To Foil Further Rescue Attempts...

Iran Disperses Hostages

By The Associated Press
The American hostages are being held in several places in Tehran and will be dispersed to cities throughout Iran to foil another possible U.S. military rescue attempt, Iranian President Bani-Sadr confirmed today.

Iranian President Bani-Sadr confirmed the militants' earlier announcement at a news conference where he also said Iran will turn over to the United States, without condition, the bodies of the eight Americans killed Friday when the mission was preparing to depart Iran.

At the news conference, Bani-Sadr also said:

"Soviet intervention in Iran would not be welcome if America or any other country attacked Iran and would be considered 'aggression.'"

"Iran will call for an extraordinary meeting of the non-aligned countries to deal with recent American measures against Iran, including the failed rescue attempt."

"U.S. aircraft were able to enter Iranian airspace because they took advantage of 'blind corners' in Iranian radar."

Bani-Sadr said the Americans had designed Iran's radar system and knew it better than did the Iranians. They had planned the system so "only they themselves know which corners are blind corners so we can't intercept them."

In their statement, the militants urged that Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's residence and Tehran's radio-TV station be "soundly protected" because they had information the U.S. operation was aimed not only at rescuing hostages. The militants said there were links between the American rescue forces and Iranian "mercenaries" in Tehran, and that this information had been given to Khomeini.

Iran's interior minister, Ayatollah Mahdavi Kani, told the newspaper Kayhan today the real aim of the American mission was to take Iranian leaders hostage.

The hostage-dispersal plan was announced by the student militants who seized the 50 Americans at the U.S. Embassy 175 days ago. Three other Americans have been held at the Foreign Ministry. "As a precautionary measure, the U.S. hostages henceforth will be kept in various cities throughout the country," the militants said in a statement announced by Tehran Radio.

"At present, as a political act, the spy hostages are being kept in various places. Details of this decision will subsequently be disclosed to the nation."

Brig. Gen. Valioli Fallahi, Iran's army commander, said there are probably more American bases remaining in Iran besides the abandoned one near Tabas where the hostage rescue attempt was aborted Friday.

And Iran's interior minister, Ayatollah Mahdavi Kani, said the real aim of the American mission was to take Iranian leaders hostage. He did not elaborate, in an interview with the Tehran newspaper Kayhan.

The charred bodies of four commandos killed in the mission were recovered by Iranian forces today as the regime ordered all men with military training, particularly those in the desert province where the Americans landed, to heed Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's "command for a general alert."

Weekend update

Set Clocks Up One Hour

Most Americans lost an hour this weekend, but they are supposed to gain an extra hour of daylight every day for the next six months.

Daylight Saving Time was to begin officially at 2 p.m. Sunday, at which time clocks and watches were to be moved forward one hour.

Under the Uniform Time Act, daylight time is observed in most of the United States and its territories for six months—from the last Sunday in April until the last Sunday in October.

Iran Injured Texas Bound

SANTA ANTONIO (AP)—Five American servicemen injured during the aborted effort to free the U.S. hostages in Iran were headed for treatment at military hospitals in Texas today, authorities said.

The five were on a flight from West Germany. Most were bound for Brooke Army Medical Center for treatment of burns, said Navy Capt. Ralph Blanchard in Washington. One of the injured was to be taken to Wilford Hall at nearby Lackland Air Force Base.

The plane carrying the injured men landed at McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey shortly after 9 a.m. EST and took off for Texas less than two hours later after a refueling and crew change. Mechanics also repaired a minor hydraulic leak on the jet, said Lt. Lorrie Cropp, a base spokesman.

Plane Crash Area Combed

SANTA CRUZ DE TENERIFE, Canary Islands (AP)—Rescue workers searching for bodies from the air disaster that left all 138 British passengers and seven crew members dead speculated Saturday the jetliner may have exploded in the air.

Drug traffickers may have unknowingly and unintentionally done a favor for the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

The CRMWD, of which Snyder is a member and which has its headquarters in Big Spring, is preparing to build a new reservoir at Stacy, a point on the Colorado River southeast of Ballinger.

Half a mile from the site of the proposed Stacy dam is what is known as "Eden International Airport." Natives pinned that title on a landing strip carved out of nearby brushy pastures. The site is about 15 miles northeast of Eden.

The strip got its name when planes began landing there mysteriously a couple of years ago. State and federal agents quietly observed the operation for a while and then swooped down one day just as a plane landed. Along with the plane and its cargo of marijuana, agents also confiscated a couple of pickup trucks and a van—plus three people.

The CRMWD hopes to put the strip to more constructive use as construction work begins on the Stacy dam. It takes about four hours to travel from the district's headquarters in Big Spring to the Stacy dam site by automobile, but a small plane can make it in about 45 minutes.

It is unusual when the National Wildlife Federation confesses that there may be a surplus of some type of creature. But a recent mailing from the organization says the red-winged blackbird, once cheered as a sure sign of spring in the northern U.S., no longer finds a cordial welcome.

"The red-winged blackbird is earning a reputation as a 'pest' bird, right up there with the starling, cowbird and grackle, all members of the 'blackbird' family," says the NWF. "Last year, in Pennsylvania alone, their immense flocks destroyed an estimated $15 million worth of corn, grapes and other crops. At airfields, they are a hazard on runways. Some people claim they're a threat to human health and livestock."

They say huge flocks of blackbirds, perhaps 100,000 strong, seem to be moving from the countryside into small, nearby urban areas where they are replacing starlings as the No. 1 roosting bird pest.

If they have more red-winged blackbirds per square foot than the lake area on the WTC campus the past few years, they are going some.

And it seems to us that the boat-tailed grackle is trying to establish a foothold in this area.

Ask Us

Q—Why wasn't the college rodeo held in the coliseum instead of the outside arena?

A—Two reasons, mostly. First, the college rodeo team operates on a limited budget and the coliseum rental fee was above its means. Second, the coliseum arena hasn't been prepared yet for rodeos this season since there are other events to be held there before summer.

AFS May Skip Year...

Host Family Needed For Exchange Student

For the first time in 21 years, Snyder may not have a foreign exchange student for the 1980-81 school year.

The local chapter of the American Field Service, which sponsors the exchange student program here, has announced that a volunteer host family must come forward immediately, or else no foreign student will be assigned here this fall.

Silvia Donadei of Switzerland who is enrolled this year at Snyder High School is the 23rd exchange student to attend school here. The local chapter of AFS hosted two students in 1978 and 1979.

The AFS chapter, which is supported by the community, the high school student council, civic clubs and various individuals, has enjoyed a successful history and looks forward to an even more promising future, officials of the organization said.

The annual AFS Jamboree each spring brings around a dozen other exchange students to the community for a four-day weekend. The jamboree held recently had young people here from South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, Spain, Colombia, France, Bolivia, Sweden and Switzerland.

The families involved in the project shared cultures, personalities, politics and dreams with the visitors.

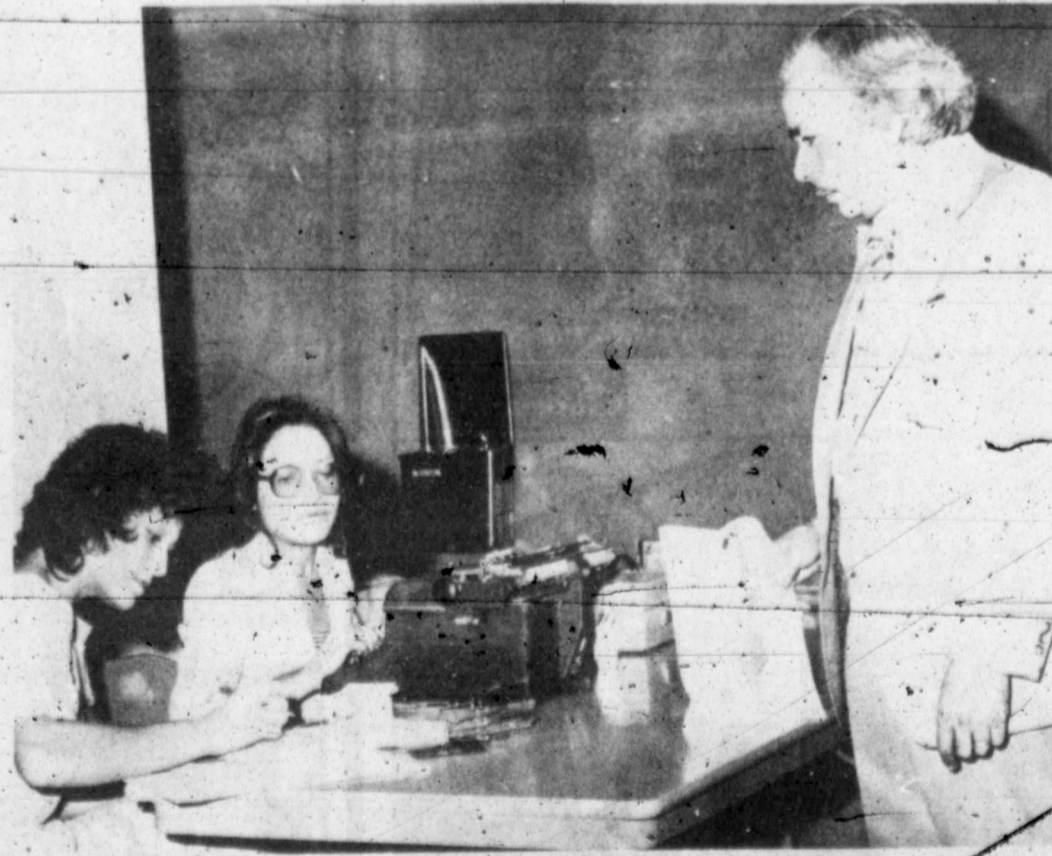

However, no host family has volunteered to keep an exchange student here during the 1980-81 school year. Any family interest in hosting an exchange student from August of this year to June of 1981 should contact Barbara McCormick at 573-9962, or Roy Carter at 573-2818.

Absentee Voting For Primary Ends Tuesday

Little interest in politics has been shown in Scurry County, judging from absentee voting which will end Tuesday afternoon.

Although there are two county offices, two district offices and a sprinkling of state posts to be filled this year, local voters have not paid much attention to the races.

County Clerk Beverly Ainsworth reported Friday that only 77 absentee votes had been cast for the Democratic Primary and only four absentee votes for the Republican Primary here. Absentee voting will cease at 5 p.m. Tuesday, and the primary elections will be held Saturday, May 3.

In addition to the local and state races, Republicans will vote for presidential candidates, with Ronald Reagan and George Bush on the ballot. Democrats have a presidential preference ballot, but it is not binding on convention delegates. Jimmy Carter, Edward M. Kennedy and Jerry Brown are on the ballot.

The remainder of the Republican ballot here is devoted mostly to state offices. However, there is one candidate for a county office this time on the Republican lineup. Bernhard J. Bartels is seeking the office of county commissioner in Precinct No. 3.

On the Democratic Party ballot in Scurry County, Mike Ezzell of Snyder, the incumbent, is opposed by Larry Shaw of Big Spring for State Representative for the 63rd District; Wayland G. Holt, incumbent, is opposed by James Clark for presiding judge of the 132nd judicial district; Keith Collier, incumbent, is opposed by Bobby Goodwin for sheriff; Charles J. Yoast, incumbent, is opposed by John H. Thomas for county commissioner in Precinct No. 3; and Bill Love, incumbent, is opposed by Lloyd H. Merritt for constable in Precinct No. 1.

Running unopposed are Lealand W. (Pete) Greene for district attorney; George Killam for county attorney; Clarence Minton for county tax collector; Eldon Perry for county commissioner in Precinct No. 4; and Chessie E. Bailey for constable in Precinct No. 3.

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm of the 17th District, faces no opposition (See Absentee, Page 2A)

on either ballot. State-wide races for Railroad Commission posts have attracted considerable attention. On the Democratic Party ballot, John Poerner, incumbent, is opposed by Buddy Temple for one post, while Jim Nugent, incumbent, is opposed by Jim Hightower for an unexpired term. For the full term on the Railroad Commission, the Republicans have three candidates—Henry C. Grover, E.W. (Billy) Kidd and John Thomas, H.J. "Doc" Blanchard is the only Republican candidate for the unexpired term. For Texas Supreme Court posts, Democratic Party candidates for Place 1 are John C. Phillips, James P. (Jim) Wallace and Wayne Scott; for Place 2, Lawrence E. Bergman and Sears McGee; for Place 3, Robert M. Campbell; for Place 4, C.L. Ray. On the Republican ballot, Supreme Court candidates are Jim Brady for Place 1 and Will Garwood for Place 4. Democratic Party candidates for the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals are Leon Douglas and Marvin O. Teague for Place 1, Mike McCormick, W.T. Phillips and John Humphreys for Place 2, and Edith Roberts, Walter Boyd and Tom Davis for Place 3. Bob Dickenson is opposed for associate justice of the 11th District Court of Civil Appeals.

COMMUNITY BOLL WEEVIL MEETING—Beginning Monday night we will have a series of meetings to discuss the boll weevil control program in Scurry County. We want each producer to attend one of these meetings.

The boll weevil control program started in the fall of 1976 has been most successful in the reduction of the weevil population and damage from this insect. The objective of the program at that time was to manage the weevil so that populations were below economic damage levels. We feel this objective has been reached and that future programs be designed to maintain the weevil population at this low level.

Scurry County's boll weevil program has been producer financed, controlled and administered. With suggestions and recommendations received at these meetings, we will be able to plan our educational activities to provide the information needed and improve the boll weevil control program. We urge you to attend any of the meetings and voice your opinion of the program in past and for the years ahead.

The meetings are scheduled as follows:
April 28 - Dunn Community Center - 7:30 p.m.
April 29 - Northeast Community Center 7:30 p.m.

May 1 - Hermleigh Community Center - 7:30 p.m.
May 5 - Union Community Center - 7:30 p.m.
May 6 - Inadale Community Center - 7:30 p.m.
May 8 - Ira Community Center - 7:30 p.m.

BUDDING - GRAFTING—We want to thank Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Fuller for providing us a site for conducting the Budding and Grafting Workshop Thursday morning. Besides the information we received at workshops, we enjoyed being in such a beautiful area.

Dr. McEachern presented an excellent program on the method recommended for pecan budding and inlay grafting. Conditions ideal for grafting should begin in about a week or ten days and last for about six weeks. The bark is still a little tight at present.

Budding probably can be done now and for the next month. For those who were unable to participate in the meeting, the information with graphic drawings are available in our office. We can also supply you with information and where you can get budwood and graftwood, as well as other supplies and equipment if needed.

Prunes and bran

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I read one of your columns in which you mentioned that it was bad to get used to taking laxatives too often and become dependent upon them. I have a problem that I don't know what to do about. A year ago I had bleeding hemorrhoids and my doctor said if they got worse, he would have to operate.

I've had several operations for other things so I decided to try bran and cooked dried prunes. I use three or four prunes and mash them up in a dish. Also two tablespoons of bran I put water in to soften the bran and let it set quite awhile and take it before I go to bed.

I have a bowel movement at 6:30 in the morning and am not bothered anymore all day. If I eat some roughage I see blood again but I can go for a month or so just fine. If I don't take my prunes and bran I get constipated and of course, there's blood.

Would you call this a laxative or just a food and will it hurt me? I eat lots of fruits and vegetables. I am 89 years old and do a lot of walking.

DEAR READER—It sounds to me, like you're doing just fine. You certainly should have had an examination. People who have any bleeding should not assume that it's just from hemorrhoids. Bleeding can be the first sign of rectal or colon cancer. But having already had your examination, you do not need to worry about that.

To give you more information on what hemorrhoids are and how to manage them, I am sending you The Health Letter number 13-12, Hemorrhoids: New Treatments for An Old Affliction. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Prunes do contain a laxative type substance. Many people do use them with success. I think they shouldn't be overdone but, in your case, it seems to have worked quite well in combination with your bran and I wouldn't worry too much about it.

The diet which you described, which includes plenty of good fruits, is also good for you as well as the walking. I'm also sending you The Health Letter number 12-8, Laxatives, Enemas and Suppositories. This Health Letter discusses the different kinds of laxatives and the problems that some can create. There are different kinds of bulk in the diet. The roughage that is coarse and is fibrous might be irritating to your hemorrhoids but bran, as you've found out, is really not roughage—it's "softage." When it becomes moist, it's soft. In people who are not taking medicines that dry out the colon, such as the diuretics or water pills, the bran will retain the moisture and keep the stool soft.

As long as this system is working as well as it is for you, I would see no reason for changing it. You can discuss this with your doctor and if there is any change, then he can advise you as to the best procedure for your case.

CRMWD Expenses Well Under Budget

Operating expenditures of the Colorado River Municipal Water District are 32.78 per cent under budget for the first quarter, but this figure is a seasonal variation. When heavy summer pumping kicks up power bills, expenses will catch up. Through three months of 1980, expenses amounted to $757,675, whereas one-fourth of the annual budget is $1,006,093. For that period, however, electric power cost $370,828 against a first quarter budget allotment of $570,434. By the same token, maintenance costs at pump stations was up by about $12,000 due to the annual winter preventive maintenance program.

The administrative and general portion of the expenses was $121,656, which is $6,739 over budget, or virtually the amount of an insurance premium paid earlier than a year ago. Recreational expense was $20,938, compared with a budgeted first quarter of $22,743.

Water sales to cities amounted to $1,403,541 for the initial three months, or $125,393 more than the same time a year ago. Sales to oil companies and industrial users stood at $27,167 down $22,750 for the quarter. Recreational income of $19,278 was $19,278, off $4,715. Sales of water were based on 2,571,500,000 gallons to cities and 451,400 to industries. Of total sales of 3,022,949,000 gallons, 2,154,044,000 gallons came from Lakes J.B. Thomas and E.V. Spence, which, together had 103,933 acre feet reserves at the end of the month.

'Angels' Of 'Blue Light' Mystery At Fort Bragg

AP Wire Service, N.C. — They call them Charlie's Angels. They're a team of three women who fight the forces of evil. Their team is very real.

These are the men of the Blue Light, a secret military unit that President Carter called upon when he decided it was time to try to rescue the American captives held hostage in Iran.

They are all volunteers, patriotic, intelligent, strong, proud and above all, highly skilled. Their commitment is described as a man who doesn't mind shedding blood or seeing a shed, he's tough, tall, daring, some say arrogant, a soldier with 20 years' experience.

But exactly who Charlie's Angels are and what they do in the remote woodlands of Fort Bragg are shrouded in secrecy. Their headquarters here are in a refurbished prison stockade 4 1/2 miles to the west.

There's something in Fort Bragg you can't find about 100 miles north, said James, a military writer for the Fort Bragg Herald. The Blue Light, based at the sprawling base, was formed in 1978 and modeled on special forces and elite U.S. Marine units. They're a mix of military and civilian volunteers, some with an unusual budget and access to sophisticated equipment and chemical agents.

Another Fort Bragg unit, the 1st Special Operations Squadron, is based at the base. The unit is described as a "man who doesn't mind shedding blood or seeing a shed, he's tough, tall, daring, some say arrogant, a soldier with 20 years' experience."

But exactly who Charlie's Angels are and what they do in the remote woodlands of Fort Bragg are shrouded in secrecy. Their headquarters here are in a refurbished prison stockade 4 1/2 miles to the west.

in November. But there was a report that some units were sent to an area near Tehran, within 72 hours of the Nov. 4 embassy takeover.

Defense Secretary Harold Brown said much of the training for the mission was conducted in the desert Southwest, where the terrain resembles the treacherous salt deserts where eight Americans died after the Iran rescue was called off due to equipment problems.

Just how the Blue Light would have taken the hostages from the U.S. Embassy in Tehran was unclear, but one Pentagon source specifically noted that the special forces had training in the use of gas-like CN, which causes violent nausea.

Cpl. Charles A. Beckwith is thought to have led the strike force on the mission, said base sources who asked not to be identified.

There are two types of men who will go with Charlie's Angels, those who will go with Charlie's Angels, those who will go with Charlie's Angels, those who will go with Charlie's Angels.

Sally's Blues, whose son George, a 22-year-old Marine, was killed said. "We're known since November that it probably had something to do with the hostage situation. We realized it might have been something like this."

"We feel no, it will, no grades. George chose to go this, so we were for it. She said from her home in Pine Bluff, Ark.

Charlie's Angels consider themselves several notches above other highly trained soldiers, and according to one source, even refused to wear uniforms. When Blue Light was formed two years ago, the Pentagon was seeking 200 to 300 volunteers from all branches of the military services, and none were below the rank of sergeant.

Blue Light is linked to John F. Kennedy Center for Military Assistance at Fort Bragg, which is headquarters for the Green Berets, but its orders come through the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington and it answers to the National Security Council.

Beckwith, 25, said to answer to Maj. Gen. Jack V. Macmillan, commander of the JFK Center, located in an area of the base known as Smoke Bomb Hill.

Soldiers were generally supportive of the mission, but at interviews on the base officers would tell them not to speak or would stand by during the conversation. Some said the unit would take the United States one step closer to war.

For Bragg, home of 45,000 troops in the 82nd Airborne and special forces, covers 300 square miles of heavily wooded countryside in southeastern North Carolina.

He has a reputation for operating in the "rockies" side," said one acquaintance. "Some said when they heard Beckwith was leading the mission, they'd rather be shot than volunteer."

Beckwith, 32, is no stranger to in-and-out rescue missions. He led Project Delta, a team that conducted long-range raids into North Vietnam during the Vietnam war to rescue prisoners.

Blue Light has also been known as the Delta Team because its missions are similar and because Beckwith was fond of the name, a source said.

Beckwith is a hard man to like and a tough man to work for, acquaintances say. A stern-faced man who rarely smiles, he has a soldier's bearing, stands 6-foot tall and wears his hair closely cropped. Acquaintances say he is arrogant, with a dominating voice.

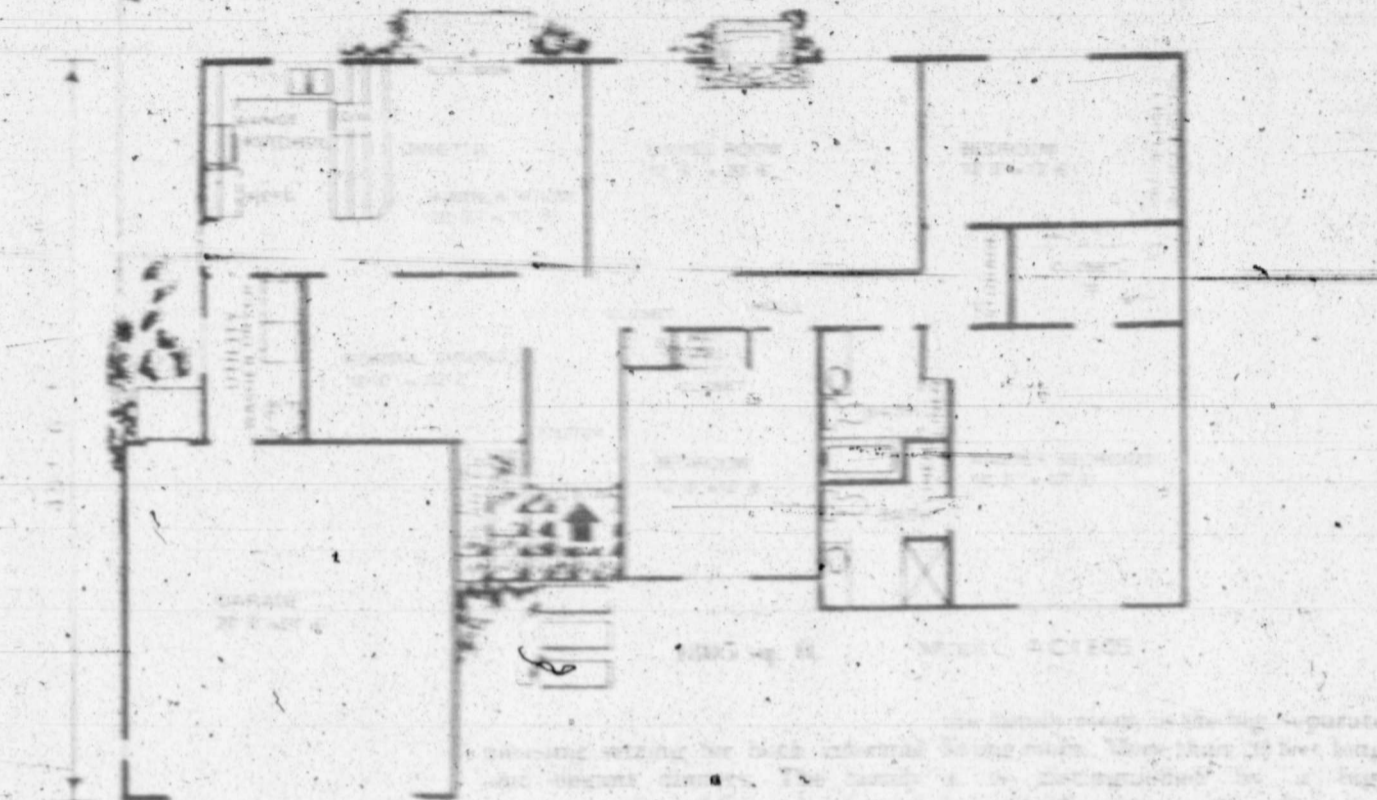

His men, who volunteered for the mission, are "super patriotic and have a liking for action," said one military source here.

They picked people who are highly intelligent, in good physical condition and who could keep their mouths shut, a source said.

Some relatives of the men who died in the collision of a helicopter and a transport plane in the Iranian desert say they know of a special mission, but had been told no details.

Biology 145 and 146, set on the summer schedule and students may enroll for both courses since they will be interwoven and taught by Dr. Shel Hillis and Mike Otto. Students who will be college freshmen following high school graduation or students already in college would find this situation to their advantage. Hillis points out. Biology 145 is scheduled to meet from 4:20-9:35 a.m. Monday through Thursday with labs from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Monday through Wednesday. Biology 146 is scheduled from 9:40-10:55 a.m. Monday through Thursday with labs from 11:30 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday. Biology 241 and Biology 242 are also on the summer schedule. Registration for summer school is set for May 28. Day and evening classes are scheduled for a nine-week period. Copies of the complete summer schedule may be obtained in the registrar's office in the WTC Administration Building. Persons wishing further information about the biology courses planned may contact Hillis, Otto or Joe Carter, who will be teaching the advanced course.

High Seas Hit Cuban Refugees

By DAN SEWELL, Associated Press Writer
KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—The Coast Guard called in cutters from all along the Eastern seaboard, but was "swamped" with emergency calls today as Cuban refugees attempting to reach a new life in the United States found their ragtag freedom fleet overwhelmed by high seas.

Coast guard personnel from as far away as Massachusetts and Virginia poured into Key West on Friday and were kept busy retrieving, sinking or disabled boats that tried to cut through six-foot waves in the straits between Cuba and Florida.

"We're totally swamped. We've got so many radio calls, and we're just so short-handed, we can only answer the emergencies," said spokesman Lou Merc. The Coast Guard spokesman expressed fear that the inexperience of some boat captains ferrying the refugees across the 90-mile strait could lead to deaths.

"It's going to be rough sailing," said Key West Port Director Francisco Veliz. "I wouldn't go in any boat less than 30 feet." Authorities predicted that high seas today would slow the tide of refugees from the communist island nation which has swelled the population of this resort town of 29,000 by a third.

On Friday, 466 Cubans arrived aboard five boats, bringing the number of newcomers to more than 1,800 since Wednesday. The rush by relatives and friends to bring the exiles to the United States was spurred by slow progress in official efforts to evacuate more than 10,000 refugees who swarmed into the Peruvian embassy at Havana in pursuit of asylum.

In Miami, Rear Adm. Benedict L. Stabile on Friday warned that deteriorating weather in the Florida Straits could mean disaster for the estimated 2,000 boats that have left here since Wednesday.

He said many of the 14-foot to 26-foot boats were ill-equipped for the 180-mile roundtrip and, "the weather, gives me great concern for the safety of the crews and the immigrants."

Coast Guard and weather officials forecast winds of 15 to 20 knots today, with seas of at least six feet.

"For a small boat, it's either going to stop them or pose a definite problem," said National Hurricane Center forecaster Bob Case.

Nearly all the largest and most seaworthy charter boats in the Key West area have been booked by Cuban exiles paying an average of $1,000 for each relative they wish to bring back.

But most of the boats departing Friday were small ones belonging to exiles themselves, some bought that day. The inexperience of the new boat owners compounded the Coast Guard's worries.

Career Seminar Planned For May 2-9 At WTC

A seminar designed for adults who want or need to make changes in their careers, for students who are undecided about the direction of their beginning careers, and others who are seeking guidance in these areas is scheduled May 2 and 9 at Western Texas College.

The activities of the seminar will include a skills inventory, learning to bypass the usually unsuccessful placement bureau, learning how to find where the unadvertised jobs are, learning to develop new interviewing skills and learning how to take charge of the job-hunting situation. The success rate of the method presented has been 88 percent over the last 11 years.

Dr. Gilbert Flier and Weidell Jones will teach the seminar. Flier is a counselor at WTC and associate professor of psychology and sociology. Jones is associate professor of foreign language and has done extensive study in the areas of adult education and career planning.

Classes will meet from 6:30-9:30 p.m. on May 2 and 9 in room 301 of the Learning Resource Center. Fees will be $5 per person, which includes the book and all materials necessary. The class will be limited to 25 students.

Persons wishing to reserve space in the class are to call the Community Services office at 573-8511, extension 240.

A kidney-disease expert says 1,000 persons died from kidney failure in Britain in 1979 because treatment was not available. Dr. Antony Wing says there is a shortage of medical staff needed to nurse patients, run kidney machines and to teach patients how to use them.

Tight Security Marks Annual Fiesta Parade

By GREG THOMPSON, Associated Press Writer
SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP)—The parade pageantry and brilliant spring weather overshadowed the memory of last year's deadly sniper attack. But security was still tighter, police officers were more wary and some spectators were nervous at Friday's Battle of Flowers Parade.

More than 300,000 spectators lined the two-mile downtown parade route Friday for the biggest and most colorful event in San Antonio's 10-day Fiesta celebration.

The massive parade, which featured dozens of marching bands and elaborate floats, went off without a problem. That was the way it was supposed to have happened last year—before heavily armed Ira Attebery began firing on the 5,000 spectators at the parade starting point.

Attebery, 64, a recluse with a history of mental problems, killed two spectators and wounded more than 30 others as he fired into the terrified crowd from his parked motor home. He then killed himself after a furious gun battle with police.

Six police officers were among the wounded. All still suffer physical problems from the wounds, but have returned to duty. All six were again on routine parade duty Friday as the parade started at the corner of Broadway and Grayson.

"I just hope it goes by without any incidents this year," Lt. Robert Maldonado, one of last year's wounded, said as the parade was starting. "I'm reminded of it more at this time of year. But I'm not afraid of being here again. Something like that doesn't happen twice. There are too many variables."

"It's a beautiful day. I feel right now like it felt last year just before the parade started," he added.

"I don't feel anything, other than I know it happened here," said Sgt. Rusty Grassmuck, also wounded last year. "You just forget it and go on from there. It can happen any place, any time. You can't be afraid all the time."

Two police helicopters hovered over the parade Friday and the usual cadre of about 280 police officers were on hand along the route. Maldonado said the Special Weapons and Tactics squad was also on alert, as it is for all big events in San Antonio.

Maldonado said security was tighter at this year's parade.

"We have conscientiously checked every motor home along the route, making sure the people in them look like parade goers," he said. "I don't know if you can tell a psycho if you see one. But if somebody had gone in that motor home last year, they certainly would have noticed something out of the ordinary."

As he spoke, Maldonado noticed two men who had climbed halfway up a nearby telephone pole.

"They look like linemen, but it doesn't look like they're working to me," he said, dispatching an officer to check the linemen's credentials.

"I guess we are a little nervous," he added.

Attebery had parked last year at the corner of Broadway and Grayson in the parking lot of the Burggraf Tire Store. Inside his motor-home were 15 guns and hundreds of rounds of ammunition.

Gus Burggraf refused this year to allow any vehicles to park in the prime viewing spot in his parking lot. A police car and another car blocked off the parking lot Friday. There are still bullet holes in the tire store's sign.

Deborah Osander and her two small children had been less than a block away from the shooting last year. They sat Friday directly in front of where Attebery had been last year.

"I'm nervous. I was looking around to see if any campers were parked around here. I think you can understand that. But I feel it will be better protected this year," she said.

Her 4-year-old daughter, Tiffany, then turned around and asked her mother, "Is there going to be shooting?"

"Everytime we mention a parade, she asks if there's going to be shooting," said Mrs. Osander.

Lisa Tiver, who sat nearby, said, "I'm a little skeptical. Anything can happen in a big crowd."

Fishin' Report

The big news out of Lake E.V. Spence during the past week was a big striped bass.

Gary Gillihan, Big Spring, brought in a striper that weighed 27 pounds. This eclipsed the record 25-10 striper by Ricky Gipson, Big Spring, in July 1978. Two larger striped bass have been taken from the lake, but these were by biologists of the Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife netting for brood fish.

Most interesting was the number of crappie being reported. One party of five strung 188 at Lake Spence. Similarly, at Lake J.B. Thomas, strings up to 60 were reported. Most catches at Thomas were in shallow water 1 1/2 to 2-foot deep, and crappie ranged mostly from 1 1/2 to 2 pounds with some up to 2 1/2. Black Bass also were spawning and biting, as were a few channel catfish.

Reports from Lake Spence included: Paint Creek Marina-C.P. Williams and party from Odessa, two blue catfish 10-6 and 11-6; Mr. and Mrs. Whitt Stevenson, Levelland, 96 Crappie; Mr. and Mrs. Jody Baker, Odessa, 52 crappie; Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Myer, Odessa, four blue cat to 10-0; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Etchison, 26 crappie; Wayne Johnson, Richard Borchardt and Reggie Johnson of Plainview, 14 stripers to 4-8; Mr. and Mrs. William Carlton, Midland, 32 crappie; Homer Carriger and Reuben Ramon, Menard, four stripers to 5-0.

Skinney's Grocery-Bill and Lois Schwager, Y.J. and Dair Sherrill, Stacey Nowlin, Odessa, 188 crappie and 12 black bass to 4-0.

WILDCAT Fish A Rama-Gary Gillihan, Big Spring, 27-0 striper; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilson, Big Spring, 23 white bass to 2-0 Rayford Gillihan, Big Spring, an 11-0 striper.

Eyeing National Berth Now...

WTC Champ Again!

ROSWELL, N.M. - Western Texas College fought 25-30 mile an hour winds, rain and 32 degree temperature to win its fourth ever Western Junior College Athletic Conference golf championship here Friday.

Coach Bob O'Day's Westerners were aiming for another milestone Saturday - the school's fourth trip to the NJCAA National Tournament.

The Westerners shot a first-place 299 Friday despite deplorable weather conditions. The effort was good enough to win the season's final conference tourney by seven strokes over Odessa, which carded a 306. Midland and New Mexico Junior College tied for third with a 310 each.

Keying the conference victory were a pair of 73s shot by freshman Jeff Wagner and Richard White. Wagner's showing, added to previous efforts, was good enough to claim conference medalist for the season, with a total 287. Second in the overall standings was teammate White, with a 288. Also finishing high was sophomore Ken Lawrence, who placed eighth with a 295.

All three were named All-Conference.

Western JC Athletic final conference standings left WTC in the championship spot with 30 points, followed by Odessa and NMJC with 26 each, Midland with 25, NMMI with 12 and FPC with 7.

Coupled with Friday's conference tournament was the first 27 holes of the Regional Tourney. McLennan Community College, Waco, was leading going into Saturday's final 27 with a 441. Western Texas was second at 448. The top two teams in the region qualify for this year's NJCAA National Tournament to be held in Fort Myers, Fla.

Eight strokes behind WTC were Odessa and Weatherford, with 456 each. NMJC and Midland were locked for fifth, at 459.

Western Texas has been to the national tournament three times, finishing sixth, fifth and ninth.

Sixers Go Up 3-1 On Celtics

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - The Philadelphia 76ers, never known for their defense, are doing all they can to change that image in their National Basketball Association playoff series against the Boston Celtics.

The Sixers overcame a horrendous shooting slump in the final period and beat Boston 102-90 Friday night because their tenacious defense permitted the Celtics just 38 points in the second half. The win gave Philadelphia a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven Eastern Conference final, which could end Sunday in Boston.

The Celtics, who averaged 113.5 points per game in compiling the league's best record during the regular season, have been held to 94 per game in this series and have yet to break 100.

"Their offense is having trouble, but we're the cause of it," said forward Bobby Jones, who came off the Sixers' bench to bottle up Larry Bird when starter Caldwell Jones got in early foul trouble. Boston's heralded rookie was limited to 19 points on 6-for-15 shooting and didn't get a point in the fourth quarter, when the Celtics were struggling to mount a rally.

"We were aggressive and we made them take tough shots," added Bobby Jones, who had five of Philadelphia's 15 blocked shots. "Everyone had a level of intensity that we didn't see all season."

"People have been saying all year that we're not strong defensively," said Sixers center Darryl Dawkins, who had 17 points and four blocks, "but this is the money time and we want to prove them wrong."

Boston Coach Bill Fitch isn't conceding anything. "I don't think this thing is over yet," he said. "Everyone says we've been playing terribly, but we've been in every game."

"We've got the power to win this series," said Fitch. "We've just got to take it to them."

Wilkes-Jabbar Key Lakers In 104-100 Win Over Celtics

SEATTLE (AP) - Jamaal Wilkes finally snapped out of his shooting slump Friday night, and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar couldn't have been happier.

With Wilkes hitting from the outside, Abdul-Jabbar could do just about anything he wanted inside Friday night as the Los Angeles Lakers defeated the Seattle SuperSonics 104-100 to take a 2-1 lead in the National Basketball Association Western Conference finals.

Abdul-Jabbar led all scorers with 33 points, and Wilkes added 21. "You can't shoot as bad as I did for two and a half games," Wilkes said. "Eventually, it's got to go down."

"I thought we let them get too many second shots," said Seattle Coach Lenny Wilkens. "He (Wilkes) helped them by hitting some good shots."

"When they (the Lakers) needed a hoop down the stretch, they got one," added Seattle center Jack Sikma.

The defending NBA champion Sonics play the Lakers at University of Washington's Hec Edmundson Pavilion again Sunday.

Wilkes canned eight of 11 shots from the floor in the second half as Los Angeles, with Abdul-Jabbar collecting 13 points in the final quarter, put the Sonics in a corner.

"They (the Sonics) couldn't put everybody on me for the whole game," said Abdul-Jabbar. "When Jamaal is scoring, they have to put two men on me and one on him instead of three on me."

After the opening half, the Lakers trailed by four points and Wilkes was two for 10 from the field and 19 for 53 for the series.

"I finally got my rhythm in the second half," explained Wilkes. "I made a couple shots, and that helped my confidence."

"You know, this thing works two ways. Kareem puts so much pressure on them inside that it gives you an opening on the outside."

Abdul-Jabbar, who had a game-high 13 rebounds, said the Sonics were far from buried.

"We're so even," he said, "the team that plays well is going to win. We could win three in a row and Seattle could win three in a row."

Gus Williams, who had 14 points in the first quarter, led the Sonics' attack with 23 while John Johnson, added 19 and Dennis Johnson 18.

Fred Brown, who averaged 24 points in the first two games of the series, was held to eight by the Laker defense.

"We better clamp down on him," Abdul-Jabbar remarked, "or he'll shoot us out of the building."

With the Kingdome and the Seattle Coliseum booked, a crowd of 8,524 turned out at the University of Washington.

"I think this is one of the finest facilities in the NBA," said Laker Coach Paul Westhead sarcastically.

Richard Tallies 100th Victory

HOUSTON (AP) - J.R. Richard became the third pitcher in Houston history to win 100 games and Jeff Leonard hit his first major league home run Friday night to lead the Astros to a 7-4 victory over the New York Mets. Richard, 3-0, boosted his career record to 100-67.

with ninth-inning relief help from Dave Smith, spacing three hits, striking out eight and walking four in 8 1-3 innings. Larry Dierker and Don Wilson are Houston's only other 100-game winners.

Leonard led off the game against New York's Pete Falcone, 1-1, with a single was sacrificed to second base by Craig Reynolds and scored by Art Howe's single.

The Astros gave Richard a 2-0 lead in the fourth inning when Enos Cabell led off with a double and scored on a single by Alan Ashby. Leonard's home run led off the fifth, sailing over the 400-foot marker in left-center field.

LAMESA—Bobby Degrate set things in motion here Friday with a lead-off home run as Snyder's Tigers wasted little motion in belting Lamesa High School, 6-1.

The victory, which included a trio of over-the-fence bursts, left the Tigers at a 2-0 in round-two district play. Snyder, 10-11, this season, will host the Golden Tornadoes on Tuesday at 5:30 for its next baseball outing.

Degrate's shot over the left field barrier gave Snyder its first of a dozen hits on the day. Meanwhile, pitcher William Robinson was making things miserable for the Tor batters. He struck out nine and allowed only two hits all afternoon.

Snyder tipped its lead to 3-0 in the third inning as Kyle Short singled and Mike Roemisch cracked a double to bring him in. After a walk by Toby Neves and a Pete Willis single, Shawn Ragland collected Snyder's third RBI of the game, sending Roemisch homeward bound.

Inning number four was a case of deja vu for the stunned Lamesa squad. With two outs posted, Short got Snyder going again with his second single of the afternoon. And, as before, Roemisch brought him home—this time with a solid scorcher over the fence, leaving the score at 5-0.

Neves and Willis also smacked singles in the inning, but the Tors were able to stifle any further scoring attempt. Lamesa garnered its only run of the game in the bottom of the fourth as Garza walked, took advantage of an error to reach scoring position, and made it home on a passed ball.

Snyder's final score oc-cured in the fifth inning when designated hitter Ragland led off with the third Tiger homer of the day.

Ragland's home run marks the 19th for Snyder this season. Roemisch's jolt was his fifth of the year. Degrate's was his third—Others hammering homers for the Tigers include: Bryan Vincent, three; Neves and Willis, two each; and Paul Gafford, Short and Tony Degrate, one apiece.

Neves currently leads the Tigers with a .522 figure from the batter's box in District 3-3A play. Ragland holds a .391 figure, followed by Roemisch at .375, Bobby Degrate and Willis at .333, and Short at .320.

Officials Scissor Ruiz From New York Run

NEW YORK (AP)—Rosie Ruiz's place in the New York City Marathon, the race that qualified her for the Boston Marathon, has been taken away from the controversial runner. Can her victory in Boston be far behind?

"Based on our investigation, we are now invalidating her finish at the New York City Marathon," said Nina Kuscsik, a former top female finisher at the Boston Marathon and now a member of the New York races games committee. "We would ask for the medal back."

Officials of the New York Marathon, embarrassed because their race last October was Ruiz's steppingstone to Boston, offered evidence for invalidating her time at a news conference Friday.

"It's sad but true. Rosie did not finish the New York City Marathon," said Fred Lebow, president of the New York Roadrunners Club. "Boston is the most important marathon in the world, and we're especially sad because we feel somewhat responsible for what happened there."

Lebow said Will Cloney, director of the Boston Marathon, told him an announcement on whether Ruiz's results will be upheld would be made Monday or Tuesday next week. Last Monday in Boston, Ruiz, 26, running in just her second marathon, was the first woman across the finish line in two hours, 31 minutes, 56 seconds—the third fastest women's time in history.

Steve Marek, president of the Suburban Roadrunners Club of New York, told The Associated Press that he and Ruiz probably would get an opportunity to meet with Boston Marathon officials next week before they make their final decision.

Marek, who has been serving as Ruiz's advisor, said Ruiz was in seclusion Friday, "trying to be a normal person again." The evidence disclosed Friday, strongly indicating that Ruiz never finished the New York race, raised another challenge to her credibility. At her press conference here Thursday and under prosecutorial attack by the press, Ruiz steadfastly asserted she had run both races.

Yet in videotapes shown Friday, Ruiz was not seen finishing the New York race. When the finish line photo was frozen at Ruiz's purported time of 2:56:29, no runner was seen crossing.

The tape then showed several runners, including Cindy Wuss of New York, whose time was listed as one second slower than Ruiz's. "I did not observe Miss Ruiz at all throughout the entire marathon," Wuss said. "She did not pass me, and I did not pass her."

Also at the press conference was Susan Morrow, a New York photographer who said Ruiz rode the subway with her while the New York Marathon was in progress. Morrow said Ruiz told her she had hurt her ankle 10 miles into the race.

Zisk Delivers Ranger Victory

CLEVELAND (AP)—Richie Zisk's bases-loaded single off Cleveland starter Rick Waits in the ninth inning was the big blow in Texas' 4-1 victory over the Indians Friday, but everyone—including Zisk—preferred to talk about Waits' excellence in the previous 8-2-3 innings.

"Waits had more movement on the ball tonight than I've ever seen," said Zisk, who struck out, flied out and grounded out in his first three tries against the Cleveland left-hander. "I hit a good pitch. It was a pitcher's pitch. Waits agreed. 'I made my pitch, and he made his swing,' he said. 'It was a screwball. It was my best pitch all night, and you've got to go with your best pitch in that situation.'"

Only two Rangers had managed to reach base in the first eight innings. Mickey Rivers hit the first pitch of the game for a single moving to third on a passed ball and scoring on Al Oliver's ground out, and Buddy Bell singled harmlessly in the seventh.

Between the two hits, Waits surrendered one-out singles to Rivers and Bump Wills. Wills then stole second, and Bell was walked following Waits' eighth strikeout, setting the stage for Zisk's two-out, two-run blow.

"I like that kind of situation," Zisk said. "I like the pressure. 'I want to give him (Waits) a lot of credit, but I deserve some, too, because I hit a good pitch.'"

Billy Sample followed Zisk's hit with an anticlimactic RBI double to round out Texas' scoring.

Borg Advances To Prix Semi-Finals

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Top-seeded Bjorn Borg of Sweden rolled to a 6-1, 6-1 victory over Victor Amaya in the quarterfinal round of the $300,000 Grand Prix of Tennis Tournament at Caesars Palace, but second-seeded John McEnroe was stunned by Harold Solomon 6-4, 6-1.

And Perseverance, Too...

Boothe's High School Teacher Saw Talent

By JOHN LONG

Even as a high school senior Powers Boothe showed the talent and perseverance that would win him praise in 'Guyana Tragedy: The Story of Jim Jones,' a former teacher recalls. Boothe, a product of Snyder High School, played Jim Jones, the maniacal leader who led hundreds of his followers to commit suicide in the jungles of Guyana nearly two years ago. His was the title role in a movie shown last week on the CBS television network.

SUE PARHAM...remembers talent

However, in addition to having talent, Boothe also had perseverance, an asset just as valuable. That, too, he showed in his high school days. "He seemed to be down to earth and showed his up-bringing from that standpoint," said Mrs. Parham. "He was easy to work with. He was teachable." He also strived to be better, she remembers. Mrs. Parham speculates that even now he retains the qualities of talent, perseverance, and a desire to constantly improve. Those qualities, plus the added ingredient of wanting to get out and get things done, have combined to help Boothe get where he is today, she believes. "You can't sit at home and wait for it to happen," Mrs. Parham said. It happened to Boothe this year when he got a major role in Skag and then hit the jackpot with his Jim Jones role. Not only did he attract the attention of critics in national magazines, including Time and Newsweek, but a lot of regional newspapers "discovered" him all of a sudden.

Psychology Course Set

Introductory psychology, a requirement for many majors in junior and four-year colleges, will be offered in the summer session beginning May 29 at Western Texas College.

Dr. Joe Reaves will teach the course on the Snyder campus in classes scheduled from 6-10:10 p.m. on Mondays. Audio-visual presentations, demonstrations, discussions and in-class projects will supplement lectures.

Due to the nine-week format, students will meet in class only one night per week. Reaves points out, and this will enable some adults to schedule the class without interfering with other summer activities. College students home for the summer may also find this an opportune time to earn extra hours.

Firefighters Mad

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Members of the city firefighters union are upset about the jailing of their local's president, vice president, vice president and secretary-treasurer, but union officials say they are opposed to any retaliatory job action.

Registration for summer school is scheduled for May 28. Students who would like details about the psychology course (PSY 231) may contact Reaves in his office at WTC.

Sr. Citizens Due To Hear Candidates

Candidates seeking county offices in the May 3 primary elections will be guests at the Senior Citizens Center on Tuesday.

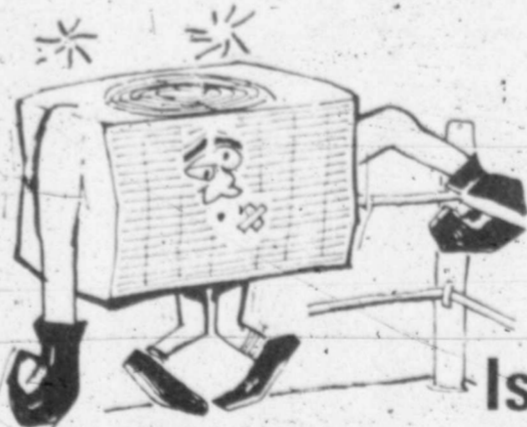

They will be introduced about 11:30 a.m. and will have the opportunity to make a few brief statements to the audience.

On Monday, Kenneth Parker and gymnastics students from Northeast Elementary School will visit the Center before the luncheon.

Senior Citizens are invited to join groups for bowling, swimming and miniature golf during the week, and may check the schedule at the Center for the times and places of these activities. In the Center itself, activities include an exercise class, quilting, square dancing, bridge and other table games and Sunshine Choir practice.

The Senior Center is located at 2603 Avenue M, and is open each weekday from 8:30 to 4:30 p.m. and on Thursday evenings. All men and women 60 years of age and older are eligible to participate in the Senior Center programs.

Investors Are Warned About 'Ponzi Scheme'

ODESSA (AP) Ector County prosecutors are trying to warn Texans who have invested in an alleged Ponzi scheme swindle that they may lose their money.

But some people just don't believe it.

"Nobody has lost any money yet," said one skeptical investor after listening to information presented at a Thursday night meeting called by District Attorney John Green.

"I still think it's all right," said another of the investors who asked not to be named.

Investigators say the company and its branches may have bilked investors in three states out of as much as $22 million.

The company is being investigated in Texas, Arizona and California, but it may have operated in 11 states, said Texas Department of Public Safety intelligence officer Jim Barnes of Midland.

In Texas, 250 persons invested at least $50,000 in the company, which promised to make them millionaires in three years, said Ector County Assistant District Attorney Dennis Cadra.

A Ponzi scheme is a kind of con game in which people are persuaded to invest by promises of fabulous rates of return or interest, a California investigator explained. Payments may actually be made for a while, but the monies used are not earnings, but later investors' funds.

California has issued a cease-and-desist order in the California company, and Arizona authorities have filed a million suit against the branch there.

In addition to the DPS and Ector County, the company is being investigated by the Texas Security Board, Texas attorney general, FBI, IRS, U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, Los Angeles Sheriff's Department, California Department of Corporation, Arizona attorney general and Arizona Corporation Commission.

Cadra said that beginning in January, house-lares party-type meetings were held at which people were asked to invest $1,000. Of that sum, $100 was a service fee for handling paper work.

Investors were promised 4 percent interest, or $40 each week, Cadra said. They were told they would make $10,000 in one year, $300,000 in two years and $1 million the third year.

The investors were told they would be millionaires in three years," Cadra said.

The company told investors the high interest rates were made through a computer, supposedly operated by two former NASA employees that monitored the precious metals market.

Authorities said West Texas investors were from Midland, Odessa, Sea-graves, Seminole, Antlers, Crane, Mottah, Big Spring, San Angelo and Lubbock.

Barnes said he has information that most of the money now is in the Grand Cayman Islands.

Barnes said many of the victims are elderly people who invested their life savings.

"I should have known better. I've always been told you can't get something for nothing," said one elderly woman at the Odessa meeting, who asked not to be identified.

Texas investors had contracts entitling them to have their money returned within 72 hours of making a request for it. A representative of the Odessa company said that he had received only six requests.

Mortgage Rates Come Down

WASHINGTON (AP) Home buyers seeking government-backed mortgages will pay 1 percent less starting Monday as interest rates fall for the first time in almost four years.

The drop to 11 percent was considered a major step in a cure for the ailing housing market.

Officials said the new rate will lower monthly payments and help more families qualify for loans guaranteed by the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration for single-family homes.

But analysts emphasized the double-digit interest rates and tight mortgage money will keep homes out of reach for many prospective buyers.

The FHA and VA action came amid signs conventional interest rates also are receding slightly from astronomical levels of 17 percent or higher.

"It's a start in the right direction, but it isn't time to hoist up the flag and have a party," said Carroll Melton, an economist for the U.S. League of Savings Associations.

"We are hopeful that this is an indication that rates have peaked and are coming down. But we still have a long way to go before we can turn around the housing market," added Merrill Butler, president of the National Association of Home Builders.

Housing and Urban Development Secretary Moon Landrieu said the first lowering of FHA and VA rates, since June 1976, would enable as many as 1 million more families to qualify for FHA and VA home loans for a $60,000 mortgage.

Thomas Harter, chief economist of the Mortgage Bankers Association, said a 13 percent level "could bring back as many as 50 percent to 60 percent of the homebuyers who fell out of the market when rates rose to 14 percent" on April 4. "It will mean an increase in business," he said.

Brian Smith, assistant research director for the U.S. League of Savings

Association, estimated the 1 percent drop will reduce monthly payments on a $50,000 mortgage by $39.

Although insured by the federal government, FHA and VA mortgage loans are issued by private lenders who normally charge the house seller a flat cash fee called "points" to cover the difference between the profit they can make on conventional loans and the lower interest ceilings set by FHA and VA programs.

Although paying points cuts into the seller's overall profit, agreeing to the government-backed financing plan in some instances can mean the difference between selling a house and not being able to find a buyer, especially when conventional financing charges are high.

So high mortgage rates have paralyzed the housing industry, cutting sales of existing homes by more than 50 percent since World War II.

Miss Tate, Collier Wed In First Baptist Church Chapel

Before a candlelit altar, Sheila Diane Tate and Dwain Thomas Collier pledged their wedding vows at 7 p.m. Saturday, April 5 in a double ring ceremony solemnized in First Baptist Church. The Rev. Ben W. Warton, Director of Creative Ministries officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Tate of 3602 Ave. U. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Keith Collier of 1300 26th St.

Tracy Collier, sister of the groom, registered guests at the chapel entrance.

Mrs. Judy Neill, organist presented pre-nuptial music. Mrs. Lynn Bethel accompanied soloist Susan Minor as she sang "Linger" and "Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in an ivory gown of sheer illusion over ivory satin. A wide ruffle of illusion trimmed in lace, worn off the shoulder formed the neckline. The high-rise waistline flowed into a circular skirt which formed a chapel length train. The skirt was circled by three layers of lace, the third layer was the hemline.

The bride's hat was covered with three skirts of sheer illusion on the brim. The crown was trimmed in lace that was finished at the back with handmade flowers of illusion. The hat was fashioned by the bride's mother.

She carried an arm bouquet of sonya silk tiger lilies, sonya and yellow phlox, and yellow freesia, tied with a bow of antique lace over satin ribbon with matching streamers. Complimenting her attire, the bride wore a pearl necklace which her mother wore in her wedding and carried pennies minted in the couple's birthdates in her blue garter.

Michelle Rinker attended the bride as matron of honor. She wore a stiletta gown of green with apricot spray print. The dress design featured a soft draped bodice, flutter sleeves and flowing skirt. Rhonda Carmichael of Austin and Marcy Kessler of Midland, bridal attendants, wore matching dresses in yellow. Attendants carried smaller arm bouquets similar to the bride's with satin bows to match their dresses.

The bride's mother was escorted to her seat by her son, Paul Tate. She was attired in a formal length gown of pale green floral design, featuring long sheer sleeves with buttoned bodice.

Mrs. Collier, groom's mother, escorted by Steven Tate, bride's brother, wore a formal length gown of soft aqua knit featuring long sleeves and a gathered skirt.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Vance Wells of Linden wore a belted street length dress of blue polyester. It featured a crystal pleated skirt, full sleeves cuffed at the wrist.

Kim Billingsley served as best man. Groomsmen were Randy Rinker and Vance Voss, all of Snyder.

A reception was held in the parlor and patio area of the church following the ceremony. Attending the bride's table were Pam Burrus and Kathy Jones, both of San Marcus; Cynthia Ferrell of Midland and Susan Weems of Snyder. Attending the groom's table were Donna Billingsley and Jeana Duke, both of Snyder.

Following a short wedding trip the couple is at home east of Snyder. A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in the multipurpose building of East Side Church of Christ.

Says Every American A Poet

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Robert Penn Warren, a two-time Pulitzer Prize winner for poetry, says every American is a poet.

"Any person brighter than a half-wit who can fall in love is writing poetry," although he doesn't know it," Warren said Thursday. He gave a reading here Wednesday.

A mother's love is poetry, Warren said. Being honorable is poetry. "Poetry is man's search for values and experience," he said.

Warren, 75, said the nation needs poets, but "our nation is spoiling our sense of poetry."

Retreads Boom In Recessions

NEW YORK (AP)—Recessions traditionally bring a 10 to 15 percent increase in sales of retreaded tires as consumers seek ways to save money.

During the 1973 recession, for example, retread sales increased 12 percent, according to the Tire Retread Information Bureau. Industry sources are forecasting at least a 10 percent sales upturn during the predicted recession.

Replaces Coins

BARBERTON, Ohio (AP)—Hanging on a wall at Chet O'Kelley's cocktail lounge is a 3-by-4½-foot photograph of O'Kelley as a boxer. The picture's background is filled with glued-on coins, mostly silver.

In view of rising silver prices, O'Kelley decided to replace the coins — $375.50 in face value — with non-silver, half-dollars. He decided to do so when his insurance agent said he couldn't insure the picture and the coins because the picture was on display over a bar.

Psychiatry, Religion Link Being Probed

WARWICK, R.I. (AP)—What relationship is there between mental health and religion? What influence does religion have on mental health?

Some 270 physicians, psychologists, priests, ministers, nurses, social workers and nurses joined in an all-day conference here to discuss these questions recently.

The conference's consensus was that psychiatry and religion have much to offer each other, and that religion may be an important element in maintaining mental health.

Judith Krauss, associate dean of Yale University's School of Nursing, told participants that while neither psychotherapy nor religion can substitute for each other, both come together in meeting human needs.

GOLD BUYERS, SELLERS BEWARE

Understand certain words, so you don't pay "karat gold" prices for gold-plated jewelry.

—Gold Filled
Gold-filled jewelry has a layer — or layers — of gold mechanically bonded to a base metal, such as copper.

The gold layer must have a fineness of at least 10K and must be at least 1-20 the total weight.

The jewelry should be marked "gold filled" or "G.F." and state the karatage of the gold layer — 14 G.F., for example.

—Rolled Gold-Plate
Rolled gold plate is often used in high-quality costume jewelry.

This type is made like gold-filled, but the gold layer is less than 1-20 the total weight. Markings should indicate the ratio of gold to the metals used — "1-40 12K Rolled Gold Plate."

—Heavy Gold Electroplate

At least 100 millionths of an inch of gold is electrolytically electroplated to a metal base.

—Gold electroplate
At least 7 millionths of an inch of gold is electrolytically electroplated to a metal base.

—Gold washed or gold flashed
Less than 7 millionths of an inch of gold is electrolytically electroplated to a metal base.

Only karat gold jewelry is real gold — no matter how bright the glitter, so know what you are doing before buying or selling gold jewelry.

Understanding certain words and points about gold is a must.

What is a karat? — Karat refers to the percentage of gold in an item.

Always look for the karat stamp.

An item marked 24K (24 karats), or 999, is 100 percent pure gold.

Each karat represents 1-24 part of pure gold.

The finest gold jewelry is usually 18K (eighteen parts pure gold and six parts of another metal), since 24K generally is considered too soft to use for jewelry.

Most domestically produced gold jewelry is 14K (14 parts gold and ten parts of another metal — or about 58.5 percent pure gold).

No American-made gold jewelry may be stamped.

with percentages other than karats according to a Federal Trade Commission regulation.

What is meant by '585' or '750'? — This appears on some European jewelry.

This marking states gold karatage in percentages of 1,000.

So, 750 equals 18K (75 percent pure gold), and 585 equals 14K (58 percent pure gold).

Is color important? — Color of gold depends on the other metals alloyed with it.

Gold alloyed with copper has a reddish cast.

Gold alloyed with nickel or palladium produces the "white gold" used in setting diamonds.

ETTA FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM HULME N.E.A. 80

Richard West in the May issue of Texas Monthly wrote a wonderful article about Texas small towns entitled "The Good Life."

"There are places in Texas where the old virtues still survive," he wrote, "where you can leave your keys in the car or walk anywhere at midnight. Though Texas has more metropolitan areas than any other state, it still has an ample supply of unspoiled small towns."

West toured the state looking for the best small towns, between 1,000 and 10,000 population.

"Picking the best small towns is like choosing a friend," he wrote. "You look for trust (you can leave your house unlocked and keep your silver on display), health (the town is economically and politically vibrant, dominated neither by a doddering, closed gerontocracy nor by the vulgar rich), love for life (there are celebrations and festivals that bring history alive and make the town more than a museum) and loyalty (as Lyndon Johnson used to say, "They know when you're sick and they care when you die.")"

West's own personal criteria for small town greatness: A view and fine scenery, at least one cafe that serves good gossip along with hearty staples, a lively newspaper that acts as the conscience of the community, an enthusiastic church choir and a dramatic preacher, a good library, air you can breathe and water you can drink without worrying about chemical content, an honest mechanic, and a maximum of three minutes to cross town.

West names Alpine, Fredericksburg, Navasota, Shiner, and Canadian as his top five Texas small towns, which he calls "as different as the widely scattered parts of Texas they represent yet all share a pride and vigor that is unique to places where people have a sense of belonging together as a family."

Among his "near misses" West lists Athens at the edge of the Piney Woods; Granbury, home of the most princely town square in Texas; Castorville, Jacksonville, Palestine, Woodville, Floydada, which like most High Plains towns was eliminated because of long range water problems; and Rio Grande City in the Valley, which West notes is not incorporated, and is desperately poor, but "where else can you find three great Mexican restaurants within walking distance of each other."

"Do not resist," he wrote, "when a tiny thought pops into your mind about 'I've got to get out of the city.'"

Of the cities, he writes: "Think about long lines and short tempers, locked doors and open classrooms, crowded streets and empty churches, horizontal homes and vertical parking garages, too few smiles and too many smells."

Richard West makes a score for the small towns. We bet he came from one.

some things endure

For all we know, you may not only be learning of it here first but this may be the only place you'll hear of it.

Anyway, we have another national week coming up National Fishing Week, May 12-18. The theme of the occasion is "Take A Kid Fishing," which the estimated 63 million anglers in the country are being urged to do.

The most interesting information in the advance material from the week's promoters, however, concerns not kids but presidents. The American variety having included some noticeably enthusiastic and decidedly individualistic fishermen.

Franklin D. Roosevelt preferred secluded lakes, which he fished in style - fully attired in business suit. The styles of Harry S. Truman and Herbert Hoover were somewhat more informal, but not so much so that either would part with their familiar felt hats.

The fisherman's fisherman of the group was probably Dwight Eisenhower, who dressed for the occasion when vacationing on the trout streams of Colorado.

The most colorful of the lot, however, would appear to have been Benjamin Harrison. He pulled on whiskey, chewed tobacco from a plug carried in his hip pocket and spat on a worm for luck.

He also is reported to have cursed roundly when a fish got away. Some styles never change.

making comeback

The Ma and Pa grocery store can still make it.

Ten years ago, Mildred and Early Lentier started a grocery business in the front room of their home on St. Mary Street in Scott, La. The store area was 20-by-20 feet. The Lentiers lived in the back.

Today that grocery covers 6,000 square feet, does $100,000 worth of business per week!

Recent years the huge chain stores gained the upper hand until the political and economic climate which fosters bigness boomeranged.

Now individual, non-chain, stores are making a comeback.

Free enterprise is enjoying a renaissance as individually owned retail stores learn to cooperate - while still preserving their independence.

In almost every state, affiliations of grocers - co-ops - are prospering.

Recently I was invited to address the annual food show and convention of Louisiana's independent grocers. In that state, 175 grocers own their own common warehouse complex. Thus they get quantity prices when they buy and help when they merchandise. And many of them have adopted automated pricing and accounting procedures.

On the can of beans you purchase at the store are some "squiggly" lines. These represent a universal product code.

At the checkout counter, those squiggly lines are electronically scanned to record the precise amount of that purchase.

Those scanners can be reprogrammed - retail prices adjusted up or down - from a "command post" miles distant.

Also, where proliferating paperwork has tended to strangle small business, the independent grocer may delegate all of his bookkeeping, tax accounting and even payroll to his coop's service department.

All that tedium is handled by a central computer with back and forth transmission over a regular telephone line.

Instead of spending hundreds of dollars a week hiring accountants and bookkeepers, the entrepreneur may pay as little as $25 a week for his largely automated service.

Without such affiliation, no single grocery store could survive the big chain competition.

Without mass purchasing, automation and computerization, all retail food prices might be double what they now are.

Now it is the giant stores which are disadvantaged; for them bigness has resulted in cumbersome and costly layers of management, longer supply lines, additional government-snooping of interstate transactions, compounding the quantity of paperwork - all of which escalates costs and prices.

With the coop, the new-fangled computer and old-fashioned individual resourcefulness, Ma and Pa are back in business!

Berry's World

"I'm feelin' kinda old. I just heard that the Barbie doll is 21 this year."

WASHINGTON NEWS - It is the second week in August and the Democratic Party has assembled in New York City to pick its 1980 presidential nominee.

It is not a happy time in the land. The American hostages have finally returned from Iran, but only after several were "allowed" to "confess" their "guilt" at show trials. Congressional hearing on the Iranian affair are showing that the White House clearly knew the U.S. Embassy might be taken.

If Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi was allowed to enter the United States, even if only for medical treatment. The economy remains a disaster despite the economic program introduced by President Carter in March. Inflation is still running at 20 percent, the prime rate is the same and unemployment has reached 6.7 percent.

Obviously, the United States is not happy with Carter. A pre-convention Gallup Poll shows the president's approval rating has dropped below 25 percent to its lowest point ever. The Republican Party is united behind its ticket of former California Gov. Ronald Reagan and Sen. Howard Baker of Tennessee, and the polls show Reagan with a comfortable and growing lead over Carter.

Despite an impressive win in Pennsylvania and follow-up victories in California and Ohio, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts has won only about 38 percent of the convention delegates.

With the remaining 62 percent, the president will win on the first ballot.

Or will he? First, a little history. In 1976, Robert Strauss, now Carter's campaign boss, was chairman of the Democratic Party. He knew the value of the television image of a smoothly run convention, so he pushed through a rule that no measure could be brought to the floor with less than a 25 percent vote of the delegates. (It had been 15 percent.)

In 1976, only Carter had 25 percent of the delegates, so only what he wanted to reach the floor did it was... a smooth convention for television. But now it is Tuesday, Aug. 12, the second day of the 1980 convention. This year, the challenger has more than 25 percent of the "votes and a major floor fight is about to begin over party rule F(3)(c), which says convention delegates are legally bound to vote on the first ballot for the candidate they were elected to support.

The Kennedy forces tried to overturn F(3)(c) in the party's Rules Committee, but that committee, very firmly, was in the hands of the president. The full convention must approve all decisions of the Rules Committee, however, and the Kennedy delegates have moved to reject the ruling that F(3)(c) must stand.

For weeks, the delegates have seen the articles, the columns, the commentators saying that Carter cannot win reelection. While there is not exactly a stampede away from the president, several full delegations and members of several others have become convinced the convention must be thrown open so that anyone can be chosen. They join Kennedy in the rules fight. When the votes are in, 55 percent of the delegates have voted to eliminate F(3)(c).

The convention is wide open. It is now up to the Kennedy forces to convince the majority of delegates. If those delegates remain bound to vote for the president on the first ballot, he will win renomination. But if the rule can be changed and if confidence in Carter continues to fall, they believe they have a real chance.

At the very least, says Pat Lucey, former Wisconsin governor and Kennedy's deputy campaign manager, "We'll have quite a lively convention."

The prospect should make the television people happy, but it can't be too pleasing to Carter or Strauss. A bitter floor fight, even if they win, could irreparably damage them for November.

Blackwood clarifications

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

There are all sorts of Blackwood variations. Some are too complicated for anyone — even those who try to use them. Others are simple and represent improvements. Here are two examples.

1. The five-club response shows either no aces or four. If you can't tell which number your partner is showing you shouldn't be playing Blackwood, or even playing bridge.

2. The five-notrump follow-up by the Blackwooder shows that the partnership holds all four aces. Responder can still show kings, but he can also bid seven himself if he has the right card. For instance, you open one heart with S-K-Q-7-6-H-A-K-Q-J-8-7-D-4-3-C-2. Partner responds one spade, you jump to four spades. He bids four notrump, you show one ace. He bids five notrump and you can bid seven spades immediately.

In basic Blackwood all four-notrump bids are Blackwood. In practice you will find it advisable to use some four-notrump calls as merely strong bids in notrump.

Thus if partner opens one notrump, your jump to four is merely a mild notrump slam try. The most effective simple rule here is that if the first or last bid was notrump, then four notrump is not Blackwood.

When an unkind opponent interferes with your Blackwood by bidding over it, you need some defense against this interference. We recommend what is called 'DOPI,' which means double-zero, pass one. If you bid you show more than one ace.

When there is real interference such as a bid at the six level over your Blackwood, you may want to modify this so that a double shows either no aces or one ace and a generally unsatisfactory hand.

while a pass shows one ace or two aces and an unsatisfactory hand. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Patriotic Prayer Luncheon To Be Held Here Tuesday

A city wide Patriotic Prayer Luncheon will be sponsored by the Eagle Forum on April 29 at the Eastside Church of Christ multipurpose building from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. The local ministers and their wives have been extended a special invitation to be guests for the occasion. Everyone is asked to bring a covered dish.

The scheduled guest speaker will be Dr. Joe Reaves, professor of psychology at Western Texas College. Dr. Reaves will be addressing the problems of America. Other ministers will be part of the program also.

The prayer luncheon will be held in conjunction with the one in Washington, D.C. where a million Christians have been asked to participate in a "Washington for Jesus" rally. They will be rededicating the nation to the principles set forth by our forefathers, "In God We Trust," said Mr. Mary Gill, EF president.

The Eagle Forum invites everyone to come and show loyalty to God's country by participating on the local level, says Mrs. Gill.

Smokers Wanted Early

WASHINGTON (AP)—If an airline passenger wants a guaranteed seat in a no-smoking section he would have to be at the boarding gate at least five minutes before departure under a new rule proposed today by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Present CAB regulations require that all passengers who request a no-smoking seat be given one. But the board said this might occasionally cause disruption if the passenger arrives late and forces a reassignment of seats.

Planning Essential

COLLEGE STATION—Although there's no quick remedy for budget stress with today's inflation and rising costs, families can relieve some of the pressure by planning, one expert says.

In short, this means planning with a major goal in mind — to balance the family budget, says Linda McCormick, a family resource management specialist. She is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"When we say balance the family budget, we mean a family must make its income cover living expenses, debt payments and emergencies," she explains.

"Another way of looking at it is this: plan so that all these expenses don't go higher than the family income," she says.

3 Year Old Murder Called Perfect Crime

ARLINGTON (AP)—Law enforcement officials called it "the perfect crime," a three-year-old murder that led to the arrest of an Arlington construction worker.

Larry D. Ferguson, 32, who has lived in Arlington for the past year, was arrested Wednesday by Arlington police, waived extradition and was taken to Fayetteville, N.C., where authorities said he would stand trial on first-degree murder charges. Ferguson and two other men have been charged in the June 1977 slaying of William "Red" Wilson, 67, of Sandy Lake, Pa. Wilson's murder was not detected until a month ago.

"You might could describe it as the perfect crime," said District Attorney Samuel Orr of Mercer County, Pa. "If the wife hadn't come forward, it could have gone on forever." The crime was reported by the wife of a defendant, Charles Reagle, 26, of Sandy Lake, Pa., and David Moon, 27, of Jackson Center, Pa., were jailed in Pennsylvania on March 22 for extradition to North Carolina, said Sgt. Norman Dunkle of the Pennsylvania State Police.

Wilson, who had no family, had not been seen in the three years since he was killed. His friends had assumed he was living in a Pennsylvania nursing home.

U.S. Secret Service investigators allege Reagle collected more than $30,000 in Social Security retirement benefits intended for Wilson. Ferguson's wife of the past year, Nancy, said she believes her husband was arrested on "trumped-up charges" and said the arrest "was a complete surprise."

Drought-Tolerance In Plants Is Big Factor

LUBBOCK—The economic survival of a farmer during a drought depends on the physiology survival of a crop and its ability to use water efficiently. But droughts are highly variable in terms of when they occur, how long they exist and thus how severe they are, and all plants do not respond to droughts in similar fashion. Plants, like humans, have genes, which provide them certain characteristics. The expression of those characteristics, such as a response to drought, depends on the environment, according to agricultural scientists. Studying drought tolerance and water-use efficiency is a complex process, but the ultimate aim is to produce a better seed.

According to Dr. Daniel R. Krieg, Texas Tech University crop physiologist, the problem lies in identifying the genes, or plant genotypes, which control mechanisms that lend drought tolerance characteristics and water-use efficiency in plants. Krieg is interested in understanding those mechanisms in cotton and sorghum. "The studies are critical for the Great Plains, which cover more than 600 million acres of semi-arid crop land from western Texas to the Dakotas. The area is continuously faced with droughts and the problems of declining underground water supplies," Krieg said. "Progress has been made in defining the mechanism used by cotton and sorghum in controlling water-use efficiency and drought tolerance, but we are yet to understand how much genetic variability exists in the control of those mechanisms," Krieg added. "Once we understand how genotypes differ, we can then try to match a specified genotype with a particular soil type in a particular climatic region," Krieg added. "Matching the genotypes with the environment will allow expression of the drought-tolerance and water-use efficiency characteristics in the plant." Ultimate result of the research, he said, will be the incorporation of water-use efficiency and drought tolerance characteristics into desirable crop varieties and hybrids by the commercial seed companies. With $170,300 provided by the United States Department of Agriculture's (USDA) Science and Education Administration (SEA), Krieg and a team of scientists are investigating genotype-environment interactions and soil and climate variations, and how these affect water-use efficiency. Krieg, project leader, will be assisted by Dr. Frank M. Hons and Dr.

Richard E. Zartman, both of the Texas Tech Plant and Soil Science Department. Dr. Bobbie L. McMichael and Dr. Jerry Quisenberry, USDA scientists, will also work with the team.

The research will be conducted under semi-controlled greenhouse conditions and natural field conditions. At least two field sites will be used to provide different soil and climatic influences, Krieg said. The project, which began March 21, will continue through September 1982.

Krieg has been working on drought tolerance in cotton and sorghum since 1973 with funds from the federal government and the Texas Legislature.

ARE YOU LOOKING?
JAMES E. MERRELL
 Trinity United Methodist Christians are the greatest optimists in the world. Optimism is the tendency to take the most hopeful or cheerful view of matters and to expect the best outcome.

The practice of looking on the bright side of things, knowing that every problem is an opportunity. Jesus said, "I have come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." John 10:10. Someone has said "You are God's gift to you, what you make of yourself is your gift to God."

Announce Lower Mortgage Rates

With all the news about high interest rates today, it's no wonder many families have decided they can't afford a new home, says Larry Hein, a representative for Colony Homes.

"The fact is, not all mortgages have to be financed at the current rate. There are subdivisions in the North Texas area that qualify for lower rates and one is located here in Snyder," he said.

Colony Homes has announced that its group of homes in Snyder is eligible for conventional loans of 13 3/8 percent.

Colony's model homes are located one block south of 37th St., 3903 Eastridge Road.

60 Minute Suit Settled Out Of Court

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP)—A diet doctor's $30 million slander suit against CBS-TV's "60 Minutes" and newsman Mike Wallace has been settled out of court.

Dr. Joseph Greenberg withdrew charges of negligence by CBS on Thursday, and the network said it "regrets any embarrassment that Dr. Greenberg feels he's sustained as a result" of a 1976 "60 Minutes" broadcast.

"I don't care about the money," Greenberg said. "It was just my reputation. I'm happy we settled this amicably. I am vindicated."

He had charged that CBS, Wallace and producer Grace Diekhaus defamed him in a segment in which a woman said she took more than 80 pills a day under his direction in an effort to lose weight.

Greenberg claimed he lost $100,000 a year after the broadcast.

Dear Abby

Girl Can't Say No And Never Says Yes

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 22-year-old guy. I saw this pretty girl, so I asked her for her phone number and she gave it to me.

I called her up and asked her if she wanted to go out with me, and she said, "I don't care." She told me where she lived so I picked her up.

I really fell for this girl, and she must have liked me, too, because we went out a lot after that, but no matter what I asked her, she always said, "I don't care." She has never given me a yes or no!

We are engaged now, and nothing has changed. She still answers every question with, "I don't care."

What is the matter with a girl like that?

A GUY, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

DEAR GUY: She sounds like a girl who can't say no, but whose mother told her never to say yes.

DEAR ABBY: My foreign-born daughter-in-law opened a business on borrowed money in order to bring some of her relatives here. I am entirely sympathetic to this, but what is making me sick with worry is the way my grandchildren are forced to live. They are beautiful and bright. Last summer they went with their mother to the business in the morning and came home with her at night. They did adult work at least eight hours a day. There wasn't time for play or friendships. Since school started, they work after school three or four hours every night and all weekend. These children are now 8 and 9 years old.

My son can provide adequately for his family, but he continues to allow his children to be workhorses. He loves them, but it seems instead of encouraging his wife to become Americanized, he has adopted her lifestyle. This includes using children as laborers.

Are there child labor laws in this state? And if so, is what they are doing illegal?

SLEEPLESS

DEAR SLEEPLESS: The child labor law states that no minor under 14 years of age shall be permitted to work in any gainful occupation, "provided that this law shall not be construed to apply to work in agriculture, domestic service in private homes or in employment by a parent or a person standing in place of a parent."

I share your concern, but it seems that your grandchildren are exempt from the child labor laws. Sorry.

DEAR ABBY: You have said in your column that there is no reason why a man can't be sexually active at 80. My husband interprets this to mean that a man can be just as good sexually at 60 as he was at 25.

Now I have discussed this with my doctor, and he says that as a man grows older his sex drive just naturally diminishes. But with people like you insisting that a man should be able to perform as well at 60 as he did when he was 25, it makes my husband feel inadequate.

Why not just admit that all men slow down, so they won't feel guilty when they do?

WIFE AND REALIST

DEAR REALIST: I have also discussed it with doctors, as well as with gerontologists, and the consensus is that a normal, healthy man can continue to be sexually active as long as he wants to — regardless of his age. In other words, if you don't use it — you lose it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO STEAMING IN NEW YORK: Sorry. In my "be a sweetheart" column, published on St. Valentine's Day, it should have read: "Take a lonely (not homely) girl to lunch."

Do you hate to write letters because you don't know what to say? Thank-you notes, sympathy letters, congratulations, how to decline and accept invitations and how to write an interesting letter are included in Abby's booklet, "How To Write Letters for All Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Abby, Letter Booklet, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Suing Lerner For Divorce

NEW YORK (AP)—Alan Jay Lerner, the lyricist of "My Fair Lady," "Camelot," and "Gigi" fame, is being sued for divorce by his seventh fair lady.

And reports from London says the 25-year-old leading lady in a revival of "My Fair Lady" may be auditioning for the part of Mrs. Lerner No. 8.

Nina Bushkin is suing the 67-year-old Lerner for divorce, the New York Post reported Thursday.

"I loved him when I married him three years ago," said the 29-year-old daughter of jazz pianist Joey Bushkin. But she says the age difference was a problem.

"I didn't notice it at all when we were alone together. Alan is very young at heart. But when we were with friends it became very obvious — some of his friends are 80 years old."

Football Coach Paul Brown once experimented with a walkie-talkie to send signals to his quarterback who had a receiver in his helmet.
