas. They never offered to pay for a thing. They must think that because we live in California, we are rich.

They wrote to tell us that they had such a fabulous time last year they're coming again. Abby, we don't mind putting them up and feeding them at our home, but we can't afford to give them a repeat performance of last year's entertainment, which is probably what they expect.

My husband says I should write to my sister and give her the facts before they start out. Would that be proper?

NOT-CHEAP - JUST STRAPPED

DEAR NOT-CHEAP: Not only would it be proper, I think it's essential.

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the woman who never knew how to answer people who asked if her late-in-life baby was an accident, brought back memories.

We had two grown children and nine grandchildren when I became pregnant. I was 45, and my husband was 48. Many people asked me if that baby was an accident. (They still do.) I always said, "He may not have been planned, but he was a gift from God - and that is no accident."

BLESSED

CONFIDENTIAL TO KEN M. IN AUSTRALIA: The difference between the Yiddish and the British is that the British leave and never say goodbye, and the Yiddish say goodbye and never leave.

Getting married? Whether you want a formal church wedding or a simple, "do-your-own-thing" ceremony, get Abby's new booklet. Send $1 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped (28 cents) envelope to: Abby's Wedding Booklet, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Gilbert Heading UTPB Campaign

Mel Z. Gilbert, general manager of Snyder Broadcasting Company, is heading up a local campaign for The University of Texas at the Permian Basin in an effort to give area students scholarship opportunities in the years to come.

Gilbert is contacting area business and industry representatives in an effort to establish an endowment fund which will provide scholarships on a permanent basis at the university. Volunteer members of the UTPB Development Board are soliciting contributions in Midland, Odessa, Big Spring, Monahans, Andrews, Pecos, Snyder, McCamey and Crane, as well as in other areas throughout the Permian Basin.

UTPB President V.R. Cardozier said the campaign is the result of a gift from an anonymous donor to begin a scholarship program for talented young people. The gift, however, is contingent on raising matching funds from communities throughout the Permian Basin.

Cardozier noted the funds from the original gift and from the campaign will form an endowment fund, the principle of which will not be spent. The income, however, will provide scholarships year after year.

Find 50 Gas, 32 Oil Wells

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas operators reported 50 gas and 32 oil discoveries during the first half of April, the state Railroad Commission announced Friday.

Through the first 3½ months of 1980, the commission said, operators have reported 407 gas discoveries, 17 fewer than in the same period last year. There have been 227 oil discoveries, 95 more than in the first 3½ months of 1979, the commission said.

The new wildcat gas wells included 22 in South Texas; 10 in Southeast Texas; six in East Texas; four in the Refugio area; three in West Central Texas; two in the Panhandle and one each in the San Antonio area, North Texas and East Central Texas.

The new wildcat oil wells included five each in West Central Texas, North Texas and the Lubbock area; four each in East Texas and the Refugio area; three near San Angelo; two each in South Texas and the Midland area; and one each in Southeast Texas and the San Antonio area.

In the April 1-15 period, operators reported drilling 131 dry holes, the commission said.

Exchange Program Carter Calls Kennedy Big Spender

Richard Reed of Snyder is one of 13 4-H Club members who will represent the Texas 4-H program in the LABO International Exchange Program in Japan this summer.

Reed, 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Reed, 2800 Westridge. He has been a 4-H member since he was nine years old. He has received the Gold Star Award, and was the recipient of the Harrie Winston Award at the Scurry County Junior Livestock Show in February.

He will be a guest of Kazuhiko Hara, 16, of Omiya, Japan. Kazuhiko spent several weeks in the Reed home last summer through the LABO program.

Hitler's "Beer-Hall Putsch" began in Munich in 1923, when he and his National Socialist supporters attempted to seize control of Bavaria. The plot was put down by the army, on whose support the "rebels" had counted. Hitler was found guilty of treason and sentenced to five years' imprisonment. He served only 13 months of the term, however, during which time he wrote "Mein Kampf."

WASHINGTON (AP) Campaigning by remote control, President Carter is picturing Sen. M. Kennedy as "the biggest spender perhaps in the history of the United States Senate."

Man Donates Vital Organs

DALLAS (AP)—A Dallas-area man who died Thursday lives in more than the memories of those he left behind. His heart, corneas and kidneys were removed by surgeons at Parkland Hospital and donated to other patients.

The heart was flown to Madison, Wis., and implanted in Ronald Doeringsfeld, a 32-year-old Illinois man suffering from a virus that attacks the heart muscle.

One kidney was transplanted into a 44-year-old Dallas man who had been undergoing dialysis for seven years. The other kidney is still awaiting use.

The corneas are at a Dallas eye bank.

The donor, 31, died of massive head injuries inflicted in an accident Wednesday. Brain death was noted at 4:30 a.m. Thursday, though his heart was still beating at the time.

In what Dr. Richard Dickerman of the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School in Dallas called "an amazing coincidence," the dead man's blood type matched that of the Wisconsin patient. Wisconsin doctors had contacted Southwestern Wednesday morning in a desperate effort to find a heart donor for Doeringsfeld.

But Kennedy, with high hopes of defeating Carter in next Tuesday's Pennsylvania Democratic presidential primary, is countering again by challenging Carter to leave the White House if he wants to engage in such political banter.

"It's a slap at the people of Pennsylvania that Mr. Carter is willing to make these inaccurate charges from the sanctuary of the Rose Garden on the eve of the primary instead of coming to Pennsylvania to debate the issues and answer for his failures," said Kennedy.

Although he spoke Friday night from his home near Washington, the Massachusetts senator has maintained a heavy campaign schedule in Pennsylvania for several days and plans to return there.

More Millionaires Than In 1979

NEW YORK (AP)—One of every 500 Americans had a net worth of $1 million or more in 1979, according to a recent trust-company study. That represents a 15 percent increase over the previous year.

before Tuesday's balloting.

On the Republican side, the fight in Pennsylvania also has come down to a one-on-one contest between Ronald Reagan and George Bush.

Carter devoted much of Friday afternoon to a recorded television-radio interview with correspondents from the Westinghouse broadcasting group and a separate meeting with representatives of Pennsylvania newspapers.

"After asserting to the broadcasters that Kennedy is 'well known' as a spender of heroic proportions, Carter added, 'The only reductions in expenditures that I know he has advocated have been in the defense budget.'

Citing events in Iran and Afghanistan, the president asserted, 'This is exactly the wrong time to cut our nation's ability to defend itself.'

Jim Flug, a Kennedy campaign spokesman, said Carter was simply wrong about Kennedy's recent position on defense spending.

"The fact is that Sen. Kennedy has advocated a 3 percent real increase in defense spending in each of the past two years and in fact is one of the leaders in the Senate for a stronger national defense and especially strengthening of U.S. conventional forces," said Flug.

In his interview with the Pennsylvania reporters, Carter alluded to "reports" that Kennedy forces might try to get Carter delegates to defect to Kennedy at the Democratic convention this summer.

Flug declared that Kennedy "has not thought about, has not instructed anyone to think about and has not discussed with anyone" such a plan.

Moreover, Flug noted that any such defections would involve people who originally favored Carter but decided they no longer could support him. "This is not something Kennedy people would do, this is something the Carter people would do," he said.

Flug insisted that speculation about such a convention scenario has come from Democratic National Chairman John White, a Carter appointee, and "hypothetical questions" asked by reporters.

76er Trio Attacks Boston Scoreboard

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Celtics knew that Julius Erving would get his usual bushel of points. What they didn't count on was Darryl Dawkins and Henry Bibby filling the basket as well.

With those three men playing key roles at various points, then pulling together in the stretch, the Philadelphia 76ers drew first blood in their National Basketball Association playoff series with the Celtics here Friday night.

The 76ers, who hadn't won here all season, edged Boston 96-93 to grab a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven Eastern Conference final series.

"The key tonight was they came down, and the things we didn't want them to do they did," said Boston forward Cedric Maxwell. "We didn't contain the people we wanted to contain. We know Erving will score his points, but when Dawkins scores a lot and Bibby comes off the bench and scores like he did, then we have problems."

Erving finished with a game high of 29 points. Ten of them came in a 16-2 burst that transformed a 58-48 deficit into a 64-60 76er lead with 5:24 left in the third period.

Dawkins had 23 points, six of them late in the game to snap an 88-88 tie and put Philadelphia in front 94-90.

And Bibby had 17 points and four assists in 26 minutes. He canned a critical jumper with 56 seconds left to make the score 96-93 and forced the Celtics to try a three-point field goal with 12 seconds remaining.

"I thought I had the good shot. I was open and I had the confidence," Bibby said. "We're playing with confidence, more confidence than any Philly team I've been on. This year, we're not tired coming into the playoffs. We're fresh and that's a change from the past."

Race Away In Fifth Inning...

Cubs Defeat Hopeful Tigers

BROWNFIELD—Brownfield's Cubs unleashed four runs to get going, ran away with five in the fifth inning, then nailed the door shut with three more in the sixth to defeat Snyder High School here Saturday, 12-6.

It was a particularly frustrating loss for Snyder, which had almost caught up, 4-3, before the Cubs raced out of reach with a barn-storming fifth inning display. The visitors left eight stranded on base for the afternoon, including five on third base. Four of those reached third with only one out in the inning.

The victory also all but handed Brownfield the first-round District 3-AAA championship. The Cubs were left with a 4-1 record while Snyder fell to 4-2. Brownfield was to have played Lamesa (0-5) on Saturday, where another Cub victory would clinch an outright title. A loss would lock Snyder and Brownfield at 4-2 each for the first round.

Brownfield started off with a four-run first inning as Tommy Williams walked, Bill House flew out to pitcher William Robinson, Raymond Gibson got to base on a fielder's choice and Kelly Ried walked to load the bases.

Next up Mark Dobson hit a single between first and second to score the first two runs of the game. After Jim Smith struck out, pitcher Jimmy Martinez came up with a double which scored two more runs. Stacey Terrell struck out to end the inning.

Snyder scored in the second inning. Toby Neves and Shawn Ragland slapped back-to-back singles, then advanced bases on a wild pitch. Kyle Short drew a walk to put three Tigers on and Sam Willis doubled in a pair of runs moments later. The booming hit left two runners on second and third base, but Snyder's next three batters went down in order.

A pitching change swapped Martinez for Reid, but the heavy hitting Tigers weren't bothered by it. In the top of the third Mike Roemisch opened with a single and Bobby Degrate countered with a double to get Snyder going again. Next up Neves lined out to the shortstop for Snyder's first out before Roemisch stole home on a passed ball.

Reid flew out to left field to open the inning. Dobson walked, but Smith also flew out to left, and all appeared to be in Snyder's favor.

The Cubs then came up with three straight hits, a single by Martinez, a double from Terrell and a double from Lorenzo Baraza. Williams then drew a walk and House unleashed Brownfield's third double of the inning.

Coach Albert Lewis pulled Robinson off the hill and replaced him with Roemisch, who got Gibson to fly out—ending the inning.

Snyder countered with two runs in the top of the sixth. Short began with a single and Willis reached base on an error. Bryan Vincent then let loose with a thundering triple which bought the visitors two runs. The display of force caused Brownfield to stick Martinez back atop the hill.

Next up Trussell Thane drew a walk and it seemed as if Snyder had things going its way, but a pick-off throw caught Vincent off base at third, and he was ruled out. The Tiger designated hitter argued the point and was ejected from the game. Coach Lewis also debated the call, but to no avail.

Paul Gafford lined out to shortstop as next up and Roemisch got a base on balls. Degrate singled to lead the bases, but Martinez got three strikes past Neves to end the inning.

Brownfield managed three insurance runs in the sixth as Reid singled and came home on an error, and Martinez later blasted a two-run homer. Snyder's final run came in the seventh when Kyle Short also chased a ball over the outfield fence.

Gymnast Heads Tarleton Team

STEPHENVILLE -- Boosted by some excellent all-around performances by freshmen Pam Blankenship of Snyder and Shelly Karner of Arlington, the Tarleton State University gymnastics team swept two victories from Pan American University recently.

Determined to end the season with a strong showing, Tarleton placed at least two gymnasts in the top three in every event.

TSU routed Pan American 67.45 to 59.4 as Blankenship took first in all-around competition with a combined score of 28.6.

Karner was third all-around with 21.45. Blankenship had taken first in the bars and beam and third in the vault and floor, while Karner took second in the vault and floor and third in bars. Also placing high for Tarleton was Dublin senior Bettye Grauke with a second in the beam.

Tarleton topped Pan American 61.4 to 53.15 in a later showing. Karner was second in all-around competition after taking first in the bars, second in the floor, third in the vault, and fourth in the beam. Blankenship was third in all-around with a second in the bars and beam, third in the floor, and fourth in the vault.

Gymnastics coach Jymme Lowrance expects next year's team to be better overall with five of her six gymnasts back. "Pam can only continue to improve," Coach Lowrance commented, "and the rest of the team has made great progress."

Pro Basketball Playoffs...

Sonics Alive; Even Series

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Seattle's defending champions avoided playoff extinction with a one-point victory Friday night, but John Johnson thought of the hair-line difference between the SuperSonics and Milwaukee Bucks in subtler terms.

"The only difference between us and Milwaukee is we're the champions," said Johnson, the Sonics' veteran forward. "We're the team with experience. The experience is what paid off for us tonight."

Beefy Lonnie Shelton gave the Sonics an 84-82 lead with a 15-foot jump shot with 45 seconds left.

The Sonics held on to defeat the Bucks 86-85 and square the teams' National Basketball Association playoff series at 3-3.

The decisive game is to be played in Seattle Sunday. The winner will advance to the Western Conference finals against the Los Angeles Lakers, starting in Los Angeles Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

"We both got cautious toward the end, but I think the pressure affected Milwaukee more than us because we're the world champions," said Johnson, who spent much of his boyhood playing basketball with Brown on the playgrounds of Milwaukee's near North Side.

"I know we felt less pressure because we've been down this road before," he said. "Everybody in Milwaukee was saying it was over. Everybody had signs saying L.A. and Magic Johnson. Well, they have to finish with the Sonics before they can think about L.A. and Magic Johnson."

The Bucks trailed by 14 points late in the first half, but began pushing the ball upcourt faster in the second half and got better penetration. They rallied behind 6-foot-11 Bob Lanier, who finished with 19 points, and rookie Sidney Moncrief, who scored all but two of his 15 points in the second half.

After a layup by Brian Winters on a four-one fast break pulled the Bucks into a 76-76 tie with 8:22 to play, the game settled into an eyeball-to-eyeball, elbows-in-ribs defensive struggle as the teams combined for only 19 points the rest of the way.

Milwaukee's Richard Washington and Lanier both missed a pair of free throws that could have established momentum for the Bucks shortly after Winters' basket.

Rangers Ease Past Boston Red Sox, 6-5

BOSTON (AP)—Veterans Buddy Bell and Al Oliver found cures to early season batting slumps—a visit to Fenway Park. Bell, hitting just .222, and Oliver, mired at .167, went on slugging sprees Friday, rallying the Texas Rangers to a 6-5 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Bell drilled two homers and a double driving in three runs and scoring three, while Oliver belted a homer and a pair of doubles for two RBI and two runs scored.

"It was just one of those days," Bell said after the 83rd and 84th homers of his major-league career. "I've hit 10 here? Why not? This is my ninth year in the league and I should have that many in this ball park, even though I haven't done much the last couple of years."

"This is a good park for a straight-away hitter like me," said Oliver, a lifetime .300 hitter in his 12th major league season. "I'm off to a very slow start, as usual, but when the season is over I'll be up there where I should be. This is just the start."

The Rangers, 6-2, rallied for the victory which snapped Boston's four-game winning streak. Boston starter Bob Stanley was Texas' main target, although reliever Skip Lockwood took the loss.

"I was so psyched I pitched stupid," said Stanley, who was replaced after serving up a double to Oliver to start a decisive two-run eighth inning.

Oliver and Bell hit back-to-back shots to pull the Rangers to within 5-4 in the sixth inning. Then, after Oliver led off the eighth with a double high off the left field wall, Lockwood replaced Stanley.

Bell lined Lockwood's first pitch down the right field line for a double, tying the game. Then, after retiring the next batter, Lockwood gave way to Tom Burgmeier. Billy Sample followed with a pinch single to shallow right center, a bloop hit "off the end of the bat."

Texas starter Steve Comer lasted just three innings, giving up four runs, one unearned, in the third. Reliever Danny Darwin allowed just three hits and one run and picked up the victory with ninth inning help from Jim Kern.

WTC Continues Search

Western Texas College continues its quest for a men's basketball coach Monday with the final of two scheduled interviews. School officials are to meet with San Marcos High School coach Larry Dunaway. They met with Robert McPherson, Western Oklahoma Junior College coach, last week.

WTC president Dr. Robert Clinton noted the school may schedule other applicants for interviews before deciding on a replacement for Nolan Richardson, who resigned this year to take the head coaching position at the University of Tulsa.

However, no further interviews had been planned as of Saturday morning. Dunaway, 37, was raised in New Mexico and coached at Artesia High School from 1968-71 and Gallup High School from 1971-73. In April of 1973 he accepted a position at the University of Oklahoma as assistant varsity coach and recruiting coordinator. He coached at Newman-Smith High School in Carrollton, Tex. in 1974, at Long View High School in 77-78, and at San Marcos in 79-80.

He was twice named New Mexico Coach of the Year. During the seasons of 1970-73 he had records of 22-5, 23-8 and 23-3. Last season's record at San Marcos was 27-5 and marked the school's first district basketball title in 15 years.

Dunaway has had 10 articles published in National Coaching Magazine, and is in the process of writing a book on coaching.

He has instructed three high school All-Americans, two honorable mention All-Americans, six All-State players and two all-Southwest players.

Weather Effects Fishing

Capricious weather has resulted in a sputtering effect for fishing both at Lake E.V. Spence and Lake J.B. Thomas, but warmer days appear to be steadying the volume of crappie catches.

Crappie fishing at Lake Thomas is getting increasingly better, according to Richard Halfmann of the Colorado River Municipal Water District. Numerous catches of smaller ones were reported, but more of the larger size up to two pounds were being noted. The main spawn seems to be approaching a peak. Bass fishing also is picking up, and one report listed a six-pounder. Catfishing at Lake Thomas still is slow.

The unstable weather has kept fishermen close in at Spence. However, there were reports of large catches of crappie, along with some striped bass and blue catfish.

DATES:
The period for comment will be ninety (90) days following the second publication of this proposed rule in a newspaper of local circulation in each community.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION
The Federal Insurance Administration gives notice of the proposed determinations of base (100-year) flood elevations for selected locations in the nation, in accordance with Section 110 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-234), 87 Stat. 980, which added Section 1363 to the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 (Pub. L. 90-448), 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 44 CFR 67.4 (a)). These elevations, together with the flood plain management measures required by Section 60.3 of the program regulations, are the minimum that are required. They should not be construed to mean the community must change any existing ordinance that are more stringent in their flood plain management requirements. The community may, at any time, enact stricter requirements on its own, pursuant to policies established by other Federal, State, or Regional entities. These proposed elevations will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new buildings and their contents and for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and their contents.
The proposed base (100-year) flood elevations for selected locations are:

Slump Cuts Into Timber Industry

SALEM, Ore. (AP) - The bleak news just seems to keep piling up for the Northwest's big timber industry, already reeling from the effects of national-tight money policies and the resulting building slump. Some recent examples: Louisiana-Pacific Corp. reported a 30-percent decline in earnings for the first quarter of 1980. Georgia-Pacific Corp. announced a cutback of more than $100 million in planned capital expenditures. The Portland-based Western Wood Products Association estimated that 44,000 timber industry workers are idle in 12 western states. In Oregon, mill closures have become a daily occurrence. Some spokesmen for the state's largest industry, with an annual payroll topping $1 billion, say the slump is worse than 1974-75 recession. Hugh Love of the American Plywood Association, based in Tacoma, Wash., calls the current downturn "the most rapid market decline I've seen in 12 years." "In some areas, it's reminiscent of the Depression," says a spokesman.

Rattlesnake Bite Fatal To Woman

BROWNSVILLE (AP) - A rattlesnake bite killed a woman found lying outside her home, a justice of the peace has ruled. Jane Wharton, 54, 61, was found outside her trailer Thursday about 15 miles east of Brownsville. Investigators found a rattlesnake coiled under the door of the trailer, and a deputy sheriff shot it to death. The woman hadfang marks on her left leg. Justice of the Peace Ed Sarabia ruled she died of the bite, but did not order an autopsy.

WOODBURNING STOVES

Can you afford next winter's fuel costs? Although Winter, 1979 wasn't a harsh one, there's no guarantee for future mild winters... or stable fuel costs.

Many Texas families are arming themselves now in earnest against higher fuel costs, especially during cold winters.

WOODBURNER SET RECORD Record numbers of Texas families are looking to woodburning stoves as a way to heat winter heating costs.

Industry sources predict that as many as 15 million people will install woodburning stoves in their homes this year. Why woodburners?

Many burn wood to keep fuel costs down while others want a wood stove as a backup in case of power failure or fuel short ages. Others are drawn to the woodburning stove simply because it's a nostalgic reminder that times have been simpler than they are today.

CARE DUTIES INCREASE

Unfortunately, many of these people will buy wood stoves without realizing that they demand more care and attention than the modern heating systems to which they're accustomed.

Here's a rule to remember: a wood stove must be carefully selected, installed and used... or you can get "burned."

Society Holds Benefit Game

The Zeta Lambda Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society International held a benefit game night April 14 at the Union Community Center. Sixteen members and their guests attended.

The affair was hosted by Rita Carter, Wanda Hudgins, Georgene Galloway, Jo Alice McMullan and Emily Collins, members of the professional affairs committee.

Blackwood — a first rule

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

Back in 1934 young Easley Blackwood of Indianapolis invented a convention.

Today that convention is the best known and possibly the most valuable of all. There may be some beginners who don't know about it and maybe two or three experts who don't use it. But apart from that, it is played from Pole to Pole by all players.

The average player uses Blackwood to bid slams. The expert uses it primarily as a check for aces after his bridge sense and use of point count have told him that he has enough ammunition for 12 or 13 tricks, but wants to make sure that his opponents can't beat him with aces before he gets to take his own tricks.

Let's look at a simple hand where the expert and dub use Blackwood the same way. You hold S x H A K Q J 10 9 x D A K Q J C x and open two hearts. Your partner bids two spades and all you care about is how many aces he has. You bid four notrump. If he shows no aces you stop at five, one ace lets you bid six and two aces give you a cinch grand slam.

Change your hand a trifle so that you have no spades and two clubs. The dub may still use Blackwood, but unless his partner shows him two aces he gains nothing from his partner's response.

The expert doesn't know exactly what to do. But he won't use Blackwood. He will probably bid three diamonds. Then his next bid will be five hearts (assuming partner has not made some higher bid in the meanwhile). This should tell his partner just about what he has: Eleven tricks with hearts as trumps and two quick losers in clubs.

We will continue Blackwood for at least two more Saturdays, but leave you with the first rule of when to use Blackwood. It is: DO NOT use Blackwood when you have two quick losers in an unbid suit.

Sorority Sets Founders Day

Mrs. Nancy Ballinger hosted 18 members and one guest, Sharon Hanzalik's mother, at Tuesday evening's Beta Sigma Phi Meeting at Martha Ann Woman's Club. Social chairman Charlotte Seay announced that plans have been made for the chapter's Founders' Day set for April 26.

"The Home" was Mrs. Donna Fowler's program topic. She stated, "A home is a family in place. It is all the mental and emotional facets of the members of the family and the physical objects with which they surround themselves."

Mrs. Fowler inserted a quote dating from her high school days, "Home is the place where, when you have to go there — they have to take you in."

She also used a question and answer format on what living styles prevail in members' homes.

She concluded her program with several selections from the book "I've Got to Talk to Somebody, God," by Marjorie Holmes.

Zimmerman Speaks To Art Guild Study Club

The Art Guild Study Club met April 15 at 6:30 p.m. at the Martha Ann Woman's Club with Mrs. Ivan Gatlin as hostess and program leader. Mrs. Gatlin presented Bill Zimmerman, juvenile probation officer for Scurry County, a position he has held for 23 years.

Zimmerman explained the duties of his office and his probation works. He brought out that many changes have been made since the first juvenile court was established in 1907. Years ago children were often severely punished for minor offenses. Some were even put to death for certain offenses, he told the group.

A new family code was set up in 1973 and is still working, he said. Children placed under restrictions, he explained, are advised to seek council. The judge reads their rights to them and if they are not financially able to pay a lawyer, one is appointed for them. A child may give a statement, but is not forced to do so.

Zimmerman also compared the number of referrals in Scurry County which is lower than some adjoining counties of about the same population.

Club president, Hugh Lowry presided at the business session. Mrs. Gatlin served refreshments to 43 members and one guest.

Author Leo Tolstoy died at the age of 82 in 1910.

Shop Through Windows

COLLEGE STATION—Develop your window-shopping skills; and use them to make the most of your wardrobe, suggests a clothing specialist, Becky Saunders.

You can window shop while walking down the street or through a shopping mall or while stopped in your car at a traffic light, she says.

Mrs. Saunders is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Consider that each window display was designed to advertise merchandise and communicate a message.

Remember, some things may be too faddish or inappropriate for your lifestyle, figure type or preferences, she cautions. However, you can learn timely wardrobe tips such as:

CURRENT FASHION TRENDS—often the very newest looks are featured but many are exaggerated to emphasize a point.

COLOR, TEXTURE AND PATTERN COMBINATION—you may have garments at home you can wear in new ways.

HEM LENGTH AND PROPORTION—consider where skirt, jacket, pant or coat lengths most often fall.

Do you need to update yours?

ENGAGEMENT TOLD—Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Martin of Big Lake announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jana Lou, to Michael F. Fisher, also of Big Lake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Fisher of Snyder. Miss Martin is a graduate of Reagan County High School and attended Trinity University in San Antonio. She is employed by Martin's Dept. Store. Fisher is a graduate of Snyder High School and of the University of Texas, Austin. He is employed in the teaching department of Reagan County High School. Marriage vows will be solemnized May 30, 7 p.m. at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. J.B. Betner officiating.

MARRIED—Jean Smith and Kevin Murry repeated nuptial vows in an informal ceremony April 3. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.R. Smith of 1308 30th St. and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Del Murry of Ira. The couple will reside in Ira. (Photo By Craft Studio)

Avoid Food Poisoning By Proper Canning Procedures

COLLEGE STATION—Canning season is here—so do it right!

It's not difficult, but it must be done properly to avoid food poisoning, such as botulism, in the words of a foods and nutrition specialist.

Here's most of what you need to know as outlined by Mary K. Sweeten with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Before you start canning, carefully read reliable water bath or pressure canner instructions for preparing, packaging and processing each food.

You can get this information from your local County Extension Office. Proper canning procedures ensure that food is kept safe to eat—since it will be processed with high heat and then kept safe with an airtight seal.

High heat destroys harmful bacteria and other microorganisms that cause food spoilage. Also, it inactivates enzymes that cause undesirable changes in flavor, color and texture.

But the heat must be extremely high for non-acid foods—only a pressure canner can provide this necessary temperature.

Although many people love to be creative and make up their own recipes, canning isn't the place for this—each time you add a different food, you may alter the needed processing time.

This is especially tempting with tomato or squash relish—so be sure to use a recipe that has been tested and proven safe.

Tuned Engine Saves On Gas

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—A key to gas savings is a well-tuned engine.

According to Fram Corp., a manufacturer of auto products, a typical untuned car may travel 12,000 miles a year, get 15 miles per gallon and consume 800 gallons of fuel. If kept in proper tune, however, the same car may average 16.8 mpg and consume 714 gallons of fuel.

This 86-gallon fuel savings could translate into $129 if gas prices reach $1.50, as experts predict to pay back the cost of a tune-up.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Why must chronically ill children, malnourished elderly people and indigent members of our society be forced to bear the burden of reducing government expenditures and balancing the federal budget?

Because they are the people whose wrath politicians fear least — especially in an election year — since they lack any semblance of the "political clout" that allows others to influence the decision-making process in this capital.

No determined lobbyists make compelling presentations to leaders of the executive and legislative branches of government on behalf of disease-prone babies.

No political action committees make generous contributions to the campaign treasuries of presidential and congressional candidates in the name of the aged and infirm.

No sophisticated lawyers circulate among this city's power brokers to subtly but convincingly plead the cause of hard-working but impoverished Americans.

As a result, it's hardly surprising that the poor and powerless are the principal victims of the budget cuts now being proposed by both the White House and Congress.

Many domestic social programs whose funding is to be slashed, delayed or eliminated in the current round of fiscal belt-tightening deserve that fate because the evidence indicates they are inefficient, extravagant, unnecessary or otherwise failed experiments.

But when President Carter belatedly decided to offer a balanced budget for the 1981 fiscal year, he also proposed cuts in the funding of many useful programs that stand as a tribute to our society's generosity toward its less fortunate members.

One notable example involves the little known but highly successful Agriculture Department Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants and Children, known as WIC.

men, infants and children, known as WIC.

"A recent study conducted by the Yale Medical School found dramatic reductions in infant mortality as a result of the WIC program," said Carter's original 1981 budget proposal. "Another study conducted at the Harvard University School of Public Health found equally striking results."

The president originally called for $970 million in federal spending on the WIC program, then cut the figure to $900 million in his revised budget. The Senate Budget Committee has slashed the figure again, to $850 million.

To save another $388 million in the coming fiscal year, the president is calling for a year-long delay in initiating the Child Health Assistance Program, designed to provide preventive medical care to those who need it most but can afford it least.

A series of cuts in the food stamp program — some justified but others unwarranted — would save another $433 million under Carter's revised budget.

Carter eviscerated those programs with the fiscal equivalent of a butcher's knife," says Barbara Bode of the Washington-based Children's Foundation. "But Congress, anxious to outdo him, is hacking away with a meat cleaver."

A Senate proposal, designed to cut another $1.2 billion from the food stamp budget, would eliminate alleged "duplication" by slashing aid to families whose children benefit from federal school lunch programs.

The average monthly bonus in purchasing power received by food stamp recipients amounts to $32.82 monthly. That's slightly more than a dollar a day or 36 cents per meal — but the Senate proposal would eliminate 51.6 cents for every school lunch served to children in a family receiving food stamps.

Where are the concomitant cuts in ill-advised subsidies to the maritime industry, inflationary price supports paid to dairy farmers and overpriced weapons system contracts doled out to the aerospace industry? What about hospital cost containment, increased waterway user charges and repeal of the generous depletion allowance enjoyed by oil and gas producers?

Nobody either in the White House or on Capitol Hill has had the temerity to suggest that the well-organized special interests who benefit from those programs should make the same sacrifices now being demanded of the poor.

Prince William of Orange landed in England in 1688 to assume the English throne and displace the unpopular King James II. The 38-year-old Dutch prince had a valid claim and with his wife, the daughter of the deposed King James, was crowned in 1689 as joint monarch. William was a tough international diplomat but he alienated the Irish and Scots through brutal repression of the pro-Stuart uprisings.

time to turn around

In the ceaseless struggle between people with a criminal bent and society in general, are the criminals winning?

Judging from crime statistics compiled by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other agencies, it would appear that is the case.

Robbery is the thing most often on the mind in today's criminal. Some businesses have been hit so consistently by the lawless breed, their owners have been forced out of business or decided it wasn't worth the effort.

Today's "second story" man differs radically from burglars of yesteryear in that many are supporting a "habit." They reap benefits from the fruits of someone else's labor and they don't hesitate to kill or maim if interrupted, so desperate are they to channel their poison into their veins. They want no witness to their crimes.

It's come to the point where it is hazardous to run a small business in a big city, especially if its operators stay open at night.

Time was when criminals were content to smash windows and take what was being displayed there, but the robbers have become far more professional and far more ruthless. They realize that unless they are caught within minutes after their heist, they will not be caught at all.

The frequency of robbery and burglary is extremely high in some neighborhoods and is threatening to go higher. Some individuals living in such areas have been robbed numerous times. They survive by offering no resistance.

The crime rate has been escalating despite the fact that millions of dollars are being channeled to agencies which are organized to lessen the problem. The crime fighters usually experience some success but the criminals are innovative and invariably try another ploy.

It's sad but true that inflationary times contribute toward rising crime rates. Some senior citizens steal simply because they don't have the money to pay for what they need. White collar workers turn to embezzlement because their debts begin to eat them up. Some young people, envious of the apparently high standard of living some of their peers enjoy, resort to thievery rather than do without.

It's a tragedy that society has come to embrace the idea that "It's wrong only if you get caught." Lawlessness in contrary to Christian concepts, no matter if it is never detected.

It is time to do an about face and return to morality and responsibility, to discipline and to punishment. It is time, too, for accusers to stop feeling as if they have sinned. Scoundrels are all too often depicted as glamorous in the medium of entertainment when, in reality, they are nothing but deadbeats, existing on the fruits of your labor.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Charity often consists of a generous impulse to give away something we have no further use for."

Snyder is the place to be despite the woes of the national economy. Snyder and the West Texas area are holding up well. As predicted, this area is best prepared to withstand the pressures of either a recession or depression.

Retail business continues to be brisk — running ahead of this time last year. Bank and savings deposits are at an all-time high.

Construction has bottomed out — due mainly to high interest rates and the scarcity of mortgage money at any rate.

Despite this, an apartment developer was in contact with city hall last week with an eye toward more rental units out on 37th Street.

That indeed is good news. City Manager John Gayle attended a meeting in Midland last week where an industrial development specialist listed housing as the number one priority in attracting new industry. He placed it above the labor force, water resources and energy. The idea is if there is available housing, then you can attract the people.

The new developer on construction of K mart continues to indicate that work should begin shortly. A telephone visit with our industrial prospect from Oregon revealed that all the data had been compiled and that the proposed new plant is now before a review committee.

We are still extremely optimistic about Snyder's chances of landing this firm, and certainly it would be a significant economic boost for Snyder and Scurry County.

Other bits of good news are on the oil industry front. Contractors indicate that the oil patch is busy and likely will become even more busy.

At a recent meeting of the city council, the county's chief tax appraiser indicated that the decline of oil values will be reversed this year, and that oil values are likely to even increase slightly this year.

Right after income tax time, a fellow deserves some good news.

foolish things

With hindsight we can amuse and applaud ourselves by remembering how comparatively foolish our grandparents were.

The very idea that doctors practiced bloodletting, thus making weak patients weaker.

The very idea that doctors delivered babies without washing their hands.

The very idea that beneficial applications of electricity were delayed by people who feared electrocution.

They very idea that our grandparents' generation was so myopic that they considered using a typewriter something that "no nice girl would do."

They should have known better. I wonder which and how many things you and I are doing or not doing today will be reflected upon by our grandchildren with derision. "Why didn't we know better?"

Generally speaking, any excess ultimately is its own undoing.

The generations of Americans who demanded bigger and faster cars have now learned that smaller and slower cars make more sense.

Americans, initially enamored with any and all electric kitchen gadgetry, have since discovered that the electric carving knife was not worth the cost and the kitchen clutter.

Americans who once bought curealls in bottles, then believed surgery was the infallible remedy, then learned about nutrition; gradually came to realize that any or all three may be the best remedy.

But other conspicuous panaceas we perpetuate, in other obvious malpractices we persist.

Cigarette smoking. Surely future historians will wonder why.

Tax bonuses for living together unmarried, for having illegitimate children.

Picketing power plants when we so desperately need their power.

And the manner in which the private lives of candidates for public office are x-rayed by members of the media who would never subject themselves to similar scrutiny.

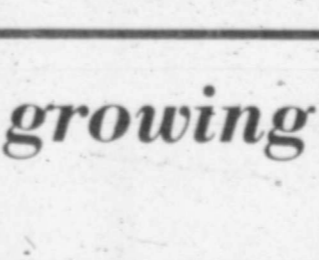

But of all the most flagrant, most dangerous, most masochistic, most wasteful and least defensive practices in which we Americans persist — the one which is surely going to have tomorrow's historians shaking their heads in disbelief — is crosstown school busing.

"Really," they will say, "did you really bus your children back and forth across towns for hours every day in the name of fairness?"

"Did you really — as desperate as you were for fuel and as high petroleum prices as you were having to pay — did you really waste the equivalent of the total output of 700 oil wells every day — busing?"

"Did you — really?" (C) 1980, Los Angeles Times Syndicate

My wife, Nikka, took her usual milk walk recently. She stopped at a supermarket and picked up a few small items.

"They've raised prices again," she reported when she returned home. There are higher-priced stickers on many items.

"So, what else is new?" I asked.

Just that there was one gallon of oil on which they failed to raise the price," she answered. "It was too heavy for me to carry. Drive over, pick up that gallon of oil and bring it home."

Dutifully, I drove to the store, eased the olive-oil shelf, picked up the single gallon with the lower price. I went to the checkout counter and gave the clerk the price that was marked.

The clerk counted my money.

"The price has been raised," she said.

"Where does it say so?" I countered.

"Oh, the boy didn't put the new sticker on."

"This sticker says $5.98. That's the price I pay."

"I can't let you have it at that price. You'll have to talk to the manager. He's in the back somewhere."

"Young lady," I said, "I'm not giving up my place in this line. You want the manager? You get him. I'll be waiting right here. I want this olive oil at the marked price."

By then many shoppers had sensed an altercation and joined my line. Others just hung around waiting to see what would happen.

The clerk went to find the manager. He came over and said rudely, "Don't make trouble, mister. Pay the price and go on home."

"Mister manager," I replied, "you'll have to call the cops to get me out of here. Until I get this olive oil at the marked price, there's where I stay."

Eventually and with bad grace, she sold me the can of olive oil at the price that was marked.

The policy of raising prices on groceries and other products already on the shelves is an unconscionable scam.

The stores made a profit on the merchandise at the original price, didn't they? Should they be permitted to raise prices again simply by putting on a new sticker?

I see this as a proper leadership job for activist senior citizens.

Younger shoppers are busy. They have families to care for. We retirees have time to organize and manage this fight.

Our slogan will be: "The scam stops here."

First, we must set up consumer-affairs committees at our senior clubs and centers. Their job will be to check up on retailers who raise the prices of items already on the shelf.

The committees will probably find that most supermarkets are running these scams. And once they have surveyed the supermarkets, they can report back to their full clubs and centers.

Then we will take the following actions:

— Writing and telephoning our county consumer departments, naming the retailers who jack up prices.

— Writing to our state legislators to request laws forbidding stores from raising prices of merchandise on their shelves.

— Sending copies of our letters to our children and grandchildren, urging them to write similar letters to their state representatives.

Complaining strongly to the offending stores.

New York's Suffolk County has just passed a law prohibiting supermarkets from jacking up prices of items on their shelves. If Suffolk County can do it, why not the whole country?

Sure, your local merchants' association will scream bloody murder. But let 'em scream.

It's us consumers against them.

Diet for stones

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - A little over 17 years ago, I had a kidney stone removed by surgery. The doctors told me I could have one glass of milk per day but no dairy products such as cheese and no chocolate. A year ago I had stomach pains similar to when I was young. My doctor put me in the hospital and the examination showed that I had diverticulosis - pockets of the colon. Also my esophagus was enlarged at the entrance where it joins my stomach.

My doctor put me on three small meals a day with a bland diet and no eating between meals. I was overweight and weighed about 195 pounds when I went into the hospital. I'm 5 foot 9. Now I weigh 170 pounds.

I take Donnatal four times daily and Metamucil. Can you suggest what I could do about diet for my diverticulosis that doesn't conflict with my kidney trouble?

About a month ago I had another kidney stone form. This time it came out and it was a big rock. My wife is having trouble preparing meals.

DEAR READER - You'll need to discuss this with your doctor because the kind of diet that you should have in relationship to the kidney stone depends on what the stone is made of. There are different kinds of kidney stones.

Ideas about how to treat and prevent kidney stones have changed drastically in the last several years. In a large number of cases, it is not necessary to restrict calcium intake, which means it's not necessary to restrict milk. That's particularly true of the kinds of stones that men often have. However, the kidney stones that are formed with associated infections of the urinary tract common in women often do require a restriction of calcium intake.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 11-2, Kidney Stones: Treatment Has Changed. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station.

New York, NY 10049. This issue will update you on the different kinds of stones and the types of diets that are used for them.

The calcium-oxalate stones that are common in men are more likely formed because of the oxalate rather than the calcium. The oxalate is found in fruit juices, tea and other items listed in The Health Letter that I'm sending you.

Once it's known exactly what kind of stone you have and what sort of diet you should be on for the stone, there really shouldn't be too much trouble in fitting this together with your diverticulosis. You probably have some associated underlying spastic colon as most people do with the diverticulosis. If you have a problem with using bulk in the diet, you can continue to use the Metamucil, which provides bulk, and perhaps increase the amount if your doctor wishes you to do so.

The biggest problem you'll have is adapting a diet that fits with the diverticulosis and the enlarged opening of your esophagus. That tells me that your doctor thinks you must have a hiatal hernia or at least a condition that can allow your stomach contents to leak back into the lower esophagus. He may want to put you on more frequent small meals. I'm also sending you The Health Letter number 4-8, Hiatal Hernia, Esophageal Reflux, as well as The Health Letter number 5-6, Diverticulosis.

Blueprinters Started At Top
LOS ANGELES (AP) - Blueprint makers didn't work their way to the top, they started there.

The first blueprint shops used the sun to develop copies of architectural and engineering plans called blueprints. The shops were always located on the top floor for maximum exposure to sunlight.

The blueprint was made with an original drawing laid over special photosensitive paper that was exposed to the sun.

UNITY
Fr. Tom Jordan, M. S. C. Our Lady of Guadalupe Church

Father, may they be one in us, as you are in me and I am in you (John 17:20-26)

The movement for peace in Northern Ireland, which began in the summer of 1976, is just one example of how people, divided for years, are drawn together because they share the same ideal, and they express their united desire for peace by walking side by side.

The church is the people of God on the move. We are traveling heavenwards. We look forward to the reward to be given to every man according to what he deserves. (Acts 7:55-60)

And, like those who share in the peace movement we recognize that we can only succeed in reaching God if we move together.

That is why Jesus prayed so passionately that all believers may be one. They are his final words before leaving for Gethsemane and death.

There can be no greater tragedy for the church (people of God) than division between believers. If all Christians can not come together we all suffer. Christ's last prayer before his passion can only be fulfilled through love. It is the Holy Spirit who is the bond of unity and the Spirit cannot be communicated to others in hatred and bitterness. True love alone will succeed, a love that will sacrifice itself even to death. Like his Master, Stephen was martyred for his eagerness to share the Spirit with others and to work for the unity of all mankind.

There are so many people in the world today who need the Holy Spirit, the Spirit of Christ. They are dissatisfied with what the world has to offer. The World is divided and they are divided within themselves, and so they look around for comfort; they search for security, certainty, and peace. Only one person can provide that need, Jesus Christ, and, in the end, only a united Church can give them Christ.

The United States has by far the most gold in the world - 263 million ounces. Next is West Germany, with 95 million ounces in storage, and then France and Switzerland with more than 80 million each.

Workshop In Pecan Budding Set At Dunn

Pecan enthusiasts will not want to miss the "Pecan Budding and Grafting Workshop" scheduled for Thursday morning between 9:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. in the Dunn Community.

Dr. George McEachern, horticulture specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station, will conduct the workshop. Any one interested in attending should meet at the Dunn Community Center at 9:30 a.m. The group will then go to W.J. Fuller's farm and work on native pecan trees. Each person attending will be able to bud or graft a tree if they wish. Dr. McEachern will assist individuals with suggestions and personal help.

Those who can attend and participate in this workshop will be able to bud and graft their own pecans. Budding and grafting is not hard to learn, but basic techniques are required to be successful and the more practice a person has, the more success he will have in getting buds and grafts to take, says Billy Roach, local county extension agent.

"Wear your work clothes, bring a sharp knife and come and learn this technique," urges the agent.

Reef fish, such as the rock beauty and the queen anglefish, swim in pairs. This is unusual behavior and is not common to other sea animals.

KAREN ANN SEARS ...going back to "state"

Local Artist In Fair Third Time

KERRVILLE—The Texas State Arts and Crafts Fair, to be held May 24-25-26, in Kerrville, annually features the work of over 200 carefully juried artists. Fiber artist, Karen Ann Sears of Snyder was selected for the official Texas event, affectionately known as "State" among artists and craftspeople. The sponsoring Texas Arts and Crafts Foundation received almost 800 applications for the 1980 Fair.

Miss Sears, who was an exhibitor of original hand-painted eggs at the first two Arts and Crafts Fairs, won a place at the fair this year with her basket weaving. She is a graduate of Texas Tech University with a bachelor of fine arts degree in studio art. She began to seriously study fiberworks and basket weaving about a year and a half ago.

A country fair atmosphere brightens the 16 acre showcase of Texas talent. Two stages on the fairgrounds offer 10 musical concerts daily on Saturday and Sunday, free to Fair ticketholders, and feature professional entertainers. Monday brings an afternoon of winners in concert from the Kerrville Music Foundation activities at Quiet Valley Ranch. The pioneer Village and Children's Petting Zoo add to family enjoyment.

Fair food is varied and the traditional favorites have been featured in several publications. Parking is free on an attended lot, with air conditioned shuttle buses, also free, to take visitors to the gate. Advance tickets and special group rates are available which will eliminate standing in line. For more information or a free color brochure write TACF, P.O. Box 1527, Kerrville 78028.

Contract For Models Let To Test Spillways

A contract has been awarded by the Colorado River Municipal Water District to Colorado State University at Fort Collins for a model to test the proposed Stacy dam spillways.

Building the model, on a scale of one foot for every 45 feet of the actual structure, and testing various volumes of flow through the structure will require

Classes In Four Centers

Western Texas College will be offering summer classes at extension centers in Haskell, Rotan, Crosbyton and Sweetwater, Dr. Duane Hood, Dean of Student Services and Registrar, has announced.

Classes at all the centers will begin May 29. Registration at Crosbyton and Sweetwater will be held on May 27, with registration at Haskell and Rotan on May 29 preceding the first class meetings.

Schedules of classes at the extension centers are available from the Student Services office in the WTC Administration Building and from the coordinator of each center.

about seven and a half months, said O.H. Ivie, CRMWD general manager. The project is not to exceed $98,066 in cost.

Design of the structure calls for six gaited spillways, each 50 feet wide and 25 feet high.

Piezometers (pressure gauges) will be incorporated into the model and its stilling basin in an effort to learn if problems will exist under any varying degree of flow. One matter which will be scrutinized closely is the effect of flow approaching the spillway crest at an oblique angle instead of the 90 degree approach at lower levels. This is due to a horseshoe bend in the river a relatively short distance upstream from the dam. At maximum floodtide, the force of the river's flow could literally cut across and exert an angular instead of head-on force against the spill-ways.

To simulate the Stacy reservoir, an approach box 35x35 feet will be constructed above the model so that the effect of various levels of flow can be tested. Under actual conditions, the spillways are designed to discharge 370,000 cubic feet of water per second. In the model this will be 27.3 CFS. Such heavy volumes of water create tremendous turbulence with both positive and negative pressures. They also deliver erosive and destructive forces immediately below the dam in the stilling basin where waters are calmed before channeling downstream.

In the case of Lake E.V. Spence, testing of a model not only paid for itself in construction costs, but also increased safety and operational efficiency.

Ira Transfer Deadline Set

IRA—Public school students who would like to be considered for transfer to Ira Schools for the 1980-81 school year should contact the Ira School office before April 30, Supt. Ron Plumlee has reminded.

Summer Course In Psychology

"You could earn three hours of college credit in general psychology in only nine evenings this summer," says instructor Dr. Joe Reaves.

He will be teaching Psychology 231 at the Sweetwater and Crosbyton extension centers of WTC. This course is the basic introductory course required for majors in elementary education, law enforcement, nursing and numerous other fields of study. Also, it is an excellent elective for almost any academic major, he said.

Full-time employees needing additional hours to maintain or improve their pay grade will find this course both profitable and interesting, Reaves added.

"In-class projects, discussions, demonstrations and audio-visual presentations make the otherwise lengthy 6-10 p.m. classes go fast for most students," he said.

Full-time college students home for the summer can work off a course with a view toward lightening their load for next fall. The course is transferrable to any college or university.

Such areas as the function of the mind, learning and memory, the senses, child development, adjustment and abnormal behavior will be studied.

"The overriding goal is to make the course practical," states Dr. Reaves. Students wishing further information may contact Dr. Reaves or the office of the registrar at WTC. The Sweetwater class will meet on Tuesday nights, with the Crosbyton class meeting on Wednesday nights. Classes at both centers begin on May 29.

WHAT IS TRUTH?

Truth is IN Jesus Christ. The meaning is not merely ethical truth (what is, has been, or must be) but truth in all its fullness and scope as contained IN Him. He is the perfect expression of the truth. Jesus Christ said: "I am the truth—for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth." (John 14:6; 18:37). The dilemma and quandary, total depravity (sinfulness of man's nature) in man-kind, is due to the fact that Adam and Eve exchanged the truth of God for a lie. Adam's sin (disobeying God) not only affected him but was also passed upon all his descendants. Mankind is very far gone from original righteousness and is of his own nature inclined to evil. "By one man (Adam) sin entered into the world, and death by sin, and so death passed upon all men, for all have sinned." (Romans 5:12). Sin is universal. All people are under sin; there is none righteous; no, not one, none that understand; none that seek after God. All have turned aside; together they have gone wrong and have become unprofitable and worthless; no one does right, one even one!

Observe the putrid rottenness of natural man in his fallen (alienated) condition before Almighty God. Man uses his tongue to deceive; his mouth is full of cursing and bitterness; his feet are swift to shed blood. Destruction and misery mark mankind's ways. They have no experience of the way of peace; they know nothing about peace; a peaceful way they do not even recognize. There is no fear of God before their eyes. The Bible declares: "verily every man at his best state is altogether vanity." (Psalm 39:5). The apostle Paul wrote: "I know that in me (that is, in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing." (Romans 7:18). Man, lacking Christ (unsaved), is an alien from the Kingdom (family) of God and a stranger from the covenants of promise, no hope, in the world without God. Is there no escape from this perpetual, infinite, and endless predicament? As sure as we are ingrained by nature we are children of wrath) in a lost, rebellious, and hopeless situation, there is a way of deliverance and unquestionable certainty.

Jesus said: "I am the way—all things are delivered unto me of my Father; and no man knoweth the Son, but the Father; neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him. Come unto me, all you that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and LEARN OF ME; for I am meek and lowly in heart; and you shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light." (John 14:6; Matthew 11:27-30). Jesus states in the preceding scripture: "learn of me." He is saying understand Me, and you will be intimately acquainted with what is truth.

Luke, known as "the beloved physician," wrote in the introduction of the gospel attributed to him some very interesting and God inspired thoughts related to truth. He begins: "Many have undertaken to set forth a declaration of those things (These are written, that you might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing (cleaving to and trusting in and relying upon Him) ye might have life through his name." (John 20:31), which are most surely believed among us, even as they delivered them unto us which from the beginning (of Jesus ministry) were eye-witnesses, and ministers of the word." That is, of the teaching concerning the attainment through Christ of salvation in the kingdom of God. "I desired, continued Luke, after diligently searching and following all things (from above) to write an orderly account that you may know what is truth." We can understand with certainty and security against error the doctrines of the faith set forth in the Holy Scriptures which are absolute truth.

Jesus asserted to Pontius Pilate as he stood before him: "for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that is of the truth, (who belongs to the truth) hears my voice. Pilate said to him, what is truth?" Whoever, wherever you are, we beseech you not to die with this question (spiritually) in your heart: "What is truth?"
