Scouters Sharpen Their Skills On Scurry Ranch

By JOHN DUNNAM
The green tents stretching across the rugged terrain gave the scene on the Joel Hamlett Ranch the aura of a commando training ground. But the uniformed men scurrying about were not raiders preparing for a dangerous mission but adult scouts experiencing first hand the things they seek to teach their young wards.

Thirty-seven men and women, all adults, from West Texas and New Mexico, assembled April 26 for a week of intensive training for their Wood Badge.

The objective: To train quality leadership in the Scout program in the most realistic conditions practical.

"Participants develop knowledge of scoutcraft and leadership in skills which enable them to work more effectively with boys and other adults," said Oley Hedrick of Midland, course director.

"Living, camping, cooking, etc., in a patrol develop an enthusiasm for scouting and the outdoors which some say has been the highlight of their lives," he said.

The leaders then share what they have learned with their scout troops, and the end result is more boys receiving the type of training that helps mold them into responsible citizens, he said.

They could hardly have chosen a better site for their camp than the Hamlett ranch. Located about 12 miles northeast of town and still remembered by some as the Johnson Ranch, it offers almost total isolation, a challenging environment and enough water from Ennis Creek to provide for baths and water safety drills.

"Joel Hamlett was very generous to have made the ranch available to us,"

Iranians Agree To Transfer Bodies

By The Associated Press
The Iranian government has agreed to transfer the bodies of eight American commandos killed in last week's aborted hostage rescue mission but preparations for shipment out of Iran will take two or three more days, Switzerland's ambassador to Tehran said today.

Ambassador Eric Lang, who is involved in the transfer arrangements, told a Western reporter in the Iranian capital that the "administrative problems are all settled" and that everyone in the government has agreed to return the bodies to the families.

But there were strict international rules on shipping bodies which must be met, he said. The bodies had to be prepared for shipment in a certain way and special lead coffins had to be constructed. A customs officer also had to be present to certify the shipment.

"But it goes forward," Lang said.

As Texans Cast Ballots...

Reagan, Bush Hold Spotlight

DALLAS (AP)—Texas Republicans voted today in a presidential primary deep in the heart of Ronald Reagan country, with the conservative front-runner seeking to bury the determined challenge of George Bush.

Bush said he'd do all right in his adopted home state—and might even upset Reagan.

While the Republican rivals competed for 80 presidential-nominating votes, Democrats held a hybrid primary-caucus contest in which people had to vote twice to register a choice between President Carter and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

The Carter camp expects to win comfortably, but Kennedy spent two days campaigning in an effort to pry away a share of the delegates.

Texas Democrats will cast 152 votes at the Democratic National Convention, but it will be weeks before they settle the lineup of candidate support. When they do, it is likely to be heavily Carter's way.

As soon as the primary voting ends, Democrats will convene their caucuses in about 6,000 Texas precincts, to begin the process of selecting their delegates.

But Democrats who wanted a vote in the caucuses, which do count, had to vote first in the presidential primary, which doesn't count. The primary was, in effect, the registration system to prove the Democratic credentials of caucus voters.

Carter, Kennedy and California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. were on the ballot for the just-for-show Democratic preference vote.

On the Republican primary ballot, it was Reagan versus Bush, a New England native transplanted to Texas 32 years ago. Bush served two terms in Congress from a Houston district and ran twice for the Senate in Texas.

For all that, Bush called Reagan the heavy favorite in Texas, and said at one point that he was trying to achieve the impossible in seeking to upset the former California governor.

Reagan put on a late campaign push in Texas after Bush decided he's try to make a contest of it. Emboldened by his upset victory in the Pennsylvania primary April 22, the former United Nations ambassador became a full-time Texas campaigner—and invested more than $500,000 in the effort. As in Pennsylvania, he staged a costly television campaign, while Reagan—whose national spending is pushing toward the legal limit—ran a low-budget operation.

For Reagan, the Texas campaign was a return to the scene of a 1976 triumph: his 100-to-0 wipe-out of then-President Gerald R. Ford in the last primary. That delegate shutout cemented a Reagan comeback after early primary losses, and fueled a challenge he pressed all the way to the GOP convention.

That's what Bush is trying to achieve this time, bristling at the suggestion of Reagan allies that he should quit the campaign for the sake of unity behind a virtually certain nominee. He said he needs no party unity lectures from Reagan supporters.

"If I had another week, I would beat Reagan here," he said on primary eve. "I might anyway."

He doesn't really expect to win; his basic claim is that he'll do a lot better than anyone could have guessed two weeks ago, and prove in the process that he remains a credible challenger as the only GOP alternative to Reagan.

Until he gained 54 percent of the popular vote in Pennsylvania, and a nine-point victory—the fourth primary he had won. Reagan has won 11.

Even in losing the Pennsylvania popular vote, Reagan claimed to have won the competition for nominating delegates there.

Reagan expects to have it both ways in Texas. The GOP system awards delegates in line with the popular vote. Each of the 24 congressional districts will elect 3 GOP delegates, and 8 more will go to the statewide leader.

Reagan, who has 469 of the 998 delegates he needs to win the GOP nomination, will gain more Saturday as Oklahoma and Arizona Republicans vote by convention and caucus while Texas is holding its primary.

Bush has 112 delegates, and the week ahead is not a promising one for his catchup effort, with Reagan looming strong in Tuesday presidential primaries in Indiana, North Carolina and Tennessee. The Texas primary was open; with no party registration, a voter could take either ballot.

Snyderite Feels Safe In Own, Rebuilt Plane

By JOHN LONG

H.R. "Blackie" Mears of Snyder is more fearful of flying in a big commercial airplane than in his own rebuilt 1947 Aeronca.

In a commercial airliner, there is a great deal that can go wrong, Mears prefers the simplicity and safety of his own plane, the one he rebuilt from scratch and the one that is now better than it was brand new.

He found the plane 2½ years ago in Cortez, Colo., and hauled it back to Snyder in a trailer. "It wasn't in flying condition," he observed.

Then began the process of rebuilding the plane, a process that Mears estimates consumed 800 hours of his spare time. But the wait, the time and the effort were all well worth it, he believes.

The plane, which was used as a trainer back in 1947, never had any carpeting until Mears got hold of it. Now it has carpeting and customized upholstery. The plane is covered in Ceconite, a new synthetic covering vastly superior to the cotton planes sported in the days of old. The engine, too, has chrome cylinders which makes it better than the first engine. The whole plane is better than it was new.

"I enjoy working on airplanes," Mears said simply. "I used to build models when I was a kid. I just always wanted to fly."

Mears learned how to fly in 1954. Back then a private license cost only $500, he said. Today it costs several times that amount.

Mears maintains his interest in planes is one that has kept him occupied off and on for 26 years.

"It's fascinating," he said. "Some people like to fish, some people like to hunt, and some people like airplanes."

Mears' next project is to become involved someday in aerobatics, the acrobatics of air flight. He said he will do "just for my own pleasure."

In all of his many years of association with airplanes, Mears has logged only 236 hours of flight.

Museum Opens Exhibit Of Public School Art

Art work by students in Snyder Junior High School is being shown in a display opening today in the Scurry County Museum at Western Texas College.

Thelma Ortiz and Evelyn Ware were named winners of the Best Overall Award in the two-dimensional and three-dimensional divisions, respectively. John Gibson, art instructor at WTC, was juror for the show.

The exhibit is to remain in place through May 21, Sharon Sutton, museum director, has announced. Museum hours today are 1-5 p.m. and the museum is open each weekday. There is no admission charge.

Snyder Play 2nd In State Finals

AUSTIN—Snyder High School's drama department will have to wait another year to break its own record.

However, the SHS presentation of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" went "down to the wire" in the Class 3A University Interscholastic League finals here Friday night before it was edged out by Gregory Portland High School's entry in the contest.

Snyder placed second. Individual awards were to be announced Saturday following the judge's critique.

Snyder High School had won first place in its class in 1979, its seventh state title, which set a new record. The 1980 production had advanced through competition in the district and regional level to reach Austin again, sweeping a majority of individual honors along the way.

Weekend update

Israel Imposes Curfew

HEBRON Israeli Occupied West Bank (AP)—Israel today deported three Palestinian leaders to Lebanon and imposed a total curfew on the city's nearly 40,000 Arab residents, officials said. The reprisals came less than a day after Palestinian terrorists killed five Jewish settlers and wounded 17 others in an ambush here.

Israeli military sources said Hebron Mayor Fahad Quawasmeh, the mayor of neighboring Halhoul, Mohammed Milhem, and the religious leader of Hebron, Sheik Raji Byayud Al-Tamini, were expelled before dawn on orders of Defense Minister Ezer Weizman.

Airlift Of Cubans Begins

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—An airlift taking Cuban refugees on their first step toward resettlement in the United States began today as a chartered jet headed for a temporary tent city in the Florida Panhandle. The first flight, carrying about 130 passengers, left Key West International Airport at 10:36 a.m. EDT, more than an hour behind schedule. Each of the 128 seats on the Air Florida Boeing 727 charter was filled, and a few adults held young children on their laps.

The SDN Column

We are reminded by various sources from time to time that we take many luxuries for granted in this county. Still, we were surprised to read the other day that a majority of American homes now use at least 16 different electric appliances.

It seems like a lot of gadgets, but if you count them off one by one, you probably will come up with a figure close to that. It is an awesome change from the days when there was no electricity. And some of us still up and going today can recall the days when electricity was limited to the town folks, and even then it was used primarily for lighting and it wasn't always available 24 hours a day.

We remember the time when the power line first came out to the backdocks in our part of the world. The first appliance the lady of the house demanded (and got) was a refrigerator. Next came an electric iron, then an electric pump in the well, and then an electric-powered radio. The latter was important to the younger members of the family because it meant you could count on getting the Grand Ole Opry from Nashville and even the National Barn Dance from Chicago on a steady basis without declining power as the batteries began to lose their charge. It was a great improvement.

There wasn't any television, of course, and such things as microwave ovens, electric can openers, clothes washers, dryers, dishwashers, mixers, blenders, electric hair curlers, air conditioners, etc., were unheard of.

So, the more we think about it, the more we can easily see 16 or more appliances in most homes today, and we're glad.

But progress may have seemed to move slowly at times. There is the case of the salesman who sold the farmer a power saw which he guaranteed would easily cut down 15 trees a day. A week later, the farmer returned to report that the saw must be faulty. He could average only three trees a day with it.

The salesman picked up the saw and pulled the starter cord on the engine. The saw promptly revved up into its loud whine.

"Hey," yelled the farmer. "What's that noise?"

Ask Us

Q—Since our doctors are our professional men in the medical field; why are there no doctors on our hospital board?

A—The hospital board's function involves only administrative policy and is not directly associated with actual delivery of medical services. There is a medical staff, which has its own officers, made up of doctors who are accorded the privilege of practicing medicine at the hospital, and this staff deals with professional matters. A joint committee, made up of representatives of the medical staff, the board and administration, helps coordinate the hospital's program of operation.

Ill-Fated Rescue Try Had Best Equipment

By JAY PERKINS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The breakdown of the Iranian rescue attempt, a mission the Pentagon says was given the best in men and equipment, shows a need to upgrade the entire military, a group of retired defense leaders says.

"We'd better not have a come-as-you-are war in the 1980s with the Soviet Union because, gentlemen, we ain't ready," said Maj. Gen. J. Milnor Roberts, a former chief of Army Reserves who now heads the Reserve Officer Association.

"This rescue effort just focuses attention on what I consider to be a defense-wide problem," said Adm. Thomas Moorer, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. And he added "Instead of getting better, we're going to get worse" unless long-term steps are taken.

"We have a three-ocean commitment and we don't even have an ocean-and-a-half Navy," said Moorer.

Former Rear Adm. C.A. Mark Hill, a former assistant deputy chief for manpower, said "In order to do this mission, they had to draw down the fleet," taking men and equipment from other vital areas.

Hill contended the military was in "a declining, almost graveyard, spiral," and questioned what would happen if U.S. forces are confronted with a mission that requires a larger number of men and equipment.

Lt. Gen. Daniel O. Graham agreed, saying: "The fact of the matter is we had a nearly 40 percent failure rate" of the helicopters involved in the mission. "If that happens with machinery that was being babied... what is going to happen with run-of-the-mill equipment?"

The former leaders, appearing at a news conference sponsored by the American Security Council, said President Carter's promise to increase Defense spending by 3 percent in real terms is more perceived than real and will only continue a downward trend in overall military preparedness.

Texas Economic Health Is Among Nation's Best

By JOE STROOP
Associated Press Writer
DALLAS (AP)—Texans generally like big business and analysts say that attitude produces a healthy state economy better able to withstand the downward trends creating economic chaos elsewhere.

"Surveys have been conducted asking business leaders where they expect the most opportunities, where they see the most action, and Texas cities are always at the top of the list," said Labor Department analyst Sharon Cohany.

"The point is, the Texas economy is broad-based, it's diversified and it's still able to produce more jobs, relatively, than most other areas," said Ms. Cohany.

While unemployment rates for April leaped sharply in most industrial states, the Texas jobless rate declined from 5.8 percent to 5.4 percent, according to Labor Department figures released Friday.

"You have to remember the position Texas is in," she said. "It's got this diversified industry because it's considered a desirable place to be right now—it's considered one of the few areas where it's going to be happening in the 1980s."

Ms. Cohany said state laws, which impose no corporate income tax, and local governments which aggressively seek out new industries and offer incentives for businesses to relocate from other states, contribute to the strong, diverse economic position.

The Texas right-to-work law which prohibits closed union shops has generally been credited with keeping payrolls lower than other states without such laws.

"Texas recently has been discovered as having a favorable business climate," she said. "Local governments are willing to extend themselves toward business, which is not the case in a lot of other states."

Texas also benefits as a sunshine state and as a leader in the production of oil and gas and agriculture products which are in demand.

Ms. Cohany said the April unemployment drop may be a one-month phenomenon since the rate rose from 3.9 percent and 5.9 percent between December and March.

"I would expect even if the Texas unemployment rate should advance over the next few months, it is likely to remain significantly under the national rate," Ms. Cohany said.

A CHURCH CAN BE A BRIDGE....

If you visit First Christian Church, you'll probably be struck by the large number of worshippers who come from infinitely varied church backgrounds!...Some from conservative traditions; others come from the more liberal traditions. There is a reason for this infinite variety.

There is something about the openness and individual freedom of the Christian Church which appeals to those families and couples who are caught up in a spiritual dilemma... because husband and wife cannot reach across to the church heritage of the partner.

Somehow... without intending it, First Christian has become a "Bridge Church"... A place of worship which stands at a "Mid-Point" between widely varied spiritual backgrounds.

So... if you're looking for a place of family unity, allow First Christian Church to help you "Bridge the Gap" Worship with us!

ASTROGRAPH

Your Birthday
Bernice Bede Osol

May 4, 1980

The way to attain your ambitions this coming year is to emulate the turtle. Slow but steady steps will be the fastest and most meaningful.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Those you are with today find you exciting and stimulating to have around because you're full of fresh and innovative ideas. You make life interesting. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Being a good listener could be especially beneficial for you today. You could hear of information that is just what you need to help your cause.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Be with those who you know can offer you some intellectual gymnastics today. You need a mentally challenging environment to kill boredom.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Dare to think big today. That which you can envision can be made possible once you decide to set your plans in motion.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You won't be at all comfortable around those who wish only to kill time today. Seek out pals you know are always interesting to be around.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you feel you can help, offer your advice to one who might be seeking your assessment of a puzzling situation today. You won't be wrong in what you tell this person.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Words and ideas are your best allies today. Keep all channels of communication open. The more people you deal with, the more imaginative you become.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Little things mean a lot for you today. In fact, you could even make a series of small financial gains that might add up to a tidy sum.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You are able to manage others very well today, because your orders make sense and you don't demand of others what you would not ask of yourself.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your concern for people is admirable today, but what really adds luster to your deeds is that you are helpful without calling attention to yourself.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) This could be a critical day where a new project is concerned. Progress may not be overwhelming, but it will be important.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're got what it takes to make material opportunities happen for you today. Put that thinking cap on. Start figuring all the angles.

Schools Set Round-Up Of First-Year Pupils

The annual Spring Round-up registration of children who will be entering Snyder Public Schools kindergarten next school year (1980-81) is scheduled for May 13 through May 15. Children are eligible for kindergarten if they will have reached five years of age on or before Sept. 1, 1980. Children who did not attend public school kindergarten but will reach six years of age on or before Sept. 1, should also be pre-registered for the first grade at this time.

Parents and guardians are requested to go to the school in their attendance area for the purpose of pre-enrolling the child and discussing health records. A valid birth certificate and immunization record will be required at this time.

All children should have previously completed or should be in the process of completing their required immunizations. According to Texas law, the children must be immunized for polio, DPT, Rubella, mumps, and measles (Rubeola) before they can enter school in the fall, 1980. A doctor's written verification of the child having measles or mumps will be acceptable in lieu of a vaccination.

Spring Round-Up pre-registration will be conducted between the hours of 8 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. according to the following schedule:

Central Elementary and East Elementary, Tuesday, May 13; Stanfield Elementary and North-east Elementary, Wednesday, May 14; West Elementary and North Elementary, Thursday, May 15.

PTK OFFICERS—These students have been selected to serve as officers for the Phi Theta Kappa chapter at Western Texas College in the 1980-81 school year. Seated are Carrie Taylor, Neva Reaves and Linda Belvin. Standing are Anne Beuerlein and Chris Johnson.

'Experience Unlimited' Offers Opportunities

Any Scurry County resident 60 years of age or older who is interested in part-time or temporary work has a special invitation to become part of the Experience Unlimited program in Snyder.

Experience Unlimited is a statewide program designed to bring Senior Citizens and prospective employers together. The Snyder office of Experience Unlimited is in the Senior Center and may be contacted by telephone at 573-0104.

"Some Senior Citizens are under the impression that they must be involved in activities at the Senior Center to be listed with the Experience Unlimited office," Jean Smith, coordinator of the program, said. "That is not true. We welcome anyone 60 or older to sign up with us. They can call us for details about how the program operates and then come in to fill out the forms we need. We need to know what kind of work the person is interested in doing and what his or her special skills or interests are. This helps us make effective referrals when employers call us."

"There is no charge for the services of the Experience Unlimited office listing.

Experience Unlimited does not set a pay scale. The worker and the employer will arrange their own hours, pay scale and other working conditions. The Experience Unlimited office is open each weekday.

"I would like to stress again that Senior Citizens do not have to be a member of any organization to be eligible for Experience Unlimited listing," Mrs. Smith said. "Anyone who has reached the age of 60 and would like to supplement their income with part-time work is welcome to contact us."

Cosmetology Classes On 4-Day Week

Cosmetology classes at Western Texas College will adopt a new four-day per week schedule beginning May 12, Judy Border, instructor, has announced.

Classes will meet Monday through Thursday on the new schedule. Patrons are reminded that there will be no Friday appointments after this week.

There are openings for additional students in the quarter beginning June 2, Mrs. Border said. Anyone interested in enrolling for that quarter should contact Mrs. Border as quickly as possible to make the necessary arrangements, or for information about the cosmetology program.

Photography Courses Set

Have a pleasant summer!

Better yet, capture your summer activities in pictures and process your film and print your photographs in courses to be offered at Western Texas College this summer.

Take your choice. Introduction to Photography, listed as Journalism 130, will be offered Thursday evenings from 6-10:10 or on an individualized study basis. Journalism 230, listed as News Photography will be offered as a special topic: Color Photography. It will meet Tuesday evenings from 6-10:10 or on an individualized study basis.

Both courses are convenient to working people and students home for the summer from other colleges, as well as anyone interested in photography.

Both classes will meet in SC-105 and a $10 lab fee is charged for use of college darkroom facilities and chemicals. Cameras and accessory equipment will be provided for those who need them during the courses.

An individualized laboratory schedule will be arranged with each person enrolling, allowing for possible day, evening or weekend work.

Sample topics to be covered in Jou. 130 include cameras and lenses, processing film, exposure, printing and finishing, filters, lighting and flash, and composition.

Some study of scenery, architecture, still life, people, action and emotion in photographs will be covered.

Jou. 230 students will process and print from color negative and color slide films.

Students will supply film and print paper, but all photos made will belong to them.

Each class carries three semester hours credit and is transferable to four-year schools.

Registration is Wednesday, May 28. Classes begin May 29.

For more information contact Dr. Mike McBride at 573-8511, ext. 273.

Theft Case Under Probe

A theft and traffic accident were investigated Friday by Snyder police.

Reporting the theft was Florine Badger. She told officers a cassette tape recorder worth $55 was stolen from 2101 College Ave. A juvenile was later arrested in connection with the incident. The case was worked by Don Whitenburg.

The traffic accident occurred at 9 p.m. in the 900 block of College Ave. Reports state a 1975 Oldsmobile driven by Benny Parnell struck a railroad spike that damaged the underside of the car. The accident was worked by Don Cheek.

Four Blaffer Exhibits Set At Museum

The Scurry County Museum at Western Texas College will be showing four exhibits from the Sarah Campbell Blaffer Foundation in the next three years, Sharon Sutton, museum director, has announced.

The first of the exhibits, "The Great Masters," is scheduled for the museum in June and July this year. In January, 1981, American abstract expressionists will be featured.

"The Disasters of War" by Goya will be shown in March, 1981. The final show, "A Golden Age of Painting: Dutch and Flemish Masters," is scheduled for April, 1982.

The Scurry County Museum is one of only 24 in Texas accredited by the American Association of Museums. Exhibits in the permanent gallery trace local history and temporary exhibits in the multi-purpose room offer a variety of displays. Information about the museum may be obtained by calling the director's office at AC 915 573-6107.

Officers Elected By PTK Chapter

Neva Reaves has been elected new president of the Psi Zeta chapter of Phi Theta Kappa at Western Texas College.

Phi Theta Kappa is a national honor society for students in junior colleges.

Dr. Mary Hood and Dr. Duane Hood are faculty sponsors for the WTC chapter.

Other new officers are Chris Johnson of Seminole, vice president; Anne Beuerlein of Snyder, secretary; Linda Belvin of Loraine, reporter, and Carrie Taylor of Snyder, historian.

Miss Reaves is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joe Reaves of Snyder. Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Johnson. Miss Beuerlein is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Beuerlein. Miss Belvin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Belvin, and Miss Taylor is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawton Taylor.

All the new officers will be sophomore students at WTC in the 1980-81 school year.

Two Named Top Science Students

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Bill Clements announced Thursday that Kathleen Childress of Lufkin and Charles Claunch of Mansfield have been selected as Texas' most outstanding high school science students.

Intensify Visitation
By R. Virgil Mott
Director of Music
Trinity United Methodist Church

Do you really believe in Biblical plans? Do you believe that your visitation program in your church needs to be intensified? Do you honestly believe that an "all-out effort" on your part is necessary?

Consider this scripture: (Luke 14:23). And the Lord said into the servant, "Go out into the highways and hedges and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled."

If we are to continue to gain spiritual attitudes, and altitudes in our churches, visitation is a service that must be performed by more and more capable people. Assuming that you do now believe in an all-out visitation program beginning today, why not intensify your program of visitation?

Webster's dictionary says the word Intensify, and then follows with the word Intensified—the latter is what you need to say to your people, "We have intensified our church visitation program."

Strengthen your force of present visitors, stir up the gifts of those whom you touch. There is a need of knowledge on how to visit and how not to visit. Let us begin by teaching those who "go out to visit" to visit intelligently. There are books that have been written on this subject. Keep this scripture in mind: John 20:21.

Then Jesus said to them again, "Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you."

EYEDROPPING

Difficult to put drops in your eyes? An elderly patient at Mason Clinic, Seattle, took a cheap pair of plastic (not glass) sunglasses. He drilled a 5 mm. hole in the center of each lens. After washing away the ground plastic, he tilted his head back with sunglasses in place, inserted the eye dropper into each hole and squeezed. No missing because of a shaky hand, no blinking, no danger of poking the eye. Score one for the elderly.

Hamlett is one of three Snyder area men who attended the camp. The others were Ed Stewart and L.E. (Doc) Griffin. Wood Badge training was instituted in 1919 by Baden Powell, founder of the Boy Scout movement. It derives its name from the two wooden beads Powell presented the participants at the conclusion of the first training camp. The beads had been taken from an African chief, whom Powell captured while serving with the British Army.

Others attending the Wood Badge training were Robert Allison, Christoval; Bonnie Cheek, Abilene; Roy Curbo, Brownwood; Gage Stover, Abilene; Joe Kallmyer, San Angelo; Steve Miller, Odessa; Ray Schwertner, Abilene; R. ### Three Road Mishaps In Area Friday

Three traffic accidents were investigated by troopers of the Department of Public Safety Friday night. The first, which occurred at the intersection of Highway 180 and Farm to Market Road 1611, was reported at 6:50 p.m. It involved a 1980 Oldsmobile driven by Charles Huckabee of Snyder that was traveling south on the farm to market road and a 1975 Ford pickup driven by Vaughn H. Criswell of Guthrie that was going east on Highway 180. Moderate damages were reported to the vehicles.

The second accident occurred about 7:20 p.m. on the Cotton Stalk Road. It involved a 1974 Chevrolet pickup truck driven by Dale Russell Myers of Midland that struck a culvert. Heavy damage was reported in that mishap. The third accident was a cow-car mishap on Farm to Market Road 1609 that was reported about 9:15 p.m. DPS troopers said a 1979 Chevrolet driven by T.T. Withers of Snyder struck a cow, resulting in moderate damage to the car.

All WTC students were invited and this included students at the extension centers. Most of the works are for sale. Awards will be presented at 3 o'clock today. The first place winner will receive a $50 cash prize, with awards of $30 and $15 going to the second and third place winners respectively. Terry Gilbreth, director of the Diamond M Museum, was juror for the show. Included in the display are paintings, drawings, prints and three-dimensional pieces. The new exhibit is sponsored by the WTC Artisans Club. It is to remain in the gallery through Friday and may be seen throughout the week without admission charge.

To Use Propane—ARLINGTON (AP)—Police officials say they plan to convert five squad cars from gasoline to propane to save money. "Propane is much, much less expensive than gasoline, and we concluded we could realize an appreciable savings by using propane," said Deputy Chief Marion Rettig. He said it would cost about $1,000 each to convert the five cars.

Hepatitis Outbreak In Winters

WINTERS (AP)—Residents of Ruppels County, reeling from a virulent outbreak of infectious hepatitis, are jamming doctors' offices to take protective injections of gamma globulin. Twenty-one cases of the disease were diagnosed in Winters within the past six weeks, and two new cases in nearby Rowena brought the state health department in to investigate. "I really think it is winding down now," said Winters health officer Dr. W.J. Lee Friday. "We haven't had a new case in a week." Dr. J.F. Pftuka of Balingier said he gave 10 to 15 gamma globulin shots a day at the start of the Winters outbreak, but he has been injecting 40 patients a day since the cases in Rowena were reported. Gamma globulin serum is given to prevent or ameliorate the disease, which causes nausea, vomiting, sore throat and diarrhea, and in severe cases, jaundice and liver damage. Health officials said the outbreak apparently began in a Winters kindergarten and spread through the school, which was closed for 11 school days in March after 12 students and nine adults employees contracted the disease. One woman was hospitalized. Another instance of infectious hepatitis has been confirmed in a San Angelo day care center worker, but state health officials said that the center's sanitary facilities were adequate and a gamma globulin injection program was unnecessary.

THE AMITYVILLE HORROR

From the bestseller that made millions believe in the unbelievable

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A reader complained, "Although my boyfriend is very affectionate, I wonder why he never says, 'I love you.'"

You replied, "Perhaps he isn't ready to make a commitment yet." Abby, I am definitely ready to make a commitment to my girlfriend, but I, too, find it very difficult to say, "I love you."

In college, I had a Japanese roommate who said, "If a Japanese boy were to tell a girl he 'loved' her, she would become very uncomfortable and wonder what he expected of her in return. Oriental men express their affection in more subtle ways — such as doing nice things for a girl, or giving her small gifts."

He also said that when American couples kiss in public in Japan, it causes a great deal of embarrassment and curiosity among the Japanese, who are unaccustomed to such a display of emotion in public.

I think we Westerners would do well to adopt the Oriental custom of keeping one's emotions under control.

Z.A.R.

DEAR Z.A.R.: It's true that controlling one's emotions certainly would reduce the incidence of accidents among the Occidents, as it does among the Orientals. But it will never play in Peoria — or Paris, or Palm Springs, or Passaic.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the woman who admits to being 65 pounds overweight, but insists that she is "happy, popular, good-looking, well-dressed, and couldn't care less what other people think." If she really believed this, she is not being honest with herself, so how can she be honest with others?

I have yet to meet an obese person who was totally honest. Generally speaking, they cheat on diets, lie about how much they eat and what they weigh; they even lie about having a "thyroid" condition.

Men prefer feminine women, and there's nothing feminine about hippos. They can't walk ladylike, they can't sit ladylike, and God forbid they should have to run! And if they were to see a moving picture of themselves walking away from the camera, they would never wear tight pants in public again!

In case you think I'm a skinny person with no understanding of the fat person's pain, let me assure you that I am a former fatty who is constantly fighting the battle of the bulge.

BEEN THERE

DEAR BEEN THERE: Not all fat people fit your stereotype. Some are honest, self-confident and able to accept themselves as they are. Witness "The National Association to Aid Fat People," a newly formed organization dedicated to fighting discrimination against the obese and to assuring them that fat is fine and nothing to be ashamed of.

DEAR ABBY: I am a grandmother, and as one might expect, I am placed in competition with the other grandmother. I don't believe in buying my grandchildren's love by bringing them presents every time I go to see them. However, the other grandmother does, which is her privilege. We all live in the same city.

The grandchildren have been conditioned (by the other grandma) to expect a gift every time a grandparent visits. I really love them, but I want them to be glad to see me for myself — not for what I bring them.

I become slightly irritated when the little ones invariably come running to greet me with, "What did you bring me?" I refuse to submit to this subtle form of blackmail. Any suggestions?

NO GIFT GRANNY

DEAR GRANNY: Your grandchildren will soon be conditioned to expect no gifts from you. Hang in there and concentrate on cultivating their love in other ways until their values mature — as they will in time.

Sr. Citizens 'May Day' To Feature Auction

The work of many skilled hands over the past year will go on the auction block Saturday when 23 quilts and eight afghans are offered for sale at the Senior Citizens Center "May Day" in Towle Park.

Grady W. Morris of Colorado City is donating his services as auctioneer for the sale. He owns and operate the C-City Auction House in Colorado.

Classes In Bargello To Begin Monday

Beginning Bargello classes to be offered on May 5 and 12 are still open for students.

Bargello is the decoration of a textile fabric by means of a needle and thread, and consists of flat vertical stitches laid parallel with the canvas weave rather than crossing the intersections diagonally as in most canvas stitches. These stitches, in graduating tones of the same color or in contrasting colors, are so arranged that the finished effect is a zigzag pattern. Bargello is sometimes called flame stitch in allusion to the flame-like gradation of color.

Classes are to meet from 7-9 p.m. on the two Mondays in the Needle Point Shop. Dorothy Dennis will be instructor. Tuition will be $12 per person and students will need to purchase supplies costing about $15.

Reservations for the class are to be made by calling the Community Services office at Western Texas College, 573-8511, extension 240. Students will then need to visit the Needle Point to select their materials.

Commencement Set For May 17

City and has been an auctioneer for about four years.

Also to be offered in this year's sale is a bronze sculpture titled "Mountain Man," donated by Snyder artist Dr. Robert Taylor.

Some of the quilts to be sold Saturday are old familiar patterns like the favorite Bow Tie, the Nine Patch, the Log Cabin, and the Flower Garden. Among those made from original designs are the Pink Pin-Wheel, pieced and quilted at the Senior Center.

An especially eye-catching quilt is the Maple Leaf, with colorful maple leaves applied on a solid camel-colored top. A State Flower quilt top made when there were only 48 states in the Union, was donated to the Center and features hand-painted flowers on natural muslin.

A bandana quilt made from bright red and navy blue bandanas is king-sized and each block bears the name of the person who quilted it. Red, blue and yellow were used in a baby's quilt made of calico.

The auction is to get underway at 6:30 p.m. Booths offering refreshments and craft items will open at 2 p.m. Entertainment is also scheduled during the afternoon. A barbecue is planned from 4:30-6:30 p.m., and all tickets must be purchased in advance. Ticket sales were limited to 1,000 and most of those were sold by Friday. No tickets are to be sold at the barbecue.

The Senior Center uses "May Day" as a major fund raiser. Gloria Shaw, director of the Center, said there is no admission charge and everyone is invited to come to the park to enjoy visiting the booths and the entertainment. In the event of bad weather, all activities will be moved to the agriculture complex at the Scurry County coliseum.

QUILT AUCTION—Grady W. Morris, right, looks over some of the quilts to be sold at auction on the Senior Center's May Day on May 10. Morris will be the auctioneer. Senior Citizens displaying the quilts are (left to right) Estelle Gary, Margarita Ayala and Erna Chauncey. Several of the quilts to be included in the auction are displayed in local businesses.

Cage Camp Set For Early June

Western Texas College will host its fifth annual Basketball Camp for elementary and junior high girls ages 9-13 from June 2-6.

The camp will be restricted to the first 80 individuals to enroll. Reservation deadline is May 24. Registration will be held from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. June 2.

Included in the $100 fee will be rooms, meals, T-shirts and insurance, as well as the use of several college facilities, including student center, swimming pool and gym.

Girls will be instructed in basketball fundamentals such as rebounding, passing, shooting, dribbling, defense in mass drills, and will receive individual work at stations.

The camp will feature three of the top high school coaches in the state as instructors. Assisting them will be members of the Western Texas Dusters, who will supervise the girls at all times, coach the teams and help keep the campers involved in activities. Director of the camp is Joe Cushing, Duster coach at Western Texas.

Cushing will be joined by Temple High School Coach Janie Fitzgerald, Kerrville Tivy High School Coach George Hazel, and Midland Greenwood High School Coach Dean Foshee. The four can account for numerous state, regional and district basketball championships, and represent many years of coaching experience.

Activities Coordinator for the Camp will be Mickey Baird, Student Activities Director for Western Texas College.

For further information, contact Joe Cushing, WTC Athletic Department, Snyder, Tx. 79549.

Road Not Easy Going For Lakers Says Coach

LOS ANGELES (AP)—On their way to the title series, the Los Angeles Lakers have won eight playoff games and lost two, but Coach Paul Westhead says it hasn't been that easy.

"The struggle has been far greater than the record shows," Westhead said. "A month from now, someone will check out the stats and say, 'Look, the Lakers breezed.'"

"But both were very difficult rounds for us. I say that to clarify the record, and to compliment our team. We really had to work hard, not like it was a cakewalk and we weren't challenged."

The Lakers begin the best of seven National Basketball Association championship series Sunday afternoon against the Philadelphia 76ers at the Forum.

The Lakers defeated the Phoenix Suns 4-1 in their opening playoff series, rested a week and then dealt the defending champion Seattle SuperSonics a 4-1 loss in the Western Conference final.

The 76ers, too, made their drive to the championship round in impressive fashion, besting Washington 2-0 in their preliminary series, then disposing of Atlanta and Boston 4-1 in each of those series.

Few expect the title series to be decided so abruptly - by either team.

The 76ers, once a team of superstars who generally played one-on-one, are now a team in the truest sense. Dr. J. Julius Erving, is still the main man, but Philadelphia has a solid backcourt duo in Lionel Hollins and Maurice Cheeks, with Darryl Dawkins at center and Caldwell Jones at the power forward.

The Lakers have spent the past few years trying to build a solid supporting cast for the center most consider the NBA's most dominant player, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar. With rookie Earvin "Magic" Johnson and Norm Nixon in the backcourt, and Jamaal Wilkes at one forward and Jim Chones at the other, Los Angeles finally has the talent to complement Abdul-Jabbar.

WCT Dream Match Will Become Reality

DALLAS (AP)—Sunday's World Championship of Tennis Finals couldn't have a more perfect pairing if public relations director Rod Humphries himself had penciled in the names of "Junior" and "Jimmy."

It's another no-tricks-barred best of five death match between the petulant 21-year-old John McEnroe, Jr., the WCT defending champion, and the 28-year-old Jimmy Connors, who has seen McEnroe pass him in the world rankings.

"People enjoy the way we play," said No. 3 ranked Connors after he had dispatched talented but erratic Ivan Lendl of Czechoslovakia 6-4, 7-5, 6-3 in the WCT semifinals. The No. 2 ranked McEnroe downed South African Johan Kriek 6-4, 4-6, 7-6, 6-3 thanks to 17 double faults by his opponent.

Connors said "the matches I have with McEnroe bring out the best in both players and the best in the crowd. Our styles clash and we just seem to play the best kind of tennis we are capable of playing."

"He beat me twice last year and I've won two out of three this year. I'm playing better right now than I did last year. I've made a big improvement."

One thing Connors has done is gain weight thanks to the home cooking of his wife, Pattie. He's up to 155 pounds now from 145.

"I was playing at 145 and that was too light so I went home and gained nine pounds," said Connors. "I guess I held my own last year but my performance was definitely mediocre in my eyes."

"My confidence is up now and my game is getting much better. I think my game is getting to a level in which I'll be satisfied soon. Of course, I'm really not satisfied with anything short of perfect."

Lendl gave Connors a good workout but ultimately failed because of a poor first serve and a suspect backhand.

"I always wear a pair of shoes out when I play against Lendl," said Connors. "He's young and is going to be hard to stop as soon as he gets some more experience. My serve is really working for me. I'll never boom in 30 or 40 aces. I just try to keep 'em guessing."

Connors never had an ace against Lendl but constantly worked his first serve into the corners.

"I should have been attacking the net more in the first set but I did in the second and third set and it paid off."

Olympic Talks Reach Compromise At Meet

ROME (AP)—Leaders of 18 European national Olympic committees agreed today on a compromise formula - cutting back on national flags and anthems - for going ahead with the Summer Olympic Games in Moscow.

They issued a declaration suggesting that teams should not take part in the opening ceremony in Moscow July 19. Instead, each country would be represented by a flag-bearer and a board with the name of the delegation.

The meeting agreed that all national flags and anthems should not be used at the opening and the closing ceremonies or at the medals presentations.

Willy Daume, president of the West German Olympic Committee, proposed that the meeting call on the International Olympic Committee to postpone the Games for one year. His proposal was not taken up.

Daume, Claude Collard of France, Sir Dennis Follows of Britain, Gerard Rasquin of Luxembourg and Primo Nebiolo of Italy formed a subcommittee to draft a statement to sum up the agreements of the meeting.

Franco Carraro, president of the Italian Olympic Committee, who presided over the meeting, told newsmen that although the delegates had approved the statement unanimously, they still had to persuade their national committees to accept it.

Four of the national committees represented - Austria, Britain, Greece and San Marino - have already said they will send athletes to the Games despite President Carter's call for boycott. However, all the other committees represented have yet to make a decision.

"A boycott of the Olympic Games would have disastrous consequences" (see Talks, page 7A) eight inning against the Texas Rangers Friday night.

Baltimore trailed, 4-2, and Doug DeCinces was at the plate. But DeCinces smacked a two-run double down the left field line to tie the game and Oriole manager Earl Weaver called Lowenstein back and had May hit as scheduled.

"I'm glad I changed my mind," Weaver said after the game. May doubled off the center field wall for two more runs, and the Orioles went on to a 7-5 victory despite two-run homers by Texas' Al Oliver and Jim Sundberg.

"I had Lowenstein out there, but the only way May wasn't going to bat was if we got no runs in (with DeCinces). If we didn't get a run in, I wanted to stay out of double plays. I don't know if John's any faster than Lee, but at least he's on the left side and that much closer to first," Weaver said.

The Orioles had been hitting at a .180 pace as a team over the past week and a half, when they won only two of 10 games. They pounded the ball at a .333 clip Friday night, with 13 hits against three Texas hurlers.

Six of the hits came in the eighth, when Baltimore batted around.

Cardinals Bomb Hot Houston, 9-1

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Even fireballing Nolan Ryan has learned to appreciate the fine line of difference which distinguishes dominance from defeat against major league hitters.

The Houston right-hander was working on a three-hitter Friday night

AUSTIN—Brenham High School ground-out 51 points to win the Class AAA girl's track and field title here Friday, but Sweetwater should get a medal for effort per capita.

Meanwhile, Snyder's lone entry to the annual meet, Brenda Anderson, placed fifth in the shot put with an effort of 38-8 3/4.

Just a sophomore this year, Anderson—who stars on the basketball court as well as the track field—has a lot to look forward to.

An old foe led the shot put and discus ranks, Mustang athlete Teresa West. Also representing District 3-3A, West heaved the shot 41-11 for one gold medal, and got her second with a toss of 144-4 in the discus.

Teammate Tina Lopez added 20 more points to the Sweetwater total by winning the 800 meters and 1,600 meters. Her 800-meter time of 2:11.2 broke the old class record of 2:14.0. She ran the 1,600 in 5:09.9.

Canyon made a run at Brenham for the title. After 13 events, Brenham had its 51 points while Canyon had 34. But Brenham was finished for the day and Canyon had an entry in the final event—the 1,600 relay.

As Brenham watched, Canyon finished third in the relay, tallying a total of 46 points for second place.

Earlier, Brenham had edged out Canyon in the 800 meter relay—a decisive factor in the meet's outcome.

Clyde was an easy winner in Class 2A, with 80 points. Runner-up Sealy had 52.

No state records were set here Friday, though several conference (class) records were snapped, including the one by Lopez of Sweetwater. Jo Beth Palmer of Bryan, who will attend the University of Texas on an athletic scholarship, hurled the discus 146-1 to set a new 4A record.

Stacey Morgan, Georgetown, broke the 3A long jump record with a leap of 19-2 1/2. The Class B long jump mark was shattered when Susan Bean, Miami, leaped 18-5 1/2. Roby's Mary Nell Clayton finished third in the event.

Other records set were a 3A high jump mark of 5-8 by Stafford Willowridge's Carla Wilmont; a 2A high jump record of 5-9 by Red Oak's Camille Cockerham; and a 2A 400 meter mark of 54.4 by Ella Smith of Grosebeck.

The meet was to continue Saturday with classes B, A and 4A.

Blakenship Earns 2 Awards At TSU

STEPHENVILLE—Pam Blakenship, freshman from Snyder, received two awards in gymnastics at Tarleton State University at the annual all-sports cookout held last Wednesday.

Blakenship was named Most Valuable Gymnast as she paced the Tarleton team in points on the season. She finished third in State competition after spraining her ankle at the meet.

She was also named the Most Inspirational Gymnast for her dedication and all-around attitude and her willingness to help the rest of the team.

Stars Happy With Split

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP)—Despite a 7-0 blowout at the hands of the Philadelphia Flyers in Thursday's second game of the National Hockey League Stanley Cup semifinals, Minnesota Coach Glen Sonmor says his team is happy with a split in the two games.

The North Stars won the first game 6-5. The best-of-seven series resumes Sunday night at the Met Center. Game No. 4 is also slated for the Met on Tuesday.

Sonmor said he was concerned not so much with the score, which was embarrassing enough, but with the way the Flyers manipulated his team both physically and on the power play.

Bob O'Day...

College AD A Winner

When president Dr. Robert Clinton needed someone to fill the vacated role of athletic director recently, he did not have to look far to find a person who would keep winning tradition a part of Western Texas College.

Bob O'Day, in his ninth year as golf coach at Western Texas, was immediately chosen to replace Nolan Richardson, who resigned to become head basketball coach at the University of Tulsa. Like Richardson, O'Day is a winner. His Westerner golf team has won the Western Junior College Athletic Conference title four times (1975-76, 76-77, 77-78 and 79-80), and finished second twice (1972-73 and 74-75). The team won the Region V title in 1975-76 and 77-78 and took second in 76-77 and 79-80.

Western Texas qualified for the NJCAA National Tournament those three years, placing fifth, ninth and sixth respectively. By virtue of this year's second place finish, the Westerners will compete in the 1980 National Tournament at Fort Myers, Fla. in June.

Nineteen WTC golfers have been named All-Western Conference, several for two straight years, and 20 have been chosen for All-Region V honors. Six Westerners have been selected for All-American honors.

Under O'Day's coaching, the Westerner golf team has won more than 40 tournaments, placed second more than 30 times, and finished third more than 20 times. The Westerners have won 68 dual matches against junior and senior colleges, losing 11 and tying twice.

Before coming to Western Texas College, O'Day served as an elementary school principal in Colorado City for a year. He had previously been with the Snyder school system for 11 years, coaching football, basketball and baseball in high school and junior high. His teams won 80 percent of their games.

O'Day is a graduate of Osceola High School in Kissimmee, Fla., where he lettered in football two years, basketball three years and baseball four years. He received his bachelor of science and master's degree from Sul Ross State University where he lettered three years in both basketball and baseball and was captain of the baseball team his senior year. He played on the 1957 NAIA national baseball championship team and was selected first team All-American that year.

O'Day was elected president of the student body his senior year at Sul Ross and was graduated cum laude. He was named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities two years and was a member of Alpha Chi and Kappa Delta Pi.

After college, O'Day coached one year in San Antonio before coming to Snyder. He instigated the Little Dribbler basketball program in Snyder for boys ages 10-12, and his first team won the Little Dribbler National Championship.

O'Day and his wife, Monette, have three children, Tammy, 17, and Tracey, 15, are students in Snyder schools. Mike, 21, graduated from Snyder High School and WTC and is attending pharmacy school at Southwestern Oklahoma.

Sideline Glances...

Ruiz—Did She Or Didn't She

By BILL MCCLELLAN

THIS ROSIE Ruiz thing bothers me. There's a kind of weird justice taking place and frankly, I don't understand it.

For the uninformed, Ruiz is the lady that supposedly did - then didn't - run the Boston Marathon this year. She was clocked across the finish at 2:31:56, the third fastest women's time ever. But her title was stripped after an investigation revealed she may not have run the entire distance.

I say MAY NOT have run because to my knowledge no one has actually been able to prove she didn't do it. Or have they?

Will Cloney, director of the annual event, has said that an investigation determined "beyond any reasonable doubt" she didn't run the entire 26 miles, 385 yards.

Okay, she's been found guilty, right? Well sort of. Cloney then issued "an open invitation to (have Ruiz) enter again without the usual qualifying restrictions." KIND OF contradictory, isn't it? It makes me wonder what UNreasonable doubts Cloney might have. I mean it isn't normal to ask cheaters back for a second time. In politics maybe, but in athletics, no.

AS I mentioned earlier. The thing bothers me for a couple of reasons. One, obviously they've proven her guilty with at least SOME doubt. Secondly, after implying she cheated, they've invited her back with open arms.

I'm told that the reason they've asked her back is so she'll decline or fail, which would indicate conclusive proof. Not exactly your typical American justice, is it? Might be embarrassing if she ran again and did as well. Would Cloney go retrieve the award from this year's race and give it back to her?

ACTUALLY, RUIZ will be given a chance to show her stuff before next year's Boston event. It's doubtful she'll accept, but she's been asked to run in the fourth annual Copper Valley Marathon at Globe, Arz.

In fact, race officials say that if she can run the distance (same as Boston) in 3:16:54 - 45 minutes over what she supposedly ran in Boston - they'll give her $1,500 in cash.

SOUNDS LIKE a good deal - for Globe. In fact, I wish Snyder had thought of it first. Think of all the publicity and possible "tourist trade" which would benefit the city.

Ruiz hasn't commented on the offer yet, and it's doubtful she will. In fact, we don't know whether she'll ever run again or not - though she says she'll probably accept the offer to run at Boston next year.

UNTIL THEN, we'll have to wait for the one thing we can reasonably expect from all of this - a book.

LODGES A-1

A STATED meeting for Scurry Lodge No. 706 A.F. & A.M. Tuesday, May 6, 1980 at 7:30 p.m. Lanny Covey, W.M. Bernard Longbottom Jr., Sec.

CARD OF THANKS A-3

THE DEEP sorrow and grief caused by the sudden tragic death of our loved one was made easier to bear by the kindness and thoughtfulness of friends and neighbors. From the depth of our hearts we thank you: The cards, the flowers, the wonderful help in the homes will always be remembered with love and gratitude. Appreciation for the acts of kindness is expressed in a prayer that each of you in a time of heartache will have this loving service. May God in his infinite mercy and love be with each of you.

The Loved Ones of Doris Duff

Bishop Gets A New Grant

DALLAS (AP)—The Department of Health, Education and Welfare granted an additional $430,000 to Bishop College two years ago despite the college's history of financial mismanagement, a top HEW official testified Monday.

The grant was the result of a legal opinion given to Joseph Califano, who was secretary of HEW at the time, according to testimony from Henry G. Kirshenmann, director of grants and contracts for HEW.

His testimony came in the federal trial of three former Bishop administrators accused of illegally taking $306,000 from the college's restricted retirement fund and using it in the general operating budget.

Musical Coterie Presents Rosser, Clark Recital

The Musical Coterie will hold its final meeting for this year on Thursday, May 8 at 8 p.m. at the Women's Club. The program will feature an evening of organ and piano with Rachael Rosser at the organ, and Helen Rodgers Clark at the piano. They have adapted musical arrangements for two pianos to the organ and piano recital. The program will include "Stardust" by Carmichael, "Manhattan Serenade" by Alter-Savino, "Clair de Lune" by Debussy-Gunther, and "Deep Purple" by Peter deRose-Savino.

the Gallery of Music in Abilene, is supplying the Allen Theater Organ and the piano to be used in the recital. New officers of the Musical Coterie will also be installed at the meeting in a special service. They will include Barbara Perkins, president; Ophelia Blackard, first vice president; Emily Collins, second vice-president; Janet Brown, third vice president; Monette Sentell, secretary; Mrs. F.G. Sears, treasurer; Janelle Hammack, parliamentarian; Ralphe Canon, reporter; Mrs. Clarence Moore, historian. Refreshments will follow the meeting and program.

Chapel Of First Baptist Site For Formal Ceremony

Before an altar with an arched candelabrum holding 16 candles, Kelly Denise Holladay and Ronny E. Erekson were united in marriage in the chapel of First Baptist Church April 12 at 7:30 p.m. with Glen McCathern officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hoyle Holladay and Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Erekson Jr. of Rocksprings.

The bride was presented in marriage by her father. She wore an original design gown of ivory satin overlaid with organza and reembroidered floral motif. Her skirt of organza, banded at intervals with floral cutwork was underlaid with satin in a semi-full width. The gown was accented with a matching jacket. The dress was made by Dorothy Dortch.

Her hair was adorned with scattered miniature apricot silk flowers. Her bridal bouquet was of silk peach and ivory feathered carnations and flocked with tinted baby's breath featuring silk peach sweetheart roses. Falling from the bouquet were irregular shaped lace streamers of ivory peach and apricot ribbon tied in love knots.

The groom wore an ivory western-cut tuxedo with matching shirt and bow tie. His boutonniere was a silk apricot rose bud with baby's breath.

Beverly Hughes of Bryan was maid of honor. She wore an apricot dress designed with a high neckline, puff sleeves accented with lace. She wore a comb of flowers in her hair, matching her bouquet.

Clay Mitchell of Sonora was best man. Brandall Hickman, cousin of the bride, lit the candles. Seating guests were Stanley and Andy Dunbar of Rocksprings, cousins of the groom.

Pianist Sharon Brewer of Lubbock played "Twelfth of Never," "The Lord's Prayer" and the "Wedding Song." Special wedding guests were Mrs. Laura Holladay, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Ford, Mrs. Ned Dunbar of Rocksprings, and Mrs. Robert Erekson Sr. of Corpus Christi.

Mrs. Marty Gharum and Laura Mitchell of Lubbock served at the bride's table. The table, covered with an ivory lace cloth, held a three tiered ivory cake decorated with apricot roses and silk flowers topped with wedding bells. Apricot wedding punch was served.

Serving at the groom's table was Mrs. Sam Epperson, sister of the bride. The groom's table held a cake designed like a Copenhagen snuff can.

The couple's wedding trip was to the Texas east coast. They are at home in Rocksprings where the groom is engaged in ranching.

The bride attended Snyder schools, Western Texas College and holds a B.S.S. degree from Texas Tech in secondary education. The groom attended Rocksprings schools, Uvalde Junior College and South Plains College with a diesel mechanic degree.

Miss Halford Honored At Bridal Shower

Sharon Halford, bride-elect of Kerry Fritz, was honored with a bridal shower in the fellowship hall of Colonial Hill Baptist Church recently.

The bride's chosen colors of blue and white were displayed in the arrangements on the serving table, registry table, individual tables and in the honoree's corsage.

Cookies, fruit and punch were served from crystal and silver appointments.

Hostesses for the occasion were Shirley Burrus, Peggy Clark, Pat Cornett, Carolyn Cox, Lee Crow, LaVonda Foreman, June Greenway, Doris Henderson, Darla Huddleston, Barbara McGee, Helen Mock, Joyce Reaves, Billiesue Stuard, Nona Williams, Gayle Wittie and Bernie Wilson.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner at the WTC cafeteria.

Out of town guests were from Abilene, Lubbock, Midland, Levelland, Corpus Christi, San Antonio, Sonora, Rocksprings and Hobbs, M.M.

Snyderite In Baylor Recital

WACO—David B. Vaughan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louie T. Vaughan of 2909 34th Street in Snyder, presented a senior piano recital recently at the Baylor University School of Music.

Vaughan is a piano performance major and a student of Roger L. Keyes, associate professor of piano. Vaughan is a 1976 graduate of Snyder High School.

The recital program included works by Bach, Beethoven, Ravel, Scriabin, and Balakirew.

Vaughan has been on the Dean's Distinguished Honor List at Baylor, and was a 1980 Concerto Competition winner. He has been awarded a $4,000 teaching assistantship at North Texas State University. Vaughan has participated in master classes with John Browning, Menahem Pressler, and Adele Marcus.

The recital program included works by Bach, Beethoven, Ravel, Scriabin, and Balakirew.

HERMLEIGH NEWS

BY ADALA DRENNEN

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Thompson, Misty, and Erick of Amarillo visited his aunt, Mrs. Eva Mae Brackeen last Sat. and spent the night with their cousins Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Nixon and Little Charlie. Recent guests of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Gray were his sister, Rev. and Mrs. Charles Barrett, Lisa and Darren, who were enroute to Riverside, Calif.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fred Liner, of El Paso who are the parents of little Amanda Lynn born last Saturday. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie (Pat) Cornett of Snyder and the great-granddaughter of Mrs. Raymond Lloyd of Hermleigh. Mrs. Verina Lee, formerly of Hermleigh, who has made her home in San Angelo the past few years, is moving to Sonora, where she will live at the Lillian M. Hudspeth Nursing Home, P.O. Box 455. Brett Baremore of Hermleigh spent last week with his paternal grandparents, the Don-Baremore's in Snyder, while his parents Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Linn Baremore attended the national school board trustees conference in San Francisco, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted McMillan and Mrs. Don (Elree) Baremore attended the Power's family reunion at Eastland last week-end. Their mother was the late Mary Alice Powers McMillan. Plans were made to meet at the same place each year hereafter.

The Hermleigh Order Of The Eastern Star met at the regular meeting night which was April 15 and the election of officers was held. They were Worthy Matron - Judy Bynum, Worthy Patron - Harley Bynum, Associate Matron - Carolyn Hamby, Associate Patron - Dale Hamby, Secretary - Georgia Davidson, Treasurer - Vera Farr, Conductress - Lillian Cox, and Irene Jordan - Chaplain, Modelle May - Marshall, Pat James - Organist, Adala Drennan - Ada, Mary Ward - Ruth, Kathy Gannaway - Esther, Belinda Foster - Martha, Ricki Gannaway - Electa, Jerry Gannaway - Warner, Hollis Ward - Sentinel.

Installation of the new officers will be held at 8 p.m. June 5, at the Masonic Hall with Bill Jordan as installing officer, Nell Walker - installing marshal, Clemie Andrew - installing secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. O.B. Jackson spent the weekend in Lubbock with their daughter Mr. and Mrs. Don (Twilla) Williams, Jackie and Donna.

If you're allowed to eat fruit on your reducing diet but don't know which kinds are low-cal, try one of the following for a satisfying portion: A medium-sized orange, apple or pear; half a grapefruit or cantaloupe; a half cup of any kind of berry; a two-inch slice of honey dew melon; half a banana.

Pineapple Special

By Aileen Claire
NEA Food Editor

The tropical combination of fresh pineapple and rum tickles the palates of stateside folk, too. Add vanilla ice cream and you have a different, refreshing dessert that will star at any party.

- WHOLE PINEAPPLE WITH RUM ICE CREAM
- 1 large whole ripe pineapple
  - 2 tablespoons sugar
  - 1 quart vanilla ice cream
  - 1/4 cup Bacardi dark rum

Cut off pineapple top about 2 inches down from base of green fronds. Wrap top in foil and freeze.

Cut around rind with sharp knife, being careful not to pierce shell. Remove pieces of pineapple as you progress. Continue to cut out fruit until shell is hollow. Refrigerate shell.

Chop about 1 cup of fruit. Place in small bowl. Add sugar.

Soften ice cream. When soft but not melted, add cup of chopped, sugared pineapple.

Stir in rum. Spoon into pineapple shell. Cover with plastic wrap and place in the freezer.

Remove from freezer about 15 minutes before serving. Replace pineapple top.

BRIDAL COFFEE-Kim McCall bride-elect of Jackie Gorman, both of Austin; was honored at a bridal coffee in the home of Mrs. Mel Zane Gilbert, 2908 35th St. The serving table and the bride-elect's corsage featured fresh flowers' in the future bride's color, spring green. Dee Gilbert presided at the registry table and Mrs. David Cotton and Miss Susan Ferrell served. The couple will be married May 31 at Hyde Park Baptist Church, Austin. Pictured with the honoree, seated, are (from left) Mrs. Roy Stokes and Mrs. J.S. Gorman, the future groom's grandmothers; and Mrs. Jack Gorman, his mother. (SDN Staff Photo)

TV star Pam Dawber told Beauty Digest Magazine something that will cheer up any woman who laments that her feet are too large: "I wish my feet were a little bit bigger. I think they're too small for my height. I'm 5-foot-8. Just an extra half a size would give me more control and better balance."

Couple Repeat Nuptial Vows In Ceremony At Abilene Church

Before a raised altar centered with large floral arrangements of white gladioli, blue irises and daisies, nuptial vows were recited by Charlotte Marie Carpenter and Donald Jackson Jr. The double ring ceremony was performed by Dr. Roy Zuefelt, minister of the church, at 2:30 p.m. April 5.

Parents of the bride are Charles Carpenter Jr. and Mrs. Richard Robinson, both of Abilene and the groom's parents are O.D. Jackson Sr. of Gail and the late Jessie B. Jackson.

The bride's father presented her in marriage as she was attired in an antique white silk-chiffon gown featuring long full sleeves, buttoned at wide cuffs, and a high lace neckline. The bodice was outlined in lace which extended over her shoulders outlining a full chapel train. The bride's mantilla veil was on off-white chiffon edged with lace. Complimenting her attire was a cameo necklace which belonged to the groom's mother.

In keeping with tradition, the bride carried for something old—two lace handkerchiefs, one belonged to the bride's grandmother and one belonging to the groom's grandmother. Something new was her veil. Something borrowed was her wedding dress and her garter was blue.

The bride carried a bouquet of white roses, daisies and blue irises with two handkerchiefs.

Sally Carpenter, of Abilene, sister of the bride, was attired in a long dress of blue chiffon with a gathered bodice covered by blue lace featuring spaghetti straps covered with a short cape of matching sheer chiffon. She carried a nosegay of white daisies and flowers matching the bride's.

Bridesmaids Catherine Jackson of Lubbock, sister of the groom, and Sharon Lamb of Fort Worth were dressed like the maid of honor.

Ringbearer Shawn Lewis of Fluvanna, nephew of the groom, wore a navy tuxedo with a beige, front pleated shirt as did the other male attendants.

Best man was Philip Wetherbee of Abilene, and groomsmen were Lonnie Baldrige of Abilene and Bill Jackson, cousin of the groom. Seating guests were Jimmy Grohman and Jerry Smith, both of Abilene.

The musical program included "Longer" sung by Sally Carpenter and ate of Dallas Fashion and Art Institute with a degree in Fashion Merchandising and is employed by Grigsby's Rag Doll, Abilene.

The groom is a graduate of Borden County High School and Lubbock Christian College with a B.S. degree in Human Relations, and is employed by Mental Health and Retardation Center, Abilene.

A rehearsal dinner at Starlight Inn was hosted by the groom's father.

Out of town guests were from Gail, O'Donnell, Fluvanna, Oakdale, Calif.

Catherine Jackson, accompanied by Miss Carpenter on the guitar. Traditional wedding music was provided by James Steel, of Abilene, at the organ and soloist Mrs. Dann Hood of Abilene.

A reception was held in the Dyess Air Force Base Officer's Club hosted by the bride's parents. Misty Robinson of Abilene, sister of the bride, registered guests. Rice bags were distributed by Shelly and Amy Lewis of Fluvanna, nieces of the groom.

The bride is a graduate of Abilene High School, attended Texas Women's University and Hardin Simmons, and is a grad-

REVEALS ENGAGEMENT—Mr. and Mrs. Juluis Roemisch Route 1, Hermleigh, wish to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Julie Kay to Joe Beuerlein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Beuerlein, 2604 35th St. The wedding is planned for June 13.

BEAUTY DIGEST

Diane Robbins

By Diane Robbins, editor Beauty Digest magazine

Tomato lotion
Vitamin rich, tangy tomatoes are not only good to eat, they can be made into a lotion that smoothes dry, rough hands. Mix together equal parts strained juice of a ripe tomato, lemon juice and glycerine. Gently massage into hands as if you were washing them. Your skin will become soft and whiter.

For high heel wearers
High heels give your legs a sexy look, but if you have weak ankles and tend to wobble around in high heels, try this strengthening exercise. While sitting in a chair or sofa, rotate your legs, in a full circle from the ankles, pointing your toes when the feet are down and flexing them when feet are up. Do this several times in a clockwise direction, then several times counterclockwise.

Perfection is boring
Suzanne Somers told Beauty Digest magazine why she's happy she doesn't have a perfect face: "My features are not even. I have a crooked bottom tooth. But, to tell you the truth, I'm glad. Perfection is monotonous. There's nothing to focus on if every feature is exquisite."

Home sweet home
Fragrance can enhance your house, too. Place jars of potpourri in front of windows where the air will circulate the scent. Place cheesecloth bags of potpourri in your underwear drawer or line it with scented paper. Small baskets of cloves, cinnamon, oranges or lemons will add a spicy fresh scent to the dining area. Dab light bulbs with scented oil or light scented candles. Stuffy, smoke-filled rooms after a party can be refreshed by crumbling orange peel.

Right way to shampoo
The way you shampoo depends on the length of your hair. Wet hair thoroughly before applying shampoo suited to your type hair. On short hair, work up a lather well, massaging scalp. If medium length hair is prone to tangling and breaking, don't pile hair on top of head. Instead, work lather down from scalp to ends, perhaps with a wide toothed comb. Long hair also should be washed in sections and extra care taken in rinsing well. Try a hand-held shower head.

Under cover
When using a cover stick to conceal dark circles under your eyes, first mix a dab of

CONVECTION OVENS
Convection ovens are a new development in household appliances.

Although bakers have used commercial convection ovens for at least 30 years, they are late-comers to the household scene.

What are convection ovens?
Two types of convection ovens are available on the market. Some conventional ranges come equipped with a convection oven.

Portable convection ovens are also available. The portable ovens resemble a large toaster oven or small microwave, but convection ovens are technologically different.

How do they work?
Convection ovens work on the forced-air principle. Fans circulate the air as it heats in the oven cavity. The forced-heated air moves directly to the food so the cooking process begins immediately. The forced-heated air is then recycled and recirculated throughout the oven cavity.

Convection ovens were introduced to meet the need for more energy efficient appliances. Manufacturers claim that the ovens use up to 50 percent less energy than other models because lower temperatures and shorter cooking times are needed for baking, roasting the broiling.

Bakers use them because of their even heating, and because hot air circulates over the food in the oven, they can cook more items at the same time.

What should consumers ask about convection ovens?

Overweight?

So was I. My name is Nila Walters, and this is a picture of me when I weighed 220 pounds. I had tried to lose weight several times but nothing worked. Then I happened to run into an old friend and she looked terrific! I couldn't believe that we used to wear each other's clothes. She told me about Diet Center and I started the program the next day.

"I lost 92 pounds in just 24 weeks!"

At the Diet Center, I learned how to lose weight quickly and safely through sound nutrition. My counselor taught me the importance of proper food selection and preparation and helped me through the rough spots. My husband was so impressed with my progress that he joined me at the Diet Center and lost 65 pounds himself! We are both happier and healthier and I know that we will never be overweight again.

Nila's story is typical of thousands of men and women all across the United States and Canada who have literally changed their lives at Diet Center. Call today for a free introductory consultation.

Snyderite Notes 97th Birthday

Mrs. J.W. Phillips, 100 37th St., celebrates her 97th birthday today (Sunday.) She said she has seen many changes since she was born to Russell and Myra Maddox in Paris, Ark., on May 4, 1883. She only remembers one thing about her father, since he died when she was 2½ years old. They went to her grandmother's house after the funeral and she fell and broke a leg. Mrs. Phillips moved to Texas in 1894 with her family. She met Walter Phillips in 1903 in Hopkins County. They were married on Aug. 21, 1904 and moved to West Texas in 1926. Mr. Phillips died in Childress on Nov. 4, 1963. She has six daughters: Mrs. J.E. Meadors of Farmington, N.M., Mrs. H.L. Mahan of Mesquite, Mrs. Loren Trent of Childress, Mrs. Leon Campbell, Mrs. A.P. Prather and Mrs. Oren Sturdivant, all of Snyder. All visited her during a recent illness. There are 16 grandchildren, 29 great-grandchildren and one great-grandchild. She has two brothers and a sister, and the sister, Mrs. Doyle Lennard of Victoria, and her husband visited Mrs. Phillips in the hospital. Due to her illness, no celebration has been planned. However, friends who wish to visit her Sunday afternoon will be welcome. She will be at 4505 El Paso Ave. Asked what she attributed her long life to, Mrs. Phillips replied: "Hard work and faith in God." She has been a member of the Church of Christ 74 years and attended East Side Church of Christ regularly prior to her illness.

Sardines Go In Salads

By Aileen Claire
NEA Food Editor

Scandinavians have a special knack with salads. They may, for instance, combine such vegetables as potatoes and beets with sardines for a delicious repast.

Since salad greens were not always available in northerly Scandinavia, its cooks used whatever vegetables were in season to make the myriad salads that became part of their famous smorgasbords. Serve these salads with fresh crusty bread and fresh fruit of the season.

SCANDIA SALAD
2 small tomatoes, thinly sliced
1 (8½-ounce) can small whole potatoes, drained

- 1 (8 1/4-ounce) can sliced beets, well drained
- 2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
- 1/3 cup olive oil
- 3 tablespoons wine vinegar
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon sweet basil
- Pepper to taste
- 4 cups salad greens
- 1 (3 3/4-ounce) can Norway sardines, drained

Combine first four ingredients in small bowl. In another small bowl, combine oil, vinegar, lemon juice, garlic, salt, sweet basil and pepper. Mix thoroughly. Pour over eggs and vegetables. Chill at least 2 hours to marinate. Serve with salad greens. Garnish with sardines.

- SARDINE-ONION SALAD
1 small red onion, sliced in thin slivers
1/2 cup pitted black olives, sliced
1 (4-ounce) can pimientos, chopped
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/4 cup olive oil
1 tablespoon wine vinegar
1 clove garlic, crushed
1/2 bay leaf, crumbled
1 tablespoon dry mustard
Dash cayenne pepper
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste
1 (3 3/4-ounce) can Norway sardines, drained
4 cups salad greens

Combine first three ingredients in bowl. In another bowl, combine lemon juice, oil, vinegar, garlic, bay leaf, dry mustard, cayenne pepper, salt and pepper. Mix well. Pour over vegetable mixture. Chill 2 to 4 hours to marinate.

Gatlin Wins 3 Music Awards

BUENA PARK, Calif. (AP)—On the eve of his 32nd birthday, Larry Gatlin picked up some of the nicest presents a country musician could ask for — three top awards from the Academy of Country Music. Gatlin was named top male vocalists at the academy's 15th annual "Hat" awards ceremony Thursday night. His "Straight Ahead" won album of the year, and his "All the Gold in California" was the single record of the year. Willie Nelson was named entertainer of the year, but he wasn't present, and actor Jan-Michael Vincent accepted the award for him. For the third time in four years, Crystal Gayle was named top female vocalist.

The night's only other multiple winner was Moe Bandy, who won song of the year for "It's a Cheatin' Situation" and shared top vocal group honors with bearded look-alike Joe Stampley.

Birthday Cake Going To Boston

LYNN, Mass. (AP) - White and other notables can cut the cake, a convoy of National Guardsmen and personnel from the Charlestown Navy Yard will have to transport it via a 2 1/2-ton Army truck and a commercial van from Lynn.

Strasnick, who has baked giant cakes for other occasions, started work on his latest creation April 20th. He estimates it took 250 hours to make.

How do you make a 3 1/2-ton cake? The recipe includes 2,000 pounds of flour, 1,000 pounds of sugar, 500 pounds of shortening, 3,000 eggs, 2,000 quarts of milk.

The behemoth pastry, completed Wednesday by Lynn baker Arthur Strasnick, celebrates the city's 350th birthday.

Strasnick's creation will be the centerpiece today when Boston kicks off its summer-long celebration with festivities at the city's Government Center. But before Mayor Kevin

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Ear trouble during flight

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - Recently I took my first jet flight and I had a lot of trouble with my ears. I had had this problem years ago when I drove to the West Coast and we were going over the mountains but I was told I wouldn't have this trouble with a pressurized cabin. That was wrong. I had plenty of trouble, cracking sensations and actual pain as I came down in Los Angeles.

The rest of the day I had a closed up feeling and I hated to speak because of the funny sound it made. The return flight was just as bad. Could this be damaging? The rest of our party didn't have this problem. I wonder if there is something I could do about this or am I the kind of person who should never fly?

DEAR READER - Yes, you can have that problem even in so-called pressurized cabins. The eardrum is a very thin membrane and it protrudes outward or is depressed inward in relationship to air pressure. Inside the eardrum is a hollow space that contains air. This space is connected to a long tube to the back of the throat. When your mouth is open and this tube is open, air flows through the tube into this chamber. That way the pressure inside the chamber should be equal to the pressure outside the chamber pressing on your eardrum.

As long as the pressure is equal on each side of the eardrum, you won't have any problem. If for any reason air doesn't move freely through the tube in the back of your mouth into the chamber, then you may develop unequal pressure. In that case, as you go up to altitude and the air pressure decreases, the eardrums will pop out and then as the pressure begins to equalize and you descend, the increased pressure may push your eardrums in.

This is why yawning, chewing gum and such techniques help during changes in altitude. These maneuvers are all designed to allow the air to flow through the tube into the ear chamber. That doesn't mean they always work. Some individuals have an anatomical variation that blocks the tube. Others have an overgrowth of tissue around the opening of the tube.

Since you seem to have more than usual problems, I would suggest that you see your doctor or an ear, nose and throat specialist and talk to him about it. He may be able to help you. If you have tissue obstructing air flow, he might want to remove a small amount of tissue which could solve the problem.

There are a number of techniques that are used, including blowing the nose, which increases the pressure inside the back of the throat and, in turn, helps to force air into the ear chamber. These are all right if you're careful but if you happen to have a sinus infection or a cold, it can blow infected material into the ear chamber and cause an ear infection.

EAR NOISES are a common problem. Readers who want information about them can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for The Health Letter number 12-10, Help For Tinnitus: Noise or Ringing in the Ear. Send your request to Dr. Lamb, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

BRIDGE

Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

Gerber systems explained

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

John Gerber of Houston invented the Gerber convention a few years after Blackwood. It used the four-club bid to ask for aces just as Blackwood uses four notrump.

The convention never succeeded since there were too many occasions when you needed a four-club bid to show clubs. But it did become apparent that it could be used as an adjunct to Blackwood to cover situations when Blackwood could not be used properly.

Suppose you and your partners play that if the first or last bid was notrump. Then four notrump is a strong bid in notrump. In that case, you can use Gerber to replace Blackwood.

Here is an example. You hold: S-A-K-J-H-x-D-x-C-K-Q-J-x-x-x-x and your partner opens one notrump. There is no slam if his hand is: S-Q-x-x-H-K-Q-J-x-D-K-Q-x-x-C-A-x. You are sure of six clubs if he has two aces and almost sure of seven notrump if he has three. At worst it will depend on a spade finesse. So you bid a Gerber four clubs and settle for four notrump if partner shows just one ace.

If you want to add Gerber to your slam bidding, here are a few general rules.

1. Make sure that you know exactly which four-club calls are Gerber.
2. Don't get confused in responding. Four diamonds is zero or four aces, four hearts is one, four spades is two and four notrump three.
3. If you want to follow up and ask for kings the Gerber request is five clubs.

Super-Gerber
Suppose your partner bids three notrump at a time when both four-club and four-notrump responses will be natural bids. A few expert partnerships use five clubs as super-Gerber to ask for aces. It is a fine convention for super partnerships but the rest of us can probably live without it.

Comedy Skit Set At Senior Center

A comedy skit by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fargason is scheduled preceding the luncheon at the Senior Center at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Wednesday will be games day, with visitors invited to select their favorite table game and play from 9:30 to 11:30. A Sing-A-Long will precede the noon meal on Friday and the Sunshine Choir will practice at 1 p.m.

Regularly scheduled activities in the Center include quilting, a liquid embroidery class at 1 p.m. on Mondays, and blood pressure checks from 9:30-11:30 a.m. on Fridays. SCAMPS, otherwise known as the Senior Center Actors and Misfit Performers, will meet at 10:30 Monday morning. Square dancers will meet in the Armory Monday evening. Other activities sponsored by the Center include swimming in the indoor pool at Western Texas College from 3:30-5 p.m. on Tuesdays and miniature golf at Westerner Golfland at 9:30 a.m. on Fridays.

The Center, located at 2603 Avenue M, is open each weekday and all local residents 60 and older are invited to become involved in the activities there.

If you spill coffee or tea on a washable garment, rinse immediately with warm water, then rub in a liquid detergent and rinse again. Afterward, soak the entire garment in an enzyme pre-soak before laundering. With nonwashable fabrics, dab on a solution of water mixed with a few drops of detergent and white vinegar, then sponge with alcohol. Treat fresh fruit juice stains the same way.

lessons not learned

The Chrysler bailout took this nation a long way down a road taken by Europeans years ago. As this country heads towards socialism we might come face to face with those same Europeans, headed in the opposite direction.

After six years of turmoil the Portuguese are trying to set their economic house in order. The new antisocialist government is paving the way for the return of former owners to industries that were taken during the revolution that swept that Iberian country in 1974. Many once profitable industries have stagnated since coming under the control of the government via workers' committees.

Before the revolution Metalurgica Duarte Ferreira was one of Portugal's foremost light industrial complexes; since the owners were forced out the company stagnated. It went from high profit to virtual bankruptcy, a testament to the competency of socialist management. Now the Portuguese government is inviting the owners to return in hopes of putting a hold, if nothing else, on the huge losses the firm has experienced. Under private ownership the firm made a profit as well as providing taxes for the community. Under socialist management the company ended up being a drag on the economy.

The Italians are now trying to introduce capitalistic methods to the Institute in order to be shut down and some of the profitable ones will be turned over to private industry. The managers of the Institute's companies will be given more autonomy and freedom from political interference. And most importantly, the Institute plans to reduce its holdings by at least 40 percent.

If the Italians and the Portuguese can do all this, why can't Congress turn down the Chrysler bailout bill? The most frustrating thing is that this nation is bound to experience all the same problems the Europeans have gone through, for exactly the same reasons, before we too will turn away from socialism.

no smooth course

The course of an alliance, as of true love, does not always run smoothly, as suggested by a recent report from the NATO defense front.

Britain, France and West Germany are drawing closer together in a cooperative effort to update their air forces. They are pooling technological, industrial and financial resources to develop and advanced new warplane.

That's good as far as it goes. But a major purpose of the project is to put more distance between themselves and the United States - at least the U.S. aircraft industry upon which Germany in particular has been dependent.

The plane, called the European Combat Aircraft, is to be a twin-jet, single-seater with an operational speed twice that of sound. The three air forces, as reported by The Wall Street Journal, plan to share 700 of the planes with additional sales to other countries expected to spread the considerable cost of development and production.

So far so good. But there's a slight snag to be ironed out in the planning stage before they can go on to production. The British and French want a tactical support plane designed primarily for battlefield intervention. The Germans have something a little different in mind - an all-weather, long-range air superiority plane.

Good luck, fellas.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Jogging is an incredible experience." I just never figured to see the day when a guy would put on a $55 pair of shoes -- and no suit.

Now that Eddie "I'm Mad" Chiles is chairman of the board of the Texas Rangers, we'd expect nothing but winners from the Texans.

Can you just imagine a whisper of a player strike on his ball club. First thing you know, Eddie would be playing third base and making his famous commercials between innings.

Speaking of baseball, during spring training one team was performing very badly at best. Finally, the manager got so angry that he picked up a bat and said, "Now I'm going to show you guys a thing or two."

The manager went to the plate and proceeded to miss pitch after pitch. This went on for several minutes during which he continued to remain hitless.

Finally, he flung the bat aside and turned to the players. "Now, you see what I mean? That's what you've been doing wrong. Now get out there and hit the ball."

Inflation is not new and here's proof in an ad which a business ran in the U.S. News and World Report in 1960:

"Every time you buy food for your family or clothing or anything at all, half of all you pay is wasted. You pay it, but you get nothing for it. You have been robbed, by inflation."

"Since just before the war, the value of your dollar has been cut in half and is still being cut by... billions spent on veteran benefits for sickness not even remotely caused by war service;... billions in unearned wage increases that cause higher prices instead of higher value;... hordes of bureaucrats who create nothing, yet cost and spend billions which can only be subtracted from values of everything you buy;... Half of the value of your money is gone, because of these and other wastes, and the other half threatened because the spenders want something for nothing. They get the something in handouts; you who pay the taxes get nothing."

motivation for sale

"Come on, come all! The greatest motivational speakers of our time will appear in your local auditorium to share the secrets of success."

By now you have attended or at least have seen advertised, one or more of the several "motivational seminars" being conducted in cities and towns across the United States. You may, in a single day and for a single ticket, see and hear Norman Vincent Peale and the Rev. Robert Schuller and Art Linkletter and W. Clement Stone and Zig Ziglar and others.

I have participated in several such seminars - but I am beginning to have some serious misgivings.

What are these motivational seminars and are they worth the price?

Are they nothing more than a carnival of hype; underpaid people purchasing overpriced tickets to hear so-called experts tell "how great it is?"

I've attended enough of these extravaganza frequently to be embarrassed by the repetitious hard-sell, as masters of ceremony and/or the speakers themselves pitch their books and their recordings and their tapes and their magazines which promise additional indoctrination in "how to succeed," "how to sell," "how to close a deal," "how to get rich."

With the emotional fervor of an old-time revival meeting, some of these hit-and-run rallies siphon off tens of thousands of dollars from a community. Some, I regret to relate, leave town with unpaid bills and unhappy patrons.

But then I get a letter like this: "Dear Paul Harvey News, when you spoke at a Positive Thinking Rally in our area some of us trustees for the local school district were inspired..."

And the letter from Sumter, S.C., goes on to describe a city-wide determination to instill the philosophy of positive thinking into the area's 15 public schools...

"The program has changed the lives of students, teachers, administrators, parents... Has resulted in vastly improved academic excellence..."

"Thanks for sowing the seeds which initiated this exciting improvement in attitude and competency..."

And it goes on like that for three pages.

Then there are continuing reminders from in-city members of Congress, state governors; others affirming that they were motivated to public service by something I said at a public meeting once upon a time.

So, I don't know. I meet a highly successful restaurant owner who says he owes it all to something inspirational he read in a book he bought at one of those rallies... and I still don't know.

Are 10,000 person rallies having any lasting beneficial effect? Certainly on some few they do. Perhaps those few are enough to justify the proliferation and perpetuation of a periodic extravaganza.

The Fourth of July and Thanksgiving Day do not come around often enough. We really need to get together more frequently to rally round the Flag and fan the flame and count our blessings. If homefolks need to call on outside promoters to accomplish that, maybe it's all right.

Berry's World

"Let's confine the discussion of where our marriage is going to when commercials are on."

PITTSBURGH (NEA) - A profound shift in the priorities of Democratic voters appears to be helping Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., in the presidential primaries - but election year geography may be working in President Carter's favor.

Although Carter holds a wide lead over Kennedy among delegates already selected with almost half of the primaries now completed, a newly developed pattern of swirling cross-currents threatens to obscure the outcome of the contest.

The most ominous portent for Carter is fresh evidence that voters increasingly are casting their ballots on the basis of domestic and international issues rather than the candidates' personal characteristics.

Kennedy's dismal performance in the early primaries was, in great measure, the product of his inability to surmount voter hostility relating to his troubled marriage, his auto accident on Chappaquiddick Island and other elements of what has become known euphemistically as the "Character Issue."

But ABC News interviews of voters as they left polling stations in the recent Pennsylvania primary found that 59 percent of all Democrats surveyed said issues were most important in selecting a presidential nominee while only 29 percent identified personal characteristics as their dominant concern.

The significance of that division: Among issue-oriented Democrats, Kennedy was favored by a 58-35 margin, while those who placed a higher priority on personality traits backed the president by a 63-to-32 margin.

Moreover, when asked what they perceive to be the most important problem facing the nation, an overwhelming 49 percent of all Pennsylvania Democrats singled out inflation - and those voters supported Kennedy by a 57-35 margin.

Although Kennedy has become the political beneficiary of growing voter discontent with Carter's inability to cope with both soaring inflation rates and the seemingly interminable hostage crisis in Iran, the "character issue" may return to haunt the senator. A distinct geographical pattern has emerged, indicating that voters' willingness to subordinate their concerns about Kennedy's real or imagined character flaws is confined almost exclusively to the "Bos-Wash" corridor - the heavily populated section of the Northeast stretching from Boston to Washington and encompassing New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

All of Kennedy's primary victories have come in states within that corridor - in Massachusetts, New York, Connecticut and Pennsylvania - where the approach to questions of morality is characterized as "sophisticated" by the region's defenders and "permissive" by its critics.

That division was especially apparent in the Pennsylvania primary because one of the two major cities in the state, Philadelphia, lies within the corridor while the other, Pittsburgh, is closer to the nation's Midwestern heartland in geography as well as attitudes.

Thus, Kennedy trounced Carter by 59-34 in Philadelphia and 53-to-38 in its suburbs, but Carter handily defeated Kennedy 49-40 in Allegheny County, which includes Pittsburgh and many of its suburbs.

The same pattern also was evident earlier in the year in Illinois, the only major industrial state outside the "Bos-Wash" corridor where a Democratic primary has been held. There Carter overwhelmed Kennedy by a margin of almost 2-to-1.

There probably are exceptions to that rule. In Michigan, for instance, Carter has presented a convenient target for victims of the massive layoffs in the auto industry that have produced the highest unemployment rate of any state in the country.

Similarly, Kennedy could fare well in California, which generally shares the Northeast's "sophisticated" or "permissive" attitude on issues of morality, but his "character issue" could continue to offset Carter's ineptness elsewhere in the country.

letter to editor

To The Daily News:

In the 1976 presidential election with the election of Jimmy Carter and Walter "Fritz" Mondale, there was one very significant victory for the benefit of the American people that probably passed by unnoticed.

When Carter selected the ultra-liberal humanist, "Fritz" Mondale, as his running mate, he removed from the U.S. Senate one of the most liberal, socialist, inflation-minded members the U.S. Senate ever had.

Yes, Mr. Carter took a giant step in 1976 toward his fight against inflation by removing Mr. Mondale from the liberal Democrat-controlled U.S. Congress. However, since his inauguration, Carter's fight against inflation has faltered somewhat as you would probably agree! In fact, since 1976, our nation's status as a world leader, militarily, morally and economically has not only faltered, it has crumbled much like a hollow, dried out peanut hull.

In 1980, why don't we concerned Americans resolve to send Fritz Mondale back to Minnesota as a private citizen and send Mr. Carter back to his peanut processing plant in Plains, Ga.? As a taxpayer, small businessman, Mr. Carter could surely see the "Windfall profits" we citizens all are making with double digit inflation and interest rates eating away at every dollar we take in.

The election of a president in 1980 may well be the most important decision America will make during the remainder of the 20th century. Our future as a nation is at stake.

We cannot accept continued inflation, mismanaged energy crisis, the erosion of our dollar and the loss of our personal hopes. We must stop the decline of our leadership in the world, the weakening of our defense capability and the aimless drifting from crisis to crisis. In 1980 we can take a giant step toward solving our problems.

After more than three years, Carter and Mondale have proved they are not able to solve any of these problems. Their liberal ideas of bigger government won't work. The solution is less and better government, not bigger government.
