Water Report Brighter

When directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District convene Tuesday in Big Spring, they will have a great deal more cause for optimism than had they met a couple of weeks earlier.

The reason is approximately 36,500 acre feet of new water which flowed into the district's two reservoirs. Instead of considering hard alternatives at the meeting, board members will get reports of considerably improved quality as well as ample supply.

Other matters due to be on the agenda include reports on operations, finances, a progress report on the Stacy reservoir application and the start of the HIPLEX weather modification project. Directors also will consider an application for a water sales contract.

At the end of the past week, Lake J.B. Thomas had some 29,200 acre feet of water, compared to less than 12,000 acre feet prior to the rains. The elevation had reached 2,221.10, a vertical rise of 9.10 feet.

At the same time, Lake E.V. Spence, some 80 river miles downstream from Lake Thomas had recorded a vertical rise of about four feet, representing an increase of some 18,750 acre feet. Lake Spence held 112,400 acre feet of water late Friday.

Improved quality will be noticeable, especially in the cities who draw on Lake Spence for supplies. The new water will enable the CRMWD to push up its production from Lake Thomas to 12 million gallons per day.

The quality of Lake Spence water escalated 10 fold at the pump station as an immediate result of the inflow, said CRMWD officials.

However, even after the new water homogenizes with the existing content at Lake Spence, there will be a 15 to 20 percent improvement there. The new lower chloride Spence water, cut with a greater mixture of the low-chloride water from Lake Thomas, will give a substantially improved quality water to the municipalities through the summer, said O.H. Ivie, CRMWD general manager.

Iran, which claims the World Court has no jurisdiction in the case, ignored an earlier ruling demanding the release of the 53 hostages and was expected to do the same now.

A spokesman for the Foreign Ministry in Tehran said Iran refused to participate in the hearing because "we think the court is not entitled to consider such an issue."

And Prosecutor-General Ayatollah Mousavi Ardebili, a prominent member of the ruling Revolutionary Council, said the judgment was expected and called it "meaningless."

He said Iran wants the deposed shah returned from exile in Egypt to be tried for alleged crimes during the U.S.-supported rule.

The Iranian newspaper Ettelaat reported that Hassan Habibi, spokesman for the Revolutionary Council, was understood to have been named prime minister at a council meeting with Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini.

He would be the first prime minister in Iran since Mehdi Bazargan resigned Nov. 6 over his lack of ability to end the seizure of the hostages and the U.S. embassy in Tehran.

There was no confirmation of the report. However, Tehran radio reported that Khomeini joined a session of the council, "to discuss important issues of the country."

Twenty-three persons were executed today in Iran, including a half-dozen leaders of the leftist, anti-clerical Forghan group, Tehran radio reported, bringing to 54 the number of persons put to death since Wednesday in the biggest wave of executions in recent months. Since Khomeini's February 1979 revolution, more than 700 persons have reportedly been executed by firing squad. The Forghan, which is opposed to a religious-based government, had claimed responsibility for assassinating a half-dozen Khomeini associates and those executed were said to have planned the killings.

Meanwhile, the Swiss Embassy, which is handling U.S. affairs in Iran, said it has advised Americans still in the country to leave if they can, and passed along an offer of U.S. financial aid to those who need it to return home.

"This advice is a reminder of an instruction from Nov. 4 when the American Embassy was taken over," an embassy spokesman said. There was "nothing dramatically changed in the situation," he added.

The SDN Column

We've had another request for a rerun of a column we published at least twice previously, and after some searching, we found it. It made the rounds several years ago, but apparently there are some who want clippings of the modern version of "The Little Red Hen." So, here it is again:

Once upon a time, there was a little red hen who scratched about and uncovered some grains of wheat. She called her neighbors and said, "If we plant this wheat, we will have bread to eat. Who will help me plant it?"

"Not I," said the cow.
"Not I," said the duck.
"Not I," said the goose.

"Then I will," said the little red hen. And she did. The wheat grew tall and ripened into golden grain.

"Who will help me reap the wheat?" asked the little red hen.
"Not I," said the duck
"Out of my classification," said the pig.
"I'd lose my unemployment compensation," said the goose.

"Then I will," said the little red hen, and she did. At last it came time to bake the bread.

"That's overtime for me," said the cow.
"I'm a dropout and never learned how," said the duck.
"I'd lose my welfare benefits," said the pig.
"If I'm the only helper, that's discrimination," said the goose.

"Then I will," said the little red hen: She baked five loaves and held them up for her neighbors to see. They all wanted some and demanded a share. But the little red hen said, "No I can eat the five loaves myself."

"Excess profits!" cried the cow.
"Capitalist leech!" screamed the duck.
"Equal rights!" yelled the goose.

And they painted "Unfair" picket signs and marched around the little red hen, shouting obscenities. When the government agent came, he said, "You must not be greedy, little red hen."

"But I earned the bread," said the little red hen.
"Exactly," said the agent. "That is the wonderful free enterprise system. Anybody in the barnyard can earn as much as he wants, but under our modern government regulations, the productive workers must divide their product with the idle."

And they all lived happily ever after, including the little red hen who smiled and clucked, "I am grateful. I am grateful!"

But her neighbors wondered why she never baked any more bread.

Big Oil Faces State Pressure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Big oil, defeated in a year-long battle to keep Uncle Sam from sharing bulging revenues, now is under siege from a growing number of state governments.

An Associated Press survey found seven states considering some type of proposal to tax oil income.

Connecticut has already passed a 2 percent tax on the gross receipts of big oil companies operating in the state and California voters will go to the polls June 3 to vote on Proposition 13, a measure imposing a 1 percent surtax on oil-company profits.

In both states, supporters point to record oil industry profits as a key reason for passing the levies.

"Sure big oil companies have a right to a reasonable profit. But this year they are eating up more than their share," proclaims a television ad supporting California's tax. As six pigs slurp hungrily at a trough, the announcer says, "Let's stick it to Big Oil. They've been sticking it to us for years."

Big oil is worried. Charles J. DiBona, head of the American Petroleum Institute, cites the growing state trend to copy the federal "windfall" tax as the biggest problem currently facing oil companies.

"It's a reflection of the fact that states are acting more and more like small congresses with fulltime staffs and all kinds of means for communicating with each other," he said. "As a consequence, a piece of legislation introduced in one state often spreads quickly to other states."

Other states considering some type of oil profits tax are New York, Maryland, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Kentucky.

Local Paper Miracle To Editor From India

By JOHN LONG "It is a miracle," was the often repeated exclamation of Prabhath Goswami, the news editor of a newspaper in Baroda, India, as he toured the Snyder Daily News Friday.

Goswami is the father of Dr. Anil Goswami, now of Snyder, who is radiologist at Cogdell Memorial Hospital. He is in this country visiting his son and studying American journalistic practices.

He said that in his country, a city the size of Snyder would have a weekly newspaper at best, and perhaps even only a monthly publication. "How do you do it?" he asked.

The electronic typesetting machines, page makeup, the process of taking a page negative and burning its image onto a photographic plate, the presses, in short the whole offset printing process, were all miracles to him.

Goswami is the news editor of Gurat Samecher, the largest of three newspapers in Baroda, a city of 500,000 people in Western India. His paper has a circulation of 200,000 but, he explained, not even the largest newspapers in India have the offset process, which the Snyder Daily News converted to 10 years ago.

In India, he said, newspapers are still produced in the old hot-type fashion, describing what in this country is referred to as a Linotype machine, a process, in which brown and endurance are the principle qualities needed by newsmen.

Ship Traffic On River Resuming

Museum Plans Major Exhibit

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A few more ships lined up to move through the clogged channel of the Columbia River today as the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers began revising its estimate of what needs to be done to return the river to normal.

Ocean-going ships began moving along the river Friday for the first time since Sunday's volcanic eruption of Mount St. Helens pushed 10 million cubic yards of material into the waterway.

Among the vessels was a barge carrying a 220-ton radioactive steam generator. The barge was not expected to have any trouble making it up the Columbia despite the silt that more than half filled a 40-foot-deep navigable channel.

The corps had expected to spend $15 million on a crash dredging program, but Friday upped the estimate to $25 million. President Carter on Thursday promised federal financial assistance in removing the mud barrier.

By next week, the corps hopes to have a 25-foot channel and by June 30, a 35-foot passage. The channel won't be restored to its original width and depth until Sept. 30, according to the Army's revised projections.

Uneasy Miami Braces For Holiday Weekend

By JOHN BIXBY
Associated Press Writer
MIAMI (AP)—An uneasy city entered a long holiday weekend quietly today with police and public officials, having averted a possible police strike, hoping that last weekend's racial strife would not be renewed.

"It was a busy night, but it's not so unusual for a Friday night to be busy," Dade County police spokesman Tom Banks said this morning. "We had no riot-related incidents."

A police clerk reported that "other than normal, routine stuff, we've had nothing" in the way of riot-related troubles.

Riot-torn northwest neighborhoods were under the watchful eye of hundreds of city and county police as 1,100 National Guardsmen remained on standby at nearby armories and warehouses.

Fears of a police strike dissolved as Police Chief Kenneth Harms reinstated five officers suspended for alleged misconduct during last weekend's rioting. Mayor Maurice Ferre also apologized in writing for calling the officers "bums."

The violence claimed its 16th victim Friday as Berta Roger died from injuries suffered last Saturday at the height of the rioting. The 53-year-old white woman was beaten and burned as she tried to flee from her car, which had been set afire.

Meanwhile, in good condition early today was Michael Watts, one of the four white former Dade County policemen whose acquittal by a Tampa jury in the beating death of a black man sparked the riots.

Watts was found unconscious Thursday from an apparent suicide attempt as fumes from his motorcycle filled his apartment. Police spokesman Jim Baab said Watts had been despondent over personal, not legal, problems.

Tampa, the scene of scattered rock-throwing by black teenagers earlier in the week, was also quiet.

Charles were upgraded to attempted first-degree murder against Edward D. Powell, 20, in the sniper shooting Wednesday of a white Tampa police officer, Robert H. Cooke. Powell, who is black, originally was charged as an accessory after the fact of attempted first-degree murder.

In Miami, Gov. Bob Graham proposed a sales tax increase for Dade County from 4 to 5 percent to help Miami repair its shattered neighborhoods. Federal officials have estimated damages at over $100 million.

RECEIVED DIPLOMA—Lance Autry, the valedictorian of Ira High School, was the first to receive his diploma during commencement ceremonies Friday night. Ten seniors and 17 eighth graders were graduated during the ceremonies. (SDN Staff Photo)

Commencement Rites... Keep Eyes On Future, Ira Graduates Told

IRA—Seniors graduating from Ira High School Friday night were told to forget what lies behind them and strive for the future.

That message was delivered by Dave Bland, minister of the Ira Church of Christ, who was the keynote speaker during commencement ceremonies in which 10 seniors were graduated from high school and 17 eighth graders were graduated from junior high into high school.

"Never be satisfied with present achievements," Bland told the graduates. "Success must continually be won."

Drawing a comparison between life's course and the flight of an airplane, Bland said, "There is no holding pattern in life. You are either going up or you are going down."

Bland went on to tell the graduates not to let opportunities slip by them, for in those opportunities are chances for personal improvement.

He concluded by saying, "Fear Go and keep His commandments for this is the whole purpose of man."

Seniors graduating from high school were Lance

Hewett Autry (valedictorian), Keith Ray Bryant, Darryl Eugene Calley (salutatorian), Gerald Tate Kesner, Jesse Dean Goodwin, Shelly Kirk Maupin, Jeffrey Lynn Murry, Raymond Dixon Phillips, Bobby Joe Stone, and Author Lee White.

Delivering the processional was Debbie Smith, and the invocation was given by June Middlebrooks, minister of the Ira Church of God.

Honor guards were Theresa Meyer, Sandy House, Paul Womack, and Melissa Kellner. Ushers were Scott Kesner and John Foster.

During the ceremonies, scholarships were preferred to Lance Autry, Darryl Calley, and Shelly Maupin.

Five-year service pins were presented to Bessie Corbell and to Tommy Sterling.

Garwood Is Denied Free Treatment

JACKSONVILLE, N.C. (AP)—The federal government will not pay for private psychiatric treatment for Marine Pfc. Robert Garwood or for paralegal aid in his court-martial, a military judge has ruled.

Col. R.E. Switzer said in his denial Friday that military courts-martial are not governed by the same legal precedents as civilian courts. He said there is no provision in military law that permits government funding for such defense requests.

Garwood, charged with desertion and collaboration with the enemy during almost 14 years in Vietnam, also was denied private psychiatric consultations at government expense.

Defense attorneys argued in a May 15 hearing that Garwood should be considered indigent on the grounds that the Marine Corps had refused to give him back pay for the time he spent in Vietnam. He contends he was a prisoner of war, during those years.

The request for government funds would have provided a jury investigator, two paralegal consultants and a clerk-typist.

Green Begg Anita Bryant To Return

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Bob Green says he loves Anita Bryant and wants her to return "as my wife and the mother of our children."

Miss Bryant, strong-principled advocate of God, family and flag, filed Thursday for divorce from her husband, manager of nearly 20 years.

The former Oklahoma beauty queen and popular singer, who became the symbol of Florida orange juice and then of opposition to the homosexual rights movement, said Green "violated...my very conscience" by helping people who tried to "control" her.

In a brief statement released from her Miami Beach mansion, she charged Green cooperated "with certain hired staff members who conspired to control me and to use my name and reputation to build their personal careers instead of my ministry."

Late Friday, Green released "an open letter to my wife."

He said: "Dean Anita: 'I love you with all my heart and I am awaiting your return as my wife and the mother of our children. God's love and forgiveness is open to both of us if we will but seek it. Let us both put aside all other earthly considerations and reunite our lives in Christian love.'"

"Your husband, Bob," Miss Bryant asked for custody of the couple's four children and for half of the couple's property.

Many of the 100,000 long bone fractures suffered by Americans each year fail to heal for several years—the costs can run over $100,000. Now, excellent results in stimulating bone regrowth and healing have been achieved with low-amperage electricity, so mild that patients feel nothing. At the U. of Penn., Philadelphia, physicians used the technique with 72 patients with fractures unhealed an average of 3 years. After 12 weeks of the tiny current treatment, and another 12 weeks of immobility, 52 of the 72 had bone healing.

Look Up To Find The Law

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP)—Youngsters determined to swig a little illegal brew this Memorial Day weekend—and thereafter—would do well to look up as well as over their shoulder for the law.

It's time for Sheriff Richard Shaffer's dry-eye-in-the-sky crackdown on the annual wave of high school beer busts.

Shaffer said his deputies will fly over isolated areas of the county looking for the crowds that signal a party in progress.

On the ground, other deputies will move in and give tickets to anyone under age 19 caught with booze.

Shaffer said the special patrol was prompted by rumors that beer bust tickets were on sale for $5 apiece at the city's two public high schools.

Auto Theft Ring Cracked In Mexico

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP)—Mexican officials said they have broken an international car theft ring with the arrest of the former chief of the Juarez police automobile theft division.

Cars recovered in the Mexican federal police investigation have been returned to the United States.

U.S. Consulate officials in Juarez said 15 stolen vehicles would be returned to owners in Texas and New Mexico.

The cars were found following the arrest of Jose Guadalupe Sanchez, head of the Juarez police auto theft division.

Police said the vehicles were stolen in El Paso and moved to Mexico where they were parked in different sections of the city.

Police alleged Sanchez would "find" the cars and collect insurance company rewards after returning the automobiles to U.S. authorities.

Mexican officials said Sanchez signed a confession implicating El Paso FBI agents in the ring. The confession later was retracted, police said, and FBI agents contended they were only involved as investigators.

Sanchez said he signed the statement after he allegedly was beaten by Mexican federal agents.

Two other were arrested in the case. Their cases are pending in Mexican courts.

Mexican federal Judge Ismael Ruiz last weekend found Sanchez guilty in the case. The decision, according to Mexican lawyers, is in some ways similar to an indictment under American law.

Sanchez will remain in prison, awaiting sentencing. While he is waiting, his lawyer will try to prove Sanchez is innocent.

Unlike the American justice system, a defendant in Mexico is considered guilty until proven innocent.

If the conviction stands, Sanchez could be sentenced to 10 years in prison.

Blackout Is Ordered On Juvenile Case

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A juvenile judge has ordered a news blackout barring release of any information about an 11-year-old murder defendant or the case against him.

District Judge Arthur Lory Rakestraw agreed with lawyers for the youth that the order was necessary to assure the boy gets a fair and impartial trial.

The order prohibits publication or broadcasting of news about the defendant and bars law enforcement officers, Oklahoma County Juvenile Bureau employees, defense lawyers and employees of the district attorney's office from discussing the case.

Attorneys for the Daily Oklahoman and Oklahoma City Times have filed a motion asking that the gag order be lifted. A Tuesday hearing on that motion is scheduled before District Judge Raymond Naifeh.

The defendant, who lives in suburban Edmond, reportedly was charged with delinquency by reason of first-degree murder Thursday.

The victim, Brian Fields, 10, also of Edmond, died of multiple gunshot wounds Tuesday.

Jaroslav Drobny, later a Wimbledon tennis champion, played for the Czech hockey team which won a silver medal in the 1948 Winter Olympics.

Dear Abby

One Test to Leave Till After the Wedding

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1980 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am an old-fashioned European-born widow who is being courted by a gentleman who wants to marry me. I like him very much and think he would make a fine husband, but he says before he decides to marry me he would like to know what kind of lover I would make. He says his wife will have to be a good lover.

Abby, I am the kind of woman who makes love only with her husband, so what should I say when he keeps asking me to go on an overnight trip with him?

OLD-FASHIONED

DEAR OLD-FASHIONED: Tell him it's against your principles. (He might be wise to take his chances. While putting you to the test, he could flunk it.)

DEAR ABBY: We are three secretaries in a relatively small office. We have a wonderful boss. The problem is his overbearing wife. She is a real pain, and we don't know how to handle the situation.

She calls several times a day and asks us questions concerning what is happening at the office, such as, "How did my husband's meeting go with Mr. So and So?" right down to things that are privileged information. "Did he have a lunch date with anyone?" "What are his travel plans?" We think if he wanted her to know these things, he would tell her, right? (We wonder what they talk to each other about at night.) She complains to us that her husband never tells her anything. How can he when she's already dug all the day's happenings out of us?

Abby, please print this, and tell all those meddling, nosy bosses' wives to enjoy their garden clubs, painting classes, etc., and whatever else they do all day since they don't have to work, and please leave us secretaries alone so we can get our work done.

Any suggestions on how to solve our problem?

FRUSTRATED IN FORT WORTH

DEAR FRUSTRATED: The solution is simple. When the boss's wife asks for information you do not wish to disclose, tell her that you are very busy, but you'll have her husband call her. Then tell your boss to call his wife and forget it.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 29-year-old attractive single woman who has been going with a 47-year-old divorced man for two years. (I'll call him Tom.)

About six months ago I was at Tom's apartment when his son dropped in. The son, Billy, is 22. Tom and I were both pretty drunk. I had to get home and was in no shape to drive and neither was Tom, so Billy drove me home.

Well, I guess you could say Billy took advantage of me. It really makes me sick and ashamed every time I think of it, but there's nothing I can do about it now.

Tom would be very hurt if he knew what happened. Since then, Billy has hit me up for money, and I have given it to him because I don't want to get on the wrong side of him for fear he'll tell his father about us.

I don't like being blackmailed, and that is what is happening to me. I need your advice and will do whatever you say.

GUILTY REDHEAD

DEAR GUILTY: Tell Billy that the blackmail game is over, and if he wants to tell his father what happened to go ahead and tell him. The chances are that he won't. But if he does, admit it, and get it over with.

Do you hate to write letters because you don't know what to say? Thank-you notes, sympathy letters, congratulations, how to decline and accept invitations and how to write an interesting letter are included in Abby's booklet, "How To Write Letters for All Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Abby, Letter Booklet, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

WTC Offering Photo Courses

Two practical photography courses will be offered at Western Texas College this summer. Introductory Photography (JOU 130-330) will meet Thursday evenings, and Color Photography (JOU 230-331), listed as News Photography, will meet Tuesday nights.

Even students who have taken the courses before may want to take advantage of access to lab facilities and personalized instruction on new, individual topics of interest.

Each class is limited to 15 students. Registration is Wednesday, May 28, during the day and at night. First class day is Thursday, May 29.

Bribery Try Suspected By ERA Backers

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Evidence concerning an alleged attempt to buy a state representative's pro vote on the Equal Rights Amendment may go to a grand jury, and the FBI confirmed it has entered the case.

Sangamon County State's Attorney William Roberts said Wednesday he was considering what action to take concerning evidence related to an alleged bribe offer to state Rep. Nord L. Swanstrom.

While there was no decision yet whether the information merits turning over to a grand jury, Roberts the case possibly could culminate in a criminal prosecution.

A federal agent also said Wednesday the FBI began interviews here to see if federal laws may have been violated in connection with alleged attempts to improperly influence lawmakers' ERA votes.

Roberts received evidence in the case developed by investigators under Dan K. Webb, state law enforcement director.

"Of all the allegations we received, I believe this was the strongest case," said Webb.

The case involves an allegation that Swanstrom, R-Peatonica, was handed a card with the name of a representative from the National Organization for Women printed on it. Allegedly written on the back of the card was an offer of $1,000 to vote for ERA, sources said.

Swanstrom, an ERA opponent, declined to directly confirm specifics of the alleged offer, but told the Associated Press a woman from NOW made an improper and possibly illegal effort to gain his vote.

Area Students Get Degrees

Three Snyder area students at Angelo State University were among 386 students to receive degrees during spring commencement at the university.

Robert Walker Huddleston received a bachelor of arts degree, magna cum laude, with a major in history and Beverly Kaye Robertson received a bachelor of science degree, summa cum laude, with a major in elementary education, both of Snyder. Tom Lee Cotton received a bachelor of arts degree, with a major in government. He is from Hermleigh.

Graduates heard Dr. Allen Commander, Acting Chancellor of the University of Houston Downtown College, during the ceremonies in the physical education building at ASU.

Compensation Itch Quieted

NEW YORK (AP)—The threatened baseball strike was averted after lengthy negotiations produced what Commissioner Bowie Kuhn called "a good deal all around," but the key issue that could have led to a walk-out remains unsettled. That's the question of compensation for free agents who switch teams, and it's a sticky question, indeed. Under the agreement hammered out early Friday morning, the current system that provides for compensation in the form of an amateur draft choice for a team that loses a free agent will remain in effect for the remainder of this year, and a four-man committee will be appointed to work out a new system.

The clubowners had been seeking a player as compensation instead of a draft choice. This has been steadfastly opposed by the union.

The four-man committee — two representatives of the owners and two players — will begin meeting Aug. 1 and will present its findings to both sides by Jan. 1, 1981. If there is no agreement, the issue will be put to a 30-day bargaining session.

And if this does not produce an agreement, Ray Grebey, director of the Major League Baseball Player Relations Committee, said the clubs may put into effect their current proposal for compensation known as the 15-18 system that sets up a sliding scale of compensation based on the caliber of the free agent.

However, the players may also choose at that time to call a strike. They would have to give the owners notice of a strike date by March 1 or else lose the right to strike during the remainder of the four-year agreement.

Westerners Gearing Up For National Tourney

LEHIGH, Fla. — It will be predominately a freshman team that sixth-ranked Western Texas College sends to the NJCAA National Golf Tournament here June 3-6.

Western Texas Coach Bob O'Day will group freshman Jeff Wagner, Richard White and Chris Johnson, and sophomores Mike Mahan and team captain Ken Lawrence, to represent the Westerners. Another freshman, Mike Cotter, will be alternate.

The 72-hole stroke play event will be held at Mirror Lakes Country Club here with the championship to be decided by the scores of the four low men each day. There will be a cut after 36 holes to the low 15 teams and any school within 15 shots of the leader, and to the low 24 individuals or any individual within 15 shots.

Western Texas has qualified a team or individual to the NJCAA National Tournament eight of the nine years it has presented a golf team. This season, WTC had four of 10 players on the All-Region V Team and three of 10 on the All-Conference Team.

During the season, the WTC team placed first in four tournaments second in six, third in two, fourth in one and ninth in one.

Jeff Wagner

Wagner, from Norman, Okla., finished first on this year's WTC team with a tournament average of 72.7 on 30 rounds. He was Western Athletic Conference (JC) medalist and all-conference with a 71.1 average. He placed fourth in the Region V with a 73 average.

Wagner was also medalist in a dual match against Midland College and in the Texas University Intercollegiate Tournament at Austin.

He tied for medalist honors in the fifth WJCAC tournament played at WTC and tied for runner-up in the sixth conference tournament held in Roswell, N.M. The freshman was third place medalist in the New Mexico Junior College Intercollegiate Tournament and third place medalist in the second conference tournament in Odessa.

Richard White

Finishing in second place on the team was White with a tournament average of 73.7 in 30 rounds. The Pecos native was runner-up for conference medalist honors and named to the all-conference team with a 72 average. He was ranked sixth in Region V with a 73.3 average, qualifying for All-Region honors. During the season, he was medalist at the Great Plains tournament in Borger and at the Rancho Viejo in Brownsville.

White was runner-up medalist in the WJCAC tournament in Borger, runner-up in a dual match with Midland and runner-up in a match with Hardin-Simmons University. He tied for runner-up medalist in the sixth WJCAC tourney and was a third place medalist in the fourth conference tournament.

Ken Lawrence

Lawrence's tournament average for the year was 73.8 on 28 rounds, third best on the team. He was eighth in the conference with a 73.7 average and tied for fourth on the All-Region Team with a 73 average. The Albany native was medalist in a dual match with Midland, tied for medalist in the fifth conference tournament and third place medalist at the Sam Houston Intercollegiate.

Mike Mahan

Mahan, fourth on the team, had a tournament average of 74.6 on 29 rounds for the year and was medalist in the dual match with Midland. He is from Midland.

Chris Johnson

Johnson, with a tournament average of 75.5 on 27 rounds, was sixth on the team. The Seminole athlete took medalist honors in two dual matches against Midland College and was runner-up medalist in the second annual T.W. Holder Intercollegiate.

Mike Cotter

Cotter enrolled at WTC at the start of the second semester, had a tournament average of 75.3 on 13 rounds to finish fifth on the team. The Albany native placed tenth on the All-Region Team with a 74.3 average.

Deadline Extended For Ex-Boycotters

By The Associated Press — The national Olympic committees of Australia and Spain have decided to defy the wishes of their governments' leaders and send teams to the Moscow Games.

"There has always been a conflict in our loyalties to the government and our loyalties to amateur sports," said Syd Grange, president of the Australian Olympic Federation, which voted 6-5 Friday to send a team to Moscow. "The great problem... was to reconcile these loyalties, and it wasn't an easy task."

Grange said he had been told by the International Olympic Committee that 73 nations had accepted invitations to compete in Moscow as of Tuesday, despite the U.S.-led boycott movement. Today was the official deadline for countries to accept invitations to compete from the Moscow Olympic Organizing Committee, but the IOC has said it would extend that deadline.

Australian Prime Minister Joe Fraser, one of the earliest supporters of President Carter's call for an Olympic boycott because of the Soviet military intervention in Afghanistan, was upset by the Federation's decision to compete but said he would not take any further steps to prevent his country's athletes from competing.

"I pray that those Olympians who do go to Moscow do not pay the price that many of those who went to the Berlin Olympics paid once the World War started in 1939," said Fraser. "I pray that the Soviet Union will not interpret this and other decisions as a weakening of Western will."

Spain's Olympic Committee also announced Friday that it would send a team to the Moscow Games. That came just one day after the Spanish government said it opposed sending a team to Moscow.

As expected, Nepal announced that it would participate in the Games.

An Associated Press count based on public announcements shows that there are now 52 countries that have said they are not going to compete in the Summer Olympics for one reason or another. More than 60 nations have said they plan to attend.

Tiger Bats Come Out Cookin' As...

Snyder Wins Bi-District Crown!

By The SDN Sports Staff
WEATHERFORD - Snyder's Tigers warmed up like a faulty crock pot here Friday but when the pressure situations were on they cooked like a microwave gone mad.

Down by a game in the best-of-three series, the Tigers blasted out come-from-behind efforts in both games Two and Three to nail Weatherford 12-5, 13-6, and take a second consecutive class AAA bi-district championship.

It was the third bi-district title garnered by Coach Albert Lewis' bunch in three years. Pecos, of District 13A, ruled the kitchen each of the other times, but Snyder will find Lubbock Estacado as its regional opponent for 1380.

Starting hurler Tommy Pina kept Snyder batters frosted in Game Two as his teammates built an early 5-0 lead and chased Tiger pitcher William Robinson off the mound. The Kangaroos came up with four first-inning hits, including a Bryce-Doggett home run, to take the advantage.

Snyder put one run on the boards in the third inning but Pina held until the fifth when the Tigers unleashed a storm of rat-a-tat-tats. Paul Gafford, Bryan Vincent and Bobby Degrate all found singles through the normally net-like 'Roo infield, and Weatherford which had looked so tough in defeating the Tigers 1-0 on Tuesday - began to crack.

Degrade's basehit scored Gafford, making it a 5-2 ballgame, and Weatherford Coach Kenny Cox immediately replaced Pina with junior Shannon Woody.

He loaded the bases as Kyle Short hit into an all-safe error, and a walk to Pete Willis scored Vincent, 5-3.

Next-up Shawn Ragland belted a shot which second baseman Joe LaJone was unable to handle and Degrade crossed home to cut Weatherford's lead to a point.

The tying run came as designated hitter Barry Davis pushed one in on a walk, and catcher Toby Neves iced the meal with a three-run double: 8-5 Snyder.

Meanwhile, Tony Degrate, who relieved Robinson on the hill, was mowing down the 'Roo batting order. He fanned nine would-be sticks and gave up just two hits before checking out after the rematch impossible when it upset the eagles a week ago.

Weatherford and Lubbock 3-2 to Monahans.

Likewise, both showed awesome hitting in taking games Two and Three.

Snyder battered Weatherford 12-5 and 13-6 while Estacado powdered the Lobos 18-3 and 12-1.

The regional stand marks the third time in four years Snyder has advanced this far - only to be shot down by Pecos in previous years. Monahans made a sixth inning. Snyder picked up insurance in the seventh as Mike Roemisch drilled a three-run homer over the centerfield fence - the first of three home runs for the visitors - and Willis singled home Bobby Degrate.

Robinson came back to the hill in the seventh and after picked up the win for Snyder in Game Three. Snyder scored first in the late game to take a brief 1-0 advantage which Weatherford quickly knocked away. The hosts turned a two-out, two-strike count into five runs, accented by Dewayne Miller's, three run homer which barely cleared the foul line down third base.

Roemisch had started on the mound for the Tigers, but Lewis decided to replace him with senior hurler Robinson, who was to stay for the remainder of the contest.

Behind by a 5-2 count after the second and third innings, Snyder waited only until the fourth to begin cooking in Game Three. Vincent led off with a walk, took second on a passed ball, third on a resulting error and came home via a Rieky Gambol basehit.

Bobby Degrate walked to put two runners on and next-up Gafford gave Snyder a one-run lead with another three-run homer then sailed over the left field wire. Teammate Willis then drove reliever Woody off the mound with a solo homer, chalking a 7-5 Tiger lead.

Woody, who came in after the first inning to fill for a sore-armed Gregg Ray Tuesday's winner was replaced by Pina.

The Weatherford sophomore got his squad out of the inning in short order, but Snyder came back with more of the same in the fifth.

After two quick outs, Short drew a base-on-balls and Gambol responded by slamming a run-scoring double. Bobby Degrate then brought in the Tiger outfielder with a single and came across himself on a Gafford double, 10-5.

Weatherford built a minor threat in the sixth inning when Junior Daughtery, scored on a LaJone single, but two strikeouts by Robinson and a catch by Gambol in center retired the side.

To finalize the championship, Snyder grabbed three more seventh-inning runs. Short and Gambol both singled and Gafford drove them home with his fourth hit - fifth RBI - of the day.

Willis added a single and Neves hit into a fielder's choice which scored Gafford for the final run.

Inflation Now A Fact Of Life

By KRISTEN GOFF AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Inflation has become an economic fact of life for consumers who must now cope with double-digit price increases that show no sign of fading soon.
Recent studies note that living costs have jumped by about 50 percent over the past five years. The rate of consumer price inflation which moved into the double-digits in 1979 has lately been running at the highest levels in 30 years.
The government reported this past week that consumer prices increased 11 percent on a compound annual basis in April, down from the 18 percent increase in the first three months of the year.
Economists generally have expected the rate of price increases to ease from its very large jumps early this year as the current economic downturn continues. But few are optimistic that it will drop sharply enough to reduce the average 1980 consumer price inflation to single-digit levels again.
In the latest report, the government said the Consumer Price Index in April stood at 242.5. This means that goods and services that cost consumers $100 in 1967, the index base year, cost $242.50 last month.
The index was 14.7 percent ahead of its level in April 1979.
A study by the University of Michigan Survey Research Center conducted last summer and published this month finds that consumers have substantially changed their habits to cope with inflation.
Nearly half said they tended to shop more for lower prices than they had in the past, and 69 percent said they reduced purchases of items that had seen large increases in price. In all, 71 percent said inflation had changed their shopping habits.

Despite that, a surprising 60 percent of 2,131 families surveyed said they felt they were staying even or ahead of inflation.
That feeling was most prevalent among the upper income brackets where two-thirds said they hadn't lost out to inflation. About half of those in lower income brackets felt they were staying even with inflation.

In other business developments this past week: The government said personal income in April rose less than a tenth of one percent, its smallest monthly increase in about five years. Analysts said that weak performance reflected sharp decline in business production recently. Wages and salaries fell 0.6 percent, while income from interest and dividends increased slightly. All sources of income rose $500 million to $2.07 trillion on a seasonally adjusted annual basis.

With the economy apparently in a recession, the Federal Reserve Board has begun to ease up on special credit restrictions imposed in March.
Banks also reduced their prime lending rates dramatically. Citibank, the nation's second largest, initiated an unusually large 2 percentage point drop in the prime lending rate to 14 1/2 percent.

At 1 p.m., a two-car collision was reported at 2500 College that involved a 1978 GMC driven by Iva Byrd of Hermleigh and a packed 1977 Pontiac owned by L.A. Berry. The accident was investigated by Sgt. Jerry Parker.

Man Held In Rape Probe
A 40-year-old Lubbock man was arrested early Saturday morning by Scurry County deputy sheriffs investigating a rape case.
The incident, reported by a 19-year-old woman, occurred around 3 a.m. south of Rip Griffin's Truck Stop on Highway 84. The woman, who was travelling with the man she claimed raped her, said the assault occurred in a field off the road.
Deputies said they believe the woman was a hitchhiker the man had picked up near Post.

Recession Worrying Washington
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Carter Administration concerned that the economy may be slowing too much too soon, is moving to keep runaway inflation from being replaced by runaway recession.
Administration economists acknowledged Friday that slackening demand by consumers worried about the recession was one of the reasons that consumer prices rose in April by the smallest amount in more than a year.
At the same time, Treasury Secretary G. William Miller said the inflationary psychology of "borrowing for fear there's no tomorrow" has been broken and "it's time to go back to normal consumer behavior."
The Labor Department reported that its Consumer Price index rose 0.9 percent in April, a significant decrease from the 1.4 percent increase recorded during each of the first three months of this year. The last time consumer prices rose by less than 1 percent a month was January 1979.
The April figure translates to an annual inflation rate of 11.5 percent - still high but an improvement over the 18 percent annual rate that persisted during the first quarter of 1980.

Koreans Try To Collect All Weapons
KWANGJU, South Korea (AP)—Civilian leaders controlling this riot-torn South Korean city renewed efforts today to collect all weapons and defuse a confrontation with martial law authorities as the Seoul government executed five men convicted in the assassination of President Park Chung-hee.
Most of the estimated 4,000 weapons looted by civilian demonstrators from police and military armories in Kwangju have been turned in, according to the Rev. Tjo Chol-hyun, a Roman Catholic priest and one of the leaders of civilians negotiating with the martial law government.
He said martial law authorities had made the weapons surrender a condition to prevent the return of troops to the provincial capital. Police and troops were forced out of the city during three days of anti-government rioting that left at least 107 persons dead and hundreds more injured. The rioting, South Korea's worst civil disturbance in 20 years, ended Thursday.

His newspaper, the Gurjat Samecher, has about 16 pages on weekdays and about 24 on Sundays. It costs about five cents. Otherwise, things are about the same. Goswami said his paper employs 15 reporters, with each one being assigned specific duties.
Goswami has been in the newspaper business 40 years, having started at the age of 22 when he completed his education. He said he decided to enter journalism "to serve the people."
"My country is a developing one. Newspapers are the best medium to reach people," Goswami said.

Goswami will be in the United States four months, learning what he can about journalistic practices in this country and then taking that knowledge back with him to India.

MRS. KIM MASSINGILL

Nuptial Vows Pledged By Pair

Laura Isenhower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Doyle Isenhower of Putnam, and Kim Massingill, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Massingill of Snyder, were married in Baird Church of Christ on Saturday, May 10, with Charles Wharton II of Orange Avenue Church of Christ, Fort Pierce, Fla., officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of organza sheer. The high rise, see-through neckline was enhanced with deep Chantilly lace, on the yoke forming a V effect. The lace was repeated on Victorian sleeves featuring flow lace cuffs. The semi-flow skirt sweeping to a chapel train in the back was traced with wide lace mid-way around the skirt and hemline. The fingertip length mantilla of tulle was heavily touched with lace at head level. She carried a bouquet of pink and white roses and baby's breath.

Elizabeth Meyers of Brownwood was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Kelly Bennie of Mineral Wells, Jill Holley of Humble, Kerry Petty of Eastland, and Patty Team of Amarillo. The bride's attendants wore long dresses of polyester brocade in pale pink and dusty rose. They carried silk nosegays of burgundy carnations and pink forget-me-nots. Flower girl was Laura Beason of Elk City, Okla., and James Reynolds of Abilene was ring bearer.

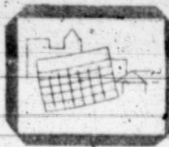

Best man was Charles Wharton III of Abilene. Groomsmen were Ron Hester and Jerry Worsham, both of Snyder; Sam Kitching of Searcy, Ark., and Martin Isenhower of Putnam, brother of the bride. Roger Reynolds, Donald Isenhower, and Tim Truett, all of Abilene, seated guests.

The bride's parents hosted the reception at the church and the parents of the bridegroom were hosts for the rehearsal dinner at the church. The bride is a graduate of Baird High School and attended Abilene Christian University.

The bridegroom graduated from Snyder High School and attended Western Texas College and ACU. He is employed by KEAN Radio in Abilene and is youth minister for Baird Church of Christ.

Following a wedding trip to San Antonio and Corpus Christi, the couple are at home at 2418 Campus Courts, Abilene.

Milk Clogs City Sewers

MONROE, Wis. (AP) - There's too much milk in the municipal sewer system at the "Swiss Cheese Capital of the United States," treatment plant superintendent Gerald Ellefson says.

He has complained to the Public Works Board that a dairy cooperative is pouring so much milk and cream into the system that, as it thickens, it clogs his waste treatment equipment.

Glady's Blum, spokesman for the Green County Dairy Herd Improvement Association, said the group's co-op collects milk daily from about 40 farms for butterfat tests, then pours it down the drain.

Officials are seeking ways of mixing more water to thin the goo. Ellefson said the problem would be abated if the system's human patrons were providing more water, but that the 10,000 customers are outnumbered by the farms' estimated 23,000 cows.

Store Going Out In Style

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—Grandma Brindel's Waterbeds and Things, a dying store, will be laid to rest in style — with the help of a waterbed casket. Ellen Fox, part-owner and manager of the shop, says a drop in sales and predictions for an extended recession convinced her to quit business. So, as a stunt, she purchased a waterbed casket and has scheduled a mock funeral Sunday to mark the event. "When a lot of stores go out of business," she said, "they do it quietly. We decided to do it differently." She says the casket lined with velvet and fitted with a mirror in its lid has a waterbed mattress and is the only one of its kind in the nation. After the "funeral," it will be for sale for $1,600.

Takeout double responses

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

Your partner has asked you to bid. Don't pass from fright. It is too expensive to let declarer make that doubled contract even though it does not give him game. You only pass when you are very strong in the doubled suit. Just length isn't enough.

Try to bid a suit. Prefer a major to a minor. With nine or 10 points jump. This is not a forcing bid. The only forcing bid at your disposal is to cue bid in your opponent's suit. You should have at least 11 points for this bid.

Examples:
1. S-7 6 5 4 H-5 4 3 D-4 3 2 C-8 4 2.

If partner doubles a heart, diamond or club, respond one spade and hope for the best. If he doubles one spade you must bite the bullet and bid two clubs. Do not respond one notrump as this bid should show 8-10 points and some sort of stopper in the opponent's suit.

2. S-J 8 6 4 H-4 2 D-7 5 2 C-A Q 10 4.

Bid one spade if any other suit has been doubled. Bid two clubs if a spade has been doubled.

3. S-J 8 6 4 H-K 2 D-7 5 2 C-A Q 10 2.

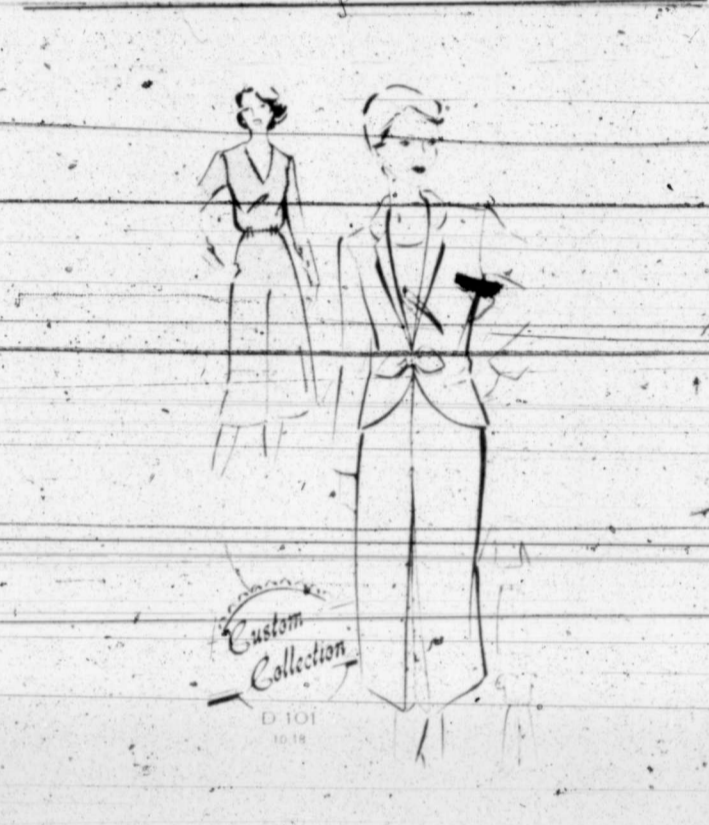

Bid one notrump if a club or spade has been doubled.

Jump to two spades if a red suit has been doubled.

4. S-Q J 10 9 8 H-A K 7 D-K 5 C-8 6 3.

Pass if a spade has been doubled. There is an interesting specialized convention here. It was invented by Oswald Jacoby in 1932 and is as follows. When you partner leaves your double in, just lead trumps immediately. If partner has doubled any other suit, force with a cue bid in that suit. You are heading for game or higher. Sacrificial Rites Halted

COLOMBO, Sri Lanka (AP)—Police raided a group of treasure hunters planning to sacrifice an 18-year-old virgin to appease the gods just as the ceremony was to begin in Myliddy in north Sri Lanka, police said today.

They said a man who had discovered a spring in his backyard and hoped to parlay his luck into finding buried treasure had consulted a sorcerer, who advised him to sacrifice the virgin.

Yen For Yam? Try These Recipes!

By Aileen Claire,
NEA Food Editor

Southerners might have had a true belly laugh at the expense of the young man in the New York supermarket who didn't know how to cook a yam. However, the fellow got some tips from women standing in his checkout line and went off to try this nutritious and versatile tuber.

A few weeks later, the young man was spotted by some of his "cooking teachers." He reported that he had enjoyed his yams very much.

Yams go well in casseroles with meats such as pork. They are also tasty when merely baked and served with a dollop of butter or with a special filling.

PORK AND YAM CASSEROLE
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
1 1/2 pounds pork shoulder, cut into 1-inch cubes

1 large onion, sliced (1 cup)
1 clove garlic, crushed
2/3 cup water
1/3 cup freshly squeezed orange juice
1/3 cup soy sauce
1/3 tablespoon dark brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
1/8 teaspoon ground black pepper
3 medium-size North Carolina yams, pared and cut in chunks
1 apple, cored and sliced
2 teaspoons chopped parsley

Heat oil in large skillet or Dutch oven. Brown pork on all sides over medium-high heat. Remove and reserve.

In same skillet, saute onion and garlic until tender. Add water, orange juice, soy sauce, brown sugar, ginger and pepper to skillet. Mix well.

Return pork to skillet. Cover. Simmer 35 to 45 minutes.
Add yams. Cook, covered, for 15 minutes.
Add apple. Cook 10 minutes longer or until yams and apple are tender. Garnish with chopped parsley.

This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings.
ORANGE-STUFFED YAMS
medium North Carolina yams
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup diced fresh orange sections
1/4 cup shredded fresh coconut

1/2 teaspoon grated fresh lemon rind
1/8 teaspoon pepper
6 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Bake yams in 400-degree oven 35 to 40 minutes, until soft.

Cut slice from top of each. Scoop out insides, keeping shells intact.
Mash pulp with butter. Add salt, brown sugar, cinnamon, diced orange sections, coconut and lemon rind. Mix well.
Spoon into shells. Bake in 400-degree oven 15 minutes or until lightly browned.
This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings.

BACON-STUFFED YAMS
medium North Carolina yams
2 tablespoons butter

Bake yams in 400-degree oven 35 to 40 minutes, until soft.

Cut slice from top of each yam. Scoop out insides, being careful not to break shells.
Mash pulp until fluffy with butter and pepper. Add crumbled bacon and parsley. Mix well.

Spoon into shells. Bake in 400-degree oven 15 minutes or until lightly browned.
This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN BRADFORD ENGLISH

English, Hamilton Marry In Double Ring Ceremony

Wedding vows were solemnized for Brigette Hamilton and John Bradford English, both of Jayton, in a double ring ceremony officiated by the grandfather of the groom, Dr. John A. English, retired minister of Blackwell. The ceremony was May 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church, Jayton.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Bob E. Hamilton and parents of the bridegroom are Mrs. Eddwin Kyle of Clairmont Rt. and J. Jerry English of Robert Lee.

Father of the bride presented his daughter in marriage. She was attired in a traditional white wedding gown of white organza trimmed with Brussel's lace and pearls. Her matching veil and headpiece was trimmed with Brussel's lace and pearls. She carried a bouquet of silk roses and carnations adorned with a touch of blue. She wore the traditional blue garter worn by her mother in her wedding in 1952.

Mrs. Phillip L. Hettich of Irving, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a blue formal gown worn by the bride as she was maid of honor at her wedding. She carried a bouquet of blue silk carnations.

Bradley Jay Dibrell of Austin served as best man. Seating guests were Lee Patrick Hamilton of Jayton and Rickey Wayne Kyle.

Mrs. Hettich sang an original musical selection composed by her especially for the bride and groom. Mrs. Gertrude Fowler, grandmother of the bride, was organist.

In the fellowship hall of the church, the couple was honored at a reception following the ceremony. A three-tiered wedding cake was served by cousins of the bride, Meg Montgomery and Shelly Holt. Serving at the groom's table were sisters of the groom, Joy English and Delight English.

The bride is a Jayton High School and a Western Texas College graduate and will enroll in Texas Tech in the fall as a petroleum engineering student. The groom is also a JHS graduate.

The couple will reside at 3733 1/2 Avondale. The bridegroom is employed by GCO Drilling Co.

Walk about
If you have a job that has you walking around for hours, make sure you rest your legs and feet at home. While on the job, try walking a few steps on tiptoes every so often to stretch calf muscles. To relax a tight back and shoulders, bend arms and push back with elbows as you walk, flexing five times.

Vibrant looks
TV star Marion Ross told Beauty Digest magazine how she dresses to look really alive. "Fortunately, I have lots of natural rosy color in my cheeks to complement my red hair and green eyes. So deep, vibrant colors seem to bring out and enhance their natural shades. I prefer deep blue-green. I wear it whenever I want to feel super. I feel blah in grays, beiges and most browns."

Blushing eyes
For an unusual evening look that is perfect for parties, try this technique from Paris: Use no blusher at all on your cheekbones. Instead, apply a pinky blusher all around your eyes. Apply as shadow on upper lids and under lower lids as well. Dust a bit above eyebrows and at the temples.

Cornstarch powder
The major ingredient in many high-priced bath powders is plain old cornstarch. You can use it straight out of the grocery-store box as an excellent soothing powder if you're not allergic to corn. To perfume it, pour the cornstarch in a bowl. Put your favorite scent in an atomizer and lightly spray the fragrance over the powder. Sift with a fork and spray again. Store in a pretty jar.

Soup diet
Looking for a tasty hot food you can enjoy every day that will help you lose weight? Try soup. Diet experts have found that soup is the perfect diet food because eating it requires time to cool, utensils, a place to sit down and concentration - no gulping soup while watching TV. Besides drawing out eating time, it fills you up so you eat less of other foods and feel satisfied longer.

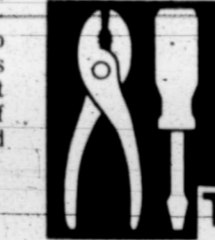

Brush out
No matter what you've heard, 100 strokes of brushing a day is not good for most hair. Thick, curly or short hair can take the most vigorous brushing - 20 to 30 strokes a day. Dry hair needs brushing to stimulate scalp oils but it's fragile, so brush gently. Chemically treated or thin, fine hair should be brushed 20 strokes every other day and oily hair even less. AH hair should be brushed before shampooing.

FIX-IT-FAST This 'grind' is welcome

An electric grinding wheel is a handy tool to have around if you have a place to mount it permanently. The best units have a wire brush wheel as well as a grinding wheel. The wire brush is excellent for cleaning and polishing metal, especially fancy metal hardware which is grooved and carved. Even if you don't have a workshop, you may already have a grinding wheel in your kitchen, since some models of electric can openers also have grinding wheels built in. You will need an electric grinding wheel or can opener with a grinding wheel and a squirt-type oil can filled with water. It should take about five minutes.

1. You can sharpen chisels and plane irons on a grinder. You can also grind burrs from the heads of cold chisels, rehabilitate screwdriver blades and sharpen knives and scissors.
2. When using the grinder, moisten the wheel with a few drops of water, applied from a squirt-type oil can, before you begin grinding and every few minutes during grinding.
3. When sharpening a chisel or plane iron, place the blade so apply only light pressure to the blade and sharpen for only a few seconds.

4. When sharpening snips or scissors on a grinder, place the blade flat on the rest, with the cutting edge square against the grinding wheel.

5. When using a grinding wheel, wear safety goggles. The wheel will throw water and bits of metal. The wire brush, especially, throws fine bits of metal which can injure your eyes seriously.

a 4-day work week?

Are you ready for the four-day work week? The abbreviated work schedule could be ordered by the Department of Energy as a national energy conservation measure.

Some workaholics may wonder what ever happened to the six-day work week. They are used to putting in some time on the job every day in the week, if for no other reason than they don't feel right hanging around the house on Sunday. Advocates of the four-day work week still want the labor force to put in 40 hours a week but extend their daily schedule to ten hours.

Proponents of the four-day work week believe that for many industries this change may increase workers' productivity and job satisfaction. Increased leisure time is important to our society, they insist.

Still, in many occupations, 10-hour days may result in added worker fatigue, with accompanying loss of productivity and increased on the job accidents.

That extra two hours away from home could disrupt family life in some instances, too. It's come to the point where many workers feel they have to moonlight on their days off, in order to make ends meet. This would further increase the incidence of fatigue and could result in job opportunities for the unemployed.

Some argue that the work week should indeed be shortened, but that the work day remain at eight hours, while workers are paid at the same 40-hour week. In other words, they are proposing that the worker receive a paid day off each week, in addition to being free on weekends. Advocates of this plan ignore basic economic facts.

Productivity would suffer. If wages remained constant while the work week was cut back to four eight-hour days, worker productivity would decline 20 percent.

There are agencies in this country which are working for opposite objectives. The other group is urging us to boost, not cut productivity. Our nation's growth rate in productivity is at a dangerous low, compared with our global competitors. America cannot long remain a thriving, economically sound nation without boosting its productivity.

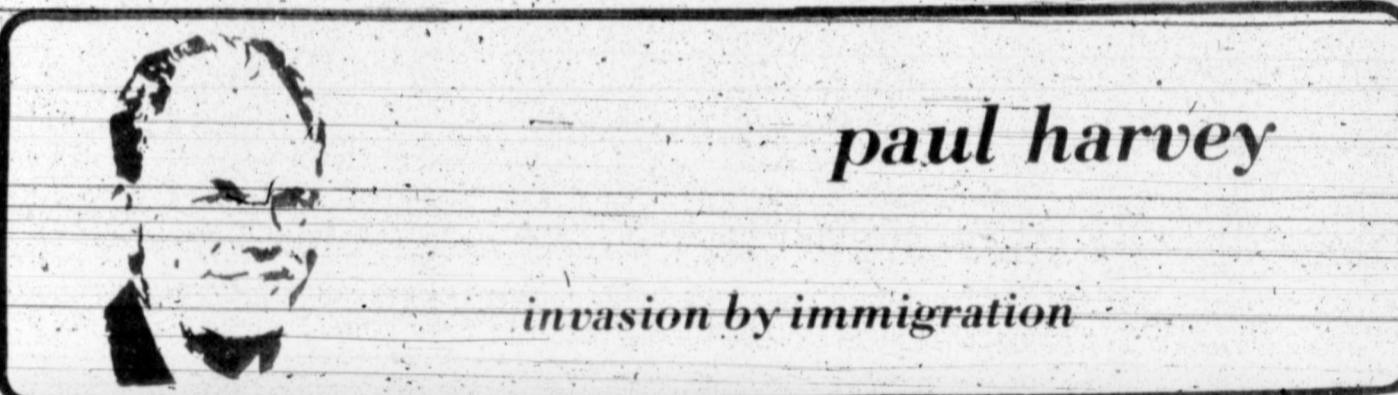

Critics of the four-day, 40-hour week plan also point out that industry would be forced to pass on to the consumer the increased costs from the extra day off with pay, thereby feeding the fires of inflation.

There are serious flaws in the four-day work week scenario. Any energy savings fantasy would well be a hoax. A congressional study tentatively concludes that the potential savings from fewer trips to and from work would be more than offset by more recreational travel over longer weekends.

invasion by immigration

From the mailbox: "Dear Paul Harvey News: I telephoned my senators and congressman to protest the new immigration invasion and was told by their secretaries that I was the first person to complain. Apparently you and I are the only two who care. There's a P.S. to the letter: "Please don't use my name in connection with this. I can't take the heat you take."

An employer in our community was telling me the other day about his experience in seeking workers able and willing to work.

He's had to import some from overseas.

Chicago, understand, has more so-called "unemployment" than the national average - 7.4 percent.

Yet this employer cannot find anybody willing to do work-work without seeking overseas.

And incidentally, after trying several ethnic categories of immigrants, he says his most diligent, most dependable and most willing workers are "Polish."

So - when these paragraphs refer to "invasion by immigration" they do NOT refer to our nation's historic importation of specific quotas of outsiders. The traditional overlap of cultures has tended more to strengthen than to weaken our country.

The recession is measurable now. In the housing industry, in the automobile industry.

We are told that next comes increasing unemployment.

That is when the jobless are going to begin noticing and resenting the millions of jobholders who are illegally in the United States.

And the longer we wait to close the door, the more potentially explosive that situation becomes.

The latest Roper poll on the subject shows that 91 percent of Americans want a stop to illegal immigration and 75 percent want legal immigration curtailed.

Yet the floodtide of immigrants, legal and illegal, continue - 600 thousand legal last year and nobody knows how many illegals. Because a million illegals were apprehended, one can assume that several million were not.

A Kettering Foundation survey reveals that a third of everybody in Latin America would like to get out, 90 percent of them to come here.

A South Korean newspaper says half of all South Koreans want out.

Ninety percent of Vietnamese refugees want to come to the United States.

Until recently our nation's laws managed the immigration flow, limiting it to what numbers we can absorb.

Presently we are hearing that those laws are unenforceable. That our authorities are no match for the smugglers, the document forgers, the exploiting employers.

The world's lifeboat is about to be swamped.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "No matter how busy a man is, he's never too busy to stop and talk about how busy he is."

In recent weeks, two major employers in Snyder have advertised that they are in the market for workers. It's a good sign of the local economy when it appears that there are plenty of jobs for those willing to work.

Both Northern Electric and Walls Manufacturing are seeking employees, so if your family is in need of that additional income to fight inflation, check with the personnel office at either firm.

In addition, word from the oilpatch indicates that service contractors are becoming busier each day. This indicates several job opportunities in the oil field, and those men who come from outside Snyder will be bringing a wife who will be a good prospect for our strong female employment market.

The long-range answers to our labor force here involves housing, and we're hopeful that interest rates coming down will stimulate renewed interest in housing starts and perhaps some apartment projects.

We might even consider bringing in some of the Cuban refugees to fill some of these jobs that remain unfilled.

On the national level, another bureaucratic bright idea has apparently burned out another bulb.

The Department of Energy, expected to be the leading example of wise energy consumption for the country, has just placed next to last on a list of federal agencies ranked according to their ability to conserve. Only the Defense Department ranked lower than the nation's supposed experts on energy-related problems.

Richard Nixon is back in the news with headlines that his new suite of offices in New York will cost the taxpayers $700,000 a year.

It's all quite legal. The law provides retirement for former presidents, including an obligation for office space. Like many federal goodies, it apparently puts no ceiling on how much can be paid for a desk and chair.

Seen recently on a bumper sticker: "J.R. for President."

Overdoing her diet?

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR LAMB — About a year ago I went on the Scarsdale diet and went from 120 pounds to 110. Since then I've kept my weight steady around 110 pounds. Within the last two months I've begun to lose even more and I'm now at 100 pounds. My body has lost all of its elasticity, especially in my arms and breasts. Is there anything I can do to improve my body's firmness and elasticity?

I'm exercising specifically for the arms and breasts and run in place every morning. I'm over 30 but I'm not yet 35. DEAR READER — I have a strong suspicion that you are overdoing it. Excessive dieting can be dangerous to your health. There is a minimum amount of protein and important vitamins and minerals plus calories that you need on a daily basis. I don't know how tall you are but you'd have to be pretty short to have a satisfactory weight of 100 pounds or less.

I'm concerned that you may have developed anorexia nervosa, a condition that's been popularized in recent times. It's most common in females who have a false impression that they're fat when they're actually healthy. It can become an obsession and can be associated with important psychological problems. I don't know what you mean by elasticity — whether you mean you've lost so much weight that you have loose hanging skin, or whether you've lost the normal supple characteristics of your body in terms of joint movements.

If you're talking about loose skin, anyone who has sudden rapid weight loss can expect this problem. The younger you are, the more likely it is that the elasticity of the skin will still be sufficient to avoid loose hanging skin. But in many instances, particularly if you're older, it will continue to be loose and sag unless the excess skin is removed surgically.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 2-2, Low Carbhydrate Diet Fads. While it's not specifically about the Scarsdale diet, it will give you some basic information that you apparently need. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. You might also want to know that even if you have enough protein in your diet, if you don't have enough calories that protein will be used for energy. That means the protein is not available to rebuild the normal wear and tear of body structures, or to grow new muscles.

People who are on a sensible diet because they really do have a problem with being overweight can do a lot to prevent loss of muscle and sagging skin by using an exercise program while they're dieting. If your diet is too restricted and particularly if you're not exercising, you will lose muscle tissue. The classic examples are the horrible pictures of the prisoners of war in concentration camps that came out totally emaciated.

Being overweight is a serious health problem. Undernutrition is another serious health problem most often occurring in women on fad diets. A lot of people who go on fad diets are literally on starvation or semi-starvation diets that are really health wreckers.

Moroccan Files Detroit Suit

DETROIT (AP)—A native of Morocco has filed a $1.6 million civil right suit against the State Department of Corrections, contending Southern Michigan Prison officials allowed him to be subjected to ethnic slurs when he worked there.

Mohamed Mahi, who filed suit Thursday in U.S. District Court, also contended officials did not give him a proper hearing on complaints against him by other employees. Last month, Mahi's charges of expense account cheating among some colleagues in the prison transportation department were supported by a state auditor's investigation.

Jesus, Are You The One?
Scripture Text:
 Matthew 11:3-6
 By Rev. A.J. Haley, pastor
 United Pentecostal Church

Do you know who Jesus is? Do you know that He still performs miracles today? John the Baptist was well acquainted with Jesus. John called Him, "The Lamb of God which taketh away the sins of the world" and, "One more worthy than I. He will baptize you with the Holy Ghost and fire." John baptized Jesus and saw the spirit descend on Him and heard a voice from heaven proclaim, "This is my beloved son in whom I am well pleased." John surely recognized the power of God in this man and realized that the time had come for Jesus to be known. John said in John 3:30 "He must increase but I must decrease." However, knowing all this and having this much personal contact with the Lord, we still find in St. Matthew 11:3 that John, now in prison, sent a disciple to Jesus and said, "Art thou He that should come, or should we look for another?" Verse 4 states that Jesus said, "Go shew John again these things which ye do hear and see." Then Jesus goes on to list miracles, which he has performed, that would reassure John that

He was, indeed, the Messiah.

Oh, how we need assurance that Christ is real.

Oh, how we need assurance in the times we live in today. Assurance that Christ is real.

Now, approximately 2,000 years later, Jesus is still reaching out with love and compassion to anyone who will allow Him to come into their lives.

He is still performing miracles today — opening blind eyes to His truths, giving strength to the lame who are, in themselves, unable to walk in His light. Men who are covered with sin as with leprosy are being cleansed by the blood of Jesus, today. The dead, to Christ, are being raised to life in newness of life through the power of the Holy Ghost.

In this troubled time, when it seems the world situation is so unstable, we do have assurance that Jesus has the situations controlled. That we can look to Him for stability when nothing else seems sure. He is the One, there is no need to look for another. "Jesus, shew us again."

Shears have one ring for the thumb and one long ring for two or more fingers. Nancy Brown, a clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Screening Old Wells For Life....

New System of Oil Exploration

By JACK KEEVER
 Associated Press Writer
 AUSTIN (AP)—With a half century of a hard-scrabble life behind him, Bill Campbell stares at seemingly endless reels of microfilm on the chance of striking it rich in oil and gas.

Several major companies are financing his proposal to check out the 60,000 wells plugged in Texas from 1950 through 1955 and some have indicated they would like for him to go back to "year one."

Campbell and his older brother, Francis, went broke in the oil business in 1954. "Chicken today, feathers tomorrow," he laments, but he has never stopped dreaming "of the one good deal to make me well."

He can't forget West Texas wildcatters who broke they couldn't bum a cup of coffee" — who later made millions.

Campbell, 53, organized Oil & Gas Records of Texas in January, hired a young woman from the state Railroad Commission and four University of Texas students and set out on a line-by-line search of five million documents.

They are reading and copying oil drillers' logs and plugging reports, looking for wells that were shut down in the 1950s when domestic oil sold for $2.10 a barrel and "you could get foreign oil for $1.10 a barrel, delivered in New York."

Those same wells, with the national energy shortage and soaring oil and natural gas prices, might be economical to produce in 1980.

"This is my better mousetrap," says Campbell, a World War II Navy veteran who has held a dozen or more jobs in the past 30 years.

His customers include Gulf, Shell, Atlantic Richfield, El Paso Natural Gas, Louisiana Land & Exploration, Florida Exploration, Texas Oil & Gas of Dallas, Inexco of Houston and Energy Resources Group.

Campbell said in a recent interview even major companies failed to keep comprehensive drilling records, and no one else has tried to compile information on the scale he is attempting.

He borrows microfilm from the Railroad Commission and returns it at the end of the day, after it has been read. Making the job more difficult is the fact that the reports are not filmed in chronological order. A single reel of microfilm may include reports from the 1940s and 1950s.

There are not short-cuts," said Campbell. His self-imposed deadline is August, but delays in acquiring five readers-printers may extend the project, he said. Asked if early results had been encouraging, Campbell produced copies of old reports detailing nine different "shows" — or indications — of oil in a 1,500-foot shut-in well near Archer City.

'Sideman' Likes His Hectic Life

By JOE EDWARDS
 Associated Press Writer
 NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—If you want a job like Randy Bethune's, you have to like overnight bus trips, fast food and beds away from home most weekends and holidays.

Bethune, 26, is a sideman for country music singer Bill Anderson. A sideman is a vocalist or musician, often a combination, who performs with singers during their road concerts.

This means Bethune travels to concerts on Anderson's bus, is away from his wife and 8-month-old daughter almost every weekend and holiday, is gone for up to two weeks at a time and eats lots of hamburgers.

Who'd want a job like that? Bethune, for one. "It's a great life," he said in an interview a few hours before boarding Anderson's bus for a 17-hour trip to Succasunna, N.J. "I wouldn't trade it for anything."

England, Scotland, Ireland and Holland twice.

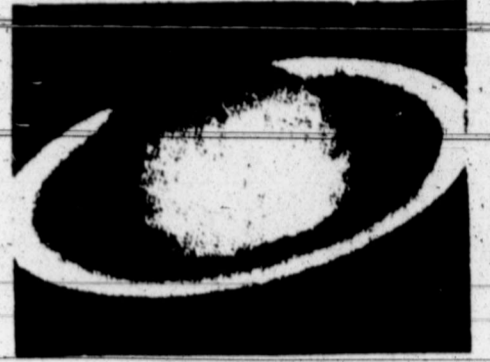

"I've got the Howard Johnson's menu memorized," he said with a chuckle. "We try to find a nice restaurant once in a while, but I eat a lot of hamburgers and scrambled eggs."

His wife, Linda, uses a green pen to mark her husband's tour dates on a kitchen calendar. On the March calendar, the 1st was marked Nashville, Ind., the 4th was Plant City, Fla., the 10th to 15th was Hot Springs, Ark., and the 16th was Ash Flat, Ark. Most dates also included the time of the show. And she keeps an atlas handy.

"Sometimes I get lonely for someone to talk to," she confessed, although Bethune said she's very understanding. "But the baby keeps me busy now. At times I admire my neighbors because their husbands come home at night."

Bethune, who's been on the road with Anderson for three years as part of the "Po-Toks" band, said he tolerates the travel as a necessity for reaping rewards as an entertainer.

"In the Beginning God Created...."

And, from the look of things out there beyond the stars,...He's STILL at it!

At First Christian Church, we believe God is just as busy at this "Creation Business" within the lives of each of us as He is in the distant Quasars of the Universe!

The mysteries of Outer space are virtually un-revealed but so are the mysteries of the Human Spirit.

Come worship with us this Sunday as we celebrate a Faith which has no boundaries because it unites us with a Christ who has no limits.
