

Gas Wars Possible By Summers' End

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A heavy flow of imported crude oil and a lower consumer demand may be enough to generate gasoline price wars before the summer is over, an oil analyst says. Americans have gotten used to using less gasoline, said Dan Lundberg in his Lundberg Letter, and he doubted that anything less than a major decrease in price would get them to start buying more again.

"But still imported crude oil keeps pouring in," Lundberg said Friday. "They're running out of space to put it." His newsletter, a weekly oil industry analysis, said, "The probability of local price wars has increased, and even the national average retail gasoline price might come down before the summer is out."

However, Lundberg did not definitely predict gas wars and significant price decreases because of rising crude and operating costs. That means the only place left to cut prices is in the dealers' profit, Lundberg said.

He noted that the U.S. average retail gasoline price, to consumers, rose only .28 cents a gallon from May to June. But wholesale prices rose .59 cents. Meanwhile, dealers' profit margins deteriorated .36 cents, down to 11.39 cents per gallon in June.

"The simple solution would seem to be to slow down the heavy flow of imported oil," Lundberg says. "But there's growing evidence that it may not be that easy. Trade sources say some crude exporters look dimly at purchase cutbacks. Contracts are contracts and few buyers care to run the risk of upsetting their sources of supply."

"Many have observed the power of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries to squeeze off the spigot. But the power to keep oil flowing in surfeiting amounts may be something else to consider."

The Lundberg Letter says U.S. primary stocks at refineries, in pipelines and at large terminals stood at 265.5 million barrels on June 27. That was up from the 263.5 million barrels on May 23, the week before Memorial Day.

SNYDER'S QUEEN—June Deen, center, was named the Fourth of July Queen as festivities in Towle Park neared their end Friday night. It was the first such queen's contest held in the Fourth of July celebrations in Snyder's history. First runner-up was Stephanie

Veteran Car Salesman Here Turns In Keys

By JOHN LONG

Herman Elkins, a veteran salesman who retired Thursday from Wilson Motor Co., discovered a long time ago salesmen have to first sell themselves on a particular product before they can hope to sell it to someone else. "Whatever you're selling, you've got to be sold on the product," said Elkins.

For 25 years Elkins was a car salesman, and he spent 23 of those years with Wilson Motor Co. His sales started back in 1953 when he went to work for a department store. He worked 11 years in an oil-field business, but gave that up for car sales.

Other golden rules on salesmanship, according to Elkins are:

"People like to travel in America. They like to see what's on the other side of the river and the other side of the mountain, and they like to have a nice automobile when they take off to see the country."

"You've got to treat your customers like you'd like to be treated. That, in my opinion, is one of the best."

"If you've got a happy customer, you'll have more customers."

Elkins is the recipient of 22 "500 Club" awards, awards based on a point system for Ford car salesmen. He maintains he likes people.

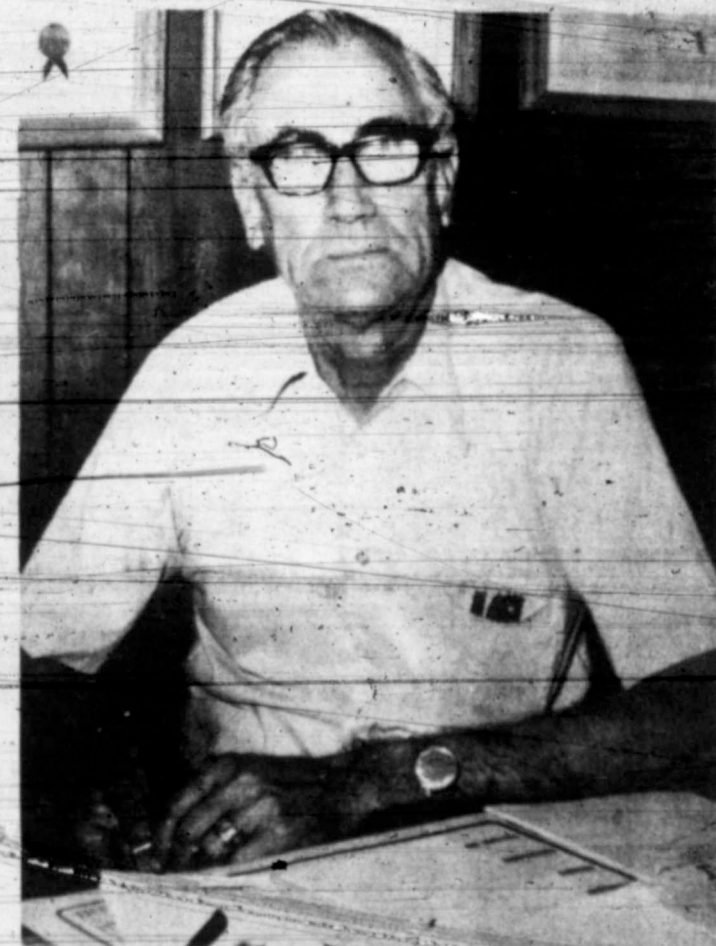

"I like people and I like to deal with people," he said. "The most rewarding thing is the friends you accumulate through the years. I'm selling grandkids of my old customers cars."

Being a car salesman for so many years, Elkins has seen many changes in cars. Cars, he avers, aren't being made like they used to be; they're being made better.

Used to be, if a car had 50,000 miles on it, it was over the hill and about ready for the junkyard. Now, he said, cars can stand up to 100,000 miles and more.

Years ago, cars were getting 16 to 17 miles per gallon. They're getting that now, but now the cars are more comfortable, have air conditioning and other creature comforts.

If the quality of cars has improved, (See Salesman Page 15A)

RETIRING—Herman Elkins, a car salesman for 25 years, retired Thursday. Twenty-three of those years were spent with Wilson Motor Co., and Elkins has seen many changes in the car business. Cars, he believes, are better than they used to be. (SDN Staff Photo)

Weekend update

Death Count At 140

By The Associated Press

With gasoline supplies ample, Americans took to the highways for the Fourth of July and the number of traffic deaths passed 140 with half the holiday weekend remaining.

An unofficial tally by The Associated Press put the death count at 142 at 8 a.m. Saturday.

The National Safety Council estimated between 500 and 600 people could die in traffic accidents during the 79-hour holiday, from 6 p.m. Thursday to midnight Sunday. During a three-day, non-holiday period at this time of the year, 500 traffic deaths could be expected, Safety Council statisticians said.

The highest number of traffic fatalities on a Fourth of July three-day weekend was 638 in 1971. The highest toll for the holiday was 758 during a four-day weekend in 1972.

Thai Airlift Underway

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—A U.S. Air Force jet transport touched down at Bangkok's airport today with the first shipment of military hardware sent to Thailand under an emergency airlift authorized by President Carter.

The C-141 Starlifter carried six 105 mm howitzers. Five or six more flights are scheduled to arrive over the next four days bringing in M-16 rifles, 106mm recoilless rifles and ammunition.

"This airlift is tangible evidence of U.S. concern for Thailand's security," a U.S. Embassy spokesman said after the first transport touched down.

More Surgery For Shah

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The deposed Shah of Iran returned to surgery today, a hospital source said, for a two-hour operation to drain more fluids from beneath his lungs. The report could not be confirmed immediately.

The 60-year old Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi was hospitalized nine days ago with a fever. Doctors operated on him Monday to remove lung fluids caused by pneumonia and medical sources attached to his team of physicians at the Maadi military hospital said the shah was still in serious condition.

Heat Takes Holiday; Only 99 July Fourth

After 11 straight days of temperatures of 100 degrees or more, Snyder got a reprieve Friday and it could not have come on a more welcome day than July 4th.

Ninety-nine degrees usually is not considered cool but following Thursday's 106 degrees it seemed almost balmy in comparison.

But the break in the weather may have only been temporary as clear skies and hot temperatures were to dominate the rest of the weekend, according to the national weather service.

And as the heat records topple, water consumption figures reach new highs.

Within the past 10 days—the period paralleling the current 100-degree plus heat wave—the Colorado River Municipal Water District has delivered nearly three quarters of a billion gallons of water to its customers.

Topped by a record breaking 41,830,000 gallons for Odessa on July 2, the cities supplied by the district averaged .63,606,000 gallons a day for the 10 days. Odessa's previous peak day had been 38,083,000 gallons on July 13, 1978. Neither Big Spring nor Snyder have established new peak days during the period, although Snyder came within 181,000 miles-gallons of its June 14, 1978 peak day, of 6,100,000 gallons. Big Spring's current largest single day of 13,670,000 gallons occurred Monday but was well under its record of 15,700,000 gallons on June 21, 1974 when Webb AFB and a major industry, both since closed, were customers.

Midland peaked July 2 at 32,000,000 gallons and used 30,000,000 the two preceding days. However, only 13,500,000 gallons a day come from the CRMWD. Stanton, another contract customer, averages 600,000 gallons a day. Tuesday the five cities used 73,730,000 gallons.

Ask Us

Q. Would it have been possible to reserve a table or area in the park for July 4th by getting a permit from the county?
A. No. There are no such permits. The tables in Towle Park are available strictly on a first come, first served basis.

39 More Expected...

Texas Traffic Takes 8

By The Associated Press
Eight people died in Texas holiday traffic accidents by late Friday, and 39 more were expected to lose their lives by midnight Sunday.

The fatalities included three pedestrians struck by cars in their home towns; Mannie Dewayne Mendval, 18, of Lubbock; Mark Odell Hitchcock, 9, of Houston, and an unidentified girl in Dallas. Hilton Zack Turney, 20, of Kermit, died in a one-car rollover eight miles east of town on State Highway 874.

Killed in two-car accidents were Thomas Edgar Wheat, 66, of Muleshoe; Rene Garcia, 38, San Antonio; and two unidentified people killed in a Houston accident.

The Texas Department of Public Safety upgraded the predicted toll because the Fourth of July fell next to a weekend, this year, thus extending the holiday.

In 1977, the last time the Fourth of July was part of a 78-hour weekend, 35 were killed on the state's highways, said EPS spokesman Richard Grimm.

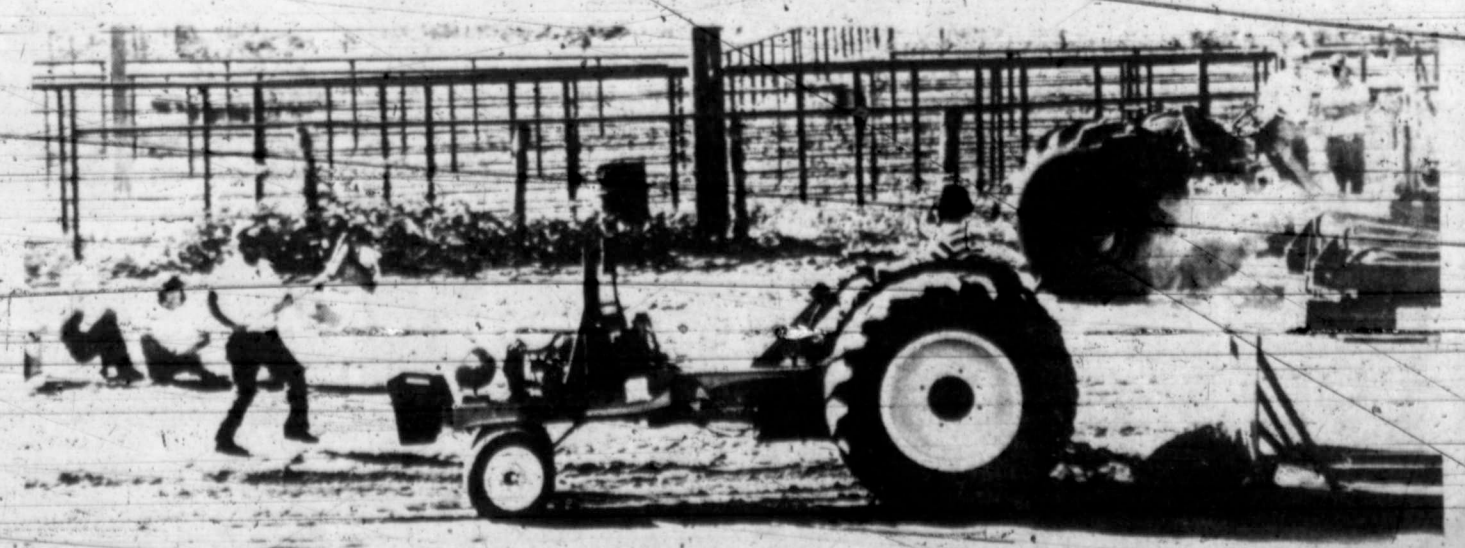

During last year's 30-hour holiday period, 18 people died in highway accidents.

DPS' "Operation Motorcade" began counting fatalities at 6 p.m. Thursday.

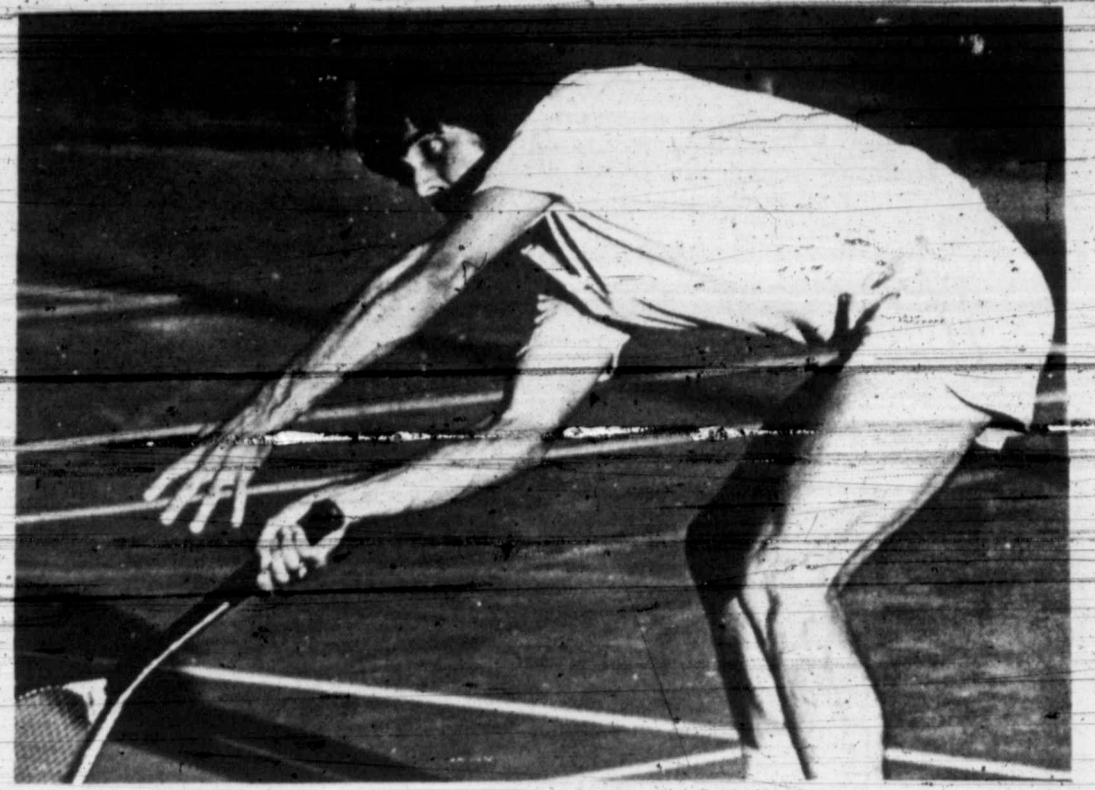

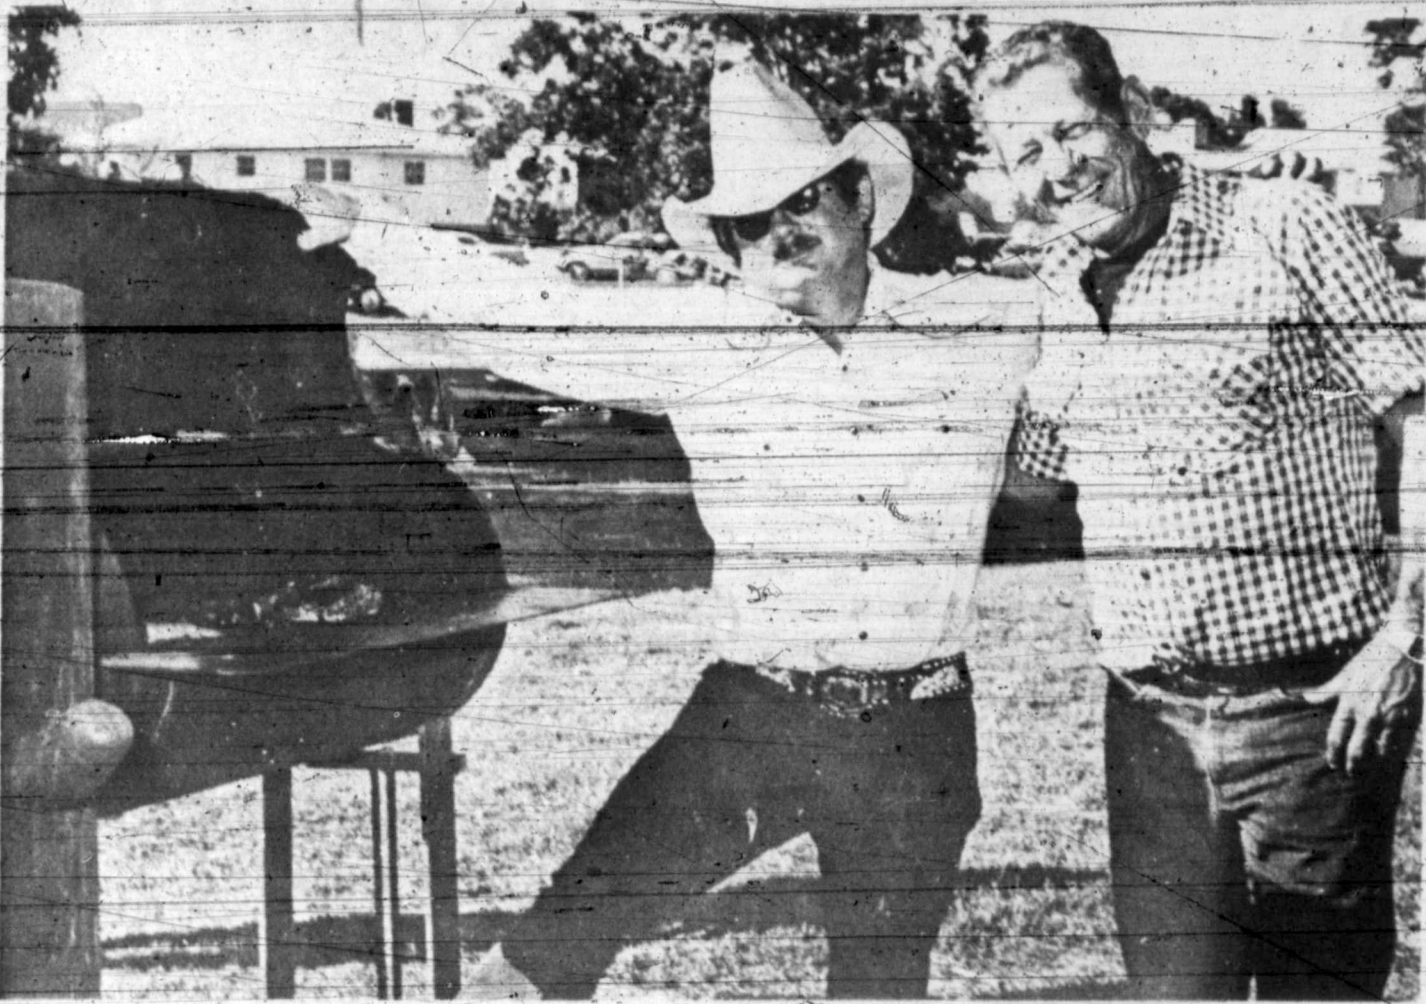

SNYDER TEMPERATURES: High Thursday 106 degrees; low 71 degrees, reading at 7 a.m. July 4, 77 degrees, high, 99 degrees, low 69 degrees, reading at 7 a.m. Saturday 72 degrees, precipitation none; precipitation for 1980 to date; 9.81 inches. West Texas: Sunny hot days with clear warm nights. Highs 98 to near 110. Lows 68 to 78 except near 60 mountains.

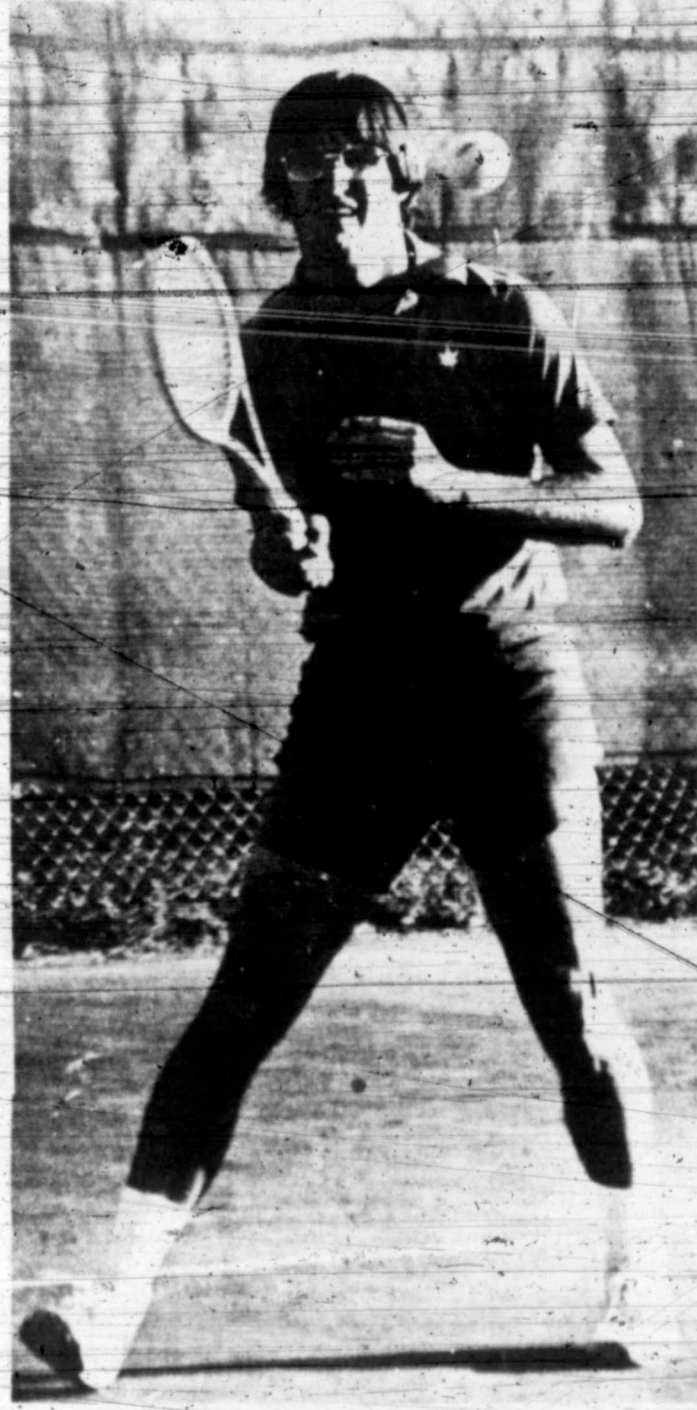

TRACTOR PULL—As usual, the annual pull in the old rodeo grounds on West 30th St. pulled in a crowd. The action was to continue Saturday night beginning at 7

Wildcat Located Two Miles South Of Fluvanna

Terra Resources Inc. of Houston announced location for an 8,400-foot wildcat in Scurry County, two miles south of Fluvanna. It is No. 1 Rex Pylant, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 427, block 97, H&TC survey and 1 1/2 miles northwest of the Fluvanna, South (Strawn) field which has four producers.

Terra Resources also will drill No. 1 Stavely as an 8,400-foot wildcat in Scurry County.

It is 1 1/2 miles northwest of the Fluvanna, South (Strawn) field discovery, and three miles south of Fluvanna.

It is 1/2 mile north of No. 1 Rex Pylant.

Drill site is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 462, block 97, H&TC survey.

Dorchester Exploration, Inc., operating from Midland, has completed its

No. 1 Rhodes in the Log Pat (Wichita-Albany) field of Scurry County.

Drilled as a wildcat to 8,185 feet, the well-finaled for a daily pumping potential of 42 barrels of 22-gravity oil and three barrels of water, through perforations at 4,904 to 4,918 feet after a 12,000-gallon acid treatment.

The well is one mile south and slightly west of the only other well in the field and 1,830 feet from south and 2,021 feet from east lines of section 239, block 97, H&TC survey.

Cobra Oil & Gas Corp. of Wichita Falls will re-enter the discovery well of the Seven J. West (Strawn) field of Borden County and attempt to complete it from the Strawn.

The project is one location east of Cobra No. 2 R.N. Miller, recently completed as the discovery well of the Seven J. West (Strawn) field.

The old total depth is 8,230 feet. Hole will be plugged back to 8,033 feet.

Location is 1,320 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 523, block 97, H&TC survey and 12 miles northeast of Gail.

Pioneer Producing Corp. of Amarillo No. 1-414-A Davenport is to be dug as an 8,390-foot project one location west of the discovery well and lone producer in the Denny (STRAWN) field of Borden County, 12 miles northeast of Gail.

The operator will dig the project 660 feet from south and east lines of section 415, block 97, H&TC survey.

Jack G. Elam of Midland announced plans to re-enter the former Daubert Oil & Gas Co. No. 1 Bilby Wallace, which was plugged and abandoned in 1966.

Elam will drill out to 3,915 feet.

The re-entry is 2,000 feet northwest of a 3,940-foot dry hole and one mile northeast of the Clairemont, East (Strawn) field which produces at 6,494 feet.

Location is 2,091 feet from north and 454 feet from east lines of section 55, block L, H&TC survey.

It will be operated by Elam as No. 1 Bilby Wallace.

Murphy H. Baxter of Midland, has made plans to drill No. 13 O.L. Burney in the Sharon Ridge (2400) field of Scurry County.

Contracted to 2,800 feet, it spots 1,776 feet from north and 1,628 feet from east lines of section 145, block 97, H&TC survey, six miles northwest of Ira Lobo Oil Corp. of Snyder No. 1-37 Spires, a re-entry operation in Kent County, has been completed as the ninth Strawn B-3 well in the Spires multipay field of Kent County, 10 miles southwest of Clairemont.

It completed for a 24-hour pumping potential of 125 barrels of 38-gravity oil, with a gas-cil ratio of 700-1, through perforations from 6,712 to 6,720 feet.

The pay was acidized with 200 gallons.

Deepened as a wildcat to 7,460 feet, the 5.5-inch casing is set on bottom.

The hole originally was drilled by Prudential Minerals Exploration and A.C. Black as No. 1-37 Spires.

Location is 833 feet from south and 933 feet from west lines of section 37, block 4, H&GN survey.

Clear Fork Inc. of Abilene No. 1-5 Alexander Trust is a new 4,500-foot wildcat three miles north of Hamlin in Fisher County.

Operator staked location 3,100 feet from south and 2,640 feet from west lines of section 5, W.E. Kaye survey.

Location is 3/4 mile northeast of Canyon sand oil producer in the Judy Gail field 1/2 mile north of the two-well Coffin (Strawn sand oil) pool and separated from it by a 4,557-foot dry hole.

It also is 1/2 mile southwest of the depleted Jim Lew (Swastika oil) pool.

The Judy Gail (Canyon sand) field produces at 4,546 feet, and the Coffin (Strawn sand oil) pool produces at 5,348 feet.

Stringer Oil & Gas of San Antonio No. 1 L.L. Stuart has been staked as a 6,600-foot wildcat two miles east of Claytonville in Fisher County.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 205, block 3, H&TC survey.

The drillsite is 5/8 mile southeast of the Claytonville multipay field which produces from the Canyon lime at 5,695 feet and from the 5,200 and 5,400 Canyon sand zones.

Omar Operating Co. of Midland spotted two 6,500-foot wildcats in Fisher County, 10 miles north of Sweetwater.

They are 3/8 mile northeast of the Bonner (Flippen) field and separated from it by a 3,573-foot dry hole.

No. 1 Harvey is 1,000 feet from north and 1,500 feet from west lines of section 2, block 21, T&P survey.

No. 1 Smith is one location southeast of No. 1 Harvey and 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 2, block 21, T&P survey.

H.L. Hawkins Jr. of Houston No. 1 Half Moon

Land & Cattle Inc. is to be dug as a 6,000-foot wildcat in Fisher County, eight miles northeast of Rotan.

Drill site is 467 feet from north and east lines of section 122, block 1, H&TC survey.

Drill site is 1 1/2 mile northwest of the one-well Ida, West (Strawn) field and 1 1/2 miles southeast of the reopener and lone producer in the Lena M. Green (Strawn) field.

R.L. Adkins Corp. of Sweetwater announced location for a 6,000-foot wildcat 3.5 miles northwest of Sweetwater in Fisher County.

It is No. 1 Young 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 16, block 22, T&P survey and one location north of one of the four wells in the Hollins (Pennsylvania) field of Nolan County.

Frank White of Tuscola will re-enter the former Creslin Oil Co. No. 1 George E. Cross, a 5,510-foot failure in Fisher County, and clean out to 5,500 feet for tests in unreported zones.

Location is 467 feet from north and 2,053 feet from east lines of section 59, Bastrop County School Land survey No. 323.

It is 3/4 mile south of the Strawn discovery well of the Sylvester field.

It also is 1 1/2 miles southwest of the field's Goen production and 7/8 mile south of Strawn 5235 production.

The drillsite is two miles south of Sylvester.

Terrell Operating Co. of Hamline will spud No. 1 Roberts S. Ford as a 4,950-foot wildcat in Fisher County, seven miles southeast of Sylvester.

The prospector is 3,137 feet from south and 1,031 feet from west lines of section 2, block K, T&P survey.

Drill site is 371 feet east of a 5,743-foot failure and 1 3/4 miles north of the Raven Creek (Strawn, Canyon and Noodle Creek) field.

Mobil Producing Texas and New Mexico Inc. No. 1 G.A. Poe "B" is to be dug as a 5,450-foot wildcat 2 1/2 miles northwest of Royston in Fisher County.

Location is 640 feet from south and west lines of section 75, block 1, H&TC survey and 1/2 mile south of one of the two wells in the Paul Hunter, (Canyon sand) field which produces at 4,905 feet.

Seven Snyder Men Judged Outstanding

Seven Snyder residents have been selected for inclusion in the 1980 edition of Outstanding Young Men of America.

Those selected are chosen from nominations received from public officials, college presidents and civic groups and the listing is endorsed by the U.S. Jaycees.

Anti-Crime Measure...

Hughes Tool Continues With Reward Program

The Hughes Tool Company is continuing its campaign against oilfield crime by extending its $10,000 reward offer to December 1, 1980.

The company is launching another radio, newspaper and magazine advertising program in July to publicize the $10,000 reward and the problems of oilfield theft in the U.S., said Jim Simpson, sales supervisor.

According to Hughes Tool, oilfield equipment theft has grown to epidemic proportions in some parts of the country, as rock bits, power tools, drill string elevators and other expensive equipment items have become prime targets for thieves.

Hughes Tool said the anti-theft program was begun last fall. The reward is offered for information which directly leads to the arrest and felony conviction of any person associated with a theft or illegal use of Hughes Tool Company products or products of any Hughes subsidiary within the United States.

Values may range from several thousand dollars for a rock bit to $150,000 for a truck load of drill pipe with tool joints. Losses to the nation's oil and gas industry amount to millions of dollars annually.

The same reward and condition are in effect for the arrest and conviction of any person associated with a theft or illegal use of Hughes Tool Company products or products of any Hughes subsidiary within the United States.

Hughes Tool Company is an international supplier of products and services to the oil, gas and mining industries.

The same reward and conditions are in effect for the arrest and conviction of any person involved in an illegal business practice, under state or federal law, which directly affects the business of the Hughes Tool Companies. Kickbacks and commercial bribery are examples.

Musicals On Tap At Senior Center

Three musical programs are on tap for visitors to the Senior Center in the coming week.

The programs will precede the noon meal and will begin about 11:30 a.m.

Monday's special will feature fiddle music by Edna Harris. On Thursday, music from the '50s will be sung by Sue Sewell, Donna Fowler and Glenn Polk. Friday, visitors are invited to join in a Sing-Along. Requests for this program should be given to Mildred Lewis or Blanche Arnold in advance.

The Senior Center Actors and Misfit Performers (known as SCAMPS) will repeat their performance of "Little Red Schoolhouse" for the Noon Kiwanis Club meeting on Wednesday and for the Lions Club on July 15. Senior Citizens who would like to join this group are invited to inquire at the Center. Regular activities at the Senior Center range from games to hobby classes. The Center is open each weekday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Area Baptists To Meet At Hermleigh

The Central Baptist Church of Hermleigh will host the Mitchell Scurry Baptist Association meeting at 6 p.m. Tuesday.

A dinner will be served and then the executive board and WMU meetings will be held at 6:30 p.m.

A congregational singing will start at 7 p.m. followed by special music and a message by Glen Roenfeldt, pastor of the Colorado City First Baptist Church.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Work on situations today that require unity or acceptance of others. You'll find people much more willing to cooperate, making your chances for success greater.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your performance will be noted today by those in a position to do you some good, so do your best. It won't go unrewarded.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) This could be a fortunate day in areas involving those who have your affections. You might have much to smile about because of something that touches your heart.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Although they may not be obvious to anybody else, family ties will prove most beneficial and rewarding to you. Don't stray too far from home.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Now is the time to discuss plans important to you. You shouldn't have too much trouble getting others to accept your ideas.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Stay on the ball today. There is much promise around you that could add to your material resources, but you must be willing to go after it.

TAURUS (April 20-May 10) You're much more effective today with things you do in a sociable atmosphere. Your warm personality charms those with whom you come in contact.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) The good mood you're in today can be credited to your family. They'll be going out of their way to show you how much you mean to them.

July 7, 1980

Because your hopes and dreams will be practical and realistic this coming year, your chances of realizing them are quite good. Be proficient in order to achieve success.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) The actions of one whose company you'll share today may give you cause to wonder about the value of this relationship. You'll correctly size up the situation. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It may take a little extra work, but you can achieve what you desire today if you don't give up after an attempt that might not have started out right.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You may be put in the position today of having to choose between taking a shortcut or following a slower, but proven, method. Pick the latter.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Follow your instincts and don't be rushed into any financial dealings today. Your practicality and logic won't let you down.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Keep a clear, cool head, and erratic individuals won't be able to upset your appointment today. The unexpected may annoy you, but it won't trip you up.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Politely turn away from those who have poor working habits today and keep your eye on the target. One of your creative ideas can have long-term benefits.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) In social situations today, weigh and balance your every act. Any form of rash behavior will leave a poor impression.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) An important goal can be achieved today, but you might have to take an alternate route. Be flexible. Don't think you have to stay on the beaten path.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Should you find yourself in a situation today where you have to choose between disappointing a new acquaintance or an old friend, tactfully align yourself with your old pal.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't be too quick and loose with your money today. Take time to manage things carefully and you'll discover your dollar has quite a bit of stretch.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Although you may be attracted to unconventional types today, continue to be your careful self. Weigh all factors before teaming up with anyone.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Take extra pains to do your work carefully and methodically today. The rewards are exactly what you hoped they'd be, but only for tasks performed well.

Midland DA Employs Touch Of The Mystic

MIDLAND (AP)—Midland County's district attorney says he has an extraordinary talent for prosecution. But his ventures into the mystical have left him convinced there is a place for spiritualism in criminology.

Vernon Martin, 49, is a psychometrist. He says that by touching an item, he can discern the personality and surroundings of its owner. Psychometry is based on the belief that every object that has existed and every event that has occurred since the world's creation retains an indelible mark on its surroundings. As a photograph remains invisible until developed, such scenes are hidden until identified, psychometrists say.

Martin has served as district attorney since 1977, but has devoted almost 20 years to psychometry.

"A lot of people can do this sort of thing, but it's not very well understood so most people don't accept it," Martin said. "It's an experimental thing, but it is like hypnosis - it is one more thing that can be used to help in law enforcement."

Recently, homicide detectives in Richmond, near Houston, asked Martin to put his hand into a paper sack filled with clothing and other personal items belonging to a wealthy young metals broker slain this spring.

They were investigating the slaying of Bob Kahn, whose body was found April 1 in the Brazos River near Richmond. More than 100 people were interviewed about the killing, but Fort Bend County investigator Parke Slot said no suspects have been identified.

Martin, knowing nothing of the case, described the place where investigators believe Kahn's body was thrown and other details about the case.

"He talked for about an hour and half about the case," Slot said. "He alluded to a man who was found in a river; he described the geography where the body was found as he told us about the man's personality and lifestyle. He knew absolutely nothing about the case, not even that there had been a murder."

Martin says he gets impressions from the objects he touches - sometimes as pictures, sometimes as words.

He said the publicity surrounding the Kahn case has brought at least one call daily for his help. "I don't mind helping on a special case if a police agency requests it. But I'm short-staffed in my office already and I don't have time to talk to all those people," he said.

Martin said his impressions never would be used as evidence against someone he might be prosecuting.

Midland Police Chief Wayne Gideon said Martin has helped his office on a few cases, but he's still skeptical. "I'd say the man is well educated, but this psychic stuff isn't my forte," Gideon said. "I am looking for facts. I don't think he really has helped us that much."

Authorities Skeptical Mother Will Be Back

By BARRY MASSEY
Associated Press Writer
TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Ben and Charlie don't cry much any more, or ask for "Mommy." The sandy-haired boys romp and play cowboys, devour milk and cookies and despise baths. But when in need of comfort, 2-year-old Ben pats his eight-month-old brother on the shoulder and says, "Mommy will be back in a minute." Police and state social workers are not so sure. Authorities have searched for the boys' mother since she left them in a downtown church nearly two weeks ago along with a note saying she could no longer support them. The abandonment case has been publicized here, but so far no one has come forth with any information about the boys. "All we have is two kids who can't talk much, two shopping bags, a note their mother left, and that's it," said Detective Don Crenshaw. "We really don't have much to go on. They can't say their last names. They can't say their mother's name." The note, stuck on the door of the pastor's study, gave the boys' first names, birthdays and an explanation. "They need a lot of love and care," the mother wrote. "Please find them a good home as soon as possible. I will not be coming back for them. Their father was killed in a car accident. I just can't seem to be able to make enough money for all of us to survive. I am sorry it had to come to this." The woman left the children in the church nursery, placed two bags of clothes in the women's restroom and never returned. The boys, classified by authorities as Ben and Charlie Doe, were placed in the custody of the Kansas Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services and are in a temporary foster home. Under department policy, the names of the foster parents are not released, said Jim Gill, an SRS section chief who has visited with the boys and their new family. "They cried for the first couple of days," said Gill. But the brothers now seem to be "happy and extremely well adjusted." Within several weeks, the boys will be placed in a permanent foster home. Then, it's a matter of time waiting to determine whether "Mommy" can be found, or for court action permitting adoption.

Farm Pest Management

By BILL JANY
Scurry-Mitchell Entomologist

COTTON PEST MANAGEMENT

Cotton in many areas of Mitchell and Scurry Counties has been squaring. Several fields already have one-third grown squares. The beginning of cotton squaring signals a dramatic change in many of the cotton insects' life styles. For example, the boll weevils that emerged prior to the beginning of cotton squaring could not find food or squares to lay their eggs in, as a result, they starved. Once cotton begins to square, the small squares will sustain boll weevils long enough for other squares to become large enough to lay their eggs in. Boll worms and fleahoppers also find it easier to survive in cotton once it begins to square.

Because of the mild winter that Texas experienced this year, insect populations, both beneficial and pest, are very high in all crops and home gardens throughout the state. Boll weevils in South Texas cotton fields are in record numbers. The percentage of boll weevil punctured squares and bolls in these fields range from 15.90 percent other insects such as fleahoppers and boll worms have also been recorded in high numbers in these areas.

What's happening in Mitchell and Scurry Counties? Well, we also experienced a mild winter and had many types of insects survive in record numbers. The candle moths you see by the millions flying around your night lights are a clue to what to expect from other insects this summer. Boll weevils in Scurry County have emerged at about the same or lower numbers than last year. By the time cotton began to square, the total number of boll weevils captured in traps that week had declined to 43 in 533 boll weevil traps. This number represents the relative size of the boll weevil populations in Scurry County will have a weevil free year, we probably will see some of them come fall. The 1979 diapause program and participation in a uniform delayed planting date this year will go a long way to keep boll weevils at sub-economic levels this year. Bollworms are another insect which have taken advantage of a mild winter. Very high numbers of bollworms have been captured in insect light traps and pheromone baited T.P. traps in both Mitchell and Scurry Counties. Field infestations ranging from 9.5 percent have been reported by scouts in some areas in the two counties. This high number of bollworms this early in the season indicates potentially serious problems from this pest later this season. Hopefully this hot, dry weather and the bountiful beneficial insect populations will reduce the numbers of this next bollworm generation.

Fleahoppers in both counties are low, however that doesn't mean we can forget about them. They can still enter cotton fields and contribute to the square-shed already caused by the hot, dry winds. Grasshoppers are still in field borders and can still cause problems to young 2-4 leaf cotton. Grasshoppers that are going to hatch this year have done so already. This means, thank goodness, that very few Jumbo's emerged this year. That's one insect that didn't survive the winter.

Bubbling Gas Geyser Dubbed Mt. St. Elmer

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—Folks in this flatlands Kansas community never had to worry about anything even resembling a volcano until they discovered Mount St. Elmer. Now a family has been evacuated, a busy state highway closed and trains rerouted as state health officials study the mysterious propane geyser. Mount St. Elmer is the tongue-in-cheek name for a bubbling geyser emitting propane fumes near a dirt road about five miles south of this south-central town of 39,000. Officials think the propane fumes, which have been accompanied by bubbling water, are coming from some underground storage wells that were capped in the 1940s. However, Mel Gray, deputy director of the Kansas Department of Health and Environment, said it could take as long as two years before the exact cause of the leak is discovered.

Pressure, apparently from the geyser, has caused the highway to buckle in spots, which might mean it will be closed even longer for repairs, said Erna Dickinson, a dispatcher with the Reno County Sheriff's Department. She said the leak was first observed about a week ago by a farmer, who has since been evacuated with his family. There are no other residents in the area. The farmer said he saw fumes and bubbling water spraying about six feet in the air from the hole in the road, the dispatcher said. The danger of an explosion was great when the geyser was first discovered and officials worried that traffic would throw off dangerous sparks. Since then, the geyser has tapered off to an oozing leak and winds have blown off much of the fumes, the dispatcher said. As a result, the primary danger is now fire, not an explosion. The geyser was named Mount St. Elmer in honor of a small town that used to be located in the area, the dispatcher said. "It's just a local name so we all know what we're talking about, instead of calling it the gas hole or sink hole," she said.

The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chambers of Colorado City. The great grandmother is Mrs. Clemy Anderson of Snyder. Mr. and Mrs. Mark Bawcum, Rt. 3 Box 448 E, are the parents of a son born at 8:40 p.m. July 4 in Cogdell Memorial Hospital. He weighed 8 lbs.

Until then, the hole emitting the fumes must remain open for monitoring, so officials are trying to construct a 60-foot venting stack at the site of the leak to vent the fumes in one direction and minimize the danger of an explosion. Construction began Thursday, but authorities said the structure probably won't be completed for at least a few days. Until then, Route 96 will remain closed from its junction with Route 17 to Yoder, a town about eight miles southeast of Hutchinson, authorities said. Traffic also has been barred on all access roads along the closed section of Route 96, and freight trains have been rerouted because of the danger of an explosion.

HEALTH TIP from DEAN

DON'T RUB EYES
Eyes should never be rubbed. If a speck of dust gets into the eye, the tears of the eye usually wash the foreign particle into the inner corner where it can be wiped away. A few drops of eyewash will help, if natural tears do not. Rubbing the eye may cause abrasions on the cornea, which may infect and result in ulcers or lesions. If discomfort continues, get medical attention.

In Sun Tanning Contest...

Losers Contend Rules Shady

DALLAS (AP)—Two losers in a local suntan contest contend the rules were a bit shady.

The winner's tan pales by comparison to their bronzed bodies, they say, and their complaints in three-digit heat should count for more than personality or audience response.

Cindy Seyforth is so burned up that her husband may even sue.

"I laid out (by her backyard pool) every day just for the contest. That's a lot of suffering in this heat. All day," she said.

Ben Ramsey also is, seeing red.

"I laid out in the sun every day from about 10 to 5 for the last month," he said. "I was suffering like anything to go through all that."

Both were among about 150 bodies that showed up for last week's preliminary round of the contest, sponsored by radio station KNUS. Judges at a local disco narrowed the field to 25 finalists.

The eventual winner, Kathleen Duffin, was No. 26.

"I don't know if she was a member of KNUS or what, but I just felt like it wasn't a fair contest," Ramsey complained. "She wasn't tan at all. In fact, she was one of the whitest ones out there. This was supposed to be a tan contest."

"I thought I looked really great," he added. "I have a real tiny bikini because I'm a body builder and I was a body builder."

Mrs. Seyforth, the runner-up, said she was the obvious winner.

"It was really crazy," she said. "I would have had it had she (Miss Duffin) not popped in."

Miss Duffin says she's almost sorry she won the free trip to Hawaii.

"I feel really bad about that. I would even give up my trip. I don't want people mad at me," said the 21-year-old Arizona State senior, who works at another Dallas disco.

Contest official Pete Northway said Miss Duffin was an alternate finalist allowed to compete when two other finalists failed to show for Thursday's finals.

"It was perfectly on the up-and-up," he said. "It wasn't a pre-arranged deal with her or anything else. She was there the week before. I've got just a beaucoup of witnesses that did see her there the week before."

Homecoming At East Side Notes 20th Year For Building

The homecoming being held today at East Side Church of Christ commemorates the 20th anniversary of the East Side building, said church minister Doug Allee.

For the occasion, former ministers and lay leaders of the church are coming back to town and the noon meal is being held in the Scurry County Coliseum.

Church of Christ history in Snyder and Scurry County dates back to 1897 when Sam Ribble held a series of meetings, according to printed information supplied by East Side. In 1907, the first building was erected east of Deep Creek.

The second building was built at what is now 1913 27th St. In 1915 the congregation began meeting in a building at Scarborough St., known now as 1903 College Ave. A building was built at 1811 25th St. in 1924 and then, in 1944, it was necessary to double the size of that building.

In 1953, a second congregation was started on 37th St. By 1957 it became necessary to add more classrooms to the 25th St. building. Then, in 1960, a building was constructed at 201 31st St. and became East Side Church of Christ. The building was altered three times prior to 1977, at which time the original building was extensively remodeled and a new multi-purpose building was constructed.

Man Charged In Fawcett Death

MONTGOMERY, Texas (AP)—A Houston man has been charged with murder after a bottle-throwing incident on a state highway resulted in the shooting death of a 19-year-old cousin of actress Farrah Fawcett.

Randall Fawcett, of Houston, died in Grimes County Hospital about 2 a.m. Friday of gunshot wounds to the chest and arm, said Detective Pat O'Shaughnessy.

Boys and girls from 10-12 years of age who would like to learn to play golf may enroll in a beginning golf class starting Monday morning at Western Texas College.

Students are to go to the pro shop to register and pay the $20 fee. Classes will meet from 9-10 a.m. Monday through Friday with Bob O'Day, WTC golf coach, as instructor. A golf course for junior high students is scheduled from July 21-25. Fees will also be $20 per person for that course.

Longhorns Realizing Comeback In Market

By JIM TEEL
Associated Press Writer
HOUSTON (AP)—Mauden Marks peeks out from under the wide brim of her white cowboy hat, scanning what's left of a cattle ranch that once dominated the plains near here and was home to thousands of rugged Texas longhorns.

They've come back now," said Ms. Marks, daughter of E.H. Marks. The elder Marks is one of the men credited with saving the hardy breed.

Texas longhorns, once thought as extinct as the rough Texas trail they forged, are nudging their way back into the cattle market.

Breeders have rediscovered the hardy animals that gave Texas its coming frontier cattle business in the late 19th century. And the longhorn, which came precariously close to disappearing after World War II, is alive and well and bred by cattlemen in 48 states.

In the 1920s and early 1930s, the LH7 ranch was one of only four or five ranches that bothered to keep herds of the gangly breed. The Marks herd was considered the largest, numbering between 200 and 500 cattle.

Ms. Marks leans against a rough-hewn hitching post outside the house on the ranch where she was born. The active, middle-aged woman took over operation of the property when her father died 10 years ago. She's a woman who can bark orders on her ranch, but she speaks softly and with affection about longhorns.

"There were millions and millions and millions of them after the Civil War," she said. "In 65 years they were decimated—that's how fast you can get rid of something."

Texas longhorns evolved as a result of several centuries of wandering the barren land in Mexico and Texas. They are lean, forage well and can go for long periods without water. When settlers began spreading across Texas, they found an animal that could stand the long trek to stockyards in Kansas and Chicago.

By the 20th century the heftier, beef-producing European breeds had taken over the industry. The remaining longhorns were incorporated into other herds and what was considered an unprofitable breed was forgotten by most cattlemen.

Most, that is, except Marks and the handful of other breeders who recognized qualities in the strain that would be in demand one day.

National Geographic Magazine, apparently unaware of these herds, said in a December 1925 issue: "Texas longhorn are now extinct so far as the present range-cattle business is concerned."

In 1927 the federal government established a longhorn refuge in Cache, Okla., and rounded up 30 animals to help prevent the animal's extinction. But the breed didn't attract much attention until after the Texas Longhorn Breeders Association was founded by a handful of cattlemen in 1964.

TLBA records indicate 500 longhorns were registered that year. The number of registrations now is up to 29,000.

Ms. Marks, whose own herd includes 40 breeding females, explained the new-found popularity of the breed.

"I grew up on this ranch not knowing people didn't have 100 percent calf crops," she said. Longhorn calves are long, thin and easily born. The bulls are virile, very fertile and have no trouble covering the cows in the pasture. Breeders have begun using longhorn bulls to help build up their herds. They are used especially for a hereford's first one or two calves.

And at a time when much of the good land in the Southwest is being swallowed by expanding communities, the longhorn can survive on the dry, thorny mesquite and Spanish dagger present on some marginal rangeland.

"We're having to have a harder, sturdier kind of cattle, so the Texas longhorn re-enters the picture as an important cog in the beef industry," Ms. Marks said.

The dozen or so longhorns stand huddled on the Marks ranch, blinking their eyes in the bright South Texas sun. Ms. Marks climbs from her pick-up truck and walks among them, calling each by name.

The cattle are long and stringy, unlike today's boxy beef producers. Some have horns that spiral into long curves measuring several feet from tip to tip.

TLBA officials say demand for longhorns began to exceed supply in late 1977.

The number of TLBA members jumped from 432 in 1976 to more than 2,000 in the first few months of 1980. And the stampede of newcomers doesn't seem to be letting up.

But Ms. Marks hesitates to say the breed is safe. She worries that crossbreeding might deplete the number of longhorns unless, enough breeders concentrate on keeping herds of the pure strain.

The flush toilet was invented by the Minoans living in Crete around 2,000 B.C.

Benefits On Hand For Vietnam Vets

The GI Bill will soon be 36 years old, but age hasn't diminished its popularity.

This year it will support the education of one million Vietnam era veterans enrolled in schools. E.H. (Dan) Dever, Jr., Scurry County Veterans Service officer, said, and another five million veterans are still eligible for tuition assistance.

Veterans wanting to use their education benefits to attend classes at Western Texas College this fall should contact Dever's office in the WTC administration building. Personnel there can help veterans fill out the required forms and give them information about benefits available.

The law permits a veteran to use his education entitlement any time during a 10-year period following his discharge from service, or until Dec. 31, 1989, whichever is earlier. "There are many ways the GI Bill can be adapted to individual needs and circumstances," Dever said.

Excess fat has to go

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm 25 years old and weigh 145 pounds. I'd like to weigh between 125 and 130. I've been on a diet but it seems I can only lose about seven pounds and then stop. I've also been trying to flatten my stomach and reduce my waistline which has about three to four inches of bulge around it. I have about two inches of fat located in the middle part of my back. It's very uncomfortable and causes me to slouch.

I'd like to know your advice on flattening the stomach and reducing my waistline, my weight problems and preventing slouching of the back. Also, can too much weight cause a person to have problems in their lower back?

DEAR READER — I hate to tell you this but it doesn't matter what kind of exercises you use, you cannot really reduce the waistline significantly unless you get rid of excess fat. That two-inch bulge around the back can't be eliminated by simply toning up muscles.

For that reason I'd suggest you start a walking program and develop the capacity to walk a great deal each day. I'm talking about three or four miles at a minimum. This you'll have to do gradually. Then make an effort to increase your physical activity in any other way that fits in with your life style.

Using exercise to help you lose weight is going to be slow, so you might as well think of it in terms of a year-long project. At the same time you can reduce your calories a sensible amount to try to help you in the process.

Yes, you can have lower back problems because of being overweight. A large, pendulous abdomen is a significant factor. Poor abdominal muscle tone also contributes to this difficulty. Some exercises that you use to strengthen your abdomen are good for your back. I'm sending you The Health Letter number 13-10, Backache and What to Do about It. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Poor posture is often a habit and it's sometimes a symptom of weak trunk muscles. The back exercises which I suggested in The Health Letter I'm sending you will help you some in this regard.

To keep your shoulders from rounding forward and slouching, you may need to do exercises that strengthen the muscle between the shoulder blades. The proper movement for this is the rotation of the arms backward like a back stroke for swimming.

If there is a local health club facility available to you, you might want to use some of their weight devices to help you. A little harder so they'll be stronger and help you keep your shoulders back.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Over a year ago I hurt my back. I've had numbness in my legs since then. My doctor sent me to an orthopedic surgeon and his diagnosis was "spinal cord injury." During the day I have little or no back pain — only the numbness in my legs. The right leg is the worst. Usually I awake in the morning with back pain but it subsides after I get up and begin to move around. We have a firm mattress on our bed. I am 48, of slender frame weighing about 140 pounds.

How can one tell, other than having surgery, if it is spinal cord injury or a pinched nerve that is causing the numbness? What can be done to restore normal sensation in the legs? I cannot run and must be more careful in walking than in the past. The orthopedist did not recommend surgery because I do not have severe back pain.

DEAR READER — There are many different causes for back pain and numbness in the legs. You really can't start a good treatment program unless you know what's causing the problem. For that reason I think you ought to see a neurologist in addition to the orthopedic surgeon you've already seen.

By examining various nerve responses, he will know which nerves to the legs are involved or what part of the spinal cord is involved. He can use special tests to tell if you have a ruptured disc that's pressing on the cord or if there is any other pressure point on the areas where the spinal nerves exit from the spinal cord.

If there is pressure on the cord from a ruptured disc, the symptoms sometimes subside as the disc area repairs itself. In other instances, surgical correction is required. The only way a decision can be made is with a careful examination.

In some instances exercises are very useful in helping to relieve back pain. I do not want you to do any of these exercises without your doctor's permission after he has examined you, but I am sending you The Health Letter number 13-10, Backache and What to Do about It. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

As The Health Letter I'm sending you explains, by strengthening the trunk muscles and the abdominal muscles you can often provide considerable support to the back. That may prove to be useful for many people with mild back strain because of weak muscles and inactivity.

If you exercise improperly or when you're having an acute back condition it may sometimes aggravate the condition. That's why I don't like people to begin a series of exercises for their back unless they've been carefully examined. Also, you can have medical problems inside the abdomen that cause referred pain to the back and require an entirely different form of treatment.

You do not have the ordinary form of backache because it's worse when you first awaken. In many instances of common backache, it will be relieved by resting in bed. In fact, often the biggest advantage of traction is causing a person to be quiet in bed while the injured back repairs itself.

Leningrad Celebrates Famed, 'White Nights'

By BARTON REPPERT Associated Press Writer Leningrad, U.S.S.R.

(AP) Between Nevsky Prospekt and the Kazan Cathedral's neoclassical colonnade, the animated talk of young friends mingles with the scent of lilacs as another pale northern sunset glides gently into dawn. It is past midnight yet the sky still retains the brightness of a sun that has only dipped just below the pink-tinged horizon.

These are Leningrad's famed "white nights" of the summer solstice, once a prime season for glittering all-night balls and garden parties of the Russian aristocracy.

Thousands Make Scene For Willie's Concert

By BOB WIELAND Associated Press Writer AUSTIN (AP) — Willie Nelson threw an Independence Day shindig for a few of his "family," friends and fans, and tens of thousands showed up for a day of broiling sunshine and foot-stomping country music.

But the heat that has baked Texas for two weeks didn't deter a good time and relatively few medical problems were reported. Six people were transported to Brackenridge Hospital for heat-related ailments at mid-afternoon, when the temperature hit 99.

"They're mostly young and prepared for it," said Bill Kane of the Bexar County Ambulance Co. More than 100 medics were standing by to treat problems arising from the blazing sun, which has baked Texas for two weeks.

Some fans devised their own methods of beating the heat; dousing themselves with beer, sucking on ice cubes and lying beneath pickup trucks. Promoters expected 60,000 people to attend the picnic, but they had no final figures as yet.

It was Nelson's eighth extravaganza and he said at the outset it was his last. "It's time-consuming," Nelson said. "They've been a lot of fun — but a lot of work."

He said financial reasons were not behind halting what has become a Texas tradition for progressive country music fans, since the picnics never have made money. "It looks like for the first time, we'll break even," Nelson joked.

The popular singer now has other interests, though. His first starring motion picture, "Honey-suckle Rose," premiered here Thursday night. "Being a movie star sure beats working," he says. He worked at the picnic, though. His fans expected it. So he opened the festival and ended it.

The audience, clad mostly in cutoff blue jeans, T-shirts and hats of all varieties, whooped and hollered. Some waved Confederate or Texas flags. One homemade banner bore a likeness of Nelson in a top hat. Events weren't all happy, however. Cars piled up for miles along the winding, hilly roads leading to Nelson's Pedernales Country Club 27 miles west of here.

"Welcome to Willie's Fourth of July Traffic Jam," grumbled a young man toting a cooler as he hiked from his car parked on the outer fringes of the area.

The 12-hour picnic featured 12 hours of country-western music, mostly the "outlaw country" style that has its roots in this part of the state.

Nelson was a pioneer, in the style of Bob Willis of "Texas Swing" fame. Now he's a star. Reporters from London and Australia confirmed Nelson had become an international celebrity as popular over there and Down Under as in the Central Texas hills where his music began.

"It's kind of weird," observed a Westerner who has been living in Leningrad for the past two years. "All the rest of the year this town is really straight. But during the white nights, it's as though people wake up on June 15th and don't go to bed again until about July 5th."

He added that in the daytime "some people walk around almost like zombies — because they've been up all night partying."

Although perhaps not as dramatic as the "midnight sun" occurring north of the Arctic Circle, the haunting radiance of the white nights has figured vividly in many St. Petersburg literary greats. Early 19th-century poet Alexander Pushkin wrote that he himself would often stay up composing or reading, without a lamp, after the imperial capital's streets were already deserted.

"Driving the darkness Out of the heavens, twilight hastens To welcome twilight, scarcely giving Night half an hour. The white nights manage to evoke lyrical language even in the normally dry, staid Soviet press."

"Everything has merged together — interwoven: yesterday and today, tomorrow and forever," said a recent feature article in the newspaper Sovetskaya Rossiya. "Everything becomes possible and understandable on a white night."

While running for the presidency, Henry Clay issued a clay pipe with his image as a campaign gimmick.

Goolagong Wins Women's Singles...

Borg Wimbledon Champion Again!

By WINSOR DOBBIN
AP Sports Writer
WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Bjorn Borg fought off the tenacious play of John McEnroe and won a phenomenal fifth consecutive Wimbledon tennis championship today with an exciting 1-6, 7-5, 6-3, 6-7, 8-6 victory that features the greatest tiebreaker in Wimbledon history.

At the end of the match, after Borg's cross-court backhand passed McEnroe, the champion fell to his knees, as he had done on each of his other four triumphs here. The Swede is the first player since 1906 to win five consecutive men's singles and the first ever to win it under the current format.

The fourth set featured some of the best tennis this venerable championship has ever seen. McEnroe saved seven match points in all and Borg avoided six points. The tiebreaker went to 18-16. The match lasted 3 1/2 hours and 53 minutes.

The final set, something of an anti-climax after the taut fourth set tiebreaker, went with service to 7-6 for Borg — no tiebreakers are played in the deciding set of any Wimbledon matches.

The Swede went to 15-40 on McEnroe's serve and hit the winner with a superb backhand pass.

The prior set showed both players at their magnificent best. Play went with serve through eight games before Borg broke for 5-4. Serving for the match, the top seed jumped to a 40-15 edge.

On the first match point, McEnroe hit a wonderful backhand pass. The second seed from Douglass, N.Y., saved the second with a forehand volley, then forced Borg to hit a forehand into the net and passed the Swede with a backhand for the break to 5-5.

After each held serve with ease, they entered the tiebreaker.

Evonne Goolagong, the 1971 champion and darling of the Center Court crowd, defeated Chris Evert Lloyd 6-1, 7-6 Friday to win the women's singles after a gap of nine years.

The Australian, who broke down in tears after her victory, said: "I was getting fed up with being a runner-up. It made me all the more determined."

Cheered all the way by the crowd that has adopted her as their own, Goolagong dominated the first set against two-time champion Lloyd, then struggled through the second.

When she first won the title, Evonne was a wide-eyed girl from the outback.

Torch Arrives For '80 Games

MOSCOW (AP) — The Olympic Torch arrived in the Soviet Union on Saturday after a 16-day relay through Greece, Bulgaria and Romania, the news agency Tass reported.

Pyotr Bolotnikov, Soviet gold medalist in 10,000 meters at the 1964 Rome Olympics, took the flame at noon from a Romanian runner at the border bridge spanning the Prut River near Leusheny, the agency said.

"When I was lowering my torch to the flame that had arrived from Greece I felt the same emotion as twenty years ago on the running track in Rome," Bolotnikov said after completing the first leg of the relay on Soviet territory.

Changing every kilometer, torch-bearers watched by numerous spectators, were bringing the flame to the Moldavian capital of Kishinev where hundreds of thousands of residents will view it during the first night in Soviet territory, Tass said.

The torch was lit July 19 at the altar of the Hera Temple at the site of the ancient Olympic Games in Greece.

Teams of runners carried it across three nations for the delivery to the Soviets, who will transport the flame to Moscow for the Summer Games' opening ceremony at Lenin Stadium July 19.

Junior Entries Conclude At 'Fourth' Net Tournery

Snyder's annual Fourth of July Tennis Tournament concluded its junior division Friday under fair skies and the coolest sun to fall on the area in 10 days.

The adult division, which began play in the evening, was to conclude today. Junior's action saw Lisa Thompson take 14 Girls Singles with a hard-fought 7-6, 6-4 win over Lisa Franklin in the finals.

Kelley Scott had less trouble in 16 Girls Singles, handling Penny Prudhomme 6-0, 6-1 in the quarterfinals, and Tammy Martin 6-3, 6-4 in the finals.

Mike McWilliams won 12 Boys Singles, defeating Doug Chitsey 6-4, 2-6, 6-2. He knocked off Tim Key, 6-0, 8-0, to advance to the finals.

In 14 Boys Singles, Joe Agnew won after holding off Paul Prudhomme, 6-1, 6-0, and Jay Piland, 6-1, 6-2.

Allison Claims Daytona Prize

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Bobby Allison didn't have time to worry about the pain from a blistered toe or the sweat pouring down his face.

All he could allow himself to think about was keeping his white and blue Mercury Cougar on the track and keeping tabs on David Pearson and Dale Earnhardt as the trio raced nose-to-tail through the final laps of Friday's $217,325 Firecracker 400.

The 42-year-old Allison, from Hueytown, Ala., kept the throttle pressed firmly to the floor at sweltering Daytona International Speedway and held on for a record-breaking victory.

"Our handling made the difference," the bone-tired winner said. "I was able to run wide open into the turns and they weren't."

"On that last lap, Dale tried to come around on the inside and one of the slower cars got in his way. David filled in where Dale was and the two of them ran side-by-side for a while."

"That slowed them down some and about that time I came up on some lapped cars and they pulled me along," Allison added. Allison, hampered only by the oppressive tropical heat and three brief caution flags, averaged 173.473 mpg. That broke the year-old mark of 172.890 set by Neil Bonnett.

Temperatures on the high-banked, 2 1/2-mile asphalt oval and inside the cars soared well over 100 degrees.

"It did get pretty warm out there," Allison said.

Cotton Latest Golf Recruit At Western Texas

James Cotton, a 1980 graduate of Round Rock High School, has signed a letter of intent with Western Texas College, Golf Coach Bob O'Day has announced.

Round Rock won the district and regional titles this year, and finished sixth at state. The team also won the Austin Independent School District Invitational, which attracted 40 teams. They finished second in the other two.

Cotton was 5th individual in the district this season and was ranked in the top 20 in the state. He was fifth individual in the district for 1980 and fourth individual at the San Marcos Invitational, shooting 76-74. He has participated in the Future Masters' Tournament in Dalton, Ala., for three years.

During his senior year at Round Rock, Cotton was selected Mr. Round Rock High School Spirit and was a nominee for the titles of Mr. Round Rock 1980 and Senior Class Favorite. He attended the Real Estate Academy in Austin during his senior year and completed 180 hours.

Oiler Placekicker Fritsch Charged In Woman's Death

DALLAS (AP) — Houston Oiler placekicker Toni Fritsch has been charged with involuntary manslaughter in an indictment that charges he was intoxicated and speeding recklessly when his car went out of control May 26, killing the ex-wife of a law-enforcement officer.

The indictment, returned Thursday, names the former Dallas Cowboy placekicker in the death of Neida K. Burks, 41, the ex-wife of a Texas Ranger.

The document spells out the accident in which Fritsch's 1980 Volkswagon Jetta went out of control, missed an entrance ramp, went across the shoulder, across the median and flipped over onto a northbound vehicle.

Mrs. Burks died of massive head injuries less than two hours after the crash. Fritsch suffered a fractured jaw, broken shoulder and cracked ribs and was hospitalized for three days.

Dallas police spokesman Bob Shaw said Fritsch did not take a breathalyzer test after the accident. Traffic investigator John Feinglas said the day after the accident that Fritsch had been drinking, but was not legally intoxicated.

Fritsch, 34, testified before a Dallas County grand jury last week. A deputy district clerk said a warrant would be issued for Fritsch's arrest on Monday.

A manslaughter conviction carries a maximum punishment of 10 years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

Defeat Twins 4-3 In 12 Innings...

Rangers Outlast Minnesota

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Three seasons and 52 games have not been enough for John Verhoeven to rack up his first major league victory. His record dropped to 0-2 this season and 0-6 for a career as Texas outlasted the Twins 4-3 in 12 innings Friday night.

Clutch relief pitching by Danny Darwin and Bump Willis's game-winning sacrifice fly in the 12th propelled Texas to the win. Darwin came in to replace starter Doc Medich. "This is the first year I've been used in short relief, and I like it," said Darwin, who blanked the Twins with one hit in 4 1/3 innings.

Darwin upped his season record to 5-1 by striking out 7 batters and walking none. Jose Morales got the long hit, a single, off Darwin in the 11th.

"Sparky (Lyle) and Kern (Jim) have been helping me in the bullpen. I've been preparing for this relief role since the season began," said the 25-year-old Darwin.

Minnesota had taken a 1-0 lead in the first inning on Ken Landreaux's line-drive double to right-center field, scoring Hosken Powell, who beat out an infield single and advanced to second on Rick Sofield's sacrifice.

The Twins made it 3-0 in the second on John Castano's two-run homer, his sixth of the year, off Medich.

Buddy Bell ripped a pair of solo homers, his 10th and 11th of the season, off Twins starter Darrell Jackson in the fourth and sixth innings for Texas' first two runs. It was the fourth time this season Bell has homered twice in the same game.

Texas' Al Oliver sent the game into extra innings with a run-scoring double in the eighth inning. Oliver's double into the right field corner drove in Wills, who had drawn a walk off Jackson.

Bump Willis hit a deep sacrifice fly to center field to drive in Mickey Rivers from third base for the winning run.

Ryan At 3,000, But Astros Fall

CINCINNATI (AP) — By the expression on his face, you couldn't tell that Nolan Ryan's strike-out express had just passed another milestone.

He hard-throwing Houston right-hander seemed more concerned about his control problems that fueled an 8-1 Cincinnati victory Friday over the Astros behind rookie Charie Leibrandt's four-hitter. "I need to start pitching better if I'm going to start helping this club," said Ryan, 5-6. "I don't think I've kept them in the ball game the way I should have the last three games. I pitched. I don't really know what the reason is."

Ryan became the fourth pitcher ever to strike out 3,000 batters when he threw a fastball by Cincinnati center fielder Cesar Geronimo in the second inning for his third strikeout of the game. His total of 3,003 places him behind Walter Johnson, Gaylord Perry and Bob Gibson.

"I don't put that much emphasis on it. It's just another number," Ryan said of the momentous strikeout. "I think the main thing it shows is I'm durable and have had good stuff over my career. To be able to strike out that many people sums it up."

Geronimo had been thinking for a week about Ryan's 3,000th victim, with good reason — the outfielder also was Gibson's 3,000th victim.

"Tonight I knew he needed four, so I was thinking about it before the game," Geronimo said. "I was just at the right place at the right time." Although his fastball earned him a standing ovation in the second inning, Ryan's lack of control earned him an early shower in the fifth. He walked Ray Knight and Junior Kennedy in the second, around Geronimo's strikeout, then allowed Leibrandt to dribble a two-run single up the middle.

Dan Driessen rapped a solo homer in the third, and Ryan started the fifth ominously, walking Ken Griffey and Driessen.

Knights struck out, but Geronimo singled home Griffey and Kennedy followed with a two-run double that chased Ryan.

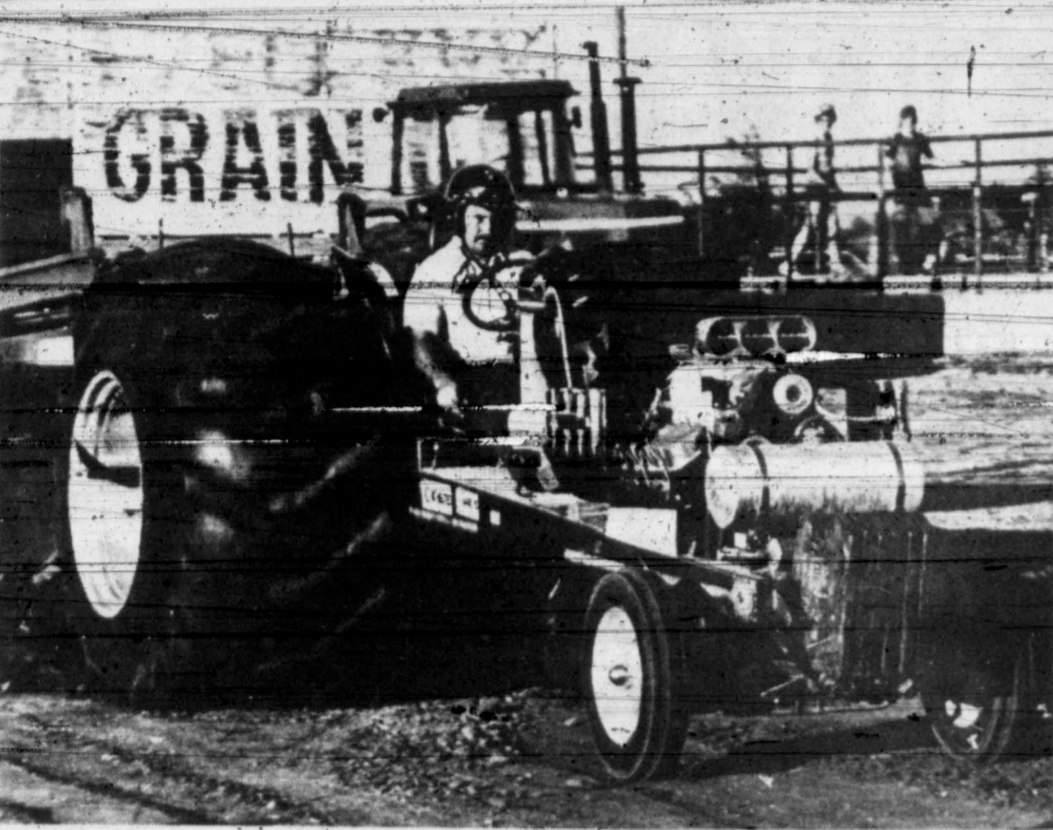

Leibrandt allowed a first-inning single by Rafael Lendestoy and second-inning double by Enos Cabell, then retired the next 14 batters in order until Cesar Cedeno's homer in the seventh.

Ladies Slate World Series Of Golf, Too

NEW YORK (AP) — Male golfers have had a World Series of Golf for close to two decades and now the ladies have one of their own.

The Ladies Professional Golf Association announced the first World Series of Women's Golf, which will be played at the Country Club in Pepper Pike, Ohio, a suburb of Cleveland, Sept. 4-7.

It will have an elite field with no more than 12 players, according to LPGA Commissioner Ray Volpe and Mark McCormack, the president of the sponsoring International Management Group. The total purse will be $150,000 with the winner to draw $50,000.

HOT STUFF—The weather may have been below the 100 degree mark for the first time in a while Friday, but the engines of vehicles in Snyder's annual Tractor Pull were blazing. ## Tractor Pull Held In Fair Weather

A merciful sun, emitting rays of less than 100 degrees for the first time in 40 days, shone down on one of the most popular events held in Snyder during Friday's Fourth of July festivities.

The first day of the annual Tractor Pull, with its assortment of piercing rumbles and roars coming from huge super-tuned engines, came off with its usual brand of excitement.

Competition was to resume Saturday evening at 7, at the Rodeo Grounds on 30th St.

Snyder entries fared well in the competition, sweeping the first three places in the 5,000 Stock Tractor division and taking several second and third places.

Darren Brooks, Dale

Shifflett and David Johnson finished 1-2-3 in the 5,000 division.

John Brittain won the 7,500 Modified division, followed by Roger Smith of Crosbyton and Rodney Jones of Sonora. Snyder's Eldon Kirkpatrick placed sixth.

From Vega, Lee Wagner emerged as winner of the 5,500 Economy division. New Mexico's Bill Darr was second, followed by Larry Lee of Snyder. Royce Patterson and Curtis Stipe, both of Snyder, placed 5-6 respectively.

The Dexter Pulling Team, of Dexter, N.M., won the 5,800 4WD division. Snyder's Jesse Allen placed second. Tom Patterson of Snyder took fourth, while the J&J Pulling Team, also of Snyder, placed sixth.

Locals Cop Top Scramble Honors At Western Texas

Walt Williams, Clint Baach, and Mark and Greg Hinton took first place in the Fourth of July Florida Scramble held at Western Texas College Friday.

The foursome carded a low-ball 55 to win first place honors in the "A" Flight.

Winners of the "B" Flight were Glen Patterson, Robert Sterling, Alton Patterson and Don Newman, with a 61. Both groups are from Snyder.

Second place in the "A" Flight went to WTC course manager Bob O'Day, Mike Patterson, Sterling Parker and Mark Hargrove with a 59. Third were Rick and Lee Hopper and Frank Warner and Bob Doolittle.

Taking second in the "B" Flight were Chuck Duckworth, Martinez, Bowdy and Klump, of Abilene. They carded a 61 to tie for first place, but the Patterson-Sterling-Newman foursome won top prize on a card play-off.

Third in the "B" Flight were Tommy and Bob Estes and Andrew and Bob Debesk of Abilene, with a 62.

Alcott Establishes Harbour Records

NOBLESVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Amy Alcott says she's sacrificing enjoyable foods for low golf scores, and it appears to be paying big dividends in her sixth year on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour.

"I love food, but my game is much better because I have lost weight," said the 24-year-old Alcott after establishing single-round and 36-round tournament records on the 6,034 yard, 72-hole Harbour Trees Golf Club course in the $150,000 tourney.

Alcott, helped by an eagle on the 452-yard par 5 No. 6 hole, carded a No. 7-under 65 Friday, giving her a 36-hole total of 10-under-par 134. Penny Pulz, who hit 68 for the second consecutive day, trailed the leader by two strokes with a 136 going into the third round of the 72-hole tournament.

Judy Rankin, who won the first Mayflower Classic, as it is officially known, in 1977, had set the previous one-day standard with 66, in 1979. Jerilyn Britz set the two-day mark of 138 last year.

WGA Pairings For Tuesday

Members of the women's golf association who would like to play Tuesday are urged to be at the Snyder Country Club pro shop at 7:30 a.m. Play will begin with a shotgun start.

Holmes Prepared For LeDoux Monday Night

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Larry Holmes is ready to fight Scott LeDoux and tired of talking about a fight with Muhammad Ali.

Holmes, the World Boxing Council heavyweight champion, is scheduled to defend the title against LeDoux Monday night at the Met Center amid talk that he will fight Ali sometime in the fall.

"I'm going to make this an easy fight ... believe me," said the unbeaten Holmes about his seventh title defense.

The champion said he was upset about a confrontation with LeDoux at a picnic Thursday. He said he did not like LeDoux's foul language in front of his wife.

"I respect him and his wife," said Holmes. "I let him know that I'm no chump. All the time, three-time champion, is due here Sunday to watch the fight. There has been talk for several months about a Holmes-Ali fight.

"It's boring," said Holmes. "It's old news. I think the record is broken. I'll believe it when I see it."

Richie Giachetti, Holmes' manager, said that Holmes had once turned down a Don King offer for an Ali fight. Then the champion said he got $100,000 forfeit money when an offer for such a bout fell through.

Then there was talk that entrepreneur Bill Sargent was going to make an Ali-Holmes bout Friday. Holmes exhibited a letter one of his attorneys had sent to King saying that the $250,000 front money Sargent and King were supposed to deposit by June 10 had not appeared and that the champion considered any contract or commitment null and void.

King recently was quoted as saying he might be able to put together a $15 million package for a Holmes-Ali fight in Egypt. One source also said that King and Madison Square Garden were working on an Ali-Holmes fight for Saudi Arabia.

"If that's true ... great," said Holmes, when advised of the $15 million figure, for the proposed fight in Cairo. "They're going to have to take me out of the country."

Holmes is expected to make about $1 million for his title defense against LeDoux, which will be his 35th pro fight. He has won the first 34.

The fight will be televised live by ABC from 8 p.m. as part of a championship doubleheader. In the other bout, Saoul Mamby of New York will defend the WBC super-lightweight championship against Esteban DeJesus of Puerto Rico, the former WBC champ.

CARD OF THANKS

THE FAMILY of Mrs. Lula Dunnam Jones would like to thank each and everyone for your expressions of comfort during the recent loss of our loved one. We especially thank Pastor James Jackson of the First Assembly of God church and the Rev. Royce Barker of Seagraves for their gracious words of consolation during our bereavement. Also the lovely flowers, cards, phone calls, and the food which was brought to the home and to the church was so greatly appreciated. Friends are so important at a time like this, and we pray that our Heavenly Father will greatly bless you for standing with us in our time of sorrow.

July Fourth Marred By Auto Theft, Chase

An otherwise peaceful Fourth of July was marred by a report of an auto theft, and, in an unrelated incident, by a high speed chase, police reports show.

Reporting the auto theft was Eugenio Davila Jr. He told officer Bill Armstrong a 1979 Ford pickup truck was taken from 412 28th St. The pickup, reports show, was last seen about 10:30 p.m. Friday. It was discovered missing about 5:30 a.m. Saturday. Reports also show the keys had been left in the vehicle.

The pursuit began about 12:40 a.m. Saturday on South College Ave. and ended in Mitchell County. Before it was over, units from the Snyder Police Department, Scurry County Sheriff's Office, and the Texas Department of Public Safety were involved in it.

Reports indicate two cars were seen drag racing, and that one car made good its escape. The other car was pursued into Mitchell County, and got stuck in some sand. Two suspects were taken into custody.

Speeds in the chase reportedly exceeded 100 miles an hour.

Friday, two minor traffic accidents were worked and a criminal mischief investigated.

Working the criminal mischief was Kerry Fritz. Reports show a toilet and sink had been torn off a wall at a Towle Park restroom. Damage in the incident was estimated at $250.

Working the first traffic accident was Fritz. It took place at the intersection of 13th St. and College Ave.

about 11:15 a.m. Involved in it were a 1979 Ford pickup driven by Sam Barrientez and a 1974 Chevrolet driven by Jimmy Spriggs. The second accident, reported at 6:45 p.m., occurred in Towle Park and was investigated by Sgt. Ed Covington. There, a parked 1968 Chevrolet owned by Daniel Martinez was struck by a vehicle that fled the scene.

ALICE MIJARES ...promoted

Snyderite Promoted

Alice Cadena Mijares, a 1964 graduate of Snyder High School, recently was promoted to bilingual education consultant at the Region XIX Education Service Center in El Paso.

Mrs. Mijares, daughter of Juanita Cadena, 1911 23rd in Snyder, and the late Jesse Cadena is the wife of Ruben Mijares, formerly of Hobbs, Texas.

Her new job responsibilities include providing services to 13 area schools in the field of bilingual education.

She received a masters degree in educational administration and supervision in 1979 from the University of Texas at El Paso.

Tech Offers Journalism Workshops

LUBBOCK—More than 300 high school students and their sponsors will have opportunity to sharpen their newspaper, yearbook and photography skills at Texas Tech University's 24th Annual Publications Workshops.

The workshops are sponsored by Texas Tech's Department of Mass Communications.

Three photography workshops are scheduled for July 13-18, July 20-25, and July 27-Aug. 1, and two newspaper workshops will be held July 20-25 and July 27-30. Two yearbook sessions are also scheduled for July 20-25 and July 27-30, according to Prof. Ralph E. Sellmeyer, workshops director and associate chairman of the Mass Communications Department.

In photography workshop sessions, students will learn how to operate cameras, develop their own film and make their own enlargements.

"College students and Texas Tech staff are welcome to attend sessions I and III," said Sellmeyer, who will teach the photography workshops. Sellmeyer will be assisted by Harvey Madison, Lubbock professional photographer.

Photography workshops cost $105 per student. Cost for commuter students is $42.

Salesman

improved, it has been at the expense of the price tag.

The first automobile Elkins sold, a pickup truck, went for $1,295. Now, he said, about the cheapest car you can buy sells for around $6,000.

When Elkins walked out the door of Wilson Motor Co. Thursday, it was the end of one chapter, but not of everything.

"I got a lot of plans on things I want to do," he said. "As far as I'm concerned, it's not a stopping place. It's a beginning."

Among his other plans for the future, Elkins hopes to catch up on his fishing and maintain his cattle business.

County Court Sentences 4

Four persons have been sentenced in county court.

Robert Joe Alderete, 505 35th St., pleaded guilty to a charge of possession of marijuana and drew a $300 fine and a 30-day jail sentence.

A guilty plea to a charge of driving while his driver's license was suspended netted Miguel Herrera a $25 fine. Herrera resides at 2405 Ave. N.

David James Koonce pleaded no contest to a charge of unlawfully carrying a weapon. Koonce, Rt. 3, Box 164-A, received a $100 fine.

A guilty plea to a charge of driving while intoxicated netted Bobby Gerald James, 3006 42nd St., a $200 fine and a three-day jail term.

TRACTOR PULL ENTHUSIASTS—A large crowd looked on as the annual Tractor Pull brought a special brand of action to the 30th St. Rodeo Arena here Friday evening. Despite the heat, on-lookers endured. Saturday's events, to begin at 7 p.m., were expected to draw even a larger number of spectators. (SDN Staff Photo) wave, all Odessa wells have been pumped, and in Snyder two wells were brought on to supplement other sources. The only point of anxiety was at Odessa where reserves dipped by 20,000,000 gallons when the pipeline to the Ward County well field broke in two places.

The district hopes to gain a net of 55,000,000 gallons in storage at Odessa this weekend, said O.H. Ivie, general manager. During this period the district can pump around the clock at off-peak power rates and can deliver 41,500,000 gallons a day to Odessa. Consumption is expected to decline during the holiday period, thus contributing to the increase in storage.

An Open Letter to Snyder Savers and Stockholders!

The U.S. Treasury Department is asking Congress to pass a law requiring that 15% of the interest you can earn on your savings account be withheld and sent to the Government before you ever see it.

If the savers of this nation let Congress know—without delay—that they oppose this proposal, then Congress will kill it. Otherwise, it is expected to become law this year.

We urge you to write to your Congressman and Senators without delay and object to this ill-advised proposal.

This proposal would saddle you (and also people who receive other forms of interest and dividend income, including earnings from stocks and bonds) with new tax forms, procedures and requirements. In millions of instances the tax sums involved would be inconsequential.

It would work a special hardship on the millions of people on fixed incomes who depend on interest from their savings accounts to help meet living expenses.

It would reduce the total return on your savings because when interest is withheld and sent to the government, you would lose part of the compounding effect that helps your savings account return a higher yield.

Though the Treasury Department says it will develop an exemption plan for some taxpayers, you would be required (if eligible) to file an exemption form with each bank and savings and loan association and with every other source of your interest and dividend income and keep that paper-work current.

The Treasury claims this withholding is needed to cut tax evasion through failure to declare interest and dividends. We know that you pay taxes on the interest you earn. None of us condones evading our fair share of taxes. But withholding on savings interest is unnecessary because the Treasury's Form 1099 system—the Information Return sent to you at the end of each year by this association with a copy to the IRS—already gives the government the means for checking on those who don't pay their taxes.

Rather than impose a tax withholding plan on savings, and reduce the interest your deposits will earn, our nation needs further incentives to build savings—to provide the capital and jobs for a sound non-inflationary economic future. A recent law will let you exclude $200 from interest and dividend income (for single people) or $400 (for married couples) starting next year. That Congressional action is a sound first step toward encouraging savings.

We urge that you write your members of Congress—your representative in the U.S. House and your two U.S. Senators—now. Ask them not to complicate further our already over-complicated tax system. Ask them to vote against the withholding proposal.

Your Congressman may be addressed:

Hon. Charles Stenholm
U.S. House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20515

Your Senators may be addressed:

Hon. Lloyd Bentsen or Hon. John Tower
United States Senate

Rites Wed Miss Everton, Williams In Hermleigh Catholic Church Ceremony

MR. AND MRS. DAVID L. WILLIAMS

In the sanctuary of Saint John's Catholic Church of Hermleigh, Miss Kelly Lisa Everton became the bride of David Leon Williams in the sacrament of holy matrimony.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Ray Everton and Henry Everton of Snyder. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Williams of Hermleigh.

The double ring ceremony began at 3 p.m. with the playing of the traditional "Marching In," by Mrs. Bette Watts, pianist.

The church was decorated with delicate pink carnations. On either side of the altar were arched candelabra.

Bridesmaids were Miss Virginia Williams of Hermleigh and Mrs. Ruby Gates of Okinawa, Japan, both sisters of the groom. Escorting them in the processional were groomsmen Ned Gates III of Okinawa and Sam Fleming. Maid of honor, Miss Sheila Gale Eckert was escorted down the aisle by the best man, Ricky Dale Williams.

Following were flower girl, Denise Thompson and ringbearer, Steven Sullenger. Behind them were another flower girl and ringbearer, Melanie Thompson and Jeffery Gates of Okinawa.

The processional concluded with the entrance of the bride and groom, both attired in dove white. The bride wore a floor-length wedding gown completely enhanced with flower designed lace. Her transparent lace sleeves concluded in points at the wrists. The neckline was gently dipped and accented with small arches of lace. Her cathedral length train was edged with matching lace. Betty Thompson, sister of the groom, provided the wedding gown and veil.

The bride carried a bouquet of pure white carnations accented with pink, blue and white streamers.

Observing tradition, the bride wore, for something old, her grandmother's wedding band; something new was a necklace, a gold cross with wedding bands given to her on her wedding day by the maid of honor; she borrowed her dress and veil, and she wore a blue garter.

Groomsmen and ushers wore powder blue tuxedos trimmed in navy blue.

with boutonnieres of white carnations. Female attendants wore pink, floor-length pink dresses and carried a long stemmed red rose, symbols of true love. They wore matching wide-brimmed hats. Flower girls, dressed in soft pink dresses, carried white baskets filled with pink rose petals. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Derwin Thompson. Ringbearers, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Rodger Sullenger and Mr. and Mrs. Ned Gates III, carried white silk pillows trimmed in wide lace and streamers of ribbons. Ted Mirales lighted the candles, read the gospel reading and served during mass. Altar boys were Mark Kuss, Stanley Mirales, Arthur Sanchez and Mario Sanchez. Witnessing the sacrament of holy matrimony was Father Thomas Jordan, the maid of honor and best man.

Providing music during the wedding were Mrs.

Thompson and members of Our Lady of Guadalupe youth choir.

During mass, the bride and groom read the responsorial psalm and alleluia: Sheila Eckert carried the bride's veil. The bride and groom repeated their vows and exchanged blessed rings and then lighted the memory candle as husband and wife.

Ushers were Derwin Thompson and Rodger Sullenger. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Williams, Mrs. M.J. Kuss and Mrs. Edith Blair, grandparents of the couple.

Formal Candlelight Ceremony In Anton Weds Former Snyderite

Mitzi Eleis Ayers became the bride of Foy Dan Mill Jr., in a candlelight ceremony at 7 p.m. June 6 at the Lawrence Avenue Church of Christ in Anton.

The parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Ayers of Aledo, formerly of Snyder. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Foy Mills Sr. of Anton. Mr. and Mrs. D. Ayers, long time residents of Snyder, are the grandparents of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown created in white sheer organza and Chantilly lace. The Queen-Anne neckline was edged in tiny Venise floreted Chantilly lace covering the bodice. The Victorian sleeves were made with Point D'Espirit enhanced by ruffle lace cuffs. A wide lace panel accented the flaring skirt and flounced hemline. The back flowed into a chapel-length train. Her Marchi veil, created in sheer organza with a tiny pearl floreted cap, fell to chapel length. She carried a cascade of sweet heart roses and baby's breath.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father, Warren McNeil of

MRS. FOY DAN MILL JR.

Happy. Longer. Serving as matron of honor was her mother, Mrs. Douglas Ayers. Bridesmaids were Patti and Terri Ayers, sister of the bride, both of Aledo. The bride's attendants wore identical dusty rose silk polyester gowns of formal slipper length. The bodice featured a bateau neckline and dolman sleeves. The circular skirt was softly gathered onto the waistband and fell gracefully to the shaped hemline. They each carried a lighted candle, set in vases, surrounded with rose silk flowers and accenting greenery.

The candlelighters, Miss Cindy Nix of Corpus Christi, and Mrs. Danny Young of Loop, wore formal gowns of light dusty rose crepe d'sheen.

The bridegroom wore a white formal tuxedo with a white shirt and white shoes. Bret Mills, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Michael Rackley and John Crumpler, both of Lubbock. The groom's attendants wore silver-grey tuxedos with white shirts. Serving as ushers were Terry Goen, Anton, Steve Joiner, Midland, and Flint DeShazo, Dumas.

Musical selection chosen by the couple included "Looking Through the Eyes of Love" sung by Mrs. Steve Settiff of San Antonio, and "The Wedding Song," "A Common Love" and "Father, Hear the Prayer We Offer," sung by Sarah Sullivan and Sherri Bullard, former high school classmates, and several members of the Meister Singer Chorus from Lubbock Christian College.

The church was decorated with one large candelabrum, two small arch candelabras, and two spiral candelabra adorned with flowers and greenery. A memory candle was lit by the couple after repeating their vows.

A reception followed in the fellowship hall of the church. Members of the houseparty included Mrs. Marshall Rogers, Carlsbad, N.M., Karen Craig-miles, Dumas, Mrs. Michael Rackley, and Mrs. Terry Creech, both of Lubbock.

After a wedding trip to Ruidosa, N.M., the couple will reside in Anton. The bride is a 1977 graduate of Snyder High School and a 1980 spring graduate of LCC. She was active in the

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

If you want fireworks, you can find plenty in today's hand. Further, they are the sort that exploded in the player's faces rather than going off successfully.

After North's jump to four diamonds, South tried Blackwood. And after finding that North held two aces and one king, South went to seven-notrump. If North's king were the diamond king, as seemed most likely, South could see 13 tricks. If it were in clubs, there still might be 13 tricks without a finesse — at worst there would be a finesse for seven.

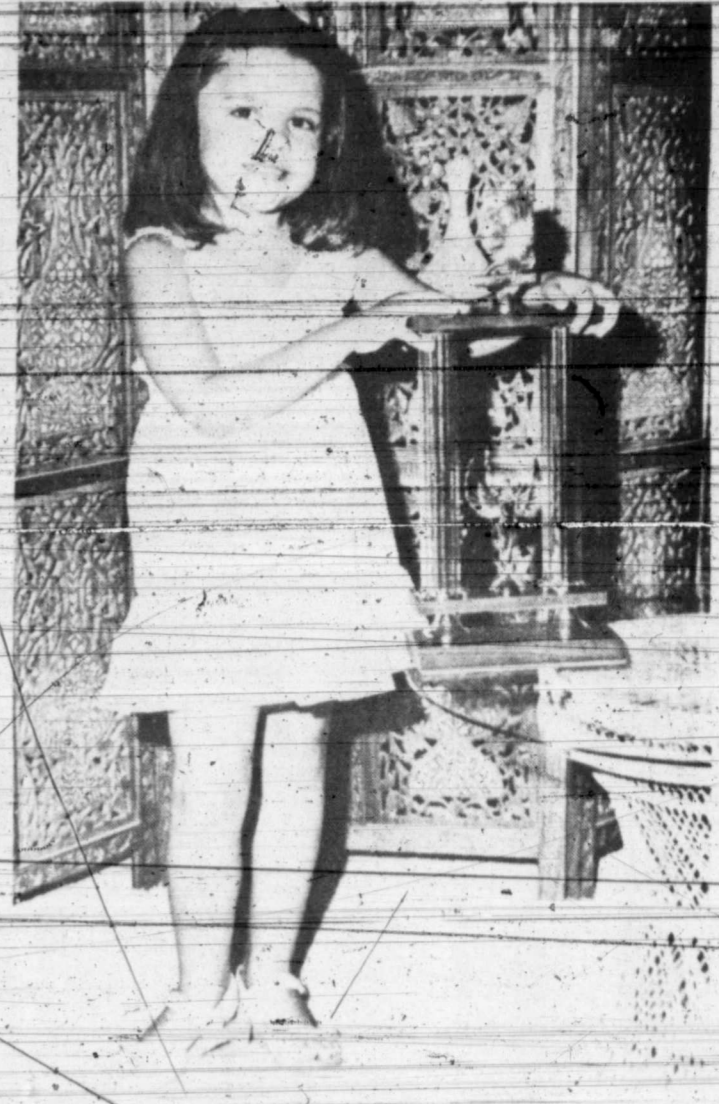

There are no tricks to use a grand slam force available here, but South did not have this bid at his disposal. Anyway, there he was in the stratosphere.

West had to lead away from some honor, which one?

Finally, West came up with an inspiration. He was sure that North held the ace of diamonds so his diamond king was a dead duck. Maybe if he led a diamond South would refuse the finesse.

So the three of diamonds appeared on the table. Dummy's nine held the trick and now South could claim his grand slam, but the real fireworks were yet to come.

At trick two South played dummy's queen of diamonds. East showed out whereupon South said, "Nothing breaks for me. I've got to lose that diamond trick." The grand slam had been chucked back. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Two Beauties Place In "Our Little Miss"

Leigh Van Hook, 5, placed in the top 10 in the "Miss LaPetite" division at the state Our Little Miss contest held in the Holiday Inn in San Angelo. Winners were announced at the closing ceremony, June 28. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Van Hook of 4100 Jacksboro. Miss Van Hook received a trophy and qualified to enter the Miss World competition in August. Sponsoring Miss Van Hook were Snyder National Bank, Lou's Kid-die Cottage, Penney's, Medical Arts Lab, Hall-burton and Pizza Inn. Lori Chasteen of Sweetwater was named first runnerup in the "Ideal Miss" division. She is the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Chasteen of Sweetwater. Miss Chasteen was sponsored by M.L. Duke. Also participating in the state event were Shelby Hildebrand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Hildebrand of 2101 42nd. She was Our Little Miss winner of local contest. Susan Brim entered in the talent division. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Brim, 3717 Sunset.

These young ladies qualified for state competition by winning in their division in the Our Little Miss contest sponsored by the American Business Women's Association here in mid-April.

Some jump-suit responses

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

The jump-suit response is what we used to call the "slam invitational game force." It suggests a slam even though you do nothing further to invite it.

It is one of the few bids that most experts fail to use to best advantage. The reason is that they tend to wait for hands that practically guarantee a slam before getting around to using it.

As an example, if partner opens one spade and you hold: S-2 H-A-K-Q J-10-5 D-A-K-Q C-K-4, you can use Blackwood and bid seven if partner shows two aces, six if he shows one ace and look for a new partner if he shows no aces.

On the other side of the ledger, we find that the ordinary player uses too many of these responses. As an example, he holds: S-A-K-8-7-6-5-2 D-A-K-7-4-3 C-Q-6 and responds two spades to partner's one-heart opening. Partner rebids three hearts and suddenly our average player finds that he has no satisfactory second bid.

A three-spade call would show a longer suit — a four-diamond call would by-pass three-notrump — a three-notrump call might well be the wrong contract and so on.

With this hand if you respond one spade and partner rebids to two hearts, you have an easy and correct three-diamond rebid. You will have shown both your suits without getting past that nice three-notrump spot which should be the right contract if partner bids it over three diamonds.

Next week we will show proper jump shift responses. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Voice Misguiding Airplanes

HILLIARD, Fla. (AP) — Someone "on the lunatic fringe" probably is responsible for broadcasting false flight instructions to airline pilots, a Federal Aviation Administration spokesman says.

Flight controllers in this tiny Northeast Florida town said ordinary checks have turned up the false information quickly and allowed pilots to follow proper instructions from authorities. But officials say the incidents hold the potential for danger.

The latest "ghost voice" was broadcast Saturday to a Delta Airlines jet near Gainesville, Fla., during its flight from Tampa to Indianapolis, officials said.

Five similar transmissions were made to pilots at Tampa International Airport during a three-day period in May.

All the flights ended safely, but the FBI, FAA and Federal Communications Commission are trying to trace the caller. A convicted violator could be sentenced to five years in federal prison, an FBI spokesman said.

Solemn Vows Exchanged In Crosbyton First Baptist

Reception Planned For Deavers' 50th Anniversary

Wynola Merle Ratheal became the bride of Larry Wayne Early in the First Baptist Church in Crosbyton at 2:30 p.m. June 29, with the Rev. Bobbie Rine officiating. The couple made the third generation from the bride's family to be wed in Crosbyton.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ratheal of Crosbyton. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Early of 2100 42nd.

The bride's father presented her in marriage as she was attired in a dress of white silk crepe, mid-knee length. Her front wrapping bodice, forming a V-neckline, was edged with hand-cut lace. She wore a lace covered hat with net and ribbons forming a veil at center back. The bridal bouquet was silk flowers of white, blue and baby's breath set in net and ribbon, made by the groom's mother.

Serving as best man was Randy Golden. Ushers were Steve Ratheal of Crosbyton and Keith Early, brothers of the bride and groom, respectively.

The maid of honor, Edrie Patheal of Crosbyton, sister of the bride, wore a teal blue sundress. Mrs. Early also made the maid of honor's nosegay. It featured blue and white silk flowers elegantly finished with net and ribbon. A basket of white flowers graced the altar area with baskets of greenery on either side. Ivy and white and blue ribbon bows marked the pews. Traditional wedding music, including "Wedding Song" and "Whither Thou Goest," was sung by Bobbie Trull, accompanied by Wanda Karr, pianist.

MRS. LARRY EARLY

The church parlor was the setting for the reception following the couple's nuptial vows. Punch, cake, nuts and mints were served by Michelle Alexander, cousin of the bride, and Jamie Benham, bride-elect of Keith Early, brother of the groom.

Following the couple's wedding trip, they are at home in Snyder where the bride is employed by Snyder school system and the bridegroom is employed by Halliburton. The bride chose for her going away attire, a red knit dress trimmed in white with white accessories.

When possible, wear more expensive or higher quality clothing items or accessories near the face, says Becky Saunders, a

An open house has been set for July 13, 2-4 p.m. at 3701 Midland Ave. (W. 37th St.) to honor J. Lawrence and Ruby Deavers on their 50th wedding anniversary. The couple was married July 13, 1930.

The occasion will be hosted by their children, Bill and JoAnn Deavers and Pat and Don Snider, of Snyder. They invite friends and relatives to the reception and join their parents in celebrating the event. The couple's five grandchildren are included in the houseparty.

Deavers was born at Cooper and Mrs. Deavers was born at Paris, Tex. They met at Polar in 1929 and married in Snyder, where they have lived since. Deavers is a retired insurance broker and gospel song writer. Mrs. Deavers is employed by Snyder Drug and is an active member of American Business Women's Association. They are members of First Baptist Church.

PUBLIC RECORDS

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 29-year-old bachelor with a problem concerning my preference for women. I am not a weirdo or kook who goes in for kinky sex. I am a normal, fairly successful professional man.

To get to the point, normal-size women do nothing for me. It takes a fat woman to really turn me on. I don't mean one who is pleasingly plump. I mean a very obese woman — and the bigger the better.

The most satisfying sexual experience I've ever had was with a woman so fat that her belly practically hung down to her knees. (I never knew exactly how much she weighed, but she had to be at least 400 pounds.) Most men would probably have found her repulsive, but to me she was wonderfully exciting. Of course, I'd never be seen in public with such a woman.

I am not proud of the fact that I am ashamed to be seen with women whom I find fascinating in private. Should I see a psychiatrist about my unusual preference?

WITHHOLD NAME AND CITY

DEAR WITHHOLD: Yes, since you are ashamed of your preference and probably would be happier were you able to function as well with a "normal-size" woman. I see nothing wrong with your fascination for fat females, but there is something cruel and exploitive about using them only as sex objects.

DEAR ABBY: I think anyone who starts his lawn mower before 8 a.m. should be shot! Whatever happened to common courtesy? What if a neighbor works the night shift? What if a neighbor has a long-awaited, well-earned day off, and wants to catch up on a few extra hours of sleep?

I've never heard of anyone getting a prize for the first lawn mowed in the morning, and I've been at it for 35 years.

"Love thy neighbor" includes consideration of this sort. Please print this, the offending neighbor never misses reading your column — nor do I.

SLEEPY-TIME GAL

DEAR GAL: According to my mail, the early morning mowing problem is a chronic pain in the ear to many. I don't recommend shooting at sunrise anyone who mows at that hour, but your complaint is valid, so call on your neighbor and ask (civilly) for a little more consideration.

DEAR ABBY: Whenever I ask my wife how she feels, she says, "I'm tired." Abby, I am so tired of hearing her say she's tired. I am at the end of my rope.

I help with the cooking and cleaning and make no special demands on her, so I can't be for the life of me understand what she has to be so tired about. Is this normal?

Please don't suggest that I stop asking her how she feels, because if I do she will think I no longer care. We have been married almost 25 years.

CARING HUSBAND

DEAR CARING: Everyone gets tired occasionally, but to be chronically tired is not normal. I urge you to insist that your wife see her doctor for a thorough physical checkup before she gets too tired to go. Her chronic fatigue could be due to boredom, poor nutrition, insomnia, insufficient exercise, menopause or a symptom of a serious medical problem. Don't put it off.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 years old. Many times I have started to write to you about my problem, but I always end up throwing the letter in the wastepaper basket. I have finally summed up my problem with these three questions: 1) What is a friend? 2) How do you get friends? 3) How do you keep them?

FRIENDLESS

DEAR FRIENDLESS: A friend is someone who likes you and wants nothing of you but friendship. He doesn't like you less when you're crabby, moody or mean. He understands you. He can tell you when he thinks you're wrong without worrying about losing your friendship. And he forgives you without making a big deal out of it. You "get" friends by being the kind of person you want for a friend. You "keep" them by continuing to be that kind of person.

DEAR ABBY: My father is the most stubborn man in the world. Nobody can tell him anything.

He had seat belts put in our car as soon as they came out, and he gave us kids a big long lecture on how we should always use them, but he never uses them himself. When I tell him he forgot to fasten his seat belt, he says he is going only a short distance and it doesn't pay to bother.

I have tried to tell him that it takes only a few seconds to fasten a seat belt and it might save his life, but he gets mad at me for speaking up to him. He has a very ugly temper, and I have to be careful what I say to him or I'll end up with a fat lip.

How can a 14-year-old boy tell his father to practice what he preaches?

FOURTEEN

DEAR FOURTEEN: Tell him that the National Safety Council estimates that most automobile accidents occur within 25 miles of the victims' homes. But don't tell him to practice what he preaches or you're apt to get a "belt" in the chops.

DEAR ABBY: I am a homosexual, happily "married" to my lover. To my fellow employees I am a happy bachelor. A woman in our office has recently broken off with the man she's been living with, and she asked me if I'd like to join her, another woman in our office and her husband for dinner and dancing some night. She caught me completely off guard, so I said, "Yes," before I could think of a valid reason to say no.

Abby, I have no desire to join these people or get involved socially with them.

I can easily say I'm busy when she asks me for a specific date, but how can I handle any subsequent invitations? Do not discuss my love life at the office, but I want her to know that I am not available for any dates, without telling her why.

SHOOK UP

DEAR SHOOK: Tell her you're not available because you're "involved" with someone. (It's true, you are.)

DEAR SHOOK: Tell her you're not available because you're "involved" with someone. (It's true, you are.)

Working women tend to earn less than working men when both have the same number of years of education and even when men have less education, reports Cindy Wilson, a family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Roemisch-Kuss Clan Reunites

The Hermleigh Community Center was the site for the first annual Roemisch-Kuss reunion June 29 with approximately 250 relatives attending.

Traveling the farthest distance were Ruby Gates and sons, Jeffery and Travis, of Okinawa, Japan. Mrs. Gates is the granddaughter of Mathis and Emma Kuss. The oldest person attending was 90-year-old Robert Shulze of Sweetwater, and the oldest family member attending was 84-year-old Emma Kuss. Music was provided by Olbert Kuss and sons, Lonnie and Rodney of Slaton, also Ed and Steve Kuss of Sweetwater.

Relatives registered from Okinawa, Japan, Clinton, Okla., Big Spring, Snyder, Hereford, Houston, Dimmitt, Midland, Denison, Port Isabel, Buffalo Gap, Monroe, La., Loraine, Garden City, San Angelo, Lubbock, Littlefield, Gail, Odessa, San Antonio, Dallas, Stephenville, Abilene, Slaton, Austin, Iowa Park, Wichita Falls, Sonora, Rowena, Eunice, New Mexico and Amarillo.

The next reunion will be held July 26, 1981 in the Towle Park Barn.

expanding bureaucracy

Every time Congress increases the number of regulators and enlarges the control government agents have over the population, it is done in the name of a worthy cause. Both houses of Congress passed legislation that expands the power of the federal bureaucracy in the name of ending discrimination in housing. The separate bills now go to a joint committee to iron out differences.

The House voted 310 to 95 to put teeth into the 1968 Fair Housing Act. Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., chief sponsor of the legislation, claimed his power-expanding bill was needed because racial discrimination in the sale and rental of housing is "epidemic." It is difficult to believe that so many members of the House supported this legislation - by far a more serious bill than the Senate's - in the face of the strides that have been made by minorities in recent years. While racial discrimination in housing did appear to be a major issue in the early 1960s, in the 1980s the subject is, for the most part, history.

Admittedly, we believe that even if racial discrimination were widespread, we would still support the right of a property owner to sell or rent to whomever he chooses. For although we find racial discrimination despicable and contrary to our basic philosophy, we nevertheless do not believe the government has the right to force any philosophy on anyone, including property owners.

If the housing legislation were nothing more than an empty-election year symbol, it would not be so bad. Instead the bill has enormous potential impact, not in ending discrimination, but in expanding bureaucratic power. Edwards' bill sets up administrative courts to determine if discrimination has taken place. Property owners taken before these kangaroo courts will not have the same rights found in regular courts. The judges will be little more than employees of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, yet they will have the power to fine citizens up to $10,000. A spokesman for the National Association of Realtors says the practice of using administrative law judges is scary. We agree.

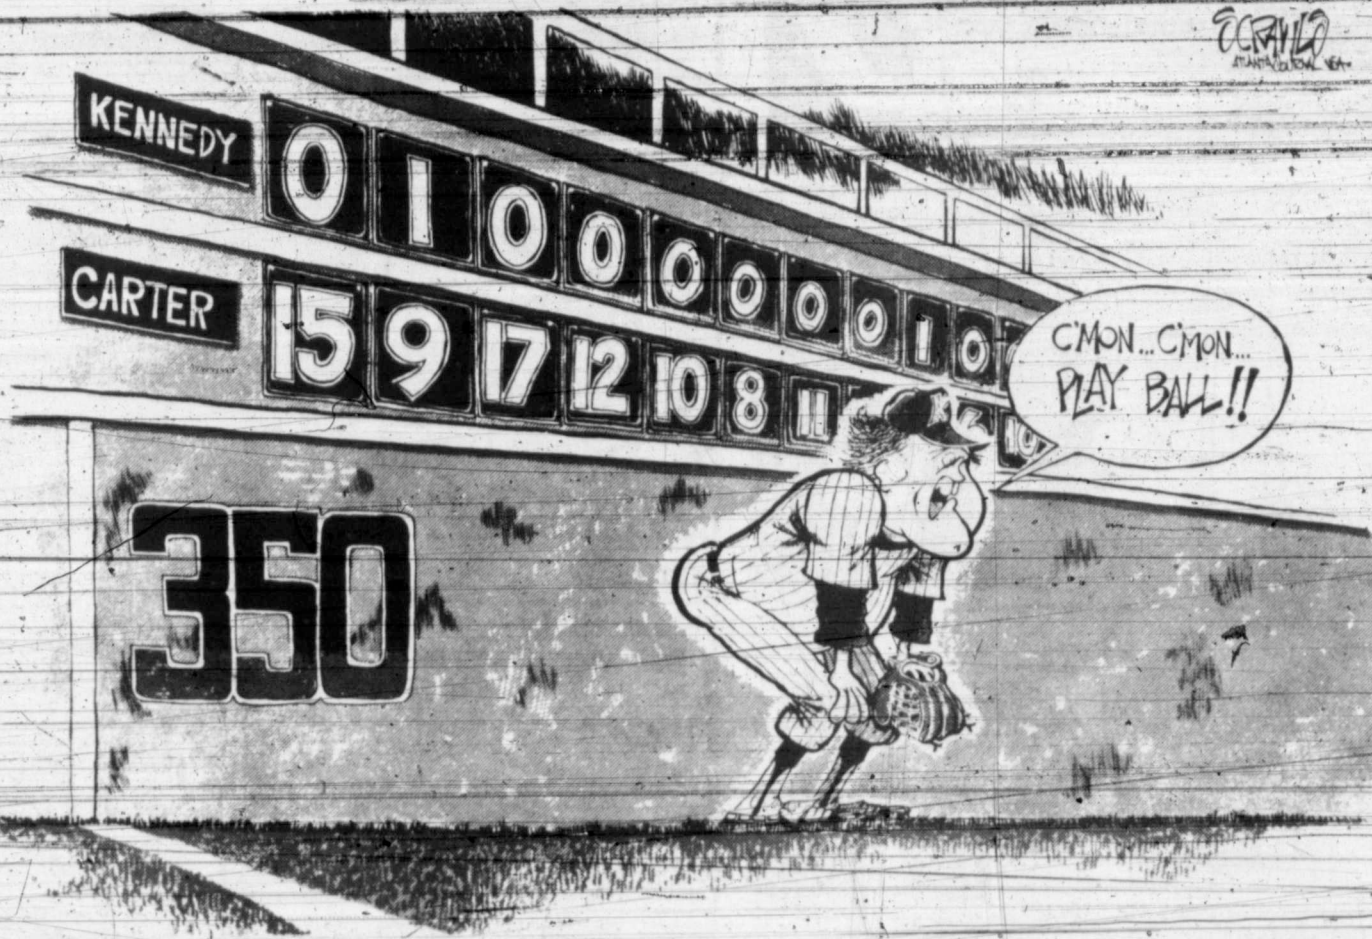

The Edwards bill creates a number of problems. First, it will require the hiring of a large staff of enforcers. If these government employees do not receive enough complaints to justify their jobs, you can bet they will go out and find problems for themselves. The enforcers, for example, can be expected to ask owners to list the racial background of the residents of housing developments. Quotas may not be far behind.

The use of administrative courts invited another kind of problem. Because defendants have fewer rights and it is easier to charge that a violation has occurred, there is always the possibility that the system will be used as a method of harassment by disgruntled renters. Any minority citizen evicted from an apartment will then find it easy to claim discrimination and the owner will be forced to waste his time defending himself before a federal agency. The prospect is enough to discourage conscientious landlords from removing noisy or destructive tenants.

How many complaints is it going to take before Congress understands the inherent arrogance of federal agencies?

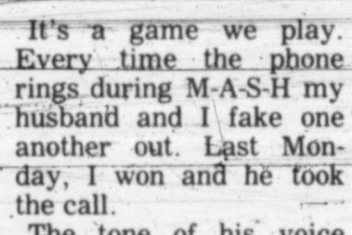

For the last five years such complaints have flooded Washington, yet members of the House still see fit to pass agency-creating legislation.

It appears the federal government is not going to be satisfied until there are federal regulators involved with every decision we make in our private lives.

at wits end

by erma bombeck

It's a game we play. Every time the phone rings during M-A-S-H my husband and I fake one another out. Last Monday, I won and he took the call. The tone of his voice made me tune out. Alan Alda as he gasped, "Oh, my God! You're not serious? When?" He covered the receiver and shouted to me, "Get on the extension. We're grandparents!" My first reaction was how could that be when none of our children was married. My second reaction was would my mother buy the old Science-Fair Project-That-Got-Out-of-Hand theory. The caller was our neighbor who explained that our Yorkshire terrier, who was never allowed out of the yard, got out, and her spinster poodie, who was too old to get pregnant, did, and in a Sears box in the utility room were three poodles in Yorkshire terrier bodies - a virtual billboard for Planned Parenthood. "What month was Murray born in?" she asked. "June." "I should have known," she said. "A Gemini. They never finish anything they start." "Just a minute," I said. "Are you implying that Murray is not willing to accept maternal responsibilities?" "Who are you kidding? Every female dog in the neighborhood has known him." "That's not true. He lives a monk's existence behind a six-foot wall." "You've heard of the tunnel of love? He invented it." "I think your 'little mother' doesn't have her act together and has neither the stability nor the unselfishness to raise these puppies. If you will bring them over here Murray will raise them as a single parent." The first night, we photographed them from every angle. Murray moved from one to the other getting to know them. He was going to make a wonderful father. The second night he refused to share his food with them. When they spilled water all over his bed he crouched behind a waste can. He subsequently trampled them, bit their tails, rejected them, barked in their ears and tried to abandon them. By the end of the week the puppies were demanding, cried all night, frolicked all day and were driving him crazy. When we returned them to the mother, our neighbor snapped, "What happened to Kramer vs. Kramer?" Dustin Hoffman wouldn't have been such a hero either if his child hadn't been paper-trained. The feller on Deep Creek says, "The best way to punish a child is to take away his grandmother." A fellow in the coffee shop the other day suggested a way to cure the Cuban refugee problem. He said if those people have enough guts to get up and leave an oppressive regime and risk their lives in the open sea in those small boats, then they probably have worthwhile qualities. His suggestion to relieve Miami and Key West, is to take the 70,000 Cubans and send them to Washington, D.C. and substitute them for the embedded bureaucrats in the federal government.

Then take 70,000 people out of the Department of Energy, Department of Education, and from HUD, HEW, OSHA and the rest of the regulatory agencies and export them to Cuba. The net result of such a swap would be to improve the governments of both countries.

If you were out of town and missed the annual July 4th celebration in Snyder, you missed another good one. Despite the heat, it was an outstanding event, and there are lots of folks to thank for putting on the celebration.

GROWING OLDER

Lou Cottin

Senior centers often provide hot lunches, card games, crafts classes and other social activities for older people. But laundry services? The West Medford, Mass. Community Center is perhaps the first in the country where older people can go to do their own washing or have it done for them. The laundry, located in an annex to the center, employs 20 senior citizens. Thus, the service is run by older people for older people. Walk-in customers pay only $1 for washing, drying and folding of a 14-pound load plus 15 cents for each additional pound. That includes bleach and detergent. What if a senior needs transportation to the center? Then he or she can get a ride in the center's van, which, like the laundry facility, is accessible to the handicapped. That adds another $1 to the cost of the laundry. The ride and the laundry service are free to those who cannot afford to pay. The van also picks up and delivers the laundry of seniors who are confined to their homes. These home-bound seniors can have their clothes laundered while maintaining contact with the center and its other services. They are encouraged to come downtown to the center as soon as they feel well enough to do so. The community center is near a shopping center, so seniors can do a little shopping while waiting for their clothing to come out of the washers. They may also participate in other services at the well-equipped, informal social center, which has a kitchen, a free nutrition center, a television and crafts classes. It's a pleasant place to meet friends. The center serves 100 older citizens daily. "Plans are being made to purchase additional equipment to meet demands for expansion," reports the Rev. Earl W. Jackson, executive director of the center. The best thing about the laundry service is the imagination it took to bring it into being. Too many senior centers confine themselves to the usual activities and services. We grant that these centers do an excellent job. But more should follow the example of the West Medford center in pondering: "What else can we do for our seniors? How can we make our members happier?" Keep your eyes on the West Medford people. They may come up with other bright ideas. Here's one for them - and others - to consider: Since the center is near a shopping center, special prices for seniors might be arranged with everyone from barbers and beauticians to podiatrists and dentists. The senior center might even make available a room where these services could be performed. For further information on the laundry service, write to the Rev. Earl W. Jackson, West Medford Community Center, 69 Boston Ave., West Medford, Mass. 02155. Phone: (617) 488-1681. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

less other folks who contributed to the success, and again we say thanks. Signs of the time: What costs four times as much to repair as to buy new? Answer: A totally wrecked automobile. A new study released by a national insurance trade association shows that it would cost $25,458 in parts and labor to replace all parts of a totally wrecked 1980 U.S. compact car that has an invoice cost to the dealer of $6,018.

5 YEARS AGO Tommy LaRoux, president of Snyder Jaycees, presented a check to Cy Miller, administrator of Cogdell Memorial Hospital. The check represented receipts from the Jaycees challenge softball tournament for the benefit of the Hospital Auxiliary's medical student scholarship fund. 10 YEARS AGO William N. Stanley, plant manager at American Magnesium Co., was promoted to vice president of the company.

Employees of the Chevron Oil Co. were entitled to service awards. W.B. Yancey completed 20 years of service, J.A. Thompson completed 15 years of service and J.C. Smathers received a 20-year award. 15 YEARS AGO Private Bobby G. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Wilson Jr., completed four weeks of individual combat training with the 2nd Infantry Training Regiment, Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Americans consume more red meat than any other nation. Consumption reached 18.5 million metric tons in 1979 - nearly a fourth of the world total.

QUOTE/UNQUOTE

What people are saying...

"They had a special prayer for me. I told them I needed a prayer." - Jimmy Carter, referring to Benedictine monks on San Giorgio Island, Venice. The U.S. president had breakfast with them during his Western summit talks in Italy. "The experience was a special kind of hell. I came out understanding full well how one could be addicted to 'smack' and quickly." - Dan Rafter, CBS-TV newscaster, describing the time he had someone at a Houston police station inject him with heroin so that he could do a story on it. (Ladies Home Journal)

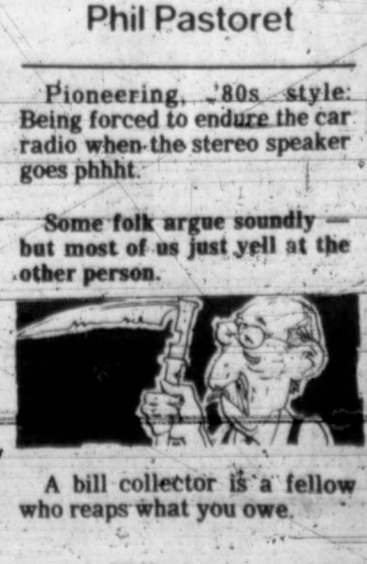

"The vice presidency" is the last remnant of the monarchy, the only place in America where you can inherit the throne. - Howard Baker, R-Tenn., Senate GOP Leader, who says he would become Ronald Reagan's vice presidential running mate if asked. "People kill each other all the time. Woodstock was a beautiful fluke." - Grace Slick, singer, referring to the 1969 rock festival at Woodstock, N.Y., where a half-million "hippies" spent three peaceful days together. (Grace Slick: The Biography) (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

"I wish I had to go against Twyla every afternoon. Of course, I would be a lot more gentle on her." - Lynn Swann, a member of the NFL Pittsburgh Steelers who always wanted to be a dancer. Swann performed a TV dance choreographed by Twyla Tharp. It integrated football plays with dance steps. (ABC-TV)

"I told him people were going to think he was crazy." - Debra Taylor, on her reaction to her husband J. Bruce Taylor's determination to drive his modified 1974 Peugeot backward from Orange Park, Fla., to Los Angeles. "The magazine does not exploit women. It's liberal and pro-feminine." - Christie Hefner, executive of Playboy magazine and daughter of its publisher, Hugh Hefner. (NBC-TV)

"You don't have to be politically motivated to know right from wrong. Afghanistan is a tragedy I happen to care about." - Peter Tancred, Britain's former champion discus thrower, on why he decided to boycott the Moscow Summer Olympics. Tancred says his decision is not a "noble act." "Some folk argue soundly - but most of us just yell at the other person." A bill collector is a fellow who reaps what you owe.
