

Deposed Shah In Final Resting Place

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The deposed Shah, Mohammad Reza Pahlavi of Iran was buried in exile today with all the pomp and ceremony accorded a ruler, but with only one chief of state present, Anwar Sadat.

ard M. Nixon stood by Sadat's side. The state funeral, a traditional Muslim ceremony, was surrounded by the greatest security precautions ever seen in Cairo, but no major incidents were reported. Pahlavi, who died Sunday at the age of 60 after a six-year battle with cancer, was laid to rest in Al Rifai Mosque, a huge Islamic house of prayer where his father was interred briefly in 1944, and where members of Egypt's former royal family lie.

The Shah's widow, former Empress Farah Diba, and their three eldest children attended the burial. As the mourners entered the mosque, a cannon fired a 21-round salute. An Iraqi Shiite clergyman led the prayers for the dead inside the burial chamber. Princess Ashraf, the Shah's twin sister, broke down during the burial and had to be rushed out. Pahlavi's body was brought earlier in the day to the Abdeen presidential palace from Maadi hospital, where Pahlavi had spent the past month fighting cancer and its complications. There it lay in state in the palace's main hall, in a closed coffin wrapped in the Iranian flag, with four generals standing around it, swords out but held down to the floor. The former empress arrived in a black limousine with the Shah's oldest son and heir, former Crown Prince Reza, 19. Princess Ashraf came next in a separate car. Both women were dressed in black, with black scarves on their heads. They were met by Egyptian President Sadat, wearing the uniform of the commander-in-chief of Egyptian armed forces, and his wife, Jehan. The two families paused briefly by the coffin, went

Effort Launched Here To Hike Census Count

Steps are being taken to get any uncounted Snyderites included in the 1980 census.

The preliminary total announced Monday gave Snyder a population of 12,301 and Scurry County a total of 17,570, both gains over 1970.

However, local officials expected higher totals. One factor involves vacant housing. The Census Bureau's preliminary figures show 444 vacant dwelling units in Snyder and 806 in Scurry County. Both County Judge Preston Wilson and City Manager John Gayle believe these figures are in error. Gayle said he had contacted the Census Bureau Regional Office at Lubbock and they have agreed to check their figures against a city computer printout of dwellings not being served by the city water system. Gayle said the water department figures indicate considerably fewer vacancies than shown on the preliminary census count.

Snyder and Andrews were among the bigger gainers in the preliminary census report. Snyder's increase was from 11,171 to 12,301, while Andrews increased from 8,625 to 10,522. Except for Colorado City, which showed an increase from 5,174 to 5,227, most other area towns had decreases. Sweetwater dropped from 12,020 to 11,756; Lamesa declined from 11,559 to 11,251; Rotan was down from 2,404 to 2,005; Post decreased from 3,854 to 3,807; Jayton was down from 708 to

559. An exception among the smaller towns was Roby, which had an increase from 784 to 1,242. Like Snyder and Scurry

County, other cities and counties hope that final figures will add substantially to the preliminary figures.

Israel Given Deadline

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly, in the climax to a week-long emergency session, adopted a resolution Tuesday giving Israel a deadline of next Nov. 15 to begin withdrawing from occupied Arab territories and calling for establishment of a Palestinian state in the West Bank and Gaza Strip. The vote was 112 to 7 with 24 abstentions.

Fight Mutiny From Air

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Soviet Union is launching airborne armadas daily to crush what may be the most serious challenge Moscow has faced so far in Afghanistan—the mutiny of an Afghan armored division south of Kabul, Western diplomatic sources say.

Soviet planes have "filled the skies over Kabul for several hours each day beginning last Friday," one diplomat said Monday, confirming earlier reports from air travelers to India. "It is the heaviest aerial activity since the December invasion."

The SDN Column

Some years ago we knew a family in which the wife always handled any repairs around the house that required anything associated with carpentry, for the simple reason that the husband couldn't saw a one-by-four board into a piece that would fit anything, and he couldn't drive a six-penny nail without bending it.

On the other hand, the wife had definite talent in this direction.

Nevertheless, the situation was considered something of an oddity in the neighborhood, although there was no criticism, or snide remarks. It was viewed simply as a case of making the most use of family resources.

Nowadays, there would scarcely be a lifted eyebrow if this family resided in any modern neighborhood. As one of the tobacco companies likes to boast, women have come a long way.

But it's becoming a two-way street. According to a recent survey by a New York advertising agency, husbands are taking on many chores around the house that previously were considered exclusively "woman's work." Husbands of full-time working women are most likely to be caught up in this situation, according to the survey, and apparently it is a trend that is still developing.

Although much of the survey covered the activities and attitudes of husbands with regard to grocery shopping and food preparation, the study also revealed these interesting statistics:

Eighty percent of the husbands surveyed take out the garbage.

Forty-seven percent vacuum the floors.

Thirty-seven percent make the beds.

Twenty-seven percent clean the bathroom.

Fourteen percent clean the oven.

But, back to the food topic. The survey shows that 77 percent of these men do the family grocery shopping, at least some of the time. Moreover, most are secure in their shopping habits; 63 percent of them feel they are very competent at selecting foods to buy. Half of those who shop use coupons and a similar number watch their newspaper for store specials. A third of them admit they do a certain amount of impulse buying, which should be good news to the clever folks who decide which goodies to stash next to the checkout counter to entice buyers at the last moment.

The survey shows that newspaper advertisements are the most likely source of information for these shopping husbands (74 percent), while 55 percent buy to the tune of TV commercials and 46 percent from magazine ads.

So, it seems everybody has come a long way down a strange road.

Chamber Of Commerce Seeking New Members

Snyder Chamber of Commerce directors are scheduled to fan out over the city Wednesday morning to seek new members for the organization.

They have scheduled a 1½-day membership drive with the first report session set for 11:30 a.m. They will continue the drive during the afternoon.

On Thursday, the list of prospective members will be regrouped and the directors will begin a final cleanup drive scheduled to end with the final report session at 10:30 a.m.

They hope to produce a substantial increase for the chamber's membership roll, which now stands at 382, and in so doing provide increased financial support for the chamber.

"The number of projects and programs the chamber sponsors depends on the financial participation," said Bill Warner, chamber manager. It has been some two years since the local chamber had a full-scale membership drive, and the list of prospective member has grown steadily over the months.

In addition to maintaining a library of statistical information for the public and providing the traditional chamber services for the community, the Snyder Chamber of Commerce is involved in promotion of industry, the annual July 4th celebration, the American Junior Rodeo Association National Finals, hosting football and basketball playoff games, recreational vehicle rallies, solicitation of new industry, coordination of retail merchandising events such as old fashioned trades days and sidewalk sales, general promotion of the business climate, housing problems and other services designed to serve the community later date. Written comments have been submitted by several persons in response to an invitation extended by the chamber, and others who may wish to voice comments in person will have an opportunity to do so at next Tuesday's meeting, said Bill Warner, chamber manager.

The meeting will be held in the Reddy Room of the Texas Electric Service Co. Building across the street from the chamber office at 23rd St. and Ave. R.

Chamber officials asked the freight company to send officials here for a public meeting, but they declined. Instead, the freight company officials said they preferred to meet with the chamber board, or a committee rather than a larger group. They agreed to consider complaints and comments assembled by the chamber.

Session Set On Freight Service

The Snyder Chamber of Commerce has scheduled a membership meeting for Tuesday, Aug. 5, to discuss freight service here.

Purpose of the meeting is to gather information and comments from local citizens concerning freight service to be presented by chamber officials when they meet with officials of Merchants Fast Motor Lines at a

Billy Scandal Hottest Topic

Jury Exemption Deadline Near

Persons 65 years of age or older who do not want to serve on juries do not have to, advised Scurry County Clerk Beverly Ainsworth.

Because of a law enacted by the Texas legislature last year, the elderly can claim an exemption. An exemption card must be signed by the applicant, however, and the deadline for that is approaching.

Mrs. Ainsworth said senior citizens not wanting to serve on juries in Scurry County have until Aug. 14 to sign an exemption card. The exemption card states that the person signing it is at least 65 years of age.

Persons wanting to sign a card exempting them from jury duty should go by the county clerk's office at the Scurry County courthouse, or they may write the county clerk a letter requesting an exemption card be mailed to them. On receiving the card they should sign it and mail it back. All transactions, however, must be completed by Aug. 14.

The jury wheel, from which prospective jurors for county and district courts are selected, will be loaded Aug. 15. Once a name is placed in the wheel, there is no retrieving it, said Mrs. Ainsworth.

If a person 65 or older does not sign an exemption card, and should that individual's name be placed in the jury wheel and subsequently drawn for jury duty, an exemption may still be claimed by reporting to the court.

The baby girls weighed 5 lbs., 10 oz.; 5 lbs., 9 oz., and 4 lbs., 6 oz., respectively. The triplets and mother were reported doing well this morning.

A guilty conscience or knowledge of one's guilt can cause fear, making one suspect he is in danger of being apprehended when there is none. "The wicked flee when no man pursueth; but the righteous are bold as a lion." Prov. 28:1

A wine-and-cheese reception was followed by a gala concert featuring entertainer Wayne Newton. After the show, the action moved to a "$1,000 per person buffet-reception." Is unemployment in Detroit currently at 18.4 percent, more than 2.5 times the national average? There was no reason for the Eagles to be concerned about that as they attended a reception at the Standard Club one evening and dined at one of the city's most expensive restaurants two nights later.

MOROCCAN-STYLE FESTIVE MEAL—It will include tabbouleh, a salad of Middle Eastern Origin. This version adds canned tuna to the mixture of bulgur wheat, chopped vegetables, parsley and mint—and turns it into refreshing, substantial main dish.

Interesting Meals...

Moroccans Have Many Ways To Serve Tuna

One of the most colorful countries of North Africa is Morocco — and one of the most interesting cities in Morocco today is Rabat. Although much of Morocco is desert, the country is considered predominantly a coastal territory whose fascinating culture reflects both European and Berber influences. Moroccans love company and their renowned hospitality best expresses itself in the feasts they prepare for guests. There's an expression "Where two can eat, three can eat." And whether you are a guest in a palace or a one-room simple, concrete cube, the warmth of the welcome is the same!

In Rabat and elsewhere, Moroccans do most of their purchasing at a souk (market). The souk, a most colorful, bustling center of activity, is the heartbeat of city and community alike. And Rabat's market can be easily explored without a guide.

North African cuisine has changed little with the passing years. Family meals are most often based on grains — semolina, bulgur wheat, and vegetables in season. Meals are generally served from large trays set on low tables, with family members squatting on the floor to eat. No spoons or forks are used, instead, the fingers (the thumb and first two fingers on the right hand) or hunks of flat bread scoop up the food to the mouth. Men are served separately and always eat first!

Popular and satisfying tuna has been eaten since time immemorial by people of the Mediterranean. It's versatility has made it a mainstay in any number of dishes of this part of the world. Why not try these recipes and add an international touch to your own menu?

Art Network For Public Buildings Due

A visual heritage of Texas — in the form of unique artwork — may soon be seen in new public buildings in Texas.

Texas Commission on the Arts (TCA) has published a brochure detailing a Percent for Art program which may be included in public buildings projects throughout the state.

The Percent for Art Program allows any state department, commission, board of public agency to designate up to one percent of the cost estimate for construction of certain state and public buildings to be used to fund fine arts projects at or near the building site.

"The arts have played a vital role in the history and development of Texas and their role in the future of our state is one that must be even more important," said Gov. William P. Clements, quoted in the brochure.

"I am committed to using every opportunity available to promote public awareness of the arts and a partnership between the private and public sectors," he added.

Percent for Art refers to a law, House Bill 1673, which was passed by the Texas Legislature to incorporate artwork in state and public building projects.

State and public buildings are eligible to be included in the program as well as building projects of colleges, universities, cities and counties, and subdivisions of the State of Texas.

The art appropriation formula — one percent of the amount appropriated; is optional. The original construction project cost estimate must exceed $250,000 for the Percent for Art program to apply.

"With this program, a variety of arts can be preserved and enjoyed in locations that are accessible to Texans everywhere," explained TCA Commission Chairman Arnold Swartz.

"This artwork will provide a visual heritage as well as encourage communities to appreciate the creativity of all artists," he added.

Rainsburg Lives Up To Name

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP)—At 1:10 a.m. today, Waynesburg became "Rainsburg" and townsfolk knew their "Rain Day" celebration would be a real splash.

The early morning shower made it the 92nd time in the past 105 years that it has rained here on July 29, according to local weather watchers.

Local newspaper correspondent John O'Hara reported it wasn't raining "heavy amounts, but it is a shower, splattering around all over the place, enough to get you wet."

This southern Pennsylvania town of 5,000 has turned the odd tradition of a July 29th rainfall into an annual festival that's celebrated rain or shine. The National Weather Service said skies would clear later today.

In the old days, farmers would kill a black snake and hang it over an oak post to guarantee rain.

But Waynesburg residents tried a more modern form of hocus-pocus this year - they washed their cars and left the lawn furniture out in the yard.

Snyderites Get Taste Of Opera

Some 150 persons got a taste of European opera last night in the Western Texas College Fines Arts Auditorium.

Presenting the program were two "hometown" musicians, Kathleen (Mott) Kaun and Ronald Clinton.

Mrs. Kaun, who has been active in opera in Austria and Germany for the past 10 years, is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. R. Virgil Mott of Snyder, and Clinton is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert L. Clinton of Snyder. Both attended Snyder public schools and both have continued to receive acclaim in their respective fields.

Mrs. Kaun has had starring roles in operas in Linz and Salzburg, Austria, and in Augsburg, Germany. She is scheduled for three major roles in operas at Linz for the coming season. These include Donna Anna in Mozart's "Don Giovanni," Butterfly in Puccini's "Madame Butterfly," and Angela in Wimperger's "Dame Kobold."

During the program Monday night, Mrs. Kaun told the audience of some of her experiences in Europe, how opera singers prepare for their roles and some of the factors that go into the production and presentation of an opera.

She sang several arias from works of Mozart, Verdi, Puccini, Lehar and Johann Strauss and then completed the program with "You'll Never Walk Alone," from the Broadway Musical, "Carousel."

Europeans are masters of the opera, but nobody can do a musical like Americans, Mrs. Kaun declared.

Clinton, who has become a well-known pianist, accompanied Mrs. Kaun. They received a standing ovation at the conclusion of the program.

SHAH

(Continued From Page 1) upstairs to Sadat's office, then came back down again for the reading of prayers from the Koran after the arrival of other relatives.

The shah's family, including his other son, Ali Reza, 13, and his two daughters by Farah Diba, Farahnaz, 16, and Leila, 9, stood by the coffin while the entourage recited the opening lines of the Koran.

After the readings, mourners inside the palace comes out to a large tent set up in the outdoor square for observances during the Moslem holy month of Ramadan. Other mourners had waited there, including foreign ambassadors, Nixon and former Greek King Constantine.

The mourners sat in the tent, as six sailors in white uniforms with sky-blue trim carried the coffin out of the palace. The coffin was strapped to a caisson drawn by six black Arabian horses.

Police lined the 1 1/4-mile route along which Sadat and the Pahlavi family walked for 30 minutes behind the closed, flag-draped coffin to Al Rifaie Mosque. Sadat led the procession behind the caisson, flanked by Nixon and Prince Reza.

Reporters accompanying the procession estimated tens of thousands watched the procession.

Price-Support Loan Rates Increased

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Carter is giving the nation's farmers a billion-dollar boost in federal price-support loan rates in a move that administration officials say will have little impact on food prices for American consumers. Officials said retail food prices will edge slightly higher as a result of Carter's action. Carter told farm leaders at the White House that he felt "deep concern about the unfortunate plight of farmers and ranchers in particular this year with the unbelievable pressure on them from the cost-price squeeze."

"Increases in the cost of fuel, fertilizer and other production items have out-paced increases in farm receipts, causing net income for many farmers to fall this year," he said, noting that some of the nation's farmers also have been "hit by the effects of drought."

Two Arrested In Shoplifting Case

Merchandise from several local stores was recovered Monday afternoon with the arrest of two women shoplifters. The merchandise recovered consisted of purses, clothing, 13 stereo tapes, a soldering kit, and silverware. The articles came from Gibson's Perry's, and Hasting's Books and Records. Also recovered, but not included with the merchandise from the other haul, were items taken from T.G.&Y. and Anthony's. The women were taken into custody about 5 p.m. at Varsity Square Shopping Center. Value of the merchandise topped $200.

investigating officer Ed Neeley said, making the offense a felony. The stolen articles, Neeley added, represented about an hour and a half's work of shoplifting.

Firemen Called

A grass fire at the Hermeleigh cemetery was extinguished Monday morning. The fire was called in at 10:15 a.m.

More than 250 million pounds of bread are produced in the United States each week, according to Sperry New Holland.

TESCO Hearing Postponed Again

AUSTIN (AP)—A Public Utility Commission examiner today again postponed a hearing in Texas Electric Service Co.'s rate hike case as attorneys continued trying to negotiate a settlement. Lawyers for the company and the cities involved said an agreement had been reached, but representatives of the Association of Community Organizations for Reform Now said they did not agree to the settlement.

Don Butler, representing several of the cities involved, said the proposed settlement would be taken to city councils later today. TESCO originally asked for $123 million in increased rates. The proposed settlement would give only $64.1 million in increases.

BIRTHS

Randy and Barbara Weaver, who live west of Snyder, are the parents of a daughter, Daysha Kay was born July 27 at 11:09 a.m. in Malone-Hogan Hospital in Big Spring. She weighed 5 lbs., 9-ozs. Grandparents are Mary Lee Spence of Snyder and Elizabeth Weaver of Baxter, Kan.

said Carter Burdette, TESCO's attorney. Bob Martin, TESCO spokesman, said the reduced rate hike would mean the company would have to come back for another rate increase sooner than it had planned. PUC staff members had recommended increases totaling $69.4 million.

Dorothy Harwood, an ACORN lawyer, complained after today's brief hearing that her organization was not told of the negotiations until they were under way. "It looks like an already-agreed thing," she said. ACORN objects to several specific portions of the proposed settlement. The group wants commercial and industrial customers to pay a greater share of the rate increase than they would in the proposed agreement.

Hearing examiner Mark Zeppa told the parties to return Wednesday morning. He said ACORN is entitled to a hearing of the case if it continues to reject the settlement.

The Nation's First...

Port For Supertankers Taking Shape In Gulf

GRAND ISLE, La. (AP) — The nation's first deep-water port for supertankers — the Louisiana Off-shore Oil Port — is beginning to take shape in the Gulf of Mexico.

Huge, 2,000-pound sections of the pumping platform are moving into place 19 miles south of Grand Isle, and divers are hooking up buoys — where the huge supertankers will tie up — to one of the biggest chains ever made. This is the first visible part, other than the jackets sticking up out of the water. This is the first real thing as far as the offshore pumping platform. LOOP spokesman Terry D. Trovato said Monday.

The underwater structures that will anchor the platforms to the seabottom 11 feet below have been up for more than half a year, waiting for the platform itself, he said.

While they sat in the Gulf of Mexico, workers on shore assembled everything else — the 46-foot buoys, the pumps, the pumping platform's five-deck sections, and the two pieces of a separate three-deck platform where offshore workers will live and work controls for the pumps.

"When they're brought out, almost all the equipment is already bolted to one. It's brought out as one giant piece," Trovato said.

The pumping platform's lower deck sections carry three pumps that will work together to push 1,100 gallons of oil a minute through the 37 miles of pipeline between the platform and a salt dome in Clovelly.

The pumps will run on electricity produced by gas turbine generators on the upper deck, where meters will also measure the flow of crude.

Controls will be 150 feet away, on a smaller, three-story platform.

Two of the largest derrick barges in the Gulf, able to lift 1,600 tons each, had to be used together to set three 2,000-pound sections of the pumping platform into place. The other two are lighter and can be lifted by one derrick.

Between the pumping platform and the buoys are more than 1 1/2 miles of pipeline, ending at the 90-foot-wide bases which anchor the buoys. These bases are themselves anchored with 5-foot-wide steel piles sunk 90 feet into the seabottom.

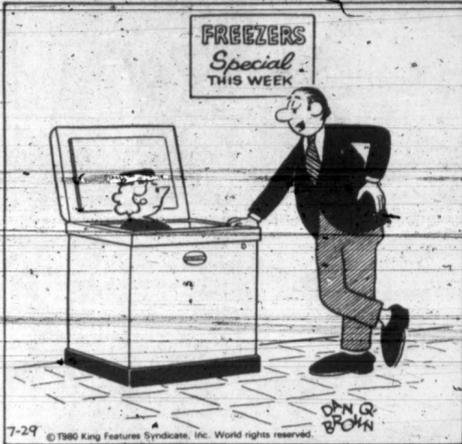

The chains which attach the buoys to them are made of 6 1/2-inch steel forged into links three feet long. They have to be big to hold fast against the ocean's pull on ships that can weigh up to 700,000 tons before they're loaded with crude — ships longer than four football fields.

With the chain attached to its bottom, the buoy is lifted from its barge and onto the water. There valves are opened to let seawater flood into a hollow lower compartment, bringing it upright and pulling it down.

When only the buoy's top 10 feet and a big "birdcage" around lights, a radar reflector and other navigation aids are above water, divers attach the chain to the base.

When the system is in use, two flexible hoses, nearly one-fifth of a mile long will connect the supertanker tethered to a buoy to the pipeline at its base. Pumps on the ship will push the crude up to the platform, where the LOOP pumps will take over.

Lawsuit Filed Against Central Texas Bus Co.

DALLAS (AP)—An $8.5 million damage lawsuit was filed Monday against the Central Texas Bus Lines by a survivor of the June 5 bus crash on a state highway near Jasper, Ark.

Lelia Pate, 59, of Irving, filed the lawsuit in the 14th State District Court in Dallas for damages incurred from the crash.

It is the first lawsuit to be filed against the Central Texas Bus Lines by a survivor of the accident. The accident on Round Top Mountain in north Arkansas killed 20 people and injured 13.

The lawsuit also asks for a temporary injunction to prohibit the bus company from disposing of the wrecked bus or altering its condition in any manner.

Mrs. Pate is seeking $8 million in punitive damages and $500,000 in actual damages. Her husband, Alexander Graham Pate, was one of 20 people killed in the accident.

Authorities said the bus crashed against an embankment, crossed the road and plunged 50 feet down into a wooded ravine.

An official investigating the crash said the driver, James Jefferson Thigpen, 60, of Lancaster, may have had trouble shifting the bus because of mechanical problems. Tom Calderwood of the National Transportation Safety Board said investigators found the clutch in the bus was out of adjustment and that the shift linkage was binding against the rear axle.

Another investigator, Claude Harris, said the brakes on the bus had only "70 percent effective braking" power. He said that would not have been enough to stop the bus.

Calderwood said the problems could have made it difficult for the bus driver to downshift as the bus careened down the steep mountainside.

Passengers said Thigpen tried to downshift as the bus traveled down the steep grade, he said.

State Crime Lab director Steve Nawojczyk said an autopsy revealed Thigpen's health could have been a contributing factor in the accident, but probably was not the main cause, Thigpen was killed in the crash.

Fire swept through the Hotel Rossiya in Moscow in 1977, killing 45 people.

Help for hiatal hernia

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Do you have any diet for a person with a hiatal hernia? I've been getting terrible pains in my chest and went to the doctor to check for a gallbladder and he gave me an upper GI series X-ray and electrocardiogram. It seems like everything I eat either comes up and I have to retch it or else I have a sour stomach and I need to burp all the time.

I waited for several weeks and called my doctor's nurse and she checked the results of my tests and said the only thing I had was a small hiatal hernia that most people have and are not aware of. She said it would never go away unless operated on and that I just had to not eat spicy foods. I asked about coffee, and I drink a lot of it, and she said that it was OK.

I asked if she could send me a diet and she said they didn't have one but just to watch what I eat and if I got any pain to take some Donnatal tablets that they gave me. They didn't say anything about antacid pills which I just about live on.

I spent this money on X-rays and still don't know what to do. She said to lose weight but I don't know what type of diet to go on. I am overweight. I'm 5 feet 2 and weigh 150 pounds. Could you give me some information that would help?

DEAR READER — It sounds like you need quite a bit of help. To start with, there's no special diet for hiatal hernia other than not to eat very large meals. You may need to eat frequent small meals to satisfy your nutritional requirements. Any time you overload the stomach it's apt to leak back into the lower esophagus and cause the problems that you're describing.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 4-8, Hiatal Hernia, to give you more complete information on what you can do to control your symptoms. This includes keeping the head of the bed elevated, not wearing a tight belt or girdle and not lying down for at least two hours after eating. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Now I disagree entirely with the comment that coffee is OK. It certainly is not. It will increase the acid digestive juice formation by your stomach and can even cause burning in the pit of the stomach in people who don't have a hiatal hernia. I think you should stop at once and I would encourage you to avoid the decaffeinated products as well. The same goes for tea, colas and any beverage that contains caffeine.

You're absolutely right about the importance of losing weight. Anything inside the abdominal cavity that occupies space or creates pressure can help to push a small amount of the stomach through the hole in the diaphragm. That, in turn, can lead to symptoms.

As you'll see in The Health Letter on hiatal hernia that I'm sending you, antacids are frequently used to help relieve symptoms of burning associated with the hiatal hernia.

Dear Abby

Railroad Widow Forced To Cover Her Tracks

By Abigail Van Buren

1960 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Is it possible to be married in the eyes of God only? As the widow of a retired railroad man, if I marry again, I'll lose my widow's retirement benefits.

Five years ago I fell in love with a fine and decent man—a retired disabled widower. We love each other and want to marry, but that means giving up my widow's benefits, and we can't make it on his check alone. So we are forced to live in sin.

I'm a God-fearing woman, Abby, but we love and need each other, so we're living together.

We are trying to get a law passed (like Social Security) that will permit widows of railroad men to marry, but until we do, we are in a bind.

Please print this, Abby, because we railroad widows don't have anyone fighting for us. We are the forgotten people. Thank you.

M. IN PASSAIC

DEAR ABBY: I have heard that there are some compassionate ministers who will bless a common-law union such as yours, enabling you to be married in the eyes of God even though you are not married in the eyes of the law. If there's one in Passaic, I hope he contacts me. I also hope someone champions your cause so railroad widows can remarry without losing their benefits.

DEAR ABBY: A very good friend of ours is in the real estate business. Several months ago we gave him a referral, and he got the listing and sold the house. He said when it closed escrow he would either give us a gift certificate for a department store, or he and his wife would take me and my wife out to dinner.

Last night we went out to dinner with them at a very nice restaurant. When the check came, you can imagine our shock when he said, "Well, let's split the bill."

He must have forgotten his offer, so I paid my half and didn't say anything.

Should this be ignored? Or is there a way I can mention his promise without causing embarrassment on either side?

JUST DON'T KNOW

DEAR JUST: He's probably forgotten his promise, so don't mention it. But if he reads this column, you may collect after all.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is that I am always in debt and can't seem to get out. I don't know what to call myself except maybe "stupid."

My husband makes a good living, but the only bills that get paid on time are the rent and the utilities because he pays them. I write checks for everything else and also do a lot of charging. Right now I am overdrawn at the bank, have several unpaid bills staring me in the face and am scared to death to tell my husband.

I am not extravagant with myself. It's usually something I buy for the children or the house. This is nothing new — I have always been behind in my bills — but this time I can't see my way clear. I'm ready for a nervous breakdown. I'm considering borrowing some money, but the interest rates are so high. What should I do?

DROWNING IN BILLS

DEAR DROWNING: First I will tell you what NOT to do. Don't borrow any money without your husband's knowledge! Then close your charge accounts, hand your husband your checkbook and tell him about the mess you're in. If he doesn't immediately remove you from the treasury department, resign!

You can learn how to budget if you really want to, and you should. But until you do, let Hubby handle the family fortune.

Do you wish you had more friends? Get Abby's booklet, "How To Be Popular: You're Never Too Young or Too Old." Send $1 with a long, self-addressed, stamped (28 cents) envelope to: Abby, Popularity, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Food Service Gives Money To Charities

The Snyder School Food Service Association, which disbanded last year, has donated the money that remained in its coffers to three charities, announce the officers.

The money, a sum of $1400, was divided evenly between the Heart Association, the Cancer Society and the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

The food service association disbanded when the school let a contract to Greyhound Food Services to provide meals.

Officers of the association were: President, Novella Johnson; secretary, Darlene Marlar; vice president, Sue Warren; treasurer, Peggy Grinslade.

Today about 1/2 half your electricity is made from lignite coal.

And a good thing, too, because our biggest contract for low-cost natural gas (which we also use to make your electricity) expires this year.

This contract has been in effect for almost 20 years. It's helped us keep the cost of electricity lower here than in many other parts of the country.

Next year when we have to start paying much more for natural gas, electricity is going to cost more. There's no way around it.

But your bill won't be as high as it would be if we weren't making about half your electricity with economical, abundant lignite coal from Texas.

Snyder Teens Crunch Haskell; C-City's Next

CISCO—Junior Teenage League tournament play began here Monday and stretches through Thursday, but at least one team will be watching the meet from the stands after today's action.

Baird and Haskell, both losers in yesterday's first round here, were to square off today at 3 o'clock in a do-or-die battle of this double-elimination tournament.

Other games today pit

Commanche, an 11-4 winner over Baird, against Eastland at 6 p.m., and Snyder, a 10-3 victor over Haskell, against Colorado City at 9. Eastland and Colorado City both received byes Monday.

Snyder's bunch took a two-run, first inning lead here last evening, but stayed in trouble until the fourth stanza. Singles and scores by Johnny Overton aided the Oiler's cause in the early going of the contest.

But Snyder committed two key errors through the first three innings, handing the Mojos at least one run on back-to-back throwing miscues. Haskell's Jamie Davis later doubled to send in another score, and Snyder's lead dwindled to 4-3.

Coach Charly Freeman's Oiler's-Buffs found traction in the fourth inning, however. Tim Derryberry took first base on an error committed by the right fielder and Overton kept things going with his third straight single of the night. Charlie Bollinger then secured base on an all-safe fielder's choice, and losing pitcher Mark Bailey walked in Derryberry when he hurled a fourth ball past Brent Roemisch.

Next-up Eddie McClure hit into a fielder's choice which scored Overton. Barry Davis ground out to the third baseman but scored Bollinger; and Roemisch later took second base and home on passed balls.

The 9-3 lead was good enough to clinch an early win for the Oilers, who added a tenth run in the seventh inning when Darryl Boone got aboard, stole second and third and raced home on a wild pitch.

Davis helped highlight the victory and ignite the Snyder team with a third-inning lead-off shot that got lost over the left field fence. It was Davis's fifth Junior Teenage League homer of the season, and the first home run by a Junior Teenage Leaguer in Cisco's City Park.

Gerald Don Hicks picked up the win for Snyder, going the entire seven innings. Hicks gave up three runs - not all earned - on five hits, and fanned seven batters. Bailey took the loss by allowing nine runs on seven hits with six strikeouts recorded. Robert Munoz came on in relief to open the fifth inning. He gave one run, one hit and fanned one batter.

Selmon Signs With Raiders

LUBBOCK—Thomas Selmon, a top athlete from Snyder High School, has inked a contract with Texas Tech University, it has been announced.

Selmon, selected as Snyder High School male Athlete of the Year for 1979-80, received a full track scholarship.

playing football in 1980, but he will try out for the Raiders team in '81.

THOMAS SELMON

While competing for Coach Winfred Shipp's tracksters here, Selmon advanced to the Class AAA state track meet as a long jumper his junior and senior years, finishing in the runner-up spot this past season. He is presently the AAU Region triple jump champion, and will be competing in the AAU National Finals in August.

He was also a regional participant in the 100 meter dash, and competed in the 200 meters, relays and high jump for Snyder High School.

On the gridiron, Selmon was named to the All West Texas Super Team, was All-Area and All-District as a defensive safety and punt returner. He was also a team captain.

A three-sport letterman, Selmon was a member of Snyder's state runner-up basketball team where he received honorable mention All-District honors.

Doris Back In Lineup

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Houston starters defensive end Andy Dorris and tight end Mike Barber began trying this week to get to Oiler training camp. So far, only Dorris has made it.

Dorris, anxious not to lose the toe hold he gained on the starting position last year, signed a one-year contract Monday, but will continue negotiations with the Oilers on an improved deal.

Barber, meanwhile, remained the lone holdout as Oiler veterans went through their third day of drills on the Angelo State University campus.

Gervin Inks With Spurs

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP)—"Iceman" George Gervin, lured by a prize-fight-type bonus that compensates him for every game above 35 the San Antonio Spurs win each season, has come to terms with the team after a summer-long stalemate.

Gervin and Spurs president Angelo Drossos told a Monday news conference they had agreed to a re-negotiated contract that likely would cause the NBA's scoring champion to play out his career here.

Drossos and Gervin announced they had settled on "a substantial increase" in salary and a bonus package that would compensate Gervin for each victory above 35 each season. Drossos likened the bonus package to prizefighters being well rewarded for each victory.

Injuries Smack Cat Prospective Gridders

Snyder's 1980 football campaign may turn up roses, but at the moment injuries are doing their part to insure a hampered start.

Four individuals have been involved in injuries and/or surgery over the course of the summer, including two within the past week.

Dale Jenkins, Snyder's leading receiver of a year ago and currently the top high school pole vaulter in the state, suffered a foot injury during an oilfield accident last Friday.

Though rumors have circulated wildly, the actual extent of the injury is not known, relayed defensive coach Wes Poarch. Doctors at Highlands Hospital (Lubbock) are waiting for swelling to go down in the foot before making any specific determinations.

Jenkins, who was to compete in the AAU National Track Meet next month, apparently caught the foot between the weights and arm of a pump jack.

Another receiver-tracker, Glen Parham, has had knee surgery and will probably be ready for gridiron work by the first game of the season, though he may not be full speed during two-a-days which begin Aug. 11. Parham suffered the knee injury while doing exercise at his home.

"He'll be limited in what he does, but he'll be able to work out some, we think," said Poarch. "The surgery was not what you'd normally think of when you think of knee surgery."

The winning blow came off reliever Ron Reed, 6-4, and made a winner of

They almost left these attributes at home Monday night. Fortunately for the Astros, the Phillies couldn't hit rookie Gordy Pladson, a customary thing when they see a new pitching face.

Pladson allowed just four hits in the eight innings he worked. Sambito replaced him in the ninth after Houston pinch hit for their starter.

Sambito gave up one hit, struck out three and walked off with the victory.

Houston manager Bill Virdon said that in his mind he gave the triumph to the rookie pitcher, who was recalled from Tacoma of the Pacific Coast league July 14.

"He pitched very well, better than that," said Virdon. "He threw strikes. He got his slider over. He's a good, strong kid."

The Astros took a 1-0 lead in the third inning on a triple by light hitting Craig Reynolds, and Cruz' single.

The Phillies tied it in the fourth with the help of Houston's second of three crucial mistakes.

Pete Rose walked, and Bake McBride lofted a fly to right-center. Cedeno in center and Dave Bergman in right charged after the ball, but both stopped and it fell for a double. Rose advanced to third and eventually scored.

Houston's first mistake was on offense. They loaded the bases in the third, and Joe Morgan should have scored on a line drive out to center. But Morgan ran halfway home and couldn't get back in time to tag up.

Morgan said he thought the ball would fall safely and that he might be tossed out at the plate if he didn't get a jump.

Houston's third mistake came in the fifth and gave the Phillies a 2-1 lead.

THE TRAIN...The train's engineer told police a barricade was in place and warning lights and bells were active, but that the victim walked around the barricade and in front of the train. The engineer told police he sounded a warning horn to no avail.

THE MAN...The man was struck and dragged 150 feet and the sack of potatoes was found in front of the engine, police said.

REPORTEDLY, investigators reportedly, police had received a call minutes before the accident that a body was lying near the tracks about a block from the accident scene. They said the report must have been a practical joke because the reported body turned out to be a mannequin with ketchup smeared on it.

TEXAN AMONG FOUR KILLED RUBIDOUX, Calif. (AP)—Authorities were investigating a light plane crash near a small Riverside County airport that killed a Texas man and three other people, authorities said.

TWO MEN...Two men in the cockpit of the twin-engine Beechcraft were pronounced dead at the scene of Sunday's crash just west of Riverside, according to fire department spokesman Paul Elks.

THE OTHER...The other two passengers, a teen-age boy and girl, died shortly after the wreck at Riverside Community Hospital, investigators said.

A SPOKESMAN...A spokesman for the Riverside County coroner's office identified the victims as John Raymond Koos, 61, of San Marcos, Texas; Harvahan Singh Bedi, 44, of La Verne; Gurpreet Bedi, 14, also of La Verne and Varinder P. Bedi, 16, of Concord.

INVESTIGATOR...Investigator Jim Wall of the National Transportation Safety Board said the plane, on its way to Wyoming, had taken off from Riverside Municipal Airport and was about to land at nearby Flabob Airport.

Take Advantage Of Services At Don Adams Maytag Laundry

The folks at Don Adams Laundry are continually trying to make washday a more efficient and pleasant time for you. For example, for your convenience, the laundry is open seven days a week, 24 hours a day. This enables you to do your laundry at your convenience, not someone else's. Whenever you're ready, the laundry is too. An attendant is on duty from 7:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday, and an attendant checks in at the laundry several times during the day on Sunday. Don Adams Laundry has all of the conveniences a laundry needs and then some. A dollar bill changer, a soap dispenser with choice of detergent, soil remover, bleach or fabric softener, and a pay telephone are all provided. After the wash is done, an adjoining room is provided for folding and hanging clothes. This room is complete with tables and rolling clothes hampers. The laundry has 68 washers, 60 of which are commercial-duty Maytag top-load washers, and eight of which are front-load washers available for larger loads. The firm also has 28 dryers (including four special dryers for delicate and permanent press fabrics) making for more efficient washdays. Don also sells and services Electrolux vacuum cleaners. He keeps several models and parts on hand to cut down on your waiting time. Whether your needs are for laundry or houseclean-

Waterbed Shop Knows Better Way For You To Spend Nights

Because sleep is vital to our mental and physical well-being, most of us spend almost one-third of our lives in bed. But, as everyone knows, the quality of sleep—from night to night varies. We may sleep well one night, and toss and turn the next. When the body is lying on a firm surface—such as some conventional mattresses—parts of our body carrying a disproportionate amount of weight. Pressure at certain points may curtail blood circulation and fatigue muscles, causing the body to seek relief by changing positions during the night. Deep, beneficial sleep may be disturbed. The water-filled mattress, known as the "waterbed", however, provides uniform support to the body thereby minimizing uncomfortable pressure points. The body is supported warmly and evenly in a temperature-controlled water-mattress. Sleepers move less often, thus maintaining the deep sleep patterns nature intended.

In the 60's, restless young people seeking new lifestyles, created a waterbed fad. At that time, waterbeds were simply bags of water. Today no longer a fad, they are highly styled, superbly engineered flotation systems which are enjoyed by thousands of people of all ages in all walks of life. The reasons are obvious. Water beds offer a more restful, comfortable way of sleeping—night after night. As a seller of waterbeds and bedroom furniture, Joe Bob Martinez, manager of the Waterbed Shop, realized that many of the same questions are asked over and over again by persons considering the purchase of a waterbed. We hope that the following questions and answers will assist you and help correct some of the misinformation about waterbeds. Q. What are some advantages of a waterbed over a conventional mattress? A. First, a waterbed is completely adjustable for firmness. Second, because body weight displaces the water, there is less pressure to the body than is normally experienced with a conventional mattress. Third, the temperature of the bed may be adjusted to suit personal preferences by setting the thermostat of the heating unit.

Q. Will it help my back?
A. Most people with back problems who have bought a waterbed say that it gives them relief. However, the manufacturers of waterbeds make no medical claims. Yet, the steadily increasing acceptance of waterbeds seem to indicate that the full body support provided by water mattresses is beneficial.
Q. One of us weighs much more than the other. Will it make a difference?
A. By adjusting the firmness of your mattress, you will be able to sleep comfortably even if there is a very great weight difference.
