Iranian Foreign Minister Sadeq Ghotbzadeh told the United States today Iran hopes to follow a policy of restraint and has asked the embassy militants to do so following President Carter's abortive military mission sent to Iran to attempt a rescue of the U.S. hostages. But he said the mission was "an act of war" and warned Iran would "set fire to the whole region" if such acts continued.

President Carter, in a nationwide address broadcast nationwide at 7 a.m., said the mission to "position our rescue team for a later withdrawal of American hostages" was aborted because of "equipment failure" in a rescue helicopter. As the mission was preparing to depart Iran, two American aircraft collided on the ground, killing eight servicemen and injuring "several others," he said. The Iranian military command claimed the planes crashed while fleeing from Iranian warplanes. Thousands of jubilant Iranians poured into the streets around the U.S. Embassy when they got word of the failed mission, celebrating with shouts and cheers. They flashed victory signs, clenched their fists and screamed, "Down With Carter!" and "Carter's Finished!"

Speaking in English, Ghotbzadeh told ABC News he hopes the Iranian government will proceed with caution and "not react as nervously as the Americans did" in launching the raid. He said he also asked the militants, who seized the Americans at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran 174 days ago to "refrain from harsh actions." The militants holding the 50 Americans in the embassy since Nov. 4 threatened previously to kill their captives if an attempt was made to rescue them. Their spokesman said today they would announce their decision once they had received more details on the raid.

Ghotbzadeh said he had spoken with the militants several times as well as with members of Iran's Revolutionary Council and urged restraint. Ghotbzadeh said he had not spoken directly with Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini but that he believed the Iranian revolutionary leader and the Iranian government shared his feelings.

He said Carter had not explained why the action was taken. "And therefore I certainly see it as a clear indication for the act of war against Iran. If these kind of things continue, believe me our nation is ready to go, to set fire in the whole region not to let the Americans by force win anything."

Earlier in an interview with France's Channel TF-1, Ghotbzadeh had used the same phrase, saying the mission constituted "an act of war." He did not elaborate on the phrase, but added, "If the students now do something, who will be responsible? The Iranian government or the American government?"

The Iranian Joint Military Command said the two planes crashed and burned near Tabas, in the Dasht-e Kavir salt desert 360 miles southeast of Tehran, while fleeing from Iranian air force planes. It said the U.S. planes carried Marines and CIA agents.

Carter Says Risk Was Unavoidable

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Carter, declared that he followed the mandates of "necessity and duty" in ordering a military attempt to rescue the American hostages in Tehran.

In a solemn, 7 a.m. EST, report to the nation, the president said he still holds the Iranian government "responsible for the safety and for the early release" of the hostages.

Emphasizing that there were no Iranian casualties, Carter described the mission as a humanitarian one. He said all involved understood it "to be difficult and dangerous."

Mission Aborted After 3 Helicopters Failed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Harold Brown said today that the U.S. attempt to rescue American hostages in Tehran was aborted at a refueling stop in the Iranian desert when three of eight helicopters failed, and American forces withdrew leaving eight men dead in the burning wreckage of a helicopter and a C-130 transport plane.

Brown told a Pentagon news conference the administration undertook

the rescue attempt as "the best course of action for getting our hostages out of Iran expeditiously."

Despite the failure, in which four Americans also were wounded, Brown declared, "Let no one doubt our resolve and let no one misunderstand the meaning of these events. We will not rest until we have secured the release of these hostages."

He said the mission was undertaken by a Defense Department force made up of volunteers from all the armed services. Brown said the force did not encounter Iranian military forces during the futile operation, but did detain about 50 civilians who happened by the refueling site in a bus.

He said the Iranians were released when the mission was aborted. Brown said the operation involved approximately 90 U.S. military personnel.

Rescue Unit Came From Fort Bragg

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. military unit that tried to rescue the American hostages in Iran is a highly secret anti-terrorist force based at a North Carolina Army post, an informed source said today.

The source, who declined to be identified, said planning for the operation was well underway in January and that the special unit had a virtually unlimited budget and access to the most sophisticated weapons and debilitating gases.

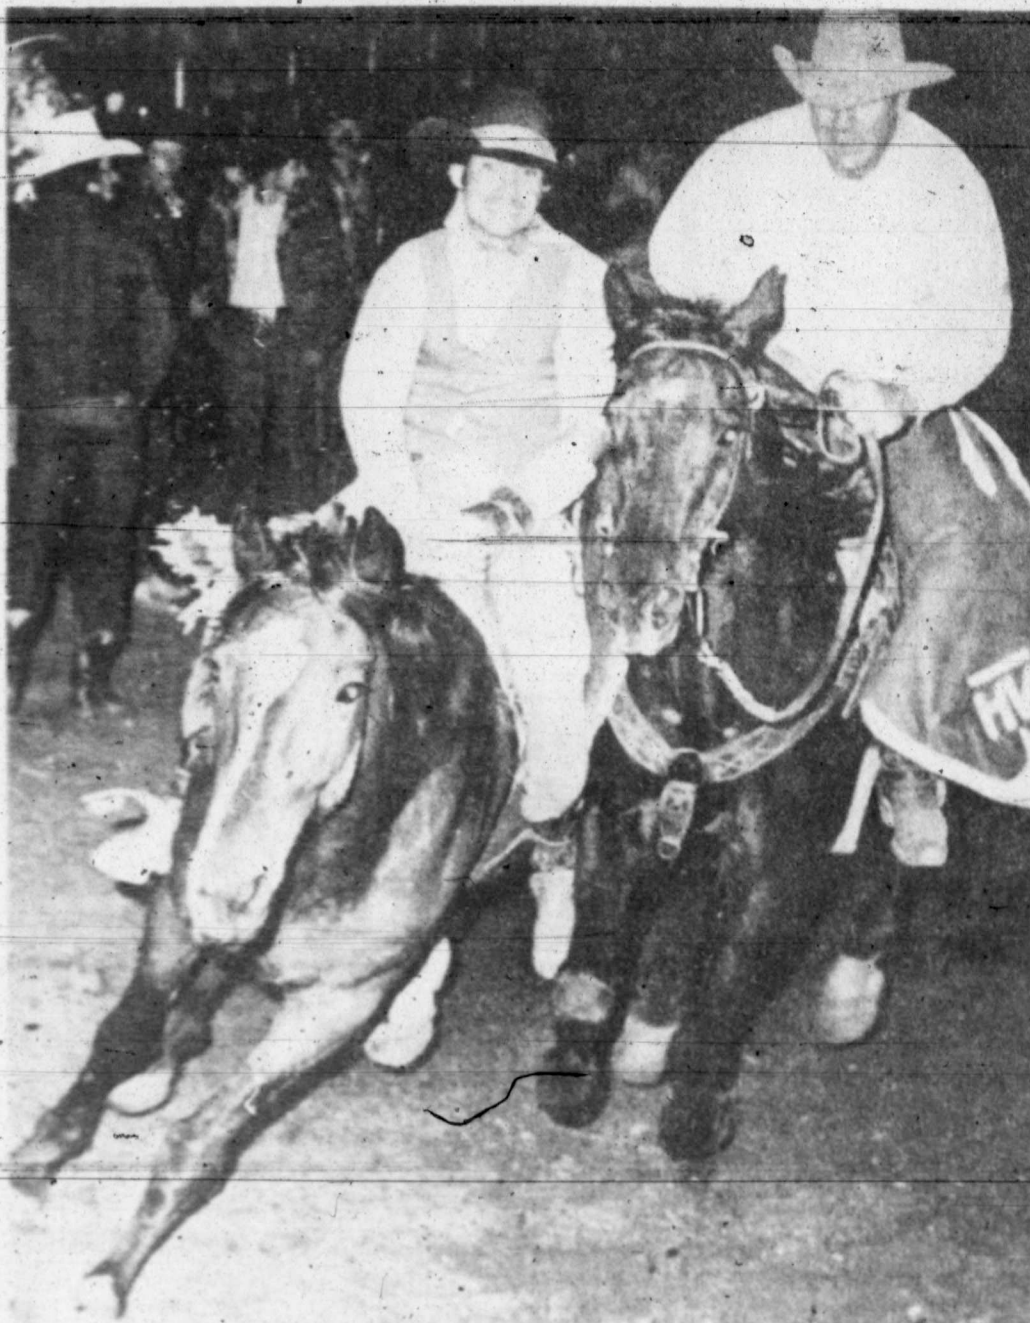

The source said the all-volunteer unit was known as the Delta team and was based at Fort Bragg, N.C.

nel, plus air crews. The mission included eight helicopters plus transport airplanes. Altogether, the mission was on Iranian soil for about three hours, he said.

The staging site for the operation was a remote landing area in the desert 200 miles from Tehran. Brown said the site was to be used for refueling.

The Pentagon chief said that depending upon the success of the force in reaching that site and refueling the helicopters, a second decision was to be made as to whether to go on to Tehran, where the Americans have been captive in the embassy for 174 days.

Brown said Defense officials knew the "long and arduous trip" to the desert site would tax the capacity of the helicopters, which were based on the aircraft carrier Nimitz, in the Arabian Sea.

Queen Named...

Collegians Launch Three-Day Rodeo

The first night of the Western Texas College-sponsored National Intercollegiate Rodeo got underway Thursday with cowboys and cowgirls from a dozen colleges and universities competing in events ranging from bull riding to breakaway roping.

Susan Tolbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Tolbert of Snyder, was named Western Texas College Rodeo Queen. About half a dozen girls competed for the honor.

Two more nights of the rodeo are scheduled, with showtime starting at 8 p.m. The rodeo is being staged at the Old Rodeo Grounds on West 30th St.

In bareback riding, it was James Garlick who took top honors with a 70-point ride. Rye Brower came in second with 64 points, and J.T. Henry, with a 59-point ride, placed third.

Best calf roper last night was a Tarleton State University cowboy, Ray Bonnell. He roped his calf in 10.40 seconds. Stacey Wilson of Weatherford College was second with 10.58 seconds, and Jeff Lewis, also of Tarleton State, trailed, to third place with 11.16 seconds.

The best breakaway roping time was 4.38 seconds, posted by Sherry Altizer of Howard College. A cowgirl from Texas Tech, Cindy Middleton, placed second with 4.50 seconds. LeAnn Gunter came in third with 4.92 seconds.

Stacey Wilson, who had placed second in calf roping, came in first in saddlebronc riding. His score in that event was 68 points. Cope Hopping of Texas Tech was next best with his score of 61 points. Steer wrestlers had a good night with Sam Koenig of Sul Ross leading the way with his time of 5.56 seconds. Jimmie Garcia of Eastern New Mexico University trailed with 7.11 seconds, and Guy Allen of Ranger Junior College came in third with 8.44 seconds.

Champion barrel racer was Othalee Bain of Eastern New Mexico University. (See Rodeo, Page 5)

Night Time To Move Up Clocks

It's time to prepare to set your watches and clocks up one hour.

The nation's semi-annual time change will take place officially at 2 a.m. Sunday when the nation goes on Daylight Savings Time for six months.

Most people, of course, will make the change before they retire Saturday night. Those who forget to do so will find themselves an hour behind time Sunday morning.

The spring change calls for moving clocks up one hour. If you change your time pieces at 10 p.m. Saturday night, for example, move them up to 11 p.m.

Daylight Saving Time will continue till the last Sunday in October when the nation will go back to Standard Time for the fall and winter season.

Ask Us

Q—Are write-in votes counted in primary elections?

A—Only for offices within the party organization, says County Clerk Beverly Ainsworth. These include county and precinct chairmen who are actually elected in the primaries. Candidates for county and precinct offices in the county government and for state and national government offices must have paid a filing fee and appear on the ballot to be counted. A write-in candidate can have votes counted in a general election if he declares himself as a candidate 30 days prior to the election and fulfills the campaign expense reporting requirements.

LULAC Meet Starts Tonight

Early registration for the district League of United Latin American Citizens' convention begins tonight at the Beacon Lodge motel, report organizers for the event.

The convention will be highlighted by a banquet Saturday night at the Scurry County Coliseum in which Tony Bonilla of Corpus Christi, the national executive director of LULAC, will be the featured speaker.

For the convention, approximately 230 to 250 persons are expected, said Ricardo Corrales, president of local LULAC Chapter 629. Guests at the convention are expected to come from Abilene, Brownwood, Coleman, Winters, Eola, Eden, Ozona, San Angelo, Odessa, Anson, and Stamford, he said.

Registration for the convention will be from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m. tonight in rooms 22 and 35 of the Beacon Lodge. Registration will be resumed Saturday morning at the Coliseum.

The Youth LULAC council will have a noon banquet Saturday at the coliseum. The keynote banquet, the one involving Bonilla, begins at 6:30 p.m.

The convention continues Sunday morning with a business meeting, then will adjourn.

Keeping tab on our neighbors. Noting that highway signs can't alert us to all of the hazards of driving, the Andrews County News cites these examples which you probably have encountered.

"If road signs could warn of their presence, they would spell out in large letters such potential obstacles as the creeper, the prowler and the dreamer. Not to mention the lover, the scenic cruiser and the lord of the road. Other unexpected hazards are confronted from time-to-time, including the tire-peeler, the milquetoast and the staller."

"None of these dangers needs definition. Experienced motorists have encountered all of them at some time. It is well to remember not all the highway pitfalls are listed in road markers."

"If you have been accused of snoring, this piece of information from Walter Buckel of the Lamesa Press-Reporter should interest you."

"Snoring is one of those accusations that we must merely take the word of someone about. If the guilty party desires, he can deny it from now 'til eternity simply because he's not aware of it. It's the one shortcoming of someone that is never evident until the person is sleeping."

"Only by electronic taping by a third party could you sufficiently document such a transgression. One on one isn't a majority. We've never known anyone yet to admit they snore as loudly as they are accused of doing."

"But, to get to the point: The next time your spouse or others accuse you of snoring, you might try explaining patiently that it's simply a matter of your soft palate vibrating placently against your posterior pharyngeal wall when you are relaxed in sleep. It may not stop them, but it sure will impress them!"

Friday update

British Plane Missing

LONDON (AP)—A chartered Boeing 727 plane bound for the Canary Islands carrying 146 mostly-British passengers was reported missing today by the British charter airline.

It was not immediately known if there were any Americans on board. A spokesman for the Dan-Air charter airline said its Manchester to Tenerife, Canary Islands, flight number DA1008 was more than three hours overdue at 11:30 a.m. EST.

Darvon Being Reconsidered

WASHINGTON (AP)—Darvon, the nation's most widely prescribed painkiller, is coming under renewed scrutiny by the federal government in a move that could sharply limit its availability at doctors' offices and drugstores.

The Drug Enforcement Administration said Thursday it already has tightened federal regulations on Darvon in pure, bulk form. The Food and Drug Administration is considering the same restrictions, including prohibiting telephone prescriptions and banning refills, for other, more common forms of Darvon. This would include the pills and capsules, plain or combined with other drugs, used by millions of Americans each year for pain ranging from headaches to toothaches.

Feds Control Nuclear Power

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—In a decision with implication for other states trying to control the use of atomic power, a federal judge ruled that the United States government has sole authority to regulate the nuclear power industry.

The ruling by U.S. District Judge Manuel Real struck down as unconstitutional three 1976 California laws, including one blocking new nuclear power plant construction until a waste disposal method is found, and all other laws relating to nuclear plants.

a real expense

In a day of computer printouts that keep your pay stub up to the minute and snatch an overdrawn check out of mid-air, the Federal budget doesn't even bother to tally how much is spent in a year on regulation of the U.S. economy.

The "prudent" fiscal 1981 budget, revealed in January, again failed to make such a calculation, to the dismay of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Through its own efforts, the Chamber combed through different agency figures to conclude that regulatory spending would rise by 12 percent, compared with an overall budget increase of 9 percent.

In periods of high inflation, regulatory activity has a sharp impact on the cost of doing business and consumer prices.

"A true regulatory budget must recognize the total cost of regulation," writes Martin Lefkowitz, senior economist for the Chamber. "Unfortunately, the budgeting process in this regard has been woefully deficient." In 1977, for example, the federal government budgeted $427 million to enforce pollution abatement and control but, in reality, total pollution control costs ran $37.5 billion, or 87 times the federal government regulatory expense.

Fortunately, the Office of Management and Budget, which has been working to curb overregulation by agencies, has now come forward with a legislative proposal that may recognize this shortcoming. The legislation, according to a news report, would establish the government's first system to assess the costs of federal regulation including compliance by business.

In times of double-digit inflation, such information is essential to help formulate policy. In fact, its absence helps explain why we are in deep trouble.

open and shut case

In promising continuing escalation of pressures on Iran, President Carter may not fully realize how difficult that defiant country's situation already is.

That is suggested by a revealing item in a Tehran newspaper, relayed to American media in a recent wire report.

There is a severe shortage of zippers. Foreign supplies have dwindled to virtually nothing and the price of even inferior local products has zoomed almost beyond reach, if any can be found by increasingly gap-conscious consumers.

It is a small item in itself, of course, and of small consequence to the larger spread between U.S. and Iranian positions. But it does suggest an answer to a current burning question - whether economic embargoes have any real impact upon a population.

On this evidence, it looks like an open and shut case.

Talking through a sheet of paper isn't always easy you know. Sometimes you speak more truth than you really intend to.

Take the nine year old who at the insistence of his mother sent a thank you note to his aunt.

"I love the book you sent me at Christmas. I have been reading it day and night and am now on page ten."

To another relative, he wrote: "Thank you for the fire injin. It's almost as good as the one I really wanted."

And finally, to a favorite uncle he penned: "I want to tell you how much I appreciate the gifts you have sent me in the past and especially those you intend to send me in the future."

The truth just sneaks in between the lines and there is obviously no growing out of it. Consider this entry from a high school yearbook describing one of the senior boys: "Hobbies include hunting, skiing and tinkering with his blue chevy and girlfriend Nancy."

Even our military leaders, who strive for exactness, have been known to fall prey to this nasty little trick of the subconscious. At least that appears to be the case judging from excerpts from army files where COs were asked to evaluate their young officers.

"This officer has talents but seems to keep them well hidden." "A quiet, reticent officer. Industrious, tenacious, careful and neat. I do not wish to have this officer as a member of my command at any time."

"His leadership is outstanding except for his lack of ability to get along with subordinates."

"Needs careful watching since he borders on the brilliant."

"Open to suggestions but never follows same."

"Never makes the same mistake twice but it seems to me he has made them all once."

There is only one group of people who can avoid these revealing little slips. That is us highly trained reporters. I can express a complete sentence in two paragraphs or less anytime.

Researchers are finally getting down to some real serious studies on the post-natal depression. Do you know what they've discovered?

You're not supposed to have a good time after the baby is born.

It's something a lot of us suspected, but were never really sure about: My post-natal depression was longer than most. I went into it seven months before the baby came and it lasted until the kid was 17. Then it began to taper off.

Had it not been for "As the World Turns" and pacifiers, I'd have slipped into humming and braiding my hair. Every day I'd put a pacifier into whatever part of his face was open, get a plate full of buttered noodles and sit in front of the TV set and watch someone who was worse off than I was.

Every time I went to the pediatrician, I'd try to search the faces of the other mothers for some sign of exhaustion. I only saw one mother "break," and that was when her son, a real hellion, had skated across the carpet "shocking" everyone with his static electricity, rearranged the furniture, licked the drinking fountain, taken a book away from another child, and finally submerged his hand in the aquarium.

She just sat there, numb, and finally said softly, "Think piranha."

Another rare moment of honesty that suggested motherhood was less than perfect came one Mother's Day in church when a new priest looked out and said to the mothers, "I know what you're thinking. You're tired. You feel pulled in nine different directions. You think no one understands you and you're saying to yourself, 'Mary and her one kid. Big deal!'"

According to the new theory, ambivalent feeling are perfectly natural. It doesn't mean you love your child any less, it means you're realistic about the demands on your personal life.

A new mother in Colorado wrote recently about her two children, ages two years and three months. She put the toddler on a potty seat so she could bathe the baby. She lathered up the baby when the meter man appeared. The dog suddenly went into heat. The phone rang. The toddler jumped up and overturned the potty on the new shag rug. He then stuck his head in between the washer and the wall to see what the meter reader was doing and got stuck. The baby got cold and began screaming. Strange dogs began running through the house. She moved the washer and her son emerged bleeding. "What would you do?" she asked. "I'd do now what I should have done years ago - cry!"

women on the rise

NEW YORK (AP)—The advance of women executives in major industrial corporation has turned sluggish in the past few years, but a younger group behind them is expected to reach the highest levels in the 1990s.

Prof. Eugene Jennings, whose microscope detects even the slightest mutations in corporate life, believes the younger group, five to seven years out of college, are much better equipped to reach the top.

Many of the older group, he states, received a sudden thrust forward in the 1970s because of the mood of the times. Few of them, he now finds, are equipped by work experience to maintain the momentum.

In addition, the professor found that few of them really were aiming for the top, and that many of them were in staff and support positions in which managerial duties and upward mobility are greatly limited.

Jennings, whose study "The Mobile Manager" is a management classic, and whose "Anatomy of Leadership" is esteemed or its insight into political and business leadership, feels the younger set is different.

"The corporations are not taking the same shortcuts with them," he says. "They are getting a broad base of experience, and they are given no breaks. The survivors are prepared to assume presidencies."

Jennings, professor of management at Michigan State University and confidential adviser to chairmen of blue chip corporations, recently studied the roles played by women executives making $40,000 or more.

He found 40 percent of them serving as corporate officers "who are in fact performing high status administrative assistant and secretarial responsibilities for the board of directors and other officers."

About 35 percent of them are in staff and support positions, including personnel, market planning, public relations and legislative affairs, rather than occupying general management and line jobs.

Of the remainder, only 8 percent were found to occupy jobs in which they carried responsibility for profit centers, such as management of a division, and able to remain upwardly mobile.

"While the prognosis for the older group is not good at this time the prospects for the younger group is exceptionally good," Jennings believes. Many of them, he says, will obtain the needed experience on the line - in jobs where they are responsible for a unit's performance.

People who can't afford allergies get hay fever.

WASHINGTON (NEA) - It is often said that various segments of the federal government work against each other. This is only too true.

Consider, if you will, the Department of Energy, whose sworn mission is to cut our nation's dependence on foreign oil by demanding that the automobiles on our roads achieve better and better gas mileage each year. Consider, at the same time, the Department of Transportation's National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, whose equally dedicated mission is to make those automobiles ever safer.

Do those missions conflict? Consider this example: Renault is one of Europe's major car manufacturers. Its products are the industry leaders in France and it has a major share of other European markets.

Of all the auto makers in the world, probably no other has a greater commitment to safety. So committed is Renault, in fact, that the company has a whole department that does nothing but work with the French police to study any accident in which there was a fatality involving one of its cars, including computer modeling of the accident to see if something can be learned to make its cars safer in the future.

Recently, Jacques Provensal, Renault's director of structural safety, came over from Paris to testify before a NHTSA hearing on a proposed rule that would require cars sold in the United States to have increased side protection to guard occupants from a lateral impact. Afterward, he noted:

"I am very concerned about what effect this rule will have on the overall design of our small car which we market in your country. To meet the proposed requirement, we will have to insert cross rails in the side of the car. This will add significant weight to the car."

Then our studies have shown that even if you were in a tank, if it is struck you will be injured unless surfaces are properly padded. So, we will have to add specially designed interior padding to both door sections of our cars. This, in turn, will add still more weight.

"But more importantly, it will cut down on the interior dimensions of our cars about 4 inches on each side. We have designed our cars to be competitive in the marketplace and one of the most important features in a small car is interior room. So, if we lose 8 inches from new padding, we will have to increase the width of the car by 8 inches. Now we really start to add weight.

"First, you will have additional structural steel. Then, since the car is now considerably heavier, we will have to put in a slightly larger engine to power it and larger brakes to stop it. This, in turn, will add additional weight. All told, we believe that to meet the proposed new side-impact standard, we will add some 100 kilos (220 pounds) to the car.

"Then, since the car is wider, it will have a larger (and heavier) glass area and will be less wind resistant. Given the combination of more weight and less wind resistance, our studies show that the redesigned car will lose 7 percent fuel economy."

Provensal went on to describe studies done by Renault showing the relatively low number of fatalities resulting from side impacts. While deaths do occur from such impacts, the Renault studies show that they are very infrequent and that the proposed rule would only eliminate a few of them.

"In Europe, with gasoline selling at well above $2 a gallon, fuel economy is a passion with auto makers." Provensal continued. "People will not buy your product unless it is the most fuel efficient possible."

"We spend millions a year in research trying to increase fuel economy even by a half a percent. So you can imagine we are rather startled when we see your regulation makers putting in one which, while it will make the car a little safer, will do so only at such a cost in fuel economy."

With our energy people demanding ever more fuel-efficient cars while our safety people are demanding ever more safe cars, Provensal sees dual missions that are at least partially in conflict: "We learned long ago that we can build the absolutely safest car or we can build the most efficient car, but not both. Some compromises have to be made. I wonder when your regulators will discover this."

ASTRO-GRAPH

Bernice Bede Osol

April 26, 1980

This coming year could be very exciting socially. Your chances for forming a number of new friendships are better than they have been for quite some time.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Attempting to sweep tasks under the rug or to leave them to the last minute will cause problems today. It could also create complications for persons involved with you. Romance, travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph Letter, which begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) When moving with friends today, avoid discussing subjects where people feel forced to take sides. Debates could put a damper on everyone's fun.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Airing personal family matters could be a serious mistake today. Outsiders have no place in your domestic affairs.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Think twice before criticizing the ideas of others today. Thoughtless remarks will open you up to a counterattack.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Before taking on any new expenses today, be certain you can handle your current liabilities. Commit yourself only if there is a surplus.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you permit others to do your thinking for you today you'll end up being like a straw in the wind, drifting from one direction to another.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Carry your share of the burdens today, but don't attempt to take on more than you can manage. Let everyone do their part.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Be very careful today not to show partiality in dealing with friends. You'll lose the admiration of pals who feel neglected.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) It's important to guard against a defeatist attitude today. Being too fearful of challenge may cause you to lose before you begin.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Even though you may secretly feel your ideas are superior to those of others today, don't let them know it. Put downs will leave lasting scars.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Someone may request financial assistance today and your heart could rule over your head. Be helpful, but don't give what you can't afford.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Normally, friends have no trouble knowing exactly where you stand on important issues. Today, however, your indecisiveness may leave them completely confused.

Sunshine Choir Entertains B&PW Club's Dinner Party

Mrs. W.C. (Ina) Fargason served as the program coordinator for the April meeting of Business and Professional Women's Club. She introduced Gloria Shaw, who presented the Sunshine Choir from the Senior Citizens Center. Directed by John Wiman and accompanied at the piano by Virginia Whitson, the group entertained with a repertoire of songs. Favorites included "Color My World," "Amores," "A.B.C. How I Love You," "Be Glad You Grew Old" and a new selection, "Let There Be Peace."

Friendship was the theme for the club's dinner party Tuesday at the Martha Ann Woman's Club. Tables were decorated with arrangements of irises which stand for friendship. Members traded irises following the meeting. Handwritten plate favors gave classic quotations from poets and literary authors which were read during the evening meal. The menu featured colors of the rainbow. Nellie Smith led the collect.

Mrs. Fargason introduced her guest, Mrs. Howard (Garnet) Quiett. Eva Victor presided for the business session. Fay McCollum gave a report concerning the cancer drive. Members were urged by MAWC representative to attend and make donations for the MAWC's Annual Spring Brunch honoring its founders and life members May 3.

Frances Brown was appointed to chairman a special donation to the Veterans' Hospital. Mrs. Jimmie Cooper and Ethel Mae Sturdivant were leaders for a special meeting for nomination of next year's officers. The club members noted that B&PW is ending its 30th year and voted awards for club service. Receiving academy award-type recognition were Mrs. Lee Weaver photography; Nellie Smith, leadership and contributions of handwork; Frances Brown, for December dinner meeting and for records; Laurie Haines for the Polish cookies and knitted shawls at the bazaar; Ethel Mae Sturdivant, art donations and yearbooks; Faye McCollum for hospitality and scrapbook; Ina Fargason, outstanding programs Clemy Andress, public relations and arranging book sales; and Eva Victor was selected Woman of the Year.

OES Elects Officers

Order of Eastern Star Snyder Chapter No. 450 members met recently at the Lodge Hall. Election of officers highlighted the meeting. Loraine Tipping was elected worthy matron and worthy patron is W.O. Tipping. Other officers elected were Oliveyne Hayes, associate matron; David Hayes, associate patron; Clemy Andress, secretary; Maxie McNew, treasurer; Bea Trevey, conductress; Ruth Cowan, associate conductress.

Bess DeLoach, Electa. Refreshments were served by Pauline Lyle, Shirley Jones and Clemy Andress.

Square Dance Set Saturday

Sparkle City Squares will have a square dance Saturday, 8 p.m. at the National Guard Armory with Dean Rogers, of Mineral Wells, caller. Bob and Joan Stewart and Buster and Jean Taylor will serve as hosts and hostesses.

Let dishes air-dry in the dishwasher. This will reduce the amount of energy used by the appliance, since the drying cycle uses much of the energy required by the dishwasher.

Union HE Group Meets

The Union Extension Homemakers met recently for a program on the metric system given by Wanda Kennemer.

Attending were Brenda Lee, Virginia Bloom, Janet Spence, Mrs. Kennemer, and guests were Pauline Williams, Kay Clawson, Marta Hank and Sonia Hanks.

The club voted to have a monthly craft day on Saturday following their regular meeting each second Monday night of the month. Hostess duty was won by Mrs. Clawson.

Mrs. Spence was elected to represent the group at the state convention in San Antonio in October. The club discussed a possible date and place for a garage sale to be announced later.

At the club's March meeting, Mrs. Spence was hostess with members Bloom, Kennemer and Williams attending. They heard a program on rabies control by Paula Pierce. Mrs. Williams won the hostess gift.

End play reinforces odds

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

If the North-South hand was given as a play problem, most people would think it was an example of a simple finesse. Either the queen of diamonds is on side and South makes 10 tricks, or the queen is with East and South goes down in his soup four-spade contract.

However, our declarer made his game despite the diamond queen's position. The defense started with three rounds of hearts. Declarer ruffed the third heart and drew trumps in 13 rounds ending in the dummy. He ruffed the fourth heart in his hand and set the stage for an end play.

South cashed his club ace and exited with his remaining small club. Whoever won this trick would have to break the diamond suit. Any other return would yield a ruff and sluff to declarer.

If East wins the club trick, declarer is immediately cold for his contract. East would have to lead a diamond into North's tenace. However, West won the club trick and led a low diamond.

Now the reason for South's careful play becomes obvious. When South plays low from dummy, East's queen is trapped. South's nine of diamonds becomes significant. By this line of play, South makes his game whenever West has either the queen or the 10 of diamonds. Declarer has effectively doubled his original simple finesse for the diamond queen. # Pentagon Reports Missile Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP)—A reported shortage of air-to-air missiles on two U.S. carriers stationed near the Persian Gulf is likely to bolster congressional arguments for higher defense spending in the 1981 budget.

Pentagon sources said Thursday the Navy has had to scrounge for air-to-air missiles to arm warplanes aboard the carriers sent to the Persian Gulf region. "We've had to draw from other areas and put most of our eggs in the Indian Ocean basket," said one source who asked to remain anonymous.

One of the Pentagon's leading allies on Capitol Hill, Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., said the shortage is evidence that the warships "don't really have what they need if they get into a confrontation with Soviet ships."

"This is one of the manifold shortages that we face in all of our services," said Stratton, a member of the House Armed Services Committee. Russell Hale, a committee staff aide, said the Navy did not have enough Phoenix air-to-air missiles for "more than one or two sorties" on either carrier. Two battle groups, formed around the carriers Coral Sea and Nimitz, were deployed to the area after militants took 50 Americans' hostage in the U.S. Embassy in Tehran Nov. 4. Three others were being held elsewhere in Iran. Discussion of the reported missile shortage came Thursday prior to word of the aborted U.S. attempt to rescue the hostages by military force — an operation that claimed the lives of eight U.S. servicemen. Pentagon sources said shortages of Phoenix, Sidewinder and Sparrow missiles are the result of several years of the Carter administration trimming budgetary requests for such weapons, used for fleet defense.

city. She posted an 18.25 time, followed by Crill Pearson's time of 18.81 and Kelly Hawkins' 19.17.

In team roping, the duo of Guy Allen-Brian Ellenburg, a pair of Ranger Junior College cowboys, came in with a 6.83 time. Tim Trimable and Barry Tinstad, both of South Plains College, placed second with 8.27 seconds. Coming in third were Gib Bell and Cliff Kirkpatrick of Howard College with a time of 8.41.

In bull riding, possibly the most dangerous event in rodeo, Lee Newman of Sul Ross scored an impressive 73-point ride. He was followed by Tony Wampler of Cisco Junior College with his score of 67 points and J.T. Henry of Texas Tech with his score of 59 points.

OBITUARIES

Ed Bowie

Funeral arrangements were pending this morning at Bell-Seale Funeral Home for Ed Bowie, 91, of Colorado City. He died at 5:50 a.m. today in Kristi Lee Manor at Colorado City.

A native of Winona, he was married on Oct. 6, 1963, to Snyder to Lula Clark. She survives. Also surviving is a grandson, Harry Copeland of El Paso.

Lloyd Rites

Funeral service has been set for 2 p.m. Saturday at Colonial Hill Baptist Church for Raymond D. Lloyd, 73, who died Wednesday night in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

The Rev. Miller F. Robinson will officiate and burial will be in Hillside Memorial Gardens, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home. Sons and sons-in-law will be pallbearers.

Mrs. Bantau

Services for Mrs. Morse Bantau of Abilene will be at 11 a.m. Saturday at First Central Presbyterian Church in Abilene.

Mrs. Bantau, who was the sister of Edgar Taylor and aunt of Mrs. Wilson Howell both of Snyder, died Thursday in West Texas Medical Center.

Born Jan. 2, 1889, she was the daughter of the late John and Saronia Taylor, pioneer residents of Ira. She attended school at Ira and studied organ in Colorado City. She married Morse Bantau Sr. on Dec. 24, 1917 in Ira. She had lived in Abilene since 1926.

Dr. Roy H. Zuefeldt and Dr. Billy P. Smith, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church in Fort Worth, will officiate at the funeral service. Burial will be in Elmwood Memorial Park, directed by Mabene Allen Funeral Home.

Others surviving include two daughters, Mrs. Eugene Surface and Mrs. Grady Henderson, both of Abilene; a son, Morse Jr. of Fort Worth and four grandchildren.

Out of the dozens of different varieties of catfish, only two varieties are found in salt water, according to the Miami Seaquarium. The salt-water catfish can cause extremely painful wounds with the sharp spines they have on their dorsal and pectoral fins.

Announce Grant For Deaf School

State Representative Mike Ezzell and Dr. Charles Hays, President of Howard College, today announced a grant in the amount of 1.5 to 1.75 million dollars for the Southwest Institute for the Deaf. The grant will come from the Texas Education Agency. The money is being made available through the 1980 monies set aside for Education in Texas for the handicapped and disabled with additional funds for adult education. The funding is the first to go to a school for the deaf in the Southwest. The grant will specifically serve the deaf community at a post secondary level. Deputy Commissioner

Raymond Bynum of the Texas Education Agency commended Howard College for its pioneering efforts in this field. Dr. Hays said, "this grant firms up the establishment of the Southwest Institute for the Deaf and guarantees our fall opening." He also was told that the state grant will help the college get federal funds, which are being pushed by Senator Lloyd Bentsen. Rep. Ezzell expressed satisfaction with the grant by pointing out today's announcement which climaxes 42 months of efforts to secure financing. Previously the only other grant available to the institute was in the amount of $20,000 from the Dora Roberts Foundation.

Burglars May Have Taken Band Uniforms

Snyder police say they are checking into the possibility that 20 band uniforms and about $150 missing from Snyder High School may have been taken earlier this week in a break-in. The break-in was reported Monday, but it was not believed at first that anything was taken. Police said they are still checking the matter out.

In a minor traffic accident Thursday, a parked 1965 Chevrolet owned by Marilyn Burton was struck by a vehicle which left the scene. The accident was reported at 8:40 a.m. in the 4000 block of College Ave. It was investigated by Sgt. Jerry Parker.

Dear Abby

This Fantasy Needs Weaker Signal

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been happily married for 16 years. My problem is that since before we were married I've had a crush on my husband's older brother, whom I'll call Arnold. It seems ridiculous at my age (39) to admit this, but it's true. Arnold is 42 and seems happily married.

Arnold and I have the same interests, share the same opinions, and we seem to have much more in common than he has with his wife or I with his brother.

Not that it's important, but even members of the family have commented on how much alike Arnold and I are. I'm ashamed to say that I've often wondered what it would be like to go to bed with him.

How do I put this man out of my mind? And why do I still fantasize about him after so many years?

I love my husband, and at times feel that my feelings about his brother could be considered infidelity. It would be a great relief to have an answer soon.

OLD-TIME CRUSH

DEAR CRUSH: Fantasizing is a far cry from acting out, so don't feel guilty. Unless you're looking for trouble, avoid fantasizing in Arnold's presence. He could be operating on the same wavelength and pick up your signal.

DEAR ABBY: I have just graduated from college and am thinking about getting married. I have a girlfriend whom I love very much, but I am afraid if I marry her I will also be marrying her mother.

My girlfriend is 24, and she still tells her mother everything! When she's not at home with her mother, she calls her on the phone just to "talk" or "ask her advice." She has never made an important decision without consulting her mother first. She freely admits she doesn't have any self-confidence, and she needs her mother for support.

Abby, I can give her all the support she needs, and if she wants to talk things over, she has me to talk with. I think at 24, it's time she cut the cord between her and her mother. What do you think?

ME IN NYC

DEAR ME: I think you're right. If you marry this woman now you will be competing with her mother. So unless she changes her priorities, don't rush out to buy a ring. — it might end up through your nose.

DEAR ABBY: You recently asked how the children should be named if both parents retained their own names.

Both my wife and I kept our own names, and we agreed that our children will be named in this way: Girls will take their mother's last name, and boys will take my last name. This seems both fair and sensible.

We rejected using both our names, hyphenated, because it would be too cumbersome. And we didn't want to give our children a new name unrelated to ours.

M.H. IN IOWA CITY

DEAR M.H.: Your solution makes sense. Read on for another solution:

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are professional people, each with a separate identity, so we decided that I should keep my maiden name after we married. What to name our children was no problem. My last name was used as our children's middle name; their last name is the same as their father's.

TWO ATTORNEYS IN S.F.

CONFIDENTIAL TO G.C.: If you are going to the hospital and prefer that no one know you are there, under the Privacy Act you have the right to request that your name not be listed on the switchboard.

Methodists To Fight Suits

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The United Methodist Church says it is willing to spend $4 million over the next four years fighting collective church liability lawsuits that it says imperil its existence and operations and "threaten all other religious denominations."

The church's governing conference appropriated the money Thursday to fight lawsuits that want the entire church held liable for losses from the 1978 bankruptcy of Pacific Homes, a chain of retirement and health care facilities.

The 14 facilities, serving

1,900 residents in Southern California, Arizona and Hawaii, are affiliated with the Southwest Conference regional unit of the church.

The class-action suits, the largest of which goes on trial in San Diego on June 16, claim the Methodist-affiliated operation had been warned as early as 1954 that its resources were improperly handled. Pacific Homes sold life-care contracts to old people, many wealthy Methodists retirees, but failed to set aside adequate long term reserves, the suits charge.

Uruguay gained its independence in 1828.

HOSTESSES—These Fluvanna residents served as hostesses for an RSVP Spring Fling Thursday in the Fluvanna Community Center. Shown are Pearl Reeder, Sue Jones, Cora Patterson, Ruby Benson, Lovie Gatewood, Pearl Warren, Mamie Lemmons and Alpha Jean Pylant. Fried chicken was featured on the menu, with a variety of salads and desserts provided by the hostesses and visitors.

1st Spring Fling Held For RSVP

Members of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program and their guests met for luncheon and games at the Fluvanna Community Center Thursday.

The gathering was titled a Spring Fling, and is one of three planned for the enjoyment of RSVP members and their guests, and to introduce prospective new members to the organization.

The RSVP program in Scurry County is sponsored by Western Texas College and membership is open to all men and women 60 years of age and older who enjoy doing volunteer work in the community. There are no membership dues and no meetings to attend. Marsha Krenek, RSVP director emphasizes, although there are social gatherings from time to time RSVP members are informed of opportunities for volunteer work through the RSVP office and may choose to work at one of more of the work stations listed there.

A Spring Fling is scheduled from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the In-Community Center Tuesday, and a similar program is scheduled in the Hermleigh Community Center on May 2. Persons who would like to attend either or both may contact the RSVP office at 573-0144 for details and to make arrangements for transportation.

Lt. Clay Scogin from the Snyder Police Department was a special guest for the Thursday program. He presented a film on making homes secure against intruders and other aspects of personal protection, then answered questions from those attending.

Roby Church Plans Building

ROBY—Members of First United Methodist Church in Roby have voted to build a new sanctuary.

A favorable vote resulted after all members were given prior notice that the proposal would be put to a vote.

The basement of the present church building was started in 1925 during the pastorate of the Rev. Joe Boyd. The Rev. E.L. Yeats finished the basement in 1927, doing much of the work himself. The basement has been remodeled since that time and it will continue to be used after some renovation.

The present sanctuary was built in 1939 when the Rev. Elmer Crabtree was pastor. Leading to the sanctuary are steep steps which members feel are hazardous to the elderly and handicapped. This, along with the age of the building, prompted members to rebuild.

Members have been asked to pledge money as a down payment and to continue pledges either monthly or yearly.

A finance drive is now underway so that members or any other interested persons may donate money to the church. Donations may be mailed to First United Church, Box 386, Roby 79543.

A project to raise money for the new church is "The Country Store," located on the square in Roby. It is something like a huge garage sale and is operated by members of the church, with items donated for sale by everyone in the community. The store is open every Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturday till noon.

Four From WTC Attend Conference

Four Western Texas College faculty members participated in a conference on teaching history at Texas Tech University.

Dr. Harry Krenek, professor of history and sociology, read a paper titled "The Cloze Procedure As A Means of Determining Reading Ability and Comprehension of Historical Material."

Dr. James Palmer, Dr. William Cumiford and Dr. Franklin Pruitt appeared as panelists for a discussion of "The Problems and Prospects of Teaching History at the Rural Community College." Palmer is Social Science Division chairman and professor of history and geography. Cumiford is associate professor of history and government. Pruitt is professor of history and government.

Robert V. Remini from the University of Illinois was keynote speaker for the conference luncheon. His speech dealt with the idea that the major goal in teaching history is to generate enthusiasm in the students involved.

Educators from several states, including Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Colorado, Louisiana, Virginia and New York, attended the session.

WTC Yearbook Earns Honors For Excellence

WTC's yearbook, Trailblazer 1979, swept general excellence honors at the 56th Annual Rocky Mountain Collegiate Press Assn. Conference April 18-19 in Denver, Colo. The publication was judged best in Division C, including all member junior colleges of the 10-state RMCRA.

It also earned seven individual awards, including first places for theme and black and white photo, seconds for layout and picture story, and thirds for copy, use of color and sports photo.

Editor was Connie Jones, Colorado City graduate. The Western Texan, campus newspaper, received third place in Division E general excellence, but entries in 25 individual categories had not been judged by conference time. Results are expected to be mailed within a week.

Editor last year was Rocky Alexander, San Angelo graduate. Editors this fall were Sheila Sandbothe, Arson sophomore, and Monette Sentell, Snyder sophomore. Editor this spring is Lois Gleason, Snyder sophomore.

Representing WTC at the convention were Gleason (newspaper), Gerald Colbert (Press Club) and Dr. Mike McBride, publications adviser. Gleason competed in Journalist of the Year live competition. She entered news, editorial and feature writing April 16 at the Airport Village Motor Hotel.

Keynote luncheon speakers were Martin Kasindorf, Newsweek Los Angeles Bureau Chief, and Bill Hornby, editor of The Denver Post.

Convention co-hosts were Adams State College, Alamosa, Colo., and Larimer County Community College, Cheyenne, Wyo. Next year's conference will be at Cheyenne.

Carson Purchases Hotel, Casino

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Now Johnny Carson has some place to go on his frequent absences from his "Tonight Show." He and hotel executive Ed Nigro bought the Aladdin Hotel and its casino for $103 million.

The Aladdin's owners have been under order to sell because of violations of hidden ownership laws designed to keep organized crime out of the legalized gambling business.

If state gaming officials approve the deal, it will be "Johnny Carson's Aladdin."

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

She's depressed

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm a 19-year-old girl. About a year ago I lost my boyfriend. My whole life changed. I gained weight and my menstrual cycles became irregular. Now I can't lose the weight that I've gained and my menstrual cycles have never returned to normal. Also I'm sluggish and tired all the time. I'd like to lose weight and regain my energy but I just don't seem to be able to do it. I feel like I lost everything when I lost my boyfriend. I've tried diet pills and everything else and nothing helps.

I've had complete medical examinations and they're all perfectly normal. My doctor put me on birth control pills to try to regulate my periods and I'm afraid that they will cause me to gain even more weight. I'm home almost every night because I lack friends and I'm basically a shy individual. Could you give me any advice for what I can do for my situation?

DEAR READER — Yours is a fairly typical story of a young person who has been rejected in love. When you lose someone, either because the person withdraws or through death, it's not uncommon to grieve, or to state it another way, to become depressed.

Although you've told me about your weight gains and other changes you've experienced, the underlying problem is undoubtedly a mild depression. That's also why your energy has been sapped. A depressed person doesn't have energy.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 10-10, Depression: The Ups and Downs of Life, so you can have a better understanding of what has happened to you. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Of course, gaining weight is directly related to eating more calories than you need. Your desire to eat more calories is probably related to a mild depression. Rather than suggesting that you go on a rigorous diet — which you might overdo — I would like to see you get some professional help for your depressive reaction. A return to a normal life-style might change your eating and exercising habits for you.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Is there any danger involved in removing a healthy mole? That is one that has not changed color or shape. It seems I've heard that it's better not to tamper with them unless they show signs of change. Can their removal lead to any dangerous condition?

DEAR READER — It's wise to surgically remove moles that are constantly being irritated. That includes moles that are on the face in a man who must shave or on the shoulder, where it's being irritated by a strap. There's absolutely no danger involved in the surgical removal of such moles.

Removal prevents any changes that could lead to cancer.

Any mole that shows any change whatsoever in color, size or shape should be evaluated immediately and, in most instances, removed surgically. Such changes can be an indication of a malignant melanoma which is a severe form of cancer.

Scouts From 13 Units Involved In Exposition

The Boy Scout and Cub Scout Exposition held this past Saturday at the National Guard Army in Towle Park, drew scouts from throughout the Lone Buffalo District, report Scout officials.

A total of 13 units, composed of eight Cub Scout packs and five Boy Scout troops, participated in the event.

At the exposition, a second place ribbon was awarded to Pack 258, and first place ribbons went to Packs 311, 37, 2, 36, 124, 177, and 61. First place ribbons were awarded to Troops 124, 27, 107, 311, and 9.

Presidential Ribbons were presented to Pack 37 and Troop 107.

Top ticket salesmen were Eric Nachtinger, Troop 311. He sold 60 tickets and was awarded a reprint of the 1929 Scout Patrol Handbook. J.D. Smith, Pack 177, was named top pack salesman for selling 170 tickets. He was also presented an award for being the top ticket salesman in the district. That award was a scout medallion on a stand.

Pack 177 sold 460 tickets and Troop 27 sold 297 tickets. They were given blue ribbons for their ticket sales.

Below are the results of the Pinewood Derby.

Phillips People Urged To Move

PHILLIPS (AP)—Residents are being urged to move and take their houses with them in the wake of a refinery explosion that damaged every building in this tiny company town three months ago.

Phillips Petroleum Co. spokesman Jim Ormsby said company officials do not think any more explosions are likely at the huge refinery, but because of the potential risk every homeowner living on company property is being urged to relocate.

The company is offering a $2,200 subsidy to help pay for moving the houses, and another $1,500 for personal relocation expenses. In addition, Ormsby said Thursday, residents who are Phillips Petroleum Co. employees will get an extra 25 percent for income tax protection.

A Jan. 20 explosion injured 34 persons and caused structural damage to every house in Phillips, Ormsby said.

It was the second accident at the plant in a four-month span, following an October 1979 gas leak that killed two plant workers.

The company owns an undeveloped plot of land west of Berger, and has said some residents could put their houses there.

PUBLIC NOTICES

NOTICE OF INTENT TO CHANGE RATES

The LONE WOLF ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE, INC. has filed an application with the Texas Public Utilities Commission, Austin, Travis County, Texas, for a rate increase applicable to each class of service available to its consumers. This rate increase is proposed to become effective on the first day of July, 1980 or the date of approval by the Texas Public Utilities Commission, whichever is later.

The proposed increase in gross revenue that the Cooperative expects the rate to produce is 6.94 percent.

NOTICE OF HEARING CONTINUATION OF VARIANCE CASE No. V-534

Pensioners Overpaid, VA Reports

Many veterans and widows of veterans are now learning that they were paid larger disability or death pension benefits in 1979 than they were actually entitled to receive, E.H. (Dan) Dever, Jr., Scurry County Veterans Service Officer, said.

These pension benefits are paid by the Veterans Administration to eligible wartime veterans and to the unmarried spouses of such veterans. Most cases involving the overpayments are occurring where a veteran or widow elected to change from an old pension to the new one which went into effect Jan. 1, 1979. Under the new law, practically all types of income are counted when determining pension eligibility. In addition, the new law calls for "family income," where previous laws referred to the countable income of the individual veteran or widow.

Under the new law, it is important that claimants keep the VA advised of any changes in their income. This applies to all types of income with the exception of Social Security, although if there is a new Social Security account in the family it must be reported. It is the claimant's responsibility to notify the VA when income is increased.

Persons needing information about VA benefits may contact Dever's office in the Western Texas College Administration Building or call the office at 573-8511, extension 212.

Officials Doubt Small Pox Case

MILAN, Italy (AP)—Local medical authorities reported what could be the world's first case of smallpox in three years, although officials at the Italian Health Ministry and World Health Organization were skeptical.

"We have had innumerable reports of suspected smallpox cases from all over the world in recent years," said Gino Levy, spokesman for the WHO, which declared last October that the once-dreaded disease had been eradicated. "All have been thoroughly checked and disproved one after the other."

Snyder Could Finish Well, But...

Ector Favored At Regional

ODESSA—Ector High School, which boasts top speed in almost every running event, has to be the favorite for title honors at the class 3A, Region I Track and Field Meet here this weekend. Preliminaries in the 120-yard and 330-yard hurdles were to be held at 3:30 and 5:30 p.m. today. All other running events and field events will be held Saturday, beginning at 1 p.m. The meet will be at W.T. Barrett Stadium.

While Ector figures to bag the team championship, Snyder High School will delegate itself to finishing as high as possible, and qualifying as many athletes to the state meet as it can.

"It doesn't sound too good to say it, I know, but it looks like Ector will win the thing," said Snyder track coach Winfred Shipp this week. "Dunbar will be next probably, followed by Snyder along with Canyon and Estacado."

Shipp's not projecting a poor showing by the Tigers. In fact, third place could qualify as many as four Snyder athletes to state, possibly five. But Ector figures to get 70-80 points in the annual meet, and could possibly receive more. The Odessa school boasts one of the fastest 100 meter runners in the state in 10.3 sprinter James Ricks, who also runs a strong 330 yard hurdles and adds power to the school's sprint relay team.

Jones Says 'No,' Others Different

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas Cowboys are ready, willing and eager to have Ed "Too Tall" Jones back in the lineup next season.

"I have said before we would welcome him back with open arms," said Cowboy president Tex Schramm, "and I reiterate it."

"I think he is serious as far as wanting to do something else instead of boxing," Schramm said. "I think he's serious about wanting to come back."

The 6-9, 270-pound defensive end said when he announced his retirement from football that boxing had always held a stronger appeal for him than football.

Jones has had six fights in the past year, and won all six, but has not fought since a Jan. 22 knockout of Billy Joe Thomas in Indianapolis.

In a conversation with the Dallas Times Herald, Jones denied he was leaving the ring. "I'm only concentrating on one thing—boxing," he said.

But Jones' agent, Don Cronson, was telling another version, according to Schramm.

"We had one conversation in which we were told he probably would like to come back to football," Schramm said. Jones' boxing manager, Dave Wolf, told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, in a copyright story, he advised his fighter to quit boxing after the Nevada Boxing Commission refused to sanction two of his fights.

has two of the area's best 880 and 1600 men in Trent and Tony Gambol, some strong entries in the high hurdles and shot put, and a fine mile relay team. Lubbock Dunbar is the choice for second place, but the Panthers will be dependant on their relay teams for an expected 65 points. Dunbar currently holds the region's fastest time in the 1600 relay with a 3:14.9, and ranks second in the sprint with a 41.8. The Panthers also boast speed in the 220 and 440, among over events.

Canyon and Snyder, along with Lubbock Estacado, should vie for third place. Each is expected to receive 48-60 points.

Estacado's claim to fame, like Ector, is a wealth of speed. Kelvin White, who has also run the 100 meters in 10.3, is expected to give Ricks his best test of the year. And, also in the same mold as Ector and Dunbar, Estacado should finish well in the relays. The Matadors hold the region's best sprint relay time of 41.6—worth 20 points Saturday if they can pull off a blue ribbon.

Relays are the area in which Snyder and Canyon will suffer most, and the reason neither has been considered a real threat to the title. Snyder has no entry in the sprint relay, and Canyon was unable to qualify in either race. As with all other UIL meets, relays will count double points for Saturday's meet.

But Snyder expects to do well with its entries, which include the 220, 440, 120 and intermediate hurdles, high jump, long jump, pole vault, 100, shot put and mile relay.

The Tigers return three state qualifiers in long jumper Thomas Selmon, high jumper Brad Richardson and vaulter Dale Jenkins, and hope to qualify in those events again this year. Other possible qualifiers are Lloyd Benson in the 220 and 440 and Keith McClain in the hurdles.

It is certainly not unforeseeable that Snyder could finish above third, particularly if relay-dependant Dunbar and Estacado falter in those events.

Canyon, like Snyder, must rely on individual strengths in the hurdles, 220, pole vault and weights to finish high in the 19-team field.

Western Searches Today For Conference Crown

ROSSELL, N.M.—Western Texas College's Westerners, currently leading the WJCAC with 24 points, were to conclude their search for a fourth conference championship here today.

Today's 18 holes were to comprise the final Western JC Athletic Conference golf tournament of the season. Held in conjunction with the meet will be a 54-hole regional tournament today and tomorrow.

First and second place winners in the region tourney will qualify for the upcoming national tournament. Western Texas has advanced to the NJCAA national tourney three previous years, finishing fifth, ninth and sixth. Western Texas needed a first or second place finish in the conference meet to become WJCAC champions once again. The Westerners were in a position to win the title with a third place showing here, but that could mean New Mexico Junior College, 22 1/2 points, would have to finish second or below.

In third place in WJCAC standings is Midland College with 21 1/2 points. Odessa College is in fourth with 21.

Today's meet was also important as to individual standings. The top ten players in the conference are automatically named to the all-conference team.

Coach Bob O'Day's Westerners had six individuals in the top 20; Jeff Wagner, tied for first; Richard White, fifth; Ken Lawrence, ninth; Chris Johnson, 15th; Scott Barrett, 17th; and Mike Mahan, 18th.

Golfers Tuning Up; Pump Jack At Tee Box

Competitors were to stage practice rounds today in preparation for the annual Pump Jack Invitational Golf Tournament held this weekend at Snyder Country Club.

Among the featured players are last year's runner-up team in the Championship Flight, Larry Anderson and Don Copeland of Snyder.

The 36-hole, two-day tournament gets underway at 8:30 a.m. Saturday with a shotgun start in the Championship, First and Second flights. Teams competing in the Third, Fourth, and Fifth flights will tee off at 1:30 p.m.

A buffet for golfers and their wives, followed by special entertainment and dance, will be held Saturday evening.

Sunday's action begins at 9 a.m. with the Third, Fourth and Fifth flights. The Championship, First and Second flights will get going at 2 p.m.

As usual, the tournament expects a large group of area golfers. Officials did note that the tournament was getting competition from a couple of other area meets also being held this weekend. As of Thursday, 38 teams had expressed intent to play. The meet would be considered full with 60 teams.

Last year, Snyder dominated the tournament, winning four of the six flights. Championship winners were Bill Moss and Ronnie Huckabee of Monahans with a 131. Taking the prize in the First Flight were Snyder's Jerry Jackson and Rick Rose with a 144.

A tie for first place occurred in the Second Flight, where Dan Gallagher and Larry Hildreth of Snyder turned in a 75-75 and partners Clyde Hall of Denver City carded a 73-77.

Bear Hardin and Don Sealy of Snyder won the Third Flight with a 149, while Bill Winborn and Ray Browning of Pampa won the Fourth Flight with a 155.

The Fifth Flight also ended in a tie between Bryce Booker and Rod Waller of Snyder and John Rosenhoover of Snyder and Joe Melton of Midland. Both teams shot a 167.

Women Golfers Set Annual Tournament

Snyder Country Club Women's Golf Association will hold their 25th annual Invitational Golf Tournament April 29.

Thirty-two teams will be invited according to individual handicaps in a low-ball partnership.

Special prizes will be awarded for the longest drive in No. 1 fairway, and nearest to the pin on No. 5. Following play, luncheon and awards presentation will be held.

The tournament will include players from Brownfield, Lubbock, Abilene, Midland, Tahoka, Hamlin, Winters, Matador and Snyder.

A 9 p.m. shotgun start will open the annual tournament.

Redlegs Scheduled

Snyder Redlegs will host San Angelo for double header baseball action beginning at 1:30 Sunday in the North Park.

The Redlegs are 2-0 on the season.
