Carter Ready To Go Before Panel

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

VOL. 32 NO. 77 SNYDER, TEXAS (79549) WED. JULY 30, 1980 12 PAGES 20c

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Carter, launching a counteroffensive in the Billy Carter-Libyan case less than two weeks before the Democratic National Convention, says he's anxious to appear in person before Senate investigators, possibly in nationally televised hearings.

In an effort to minimize the political fallout from the affair, Carter said he is eager to respond to Senate questions, "the sooner the better."

And just to make sure his side of the story gets out before the convention begins Aug. 11, Carter said he will send the Senate a full report early next week and then hold a news conference to answer questions about it.

Carter made a surprise appearance Tuesday in the White House press room to declare "once again, but this time on television" that his brother had no influence on policy toward Libya and that there was no interference with the Justice Department investigation of the affair. White House press secretary Jody Powell said there has been no decision on whether Carter would go to the senators or the senators would come to Carter to hear his testimony. But he said live, televised hearings are "in no way excluded."

The special Senate committee, which is searching for a non-partisan counsel, is expected to open hearings next week.

Powell said that if the president appeared in the early hearing sessions and subsequent investigation required additional presidential testimony, "we would be reasonable about" returning to testify.

Gerald R. Ford, who testified before a House Judiciary subcommittee in 1975 to explain his post-Watergate pardon of Richard M. Nixon, is the only president to testify publicly before Congress.

Acknowledging his deteriorating political standing, the president himself was reported to have offered Tuesday to skip campaigning with some members of Congress if he might hurt their re-election chances.

In other developments

Tuesday: -Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chairman of the special Senate committee, said the panel has subpoenaed documents from Charter Oil Co. relating to "Billy Carter and oil allocations from Libya."

-Letters requesting information were sent by the subcommittee to Carter, the departments of State, Justice, Energy and Commerce and the Central Intelligence Agency, the National Security Agency and the FBI.

-Carter notified a House committee that he would provide "all relevant information" about his brother's belated registration as an agent of Libya's radical Arab government, but that lawyers could not prepare the materials until after the convention.

Israel Rejects U.N. Decision

UNITED NATION (AP)—Israel rejected the latest U.N. resolution calling for its withdrawal from the territory it captured in the 1967 war as an attempt to subvert peace and pledged to pursue the Camp David formula in the face of Third World opposition and the new West European peace initiative.

Israeli Ambassador Yehuda Z. Blum announced his government's "total rejection" of the resolution adopted Tuesday at the end of a week-long emergency assembly session by a vote of 112-7 with 24 nations abstaining.

Blum said the resolution was an attempt "to frustrate and, if at all possible, to subvert the ongoing peace process in the Middle East." But he said the U.S.-sponsored peace process between Israel and Egypt "will go on despite the efforts to torpedo it."

The Carter administration, however, feared that the peace process would be torpedoed by Israeli action rather than U.N. resolutions. A State Department spokesman said there was a "logical fear" that Egypt would quit the deadlocked negotiations with Israel on Palestinian autonomy because of a law to be adopted by the Israeli Parliament today proclaiming all of Jerusalem the capital of the Jewish state.

The U.N. resolution called for Israel to begin withdrawing from all occupied territory by Nov. 15 and for the West Bank of the Jordan River, East Jerusalem and the Gaza Strip to be turned over to the Palestine Liberation Organization for establishment of a Palestinian state.

It was the first time the assembly set a deadline for the start of an Israeli withdrawal. But the resolution, like similar ones adopted in the past, is not binding on Israel and cannot be enforced.

Wednesday update

TESCO Settlement Fails

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas Electric Service Co. first asked for $123 million in rate hikes. Then, as a negotiated settlement seemed a possibility, the company said it would settle for $64 million.

However, the deal died Tuesday when several of the 78 North, Central and West Texas cities served by TESCO stuck by their demand for only a $24 million hike.

Hearing Examiner Mark Zeppa of the Public Utility Commission said the hearing would begin today. He had recessed Monday and Tuesday hearings to allow negotiations to continue.

Rationing Plan Near Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plan giving the president the power to order gasoline rationing in a severe shortage without seeking prior congressional approval is on the verge of becoming law.

The program, which could lead to gas coupon rationing on a per-vehicle basis in a petroleum shortage of 20 percent or greater, takes effect at midnight tonight unless both the House and Senate vote today to block it.

Carter Slips In Polls

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Results of the latest California Poll show that if a three-way election were held in the state today, Ronald Reagan would win handily and independent candidate John Anderson would push President Carter into third place.

The latest survey by Mervin D. Field's poll shows that Reagan, the former California governor, enjoys an increasingly commanding lead in his home state that has soared since the mid-July Republican National Convention in Detroit.

Census Re-Check Efforts Proceed

Local officials hope to get information in to the regional census office promptly in efforts to make certain that the count for Snyder and Scurry County are accurate.

The city has prepared a computer printout of dwelling units served by city water department, and it shows a vacancy list of nearly 200 less than the preliminary census report. Census officials have indicated that they will check this list against the 444 vacancies listed in the preliminary report. This could result in several hundred more being added to the Snyder total.

Also, City Manager John Gayle said that records on annexations were being checked. It is believed that some areas annexed during the past decade may not have been included in the city's preliminary total.

Meanwhile, Bill Warner, chamber of commerce manager, said utility connections county-wide were being checked so that they may be compared with the dwelling vacancy list for the county.

Although they believe the preliminary figures are low, local officials say they are encouraged that the preliminary figures here showed substantial gains, making Snyder and Scurry County among the very few that did not come up with losses.

The city's preliminary count of 12,301 represents a 10.1 percent increase from 1970, while the county's preliminary total of 17,570 is an 11.5 percent gain over 10 years ago.

Court Rejects Attempt To Outlaw Abortions

AUSTIN (AP)—An attempt to make abortions illegal in Texas—despite a 1973 U.S. Supreme Court decision—was rejected today by the State Supreme Court.

Without writing a new opinion, the court said it could find "no reversible error" in a decision by the 14th Court of Civil Appeals in Houston that the U.S. Supreme Court ruling was "the law of the land."

The high court said in 1973 that states may neither prohibit nor regulate abortions in the first three months of pregnancy and may only regulate—but not outlaw—them in the second three months.

The appeals court also held that a person designated as "next friend" of an unborn child had no standing to go to into court on behalf of the fetus.

Eileen Brady of Houston, mother of six children, filed the suit "as next friend" of the unborn child of an 18-year-old woman identified only as Jane Doe. Mrs. Brady sought to prevent Jane Doe from having an abortion and also attacked the Supreme Court decision on behalf of other fetuses that might be aborted. Mrs. Brady's lawyers contended in elaborate pleadings filed in Houston district court, the 14th Court of Civil Appeals and the Texas Supreme Court that the U.S. Supreme Court violated the Constitution in its 1973 Roe vs. Wade decision.

They contended unborn children have rights to "life, liberty and property" that were threatened by the decision. The appeals court upheld State District Judge Williams Kilgarlin's decision dismissing the case. It said only a "minor" without a legal guardian may be represented as "next friend," and a minor, necessarily, is a person.

"The United States Supreme Court has ruled in Roe vs. Wade... that the word 'person' as used in the 14th Amendment does not include the unborn. Thus, the unborn child of Jane Doe was not a minor," the appeals court said.

It also said Roe vs. Wade decided the abortion issue and is the law of the land.

"Thus, prior to the end of the first trimester, the abortion decision must be left to the woman and her physician," the court said.

According to case records, Mrs. Brady is not related to Jane Doe but obtained her name—through lawyers—from Abortion/Advise and Information Center in Houston.

Heavy Downpours Drench Northeast

By The Associated Press Record downpours drenched parts of the Northeast with much-needed rain, swamping streets and homes, triggering power failures in New York and wreaking havoc on city transportation systems.

But in the "heat zone," Oklahoma residents were sizzling under the hottest temperatures of the year—108 degrees in Oklahoma City on Tuesday.

Delaware's Lake Como, swollen with 5.1 inches of rain, overflowed and covered U.S. Route 13 with up to 4 feet of water Tuesday. But a dam that officials feared was about to collapse and flood a wide area held together and workers built a sandbag levee to save the Lake Como bridge on U.S. 13.

The highway was to reopen later today, said State Highway Director Robert Bewick.

Flood waters isolated a soda shop in Smyrna, Del., sweeping away parts of its parking lot and leaving a corner of the building hanging 15 feet above an eroded pit.

High water also knocked out a sewage pumping station, halting service to many of the town's 1,500

Activity Rises

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's barometer of future economic activity rose sharply in June, marking the first increase in a year, the Commerce Department announced.

Heavy Downpours Drench Northeast

Damage estimates were not immediately available.

New York rains stalled Manhattan's morning commuters in the air, on the roads and in the subways. The deluge forced three highways to close for several hours, and New York's LaGuardia airport and Newark airport in New Jersey reported two-hour delays.

Underground, some subway trains were delayed and others halted as water cascaded from the streets into subway stations.

Manhattan got a record 3.47 inches of rain, according to the National Weather Service. The old record for July 29 was 1.40 inches, set in 1930.

Consolidated Edison reported wide power outages throughout the day but almost all service was restored by Tuesday evening. Roads were back to normal by the evening rush hour.

The SDN Column

Mark it up to advancing years, experience, or what have you, but we were neither shocked nor really dismayed over the preliminary census count for Snyder.

In fact, based on some of the reports we had seen from other cities, an increase of 10.1 percent looms as a significant achievement. It is indeed better than a decrease, which is the plight of many cities who have received their preliminary totals.

We recall the 1960 census. That was the year that many community leaders thought Snyder would approach, if not exceed, the 20,000 mark. Hadn't it passed 12,000 in 1950 during a boom-town setting that obviously made an accurate count impossible? A lot of houses had been built in the decade of the 50s and there were bound to be many more people living here—or so many thought.

But the actual count came in below 14,000. Then came the decade of the 60s when the oilfields were automated and drilling tapered off in the face of curtailed production allowances. Some people thought the population of Snyder probably dropped below the 10,000 mark in the mid-sixties. But a change in direction toward the end of the decade improved the picture, and people were talking about 14,000 to 15,000 again! But the actual count in 1970 was merely 11,171.

More progress was evident in the decade of the 70s. We felt that there would be an increase, but by this time we had gone conservative and pegged it around 12,500, or 13,000 at the most. Thus, the preliminary total of 12,301 came as no surprise. This very likely will increase substantially before the final figures are in, we believe, because it is obvious that some people were missed. It is even more obvious that the preliminary count of 444 vacant dwelling units in Snyder is off the mark.

The problem now is that the Bureau of the Census, which worked on the problem for several months, allots local communities the long term of 10 days to challenge the preliminary figures. So, unless someone can come up within 10 days with specific evidence that some were overlooked in the count, the 12,301 figure is not likely to change much. But some people in our town are working on it.

The big question is, why don't they organize teams and go out and actually count noses instead of the indirect and obviously inadequate method they use to take a census? In other words, why don't they haul off and take a census instead of beating around the bush?

The nation's capital of Washington, D.C., has the largest press corps in the world. At last count, approximately 3,000 correspondents and photographers, including television representatives, are accredited or assigned to cover Congress. Across the city a contingent of 1,700 media representatives is accredited to cover the White House.

But you can count on one hand—possibly one finger—the number of investigative reporters assigned full-time in Washington to tracking down waste and extravagance in the federal bureaucracy—probably history's greatest dispenser of favors, which spend and misspend over $600 billion a year.

Donald Lambro, special projects reporter for United Press International, one of the major wire news services, is a unique reporter in Washington and may well be the only one assigned exclusively to investigating and writing—in his words—"about the issue of excessive, extravagant, unnecessary and ineffective federal spending."

It's a "monumental" story, he believes, but largely "unreported by the media." Despite UPI's interest, Lambro feels the story still is not covered adequately, and that is why he has written a new book, "Fat City: How Washington Wastes Your Taxes." Four years ago he wrote a similar book, "The Federal Rathole."

Lambro talked about his new book with another renowned critic of government waste, Dr. Richard L. Leshner, president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce as guest on "What's the Issue?" a Mutual network show produced by the Chamber.

"Fat City" is loaded with "specifics" documented by Lambro.

How many taxpayers are aware, for example, that they must pay:

-$100,000 a year to provide masseurs for members of Congress who take rubdowns in the Capitol gyms.

-$8 million a year for travel services.

-Up to $750 million a year to provide groceries and other commodities at cut-rate prices for retired military personnel, many of whom hold second career jobs.

-$2 billion a year for a consultants' industry mushrooming around Washington which frequently engages in duplicative, needless or wasteful studies.

Several hundred thousand dollars to a consultant to learn whether community block grants help the poor. (When the consultant replied it was not possible to tell, the government reauthorized the study for three or four more years.)

My kids think a pioneer is someone without a clothes dryer. They've been raised in a world of electrical outlets, miracle fabrics, one-size-fits-all and just-add-water.

They don't know what an alley is... a washer wringer... a piece of coal

...a plain white T-shirt... a pen wiper... or a doily.

Some of them have never had personal contact with a basement, bus transfer, a screen door that didn't have a glass replacement, or for that matter a person who didn't have a checking account. I never look at my children that I don't fall on my knees and say, "Thank You, God," for making these children in the 20th century where technology prevails. They would never have survived without it.

"Thank You for making doors that close automatically behind them. Otherwise large office buildings, schools and department stores would be open to all the elements.

"Thank you for drip-dry and permanent press. Without them I'd never permit my children to give their right names anywhere.

"Thank You for headphones for stereo or I'd have gone deaf long before last year.

"Thank You for electric dishwashers. It takes a lot to admit the first model made with two hands and feet didn't work out.

"How kind of You to assess their limitations and give them ovens, refrigerators, and pets that clean themselves.

"Thank You for 40-gallon hot-water heaters that take them through a complete shampoo without waiting for new water to heat.

"Thank you for pocket computers where they no longer have to find out so soon what I don't know.

"My gratitude for aerosol cans of pine and lemon scents to surround gym shoes that have not left the feet in three years.

"Thank you for digital watches that eliminate a lot of teaching about which hand is before and which one is after.

"Thank you for Dial-a-Prayer for the woman who can't cope until Sunday."

In looking over modern technology, there is possibly only one thing that was missed. A dial tone on mothers that indicates, "I'm busy."

Luke describes Martha, Mary's sister, as "cumbered about much serving." He uses the now archaic word "cumbered" which means burdened or troubled. When Martha asked Jesus to tell Mary to help her, Jesus suggests that Mary is concerning herself about something more important—spiritual instruction.

"And Jesus answered and said unto her Martha, Martha, thou art careful and troubled about many things: But one thing is needful; and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her." — Luke 10:41-42

30 years of goofing up

NEW YORK (AP)—In the past 30 years, said Richard Leshner, "if we had set out to screw up our system we couldn't have done it better."

In that time, he said, we have raised government spending and debt, created inflation, cost people their savings, lost our confidence in institutions, destroyed productivity.

Leshner, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, is one of a growing list of business spokesmen who today speak their views with confidence they will be listened to.

Loud they have always been. But the pitch over the past three decades has been shrill with frustration and defeat, and the message often has been lost in a barrage of outrage, denunciation and accusation.

Now, however, they think the message is getting through: That you can't consume goods and services without producing the same, and that you can't pay your bills by relying on inflation to bail you out.

Few business organizations are so self-centered as to take credit for having changed attitudes. The more receptive mood, they concede, might result largely from the frustration of Americans with economic affairs.

But they—the National Chamber, the Business Roundtable, the National Association of Manufacturers and various trade groups—are seizing the opportunity to be heard. They sense a turnabout in political fortunes.

Leshner, who feels that in January the country will inaugurate a long road back to prosperity, began his public fight to make the views of business acceptable when he became president of the Chamber in 1975.

Immediately he set out to raise membership, which now stands at close to 93,000 corporations, compared with 52,000 when he took office, and 2,700 local and state chambers and 1,300 professional associations.

He writes a weekly column sent to more than 700 newspapers. He appears weekly on radio and on a half-hour weekly television program run by 117 stations. The chamber's weekly newspaper, "Washington Report," now claims a circulation of more than 500,000 readers. The circulation of "Nation's Business," a monthly magazine, has climbed to 1.3 million.

"Businessmen had hidden in a corner—they wouldn't say anything," said Leshner, a 46-year-old former professor (he holds a doctorate) and space agency official. He does say things, wittily, and acerbically too.

"The Carter administration didn't have a compass when it got us into the swamp and now it's mired down and baffled," he said recently. It wasn't the usual colorless statement that come from business leaders.

Four Women Being Honored

NEW YORK (AP)—Four women, who were in the forefront of advancing women's rights during the Victorian era, are being honored by the British Post Office and two prominent American women's organizations.

The four, Emily and Charlotte Bronte, George Eliot, Mary Ann Evans and Elizabeth Cleghorn Gaskell, are being commemorated on a new issue set of British stamps.

The National Council of Women and the BPO began the salute recently with a luncheon at the United Nations here. Later this summer, the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, at its annual convention in Omaha, will present an award to the contemporary woman author who best reflects the ideals and literary excellence of the four writers honored on the stamps.

The International Red Cross was established at Geneva in 1864. The association owes its inception to the Swiss banker Jean Henri Dunant, who was so moved by the suffering at the Battle of Solferino in 1859 that he urged the formation of voluntary aid societies to help the wounded of war. The Red Cross since has expanded throughout the world to aid the afflicted in peace as well as in war.

Pessimist Pete studied the dummy for a while and noted that if everything went wrong, he could lose two hearts, one diamond, one club, and be down one. On the other hand, if West held the ace of hearts, king of diamonds and queen of clubs there would be just two losers.

Then Pete worked out a way to make his game with everything wrong. He started by playing dummy's queen of diamonds. East produced the king and Pete started proceedings by holding up the ace. This hold-up was essential to Pete's plan to handle the bad things he expected. Pete wanted to develop an end play against East and he had to keep West out of the lead.

East led a second diamond. Pete took his ace, ruffed the last diamond and drew trumps. Then the end play was ready.

He led his device of hearts and played dummy's 10 after West played low. Then Pete spread his hand and claimed all tricks but one.

It didn't matter what East did or where the East-West cards were. If East led the ace of hearts it would set up dummy's king for a club discard. If he led a club, it would take the club finesse for South. If he led a diamond, South would ruff in dummy and discard his last heart. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

FBI statistics warn that victims of property crimes (such as burglary, larceny and auto theft) should hold out little hope that their property will be recovered or an arrest made. But the police do get their man or woman in a majority of violent crimes (such as assault, homicide and robbery).

Pair Charged In Freeway Killings

LOS ANGELES (AP)—In eight years, more than 40 young men have been found dead near Los Angeles highways, many strangled, some sexually assaulted. Now, a twice-paroled sex offender has been charged in 14 of the "Freeway Killer" slayings, officials say - and the search goes on.

William G. Bonin, 33, a truck driver from Downey who last week was charged in the slaying of a 17-year-old, was charged with 13 additional counts of murder Monday and was being held without bond.

with six counts of murder and also was held without bond.

"Bonin and Butts are believed responsible for the kidnapping, torture and murder of at least 21 young males between May 1979 and June 1980," the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department said in a prepared statement.

The statement did not explain why charges were filed in connection with only 14 slayings.

Bonin's arraignment was continued to August 8 and Butts' was set for August 13.

Meanwhile, sheriff's deputies in Orange County were trying to determine whether the body of a young man found Monday along Santiago Canyon Road was the 42nd victim in the series of killings.

"We rolled our Freeway Killer team out on it and we're not ruling it out at this time," said Lt. Wyatt Hart.

Bonin was arrested in Hollywood June 12 while allegedly committing an act of sodomy on a 17-year-old boy.

Bonin, the first person formally accused in the series of Freeway Killer slayings, had been arraigned Friday in the slaying of Marcus Grabs, a 17-year-old student from Germany who had been hitchhiking around the country.

"We believe we can prove these cases independent of each other and without making any deals with either of the defendants," he said.

"We are absolutely looking for more suspects but they would not necessarily be linked to Bonin and Butts."

Officials in six counties have had the Freeway Killer murders under investigation for eight years. The pattern has been similar: the victims were all young men whose bodies were found near freeways or on-off ramps.

Most were drugged, some strangled, some sexually assaulted. But investigators don't know if the crimes were committed by the same killer or if there is more than one culprit.

Fake Deposit Box Used In Bank Ripoff

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Over $13,000 in cash and checks intended for the night depository of a local bank disappeared over the weekend after an enterprising thief tricked patrons into dropping deposits in a stolen mail box, police said.

An out-of-order sign appeared on the night deposit slot of the Gulfway National Bank drive-in facility sometime Saturday afternoon, investigators said.

Several bank patrons told police the sign said the depository was out of order and deposits should be placed in an adjacent white box.

Unfortunately, the box was a repainted mail box that was swiped sometime ago from a city street, investigators said.

The mail box, laden with $13,022 in cash and checks, vanished sometime Saturday night, police said.

The theft was discovered when several customers came to the bank with deposits they had been reluctant to place in the mailbox, according to bank president Robert Steel.

Steel denied the loss total, but he refused to say how much it was.

"I don't think it would be in the best interests of our customers to disclose the amount taken," Steel said, adding that the FBI has been notified of the theft.

Wrong Man Fares Better

BARTOW, Fla. (AP)—Jeffrey Streeter's second day in court went much better than the first. This time he went home.

Two weeks ago, Streeter thought he was doing a stranger a favor when he agreed to stand in for a man charged in an assault case. He never dreamed he would be convicted. But he was.

Polk County Judge Edward Threadgill reversed that conviction Monday, saying the wrong man had been found guilty in the July 15 trial.

"I sat there thinking what if I had to go back to jail," said Streeter, who could have been sentenced to up to a year in jail. "I was nervous. Some words they were using I couldn't understand. It was making me scared because I didn't know what they were saying."

"I didn't relax until the judge told me I could go home," Streeter's attorney Warren Dawson spotted him in a hallway outside the courtroom and asked him to sit in for defendant Lee Marvin Anderson. Dawson didn't tell the judge about his spur-of-the-moment switch, an idea he concocted to prove that witnesses couldn't identify Anderson. Three eyewitnesses then proceeded to identify 19-year-old Streeter as the person who beat up an old man in a parking lot on April 17.

Before delivering his verdict in the non-jury trial, Judge Threadgill was told of the substitution, but he said he had no alternative but to find Streeter guilty based on the evidence.

Dear Abby

Mother's Love Vs. Baby's Welfare

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I just turned 15. I had a baby girl in May of this year. The baby's father is 16. He said he would marry me, but I wasn't ready to get married at the time, and I'm still not. He is in no position to be a husband and father either.

I had plans to put the baby up for adoption, but I changed my mind. The baby is under temporary foster care now, and there will be a court hearing in September, so I have until then to make up my mind.

My parents want nothing to do with this baby. They think I should adopt it out. I really want to keep her, but the people at the welfare department are giving me a hard time. They don't think I'm capable of taking on so much responsibility at my age.

They may be right, but I think I would like to try. Please tell me what to do.

ALL TORN UP

DEAR TORN: You need much more help than I can give you in this column. Expert counseling is available to you without cost from your local Planned Parenthood Chapter, Family Service Association or mental health clinic. Please call one of these facilities (they are listed in your directory) and tell them Abby suggested you call.

You have already shown mature judgment by refusing a hasty marriage and considering adoption for the child.

You need to sort out your thoughts, plan for your future and then decide what will be best for a) the baby and b) yourself. I have confidence in your ability to make the right decision. Good luck and God bless. And please let me hear from you again. I care.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, and I frequently travel with other widows. When we go into a restaurant, the waitress will invariably ask, "One check, or two?"

Abby, women rarely pay for each other's meals, and it gets to be quite embarrassing at times.

Please inform waitresses that when two women dine together, she should make out separate checks. If one woman has planned on paying for the other, she can pick up both checks. Most women pay their own way when traveling.

SEPARATE CHECKS

DEAR SEPARATE: Thanks for the "tip," which I shall pass on to the waiters and waitresses of the world.

DEAR ABBY: I am a shoplifter. I started out as a teenager taking small, inexpensive items, and I always got away with it. I kept telling myself it would be the last time, but I just couldn't stop. I prayed to God to help me stop, and I thought I had because I didn't take anything for over a year. Then it happened again. I just had to take something! As I was walking out of the store, I was stopped and caught with something marked $1.99. But I ended up paying a $60 fine plus the hurt to my family, myself and mostly to God.

I have promised God and myself that I will never again steal as much as one bobby pin, and I think now I can keep that promise.

This letter is for everyone who thinks it is not so bad to shoplift an item or two. Never start! It can get to be a bad habit or a game, and it's hard to stop. Please correct my mistakes in spelling, Abby, but print this. It may help someone. Thank you. Sign me

SHOPLIFTER

DEAR SHOPLIFTER: You have paid the price, so drop the label. There is a lot of good in one who wants to help others through her own unfortunate experiences. Thanks for writing, and God bless.

Getting married? Whether you want a formal church wedding or a simple, "do-your-own-thing" ceremony, get Abby's new booklet. Send $1 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped (28 cents) envelope to: Abby's Wedding Booklet, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Theft Of Beer

Deputy sheriffs are investigating the theft of two kegs of beer from Doug Hill.

Taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital was Ira Lee Norred of Snyder. A hospital spokesman said this morning Ms. Norred was admitted to the hospital for observation.

Jimmy Hoffa Vanished Five Years Ago Today

By PETE YOST
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP)—Five years ago today, Jimmy Hoffa vanished after leaving a suburban Detroit restaurant, and thus began one of the FBI's most famous unsolved cases.

And while the government's strategy to snare the presumed killers of the former Teamsters boss hasn't worked, authorities haven't changed their theory on who is behind Hoffa's disappearance.

They believe he was the target in a contract murder arranged by organized crime bosses to protect what federal investigators say are long-standing business arrangements with the Teamsters.

"We're no more hopeful now than we were two years ago," says O. Franklin Lowie, head of the Detroit FBI office. "We're no more pessimistic either. The case is open but unsolved. We're still working on it."

Among the government's efforts to solve the highly publicized case was a barrage of criminal prosecutions in the hope of persuading a suspect to trade testimony for a light sentence and protective custody.

Four reputed underworld figures and their associates were convicted of a dozen crimes, but the FBI has been unable to implicate them in the disappearance of Hoffa, who at the time of his disappearance was planning a campaign to oust Frank Fitzsimmons as president of the nation's largest labor union.

Provenzano, 63, wanted Hoffa out of the way and reputed northeastern Pennsylvania crime boss Russell Bufalino, 76, approved a killing.

Reputed Detroit underworld figure Anthony Giacalone and his brother Vito, federal agents believe, lured their friend Hoffa to the restaurant on the pretext of settling an old feud between Hoffa and Provenzano.

Provenzano, Bufalino, and the Giacalone brothers are all serving jail terms, convicted of charges unrelated to the Hoffa case.

3 Left Dead

After Shooting

SOUTH PARDRE ISLAND, Texas (AP)—Police Chief Art Garcia said three persons are dead following what he described as a double shooting-suicide.

Garcia said Efano Gonzales, 24, fired a shotgun at his wife, Kristy, 24, and at Donald Hoelscher, 21 of Pharr after arriving at the couple's rented home and finding the pair together Tuesday.

Gonzales then turned the shotgun on himself, Garcia said, killing himself with a blast in the head.

Garcia said the Gonzales pair had been estranged a few weeks. Gonzales apparently returned home to pick up something and was angered to find Hoelscher there, Garcia said.

Hoffa was last seen getting in a car with several men outside the Machus Red Fox Restaurant in Bloomfield Township. FBI agents believe former New Jersey Teamsters boss Anthony Mark Twain was born when Halley's Comet was in the sky, and he died during its next visit 75 years later.

Heat, blower harm hair

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I need your advice on whether our teen-age boys are harming their hair or scalps through the continuous use of water and hair dryers. Every morning they dunk their heads under the shower, then they apply the dryers at full speed and heat for several minutes. Their mother doesn't want them to go outside with wet heads, particularly in the winter. The boys want to look neat. I'm concerned as to whether this unnatural routine could disturb more natural conditions.

DEAR READER — Wind, and hence the blower of the hair dryer, and heat both tend to damage the hair shaft. Enough natural oil in the hair will help to protect it.

You need to know that the hair shaft is really inert material, just like the tips of the fingernails. In a sense, it's dead tissue. Nevertheless, if a person wants it to look nice they have to be careful not to dry it out any more than you would want to dry out a piece of wood that you wanted to keep looking nice. And you don't want it to break or lose other natural elastic qualities inherent to the hair fiber.

The living part of hair is the hair follicle itself — the root. What goes on in the follicle affects the type of new shaft that is grown. That's why certain types of hormones actually formed by the hair follicle itself will cause some people to lose hair and results in baldness.

The follicle can be damaged or even killed. Repeated applications of sufficient heat to the hair follicle itself can damage it causing temporary hair loss; some people claim that it can even kill it. That's the basis really for one method of removal of unwanted hair such as over the lip in women.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 12-6, Hair Care, to give you more information about hair growth and what determines such factors as baldness. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Three of the main things which damage the hair are: bleaches, hair styles that pull on the hair and hence its follicle and heat. In addition, other important factors are related to hair health which include nutrition and even operations.

One other point. Your boys could use a hair conditioner, which will help to protect the hair shaft from physical damage from the hair dryer.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I enjoy a beverage of milk and 7-Up. I fill the glass 60 percent full with milk and then add 7-Up to the top. My mother thinks this mixture destroys the nutritional benefit of milk. Does it? Am I doing any harm to my system by drinking this mixture?

DEAR READER — No, the mixture will not destroy the nutrition that's in the milk. I might remind you that basically an ice cream soda is a mixture of flavored soda waters and ice cream, which isn't all that different. Also keep in mind that even though you may consume a large variety of different foods, they're all mixed together in the stomach without interfering with their nutritive value. So I don't believe you're harming your system any by using such a mixture.

Runnerup Unsure She'd Take Title

FORT WORTH (AP)—The runnerup in the Miss Texas pageant says she is not sure she would accept the title if her sponsors are successful in their suit seeking to dethrone the winner.

"Who would support a Miss Texas who won it through a lawsuit anyway," first runnerup Bobbie Lynn Candler asked reporters outside the courtroom Tuesday.

Miss Dallas Scholarship Inc., who sponsored Miss Candler as the 1980 Miss Dallas entry in the pageant, filed the suit claiming that the winner, Terri Eoff overshot the two minute 50 second time limit on the talent competition and should be disqualified.

A drama coach from Texas Wesleyan College testified Tuesday that Miss Eoff's "superb" dramatic presentation, which ran four minutes and 44 seconds, probably would not have been as impressive if it had been cut in half.

Four of the five judges who gave the crown to Miss Eoff on July 12 testified Tuesday afternoon that contestants' talent presentation are timed during rehearsals and preliminary competitions.

But they said there is no time keeper for the ten finalists' performances during the last night of the pageant and no attention is paid to the length of each performance.

Joe Sanders, a veteran pageant judge from Greenville, N.C., said he had never heard of a contestant being disqualified for violating the time limit rule in his 20 years as a judge.

Sanders was the first witness called by attorneys for Miss Texas Scholarship Pageant Inc., the group fighting to keep Miss Eoff's title.

In Worst Quarter Ever...

Ford Posts Loss Of $468 Million

DETROIT (AP)—In its worst quarter ever, Ford Motor Co. lost $468 million and pushed losses by the nation's four biggest automakers to $1.5 billion for the period from March through June.

The loss, almost triple Ford's first-quarter deficit, came to $3.89 per common share, the No. 2 automaker said Tuesday. Ford blamed plummeting car and truck sales, "weaker economic conditions" and higher sales of imports for the deficit.

No. 1 General Motors Corp. last week reported a loss of $412 million — $791 million before tax credits and American Motors Corp. said it lost $85 million.

Chrysler Corp., which has not reported to its stockholders, has told the Federal Reserve it lost $555 million in the second quarter, the industry low-water mark so far. Volkswagen of America reports, only to its German parent company but is believed to be marginally profitable.

Without tax breaks, the collective setback to the four battered U.S.-owned carmakers would have been $2 billion for the quarter.

The largest quarterly loss in American corporate history was $561.7 million reported by U.S. Steel Corp. in the fourth quarter last year. Ford said it would have lost $564 million for the quarter except for tax credits. Last year, it earned $520 million or $4.28 per share.

In this year's second quarter, after taxes, Ford lost $735 million in the United States and made $267 million in foreign countries. That brought Ford's U.S. loss to $1.2 billion for the first half of the year. Offset by foreign profits of $576 million, its total loss was $632 million or $5.25 per share. In the first half of 1979, Ford made $373 million in the United States and $734 million elsewhere for total profits of $1.1 billion or $9.25 per share.

Ford's U.S. retail car sales fell 37 percent in the quarter and its market share declined from 19 percent to 16.5 percent.

Ford's parts, service and financing operations are still profitable, along with other businesses such as glass, electronics and space satellites. Second-quarter revenue was off 22 percent to $9.27 billion while sales of vehicles at wholesale fell 34 percent to $1.12 billion. First-half revenue fell 23 percent to $18.9 billion while vehicle shipments fell 33 percent.

Chairman Philip Cal-

well and President Donald E. Peterson said the deficit "primarily reflected lower volume in North America and Europe resulting from weaker economic conditions and higher sales of imported vehicles from Japan."

Proximire Boos Chrysler Loans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William Proximire, D-Wis., charged today that the Chrysler Loan Guarantee Board is taking "a substantial risk of throwing good money after bad" in approving a second federal guarantee for the struggling automaker. In a speech prepared for delivery in the Senate, Proximire said the board is expected to approve up to $300 million in federally guaranteed funds for Chrysler.

3 Escapees Captured, 1 Found Dead

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Police lobbed tear gas canisters into a lake-front house early today and captured three condemned killers who had walked out of Georgia's maximum security prison. The fourth escapee was found dead, floating in a river in the next county. FBI Agent Cecil Moses said the dead man, found in the Catawba River in Gaston County, had been identified as Troy Leon Gregg, 32, of York, S.C. He said the cause of death had not been established.

Gregg's home is only a few miles from the river site where his body was found by swimmers at about the same time officers were arriving at the house on Lake Wylie.

The capture of the three other escapees came after officials issued a nationwide alert for the prisoners, who were described as "extremely dangerous" men with "nothing to lose."

Mecklenburg County Police Capt. Edward Brooks said the three men captured were taken into custody without "strong resistance" and were being held for Georgia authorities.

One escapee was armed, but there was no gunfire. There were signs that the fourth inmate had been at the house, Brooks said.

The four fled from the Georgia State Prison at Reidsville on Monday after sawing through the bars of their cells and more bars on a fourth-floor window. Wearing pajamas altered to resemble uniforms, the escapees passed at least two guards before they hopped into a parked car and drove off.

After escaping, the inmates called a reporter who notified prison officials, but authorities refused for several hours to believe him.

Two guards at the maximum security prison were relieved of their duties Tuesday pending an investigation of the escape, said warden Charles Montgomery.

Police declined to say how they learned the escapees were at the house on Lake Wylie, south of Charlotte.

"We did receive information where these individuals were. The officers went down, and for a number of hours, tried talking to these individuals...but they got no response," Brooks said.

At 1:20 a.m., police used tear gas and the escapees gave up.

Those arrested were Timothy W. McCorquodale, 27, of Alma, Ga.; David A. Jarrell, 25, of Greensboro, N.C.; and Johnnie L. Johnson, 26, of Logan, Utah.

Gregg had four death sentences in the deaths and robbery of two men who had given him a ride, and he was the focus of a U.S. Supreme Court ruling upholding Georgia's death penalty law.

McCorquodale was convicted of murder in the 1974 torture slaying of Donna Marie Dixon, 17, of Newport News, Va.

Johnson, who once escaped from another jail, was convicted of murder in the 1974 abduction and slaying of Suzanne Elaine Edensfield of Savannah, Ga.

Jarrell was convicted of kidnapping and murder in the 1973 abduction and slaying of Mala Still of Lawrenceville, Ga.

Woman Makes Selling Cans Full Time Thing

By JAMES R. KING
Associated Press Writer
EL PASO (AP)—Before 1971, Mildred Smith tossed empty cans into the garbage without thinking about them, like most Americans.

Now, the sight of a discarded can arouses her, dismays her, excites her and troubles her. She picks up bags of the cans at deposit points around town, hauls them to metal dealers for cash and donates the profits to community projects.

Last year Mrs. Smith, 58, known locally as the "Tin Can Lady," hauled more than 20 tons of cans.

"I have to do this," she said. "I'm called to do this. I received a call from the Holy Spirit when I went to a seminar on the environment in 1971. I'd never hauled tin cans before. Now, it's all I do."

Today, her efforts to make recycling of garbage the law of the land in this West Texas city are closer than ever to reality. Mayor Tom Westfall and the City Council have turned to the citizens to ask them if they are willing to make drastic changes in their garbage habits and support Mrs. Smith's proposed ordinance.

It calls for residents to separate their garbage and put metal cans in one sack, paper in another and all other refuse in a third bag.

So far, the results on the citizens' feelings are inconclusive. A family that tried it for a week as an experiment said it wasn't difficult, but there wasn't room for three garbage sacks in the kitchen.

Public hearings were held this week on the plan, and Westfall has used radio announcements to make a public appeal for opinions.

Westfall is against the plan, saying it smacks of "totalitarianism" and the government should not get that involved in a person's personal garbage habits. Alderman Orlando Fonseca says the plan would burden the poor, who would have to buy more garbage sacks, and could attract aliens.

"We're real close to the border. If we start separating our garbage we could have ambitious scavengers come from across the bridge in the early morning hours to pick up the cans and paper before the sanitation department could get there," he said.

Mrs. Smith said scavengers wouldn't take enough to make a difference and as for the burden on poor people - "If a person is that poor would you tell me how he generates so much waste?"

"During the war they saved cans - not because there was a shortage at the time, but because they needed them to make tanks, planes and guns. I say tanks, planes and guns during the war - why not washing machines, stoves and ice boxes afterward?" said the Tin Can Lady, who is also a registered nurse.

Besides saving money and conserving resources, "we could get such a closeness feeling in this community," said Mrs. Smith.

"In my own neighborhood we went door to door with flyers asking people to save their cans and paper and in one month they placed on the curb $960 worth. Half went to the zoo and half went to the YMCA," she said.

"El Paso has had this laid back style of life for so long, but we are throwing out about $100,000 a week." She said her proposal would put $3 million a year back into the city's budget.

"Take an aluminum can. It's already had all the impurities removed. You can reuse it and reuse it and reuse it until the end of time," she said.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's National School Lunch Program provided 4.4 billion meals in 1979.

NBC Comes Out Of Ratings Cellar

LOS ANGELES (AP)—NBC, after months in the ratings cellar, raced past CBS and ABC to win the television rating battle last week with the help of a couple of reruns, according to the A.C. Nielsen Co. CBS, which was the most-watched network for nine of the past 11 weeks, was swept into third place in the week ending July 27. NBC had a rating of 13.6, while ABC had 13.4 and CBS had 12.8.

CBS still dominated the Top 10, and that network's "60 Minutes" news magazine was the most popular show of the week.

NBC had three shows in the Top 10, including two parts of a rerun of the miniseries "The Awakening Land" and the first half of a rerun of "Airport 77." The second half will appear in this week's ratings report.

NBC, despite its win, had most of the shows at the bottom of ratings. "The Rockford Files," which was canceled several months ago, brought up the rear.

The ratings are based on the percentage of the homes in the country with television that watched a particular show. Nielsen says that a rating of 21.2, for example, means that percentage was tuned to at least part of a program.

A network's weekly rating is a percentage of the TV-equipped homes tuned to a particular network in a average prime-time minute during the week.

Here are the week's 10 highest-rated shows:

- "60 Minutes," with a rating of 20.4 representing 15.5 million homes, CBS;
- "Airport 77," Part I, 20.1 or 15.3 million, NBC;
- "The Jeffersons," 19.7 or 15.03 million, CBS;
- "Dallas," 19.1 or 14.5 million, CBS;
- "Alice," 18.3 or 13.9 million, CBS;
- "The Awakening Land," Part III, 17.8 or 13.5 million, NBC;
- "Three's Company," 17.5 or 13.3 million, ABC;
- "Dukes of Hazzard," 17.4 or 13.2 million, CBS;
- "The Awakening Land," Part II, 17.3 or 13.1 million, NBC;
- "Hart to Hart," 16.9 or 12.8 million, ABC.

- The next 10:
- "Taxi," 16.7, ABC;
- "20/20," 16.7, ABC;
- "Vegas," 16.5, ABC;
- "The Little Girl Down the Lane," 16.3, ABC;
- "One Day at a Time," 15.9, CBS;
- "Love Boat," 15.8, ABC;

"MASH," 15.7, CBS; "Charlie's Angels," 15.7, ABC; "Barney Miller," 15.5, ABC; "CHiPs," 14.9, NBC.

Here are the five lowest-rated shows: "Good Time Harry," 8.0, NBC; "Bad News Bears," 8.0, CBS; "Here's Boomer," 7.8, NBC; "Me and Maxx," 7.4, NBC; "Galactica 1980," 7.2, ABC; "The Rockford Files," 6.7, NBC.

Strange Tales From Pens Of Freshmen

FARGO, N.D. (AP)—Entering freshmen at North Dakota State University were asked to write an essay on one of their favorite places, in 150 words or less, as a way of judging verbal skills.

Administrators culled these one-liners from the essays:

- "My favorite place is the lake, but we have lots of insects."
- "My favorite place is Vail, Colo., but the air is too thin for chasing girls."
- "When one goes to the river with a girlfriend, it is an all day affair."
- "I am able to watch the baby ducks take a bath and do a lot of thinking."
- "My home is like a machine gun and a shelter belt. I shoot out of it like a bullet but can always retreat to it for protection."

Americans living in Europe named London as one of the three cities they would like best as an overseas home. The other two favorites were Geneva and Zurich. The several hundred families which took part in the survey based their choice on weather, food, cultural amenities and working conditions.

o'clock contest.

Winner of the noon game Thursday will meet the Snyder-Eastland winner in the finals at 6 p.m. A second game, if necessary, would be held at 9 Thursday.

The Oilers were dealt a blow here yesterday when x-rays determined that pitcher-infielder Curtis Gafford - taken out of Monday's game with a leg injury - had suffered a broken leg. In addition to being an all-around athlete, Gafford was a .659 hitter through Junior Teenage League play, and boasted a 7-1 pitching record.

Snyder came up with only five hits last night, but enjoyed a dozen Colorado City errors and 10 walks. And though it didn't need to be, the Oilers' pitching performance was almost stunning. Winning hurler Brent Roemisch combined with reliever Charles Bollinger for a no-hitter, and allowed only a handful of baserunners - all on by walks.

Snyder jumped out to a 4-0 lead as Bollinger reached on error, Roemisch slapped a single and Barry Davis drew a base on balls that loaded the bases. Colorado City pitcher Gomez then walked David Gee to score one, and a mishandled bunt hit by Darryl Boone scored three more.

The remainder of the game became almost a comedy of errors for the Oilers, who scored on attempted pickoffs, wild throws and a sacrifice or two. Gee scored in the third when, after reaching third on an error, he was caught in a rundown. Gomez and catcher Rees missed connections on the would-be out however, and Gee crossed home safely. Later in the inning, Tim Derryberry hit a sacrifice bunt which scored Boone.

Every Snyder player except second-sacker Johnny Overton scored. Overton couldn't complain, however. He had gone four-for-five at the plate in Monday's 10-3 win over Haskell, and scored three runs.

Colorado City scored in the fifth inning, after Roemisch handed pitching duties to Davis temporarily. Davis walked the only two batters he faced and Oiler assistant coach Mitch Mackey promptly brought in Bollinger to replace him.

Bollinger retired the side on three straight outs, but not before runner Backwell took advantage of a miscued pickoff attempt at third and went skittering home.

In picking up the win, Roemisch gave up no runs and no hits in four innings. He walked three and fanned six. Bollinger, who finished the game, had two runs score while he was atop the hill, gave up no hits, walked three and struck out five batters.

Losing pitcher Gomez, on the hill for four innings, gave up eight runs on three hits, had seven walks - and hit one other batter - and fanned five Garcia, pitching in relief.

Rally Ends Just One Run Short

ARLINGTON (AP)—At the crack of Pat Putnam's bat in the ninth inning Tuesday night, Baltimore center fielder Al Bumbry thought the Texas pinch hitter had just hit a two-run homer to tie the game.

"I thought it was gone, but the more I ran, the more I thought I had a chance. I think if I had taken one more step, I'd have been on the right foot to jump," Bumbry said.

Putnam's shot hit near the top of the fence, just over Bumbry's glove, for a double, driving in the Rangers' third run of the inning, but reliever Tippy Martinez came on to retire pinch hitter Richie Zisk and preserve a 4-3 victory for starter Scott McGregor, 11-5.

McGregor had a shutout and a seven-hitter after eight innings, but Buddy Bell singled in the ninth and, with two out, Rusty Staub doubled to left field, scoring Bell, and Billy Sample singled Staub home.

Soviets Shoot For A Bronze

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union's last hope for a spot in the gold medal men's basketball game ended when Yugoslavia, 5-0, beat Brazil 96-95 in the last game of the semifinal round on the 11th day of the Summer Olympics.

Astros Can't Hang On, Fall To Phillies, 9-6

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—With a bullpen trio sharing 24 saves and a 1.90 earned run average, the Houston Astros aren't used to being caught from behind.

But Philadelphia's bullpen held Houston to two runs in 6 and one-third innings of relief as Bake McBride went 5-for-5 with three RBI, rookie Lonnie Smith stole three bases and Mike Schmidt cracked his 27th home run to give the Phillies a 9-6 comeback victory Tuesday.

"I thought we had enough, but we didn't," said Houston's Art Howe, who drove in three Astro runs with his fifth home run of the year, a single and a sacrifice fly.

"A play here and there and we'd still be out there playing," added Howe.

Houston reliever Bert Roberge, making only his fourth appearance because of the Astros' bullpen abundance, was sailing along with a 6-3 lead when Smith, McBride and Schmidt combined to tie it in the seventh.

Frank LaCorte, one of the Astro's three dominating relievers with nine saves and a 1.59 earned run average, got Houston out of the inning without further damage, but then gave up three runs in the eighth for his third loss against seven wins.

"He (LaCorte) hasn't had that happen real often," said Houston manager Bill Virdon.

Kevin Saucier, 5-3, got the win in relief, keeping the Astros from scoring in the eighth after Alan Ashby reached third with only one out.
