Carter Addresses Veterans

BOSTON (AP)—President Carter, turning aside Republican rival Ronald Reagan's assertion that a nuclear arms race with the Soviet Union is upon the nation, declared today that the United States would "compete successfully" if the race occurred but that would it be "totally irresponsible" to initiate it.

Speaking to the American Legion's national convention a day after an appearance by Reagan, Carter also took issue with the former California governor's accusation that the United States has become No. 2 in military strength under his administration.

Tanker Hits Old Oil Rig

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A 565-foot tanker rammed the remains of an old Gulf of Mexico oil rig in predawn darkness today, bursting into flames and sending 39 crewmen scrambling for their lives, the Coast Guard said.

Crewmen were pulled from the water by two tugboats working in the area. One man was missing for awhile, but the Coast Guard said all men finally were accounted for.

"One man is injured and will be evacuated by Coast Guard helicopter," a Guard spokesman said. The cause of the crash was not known.

Fire Burns 9 On Sub

TOKYO (AP)—A Soviet nuclear submarine caught fire in international waters off Okinawa today and at least nine crewmen were killed and three injured, the Japanese Maritime Safety Agency reported.

It warned ships and aircraft to stay clear of the area because of possible radioactive contamination, but first reports, from a patrol plane dispatched to the scene 84 miles east of Okinawa, said no sign of radiation was found.

Floods Wash West Virginia

KENNA, W. Va. (AP)—Flash floods built in renewed downpours surged through numerous areas of West Virginia today, washing away homes and businesses and forcing the evacuation of several communities and at least one hospital.

Power was disrupted, landslides and rising waters closed highways, and evacuations were under way in Jackson, Kanawha, Raleigh, Putnam and Webster counties, authorities said.

Gov. Jay Rockefeller already had asked for a federal disaster declaration for 15 northern counties flooded earlier this week.

Bri Lab Was Moved

HOUSTON (AP)—A Justice Department attorney says the Brilab investigation, which resulted in the indictment of Texas House Speaker Billy Clayton on racketeering charges, was moved from California to Texas after newspaper articles blew an FBI informant's cover.

During the third day of a pre-trial hearing Wednesday for Clayton and three other Brilab defendants, Bruce J. Kelton of Los Angeles testified the investigation was originally planned to center in Southern California, but later crossed state lines.

Church, More Dwellings...

New Projects Boost Construction Activity

Snyder construction activity has increased sharply this week, with contracts totaling nearly $1 million recorded in city limits.

Residential projects account for most of the total, but a $195,000 permit for a new church building is the biggest single structure in the list. It is for a 6,000 square-foot building for Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church and will be on the site of a building that burned last year on 13th St. near Ave. K.

The contractor for the church project is Sam Seay Construction Co. of Abilene, and architect is Robert Pizziri of San Antonio. The building will be of masonry and steel construction.

The biggest new residential project includes 12 new homes in Eastridge Addition, which is being developed by Colony Homes. This will increase the number of homes in that addition to 25.

Total estimated cost of the new Eastridge dwellings is $480,000.

Permits for three new dwellings in Park Addition, have been issued to Ram-con, which is developing property in Southeast Snyder where Moore and Moore had built several houses earlier. The new projects there total $163,000.

Other permits for dwelling units include a duplex being constructed at 1907 29th by Mike Graves, at an estimated cost of $56,000, and a house at 3002 42nd being constructed by Smith and Featherston at an estimated cost of $42,500.

The new splurge of activity is expected to make August one of this year's biggest months for construction here.

Billy Denies

Doing Wrong

WASHINGTON (AP)—Billy Carter testified today that he told Libyans from the start of his dealings with them that he had no influence on U.S. policy and said he never asked his brother, the president, to do anything for Libya.

"Furthermore, the Libyans have not asked me to ask anything of the president or of any representative of the U.S. government," Carter told a special Senate Judiciary investigating subcommittee.

"I never asked my brother to do anything for the benefit of Libya," he said. "I also know that he would not do it even if I had been foolish enough to try, which I wasn't."

Billy Carter also testified that the president never passed any inside information to him, and he said he was not tipped off that U.S. intelligence had learned he had received $220,000 from Libya, a radical North African nation.

Q—Will the Rainbow Market building be torn down and if so, when?

A—This building, which was heavily damaged by fire several weeks ago, will be removed soon, city officials report.

Discuss Plans For 2nd Scurry County Reunion

Plans for the second annual Scurry County Reunion were outlined at a Wednesday meeting of the Scurry County Historical Commission.

The reunion will be held Sept. 19-20 in conjunction with the Scurry County Fair as it was last year. Headquarters for the reunion will be Meeting Room A in the coliseum, with fair exhibits occupying most of the remaining space in the coliseum.

Registration will open at 10 a.m. Sept. 19 and continue through that day and through the following day. Antique quilts will be on display in the room and a quilting frame will be set up with quilters from the Senior Center at work.

Visitors who would like to add their stitches to the quilt will be welcome to do so. The quilt will be finished later and donated to the Senior Center to be included in its May Day fund raiser next year.

A coffee will mark the beginning of activities on Sept. 20. The coffee is scheduled for 10 a.m., and a welcome and recognition of special guests is planned about 11 a.m.

A chuck wagon supper will be served from 5-7 p.m. on Sept. 20 in the area between the coliseum and the ag complex. Tickets must be purchased in advance and will be priced at $4 each.

The reunion is being planned for the enjoyment

Senate Panel Rushes To Approve Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee is rushing toward final approval of a tax reduction package containing $22 billion worth of cuts in personal income taxes and faster tax writeoffs for business.

The panel, which began writing the legislation Monday, reached unanimous agreement on its major elements Wednesday and appeared ready to complete work on the legislation by Friday.

Closed-door bargaining sessions among committee members have produced an uncharacteristic public display of bipartisan cooperation.

In less than 15 minutes Wednesday, the committee approved without dissent a package, effective Jan. 1, that would:

—Raise the personal income tax exemption from the present $1,000 to $1,100.

—Raise the so-called "zero bracket amount," of income exempt from income tax, from $2,300 to $2,400 for individuals and from $3,400 to $3,600 for married couples.

—Raise the "earned income tax credit" for families with children from its current level of 10 percent of the first 5 percent of earned income to 11 percent.

—Decrease the so-called "marriage penalty" by allowing married couples to deduct 5 percent of the first $30,000 of earnings of the spouse with the lesser income. The deduction would rise to 10 percent in 1982.

Earlier Wednesday, the committee, chaired by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., voted unanimously for a simplified and accelerated depreciation plan proposed by Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas.

The committee staff estimated the individual cuts would amount to about $22 billion in 1981, rising to about $40 billion by 1985.

But specific figures on the personal and business tax cuts were still being worked out by the committee staff Wednesday night.

Other provisions the panel seems likely to consider include a reduction in capital gains taxes, deductions for charitable contributions for Americans living abroad.

Signs Indicate...

Polish Strike Still Spreading

GDANSK, Poland (AP)—The communist government dumped its top labor negotiator today in a new sign that its efforts to contain the widespread worker unrest gripping the Baltic seacoast had stalled.

Informed sources reported, meanwhile, that 16 leading dissidents were rounded up in Warsaw. The sources said the number of workers on strike in the Baltic area had grown despite the government's mediation efforts and that about 130,000 workers were taking part in the mass walkout, now in its eighth day.

State radio announced today that Deputy Premier Tadeusz Pyka had been replaced as chairman of a special commission dispatched here last weekend to negotiate with workers after they began walking off their jobs at the V.I. Lenin Shipyards and other enterprises. No explanation was given for the change.

Despite Pyka's efforts, sources in this Baltic port said more than 300 factories and plants in the area had now been shut down by the strike.

Pyka, a longtime ally of Communist Party leader Edward Giersek, was replaced by senior Deputy Premier Mieczyslaw Jagielski, a longtime Politburo member who is considered the most liberal and influential of Poland's five deputy premiers. Pyka was a relative newcomer to the party's inner circle and a junior man among Poland's deputy premiers.

The commission had been seeking to negotiate with individual strike committees rather than a central organization established by militants at the Lenin Shipyards in Gdansk.

Gdansk radio had reported negotiations were under way with committees that had apparently split with the Lenin Shipyard group. But Pyka's removal appeared to indicate the commission's strategy of undermining worker unity was failing.

Meanwhile, "extremely serious" conditions and widespread disruption were reported in the Polish city of Szczecin today as the communist nation's worst crisis in 10 years went into its second week.

The mayor of Szczecin, a port and industrial city of 400,000 people on the East German border, reported "the life of all families is disorganized; municipal transport is not functioning; normal functioning of hospitals, shops and fundamental services have all been disrupted, and people are still buying

New Bank Approved

Organizers of a third bank in Snyder Thursday received notice that the application for a national charter had been approved by the Comptroller of the Currency.

The confirmation letter was received in Dallas by the group's agent. The letter also approved the capital and the proposed officers and directors.

The new bank will be located at the northeast corner of 37th and College, and the proposed capital is $2 million.

Application for the new bank was filed last November, and a hearing on the application was held in Dallas in February. Final approval on the application was issued in Washington on Aug. 8.

Organizers and proposed directors of the bank are Bill McCormick, Buster Anderson, Milton Ham, Mal Donelson, Roy McQueen, Morris Light, and E.D. Walton, all of Snyder; and Sammy Spikes and Lewis Nance, both of Brownfield.

Spikes, a Snyder native who is currently president and chief executive officer of the Brownfield State Bank, is proposed as chairman of the board of the new bank. Nance, presently a senior vice president and director of the Brownfield bank, is the proposed president.

Projections on opening of the new financial institutions will be made pending a review of architectural plans and drawings by the organizers.

House Okays Census Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has approved a measure that could cause a lot of new work for the people counting the 1980 census.

Approved 222-189 was a measure to bar illegal aliens from being counted in the apportionment of congressional seats. The census is used to equally apportion the 435 House seats among districts of almost equal size.

The Constitution orders a census of all "persons" in the country every 10 years and the Census Bureau this year tried to count the estimated 20 million illegal aliens in the nation.

School Starts At Hermleigh

HERMLEIGH—The 1980-81 school year got underway for students here today. The teachers began the school year Monday with in-service work.

Hermleigh area residents are invited to a back-to-school social Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the Cardinal's football stadium.

The Cardinalettes will perform and the football players and teachers will be introduced.

New teachers to the Hermleigh School system are Mrs. LaRonna Decker and Dr. Joe Ramey.

—Reduce tax rates in most brackets. The rates now range from 14 percent to a maximum tax rate of 70 percent. Under the committee's proposal, the rates would range from 12 percent to 67 percent.

Earlier Wednesday, the committee, chaired by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., voted unanimously for a simplified and accelerated depreciation plan proposed by Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas.

The committee staff estimated the individual cuts would amount to about $22 billion in 1981, rising to about $40 billion by 1985.

But specific figures on the personal and business tax cuts were still being worked out by the committee staff Wednesday night.

Other provisions the panel seems likely to consider include a reduction in capital gains taxes, deductions for charitable contributions for Americans living abroad.

The committee has agreed to vote by noon Friday on sending a tax cut bill to the Senate floor.

Despite the unity demonstrated by the committee, the administration is standing by its position that a tax cut should not be enacted now.

Assistant Treasury Secretary Donald C. Lubick, who has attended the committee sessions this week, said after Wednesday's action that this "is not the time."

People over in Dallas and Fort Worth turned down a mass transit proposal recently, but planners promptly returned to the drawing board and they can expect another proposal in due time. Mass transportation facilities are viewed by many experts as vital to the preservation of inner-city life in huge metropolitan centers. The biggest obstacle, of course, is the cost, especially in the Southwest where the wide open spaces have put emphasis on the personal automobile. It would be difficult to develop a mass transit system to fulfill the needs of all citizens in cities which now are encircled by suburban municipalities. These suburbs have out-grown the inner cities in recent years, and that has become a big part of the transportation problem—how to get the suburban residents to their downtown jobs every day without filling the streets and highways with automobiles.

We had an opportunity a few weeks ago to use the Metro in Washington, D.C., and we must say that if we resided in that area (heaven forbid), we would use it whenever we needed to go downtown. We boarded the Metro in a suburb called New Carrollton, near the northeast edge of Washington, and several miles from the heart of the city. We parked our car on a public lot near the Metro station at a cost of 75 cents for a full day. The Metro cost 50 cents to ride to a station in the middle of the Capitol Mall, which is about the center of most tourist attractions in the nation's capital.

The train, which is automated, traveled at ground level and above until it approached downtown Washington, where it went underground. It moved quickly and efficiently and made it possible for us to see many more attractions in a single day than would have been the case if we had taken our car downtown.

We returned to our starting point at dusk, found our car easily and were on our way within minutes. The Metro train was well-filled both ways, and it was easy to see that it was performing an important transportation service.

Also, gasoline for our car would have cost more than the Metro and parking fees combined, and when you add a higher parking fee downtown, the saving is even more. And that doesn't take into account the "saving" on nerves jangled by Washington traffic when you drive your car downtown.

Of course cities in the Southwest present situations somewhat different from those in Washington, New York, Philadelphia, etc., but they appear destined to develop some type of mass transportation facilities.

the fairness phobia

Detractors of the way we in the media handle controversial topics are growing more numerous and loud every day, and as a rule that's fine. We've been made aware of a pair of different approaches to seeking redress from broadcasters, and they illustrate the right and wrong ways of going about it.

The first is Atlantic Richfield's monthly half-hour production, "Energy Update." Done in the form of a slick news show, the program attempts to set straight media-bred misconceptions about the fuel business. It is sent free to more than a hundred television stations, which are allowed to use the tapes in any way they see fit.

Arco, and particularly its president, Thornton Bradshaw, have not been stouthearted spokesmen for the marketplace in the past, but "Energy Update" has the potential for effectively soft-selling a non-governmental point of view. Other companies also have taken to various forums to try to correct perceived media errors. A power company in Illinois has produced a reply to 60 Minutes using background material it says was selectively omitted from the CBS show that examined its nuclear plant. Many firms have purchased newspaper advertisements to present their case.

The tack taken by the AFL-CIO's government employee union (AFSCME) is different. Whereas the corporations previously cited have incurred the expense involved in trying to attract the public to their perspective, AFSCME wants to reshape the broadcast image of labor unions with an effort that is reliant on state coercion. That is a tactic to which organized labor increasingly has had to resort as its obsolescence in the post-industrial age becomes more apparent to wage earners and most everyone else.

AFSCME has sent out a pamphlet instructing followers on how to gain access to radio and television time in order to tell the good side of unionism and to correct for what is called a "pro-business" bias over the air waves (implying that its own point of view is anti-business, an interesting admission). The AFSCME strategy relies on application of the "Fairness Doctrine," a lever held over broadcasters by the Federal Communications Commission. The object is to force the stations to provide air time at their expense so that the union can respond to what it considers slights. The FCC's power to revoke broadcast licenses if the demands aren't met is stressed.

The distinction between the freedom-of-speech approach being tried by many of the nation's companies and the threatening tone of the AFSCME brochure is not hard to grasp. The "Fairness Doctrine" is a pernicious instrument.

new forms of life

We are creating new forms of life; what an exciting prospect.

Since the Supreme Court decision allowing industries and universities to patent such technology, you've heard the scaredy-cats viewing with alarm, predicting dire consequences if we produce microbes we cannot control. Of course, the timid would never have let the cave man invent the wheel.

History remembers no new technology which was not opposed by the fearful. Neanderthal man surely ran from fire before he made it his servant. The savage still runs scared from an eclipse.

There was much anxiety when Farraday's little black box first unleashed electricity on the world. And we are still hearing anguished protestations from a frightened few who are convinced that nuclear energy, as a servant, will turn on and destroy us.

And so it will be for a while with these man-made microbes. But the nervous Nellies will not prevail. The obstructionists will exhaust their rhetoric. And I'm guessing within 10 years we will be creating in the laboratory and using in the clinic proteins which have medicinal, industrial, perhaps agricultural uses.

The new science will expedite the production of insulin, interferon and human growth hormones. All that's happened so far is that General Electric got a go-ahead to patent a microbe which will help "digest" and clean up spilled oil, but the horizon is limitless.

Almost every month some scientist announces that he has inserted a new gene into a microorganism, usually a bacterium, thus "creating a life form."

Already, there are hundreds of patent applications involving gene-splicing.

Mystery begets suspicion. Fictions' fascination with Frankenstein monsters encourages the fear that some mad scientist will loose on the world "a killer tomato."

Despite the tendency to fear most that which we understand least, there are some avenues of scientific research which require that we accept certain risks and proceed on faith. We accept enormous potential hazards when we drive a car, fly in an airplane or have a baby.

What's happening in 1980 in that science has a new baby. It could turn out bad, have to be constrained. We can hope, however, that it will grow up to be useful, productive and a benefactor of all humankind.

(c) 1980, Los Angeles Times Syndicate

NEW YORK (NEA)—The cab driver was upset. Police lines and closed streets had made a mess of traffic around Madison Square Garden.

"Sorry about the traffic," he remarked with a sad shake of his head. "There's some kind of damn convention in town."

It was almost as if New York City decided to host the 1980 Democratic Convention of four years ago? They talked about the depth of civic pride, the safety and cleanliness of the streets, the friendliness and helpfulness of New Yorkers.

This time it was back to the real New York. This time the city was as dirty, chaotic and arrogant as the New York of legend.

The city streets were as filthy as ever. The hookers were as bold as ever. The policemen, while helpful, were as surly as ever, many annoyed that the tight security required by the convention meant working long hours of overtime in the summer heat.

This time, as far as New York was concerned, it was no more Mister Nice Guy.

Mayor Ed Koch and other city officials did their best to get New York ready to again welcome the Democrats with an effort called "Polish the Apple." But it really didn't work.

The average New Yorker could hardly have cared less that the convention was here. As another cabby remarked when asked his reaction to the return of the Democrats: "Big deal!"

So why the change?

Four years ago, New York was on the brink of bankruptcy. Jimmy Carter and the Democrats promised a sympathetic new administration that would come to the city's rescue. So, it became a matter of intense civic concern that New York put on its best face for the visitors.

The situation was so clear and the need so urgent that the welcoming spirit worked its way down from city officials to cops on the beat to citizens in the street. The whole city was mobilized to show the visiting politicians a good time.

But now New York has been bailed out. While the city's financial problems are still severe — one result of which is fewer sanitation workers and filthier streets — they are no longer desperate. There was little reason for the city to remobilize.

So, New York treated this year's visiting Democrats much like any other group of conventioners. The city was glad enough to host the politicians but was not going out of its way as it did four years ago.

In addition, there was New York's attitude toward Jimmy Carter.

New Yorkers feel Carter has let them down, that he has reneged on his promises of four years ago. It did not sit well with many of them that the main business of the convention was to renominate the president.

Carter campaign workers told stories about abuses suffered at the hands of New Yorkers — not city officials or hotel executives, but telephone installers and carpenters and room-service waiters. As one Carter worker put it, "They're not happy with the president and they're not at all shy to tell us about it."

Then, too, New York suffered by comparison to Detroit, which hosted the Republicans last month. Much like New York four years ago, Detroit saw the Republican Convention as a way to start improving its desperate finances and rebuilding its battered community pride.

The entire city was cleaned up and fixed up. Virtually every Detroit resident seemed concerned that those attending the convention have the best possible time and leave with the best possible opinion of the city. A reporter could not walk down the street, eat a meal or make a long-distance call without being told how happy Detroit was that he or she had come.

The Democrats returned to New York partly out of the memory of the excellent time they had enjoyed four years ago and partly out of the political reality that Carter badly needs to win New York if he is to be re-elected in November. But this time New York did not feel it needed Carter, so the Democrats were greeted by the real New York.

Who is buried in Grant's tomb? If you answer Grant is, you'll be right. Now, who is buried in Lee Harvey Oswald's grave? Just about any name you want to mention will find acceptance within some group of Kennedy assassination theorists.

Asking who lies buried in Oswald's grave is like asking who shot J.R. Ewing. The more improbable the answer the more warmly it will be received. Nuts abound everywhere.

My own reaction is that Oswald is buried in Oswald's grave. That answer may lack something in originality, but it is my honest reaction, nonetheless. There is one thing I am convinced of, however, and it is that an exhumation of the body will prove nothing. All the gravediggers will find is parchment-like skin draped over crumbling bones.

Members of the Oswald family will try to block the exhumation. But in the end the gravediggers will win. The body will be dug up and medical authorities will spend several days putting the bones back together, examining the dental charts, and calculating the weight of a man 5-foot-7.

Then they will release their findings. They will say with certainty there is a 95 percent chance that the man buried in Oswald's grave is really Oswald.

Immediately after the findings are released allegations of a coverup and improper exhumation procedures will be shouted. The Dallas newspapers will have a field day. In 10 more years someone else will want to dig the body up again for the definitive exhumation, and in 20 more years somebody else will want to give it another try.

For more than half my life I have listened to John F. Kennedy assassination theories. Some of them have been preposterous, but the more improbable they are the more famous their originators become. Everyone, I think, has found some measure of fame and wealth by backing a particular line of thought in regard to the assassination.

Tests can be run, experts consulted, and bodies dug up and I believe I will listen to assassination theories for the rest of my life.

misleading statistic

NEW YORK (AP)—Personal income rose $28.6 billion or 1.4 percent in July, but those who work for a living aren't likely to celebrate by going on a spending spree. They know they didn't get it.

They have learned that statistics mislead when taken out of context. And they know also that they should suspect signs of good news when their own senses tell them that we are in an economic predicament.

Suspicious aroused, they ask how personal income could go off so very sharply in its own direction while other economic measures fell?

When, for example, unemployment has been rising, and second-quarter economic output fell at a near-record rate of 9 percent, and corporate profits fell more sharply than in any quarter in 25 years.

When July's factory operating rate fell to 74.2 percent, the lowest since July 1975. When final sales were off. When some of the biggest and once most successful companies were struggling to survive.

But most perplexing, when wages and salaries in the very same month of July fell $1.7 billion, and the income of farmers didn't rise at all.

The confusion is cleared up — but not the problem — when a breakdown of the personal income figure shows that all but $4 billion of the increase resulted from what are called transfer payments.

Transfer payments are aptly named, being payments transferred to people other than those who produced the income. To beneficiaries of Social Security, to recipients of welfare, veterans benefits, unemployment. Transfer payments leaped in July, mainly as a consequence of a 14.3 percent cost-of-living adjustment for Social Security recipients, an increase that wage-earners might be denied under wage price guidelines.

The situation, that of non-productive members of society retaining or improving their standards while economic life deteriorates for others, may be only temporary, but it generates some serious questioning.

How far, for example, can the country carry its propensity to prefer growing benefits on a growing population of retirees without raising economic production, and the efficiency with which it produces goods?

Isn't it futile to expect the latest increase in personal income to fuel greater sales and hoist the country out of recession? Especially when recipients of transfer payments generally have to use most of their payments for living expenses rather than discretionary purchases?

Should Social Security benefits be allowed to rise at such a rate, particularly since retirees are shielded from some of the increases — such as higher mortgage rates — included in the living cost index?

For the moment it is easy to put off such questions as not immediately relevant. It is more comfortable to dismiss them because the answers may involve a degree of pain. Almost every family gets some benefit.

Eventually, though, it seems that such questions will force their way into consideration because those who earn the money and produce the goods might find themselves without the means to continue.

Plan Fall Wardrobe And Save

COLLEGE STATION--Plan your fall, 1980, wardrobe -- and SAVE!, says a clothing specialist.

All you need to do is study fashion trends, your current wardrobe, consider updating a few "key" items, add a splash of makeup coordination, and "voila! you're ready for fall," Becky Saunders says.

STUDY TRENDS, WARDROBE

Start by studying fabric and fashion trends for the fall season.

Read magazines, advertisements and browse through garments and accessories in your favorite stores. Determine which trends -- colors, design lines, fabrics, accessories -- are best for you.

Next, study your wardrobe. Analyze what is still wearable and what isn't. CONSIDER UPDATING Decide which things are worthwhile updating, such as shortening a hemline. Store or discard unwearables. Keep unwearables away from this season's "working wardrobe" so they don't confuse and clutter.

Here are some 1980-fashion-look ideas for updating:

ADD KNITS--especially loopy, handknit looks, shaggy terries, velours and sweatshirts. There's an amazing range of looks in knit fabrics for fall.

REVITALIZE SWEATERS--or buy sweater knit fabrics, since they're fast and easy to sew.

MIX AND MATCH--for a versatile fall wardrobe. First, separate garments by types -- skirts, pants, for example.

Then make some "matches" you haven't tried before. Especially important for fall is a strong trend toward the "unmatched suit." For instance, wear a velvet jacket with a tweed skirt.

ADD PLAIDS AND TWEEDS--The classic or "preppy" look emphasizes colorful plaids and argyles along with other fall traditionals.

ADD BASIC JACKETS--in solids you can wear over several dresses. Also, add these same jackets to pants and skirts and create several suits.

ADD SKIRTS--with flare or with pleats.

ADD LACY COLLARS--Look for detachable ones you can add to basic jewel necklines or small-collared blouses and dresses.

ADD FASHION COLORS--in teal, lavender, purple, maroon, sage or magenta as accents. On the other hand, if the current wardrobe is "short" on traditional basic colors, add some of those: black, gray, navy, red or winter white.

UPDATE ACCESSORIES--by adding necessary shoes and handbags. Invest in quality.

Canned Foods Prepared For Scurry County Fair

With the Scurry County Fair just around the corner, men, women and children are making plans to enter their wares in the annual event.

Mrs. Walter Stirl is superintendent of the canned foods division this year. She urges all who have done summer canning to take a few simple steps and prepare them for entry in the fair Sept. 18-20, at the Scurry County Coliseum. Canned foods should be brought to the coliseum, Mrs. Stirl said, on Sept. 17, 1-8 p.m., and left in place until Sunday, Sept. 20.

Rules to follow when entering the canned good category are:

1. All canned products must be exhibited in standard round or square glass pint or quart jars.
2. Labels will be furnished by the fair association at no cost to the exhibitor.
3. Name of product should be on each jar.
4. All canned foods shall be standard pack (not fancy pack.)
5. Jellies must be exhibited in jelly glasses, standard pint or half pint jars.

Ball Corporation has donated jars to award winners. First and second place winners will receive jars and blue books (recipes and canning instructions), in the four categories--pickles and relishes, canned fruit, preserves and jellies, and canned vegetables. Remaining winners will receive ribbons.

Mrs. Stirl says that this year a new addition in the canning division has been opened to youth. To stimulate interest, Ball Corp. is offering the same prizes as the adult group. Each participant must plan and exhibit menus for meals for one day, including breakfast, lunch and dinner. The menu must follow guide lines suggested for good method of preparation, utilizing food available. Also, three jars of home canned foods must be exhibited with the menu.

For further information, contact Mrs. Stirl or Mrs. Dee Lockhart.

Jais says: "Defending against notrump, you play an unnecessarily high card of your own suit when your entry lies in a high-ranking suit, a low card when your entry is in a low suit."

You open the queen of hearts. East takes his ace and returns the five. At this point, it is imperative that you play the jack to ask for a spade lead if your partner ever gets in.

Your partner gets in promptly since South immediately leads the 10 of diamonds and lets it ride to East's king.

He thinks for a while because South has bid a spade and wonders if you really were asking for a spade lead or just showing solid hearts.

Finally, he believes you and leads a spade. After all, if it turns out that he should have led a club he can blame you.

You produce the ace of spades and run off three heart tricks.

If you're a really nice partner you'd congratulate him for having read the signal. If he's equally nice, he might well praise you first with something like, "Fine suit preference signal, partner." (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Anderson Narrows VP Choice To 3 Candidates

By MIKE SHANAHAN
Associated Press Writer
DES MOINES, Iowa
(AP)—John B. Anderson has narrowed his choice of vice presidential candidates to three possibilities—former Wisconsin Gov. Patrick Lucey, Boston Mayor Kevin White and former Texas Rep. Barbara Jordan—according to sources close to the independent presidential candidate.

The sources say Lucey, a former deputy national campaign director with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's failed presidential campaign, is the frontrunner to be offered the No. 2 spot with Anderson.

Closing the list to three prospective candidates followed an intensive, but unsuccessful effort to recruit Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., sources said.

Lucey, who also served as President Carter's ambassador to Mexico, is known to be willing to accept an offer to become Anderson's running mate.

A decision on the critical choice of Anderson's vice presidential candidate is expected soon, probably by early next week, when it will likely be announced in Washington.

Sources said White is still seriously considered because some campaign officials believe Anderson, a Republican congressman from Illinois, must choose a northeastern Democratic liberal to balance his ticket and ensure substantial voter support in the industrial states.

Ms. Jordan, who retired from Congress in 1978, is recalled for her performance as a speaker who spellbound delegates to the 1976 Democratic National convention which first nominated Carter.

As a black woman, she would appeal to minorities, among whom Anderson has been attempting to tap support which will most likely go to Carter in the Nov. 4 general election.

But senior Anderson campaign sources, who asked to remain unidentified, said late Wednesday that increasingly the choice seems likely to go to Lucey, a liberal Democratic politician who has lost much of his popularity in this own home state but who would appeal to disaffected Democrats who worked or voted for Kennedy.

Increasingly, sources said, Anderson's strength in states like Massachusetts, Connecticut and California has solidified so that Lucey may be a better choice not because of his home state, but because of a lifetime record of liberal, Democratic politics compared with Anderson's generally conservative voting record in the House.

Anderson, meanwhile, continued a nationwide campaign tour running from Portland, Maine, to San Francisco and Los Angeles.

At a farm outside Des Moines, Anderson was scheduled to discuss agricultural problems with Richard Higginbottom, then tour his farm aboard a tractor. After that, visits were planned for both the Iowa and Minnesota state fairs before flying on to Minneapolis, where Anderson was to address a rally.

In Chicago on Wednesday,

Anderson noted that Reagan has proposed re-establishing some formal U.S. ties with Taiwan.

Your Birthday

August 22, 1980

Some wonderful opportunities which could prove quite profitable or beneficial in some manner will be coming your way this year. Take advantage of them. Don't be critical to the point where they're withdrawn.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Today is not the time to get reckless by making changes in procedures which have proven profitable and reliable. Don't mess around with a winner. Romance, travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph which begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You're exceptionally lucky today in most things which don't involve money. Stay away from gambling or speculation and you should remain fortunate.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your generosity is likely to be imposed upon today by one to whom you'll offer a hand, but who won't be satisfied till he or she has your arm.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) An idea or plan that you have looks very promising on the surface, but there may be flaws that you can't see. Test it before putting it into practice.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Rewarding situations could fall into your lap today. However, you must manage your gains prudently or you're apt to blow the whole wad and have nothing to show for it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Things are going your way today, and that's wonderful. Make certain that you don't let this go to your head and flaunt it in front of others.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Someone may do something exceptionally nice for you today, but you could wrongly think you have to repay this person by telling a sensitive secret.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) It would be a mistake today to ask someone who is friendly toward you to pull strings in an area in which he would be betraying another. Don't.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Others will willingly respond to your directives or requests, but only if you show them you'll reciprocate with the same consideration you're asking.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Others are drawn to you today because they like you, but you could quickly lose your popularity if you don't live up to your word or behave too unpredictably.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be forewarned today not to become too involved with a person of questionable reputation. He or she will spoil what you have going.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You're extremely fortunate today when teamed up with a partner, provided your goals are in harmony. Teamwork is effective only when both pull together.

Grimm Willing To Sink $3 Million Into Titanic

By ARNOLD ZEITLIN Associated Press Writer BOSTON (AP)—Texas millionaire Jack Grimm, who spent $1 million to find the sunken luxury liner Titanic, says he's willing to leave it in its cold grave. But he's also willing to spend another $3 million to get to its safe.

His searchers, aboard the H.J.W. Fay, were heading for dock in Boston today carrying evidence that convinced them they have located the 68-year-old hulk of the proud British ship 350 miles off Newfoundland.

Grimm said Wednesday he was convinced enough by the search party's findings to spend $3 million to reactivate a 51-foot submarine with 9-foot robot arms to cut through the Titanic's hull next May or June.

"We just want to recover the safe in the purser's office," said Grimm, 55, of Abilene. The purser was handling money and valuables aboard ship.

"I don't know what's in the safe. One English magazine reported the safe contained a $125 million shipment of diamonds," he said, adding their worth could be nearly $300 million at current exchange rates.

He said the search already has cost him in excess of $1 million.

"It'll cost approaching $1 million to outfit the submarine Aluminaut and another $2 million to conduct the dive," he said.

"My banker is looking at me very closely."

The American search party aboard the H.J.W. Fay reported Friday that a sonar scanning sled submerged beneath the Atlantic located what appeared to be the sunken ship's outlines at 12,000 feet.

Stormy weather prevented the searchers from lowering a television camera, and the mission was called off Sunday.

"With the sonar images, we can prove this is the right ship," said Grimm. "We had the configuration of the ship, 882.5 feet long, 95 feet wide, 175 feet tall from keel to stacks. It was one of a kind."

"I've already laid claim. We will be filing papers in the United States, Canada and England."

Grimm said he planned to be on the Aluminaut when it dives next summer. He said its robot arms will cut a hole with a torch in the starboard hull and lift out the safe and other items.

Even if the safe doesn't contain diamonds, Grimm is sure it will contain the valuables of its passengers, who included some of the day's most prominent society figures.

The Titanic, the largest of its day at 46,328 tons and billed as unsinkable, struck an iceberg on its maiden voyage April 15, 1912, and sank. A total of 1,517 of the 2,200 aboard perished, including both pursers.

"We'll never raise the Titanic," said Grimm, who has launched searches for the Loc Ness monster and Noah's Ark. "It's a tomb for 1,500 people. It would cost $200 million using modern technology and take years to raise."

Grimm wouldn't reveal how riches aboard would be shared among the searchers, saying only, "I've put up the money... and the man who has the gold, makes the rules."

Opposes Reagan Appearance At Two-Day Religious Rally

By SHARON HERBAUGH Associated Press Writer DALLAS (AP)—Ronald Reagan's participation at a two-day religious forum could link the Republican presidential nominee too closely with an emerging alliance of fundamentalist leaders, says a delegate to next month's state-GOP convention.

And delegate Maury Schermann said Wednesday he plans to introduce a resolution denouncing the "religious overtones" of the National Affairs Briefing aimed at rallying ministers and laymen at the ballot box in November.

Schermann said he is outraged that Reagan, former Treasury Secretary and Texas Gov. John Connally and Rep. Phillip Crane, R-Ill., had agreed to speak to the non-denominational gathering about church participation in politics.

Also appearing at the two-day conference that opens today are Dallas Cowboys Coach Tom Landry; Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C.; anti-ERA activist Phyllis Schlafly and the Rev. Jerry Falwell, television evangelist.

Between 10,000 to 20,000 people are expected to hear speeches about the Equal Rights Amendment, rights of homosexuals and abortion.

The proposed "Freedom of Choice" resolution, to be introduced at the Republican state convention in San Antonio next month, would reaffirm the Constitution not only guarantees freedom, but "rejects the religious overtones within politics," said Schermann.

The Rev. James Robison, conference co-chairman and television evangelist, rejected allegations that the briefing stepped over the constitutional barriers separating church and government.

"The basis of separation of the church and state was intended to prevent a state-controlled, tax-supported church. The church has a duty to influence the direction this nation is heading and the people deciding policy," said Robison, who heads an expanding evangelist association near Fort Worth.

However, Schermann charged, "Mr. Robison wants to make the church and state as one entity. Obviously, he does not believe in the Constitution."

Schermann said he and other party leaders were concerned the campaigns of Reagan and other GOP candidates would be linked too closely to Robison and other fundamentalist leaders.

"I think some of the speakers don't know what they're getting themselves into. It scares the hell out of me, and if Mr. Reagan persists, I'll be against him," he said.

Krishnas Must Stay In Booths

ABILENE (AP)—A U.S. District Judge has ordered members of Krishna Consciousness, a religious sect, to remain in booths if they solicit money at the West Texas State Fair, adding the fair is not a government institution.

The Krishnas contended since the fair was operated by a government institution — the county — confining their activities to a booth infringing on their religious freedom under the First Amendment.

Federal Judge Hal Woodward struck down the Krishnas' request to roam the fairgrounds in a ruling late Tuesday.

"Although a Texas statute authorizes a county to operate a fair, such a fair cannot be construed as one of the traditional governmental functions such as levying taxes, health, fire and police protection," Woodward said.

Files Suit On Moonies In Bid To See Daughter

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—For five years, Don Kieffer has been fighting to see his daughter. His wish came true in U.S. District Court here — but she was testifying against him in a $1 million suit he filed against the Unification Church.

Kieffer's civil suit contends the church recruited his adopted daughter, now 21, when she was a minor, exercised "mind control methods" over her and "wrongfully deprived him of his natural parental right."

Jana Kieffer's court appearance Tuesday and Wednesday satisfied one of his goals: "to bring her into court and see if she's all right." But she disputed his claims, "I don't think brainwashing goes on. You can't control somebody's mind. That's ridiculous," she told Judge Shane Devine.

She said she still is a member of the church founded by the Rev. Sun Myung Moon, a Korean industrialist and evangelist, and its affiliate, Collegiate Association for the Research of Principals.

Miss Kieffer left her new Hampshire home in June 1975, joining her divorced mother at the Unification Church seminary in

4 Children Perish In Dallas Fire

DALLAS (AP)—Four children died early today when fire swept through their home, Dallas fire authorities said.

Three other children and the victim's grandmother were able to flee to safety before flames engulfed the brick home in the Oak Cliff section of Dallas, according to Fire Capt. Lewis Epps.

The victims were identified as Latoneal Hodge, 15, Feliesha Hodge, 14, Mark Hodge, 11 and Rhonda Hodge, 8. Three of the children were found huddled in a closet and the fourth was found in a bed, firemen said.

All four were believed to have died of smoke inhalation, he said.

Fireman Kenneth Pigg suffered apparently minor burns in a vain attempt to rescue the children, Epps said.

Epps said the grandmother, Loraine Adkins, was the only adult at the home at the time the fire broke out.

The home was fully engulfed in flames at the time the firemen arrived, Epps said. He said it was believed to have been accidental, but said the cause was under investigation.

Barrytown, N.Y. Gloria Kieffer had joined the church after she was divorced in 1973 from Kieffer, who won custody of their four children, including Jana and another child from her previous marriage whom he had adopted in 1962.

Miss Kieffer said her mother introduced her to the church and she joined because "I just felt very insecure living where I was. I just didn't see anything happening to my life that I could look forward to."

Kieffer refused his daughter permission to join the church, but he was "totally unaware of how to retrieve her. I tried to keep it as a family matter, tried to resolve it by writing to her and phoning her. But she seemed to be quite hostile to me."

When he tried to visit her in August 1975, he was told she wasn't there.

"In early 1977, I met my first ex-Moonie and she just stood my hair on end with the story of what had happened to her," Kieffer said.

Legal action began that year after his ex-wife, then remarried, moved to Manchester and tried to contact his two younger children, Kieffer said.

Fearing she would try to bring the other children into the church, Kieffer sought to cancel his ex-wife's visitation rights and

Parents Are Threatened

WINONA, Minn. (AP)—A 14-year-old Winona girl, apparently inspired by a TV movie about tarantulas, has been charged in Juvenile Court after threatening her parents with one of the hairy spiders, police said.

A tarantula seized by police for evidence was drowned in rubbing alcohol.

Police Chief Robert Carstenbrock said the girl, whose name was withheld because of her age, was charged Tuesday in Winona County Juvenile Court with theft, making terroristic threats and assault.

The charges were filed after her parents had complained that she allegedly stole the family's grocery money, hurled a pop bottle at her father and threatened to burn down the house, police said.

have his daughter produced in court.

The visitation rights were canceled in late 1977, but the Hillsboro County Superior Court said it could not compel the church to produce Miss Kieffer.

After amending his suit to seek damages against the church, the trial opened here this summer.

So far, ex-members of the church, a psychiatrist, and Kieffer's ex-wife have testified, and the trial is expected to last through the week.

Asked about seeing her relatives for the first time in five years, Miss Kieffer said, "The whole thing is just very upsetting."

Funeral arrangements were pending at Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Report Catches 6 Times Greater...

Hurricane Allen Blessing To Texas Shrimpers

BROWNSVILLE (AP)—Hurricane Allen blessed local shrimpers with catches up to six times greater than before the storm and the windfall has come at a time when they need it the most.

"It came when we needed it because prices of diesel fuel and the imports from Mexico were about to bankrupt the industry down here," said shrimper Carl Gayman.

The hurricane stirred up Gulf shrimp on the ocean bottom two weeks ago and the heavy catches should last another week or two, he said.

"It will be a shot in the arm for everybody, depending on how long it lasts. It will sure salvage the year for us," Gayman said.

One of the largest shrimp fleets in the world operates out of Brownsville and Port Isabel, with 500 to 700 boats.

The large harvests are welcome news in South Texas where many shrimpers last season applied for small Business Administration loans because of a dismal catch.

Shrimpers blamed the poor year on heavy rains that killed young shrimp, high diesel prices and the closing of Mexican shrimp grounds to U.S. boats.

"It was shaping up to be a bad season two years in a row. I think we were looking at a lot of bankruptcies," said Melvin Power of the WPB Shrimp Producers Inc. of Port Isabel.

Gayman said his boats were hauling in only 200 pounds a night before the storm. However, he said travelers now are taking in up to 1,200 pounds in a day's work.

A check with other shrimp fishermen in Brownsville and Port Isabel shows similar catch increases following the storm.

"It happens after every hurricane," said Power. "It activates the ocean bottom waters and puts the shrimp closer to the surface. It probably won't last more than a week or two.

After the seas calmed from Hurricane Allen, shrimpers headed out to see if the storm would have the same result as past ones.

"Some went out Aug. 11 and on the 12th, they started getting real good catches," said Carlos Villarreal of Trans-Gulf Trawlers Inc. in Brownsville.

Villarreal said his company's seven boats have been averaging between 1,000 to 1,500 a day per trawler.

"The shrimp are out in the daytime. Usually they're just out at night. And that helps the crew. They can see more of what they're doing," he said.

Guy Pete, a longtime Brownsville shrimper, said every storm he's been through since the 1933 hurricane has been a boon to the industry.

"You know you get the good with the bad. The hurricane does a lot of bad things. But with every hurricane the shrimp show up and they show up good," Pete said. "It'll make it a fair season."

Pete said some of his boats also have pulled up file cabinets, window frames, furniture and other debris that the storm washed to sea.

The heavy rains from Allen also will help the bays and estuaries where young shrimp mature.

"It flushes out all the bays. They get a build-up of pesticides and insecticides and it collects in the bottom sediment. This will clean them out," he said.

"That will be good for I guess three years."

Fraud Reported In Allen Claims

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Almost half of the 9,000 South Texans who have sought disaster aid for damages caused by Hurricane Allen apparently are giving false information to relief workers, federal officials say.

The disturbing pattern was noticed Wednesday morning during a meeting of directors of the six federal aid centers.

"In at least two of the six federal aid centers, interviewers are being besieged by alleged victims who all claim they lost exactly $200 worth of food while electrical power was out," federal coordinating officer Dale Milford said.

Federal officials refused to specify the two centers.

"We have indications that as many as half of those visiting the disaster assistance centers are telling something less than the truth about their disaster-related losses," Milford said.

In some cases, federal employees sent to verify property damage have found home addresses turned out to be vacant lots, he said.

Suspected fraud cases will be turned over to the FBI and state officials for investigation and prosecution.

As of Wednesday morning, more than 9,000 South Texans had registered with centers operated by the Federal Emergency Management Agency.

The aid offices in Corpus Christi, Alice, Brownsville, Harlingen, Edinburg and Port Isabel are "one-stop" centers with representatives of federal, state and local agencies involved in relief efforts.

An office in Port Aransas operated a week but was closed to move workers to Lower Rio Grande Valley locations.

Jack Simpson, director of FEMA centers, said federal interviewers are skilled at detecting fraud cases but must process them anyway.

Misrepresentation cannot be documented until a verifier visits the site, he said.

Bill McCada of FEMA said fraud cases always turn up after a disaster but not in the numbers found in South Texas this time.

"Maybe we're naive, but we've never encountered this kind of situation," said McCada.

"From the American taxpayer's point of view, he's not going to lose anything because nothing will be given out without the verification," he added.

'Wanted: White Collar Workers'...

Priest Shortage Worldwide Problem

By DENISE BRAZIEL, Associated Press Writer
A bold billboard towers over a busy Miami intersection in Florida: "White Collar Workers Needed." This is no plea for briefcase-toting business types - the ad recruits priests. Roman Catholic authorities in Florida say the state is in "desperate need" of holy men - with many fewer priests per person than the national average.

The priest shortage is not confined to Florida, however, according to the Rev. Caesar Russo, vocational director of the Diocese of St. Augustine. He said it's a national and worldwide problem.

"There is no doubt that there is a U.S. shortage," concluded Bob Wonderly, spokesman for the U.S. Catholic Conference in Washington, D.C., "but the situation is turning around."

Wonderly said there were 59,192 Roman Catholic priests in the United States in 1970, the most ever. By 1979, the figure had declined to 58,430, but this year the total number has risen to 58,621.

He declined to estimate the number of priests needed within the U.S. church: "There are never really enough."

Wonderly also declined to connect the shortage of priests with Tuesday's announcement by the Catholic Conference that married Episcopal priests will be permitted to become Roman Catholic priests and remain married, under a plan approved by the Vatican. The two matters are "completely unrelated," he said.

The U.S. average of priests per person of the Roman Catholic faith, while still indicating a need for more priests, is far better than that in some areas of the world, notably Latin America and Africa.

According to Vatican statistics, America has roughly 120 priests for every 100,000 Catholics. The numbers of priests for Latin America and southern Africa, respectively, are 16 and 33 per 100,000 worshippers. Last month, the Vatican's Congregation for the Clergy appealed to dioceses in America and Europe where the rate is 93 priests per 100,000 people to send more men to

2 Playdays Set
By Sundowners
The Sundowner Riding Club will have an Open Playday Thursday, Aug. 21 and Thursday, Aug. 28 at the Sundowner Arena on 13th St. Signups begin at 7:30 p.m. and the riding starts at 8.

A club spokesman said the competition is open to everyone and encouraged everyone to enter or just come out and watch the action.

countries which sorely need priests. But the appeal comes at a time when bishops, even in priest-rich regions, feel they can barely cover their own parish needs. Reasons for the lack of priests are hard to define, priests say.

Wonderly noted the steady level of resignations from the priesthood that followed the controversial decisions of Vatican II in the mid 1960s and said interest in the priesthood is only now picking up again.

"It's not anything against the church," said the Rev. Thomas O'Dwyer, dean of students at the Archdiocese of Miami. "It's really an accumulation of things." Materialism and a lack of some sense of commitment by many men could be blamed in part, he said.

"The problem points out the instability in our own culture. There is a certain amount of narcissism" and life-long commitments aren't often made or demanded, said Russo.

The United Nations was created in 1945. The Moscow declaration of 1943 - issued by the United States, Britain, China and the Soviet Union - had declared the need of an international body to replace the League of Nations. At the Dumbarton Oaks Conference of 1944, the same nations drafted proposals for a U.N. charter.

After prostate surgery
By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - Some time ago I had a prostate operation - a TUR. Now I find that when I reach a climax during sex nothing happens. Does this go with that type of operation or does the fluid find its way out of the system without harm? Should I refrain from sex because of this?

DEAR READER - I'm asked this question rather frequently and it tells me that many patients who have a prostate operation don't understand what its effects are. As you probably appreciate, a high percentage of men, as they get older, do require prostate surgery so it is an important point.

In the type of surgery that you had, the little valve at the outlet of the bladder is usually affected. As a result, when you reach a climax the secretions actually flow backward into the bladder. Technically, we call this retrograde ejaculation. All the other sensations are normally there. Of course, the secretions are then eliminated the next time you empty your bladder.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 15-6, Prostate Gland, to give you more information about its functions and the problems you can have with it, including cancer of the prostate. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I have read that no paternal blood actually flows through the fetus blood and there's no direct fetus blood flow to the mother's blood during pregnancy. Then just how does the developing baby get its oxygen and nourishment?

DEAR READER - Most people think of the circulation as the blood that flows through the arteries and veins. Actually that's only the tip of the iceberg. Fluid leaves the blood vessels entirely and moves out into the tissue spaces. That clear fluid carries with it the nutrients for your cells and also the dissolved oxygen for your cells.

After the fluid has released its oxygen to the cells and its nutrients and picked up cell carbon dioxide, it returns to the circulation.

A similar situation exists between the mother and her developing baby. The exchange organ, of course, is the placenta. There is a membrane between the circulation of the baby and the circulation of the mother within the placenta itself. The fluid from the blood of the mother in these spaces gives off oxygen and nutrients that pass through the thin membranes within the placenta. These are picked up by the fluids and circulation that comes from the baby.

Since this thin membrane separates the blood from the baby and the mother, there is no actual circulation between the two in terms of the arteries, veins or capillaries actually joining each other. This separation makes it possible for the baby to have a different blood type from the mother without any adverse interactions.

The ultimate result is the circulation to the baby is a great deal like the circulation to your own body cells in terms of transferring nutrients and oxygen.

In some ways the placenta behaves like the lungs. Blood doesn't go directly into the air sacs either. The thin capillary membrane separates the blood from the air in the lungs. Carbon dioxide and oxygen pass through the membrane into the open air sacs.

Cycle Club Sets Dues, Picks Colors

Club colors and dues were voted on by the Snyder Roadriders, a newly formed motorcycle club, at a meeting Aug. 18 in the community room of Snyder National Bank.

The colors are black and gold and dues are $10 per person or $15 per couple for one year.

This is a family organization and children under 16 may join with their parents for $10.00 per year for each child, a spokesman said.

Elected as club officers were: Nick Spells, president, Dorothy Broker, vice-president, Cindy Brewster, secretary-treasurer and Herby Thomas, road captain.

The purpose of the organization is to make the general public more aware of motorcycles and to help promote motorcycle safety.

Broadcasts To Russia Being Jammed

MOSCOW (AP)—Heavy interference, sounding like buzzsaws and garbled voices, drowned out American radio broadcasts to the Soviet Union for a second day today raising speculation the Kremlin was trying to silence Russian-language reports of the widespread strikes in neighboring Poland.

The Voice of America accused Soviet authorities of jamming its Russian-language short-wave broadcasts for the first time in seven years. A Soviet Foreign Ministry spokesman denied the VOA claim, declaring that "like previous ones, it is an invention." But an official at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow said monitoring by the embassy showed the broadcasts were being "heavily jammed."

"We do not know why the Soviets have taken this unfortunate step backward or whether this action will be temporary or long-lived," said a State Department spokesman in Washington.

In London, the British Broadcasting Corp. said its Russian-language programs to the Soviet Union were also being jammed for the first time since 1973. West German officials said their country's Russian-language broadcasts were being jammed for the first time since 1968.

Soviet officials said the denial that VOA was being jammed also applied to BBC and West German claims. A BBC spokesman said two other times the Soviets jammed its Russian-language broadcasts were in 1968, before the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia, and in 1956, before the invasion of Hungary.

While many observers speculated that the latest jamming was linked to current labor strife in Poland, some analysts said it could be for other reasons, including the general deterioration of East-West relations.

The broadcasts from America, Britain and West Germany are believed to have a Soviet audience numbering in the millions. Many Soviet citizens openly admit they listen to the foreign broadcasts, which provide a counterpoint to heavily-censored and propagandized Soviet government broadcasts. The foreign transmissions are regularly denounced in the Soviet press.

Speculate Soviet Intervention To End Strike Crisis In Poland

BONN, West Germany (AP)—Western Europe's newspapers are speculating about the possibility of Soviet intervention to help defend Poland's beleaguered Communist regime.

"Invasion every 12 years?" asked the headline in the independent Madrid paper Diario 16, one of many wondering aloud if Soviet troops would end the Polish crisis as they did the Hungarian revolution in 1956 and the liberalization of Czechoslovak communism in 1968.

Except for some Communist Party organs, West European newspapers are virtually unanimous in predicting that the Polish strikers' demands for free trade unions and other social and political reforms will have vast repercussions for Moscow and the rest of the Soviet Bloc.

"The political system of Poland is being shaken," said Sweden's liberal Expressen. "What started as a strike for higher pay has now turned into social unrest that the authorities can no longer control."

Le Monde, France's most respected paper, claimed that the Soviets are hated more in Poland than the Germans were during World War II.

"This is truly the worst moral and political defeat they have suffered since the war," wrote editor Jacques Fauvet in a front-page editorial.

Western Europe's governments have been carefully reserved in their public comments. But government circles and diplomatic communities in all the capitals are buzzing with speculation about which way the Polish crisis will turn.

Among the Communist exceptions to the general press reaction, the unswervingly pro-Moscow French party's L'Humanite lauded Polish communism and said it had brought a war-devastated nation into "the front ranks of the world economic powers." It accused France of demanding for the workers of Poland what it refused to give its own.

Dear Abby

'Sleep-Over' Dates Cause Parents Restless Nights

By Abigail Van Buren
1980 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Our 20-year-old daughter is living at home again after three unsuccessful attempts at apartment living. She works, but pays us no rent. She's been dating a young man for a short period of time and goes out with him once a week. She stays all night at his apartment, comes home in the morning, changes her clothes and goes to work. This is upsetting my husband and me. We've told her so, but she says she is doing no wrong because she "loves" him. She also says she has to live her own life, and if we don't get off her back she will move out and we'll never see her again. We are afraid that this direction she has taken will hurt her. How can he love her if he sees her only once a week, and then just for a sleep-over date? If this relationship doesn't lead to marriage, and she thinks she "loves" another one, and another one, and still another, what kind of person will she become?

Abby, it's so hard for us to accept this and be quiet, yet we don't want to lose our daughter. What should we do?
UPSET PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS: Tell her that as long as she lives under your roof, she'll have to abide by your rules, which do not include sleeping out. If she wants to move, you can't stop her, but I doubt if she will because she's not financially able to hack it alone.

DEAR ABBY: Recently the director of the ballet company of which presidential candidate Ronald Reagan's son is a member felt compelled to issue a statement to the press that the younger Reagan and all the other male members of the troupe were "straight" and had "nice girlfriends." It is a sad commentary on our society's attitude toward human sexuality that such a statement was made at all.

Implicit in that announcement were the following erroneous assumptions: 1) That male participation in ballet requires lengthy justification lest it threaten our traditional view of masculinity and femininity; 2) that all male ballet dancers are suspect and therefore proof of their masculinity is required — i.e., having girlfriends; 3) that without proof of their manliness, people might think they were gay; and 4) that being gay is bad.

Do you have any additional observations on the above?
R.K. IN NEW ORLEANS

DEAR R.K.: No. Right on! Readers? Write on.

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to the reader who was surprised and disgusted to receive an invitation to a "potluck wedding feast."

The bride and groom were no doubt members of the Society of Friends (i.e. Quakers).

Among Quakers, the potluck wedding feast is traditional, and it would be bad form for Quakers to serve a catered wedding dinner such as one finds at a mainline Protestant wedding.

Of course, it's also possible that these folks are just cheapskates — not Quakers.

A QUAKER IN MAINE

DEAR QUAKER: This Quaker tradition is news to me, as I'm sure it will be to my disgusted correspondent — plus a few million other readers.

Quakers who invite a non-Quaker to a "potluck wedding feast" should explain that it's an old Quaker custom, lest the guest thinks this "Friend" is a cheapskate.

(Problems? You'll feel better if you get them off your chest. For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Please enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Police Probe Thefts

Snyder police are investigating reports of a theft and an unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. The theft was reported by Tommy Pherigo who told officer Kerry Fritz he was missing about $300 worth of tools. The tools were reportedly taken from the construction site at Cogdell Memorial Hospital. That matter was reported Wednesday.

Also received Wednesday was Thurman Allen's report that someone had taken his 1957 Ford without his permission. Allen himself found the vehicle at 2409 Ave. G. Handling that report was officer Buddy Kinney.

Walks Aid Astros' Win; Pittsburgh The Victim

HOUSTON (AP)—Professor Joe Morgan of the Houston Astros recently gave a lesson on the art of taking pitches and he practiced his sermon well on Pittsburgh ace Jim Bibby Wednesday night en route to a 5-1 victory.

Morgan tied a club record with four walks off Bibby, who lost for only the third time this season. Noting Bibby's wildness, Morgan encouraged his teammates to force Bibby to throw strikes.

"A lot of guys want to hit and I do too, but we are in the process of trying to win a pennant and anything that will help us win, that's what we want to do," Morgan said. "The guys are seeing that a walk will help get us on base."

ton's sixth in a row and kept the Astros in first place in the National League Western Division. Pittsburgh remained two games ahead of Montreal in the NL East following Los Angeles' second straight victory over the Expos.

Brett Pounds Rangers

ARLINGTON (AP)—The Texas Rangers tried everything to stop George Brett Wednesday night, including a virtual carte blanche to first base.

But the strategy of intentional walks eventually handed the Kansas City Royals a 5-3 victory in 12 innings — the eighth straight win for the runaway leaders of the American League West.

times Brett was walked intentionally during the game.

"It made me feel kind of good to hear the Ranger fans booing their own team," Brett said.

"The fans here have really been great. They haven't really been all that receptive towards me in the past," he added.

Brett singled in a run in the first inning, and hit his 15th homer of the year in the third inning.

Dan Quisenberry picked up his tenth victory against four losses in relief of Larry Gura. And Rennie Martin earned his

Season Tickets

August 22 is the final day to renew season tickets for the 1980 Snyder Tiger football season.

The school business office reports a number of individuals have yet to renew their tickets, which cost $15 for six home games. Tickets will be $3 each at the gate.

Also, the office notes that several people have sent in money for tickets but have not picked them up.

NL Determines Dates For Baseball Playoffs; Series Starts Oct. 14

NEW YORK (AP)—The dates for the baseball playoffs have been set and one thing seems probable — the Kansas City Royals will be there.

The third game, to be hosted by the AL champion on Friday, Oct. 17, also will be a night game.

Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, American League President Lee MacPhail and National League President Chub Feeney announced the schedules for best-of-five championship series and the 77th World Series Wednesday following a meeting attended by 12 teams. The only team from the American League West was the runaway leader, the Royals.

The only day games scheduled will be Saturday, Oct. 18 and Sunday, Oct. 19, if necessary. The Sunday contest will begin at 3:30 p.m.

The AL East was represented by New York, Baltimore and Milwaukee. National League teams present were Cincinnati, Houston, Los Angeles, Montreal, the New York Mets, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and San Francisco.

The joint announcement said the NL Championship series will begin on Tuesday night, Oct. 7 in the stadium of the East champion. The West champion will host the first game of the AL Championship series on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 8.

The World Series, which dates back to 1903 and has been played annually since 1905, will begin Tuesday night, Oct. 14, in the National League park. All games held in the NL park will be played at night, including the sixth and seventh games, if necessary.

Western Texas Signs Two To Judo Team

The judo program at Western Texas College will be strengthened this fall with the enrollment of two scholarship students, Eric Johnson from Rogers, Ark., and Blake Riggs from Midland.

The WTC judo team, coached by Dr. Shel Hillis, has won the Texas Intercollegiate judo championship for the past three years. Judo will be offered as an evening course (HPE 211) in the new semester and non-students interested in learning judo are invited to enroll for the class.

Johnson won first place in both the state and regional competition in 1980. In 1979, at the age of 16, he competed in the 16-18 age bracket in the junior olympics in Lincoln, Neb., and placed third. Later in 1979 he placed first in the AAU nationals. He is a five-time first place winner in Arkansas state competition.

Eric and his younger brother, Kurt, are coached by their father, Bob Johnson, in the basement of their home. Eric is interested in engineering and will probably concentrate his studies at WTC in that area. Riggs holds four Texas state championships and has been national YMCA champion twice. He placed second or third in numerous national AAU and U.S. Judo Foundation tournaments.

Jr. High Physicals Set For Next Week

Snyder junior high students who plan to participate in any school sponsored athletic event this year are urged to take physicals next week.

Physicals will be given at the same times on Aug. 26, also at the field house.

Athletic director John Gary also notes that any high school student who has not yet taken an athletic physical may do so at the above times.

No student will be allowed to participate in school sponsored sports without having had a physical.

Boy's Club News

Scurry County Boy's Club concluded its organized summer recreation program here yesterday with finals in three events. Lucio Ramirez won the badminton championship by edging David R. Rios 11-9. Bobby Velasquez took third by defeating Earl Speed, 11-7.

Ira Plans Work Day

IRA--Ira Booster Club will have a workday Aug. 23 from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. at the school football field. Those interested in helping work on the bleachers are urged to come.

In angleball - a version of California Pass - the Stacey Alls squad stopped Lucio Ramirez and bunch, 20-14. Bobby Velasquez led the winners with nine goals. Jay Clark had five for the losing team. The Ramirez group led 13-12 at halftime.

Aug. 26 the Booster Club will hold a meeting in Towle Park, down from the pavilion, at 7:30 p.m.

Coach Tom Pierson will introduce the 1980-81 football players, cheerleaders, new girl's coach and new superintendent.

Following the introductions will be an ice cream and cake "social". Everyone in the Ira community is invited. Please bring a cake or ice cream if you can.

Halftime score was 35-31 in favor of the Ramirez bunch.

Volleyball

Freshman volleyball workouts will begin Aug. 25 from 7 to 9 p.m., notes Coach Patty Grimmitt.

All girls must have a physical before they will be allowed to work out.

Weaver Ho-Hums 3-Day Suspension

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—The surging Baltimore Orioles, attempting to overtake the first-place New York Yankees in the American League East, might have to play three games in the near future without Manager Earl Weaver. But according to the fiery Weaver, he's not going anywhere.

be appealed, but at Anaheim Stadium shortly before the Orioles' game against the California Angels Wednesday night.

While fines and suspensions are considered serious business by most, Weaver was anything but serious while making out a lineup card in his office.

Weaver was suspended for three days and fined an unspecified amount by AL President Lee MacPhail Wednesday as the result of a run-in with the umpires during a game against the Yankees last Saturday.

Baltimore General Manager Hank Peters announced the ruling would

"I'm going to manage the team all year," said Weaver, who only Tuesday signed a contract to manage the Orioles through the 1982 season. "I don't believe in fines or suspensions. My plans are to manage, why not?"

"I don't pay any attention to this stuff. This is juvenile. As far as I'm concerned, I laugh at it."

The 50-year-old veteran skipper whose teams have won four AL pennants, six Eastern Division titles and one World Series crown since he took over as manager on July 11, 1968, allegedly hit umpire Rich Garcia in the eye with his cap during an argument in the Yankees-Orioles game last Saturday night in Baltimore.

Jr. Club Championship Junior Club Championship play was to begin at Snyder Country Club this morning. The tournament concludes Friday.

Tomorrow's tee times and the players entered are as follows:

Scramble Card Filled; Top Golfers Expected

Western Texas College Golf Coach Bob O'Day reports a full field for Saturday's Florida Scramble, to be held at the college golf course.

The 36-team tournament will tee off at 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday. Each team consists of four players. Play is select shot, to be flighted on the first nine-hole scores.

Anyone still wishing to enter will be placed on a waiting list.

O'Day added he expects a strong field, including many of the incoming freshmen who will play on the 1980-81 Western team, several returning sophomore team members, and a group of former WTC players.

Among those playing in the tournament will be Texas Tech basketball coach Gerald Myers, assistant Rob Evans, former SHS coach John Connally, and former college and professional football quarterback-punter Sammy Baugh.

WBA Slates League Meet

Snyder Women's Bowling Association will hold an organizational meeting at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 26 in the banquet room of The Shack.

Refreshments will be served at the meeting which is being held to organize for the coming season and allow league secretaries to pick up their supplies and kits.

Tigers Scrimmage

Snyder varsity football and volleyball squads were scheduled to scrimmage area opponents today.

The local volleyball team is slated in Seminole for a four-team scrimmage.

Gridders are scheduled against Vernon at 6 p.m. in Stamford's Bulldog Stadium.

Spirits High At 'Dog Camp

By BILL McCLELLAN

DOING SOME work on our upcoming football section (due out Aug. 31) and a Western Texas College back-to-school tabloid has sent me off trailing a bunch of area and local coaches this week. I'd be remiss if I didn't mention something about the enthusiasm oozing out all over the area this year.

Now I'll admit that enthusiasm and attitudes are two words coaches favor most when talent is thin, but this year that's not necessarily the case.

TAKE SIX ants and place them together on a table and watch what happens. Sooner or later they're going to head out together, but the first thing you'll see them do is scatter out all over the place.

That's Ira's Bulldogs. Only in this case the ants are some pretty good sized kids.

ENTHUSIASM-FILLED Coach Tom Pierson has installed the "Quail" offense, and if the name makes no sense to you it will after you've watched it just one time. "Quail" is no slam on the character of these kids, rather it's the multiple option-type offense that Pierson has invented.

Out of the "Quail", Pierson's bunch apparently can run, pass, lateral, run, pass again, sell chances to the homecoming raffle, run some more and eat popcorn — and all from the same basic formation. These guys cover almost as much ground sideways as they do up and down the field, and believe me, they DO get up and down the field.

CALL IT Dog Delirium or whatever, Ira is high on football in 1980. And why not? They return seven starters to a six-man team, including three guys who run the 100-yard dash in under 10.8. Pierson has at least two athletes that stand 6-2 to 6-3 and one that lines up at 6-8.

"Our attitude has been fantastic this year," Pierson relayed while we were watching his troops warm up under the lights one evening this week. "I'm tickled to death. Our workouts have been great. I could probably keep them out here until midnight and get no complaints."

PIERSON WORKS the group out at 7 in the morning and again at 8 in the evening. His reasoning is three-fold: It's cooler. He likes the idea of working under the lights in the evening. The late workouts enable parents to come out and share in the enthusiasm.

Pierson admits the competition in District 2-A is tough this season, but nevertheless he likes Ira's chances. I asked him to "rate" the district for me. He could stick Ira in where ever he wanted, or set them aside and rate just the other teams.

"I'M NOT going to leave us out," he responded emphatically. "I think we'll be right up there. I'd have to say the top three teams in the district would be us, Highland and Borden County (no special order there). But I don't think the winner will be 10 and 0. I think everybody will compete in this district."

Without a doubt Pierson lists enthusiasms as one of his team's assets. "It's definitely one of our strong points," he said. "In fact, if anybody's got a stronger attitude, I just don't know what they can do with it. I don't know how they can hold it down."

IRA PLAYS six district games this year, including tilts with Hermleigh and Borden County. The Snyder Daily News will review all three camps, as well as the Snyder Tigers, in the upcoming football issue.

Seeking Asylum In Dallas Area...

Family Flees Torture, Persecution In Afghanistan

PLANO (AP)—An Afghan airline official who said he had been tortured by Soviet secret police led his family across 150 miles of rugged mountains toward freedom and political asylum in the United States.

Aziz Hamid, 47, his wife, five children and elderly mother escaped Afghanistan on foot, fleeing from the Soviet invaders he said accused him of spying for the United States.

"In this country there is freedom," said Hamid, whose dramatic escape began more than a year ago in Kabul.

"I wanted to come here because it is a land of opportunity," he said.

Hamid and his family are the first Afghan refugees to seek political asylum in the Dallas area.

Hamid said the Russian secret police tortured him for two hours each night after his January 1979 arrest by sending electrical charges through wires to his toes and legs.

"They were asking if I was connected with the CIA," Hamid said.

"It was nonsense...the actual reason was my grandfather, on my mother's side, was related to the former king of Afghanistan, Mohammed Zahirshah."

After two weeks of interrogations, the secret police released him with orders that he was to stay home and not work for any government or foreign agency, Hamid said.

He said the Russians also confiscated his family's large land holdings.

"We had 70 acres of land in the eastern part of Afghanistan, a mill, tractors, a farm house," he said. "We didn't have any income to live on. At that time we decided to leave the country. My life was in danger. Secret police were watching me."

The family decided to escape, and late one night walked to a bus stop one by one - since the Soviets do not allow more than two people to walk together on Kabul streets - and traveled to Galwalabad.

They hid two days and three nights in a house they owned before leaving with Afghan guides who were to take them through the mountains to the Pakistani border, Hamid said.

"We hired a bus to take us near a town close to the boundary," Hamid said, "but it broke down. So we started walking."

Aided only by two donkeys - one for Hamid's 75-year-old mother and for him because his leg wounds had not healed - the family trudged over the mountains with little food and no extra clothes, he said.

They reached the border on May 4, 1979 and stayed in Peshawar two months while recovering from the journey. Then they went to Islamabad to seek visas and political asylum from the American consulate.

The family spent three and a half months in Islamabad and five and a half months in Frankfurt, West Germany, before receiving permission to enter the United States.

Hamid said he came to Plano because he had heard of the low unemployment rates in the area. They live with their sixth son, his wife and child.

The family, now penniless, has found no jobs despite three weeks of searching, he said.

Bulgarians are being urged by government planners to marry and have children to offset a low birthrate. They are encouraged by extra tax benefits and premiums. Single people under 30 must pay an extra 5 percent income tax or 10 percent if still unmarried after reaching age 30. But mothers earn a $5 monthly premium for their first baby, $20 for the second, and $50 for their third.
