opened cash registers. The culprits worked methodically in gaining entrance to the drug store. A number of holes were bored in the panel of a rear door, and a section of the panel was forced out. Cutters were then used to snip several strands of wire which fastened a heavy bar across the door.

Entrance in the Ben Franklin Store was gained by prying open a rear door with a pinch bar or heavy tire tool.

There is a city ordinance against this practice, but city officials believe that most of the control of the contr the rubbish accumulated du ing the rush Christmas sea-son, when merchants and store ers did not have time to Slow rain which began falling around midnight Monday. turning to snow which came at intervals throughout the day Tuesday, had brought 1.04 inches of moisture Wednesday to already soggy fields and pastures soaked by late December rains.

This week's rains have already exceeded normal precipitation for January, which is .81 inch, according to Sam P. Herren, local observer for the Weather Bureau.

Tuesday's snow melted almost as fast as it fell until late afternoon, when an estimated one-half inch coated the ground. Streets and highways were glazed with a thin coating of ice, slowing traffic but remaining passable in this im-

The Safe Driving Insurance Plan

Seven days ago Texas motorists began operating their pri vate vehicles under the new Texas Safe Driving Insurance Plan-a plan which is expected to reward 1.3 million insured Texas automobile owners with a savings of $20-million each uarly 31. year. Futhermore, and maybe more importantly, it is believed by its proponents that the new plan will have a salutary affect on traffic accidents that is difficult to measure in dollars and

How did the plan come about? Why change from the old system? Is it an equitable plan, or does it deal unfairly with many thousands of Texans? Who's going to get rich off of it? These are only a few of the questions posed by statesmen and laymen alike in recent weeks.

To begin with, the plan is not new, it is merely a refinehar has been in effect since 1952.

In 1967, the 55th Texas Legislature wanted to know why auto instrument were to a higher in Harris County than in Dallas County. In essence it found out that the drivers in Dallas County (which made up a portion of one of ten insurance-rating regions in Texas, were simply a lot safer than the drivers in Harris County. But what about the safe driver in Harris County? He paid the same as an unsafe driver, just as the unsafe driver in Dallas County got off light because of his neighbor's care-

Rightfully so, Senators and Legislators from the 55th didn't see the equity in this plan and authorized the State Board of Insurance to make a careful study of various merit rating plans with an eye to seeing what could be done to reward the individually safe driver in Texas.

After an exhaustive study of merit plans in Canada, California (8 other states have similar systems) and from 43 foreign countries, the framework of the Texas plan was formed. A continuing study was made by the actuarial staff of the Board and Texas Department of Public Safety as they delved into the facts he had put in an extra hour and figures of 40,365 drivers' records. With the statistical in- of labor, all because his watch formation compiled from this source they arrived at various percentages of credits, surcharges and time-coverages in the new plan.

Proponents of the plan do not declare it infallible, but the plan does combine the thinking and experience of some of the most brilliant insurance men and safety experts in the State.

Less for Your Money

An interesting comment on federal "aid" comes from the Tax and the man had taken a ma-

"There's nothing small," it points out, "about the nearly 100 federal 'aid' programs to state and local governments which will cost $6.8 billion in fiscal 1960, up $2 billion since fiscal 1958.

"Three out of four of these 'aid' dollars (or agriculture, housing, veterans, highways, etc.) represent taxes that made the 'round trip' to Washington and return to the state of origin. Such 're-allocation' of tax monies results in some states paying over $2 in federal taxes for each $1 received as 'aid'.

"The designation, 'federal aid,' is a misnomer in the im plication that the government is the source of such bounty, but it is a handy label. The government has no money to distribute other than that it receives from the taxpayers. It simply serves as a broker, as a dealer in money, when its handouts are made. Because it costs money to handle money, the government has to exact what amounts to a brokerage fee. Thus, it pays out in 'aid' less than it receives. The greater the federal 'aid' the less the taxpayers get for their money."

With the Christmas season several days, and the road was past and normal business routine being resumed, advent of the New Year has brought an way workers were doing some work toward Weinert, they came upon a Haskell lawyer upsurge in political activity as several candidates make their bids to the vaters this week.

Interest on the part of prospective voters is also evident in the rapid increase in poll tax payments reported by the tax collector's office.

It is a well-known fact that Haskell County people take to politics like a duck to water. whether it's voling for a school trustee, governor, or president a representative turn-out of voters can be expected in any and every election.

This is as it should be, and is an indication that Haskell County people are interested in government affairs at all

One thing needs to be stress ed, however, Unless otherwise exempt, every person between the age of 21 and 60 must have a current poll tax receipt in order to vote in 1960 elections. Deadline for payment is Jan-natured, easy-going George Neely seldom loses an argument. Neither does he come out on the losing side of a prank very often. All of which is by way of predicting that pranksters who placed a wreath on the door of George's store during his post-holiday vacation last week will pay off in some way or other for their prank. the wreath first appeared, three close friends of George immediately were mentioned as perpetrators-Ray Lusk, E. J. Stewart and Jim Byrd. Whether they're guilty or not, the trio expects lightning to strike any minute. They have a feeling that Neely will make an exampe of them even while he's still trying to ferret out the guilty parties.

A highway maintenance worker was red-faced last week, when he came in from a day's work and learned that was slow!

Adding to his embarssament was the fact that two fellowworkers had been sent to check and see if he had had a breakdown which delayed his return to the highway barn by quitting time.

It was on one of those extremely cloudy days last week, chine to the northwest part of the county. As a rule, workers are expected to return to the highway barn by 5 p. m. When the man hadn't shown up by 5:15, Highway Boss Ray Lusk sent two employees to check, thinking the man could have had a breakdown on his machine.

A few minutes before 6 o'clock, the man rolled up to the highway barn on his machine. When he stopped, Lusk asked if he had been delayed by trouble. "Nope, made it fine," he answered. Then a puzzled look appeared on his face and he asked "What time is it?" and pulled out his watch. Told it was almost 6 o'clock, he stammered "Well, I'll be- darned watch is an hour slow!" Then he confided to the boss that he had thought it was getting dark mighty early, but figured it was the cloudy weather.

The slow rains last week were real, old-fashioned groundsoakers, the kind of rains that made county roads almost impassable in the decade before there were any hard-surfaced highways in this section.

Wayne Perry, Virgil Hudson, Andy Josselet and others who were here in early days recall that it was no uncommon sight for roads to become impassable for ordinary farm wagons. During extremely wet spells, if a farmer needed to come to town for supplies, the wagon would be stripped down to the bare running gear. The driver would either walk, or occupy a precarious perch on the coupling pole of the wag-on. Supplies that could be hauled in this manner were limit-ed to the quantity that could be accomodated in a small box fastened on the running gear

As the automobile supplanted wagons and buggies, the high-wheeled gas burners also had to contend with muddy roads, and many of the vehicles would be marconed for days in a mudhole, awaiting fair weather before they could nav-igate again.

But even these Tin Lizzies were frequently stuck on country roads. Ray Lusk recalls an amusing incident involving a Model T which occurred about the time he started work for the Highway Department.
