Billy Denies He Had Possession Of Cables

WASHINGTON (AP)—Billy Carter, contradicting an account by a Justice Department official, today denied that he had copies of any State Department cables or that his brother, the president, has ever given him any documents relating to Libya.

"I have State Department copies of nothing," he said in an Associated interview in Americus, Ga. "Jimmy has not shown me anything." President Carter acknowledged through a spokesman Wednesday that he and Billy discussed the State Department cables, but that he did not recall showing the documents to Billy.

Joel Lisker, head of the Justice Department's foreign agents registration section, told the AP Wednesday that Billy told him in an interview last Jan. 16 that the president had given him cables concerning the trips.

Lisker also said Billy lied to him about receiving money from the Libyan government.

Asked about Lisker's allegations today, the president's brother responded: "Lisker is full of s---."

Lisker said that during the interview at Billy Carter's Buena Vista, Ga., home, the president's brother saw cables in Lisker's briefcase and said, "Oh, I've got those."

Lisker said he asked Billy Carter who gave them to him and that the president's brother responded: "Jimmy."

Beyond any legal questions, the cables development raises new doubts about the president's self-described arm's-length role in his brother's Libyan connection.

Lisker said the government has no plans to prosecute Billy Carter for lying about when he first got money from Libya.

President Carter's acknowledgment late Wednesday that he discussed the cables with his brother had not been included in a statement issued last week by the White House purporting to describe all its involvement in the affair.

Lisker said that during the interview at Billy Carter's Buena Vista, Ga., home last January, the president's brother saw cables in Lisker's briefcase and said, "Oh, I've got those."

Received No Notification

TEMPLE (AP)—Gov. Bill Clements says the state has received no official notification that the Carter administration is going to "attack the way we have been handling higher education" in Texas.

Education Department officials in Washington said they have drafted a letter to Clements, notifying him of the state's violation of a law that prohibits the use of federal funds for programs that discriminate on basis of race.

An Education department spokesman said the letter will notify Clements that the state will be required to submit plans to desegregate state universities, colleges and junior colleges.

Iran Executes 11 More

By The Associated Press

Iran's revolutionary regime executed 11 more men at dawn today for taking part in the big military plot to overthrow Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, Tehran Radio announced. Two other executions for other crimes also were announced.

This brought to 36 the number of alleged plotters executed since the conspiracy was disclosed three weeks ago.

Prize-Winning Art Going On Exhibit

Prize winning paintings from the 31st annual Texas Watercolor Society show will go on display in the Scurry County Museum at Western Texas College on Friday.

The paintings are touring the state in the Society's circuit show, and are to remain in the local museum through Aug. 25. The exhibit will be shown in Lubbock from Oct. 1-25 and in Wichita Falls from

Nov. 1-25.

Paintings by Thomas A. Pressly, Jr., of San Antonio and Judy Richardson Gard of Houston were selected to share the Best of Show Award this year. Both are included in the 27 paintings which make up the traveling show.

The Scurry County Museum is open each weekday and from 1-5 on Sunday afternoons. There is no admission charge.

July Earns Hot Place In History

July makes its exit today, and it appears destined to become a month that will be cited by future historians as one of the hottest ever.

The official thermometer readings logged this morning show a high Wednesday of 99 degrees, with an overnight low of 68 and a reading at 7 a.m. today of 72 degrees. The high and low figures are a little low for the month.

The average high reading this month is 99.6 degrees and the average low was 69.5. Thus, Snyder had an average daily temperature range of slightly more than 30 degrees, which undoubtedly helped keep the July heat from bringing even more discomfort than it did.

Rainfall for the month was slight, with a total of only .41 inch recorded in the official gauge. There have been 15 days in July with high temperature readings of 100 degrees or higher. Today's readings are the last to go into the official records for this month, since the daily recordings are made at the city water plant at 7 a.m. each day. Tomorrow's 7 a.m. reading will become part of the August records.

Q—Why does the telephone company allow people to come in from out of town and solicit by phone?

A—Phone company representatives say they cannot control who is called, or when calls are made from a telephone. If a person has access to a telephone, he can call any number he desires. However, persons who do not wish to receive calls from anyone except persons of their own choosing may get an unpublished number.

Rural Readers

Get TV Book Earlier Now

You asked for it... Rural subscribers of the Snyder Daily News who receive their newspaper via mail will now have the Weekly TV News delivered with the Friday paper.

The decision is a result of several requests made by rural readers, according to Publisher Roy McQueen. Mail subscribers receive their weekend paper on Monday, and the TV listings start on Sunday.

McQueen said this will enable those on rural mail routes to have access to the TV listings for the full week. All other customers will receive the TV News with the weekend edition.

Snyder Chamber of Commerce Directors were winding down their 1½-day membership campaign at noon today after adding 41 to the organization's roll.

The drive began Wednesday morning and was scheduled to continue until a reports session at 11:30 a.m. today. A few more contacts will be made, especially to some prospective members who could not be reached and others who expressed interest but have not yet signed on as chamber members.

The drive was conducted by the 12-member chamber board in efforts to boost participation in the organization's work and to increase its resources. The new members will add some $3,084 to the chamber's budget.

Signing for business memberships since Wednesday's report were Ann Lee, Janie Gibson, manager; Dennis Printing, Bob Dennis, owner; State Farm Insurance, Joe Laroux, agent; Noble Industrial Engineering Service, Johnny Noble, owner; the Sweet Shop, Jerry Hatfield, owner; Snyder Glass and Mirror, Roy Bailey, president; Sewell Cash Food, Morris Sewell, owner; Tommy Mills, attorney; Diamond M Museum, Terry Gilbreth, director; AAA Exterminators, Bill Valentine, owner; Denney's Catering, Woody and Becky Taylor, owners. Hostages Held By Autoworker

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—A veteran autoworker held 17 hostages at gunpoint this morning at the Fisher Body plant before releasing them and surrendering without firing a shot 5½ hours later.

The gunman was identified by the General Motors

Corp. division as Franklin Rainey, 47, of nearby Troy, a glazier with 26 years on the job. He was persuaded to give up by William Waterman, a Pontiac attorney who knew him, according to Fisher Body spokesman Ron Actis. Rainey was driven to police headquarters.

Deadline For Renewal Of AJRA Boxes

Purchasers of box seats for last year's American Junior Rodeo Association National Finals who wish to reserve the same boxes again this year should notify the chamber of commerce by Aug. 5.

Seats in boxes sell for $5 each per performance. These are the only reserved seats for the AJRA National Finals, which will begin here Aug. 11.

Requests for box seats have been coming in recently and those who had them last year are being given an opportunity to reserve the same facilities if they desire. However, renewals must be made by Tuesday. After that date, they will be made available to the general public.

Police Cadet Gregory Scott, a spokesman, said the man had been armed with a .357-caliber Magum revolver.

The lieutenant said he believed Rainey had talked with a union official, possibly about a mix-up in supplemental unemployment benefits paid to laid-off autoworkers.

"Apparently he had a problem with his layoff or SUB pay but we understand he's received all that was due to him," Scott said.

The hostages in the paint shop office of the General Motors Corp plant included two foremen, GM said. Actis said the paint shop superintendent carried messages from the gunman to and from police outside, who were kept out of sight.

Eight to 10 officers were on hand, Scott said.

The SDN Column

"Why do you guys from the media get suspicious and refuse to cooperate when someone demonstrates against a harmful product, or a procedure that endangers society?" the young man asked.

It seemed to be an opportune time to unload, but we tried to make our point as courteously as possible.

To begin, all the "guys" (and even some gals) don't get suspicious and refuse to cooperate, regardless of the merits of the protest. Especially those on television. A good protest seldom fails to catch their interest.

But some of us have come to the conclusion that if we stand pat long enough, attitudes will change, interest will shift and protesters may even reverse themselves.

We are among those who have seen the days when putting water or ice on a burn was strictly taboo; when adding lead to gasoline was helping everybody because it cleaned that old dirty carbon out of the engine and stopped knocks in the motor; when x-ray machines were used extensively in the better shoe stores to assure a good fit; when DDT was believed to be one of man's best friends; when it was inadvisable to drink a lot of water while indulging in physical exertion during hot weather, but salt tablets were the answer to dehydration; when a mother was not allowed out of bed for a week after giving birth to a child, and on and on and on.

Thus we have learned that what calls for a crusade today may be the object of a protest tomorrow. Now, they say drink plenty of water, but leave off the salt tablets in hot weather; leaded gasoline is a menace to health; x-rays should be used only by professionals and even then very sparingly; slapping a piece of ice on a burned finger will bring quickest relief from the initial pain; and now mothers go home with their newborn children within a day or two after giving birth.

And, we heard the other day that some of the powers that be are beginning to look into the possibility of permitting limited use of DDT under certain circumstances.

So, it's a fast-changing world, but if you hang around long enough, you'll encounter a lot of familiar "new" causes.

in best of families

Queen Elizabeth has her Margaret Rose and President Carter has his Billy. Which suggests, the Founding Fathers to the contrary, that a republican form of government may not be all that superior to a monarchy after all. It is clearly no guarantee against matters that might best remain private within a family becoming public controversies, providing a member of the family happens to be at the top of the public heap.

Margaret, it will be recalled, has been receiving critical attention of late from some of her sister's loyal subjects in press and Parliament as a consequence of her willful, royal precedent-shattering lifestyle.

Some years back, when the princess was considered something of a looker and pretty hot stuff for one of her station in life, her romances and marriage for love to a commoner tended to titillate more than scandalize the public in Britain and beyond the seas.

But as she eases into plump middle age, there is less interest in her abroad and less tolerance at home of her affairs, such as divorce and a penchant for youthful boyfriends. Some MPs, on the principle that a loose woman is a loose woman no matter what her family connections, would express public disapproval by cutting her off from the public purse.

No one, however, suggests that the princess's peccadilloes are in any way a menace to the nation. They are private indiscretions that are of public interest only because committed by a personage of exalted rank.

The behavior of the younger brother on this side of the Atlantic - demonstrations of beer-drinking prowess, TV appearances in costume, that sort of thing - has never had quite the jet-set panache displayed by the younger sister over there. But neither could not be described as menacing - except to most standards of taste.

Until, that is, the revelation of Billy Carter's business relationship with the Libyan government. Here there would appear to be the clear possibility of a trafficking in influence to the detriment of the national interest.

"And so now we have Congress cranking up a probe of the impact upon national policy and well-being of what some quarters are hopefully viewing as a potential Watergate in reverse. The affair is, in fact, already being dubbed "Billygate."

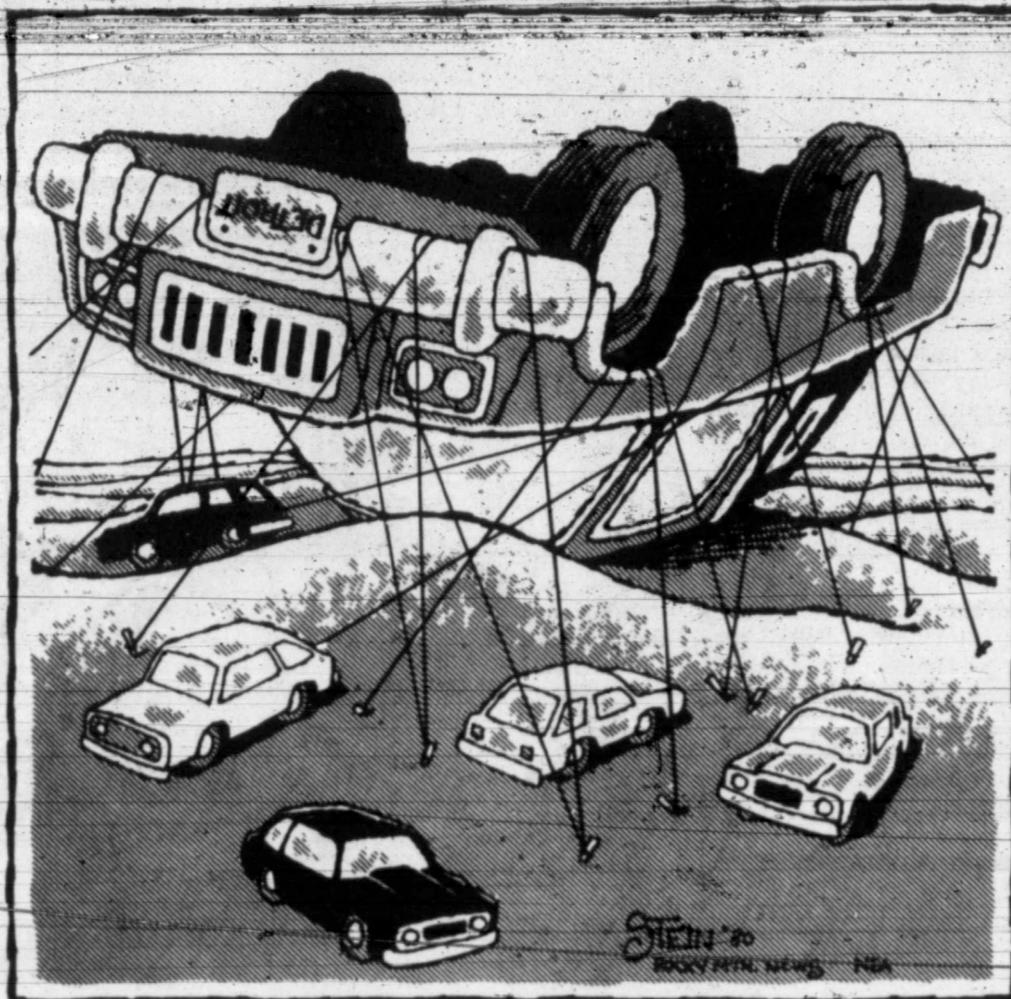

(If nothing else, the public could have good cause for being cross with Billy for inflicting all this upon it again. That presidential candidate who first takes a stand against ever again applying the suffix "gate" to issues of major or minor public controversy might well find himself a sure winner. Are you listening, John Anderson?)

The inquiry is scheduled to end a month before the presidential election, which may or may not be a good thing. It is a politically loaded situation that could distract attention from a serious debate of the issues in the campaign. On the other hand, considering how those issues have fared to date, that could be a definite plus.

In any event, the comparison with Watergate would appear to be an exercise in overreach. Even should bad come to worst for Billy Carter and he be found to have been not only on the foreign take but attempting to exert undue influence on the United States government through his relationship to the fellow in the Oval Office, he would appear to be in no danger of going to jail. Even less of dragging along any cabinet members.

The inquiry may answer some questions, but it is also certain to leave several open. Such as, for the Libyans, the mystery of exactly what they got for their $220,000. And for Americans, the matter of what's to be done about Billy Carter.

Maybe a trade could be arranged for Margaret. We could use some panache these days.

enlightened selfishness

Our church bulletin announced last Sunday that our church - a smallish one by area standards with congregation about 400 - is adopting a refugee family and is expecting everybody to kick in.

I guess the deacons got together and decided that we should "expand our outreach," that we should demonstrate our love for our fellow man in some tangible and conspicuous way.

It used to be that our churches sent missionaries and medicine and food to the world's needy - where they were.

Now, however, with a continuing influx of refugees, legal and otherwise, into the United States there is a race between Catholic and evangelical Protestant churches to welcome them in and sign them up.

I do not expect 100 percent agreement between my church administrators and myself. And I am aware of the scriptural admonition to share with our neighbors.

But it seems to me that we have focused our generosity on our most distant relatives - at the expense of the neighbors who live right next door.

Joseph Wheeler is deputy director of the Agency for International Development - in other words, a top foreign aid official.

He says, "Our planet is increasingly threatened by nuclear proliferation, environmental degradation, depletion of natural resources, skyrocketing population, widespread malnutrition, international terrorism, high unemployment, inflation, political instability..."

Furthermore, he says, "All these threats are centered in the Third World and they must be dealt with there."

Amen.

And it will serve neither them nor us if we overwhelm our own country with their populations and their problems.

The most constructive of our foreign aid efforts have been in the areas of agricultural development and population control.

Yet the Congress, perpetuating $8 billion worth of foreign aid this next year, earmarks much of it for military weapons which - history says - frequently backfire.

Meanwhile, Washington has been largely looking the other way while our own nation is being invaded.

President Carter made much to-do about his synthetic fuels program which is intended to provide by 1992 enough additional energy for 11 million people.

That will be barely enough for the 11-million immigrants expected between now and then; none whatever for our own homegrown population increase.

Isn't our first responsibility to absorb our own unemployed, stabilize our own economy, balance our own energy supply, discipline our own society, un-mortgage our own babies?

I'm aware there is a lot of unhappiness elsewhere in the world but problems are not solved by people who run from them.

Unproductive legions have already bankrupted our cities; they can bankrupt our country.

(c) 1980, Los Angeles Times Syndicate

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The recent attempt by the House of Representatives to tie amendments to the Agricultural Appropriations legislation, which would in effect lift the Russian grain embargo and critically tie the President's hands in dealing with foreign relations, was a case of trying to send the wrong message to the wrong people at the wrong time.

I voted against amendments which would have weakened our present position simply because this attempt was a cruel hoax on American grain farmers. I chose not to be a part of a political charade which would not have put one single dollar into the farmer's pockets and would have set our country up for the world's ridicule.

The amendments would have prevented any appropriated funds from being used to carry out or enforce any restriction on the export of any agricultural commodity - a dangerous precedent for our national security. But, my objections centered around the lack of any real action which would have had a positive monetary effect on our agricultural economy and would have given the world headlines which told of Congress scuttling our foreign policy at the very moment that our boycott of the Moscow Olympics was evident. Such conflicting messages tell the world that we are an indecisive and unreliable world leader and ally. We cannot afford that image.

I, too, have raised serious questions about the propriety of a partial embargo that singles out one economic group while seemingly ignoring the continuing exports of technical equipment to the Soviet Union. I have said repeatedly that we either show our opposition to the Russian invasion of Afghanistan by bringing to force every economic weapon possible or we do not threaten our agricultural markets for no gain.

History, as recently as 1973-74, has shown us the economic dangers to be faced by using our agricultural embargo powers. Embargos during those years triggered not by an act of aggression by a foreign power, but by economic instability at home, cost us dearly in terms of lost agricultural markets. American soybean producers are still facing stiff competition by the Brazilian markets opened up during the Nixon-Ford Administrations. But, I would have to go even further back in our history, to the events leading up to World War II, to point out what happens when acts of aggression, similar to those in Afghanistan, were undertaken by the Germans and Japanese and left unchecked and unprotected by this country.

We cannot stand idly by when we have effective economic weapons at our disposal. Neither can we afford to force our President, endowed by the Constitution with the responsibility of directing foreign affairs, to represent us abroad with an empty gun.

capital comment

by robert j. wagman

DETROIT (NEA) - There is probably no U.S. city more in touch with today's economic realities than Detroit. Local unemployment is pushing 15 percent, and minority unemployment is closer to 50 percent.

Yet, it was in Detroit that the Republicans chose to unveil an election strategy that would more properly have been unveiled at Fantasyland in Walt Disney's Magic Kingdom.

Throughout the recent Republican National Convention, certain buzz words cropped up in the vocabularies of party strategists when discussing the fall campaign. Their two favorite expressions seemed to be "broadening the base" and "reaching out to the center."

The meaning of those phrases is obvious. For a minority party to win a two- or even three-candidate election, it must appeal to more than its own members. For Republicans, who are more than ever a party of the right, this means attracting independents and Democrats.

So how did four days of prime-time exposure on all three networks further this extension of Republican appeal? If the American electorate was listening carefully, probably not very well.

As the Republicans were meeting here, the news came out of Washington that the federal budget deficit for the current fiscal year may well approach $60 billion due to the worsening economy. Against the background of this depressing disclosure, consider the campaign promises of presidential nominee Ronald Reagan.

Reagan promised to implement a Kemp-Roth style tax cut immediately upon his election. He would slash taxes by 10 percent in the first year with additional reductions phased in until overall taxes are 30 percent lower than they are today. He pointed out that these cuts should result in a massive spurt in the economy so that federal receipts would increase despite lower tax rates.

"Every major tax cut of this century... ended up yielding new revenues for the government," said Reagan in his acceptance speech. But even the most enthusiastic supporter of Kemp-Roth admits there would be a time lag between the initial loss of federal revenues and the later gain brought about by the tax cuts. The best estimate is that a 10 percent reduction would cost the federal government about $30 billion in revenue the first year.

Coupled with the tax cut proposal is Reagan's promise to add at least $10 billion in real dollars to the defense budget - plus a few billion more to raise military salaries. Cutting taxes and increasing military spending would thus cost the U.S. Treasury more than $40 billion a year.

Now consider what was perhaps Reagan's most emphatic promise: a balanced budget in his first year in office. How could Reagan accomplish this if he intends to subtract another $40 billion from a budget that is likely to already be badly in the red?

The only answer is by massive slashing somewhere in the budget. If that somewhere is not defense, it will have to be domestic social programs in such fields as health, housing, education and fiscal assistance that cities depend upon for their survival. In other words, the cuts would come in programs that most directly touch the lives of the very voters that party planners talk about "broadening the base" to capture.

To win in November, Reagan clearly must extend his following beyond the true believers like those cheering delegates who gathered here in Detroit. But careful examination of the party's platform and the candidate's promises causes one to wonder if Reagan will be able to convince enough Americans to vote against what may well be their own self-interest, at least in the short term.

Germany announced the start of unrestricted submarine warfare against the Allied powers in 1917 during World War I. This meant that any ship would be sunk without warning - whether the vessel was armed or not, belligerent or neutral.

my turn

Even now, at the age of 27, I approach a visit to the dentist with trepidation. I am almost as afraid of dentists now as I was when I was 7.

My phobia, however, is confined only to dentists. I have no fear of optometrists, family doctors do not frighten me, and I will positively laugh in the face of a nurse. Heck, I like the sight of needles so much I will even give blood from time to time.

But mention a trip to the dentist and my knees quake and all the old fears return. It was like that last week when I went back to the dentist after an absence of nearly two years.

First off, the dentist takes an evil-looking stainless steel probe and starts probing and poking about the mouth, looking for some plaque. He knows nooks, crannies, and crevices in the teeth that are physically impossible to be reached by a toothbrush, so it is not surprising that he finds a little plaque.

Then begin the "uummmms...aahhhhs." It is when the dentist says "ahhh-ha" that you know he has found a juicy cavity somewhere. The little stainless steel probe flashes and when the dentist says, "Tell me if this hurts," you know you're in trouble.

You, meanwhile, are staring at the ceiling and clawing with your fingernails the padded arms of the chair. You want to jump up and run away, and you would, too, were not the dentist's hands in your mouth.

The dentist, however, has abandoned the probe in favor of the drill. That, I think, is the part I dislike the most. The drill's shrill, piping noise annoys me. It is the noise of the drill that awakens the old fears in me.

Your mouth, however, has been deadened with painkillers, and for really big jobs the dentist will use gas on you. That soothes things a bit, but the noise of the drill drones on.

When it is finally over, you resolve never to eat anything sweet or junky again. Then, the next day, when you catch yourself chewing on a large wad of bubblegum you realize you can only repent, not reform.

To The Daily News: The Snyder Board of Directors of the United Girls Softball Association voted to have the West Texas State Tournament here this year for two main reasons, one being to bring money into Snyder, and the other being to help support the league. We feel we well accomplished both.

I am one of many concerned citizens who would like to know why Snyder cannot have two fields for the girls. There is over two hundred girls in the program and more joining each year, so the girls need two fields.

I would like for whoever has the final vote of yes or no to remember we helped Snyder and we would like for you to help our girls.

GS Day Camp Registration Due Friday

Towle Park will be the site for this summer's Girl Scout Day Camp, under the direction of Mrs. Zola Schlegel, assisted by Mrs. Judy Barkowsky. Registrations are due by Aug. 2, according to Mrs. Peggy Vernon, camp registrar. The camping program is set up where girls from different schools camp together, divided by age levels, and plan their own activities. Special planned activities for the campers include campcraft, hikes, nature study, singing, dramatics, kite flying, swimming and much more. One day will be spent at Ennis Creek by each unit. The fee for the camp is $6 per scout and $7 for non-scouts, which covers the insurance, supplies, one meal and a patch. Besides Girl Scouts, interested girls may attend if they are to be in the first grade this September. The camp hours will be from 3 to 8 p.m.

A Belgian revolt against Dutch control began in 1830. It was stimulated by a July revolution in Paris, class warfare and discontentment with Dutch King William I. Belgium and Holland had been united in 1814 as a buffer state against France, but traditions, religions and interests split the new state. In 1828, the king had applied press censorship and intervened in the naming of bishops, causing further discontent.

It is important in these cases to know how long to hold back the master card. South plunks his ace of clubs on East's queen, leads the jack of diamonds and plays dummy's queen after West follows with the deuce.

The unthinking East will win immediately and lead his five of clubs in the hope that his partner led from a suit headed by the king and declarer will be home free with overtricks. The thinking East will see that there is no need to take his ace right away. East has both major suits stopped and one diamond trick just won't be enough to give South his contract. So he ducks. Now the king of diamonds is played from dummy. In the ordinary bridge game East really puts on his thinking cap. Should he duck again? In a high-level game East has no problem. West has played his lowest diamond to show an odd number. With an even number he would have started an echo by playing high on the first diamond lead. Expert East takes his ace and declarer, having lost his entry to dummy, gets only eight tricks.

Fashion Focus

When classes begin, the classics come out in full force. Nothing suits the back-to-school crowd better than the tried and true looks of classic plaid skirts teamed with turtle-neck sweaters...stream-line slacks in gray flannel or khaki...short jackets for a casual stroll through the quad...short-waisted sweaters to set off a youthful waistline. No need to be a student to pull off the preppy look this fall! Mixing and matching basics with whimsical touch is all it takes. Comfortable corduroy blazers, pants and dresses start off the look, while fun-loving berets, neckties, argyle socks and crisp oxford cloth shirts complete it. Fun for the college student, the young career woman, or the young-at-heart.

Dear Abby

Bad-Neighbor Policy Needs Cancelling

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1980 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: We are a couple in our mid-50s who have lived in this home for 25 years. Last fall the house next door was sold to a couple in their mid-20s. This spring, my husband, who is quiet and shy, tried to be friendly with the young man, with very little luck.

Last Sunday, the young couple went away for about three hours, leaving their dog tied up in their backyard. The dog barked constantly, which was very annoying.

When they returned, my husband asked them (nicely) if they would mind not leaving their dog outside again while they were gone because it barked constantly. The young man became very angry and said he'd appreciate it if we didn't cut our grass on Sunday morning, because it annoyed him! My husband just shook his head and walked away.

A few minutes later, the neighbor opened his car doors and turned the car radio up to full volume. We had an ear-splitting rock concert for 40 minutes! Then the neighbors on the other side asked them to turn the volume down. Some loud dialogue was exchanged and the young couple stormed into their house.

We are all afraid that they will start playing kids' tricks with loud radios or noisy, late parties around the pool. We don't want to be forced to keep our windows closed the rest of the summer. We have always been friendly with our neighbors until now—What shall we do?

TOO OLD FOR KIDS' GAMES

DEAR TOO OLD: It seems you are off to a bad start with your new neighbors, but it doesn't have to go from bad to worse. Abort this mutual bad-neighbor policy by clearing the air with them. ("If my lawn mower bothered you on Sunday mornings, you should have said so instead of burying your anger and letting it fester.")

We all need the good will of our neighbors—particularly in these scary times, so make the first move to bury the hatchet.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old girl who knows more about motors than any boy my age. I was brought up next door to my uncle's garage, and I have always been good at taking things apart and putting them back together.

I never liked to dress up in dresses. I am much happier in jeans. I think girls who giggle over boys are silly, and I don't care anything about boys who are silly over girls, either. Lots of people take me for a boy, but it doesn't bug me a bit. I take it as a compliment.

I don't know why I wrote this letter. Maybe I just wanted to tell somebody that here is one 16-year-old girl who never had a boyfriend and doesn't need one. Is there something wrong with me?

HAPPY

DEAR HAPPY: Not if you're really happy.

DEAR ABBY: The government keeps crying about the high cost of Social Security. The solution is so obvious I am surprised nobody has picked up on it.

Simply do not pay Social Security to people who are rich and do not need the money. Billions of dollars could be saved and nobody would be hurt.

SCOTTY IN CLAREMONT, N.H.

DEAR SCOTTY: Social Security is an earned right, not a gift based on need. Those who have worked long enough under Social Security are entitled to monthly benefits when they are eligible regardless of whether they are rich or poor. The government is paying back the money that workers have put into the system over the years. If the rich folks want to give it away, that's their business, but they should not be denied what is rightfully theirs.

2 Accused Of Selling Turtle Meat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two men have been indicted for allegedly selling sea turtle meat in violation of the Endangered Species Act, the Justice Department announced Tuesday.

The charges involved the alleged sale in 1978 of eight tons of Pacific Ridley turtle, a turtle found off the west coast of Mexico and one of the animals protected by the Endangered Species Act, according to Justice Department spokesman John Russell. Indicted by the grand jury in Brownsville, Texas, according to Russell, were Pat Leroy Pace of Brownsville, and his company, the Pace Fish Co., and Ben Soloff, a fish dealer in Philadelphia. According to the indictment, Russell said, Pace allegedly sold the meat to Soloff. The indictment alleges that it was falsely labeled as fish fillets.

The pair were charged with violating the Endangered Species Act and various customs laws, he said. Penalties for conviction of violating the Endangered Species Act include a maximum of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

The British fleet under Lord Nelson annihilated the Franco-Spanish fleet in 1805 at the Battle of Trafalgar. Nelson was killed during the battle but his victory assured the British command of the seas for decades to come.

Braniff Sells 15 Airplanes

DALLAS (AP)—Financially troubled Braniff Airways announced the recent sale of 15 jets to American Airlines in a move to offset losses which have forced the firm to cancel routes and cut back on personnel.

The Dallas-based airline reported a second-quarter loss of $47.6 million Wednesday, and said the sale of the 727-200 jets was part of a "...continuing aircraft acquisition and disposition policy..."

"We've already taken delivery this year on several new 727-200s," said a Braniff spokesman.

The spokesman said the new 727-200s had "many different variations" but would not go into detail about how the new fleet differed from the planes sold to American.

Spokesmen for Braniff and American declined to comment on the purchase price of the 727 fleet, but said sales of surplus used aircraft came to "more than $180 million."

Braniff officials said capital gains from the sales "more than offset the second-quarter loss."

The airline executives blamed the recession for eating away at profits and creating the loss, down from last year's second-quarter profit of $8.84 million.

The second-quarter loss brings total Braniff's total net loss for the first six months of 1980 to $69.65 million, down from net earnings of $16.9 million in 1979.

"We got some airplanes for our fleet for a favorable price to us," said American spokesman David C. Fratley. "Some outsiders might say we are taking advantage of Braniff's financial woes but we wouldn't say that."

Mixed Drink Tax Rebates Distributed

The sales of mixed drinks resulted in tax rebates of $2,491.03 to Scurry County and $2,167.31 to the City of Snyder for the second quarter of 1980, State Comptroller Bob Bullock has announced.

The state collects a gross receipts tax of 10 percent on mixed drinks sold by private clubs here and the city and county each gets 15 percent of this tax under the law that legalized mixed drink sales. The tax is collected by the Alcoholic Beverage Commission and the city-county rebates are sent out quarterly by the comptroller's office.

Second quarter mixed drink rebates for other counties and cities in the area include Howard County, $3,656.87, and Big Spring, $2,644.08; Nolan County, $2,758.60, and Sweetwater, $1,620.89; Mitchell County, $327.02, and Colorado City, $249.42; Fisher County, $86.61, and Rotan, $86.61; Dawson County, $359.26.

More than 800,000 tourists visited China in 1979, 30 percent more than in 1978, according to the China Travel and Tourism Administrative Bureau.

Says Louisiana Department Of Culture...

Sunken Ship May Hold Much More Treasure

BERWICK, La. (AP)—Vast treasures may still be lodged aboard a sunken 18th-century cargo ship that has already been tapped by a salvage team for 40 pounds of gold and priceless Aztec artifacts, state officials say.

"Man, they haven't even touched it yet," said Steve Perry, assistant secretary of the Louisiana Department of Culture, Recreation and Tourism.

The ship was found buried in mud and silt in a murky section of the Gulf of Mexico off the Louisiana coast. Water there is 15 to 18 feet deep, but the visibility is only eight inches.

Salvagers led by Stephen Smith of Cameron have been exploring the sunken ship and on Wednesday, Smith, Perry and Gov. Dave Treen held a news conference to announce the find.

Besides the gold, which is worth about $350,000 on today's market, divers recovered 30 pounds of silver and five tons of copper.

Treen called it "the most exciting archeological find in Louisiana and maybe one of the most significant in the Gulf region."

Among artifacts pulled up so far have been cured turtle shells for European hair combs, rouge used for 18th century make-up, parts of figures and other ceramic Aztec wares, leather hides, olive jars, several nine-foot cannons, a 10-foot anchor and copper artifacts.

A state archeologist said the ship appeared to be Spanish, but authorities have no idea of its name, its route, why it sank or even when it went down.

Custis Blume, a shrimper from Port Bolivar, Texas, found the wreck about 1½ miles off Cameron Parish in western Louisiana when his nets pulled up copper ingots. He contacted Smith.

Smith said the wreckage is scattered over an area 200 feet by 120 feet and is broken up into several large pieces buried beneath mud and silt.

"It's not a hull just sitting there where you can go inside it," Smith said. He said he didn't know he had found gold until he got back on deck of his shrimp boat with what he had picked up in the dark water.

Under an agreement with Blume and the salvagers, the state will get 25 percent of the find. The company formed by Blume and Smith, Free Enterprise Salvage, will get the rest but will have to pay for recovering the treasure.

"It could be a very expensive proposition, maybe a losing one," Treen said. "We don't know."

The state will control how the excavation is handled and what happens to the artifacts.

Treen praised the finders for contacting the state.

"There is a natural tendency of the finder to grab it, and in the process to destroy its archeological value," he said.

Your Birthday

August 1, 1980

This coming year you may be subjected to some changes that are not of your choice. Don't let them disturb you. They will work out to your ultimate benefit.

J.G.O. (July 23-Aug. 22) Others are entitled to their views today, the same as you are. If you begin to pick their opinions apart, be prepared for a counterattack. Romance, travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph, which begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Whether doing business on a large or small scale today, be a bit more cautious than usual. Make sure you fully understand what the other guy has to offer.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Normally you enjoy doing things with partners, but today could be an exception. Be sure your goals are in harmony before teaming up with another.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) A good attitude is extremely important today workwise. If you view your tasks distastefully, the end results will be beneath your standards.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Don't gamble on people or situations you know little about. A poor choice in either area could cause regrets.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Pressure from others could cause you to yield and do something against your better judgment today. Take a firm position on what you believe to be right.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Without meaning to do so, you could make unreasonable demands upon coworkers today. Don't ask another for what you wouldn't do yourself.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Manage your resources with wisdom today and, before taking on any new obligations, ask yourself if you can truly afford them. The answer may be "no."

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Persons you deal with on a one-to-one basis will be a trifle more difficult than usual today. Don't compound problems by calling attention to their failings.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be helpful today, but don't take on more responsibilities than you can handle. If you get overloaded it won't be good for anyone.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Some of your friends may not be as generous as you are today, and you could find that quite disturbing. You know who the freeloaders might be. Try to avoid them.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Before frustrating yourself today in order to fulfill an ambition, be certain it's what you truly want. You may be on the wrong track.

Bullock Wins Fight To Lock Report

The Snyder (Tex.) Daily News, Thu., July 31, 1980 7

AUSTIN (AP)—State Comptroller Bob Bullock has won his fight to keep under lock and key a grand jury report saying he thwarted a 1978 investigation.

Judge Ruel Walker ruled the report must be removed from county records.

The report will not be destroyed, Walker said the pages must be removed from the grand jury minutes and placed in safekeeping. Walker said the report may be inspected only upon the order of a judge.

Walker ruled Tuesday, and his decision was received in Wednesday's mail by Bullock's lawyers, who had sought the order.

Walker, a retired Texas Supreme Court Justice to whom the case was assigned, said grand juries had no authority to issue reports such as the one criticizing Bullock.

Bullock's lawyers argued at an April 4 hearing that grand juries are limited by state law and the Texas Constitution to returning indictments and no bills in criminal cases.

The October term 1978 grand jury investigated various allegations made by Bullock's former publilist, Bill Collier, but returned no indictments.

However, the grand jury expressed "grave concern and frustration" that the Comptroller's office "has used its experience with the investigative process to thwart past and present attempts to search for the truth and to require openness and accountability."

"In my opinion, our Texas law does not authorize such a report by a grand jury," Walker said.

Unlike its individual members, a grand jury does not enjoy the constitutional protections of free speech, he said.

Bullock said the decision provides protection for any person "who is maliciously maligned by a grand jury for whatever reason - be it politically inspired, economically motivated or a simple personal vendetta."

"Never again can the secret proceedings of a grand jury be used to damage an innocent citizen who has no rights to defend himself behind the closed doors of the grand jury room," Bullock added in a statement.

The Russian Revolution began Oct. 25, 1917.

Anti-coagulants for blood

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

as he's had a couple of strokes. Everytime he even takes one he gets sick at his stomach. He has to take three a day. He got so sick he couldn't eat and lost 30 pounds. He weighs 150 pounds and is not fat.

Our doctor said it was the only thing that will thin his blood. We read or heard there were other things you could use.

DEAR READER — You read or heard right. Medicines have been used to decrease the clotting tendency of the blood for many decades now. Even the argument over whether they're useful is decades old.

Perhaps the most popular anti-clotting agent today is Coumadin. It does require carefully calibrating, as to how much each patient needs to induce the degree of blood thinning desired. Small doses may also be about as effective as the usual practice of using aspirin.

I've gone along with your term of "thinning" the blood. This term is used regularly by the public but it is really wrong. Medicines that prevent clotting or delay clotting do not thin the blood. The thickness of the blood depends upon how many solid elements it contains, mostly red blood cells. That is entirely different from the clotting mechanism. Thick blood, which contains lots of red blood cells, may not clot readily if you have taken aspirin or anti-clotting agents. These medicines are properly called anti-coagulants, meaning anti-clotting agents.

Some new studies suggest that the amount of aspirin that's needed to prevent recurrence of a stroke may be much smaller than has originally been thought. One study shows that as little as one-half of an ordinary aspirin tablet a day is sufficient. In fact, large amounts of aspirin may have exactly the opposite effect.

Aspirin is remarkably safe considering how frequently it's been used for so many different things. However, it's not totally innocuous. I'm sending you "The Health Letter" number 8-8. Aspirin and Related Medicines. It will also include the names of over-the-counter medications that people buy that actually contain aspirin. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

If your husband's current weight is 150 pounds and he lost 30, I'm not too unhappy about that. Perhaps that's the most important medical effect he could hope to have achieved. If he continues to take aspirin, he might find some other preparation more suitable. If the aspirin is ground into a powder and dissolved in a half a cup of milk, it's less likely to be irritating.

I'd like to add that individuals who have stomach disorders, such as acid indigestion or any tendency toward ulcers, should be careful about taking any of the medicines that prevent clotting of the blood and that includes aspirin. All of these may induce a serious hemorrhage in such patients. That's one of the reasons that we just can't recommend that everybody should take plain aspirin on their own to prevent heart attacks and strokes.

This Leak

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The proof was in the air, but no one was evacuated when a Louisville & Nashville tank car began leaking in Nashville's Radnor Yard.

Instead, a right happy crowd of spectators gathered as 200 gallons of Scotch whisky destined for a Frankfort distillery spilled onto the rocky ground. No one was overcome and nobody got a free sample.

Snyder Teens Eek Win; Reach Tourney Finals

CISCO—What was that old line about counting chickens before they hatch? Snyder's Oilers, behind 2-1 with two outs in the bottom of the seventh inning here, got clutch hitting from two players to squeak past Eastland 3-2 and take a third straight victory in Texas Junior Teenage League District Tournament play.

The Oilers, the only undefeated team left in this double-elimination tournament, are to take on an Eastland-Comanche victor at 6 this evening for the championship. A second title game, if necessary, will be held at 9.

In other results yesterday, Comanche dumped Colorado City 13-1 at 3, then returned in the evening to whip Baird, 8-6, and earn a spot against Eastland in today's 12 o'clock game.

Winner of the series will advance to the State Tournament which begins in Sweetwater next Monday.

Eastland's Blue Sox had every right to start figuring on a bright future last evening. With one-on and two out in the bottom of the seventh inning they were holding a 2-1 lead. One more out and they'd be in the tournament finals.

That's when the feathers started flying.

Snyder's Charles Bollinger began the de-feathering operation by slugging a line drive through the hole at second base. Gerald Don Hicks, who walked to lead off the inning, raced from first to home as the ball rolled all the way to the fence, and Bollinger checked in at third for a triple.

Bollinger's three-sacker insured an extra-inning ballgame at the least, but next-up batter Brent Roemisch didn't let it go that far. The Oiler pitcher took a 2-1 count, then slapped a shot which got past shortstop Brad Hobbs and sent Bollinger scurrying home with the winning run.

The contest, though clouded with several errors, was undoubtedly the best the tournament has witnessed since its start on Monday. Each pitcher—Roemisch for Snyder and Richard Ferrell for the Blue Sox—gave up only three hits apiece over the seven innings, and combined for a total of over 260 pitches thrown in the game.

Johnny Overton and Bollinger drew walks to lead off for Snyder in the first inning. A throwing error by catcher James Morton sent them to third and second, and a mishandled fly ball bopped by Roemisch scored Overton to give Snyder a 1-0 lead.

Ferrell retaliated by striking out the next three batters he faced. The Eastland hurler fanned 11 batters in the game and walked six.

A Snyder error led to a 1-1 tie in the second inning. Ferrell reached first on a miscalculation and Scotty Frazier followed with a single. Next up Jim Moylan was thrown out, but his effort advanced runners to third and second bases. Roemisch took care of the second out himself by fanning Chris Norris, but No. 9 hitter Anthony Flores reached on a throwing error which scored Ferrell.

Neither team scored again until the top of the sixth when Frazier walked, took second on an error, third on a steal and home on another error.

Ferrell gave up only one hit until the seventh inning. Bollinger rapped a single in the sixth and later was wild-pitched to second, but was left stranded. Snyder left six men on the basepaths for the game. Eastland, which also managed singles in the third and fifth innings to no avail, left eight men without a way home.

The win was Roemisch's second straight here, having pitched four innings of no-hit ball in Snyder's 14-2 win over Colorado City on Tuesday. He went the distance last evening, fanning seven batters and walking six, and is eligible to pitch only three more innings during the tournament.

Teenage rules allow a pitcher 14 innings during the tournament. Hicks, who beat Haskell 10-3 on Monday, has seven left, while Bollinger, who relieved Roemisch on Tuesday, can go 11.

Another top-Oiler pitcher, Curtis Gafford (7-1), suffered a broken ankle during Monday's game with Haskell.

Yugoslavs Grab Basketball Gold

MOSCOW (AP)—Yugoslavia became only the third country in Olympic history to win a gold medal in men's basketball, beating Italy 86-77 on the 12th day of the Summer Olympics.

The Soviet men, who won their only gold in 1972 on a controversial, last-second field goal by the late Aleksander Belov, settled for the bronze by beating Spain 117-41. The United States did not get an opportunity to add to its total of eight gold medals in this event due to a boycott of the Games.

The Soviet women's team won the gold medal in its division by beating Bulgaria 104-73.

Orioles Take Rangers On Controversial Call

ARLINGTON (AP)—Umpire Dale Ford says maybe Bump Wills did cross first base before the throw on a controversial double play that snuffed out a Texas Ranger rally in the sixth inning of Wednesday night's 3-2 loss to the Baltimore Orioles.

"But I didn't have the benefit of an instant replay like you did in the press box," Ford said later.

The Rangers already had one run in, for a 2-2 tie, and the bases loaded with Bump Wills at the plate with one out in the sixth. Jim Sundberg was at third, Jim Norris at second and Mickey Rivers on first.

Wills lined a shot to the right of Baltimore shortstop Kiko Garcia, who leaped and caught the ball, only to have it roll out of his glove when he hit the ground.

But the runners—and the other umpires—caught only the initial "out" sign from second base umpire Jim Evans, the crew chief for the four-man umpiring team, and Sundberg, Norris and Rivers ran back to their bags.

Garcia got up, threw to second baseman Rich Dauer for the easy out on Rivers, and Dauer relayed to Eddie Murray at first base, where Ford gave the "safe" sign on Rivers.

After Ford learned that Evans had changed his call, he ruled Wills out on the force, completing a double play that got Baltimore pitcher Jim Palmer, 10-8, out of the inning.

Television replays showed Wills and Rivers were already on first base when the throw from Dauer arrived.

"I didn't even see Wills. I thought he quit running.

'Rookies' Push Phillies Victory

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Most major league teams consider themselves extremely fortunate if they come up with one rookie in a season.

The Philadelphia Phillies struck it rich in 1980. They've come up with two—Lonnie Smith and Keith Moreland.

Moreland, who helped the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-4 triumph over the Houston Astros Wednesday night, was the team's No. 7 draft pick in the 1975 selection meeting. After just five profes-

Surgery Removes Clot From Richard's Neck

HOUSTON (AP)—Houston Astros pitcher J.R. Richard was listed in good condition early today after emergency surgery to remove a blood clot from his neck.

Richard, whose fast ball is among the fastest in the major leagues, collapsed during a workout Wednesday at the Astrodome and was rushed to Houston's Methodist Hospital.

"Richard was found to have a blocked artery in his neck. The surgery was successfully accomplished to remove the blockage and he was moved to the intensive care unit," a hospital spokesman said late Wednesday night.

The operation could have been a "life or death situation" for the Astros' million dollar pitcher, said a hospital spokesman who asked not to be identified. Dr. George Noon and Dr. Charles McCollum III finished operating about 11 p.m. Wednesday. Neither could be reached for comment after the operation.

The clot formed behind the right collarbone in the subclavian artery, the main artery for circulation to the upper arms. Richard had complained several weeks ago of fatigue in his right arm and was hospitalized last week while a team of physicians ran tests to identify the problem.

Dr. Harold Brelsford, the team physician, said recently that doctors diagnosed the ailment as a blockage of an artery in his right shoulder area. But he said the All-Star pitcher would "be able to resume throwing as tolerated."

Barber Returns; Looking Forward To Top Season

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Houston Oilers tight-end Mike Barber says the game he hates to play is over for now, and the game he loves is just beginning.

Barber, who has teamed with agent Larry Reubenstein in recent months, ended the "negotiation game" Wednesday by signing a three-year contract.

"It's a game and I hate it," the outspoken veteran said of the contract negotiating process. "That's the reason I was against the one year contract, because I didn't want to come back next season and do it all again."

Barber said, however, he was happy with his contract and eager to begin workouts.

"I wouldn't be here if I wasn't happy with my contract," he said.

"I had a miserable season last year and I wasn't going to go through that again."

Barber could be walking into a bonanza since he will be playing on the same team with quarterback Ken Stabler, a short and medium range expert who likes to throw to his tight ends.

Barber is often described as having all-pro potential and could get his chance with Stabler.

"It's a much better possibility than last season," said Barber, who caught 27 passes last year.

"The tight-end is in a position where he cannot do it all himself. He can block, but for receiving he has to have a quarterback who is looking for him," he said.

"I'll probably catch more passes this season than I did in four years with Dan Pastorini," he added.

Terms of Barber's contract were not announced.

TESCO VP Testifies... Customers Should Pay Now For Construction

By KEN HERMAN Associated Press Writer AUSTIN (AP)—Texas Electric Service Co. customers should pay for construction work now underway because the company's extensive building program has resulted in savings for consumers, according to a TESCO official.

William Taylor, TESCO vice president for engineering and power, testified Wednesday on the first day of a Public Utility Commission hearing on the company's $123 million rate increase request.

The request by TESCO, which serves 78 cities in North, West and Central Texas, would raise a $40 monthly residential bill to $50.

The PUC staff is pushing for a $69.4 million increase, while the cities served by TESCO want to limit it to $24 million.

"The purpose of our construction program has been to reduce our dependence on gas and oil," Taylor said. "We've been able to build generating units using Texas lignite coal, which is low cost and cheaper than gas and oil."

Taylor said the entire TESCO system was fueled by natural gas before 1971. Gas usage dropped to 54 percent in 1979, with lignite making up the difference. TESCO will begin using nuclear power when two plants being built at Comanche Peak are completed.

"All construction costs have risen in the last few years, but especially the costs of constructing power plants. These costs have increased substantially, primarily because of inflation and increased government regulation," he said in a pre-filed testimony.

TESCO estimates it will spend $254 million on construction in 1980, compared to $30 million about 10 years ago. A lignite unit built in 1972 cost $130 per kilowatt. A similar unit now under construction at Forest Grove will cost about $752 per kilowatt.

However, he said using lignite has kept the price of electricity "lower than it would have been had we not built the plants but bought market-priced gas instead."

"Our customers have realized a savings as a direct result of the construction of lignite plants," he said.

Snyder Teens Eek Win; Reach Tourney Finals

CISCO—What was that old line about counting chickens before they hatch? Snyder's Oilers, behind 2-1 with two outs in the bottom of the seventh inning here, got clutch hitting from two players to squeak past Eastland 3-2 and take a third straight victory in Texas Junior Teenage League District Tournament play.

The Oilers, the only undefeated team left in this double-elimination tournament, are to take on an Eastland-Comanche victor at 6 this evening for the championship. A second title game, if necessary, will be held at 9.

slapped a shot which got past shortstop Brad Hobbs and sent Bollinger scurrying home with the winning run.

The contest, though clouded with several errors, was undoubtedly the best the tournament has witnessed since its start on Monday. Each pitcher — Roemisch for Snyder and Richard Ferrell for the Blue Sox — gave up only three hits apiece over the seven innings, and combined for a total of over 260 pitches thrown in the game.

Johanny Overton and Bollinger drew walks to lead off for Snyder in the first inning. A throwing error by catcher James Morton sent them to third and second, and a mishandled fly ball batted by Roemisch scored Overton to give Snyder a 1-0 lead.

Ferrell retaliated by striking out the next three batters he faced. The Eastland hurler fanned 11 batters in the game and walked six.

A Snyder error led to a 1-1 tie in the second inning. Ferrell reached first on a miscue and Scotty Frazier followed with a single. Next up Jim Moylan was thrown out, but his effort advanced runners to third and second bases. Roemisch took care of the second out himself by fanning Chris Norris, but No. 9 hitter Anthony Flores reached on a throwing error which scored Ferrell.

Neither team scored again until the top of the sixth when Frazier walked, took second on an error, third on a steal and home on another error.

Ferrell gave up only one hit until the seventh inning. Bollinger rapped a single in the sixth and later was wild-pitched to second, but was left stranded. Snyder left six men on the basepaths for the game. Eastland, which also managed singles in the third and fifth innings to no avail, left eight men without a way home.

CHARLES BOLLINGER

BRENT ROEMISCH

In other results yesterday, Comanche dumped Colorado City 13-1 at 3, then returned in the evening to whip Baird, 8-6, and earn a spot against Eastland in today's 12 o'clock game.

Winner of the series will advance to the State Tournament which begins in Sweetwater next Monday.

Eastland's Blue Sox had every right to start figuring on a bright future last evening. With one on and two out in the bottom of the seventh inning they were holding a 2-1 lead. One more out and they'd be in the tournament finals.

team won the gold medal in its division by beating Bulgaria 104-73.

Orioles Take Rangers On Controversial Call

ARLINGTON (AP)—Umpire Dale Ford says maybe Bump Wills did cross first base before the throw on a controversial double play that snuffed out a Texas Ranger rally in the sixth inning of Wednesday night's 3-2 loss to the Baltimore Orioles.

"But I didn't have the benefit of an instant replay like you did in the press box," Ford said later.

The Rangers already had one run in, for a 2-2 tie, and the bases loaded with Bump Wills at the plate with one out in the sixth. Jim Sundberg was at third, Jim Norris at second and Mickey Rivers on first.

Wills lined a shot to the right of Baltimore shortstop Kiko Garcia, who leaped and caught the ball, only to have it roll out of his glove when he hit the ground.

But the runners — and the other umpires — caught only the initial "out" sign from second base umpire Jim Evans, the crew chief for the four-man umpiring team, and Sundberg, Norris and Rivers ran back to their bags.

Garcia got up, threw to second baseman Rich Dauer for the easy out on Rivers, and Dauer relayed to Eddie Murray at first base, where Ford gave the "safe" sign on Rivers.

After Ford learned that Evans had changed his call, he ruled Wills out on the force, completing a double play that got Baltimore pitcher Jim Palmer, 10-8, out of the inning.

Television replays showed Wills and Rivers were already on first base when the throw from Dauer arrived.

"I didn't even see Wills. I thought he quit running.

I don't even know if he got to first base," Ford said after the game.

"I never called Wills out because I didn't know what was going on out on the field. I was watching Rivers come back like everybody else."

"The call cost us the game," said irate Texas manager Pat Corrales, who was ejected after five minutes of contesting the ruling. "Al Oliver was 4-for-5 and the next time up (leading off the eighth), he got a base hit," Corrales added.

John Lowenstein got on base via an error in the first inning and by a single in the third and scored on doubles by Dan Graham and Murray, respectively, to give Baltimore an early 2-0 lead.

Wills hit his third career inside-the-park homer in the fifth.

An inning later, John Grubb singled to right field with one out, and Sundberg tied the game with a double to the right field corner. Palmer walked Norris and Rivers to set up the controversial double play.

Surgery Removes Clot From Richard's Neck

HOUSTON (AP)—Houston Astros pitcher J.R. Richard was listed in good condition early today after emergency surgery to remove a blood clot from his neck.

Richard, whose fast ball is among the fastest in the major leagues, collapsed during a workout Wednesday at the Astrodome and was rushed to Houston's Methodist Hospital.

"Richard was found to have a blocked artery in his neck. The surgery was successfully accomplished to remove the blockage and he was moved to the intensive care unit," a hospital spokesman said late Wednesday night.

The operation could have been a "life or death situation" for the Astros' million dollar pitcher, said a hospital spokesman who asked not to be identified.

Dr. George Noon and Dr. Charles McCollum III finished operating about 11 p.m. Wednesday. Neither could be reached for comment after the operation.

The clot formed behind the right collarbone in the subclavian artery, the main artery for circulation to the upper arms.

Richard had complained several weeks ago of a tigue in his right arm and was hospitalized last week while a team of physicians ran tests to identify the problem.

Dr. Harold Brelsford, the team physician, said recently that doctors diagnosed the ailment as a blockage of an artery in his right shoulder area. But he said the All-Star pitcher would "be able to resume throwing as tolerated."

Barber Returns; Looking Forward To Top Season

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Houston Oilers tight-end Mike Barber says the game he hates to play is over for now, and the game he loves is just beginning.

Barber, who has teamed with agent Larry Reubenstein in recent months, ended the "negotiation game" Wednesday by signing a three-year contract.

"It's a game and I hate it," the outspoken veteran said of the contract negotiating process. "That's the reason I was against the one year contract, because I didn't want to come back next season and do it all again."

Barber said, however, he was happy with his contract and eager to begin workouts.

"I wouldn't be here if I wasn't happy with my contract," he said.

"I had a miserable season last year and I wasn't going to go through that again."

Barber could be walking into a bonanza since he will be playing on the same team with quarterback Ken Stabler, a short and medium range expert who likes to throw to his tight ends.

Barber is often described as having all-potential and could get his chance with Stabler.

"It's a much better possibility than last season," said Barber, who caught 27 passes last year.

"The tight-end is in a position where he cannot do it all himself. He can block, but for receiving he has to have a quarterback who is looking for him," he said.

"I'll probably catch more passes this season than I did in four years with Dan Pastorini," he added.

Terms of Barber's contract were not announced.

'Rookies' Push Phillies Victory

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Most major league teams consider themselves extremely fortunate if they come up with one rookie in a season.

Philadelphians struck it rich in 1980. They've come up with two — Lonnie Smith and Keith Moreland.

Moreland, who helped the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-4 triumph over the Houston Astros Wednesday night, was the team's No. 7 draft pick in the 1975 selection meeting.

After just five professional seasons, the 26-year-old player has matured into a major league receiver. He is hitting .333, throwing out runners, handling pitchers like a veteran, and has given the Phillies a solid backup to veteran Bob Boone.

Smith is the young outfielder who is hitting .349, and has stolen 17 bases. He's filling the void left by the dismemberment of Greg Luzinski.

The Astros-Phillies contest was up for grabs in the fifth inning when Moreland lashed a bases loaded single.

The single scored two and sent the Phillies ahead 4-3 and on their way to the 6-4 victory over the National League West Division leading Astros.

Garry Maddox followed with another two-run single and the game was in the bag for the Phillies and Dick Ruthven, who earned his 10th triumph in 17 decisions.

Ruthven only went seven innings in the intense heat, but reliever Tug McGraw came on to stifle the Astros and was credited with his ninth save.

The Astros took a 2-0 lead in the fourth inning on a single by Craig Reynolds after a single, fielder's choice and two walks had loaded the bases on Ruthven.

The Phillies came right back and tied it in the bottom of the inning on Bake McBride's second single, a walk to Mike Schmidt and a single by Maddox and double by Manny Trillo.

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas Electric Service Co. customers should pay for construction work now underway because the company's extensive building program has resulted in savings for consumers, according to a TESCO official.

Blames Technical Errors...

Pentagon Admits Error On Mentality Of Recruits

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Pentagon says it has vastly underestimated the percentage of lower-mentality recruits accepted into military service. The Pentagon, in a report to Congress, said it now believes that 30 percent of 1979 recruits belong in the lowest of four mental categories - not 5 percent as previously stated officially. Defense officials blamed technical errors for the inflating of entrance test scores. While the Pentagon studies focused on 1979 recruits, officials indicated such problems probably have existed over at least four years. "We've been inflating the scores of youths coming into the military at least back to 1976 because of technical errors," said one specialist who asked to remain anonymous. It was in 1976 that the Pentagon put into effect a standard qualification test for all the armed services, which previously had used separate examinations. The defense manpower official denied that the 1976 tests were designed to "make the all-volunteer force look better than it is." They said that technical work was flawed in introducing those tests, and that it dawned on them earlier this year that there might be something wrong with the way the results have been evaluated. The Pentagon reported this to Congress last winter. After the problem surfaced, three separate studies were conducted by analytical and research groups. Their work was reviewed by what the Pentagon called "wise men" from several universities. "They indicated that the norms in use were inaccurate and had inflated the Armed Forces Qualification Test scores of individuals in the lower end of the test score range," the Pentagon report said in describing conclusions submitted by the "wise men" last month. Pentagon officials are particularly sensitive about the new findings because congressional critics have contended the all-volunteer force is suffering from poor quality in the ranks. Nonetheless, the Pentagon said it is analyzing the relationship between entrance test scores and job performance of Army enlistees with inflated scores.
