More Than 140 Oldtimers Here For Reunion

Early days in Haskell were re-lived and acquaintances of by-gone days renewed Saturday when about 140 of the town's first citizens or their descendants gathered to celebrate "Old Timer's Day."

Their headquarters were at the community room of the Haskell National Bank, and from the time the first arrivals started assembling there was a steady hum of voices as the rap of years was closed between old friends.

They came from Austin, Belton, Farmersville, Gordon, Wichita Falls, and from Albuquerque, N. M., to name some of the towns represented.

As the oldest native resident at the reunion, a blue recognition ribbon was presented to Mrs. M. E. Lancaster of Haskell. Other ribbons went to John Draper of Austin and Mrs. R. L. LeClaire of Albuquerque for coming the furthest distance.

Another ribbon was mailed to Mrs. M. E. Lancaster of Haskell as the oldest person registering at the affair. She is 90 years old.

The celebration was a part of the Rice Springs Roundup, and was planned and carried out under supervision of a committee composed of Mr. Robertson with Mrs. Henry Withers, club pianist playing the accompaniment.

Wheat Loan $1.79 Here Stonewall County Sheriff's Posse Is Top Club In Roundup Parade

The 1960 loan price on 1959 wheat was announced Wednesday for Haskell and adjoining counties, the local ASC office reported.

In Haskell County, the loan rate is $1.79 per bushel gross, on No. 1 basis.

This will net the producer $1.66½ per bushel in Haskell, after deduction of storage and service charges of 12½ cents per bushel, it was explained.

The loan rate on oats was announced as 58¢ gross per bushel.

The wheat loan rate is identical in Haskell, Jones, Knox, Stonewall and Baylor, while Throckmorton has a loan rate of $1.80.

Local grain buyers report the wheat harvest proceeding rapidly with well over half the crop harvested.

Yields are surprisingly high, grain buyers report, with 30 and 35 bushel production almost commonplace.

On the Lewis Thomas farm north of Haskell, a 45-acre tract produced 40.1 bushels per acre, while a 140-acre allotment on another farm averaged 30.2 bushels. Similar yields are reported in all parts of the county.

The Stonewall County Sheriff's Posse, colorfully attired and wearing flashy gold shirts, won first place award in the parade opening the annual Rice Springs Roundup and Horse Show Thursday afternoon.

Second place trophy went to the spirited Buckaroos Range Riders of Breckenridge, and third place award to the Callahan County Sheriff's Posse from Baird.

In all nine riding clubs, including Haskell County Sheriff's Posse as host club, took part in the almost mile-long procession of mounted riders, parade contestants, individual parade entries, led by the snappy Haskell High School Band and a bevy of good-looking majorettes. A Highway Patrol car cleared the way for the parade around the courthouse square and through the business section, where crowds thronged the sidewalks and overflowed into the streets along four blocks of the main business section.

Other out-of-town riding clubs taking part in the parade and grand entry Thursday night were Coleman County Range Riders, Albany Riding Club, Olney Boots & Saddie Club, Seymour Remuda, Eastland County Sheriff's Posse.

Capturing attention of parade-watchers were several novelty features, including a red-wheeled one-seater buggy of the vintage of 1900, a wire-wheel racing cart, and a small cart pulled by a "Texas tebra," a burro with white painted stripes.

Commercial entries included new model cars furnished by Smith-Toliver Chevrolet, Bill Wilson Motor Co., Perry Motor Co., Richey-Strain, Medford Motors, along with combines, farm equipment and tractors from Gilmore Implement and Woodard Farm Equipment Co.

For Sheriff, Bill Pennington, incumbent seeking re-election, is opposed by G. T. (Garth) Garrett.

Weekend Rains Bring Moisture For Planting

Weekend rains followed by a heavy downpour around midnight Tuesday have brought almost two inches of moisture to the Haskell area, while halting briefly the harvest of the county's best wheat crops in years.

Saturday night's rainfall of .36 inch was accompanied by severe winds which caused some loss of unharvested grain. Sunday precipitation of .70 was measured at the City Hall gauge, followed by a heavy downpour which fell briefly Tuesday night bringing .80 inch of moisture for a total of 1.86 inch in the four-day period, Saturday through Tuesday.

Cotton farmers welcomed the weekend rains as bringing ample moisture on which to plant. However, Tuesday night's heavy rain might make some replanting necessary, several farmers stated.

Grain producers and cotton farmers alike would welcome a period of fair weather now, at least until cotton is up to a good stand.

Friday night, the Warriors take on Knox City there, while the Braves will meet Rule at Rule.

Rotarians See Slides Showing New Texas Cave

As the result of an entertaining program at last Thursday's meeting and luncheon several members of the Rotary Club are considering the idea of becoming "spelunkers" or cave explorers.

George Gray of Abilene, personnel director with West Texas Utilities Company, and accomplice of no mean accomplishment himself, was guest speaker at the luncheon-meeting, and showed slides of views inside a newly-discovered cave near Sonora, Texas.

He explained that existence of the cave, located some six or eight miles from Sonora on the Mayfield Ranch, had been known for years, but had not been explored to any extent until recent years.

Gray showed numerous slides which portrayed many of the fascinating formations in the section of the subterranean area that had been explored. The Sonora Cave is now being placed in readiness for opening it to the public, he stated.

The speaker declared that the Sonora Cave in some respects exceeds Carlsbad Cavern in awe-inspiring beauty and this statement was borne out by slides in color of some of the formations.

In the course of his comments on cave exploration, Gray stated for the benefit of would-be spelunkers that snakes and other wildlife would not be found past the natural light zone in a cavern or cave.

Henry Withers was program chairman for the day and introduced Mr. Gray.

Group singing of several numbers were led by Thos. B. Robertson with Mrs. Henry Withers, club pianist playing the accompaniment.

Mr. Martin had volunteered for the barbecuing chore and had prepared a cooking pit of hot coals. While working near the fire, he tripped and fell, one hand striking in the bed of coals.

He was brought immediately to the hospital, and will likely be hospitalized for some time.

but cut wheat, and will start cotton planting when it is dry enough. All in all, things look fine. The rain was from an inch to 1½ inches all over the community, and though it was not the frog-strangler some people were hoping for, it fell slowly and gently, and was the good old soaking kind. Maybe it filled some of the yawning cracks that were coming in the fields. I was beginning to worry about losing a boy in some of them when they begin breaking wheat land. Gene says deep cracks are Mother Nature's way of cultivating herself, and that those cracks open the soil even deeper than deep plowing. I don't care, I think they look real sad, and more like Mother Nature has chapped lips from lack of a drink of water. Anyway, our part of Mother Nature's soil has had a good, welcome drink, and as soon as it gets dry enough, we can get to this cotton.

I would like to again thank those who were so kind to me in the past and solicit your continued support, and the vote and support of those whose candidate did not get in the run-off.

You may rest assured that if I am returned to the office, I will continue to serve in a trustworthy and efficient manner.

Scholarships To Be Awarded For Girls Club Work

A local 4-H Club Girl who really knows her way around the home may be the lucky winner of a $400 Montgomery Ward college scholarship this year, according to the National 4-H Service Committee of Chicago.

The young homemaker must be enrolled in the 4-H Home Economics program, have satisfactorily completed at least three years of club work, and be over 14 years old before she can compete in this top honor.

Work in the home economics project includes cooking, food preservation, sewing, meal planning, housekeeping, buying and budgets. Developing exhibits, displays and demonstrations are among the stated objectives of this genuinely useful project directed by the Extension Service and the USDA.

The national judging is done on the member's 4-H record book which is compiled during her club career. The comprehensive report contains not only highlights of the home economics projects and other 4-H achievements, but also evidence of leadership, community service, scholastic standing, and personal recommendations from 4-H Club leaders.

Work qualifications are high and competition keen since only six girls will be selected from all 50 states and Puerto Rico where 4-H Clubs are well established. Besides the scholarship, a trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago is waiting for the highest ranking member in the state.

This is the 38th consecutive year that Montgomery Ward has supported the 4-H program, according to the National 4-H Service Committee which distributes awards through the State Extension office.

1960 Used Car Market Loaded With Bargains

Today's used car buyer will find the best bargains since 1955-56, according to Changing Times, Kiplinger Magazine.

An article in the current issue of the magazine notes that dealers' inventories are high, and prices are the lowest in several years. Indications are that 1960 will be a big new car year, and used cars sell in the ratio of 2.1 to new cars. When new cars sell well, dealers are loaded with trade-ins, and there's no way to cut back "production" when supplies are too high. The only thing to do is lower prices to increased demand, and the magazine predicts many new-car dealers will do that, particularly in May and June.

In addition, the article states, the U. S. compacts and imports priced at $2,000 or less are pushing down used car prices.

Best buys, say the editors of the magazine, include many of the three-year-olds which will sell for around $1,000 this summer. They probably have depreciated during the first quarter of their average life span to about 40 per cent of their original price. So even if a $1,000 three-year-old depreciates as much as 30 per cent in the next two years, the actual dollars and cents cost of depreciation is considerably less than that borne by the original owner.

The editors warn against cancelling out savings in lower depreciation by purchasing a car with high maintenance costs. For operating economy, they advise sticking to the low priced car.

Haskell Sailor Spends 3 Days In Japan
Shimoda, Japan (FHTNC)—Roger D. West, fireman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. West of Haskell completed a 3-day visit in Shimoda May 19, while serving aboard the heavy cruiser USS St. Paul, the U. S. Seventh Fleet's flagship homeported at Yokosuka, Japan.

Purpose of the visit was the participation of the St. Paul and her crew in the annual Black Ship Festival, which commemorates the arrival of Admiral Perry in Japan 107 years ago.

Driver Attitude Big Factor in Accidents

Driver attitude, in the opinion of J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, plays the leading role in a high percentage of traffic accidents.

Driver attitudes are not in-born, but are created and many times can be corrected if caught in time, the safety expert states.

"In dealing with traffic violators and in accident investigations police officers frequently find a driver who normally is a gentleman and considerate of others. Behind a steering wheel, however, he is transformed into a self-appointed daredevil . . . always in a hurry," Musick said.

Musick listed six sure signs of faulty driver attitudes:

1. Over-confidence—assuming that everyone else will do just the right thing at the right time.
2. Pride in his fast driving—puffing up over his no-tickets, no-accident record.
3. Faith in his experience—convinced that his experience will get him through. However, experience develops bad habits as well as good.
4. False estimates—relying on guesses, estimates and fiction instead of facts.

5. Self-righteousness—judging his own actions and deciding in favor of himself.

6. Impatience—taking chances and using poor judgment.

"Of course, these are only a few of the many problem attitudes which plague drivers," Musick said. "But they seem to be the ones that crop up most frequently."

"Drivers should remember," he said, "to expect only the best from themselves . . . and the worst from other motorists."

THE ILL-ADVISED EDITOR

In the Haskell Free Press of May 19th is an editorial captioned "Ill-Advised Action."

In this the Editor discusses his appraisal of people who differ with him in their thinking.

While the Editor and I have not always agreed on details of issues of the day, we have up to now agreed that every individual has the right to his own opinion and an obligation to act on it.

I suggest that you read the complete editorial again but I quote you here a few excerpts.

Quote: "A few opponents of the Miller Creek Municipal Water project continue labor under a delusion that the City of Haskell . . . has a voice in controlling the affairs of the NCTM Water Authority."

Apparently the "few opponents" referred to here are the 860 voters who voted for a Mayor pledged to support the Lake Stamford project.

It is my thinking that the people who elected the present City Council were aware of the fact that it was not a water election, but the campaigning was such that the final vote was the expression of the people on the separate water projects.

The Editor in expressing his disgust at the stupidity of the people who did not vote like he did, tells us that the appointees of the City Council are no more subject to the guidance of the Council than are the elected officials of the school board.

Sounds queer. But we do not have legal knowledge to discuss it.

Further he says; "Those who persuade the City Council to attempt to direct or control the affairs of the water district are advocating an ill-advised and insupportable course of action. The only purpose of such attempt would be to slow down the completion of the project, increase its cost, and thereby penalize the people of Haskell!"

Now Mr. Editor, do you know that this 860 voters whom you condemn as having nothing but evil purpose, represent 68 per cent (2716 people) in the town of Haskell?

Do you realize that they have not under-gone any great character change by reason of their recent vote? Those who had good purpose before will continue to act with good purpose.

Now let's rehash some of our water problems and talk about our neighbors. We find it easy to love them more when we know them better.

To the public our water issue appeared a closed question for many months. Then just out of the goodness of the heart the WATER BOARD authorized an "Open letter" in the Haskell Free Press, inviting and challenging them to present a better plan.

This was a "Jubilee" to me. I recognized in it a very special privilege, and the price which they quoted for installation facilities to Lake Stamford I recognized as being plenty liberal.

I put my gasoline and telephone money in my pocket and started. I knew that my difficulty would be that there was no one in Haskell with authority to enter into negotiation for water.

Our City Council were barred by reason of being a part of the water district. The WATER BOARD was barred because they were under mandate of the people with specific limitations to the Miller Creek project.

I am very happy with the apparent progress made. There is plenty cause to believe that the 860 voters who have recently endorsed this program, will be richly rewarded for their efforts with an abundant supply of the best water at the cheapest price, available to Haskell. And that they will ever be conscious of having contributed their bit in saving citizens of Haskell $2,500,000.00 in bond payments while preserving for the youth of our city a credit which they may use in future years.

Fifth of State's Pupils Ride Bus to School

Mary's legendary little lamb would have a hard time following her to school today in most Texas communities.

One Texas school child in every five now rides the school bus each day to and from the school house. The Texas State Teachers Association reported today.

Last year 400,223 Texas children rode to school in the familiar yellow buses, Texas Education Agency figures show. Total distance covered by the buses averaged 482,384 miles a day.

Stretch those miles over 175 days of instruction (the minimum school year) and you get 85 million mile trip. That's the equivalent of almost a round trip to the moon every day.

It's 253,000 miles to the moon. To the sun it 93 million miles—so the annual ride by Texas school children would fall short of the sun about nine million miles.

These figures are a comparison of the miles driven by 7,817 school buses receiving state aid. An average school bus last year traveled 61 miles per day and carried 51 children on its route.

Egg Prices Due To Improve In Last Half Year

Egg prices to producers for the last half of 1960 are expected to average considerably higher than for the same period a year ago, says John G. McHaney, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A strong factor in the forecast is the likelihood that a number of layers will continue to decline during the months ahead. The production of egg-type chicks in the United States during the first three months of 1960 was 37 per cent below the production for the same period in 1959 and the trend continued through April, the economist said. The production drop in Texas for this same period was 38 per cent.

Egg production in the nation in March was 9 per cent above the previous month but 7 per cent below March of 1959. The number of eggs produced per layer in Texas in March was 22 per cent above February and this increased rate of lay, points out the economist, could have been responsible for at least a part of the price decline in March.

McHaney says egg production will remain below the year before and soon the egg supply will decline seasonally. With an increase in egg prices, the possibility is very good, he adds, that many producers will hold hens which have been in production 10 or 12 months. From a marketing standpoint, this could mean more leakers and cracked shells and eggs with lower interior quality. These conditions, McHaney says, will lower the overall income from eggs.

This quality factor, along with the reduction of lay of older birds, should be analyzed carefully by producers in determining whether to sell old hens, keep them or replace them with pullets, concludes the economist.

IRS Schedules Exams for Tax Payers Agents

The Internal Revenue Service announced the second annual examination for special enrollment to practice as a taxpayer's agent before the Internal Revenue Service. This written examination will be held on September 8 and 9, 1960, simultaneously in designated IRS offices throughout the country.

Internal Revenue gave the first revised special enrollment examination in June of 1959, according to Henry R. Hall, Administrative Officer of the Wichita Falls office. Approximately 2500 applications to take the examination were received throughout the country and of that number 2188 persons were found to be qualified and allowed to take the examination. Of those participating, 1264 or 58% passed the examination.

Hall explained that the purpose of this examination is to test the technical competency of persons who seek enrollment as agents and who are neither attorneys, CPAs, or ex-IRS employees. Applications can be obtained from M. O. Tesson, Assistant Chief, Audit Division, Internal Revenue Service, 2101 Pacific Avenue, Dallas, Texas. Potential applicants should request Document 5145 for complete information on the examination. No applications will be accepted by the Director of Practice postmarked later than June 30, 1960.

DOORS IN TEXAS

BY VERN SANFORD

with your cane pole. Further more, with rod and reel, you can use artificial lures. The cane pole is strictly for live bait.

Now you've decided to buy a rod and reel. There are hundreds of them, but they all fall into three categories: bait-casting, spin and fly. The kind you want depends on the sort of fishing you intend to do. Let us suppose that the largemouth bass is your quarry.

I'd suggest a bait-casting rig for this purpose; a fairly short rod, about 5 1/2 feet long, rather stiff, but with a flexible tip; and the best reel you can buy in a weight that will balance with your rod. Don't get a rod taller than you are.

There are those who will argue with me, and I will concede some points to them. Prime objections to the bait-casting rig is that it is more difficult to master than a spinning outfit. True.

But... in seeking the large mouth bass you want something that will turn him back when he heads for the weeds, brush, stumps, and rocks where he resides. The largemouth is full of savvy about ways and means of fouling your line so that he can work the hook out of his mouth at his leisure.

Sure, the spin-cast reel is the easiest to learn. But ordinarily you don't use it with anything heavier than eight-pound test line. I know that such a line will stand a lot of pressure, but you can put much more line on a bait-casting reel, and there are going to be times when you will wish you had it.

So, let's start this beginner out right. He's going to buy some spinning stuff later on anyway.

Okay, he's at the tackle shop. The operator of this place is in business for profit, but at the same time he wants the neophyte to become a successful fisherman. This newly-bitten angler will get the disease in its more violent form if he is successful in bringing home a few scaly ones. So you can rest assured that the tackle shop man will give the best advice he can offer.

Naturally he will advise our neophyte to get the best—not necessarily the fanciest. You can pay any amount of money for rod and reels. You can even have a rod custom-made for you, if you like, with a lot of gimmicks, stylish wrappings, and whatnot. Frankly, the fish don't know the difference. They are not supposed to see the rod anyway until caught.

Have the tackle dealer fill the reel with 15-pound nylon line, and you've got the rig for black bass fishing. Wait a minute, though. You're not hurry this thing, remember? You're not ready to head for the river or lake yet! First, you've got to learn how to use this new rig of yours.

RIDE 'EM, COWBOY—The nation's top rodeo stock is brought to annual Santa Rosa Roundup and Quarter Horse Show in Vernon each year by famed rodeo producers Lynn and Jake Beutler of Elk City, Okla. Thrills and spills such as this are common place at this world championship rodeo, to be held in Vernon nights of June 22 through 25.

Dyess AFB Sets "Fiesta Days" Celebration

Dyess AFB, Abilene—West Texans have a treat in store, coming up June 15, 16, 17 and 18, at Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene, when the installation of the Strategic Air Command hosts its annual Fiesta Days Celebration.

The base will be open to the public during the four day period, and in the fashion of a county fair (military style), the occasion will feature carnival rides and booths; displays of modern military aircraft and equipment; a darling sky-divers paratroops exhibition; stage shows spotlighting outstanding show business personalities; and a performance each day by the famous U. S. Air Force Drum and Bugle Corps from Washington, D. C.

One of the acts headlining the stage show portion of Fiesta Days will be western recording artist Leon (Take It Away) McAuliff and his Cimarron Boys. This outstanding aggregation will share the spotlight for nine stage shows (two nightly, and a Saturday matinee on June 18), with such an impressive array of performers as the ever-popular Ink Spots; amusing Lonzo and Oscar of Grand Ole Opry fame; the versatile Merry Macs vocal group; local favorite comedian, Uncle Willie; and the danceable orchestra of Chuck Cabot.

Leon McAuliff, appropriately known as "Mr. Steel Guitar," gained fame in western music ranks, not only as "Steel Guitar Rag" and "Panhandle Rag," among others. He has made over fifty recordings for Columbia Records with the Bob Wills band, and a partial list of his waxings with the Cimarron Boys include "Rag Mop," "Chattanooga Shoe Shine Boy," "Jellybean Rag," "What've You Got?," "Tulsa Straight Ahead," "Take It Away, Leon," and ever so many more.

The stage show schedule lists the Merry Macs, Lonzo and Oscar, Roy Dusky, Uncle Willie, and Fred Woolridge Band, for two appearances on both June 15 and 16; and for the remaining two days, June 17 and 18, it will be the Ink Spots with the Chuck Cabot group; again comedian Uncle Willie, and then Leon McAuliff.

The carnival on the flight line will be somewhat larger than last year's Fiesta Days attraction, and will consist of 10 rides, plus approximately 35 booths, the majority being sponsored by Dyess squadrons.

No admission will be charged for admittance to the carnival area.

WOMEN... AND ARITHMETIC

WHICH are really better at household arithmetic—men or women? Let's look at the question in terms of insurance.

What woman would carry only $1,000 in fire insurance on furniture, clothing, etc., when it would cost several times as much to replace them? What woman does not know what a financial burden would fall on her if her husband were injured in an accident? Yet many a man overlooks these vital needs.

So here's a practical suggestion to husbands and wives. Don't guess about insurance... consult this agency for expert advice on which policies to buy—how much—and what to do in event of loss.
