For Transfer To U.S.

Iran Releases Bodies

By The Associated Press
The bodies of the eight U.S. servicemen killed in the failed hostage rescue mission in Iran were turned over today to a Greek Catholic Archbishop who said he would take them on a flight to Switzerland on Tuesday for transfer to the United States.

Capudji said he will fly with the bodies Tuesday to Switzerland where he will turn the remains over to the International Red Cross for transfer to the families in the United States.

An earlier Tehran Radio broadcast said Capudji would deliver the bodies to See Bodies, Page 13

Electrical Wiring Blamed...

Rainbow Market Burns

A fire that is believed to have been started in the attic from electrical wiring wrought heavy damage on Rainbow Market last night. Firemen answered the alarm at 9:40 p.m. and found smoke and fire belching from the 1614 25th St. building. Early damage estimates run as high as $50,000 and more to the building alone.

"That's just my guess, the official tally could be much more," said Alfred Kohl, fire chief. Firemen were called to the store a second time this morning when smoke was again spotted seeping from the attic.

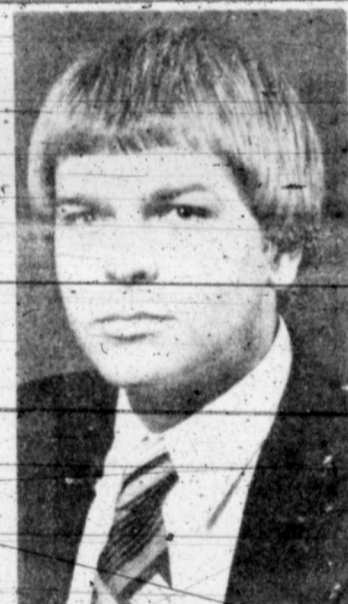

Rainbow Market is owned by J.W. and Frances Tatum, longtime residents of Snyder. The store is believed to be Snyder's oldest supermarket still operating in the same location. The store began as a meat market with the present building being erected around 1950 to serve the needs of the boom caused by the discovery of oil here.

Known as J.R.B. Rainbow Market, the store was sold in 1960 to Sterling Parker and became known as Parker's Rainbow. He retired and sold the store to the Tatum family in 1978.

"We were not trying to get rich, but just make a living and serve our friends in Snyder," said a member of the Tatum family at the scene of the fire last night. J.W. Tatum said the store will reopen in another location if a suitable one can be found. It appears that some of the merchandise can be salvaged. Upon hearing of the fire, many of the store's regular customers rushed to the scene to offer their condolences to the family. City fireman also worked See Rainbow, Page 13

Shaw Wins Close Legislative Race

Larry Shaw, 27-year-old Howard County farmer, defeated Mike Ezzell, the incumbent from Snyder, in a race for State Representative for the 63rd District that went down to the wire in Saturday's Democratic Primary election. Shaw wound up with a total of 6,774 votes, while Ezzell got 6,387, in the six-county district. Dawson County proved to be pivotal as the two candidates battled to a virtual standoff in the other five counties. Ezzell carried his home county of Scurry by 1,890 to 1,555. Shaw carried his home county of Howard by 2,934 to 2,560. Ezzell carried Coke County with 524 votes to Shaw's 382 and Shaw carried Sterling County with 256 to Ezzell's 203. Borden County gave Ezzell a slight edge of 132 to 127. But the Dawson County vote turned the tide, with Shaw rolling up 1,520 votes to Ezzell's 1,078. Shaw said he hoped to do a good job for the district in Austin. "It was close," he said. "But I think it showed that the people wanted a change." Ezzell issued a written statement thanking his supporters: "I would like to thank my many friends and supporters. The past six years as your state representative have been tremendously gratifying. Early in the campaign I made a decision to conduct a positive race, pointing to my record and accomplishments. I still feel this is the best course. It is my sincere hope that Mr. Shaw will recognize and serve the best interests of the finest people in Texas—those of the 63rd Legislative District."

Half-A-Dozen Cases Go To Grand Jury

Half a dozen cases were tentatively prepared for presentation before a Scurry County grand jury this morning. Two of the cases involve charges of involuntary manslaughter filed against Maurice Brown of Lubbock. Brown was the driver of a truck that collided with a parked car in which two persons, 24-year-old Victor Vega and 2-year-old Ruben Vega, both of Mufleshoe, were killed. The accident occurred April 15, approximately 10 miles north of Snyder on Highway 84. Two more charges involve allegations of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. Named in them are Walter Lee Courtney of New Mexico and Tony Murphy Courtney, also of New Mexico. They are charged with taking a vehicle from Jack Dupree without Dupree's permission. Charged with driving while intoxicated are Ronald Gene Fisk, 2104 Huffman, and Ray Martinez, 1008 24th St.

Ask Us

Q—How come the Republicans had only one polling place in Saturday's primary election?
A—Up to now, the Republican Party really has not had enough people voting in its Scurry County primary to justify another polling place. The past Saturday's turnout was believed to be a record for the local GOP and it still fell below 200, a number that still could easily be accommodated in one election box.

Chase Lowers Prime Rate

NEW YORK (AP)—Chase Manhattan Bank, the nation's third largest, today reduced its prime lending rate 1/2 point to 18 percent. It was the fourth drop in the past three weeks in the bank's basic lending rate for corporate loans. The nation's major banks only last week reduced their prime rate to 18 1/2 percent from 19 percent. The prime rate is the rate banks charge their best corporate customers and many businesses must pay a point or two above prime for their loans.

Truck Route Talk On Council Agenda

The Snyder City Council will take a third look at a revised ordinance regulating peddlers and itinerant merchants and discuss truck traffic at their meeting tonight in city hall. The meeting is set for 6:30 p.m. in the council room. A joint meeting of city, county and highway department officials has been scheduled for May 19 to discuss a possible truck route around Snyder and councilmen are due to discuss the city's interest in such a proposal tonight.

The itinerant merchants' ordinance, first proposed following a chamber of commerce survey, has been revised again and is on the "old business" section of tonight's agenda. Also, Dr. Robert Taylor, local veterinarian, is scheduled to bring the council up to date on plans to expand his veterinary clinic to take care of impounded animals in the city. In other business, the council will open bids for See Council, Page 13.

OPEC To Talk Strategy

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries' meeting in Taif, Saudi Arabia on Wednesday will not decide on immediate oil price increases, but will review the cartel's long-term strategy on prices and production, an OPEC spokesman said here today.

Shots In London Embassy

LONDON (AP)—Police reported "what sounded like two or three shots coming from the direction of" the besieged Iranian embassy here today. The reported gunfire came as negotiations with at least three Arab gunmen holding 18 or 19 hostages in the building for the sixth day appeared to stall.

Local Republicans In Reagan's Camp

Scurry County Republicans favored Ronald Reagan 2 1/2 to 1 over George Bush and gave a majority to Henry C. Grover, a former gubernatorial candidate, for a seat on the Texas Railroad Commission in Saturday's primary. The turnout of 183 voters is believed to be a record for a Republican primary election in Scurry County. A total of 51 voted in the Republican Primary here in 1978. Reagan received 127 votes, while George Bush got 31 and five were uncommitted. Grover received 80 votes in the Railroad Commission race to overshadow E.W. (Billy) Kidd with 27 and John Thomas Henderson with 48. Scurry County Republicans also approved wiretapping in the investigation of crime where suspected drug dealers are involved, by 141 to 19, and initiative and referendum by 138 to 20. In uncontested races on the Republican ballot, H.J. (Doc) Blanchard received 86 votes for the unexpired term on the Railroad Commission; Jim Brady received 138 votes for Associate Justice of the Texas Supreme Court, Place 1; Will Garwood received 136 votes for Associated Justice of the Texas Supreme Court, Place 4; Bernhard J. Bartels received 99 votes for county commissioner in Precinct No. 3; and Mary Dulaney received 139 votes for County Republican chairman.

In Light Turnout... Holt, Collier, Yoast, Love Win In Primary

Well under half of the qualified voters in Scurry County went to the polls in Saturday's primaries to give incumbents the edge in all contested local races, while President Jimmy Carter and Ronald Reagan got topheavy approval from their respective parties here. Judge Wayland G. Holt of the 132nd Judicial District, fought off the challenge of James Clark, Snyder attorney, to win renomination with a 2,075 to 1,369 advantage in Scurry County and a 166 to 85 edge in Borden County for a total of 2,341 to 1,454, based on complete, unofficial returns in the Democratic Primary. Scurry County voters also gave Mike Ezzell of Snyder, the incumbent, a 1,890 to 1,555 lead over Larry Shaw of Big Spring for State Representative in the 63rd District, but Shaw overcame the Scurry County figures elsewhere to win by 6,774 to 6,387. Keith Collier, veteran Scurry County Sheriff won renomination with 1,912 votes over Bobby Goodwin, former police chief and justice of the peace, who received 1,583 votes. Charlie Yoast, county commissioner in Precinct No. 3, rolled up 1,195 votes to 558 for his lone Democratic opponent, John Thomas. Yoast will face Republican Bernhard J. Bartels in the general election in November. Bill Love, the incumbent, was renominated for constable in Precinct No. 1 with 1,696, defeating Lloyd Merritt, who received 1,102. In the non-binding presidential referendum on the Democratic Party ballot, President Jimmy Carter got 1,974 votes, while Sen. Edward Kennedy got 251, California Governor Jerry Brown got 139 and 905 were uncommitted. In contested state-wide races, Scurry County Democrats gave John Poerner 1,901 votes and Buddy Temple 1,079 votes for one position on the Railroad Commission. For an unexpired term on the Railroad Commission, the vote here gave Jim Nugent 1,942 and Jim Hightower 1,021. For Associate Justice, Texas Supreme Court, See Primary, Page 13

tax costly to texans

The Texas Good Roads and Transportation Association reports in its recent newsletter that President James Earl Carter's 10 cents a gallon conservation tax on gasoline will cost Texans $8 million a year. The comment of the newsletter staff makes it most clear that Texans in general have little respect for Carter's assailing the oil industry and the petroleum-consuming public so violently in his tax program. "The long-lasting rule about not increasing taxes in an election year has been junked by President Carter and Congress in 1980," the newsletter stated, "As the President Carter and Congress passed the biggest tax bill in the history of the nation, the so-called Windfall Profits Tax. The Treasury Department estimates the total take of the tax during its 10-year life will be $227 billion, but Texas Congressman Jake Pickle says the cost to consumers will be more like $400 billion." Some Texans in the state's lawmaking delegation in Washington favored the "windfall tax" bill, and as gasoline prices rise and rise, one can be sure their names will be remembered. Wrote the Good Roads staffer: "To their everlasting credit, most members of the Texas Congressional Delegation voted against the windfall profits tax because it deprives oil companies of capital needed to increase domestic production and because it is an excise tax which will be paid by consumers."

In addition to the windfall profits tax, President Carter has added his own "gasoline conservation tax" of $4.62 per barrel on imported oil. The immediate effect of the tax will be an increase of 10 cents per gallon on gasoline at the pump effective May 15. Some say the increase will be more like 14 cents per gallon. Each motorist will be digging into his pocket for an additional $150 a year to pay Mr. Carter's tax. The Administration estimates the tax will reduce gasoline consumption by about 1 percent. The cost of the gasoline saved will be about $300 a barrel, which makes this one of the highest priced conservation measures ever devised. The tax will also result in higher prices of goods and services and a further increase in the consumer price index. The Carter gasoline tax is especially unfair to Texans. Each Texas motorist uses about 954 gallons of gasoline a year, compared to the national average of 790. The tax will cost Texans about $800 million a year.

Concerning the "windfall" tax, U.S. Senator Harry F. Byrd Jr. of Virginia said the other day that it is unsound. He added, "In addition to the $227 billion in revenues expected from the windfall tax, the federal government will receive an even larger amount in higher income taxes from oil producers as a result of oil price decontrol. This influx of revenues will create a multi-million dollar slush fund to finance government spending programs. Funneling this money to the government is like giving a spendthrift a new set of credit cards."

And back to the Good Roads newsletter comment: "Trying to keep up with the strange, sometimes mind-boggling workings of the federal government is difficult to say the least. People who try to find a rational pattern in the crazy quilt of federal actions usually wind up frustrated..." Most Texans will agree that these words are putting it only mildly. Stronger opinions will be noted as Mr. Carter's tax continues to send gasoline bills higher than the sky.

I don't know if I told you or not, but I've been shopping for a "role model," and frankly I'm not having too much luck. Every time I find someone I want to emulate professionally, their personal life is all screwed up, and when I find someone who has their personal life together, no one has ever heard of them. "I've had my 'goal in life' for almost a year now. Got it last August. Up until that time I referred to it as a 'fantasy,' but somewhere along the line 'fantasy' became an O.T. word and 'goal' took its place. My "goal" is to get my body in shape, raise my consciousness level, go to

Hollywood, become a sex symbol, work for world peace and "feel good about myself."

A few weeks ago I saw where Barbara Walters was going to interview Bo Derek, Farrah Fawcett, Cheryl Ladd and Bette Midler. Merciful heavens! Four Role Models. Four! Surely out of one of them would emerge a person to pattern my life after. I listened carefully. They were all sex symbols, all had great bodies, knew who they were and were in touch with their feelings. They were mobbed by fans wherever they went, had big houses with fresh flowers on every table, faces pretty enough to offset stringy hair, and men who masterminded their every move.

All four were at the peak of their success and in a state of "mis." Misquoted, misunderstood, mismatched, mismanaged, misinterpreted and misrepresented. Add miserable. Yet, on a scale of one to 10, not one of them came in under a 9. The only thing I can figure out is that I have been calculating the "10" phenomenon on the wrong scale. These women are obviously grading on the "curve." If they say they're a "10" at the beach, it must depend on how much sand they're buried in, how much water they're retaining, and how many 3s and 4s are around. If their marriage is a "10," it probably takes into consideration how often their husbands are dating, if they make their home together, and what their other hobbies are. All I know is out of four sex symbols interviewed, one had a child, one had a husband, one had an understanding mother, and one had peace of mind. I have all four. That makes me a "20" and still looking for a role model who deserves me. Copyright 1980 Field Enterprises, Inc.

back to square one

NEW YORK (AP)—When the economy succumbed to inflation in the mid and late 1960s the most common advice was to cut back and try to live within your income. But that soon became too difficult.

Next, households were told to raise their incomes. The number of moonlighters rose. And then the wives went back to work in greater numbers. But prices and goals rose too. There still wasn't enough. Creative credit was discovered. As inflation rose, so did the price of houses, and so did the realization that home equity was collateral for loans with which to buy boats, vacations and the kids' educations.

But expenses and expectations continued to rise. This was America, and everyone felt entitled to live in a manner befitting his self-image. The price of credit went up, and then the supply shrank. The "other people," whose money was being borrowed, decided it wasn't a good deal. They felt robbed. They too decided it was better to borrow.

Prices rose faster, and companies hurriedly printed new and higher price lists, not just to cover increased costs of capital and materials but in anticipation of wage demands and the threat of federal controls. Uncle Sam became the great benefactor, but in doing so, he too used other people's money. He had the power to do so, even when others, the biggest corporations included, couldn't. He ran up huge deficits, and "repaid" by printing money. The value of money fell faster.

As prices and interest rates rose, increases in factory productivity, which is the cost per unit to make something, deteriorated. The capital stock of the country was milked until there was little milk to give. Consumption helped drain it. Everyone took something, but not everyone gave something equal or better in return. It was the coronation of consumption and the destruction of production.

Sometimes over the past decade or more one had the bewildered feeling of watching the country fighting itself, consuming itself, doing its best to frustrate its ability to produce the things it demanded. And now, as the economy descends into an economic hellhole, we're back to square one, to the old-fashioned advice we began with, which is to try to do without, and to live within our incomes.

If there is a moral, it seems to be that you can't outrace inflation - not by quickening your pace by consuming more and spending more and demanding more and borrowing more and passing the bill to someone else.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Experts here say that last week's spectacular toxic chemical explosion and fire in Elizabeth, N.J., could well have been a major disaster. "If there had been a thermal inversion with the wind blowing out of the west, we would likely have had to evacuate all of New York City," says Hugh Kaufman, the Environmental Protection Agency's program manager for toxic-waste disposal. "What troubles officials like Kaufman even more is that the Elizabeth warehouse was only one of more than 2,000 storage facilities throughout the United States that EPA has pinpointed as 'imminently hazardous to public health.' Further, they believe that far more dangerous than explosions like the one in New Jersey is the leakage of toxic chemicals from dump sites."

"The New Jersey fire was spectacular and was actually the second of its kind we have had in less than a month," says Kaufman. "But much more insidious and dangerous is what you can't readily see. It's not the 200-foot-high flames; it's the poisoning of ground and water from leaking dumps." So why doesn't EPA do something about these dumps? Kaufman says it has lacked the legal authority and the money—and the Carter administration has not given the problem a very high priority.

In 1976, Congress passed the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, which authorized EPA to develop and implement a program to control the disposal of toxic waste. But Kaufman and others assert that the administration, under strong industry pressure, has thrown up roadblocks to the act's implementation. "We were ordered not to look for any more imminent hazards to the public health from waste-disposal practices," says Kaufman. "The Carter administration's No. 1 policy, as explained to us by top management, is to fight inflation. And, in their minds, finding more sites where people are being poisoned, or that might blow up, could contribute to inflation."

Administration officials say in their defense that the regulations to administer the 1976 act are finally ready and will be released shortly. Further, they say, they have submitted a plan to Congress to fund a massive cleanup of toxic waste. But environmentalists poo-poo these efforts and, interestingly, so does EPA's Kaufman.

"The industry has managed to put so many loopholes in the new regs that in many critical situations they will be virtually meaningless," he says. "For instance, the Elizabeth warehouse would not have fallen under our control. While it was in operation it would fall within one loophole, and for the last year while it has been in bankruptcy it would fall under another."

"And if the regulations will not cover a dump as notorious as that one, can you imagine how many others will fall under one exemption or another?" Six or seven proposals are floating around Congress to set up a revolving "superfund" to finance a nationwide cleanup of toxic-chemical dump sites and to allow citizens to collect for injuries suffered from accidents or spills. The administration's version calls for 75 percent of the fund to come from industries and companies that make and use toxic chemicals and the remainder to come from taxpayers.

But it does not appear that the superfund will be nearly enough. The administration envisions a fund of about $1.6 billion, though EPA Deputy Administrator Barbara Blum is on record as saying that this amount would serve only to clean up "perhaps 300 to 500 of the worst cases."

And approval of the superfund is far from sure. Industry groups are fighting it tooth and nail. Robert Roland, head of the Chemical Manufacturers Association, calls the proposal "unconstitutional" and even "kinky."

If it doesn't pass, there will be little money in the next few years' restrictive federal budgets to deal with toxic-waste disposal. This very real possibility dismays Kaufman. "I see all this commotion over nuclear power and nuclear-waste disposal," he says. "Well, they are public-health flies when compared to the elephant of toxic waste. 'You know, if we had a tight set of regulations, which we do not, and if we had enough money, which I don't think we will have, our best hope by the year 2000 would be to make the public as safe from toxic waste as they are today from nuclear problems. 'And we just can't get the public to see the danger!'" for South to make a lot of tricks. Possibly as many as eleven and surely at least nine.

Oswald: "The normal expert play is for East to play the queen of clubs not the ace at trick one. South takes his king and leads a diamond to dummy in order to lead a spade. East probably rises with the ace in order to go after clubs. If East plays the club ace South does have eleven tricks."

Alan: "Suppose that East leads the deuce, not the ace. Here is our unfortunate South between the devil and the deep blue sea. If he plays his jack he winds up with twelve tricks. But how can he know that the nine isn't the winning play? So he plays the nine. West takes his ten, continues the suit and South goes down."

Oswald: "This play would have lost for East if South had been dealt either K-J-8 or K-J-6 of clubs. It works because he was dealt K-J-9 and wasn't clairvoyant."

Alan: "East's percentages were good. It was good tactics to risk a 30-point overtrick to save game and rubber."

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

Oswald: "Let's present today's hand as a problem for our readers. West opens the five of clubs against South's three notrump. The problem is to figure out how South (a good player) fails to make his contract."

Alan: "The normal result is

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Cancer questions

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — A family member has developed cancer of the lung. She is presently undergoing radiation therapy. My question is, if she is cured or in permanent remission, what are the chances of it returning to the other lung? Also if the body cells replace each other regularly, why don't the cancer cells just replace themselves with healthy new cells?

DEAR READER — There are many different forms of therapy available in the modern treatment of cancer. Radiation therapy is very successful in certain types of tumors. Before a decision is made as to whether to use surgery, radiation, chemotherapy or any combination of these, the doctor has to know exactly what kind of cancer is present. It is possible to cure or reduce a relatively permanent remission of a number of cancers with modern treatment.

There are several different forms of lung cancer. Some are more dangerous than others. About 80 percent of lung cancers are associated with cigarette smoking. That automatically means that those of them are totally unrelated to smoking.

To give you more information about cancer, I am sending you The Health Letter number 14-8, Cancer: A Fact of Life. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it.

Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. This issue will explain how cancers originate, their spread and the kind of basic information I think you're asking for.

It's true that most body cells do replace themselves, but the catch is that cancer cells are really body cells. As they degenerate they replace themselves with new cancer cells. This is really done by doubling, which means each single cancer cell divides in half and forms two cells. Those two divide in half and form two more. So these cells do replace themselves through constant multiplication just like body cells do but in an uncontrolled manner. This uncontrolled growth is characteristic of cancer.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am female and just turned 50. For as long as I can remember I had long, strong fingernails. They never broke. To keep them trim I had to cut them. Now for the past six months my nails have been peeling in layers. They also split. I'm heartsick and I don't know what to do. Do I lack something in my diet?

DEAR READER — This is a fairly common complaint. One of the most frequent causes for fingernail problems is fingernail polish. Some preparations are used to harden nails and they're effective for some women but for others they're not. Finally, the nail polish remover contains powerful chemicals which will damage some women's nails.

TI To Expand Midwest Route

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Texas International Airlines will extend its route to the midwest next month with non-stop service between Omaha and the Dallas-Forth Worth area.

At least one of the two daily round-trip flights expected to be operated initially also will link Omaha with Houston, Texas International's headquarters city.

The entry of Texas International will increase the number of major airlines serving the Omaha-Texas market. All of its south-bound flights from Omaha stop at Kansas City, Mo.

Local Minister At Washington Rally

The Rev. Jay Newsom of Agape Christian Fellowship in Snyder was among approximately 600,000 Christians from every state in the union and several foreign countries who converged on Washington, D.C., April 29 for a national day of fasting, prayer and repentance.

Rev. Newsom said the theme of the rally was based on II Chronicles 7:14 and I Timothy 2, and that the purpose of the historic assembly was three-fold: 1. Repent as Christians for our own responsibility for the national crisis; 2. openly pray for the government and the nation; 3. to publicly worship God.

REV. JAY NEWSOM

"The Most exciting event in our history took place with very little recognition or publicity," said Rev. Newsom. "The expectancy level was very high all day long and resulted in a great outpouring of unity, joy, singing and love among believers of all backgrounds from all across the nation."

Rev. Newsom attended a pastors' and leaders' rally in Constitution Hall and prayer on the Capital Mall attended by 250,000. Speakers included Bill Bright of Campus Crusade, Jim Bakker of PTL, Pat Robertson of CBN, Evangelist James Robison and others. Various professional Christian musicians sang.

Many forthright prayers were offered and people really asked God to forgive our sins and heal our land," said Rev. Newsom. "Then a three-hour march down Constitution Ave. grouped by each of the 50 states was truly a sight to behold. I believe it marks the beginning of one of the greatest revivals in the history of the United States which will spread throughout the world and signal the second coming of the Lord Jesus Christ."

Coach Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys was a defensive back for the New York Giants but he once played quarterback in a game against the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Meetings On Boll Weevil Control Set

How to continue the boll weevil diapause program, increase participation and other methods of financing are topics being discussed at boll weevil meetings and continuing this week.

The lack of support and interest in the boll weevil control program are major concerns of the Extension Agents, officers and directions of the Scurry County Producers Association. A series of meetings to get producer suggestions and recommendations are being held.

The schedule for the meetings are as follows: Monday night at 7:30 p.m. May 5, Union Community Center; Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m., May 6, Inadale Community Center; and Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. May 8, Ira Community Center.

Producers are urged to attend one of these meetings.

SHS Choir Concert Set

The Snyder High School Choir will present a pops concert at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the SHS Auditorium.

The music made popular by a number of well-known individuals and groups will be included, such as Anne Murray, Pink Floyd, The Oak Ridge Boys, Elvis Presley and Buddy Holly. There will be accompaniment by guitars, electric base and drums.

Tickets will be on sale at the door for $1.50 each.

Funeral Services For Tito Are Set Thursday

BY IVAN STEFANOVIC Associated Press Writer BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—The body of President Josip Broz Tito, the World War II hero who forged his own brand of decentralized communism and preserved Yugoslavia's independence from the Soviet Union for more than 30 years, was being brought to Belgrade today to lie in state until funeral services Thursday.

The last surviving founder of the Third World movement of non-aligned countries, Tito died Sunday afternoon in the hospital in Ljubljana, capital of the Slovenian Republic in northwest Yugoslavia, where he had been a patient nearly four months. Born on May 7, 1892, he would have been 88 on Wednesday.

The government ordered seven days of national mourning and prepared for an influx of foreign leaders for the state funeral. The body was being brought to Belgrade by special train and was to lie in state in the Federal Parliament building. Burial was to be near the Museum of the Revolution in a Belgrade suburb.

Although Yugoslavs mourned the only leader many of them had ever known, his death had been expected for several months, and the two collective leadership groups he put together to succeed him as president and head of the Communist Party were already in firm control of the government and the party.

Lazar Kolisevski, the 66-year-old president of the Macedonian Republic, was sworn in as president of the presidency, a title that will rotate annually among a nine-man collective made up of representatives of Yugoslavia's six republics, two autonomous provinces and the Communist Party.

Steven Doronjski, 61, a Serb from the autonomous province of Vojvodina, was expected to become party president. He will share his power with 23 other members of the party presidium representing the republics and the autonomous provinces.

Foreign leaders of all political faiths united in paying homage to one of World War II's last surviving heroes. President Carter termed him "a towering figure on the world stage," while the Soviet leadership hailed him as "the outstanding leader of the communists and all workers of Yugoslavia."

NEW BUSINESS—Molly's Attic on the south side of the square is a new business in town. The owners are Modea Riley and Molly Tatum. They sell antiques, china dolls, painted personalized crockery, carvings, oil paintings from Stephenville; Rag dolls and tinware. (SDN Staff Photo)

Lakers Take Opener In Pro Playoff Series

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Doctor's housecall at the Forum was delayed until the fourth quarter. Darryl Dawkins spent most of the day on the seat of his pants. And in the third quarter, Philadelphia couldn't throw a pea in the ocean.

That's how it went for the 76ers in Game One of the National Basketball Association championship series Sunday.

The Los Angeles Lakers got their customary superb performance from Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, some outstanding defense on Julius Erving and ran the 76ers halfway to San Diego during the third period in taking a 1-0 lead in the best of seven series with a 109-102 victory.

SCC Couples Meet Figures

Cloyce and Anita Talbott and Herb and Romona Reed came in with a 63 to win the Snyder Country Club monthly couples tournament Sunday.

Twenty-two couples entered the competition.

Second, at 64, were John and Suzy Reed and Bill and Finnie Seale.

Two teams tied for third with 65s. They were Billy W. and Xan Harris and Steve and Sharon Talbott, and David and Norma Thompson and partners.

Winning the men's closest to the pin event on No. 5 was Don Dillard, with a 69 lie. Retha Pickering won the ladies at 12' 6" from the cup.

The teams were deadlocked 53-53 after an evenly played first half before the Lakers exploded, scoring the first 12 points of the third quarter and 31 to Philadelphia's 17 in the period.

The 76ers made 54.5 percent of their field goal attempts in the first half but were a miserable 3-of-20 in the third quarter.

Los Angeles had an 84-70 advantage entering the last 12 minutes. Erving, a virtual non-entity for the first three quarters, sparked a 14-2 Philadelphia surge that drew the 76ers to within four, 92-88, midway in the final period. That was as close as they get.

The Lakers scored eight of the game's next nine points to make it 100-89 and the 76ers weren't closer than six after that.

Abdul-Jabbar had game-high totals of 33 points, 14 rebounds and six blocked shots. Erving, meanwhile, finished with 20 points, 11 in the final 8:39—seven rebounds and two blocked shots.

Connors Wants Peak Of Tennis Mountain

DALLAS (AP)—Jimmy Connors says he may move ahead of John McEnroe as the No. 2 tennis player in the world, but that's not the ranking he wants.

The 28-year-old Connors, playing as he did when he dominated tennis in the mid-70s, decisively whipped the 21-year-old defending champion McEnroe 2-6, 7-6, 6-1, 6-2 Sunday to earn the $100,000 first place prize in the World Championship of Tennis Finals.

"That's a big step toward my goal," said a pleased Connors, whose settled family life has given his game new life.

"There is no No. 2—only No. 1 I'm not fighting to be No. 2. I've got to forget this match."

Connors has taken dead aim at unseating Sweden's Bjorn Borg as the No. 1 player in the world.

"I'm getting close to the way I played in 1974," Connors said. "I'm working hard on it. When I was 19, 20, and 21, all I had to do was play. But I have lots more on my mind now, and I have to work harder."

Connors turned to McEnroe during the Award ceremonies Sunday and told him: "Mac now

Richardson Clears 7-0 As...

Snyder Trio Sees Blue!

ABILENE—It would appear Coach Winfred Shipp's bunch is ready.

His high-flying Tigers, gearing for their annual trek to Austin, set one school record and took three first place medals during State Qualifier's competition here Saturday.

Brad Richardson, who will soon be competing for his final time as a Snyder Tiger, broke the school high jump record of 6-10 as he soared over seven-foot. The effort won the meet by six inches.

Teammates Dale Jenkins and Thomas Selmon also brought home blue ribbons. Jenkins vaulted 15-6, while Selmon put forth a 23-4 1/2 long jump.

Lloyd Benson, who did not qualify for state but is nevertheless considered one of the area's top runners, took second in the 400 meters with a 49.2 and was fourth in the 200 with a 22.4.

The record-setting effort by Richardson came as something of a shocker since he had trouble clearing 6-4 and 6-6 respectively in his last two outings.

"We got his steps down this week and he was jumping real well," explained Shipp. "He cleared it (7-0) on his second attempt."

Thursday's trip to Austin and the Class AAA State Track Meet will be Richardson's final opportunity to represent Snyder High School. His father is Nolan Richardson, former Western Texas College coach and athletic director, who has taken the head basketball coaching position at Tulsa University. Brad is a junior.

For Richardson and Selmon, the State Meet will be their second go at post-season glory. Richardson finished fourth last year with a 6-6 effort which actually tied the winning height. Richardson was delegated to fourth place on amount of misses.

Selmon, who has also represented Snyder in the Junior Olympics last year, went 22-9 at state for fourth place. He is a senior.

Jenkins is the grand old man of the trio, though only a junior. Jenkins will be making his third trip to the annual tournament. He finished seventh two years ago and second last season.

The trio will compete in Austin on Thursday. Tentative times are 2 p.m. for the long jump, 5 for the pole vault, and 6 for the high jump.

Baker Nabs Winson Cup

TALLADEGA, Ala. (AP)—Buddy Baker caught Dale Earnhardt with two laps to go and held on to win by less than the length of a hood in the $315,000 Winston 500 last weekend.

CLEARED SEVEN FOOT—Brad Richardson, one of three Tiger athletes which brought home blue ribbons from Saturday's State Qualifier's Meet held in Abilene, broke a Snyder High School record by clearing 7-0 in high jump competition. The previous best had been 6-10 shared by Richardson (1980) and Chester Cobb (1976). See related article, this page. (SDN STAFF PHOTO) knows what I was like in my prime."

McEnroe said that it was Connors at his best.

"I can't relate to playing him in 1974 because I thought he was invincible back then," McEnroe said. "He was attacking today, missing no volleys and coming in more than usual to the net."

McEnroe refused to blame a sprained ankle he has been nursing for the defeat.

Wishball-Notes League Results

McAlister Transfer out-rolled Snyder Well Service for the team championship of the Wishball Bowling League.

Teammembers for McAlister are Jeral Beard, Jay Roemisch, Phil Ragland, Homer Godair, Mark Hartless and Troy Greenlee.

Members for Snyder Well Service are Roland Bowden, Eddie Compton, Mark Cullifer, David Stinnett and C.W. Berryman.

High team game went to Sun Gas Plant with a 1,132, while Snyder Well Service won high team series with a 3,295.

Individually, Clifford Ramsey received the Bowler of the Year award and David Shifflett won the ABC award.

High handicap game went to Mike Levens with a 293. High handicap series was won by Blaine Wofford with a 723.

Kenneth Kellner won high scratch game with a 246, while Bowden took high scratch series with a 667.

Tigers Nip Cubs; Need One Victory

By The SDN Sport Staff

BROWNFIELD—Coach Albert Lewis' Snyder Tigers reached down deep here Saturday to pull out a key seventh-inning, 4-3 victory over highly-touted Brownfield High School.

The win, Snyder's fifth straight, gives the Tigers a 4-0 record in round-two of District 3-3A play. 8-2 for both rounds. Brownfield, which won the first half, falls to 2-2, and 7-3.

Snyder will take a temporary break from district play Tuesday to host Odessa Ector in a make-up game at 5:30 p.m. The Tigers resume loop action Friday, entertaining Brownfield at 5:30. The final district game of the regular season pits the Tigers at Lamesa, 4:15 Saturday.

Snyder now needs only one victory in its final two 3-3A games to sew up the second round and force Brownfield into a best-of-three series playoff for the district championship.

It leaves a situation the Cubs can not be looking forward to, because Snyder seems to gain strength with each trip to the park.

After beginning the season somewhat dimly, the Tigers finally broke even, 11-11, after defeating Lamesa last week. Saturday's win over Brownfield leaves the Tigers at 12-11 on the season.

One of the keys to Snyder's recent success has been a rapidly maturing pitching staff. Saturday's winner, Tony Degrate (5-4), allowed only three Cub hits, while fanning 12 in the seven-inning distance.

Meanwhile, Snyder's bats continued to roar. The Tigers scattered nine hits, including four for multiple bases, while handing Jimmy Martinez only his second loss in 11 decisions.

Kyle Short proved to be the heavy hitter Saturday, going four-for-four from the plate with a triple and a double. Pete Willis was two-for-three.

Brownfield went in front 1-0 in the first inning as Bill House singled and came in on a passed ball. Snyder tied the score in the fifth after Ricky Gombol drew a walk and scored on a single by Short.

After the Tigers were ahead 2-1 in the sixth inning on a Shawn Ragland double followed by a Paul Gafford single, Brownfield retaliated to take the lead again.

Tommy Williams opened with a single and Snyder faltered on several back-to-back errors which allowed two Cub runs.

But the Tigers—almost in a must-win situation to remain alive for a shot at the district title—rallied in the top of the seventh. Two runs came across as Short and Mike Roemisch both doubled and Willis singled.

Serious Crime Growing In Rural South

WASHINGTON (AP)—Serious crime, which soared nationwide last year after a three-year letup, is growing faster in smaller communities and in the South, the FBI says.

As measured by preliminary data released Wednesday, serious crimes reported to police increased 8 percent in 1979 the biggest jump since 9.8 percent four years ago. The crime index decreased 1 percent between 1976 and 1978.

The FBI said the figures showed that the number of serious crimes rose 11 percent in cities of less than 50,000 population and 8 percent in larger cities. Overall crime rose 10 percent in the South, compared with 9 percent in the Northeast, 8 percent in the West and 7 percent in the North Central states.

Nationwide, violent crime was up 11 percent from the year before, with forcible rape and robbery each up 12 percent and murder and aggravated assault each up 9 percent.

Property crime increased 8 percent, with a 10 percent increase in motor vehicle theft, a 9 percent rise in larceny-theft and a 6 percent rise in burglary.

The preliminary figures cover only crimes known to police agencies.

OBITUARIES

J.E. Hairston

Joseph Edward Hairston, 86, long-time resident of the China Grove Community, died at 12:10 a.m. today in Root Memorial Hospital at Colorado City. Funeral service has been set for 2 p.m. Wednesday in the Bell-Seale Chapel here, with burial to follow in the Dunn Cemetery, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Mario Aleman

Funeral arrangements were to be made at Stamford for Mario L. Aleman, 20, who was killed at about 6:30 p.m. Sunday in an oilfield accident five miles northwest of Clairemont. He was reported fatally injured when hit by a piece of equipment at a well site. He was employed by Westex Drilling Co.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marcos Aleman Sr. of Stamford; two sisters, Adela Aleman and Angelina Garvin, both of Stamford; two brothers, Marcos Aleman Jr. and Manuel Aleman, both of Stamford. The body was brought to Bell-Seale Funeral Home Sunday night and was taken to Stamford this morning.

Bill Cozart

Bill Cozart, 74, of Long Beach, Calif. died Sunday in Long Beach. Funeral arrangements are pending. Mr. Cozart was a native of this area. He is survived by his wife, Sandy, and several brothers and sisters including Mrs. Floy Smith of Snyder.

Ira School To Register 5-Year-Olds

IRA—Kindergarten registration for the 1980-81 school term has been scheduled for Wednesday, May 7, at the Ira School. Pupils who will be five years old on or before Sept. 1 this year are to register between the hours of 8 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Parents are asked to bring a valid birth certificate and immunization records for each pupil to be registered. Texas law requires that pupils must be immunized against polio, DPT, rubella, mumps and measles (rubeola) before they can enter public school in the fall of 1980. A doctor's written verification that a child has had measles or mumps will be accepted in lieu of a vaccination.

Carter, Reagan Coast To Primary Victories

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer
President Jimmy Carter and former California Gov. Ronald Reagan coasted into the week on wide leads from Texas' Democratic and Republican primaries, but the hot topic among political observers was the block of voters who pulled the "uncommitted" lever.

Further developments were expected today as Texas Gov. Bill Clements, who has been neutral so far, promised he would make a formal GOP endorsement. He already has sworn he will do everything he can in Texas, or elsewhere, to defeat Carter.

U.S. Rep. John Anderson, who dropped out as a GOP presidential aspirant, was scheduled to start a petition drive in Texas Monday to get on the November ballot as an independent candidate.

Carter easily overwhelmed Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., more than 2-to-1 in the Democratic popularity contest Saturday.

There was no sign the aborted hostage-rescue try affected Carter's predicted win over Kennedy.

On the other hand, there was ample evidence that Bush's last-minute campaign drive almost caught front-runner Reagan, who was not declared victor until early Sunday.

The latest unofficial results on the presidential preference primary.

With 99 percent of the Democratic vote counted,

Carter had 766,704 or 56 percent; Kennedy 310,701 or 22 percent and uncommitted 256,240 or 19 percent. California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr., who withdrew but still had his name on the ballot got a small vote.

With 99 percent of the Republican vote counted, Reagan had 263,616 or 52 percent; Bush 237,379 or 47 percent and 7,923 or 1 percent uncommitted.

Reagan's win in the GOP-popularity poll indicated he would get 65 of Texas' 80 delegates to the national convention and Bush 15.

The large uncommitted vote among Democrats puzzled party officials. Some said it was caused by farmers protesting Carter's economic policies, others said some Democrats traditionally vote uncommitted, and others said it was a sign the voters did not like either candidate.

In the statewide races, State Rep. Buddy Temple, D-Diboll, upended Texas Railroad Commission John Poerner of Hondo; who after serving on the important oil and gas regulatory body for two years was seeking a six-year full term. Temple will meet former state Sen. Hank Grover, Houston Republican, in November. Grover was victor in a three-man GOP primary race.

Railroad Commissioner Jim Nugent, Kerrville, survived a strong campaign against him by former magazine editor Jim Hightower, Austin, an avowed consumer advocate. Nugent meets Austin attorney H.J. "Doc" Blanchard, who had no GOP opposition.

The top upset in state-house circles was the defeat of the dear of the Texas Senate, Sen. Bill Moore, D-Bryan, by former Bryan City Attorney Kent Caperton, who has a GOP opponent in November.

Pre-primary public opinion polls indicate the November battle between Carter and Reagan will be bitter and close in Texas. Reagan carried Texas in the 1976 nomination fight against President Gerald Ford, then Carter defeated Ford in Texas by 129,000 votes.

The Democratic popularity poll on Saturday's ballot had no direct effect on selection of delegates to the national Democratic convention, where the presidential nominee will be named. The delegate selection process began Saturday in precinct conventions but will not be completed until the June 20-21 state convention in San Antonio.

The Republican preference poll directly dictated the division of national convention delegates between Reagan and Bush.

Carter's one-sided victory was apparent from the beginning with Kennedy taking only nine counties of any size, most of them in South Texas with heavy Hispanic voting.

Reagan's win came early Sunday after the lead wavered back and forth with neither he nor Bush in front by a decisive margin. Bush's base for votes was in the four congressional districts in the Houston area, most of them reporting early. He also showed considerable strength in Dallas and Austin. Reagan's strength was throughout the state, particularly in West and East Texas with good showing in the big cities.

The Associated Press-NBC poll of voters taken during balloting Saturday indicated Reagan was favored by upper-income voters over 50 years old, while Bush had the edge among those under 50. Reagan won those making less than $25,000 a year. Bush easily won the votes of those who said they were liberals or moderates, while Reagan kept his conservative backing.

NEW OFFICERS—New officers of Snyder Jaycees who were installed at the organization's banquet Saturday night were, from left, Blaine Minney, second vice president; Leon Franks, director; Billy Barcha, director; Joe Reed, first vice president; Sam Alexander, president, and Robert Patterson, director. ## Despite Oil Gains... Profits Scene Appears Fading

NEW YORK (AP)—Despite some dramatic profit gains in the oil industry and a few elsewhere, the overall trend in corporate profits for the first quarter appears to be weakening.

Exxon's profits were up 100 percent to $1.9 billion from those in the first quarter a year earlier. Mobil reported a 105 percent jump in operating profits to $922 million. Texaco said its operating net rose 97 percent to $600 million for the first quarter.

But oil industry results, benefiting from a sharp increase in crude oil prices at home and abroad, are like an oasis in the desert in the overall picture of corporate profits early this year.

Many companies are barely holding their own against inflation, reports coming out recently indicate. In a few industries, there are definite problems.

Airlines, for instance, are reporting sharp losses in the first three months of the year because fewer people are flying and the cost of jet fuel is dramatically higher than it was a year earlier.

American Airlines reported a $75 million operating loss in the quarter. Trans World Airlines a $61 million operating loss. United Airlines a $40 million loss and Pan American, a $75 million loss.

Events Planned For 'Older Texans Month'

May 11, and a coffee honoring volunteers at Snyder Oaks Care Center at 2 p.m.

On May 16, the Snyder Day Care Center will honor volunteers with a coffee starting at 9:20 a.m. and the RSVP Kitchen Band will perform. On May 22, the Scurry County Museum at WTC will honor its volunteer workers with a morning coffee. Volunteers who give time at West Elementary School will be honored at an open house from 1-2 p.m. on May 23. Leisure Lodge will acknowledge its volunteer workers with a coffee starting at 2 p.m. on May 27.

Plans are underway for a forum to be held in preparation for the White House Conference on Aging. The forums are being held to discuss topics of interest to Senior Citizens and information compiled from them will be passed on to similar meetings of the state level and then to the White House conference.

Stations and programs through which RSVP members give volunteer hours locally are the Chamber of Commerce, West and Central elementary schools, the Scurry County Museum, the Office of Human Resources, the Child Welfare agency, Scurry County Extension Center, Snyder Day Care Center, Cancer Crusade, Heart Fund, Goodfellows, Snyder Work Center and garage sale, the swimming program for retarded children, Experience Unlimited, First United Methodist Church, First Baptist Church, RSVP Quilting at Ira, RSVP Kitchen Band, Senior Citizens Center, Leisure Lodge, Snyder Oaks, Cogdell Memorial Hospital, Western Texas College, Scurry County Library, Home Repair, Widow to Widow and the United Way.

Gag Order In Gold Plumbing Case Trial

MIAMI (AP)—The upcoming grand theft trial of a high school principal is more important than the news to be gained by interviewing jurors who convicted the suspended superintendent of Dade County's public schools, a judge has ruled.

Circuit Judge Thomas E. Scott issued a formal order Friday forbidding the "Gold Plumbing Trial" jury from talking with reporters about the conviction of Johnny Jones.

Scott said the gag order was needed to assure a fair trial later this month for a co-defendant, suspended MacArthur South High School Principal Solomon Barnes.

The judge said he might reconsider after Barnes' jury is chosen.

The Taj Mahal was built at Agra, India, by Shah Jahan between 1632-50 as a tomb for his wife.

High interest rates have also cut into the profits of major banks. Bank America Corp., parent company of the nation's largest commercial bank, showed a 4 percent profit increase. No. 2 Citicorp said earnings dropped 34 percent. But Chase Manhattan, the 3rd largest bank, reported a 21 percent earnings gain.

In a survey of the nation's top 15 banks, the New York Times found that 13 of those reported some earnings gain in the first quarter this year versus last. But on the basis of return on average assets—a measure which analysts say is the key to judging a bank's basic profitability—only four of the 15 banks reported increases.

Auto profits are another exceptionally weak area.

General Motors reported an 87 percent decline in profits to $155 million during the first three months of the year. And analysts predict even gloomier results for Ford and Chrysler when those reports come out.

But weakness in such sectors may be just the beginning.

"The motor vehicle and housing-related industries have already experienced considerable difficulty and this will intensify as we move through 1980," according to a new report by Merrill Lynch Economics Inc., an economic forecasting company.

Judicial Seats Objects Of Fierce Campaigning

By Kathleen Carroll
Associated Press Writer
Michael J. McCormick won't be old enough to sit on the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals until just two weeks before the November general election. But that is the least of his worries today. "Well, we'll have to get ready to go to work," the 34-year-old former prosecutor said Sunday as primary returns gave him 40 percent of the vote, pushing him into a June 7 runoff race with veteran appeals court Judge W.T. Phillips, 67. McCormick was not the only challenger to force June showdowns with incumbents. In a surprising turnout, only one of three high court jurists on the ballot was re-elected. Three must gear up for runoff battles and a fifth was defeated. Judicial races are traditionally the most low-key in Texas elections and until now, incumbent judges were almost insured of re-election. But the campaigns for two Supreme Court and three Texas Court of Criminal Appeals spots were the most visible in recent memory with candidates crisscrossing the state in their bids for a bench seat. Since there are no Republican candidates for the Court of Criminal Appeals on the November ballot, Democratic candidates focused on Saturday's primary. "We feel like we ran on the issues," said McCormick, who took a leave of absence as head of the Texas District and County Attorneys Association to run against Phillips. Phillips, who ran second in the primary with 33 percent, was elected in 1976 to fill an unexpired term. Dallas attorney John E. Humphreys, 54, finished a close third in the race. Making his second bid for a Court of Criminal Appeals berth, Houston attorney Marvin Teague,

46, ousted incumbent Judge Leon Douglas, 64, a staunch law-and-order jurist known for his dissenting opinions. Teague, a criminal defense lawyer, advocated more judicial sensitivity in his campaign. Douglas was seeking his third term on the court. In a third appeals court race, Judge Tom Davis, 58, could not muster the necessary margin and will meet Austin attorney Edith Roberts in June. Houston attorney Walter Boyd finished a distant third. Two civil appeals court judges meet head-to-head in June in a hotly contested race to replace retiring Supreme Court Justice Zollie Steakley. Houston

Civil Appeals Court Judge Jim Wallace, who had campaigned vigorously statewide, meets his chief opponent, John C. Phillips, of the Austin Court of Civil Appeals in June. The two jurists, who had campaigned primarily against one another, finished far ahead of San Antonio law professor Wayne Scott. The winner of the Wallace-Phillips match will face Austin attorney Jim Brady in November. Supreme Court Justice Sears McGee was the only jurist to win re-election in the primary, edging Rowlett attorney Lawrence Bergman. Justice Robert M. Campbell, 44, was unopposed for re-election to the Supreme Court.

GETTING AT BLAZE—Firemen found it difficult to get at the blaze that partially gutted the Rainbow Market, 1614 25th St., Sunday night. Here, firemen the Vatican. There was no explanation for the change in plans. However, Capudji, who spent three years in an Israeli jail for running guns to the Palestinians, has not been authorized to act for the Vatican.

Capudji expressed gratitude to revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini for Iran's "humanitarianism" in handing over the bodies, according to a London-monitored broadcast. "The return of the bodies is a symbol of the sublime spirit of Islam devoid of the slightest political motivation," he was quoted as saying at a meeting with Khomeini today.

CHOICES Karen Blaker Ph.D.

Don't discard old friends

By Karen Blaker, Ph.D.

DEAR DR. BLAKER — I still spend every Saturday afternoon with two women I have known since grammar school. But I don't enjoy them as much as I used to. We don't have much in common anymore. I have started working in a nearby city. There I have found new, more interesting friends who talk about more than their children and what to prepare for dinner. Should I continue the Saturday get-togethers even though I am bored just so I don't hurt my old friends' feelings?

DEAR READER — Do not continue just because you think you should. That will only cause you to feel more resentment.

Instead, try to modify your relationship with your old friends to make it more enjoyable for you.

It may help, for example, to see them less frequently than every Saturday afternoon. Another idea is to talk with them in more detail about your new life. If you have been assuming they cannot relate to your experiences, you may be surprised.

I would also recommend that you look up other acquaintances from the past, perhaps people who used to intimidate you. You may want to re-establish old ties that could help you keep in touch with your childhood but that are more appropriate to your new self.

You must have noticed by now that I have not suggested that you give up your old friends. In this era of instant closeness, we are often too quick to throw away precious relationships that offer us, if nothing more, memories of our younger selves. These friendships are essential to our sense of continuity.

DEAR DR. BLAKER — When I read your columns on marital conflicts, I wonder how any therapist can stand to listen to the steady harangues of blame that spouses heap on each other during their arguments.

DEAR READER — A therapist from Florida wrote about his solution to this problem.

As a marriage therapist, a couple's tirades against each other can become quite tedious. Sometimes, while listening to the endless details of petty rudeness for the umpteenth time, I must admit that my mind tends to wander.

"Occasionally I share my fantasy with the quarreling couple to bring them down to earth. One such daydream was as follows:

"I saw two figures, a man and a woman. They had just planted a tree on a low knoll beside a small brook. Trying to water the tree, both were running back and forth between the brook and the tree, carrying pails. Only I could see the pails had no bottoms.

"Seeing their quarrels in this light, some couples recognize their own insatiable need for self-justification and understand the necessity for a 'bottom' in their pails — or, at least, tentative mutual trust — so that some constructive progress can be made.

Does work have you tied up in knots? Write for Dr. Blaker's hotline "How to Reduce Job Stress." Send 50 cents plus a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Blaker in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 475, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Write to Dr. Blaker at the above address. Volume of mail prohibits personal replies, but questions of general interest will be discussed in future columns.

Local GOP Approves 12 Resolutions

Scurry County Republicans attending a combined precinct convention Saturday night adopted a dozen resolutions, including those favoring initiative and referendum and electronic surveillance in drug dealer investigations, which had been voted on in the primary election.

Others urged repeal of the windfall profits tax, a 30 percent income tax reduction, rescinding approval of the Equal Rights Amendment in Texas, opposing state hold privileges for the District of Columbia, approval of a proposed Family Protection Act, opposing use of tax money for abortions, abolition of the Department of Energy, opposing registration of firearms and gun control, and calling for the federal government to "seal its borders to all illegal immigrants and make every effort to expel all illegal aliens.

Gene L. Dulany was elected convention chairman while Lois Bartels was elected secretary and Wanda Justice was elected sergeant-at-arms. Twenty-nine county delegates were named.

sale of a wrecked police car, elect a mayor pro tem, consider appointment of three members to the zoning board of adjustments and consider appointment of a city representative to serve on the Scurry County Senior Center's advisory council. The mayor is scheduled to name a council member to serve on the motel tax committee and routine budget amendments will round out the action portion of the agenda. On the discussion list is a replacement program for sanitation trucks and containers.

Dear Abby

Do "Special" Labels Disguise the Truth?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Hooray for Mr. Anderson who objected to the misuse of the words "exceptional" and "special" when referring to Mongoloid, or as you corrected, "Down's Syndrome" children.

Why is it that standard dictionary meanings and words seem to no longer suffice in today's society? Just what metamorphosis is supposed to occur when Negroes are called "blacks" and homosexuals are called "gays"? Neither word is very descriptive of its respective group. When schools/media now insist on calling a retarded child an "underachiever," is that supposed to suddenly make him more intelligent? Or just more content with his lot? Or are we doing it to comfort the "poor parent"?

Abby, one cannot disguise or change the truth by giving it a different label.

I'm signing my name, but if you print this, sign it. DISGUSTED IN BEAUFORT, S.C.

DEAR DISGUSTED: Of all the letters I received in response to Mr. Anderson's (and there were hundreds), yours was the only one that said hooray for him. Read on for an especially poignant response:

DEAR ABBY: This is prompted by the asinine letter written by William G. Anderson Jr. Twenty years ago when my special child was born, a friend sent me a poem that I would like to share with other mothers of special children. I am proud to be one of those chosen few trusted to care for one of these children.

MARILYN NEWTON, TUCSON, ARIZ.

Heaven's Very Special Child

A meeting was held quite far from earth "It's time again for another birth." Said the Angels to the Lord above, "This special child will need much love."

His progress may seem very slow Accomplishments he may not show And he'll require extra care From the folks he meets way down there.

He may not run or laugh or play His thoughts may seem quite far away In many ways he won't adapt And he'll be known as handicapped.

So let's be careful where he's sent We want his life to be content Please, Lord, find the parents who Will do a special job for You.

They will not realize right away The leading role they're asked to play But with this child sent from above Comes stronger faith and richer love.

Ard soon they'll know the privilege given In caring for this gift from heaven Their precious charge, so meek and mild Is heaven's very special child.

(Author Unknown)

Do you hate to write letters because you don't know what to say? Thank-you notes, sympathy letters, congratulations, how to decline and accept invitations and how to write an interesting letter are included in Abby's booklet, "How To Write Letters for All Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Abby, Letter Booklet, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

New Face Due On RR Panel

By JOHN HOTARD

Associated Press Writer
There will be a new face on the Texas Railroad Commission when it convenes next, January — either Democrat Buddy Temple or Republican Hank Grover.

Both won nomination Saturday for a full six-year term on the three-member commission, with Temple upsetting incumbent John Poerner and Grover swamping two opponents.

Incumbent Democrat Jim Nugent beat back a strong showing by Jim Hightower, running for office for the first time. Hightower resigned as editor of the liberal Texas Observer magazine and ran as a populist candidate. The pair fought for the two years remaining on a six-year role. Nugent had been appointed in 1978 to serve until this general election.

Grover, a former state senator from Houston who ran a good race for governor six years ago on the Republican ticket, had little trouble defeating Austin real estate broker John Thomas Henderson and Weatherford auto dealer E.W. "Billy" Kidd. Grover will face Temple in the general election.

Nugent's opponent then will be former State Sen. H.J. "Doc" Blanchard, an Austin lawyer and lobbyist, who had no primary opposition. The third member of the commission, Mack Wallace, was not up for re-election.

Poerner, 48, was commission chairman, a job passed among the three members.

Both Poerner and Nugent were appointed to their powerful posts by former Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Poerner, a South Texas rancher, had campaigned for a proposed high speed train system for the "Texas Triangle" — Houston, Dallas and San Antonio.

Besides the oil and gas industry, the commission regulates public utilities and transportation. Last week it took control of surface mining as Texas became the first state to gain such control from the federal government.

Poerner entered state politics as a member of the Texas House in 1969 as a Republican but returned as a Democrat in 1971 and 1973. Gov. Briscoe appointed him to fill a commission vacancy in 1977 and he was elected to the final two years of that unexpired term in 1978.

Temple, member of a wealthy East Texas family with interests in timber and publishing enterprises, joined the Texas House in 1973. But now Temple, 38, says he is more of a moderate conservative. He termed Poerner a lackadaisical commissioner who "did little to influence things." He referred to the Texas Triangle as a "boondoggle" and said the commission has too long been a "private club" for special interests.

Poerner and Temple had favored decontrol of oil and gas.

"I just feel very, very happy and very proud of all the people who embraced my candidacy early and all the work they've done," Temple said early Sunday morning. "I think that was the difference."

Once an aide to former Sen. Ralph Yarborough, the 37-year-old Hightower stumped the East Texas lignite country, railing at what he called environmental destruction.

Nugent, at 57 a successful Kerrville attorney and once a power in the Texas Legislature, said a railroad commissioner must be a judge and not an advocate.
