

Economy Records Nearly Worst Quarter Ever

By GLENN RITT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—
The nation's economy plunged at an annual rate of 9 percent from April through June, nearly the worst quarterly drop in history, the government said today.
The Commerce Department also reported that corporate profits fell precipitously during the second quarter, as the nation's economy felt the full force of the recession.

The 9 percent decline in inflation-adjusted Gross National Product — the total value of goods and services — was only slightly better than the 9.1 preliminary figure released last month.

The worst quarterly fall ever occurred during the depths of the last recession when GNP plummetted a record 9.1 percent.
A Commerce Department economist called

Tuesday's revision "insignificant."
Last month, when the preliminary figures were announced, the department's chief economist
Courtenay Slater said:
"The 1980 recession struck with full force during the second quarter, causing large declines in production and employment."

On Monday, the government reported that housing starts rose 4.8 percent to an annual rate of 1.266 million units in July. That follows a revised 33 percent jump in June.
Before then, housing starts had fallen to a 906,000 annual pace, just about half the rate for all of last year.

Despite the improvement, last month's pace was 28 percent below the annual rate in July 1979.
For the first seven months of 1980, starts are off 36 percent from the same period last year, the Commerce Department said.

Moreover, the housing recovery is "built on a filmy foundation," said Kenneth Thygeson, chief economist of the U.S.
League of Savings Associations.
Added Michael Sumi-chrest, chief economist of the National Association of Home Builders: "The upturn will be nipped in the bud if mortgage rates don't stop rising."

Those rates have jumped from as low as 11.5 percent to about 13.5 percent in some housing markets.
That means about $90
more a month on a $60,000.

Billy Failed To Heed Warnings On Libya

WASHINGTON (AP)—
Billy Carter's partner told Senate investigators that Billy obtained a $220,000

oil deal with Libya after being warned the Libyans might be trying to use them "to influence U.S.

The partner, Henry
"Randy" Coleman testified he and Billy disregarded the State Department warning because they considered their relations with the Libyans as "nothing political."

"It was just good old Southern hospitality," Coleman told a special Senate judiciary subcommittee.
Philip W. Tone, the subcommittee's special coun-

State Department warned the two in a letter Dec. 12, 1978, that Libyan officials were "establishing con-

the letter said.

and tried to set up the oil deal through Shahiti and other Libyan officials.
Coleman said he picked up the $220,000 in checks from the Libyan Embassy to the president's brother.

He said the $220,000 is part of a $500,000 loan and he said the rest is still coming to Carter later
so far as he knows.

Germans Like Casual America

By JOHN LONG Americans, to a trio of Germans traveling across the United States, are a friendly, open people who are easy-going.
Making that observation
were Bernhard Bedenk, Claus Martin Schmitt, and Horst Bauer. The young men, all members of the German Air Force, are German military representatives stationed in the Washington, D.C.-Virginia area. Schmitt is a lieutenant.
The men embarked on a trans-American trip July 31 that has taken them to Chicago, Rapid City, S.D., Yellowstone National Park, Wyo., Salt Lake City, San Francisco, Los Angeles, the Grand Canyon in Arizona, and New Orleans. Now on the last leg of their journey, they expect to return to the East Coast Saturday.

Bedenk, 22, observed what he called "the McDonald mentality" of the American people.
Americans are relaxed, friendly, and "take all things easy," he said, but in regard to food they want to eat quickly and be done with the process. Although there are fast-food restaurants in Germany, Bedenk said they cannot compare in number to the fast-food restaurants in this country.
To Schmitt, 21, "The people are so friendly. I really like the land here."

Germans, he noted, take things more seriously than Americans do. He said he likes the friendly, optimistic attitude that characterizes Americans.

WASHINGTON (AP)—After three years of argument and delay, the Senate voted overwhelmingly today for an Alaska wilderness bill so big it would double America's major conservation holdings.

No Ban On Sodium Nitrite

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government said today that based on "an extensive review" of scientific evidence there is no need to order a ban on sodium nitrite as a food additive on grounds it may cause cancer.
Nitrite, used as preservative in bacon, ham and many other meat and poultry products, was cited in a 1978 study by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as a possible cause of cancer, based on tests among 2,000 laboratory rats.
In a joint statement, the Food and Drug Administration and the Agriculture Department said the MIT study was reviewed by a group of independent pathologists who found "a much lower incidence" of lymph cancers among laboratory rats than was originally reported.

County's Budget For 1981 Okayed

Scurry County Commissioners Court formally approved a 1981 county budget Monday, calling for expenditures totalling $9,324,266. This includes over $4 million for hospital operating funds and it also provides for a 14 percent salary increase for county personnel.

Actually, anticipated expenditures are less than those for 1980, which had a total of $9,965,739. However, the hospital construction will not require as much the coming year, since the project is in the last stages of completion.
The new budget is based on $3,121,378.26 in ad valorem tax revenues. The tax rate cannot be set until the roll is certified. This will likely be in October after the formalities required by the new state tax code are fulfilled.
Valuations for the county are expected to total some $2.2 billion and informal estimates are that the tax rate will be slightly less than 15 cents per $100 in value. The past year's tax rate was 69.5 cents. The sharp decrease in rate will occur because taxes will be levied on 100 percent of market value this time. Previously, the county had based its levy on 25 percent of the true value.

C-C Board Meeting Set

Snyder Chamber of Commerce directors are scheduled to select a nominating committee and a banquet chairman at their meeting tonight.
The meeting is set for 7 p.m. in the chamber conference room.
Also on the agenda are appointment of a budget committee and reports on several activities, including a recent membership campaign, the American Junior Rodeo Association's National Finals, the manager's visitation work and motor freight service.

Calves Lost; Owners Of Stock Sought

Deputy sheriffs say they are looking for two calves that have been lost and for the owners of several head of livestock which have been found.
Lost, they reported, are two small black calves which wandered from a residence across the highway from Ezell-Key Feed Mill along Highway 84.
However, several head of livestock have been found at the Mack Kruse ranch about three miles northwest of Ira. There, reported deputy sheriffs, they have found a Brangus bull weighing about 1,000 pounds, a white-faced brindle bull weighing about 900 pounds, two white-faced Herefords weighing from 400 to 500 pounds each, and one black heifer weighing about 500 pounds.
Deputies ask that anyone knowing the whereabouts of the black calves that were lost or who the owners are of the cattle found at the Kruse ranch to please contact the sheriff's office.

An interesting, but somewhat dangerous, project is going on in Montana these days, and Ben Baze, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baze, is right in the middle of it.
It involves a study (at close hand) of grizzly bears, animals that can become as ferocious as you probably were taught when you were in grammar school.
Called "The Border Grizzly Project," the activity is being carried out by a group of interns and graduate students from the University of Montana, under the leadership of Dr. Charles Jonkel, director. It is a 10-year project, which began in 1975. Its objective is to compile data that will enable protective organizations to assure that the grizzly won't fade from the scene. He (the grizzly) already is designated as a "threatened species."
The "project" involves snaring grizzlies and then, after they are sedated, they are examined, measured and tagged. Mature animals get a collar that gives off radio signals.
G. George Ostrom, "Publisher, editor and janitor" of the Kalispell (Mont.) Weekly News, doesn't think much of the project.
"We Montanans do not make a habit of telling Floridians how to manage their alligators or New Yorkers how to control their subway muggers," he observes. However, he considers Dr. Jonkel an expert, whom he refers to among "professional bear people."
The power and the temperament of the Grizzly is encountered by the scientists on the project.
Roy Baze says that it would suit his parents just as well if Ben Baze worked on a project involving birds or small insects, but he is enthusiastic about the bear project.
Ostrom says, "I would like to see a gathering of all experts, from the old rangers to the young scientist, an amalgamation of practical and technical knowledge from which a workable policy would emerge. This is the only way to save Glacier Park for the grizzlies, the grizzlies for Glacier Park, and both the park and the grizzlies for the people."

Before baseball gives way to football, we want to report that a former Snyderite's son had a no-hit season in Little League up in Oklahoma this summer. That's right, a no-hit season.
The youngster, Brent Maroney, pitched 49 innings during the season without giving up a hit. He struck out 121 batters and his team finished with a 14-1 record, losing a game when he wasn't pitching, of course. Brent is the son of Ronnie Maroney, formerly of Snyder, and he did his pitching in the Guthrie, Okla., Little League. Now 12 years old, he told a newspaper reporter there that he doesn't think much about a future in baseball. "I just play one year at a time," he said. But a year at a time without any hits undoubtedly will attract some attention.

Bob Wagman

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The 15-page document has been arriving on the desks

of reporters all over town in recent weeks. It comes in a plain brown envelope with no return address. Postage is paid by stamp rather than postal machine. There is no signature or anything else to indicate its author or origin.

This mystery packet purports to give the low-down on "The Real John Anderson." It summarizes the independent presidential hopeful's House voting record on issues like the B-1 bomber, gun control, the Kemp-Roth tax cut and funding for the Vietnam War. It depicts Anderson as anti-labor, anti-consumer and pro-nuclear power.

The document also contains quotes by and about Anderson as well as reprints of newspaper stories and a bulletin from COPE (the AFL-CIO's political arm) that portrays Anderson as much more conservative than his current politics might indicate.

It turns out that the packet was prepared by the Democratic National Committee with the help from the White House and the Carter-Mondale Presidential Committee. Its distribution may well violate federal campaign laws, which prohibit the preparation and distribution of any election material for or against any candidate without clear identification of the source on the material itself.

DNC spokesman Robert Neuman admits that the committee prepared the packets but denies that it distributed them. He says the material was intended "not for public release" but as "an internal document" to be used in briefing campaign staffers and others friendly to President Carter's re-election. Neuman blames the document's wide circulation on over-zealous supporters of the president. "We have no control over Xerox machines," he explains.

However, a source in the Carter-Mondale campaign admits that the president's government appointees have been given hundreds of copies of the packet to distribute in their departments.

In addition, says this source, labor organizations friendly to the Carter-Mondale effort have received copies with instructions to duplicate and distribute them where they will do the most good. It is likely that one of these unions is the source of the mailings to reporters.

Neuman says the DNC has instructed all those who received the packets not to distribute them. He adds that an "edited version with identification as to source" is being prepared and will be available to the public.

But to many observers, "The Real John Anderson" is only the first salvo in what will undoubtedly be an increasingly vicious campaign.

Meanwhile, some serious disunity is reportedly surfacing in John Anderson's National Unity Campaign.

Rather than assembling his own campaign staff or his independent presidential bid, Anderson turned to David Garth, the New York-based political media whiz. Garth and his staff of about 40 are not only in charge of campaign media but are also running the entire effort down to the most minor decisions.

Those who have worked for Anderson since the early Republican primaries — including some veterans of his House staff — view the Garth professionals as having little or no allegiance to Anderson personally or to the principles they believe he stands for. Instead, they see them as hired guns who are approaching the effort as almost an academic exercise in whether an independent can wage a national political campaign.

On the other side, the Garth people are said to be treating the long-time Anderson staffers with the disdain that professionals often show for amateurs.

So far, these pressures have not reached the upper levels of the campaign. Neither have they hurt the overall effort, which is currently moving at a rather leisurely pace. But the growing animosity between the two groups could well spell trouble for Anderson when the race reaches its hectic stage this fall.

living with nukes

The Hiroshima bomb, exploded 35 years ago, was not the first man-made nuclear explosion but it was the first that intentionally took human lives.

And it did not take as many lives as were taken by conventional weapons in the firebombing of Dresden earlier in 1945.

At first, not even the people of Hiroshima knew that an atomic bomb had been used against them. They knew only that the explosion had been extremely powerful and that the fireball had been extremely hot.

President Truman announced the next day that "the force from which the sun draws its power" had been loosed. Only then did Americans learn of the nature of the new weapon.

And, in Hiroshima, a strange sickness began to be noticed among the bomb victims. It was not recognized as radiation sickness. But the Japanese people realized that they had been hit with no ordinary explosive.

The Hiroshima bomb, "Little Boy," as the scientists called it, was as primitive as David's slingshot, compared to the mighty thermonuclear warheads of today.

The horror and fascination that greeted the A-bomb's first appearance on the world scene were fully justified by later developments. Its potential for world destruction has been rapidly exploited by the design and manufacture of huge missiles to carry H-bomb warheads halfway around the world in half an hour. Once launched, the missiles cannot be called back, diverted or intercepted. After such a barrage, a radioactive cloud would carry deadly fallout, circling the earth.

We live in troubled times. But there is no human problem equal in importance to the problem symbolized by the mushroom cloud that rose over Hiroshima on Aug. 6, 1945.

The atomic bombing of Japan saved more lives, both Japanese and Americans, than the lives it cost.

But the bright flash in the sky that sunny morning over Hiroshima signaled the coming of a new and far more dangerous world. It put the fear of catastrophe deep in the hearts of all statesmen. The third quarter of the 20th century turned out to be an unusually peaceful period between the great powers, by modern standards. There were no great wars, only small wars and scary confrontations involving the superpowers.

We have learned to live with the bomb and even, with Dr. Strangelove, to laugh at it. We have survived 35 years of the nuclear era, at times by the skin of our teeth. Will our civilization survive 35 years longer, or 350 years? Who can say? Our chances will greatly increase, however, if governments will allow the private sector to harness this great power for peaceful, productive uses instead of stockpiling it into an armory of total destruction.

Portrait of Paul Harvey and the text 'paul harvey the baby's view'

Abortion. We've been hearing the point of view of the church, the State and the Court.

It's still an option. While the Supreme Court has decreed no federal money to finance abortions for the poor, nine states and Washington, D.C., still do and others are considering it.

What if the unwanted baby had to vote? In 1978 in the United States there were an estimated 543,900 illegitimate births; babies whose parents were not married.

This was 16.3 percent of all births in the United States! That means that one in six babies is born illegitimate and most are unwanted.

That's a huge increase from the one in 10 the year before.

More than half of all illegitimate births are to black women; more significant, more than half of all births to black women are illegitimate.

Of all unwed mothers, 45.8 percent are teenagers.

These numbers would be much higher except for the million-plus legal abortions which are performed every year.

For every 1,000 illegitimate births there are 1,480 abortions.

So much for the cold "numbers." It is the grim legacy of illegitimacy that makes this a profound social problem; the chain reaction of so many unwanted babies becoming abandoned or abused babies. And, if they survive the abuse, becoming angry adults.

Statistics tell us that the illegitimate baby is twice as likely to die before his or her first birthday.

For the unwanted baby, problems begin at birth and for most they never end.

A study conducted for the National Center for Health Statistics reveals that illegitimacy and low birth weight are linked — even when other factors such as age, race, educational level and prenatal care are discounted.

More than 83 percent of the women who are unmarried in the delivery room subsequently do marry, but the Census Bureau finds their marriages "much less stable." In New York City, nearly 70 percent of all illegitimate births last year were covered by Medicaid.

Starting now — with the recent Supreme Court decision — there will be no federal money and in most states no state money for abortions. Illegitimacy, inevitably, will become pandemic.

And the most babies will be born to the people least able to provide for them.

The National Urban League's 1980 report states, "A disproportionate amount of the increase in single-parent families was due to a sharp increase in out-of-wedlock births."

There are no easy panaceas for such problems. Any lack of self-discipline eventually exacts a price; only in this instance the least guilty pay most — either with their lives or throughout their lives.

The VFW has endorsed Reagan and the American Legion has stuck to its time honored tradition of not endorsing anyone. It just shows that not all old soldiers think alike.

It reminds me of a couple of GI stories I ran across the other day. In World War II, the toughness of the Gurka soldiers of Nepal was legendary. A British general wanted to use some Gurkas for a surprise parachute attack behind Japanese lines. He called in their commander and explained his plan.

"I will tell you right up front its a difficult and dangerous mission. We'll fly your troops in at low altitude, through little valleys, so the Japanese radar won't detect the planes. Your men will jump behind the Japanese lines from about 800 feet and fight their way south to meet our ground troops."

"I'm not sure we can do it," said the Gurka commander. "That's asking a lot."

"Oh come now my good man," said the Britisher. "I never thought I'd hear a Gurka say something couldn't be done! I'll admit 800 feet is a difficult height for a parachute jump, but ..."

"Oh, with parachutes!" interrupted the Gurka. "In that case, when do we get started?"

A short while later he marched on board, threw down his gear, then picked it up again and headed back toward the gang plank. As he passed the officer in charge he told him: "I'm not going! No matter what you say, I'm not leaving this island."

small business suffering

NEW YORK (AP)—The mood of small business, that segment of industry that the country relies upon to innovate and create jobs, seems to have improved over the past couple of months, but seeming can be deceiving. "The problems haven't gone away," said Professor William Dunkleberg after reviewing data from a survey for the National Association of Independent Business, which claims 610,000 companies as members.

The small business optimism index rose some of July, but that can be misleading, said Dunkleberg, a Purdue University economist, because it had plunged to an all-time low in the previous survey, in April.

He explained that with earnings having dropped to record low levels, lower even than those recorded in the 1974-1975 recession, it isn't surprising that some companies now expect some improvement.

But those expectations might be based more in wishes than events. The optimism didn't show up where it counts; it wasn't noticed in plans for rebuilding inventories, for hiring, for capital spending plans.

The survey shows that average employment continued to decline during the second quarter, and that the outlook for improvement "is not good," especially in view of the expense-cutting mood of business.

Because of uncertainties, small industry in recent years has been reluctant to commit funds to big spending projects, such as for labor-saving equipment. It sought instead to raise production by hiring new workers, young workers, women returning to the labor force.

With earnings down, these workers are expendable. And with companies expecting poor business to continue for a while, "only 12 percent of the firms plan to increase employment during the next three months."

There is perhaps more economic significance to this than is at first apparent. The United States has for years relied on smaller businesses — companies other than those in the top 1,000 firms — to create jobs.

In 1978 a House subcommittee found that "between 1969 and 1976, small business accounted for what can be considered virtually all the new private sector employment in this country." The largest 1,000 firms, it found, contributed less than 2 percent of the new job growth.

Even what appears to be good news, from the consumer point of view, has a taint to it. Nine percent of the companies said they had cut prices but, said Dunkleberg, don't count on those cuts to last long.

"The problems of business are not going away," he said. "For the next two quarters we might not have price inflation, but the underlying causes haven't been resolved." The longer term outlook isn't good.

The South hand is one that only a lucky player ever sees. Most people play all their lives and never get a really strong two-suiter.

South's first four bids were masterly indeed. He had tried to act like a desperado intent on saving the rubber, when all the time he really expected to make six spades.

Then greed took over. He redoubled!

West stood by his guns, but East was too smart for the greedy South. He bid seven diamonds.

South had been prepared to double seven hearts and lead a club, but now West had become declarer. A double of seven diamonds would almost surely produce a heart lead. South was void of hearts, but also void of diamonds. So, South had to play at seven spades, down one.

By the way, we think South's deceptive bidding was a trifle absurd. He would have had a much better chance of getting doubled at spades if he had bid four spades right over East's one heart.

Common Sense Cooking

By RUTH MCDANIEL

Dear Ruth,
Mexican food has always been very popular in Texas, as we are so close to Mexico. Most of us grew up eating it. But now, it's been discovered by everyone in all sections of the country.

Two Mexican staples are Refried Beans and Green Sauce. These are both easily made, taste better, are much less expensive than those you buy. It might be a good idea to put these recipes in one of your columns. I look forward to seeing your recipes each week in the Bryan Eagle. Alice

I'm sure happy to get these good Mexican recipes. I hope more of you will send me recipes popular in your area. Don't forget to write to me if you have a cooking problem - just remember to enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

MEXICAN REFRIED BEANS
Soak 1 lb. dried Mexican Red Beans or Kidney Beans in kettle of water, overnight. In the morning change water and cook slowly until tender. Then drain and mash thoroughly. Add 1/2 cup sharp grated Cheddar Cheese, garlic salt, and freshly ground pepper. Fry in hot bacon fat. Stir constantly. Add 1 Tbsp. finely diced onion if desired.

MEXICAN GREEN SAUCE
3 fresh tomatoes chopped OR 1 can of tomatoes chopped
1 can Ortega chilies, chopped
2 green onions, stems and all, chopped
1 Tbsp. cooking oil
2 Tbsp. vinegar
salt and pepper to taste
Mix together and chill in refrigerator before serving. This is good as a dip with tortillas, or on any Mexican food as sort of a relish.

You know how expensive those good frozen vegetables with butter sauce are. Make your own instead! Cook frozen or fresh vegetables in 1/2 cup water. Don't overcook. Vegetables taste and look better if they're not cooked to death. You will have about 1/4 cup liquid left when vegetables are done. Don't throw this vitamin filled liquid out. Instead, stir 1 or 2 Tbsp. of the following into vegetables and cook till slightly thickened:

BUTTER SAUCE FOR VEGETABLES
1 stick margarine or butter
1 tsp. Beau Monde (or other Seasoned Salt) heaping 1/2 cup flour
Mix together to a paste. Put in covered jar and keep in refrigerator. You can use different herbs in this sauce. I like to add any herbs when I add the Butter Sauce to the vegetables. Add 1 Tbsp. of mix and then add more if needed. You don't want it too thick. I buy the big economy bags of frozen vegetables and use the amount needed, then return the rest to freezer. You'll find it will cost about half of what the frozen in butter sauce vegetables cost.

Another delicious but expensive way to buy frozen vegetables is in various sauces. Why not make your own instead. Make a white sauce and add a little cheese, tomato sauce, mustard, etc. If you don't have my Miracle Make Ahead White Sauce Mix, it's included in the booklet "B" along with over 25 other E-Z mixes. Remember it's often cheaper to buy fresh vegetables than the frozen when they are in season. The Revised and enlarged 2nd printing of my book "From Homemaker To Moneymaker The Easy Way" is fresh off the press! I've added a lot more recipes and a complete new chapter of valuable cooking tips and money-saving hints! Plus E-Z to follow instructions for making your own mixes plus a plan I guarantee will cut your food bills by 1-3 and more! Money-back guarantee if you don't agree. Send just $4.95 (included postage and handling) to Ruth McDaniel Homemaker Book, c/o this paper, 11409 116 Ave., N., Largo, Fla. 33540

Dear Abby

Bells May Ring Over Ma Bell's Lines

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My girlfriend and I were all set to get married when I pulled overseas duty. (I'm a private in the U.S. Army.) We decided that since I would be gone for a year, we should postpone the marriage until I got back home. Well, three weeks after I got here (please don't say where), I got a letter from my girlfriend back home (don't mention the town), telling me that she is in a family way! She can't afford to come where I am to marry me, and I am not able to get back home, so we are in a fix! I have heard that there is a way to get married by "proxy." I think it's by telephone with a clergyman on both ends. Anyway, I would sure appreciate it if you could tell me if it's possible, because I love this girl and she loves me, and we want our baby to be legitimate. Thanks for any help you can give me. Please don't tell me I should have thought of this before. Love is sometimes stronger than logic.

WORRIED SOLDIER

DEAR WORRIED: Only 12 states recognize proxy marriages. Find your chaplain on the double, soldier, and tell him what's on your mind. Your chances are 12 in 50. Here's hoping you're luckier now than you were then.

DEAR ABBY: The following is a special message recently published in the Wall Street Journal. Feel free to use it. "The most creative job in the world involves: taste, fashion, decorating, recreation, education, transportation, psychology, romance, cuisine, designing, literature, medicine, handicraft, art, horticulture, economics, government, community relations, pediatrics, geriatrics, entertainment, maintenance, purchasing, direct mail, law, accounting, religion, energy and management. "Anyone who can handle all those has to be somebody special."

"She is. She's a homemaker." RAYMOND D'ARGENIO, UNITED TECHNOLOGIES CORP., HARTFORD, CONN.

DEAR MR. D'ARGENIO: Beautiful. But homemakers are no longer exclusively female. Would you consider amending the last two sentences by changing the "she" to "person"?

DEAR ABBY: One of my fellow workers is planning an outdoor wedding and reception. Everything she has ordered for the occasion will be colorful and symbolic of this occasion, but she plans to carry a bridal bouquet of black roses.

Is this proper? After all, don't they symbolize death? FROM THE P.B. BUNCH IN ILLINOIS

DEAR BUNCH: Black roses? You're putting me on.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ELAINE: When a man tells a woman not to get "too serious" because he doesn't want to hurt her, he's usually trying to protect himself against his getting too involved and being taken too seriously. Lose him.

Do you hate to write letters because you don't know what to say? Thank-you notes, sympathy letters, congratulations, how to decline and accept invitations and how to write an interesting letter are included in Abby's booklet, "How To Write Letters for All Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Abby, Letter Booklet, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Bodies Recovered From Wreck Site

TAOS, N.M. (AP)—The bodies of five members of a family who crashed in a single-engine aircraft in the mountains near here in February were being flown today to their home in Mesquite, Texas. The bodies were recovered Monday by a 33-member rescue crew, which walked through the rugged Taos Pueblo land for more than four hours to reach the crash site. The BE-36 Beechcraft Bonanza was discovered by the New Mexico Civil Air Patrol during a regular training exercise late Saturday.

El Paso Beauty New Miss Texas

EL PASO (AP)—Diana Durnford, 21, of El Paso, who likes to cook and dance and someday wants to host a talk show, is the new Miss Texas USA and will represent Texas at the Miss USA Pageant next spring.

"One of my big idols is Phyllis George. I think I'm good at talking to people and bringing out their best qualities," said Miss Durnford, a junior at Texas-El Paso studying communications. "I would like to host a talk show."

A panel of nine judges gave the brown-eyed, brown-haired, 5-foot-7 coed 28 points Monday night, making her the winner in the statewide pageant over Miss Dallas County, Lu Ann Caughey, who scored 22.

The other three runners-up, in the order the judges placed them, were Miss Humble, Debbie Maffett; Miss Sandia, Bambi Hamm; and Miss Dallas, Randi Hall.

The five finalists were chosen out of 15 semi-finalists selected from '99 contestants in the pageant, which was broadcast live on television stations in 15 Texas cities.

Miss Durnford, who entered the contest as Miss Sun City, came in third in last year's pageant. "Don't ever quit — that's what I've been telling the other girls," she said.

The aircraft went down Feb. 21 with Dr. Richard Russell, his wife, Bertha, and children Gina, 20, Brian, 13, and Chris, 7, aboard.

The bodies were carried by rescuers to a meadow near the crash site, and airlifted by National Guard helicopter to a funeral home in Taos. Another daughter, Lisa, did not make the trip from Dallas to Durango, Colo., for a ski vacation.

The aircraft was spotted about five miles south-southeast of Pueblo Peak, at an elevation of 10,000 feet, Col. Lloyd Sallee, CAP wing commander, said. The aircraft wreckage, about two miles from its last radar contact before it disappeared, could not be rescued by helicopter, said Ray Piper of the Taos Search and Rescue Unit. The air patrol had called off its search efforts after 11 days of combing the mountain area after the plane disappeared in February.

The mountain of Adam's Peak in Sri Lanka is held sacred by four faiths. Buddhists believe a footprint-shaped depression on the summit, was left by the Buddha; Hindus say it was Siva. Muslims say Adam paused there after his expulsion from Eden; Portuguese Christians called it the mark of St. Thomas.

Injured While Aiding Another

DALLAS (AP)—An unemployed drilling rig worker remained in serious condition today after he suffered massive injuries while helping pull a woman from a burning automobile.

Michael Boyd, of nearby Lewisville, father of a 12-day-old son, was enroute to Baytown late Friday with his brother, Terry Boyd and a friend, Brian Christy when they drove upon a multi-car accident on Stemmons Freeway.

Lori Adams, a 20-year-old legal secretary, was trapped inside her overturned car.

"Terry was standing behind the car, directing traffic when they hollered and told me to hold on," Ms. Adams recalled Monday.

"The car hit me from behind. My car inside was completely on fire. The doors were jammed shut. I was pushed over to the passenger side. I rolled down the window and somebody pulled me out," she said.

"Seconds later the car blew up," she said.

"The guy that ran into the back of me put it into reverse and floorboarded it to try and leave the scene. He pulled around the side of the car and that's when he hit Mike," she said. "He must have been going faster than 60 mph."

Michael Boyd was struck by the car and thrown about 20 feet into the air. He landed face down on the pavement and slid about 60 feet before stopping beside another car.

The driver of the car that struck Boyd fled the scene, leaving his automobile behind.

Ms. Adams considers herself lucky. She suffered second-degree burns on an arm and some singed hair.

A team of surgeons worked on Boyd at Parkland Hospital for more than nine hours Sunday.

Anderson Says He Agonized Over Decision To Reveal Alleged Plot

By MARK ROSATI
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—Syndicated columnist Jack Anderson says he reached the "anguishing" decision to disclose the details of an alleged U.S. plan to invade Iran because he is convinced the mission would fail.

"Because of the political nature of this plan, because it almost certainly would not succeed, I decided to expose it," he said in a speech Monday night.

Anderson has reported that President Carter is planning a military operation aimed at freeing the U.S. hostages in mid-October, timed for maximum advantage in his re-election campaign against Ronald Reagan and John B. Anderson.

The White House and Defense Secretary Harold Brown have flatly denied the allegation, and the White House labeled the story "grotesque" and "irresponsible." Several newspapers that normally carry Anderson's column, including the Washington Post, the New York Daily News and the Atlanta Constitution, did not run the column Monday.

In his speech, Anderson claimed Carter ordered last April's rescue attempt of the American hostages in Tehran because his ratings had slipped in the public-opinion polls. That effort was aborted because of helicopter failure, and eight soldiers died in an aircraft collision during the withdrawal from the Iranian desert.

The columnist noted that Carter's standing in the polls has dropped again and said the president has ordered plans be prepared for the "limited invasion" because "it just comes naturally to him to react politically."

However, Anderson said unidentified experts believe the plan — which he did not describe in detail during his speech — would fail. He said it was only because these experts believe the plan is flawed and that Carter's motivation is political that he and his staff were able to learn details of the alleged mission.

"We would have a very difficult time carrying this mission out," and for that reason he said he decided to publish his findings. "I can assure you it was an anguishing decision," Anderson added. "I don't think newsmen should pry into military secrets except in special circumstances."

Anderson said that while Carter has not actually "ordered" the invasion, "he has started preparations for a limited invasion of Iran" and that one "control point" in the operation already has passed. He said a final decision whether to carry out the plan will not be made until two more "control points" are passed.

Anderson said one thing that would make another rescue attempt very difficult is that many of the hostages were removed from the occupied U.S. Embassy and taken to other locations in Iran as a result of the aborted mission last April.

The columnist's remarks were delivered at the annual convention of the Barber and Beauty Supply Institute.

Losing her hair

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm going bald. I'm a female, age 34. What causes women to lose their hair? Is there a cure for it? What should I do? If you have a pamphlet on this, please send me one.

DEAR READER — There are many causes for loss of hair. A woman in your age group who's losing her hair, though, should certainly see a dermatologist and see if he can tell by an examination what the underlying problem really is. Fad diets are a frequent cause today. Individuals starve themselves and limit their protein intake to the point there's a sudden massive loss of hair. This is temporary and the hair will grow back in shortly after a person has returned to eating normally. Massive hair loss can occur after illnesses or after surgery. That, too, is temporary. Various forms of hair styles, particularly those that pull and put pressure on the hair, can contribute to hair loss.

Since you requested it, I'm sending you The Health Letter number 12-6, Hair Care. It will give you more information on the various causes for hair loss and what can be done to prevent it. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1651, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Many people, particularly men, lose hair because the individual hair follicles produce a special type of male hormone. You may be surprised to know that the hair follicles of both men and women produce male hormone. Which type is produced is determined by inherited characteristics.

Regardless of whether your family had the problem or not, if you inherited genes dictate that certain hair follicles will produce one type of male hormone, the hair shaft eventually will become very thin peach fuzz and will not contribute to normal hair appearance. That's what happens to men with male pattern baldness. Women have the same problem sometimes, but it usually results in thinning of the hair over the front of the head rather than the total loss that you see with the bald pate in a man.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have an ailment — my physician describes as intercostal myositis. I experience great pain in the rib and chest area, particularly after a night's sleep but also during the day. Is this something I will have to live with forever? I use heat lamps and heating pads but this provides only temporary relief. I'm also taking some pain killers that my doctor gave me.

DEAR READER — There are muscles between each pair of ribs. These are called the intercostal muscles. They can develop a spasm just like other muscles can. Their structure is essentially the same as the muscles in your legs or arms except that they are smaller muscles. The spasm of these muscles usually is responsible for the chest pain that people complain of when they say they have pleurisy.

I can understand that the spasms of these muscles that you're experiencing is quite painful. It would be helpful to know what's causing the spasms but sometimes there isn't any answer. The heating pad is a very good idea and when your muscles are warm, you might try to take very slow, deep breaths to stretch the muscles in that area.

Wouldn't Revive 2 Chinas Policy

By RICHARD BILL
Associated Press Writer
TOKYO (AP)—GOP vice presidential nominee George Bush said today that Ronald Reagan would not revive a "two Chinas" policy for the United States if the Republican candidate is elected president.

Earlier, Reagan's chief foreign policy adviser, Richard Allen, said the Republican presidential nominee "has no intention of turning back the clock" by trying to restore a "two Chinas" policy. Allen said that Reagan, despite some apparent confusion in previous statements, did not advocate a resumption of official U.S. ties with Taiwan.

Peking's official Xinhua news agency quoted Reagan as telling Bush on his departure from Los Angeles on Sunday that he favored official relations with Taiwan.

"Look, I've lived in China," said Bush, head of the U.S. diplomatic liaison office in Peking in 1973-74. He spoke at a news conference here on the eve of his departure for China.

"I've read the newspapers and stories like that, and it doesn't concern me. I will have a good exchange of views with the Chinese officials."

"Governor Reagan's policy, they will be pleased to learn, is eminently sensible, and continued good relations with the People's Republic of China are a part of it."

Asked whether Reagan was advocating a "two Chinas" policy, Bush replied "No. That should have been laid to rest."

He said the Taiwan Relations Act, passed by Congress after the restoration of ties with Peking, "controls" a president's powers and specifies that relations with the island of Taiwan will be "non-governmental."

Earlier, Reagan adviser Allen told a foreign correspondents' club luncheon in Tokyo, "We do not advocate establishment of government-to-government relations on Taiwan."

Wholesale Gas Prices Trimmed

By William G. Gall
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Three of the nation's largest oil companies have cut wholesale gasoline prices for the second time since July as motorists, soaked with a 60 percent rise in gas prices in the past year, continued to ease off driving and conserve fuel.

Gulf Oil Corp., the nation's fifth-largest oil company, No. 10 Conoco Inc. and No. 19 Cities Service Co. said on Friday they had trimmed wholesale prices as much as 3 cents a gallon in the past week.

Several smaller independent refiners have reduced wholesale prices by 1 or 2 cents, according to industry sources. And No. 11 Sun Co. Inc. boosted the cash rebate it offers dealers on some gasoline purchases to 7 cents a gallon from 2 cents.

A 2 cents-a-gallon rebate was "simply not enough of an incentive" to spur slow sales, said Doug O'Boyle, editor of the trade newsletter U.S. Oil Week.

Brett Belting, Rangers Bit, Brewers Climb, Orioles Too

By The Associated Press
Today's American League headlines again deal with the New York-Baltimore East Division pennant chase and the assault of Kansas City's sizzling George Brett on the 400 mark. But something new has been added to the Milwaukee Brewers.

While the Baltimore Orioles edged New York 6-5 and pulled within 2½ games of the Yankees in the AL East, and while Brett went 3-for-5 in Kansas City's 6-3 triumph over the Texas Rangers, boosting his average to .404 and giving him a 30-game hitting streak, the Brewers quietly sneaked to within 6½ games of the top with a noisy 12-5 route of the Detroit Tigers.

"I think it has been on the verge of happening for a long time and now it is kind of snowballing. The momentum is there. The more it rolls, the more it's going to gather," said Gorman Thomas, who crashed a grand-slam homer to help the Brewers to their seventh consecutive victory.

Milwaukee's Ben-Ogilvie hit a bases-empty homer, his 30th, one pitch after Thomas' sixth-inning grand slam. That put the game out of reach after Milwaukee converted three Detroit errors into a five-run fourth inning.

"Six-and-a-half out with a month-and-a-half to play—that's plenty of time. We're right back in it," said Brewers Manager George Bamberger. "All year long we have not had a big winning streak. It looks like maybe we've got something going now."

Royals 6, Rangers 3
Brett singled his first three times up, running his string to seven straight hits over two days as he became the 28th player in major league history to hit safely in 30 consecutive games.

"I'm not worried about the hitting streak," he said. "There's enough pressure just in the pennant race without putting extra pressure on myself."

Over his 30-game streak, Brett has 57 hits in 122 at-bats for a .467 average with six homers and 42 RBI.

Willie Aikens drove in four runs with a two-run homer in the third inning and a two-run single in the fourth while Rich Gale won his 10th game in a row with help from Jeff Twitty and Dan Quisenberry, who picked up his 26th save.

Volleyball Intro Slated For 7 This Evening

Volleyball is on tap in the high school gymnasium this evening as Coach Joyce Elrod introduces her 1980 varsity and junior varsity teams to the public.

The annual Volleyball Preview, free to the public, will begin at 7 o'clock. Its purpose is to acquaint the public with power volleyball and the 1980 teams and coaches. Also included will be a scrimmage, featuring all of the girls.

This year's varsity squad combines several returners from the 1979 bi-district championship team with a group of former junior varsity players who lost only one game all season, making Snyder's outlook bright for the upcoming campaign.

Snyder won the AAA State Tournament in 1979 and followed it with a district championship last year. The Tigers also won the first round of the regional tournament (bi-district), held in Lubbock. Coach Elrod's teams have won numerous district and bi-district titles in recent years.

The public is urged to meet the girls and the game tonight.

"We think if you come once, you'll be back," said Elrod. "You'll be pleasantly surprised."

Jr. Championship Set Thursday-Friday Here

Snyder Country Club will host a Junior Club Championship for boys and girls of all ages Aug. 21-22.

No entry fee will be charged for the two-day tournament. Trophies will be awarded Friday.

Tournament tee times are 8:30.

The club will also hold a Junior-Senior Club

Championship on Aug. 24. Any member and his dependent (father-son, mother-daughter, father-daughter, etc.) may participate. A dependent may also play with both parents as two teams, or a parent may compete with more than one dependant. Entry fee is $5 per team.

Cowboy Pair Expected Back

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP)—Dallas defensive backs Randy Hughes and Charlie Waters, both hurt in the Cowboys' 19-16 preseason victory over the Los Angeles Rams, may be available for duty against the Houston Oilers Saturday.

A spokesman for the Cowboys said Monday free safety Hughes and strong safety Waters were hit by old injuries in last Saturday night's game in Anaheim.

Hughes, who suffered a separated shoulder for the second time in recent weeks, will have a special brace fitted, the spokesman said.

Waters, who missed last season after surgery on his right knee, twisted the knee against the Rams but the injury is not thought to be serious.

Left corner Benny Barnes will test corrective surgery on his foot against Houston.

If Hughes is forced to undergo surgery, Landry has indicated his intentions of making Dennis Thurman the starter, instead of calling on retired star Cliff Harris.

Boy's Club News

Scurry County Boy's Club summer programs will come to an end this week as far as organized programs are concerned. The summer has "been full of activities and now the members will have an opportunity to pick up some hardware for their efforts when trophies are awarded this week in each sport," said Bill Boles.

Softball, shuffleboard and volleyball finals were held yesterday. Today's schedule calls for football, darts and tennis, followed on Wednesday by angleball, badminton and basketball. Trophies will be awarded Wednesday.

Individual scores have been kept through the summer program on all participants. Lucio Ramirez has scored 378 points in basketball as well as placing first in badminton by winning five practice matches and scoring 2,340 in darts. Earl Sneed was the winner with 84 points in football. Raymond Valadez scored 52 points in softball.

In finals yesterday, the Herman Campos team defeated Sonny Cobb's crew in softball, 7-4. Valadez hit a home run for the losers. Also scoring for the Cobb team were Jeff Rose and Terry and Larry Rodriguez.

Scoring 1 run each for the winners were Campos, Jay Clark, Chris Garrett, David R. Rios, Sneed, Lucio Ramirez and Lawrence Barrera.

Ramirez defeated Jimmy Velasquez 58-26 to take the shuffleboard title. For third place, Tommy Hunter defeated Ricky Romero, 38-20.

In volleyball, the Valadez team defeated the Sneed bunch 15-13, 15-12. Tyrone Dunkins served seven points for the winners while Sneed recorded seven for the losers.

This past week (Aug. 11-15) results in the various sports were:

Aug. 11—Twelve throwers participated in darts with the top four being Willie Greathouse, 315; Lucio Ramirez, 265; Marty Guterrez, 225; and Sonny Cobb, 215.

Aug. 12—A practice tennis match playing short court ping-pong tennis resulted in David R. Rios taking first, Lucio Ramirez second, Jay Clark third and Bobby Velasquez fourth.

Aug. 14—In football, Roger Garza and team beat Terry White's group 48-18. Earl Sneed scored five times for the winners.

Aug. 14—In basketball, Lucio Ramirez and team won over a squad led by David R. Rios, 79-55. Earl Sneed led the scores with 22 points.

Aug. 15—In softball, David R. Rios and team won over Lucio Ramirez and bunch, 9-7. Rios, Israel Ortega and Hector Calbillo each hit a home run.

Troup Leads Into Finals

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Guppy Troup won six straight games to claim the top position going into the finals of the $85,000 Greater Buffalo Open of the Professional Bowlers Association tour.

Troup took a 216-pin lead into the sixth round, but saw it diminish to 120 pins when he rolled 189 and 160 in his first two matches. He rebounded to finish 171 pins ahead of second-place George Pappas.

Joe Berardi qualified for third, followed by Mark Roth and Tommy Hudson.

Dorsett Unhappy With Contract, Source Says

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Running back Tony Dorsett of the Dallas Cowboys is unhappy with his contract and wants traded unless the National Football League team bolsters his paychecks, the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette reported in today's editions.

The former University of Pittsburgh All-American was telephoned at the Cowboys' training camp in Thousand Oaks, Calif., and he reportedly said he was displeased with the five-year, six-figure contract he signed in 1977.

"This is a very touchy subject," Dorsett was quoted as saying in a story by Post-Gazette sports writer Vito Stellino.

"I'm going to wait and see what happens. I hope it can be worked out, but if it isn't, I'll definitely have to consider the alternatives."

The alternatives were spelled out by Stephan Sokol, a Pittsburgh attorney who started representing Dorsett a month ago, along with Kellen McClelland.

Sokol, the Post-Gazette said, reported the Cowboys have agreed to extend or renegotiate the contract. But he added that the two sides are bogged down on terms.

"I've asked the Cowboys to trade him if they don't want to pay him," Sokol was quoted as saying.

"I told them they could look around to find another place for him to play. There are other teams that would be willing to pay him."

Conceding the Cowboys would be unlikely to trade Dorsett, Sokol said his client might be forced to an "act of protest." The Post-Gazette said Sokol suggested Dorsett might leave the Cowboy camp.

Sokol said Dorsett, whose salary has been reported at more than $200,000 a year, only received $80,000 last year and is scheduled to get $100,000 this year. He said the rest of the money is deferred until the year 2004.

"Tony likes to play for the Cowboys," Sokol said.

"We want what we believe he is worth. There are at least 13 backs in the league making more money than Tony."

Sokol said he and Cowboy Vice President Gil Brandt have talked about a five-year contract starting this year.

The Post-Gazette speculated that Dorsett is seeking between $350,000 and $400,000 per year.

Dolphin Trio Still Battling For Spot

By The Associated Press
Miami Coach Don Shula said the Dolphins' quarterback job was wide open and, after Monday night's 24-7 National Football League exhibition victory over the Seattle Seahawks, it probably still is.

Fourteen-year veteran Bob Griese, rookie Dave Woodley and third-year man Guy Benjamin all guided the Dolphins to touchdowns as Miami improved its preseason record to 2-0.

"When I called Bob (Griese) in the off-season and told him we'd be going to camp with the quarterback job up for competition, he told me, 'I don't feel it's any different from any other year. I always felt I had to win the job,'" Shula recalled.

But Griese is really being pressed this year.

Benjamin, who scored on a 1-yard rollout to snap a 7-7 tie early in the fourth quarter, is rounding into his own. Woodley, from LSU, was impressive in the Dolphins' preseason opener and set up the insurance touchdown and a 39-yard goal by Uwe von Schamann against Seattle.

Greise marched the Dolphins 88 yards in 14 plays in the first quarter, capping the drive with a 3-yard scoring pass to Bruce Hardy.

Don Strock, considered Griese's No. 1 rival for the Dolphins quarterbacking job, did not play.

"There's no way I'd keep four quarterbacks," said Shula, adding one may be used as trade bait.

And the way they're all playing, one of them could bring Miami a nice return.

Jim Zorn and Steve Myer, Seattle's top two quarterbacks, were out with injuries.

Tony Benjamin tallied for Seattle on a 2-yard run.

In other NFL action, Kansas City mauled Minnesota 24-10 and Washington edged Cleveland 12-3.

Chiefs 24, Vikings 10
Reserve quarterback Bill Kenney tossed two third-quarter touchdown passes as Kansas City held Minnesota to 49 yards rushing and rolled to its second straight exhibition triumph.

Ted Brown's 1-yard touchdown run gave Minnesota a 7-0 lead in the first quarter before Steve Fuller knotted the game with a 5-yard scoring pass to J.T. Smith in the second period. The Vikings' Rick Danmeier kicked a 44-yard field goal and the Chiefs' Nick Lowery had a 33-yard boot also in the second quarter.

Redskins 12, Browns 3
Mark Moseley kicked four field goals as the Washington beat Cleveland. Moseley's three-pointers of 21, 32, 28 and 39 yards boosted the Redskins preseason record to 2-0.

The Browns, 0-2, turned the ball over eight times on three interceptions and five fumbles. Don Cockroft booted a 30-yard field goal for Cleveland in the second quarter.

Mauck Gears Up For Dallas Game

HOUSTON (AP)—It didn't take Houston Oiler center Carl Mauck long to begin his annual roasting of the Dallas Cowboys.

"Well, we're playing the Cowgirls this week," Mauck said moments after Sunday's 20-17 victory over New Orleans. "I was a little rankled about a comment Reverend (Tom) Landry made when he said the Rams were the big preseason test for the Cowboys."

"I guess he feels like their preseason is over now that they've beaten the Rams. Well, I'll tell you, I'm real serious about the game this week."

Three seasons ago, when the Oilers defeated the Cowboys in Houston, Mauck invited all Cowboy fans living in Houston to move to Dallas.

While Mauck moved into action against the Cowboys, Oiler wide receiver Ken Burrough remained in Houston with a knee injury that will keep him out of Saturday's game.

Burrough injured the knee against the Saints when he tried to throw a block for running back Earl Campbell.

"We've got receivers and quarterbacks to do the job until I get back," Burrough said. "My foot caught in the turf and he hit me from behind. I'm glad it came lose or I might have been hurt real bad."

5 Million Displaced By Floods

DACCA, Bangladesh (AP)—As many as 5 million people in this impoverished Asian nation have been displaced by flooding caused by monsoon rains in the states of West Bengal, Assam, Sikkim and Bihar in neighboring India, officials said today.

They said 18 deaths have been reported so far in the Sirajganj region of Pabna, where the Jamuna River is rising rapidly. The country's other major river systems were also forecast to continue rising.

The deputy commissioner of the Rajshahi district, contacted by telephone, said that two-thirds of his district was under water, marooning several hundred thousand people and causing heavy damage to crops.

Retirement Is Surprise

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—Members of a committee meeting to discuss Vice Adm. James B. Stockdale's inauguration as the 15th president of The Citadel were in for a surprise. Stockdale, who was to have been formally inducted the first weekend in October, announced his resignation Monday, almost a year after he took office as the head of "the West Point of the South."

"I've resigned and the reason is very simple," the 57-year-old former prisoner of war and Medal of Honor winner told the Charleston News and Courier in an interview. "I'm just tired of hassling with the board of visitors over every change in the status quo."

Stockdale, who took over as president Aug. 22, 1979, said he resigned because the board rejected his plan for reorganizing the college's staff.

"I had a choice between being a ceremonial figure and resigning," the admiral said. "A president of a college has got to have hiring and firing rights over his staff."

up, Schmitt said he plans to return to the United States. "I want to come back because I really love this land."
To Bauer, 18, "The main difference is things are not hectic in America."
Bauer, who was wearing blue jeans, a T-shirt, and lace-up moccasin boots, said such attire would not be acceptable in his native country. In the United States, however, people can dress as they please and are not thought the worse for it.
Bauer, too, said he plans to return to the United States.
