Police Chief Nominated...

Iran Near New Prime Minister

By The Associated Press
President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr today nominated Iran's young national police chief, Mostafa Mir-Salim, to be the country's new prime minister, Tehran radio said.

could still be months away.

In another development, the last two American journalists working in Iran, reporters for The Washington Post and The Los Angeles Times, left the country Friday. One said they were told the Iranian government could no longer protect them from Islamic revolutionary committees challenging Bani-Sadr's authority.

Mir-Salim's next step is to name a Cabinet. The state radio report, monitored in London, gave no indication of when the vote of confidence will take place in Parliament.

The Iranian news agency Pars said Mir-Salim, who has been both national police chief and deputy interior minister for political affairs, was educated as a mechanical engineer in France, where he obtained a master's degree. He worked for a time in France, during which he "was intensely engaged in political and religious activities," the report said.

Many anti-shah Iranian exiles resided in France, including revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini.

Tehran radio said Mir-Salim told Pars that president's nominating letter would be submitted to the Majlis today.

It quoted "informed sources" in Tehran as saying Mir-Salim had the support of the Islamic Republican Party, the fundamentalist, clergy-dominated group that dominates the Parliament.

The new prime minister could be expected to try to develop a consensus proposal for dealing with the hostage question. Many among the IRP favor holding "spy" trials for the Americans, but Bani-Sadr opposes the idea.

The last two American reporters in Tehran were Jay Ross of The Washington Post and Doyle McManus of The Los Angeles Times.

Ross reported today that they left Friday along with three British television reporters to avoid probable arrest and imprisonment by the revolutionary committees.

In a first-person account in The Post, Ross quoted a Foreign Ministry official as saying, "The ministry cannot guarantee your safety. We cannot control the revolutionary committees," which now arrest people at will on the streets of Iran.

Ross said both he and McManus had been criticized in three Iranian newspapers this week in reports that implied the two were spies, and both had been arrested in the past two weeks and accused of working against the revolution.

Gin Expansion Project Staying With Schedule

Despite the searing heat, construction on the million dollar expansion project on the Snyder Farmer's Co-op Gin, located on the Roby highway, is going along on schedule, says John Strother, gin manager. Barring any unforeseeable delays, the "supergin" should be ready for testing by September.

Most of the bugs in the gin should be worked out with the early cotton in October and the gin should be in full swing for the glut of the crop that comes in November, he said. "We have gotten a mixed reaction from the people on our expansion," he said, "but most realize it is as necessary as going out and buying a bigger and better tractor. To survive we have to stay ahead of the game." The million dollar price tag is one factor that raised the eyebrows of the skeptics, he said, and then added that it would cost almost two million dollars to build such a facility from scratch.

The Farmers Co-op gin on 37th St. has been closed, down and is, in effect, being combined with this one. Also, he said, those customers who still use the trailer method to bring in their harvest may feel like they are being left out.

"Not so, we will be better equipped to handle them than before."

The gin, however, is being designed with modules in mind. Strother said he believes as much as 80 percent of the cotton in Scurry County will be harvested by module next year. The modules can be fed directly into the gin, as opposed to the suction pipe method used with cotton loaded in trailers.

The gin will improve production and reduce labor requirements. It will have a maximum capacity of 40 bales an hour, more than the two gins previously could do combined. "That is the maximum," said Strother. "What we're shooting for will be a consistent 25 to 30 bales an hour." Strother said he expects to cut the work force down from 22 men to eight or nine employees. He says there may even be jobs for women in the new ginning operation. "The work won't be as heavy but it will be meticulous. I'm certainly not opposed to hiring women."

Strother said one of the things being added in the expansion is a ladies restroom in anticipation of female employees. The gin on 37th St. has been turned into a farm and ranch supply managed by Bobby Goodwin. "We are not trying to grow too fast over there. We are trying to stock what the people come in and ask for." "So far that includes everything from plow parts to dog food, said Goodwin in an earlier interview.

Refiners Cut Gas Prices

NEW YORK (AP)—Several leading refiners have cut wholesale gasoline prices as petroleum inventories have swelled, but at least one major company is raising prices, according to industry reports. The Chevron U.S.A. Division of Standard Oil Co. of California, the nation's seventh-largest gasoline marketer, says it is raising wholesale prices for its gasoline brands by as much as 3 cents a gallon.

Crime To Expose Spies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hoping to protect spies' lives and national security, the House Intelligence Committee has voted to make it a crime to expose identities of U.S. secret agents. The panel's action, taken Friday by voice vote, calls for prison sentences of up to 10 years for intelligence insiders who leak identities and up to three years for private citizens.

Carter Nephew Jailed

HOUSTON (AP)—A 21-year-old nephew of President Carter, arrested on charge of driving while intoxicated and possession of marijuana, was released from jail today after posting $800 bond. Robert Michael Stapleton 21, was arrested Friday night after he allegedly ran a stop sign in a rented car. Stapleton is the son of Ruth Carter Stapleton, the president's sister.

Retired Judge Arrested

BRYAN, Texas (AP)—A former Texas judge - who initially presided over Cullen and Priscilla Davis' lengthy and bitter divorce trial - faces charges of public intoxication, assault and disorderly conduct, police said. John M. Barron Sr., retired Texas Court of Civil Appeals judge, was arrested Friday on the three misdemeanor complaints, and released from Brazos County jail on $170 bond, police said.

U.N. Delegates Stage Walkout

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—U.S. Delegates to the United Nations, saying they "owed it to the hostages," walked out of a special General Assembly session on Palestine when Iran's delegate rose to speak. Egypt, meanwhile, used the forum Friday to launch one of the sharpest attacks against Israeli "intransigence" heard in the course of its ongoing negotiations with Israel on autonomy for the 1.2 million Palestinians living in Arab lands held by the Jewish state.

Before the assembly adjourned for the weekend, 29 Arab, Third World and Communist delegations formally presented a resolution calling for creation of a Palestinian state - to be ruled by Israel's arch-enemy, the Palestinian Liberation Organization - in areas captured by Israel in the 1967 Middle East war.

The resolution is expected to come to a vote in the 152-nation assembly on Monday or Tuesday, with the United States and a handful of other nations likely to oppose it. European Common Market countries, emphasizing their independent course on Mideast policy, are expected to abstain. The anti-Israel, pro-Palestinian resolution is expected to get many votes - an Israeli diplomat predicted 100 countries would vote in favor. But it is expected to have little practical effect, since Israel has said it will ignore it. Assembly resolutions are only recommendations and carry no power of enforcement.

William vanden Heuvel, the U.S. deputy chief delegate, said he ordered two other American delegates to walk out of the assembly hall with him as the Iranian speaker, Ali Shams Ardekani prepared to address the session Friday.

"We owed it to the hostages to do that," vanden Heuvel later told a reporter. The deputy chief delegate, standing in for U.N. Ambassador Donald McHenry who is in Africa, added: "I did this for two reasons. One is out of respect for our colleagues, the 52 hostages who are being held in prison under contemptible conditions, and recently, as a measure of respect for the principles of international law which the United States represents and which Iran has violated."

Chamber Board Poised For 1 1/2-Day Campaign

Snyder Chamber of Commerce Directors are poised to launch an intensive, 1 1/2-day membership campaign.

The board agreed to provide the manpower for the effort at its regular meeting July 15, and dates for the abbreviated drive are Wednesday and Thursday, July 30-31. They will spend all of Wednesday and half of Thursday contacting prospective members for the chamber.

Advance contact letters have been mailed to members, each indicating the board member, or members, who will make the personal contact. The 12 board members plan to contact a total of 140 prospective members in an attempt to substantially increase the chamber's membership, which now stands at 382.

The number of projects and programs the chamber can sustain are directly affected by the membership participation and funds available, said Bill Warner, chamber manager.

The board and management are particularly anxious to increase the organization's financial resources at this time so that a note of $4,300 owed for construction of the chamber building may be paid off. This would free funds for use in the chamber's program of work for the community.

Consequently, although they are businessmen who cannot be away from their firms for a great length of time, chamber board members are volunteering their time for the 1 1/2-day drive.

"It is involvement and action by volunteers like the board on this campaign that makes a strong chamber," said Warner. "I think the chamber organization and the entire community should be

Temperatures In Texas Still Soar

By The Associated Press
Missouri authorities were paring the number of National Guardsmen assigned to heat-relief duties as many areas of the South and Midwest continued to get a respite from the killer heat wave.

Even so, the thermometer hit 100 degrees in Dallas on Friday for the 33rd day in a row, and weather forecasters said scorching temperatures would continue in the state through the weekend.

In Oklahoma, dozens of cities still face water rationing because of a heat-wave-triggered drought. The hot weather has contributed to the deaths of at least 1,229 people in 24 states since June 22, according to an unofficial count by The Associated Press.

The White House announced Friday that President Carter has quadrupled the amount of money that will go to aid states affected by the extreme heat and drought. Officials said $21 million in additional money would be divided among 12 states and would aid farmers, the poor and the elderly. On July 15, the White House announced the award of $6.7 million in aid to six states. Those states will receive additional money, according to Friday's announcement.

In Missouri, Gov. Joseph Teasdale said that 185 Guardsmen were on duty Friday, compared with 296 on Monday. Teasdale said the number of Guardsmen would be increased if consistently high temperatures returned.

In Kansas City, temperatures have been ranging in the 80s and 90s, a marked relief from the 100-plus readings it had been experiencing.

WEATHER

SNYDER TEMPERATURES: High Friday, 101 degrees; low, 73 degrees; reading at 7 a.m. Saturday, 75 degrees; precipitation, none; total precipitation for 1980 to date, 10.71.

West Texas: A chance of afternoon and evening thunderstorms mainly north. Otherwise partly cloudy days and fair nights. Not as hot north Tuesday and Wednesday. Highs 95 to 108 except near 90 north Tuesday and Wednesday. Lows in the 60s and 70s.

Ask Us

Q-Why does the city hire boys for the summer and then allow them to lie in the shade on benches around the square instead of cleaning the streets like they are paid to do?

A-You apparently saw a group some three or four weeks ago when a supervisor was doing double duty and they were idle for a short period. These are not city employees. They are in the federal CETA program and employed through the council of governments. The city furnishes supervision and assigns their tasks, but they are limited on the type of work they can be assigned, said City Manager John Gayle. The problem you referred to was only temporary and has been eliminated, he said.

The SDN Column

One decision made in Washington this year has our wholehearted approval. That is the boycott of the Olympic Games in Moscow.

Now that the games are underway, it becomes more apparent every day that they are a farce. Without the Americans, plus teams from some 50 other countries, the glitter has been effectively removed from the gold and silver medals.

The Russian athletes are having a field day on the awards podium; but even they can't help but speculate on how it would have been if the Americans and others had been competing.

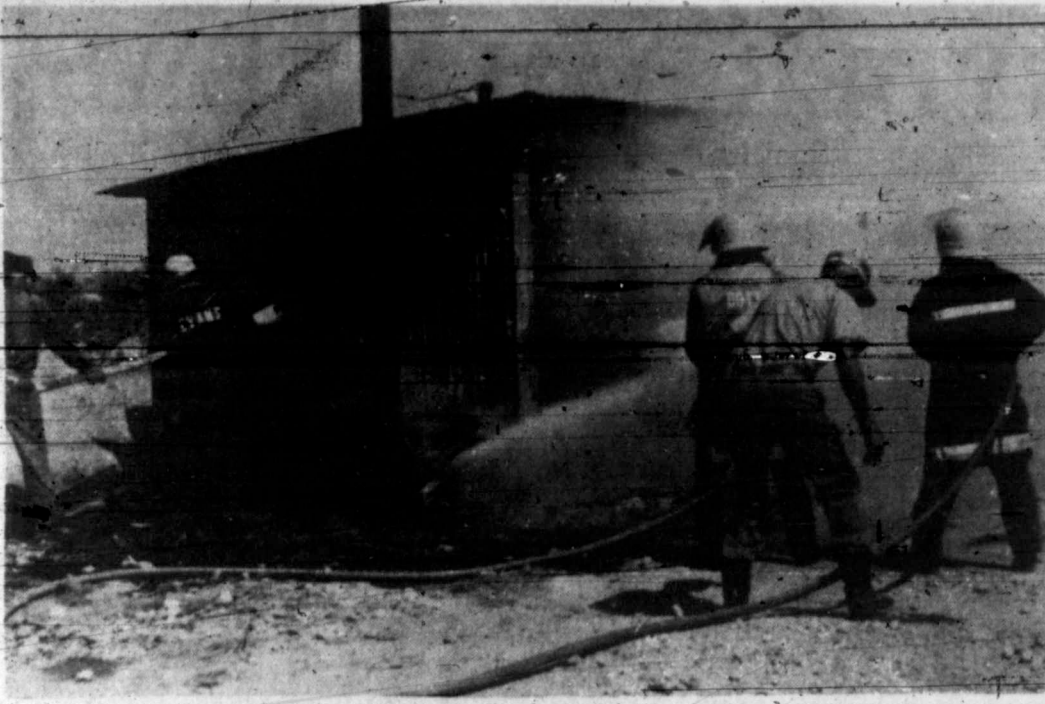

There are those, of course, including the Olympic Committee, who claim that politics should not encroach upon the Olympics. But it already has, years ago, and it is present in the jury boxes today in Moscow. There are arguments, disagreements and even shouting matches between coaches and referees, and-or judges. It is perfectly clear that these strong feelings stem mostly from the fact that the competing delegations regard the games as a political as well as a sports issue.

And it is perfectly clear, as it has been in previous Olympic games, that political influence permeates the jury boxes and the referee corps. Basically it is a contest between the communist Eastern World and the Western nations. Close decisions made by groups predominately from the East invariably go to the Eastern competitors and vice versa.

We felt sympathy for Nadia Comaneci, who was the star of the 1976 Olympics and well on the way to even greater honors this time, when she fell during a performance on the parallel bars. However, even that unfortunate event should re-establish some reality to the situation.

Comaneci appeared to be on the verge of ringing up a perfect "10" until her fall. But there's a country and western song that puts things in perspective when it winds up by declaring that there are "flaws in all of them," or words to that effect. Nadia Comaneci is a great gymnast, but she's still a human being.

Great Depression Haunting Britain

By MICHAEL WEST
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP)—The ghost of the Great Depression of the 1930s is haunting Britain. There are now as many unemployed Britons as in 1936. And a secret government document reportedly says there could be a third more by 1983.

In the northwest port city of Liverpool the government-run careers office has just five jobs to offer 6,097 job seekers, most of them young school dropouts, one of the worst hit groups in the country.

Nationally, school dropouts have less than a 10 percent chance of getting a job. A third of the country's unemployed are under 24.

In Northern Ireland, worst hit of the British regions, 14.4 percent of all working-age men are without jobs.

The Conservative government of Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher refuses to spend public money to create more jobs, contending this will create more inflation.

But the opposition Labor Party wants to use public money to create more jobs and says the Conservatives are deliberately creating unemployment to keep wages down.

The government spelled out the unemployment figures Tuesday as Laborites roared "Resign! Resign!" at Mrs. Thatcher in the House of Commons.

The Department of Employment said the number of jobless in Britain now stands at 1,896,634. That represents 7.8 percent of the British work force of 24.3 million and an increase of 236,960 from the previous month — the biggest monthly hike on record.

"The total level is back to the 1936 level," said 68-year-old Labor Party leader James Callaghan. "I never thought that I would see this again."

Unemployment in the United States now stands at 8 million, or 7.7 percent of the work force.

Dear Abby

Children's Playmate Needs Loving Guidance

By Abigail Van Buren
1980 By Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of two children, 8 and 10, who are home all day now that summer vacation is here. I don't want to sound like an old scrooge, but our neighbor, who lives alone, has his 9-year-old grandson staying with him all summer. The boy spends most of the day at our house playing with my two.

He helps himself to snacks, argues with my children and behaves like a typical 9-year-old.

I don't want to be rude or make him feel unwelcome, but six hours a day, every day, can be a little wearing. Please tell me how to handle this situation without causing my children to lose a friend. There must be other mothers who feel as I do.

NO OPEN HOUSE
DEAR NO: The visiting child needs playmates, so please don't turn him away.

Do, however, let him know that when he's in your home he will have to abide by some rules — such as not helping himself to snacks. If he gets unruly, discipline him as you would your own. I realize that six hours a day, every day, can be wearing, but a 9-year-old who has been sent to his grandfather's all summer probably needs loving care and acceptance more than most children, so please be extra patient and understanding.

DEAR ABBY: I was told that if a girl wants a husband, she should sleep with a piece of wedding cake under her pillow. Is there any truth to that?

READY, WILLING AND ABLE
DEAR READY: I can't guarantee you a husband, but you'll get plenty of ants.

DEAR ABBY: Three years ago, my two sisters and I were bridesmaids at our brother's wedding. The bridesmaids' dresses, which were very beautiful and expensive, were paid for by the parents of the bride.

All of a sudden, three years later, we all got identical letters from our sister-in-law saying she wants the dresses back. She requested that we bring them to the next family gathering so she can pack them away with her wedding gown!

Of course we will do as she wishes, but we never have heard of this before. Have you? Is this proper etiquette?
THREE SISTERS

DEAR SISTERS: If the bride pays for the bridesmaids' gowns, it is customary to give them to her bridesmaids. Your sister-in-law may have decided to store the bridesmaids' dresses along with her wedding gown to be used by other family members — possibly her own daughter in years to come.

In any case, this is a first for me. And should other brides decide to adopt this policy, they should also advise their bridesmaids at the time of the wedding, because it's not unusual for bridesmaids to dye, shorten, remodel, or even give away their gowns after one wearing.

DEAR READERS: Because cancer is a major disease in the United States, the National Cancer Institute now has an information hot-line to answer questions from the general public, cancer patients and their families, and even health professionals. Help On Utility Bills Favors Those In North heating bills, not with the electricity costs of running fans and air conditioners. White told a news conference Friday this shows "an unjustifiable bias in favor of northern states."

AUSTIN (AP)—Federal help for poor people who can't pay their utility bills is biased in favor of the North because it is based on heating — not cooling — needs, says Attorney General Mark White.

Congress should amend the Windfall Profits Tax Act, he said, to provide cooling assistance as well as heating assistance.

"I have consulted with Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth, majority leader of the House of Representatives, who has agreed to introduce an amendment to accomplish this purpose in the future," White said.

White rejected Gov. Bill Clements' latest demand that he sue the federal government to invalidate the Windfall Profits Tax, saying he still has found no grounds for a state suit.

"After reading it (Clements' letter), I am more persuaded than ever that the governor made the right decision in running for governor and not attorney general," White said.

He also announced he has asked U.S. District Judge Woodrow Seals of Houston to stay his order requiring the state to provide free public schooling for children of illegal aliens.

White said there was not enough time between now and the start of school for local districts to raise the extra money it would take to provide teachers and classrooms for the children.

"Classrooms will be overcrowded, and state laws with respect to appropriate student-teacher ratios will be violated," White said in his stay motion.

Illegal aliens have shown reluctance in many cases to come in contact with any level of government — the latest example is the census — and this could reduce the number of their children reporting to school.

Asked if Seals' order meant illegal alien children would come under the state's compulsory school attendance law, White said, "I don't think the court's order addresses that."

White said he was sending all Texas congressmen a letter asking them to work for federal funds to cover the added cost of educating illegal aliens.

Pot Found Growing At Police Station

CHICAGO (AP)—At first they thought they were just five small weeds sprouting from the concrete planter outside the main entrance to Chicago's Central Police Headquarters.

But someone took a close look Thursday and then called the narcotics division. The plants were marijuana, the narcotics officers said.

Officer Frank Crawford of the narcotics unit said whomever planted the seeds probably did it as a prank. "You'd really have to know they were there to see them," he said.

First Assembly of God
 Some years ago, an African chief had done something for which the British government wished to punish him. They sent a gunboat to destroy his village. A runner brought the chief news the boat was coming. The chief had the messenger killed. The next day another messenger came and met the same fate. The third day another messenger came who was also murdered. But killing the messengers did not kill the message. Soon the boat came and fired on the small village. The chief's village collapsed like cardboard.

Enemies of the early church found the same truth. Although they imprisoned Paul and even killed the Christians, they could not bind the Word of God. It was like trying to stop a raging river with one small stone, like holding back an explosion with bare hands. The more pressure they applied the more the church grew. They bound the messengers but could not bind the message. Today, this is still true. God's Kingdom will come! His Work will be done! His Will shall be accomplished! Many have prophesied the church will go under and Christianity will fail. However, the more pressure applied, the greater the church goes forward. Through modern day technology the Word of God is being sent into all the world. They may resist the messenger but the message of love and hope is still reaching its destination — the hearts of men. Therefore, take heart; the Word of God has not, will not, and cannot be bound. Christ will triumph!

Second Timothy 2:9

Atheist's Son To Take To The Pulpit Sunday

By KEN HERMAN
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP)—William Murray takes to the pulpit at the Central Assembly of God Church on Sunday to talk against everything his atheist mother taught him about religion.

"I just wish I had not been involved," Madalyn Murray O'Hair's 34-year-old son said at a news conference Friday.

Murray was the plaintiff in his mother's 1963 suit that ended prayer in public schools. Now he says he's sorry.

"I want to apologize personally to the people of Austin," he said, calling his mother's work "an affront to the city of Austin and the people of Austin."

Murray was introduced by the Rev. Tom Wilson, who will be the host at two Sunday rallies at the Assembly of God Church. Cameras from the church recorded Murray's Capitol news conference.

Murray and his mother have not talked in about three years, he said.

"I have had absolutely no relations with her for the past three years. I do not feel I need the emotional burden of reassociating with her," he said. Ms. O'Hair has had no comment on her son's religious conversion.

Murray said he would testify next week at a Washington hearing on a

The village was destroyed in retaliation for the assassination of Reichsprotektor Reinhard Heydrich, a senior SS officer, by British-trained guerrillas. All male villagers and some women were shot and the remainder sent to concentration camps. The village was erased and all references to it in government records were removed.

bill that would keep the federal government and courts out of some aspects of American life, including religion.

"What it boils down to is do we have community standards or do we have federal standards?" he said. "Should the federal government decide .25 percent of the police officers in Georgetown, Texas, should be gay?"

The Houston aviation consultant went public with his conversion in April. He said he is sorry he helped "modernize and computerize" the American Athiest Center here.

He also announced the William J. Murray Faith Foundation. Murray called it an educational group "to begin to build our faith once more."

Murray said he began to sour on atheism several years ago.

"The atheistic philosophy requires self-centeredness. The only relationships are between me the atheist and I, I, I," he said.

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Professional help important

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB My problem is with mood swings or energy swings. I believe I've had them all my life. I'm 22 years old. They've become rather severe in the last couple of years. Eventually I wound up in the hospital for a depression.

The first couple of weeks after getting out I experienced around three days of blue feelings. I was tired, weak and down. Then about four days of feeling elated and full of energy, basically happy with everything. Then the cycle would repeat. When I was down I didn't care to do anything. I had apathy toward everything. I could sleep for 10 hours, get up and feel just as bad as when I went to bed the night before.

When I'd have a high, I wanted to do all kinds of things. I've lost a lot of good friendships because of these swings and I would sure appreciate any help you might have. Doc, I can't take this much longer so I'm in extreme need of some help.

DEAR READER — You're giving me a very good description of manic depressive swings. I assume from the rest of your letter that your doctor thinks so, too, and that's why you're receiving the medicines you're taking.

All of us have some normal mood swings. There are days when we feel up and full of energy and days when we feel low. In normal people these can be significantly influenced by life style and the events that occur in one's life. Usually when a person is on the low side of the swing, if something occurs that's interesting or that he really wants to do, his level of energy is suddenly and markedly increased. It's normal to be depressed when some unfortunate event or disappointment occurs.

While people can do a lot about the ups and downs of their life if they choose to do so, it's more difficult to do anything on your own about the more severe swings that you're describing.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 10-10, Depression: The Ups and Downs of Life. It will give you a better spectrum of what happens in normal people and the more exaggerated responses that you are experiencing. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

You do need to continue to have professional help. I believe you can help your situation by following some of the suggestions that are included in The Health Letter I have sent you. But you will need professional help for the degree of swings that you have. It's extremely important for you to recognize that this is not a do-it-yourself project or something that your friends or family can do for you. They can be helpful and supportive but that is not a substitute for competent professional help.

There are a number of other medicines besides the Lithium that you're taking which can help in such conditions.

I would like to add one other thing. Don't give in to the idea to withdraw and avoid people. By contrast, when you feel that you're starting to cycle down, schedule some things to keep yourself involved with other people doing things that you really like to do. When you're in the high side of your cycle, sit down and make a list of the things you enjoy and then try to arrange to do those things during your low period. The enjoyment and involvement may help you to some extent.

AWARD PRESENTED—Willie Garcia of Lamesa, right, is presented an award by David W. Biegler, president of Pool Well Servicing Co. Garcia, who became manager of Pool Well Servicing yard in Lamesa the past week, was honored for nine years of service with the company.

Pool Well Servicing Honors Two Employees

Pool Well Servicing Co. honored two long-term employees at a picnic July 20 at the Texas National Guard Armory. Charlie van Sickel, who lives at 405 35th Street, received a Rolex watch in recognition of his 24 years of service to the company. Willie Garcia of Lamesa, was presented with a Cross pen and pencil set for nine years of service.

Making the presentations were David W. Biegler, President of Pool Well Servicing Co., and Cy H. Helm, President of Pool Co., who travelled from Houston especially for the occasion. The awards are the first in a new company-wide monthly recognition program which became effective July 1.

Charlie van Sickel joined the company in 1949 when it moved its yard from Carthage to Snyder. Charlie, who has been operator of Rig 153 since it was delivered in February, 1979, is a very reliable crew chief, said Pool Well Servicing District Manager Ken James. "He has very few problems with his rig and he's very well liked," he said.

Willie Garcia started his career with the company in July, 1971, as a floorhand. According to District Manager Ken James, Willie became Area Manager of the five-rig yard in Lamesa, effective July 24.

Approximately 300 employees and their families attended the barbecue. After lunch, six innings of mixed fast and slow pitch ball ended in a 19-11 win for the staff. Meanwhile, Field Supervisor June Rutledge and Ron Hale, Pool's Director of Human Resources for San Angelo, carried barbecue to the crew of Rig 326, who were on a 24 hour drilling assignment on a C.L. Long location south of Sweetwater.

A special drawing for two tickets to the Dallas Cowboy-Houston Oilers pre-season football game was won by derrickworker, Joe Rocha, who lives at 1102 20th St.

A number of the Pool employees attending the festivities have been with Five are assigned to the Lamesa area yard.

WE BUY NATURAL GAS THE WAY YOU BUY GROCERIES.

Lone Star shops for the best values. Just as one brand of green beans might be a better value even though it costs a penny or two more, gas that costs the least could prove to be the most expensive.

We have to consider a number of factors. How much gas can we expect from a new field? How close is it to our existing pipelines? How much processing will the new gas need? Is the BTU content high or low?

As a result of this careful shopping, Lone Star's weighted average cost of gas in 1979 was $1.76 per MCF (1,000 cubic feet) of gas — lowest of any major natural gas company in Texas.

This savings is passed on to you because your monthly bill is based on our average cost of gas.

Severance Tax Curb Opposed

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—The governors of 19 states have registered their opposition to any federal law setting a ceiling on state severance taxes levied on natural resources, Gov. Thomas Judge and Rep. Pat Williams, D-Mont., said Friday.

They have weighed the cost of using Montana's coal, which is minimal, against the threat of losing their own severance taxes. This may push us over the top in delaying this through this session of Congress."

we recognize at the same time that if a state raises its severance taxes to unreasonable levels it reduces the competitiveness of its resources in the marketplace."
Clements said market forces will tend to insure reasonable tax structures.
The governors oppose a severance tax ceiling for philosophical reasons, Clements said, because "we believe that the legislative bodies of the state should be afforded responsibility and unrestrained authority to set severance taxes on natural resources."
Judge said he totally agreed with Clements that the legislation "represents a serious threat to the constitutional authority of the states and the balance of the federal system."
He said Clements' opinion that legislatures of the states should have the unrestrained authority to set taxes on natural resources will complement arguments Montana will present in Senate hearings Aug. 6 in Washington, D.C.

Judge said the belief that the marketplace should be the primary factor in levying severance taxes "has been proven by experience in Montana where coal production has continued to increase since the time the 30 percent tax was imposed."
Judge said that if the state's tax is too big, "we will get the message from the market. This is a question that should not be answered by Congress."
Williams said that one-third of the members of Congress who have sponsored legislation to limit state coal severance taxes come from the 19 Southern states. Of the six bills introduced in the House and Senate to limit Montana's coal tax, three of the bills' chief sponsors are from the Southern states, he said.

Snyder Mini-Minors Eying Title; Midland, Odessa On Top Also

Editor's Note: Midland Blue downed Big Spring 5-2 Saturday morning to take the Division III championship in UGSA Softball Tournament play going on here. Suzanne McGaha slugged a seventh-inning, three-run homer to key the victory. In other morning results not listed in the article below, Big Spring defeated Snyder 11-6 in a Division I game and Odessa Blue stopped Midland Gold, 15-3 in a Division II contest. Those results set up the following games: 6 p.m. Snyder vs. Big Spring for the I championship, and at 5 p.m. Odessa Red vs. Odessa Blue for the II championship.

Odessa, Midland, and Snyder were all in winner's positions as respective United Girls' Softball Association West Texas State Tournaments resumed action here Saturday morning.

Snyder's lone hope remaining was its Division I squad, which was to entertain already-beaten Big Spring at 9 a.m. A victory would give Snyder the Division I championship. A loss would pit the squads again at 6 p.m.

In Division II, Odessa Red—the only unbeaten team—was watching as Midland Gold and Odessa Blue fought it out Saturday morning in an eliminator's contest. Odessa Red was to meet the winner at 5 p.m. Saturday for the title. A second championship game, if necessary, was to be slated for 7:30.

Midland Blue remained as the undefeated squad in Division III Friday evening. Midland watched as Snyder rallied to defeat Odessa, 7-6, and stay alive through the afternoon rounds. But Big Spring, a 5-2 loser, to Midland Blue earlier in the day, reached down deep to knock off the hosts in a late game, 8-6. Midland and Big Spring were to meet at 9 Saturday morning for the championship of the Division III tournament. A second playoff game, if necessary, was to be held at 6.

Division I action Friday saw Snyder stop Big Spring, 10-6, Odessa eliminate Midland Blue, 21-20, and Big Spring then knock out Odessa, 13-2. Snyder's Yolanda Anderson led the local youngsters in hitting with a double and a home run. Nicole Williams also hit a double, and Alicia Valdez, Rhonda Echols and Pam Batchelor added a single apiece. Snyder got four runs in the fourth inning and six in the fifth to snare the victory.

Division II scores saw Odessa Red trip Odessa Blue 19-6 in the winner's bracket; Big Spring eliminate Midland Blue 15-7; Midland Gold put out Snyder, 13-12; and Midland Gold down Big Spring, 6-4.

For Snyder, Thresa Ashworth and Jackie Parham each delivered a double and a single. Jeana Fox knocked a double and Lisa Rosas, Michelle Killian, Leann Pierce and Brenda Zajicek added a single apiece. Midland rapped 13 hits.

Midland Blue continued to dominate Division III Friday with a 5-2 win over Big Spring. Snyder then eliminated Odessa, 7-6, but fell to a rebounding Big Spring team, 8-6 in the late game.

Susie Lee led Snyder's attack with two doubles. Isabel Rios also hit a double, and Von Dale Henry and Bunny Roe lashed a single apiece in the game with Big Spring.

Earlier in the afternoon, Roe took over pitching duties and showed some nifty fielding in helping her team to a one-point victory over Odessa. She knocked a double and a single from the batter's box, while Vicki Glasscock rapped a double, and Wendy Hodge and Lisa McNew added a single apiece.

NEAR MISS—Snyder's Vicky Lopez, catcher, gets the ball a step behind this Odessa runner during Division III tournament play Friday afternoon. Snyder won, eliminating Odessa, 7-6, but later fell to Big Spring, 8-6, and was knocked from the three-day tournament. Snyder's Division I also lost Friday, but its Division I squad was to play for a division title Saturday. See article above. (SDN STAFF PHOTO)

Houston Rallies To Beat Expos

MONTREAL (AP)—Dick Williams had hoped that the Montreal Expos bullpen could get the night off but he didn't expect them to take his wish literally. Summoned to protect a 7-2 lead for starter Steve Rogers, the relief corps of Fred Norwood and Elias Sosa failed, to retire a batter as the Houston Astros erupted for seven ninth-inning runs to gain a 9-8 victory Friday night.

"It's a feat for any ball club to score that many runs in an inning but doubly so for us because we don't score runs in bunches," said Alan Ashby, whose two-run single capped the rally.

"It just turned out that it was a crazy game and our guys all seemed to get hot at the same time," added Ashby, who had three hits in the game.

Terry Puhl cracked his 10th home run of the year leading off the ninth against Rogers, who left the game after yielding walk to Craig Reynolds and a double to Danny Heep.

Norman then allowed a two-run single by Jose Cruz before giving way to Sosa, who was belted for singles by Jeff Leonard and Enos Cabell and Joe Morgan's walk ahead of Ashby's double into the left-field corner.

"The hit by Cabell was the key one in the inning," said Morgan.

"It put me at third with the go-ahead run, whereas if he flies out or pops up we're still two runs down with only two more shots at it."

In the quiet of the Expos clubhouse Williams made no attempt to hide his concern over the recent performance of the club's bullpen.

"Rogers had thrown 152 pitches and he was spent," explained Williams of his decision to call for help. "But if your bullpen can't do the job..."

Asked whether the situation was cause for worry, Williams replied, "That's an understatement."

And the ninth inning, the Expos appeared to have little need for relief as they chased Houston starter Nolan Ryan, who had no-hit them for 6 1/3 innings last Sunday, with a two-run uprising in the fifth which extended their lead to 5-1.

Flames Of Frustration Burning In Moscow

By Fred Rothenberg AP Sports Writer

MOSCOW (AP)—Nadia Comaneci won her first and second gold medals of the Moscow Games in her final two events, but both victories came under the kind of bizarre circumstances that have clouded the women's gymnastics competition.

The Olympic track competition has a feud of its own. Steve Ovett and Sebastian Coe, who have been running in different circles for two years, finally were to meet on the same track Saturday in the final of the 800 meters.

No matter what happens in the 800, no one is going to catch Aleksandr Dityatin in the medals race. The Soviets' star gymnast won eight medals here, a record total for a single Olympics.

After winning a medal in each of the six apparatus events Friday, Dityatin finished with three golds, including the all-around title and the team championship, four silvers and a bronze, surpassing Mark Spitz' haul of seven swimming golds—three in relays—in 1972. Nikolai Andrianov of the Soviet Union won seven medals in gymnastics in 1976.

Only five countries here had more medals than Dityatin. The Soviet Union was the runaway leader with 34 golds and 74 total. East Germany had 47 medals, including 11 gold, followed by Bulgaria's four gold and 14 overall.

More Controversy Comaneci was awarded her first gold medal Friday night in the beam competition, but not until after a seven-minute delay in posting the score of her rival, Natalia Shaposhnikova of the Soviet Union; Romanian head judge, Maria Simionescu, central figure in the fracas Thursday, conferred with the referees before the result was flashed on the scoreboard.

The night before, a 30-minute argument, featuring angry gesticulations by coaches and officials, was precipitated when Simionescu refused to post Comaneci's score because she considered it too low.

The dispute triggered charges by Comaneci's coach, Bela Karolyi, that there had been "an arrangement" to assure a Soviet victory. Karolyi pointed the finger at Ellen Berger of East Germany, head of the technical committee of the International Gymnastics Federation.

Berger, who ordered the score posted that put Comaneci into a second-place tie in the prestigious all-around competition behind gold medalist Yelena Davydova of the Soviet Union, denied any strong-arming on the points. "I did nothing," she said.

In Friday night's floor exercises, Comaneci was originally given a 9.85 and Nelli Kim of the Soviet Union received a 9.95 for an apparent outright victory. But Comaneci's mark was changed to a 9.95 for a share of the gold medal.

Berger's explanation for the change was that the results computer did not accept the proper Comaneci mark from the British referee, who gave her a perfect 10.0. "The apparatus did not function well," she said.

Earlier in the week, Comaneci fell off the uneven bars, and Friday night, in the vault, she just missed cracking her head on a landing.

Day's Results Natalia Shaposhnikova of the Soviet Union won the vault competition and East Germany's Maxi Gnauck took the gold medal in the uneven parallel bars Friday night.

Besides Dityatin's victory on the rings, the other apparatus winners were Roland Bruckner of East Germany in the floor exercises, Soviet Nikolai Andrianov in the vault, Soviet Alexandr Tkachov on the parallel bars, Stoyan Deltchev of Bulgaria on the horizontal bars and Zoltan Magyar on the sidehorse with the day's only perfect 10.0.

For Scotsman Alan Wells, his 10.25 was also perfect because it meant victory in the 100-meter dash. Wells became the first Britisher in 56 years to win an Olympic sprint title, just beating Silvio Leonard to the tape. The Cuban also was timed in 10.25.

The title of world's fastest human now belongs to Wells, who only gave up long jumping two years ago. But because of the boycott of the Olympic Games by the Americans, including sprint stars Stanley Floyd and James Sanford, Wells' title won't have universal recognition.

Two other gold medals were decided in track and (See Flames, Page 7A)

Golfer's Bonanza? Contractors Take 18,000 From Lake

By JOHN DUNNAM
How many golf balls would you guess to be in the lake on the golf course at Western Texas College? The water covers about 16 or 17 acres and the course was three years old May 27.

A pair of young men who make their living retrieving balls from water found 18,350 in the lake in three days.

"They estimate they found 50-60 percent," said Bob O'Day, WTC golf pro. "They waded into the water, pick up the balls with their toes and then put them into these sacks they carry along with them," said O'Day in describing the method in which Bill Webster and Jim Lashlex of Oklahoma City gross as much as $5,000 a week.

"They contract 50 golf courses a year, said O'Day and will not take any in which they cannot find at least 12,000 balls in three days."

They either buy balls they find themselves for 3 cents apiece or sell them to the pro shops.

"We decided to buy the balls from them for a dime apiece plus two cents for them cleaning the balls plus they throw out all the cut or otherwise bad balls," said O'Day.

"In turn, the pro shop is grading the balls and offering them for sale from 12 cents to one dollar. This compares to $1.50 for a new ball."

A little figuring shows that in the three days they were here, they made over $2,000 and that was working about eight hours a day, he said.

But before you quit your job and go into the business yourself, there are a few occupational hazards to be considered, says O'Day.

Broken glass and water snakes are two constant dangers they live with, he said. Both have been bitten so many times by water moccasins they now find themselves immune. When a non-poisonous snake bites them they just go on about their business. It's all in a days work.

They said the WTC lake had the biggest water snakes they have found anywhere, O'Day said.

The cattails prevent them from getting a better percentage of the balls, he said. Never-the-less, the pair will come back next year and expect to retrieve another 16,000 balls.

At the number nine hole there is a body of water about the size of a living room. They found 900 balls there.

"I was amazed," said O'Day.

Kern Gives Stellar Show For Rangers

CHICAGO (AP)—Relief ace Jim Kern was absolutely magnificent last year when he posted a 13-5 record with 29 saves and a brilliant 1.67 earned run average.

But things went bad at the start of the present season, so bad that teammate Sparky Lyle told the big right-hander: "I've seen guys pitch bad, and I've seen guys pitch in bad luck, but you've done an astonishing job of putting it all together."

"Anything that could happen to Kern this season did, until Friday night, when he came out of the bullpen in an apparent lost cause and hurled 5-2-3 hitless innings as the Texas Rangers came off a 4-1 deficit to post a 6-4 victory over the Chicago White Sox on Rusty Staub's tie-breaking two-run single in the eighth inning.

It was the longest stint of the season for Kern, whose victory hiked his record to 3-11. He even had to make an adjustment of going from his windup to a stretch in the seventh inning when he began to tire.

He struck out four, including two in the ninth inning, and walked three—one intentional—but was helped by a pair of double plays as he faced only one batter over the minimum.

"It's been a frustrating and disappointing season," said Kern. "In April and May I had a bad elbow and then I had some bad breaks. Then when I got the arm in shape, the neck blew up. There's a big knot at the base of my skull."

So aggravating was the neck pain that Ranger Manager Pat Corrales admitted: "We were thinking of putting him on the disabled list. He didn't suit up Wednesday and if things hadn't worked out this afternoon, he wouldn't have suited up again." Kern came out early Friday and threw about seven minutes before pronouncing himself fit. After the White Sox had taken a 4-1 lead off Steve Comer, Corrales called on Kern.

There was a runner on third and one out. He never scored and the Sox never got a hit off Kern as the Rangers tied it with three runs in the seventh and went ahead on Staub's two-out single in the eighth.

'Fame Game' Almost Here; Lilly, Others To Be Inducted

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Jim Otto, Herb Adderley, David "Deacon" Jones and Bob Lilly will move into the Pro Football Hall of Fame Saturday before the Green Bay Packers and San Diego Chargers launch the 1980 season.

The annual AFC-NFC Hall of Fame exhibition traditionally serves as the first of the preseason tuneups for the National Football League. It will be carried by ABC-TV, beginning at 2:30.

The 1980 enshrinement, staged on the steps of the game's shrine at 12, will swell the list of its immortals to 106.

Of this year's enshrinees, all but Adderley were elected in their first year of eligibility after five seasons in retirement. The four are from the same era, Otto beginning in the old American Football League in 1960 and the others in the NFL in 1971.

Otto's selection climaxes an incredible career. Considered too small for the pro sport at 205 pounds, the University of Miami Fla. product went on to become the only all-league center in the AFL's decade.

He is the first Oakland Raider chosen for the shrine and admits it will be an emotional moment Saturday when he is presented by Al Davis, the Raiders' managing general partner.

"When the time (his hall selection) came, I was so choked up I couldn't even tell my wife Sally for awhile," said the 42-year-old native of Wausau, Wis.

Lilly, a Texas Christian All-American defensive tackle, will be scoring another first. He is the initial Dallas Cowboy named to the shrine. The team's first No. 1 draft choice in 1961 also was the Cowboys' first Pro Bowl performer in 1962 and its first All-NFL selection in 1964.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry, Lilly's Hall of Fame presenter, says of the 41-year-old Throckmorton, (Texas) native, "A man like this comes along once in a generation. There won't be another Bob Lilly in my time. He is a man who will become a legend."

Lilly, 6-foot-5 and 250 pounds, was selected for 11 Pro Bowls and was a consensus All-NFL choice eight times, six of them in a row. He played in 196 straight regular season games.

Jones, now 41, skyrocketed to pro stardom after the Los Angeles Rams made him a 14th round draft choice from Mississippi Vocational College. The 6-4, 272-pound defensive end, from Eatonville, Fla., developed so rapidly that he became an all-league choice six straight years and played in eight Pro Bowls.

He set a club single-season record of 53 sacks and coined the term for tackling an opposing quarterback for a loss.

"Like, you know, you sack a city - you devastate it. And the word is so short you can even get Deacon in front of Jones in some headlines," he said of the sport's new word.

Jones, who finished his career with the Chargers and the Washington Redskins, will be presented by George Allen, his coach with both the Rams and the Redskins.

The 6-2, 200-pound Adderley, a cornerback, becomes the sixth Green Bay Enshrinee, including late Coach Vince Lombardi, from the Packers' dynasty in the 1960s. The No. 1 1961 draft choice out of Michigan state earned all-league acclaim five times and played on a team that won five NFL titles and the first two Super Bowls.

Adderley, 41, from Philadelphia, had 48 career interceptions. His philosophy on playing: "When people leave the stadium, I want them to say they've just watched one of the best cornerbacks they've ever seen in their lives."

Adderley, who played the last three seasons of his career in Dallas, will be presented by Willie Davis, the Packers' great defensive end.

Guess Who's Roaring Mad; Cub Manager

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Preston Gomez figures it's going to take a great deal more than a change of managers to turn the Chicago Cubs into winners.

Gomez, fired Friday afternoon by the Cubs and replaced by Coach Joey Amalfitano, was shocked and upset, saying he felt he wasn't given a fair chance.

"They have to rebuild this team and I and others have told them that," Gomez said in a telephone interview from his home in the Los Angeles suburb of Marina Del Rey. "Chicago fans haven't had a winner in 35 years and they deserve one."

"They have to build the organization in the minors; they're not going to win with the players they have now."

After Friday night's 7-6 loss to the Los Angeles Dodgers, the Cubs were 38-53 for the season and mired in the National League East cellar.

Gomez, 57, who had previously managed at Houston and San Diego and was in his first year at the Cubs' helm, said he was caught off guard by the firing.

"It was completely unexpected, like a shot," Gomez said after Chicago General Manager Bob Kennedy announced the dismissal, saying it was "time for a change."

"With the injuries we've had, it's made it hard for the club to do well," said Gomez, whose club has been without slugger Dave Kingman and catcher Barry Foote much of the time. "We did pretty well at the start."

Cub player reaction to Gomez' firing was generally marked by surprise and dismay.

field Friday.

Jaak Uudmae of the Soviet Union won the triple jump with a leap of 56 feet, 11 inches that prevented runner-up Viktor Saneyev from joining discus thrower Al Oerter as the only athletes to win the same event in four consecutive Olympics.

Maria Colon of Cuba won the women's javelin with an Olympic record toss that sailed 222 feet, 5 inches.

Press Warned

Once again, Vladimir Popov, vice president for the Olympic Organizing Committee, complained about western reporting from the Games, the first ever without an American team, which is boycotting because of the Soviet intervention in Afghanistan.

He again threatened to ask the International Olympic Committee to remove accreditations from journalists who defame the host country and publish reports detrimental to "the honor of the Soviet Union."

Meanwhile in Mexico City, a police spokesman said security was increased around the Soviet Embassy there after Mexican newspapers accused Soviet judges of "systematically robbing" Mexican athletes of victory.

'Too Tall' Returns; Joins 'Poke Vets

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP)—Ed "Too Tall" Jones returned to the fold when he joined the rest of the Dallas Cowboys veterans at training camp here Friday.

"It feels like I've never been away," said Jones, who left football in 1979 to pursue a short-lived boxing career after five years as defensive end for the Cowboys.

Two-a-day practices will begin for the veterans and rookies Saturday.

The Atlantic City race track in New Jersey is located on the Black Horse Pike, not too far from the White House Pike.

In Candlelit Ceremony...

Miss Taylor, Lemmons Wed

Cheryl Ann Taylor and Thomas Grant Lemmons were united in marriage in a double-ring, candlelit ceremony, at 7 p.m. on July 11 in the 37th St. Church of Christ. The bridegroom's father, Mr. C.G. Lemmons officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Frank Taylor of Snyder and the late Frank Taylor. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C.G. Lemmons of Sikeston, Mo.

Vows were exchanged before an altar centered with a brass arched candelabrum holding 15 tall burning tapers decorated with greenery. The arch was complimented by matching spirals holding 30 burning tapers and greenery. Other candelabra were placed in the background. Two floor standards were filled with yellow carnations, boxwood and green foliage and placed on both sides of the altar. White tapers in crystal globes and satin bows marked the church pews.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her brother, Brent Taylor, and given in marriage by her mother. She was wearing a wedding gown of Chantilly lace with an overlay of chiffonette ascending from the moderately raised waist into a chapel length train trimmed with scalloped Chantilly lace. The dress featured a Queen Anne neckline adorned with lace appliques and pearls. The fitted sleeves were accented with pearls and covered buttons on the cuff. The bride's double layered fingertip veil was edged in lace matching the dress and attached to a hat worn by her mother 25 years ago.

She carried a cascading designed bouquet of white daisies, frenched carnations and baby's breath, accented with English ivy and white satin love knots. It was placed on a white Bible carried by her mother in her wedding.

In keeping with tradition, for something old the bride wore her father's wedding ring; something new was diamond earrings, a wedding gift from the groom; for something borrowed, she carried a handkerchief belonging to her paternal great-grandmother, and she wore a traditional blue garter.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Mike Rackley of Portales, N.M. Bridesmaids were Miss Lisa Caldcleugh and Miss Carol McClintock both of Houston, Mrs. Mike Kerley of Lubbock, and Rebecca Hargrove of Knoxville, Tenn, niece of the groom. They wore yellow crepe-back satin, floor length gowns styled with a loose fitting blouson top, oval neckline, short dolman sleeves and a full skirt. They carried bouquets of yellow and green carnations with baby's breath and English ivy.

Hargrove from Knoxville, Tenn., nieces of the groom, were flower girls. Their dresses were white crystalline trimmed in lace and white satin ribbons. They carried white baskets filled with yellow daisies.

Barrett Lemmons, also from Bell City, and Matt Hargrove from Knoxville, nephews of the groom, were candlelighters.

The bridegroom's brother, Glenn Lemmons from Bell City, served as best man. Groomsman were Jere Hargrove from Knoxville, brother-in-law of the groom, Jonathan Hooper from Abilene, Fred Allen from Fort Worth, and Brent Taylor. Nuptial Vows Pledged By Crenshaw, Conner Andra Crenshaw and Steven Wayne Conner were united in marriage July 5 at 7:30 p.m. in the 37th Street Church of Christ. Bill Looney of Brownfield officiated the double ring ceremony. Parent of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Crenshaw, 2342 Sunset, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Conner of Shallowater. The father of the bride presented her in marriage as she wore a white silk organza gown with Raschel lace trim, designed by Mori Lee Inc. The moulded bodice featured a Queen Anne, key-hole neckline defined in Raschel lace and sprinkled in tiny seed pearls. Full sheer bishop sleeves were gathered to wide lace cuffs. A crystal pleated organza ruffle outlined each cuff and fell gracefully over each wrist.

Her empire waistline, defined in the lace, swept to back fullness and featured an organza pick-up skirt, accented in Raschel lace. A crystal pleated organza flounce encircled the entire hemline and chapel-length train.

The bridal bouquet was a slight cascade of gardenias, apricot baby's breath, silk apricot lily-of-the-valley, white carnations tipped in apricot and needle point ivy flowing over a white satin covered Bible. The bouquet was tied in white lace and satin streamers.

In keeping with tradition, for something old the bride carried the groom's mother's Bible she carried in her wedding; something new was her wedding dress, something borrowed was her veil, belonging to Mrs. Steve Beaver of Fluvanna, and for something blue, the bride wore her mother's garter she wore in her wedding.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Gary Hooten of Muleshoe, maid of honor was Kellye Crenshaw, sisters of the bride. The groom's sisters, Mrs. Dee Highley of Kermit and Seena Conner of Shallowater were bridesmaids. The attendants' dresses were floor length apricot giana with sheer floral blouson jackets and carried nosegays of silk flowers.

Honoring the bride, entering in pairs and dressed in identical floor length floral dresses were her houseparty attendants, Julie Dozier of Andrews, Jean Ann Payne of San Angelo, Donna Huddleston, Sherry Neves and Susie Teeters of Snyder, Jodie Brecheen of Abilene, Becky Beaver of Fluvanna, Rhonda Carmichael of Austin and Sheila Sandbothe of Anson. Each carried a long stemmed apricot rose.

The groom's father served as best man. Groomsmen were Dee Highley of Kermit, groom's brother-in-law, Craig Conner of Shallowater, his brother, and Gary Hooten of Muleshoe. Guests were seated by Ricky Starnes, Craig Conner, Dee Highley and Gary Hooten.

The groom wore a white cutaway tuxedo and the best man and his groomsmen, ushers and father of the bride wore chocolate brown tuxedos.

Music was provided by a mixed a cappella choir, arranged and directed by Bill Lyon. They sang before the ceremony "Devoted to You" and "Follow Me." The groom's grandparents entered as they sang "The Wedding Song." During the singing of "You Decorated My Life," the groom and his attendants entered as did the bride's attendants. "Turn Around, Look at Me," was sung as the bride was escorted down the aisle by her father. During the ceremony, the choir sang "Longer," and as the recessional they sang "The Lord Bless You and Keep You."

A reception given by the bride's parents was held at the Martha Ann Woman's Club following the ceremony. During the reception, piano selections were played by Cindy Conner, aunt of the

WHY JARS DON'T SEAL

Sealing failures in home canning can result from some common mistakes. Avoid making mistakes in home canning by following these suggestions:

- 1) Read and follow package instruction for using caps and lids. Don't take it for granted that all home canning caps are alike and are used exactly the same way.
- 2) Leave correct amount of head space when filling jars.
- 3) Take time to "knife out" air bubbles before sealing the jar.
- 4) Remove particles of food, seeds or seasonings from jar top or threads with damp cloth before putting on lid.
- 5) Particles left on jar rim can cause lid to seal, then loosen.
- 6) Screwing band too tight can cause lid to buckle. A band must be tight enough to hold the rubber sealing compound closely against the jar top.

However, if the band is forced as far as it can be turned with a strong hand, the jar cannot vent. When the jar cannot vent, pressure within the jar causes the lid to buckle.

Therefore, tighten bands only comfortably tight to prevent buckled lids.

- 7) Heat sufficiently to seal the lid. Follow recommended processing time and method.
- 8) Exhaust (vent) steam-pressure canner for a full 10 minutes, or until a stream of "blue steam" is visible, before closing petcock. If steam is not exhausted, there is an uneven amount of steam pressure in the canner. As a result, some lids may seal while others in the same canner load may not.
- 9) Don't let pressure in a canner fluctuate. This can cause food particles to be forced between jar and lid which will cause sealing failure.

The same thing may happen if steam is released too quickly after processing. Let pressure in canner reach zero degrees naturally before removing cover. Do not rush.

10) Don't reuse jars in which commercial foods are sold. These jars are designed for use on high speed packing machines and with caps developed especially for that product, but not for home canning.

11) Don't use warped, rusty, worn bands, or old commercial caps.

12) Don't reuse lids. The lid of a two-piece metal cap should not be used more than once. This applies to all brands. The compound is not guaranteed to seal a second time and the lid itself is often bent or warped when removed the first time.

13) Don't use the old jar lids. If jar lids are old, the sealing compound may harden and not soften sufficiently to obtain a good seal. As long as the sealing compound is resilient when mashed with the fingernail, the lid will probably seal. It is preferable to use jar lids the same year as purchased.

When kept longer, they often stick together and must be heated in boiling water to separate them. If jars do not seal, you may reheat and process over again.

However, the product will be over-cooked and lose food value, flavor and texture.

You may keep a few jars in the refrigerator and use them within a short time instead of reprocessing.

New Museum Wing Opens

NEW YORK (AP)—Following five years of construction, the first installation phase of the new American Wing at the Metropolitan Museum of Art has been opened to the public.

The new building contains an area of 150,000 square feet and consists of a spacious, glass-enclosed sculpture garden court, and a three-floor structure built around the old American Wing.

The museum says the greater part of its American collections are on view in the new installation but adds "some decorative arts galleries and period rooms will be open at a later time."

Williams, Cumbie Vows Exchanged

Gwen Williams and Bobby Jack Cumbie exchanged wedding vows June 30 in the home of the bridegroom's parents, with Dan Callaway performing the double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Florence McIntire of Lubbock and J.I. McIntire of Buffalo Gap, and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Cumbie of Snyder.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of beige knit fashioned with a gathered waist, mandarin collar and full, elbow-length sleeves worn with a matching waist-length ribbons-stitched jacket.

apricot roses with lilies of the valley and ivory lace on top of a White Bible.

Wedding music was provided by Debbie Sewell of Arlington, cousin of the bridegroom.

The couple exchanged vows before the fireplace with a seven-branched brass candelabra centered with an arrangement of fresh greenery, apricot carnations and baby's breath.

For something old, the bride wore a wedding band that belonged to the groom's late grandmother who wore it on her wedding in 1929. Something borrowed and blue was a sapphire ring from the bride's sister, Deborah Johnson of Aledo.

Candlelighter was Jay Cumbie, brother of the groom; Matron of honor was Deborah Johnson, sister of the bride, and best man was Bobby Cumbie, father of the groom. As the couple lit the memory candle, Jack Burney, grandfather of the groom, read a verse from the Bible and two poems.

A reception was held in the home of the bridegroom's parents. The table was covered with an apricot and pale green cloth with an ivory overlay of eyellet and was centered with a white spiral candelabra filled with apricot and ivory silk flowers matching the bride's bouquet. The bride's cake was an Italian cream cake on a footed lead crystal plate topped with apricot and ivory silk flowers.

The groom's cake was a chocolate cake made like a Copenhagen snuff can.

Serving were Jennifer Johnson, piece of the bride, of Aledo, and Sandra Crawford, sister of the groom, of Snyder.

The newlyweds are at home on Hubbard Lake at Breckenridge.

Miss Medrano, Jaramillo Wed

Mary Elisa Medrano and Joe Jaramillo Jr. exchanged double-ring wedding vows on June 7 at 3 p.m. at Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses. Joe Jaramillo Sr. officiated.

Escorted and presented in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a long gown of quiana, trimmed in lace. Her high-rise lace neckline was attached to a round bodice front. Her skirt back, which fell into a chapel length train, was trimmed with a ruffle of appliqued lace which encircled the skirt. Her sheer bishop sleeves ended in deep lace cuffs.

The bride's veil was made of matching lace, trimmed with a ruffle of lace, pearls and sequins which also adorned the overlay of her empire bodice.

She carried a bouquet of peach carnations trimmed with brown silk ribbons and surrounded with baby's breath.

In keeping with tradition, the bride wore diamond earrings for something old, something new was her wedding dress, something borrowed was a pearl necklace and something blue was her garter.

Janie Delarosa served as maid of honor. She wore a cream dress decorated with lace, a matching hat and carried a bouquet similar to the bride's.

Bridesmaids were Juanita Medrano, Rita Medrano, Elida Hernandez, all sisters of the bride, Patsy Padilla and Darlene Jaramillo, both of Albuquerque N.M. They were dressed in peach gown of polyester and matching hats.

Tim Jaramillo, brother of the groom.

Lucio Romero of Albuquerque was best man. Groomsmen were Darrel Clement, Larry Wayne, David Anderson, all of Snyder, Vester Johnson of Fort Worth and Paul Padilla of Albuquerque. Seating guests were Gary Bryant, Steve Regalado and Danny Tovar, all of Snyder.

Sandra Johns provided piano selections, chosen by the bride and groom.

Following the ceremony, the couple was honored with a supper and dance at the Scurry County Coliseum.

Registering guests was Kathy Gonzales of Albuquerque. Among the selections played at the reception were "I Pledge My Love" and "Special Lady."

The bride's table held a three tiered cake decorated with peach and brown roses and carnations, topped with a miniature bride and groom. Serving were Debra Medrano and Rene Medrano, sisters-in-law of the bride.

Kim Carnes Recalls Her First Studio Visit

By YARDENA ARAR
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Out of a seemingly bottomless collection of anecdotes gathered during a lifelong love affair with music, Kim Carnes pulls out a memory of her first trip to a recording studio.

It was in the company of a high school friend named Jan, recalls Miss Carnes, a scratchy-voiced, blonde slip of a woman who wears her 33 years very well indeed.

"We'd skip school and go over to the Sunset Strip and we'd drive up and down looking to get a record deal, passing all the different recording studios, thinking that it was one and the same—a studio was a record company," she says with a giggle.

"We finally went into a place and said, 'We want to make a record,' and the man said, 'Sure, come back tonight and each bring $100.'"

"So we went home and talked our parents out of $100 each and came back. I sat down at the piano, we put down three songs—Jan played the bongos, can you picture it?—and as we left, the guy said, 'I'm going to go to Australia for six months but when I come back you're the first project I'll work on. I'll make you big stars.'"

"So about five months later we went back, just to check and see if he was back yet, and it had already turned into a travel agency."

After school, and a few years doing the things aspiring singers do—club dates, commercials and demonstration tapes of song publishers were trying to sell to big-name entertainers—she joined the New Christy Minstrels on a 1967 tour she remembers with mixed emotions.

"I didn't like the music, I didn't like the road, but out of it—invaluable experience doing one-nighters, because no tour would ever be that hard again. We never had a day off. It was, like, sing until you drop."

But she also met fellow Minstrels Dave Ellington, who became her song-writing partner and husband, and Kenny Rogers, who became the first person to record one of her songs when he was in the First Edition.

Old Master Show Ends

The Old Master Paintings exhibit in the Scurry County Museum will be closed on Wednesday, Sharon Sutton, museum director, has announced.

The exhibit was to have been held over until Aug. 1, but since that date conflicts with the opening of the Texas Watercolor Society's circuit show it will end on Wednesday.

The Old Master Paintings have been on loan from the Sarah Campbell Blaffer Foundation of Houston. Persons who would like to see the show, or to return for a second visit, may see it during the museum's Sunday hours, 1-5 p.m. or on weekdays. There is no admission charge to the museum.

The Blaffer Foundation's next exhibit in the Scurry County Museum will be "A Golden Age of Paintings," which includes 40 paintings by sixteenth and seventeenth century Dutch, Flemish and German artists.
