Concedes To Reagan...

Bush Out Of Race

HOUSTON (AP)—George Bush ended his two-year quest for the presidency today, leaving the Republican nomination to Ronald Reagan, the conservative former governor of California.

Bush announced his withdrawal from the GOP presidential race, after two years of campaigning, at a news conference packed with hundreds of his friends and supporters. He said he had sent Reagan a telegram congratulating him on a "superb" victory.

The important thing, Bush said, is that the Republican Party be united to save our country from Jimmy Carter's weak, directionless and incompetent leadership. "I've never quit a fight in my life," Bush said. But he said he decided to bow out because of a combination of tight finances, Reagan's overwhelming lead in GOP convention delegates and, more important, the general perception that the campaign is over.

"We presented him with all the information he needed to make a decision," said Peter Teeley, a chief Bush aide. "At that point, there was no surprise in anybody hanging around."

Bush has made clear that finances permitting, he would like to continue the campaign for the Republican presidential nomination, even though Ronald Reagan has a huge lead in delegates. But Teeley said Bush gave none of his closest associates a clue to what his decision would be.

The candidate told one caller he intended to "sleep on it," and make what he called "the toughest decision of my life," after breakfast with his wife, Barbara. It was learned Sunday that Bush's prospects for continuing may be hampered by an apparently over-optimistic budget projection for April and

May. In those two months, Teeley said, expenses may have been greater and income less than had been predicted.

Ever since his decisive victory over Reagan last Tuesday in the Michigan primary, Bush and campaign manager James Baker have said that money is extremely tight and will be a key factor in any decision to go ahead—or quit.

Bush had hoped the Michigan win would produce a wave of new contributions. But he said those hopes were stymied when some leading news organizations declared that Reagan already had the nomination locked up.

Teeley said the tight money situation means that if Bush decides to press a "full-bore campaign" for primaries June 3 in Ohio and New Jersey, he could go into debt by as much as $600,000.

Teeley said the higher debt could be paid off but it would take more time.

Dedication Of Antique Car Buffs Runs Deep

By JOHN LONG—Save the old family car. Tend to its needs, take care of it, and someday it can be shown at an antique rally such as the type held every Memorial Day weekend at the Purple Sage Motel in East Snyder.

Art Feinsod, the motel manager, is also an antique car buff and has the power of attracting other antique car buffs. Sunday afternoon, approximately 20 antique cars and about 50 people from Big Spring, Abilene and Lubbock, were in the rally. One of the car collectors was Paul Bush of Lubbock, a 30-year veteran of the hobby. He maintained that his is "just an interest in old cars," but it must go deeper than that because Bush maintains a stable of 18 antique cars, plus several contemporary cars as well.

"You take whatever you can find," Bush explained simply.

One of the joys of antique car collecting, he said, is taking them to shows where they are displayed and "having people gloat over them." Bush came here in a 1934 Packard. The car, judging by the speedometer, is supposed to get up to 120 miles an hour. Bush said he wasn't sure if it could get up that high, but said he knew it could get up to 90.

That is a man talking. But what about women? How do they feel when their husbands drop them for a younger model?

Theresa Martin, who came here in a 1936 Ford with her husband Harley, said she isn't worried as long as her husband is working on cars.

"They could be doing something else, you know," she observed.

Harley Martin, who was bitten by the bug 10 years ago, spent five years rebuilding the 1936 Ford. The Martins won second place last year in national competition at Tulsa, Okla., with it.

Mrs. Martin said that she, like her husband, finds herself talking about cars, about parts, and how to get parts for cars.

Feinsod, the owner of a 1929 DeSoto and the sponsor of the mini-rally, has been working on old cars for 25 years. It is, he said laughingly, a type of "insanity."

"But it's a good hobby," he maintained. "When I was in the service, whenever I'd be transferred, the first people I'd look for were the antique car nuts. I always felt at home wherever I went."

Volcano Gases Fatal

SEATTLE (AP)—Six victims of the Mount St. Helens eruption apparently were killed by unidentified gases which poured down from the volcano, a pathologist who conducted the autopsies says.

Dr. John Eisele, a King County medical examiner, began autopsies on the six Sunday at the Harborview Medical Center. They were taken in rubber body bags from the disaster area by an Army helicopter.

"There are burns, but no blast or explosion-type injuries," Eisele said. "It appears to have been asphyxial—more like smoke inhalation from a house fire."

Blood For Koreans

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two dozen Korean-Americans, asking that blood they donate be sent to South Korea, spent the weekend in Red Cross headquarters here as officials contacted international Red Cross authorities to see if the demand could be met.

Ken Roh, spokesman for the Korean Democratic Students in the U.S., said the demonstrators wanted some 86 pints of blood they donated to be sent to people injured during recent anti-government demonstration in the South Korean city of Kwang-Ju.

$20 Million Awarded

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Survivors of some of the 24 men, including four Texans, killed in the crash of a top-secret reconnaissance plane are entitled to a total of $20 million in damages, a federal court jury has decided.

Jurors determined that the U.S. government and six LTV Corp. companies were liable for the deaths of the men killed by the crash of the modified Air Force C-130 transport plane nine years ago.

Attorneys for the government and LTV said they would appeal the verdict reached Friday after two hours of deliberations.

Church Leaders Arrested

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—About 50 church leaders were arrested today as they marched to the Johannesburg police headquarters to protest the detention of a fellow clergyman.

Riot police, wearing camouflage uniforms and armed with clubs and automatic rifles, loaded the churchmen into police vans, and witnesses said the clergymen sang, "Onward Christian Soldiers" as they were bundled off.

The demonstration was led by Anglican Bishop Desmond Tutu, general secretary of the South African Council of Churches, and the Rev. Joseph Wing, general secretary of the United Congregational Church.

The churchmen were protesting the detention by security police on Saturday of the Rev. John Thorne, a former chairman of the United Congregational Church and former secretary of the South African Council of Churches.

Quake Shakes Lima

LIMA, Peru (AP)—A moderate earthquake rattled windows and shook cupboards in Lima today, startling sleepers out of bed here and in communities along the coast to the south. There were no reports of injuries or damage.

VFW PAYS TRIBUTE—The Veterans of Foreign Wars paid tribute to the community's war dead this morning with its annual memorial service in Hillside Memorial Gardens. The ceremony is an annual event of the local post. Most offices and many business firms were closed today in observance of Memorial Day.

Following Strong Quakes...

California Braced For Series Of Aftershocks

MAMMOTH LAKES, Calif. (AP)—Authorities are warning residents to expect several days of aftershocks following two major earthquakes that rattled California from San Diego to San Francisco and created havoc at this Sierra Nevada resort near the epicenter.

Two people were hospitalized with serious injuries. Several others were hit by falling objects, and one man fell through a window.

"I'm not trying to alarm or panic anyone," Alex Cunningham, director of California's Office of Emergency Service, said Sunday. But he added, "We have had 50 to 100 aftershocks today. People should take prudent action."

He said federal officials told him that based on past quakes, "the likelihood is that aftershock activity will continue over the next several days and people should take precautionary measures."

The quakes knocked down power lines, ruptured some water mains, disrupted telephone service and triggered rockslides throughout the area surrounding Mammoth Lakes, a popular resort some 300 miles north of Los Angeles. Mono County sheriff's deputies said.

"Cars were bouncing on the ground," said Todd Jensen of Crowley Lake, about 15 miles southeast of Mammoth Lakes.

"Some of the people who live at the lake said their refrigerators were flipped over."

Sheriff Martin Strelneck said late Sunday that rescue teams were continuing to search the area for people stranded by slides. He said the quakes caused no major damage to the region's utilities or public buildings, but did damage the roof of the local hospital.

The quake registered in California's major cities, but there was no reported damage that far from the epicenter.

The first quake struck at 9:33 a.m. PDT Sunday and registered about 6.0 on the Richter scale, said Patti Murtha of the U.S. Seismographic Station at Berkeley, Calif. After a series of aftershocks, the second hit at 12:45 p.m. with about equal or possibly slightly greater force, she said.

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP)—The eruption that sent two new showers of ash from Mount St. Helens could be an unpleasant harbinger of things to come or could prevent a repeat of last week's devastating blowout, scientists say.

"We may be lucky if we have the volcano clearing its throat like this once in a while rather than building up to one big blast," said U.S. Geological Survey geologist Tim Hait as the volcano sent muddy ash showers over western Washington and Oregon on Sunday.

"Everytime the volcano clears its throat, it relieves a little pressure."

Rescue helicopters were grounded, and holiday travelers were stranded and spattered with muddy rain as the unpredictable mountain turned day to night with another mighty belch of volcanic ash.

No injuries were reported from Sunday's blast, but it was the most violent since the volcano blew its top May 18, killing at least 18 people. Another 72 people are officially listed as missing.

Hait and other scientists said the latest eruptions, which sent plumes of ash up to 40,000 feet above sea level, followed a normal pattern for a Cascade volcano. They said such blasts could continue for some time or could stop soon.

"My guess is that individual bursts like the one we're seeing... will not occur continuously for months or weeks, but might occur for a day or so several times in the coming months," said geologist Dan Miller.

Sunday's eruptions came from two points on the mountain's northwest and southwest corners, according to pilots who flew through a shroud of clouds around the mountain.

Ash was set into the rainy air and fell as mud over a 200-mile path in northern Oregon and Southwest Washington. Traces of ash were reported at the northern tip of the Olympic Peninsula and near the Canadian border. The heaviest concentration was in the nearby Longview-Kelso area, about 35 miles southwest of the peak.

Thousands of Memorial Day tourists were caught by ash at coastal resorts in Washington and Oregon.

The gritty showers brought traffic on Interstate 5—the main north-south route through Washington—to a halt. Eight people were injured in a 12-car accident in Ritzville, Wash.

C-C Breakfast Set Wednesday

The Snyder Chamber of Commerce has planned its second membership breakfast for Wednesday morning, and reservations should be made by Tuesday afternoon.

The "fun breakfast" will be held in the Smorgasbord banquet room, and serving will begin at 7 a.m. The cost is $3 per person.

The top door prize has been set at $200 this time, said Bill Warner, chamber manager.

There also will be a number of awards for "special" members and several surprises, said the chamber manager.

New members of the chamber will be introduced.

Sponsors of the second chamber breakfast are West Texas State Bank and First Federal Savings and Loan.

Reservations may be made by calling the chamber office at 573-3558 any time during business hours Tuesday. Reservations are needed to place orders for food, Warner said.

Ask Us

Q—How come Anita Bryant's divorce is front page news and Madalyn O'Hair's son's turn to Christianity hardly gets mention in the paper?
A—Two reasons. First, Anita Bryant is much, much more prominent than O'Hair's son (if it had been O'Hair herself, the situation would have been different). Also, the O'Hair-Christianity story emerged at the right time for morning papers to get the first play on it, while the Bryant story "broke" for the afternoon papers to get it first. Since we are an afternoon paper, the Bryant story was more timely for us.

If you're looking for one word to wrap up world political trends these days, try instability.

There is Afghanistan, of course. And revolutionary Iran is well continuing to behave like revolutionary Iran.

conditioned since World War II to abhor militarism.

The Socialist no-confidence motion was, in fact, aimed at the Ohira government's backing of the United States on these points. The LDP defection, however, had more to do with dissatisfaction with Ohira's performance in the last election, seven months back, in which the party barely managed to retain a Diet majority.

An economy-wide strike-lockout has knocked two generations of national complacency out of Sweden.

Of the two options open to him, resigning or calling a new election, Ohira has chosen the latter -- set for June 22. For Ohira, it is an opportunity to regroup LDP forces, recover lost ground and return government to LDP consensus as usual. For the opposition, it will be a test of recent efforts of the Socialists and other factions to draw together into a coalition that would present a viable alternative to LDP continuity.

South Korean students have taken to the streets in violent demonstrations reminiscent of those that ousted Syngman Rhee in 1960.

For Americans, it is an election of more than casual interest. They are not wrong in thinking of Japan as stable. But it is a stability that does not come easily, nor one to be taken for granted.

Prime Minister Masayoshi Ohira's Liberal Democratic Party government was brought down on a no-confidence motion introduced by the Socialists. It was not, however, the Diet opposition that did Ohira in but the defection of a large bloc of his own LDP deputies.

While a setback for Ohira, this is by no means necessarily the disaster for the LDP that it could be in a more ideologically oriented Western party.

The Liberal Democratic Party, Japan's dominant political presence since the American occupation, belies its name in all respects. It is a coalition of conservative interest groups, most with close business and industry links, in which policy and leadership are determined by alliance and advantage trading among the blocs.

They number five of roughly comparable strength. Ohira, who captured party leadership a year and a half ago through an involved maneuver that took his opponents by surprise, has remained on top thanks to an alliance with former Premier Kakuei Tanaka's bloc. The primary opposition has been the bloc led by another former premier, Takeo Fukuda, who was outmaneuvered in Ohira's rise to power.

You see how it goes. On the face of it, it would appear to be a system readymade for revolving-door governments, not unlike Italy in recent years with its similarly bloc-ridden Christian Democrats.

That this has not resulted in large part due to the Japanese devotion to consensus -- thorough discussion and compromising of differences in private in order to give everyone a little something ("rootbinding" is the Japanese term for the process) before coming to the public movement of decision.

It is also due to the even deeper devotion of the public. Most Japanese may not be so enthusiastic about what -- if anything -- the LDP hawks ideologically, but in the end they vote for its candidates because of the order and continuity the party represents.

The system has come under some strain of late, however. The miracle economy has slowed and in world trade actually slipped into deficit (not, however, in the bilateral balance with the United States). Growth is down and inflation up. Energy, of which the country must depend upon imports for all but a minute fraction of its needs, is a cause of near panic in understated Japanese terms.

Simultaneously, Japan's Western associates have been turning a few screws. More assistance to the developing world is sought and a more active response to the Mideast complex of crises and Afghanistan. The United States is pressing for an increased defense effort, a difficult proposition to sell to a public thoroughly

Don't ever say this administration can't get a message eventually. The continuing unauthorized ferry service to Florida having provided abundant evidence that there was no policy on the Cuban exodus, official Washington has now decreed one.

Not only is the private and illegal boat operation to be replaced by a government-organized airlift or seahift, but the first phase of the evacuation procedure is to be an orderly screening of refugees.

In Cuba, With the cooperation of the Castro government. After which the United States is fully prepared to welcome the approved Cuban emigrants, as previously promised, with "open heart and open arms."

The plan is beautiful in its simplicity but does raise a question: What makes Jimmy Carter, who chose to position himself firmly at the end of a limb by personally announcing the new policy, believe that Fidel Castro, who has frustrated cooperation in any shape or form since the inception of the crisis at Havana's Peruvian Embassy, will go along with such a reasonable arrangement this time?

Possibly because the administration has had such extraordinary success in applying similarly reasonable policies to Iran.

The conventional wisdom on the Cuban situation is that Castro, having initially made a colossal mistake with his offer to permit all who wished to leave the island, is now deliberately manipulating the consequent disorder to his advantage.

He is using it as a safety valve to relieve internal pressures by exporting dissidents and, by provoking confrontation with the United States, to shore up support among the Cubans who remain. He is using it to distract domestic and world attention from Cuba's grave and worsening economic situation, which he acknowledged in his extraordinarily frank Dec. 27 address to the Cuban People's Assembly. He is using it to embarrass the United States, maneuvering Washington into itself giving the lie to American protestations of concern for the oppressed.

Why he should be agreeable to making the American response to the situation he has created and is manipulating any easier for Washington is a question requiring some persuasive explanation. Certainly to Castro.

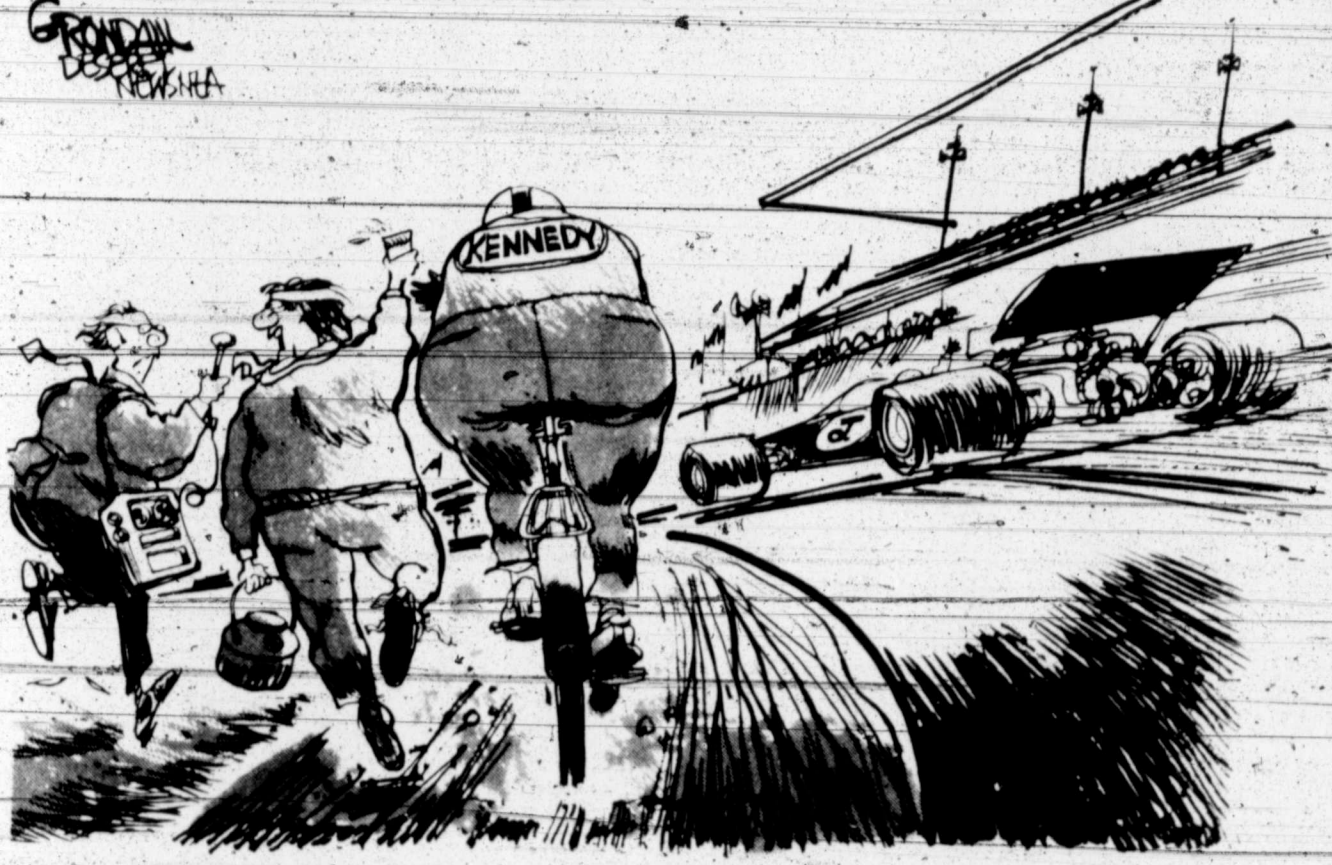

There is one potential advantage to placing the emphasis of the proposal not on areas the United States can control -- transportation and reception of the refugees -- but on the one it can't -- Cuba's handling of their departure.

Castro's refusal to cooperate in bringing order out of chaos can be turned against him by the United States for propaganda purposes.

It is certainly understandable that regimes that have wallowed in mutual hostility for two decades should be obsessed with maneuvering and outmaneuvering each other with the ordinary Cubans, potentially millions of them, caught in the middle.

Victor H. Palmieri, the administration's coordinator for refugee affairs, has vividly described the situation to a House committee. Castro, he observed, is practicing a "form of guerrilla warfare that uses people as bullets."

True enough, but that does not require that the United States make of itself such a convenient target.

at wits end

I had a grandfather who, when he climbed behind the wheel of a car, (a) refused to make a left turn and (b) never asked directions anywhere.

After drivers who drank and pranksters who stole detour signs, he was the No. 1 menace to our highways.

Before I exchanged wedding vows with my husband-to-be, I jokingly said, "Don't look upon marriage as a risk, but as one adventurous left turn." We had a good laugh over that.

Somehow, we never got around to exploring how he felt about asking directions until after we were married. We had circled a cloverleaf expressway in Cleveland for 16 hours one day when I said, "Dear, why don't you ask directions from someone?"

He looked at me like I had just suggested he address a fund rally and said, "I am not lost!"

"What do you mean you're not lost? To drive behind you is to 'See America First.' Why are you too proud to admit you haven't the foggiest notion where you are?"

"That's the difference between men and women," he said. "Women don't like to figure things out. As soon as they see a cow in a field they panic and right away start asking for directions."

That was to be the first of many trips where we wandered aimlessly about the countryside, too lost to last and too proud to ask.

True, we have stumbled upon things that ordinary people who know where they are going never get a chance to see. There's the hidden city of Shangri-La, the Lost Dutchman mine, secret missile stockpiles, and one Sunday we even discovered the illusive Mrs. Tucker's Inn and had a "whipped cream experience."

We've explored every dead-end road in the United States (some of them twice), blazed trails where only covered wagons have been, and discovered a maternity home for blood-sucking mosquitoes.

My husband is not unique. There is something in the male genes that breeds stubbornness and will not permit him to form the words, "Could you please tell me how to get to . . ." They regard it as a genetic weakness. He says it causes shortness of breath.

I know this. My husband will go down in history with the other patron saints of not-lost-but-never-really-found Americans: Christopher Columbus, Dr. Livingston, Wrong-Way Corrigan, General.

Red traffic signals mean stop. Green ones mean go. Amber ones signal changes to come.

These no longer seem to be enough to protect the safety of pedestrians -- especially children, the elderly and the handicapped.

To save drivers a thimbleful of gasoline, they are now permitted to make right turns against red lights.

They are supposed to stop first, of course. But many just blow their horns arrogantly and expect pedestrians to wait for their cars to make the turn.

If there are several cars making right turns on red, pedestrians dare not move at all.

This problem is exacerbated for us seniors because the older we get, the slower we tend to walk. The duration of a traffic signal is often determined by the time it takes an average pedestrian to cross the street. But we are not average.

We must wait for a car to turn right on red before we proceed, we can be caught in the middle of the street when the signal changes.

And what about the men and women in wheelchairs? And those on crutches, in walkers or with other walking difficulties?

Where our grandchildren are concerned, the situation may be even riskier. Children are always in a hurry. They take chances.

Here comes a car. The youngster thinks it will stop at the red light. But the driver blows his horn and makes a right turn. The child may make it across safely -- but he may not.

Is maiming or death worth a small savings of gasoline? Isn't pedestrian safety as important as gas conservation?

And what about those us who live in the suburbs or the

Dear Abby

"Wicked Stepmother" A Fairy-Tale Image

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: When I married Jim last year I was a divorcee with a daughter, 10, and a son, 7. Jim was also divorced, with two sons, 9 and 12. Jim's ex-wife has remarried and his children live with her mother, but we have them on weekends and school vacations.

Abby, being a stepmother presents so many problems. I don't know where to begin. First there's the problem of discipline. I've always been very strict with my own children, but when I married Jim, I wanted so much for his children to like me, I started off treating them more like guests, which my own-children resented. Then when I laid down the law, my stepchildren said, "You aren't our real mother, so we don't have to mind you!" How does one handle that?

Also, on parents' visiting night at school, should my children's "real" father attend with me? Or should their stepfather attend? And on my stepchildren's visiting night, should I go with my husband, or should his ex-wife go? I am so confused, I am dizzy. Can you help me?

TEXAS STEPMOTHER

DEAR STEPMOTHER: Move over. According to the latest statistics, one out of every five children in the U.S. is a child of divorce, and since 85 percent of divorcees remarry within five years, the number of stepparents is now multiplying like rabbits. And so are the problems.

About discipline: The tendency to start off treating one's stepchildren like guests is natural, so toughen up and let them know there is one set of rules for all the children, and that's that!

Concerning parents' visiting night: Ask the children what their preferences are and respect them. Please get the June issue of Parents Magazine and read "Stepmothers Aren't Wicked Anymore" by Eda LeShan. This excellent article offers some realistic and practical solutions to some of the thorny problems stepparents face.

I have often said: "The toughest job in the world is being a mother." Let me amend that. The toughest job in the world is being a stepmother!

DEAR ABBY: My husband of 25 years has been playing poker with the boys every Monday night for years. Every time I ask him how he came out he says, "I broke even." Abby, I wasn't born yesterday. I know it's impossible to break even every time. Do you think he usually loses but doesn't want to admit it because he's ashamed?

-Or do you think he usually wins but doesn't want me to know because he's afraid I might ask him to hand over part of his winnings?

AARON'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Probably both. DEAR ABBY: I am writing a paper on modern marriage and need your input. Judging from the letters you get, what would you say is the most common complaint women have about their husbands?

Also, what is the most common complaint men have about their wives?

MADISON, WIS.

DEAR MADISON: The wives' most common complaint: "My husband doesn't appreciate me." The husbands': "She nags me."

CONFIDENTIAL to those who have sent for Abby's booklets: Please, please be patient. I am literally deluged with orders and am getting them out as quickly as possible.

"The defense starts with a ten of hearts lead. Eddy plays three hearts in order to get rid of one club and is now ready to make his contract with a little bit of luck."

Alan "Eddy" says that declarer played ace and another spade and after the defense took two club tricks and forced Eddy to ruff the third all South had to do was to locate that jack of diamonds.

Oswald "Eddy" points out further that the way trumps lay he could force his opponents to locate that jack of diamonds for him. He should have left trumps alone and led a club. East and West would take two clubs and let him ruff the third. Then Eddy would play that ace and another trump."

Alan "The opponents would either have to give him a ruff and discard or play the diamonds for him."

Pat Walker's presents: the Splendor of being Slender

Obviously, Frances Lewis solved her waistline problem!

Stunning as she is today, Frances Lewis used to worry about her waistline—and habitually wore long blouses and covers to hide her large abdomen. "I never liked to admit I had a weight problem," she writes, "so I attributed my 33-inch waist to a large bone structure. I envied all the girls who could wear fitted clothes—especially bikinis."

Frances Lewis BEFORE Pat Walker's

When she dieted, she simply lost weight in the wrong places. But at Pat Walker's she achieved a beautifully proportioned figure, reducing from size 14 to size 7 and losing a total of 20 pounds and 29 1/2 inches (including 9 inches off the waist).

You also can reach your ideal weight on our proven program of weight correction—pleasantly, privately, without stringent diets or strenuous exercises. Among the numerous amenities you'll enjoy are safe passive exercise, a personalized program, luxurious surroundings and the guidance of trained professional counselors. Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Asks More For Vietnam Veterans

Last 10 pounds may do it

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm concerned about my blood pressure. In the summer, it averages 150 over 90 and in the winter, 174 over 98. I can reduce it to 140 over 80 by taking Naturetin. I have a blood pressure kit and use it about once a month. I'm a 62-year-old male and I'm 5 feet 8 and weigh 140 pounds.

I lost 10 pounds through a serious effort at jogging. I average one to two miles per day. I play golf (carry my bag and walk) five to six times per week. I'm in good health, watch my diet, no junk food. I drink decaffeinated coffee and eat a lot of fruit and vegetables. I have nothing to worry about but I still do my fair share of it.

I've cut out all the salt at the table and I've eliminated 90 percent of the cold cut sandwich meats. I eat only the whites of eggs and drink plenty of water. My cholesterol count averages around 220. I'd appreciate any advice you could give me.

DEAR READER — Your blood pressure is all right for a person in your age group. I would prefer for it to be a little lower but it's not high enough to require heroic efforts at treatment. Since your cholesterol level was probably done with standard office or laboratory techniques, the 220 value is satisfactory.

It is true that people who have lower blood pressure have a decreased risk of having heart attacks and strokes. That's why I'd like to see your pressure consistently a little lower than it is.

If you still have any evidence of excess fat around your abdomen, your pressure may get a little lower as you lose the rest of it. The weight in pounds on the scale is not a very good guide as to whether a person is really fat or not and it's the last five to 10 pounds that really count. Those additional 10 pounds make a lot of difference sometimes in blood pressure, cholesterol and in longevity.

If your blood pressure stays at a high normal level after all your excess body fat is gone, talk it over with your doctor. He might want to keep you on some mild medicine such as the tablet you're currently taking. When the blood pressure is borderline or only moderately elevated, doctors often find that one of the medicines to eliminate excess salt and water is all that is needed to control the blood pressure.

Other patients do well taking Inderal which tends to neutralize the effects of adrenaline and can be given in small doses to effect a modest reduction in blood pressure. In many instances, the doctor has to try several different medicines to find out what is the best combination or which is the best medicine for a particular patient.

I'm glad you're not getting any caffeine. It has the opposite effects of Inderal and I don't recommend it for people who have persistently elevated blood pressure.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 15-8, Blood Pressure, to give you a gener-

DALLAS (AP)—John B. Anderson, the independent presidential candidate, today called for a broadly expanded program for "the unique needs" of Vietnam war veterans, including a 10-year extension of educational benefits and quick evaluation and treatment for victims of the pesticide Agent Orange.

In remarks prepared for a Memorial Day speech to a Vietnam veterans group, Anderson said, "we want to forget about Vietnam, we wish that the war had never happened. We often feel resentful at those who remind us of it."

But, he added, "Today we should dedicate ourselves to reversing a half-generation of neglect." The Republican Illinois congressman said the neglect is "shared by both political parties, by the federal government and by many of our fellow Americans."

Specifically, Anderson urged that those who served in Vietnam be given a 10-year extension of Veterans Administration educational benefits, including cost-of-living increases. Those who served during the years of the war, but not actually in Vietnam, would be eligible for a 3-year extension.

Anderson also urged that the VA "reach out and contact" those who might be victims of Agent Orange, diagnose their illnesses and treat them. Benefits would also be extended to the children of veterans affected by the pesticide, sprayed by Air Force planes on to heavy Vietnam jungle to defoliate trees hiding the movement of North Vietnamese ground forces. In his speech, Anderson also proposed that the VA be provided funds to help states provide direct housing loans for veterans at interest rates below the current high home mortgage interest rates. For Vietnam veterans still facing severe emotional problems, Anderson urged additional funding for VA counseling services and authorization for troubled veterans to make use of non-VA community health centers or private mental health facilities.

Phillies Hotter; Burn Out Astros

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies open a four-game series with the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates tonight and as far as they are concerned, it couldn't come at a better time.

Led by Greg Luzinski, the Philadelphia bats are smoking.

They slammed three homers and three doubles Sunday as they beat the Houston Astros 6-2 for their fourth straight victory and a sweep of the three-game series. The Phils have won nine of their last 12 games.

Luzinski, who lost 20 pounds during the winter and is a walking endorsement for "Weight Watchers," has been the main reason for the surge. The husky left fielder clubbed a home run and a double Sunday, and now has 12 hits in his last 22 at-bats. Included are five homers and three doubles.

"When you're in a good groove, it's a pleasure to go up to the plate," said Luzinski, who also has eight RBI in the streak.

After Houston picked up single runs in the first two innings of winning pitcher Dick Ruthven, 5-3, the Phils struck for three in the second.

With one out, Garry Maddox connected for his first homer of the season. Manny Trillo doubled, Ruthven walked and Pete Rose was hit by a pitch from loser Ken Forsch, 5-3.

Bake McBride, another hot Philadelphia batter (.28 for his last 81 at-bats, a .347 average), then lined a single for a fight for a 3-2 lead.

Rangers Three Back; Dump Norris, Oakland

OAKLAND (AP)—Oakland's Mike Norris was way off top form, an almost impossible standard he set for himself.

"He's been so effective, it had to happen sometime," said A's Manager Billy Martin.

The Texas Rangers collected 10 hits and six runs in six innings, against Norris, who took an 0-52 carried run average into Sunday's game, and beat the A's 7-3.

"We didn't come up with the big plays in the field and I didn't come up with the big out pitches," said Norris, whose current ERA, 1.21, still is most impressive.

While Norris was having troubles, the Rangers' Jim Kern indicated he's returning to full strength.

"I think the arm is back to form," said the reliever who was forced to take a 10-day layoff recently.

"I had tried to pitch through an arm that I hyperextended three times. I had to go to Dr. (Robert) Kerlan in Los Angeles to get it straightened out and then start all over again."

Kern posted 29 saves and a 1.57 ERA last year. Before saving Sunday's game for Doc Medich, 4-2, Kern had an ERA of 3.66 this season.

today's sports

The 6-foot-5 right-hander, the American League's best reliever last season, got his second save of the year by pitching hitless ball over the final 2-2-3 innings.

Fitzgerald

Ties For 1st

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—John Fitzgerald and Sandy McPherson tied for first place in the U.S. Modern Pentathlon fencing competition Sunday, each winning 22 of 31 bouts.

The first place finish gives Fitzgerald, two-time former National Pentathlon champion and Olympic team member in 1972 and 1976, the lead over the 32-man field after the fencing and riding events in the five-day, five-event competition.

Fitzgerald of Skokie, Ill., and McPherson of San Antonio each scored 1,000 points in the fencing matches Sunday.

Mike Storm of Arlington, Va., finished third with 965 points, followed by Mike Burley of Berea, Ohio, Greg Losey of Calistoga, Calif., and Bob Nieman of Oak Park, Ill., all tied with 930 points.

Monday's action shifts to the shooting competition. Other events include the 300-meter swim and the 4,000-meter run.

Veterans Upset Over Controls... Rutherford Wins 3rd Indy

compiled from AP stories
INDIANAPOLIS—Johnny Rutherford won his third and easiest Indy 500 race here Saturday, driving a bright yellow ground-effects Chaparral.

The Cosworth-powered machine, a brain-child of team owner Jim Hall, has now won three straight races to become the scourge of championship auto racing.

"The car is phenomenal," the square-jawed Texan explained. "Jim Hall has made this car just a pleasure to drive. It's not black magic. I take it to the limits when I can. When I can't, it tells me so."

There were challenges Sunday in the 64th running of the Memorial Day weekend classic, but Rutherford just kept the throttle down, drove through a problem with the rear wing and wound up pulling away from Perennial bridesmaid Tom Sneva at the end.

Full steam in the Chaparral, which Rutherford put on the pole at 192.256 mph, was a series of laps clocked in the low 190s. Despite those hot laps that eventually brought him victory, 13 caution flags and the horsepower restrictions legislated this year by the U.S. Auto Club held Rutherford's winning average speed to 142.862, the slowest since Rodger Ward won the 1962 race in 140:29.3.

Few of the 33 drivers in Sunday's 500—including Rutherford—seemed very happy with the power restrictions.

"It's something we had to live with," said Rutherford. "It was an appropriate choice of words since USAC's goal, when it cut the power, was to help keep all the drivers alive through the grueling afternoon on the 2.5-mile asphalt track. However, no driver had been killed here since 1973 or even seriously injured since 1975."

"They all lived with it—no thanks to the USAC, some of the drivers seemed to say."

"A lot of those yellow lights were due to the slower speeds," Rutherford said of the 13 cautions, which were due in part to crashes that knocked out a half-dozen cars.

"I think some of the crashes were caused by them (the rules). Guys were taking chances out there because we couldn't pass when we wanted to."

Al Unser another three-time winner, was more than displeased with the reduction in power. He said of the new boost limit: "They can keep it!"

Monte Gambol knocked a double and two singles and winning pitcher Tracey Neves—who fired a one-hitter—aided with a double and a single as the Rebels defeated the Dodgers Saturday, 7-1.

Terrence Dennis hit three singles and Sterling Williams, David Coffee and Jeff Minor added one apiece for the winners.

Darren pace got the lone Dodgers hit, a single. Neves recorded 13 strikeouts.

Buffs 16, Bullets 5
David Gee led with two doubles and two singles and Barry Davis and Curtis Gafford had a double and a single each as the Buffs polished a 16-5 victory Saturday.

Winning pitcher Jimmy Cain added four singles while Tommy Hunter and Jimmy Velasquez knocked a single each.

For the Bullets, Sammy Loveall hit a double and James Caldwell slammed two singles. Paul Tate, Jay Mayo and David West hit a single each.

Texas Eliminated From National Bid

AUSTIN (AP)—Hawaii's "Keiki Korps" — the freshmen — got help from junior Thad Reece in defeating Texas, 7-3, and completing a three-game sweep of the NCAA Central Regional baseball tournament.

Hawaii won its first trip to the College World Series in three tries by defeating Pan American, 8-4, Friday; Louisiana Tech, 2-1, Saturday and Texas on Sunday night.

The Rainbows were ousted in the regional playoffs in 1977 and last year when they won an extraordinary 69 games in regular season.

Fourth-ranked Texas eliminated Louisiana Tech,

7-6, Sunday on Chris Campbell's eighth inning double and two innings of scoreless relief by Keith Creel, 16-1, to set up the night game with Hawaii — the first time the two teams had played each other.

Supported by a loud, pro-Texas crowd of nearly 5,000, the Longhorns took a 2-0 lead in the fourth inning on four singles, including run-scoring hits by Jerry Schmid and Milo Chioate.

Brian Magid of George Washington won the 1979-80 college basketball free-throw title with a percentage of 92.9.

Graham Cops Memorial; Watson Finishes Second

DUBLIN, Ohio (AP)—David Graham won the Memorial Golf tournament by beating Tom Watson at his own game in the bunkers and on the greens.

"I knew I would have to putt well if I were going to beat him," said the slender Australian Sunday after his 1-stroke victory over the American member, his third consecutive sub-par round over this 7,116-yard Jack Nicklaus creation. He finished at 280 for a $54,000 payday.

Watson muffed an opportunity to match Graham's birdie and force a playoff.

His effort from 20 feet slid by the hole on the left. "It was not a difficult putt. I putted it to break right. It didn't, I guess I need glasses," said a shrugging Watson, his 71 giving the defending champion a 281 total.

McLennan topped Cleveland State. GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP)—Defending champion Middle Georgia, paced by the four-run batting of both Ernest Riles and Randy Lanier, hammered Mesa, Ariz., Community College 17-4 to advance in the National Junior College World Series.

In the other winners bracket game Sunday night, Perry Ginn drove in five runs with a triple and homer to lead McLennan Community College of Waco to an 11-5 victory over Cleveland State, Tenn.

In losers bracket games, Linn-Benton, Ore., defeated Triton, Ill., 12-2. Monroe, N.Y., beat Iowa Western 6-4 and Triton edged Community College of Baltimore 6-5. The losses dropped Triton, Iowa Western and Baltimore from the double-elimination tournament.

Middle Georgia scored seven runs in the first inning and five more in the fifth after Mesa closed the margin to 7-4. Riles and Lanier keyed both rallies.

Riles' two-run single in the first was followed by Lanier's three-run homer.

Riles hit a two-run triple in the fifth and Lanier followed with his run-scoring single.

In the McLennan-Cleveland State game, Ginn tripled across two runs to give McLennan a 2-0 first-inning lead. His three-run homer in the third widened the margin to 7-2.

Righthander Kevin Kollmansperger and reliever Ted Tobolka combined for a seven-hitter. Tobol-ka got the final three outs after Killmansperger allowed the first three Cleveland State batters to reach base.

Dale Scott led Cleveland State with three hits. Cleveland State will play Linn-Benton today in losers bracket while McLennan meets Seminole, Okla., Junior College this evening in the winners bracket. Mesa also meets Monroe in losers bracket play today.

Middle Georgia's next opponent has not been determined.

Young Wins Corning Event

CORNING, N.Y. (AP)—Donna Caponi Young fought off swirling winds and two rookies Sunday to post her third tour victory this season by winning the Ladies Professional Golf Association's $100,000 Corning Classic.

Young thus boosted her hopes of becoming the first woman golfer to win $200,000 in a year.

Young dominated the par-74 Corning Country Club course all week long, winning a share of the pro-am competition before the tournament even started. She posted a course-record 6-under-par 66 in the first round and never trailed, although her margin of victory was cut to 2 strokes when she faltered over the last seven holes.

Rookie Myra VanHoose mounted a strong challenge by shooting a 67 to finish within two strokes of Young's 281.

Middle Georgia scored seven runs in the first inning and five more in the fifth after Mesa closed the margin to 7-4. Riles and Lanier keyed both rallies.

Riles' two-run single in the first was followed by Lanier's three-run homer.

Bandido Informant Says He Fears For His Life

FORT WORTH (AP)—An informant contends avenging Bandido motorcycle gang members want to kill him for telling federal grand jurors he overheard gang members plot the assassination of federal judges.

"If they find me, I'm looking at a plot in the ground. That's about how far I'd get — six feet underground," Benton "Cowboy" Parrish told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram in an article published Sunday.

Parrish told the newspaper he overheard talk of a "hit" during a February 1979 gang meeting in Houston, just three months before a sniper gunned down U.S. District Judge John Wood in San Antonio.

"I didn't know at the time which judge they were going to hit on first," Parrish told the newspaper. "The way they were talking was like there were three or four judges going to get done."

The informant said he told his story to federal grand jurors investigating the assassination of Wood and the attempted killing of then assistant U.S. Attorney James Kerr.

He said he also told grand jurors that he overheard gang leaders "chewing out" a Bandido member for failing to kill Kerr.

An unknown assassin shot Wood last May 29 outside his fashionable townhouse. Kerr ducked beneath the dashboard to avoid a fusillade of automatic weapons fire that riddled his car the previous November.

Wood earned the nickname "Maximum John" with the stiff sentences he gave persons convicted of drug-related crimes. Kerr, prior to the attack on him, had been involved in a wide-ranging drug smuggling investigation that focused on the motorcycle gang.

U.S. Attorney Jamie Boyd said last week he plans to empanel a special 36-month grand jury in San Antonio to look into the attacks on Wood and Kerr. Grand jurors who heard Parrish's testimony completed their term and have been disbanded.

Parrish told the newspaper his role in the investigation began following his arrest for murder in the 1978 stabbing death of Doty Jones in Brazos County.

He said the Houston police asked him to infiltrate the gang because he was associated with Bandidos at the time. He said he agreed because he thought it might help him in his murder case.

Records in Brazos County show charges against Parrish were later dropped last month, the newspaper reported.

Budget Battle Begins In Earnest Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress faces a tough fight over a compromise $613.3 billion 1981 balanced budget that would give the Pentagon a record peacetime spending increase.

With the battle lines already drawn, the struggle begins in earnest Wednesday when Congress returns from a long Memorial Day weekend.

The compromise, reached last week by a House-Senate conference committee, is opposed in the House by conservative Republicans and by an influential bloc of liberal-to-moderate Democrats.

House Democratic leaders concede that the vote on final passage, expected Thursday, will likely be close and that Republican votes could be crucial.

The original House version of the budget — with a smaller defense allocation — passed May 7 by a 225-193 vote that included the support of 22 Republicans. Additional GOP votes may be needed for passage now because some Democrats who supported the original budget are opposed to the House-Senate compromise version. Rep. Delbert Latta, R-Ohio, ranking Republican on the House Budget Committee, predicts that 40 to 50 Republicans will vote for the budget because of the high defense number and its promise of no deficit.

However, an increasingly powerful group of junior Republicans have vowed to fight the package on the floor. They say Latta's prediction is far too high.

The GOP opponents, including Rep. Jack Kemp, R-N.Y., complain that the budget's overall spending level is too high, that it offers no cut and that its projections of no deficit is unrealistic.

Liberal-to-moderate Democrats have objected to the budget because it gives defense $153.7 billion while slashing domestic programs. The defense figure represents a $16 billion bigger increase than ever before recorded in peacetime.

In the conference committee, House negotiators agreed to raise the House defense spending figure by $5.8 billion, while Senate negotiators came down only $2 billion from the defense figure originally set by the full Senate.

The domestic cuts contained in the compromise apparently would force a halving in the number of public service jobs under the Comprehensive Employment Training Act from 200,000 to 100,000.

The cuts also would hit mass transit and other transportation programs hard. Low-income energy assistance would be held to current-year spending.

In other congressional action this week, the House is scheduled to consider a recommendation from the ethics committee to censure Rep. Charles H. Wilson, D-Calif., for allegedly improper financial dealings.

The Senate may start debate this week on President Carter's plan to re-new draft registration, but Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., says he will try to delay action to allow opposition to build. The plan has already passed the house.

VA Pensions Go Up Next Month

A number of veterans, their dependents and survivors will receive increases in their Veterans Administration pension benefits effective June 1, according to E.H. (Dan) Dever, Jr., Service Office for Scurry County.

The increased payments will be reflected in the checks received about July 1.

Social Security benefit payments are being increased by 14.3 percent effective June 1. Under current laws, all VA pension benefits paid to disabled veterans, their widows and children, and dependency and indemnity compensation paid to dependents of deceased veterans, are also affected by the Social Security increase. Under the pension law which went into effect Jan. 1, 1979, benefits for veterans, widows and children will also be increased by 14.3 percent on June 1. Dependency and indemnity compensation paid to dependent parents of veterans will be increased by the same percentage.

For those under a pension law which was in effect prior to Jan. 1, 1979, there will be an increase in the annual income limitation but the benefit payments themselves will not be changed.

Persons who have questions about VA benefits may contact Dever's office at Western Texas College. The office is open each weekday.

GROUP TAKES FIELD TRIP—The Early Childhood Education class took a field trip recently to the Charles Anderson farm south of town, where they collected and observed items of nature during a hike. They had refreshments at the farm and returned to

Spring Blizzard Hits Rockies

By LARRY ELKIN, Associated Press Writer
Winds of up to 75 mph blasted through windows in Wyoming, piled the snows of a spring blizzard into drifts 21 feet deep in Colorado and whipped prairie fires across nearly 70,000 acres of drought-parched grazing land in eastern Montana.

Meanwhile, hundreds of western Montana residents ignored official warnings to leave their homes as the fierce spring storm glutted rivers and streams. Kayakers were sighted on the streets of Great Falls, and stream-side residents lay out sandbags for protection against record rains.

The blizzard that roared over the Rocky Mountain states shoved truck rigs off highways in Wyoming and forced officials to close roads through higher elevations. Tornadoes were reported in Colorado, Montana and Wyoming as the cold front that triggered the weekend storms moved toward South Dakota. More rain was forecast for today in western Montana, but firefighters in the sparsely populated east got little promise of precipitation for that area, which has not had significant rainfall for months. Winds and temperatures in the 80s in western Montana on Sunday sent a day-old, lightning-triggered grass fire roaring past firefighters who thought they had contained it. Officials said some ranchers were forced to leave homes and livestock behind as the blaze, which began near Glendive, leaped the Yellowstone River and burned 20 miles to the north along the North Dakota border.

In the western part of the state, the Missoula County sheriff's office said a few homes in Pattee Canyon suffered water damage when a creek went over its banks. Hundreds of residents along the creek were advised to leave for shelters but officials said late Sunday that no one showed up.

The storm helped break a 52-year-old area record for the wettest month ever, bringing May's total to 6 1/2 inches and drowning the 5 1/2-inch mark set in November 1927.

Great Falls received 3.48 inches of rain in the storm, the most ever measured in a 24-hour period. However, the National Weather Service said no major flooding was expected on larger rivers.

And while the rest of the Rocky Mountain West enjoyed springlike weather, the season's first visitors to Yellowstone National Park found their campsites under 8 inches of snow.

The weather service said the high winds had blown two truck rigs and several automobiles off the road at South Pass, Wyo. Windows in Lander, Wyo., were reported shattered by the wind, and gusts of up to 75 mph near Durango, in southwest Colorado, blew out the screen of a drive-in movie theater.

The annual Memorial Day weekend opening of the highest automobile through-road in the country, Trail Ridge Road in Colorado's Rocky Mountain National Park, was postponed because crews were unable to clear snow drifts up to 21 feet deep.

Firemen Called
A grass fire was doused Saturday by city firefighters. The fire occurred at Ave. B and 27th St. and was reported at 1:45 p.m.

Navy Ships Due Hero Welcome

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—They sailed for nine months and 75,000 miles and watched the aircraft carrier leave for an aborted rescue mission in Iran. Today, the men of the USS Nimitz, USS Texas and USS California are coming home.

The 7,000 Navy men are returning to a hero's welcome from their commander-in-chief, President Carter, and 50,000 relatives, friends and well-wishers expected at the Norfolk Naval Base.

The welcome came one day after aviators from the Nimitz returned to their home bases.

Some Navy and local officials called the outpouring of support and interest in the return of Indian Ocean battle group unprecedented in the years since World War II.

Cartier was to address the men on the Nimitz, with his remarks broadcast to the two cruisers and the families on shore.

The battle group left Norfolk in early September for a routine Mediterranean cruise but was diverted to the Indian Ocean in January following the seizure of American hostages in Iran and the Soviet occupation of Afghanistan.

The Nimitz did not have a port call after it left Italy on Jan. 3.

The RH-53D helicopters used in the attempted rescue of the hostages, an attempt that left eight American servicemen dead, flew off the Nimitz while it sailed within sight of Iran.

HM16, the squadron that maintained the helicopters and left seven of its eight aircraft in the Iranian desert, flew home May 18. Three squadrons from the carrier's air wing returned to Naval Air Station Oceana in Virginia Beach on Sunday and other air teams went to home bases on the West Coast and in Florida.

"It's the most emotional experience I've had in the U.S. Navy," Cmdr. Emory Brown, skipper of Oceana-based VF34, said of watching helicopters take off for the rescue mission from a ship bathed in "total silence."

"We knew where they were going. We knew exactly what was going on," even when no one told them officially, Brown said.

Brown's F-14 team and the carrier's other fighter and attack squadrons were on alert for the 11 hours from takeoff until word came the mission was aborted, he said.

"But many aviators had other things on their minds at the sight of families, friends and home," said Lt. Larry Fritch of VA36 as he took a sip of beer.

"Then comes this," as he kissed "very good friend" Becky Graves.

Swim Classes For Women Set At WTC Beginning Swimming instruction for women will be offered in classes starting June 2 at Western Texas College.

Beginning students' classes will meet from 5:30-6:30 p.m. Monday and Wednesday from June 2-25.

An intermediate course for women is to begin June 3 and continue through June 26 with classes from 5:30-6:30 p.m.

Carol Darby will be instructor for both classes and for children's classes beginning June 2. Fees for all classes are $35 per person.

Details about classes may be obtained by calling the Continuing Education office at 573-8511, extension 240.

Entertainer 'Works Out' NEW YORK (AP)—On stage, entertainer Tom Jones appears in snugly fitting clothes with his shirt open to the beltline.

Behind the scenes, he works out vigorously to keep in shape for his swivel-hip performances.

"I like what I'm doing," he told today's Daily News. "The workout helps me. It means I don't have to build up a crescendo. Everything comes smoothly."

Now appearing at Westbury Music Fair, Jones says he loves New York. "After a performance, I like to make the rounds of the night spots. New Yorkers are exciting."

"I only have two vices. Champagne and cigars."

Various Tasks Handled By American Satellites

WASHINGTON (AP)—Satellites launched by the United States are doing more these days than just spying from on high. Landsat-3 is showing Pakistan where to build a new port, Kenya how to protect its cattle from lions and Bolivia where to find lithium that could help fuel the cars of the future.

Landsat-3 completes a series of orbits every 18 days from a track 560 miles in space, sending back signals that can be converted into pictures of the earth's surface.

Engineers interpret the photos to help find water, gauge the size of crops and calculate where minerals may lie. The resulting data goes to 400 programs in the United States and 30 other countries.

Although many poor countries say they are worried about the spy potential of satellites, the United States takes the position that all information on natural resources like that gathered by Landsat-3 should be available to anyone.

A multinational company, with expensive analysts and laboratories, can buy the pictures and learn more about a country's resources than its own government knows. That knowledge becomes a valuable bargaining weapon when the company is making a deal with a government to develop the resources.

The information itself is a bargain.

Bolivia spent about $10,000 to discover what AID says are the most-dense lithium deposits in the world on a remote salt flat where only a few goat herders had ever ventured. A U.S. Company has invested $136 million in further exploration.

Lithium, the lightest of metals, has many uses in electronics and in nuclear reactors. If power for peaceful uses can be produced from the fusion reaction now used only in nuclear weapons, lithium may become an important source of fuel. Experiments with electric cars and trucks also use lithium in high-voltage batteries.

Kenya's problem is more immediate; the trade-off between protecting game and cattle. This is the beginning of the rainy season when zebras, giraffes, gazelles and other game — pursued by lions and cheetahs — move north from Tanzania into Kenya grazing land.

This drives the cattle of Kenya tribes farther north, how much farther depending on how well

4 Snyderites Receive ASU Scholarships

SAN ANGELO—Four students from Snyder are recipients of an Angelo State University Presidential Scholarship for the 1980-81 academic year.

They are: Billie Lee Owens who was nominated to the National Honor Society and was awarded the Tiger Sport Award. She also participated in tennis, basketball and volleyball. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.D. Owens.

Suzanne Denise Fisher was nominated to the National Honor Society and Who's Who. She was chosen Journalism Sweetheart and captain of the volleyball team. She also participated in basketball, track, Student Council, and school newspaper feature editor. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Fisher.

Melinda Kim Harlin was nominated to the National Honor Society, of which she was secretary. She also participated in volleyball, tennis, baseball, dance and was on her church board. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Harlin, Jr.

And Donna Gayle McGee who also was nominated to the National Honor Society and rated in the top 10 in her class. She also participated in tennis and was team captain and District Champion. Donna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene McGee.

Selection for the scholarship is based on ACT testing scores, honor society memberships and recommendations by high school counselors.

Driving Course Begins June 2

Defensive Driving will be offered at Western Texas College in classes meeting June 2 and 9.

Licensed drivers who complete the course receive a certificate entitling them to discounts on several types of automobile insurance for a period of three years.

Dr. James Palmer will be instructor for the classes, which will meet from 6-10 p.m. in room 110 of Building 2B. Fees will be $15 per person, payable at registration at the first class meeting.

Persons wishing further information may contact the Adult Vocational Education office at WTC, 573-8511, extension 240.

Hostages Not Discussed At Iran Session

By The Associated Press
Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini and President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr addressed members of Iran's new Parliament, as three European Socialist leaders and a U.N. envoy visited Tehran to assess the situation of the U.S. hostages.

Iranian officials said the hostage question was not discussed in separate meetings Sunday night and today when the Europeans. Chancellor Bruno Kreisky of Austria, former Swedish Prime Minister Olof Palme and Spanish Socialist Party chief Felipe Gonzalez met with Bani-Sadr and Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh.

But sources said it would be taken up in another meeting the Europeans were to have with Bani-Sadr before leaving Tehran tonight.

Kreisky, who earlier called the visit a "pure information trip" on behalf of the Socialist International, said they "discussed all aspects of the revolution" during their first meeting with Bani-Sadr. Said Palme: "We discussed all relevant questions."

Prisoner Breaks Car's Windshield

An unruly prisoner, while being transported to the city early Sunday morning, broke the windshield of a police patrol car.

The subject, a 19-year-old man, had been picked up by Sgt. Wade Norris on a public intoxication charge. After breaking the windshield, he wound up being charged with public intoxication and criminal mischief. The incident occurred about 12:10 a.m. Sunday.

Four traffic accidents were also investigated during the weekend.

The first was at noon Saturday in the 2400 block of Ave. Q. It involved a 1979 Ford driven by Chloanne Lindsey and a 1978 Mercury driven by Josephine Randals. It was worked by Joe Bob Martinez.

Buddy Kinney worked the next wreck, reported at 5:10 p.m. Saturday at Cogdell Memorial Hospi-

Snyderite's Son Killed In Road Mishap

Reports show a fatal 1979 Ford owned by Sheila Gale Eckert was struck by a vehicle which left the scene.

Sunday. Martinez investigated a wreck in the 2500 block of College. There, a 1977 Lincoln driven by Lavelle Eieke and a 1977 Chevrolet driven by Randy Middleton collided. Moderate damages were reported. The collision was reported at 9 a.m.

At 5:35 p.m., Kinney investigated a two-car collision in the 400 block of 34th St. It involved a 1973 Pontiac driven by Clarence Scrivner and a 1980 Ford driven by Rodney Busby.

Greg Manning of Maryland had a 90.8 free-throw percentage and was 54.3 from the field in the 1979-80 college basketball season.

Robert Middleton, about 20, son of Mrs. Paula Middleton of Snyder, was injured fatally early Sunday in a one-car traffic accident on Interstate Highway 45 near Houston. He died at 2 a.m. Sunday in a Houston hospital.

Funeral services have been set for 10 a.m. Tuesday at the Colonial Funeral Home in Pasadena.

In addition to his mother, he is survived by a brother, Randy Middleton, also of Snyder.

Sadat Urges New Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Egyptian President Anwar Sadat says the United States must come forward with its own proposals to break the deadlock that prevented Egypt and Israel from meeting today's target date for an agreement on Palestinian autonomy.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Fowler

Mrs. Pam Fowler, 31, who lived at 4106 Jacksboro Ave., died at 10:30 a.m. Sunday in West Texas Medical Center at Lubbock following a long illness.

Funeral service has been set for 10 a.m. Tuesday at First United Methodist Church in Snyder, with the Rev. David Robertson, pastor, and the Rev. Frank Peery of Dumas, officiating. Following the rites here, the body will be taken to Muleshoe for graveside rites and burial in the Muleshoe Cemetery. The Rev. David Hamblin will officiate at the graveside service.

A native of Hereford, she was married to Joe Fowler on June 21, 1968 in Muleshoe. He survives.

Also surviving are a daughter, Allyson of the home; two sons, Steve and Jeff, both of the home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kerr of Muleshoe, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E.O. Baker of Muleshoe.

A Pam Fowler memorial fund is being started by friends at the M.D. Anderson Hospital, 6723 Bertner, Houston 77030.

Mrs. Jordan

Mrs. Homer Jordan, mother of Cecil Jordan of Snyder, died at 12:25 p.m. Sunday in Alexander City, Ala.

Funeral service will be held Tuesday in Alexander City. Also among survivors is a grandson, Keith Jordan, of Snyder.

Dancer Asks U.S. Asylum

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—A Romanian folk dancer who disappeared from her troupe 12 days ago has flown to the United States to seek political asylum, Israeli newspapers said today.

Elena Tutan, 35, was reported to have left Israel for New York secretly Sunday after hiding out with an Israeli family.

According to press accounts, Mrs. Tutan disappeared from Ben-Gurion Airport near Tel Aviv on May 14 before she was to return to Romania,
