OPEC Oil Ministers Meet

RIYADH, Saudi Arabia (AP)—The OPEC oil ministers began meeting in Saudi Arabia today in an attempt to resolve their pricing differences and restore the unity that enabled them to dominate the oil market. "The conference is to examine an overall pricing strategy of OPEC in the light of international changes and individual trends among producing states," the Saudi government radio said in announcing the meeting had begun.

4,000 A Day Arriving

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—With more than 4,000 refugees a day arriving here aboard the "Freedom Flotilla," most straight from Cuban prisons—another 300 National Guardsmen have been dispatched to Key West.

Elbow-to-elbow crowds swamped makeshift cafeterias and dormitories here and at a "tent city" in the Florida Panhandle, and relief workers pleaded for donations of food and clothing as the unrelenting flood of arrivals swelled past 20,000.

Flag Flying At Half Mast

DOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Del. (AP)—While flags flew at half staff for eight Americans killed in an abortive rescue attempt in Iran, mortuary officials were investigating the possibility that the remains in a ninth coffin could be those of an Iranian civilian, sources said.

The coffins arrived here Tuesday from Switzerland to a salute from a 20-man color guard.

FRB Eases Credit Holds

WASHINGTON (AP)—After months of tightening credit, the Federal Reserve Board has begun loosening its vise-like hold on loaning money at a time it could help the nation's foundering economy.

Starting today, large commercial banks that borrow frequently from the Federal Reserve no longer will have to pay a three percentage point interest surcharge.

The SDN Column

It's considered smart now to order ethnic food, or use ethnic recipes for home cooking. The result is an opportunity to try some things that we used to merely read about.

The availability of diverse foods undoubtedly is one of the greatest achievements in the grocery business during the past quarter century or so. There was a time when it was necessary to travel to another region to partake of a different type of food.

Our better half recalled the other day an incident during World War II when, at the convenience of Uncle Sam, we were temporarily dwelling in Florida. Not only were the stores and eating establishments without Texas-style food, especially the Tex-Mex variety, but they didn't even have much orange juice, either. They shipped most of the orange juice out and didn't ship in items such as chili con carne and tortillas.

So it was that we decided to treat a colleague and his wife from Maine to a "real Mexican dinner." It was accomplished by ordering some essential ingredients from San Antonio. It was regarded as somewhat spicy by our New England friends, but they had little difficulty in devouring it.

This led to reciprocation. We were invited to partake of a "real New England boiled dinner." It was necessary for them to order a few items from the upper Atlantic coast to put it on. When it was ready, about all we could say was that it was "different" from what we were accustomed to.

Now, if you want a real New England boiled dinner, you can find the ingredients at most any modern food store anywhere in the country. We are told that the same is true of Mexican food. However, we suspect that the regional touch still is required in the preparation. It still takes some know-how that can be obtained only by proper orientation and experience.

Yet there are times when you can encounter disappointment by expecting a certain type of food to be better where it originated. Like the fellow who went to Hawaii and on his first morning there couldn't find what he was seeking on the breakfast menu. Finally, the waitress asked if she could help.

"I was hoping to find something exotic for breakfast," he said.

"How about a bowl of cornflakes while I sing the Hawaiian War Chant?" she suggested.

Carter, Reagan Win Primaries

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Special Correspondent
President Carter and Ronald Reagan are three-quarters of the way to rival nominations for the White House, and while their challengers insist they still can find openings, the time and the numbers are running out fast.

Democrat Carter and Republican Reagan made big leads bigger with triple landslide victories in Tuesday's Indiana, Tennessee and North Carolina presidential primary elections.

Sen. Edward Kennedy and George Bush both said they have better election days ahead. But unless those days come soon, they won't matter.
Kennedy and Bush won in the District of Columbia primaries. Kennedy easily outpolled Carter. Reagan wasn't even entered in the Republican election.
All in all, Carter gained 161 delegates Tuesday.

Commission Studies K mart Store's Plans

The Snyder Planning and Zoning Commission studied a preliminary plan for a proposed K mart store last night and then recessed to provide time for additional information on drainage of the property.

K mart has submitted plans for a 40,800 square-foot store to be located just north of Owens Department Store. It is part of a tract previously included in plans for a shopping mall to be developed by Aimbinder Associates. The mall developer delayed plans for the center, but K mart plans to go ahead with its store.

At the hearing last night, Sig Line told the Planning and Zoning Commission that he would insist that provisions be made to take care of the water which will drain to the east from the property. As owner of the property to the east, along Deep Creek, he said that development of the Varsity Square shopping center had left a pit adjacent to his property that created a problem and that he would object to any similar type of project in connection with the K mart proposal.

Jerry Light, representing C&W Manhattan Associates who are scheduled to build the store for K mart, sat in on the session. He said that he was not familiar with this problem, but that his firm could send an engineer to work out details with Line and City Engineer Mike Smith.

Smith said the K mart plans meet city requirements, but he had a few questions concerning utilities as well as the drainage.

The K mart store plans call for access from both College Avenue and 37th St. Light indicated that construction would begin soon after the plans get city approval.

The Planning and Zoning Commission agreed to resume its session May 20 at which time they hope to have enough information to reach a decision.

Franklin Pruitt presided over the session, and other members of the commission attending were Howard Limmer, James Jones and Mike Graves.

Fisher County Seeks Appraisal Help Here

The Scurry County Appraisal District Board met last night and set Aug. 12 as the date for the board of equalization for mineral property to meet, authorized chief appraiser Ray Peveler to hire two more temporary people in the appraisal office, and discussed the possibility of Peveler helping Fisher County with its appraisal work.

As suggested by the board's valuation engineer, Thomas Y. Pickett Co., the board of equalization for mineral property will meet at 9 a.m. Tuesday, Aug. 12, in the county courtroom on the second floor of the courthouse. Also on the panel discussed possible nominees to serve on that board last night.

Peveler asked for and received permission to hire two more temporary people for the appraisal office saying it would increase and make more efficient the flow of work. Currently there are six people working in the office, two of these being temporary.

Peveler was also granted permission to buy two 18"x72" typing and work tables. These will cost about $100 apiece.

Several men representing the Fisher County appraisal district were at the meeting exploring the possibility of employing Peveler to do a portion of their appraisal work.

The Scurry County board agreed to consider it, although members were openly skeptical that such an arrangement would be feasible, considering the load Peveler will already carry.

Peveler was instructed to draw up a proposal estimating the number of extra employees, money and time it would take and submit it to the board. Peveler said he would have this ready in a couple of weeks. He indicated he was willing to take on the job if it could prove advantageous to both districts.

London Siege Death Toll 7

LONDON (AP)—Police today put the death toll in the Iranian Embassy siege at seven—five terrorists and two hostages—after firemen removed the remains of the last three bodies from the burned-out building.

With one terrorist in custody, police said this confirmed suspicions that there were six gunmen in the Iranian Arab gang that seized the embassy last Wednesday and took 26 persons, mostly Iranians, hostage.

Iran's revolutionary government said it will ask for the extradition of the surviving terrorist, but Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher was reported determined to resist the request.

The siege ended Monday when Britain's Special Air Service commando regiment stormed the embassy, killing five of the terrorists and rescuing the remaining 19 hostages. The terrorists had threatened to kill one hostage every half-hour until their demands were met.

One hostage, press attache Abbas Lavansani, was executed by the terrorists Monday and his body was pushed out the front door of the embassy. The body of a second hostage killed, Ali Akbar Samadzadeh, was taken from the rubble today, police said. Five hostages had been released earlier.

Two hostages remained in a hospital. One, Akmed

Dadgar, was reported still in serious condition with gunshot wounds. The other, Charge d'Affaires Gholam-Ali Afrouz, was said to be in satisfactory condition.

There had been confusion about the number of hostages, terrorists and victims ever since the commandos, using "stun grenades," explosive charges and submachine guns, stormed the five-story embassy.

Scotland Yard gave this breakdown on the fate of the gunmen: one was dead on arrival at a hospital shortly after the raid; two bodies were taken from the embassy Tuesday, and of the three bodies located in the gutted building today, two were terrorists, the third was a hostage.

Police said they were satisfied no other bodies were in the building.

Autopsies were being performed on the victims and until results were known police would not confirm that the terrorists were killed by commando gunfire. Police also declined to comment on the identities of the gunmen.

The surviving terrorist, whose identity police have not revealed, was held under special armed guard at a London police station. Quoting a spokesman for Iran's ruling Revolutionary Council, Radio Tehran said today that as soon as his name was announced, the Iranian Foreign Ministry would ask for his extradition.

When the terrorists, who claimed to be members of the Arab ethnic minority in southern Iran, seized the embassy, they demanded the release of 91 other Arab-Iranians imprisoned by Iran's Persian government. The Iranian government refused to negotiate with them.

Son Of Bishop Slain In Iran

By The Associated Press
An unidentified gunman ambushed the 24-year-old son of Iran's Anglican bishop and killed him with four shots through the head and neck, it was reported today. The young man worked as an interpreter for foreign reporters in Tehran. Meanwhile, Ayatollah Mohammad Beheshti, a top Iranian revolutionary leader, said the end of the Iranian Embassy siege in London would not speed release of the American hostages. He said a parliamentary debate on the fate of the Americans would not be held at least until mid-June.

In another development, an alleged American woman spy who was arrested two days ago and has not been publicly identified was reported transferred to the custody of the Iranian Foreign Ministry.

Bahram Deghani Tafti, an Oxford graduate, was ambushed Tuesday night as he drove to a hotel in Central Tehran from a college in the north of the city where he was a lecturer, according to reports reaching London. The gunman reportedly forced Tafti out of the car before shooting him.

The night before his death, Tafti told foreign reporters his apartment had been broken into and that he was worried about his safety, British newspapers reported.

The British Embassy in Tehran confirmed that Tafti, who held dual Iranian-British citizenship, had been found slain.

Tafti's father, Bishop Deghani Tafti, heads Iran's 4,000-strong Anglican community. Since Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's revolution 15 months ago, he, his family and his employees have been targets of violence.

The bishop left Iran after escaping an assassination attempt last October and now resides in Cyprus. A week ago, the bishop's Scottish secretary, Jean Waddell, was shot and critically wounded when gunmen broke into her Tehran home.

farm income crisis

The crisis of farm income is worsening. Carrol Chaloupka of Dalhart, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, said indications are "that net farm income will be about one-fourth below what it was last year" in 1980.

Many in Texas are prone to take for granted the acres that produce such a diversified cornucopia for the nation's marketplace, and few give thought, unless they are farmers and ranchers, to how the production is financed. Somebody must foot the bills.

In the long run, regardless of mortgages and long-term and short-term loans, it is the farmer or rancher who does the financing, foots the bills. The money comes from profits, made or anticipated.

But with income headed downward, so will profits be down; and sources of money-flow for the farmer, taking note, may dry up or be most limited.

The crisis is already upon the farmer and rancher. Chaloupka said agriculture's financial problems can be attributed largely to federal deficits "which caused inflation," and embargoes on farm exports "which helped depress farm prices."

He said inflation hits farmers especially hard because they cannot automatically pass along increased production costs to the consumer. He called inflation the "number one domestic problem."

The TFB president said his organization has scheduled a series of meetings with county Farm Bureau leaders across Texas in the next few weeks to assess the extent of the cost price squeeze and to discuss Farm Bureau's program for dealing with it. The program consists of five points:

(1) Start controlling inflation by immediate steps to balance the federal budget, cut taxes, and increase productivity. Farm Bureau supports amending the U.S. Constitution to require the government to operate on a balanced budget, and to restrict spending to a "realistic" percentage of the gross national product. Its leadership points out that productivity can be increased by reducing over-regulation by government, and by eliminating costly government-protected labor practices.

(2) Expand foreign markets through hard bargaining with nations which depend upon American markets for their exports.

(3) Assure adequate fuel by deregulating the petroleum industry, reducing environmental controls, and by exploring alternate fuels such as agricultural alcohol.

(4) Stop government's "cheap food" policies by eliminating market restraints (such as embargoes), by emphasizing market-oriented farm programs to avoid accumulating surpluses, and by effective acreage diversion programs when necessary.

(5) Assure farm credit by limiting credit demands of the federal government in the money market.

Largely, the TFB has moved in the right direction and most of its "points" mean well in this nation's need to return agriculture (and other pursuits in the economy) back to the free market, and the elimination of deficit spending in government. We would suggest going one "point" further and removing entirely from its influence over agriculture, thus taking a firm hold once again on marketing realities. Meanwhile, that is a future thing and today the farmer's income crisis is real. We'd better believe it.

It astounds me that one out of every two teenagers in this country finds his parents' lifestyle unappealing and has no intention of following in their footsteps.

Fifty-four percent of America's teenagers, according to a recent Gallup Poll, said their parents ate boring. They don't go out and do things. They don't see people or go on vacations. They don't pursue another career or pick up and move. If they could make a change in their own lives they'd have more free time, fewer children, stay single longer and "be rich."

Parents! Aren't you sick you didn't think of those things first?

If you kids could indulge me a bit, I'd like to tell you a story. Once upon a time, there were two young people who were bored to death with their parents' lifestyle. Their parents stayed home all the time, didn't see people, never seemed to have a lot of money, go on vacations, or show much imagination. The young people made a vow to be different. They were going to take up golf, but the price of a sitter was too high.

Next thing you know you were teenagers. No ordinary teenagers, but teenagers with crooked teeth, virgin feet, and a baton-twirling wish.

You needed allowances, your own phone, 400 friendship cards at graduation and an herbal connection for your hair every three days.

Your parents thought of going out, but their clothes were already at a party - and so was their car. The vacation went for the tennis camps and the entertaining took second place to the slumber party which hosted a third world. Their careers, wishes and dreams were listed way down on the priority list - under college for the children, loans for cars and weddings.

The thought of showing some imagination and moving elsewhere was built around you - finishing school, leaving friends and being able to adjust to a move. They settled for what their parents settled for.

As for riches... you've got me there. They never made it to the big cruiser, the white shag carpet in the bathroom and surfing in Kauai.

But... don't tell your parents. They had you and they think they're rich!

radical change

NEW YORK (AP) - "Never before," said Albert Sindlinger, the consumer economist whose company has been questioning Americans for more than 25 years, "have we seen such a radical switch in the way people live."

"The President thinks he has merely contained inflation," said the head of Sindlinger & Co., which conducts 1,300 interviews a week, most of them on money matters. "But he has collapsed the economy."

Sindlinger & Co.'s analysis is based largely on interviews, but with some theorizing added. Combined, the interviews and the assumptions made from them constitute a grim report on economic leadership.

These conclusions follow telephone interviews by the Media, Pa. company, with each interview consisting of between 40 and 50 questions and lasting between 15 and 20 minutes.

Retail "buying" has dropped precipitously, as masses of people realize suddenly that without the full use of their credit cards they have in effect no money to spend. "Buying plans have been frozen."

Millions of Americans who owe federal taxes sent in their returns last month without enclosing checks. Some did so after being turned away by banks when they sought to borrow funds with which to pay.

Albert Sindlinger, founder of the company and a pioneer in consumer polling, zeroed in more intensely on the buying and tax issues after the Federal Reserve announced recent figures for the money supply. Sindlinger, who had been accurately anticipating

WASHINGTON (NEA) - On April 21, the Supreme Court heard oral arguments in the so-called "Hyde Case," which seeks to test the constitutionality of the congressional ban on federal funding of abortions except in limited exceptional circumstances.

Although the case was generally argued along traditional right-of-choice vs. right-to-life lines, it appears now like the eventual ruling will have little to do with the abortion issue. Rather, the case is beginning to look like one of the most important separation-of-powers decisions to face the court in many years - and one that most of its justices prefer had never come up.

The Hyde Amendment named after its sponsor, Rep. Hyde, R-Ill., has been adopted by Congress each year since 1976. It amends the annual appropriation of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (now the Department of Health and Human Services) to limit the use of federal funds for Medicaid abortions. The current version of the amendment bans reimbursements for abortions except those performed to save the life of the mother or in cases of rape or incest.

U.S. District courts in New York and Illinois have ruled that the amendment violates the equal-protection right of poor women for whom continued pregnancy might be medically inadvisable though not life threatening. So, the Supreme Court is now being forced to decide the very thorny issue of whether the courts can order Congress to spend money that it does not want to spend. Many in Congress consider the issue so important and fundamental that 229 House members and 20 senators signed an amicus curiae (friend of the court) brief saying that the courts have no constitutional power to order Congress to appropriate or spend money. Congress, through its attorneys, asked to argue the point orally, but the court declined the request.

So, the case was basically argued along standard pro- and anti-abortion lines.

Robert Bennett, law professor at Northwestern University, argued that the amendment zeroed in on "a helpless group of individuals that can be most easily ignored." New York lawyer Rhonda Copelon argued against what she called the "creationist perspective about human life." Anti-abortion lawyer Victor Rosenblum used many of the arguments against abortion that have been heard since the issue first entered the federal courts.

But it was clear from the justices' questioning that the issue really bothering them was separation of powers.

Liberal Justice William Brennan made it clear that he did not like the amendment but kept coming back to the purse-strings issue.

Chief Justice Warren Burger asked the lawyers directly, "Are you saying the court should direct Congress on how it should exercise its spending power?"

Justice Potter Stewart asked, "Shouldn't spending issues be left to Congress?"

Caught in the middle of all this was Solicitor General Wade McCree, arguing the federal government's position that the amendment should be upheld. His presentation centered on the government's interest in "preserving human life and encouraging childbirth."

McCree absolutely refused to be drawn into the wider constitutional question of the judiciary vs. Congress. He seemed to observers to wish that whole line of discussion would just sort of go away.

The court originally promised a ruling on the case by July. But a number of insiders are now predicting that the justices may have to schedule additional oral arguments that would include lawyers representing Congress.

Thus, a case that was once expected to result in a landmark abortion-rights decision may well end up being one of the most important decisions in years on the much broader issue of separation of powers.

In an attempt to lose a few pounds, or more, we sometimes look for someone who has succeeded in a great weight loss and their secret to success.

When studying some well-known people it would do well for us not to follow their examples for losing weight.

Benjamin Franklin, the genius statesman and inventor who left the world various rules and regulations for achieving perfection, was often unable to control his own diet. During an illness, a six-week spell of gout, he wrote a story satirizing himself in which he condemns himself for not exercising and for eating in excess. Following his illness he forced himself to walk regularly in all types of weather, good and bad.

Some men and women who put in many consecutive working hours can relate to the novelist Thomas Wolfe, the prolific writer was highly emotional with a desire to eat equal to that to write. He would often work for 20 hours or so without eating, then when he began eating, it would take a lot to satisfy his day's hunger. He would break-fast on a dozen eggs, two quarts of milk, and an entire loaf of bread to begin easing his emptiness. When he thought his waistline was bulging too much, he would scold himself, then, with great determination, reduce the amount he ate until he reached a satisfactory weight, and then eat himself big again.

Lord Byron, the lover-poet, had to listen to names like Brisket of Byron, The Portly Pursuer, and Butterball Byron. His ego couldn't take the criticism. He said he was the type of person whose food is instantly transformed to fat on his ribs and he resolved to lose weight or shoot himself. It is said the handsome poet, ignoring doctors advice about the results of a crash diet, would exist on biscuits and soda water for days. When his hunger pains became unbearable he would concoct a dish of cold potatoes, rice, fish, or greens with vinegar sauce and gobble it up. His determination was not to go unnoticed; he was rather proud of his 149-pound stature and would boast of it to his lady friends. After all this, Byron died at age 36 of a fever.

Frank Harriss, editor and writer of the early 1800's fought his obese condition by going to the hospital and having his stomach pumped following a huge meal.

During many eras the dress concealed bulges of fat. Hoope skirts covered huge hips and puff sleeves concealed flabby arms. Cloaks shrouded heavy figures.

Many of the famous men and women weren't the ideal weight. But many did have their own secrets and determination for slimming their bodies. One diet that always works is the one Hippocrates used in 400 B.C. He advised his patients to push away from the table during a big meal before the plate was empty. It works but it's not any easier now than then.

Portraits Back in Time For FATHER'S DAY

Your Birthday

May 8, 1980

This coming year you could have the opportunity to meet a lot of new people. Take care, however, not to forsake old friendships by favoring the new ones. You might later have cause to regret it.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Don't be pressured into overspending today. On top of costing you more than you can afford, you won't even enjoy it. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter, Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) An excessive amount of your energy is apt to be spent chasing insignificant goals today. Clarify your objectives if you want to have a productive day.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't be tempted to play the one-upmanship game even if you are subjected to one who thinks he knows everything. You'll look smarter if you keep quiet.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You have a tendency today to see your lot in life as you wish it would be, and thus could spend far more than you realistically can afford. Be careful.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Spur-of-the-moment decisions triggered by anger will have a bad effect on you today, not the other guy. Keep your temper in check.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you're not up to doing your work yourself, don't make the mistake of trying to persuade a coworker to do it for you. You'll only gain this person's hostility.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Taking activities with friends far too seriously could cause you to react in an unbecoming manner. It will hurt your social image.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Pushing too hard for something you think you need will get you branded as being bossy and dictatorial. Also, you may not attain your objective.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You don't have to prove yourself to anyone today. In fact, being boastful will be interpreted as arrogance and turn those you want to impress away from you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Be certain you know what you are doing before you take another in on your plans. You could squander his or her resources as well as your own.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) If someone tries to foist opinions off on you, you could let this person have it with both barrels. Before you do, ask yourself what you'd gain from such tactics.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Problems can arise today if you stick your nose in places where it doesn't belong like other people's business. Stay out of everyone else's affairs.

At his first turn, North didn't like his 16 high-card points and only bid two spades.

East, who had enough high cards and the right distribution, made a take-out double. South tried to block East-West by bidding three spades and now North came to life with four spades.

The contract would have been cold if West had led anything but a diamond. After the lead, South realized there was only one legitimate way to make the contract: The ploy of trying to sneak a small club past East is well known and was unlikely to succeed except against a very careless East.

South took the first diamond with dummy's ace and immediately cashed the heart queen, overtook the jack with his king and played this ace. On the third heart, to which everyone followed except dummy, South pitched one of North's small diamonds.

The fourth heart winner finished the defense. If West refused to ruff, declarer would pitch dummy's last diamond and lose only the ace of clubs and two high trumps. If West ruffed with his king of spades, dummy would discard the last diamond and South would only lose to the two black aces.

Finally, if West ruffed with his deuce of trumps, dummy would overruff. Declarer would then lead a round of trumps and East's ace and West's king would crash together.

Dear Abby

Gay Isn't the Same As Happy

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1980 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: My heart goes out to the heartbroken parent of a gay daughter. Thank you for recommending Parents of Gays. They have been a godsend to us and other parents who ask themselves, "Where have we gone wrong?" My husband and I are very grateful that our gay daughter has found a warm and stable relationship with a person she loves and who loves her.

Her housemate is as welcome and accepted into our family as the man who married our other daughter. Because being gay has caused our daughter so much pain, I will be the first to admit I wish she were not gay, just as I wish my hair wasn't curly and my husband didn't smoke. But these are things I cannot change, so I have learned to live with them.

I hope the parents of that gay daughter will accept her and the girl she loves, and get on with living the rest of their lives.

CONTENT PARENT

DEAR PARENT: Curly hair can be straightened and your husband can quit smoking if he really wants to, but in my opinion, the fundamental cause of homosexuality is biological — either genetic or hormonal. Otherwise, how can one account for the fact that homosexuals have brothers and sisters who are straight though raised in the same environment? However, it is possible for psychological factors to influence one's natural sexual preference after birth.

DEAR ABBY: I recently met a European-born gentleman (Hungarian) who, upon greeting a woman, always gently kisses her hand. I think this is a lovely gesture. Can you tell me where the custom of kissing a lady's hand originated, and the reason for it?

ANNETTE IN BURLINGAME

DEAR ANNETTE: It originated in France. And although there is nothing in literature explaining the reason for it, I suppose a man has to start somewhere.

DEAR ABBY: The other day you had a letter in your column from a woman who signed PRETTY FEET. She said her husband was crazy about her feet and was really turned on by them. She wanted to know if maybe he was some kind of "nut."

You told her that he was no nut; he had a foot fetish, and it was nothing to worry about.

Well, Abby, you'll never know how much that explanation meant to me. You see, ever since I was a little kid, I'd get real excited over girls' feet. I never understood why. I used to feel ashamed when I'd ask a girl if I could kiss her feet. I'm sure a lot of girls thought I was weird.

I'm a grown man now, and I'd still rather hold a girl's foot than her hand. Thanks for printing that letter. It's a great relief to know I'm not alone.

ANOTHER FOOT LOVER

Getting married? Whether you want a formal church wedding or a simple, "do-your-own-thing" ceremony, get Abby's new booklet. Send $1 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped (28 cents) envelope to: Abby's Wedding Booklet, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

One Accident Reported Here

Police reported one minor accident Tuesday. A 1966 Chevrolet driven by Melaine Palmer of 2711 Ave. I was involved in a collision with a 1970 Oldsmobile driven by Emile Favreau of Rt. 2. The mishap occurred at 9:15 p.m. at 1300 College Ave. It was worked by officer Don Cheek.

Sellers Has Heart Attack

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—British actor Peter Sellers suffered a "slight" heart attack Monday night but was recovering today at St. Vincent's Hospital here, a hospital spokesman reported. In the Irish capital with his wife, Lynn Frederick, to make a $2-million series of television commercials for a British bank, Sellers was taken to the hospital shortly before midnight after dinner at his hotel.

The artist Raphael died on his 37th birthday in 1520.

Souped Up Semi Scrambles Crowd

TYLER (AP)—A "souped up" Kenworth truck veered out of control and slammed into a building Tuesday, injuring 10 persons who scrambled to avoid the runaway rig that was billed as "the fastest truck in the world."

Seven of the injured were ferried by ambulance to Tyler hospitals. The others were taken by private vehicle. Hospital spokesmen said all 10 were treated and released for minor injuries. Some of the injured were hurt as they dove or fell into a deep pit near the hydraulic lifts at a tire dealership, said Tyler police spokesman Tom Roberts.

Roberts said one man said he was actually hit by the truck, which was there as part of a demonstration to promote a certain brand of tires. He said all the other injured were hurt as they scrambled for cover. About 400 cheering spectators looked on as the driver lost control of the vehicle on slick pavement while he was making quick starts and stops, said Roberts.

For 2nd Week...

ABC Takes Top Slot In Ratings

NEW YORK (AP) CBS listed the four highest-rated programs, but ABC won the network's prime-time ratings race for the second week in a row.

The 1979-80 season ended April 20 with CBS on top by one-tenth of a ratings point. ABC has won both weeks' competition since then.

CBS' "Dukes of Hazard" was the top-rated show for the period ending May 4, according to the survey by the A.C. Nielsen Co. It was followed by "M.A.S.H.," "60 Minutes" and "Flo," with ABC's "That's Incredible!" fifth.

The rating for "Dukes of Hazard" was 24.8, Nielsen says that means of all the homes in the country with television, just under a quarter saw at least part of the program.

ABC had seven shows in the second 10 in the ratings and compiled a score for the week of 16.7 to CBS' 16.3. NBC was third at 14.5.

The networks say that means in an average prime-time minute during the week, 16.7 percent of the country's TV-equipped homes were tuned to ABC. A couple of specials provided a bright note for NBC. The Country Music Association-awards show was No. 6 in the ratings and the John Denver-George Burns motion picture, "Oh, God!" was 11th. CBS scored with "Gideon's Trumpet," a "Hallmark Hall of Fame" presentation starring Henry Fonda. It was No. 16 for the week while ABC picked up points with "Battle of the Network Stars," 21st, and "Ann-Margaret's Hollywood Movie Girls," 25th.

NBC suffered at the bottom of the ratings, with four of the five least-watched programs. CBS' "Tim Conway" show was 59th, followed by NBC's "BJ and the Bear," Part II of a "Disney's Wonderful World" presentation of "The Secret of the Lost Valley," and a two-part repeat of the movie "The Towering Inferno," with the conclusion 62nd and the first installment 63rd.

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Rh negative baby possible

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I wish you would clarify the difference between Rh positive and Rh negative parents. Isn't it true that two Rh positive parents can have an Rh negative child? Both my husband and I are Rh positive and we have an Rh negative daughter. I wouldn't want either my daughter or my husband to think I had been unfaithful.

DEAR READER—You're absolutely right and you can rest easy. However, if an Rh positive mother under these circumstances should have an Rh negative baby it will not cause the typical Rh problems that are usually discussed. That occurs only when the mother is Rh negative and the baby is Rh positive. It is true that if both parents are Rh negative then they will have only Rh negative children.

It's rather complicated but here's the explanation. We have two genes that determine whether we're Rh positive or Rh negative. The Rh positive gene is big D (DD) and the Rh negative gene is little d (dd) such a person is homozygous Rh positive type. If both genes are little d (dd) that person is homozygous Rh negative. Now what if a person has one big D gene and one little d gene (Dd)? That person still types out as Rh positive (called heterozygous Rh positive).

If both parents are heterozygous (Dd), the laws of chance say that one out of four of their offspring will have a pair of big Ds (DD), one will have paired little ds (dd) and two will be heterozygous (Dd).

If both genes in both parents are positive (DD), all of their offspring will be Rh positive. But if both parents are Rh negative (dd), both genes in all of the children will be little d genes and all the children will be Rh negative.

To give you information on the common blood types, I am sending you The Health Letter number 6-4, Blood Type, Rh Factor and Transfusions. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Blood types and subgroups such as Rh have been used to determine paternity—at least to prove that someone could not be the father or the mother of a specific child. In more recent times, tissue typing as for organ transplants has been greatly perfected. These sophisticated methods are far superior to blood types in determining paternity whenever that is an issue.

DEAR DR. LAMB—What causes itching before, during and after urination? Is there a cure and what is the treatment?

DEAR READER—It's a symptom. You might as well ask what causes part of the skin to itch. There can be a local inflammation that's irritated by the urine. That may be from mechanical factors or from an infection. Some women are prone to have yeast infections, particularly if they're diabetic, and this can cause a maddening itch. I would suggest that anyone who has such a symptom should have an examination to see if there is any local problem that deserves treatment. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Father Surrenders After 72 Hours

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—The father dressed his younger sons in good clothes and sent them from the house. Then, 32 hours after he first threatened to blow up himself and the boys, he walked out hand-in-hand with his oldest son and surrendered to police.

Officials said 7-year-old Kevin Lehman had refused to leave his father, who was described as distraught over an impending divorce, before the incident came to a peaceful end Tuesday.

Losing Leadership

HOUSTON (AP)—American leadership in scientific fields is ebbing away because of inflation and less funds devoted to research, according to the president of the National Academy of Sciences.

"The peoples of the world today spend $12 to $15 billions annually on fundamental research," Dr. Phillips Handler said Thursday at investiture ceremonies for University of Houston president Dr. Charles Bishop.

Texans Still Winning, But All May Lose Soon

Compiled from AP
 Texas won last night. So did Houston. But it may not matter anyway, because baseball's so-called negotiations are making little, if any, progress.
 Texas' Doc Medich hurled a six-hitter to beat Boston's Red Sox for the eighth straight time Tuesday night, 7-2. Medich, who struck out seven and walked only one, got 14 hits worth of offense from his Ranger teammates.
 Meanwhile, Buddy Bell continued his hitting prowess against Boston, coming up with four singles in five at-bats.
 At Montreal, Houston's Astros battered the hosting Expos 8-4 to remain a two-game leader in the National League West division. Joe Niekro was the winning pitcher while Enos Cabell and Jose Cruz did most of the offensive damage.
 Back at the corral, negotiations were to continue today in the baseball contract talks with minor issues while the major problems wait on the back burner.

 "These are not headline issues, but they're still critical," said Ray Grebey, chief negotiator for management in the talks with the union.
 For instance, on the agenda today was the definition of exactly what

Roger Signs

CBS Pact

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Roger Staubach, the standout quarterback who recently retired from the Dallas Cowboys after 11 seasons, has been signed as a football analyst for CBS. It was announced Tuesday by Frank Smith, president of CBS Sports.
 The announcement was made at CBS affiliates meeting.
 Terms of the contract were not disclosed.

constitutes a salary. That was the issue at the heart of the Bob Horner arbitration case against the Atlanta Braves last year. Arbitrator Raymond Goetz ruled that bonus payments had to be included when figuring a player's salary but barred Horner from free agency.
 "Still ahead is the question of compensation for signing free agents, an issue which has been viewed as the major stumbling block in the talks so far.
 The players have warned that unless agreement is reached by May 22 they will strike the next day, halting the major league season on Memorial Day weekend.
 And as that date draws ever-closer, federal mediator Kenneth Moffett admits, "Nothing has changed. The positions of the two sides remains the same."
 Could this mean the end of professional baseball for 1980? So thinks Ken Aspromonte, who formerly managed and played for the Cleveland Indians. Aspromonte says he has numerous contacts with players and with at least six major league owners.

 "I just get the feeling if the players strike, the owners are going to close up shop for the season," said Aspromonte. "They are on a crash course with neither side giving in."

Kratzert Cops LaJet Prize

ABILENE (AP)—Young Bill Kratzert birdied five of the last nine holes, shot a course-record 65 and collected $30,000 for his 1-stroke win in the $170,000 PGA-approved LaJet benefit tournament.
 J.C. Snead came in second at 135, while Ben Crenshaw was three shots off the pace.

Houston Signs Six Gridders

HOUSTON (AP)—Former Atlanta and Boston College running back Mike Esposito is among six free agents signed to contracts by the Houston Oilers.
 Esposito, a seventh round Falcon draft choice in 1975, has a career rushing total of 439 yards on 101 rushes and 21 career receptions for 97 yards.
 The signings, announced Tuesday, brings the Oiler roster to 68, including 10 draft choices selected in last week's National Football League draft.
 Other signings are linebackers Mark Choate of Southern Methodist and Donald Maxwell of Saginaw Valley State; quarterback Kris Jordine of Mesa College; fullback David Johnson, University of Arkansas-Favetteville and tight end Garr Smith of Central State University.

 Choate, a former All-Southwest Conference performer, signed with the Falcons last season as a free agent.

Run Slated Near Slaton

SLATON—West Texas Running Club will hold its May races, the eighth annual Horseshoe Bend Canyon Spring Frolic, May 10 near here.
 The annual races will be held at Horseshoe Bend Canyon, 16 miles south of Lubbock, near the Slaton Golf Course.
 There will be two races, a 12 mile and a two mile run. The 12-mile run has five divisions, open, high school and under, 30-39, 50 and over the ladies.
 The two-mile run will have open, 15 and under, high school, 30-39, 40 and over, ladies 25 and over and ladies 24 and under divisions.
 Entry fee is $1 for club members and $2 for non-members.
 A number of awards will be given in each division.
 For additional information, contact meet director Cliff McCurdy, 3410 31st Street, Lubbock, 79410, or call (806) 793-1562.

TIGERS—Snyder's non-district halgame with Ector here yesterday, called in the sixth inning because of rain, may have ended in a 3-3 tie, but the play above was no contest. A sharp throw from catcher Neal Evans to shortstop Paul Gafford (above) defeats a would-be steal by Odessa Ector. The Tigers get serious here Friday, hosting Brownfield at 5:30. Snyder concludes the regularly scheduled season in Lamesa Saturday, but can make district playoffs with a win in either of its final two games. (SDN STAFF PHOTO)

Vets Due Care Wants Guidelines Eased

An estimated 29,000 World War I and Mexican Border campaign veterans in Texas are now eligible for outpatient care at Veterans Administration clinics without regard to whether the medical problem is related to their military service. E.H. (Dan) Jr., Scurry County Veterans Service Officer, said.

This care does not include dental treatment. Veterans of the campaigns already had the right to treatment for non-service-connected conditions as bed patients in VA medical centers, but legislation signed by President Carter in December will enable veterans not needing bed care to avoid hospitalization if they can be treated effectively as outpatients.

There are some 600,000 veterans who served during the periods to which the new provision applies.

Veterans who need information about any VA benefits may contact Dever at his office in the Western Texas College Administration Building or call the office at 573-8511, extension 212.

NEW YORK (AP)—Now that the government's anti-inflation policies apparently have begun to work—cutting deeply into sales of houses, cars, furniture and appliances—the pressure is on to soften the side effects a bit.

"Fiscal actions of the government should be directed to countering the recession and to softening the economic crunch felt by the unemployed and the poor," the AFL-CIO's executive council said Tuesday.

The pressure is coming as the economy slips into what some economists think may be a deeper recession than the one that occurred in 1974-75.

Davis Speaks Up In Church

EULESS (AP)—Millionaire Cullen Davis, acquitted in two sensational trials stemming from a 1976 shooting incident at his $6 million mansion, has "made a public commitment for Christ," according to the pastor of a Baptist Church in this Fort Worth suburb.

"He did not join the church, but on his own, he stepped out during the worship service Sunday and made a public commitment for Christ," said Dr. Jimmy Draper, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Euleless.

"Witnesses said Davis walked down the aisle to the altar in a symbolic gesture of receiving Christ as his personal saviour. He was accompanied by his wife, Karen."

Draper said evangelist James Robinson was with Davis during the Sunday service, but Draper said Robinson did not urge or pressure Davis to take the walk.

Ag Department Notes Overcharges

WASHINGTON (AP)—The trend toward monopolies in the food industry means Americans are being overcharged at least $16 billion a year for what they eat, according to the Agriculture Department.

A USDA staff study to Congress Monday said "the number of competing firms in providing food within individual states provides more potential for exercising market power" and thus setting prices.

But Howard W. Bjort, the USDA's chief economist and the man who gave the study to the House Small Business subcommittee, had no immediate solution to the problem. He declined to endorse proposals for curbing monopolies.

USDA economists said some of the overcharge goes to company profits, but some of it results from advertising, a cost which is passed on to consumers.
