Tornadoes' Death Tally Reaches 35

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—A string of seven tornadoes that wrecked this central Nebraska city killed at least 35 people, injured 129 and destroyed about 100 buildings, officials said today.

"It's terrible. It's pathetic," said Wendy Clark of the local Civil Defense office as the tornadoes struck in a three-hour period late Tuesday.

The city's two hospitals were filled with casualties, including four people critically injured, as the twisters wrecked an area covering 150 square blocks in the city of 48,000 residents.

A city official who did not want to be identified said this morning the death toll had reached 35. A Civil Defense official confirmed that many bodies were found in one location this morning.

Scores of persons were unaccounted for, although officials said they expected many would turn up when order is restored.

Several small fires broke out this morning and firefighters had little water available.

All utilities were knocked out and Mayor Robert Kriz said it would be late today before electricity was restored.

Civil Defense officials asked Grand Islanders to conserve what water they had for fighting fires and

Carter's Primary Wins Clouded By Kennedy's Refusal To Quit

By Donald Rothberg
AP Political Writer

President Carter emerged today from the long presidential primary campaign with the Democratic delegate majority he needed for his renomination, but his moment of triumph was clouded by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's refusal to abandon his challenge.

overall race for delegates, Kennedy had his biggest night of the primary campaign.

The senator won five of the final eight Democratic primaries, including the largest state, California.

Kennedy also carried New Jersey, Rhode Island, New Mexico, and South Dakota.

Carter won Ohio, Montana and West Virginia.

Making clear his determination to carry his campaign to the Democratic convention, Kennedy told supporters Tuesday night that "today, Democrats from coast to coast were unwilling to concede the nomination to Jimmy Carter and neither am I."

Kennedy's longshot strategy for overcoming Carter's delegate lead called for a strong showing in the final primaries that might convince Democrats that Carter was likely loser to Reagan in the Nov. 4 general election.

Reagan had no active opposition in the nine GOP primaries. He told a Los Angeles victory party:

"The road has been a long one and the mountain seemed pretty tall at times. But we've made it to the summit. Now, there's another one out there and our march begins again."

As soon as it was clear from the returns Tuesday night that he had the delegates to push his total above the 1,666 needed for the Democratic nomination, Carter joined 300 cheering supporters at a victory party at "The Buck Stops Here," a bar near the White House.

"As I stand before you, I have one deep feeling in my heart," said Carter.

"That is thanksgiving to all of you who turned what eight months ago was a prediction of absolute defeat into a wondrous victory tonight."

But a dozen blocks away, another celebration was underway at the Kennedy headquarters.

The Massachusetts senator, his wife and children at his side, claimed a "clear majority" of the votes cast on the final primary election day of the 1980 campaign "despite all the predictions that we could not win."

United Way Panel Works On Budget

The budget and admissions committee of the Scurry County United Way began its conferences with participating agencies this morning in preparation for compiling the organization's new budget.

The committee, chaired by Dr. Edward Barkowsky, planned sessions this morning and Thursday morning in the council room at city hall. Representatives of several agencies were on hand this morning to present their respective proposed budgets to the committee and others will be heard tomorrow.

No Structural Damage From Statue Blast

NEW YORK (AP)—A bomb blast at the Statue of Liberty, the first in the monument's 94-year history, caused an estimated $6,000 damage to artifacts but did not damage the structure of the giant national landmark, officials said.

There were no injuries Tuesday when the blast occurred more than an hour after the last tourists left Liberty Island in New York Harbor.

Ask Us

Q—Is it true that Snyder once had regularly-scheduled commercial airline service, and if so, what happened to it?
A—Yes, Snyder was served during the "oil boom" years of the early fifties by Pioneer Airlines, a regional carrier. It was later taken over by Continental Airlines, which continued the service here for a time with four flights daily, but discontinued the service when the number of passengers declined in the late fifties.

Burglaries Keep Officers On Run

Five burglaries or attempted burglaries were reported this morning to police and the sheriff's office.

At 2:30 a.m., the first of the break-in reports came in. Sgt. Dale Burns was notified of a break-in at City Laundry. Burns said the only thing that appeared to be taken, however, was a spare set of keys.

At 5:50 a.m., Bill Armstrong investigated a burglary at the Smorgasbord. Armstrong reported the front door had been kicked in and that numerous small items had been taken, including cigarettes, coins from cigarette machines, and chewing tobacco.

It was a cash register, however, that was taken from Town and Country Meat Market. Burns, who worked the case, said the cash register is valued at $450, but added it contained no money. That break-in was reported at 6:45 a.m.

An attempt was made to break into Minute Market, but the front door withstood efforts to pry it open. That case, reported at 7:10 a.m., was worked by Joe Bob Martinez.

Deputy sheriffs investigated a burglary in Union of the Red Jackson Chevron station. As at Town and Country, the cash register was stolen. In this instance, however, the cash register contained an estimated $15 to $20. The burglary was reported at 7 a.m.

Tax Cuts May Come Earlier

WASHINGTON (AP)—Acknowledging that the nation's economic recession is "steeper than we've anticipated," President Carter is holding out the possibility of reducing taxes next year, apparently advancing his tax cut timetable.

But he said in an interview broadcast Sunday that he will not propose any 1980 tax reduction to stimulate the economy.

Record Low Turnout Of Voters Seen

Absentee voting ended Tuesday for the Democratic Party's runoff primary election Saturday, and if history repeats, there will be one of the lightest turnouts in history.

Only 15 absentee votes were cast.

In the first primary held on May 3, there were more than 340 absentee votes cast and the eventual total was 3,543. If the same ratio evolves this time, there will be less than 200 votes.

In anticipation of the light turnout, Gene Bowlin county Democratic Chairman, already has announced plans to combine several of the polling places and to operate others with a minimum staff.

There are only three races requiring a runoff in the second Democratic primary and they all involve state court posts. The Republicans have no runoff races.

its effectiveness would be diminished if it had to do work for this county and Fisher County, too.

The motion not to assist Fisher County was made by Kenneth Wilson and seconded by Ross Blanchard. It passed unanimously.

Examined last night was a tentative budget drawn up by Peveler. The estimated expenses for the operation of the tax appraisal office for 1980 came to about $220,000. No action was taken on the matter, however.

Nor was any initial action taken to fill a vacancy on the board of equalization. Peveler informed board members that Edwin Kuss resigned his position, thus creating a vacancy. Board members agreed to contact several persons and try to find someone who can fill the vacancy, and vote on the matter at the next meeting.

Routine bills totaling $198 were approved.

Drops Prime Rate To 13%

NEW YORK (AP)—Chase Manhattan Bank, the nation's third largest, today cut its prime lending rate one full percentage point to 13 percent.

The prime interest rate banks charge on loans to their best-risk corporate borrowers has been in a sharp decline since peaking at 20 percent in early April.

Most other banks are quoting a 14 percent prime, although Chase's action today is expected to prompt other major banks to follow its lead.

Wednesday update

Recession All But Official

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's all but official now: The U.S. economy is in a recession. All that remains to be determined is how severe it will be and how long it will last.

President Carter has previously said the nation is probably in a recession, but even the president isn't the final judge.

The authoritative word rests with a group of academic economists at the National Bureau of Economic Research in Cambridge, Mass., and they rendered their decision Tuesday.

The formal announcement said a recession probably struck the economy in January, earlier than most economists have thought. The scholars said recent economic activity peaked in January and has been moving down ever since.

Idi Amin Says He's Loved

LONDON (AP)—Ousted dictator Idi Amin says most Ugandans love him and want him back in power, and that he's more than willing to answer the call. He also denied stealing, torturing, murdering or fleeing in battle.

"I have all Ugandans at heart. They keep me informed. Most of them love me, pass information to me and want me to save them from the chaos situation now happening in Uganda," he said in an BBC-TV interview shown Tuesday.

Lists of "you knows" continue to pop up. We had one the other day, passed along by Harry Stevens, listing "you know you are getting old when..."

Since then, there have been others and now they are coming in "his and hers" form.

So, we will put ladies first and present today the "you know you are growing old" for the ladies:

When you quit reading Dear Abby because you think she has become too liberal.

You can remember when "the pill" used to be an aspirin.

When inner beauty suddenly becomes very important.

When you convince yourself that a couple of wrinkles give your face character.

When your children keep reminding you to act your age.

When you cancel your subscription to Cosmopolitan and begin taking Good Housekeeping.

When somebody whistles and you're not sure whether they are whistling at you.

When somebody whistles and you are sure they aren't whistling at you.

When people ask if you can "remember when?" and you can.

When you secretly hate any woman who still looks good in a two-piece bathing suit.

When you stop going to high school reunions for fear that everybody else will look younger than you do.

When somebody mentions "A Star is Born" and you immediately think of Judy Garland.

When people keep telling you that your stockings are wrinkled and you're not wearing any stockings.

When your beautician automatically adds tint to the rinse without even asking.

When you overhear your husband talking about a "hot little dish at home" and you know he is talking about your cooking.

When your favorite magazine articles have to do with dieting, marriage and regularity.

When you can put on weight by eating nothing more than peach slices and cottage cheese.

When you can wear hair curlers to bed and your husband doesn't complain.

The cactus patch philosopher says that growing old is only a state of mind—brought on by gray hair, false teeth, wrinkles, a big belly, short breath and an over-all feeling of being constantly pooped.—WACIL MCNAIR castro loses magic

Fidel Castro's victory in Cuba happened in the blink of an eye. Seemingly overnight his forces triumphed and the dictator fled. Yes, he had been struggling for years, but the Batista dictatorship seemed so powerful one day and the next day... it was gone. That was December 1958. Recent events in Cuba suggest Castro's blood-soaked regime could end just as quickly.

Since mid-1970 Castro has seemed like a powerful world leader, sending troops to the ends of the world and making speeches that would put Mussolini to shame. Like that Italian dictator, Castro sticks out his chest; it's all show.

Over the years Castro's dictatorship has never been able to make the Cuban economy function. Crop failures wrecked the once strong agricultural economy. The cause: "natural calamity" of course. Industrial shutdowns threw large numbers of workers into the streets. The reason: laziness of the people, not the government. Castro's communist regime is one of the few forces incompetent enough to bring once tobacco-rich Cuba to the point that it now imports Spanish tobacco in order to make its famous cigars.

Until the takeover of the Peruvian Embassy few leftists would admit the depth of discontent in Cuba. To the American left Fidel was a visionary, an idealist after their own kind. There may be validity to that identification; Castro has wrecked the economy of his island nation in the same way American leftists would ruin this nation's economy if they got a chance. Idealists may make good revolutionaries - they love to kill for their ideology - but they rarely are good at making an economy run.

Castro's current display of inhumanity may be turning off some of his trendy leftist support in the United States. It is a bit difficult to overlook the murderous actions of the last few weeks. The bearded dictator has taken hospital patients and loaded them onto boats and pushed them into stormy seas. Fourteen people drowned when a 36-foot boat capsized. The captain said that Cuban authorities had forced him to take 52 refugees aboard, many more than was safe, and misled him about sea conditions. While such barbarity will disillusion many, some supporters will undoubtedly remain loyal. No one should, for example, hold his breath waiting for a protest from Jane Fonda and Tom Hayden.

None of this is being lost on the Russians, which likely explains the purpose for their combat brigade. They have been subsidizing Castro to the tune of $8 million a day and they are not likely to let this valuable base for subversion sink. Nevertheless it is possible that even the massive military might of the Soviet Union may not be able to save Fidel. If the Soviet presence is expanded surely Castro's popularity will suffer even further.

In the early 1960s, when the threat of a communist Cuba was understood, it was thought that United States military force might be needed to rid the hemisphere of the menace. Such an operation would have been costly in human and political terms. The way things are developing, Castro's regime could disappear without our military firing a shot.

Father's Day has certainly become one of our country's most cherished traditions since the idea was first conceived by a Spokane, Wash., woman almost 70 years ago.

While attempts had often been made to secure recognition for fathers, it wasn't until President Calvin Coolidge recommended a national observance day in 1924 that Father's Day emerged. Its position among national holidays was confirmed by the signing of a Father's Day bill by former President Nixon in 1972.

Local special recognition will be in order again this year to honor a Scurry County dad on Father's Day by being named King For A Day by the Texas CowBelles.

This is the CowBelles' and Snyder Daily News' third year in sponsoring a promotion to honor a local father on his day.

On June 17, 1979, Loyd Holley was crowned King For A Day. His daughter, Mrs. Flora Vida Gladson wrote the winning essay on "why my dad should be king for a day." Holley was 83, had three children, with Mrs. Gladson being the oldest and the only one living, 13 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

Jervis Bullard was the 1978 recipient of the special award for Father's Day. He is father of two daughters, step-father of two sons, and granddad of seven. Bullard and his wife reside east of town where he is in the farming and ranching business. His wife, Mary Nell, is employed by the Scurry County Library.

To nominate your deserving dad for this honor, just write a short essay, not more than 250 words, explaining "why my dad should be King For A Day" on or before June 10. Anyone is eligible except the CowBelles members and the SDN staff. Send to King For A Day, Box 949, Snyder, TX., 79549 or bring to SDN from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. before deadline.

This year's honored father will receive a $25 beef gift certificate, a dinner for two provided by The Shack, and will be featured by Snyder Daily News in the Father's Day edition.

As I was driving through traffic last week, my eyes caught sight of a stalled washer repair truck with the hood raised. The driver was pacing back and forth looking at his watch and then at the road for some sign of a tow truck.

May God forgive me for the exhilaration I felt. It was like watching Miss America with meat caught in her teeth. I'm not a vindictive woman but as I drove on, all kinds of fantasies flashed through my mind.

I could hear the guy at the service station saying, "What model have you got, Mac? No, I don't mean the year you bought the truck, I'm talking about model numbers.... Okay, here's what you do. Go back to the truck and look UNDER THE ENGINE. If you can't get someone to help you to turn the truck over, then you get on your back and use a mirror. And don't forget, the numbers will be reversed."

"Okay, you are going to be there, say, Monday in the afternoon? Hey, look, fella, I know you're blocking traffic, but we're approaching a weekend and a lot of cars are stranded, so give us a break. Walter's out with flu, Stan is getting married, and I'm here alone. Are you under warranty? What's the warranty number? Tell you what, if we don't make it Monday, we'll be there for sure Tuesday. Have a good day!" Does anyone have any idea how many women's hours have gone into waiting for repairmen of one kind or another?

It's bad enough to live with Bombeck's Laws of the Suburbs:

Anything "borrowed" will break down while it is cradled in your arms.

The box marked "warranties" holds only one... and covers parts for crepe maker which you've used only twice and has no parts.

letter to editor

To The Daily News: The West Texas Royalty Owners Association has sent out letters to royalty owners in Scurry County, asking them to fill out a questionnaire and fill out cards to send to our senators and representatives supporting a bill Senator Dole (R-Kan.) has introduced. This would exempt the first 10 barrels of royalty oil a day from the windfall profit tax. Representative Stenholm (D-Tex.) has introduced a similar bill.

The problems is that the Royalty Owners Association needs the questionnaire information, but some people are saying that information is none of their business and they are throwing theirs in the trash.

I have pointed out that they did not ask-in fact stated-that they need not be signed. If you still have your questionnaire, will you please fill it out? If the windfall profit tax isn't hurting you, think of the other people who are being hurt by it. One-Third, of most people's oil income is being taken by the windfall profits tax. If that figure can be lowered in any way, it needs to be. If you can help in any way, please do it. You will be at least, trying to do something about the unfair tax that I know of. housing costs

NEW YORK (AP)-After examining the report on housing released today by the U.S. League of Savings Association, which represents many mortgage lenders, you may conclude that home is where the money goes.

It remains true, to some extent, that home is also where the heart is, but it now takes a lot of cash as well as a lot of heart to keep the home from dominating rather than serving its master.

To begin with, the report states, it usually takes two paychecks today to support a newly bought home, because the price rose 32 percent in just two years, and monthly carrying costs jumped 37 percent to $550.

No less than 46 percent of 14,000 buyers examined last year needed to appropriate more than one-quarter of monthly income for principal and interest repayments, real estate taxes, utilities and insurance.

So expensive has the house become that only 18 percent of purchases last year were by first-time buyers, despite rapid family formations. Existing owners, with equity, were better able to meet requirements.

Nevertheless, nearly 43 percent of all home buyers last year put down less than 20 percent of the purchase price, choosing or being forced to carry 80 percent mortgages at extraordinarily high rates.

Housing costs, therefore, seem to have preempted the paycheck, leaving much less for savings, travel and entertainment, to mention just three of the activities that a second paycheck was supposed to finance.

But while costs have risen, so have values, and many homeowners have learned to tap them. In that sense, the house has also become a bank. Sellers in 1979 took $31,000 in equity from their homes, but used only two-thirds of that amount as down payments on their next homes.

The study, "Homeownership: Coping With Inflation," is viewed by the savings and loan people, who hold more than half of all outstanding home mortgages, as evidence of an inflation-induced crisis in housing.

Inflation, the report contends, not only focuses with particular intensity on housing markets but also depresses household savings, the primary source of home mortgage credit. It blames government policies.

"It is imperative that the federal government incorporate a balanced set of fiscal and monetary policies in the fight against inflation," the report states, adding:

"Anti-inflation policies which rely solely on high interest rates obviously are ineffective - and unfairly burden housing with most of the weight in the anti-inflation struggle."

The first words in the report state that "The 1979 housing market is the story of inflation's harmful impact on the American economy."

The impact, it says, was "traumatic," an effect that can be verified by the family that needed a house and couldn't afford it, and by those who bought houses and wonder now if they can continue to carry them.

or problem over his choice of a running mate. What's worse, none of them has yet been able to figure a way out of this bind.

Nearly everyone in the Reagan camp agrees that the strongest running mate for the former California governor would be Sen. Howard Baker of Tennessee. They think the Senate minority leader would serve as a link to the more moderate elements of the party, would likely prevent Reagan from losing many votes to independent candidate John Anderson and would make an excellent showing in debates with Vice President Walter Mondale.

But if Reagan chooses Baker, he will break a direct promise to a major special interest, thus casting himself as a candidate who breaks his solemn word when doing so becomes politically expedient.

Reagan has said that his running mate must share his views on all major issues. Baker and Reagan have differed on such major issues as the Panama Canal treaty, but that is considered past history by the Reagan camp. They now pronounce Baker sufficiently in agreement with Reagan on most of the issues.

But there is one big exception: abortion.

Reagan has long been on record as opposing abortion. He received much support in the primaries from right-to-life groups, which see him as the only major presidential candidate with a steady anti-abortion record.

Those same groups consider Baker to be one of the Senate's strongest supporters of abortion. They calculate that he has taken the pro-abortion side 27 times in 28 key Senate votes on the issue since 1973.

Making Reagan's problem even worse is the telegram he sent to a major Chicago-based right-to-life organization just before the critical Illinois primary. In that telegram he promised flatly that if nominated he would choose "a pro-life running mate."

Then in a major interview with the Wall Street Journal, Reagan was asked to list those issues on which he thought he and his running mate could disagree. Reagan named the Panama Canal and a Kemp-Roth type of sweeping tax cut. But on abortion, he insisted that "it would be very hard for me to accept (a pro-abortion running mate) because I feel that we are talking about the taking of a human life."

So, a classic no-win situation has arisen: Choosing Baker would break a direct promise. But not choosing Baker because of the abortion issue would brand Reagan as a zealot, or at least as being so dogmatic that all the old questions of whether he has the mind set to be president will be raised again.

Reagan's staff is trying to work him out of the bind. To start with, they got Baker to say publicly that he is not very interested in being vice president and that he does not expect to be. Thus, if Reagan has to pass him up, the excuse can be made that it was because Baker preferred to stay in the Senate.

In addition, Reagan pollster Richard Wirthlin has begun a national poll asking Republicans who they prefer as their party's vice presidential candidate. If Baker is the top choice—and many in the Reagan camp believe, or at least hope fervently, that he will be—Reagan can choose Baker on the basis that it is the will of the party.

Reagan insiders say that if the poll does not show overwhelming support of Baker for the No. 2 spot, the likely choice will be the man likely to cost Reagan the least politically. Their current thinking is that Indiana Sen. Richard Lugar fits this bill.

Meanwhile, the Reagan camp is trying to broaden its base among all elements of the Republican Party.

In recent days, Stuart Spencer and William Timmons, former aides of President Ford, have been invited to join the Reagan campaign in key positions. Both reportedly said they will have to think it over, but they will likely come on board before the Republican Convention in July.

Your Birthday

June 5, 1980 This coming year your luck could center on material acquisition if you don't let your love of independence overrule practicality. Be cooperative and your rewards could be quite large.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's not likely you'll get the support for which you had hoped from others today. Becoming upset over the situation will make matters worse. Romance, travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph letter, which begins with your birthday. CANCER (June 21-July 22) It's quite possible today you may do something even though your better judgment tells you not to. If you do, you'll create a problem for yourself.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be wary of involving yourself today in any type of situation with friends where money or something of material value is at stake. One of you will be misled if things don't come out right.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) All partnership matters or one-to-one relationships will require extremely tactful handling today. Be as cooperative as possible, even if the other guy isn't.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If possible work alone today. Coworkers or helpmates could cause more headaches than the value of what they'll produce.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Take care in whom you place your faith today, especially in money matters. If you throw caution to the winds, you could be very disappointed.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If neither you nor your mate is able to yield today over opposing views, home harmony could be disrupted. At least try to find a middle ground.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You might have a much more difficult time than usual of keeping your thoughts to yourself if a coworker irritates you today. A confrontation could occur.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) To yield to an extravagant craving today would not be smart and you know it. Yet, unless you discipline yourself, you could do just that.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Finding fault with things or people is easy to do, but it causes only trouble and rarely solves anything. Recall this before pointing a finger at anyone.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A lack of patience or tolerance for fellow workers could cause your temper to flare today. You won't like yourself if you lose control, so be indulgent.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) The takers in this world might have you pegged as an easy mark today. You know who they are. Avoid them and you'll save yourself aggravation. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

South looked over dummy with trepidation. He said to himself, "Greed is a terrible thing. We have nine top tricks at notrump and if I fail to bring home the spade game my partner is going to explain to me in several hundred well-chosen words how the 500-point rubber bonus is worth more than 150 for honors."

He saw that he needed to develop an extra trick in clubs or diamonds and that clubs offered the best chance. A 3-2 bfeak is far more likely than a 3-3 break.

So he took the heart and played ace and another club. The suit was breaking 3-2 and things looked good.

Cosmorama Installs New Officers

The Cosmorama Study Club met for a luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles W. Harrell May 17.

Officers for the new year were installed by Mrs. D.E. Teal. The officers are Mrs. T.A. Hicks, president; Mrs. Ray Courtney, first vice president; Mrs. Jerry Smith, second vice president; Mrs. Jack Gorman, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Beth Curry, recording secretary and Mrs. Bill Line, treasurer.

Hostesses were Mmes. Charles W. Harrell, Mrs. Ted Crenwelge, Mrs. Milton Ham, and Mrs. Beth Curry.

There were 20 members present.

A hand was returned and ruffed and now South led a third club to set up his 10.

Note that South had carefully refrained from playing trumps. There was a good reason for this. He needed that nine of trumps in dummy in order to keep the defense from forcing him with further heart leads. Of course, when West won that third club he led another heart. Dummy had to follow suit, but South simply discarded his three of diamonds. It was a loser and he chose to lose it early.

Now the nine of trumps in dummy was available to ruff the next heart allowing South to preserve the rest of his trumps to eliminate those held by the enemy.

Dear Abby

Examining the Roots Of a Hairy Problem

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1980 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: My wife cannot stand any body hair on herself — or on me!
Elaine took her electric shaver along on our honeymoon, and before she would let me get into bed with her she shaved off all my body hair! Since it was our honeymoon and she was only 19 and I was 20, I didn't protest too much. I thought eventually she would get over her negative feelings about body hair, but I was wrong. We've been married for 20 years, and thanks to her electric shaver, neither of us has a hair from the neck down!
Otherwise, our marriage has been a good one, so I have put off calling a halt to this ridiculous shaving ritual.
My doctor knows why I am hairless, but I would like to be able to wear sleeveless shirts and go swimming in public, and in this hairless condition I can do neither without feeling embarrassed.
I think it's time to stop this shaving bit, but every time I mention it, Elaine says she will not get into bed with me if I am covered with hair.
Please help me.

HAIRLESS IN HURON

DEAR HAIRLESS: Don't expect a fanatic obsession that has been indulged for 20 years to disappear quickly and easily. Tell your wife that body hair is natural, and her negative feelings about it have placed an unfair burden on you. Elaine needs professional help to get to the root of her hairy problem.

DEAR ABBY: A friend sold us a puppy that he claims is a thoroughbred German Police, but the older the dog gets, the more he looks like a mutt. What do you think?
GYPPED IN GARDEN CITY

DEAR GYPPE: Maybe he's in the Secret Service.

DEAR ABBY: A reader wrote to say that her mother was suicidal because she had lost her sight. I was sorry to hear that, because I know a blind woman who handles her affliction like a saint. I met her at a supermarket where I am a box boy, and incredible as it sounds, this woman always shops alone and does as well or better than most sighted people. She feels the packages and shakes them, and rarely does she make a mistake.

We remodeled the store last year and the layout was changed, but this remarkable blind woman quickly caught on while sighted people had trouble locating the products. One man behind her in the checkout line asked me where an item was, and before I had a chance to respond, she told him!
Her courage and independence have inspired me (and many of our customers) to view disabilities not as a curse but a challenge.

INSPIRED IN L.A.

DEAR INSPIRED: Thank you for an inspirational observation.

DEAR ABBY: As an appreciative regular reader, may I suggest some additional advice to the older woman whose voice grows huskier as she grows older. (She complained because she was frequently called "sir" on the telephone.) She should see a throat specialist without delay. It could be a growth in her larynx.

F.A.S., M.D.

CONFIDENTIAL to those who have sent for Abby's booklets: Please, please be patient. I am literally deluged with orders and am getting them out as quickly as possible.

Sink Hole Baffles Kermit Officials

KERMIT (AP)—A baffling hole engulfed huge chunks of a pasture near Kermit and forced officials to close a highway and shutoff oil pipelines near the widening chasm. "No one was injured as walls collapsed more than 40 feet into the water and oil collecting in the bottom of the hole."
"It's bigger than a football field now, about 150 yards long and about 80 yards wide," Winkler County Sheriff's deputy Jack Harwell said Tuesday night. "The crazy thing just keeps opening up."
Deputies closed FM 115

just south of Kermit as cracks from the hole snaked to within 100 yards of the highway. Oil company officials said the growing hole forced them to shut off one oil pipeline and endangered others.

The hole was discovered about mid-morning and had tripled in size by nightfall.
Railroad Commission spokesman Wayne McClung of Midland said he had no idea what caused the hole, but it has no indication of stopping.

"An oil pipeline from a nearby Shell Oil tank farm fell into the expanding chasm, but workers closed it off and rerouted some power lines and three other nearby pipelines," said a Shell spokesman.

"Every time one part of the wall falls off, we get one heck of a tidal wave," said Winkler County Sheriff's deputy J.C. Vandiver. "I'd say the water is at least 10-15 feet after you get down to it."
There were several theories as to what caused the hole. It was speculated that the hole was on the site of an old lake, a salt dome or a "buffalo well" that came in hard and blew out of control.

"All we know is we have a rather large hole out here," Harwell said. "We're guarding the road and keeping sightseers away from it."
"If anybody slipped down in there, that'd be all she wrote."

Andrews' Sheriff Shoots Wife, Self

ANDREWS (AP)—When the Andrews County Sheriff's dispatcher answered the phone Tuesday morning, her boss, Sheriff J.A. "Bud" Gregory was on the line.
"I've shot Biddy. Now I'm going to shoot myself," dispatcher DeLores Thompson quoted Gregory as telling her before he hung up.

She sent Chief Deputy Wayne Farmer to the Gregory home where Mrs. Biddy Gregory had been living since the couple separated about a month ago.
There, Farmer found the bodies of Gregory, 53, and his wife of 31 years.

Justice of the Peace G.A. Ragsdale ruled murder-suicide in the deaths and said the sheriff's 41-caliber revolver was the weapon used.
Texas Rangers, called in to investigate, found a note apparently written by Gregory requesting that family members be contacted. The couple had three grown children.

Mrs. Gregory had filed for divorce on May 12, nine days after her husband was re-elected to a fifth term as sheriff.

Constipation woes

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I have a problem with constipation. It can take days before I have a bowel movement and in the meantime, I have a feeling of fullness in the abdomen.

For years I have been on a salt-free diet on doctors' orders. I don't eat white bread and use only whole wheat. I eat fruit and fresh vegetables daily and I often eat yogurt. I drink fruit juices daily, and coffee and tea. I walk a lot and ride a bicycle often. I'm 55 and twice a year my doctor examines me and does a Pap smear. I brought up this problem several times but he pays no attention to it. My husband has an annual examination and gets a proctoscope but my doctor said it wasn't necessary for me.

I know I feel tense and this will hinder regular bowel function. But my mother died of cancer and I'm very concerned. Would you suggest I discuss this matter with another doctor or should I continue with what my doctor advises? I have no reason other than this to question his judgment and I've been his patient for years.

DEAR READER - As long as you're satisfied with your doctor and he's been doing a good job for you for years, I would hesitate to recommend that you permanently change to another physician. However, the medical profession encourages consultation whenever there is a problem. If you are concerned about it, insist that your doctor refer you to a specialist in gastroenterology and let him review your problem and make recommendations to your doctor.

You should at least have a rectal examination if not a proctoscopic examination at the time of your check up. Why? Because one of the most common causes of cancer deaths in both men and women is cancer of the bowel. A good many of these can be felt with a finger examination of the rectum and, of course, more can be found with a proctoscope or sigmoidoscope examination of the lower colon.

Although you didn't say why you're on a salt-free diet, I assume that you're not taking any medicines to cause you to eliminate salt and water and thus cause you to be relatively dehydrated. Patients who take these medicines sometimes have more bowel problems because the food residue is dried out from the loss of normal body water.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 2-1, Irritable or Spastic Colon and Constipation. It will give you some general information on bowel habits and bowel care. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Although you're eating whole-wheat bread instead of white bread, you may still not be getting enough bulk. Miller's bran or plain bran can be added to breakfast foods to increase the cereal bulk and that helps in some cases. Or you can try one of the bulk laxatives such as Metamucil, which as far as the bowel is concerned has about the same effect.

I would strongly advise against your taking chemical laxatives or getting in the laxative habit. These act differently than the bulk producers.

Drawing For Beginners In Kids' Courses

Beginning Drawing for students in grades 7-12 has been added to the Western Texas College summer youth classes titled College for Kids.

Donna Sullenger of Snyder will be instructor for the classes, which will meet from 9-11 a.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays from July 15-Aug. 21. Fees will be $25 per person plus supplies.

At dawn the city was without power. Water lay in the streets up to the hubs of cars, trees and glass were strewn about and some residents left emergency shelters to find their homes destroyed.

Gov. Charles Thone scheduled a morning trip to the heavily damaged area and was to leave Lincoln on a National Guard helicopter to get a first-hand look at Grand Island.

A reporter for KHAS-TV in Hastings, Don Haddix, watched two of the twisters rake the city from his room on the 11th floor of the Yancey Hotel. "It was a big, menacing thing," said the 25-year-old reporter. "It looked like a very dirty, wide mass of spinning dirt heading right towards me."

Fun Classes Set For Grades 4-6

Students in grades 4-6 can have fun while they learn about computers and electronics in three courses scheduled as part of the College for Kids at Western Texas College.

The courses will start June 16 and end June 26, meeting Monday through Thursday for the two weeks.

Tinkertronics classes meeting from 8-10 a.m. will feature elementary and basic experiments in electronics. Fees will be $10 per student plus a $30 kit which will be used to build sound effect machines, a crystal radio and transistor radio.

Ray Gun Technology will meet from 10-11 a.m. The students will be playing with lasers and will look at the principles of optics.

Topics on the course outline include Safety, Light Scattering, Reflection, Bending Light, Polarization, Magnification, Diffraction, Holography, and Pattern Generation. Fees are $10 plus a $2 lab fee.

Space War Computers classes will meet from 11-12 noon. Students will learn the operation of computers to battle space enemies, engaging the Klingons in a life and death struggle using modern weapons to eradicate the universe of dreaded space pirates.

These games have about the complexity of Monopoly, well within the range of the students for whom the class is planned. Fees are $10 per person.

Randy Mosley, assistant professor of engineering technology at WTC, will be instructor for all the courses.

Students wishing to register for College for Kids courses are to contact the office of the Scurry County Museum or call the office at 573-6107. Players Tell Why, Ponder State...

Tigers Come A Long, Long Way

Snyder High School heads into Thursday's four-team State Baseball Tournament with the worst record of the lot, a 19-15-1 mark. In fact, the Tigers finished, record-wise, below district rival Brownfield, bi-district opponent Weatherford and regional foe Lubbock yesterday.

But don't expect the Tigers to be apologetic about it. That record symbolizes a lot of merit badges; a team jelling together to become one of the four best in the state of Texas in class AAA.

There are several reasons Snyder evolved from an also-ran into a winner. During workouts this week some of the players commented on the turnaround, the team and the state playoffs.

"I think playing the big (4A) schools early in the season helped a lot," said Bobby Degrate, who will start at left field for the Tigers Thursday. "We had played other schools (a few years back) and we had records like 24-6, 25-5 too. But we weren't going anywhere. We've had a tough schedule this year and it looks like it helped."

"Better hitting and defense, more experience," explained second baseman Mike Roemisch, one of only two juniors who will start Thursday. "I think when we beat Lamesa (in the final district game) it really helped a lot," he added, speaking of the contest in which Snyder rallied to win after being down 6-1 in the sixth inning. "Our pitching has come around and we're hitting the ball."

Gary Atwood agreed. "Our pitching wasn't as developed early in the season. We've come a long way since then. Our defense and hitting have improved a lot too."

Several of the players mentioned pride and teamwork as being the keys.

"We hang on and never give up," said shortstop Paul Gafford. "We had to make our own destiny. Weatherford got us down (in bi-district) and we had to come back and win two games to stay going. It seems like we play better when we have to under. Nobody's choking under pressure this year."

Ricky Gambol, starting centerfielder, recalled some unhappy moments. "It hurt a lot last year. We should have won (at regionals against Pecos), but we started thinking about state too soon. I guess. We've got something to prove now. This year we have a lot of experience. And, it's more of a team this year."

STATE BOUND—Snyder's Bobby Degrate, right, congratulates pitcher brother Tony after the Tigers' 8-1 regional victory last week. Above, the Tigers give their reasons why the team made it this far, and their feelings about the upcoming state tournament. (SDN-STAFF PHOTO) not a lot of individuals playing for themselves."

"No, there really aren't individuals on this team," agreed Shawn Ragland, who serves as a designated hitter while not playing second base. "Everybody's pretty much the same. We had nine people make the all-district team. That's balanced."

Despite the record, and facing what most believe to be the toughest opponent at state — Austin Westlake — Snyder's chances of making the finals are good, explained the team members.

Kyle Short, who played on Snyder's state-runner-up basketball team this year and will be at third base Thursday, settled one question quickly.

"After we walk in the ballpark and practice we'll be alright," he assured. "You're nervous at first. In basketball we were tight at first, but after the first few minutes of the game we were all back to normal. You just fall into it."

And that record of Snyder's may become an asset, suggested first baseman Pete Willis, who echoed Ragland's thoughts when he offered. "They (Westlake) may be taking us too lightly, thinking they'll get a free ride to the finals. I think we've got the best chance (at winning state) of all the teams."

"We've got our backs to the wall," explained Gambol. "We've got a lot to prove and I think we can do it. Nobody knows how good we are except us."

Atwood confirmed. "Records don't mean that much. We've got as good a chance as anybody. This team never quits."

The Tigers believe to a man that state is theirs for the taking.

"We just have to get on base when we can, don't strikeout and play smart baseball," said outfielder Bryant Vincent. "If we play smart we've got a good chance. Everybody's hitting the ball now. We're playing well. We've just got to keep it up."

"Some people said we'd get by Lamesa but get killed by Brownfield," pointed out catcher Toby Neves. "This team has got a lot of character.

We're senior experienced. We want to win, I know that."

And Steve Tate, who proved to be a man of few words, summed up the feelings of the entire team. "Let's go down there and win two," he said. "That's my feeling. Let's win it all!"
