President To Unveil Economic Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Carter's new economic program will cost about $29 billion, most of it in tax relief, with the benefits to be divided between individuals and business, congressional sources say.

Billed as an economic revitalization program, it will stress modest tax reductions and increased incentives for business investment.

However, administration officials say it will create several hundred thousand new jobs in 1981 and more in later years.

That isn't enough for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who told reporters after a White House briefing on the plan Monday that it is "a step forward" but that more should be done. Carter is expected to announce the program Thursday on the eve of the Labor Day weekend. Carter evidently hopes it may win him praise in Labor Day speeches by union leaders next Monday. One congressman who was briefed on the plan said it will include both tax incentives and direct spending to help the nation's sagging industrial sector to compete better with foreign business. The congressman and another source, neither of whom wanted to be identified, said the president will also propose a tax credit to help offset the steep $15 billion increase in Social Security payroll taxes scheduled to take effect in 1981.

Another tax credit will be proposed to reduce the so-called "marriage penalty" whereby married couples with two incomes pay a higher tax than two single persons.

Actual new spending on the program, excluding tax cuts, would be between $2 billion to $4 billion in fiscal 1981 with a request for authorization to spend a total of $7 billion, including spending after 1981, according to administration sources.

Some of the new spending will be on jobs training programs, sources said.

The president will propose that the program take effect next Jan. 1. He does not want Congress to act on it, however, until after the November election, fearing lawmakers would yield to election-year temptations to tack on other benefits to win votes, but which could boost the budget deficit and aggravate inflation.

Congressional sources say a key feature of the program to revitalize business will be to allow faster tax write-offs for investments in new plants and equipment, with special incentives for investments in distressed areas, such as in Michigan and Pennsylvania.

In addition, Carter probably will reiterate his earlier plans for major investments in mass transportation, including improved rail and port facilities, financed by funds from the so-called "windfall" tax on oil company revenues.

Striking Poles Continue Talks

GDANSK, Poland (AP)—Striking Polish workers, still adamant in their demands, resumed negotiations with the communist government today and raised the threat of a "catastrophic" nationwide general strike if they are not given free trade unions.

The threat came just hours after the workers won yet another concession, forcing the government to restore telephone links between the strike area on the Baltic coast and the rest of Poland.

Strike leaders said that concession might soften their position on some items, but they remained firm in demanding trade unions independent of government control. Florian Wisniewski, a member of the Inter-Factory Strike Committee, warned that continued refusal by the government to meet the demand might trigger a general strike, "and that would be a catastrophe."

It was not known whether the militant workers in Gdansk could orchestrate a general strike nationwide.

Some 20,000 workers at strike headquarters in the Lenin Shipyards here listened as Deputy Premier Mieczyslaw Jagielski sought to limit talks to economic issues, leaving out the political items. The talks were broadcast by loudspeaker.

But strike leader Lech Walesa insisted that the decision center on the demand for free unions, saying if that problem

Registration On Two Fronts Here

Registration of students for the fall term was underway today in Snyder Public Schools and at Western Texas College.

WTC registered sophomores Monday and was registering freshmen today, while local public schools were registering elementary school pupils today.

Secondary pupils in the public schools had pre-registered, except for some who are new in the district.

WTC begins classes Wednesday, but the public school pupils still have a few more holidays before they return to the books. They will report on Tuesday, Sept. 2, the day after Labor Day.

However, public school teachers and administrators were back on the job. Teachers had four days of in-service work scheduled for this week before taking off for the Labor Day holiday. Various workshops were in progress and sessions were scheduled for the teachers to prepare their classrooms for the new term.

Elementary teachers were conducting the registration in their respective schools.

Students who missed registration at Western Texas College Monday and Tuesday may register late this week, Dr. Duane Hood, Dean of Student Services, said.

Registration begins in the counseling center in the Student Center during morning and afternoon hours. Students may register there between 8:30 a.m. and 12 noon and 1-4 p.m.

Students who need to register during evening hours are to go to the office of the registrar in the administration building.

Full classes are underway, so students not yet enrolled are urged to register as quickly as possible to avoid missing class meetings.

Ask Us

Q—Who is responsible for maintaining the railroad crossings on the RS&P and when do they intend to repair them, especially those on 24th St. and 26th St.?

A—The railroad and the city work together on this, and Mickey Nunley, RS&P President, and John Gayle, city manager, said they would try to get together on it soon. This is the first complaint they have had in some time on the crossings.

Towle Park Pond Fish Stricken With Malady

A malady of some sort is striking fish in the Towle Park pond, causing the denizens of the deep to sicken, float to the top of the water and thrash about.

Those coming within arm's length of the water's edge are falling victim to children armed with nets and clubs. Some of the fish have been carted off, presumably to find their way into the family frying pan.

Scurry County Parks Superintendent J.K. Ward, however, is urging people not to eat the fish until it can be determined what is causing them to sicken and die. The problem was first noticed Monday morning, said Ward, and arrangements have been made to have the water tested for poisons.

But until the tests have been completed, Ward is asking people not to eat the fish. Ward said it is not known how many fish have been affected.

"They think it's lack of oxygen in the water," said Ward of the initial contacts he has made, but he quickly added that he wasn't positive of the diagnosis.

Ward said most of the fish that have been struck by the malady, whatever it is, have been carp, a few have been bass, and fewer still have been catfish.

One large catfish, however, was spotted at water's edge on the eastern end of the pond. Ward estimated that fish might weigh as much as 20 pounds.

Seek Slides For County Reunion

The Scurry County Historical Commission would like to borrow 35 mm slides made in the county during past years.

The Commission will be sponsoring the second Scurry County Reunion on Sept. 19-20 and would like to have the slides to depict the history of the county in a slide show. The slides will be returned to their owners at the conclusion of the reunion.

Anyone who has slides they would like to have used in the exhibit is asked to contact Mrs. Jess Everett, Commission chairman, at 573-2763.

BIG, EASY CATCH—These youngsters found the fishing easy Monday afternoon in the Towle Park Pond. Apparently having difficulty getting enough oxygen, fish in the pond were coming to the surface in a dazed condition. Park Supt. J.K. Ward cautioned that the cause of the problem with the fish had not been determined for certain. Holding some of the larger fish are, from left, Dewayne Murdock, Valentine Martinez, Randy Watkins, Craig Watkins and Kevin Murdock. (SDN Staff Photo)

The SDN Column

We received a personal note from R.L. Blakely when he sent in his check the other day to pay up his subscription to the SDN. Blakely, who used to be one of the most loyal Snyder Tiger fans, has lived in Hereford for a number of years, and now, of course, his allegiance goes to the Whitefaces. We doubt that Hereford has a more dedicated fan.

But Blakely still has a soft spot in his heart for the Tigers and still has a lot of friends here. "I have always kept up with the sports situation there," he writes. "You sure had a lot of champions there last year, both college and high school. Sure wish you would grow a little so you would be in our district (4-5A). I sure enjoyed the games with Snyder and Hereford. I never thought I would pull for anyone against Snyder. I had mixed emotions, though."

They must have quite a bunch like Blakely there in Hereford. The Whitefaces are coming down to Snyder for a scrimmage Thursday with Sweetwater and they are bringing a charter bus load of fans.

We remember those two years when Snyder was "kicked up" to Hereford's district, and we can't say that it would be desirable again unless we grew a lot instead of a little. He notes that Hereford plays mostly schools twice its size (Amarillo and Lubbock) and those two years Snyder was in the district, the Tigers were the smallest of the members.

As for travel, the distances wouldn't be any worse (if as bad) than our new district that extends all the way to Fort Stockton and Pecos.

In his report on a hearing held in Texas, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen says a searing heat wave could not keep 3,500 Texans from appearing to testify in protest of the windfall profits tax. Bentsen, as chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, presided over the session. He told about one witness who said his royalty check came to $6.12 for one month after $2.41 had been withheld for the "windfall profit" tax.

While we were visiting several weeks ago in the Northeast, several people brought up the subject of "windfall profits" in discussing politics and the energy situation. All were surprised when we told them that little royalty owners, many of them drawing less than $200 per month from their holdings, were hard hit by this tax. It was hard to convince some of them that major oil companies are not paying all of this tax from zooming profits. While talking with them, we got a feeling that this may be the most misunderstood tax yet devised by our government.

Tuesday update

Bank Hikes Prime Rate

NEW YORK (AP)—Chase Manhattan Bank today raised its prime rate by a quarter percentage point to 11.5 percent - one week after it led the rest of the banking industry in a jump to 11.25 percent.

Although Chase offered no comment on its move, analysts viewed the rate boost as an effort to offset its rising cost of funds. That higher cost was underscored Monday when Treasury bills rose to their highest levels since April.

Hopes Up roar Stilled

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ronald Reagan hopes he has stilled the uproar over his policy toward Taiwan by backing away from his earlier calls to establish an official U.S. government liaison office on the island nation.

The Republican presidential nominee said Monday he does not advocate granting formal government status to the private institute that represents U.S. interests on Taiwan. But he said the U.S. relationship with Taiwan, in effect, already has official status.

its cheaper in texas

The news was bad, as most of the time it is in these inflationary times. "Onward and upward," the Wall Street Journal wrote, pointing out that "led by food prices, inflation seems likely to maintain a fast pace." The Journal continued: "Hopes that consumers soon will get a break decline" because of drought and other ills.

That's for now. The Journal delivered a stiffer punch then:

"That's only the near-term bad news. The 1981 bad news: Most forecasters think that the consumer price index will be rising at an annual rate close to 10 percent next year. Moreover, some say the rate may be accelerating before the year is over..."

Well that's the national scene. So thank Heaven you live in Texas:

So it's hot in Texas, and mostly dry. But, thank Heaven you live in the Lone Star State.

Why? Well, in the United States, there's no place but Texas! It costs less to live here!

How about that! It really does cost less to live in Texas. There is a good reason and we'll get to that.

Nancy Granovsky, family resources management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service (the Texas A&M University System), cites recent family-budget figures released by the Bureau of Labor Statistics for the "latest Texas brag" material.

The brag is no joke, according to the report, in other states, families need $20,517 to maintain an "intermediate level" of living, but in Texas, they need less, the specialist points out. For example, Dallas families can buy the same "intermediate level" of living $18,301, and Houston families can get it for 19,025.

To clarify, Mrs. Granovsky says these budget figures are derived from what it would cost an urban family of four (that is, an age-38 husband, employed full time, a non-employed wife, a boy age 13, and a girl age 8) to buy selected goods and services for a whole year at autumn, 1979 prices.

But, you say, there are other levels of budgets in Texas. Certainly, and at the lower-budget level, families in other states would have to spend $12,585, but Dallas families in the lower-budget level would pay only $11,687, and Houston families would spend only $12,170 to maintain the same level of living.

And on the "highside," families in other states need $30,317 to stay in that living standard, while Dallas families who want to live at that higher-budget level would spend only $27,004, and Houston families only $27,686.

Why does it cost less to live in Texas? That is a very good question. The answer: the absence of a state income tax is the major reason. Lesser but significant other reasons include low gasoline taxes, a "reasonable" sales tax, and several other taxes that are lower in Texas than elsewhere. Now the statistics we have given do not tell us what it really costs people in Texas to live, but they do give a comparison of what a "standard" market-basket of goods and services costs in Texas and in other regions of the United States. It does reflect, though that it costs less to live in Texas. And one should note that the key to the whole thing is lower or no taxes. This is something all of us can keep in mind when election day comes around.

the dallas phenomenon

Why the unprecedented fascination with the TV program "Dallas?" The only similar phenomenon involved a program called "$64,000 Dollar Question," 25 years ago and that was nothing compared to this. Unable to explain it, personally "fascinated by the fascination," I've been asking around: "What is the reason for this unprecedented public preoccupation with 'Dallas?'" I've received some interesting responses. It is unnecessary to recite the several manifestations of public interest in the program: the shooting location overwhelmed by sightseers, official wagering in Vegas and London over "who shot J.R.," a new contract for actor Larry Hagman at $100,000 per episode... The greater mystery than "who shot J.R." is the fact that in this series the hero is the villain: it's the bad guy getting the applause. J.R. Ewing is everywhere being called "the hero you love to hate."

There is other evidence of public fascination with villains. Judging from the masks, T-shirts and toys, the most popular character of the Star Wars series is despicable Darth Vader. This is a 360-degree turnaround from the traditional triumph of goodness over evil. Psychologist-physician Paul Meredith suspects that our sardine society is becoming increasingly "aggressive." "Since our melting pot became a pressure cooker, and since most of us are helpless to strike back at real enemies, our suppressed hostility can be expressed best through surrogate villains." A minister in Pensacola, Fla., the Rev. David Scrimshaw, suspects that the popularity of J.R. Ewing - who mercilessly misuses the women in his life - may be a backlash against the liberation of women. A Michigan banker theorizes that the program's popularity may offer an outlet for subconscious hate.

El Salvador is almost mile for mile the size of Massachusetts with an equivalent population. But there all resemblance ends. Rather than enjoying the moderately recession-clouded peace and security of New England, El Salvador, the volcano-studded heartland of an increasingly turbulent Central America, is in the first phases of a revolution.

Things at the moment aren't going so well for the revolutionaries. A general strike designed to bring commercial activity throughout the nation to a halt has fizzled. A similar demonstration in April by the leftist opposition brought out more than 300 thousand people in support, throwing a scare into the military-dominated governing junta. This time was supposed to be an even bigger deal.

But this time the authorities were prepared. A campaign of repressive countermeasures throughout the country effectively turned the strike effort into a non-event, at the cost of several hundred lives.

That does not mean that all is now quiet, however. The way things are going in that unhappy country, there appears little hope of that in the foreseeable future.

El Salvador has one of the most dismal histories in a region that does not specialize in good news. A tiny - less than five percent of the population - but vastly wealthy landowning elite has run the country for its own benefit since Spanish colonial days. It relies upon the assistance of a military establishment whose primary purpose, as in most Latin countries, is not the defense of the country against foreign foes but the protection of the privileged from their own countrymen, in El Salvador's case poverty-stricken and largely Indian peasants who work the great estates as virtual serfs.

It is a situation made for revolution and El Salvador saw a bloody one in 1932, crushed with a death toll in the hundreds of thousands that neither rulers or ruled have forgotten.

The current unrest is of more recent origin. In October of last year, reformist younger military officers staged a coup to head off what they feared would be a violent upheaval if some gestures toward reform were not made. No sooner was a program to turn over the great estates to the peasants initiated, however, than the reformists collided with their rightwing army colleagues bankrolled by the even harder-lining landowners.

Since then what passes for a government, a junta with token civilian representation, has been paralyzed. Real power - of a lethal nature - is exercised by the extreme right of the military, utilizing moonlighting troops as "death squads" to terrorize peasants and combat moderate and leftist organized in a Revolutionary Democratic Front.

Atrocities have been piled upon atrocities, including the assassination at Mass earlier this year of Roman Catholic Archbishop Oscar Arnulfo Romero y Galdamez, an outspoken critic of the junta and now the foremost martyr of the revolution.

Thousands, including many priests, have been murdered since the first of the year, overwhelmingly the victims of the death squads. A bloody army attack closed the National University and only the church, under its sometimes wavering new leadership, among traditional institutions continues to speak out against the repression.

The situation in many respects resembles the development of the revolution that last year overthrew the authoritarian regime in neighboring Nicaragua, a similarity least of all upon a United States State Department desperately attempting to buck up the courage of moderate Salvadorean political elements while pressuring the junta into delivering on the promised reforms.

The outlook is not encouraging, however. The Salvadorean rightists show no more inclination than their now-deposed Nicaraguan counterparts to give an inch before it is too late. Leftists are saying there is no longer any real alternative to open civil war.

Rather than crushing revolutionary activity, the thwarting of the strike in El Salvador is likely to give it a more militant turn. Attacks are already being staged on police posts and military units and there are reports of organized guerrilla forces being trained.

El Salvador is a human volcano preparing to explode with potentially devastating consequences not only to the country itself but to the entire region and a vitally concerned and deeply involved United States.

my turn

by john dunnam

I should have known better. Never go to the grocery store when you are hungry. Everything will look good.

I remember the last time I flouted this time-proven truism. It was Saturday night and right in the middle of Hee Haw I was hit with a Big Mac attack; a tragic thing when you're in Snyder.

While at the grocery store, in search of a non-addictive substitute, I thought I might as well pick up a few of the staple items. You know, a dozen frozen pizzas, four or five jars of peanut butter, 13 different types of cheeses, etc. My appetite yearned for adventure and I couldn't resist the impulse to try a few of the more exotic items. After all, aren't we supposed to broaden our tastes?

By the time I hit the check-out stands, my basket runneth over and my pay check was shot. It wasn't the first time I had blown a week's pay on foolishness. Earlier in the summer, on my vacation, I pulled off the interstate for gas. The first splurge was driving into the full service bay. I figured since it was my vacation I would pamper myself. Besides, I'd noticed that the attendants were all young girls.

Then, after they told me they were out of regular, I pointed to the premium pump and said, "Fill it up," just like it was nothing. They were so impressed. I saw one point to my Texas plates and whisper that I must be one of them high rolling oilmen. It was a good feeling until it came time to pay off. If you're ever driving between New Orleans and Biloxi, Miss., perhaps you could pick up my spare tire for me.

Anyway, back to the grocery store. While I was carting my stash back to the house I stopped by a hamburger joint and bought a couple of tacos to tide me over. At home, after three holdogs and two milkshakes, the gravity of what I had done sunk in. To heck with the dirty magazines, the violent TV shows, the wicked music. What the community needs to do is form a committee and clean up our grocery stores. Can you believe the atrocities they sell in those places? And unless you pay by check, they don't even require an ID.

All night long all I could do was lie in bed and wonder what the calves brains were thinking.

About midnight I heard a ping-pong noise coming from the direction of the kitchen. Upon investigation I found the pickled pigs feet thrashing about in their jar. I had left them out on the kitchen table and the warm night air had restored them to life.

Who knows what destruction they would have wrought had they kicked themselves free from their vinegary prison.

There was only one thing to do. I smothered the pair in cherry ice cream and devoured them on the spot.

That reminds me, does anybody have a recipe for squid?

Britain, Russia, Japan and the United States signed a seal conservation treaty in 1894.

ing - who mercilessly misuses the women in his life - may be a backlash against the liberation of women. A Michigan banker theorizes that the program's popularity may offer an outlet for subconscious hate.

I've a letter from a young woman in St. Joseph, Mo., which may make more sense than any of the more scholarly diagnoses. Trish Luke says, "I just love to see those rich people miserable!"

She may have hit the nail with her head.

There is a public preference for "bad news" because it helps the reader or the listener to feel himself to be "better off."

Garish headlines on any newsstand attest to the public appetite to learn about somebody "worse off than ourselves."

The public was treated to the tribulations of the super rich when the Hunt brothers went into hock.

That does not explain the popularity of the anti-hero, J.R.

For those of us who grew up in a land where Little Nell always escaped and the good cowboy always won and bad guys never did - we are incapable of comprehending any perversion of that precept. (c) 1980, Los Angeles Times Syndicate

Today's hand was played some 20 years ago by the Oswald Jacobys and shows JTB at its best. Mary's opening notrump was so standard that it was bid at every table. Oswald's two hearts and Mary's two spades started the ball rolling. The three-diamond bid was a game force and possible slam suggestion. This caused Mrs. Jacoby to see that her rather minimum notrump might just be what the doctor ordered. She bid three hearts to show the ace of hearts and carry on with the slam idea. Oswald merely went to three spades. He wanted to give his wife the option of stopping at three notrump. At this point she made the key bid of four diamonds to show that her diamond support was super. With only 15 H.C.P. and no singleton he decided to carry on with the slam idea without going past game and showed second-round heart control by bidding four hearts.

Mary was now ready for real action. She bid five clubs to show that ace and go past the possible four-spade stop. At this point Oswald knew, or thought he knew, just what his wife held. He closed the bidding at seven diamonds! He won the heart lead with his king, played two rounds of trumps, led a heart to dummy's ace, ruffed a heart, played the rest of the trumps while discarding his losing club and claimed for a top score. Diamonds was the only grand slam that could make. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Women's March On Fifth Avenue

NEW YORK (AP)—A decade ago, Rosemary Gaffney remembers, people kept asking, "What do you girls really want?" They don't ask that anymore, she says, and on the 10th anniversary of the Women's Strike for Equality she sees less interest in talking about feminism than in doing something about it.

There is also less interest in marching for feminism, which is why, Ms. Gaffney said, it was difficult to get women to help organize today's Fifth Avenue parade in commemoration of the 10th anniversary of the Women's Equality March.

Ms. Gaffney and Lynne Shapiro — the co-chairwomen of the parade — recalled in recent interviews how easy it was to enlist feminists to organize the 1970 march, itself a commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the day women won the right to vote.

They also recalled how hard it was to make the public understand why the march was being held.

"In 1970, we were dealing with people who were running around saying we were bra burners," said Ms. Gaffney. "We had to justify ourselves. People kept walking around and asking us, 'What do you girls really want?'"

Now, said Ms. Gaffney, "they understand about the Equal Rights amendment and abortion."

And now that women have entered the work force in large numbers, the two said, women have become preoccupied with their careers, with little time for mass demonstrations.

Both women also said the women's movement has splintered over the years, and said the fragmentation has contributed to the lack of volunteer organizers.

"In 1970, we wanted equal pay for equal work, free abortions on demand and child care," said Ms. Shapiro. "Now we are concerned about rape, sexual harassment, battered wives, the Equal Rights Amendment, third world and black women's issues, union women and office workers, and health care."

In 1970, numerous feminist writers and celebrities explained feminist theories at the rally, Ms. Shapiro said.

This year's parade featured speeches by grass roots organizers who were to talk not about theory, but action, she said. The only celebrities at the microphone were to be former U.S. Rep. Bella Abzug and Ms. magazine editor Gloria Steinem.

Dear Abby

Simple Courtesies Mark Best Neighbors

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1980 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Just a word to SLEEPY-TIME GAL, and all the others who complain about neighbors who mow their lawns in the early hours of the morning:

I mow mine from 6 a.m. to 8 a.m. — before the sun comes out. With the temperature 100 degrees during the day, I have no apologies for mowing my lawn during the coolest hours.

If SLEEPY-TIME GAL wants to mow my lawn for me when she gets up and the sun is scorching, I'll be happy to work out a deal.

HOT IN BIRMINGHAM

DEAR HOT: If you can't work out a deal with your neighbor, read on for a suggestion from an Arlington, Va., reader:

DEAR ABBY: Poor SLEEPY-TIME GAL. She has our sympathy. We had the same problem a few years ago. However, it was solved when you mentioned it in a column titled, "Ten Nays for Neighbors." We clipped it and showed it to our neighbors, and I must say it did a lot for our good-neighbor relations.

We had to get it photostated because so many of our friends wanted copies, including a guard at the White House in Washington, D.C.!

I'm enclosing a copy with the request that you kindly print it again.

ARLINGTON READER

DEAR READER: Consider it done.

- TEN NAYS FOR GOOD NEIGHBORS
- 1) Thou shalt love thy neighbor, but not his wife, nor shalt thou covet thy neighbor's house, or his car, or any other thing he owneth.
  - 2) Thou shalt keep thy dog, and thy stereo, and thy lawnmower quiet while thy neighbor sleepeth.
  - 3) Thou shalt borrow from thy neighbor rarely, and when thou doest, returneth undamaged and without delay that which thou hast borrowed.
  - 4) Thou shalt not alloweth thy pets nor thy children to run amok, despoiling thy neighbor's lawn, flower beds and fence.
  - 5) Thou shalt keepeth thy lawn green, thy fence painted and thy driveway uncluttered even as ye shall also keep thy vehicles in thy garage where they belong.
  - 6) Thou shalt watcheth always for criminals and fires in thy neighborhood and guard thy neighbor's home and his property even as thy own.
  - 7) Thou shalt not useeth thy home for any unsightly or illegal activity.
  - 8) Thou shalt always stand ready to help thy neighbor in his hour of true need, even as he does for thee.
  - 9) Thou shalt not parketh thy camper, nor thy RV, nor thy van in the street where it blocketh thy neighbor's view and createth a safety hazard to all.
  - 10) Thou shalt not hold wild parties or orgies that lasteth until wee hours unless thou shalt inviteth thy neighbor too.

DEAR ABBY: Recently a local physician collapsed and died while jogging. He had no identification on his person, which caused much anguish to his family.

Your concern for people prompted me to ask you to please tell your readers who run and jog to carry identification with them. Thank you.

Another Hot Day In Texas

By The Associated Press
Another sunny and hot day was in store for all of Texas today.

Forecasts called for clear skies and hot temperatures statewide. The only precipitation mentioned was the possibility of some late afternoon and evening thundershowers in the mountains of Southwest Texas.

Highs were to be mostly in the upper 90s, ranging from the low 90s along the coast to as high as 107 in portions of North Central Texas.

Wichita Falls was again the state's hot spot Sunday with 108. It was the 65th day of 100-plus weather in Wichita Falls, tying a record for 100-degree days set in 1934. The record was expected to be broken today.

Clear skies were reported over most of the state before dawn although a few loud clouds were reported over far West Texas as where some shower activity was reported over far West Texas where some shower activity was reported during the night.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 61 at Marfa and 66 at Sanderson to 82 at Abilene.

Labor Leader Expected To Testify For Clayton

HOUSTON (AP)—Texas House Speaker Billy Clayton and two Austin attorneys, the first to be indicted in the FBI Brilab investigation, face a Sept. 8 trial date on charges stemming from an alleged insurance kickback scheme.

After a sixth day of pre-trial hearings Monday U.S. District Judge Robert O'Connor granted a separate trial for a fourth defendant, labor leader L.G. Moore of the Houston suburb of Deer Park.

Moore is expected to be a key defense witness for the speaker and his attorney, Mike Ramsey, said his client had been "only boasting and conning a con man when he said he could control Speaker Clayton."

Ramsey, who told O'Connor that Moore's testimony will be vital to Clayton's defense, said he would not allow the union official to testify if he was tried with the other defendants.

Roy Minton, Clayton's chief defense attorney, said, "The government is going to indict Mr. Moore again. They could bring in the dumbest, youngest law clerk and get him. Let's face that fact."

O'Connor granted Moore limited immunity from possible prosecution on other charges stemming from his testimony during Clayton's trial.

Earlier in the day, Minton told O'Connor he planned to call Moore as a witness in Clayton's behalf.

Minton said he anticipated the regional director of the Operating Engineers Union would acknowledge that many of his statements the FBI secretly taped were lies.

No trial date was set for Moore.

Ordered to stand trial with Clayton were attorneys Randall B. Wood and Donald W. Ray.

The four defendants were indicted June 12 on six counts of extortion, racketeering, fraud, and conspiracy.

Clayton, who has served three terms as house speaker, is accused of receiving a $5,000 downpayment on a $600,000 bribe if the state awarded its in-the key FBI informant, tious company set up by the FBI.

Chinese planes bombed Formosa, which was under Japanese control, in 1938.

Doctors in Oklahoma decided to airlift Skupien to San Antonio where the hyperbaric chamber was opened 10 months ago. Other hyperbaric chambers are at Galveston, Brooks Air Force Base in San Antonio and Texas A&M University.

"He's doing fine," said hospital spokeswoman Barbara Williams after the patient emerged from the decompression chamber about 4 a.m. "I talked to him. He said he's doing fine. He's got it (vision) all back and so far has held it."

Skupien was to be examined by an ophthalmologist and if there were no complication, he might be discharged and allowed to go home on today.

Chamber Restores Vision Of Diver

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—An Oklahoma diver who suffered an air bubble in his brain has regained his eyesight after a seven-hour stay in a decompression chamber, a spokesman at Southwest Texas Methodist Hospital says.

Arthur Skupien, 24, of Henryetta, Okla., remained in fair condition today at the hospital where he was taken on a simulated dive to the equivalent of 165 feet.

Skupien began recovering his vision after spending 30 minutes at the simulated 165 feet depth, technicians of the hospital's new Hyperbaric Medicine Team said.

Bodies Found In Car Trunk

LUBBOCK (AP)—Investigators reported no leads and no motive today in the slayings of a man and a woman whose bodies were found in the trunk of an abandoned car in southeast Lubbock.

Police said the bodies of Deborah Bennett, a former Lubbock resident, and Jimmy Dewbre of Crosbyton were discovered Monday after a store owner reported an "odd smell" coming from the trunk of an abandoned 1975 Chevrolet.

Cecil Stalter told officers he first noticed the vehicle on his property late Sunday night.

Lt. Bill Knox said several spent bullets, apparently fired from a medium-caliber pistol, were found inside the car.

A preliminary investigation showed the victims were both shot once in the head late Saturday or early Sunday, the investigator said.

Knox said no money was found on either victim.

Dewbre and Ms. Bennett were last seen alive about 4 p.m. Saturday at a bar located about six blocks from where the bodies were found, Knox said.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) From time to time we all have to do chores of which we're not overly fond. This could be your lot-in-life today, so accomplish your duty with a smile, not a frown.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Steer clear of situations today involving friends who have problems with one another. Their disputes could place you in the middle.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Family disagreements should not be aired in public today. Instead of getting sympathy or support, you could end up looking bad to others.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Strive to be encouraging, rather than critical, of those who express their ideas or plans to you today. Sour grapes will only create resentment.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) It's important to live within your means at this time, so buy only that which is necessary. Think carefully before taking on long term obligations.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Patience and perseverance are required today because you may be stymied in things affecting your self-interests. Seek alternatives to circumvent roadblocks.

Walesa told the strikers who occupied the Gdansk shipyards Aug. 14: "We are not waiting for small achievements but for big ones. We stay here for five years if need be."

Theft Cases, Mishaps On Police Report

Two thefts and two traffic accidents were reported Monday to city police.

Weldon Halford told police someone had taken a brass welding torch and two gauges from him. In a report filed by investigating officer Ed Neeley, the loss was estimated at $200.

Sgt. Ed Covington received a complaint from Abby Rhinehart in which a stereo tape deck was reportedly stolen from her car while the vehicle was parked in Varsity Square. The estimate of that loss was placed at $150.

Officers reported that case had been cleared with the apprehension of two juveniles. They said the tape deck had been recovered and the juveniles were released to their parents.

A minor traffic accident was investigated at 12:15 p.m. at 2400 Ave. Q. Involved in it were a 1979 Mercury driven by Peter Gianakas and a 1974 Buick driven by Wanda Durst. The accident was investigated by Don Cheek.

Buddy Kinney worked a two-vehicle wreck at 1900 25th St. at 12:50 p.m. There, a 1968 GMC truck pulling a trailer was in collision with a 1978 Ford driven by Carlota Melgar. The truck was owned by H.D. Hines Construction Co. and driven by Edward Fountain.

the strike had now closed 480 enterprises, up from about 400 on Monday. Some estimated the number of strikers doubled to 300,000. Up to 200,000 more workers may be idled because of the lack of public transportation.

In Moscow, a Soviet Foreign Ministry spokesman declared today that Soviet-Polish relations remained "good," and said the "events" taking place in Poland are an internal affair.

Polish-born Pope John Paul II, in a message celebrating a Polish feast day, assured his fellow Poles he was near them "in spirit and prayer," the Vatican said. Without direct mention of the strikes, the pope said the church needed strength.

Judge To Rule On Trial Move

McKINNEY (AP)—A state district judge says a decision on whether to move the trial of a woman accused in the ax slaying of a Wylie schoolteacher will be issued by Wednesday.

Judge Tom Ryan said Monday he will decide on a motion for a change of venue after reviewing testimony about extensive publicity surrounding the case of Betty Gore. The 30-year-old woman was found hacked to death in her home June 13.

Candace Montgomery, a friend of the victim, has been charged with murder in the slaying. Her attorneys contend the publicity has ruined her chances of a fair trial.

Religious Endorsements Condemned By Ministers

FORT WORTH (AP)—Endorsement of political candidates in the name of Jesus Christ constitute a "serious abuse of both religion and people," three local ministers say.

While not mentioning any group by name, the three directed their criticism at conservative preachers who have urged Christians to become politically involved through such forums as the National Public Affairs Briefing last week in Dallas. Republican presidential nominee Ronald Reagan, the only candidate to speak, was given an implied endorsement there by Hurst television evangelist James Robison.

The three, who said they met with about 20 ministers before calling a press conference Monday, were joined in the audience by several clergymen, including Rabbi Robert Schur of Beth-El congregation.

"The impression is being given that in a political contest; God can be on one side," said the Rev. Albert Pennybacker, senior minister for University Christian Church.

"As pastors and religious leaders, we repudiate this use of religion. It is a false and dangerous faith as well as a misuse of the Bible."

Pennybacker was joined by the Rev. Barry Bailey, senior minister for First United Methodist Church of Fort Worth and the Rev. Welton Gaddy, pastor of Broadway Baptist Church. The three churches are among the largest and most influential in the city.

"Religious voices begin to claim God's will for the side which agrees with their private and partisan political views. This is the style of the false prophet," Pennybacker said.

"Who has given to preachers and evangelists the wisdom or the right to tell people in God's name how to vote?" he asked.

Of the "widespread" abuse, Pennybacker said: "We have seen it in the mass media. We have seen it in the recent presidential nominating conventions. We see it seeking to make itself felt in the local and state elections."

He said the "manipulation" also separates candidates into those who have "true faith" and those who are "faithless or un-Christian."

As an example, Pennybacker pointed to the 12th Congressional District race between incumbent Rep. Jim Wright and his Republican challenger, Jim Bradshaw.

Bradshaw has been credited with introducing Robison to millionaire industrialist Cullen Davis, who recently announced he had become a born-again Christian. While Robison has not endorsed Bradshaw, he has said he will not vote for Wright.

"Despite what has been said, the Christian commitment of the candidates is simply not the issue," Pennybacker said. He added that Wright is an active layman with the Presbyterian Church and Bradshaw is associated with the Methodist Church.

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I was wondering if there could be anything physically wrong with my husband or if it's mental. He has lost all desire for sex. We have not had sex for 14 months. Everything else is the same as usual. We still communicate and love each other and there is no one else. He is 39 years old, 5-foot-11 and weighs 220 pounds.

DEAR READER — A loss of interest in sex for that length of time at that age is an indication that something is wrong. Remember this is just a symptom, not a diagnosis.

Some individuals, male and female, lose interest in sex because they're depressed. That's so common that I'm sending you The Health Letter number 10-10. Depression: The Ups and Downs of Life. As you'll see from this letter, depression is not always so obvious and all of us are subject to some degrees of it. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Your communication may not be everything that you think it is. There always a possibility that he's having a problem of impotence and he protects his ego in the situation by suppressing any interest in sex. If that should be the case, impotence is also only a symptom and can be caused by many things.

At 220 pounds, it sounds like he is overweight. The reasons for this could also be important. I would urge you to communicate with him and get him to see a doctor for a careful review of his status. And if no apparent physical disease is present, such as diabetes, don't neglect the possibility of depression. If so, he should get some professional counseling from a psychiatrist. You don't have to be grossly incapacitated to have emotional difficulties such as a mild depression.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Do you think I have stroke symptoms? I'm enclosing a newspaper clipping that describes transient ischemic attacks, whatever that is.

I stumble over footstools and can't stand on a chair to reach something for fear of falling. Sometimes when going to bed I can barely make it. My fingers are numb at times, too. I'm 85 years old.

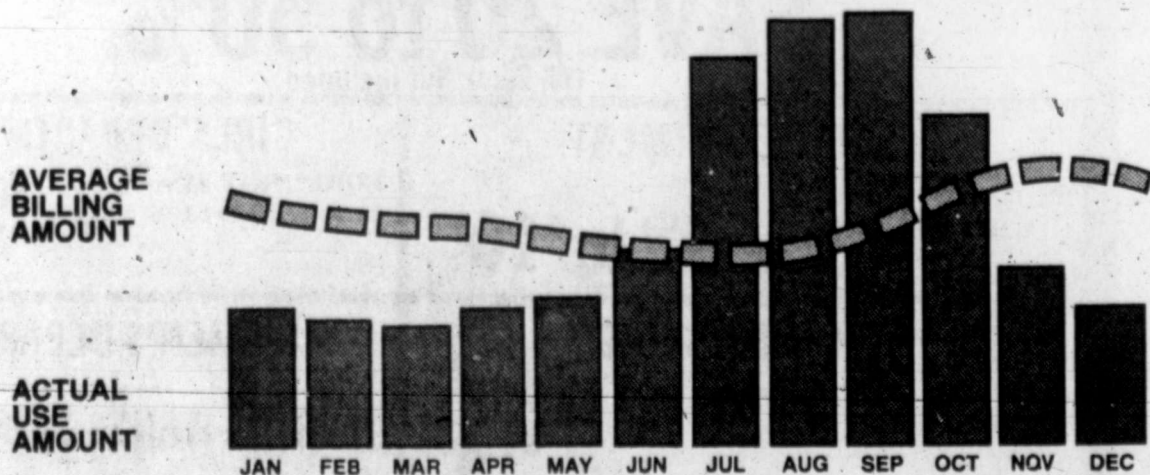

DEAR READER — I read the little item you sent me from one of the newspapers. It describes what some doctors in the past have called little strokes (transient ischemic attacks — TIAs). These are attacks which cause symptoms like a stroke. You may have a paralyzed arm or weakness of a limb or loss of balance and be unsteady. But these are transitory.

These are not symptoms you have everytime you get up on a chair or try to screw a lightbulb in the socket. These people actually look like they're having a stroke but the whole affair may last minutes or perhaps no more than an hour and then the symptoms totally disappear.

A fairly high percentage of people who have such episodes may have a complete stroke in the not too distant future and that's what the news story you sent me was all about. It's also been found that the use of medicines, such as aspirin, in individuals who exhibit such symptoms will often help prevent the stroke.

Certainly anyone who has such symptoms should see a doctor for an evaluation. You probably have balance problems, not little strokes, but that should be evaluated also. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Fems Open Season Here; Time Changed To 6 p.m.

Coach Joyce Elrod unveils her junior varsity and varsity volleyball teams this evening as the pair take on San Angelo Central's Bobcats in the first matches of the season here.

A last-minute schedule switch will have the junior varsity playing at 6 p.m. instead of 5 as announced earlier. Varsity units will take the floor immediately after the JV clash.

Junior varsity team members are Natlie Gist, Becky Harrell, Susie Lee, Lisa Loyola, Becky Pylant, Sabrina Robinson and Lisa Waller.

Four girls return to spark this year's varsity crew. They are all-state spiker Lisa Cobb, a junior; all-district spiker Sherry Mayes, a senior; and senior spiker Shauna Pate and junior spiker Kathy Northcott.

Joining the foursome are six girls from last year's 30-1 JV team, including senior spiker Kerstin Selmon; junior setter-spiker Toni Elrod; junior spiker Kelly Dryden; junior spiker Shana Koonsman, junior spiker Ann Melton and junior setter-spiker Sherri Rich.

San Angelo Central advanced to regional tournament competition last year and is considered one of the heavyweights in District 5-5A for 1980.

"They are probably favored to win their district again," said Snyder coach Elrod. "They graduated some top players, but got some back, and they had a strong junior varsity program."

Snyder stays at home after tonight's matches to host a tournament this weekend. The Tigers play three other matches and another tourney before opening District 2-4A play against Pecos here, Sept. 13.

Tickets for the twin-bill are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Covert Signs As Westerner

Steve Covert of Lubbock has signed a letter of intent with Western Texas College, Golf Coach Bob O'Day has announced.

Hughes' Surgery Successful

MUENSTER (AP)—Free safety Randy Hughes of the Dallas Cowboys underwent successful surgery Monday for a dislocated right shoulder but it will be at least two months before he could play for the National Football League team.

Dr. Marvin Knight said Hughes was resting comfortably and "everything went fine." Knight said "Randy will be in the hospital 8 to 10 days. His arm will be strapped to his side for six weeks then he will rehabilitate. Then it's a matter of getting his strength back."

"Then there could be two to six weeks of rehabilitation."

Hughes, who is in Muenster General Hospital where Dr. Knight has his practice, has yet to be placed on the injured reserve list.

The Cowboys have to make that decision next week when the final 45-man roster is sent to the league office.

Athletic Physicals

Athletic Physicals will be given for the final time this evening at Snyder High School.

Tonight's times are for junior high girls, but any junior high or high school athlete who has yet to take a physical is urged to do so.

Eighth grade girls are slated to take physicals at 7:30, seventh grade girls at 8:15.

Physicals are held in the high school Field House.

three years while playing at Monterey High School in Lubbock, and made All-District in his junior and senior years. The team won district last spring, taking three of four tournaments.

Covert on the Hillcrest junior championship two years and won two dual matches played against Snyder High School and Andrews High School.

Covert is the ninth freshman golfer O'Day has signed. With the five returning sophomores and one transfer, there are now 15 players ready for the start of varsity play.

Texas' Jenkins Will Appear On Drug Count

TORONTO (AP)—Ferguson Jenkins of the Texas Rangers will appear Wednesday in provincial court in nearby Brampton, Ontario, charged with three counts of possession under the Narcotics Control Act.

A native of Chatham, Ontario, Jenkins was arrested Monday at Exhibition Stadium as the Rangers prepared for their game with the Toronto Blue Jays.

A police spokesman said a check of the Rangers' luggage when it arrived Sunday night at Toronto International Airport showed that one bag contained four grams of cocaine, two ounces of marijuana and two grams of hashish.

Jenkins arrived in Toronto Sunday morning for the Rangers' three-game series with the Blue Jays and was scheduled to pitch against the Blue Jays today. However, a team spokesman refused to comment on the charges or whether he would play.

American League President Lee MacPhail was unavailable for comment, but Bob Fishel, assistant to the president, said the league had received no official notification of Jenkins' arrest.

Asked if Jenkins would be permitted to pitch today, Fishel said: "I can't say until we look into the matter."

The 36-year-old right-hander, in his 16th major league season, has compiled a 258-192 won-lost record and, in 1971, won the Cy Young Award as the National League's top pitcher, posting a 24-13 mark with the Chicago Cubs. He was named Canada's top male athlete that same year, as well as in 1967, 1968 and 1974.

Donelsons, Macks Win Junior-Senior Event

Mal and Devin Donelson carded a 67 to take top honors in the Snyder Country Club Junior-Senior Club Championship, held over the weekend.

Susan and Steve Mack won the handicap division with a 52.

The Donelsons edged out Lanny and Kip Wadleigh by a single stroke to take the top prize. Third place went to Finnie and Kris Seale with a 70.

The Macks kept things in the family in the handicap division as Steve and Randy combined to take second place with a 54. Kay and Mark Cypert placed third with a 56.

Billy Tim Atwood, Pete Greene and Tom Burton won last week's Men's

Bowling Meetings

Two organizational meetings for local and area bowlers are on tap here tonight.

The Commercial Bowling League will meet at 7 in the Snyder Savings and Loan. Any interested man or team should be in attendance to help organize the league and elect officers for the new bowling season.

Snyder Women's Bowling Association also meets tonight, at 7:30 in the banquet room of The Shack.

Purpose of the meeting will be to organize for the coming season and allow league secretaries to pick up supplies.

Cards Snap Astro Winning String

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A summer in new surroundings has failed to produce a season of serendipity for reliever Don Hood of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Nonetheless, in the closing weeks of his first campaign as a free agent, the former American League left-hander is demonstrating an unwillingness to concede defeat.

"For me, it seems like I can't ever prove myself," Hood said Monday night after fashioning a four-hitter and halting the Houston Astros' 10-game winning streak, 3-1.

"So I just have to keep battling. I think the basic thing you have to look at is the nucleus of this club. We've still got some great players. I'd like to be a part of it -- if they'd let me."

Simmons, the Cards' catcher, labeled Hood's infrequent changeups and a curve ball which ran in on the hands of left-handed hitters his battery mate's most effective deliveries.

Jose Cruz garnered the Astros' first hit, a two-out single in the fourth. Terry Puhl also singled in the fifth but was erased on a double play. In the sixth, the lone Houston run scored on a walk to loser Vern Ruhle, 7-3, a grounder and Enos Cabell's single.

Hood, a longtime teammate of Cabell in the minor leagues, later was able to afford the luxury of a chuckle.

"Me and 'Big E' played six straight years together," the hurler said. "I tried to use a pitch in on him, and he just poked in into right field."

By the time Cabell connected, however, St. Louis owned a 2-0 lead on Mike Phillips' RBI double and a run-scoring grounder by Ken Oberkfell, each in the second inning.

Puhl singled a second time for the Astros' final hit in the seventh. An inning later, the Cards added an insurance run when Simmons singled and Terry Kennedy unloaded a triple off Dave Smith.

Houston Manager Bill Virdon assumed a philosophical stance following a reversal which reduced the Astros' lead in the National League West to two games over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Clay Aids Ranger Victory Over Jays

TORONTO (AP)—Ken Clay felt all along the only thing he needed to prove himself as a major league pitcher was the opportunity.

Clay, 26, received his chance Aug. 13 when New York Yankees traded him, along with a player to be named later, to the Texas Rangers for 41-year-old Gaylord Perry.

He has yet to let the Rangers down.

Clay tossed a two-hitter at the Toronto Blue Jays over six innings Monday for his second victory in as many decisions as the Rangers won, 5-1. The 26-year-old right-hander surrendered a pair of singles and, after walking Lloyd Moseby to lead off the Toronto seventh, was replaced by John Henry Johnson, who picked up his second save of the season.

"My arm just stiffened up a little," Clay said. "I didn't feel I was throwing as hard as I was earlier in the game. I hated to come out, really, but I felt I'd lost about a foot on my fastball."

Texas Manager Pat Corrales said, "He pitched one heck of a ball game. If he hadn't told me that his arm was a bit stiff, I would have kept him in the game."

Texas took a 1-0 lead in the second inning on John Grubbs' solo home run over the right-field fence, his third of the season.

The Rangers made it 2-0 in the third, but lost an opportunity to break the game wide open. With two out -- the second out coming on an unsuccessful Mickey Rivers steal attempt -- Toronto starter Jackson Todd, 1-1, ran into control problems and walked Bump Wills and Al Oliver. Buddy Bell followed with a single to right, scoring Wills, and both runners moved up when Moseby had trouble handling the ball.

Todd then walked Rusty Staub to load the bases. But reliever Jerry Garvin struck out Pat Putnam.

Texas put the game out of reach with three runs in the eighth on RBI singles by Pepe Frias and Rivers, and a run-scoring double play.

The Jays scored their run in the ninth on Garth Iorg's RBI single.

Despite a good spring, Clay did not impress the Yankees enough to make their roster. He was sent to their farm club at Columbus, Ohio, where he had a 9-4 record with a 1.96 earned run average before going to Texas.

Veck Enters Intensive Care

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago White Sox President Bill Veck remained hospitalized in fair to good condition today after being admitted to Illinois Masonic Medical Center with respiratory problems.

Veck, 66, was admitted to the hospital Sunday night and received oxygen in the hospital's intensive-care unit, a hospital spokesman said.

He is receiving inhalation therapy and is likely to remain in the hospital a few days, the spokesman added.

Veck's hospitalization came only days after the White Sox board of directors approved the sale of the American League baseball club to Edward J. DeBartolo of Youngstown, Ohio, for an estimated $20 million.

SMOOTHING IT OUT-Streets maintained by the state in Snyder's central business district are getting a new coat of paving material this week. The asphalt overlay of brick pavement, which has been in use for the past decade, was beginning to show signs of wear. The overlay on portions maintained by the city was recapped earlier. (SDN Staff Photo)

Why Chance Termite Damage? Call Alexander's Pest Control

You can't escape from termites. They're hard at work in every area of every state, and they may be busy devouring somebody's home right in your neighborhood -- maybe even yours.

You can't afford to take chances with costly termites. Your home is likely your largest dollar investment. It can be protected efficiently and scientifically at a pittance of the cost compared to the damage termites can do.

Call Alexander's Pest Control for professional protection, just to be sure.

By the time termites are discovered, the cost of repairing damage done by the termites could result in thousands of dollars. Once termites gain entry to your home, they spread rapidly through joists and floors. Wily termites are careful not to break through the surface of the wood -- so your first clue of termites may come when a piece of furniture sinks into soft wood. Replacing floors and supporting framework could amount to as much as 10 times their original cost.

After getting inside, the appetite of termites is insatiable. They often follow the wooden framework of the house to upper levels and floors, creating havoc as they do. Once inside the house, termites keep on with their destructive job until either the house is destroyed or until treated.

Just because your house is made of brick or concrete doesn't mean that it's safe from termites. These insidious insects are crafty and cunning in gaining access and getting to the wooden construction inside.

Voracious termites will eat anything containing wood or cellulose. They frequently damage valuable papers, books, expensive rugs and items in storage. Beside feeding themselves, worker termites carry food back to the colony for the queen, king, secondary reproductives and soldier termites. With this large family to feed, the worker isn't the least concerned about the value of your property.

A concrete foundation doesn't stop termites. Termites must return to their nests every 12 to 24 hours for moisture, and to feed the non-workers. Termite tubes under your foundation are a sure sign of infestation. Mature termites develop wings and on a warm, moist day emerge from the colony as a swarm. This usually happens in the spring and sometimes in the fall. After flying a short distance, the wings drop off and new colonies are formed. If you see swarming termites, you had better call us for an inspection.

Professional chemical treatment is the only way to be sure you're safe from termite damage -- and this treatment is far more economical than repairs. Using proven methods, we'll treat the soil around and under your house to create a chemical barrier that stops subterranean termites cold. We make sure every possible point of entry is blocked.

Prevention is cheaper than costly repairs. Call today for an inspection and estimate. Alexander's Pest Control also does all types of pest services. This includes general pest control, such as roaches, spiders, mice, ticks, fleas, etc. Alexander's also offers chemical weed control and tree service.

Special Moments Introduces The Man Behind James Avery Jewelry

James Avery Jewelry -- a beautiful line of designer jewelry -- is certainly well-known in the Snyder Area. However, few people really know the man behind the product.

In 1950, Mr. Avery was teaching design courses at the University of Colorado. He began to think about leaving the teaching profession. He found teaching and working with college age people very stimulating, but found them tremendously draining on his own energy and ideas. He decided that he had been living too long in an academic ivory tower, and wanted to try some of his ideas out in the real world.

Also, too, about this time, he returned to the Church after years of being a defensive agnostic. His renewed Christian commitment along with his new decision to leave teaching led to a new direction in his life. This is the reason so much of his work is Christian symbolism.

From the words of James Avery: "Ever since I was a small boy, I have enjoyed working with my hands. I was blessed with sensitive and sensible parents. They taught me to want to become aware of all things and to see everything in relationship -- people and materials. They also gave me an appreciation for good craftsmanship and the desire to strive for it in anything I attempted."

"For mankind, the industrial revolution frightens me. I feel its methods, though terribly efficient, are terribly dehumanizing. Perhaps we will awake someday to see that the human spirit has been consumed by a mass technology which is void of emotion of feeling, and we will be like it, people of awing achievement, but without dignity."

In 1957, James Avery hired his first employee. Today, he has over 150 fine craftsmen, designers, management and support personnel.

Special Moments, now that they have introduced you to the artist, wishes to extend to each of you a personal invitation to come by and view their large selection of James Avery Jewelry.

By the way, any jewelry that needs to be ordered for someone special on your Christmas list must be in by Sept. 15. From charms of starfish, sand dollars, strawberries, arrowheads, etc., to necklaces, bracelets, rings -- there is a very special piece for each one on your list.

Of course, don't forget the beautiful clothes in the other part of Special Moments--Nelda and Connie have added such lines as Jo Hardin, Russ, Rouge, and Ades of California for your shopping pleasure.

Chrysler Will Pay Labor Cost

DETROIT (AP)--Chrysler Corp. will pay for parts and labor in certain repairs on Plymouth Horizon and Dodge Omni cars if needed in the first two years or 24,000 miles, the company said today.

Several reports last week said Chrysler would pay for parts only. Spokesman Tom Jacobowski called those reports "incorrect" and said he did not know where they originated.

Chrysler said only a "limited number" of Omnis and Horizons, of which about 750,000 have been built, were likely to experience problems in the areas covered -- distributors, front wheel bearings, oil pumps and differential transfer shaft bearings in the transaxle.

Those items normally are covered in the usual 12-month, 12,000-mile warranty.

Gypsy moth caterpillars kill shade trees by eating the leaves. They were not found in the United States until 1869, when a Frenchman who wanted to breed them with silkworm moths brought them in.
