Saudis May Cut Production

By The Associated Press
Saudi Arabia, the world's largest oil exporter, has decided to reduce production beginning next month, it was reported today. The move, which had been widely expected, will trim the oil "glut" that has begun to ease gasoline prices in the United States.

Inmate Killed In Melee

MONROE, Wash. (AP)—Prisoners at the Washington State Reformatory were locked in their cells today after one inmate was killed and at least 23 others were injured in a riot that left four prison buildings in ruins, officials said.

Balks At Pension Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House, unwilling to accept a cut in pensions for federal workers and members of Congress, is sending House-Senate negotiators a trimmed, $9.1 billion bill to reduce spending and raise new revenues.

Strikes Hit Wineries

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Workers who process, bottle and package about half the nation's domestic wine struck two of California's largest wineries today in the industry's first union walkout, the union said.

Keeping tab on our neighbors:
Speedy Nieman of the Hereford Brand says bureaucracy tends to complicate language, whether it be governmental, corporate, or academic. So, with school beginning, he came up with these examples of academic gobbledegook:

1. Each student will demonstrate to the maximum of his/her potential mastery of the basic life skills including reading, writing and computational skills through the implementation of strategies in the classroom that promote the mastery of these skill areas.
2. Translation—Students will be taught how to read, write and figure.
3. The time, talent and energies of all professional staff should be concentrated on planning and implementing instructional programs that provide for student mastery of essential reading and mathematical skills.
4. Translation—Everybody will work hard to make sure students learn how to read, write and figure.
5. The newer forms of instructional methodology include provisions for the effective utilization of staff and application of flexible educational techniques.
6. Translation—Teachers and teaching methods can be used better.
7. Emphasis will be placed on management techniques that will improve instructional time-on-task that will result in increased efficiency and effectiveness in the operation of the instructional program.
8. Translation—The schools will be run better.
9. Research supports the expected relationship between student achievement and time spent on productive learning behaviors.
10. Translation—Students learn when they study.

Tom E. Roy of the Ballinger Ledger notes that when the recently reorganized Department of Human Services erected a new sign, something was missing—the letter "e" in the word Services. The agency used to be called the Department of Health, Education and Welfare until a generous Democratic Congress gave the educators their own agency. Just goes to show what happens, says Roy, when they take away education. You're left with an office that can't spell.

But Wholesale Food Prices Surge...

Unemployment Edges Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's unemployment rate edged down to 7.6 percent in August, signaling a slowing of the recession, but wholesale food prices surged upward for a second straight month to forewarn sharply higher supermarket costs, the government reported today.

In companion reports, the Labor Department said significant improvements in manufacturing for the first time this year helped lower the jobless rate from July's 7.8 percent rate.

Department analysts interpreted the unemployment dip as a positive sign that economic activity improved following a sharp drop in output earlier this year.

At the same time, however, the department said wholesale, or producer, food prices at the finished-goods level spurted 4.4

percent last month, the steepest increase in seven years. That jump followed a 3.8 percent rise in July. Government analysts attributed the large increase to the unusually hot and dry weather that has devastated crops and livestock throughout much of the country.

Overall, wholesale prices jumped 1.5 percent in August, following a 1.7 percent increase in July. Last month's increase, if compounded over 12 months, would equal an annual rate of 20.2 percent. That compares with an actual increase of 14.6 percent increase in wholesale prices for the past year.

Department analysts said the higher food prices would be passed on to consumers at the retail level quite soon.

And further increases may be coming later this year, the department said, because wholesale food prices at an intermediate level of production jumped 9.7 percent in August, the largest rise in nearly six years. That increase will take longer to work its way up to the consumer level.

If there were a good sign in the producer price report, it would be that prices for non-food items continued to moderate, suggesting an easing of inflation outside of the food sector.

Producer prices for non-food goods rose 0.7 percent in August, compared with a 1.1 percent increase in July.

The number of unemployed people in the country dropped by nearly 200,000 in August to 8 million, while non-farm employment as reported by business rose by 200,000, the first increase since February.

The jobless rate among workers in manufacturing industries, which were hit hardest by the economic slump, fell a full percentage point to 9.3 percent after rising steadily throughout the year.

In another sign of economic improvement, the government said the average work week in the manufacturing sector rose by 30 minutes, the first increase since January. "As best as we can tell, this is some kind of an indication that things seem to be looking up," said Deborah Klein, a Labor Department employment analyst.

The improvement did not seem to extend across the entire economy, however. In the construction industry, also in a severe slump, the unemployment rate rose 2.2 percentage points in August to 18.3 percent.

Overall, 97 million people held jobs in August, unchanged from a year ago. The number of unemployed people, however, was up 1.9 million from August 1979, when the jobless rate was 5.9 percent.

But Agree To Comply...

Educators Concerned About Alien Decision

HOUSTON (AP)—State educators voiced concern, disappointment and apprehension over a Supreme Court Justice's ruling that Texas must provide free public education to illegal alien children, but all agreed to comply with the order.

Only 17 Aliens In School Here

A Supreme Court Justice's decision Thursday that Texas public schools must provide free education to illegal alien children is not expected to have much impact on Snyder Public Schools.

Supt. Bill J. Hood said this morning that enrollment figures for the fall semester so far show 17 alien children. He said there has been no indication that others will enroll as a result of the court decision.

Of the 17 now registered for school here, two are in junior high and 15 are in the elementary grades. There are no alien pupils enrolled in the high school. Hood said he did not foresee any problems for the local schools in providing education for the aliens in the district at this time.

disappointment and apprehension over a Supreme Court Justice's ruling that Texas must provide free public education to illegal alien children, but all agreed to comply with the order.

Lewis F. Powell ruled Thursday that Texas public schools must obey a decision by Federal District Judge Woodrow Seals in Houston which decreed that school district educate illegal alien children. Seals' order was stayed by the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals, and Justice Powell's order set aside the New Orleans court's order.

Q. How much border must be patrolled to keep out illegal aliens?

A. The U.S.-Mexico border stretches some 1,950 miles.

Pledges Increased Role For Unions

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Poland's new premier, in his first major public statement since the end of crippling strikes, promised today to "increase the role of the trade unions" as a partner with the communist government.

Appearing before a special session of parliament, Premier Jozef Pankowski pledged that his government would raise wages, freeze meat prices and increase consumer goods in hopes of improving living standards.

His remarks came during a two-hour speech before the Sejm, or parliament, in which he outlined the government's plans for implementing the controversial settlements negotiated with striking workers in the Baltic region and the Silesian coalfields. The last of the strikers returned to work today.

The government information agency Interpress said Communist Party leader Edward Gierek did not attend the session. No explanation was given for his absence.

"Pankowski said that for the sake of social and national good" the government would implement agreements made with striking workers ending weeks of labor unrest.

"This is really going to put us in a bind as far as teachers and space are concerned," Brownsville School Superintendent Raul Superio said of Justice Lewis F. Powell Jr.'s ruling.

"I have mixed emotions about this. I don't want to hurt the kids, but I don't want to hurt my educational system components either," Besteiro said.

In July, U.S. District Judge Woodrow Seals struck down a Texas law prohibiting the use of state funds to educate illegal alien children.

Last month, the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals stayed Seals' order but Powell's ruling Thursday set aside the stay and left the original order intact.

Los Angeles attorney Peter Schay, who challenged the Texas law, said the decision "was received by our clients with joy and tears."

"Our long battle in federal court to establish that undocumented children are persons under our Constitution and are entitled to some level of protection, has finally found acceptance," he said.

PLANNING HALF-TIME SHOW—Directors and drum majors of the Snyder High School Band this morning were going over plans for their first half-time show of the season which will be presented tonight at the Snyder-Big Spring football game. From left are Clifford Franklin, assistant director; Brad Robertson and Kris Seale, drum majors and Sam Robertson, director. (SDN Staff Photo)

Black And Gold Band Set To Open Season

The opening of football season tonight also means the opening of the fall season by the Snyder High School Black and Gold Marching Band.

And the SHS musicians, some 150 strong, have prepared a half-time show with a Spanish theme, said Sam Robertson, director.

The opening number is titled "España," and the feature number of the show will be "Spirit of Spain." Amadeo Garza, trumpet soloist, will be in the spotlight, and the band's auxiliary units—the flags, rifles and drum majors—will make their first appearance in their new uniforms.

The finale is titled "Cordoba." Kris Seale and Brad Robertson are drum majors this year. Bret Youngblood is the rifle captain, and the flag captains are Nettie Moss and Brenda Anderson. Twirlers are Lana Bruns, Donna Joplin and Pattie Gleastine. Big Spring High School will have its band on hand also, said Robertson. The visiting band will appear first during the half-time intermission, and the SHS band will follow.

Flying Cheaper But Confusing

DALLAS (AP)—You can fly to Houston from Dallas for "Love," "Kisses" or "Peanuts," but finding the cheapest fare may not always be easy, a consumer spokesman says.

Air Florida's "Kiss Miss" promotion is the latest entry in the interstate fare war, competing with established Dallas-Houston routes offered by Southwest and Texas International airlines.

The first passenger to show up in the "Kiss Miss" line on certain Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport flights gets a kiss and a free ride to Houston. Company officials say the purpose of the campaign is to promote their Houston-Miami service.

TIA this week started its "Peanut Fares" bargain flights from Dallas Love Field to Houston Intercontinental Airport for $24, to attract passengers who might not fly otherwise.

To boost the flights, TIA offers promotions including free television sets and free liquor—an idea borrowed from Southwest Airlines, the only major commercial carrier at close-in Love Field from 1974 until this week.

Southwest has used the word "love" in most of its advertising and promotions to emphasize its convenience for Dallasites.

Southwest President Howard Putnam says his airline has just lowered its Houston fare to $24 to match TIA.

"The consumer is getting lower prices and that's a plus," said Putnam, but he adds, "passengers think we're stupid. Airlines cry about costs going up—then they give seats away."

The passengers also are confused about who flies what to where and for how much, according to Hal Salfen, director of consumer affairs for the Airline Passengers Association.

"It's crazy... there's no question about it," Salfen said.

Salfen said he eventually expects to see resentment on the part of frequent business travelers who, he says, make up the cost of the discount tickets.

Dear Abby

Mama's Boy May Remain Just That

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I know you advise women to pay careful attention to how a man treats his mother if you want to know how he will treat his wife. But how about this? I am a 34-year-old woman who is dating a man who is 36. He is twice divorced (no children) and lives with his 70-year-old widowed mother. This is my first big romance. I can understand his feeling of obligation to his mother, but he can't be away from her for more than 30 minutes without phoning to tell her where he is and when he'll be back. We seldom go anywhere without her, but when we do, he's constantly phoning to keep in touch. Incidentally, she is not an invalid. She's in good health but has never tried to make a life of her own. Her son is her whole life. I have deep feelings about this man, but his attachment to his mother bothers me. He says he loves me, but I can't cope with this mother-son relationship. Does he have a problem, or do I?

DESPERATE

DEAR DESPERATE: You both have. But unless he realizes that his attachment to his mother is hampering his relationship with you, and he wants to overcome it, don't plan on a future with him. His only hope is to get into therapy and learn how to be a loving and caring son without allowing his devotion to his mother to consume him.

DEAR ABBY: The letters from people who are hard of hearing interested me because my mother has had that problem for years.

I wonder how many of your readers know that there's a small piece of equipment that can be attached to the telephone receiver to amplify the sound? We put one on my mother's phone three years ago, and it has been a godsend. She can push a little button with her thumb and raise the volume of the caller's voice. There is a small installation charge plus a small charge added to her telephone bill each month.

I can't understand why the telephone company doesn't advertise this item, as it would be a tremendous help to so many. Perhaps if you print this, others will inquire. It would be a kindness.

HELPFUL HELEN

DEAR HELEN: Thank you. Now if Ma Bell would just come up with a gadget that would signal those non-stop talkers to say goodbye.

DEAR ABBY: I was recently married, and I did not receive a gift from my godmother, who attended my wedding.

I'm afraid I might have lost the card. Should I call her and ask her if she sent a gift or not? I'm in the process of writing thank-you notes now and don't know what to do.

UNSURE

DEAR UNSURE: Don't ask her unless you have more presents than you have cards.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think are the most important things parents can give their children?

CURIOUS IN HANFORD, CALIF.

DEAR CURIOUS: Love; time; understanding; discipline; independence.

Buy Flowers On Fridays To Welcome Weekends

Why not do as the Europeans do? Traditionally they return home Friday evenings with a loaf of fresh bread tucked under one arm and a bundle of fresh flowers tucked under the other.

Even on our side of the Atlantic, bunches of fresh cut flowers are appearing more and more frequently on weekend shopping lists because they help start the weekend off cheerfully.

Gladiolus, roses, bachelor buttons, mums or carnations will make Friday dinner a bit special, even if you only expect company is your faithful gray cat and a good movie on TV.

But, if you're throwing a party over the weekend, or any other time, there's nothing like fresh Friday flowers to set a festive mood.

Florists have a year-round supply of flowers in season and rare surprises from faraway lands.

One of the classic fall flowers is the chrysanthemum, perfect for both formal and informal bouquets. These versatile flowers bloom in assorted whites, pinks, yellows and oranges, and take various shapes ranging from neat pompons to daisies to long spidery quills.

Among the longest lasting cut flowers, mums will stay fresh for up to 10 days. Since the foliage is not hardy, it's advisable to remove any leaves that will be submerged in water.

Tall, sword-shaped gladiolus add a fine touch to any flower arrangement. Available in pure white, pink, salmon, yellow, orange and red; they provide long-lasting color because each of the florets along the stalk opens at a different time.

Carnations combine the advantages of long storage life and blooms of many colors and combinations of colors. Besides roses, they are among the few scented cut flowers.

Opening lead ♠ 10

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

Today's hand is taken from Amalya Kears's translation of "Bridge Analysis" by Jose Le Dentu.

This hand shows a defensive problem. We start with the opening lead. It should be one of the unbid suits, but which one? A heart lead will beat the slam if East holds the ace of hearts and South doesn't have a singleton.

In view of the bidding, it is reasonable to assume that if South does not hold the ace of hearts he will have a singleton. South would not use Blackwood if he had two quick losers in an unbid suit. So, West opens the 10 of clubs. East takes his ace and must lead something back.

He abandons the idea of a club. South would not have bid the slam if he couldn't win the first or second club lead.

The heart return is very tempting, but East knows that South holds the ace of hearts and East is looking at those six good diamonds in dummy.

Finally, East sees one faint hope. If South has just one diamond, a diamond lead may cut his lines of communication. He leads a diamond and there is no way for South to avoid another loser.

Note that six notrump by South was unbeatable. No one could get a ruff against that contract. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

J. Lynch Families Met On Labor Day

Republicans Begin State Convention

TEXAN IN FOR BERT PARKS—Ron Ely, a Texan, whose television credits include the Malibu Run and Tarzan series, makes his debut Saturday night as host and master of ceremonies for the Miss America Pageant. Joining Ely in the spotlight will be Cheryl Prewitt, Mississippi beauty and resigning Miss America. The pageant will be seen on NBC beginning at 9 p.m. Saturday.

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer
SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Texas Republicans begin a state convention today dedicated to the downfall of President Jimmy Carter on Nov. 4.

Joining them tonight and Saturday in efforts to keep Texas' key 26 electoral votes from going to Carter, a second time will be George Bush, the vice-presidential nominee and adopted Texan.

Presidential nominee Ronald Reagan will be in San Antonio 10 days from now, part of a major campaign drive through South Texas and the Houston area.

of the storm in every presidential election this century and it is the battleground again this time," Upham told the state Republican Executive Committee Thursday afternoon in a pre-convention meeting.

"We are going to have more operations going in Texas and more volunteers working than ever before," Upham promised. "We have a structure in place that is better than it has ever been before in Texas."

In its Thursday meeting, the SREC did its part by opening party ranks to Cubans, Puerto Ricans and other Hispanic peoples who want to join the battle for Reagan-Bush.

Without dissent, the 62-member governing body voted to designate the National Hispanic Assembly of Texas as an ad hoc committee to work for Reagan-Bush in the general election. The motion also called for the SREC to act as soon as possible to make the assembly an official auxiliary of the state party.

"You need this group in Texas," Dr. Damaso Oliva, assembly chairman in San Antonio, told the state committee. He handed Upham a check for $1,000 and said "We want to help you."

Dorothy Doehe, San Antonio, party vice chairman, explained that the party already had one of cial auxiliary, Mexican-American Republicans of Texas. She said there would be no duplication because the national assembly includes Cubans, Puerto Ricans and other Hispanic people in addition to Mexican-Americans. Another source pointed out that MART, which was organized in the Rio Grande Valley, has been mostly dormant in this campaign.

State GOP Chairman Chet Upham will rap the convention to order in midafternoon, standing in for Rep. Tom Loeffler, R-Texas, whose congressional duties kept him overtime in Washington.

Keynote speaker is Gov. Bill Clements, Texas' first Republican governor, this century who says Carter's defeat is the prime aim of his administration.

Following Clements to the speakers stand will be former Texas Gov. John B. Connally, who lost his presidential nomination bid to Reagan and Bush. He and Clements have been teaming in an intensive grass roots campaign throughout Texas' non-urban areas.

World Still Seeking Remedies To Snoring

By TIMOTHY HARPER
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - The young woman needed to know whether Robert Crossley's anti-snoring invention really worked. "If it does," she said, "I might get serious about the guy."

Another customer, a prison inmate, wrote that his cellmates had threatened to set his bunk on fire if he didn't stop snoring.

And a Connecticut man worried that if he didn't stop snoring before he died, "it'll take the undertaker three days to quiet me down."

About 35 million Americans - the American Medical Association estimates the number at one in every eight persons, evenly divided between men and women - "saw logs" regularly and enthusiastically.

Letting off sleep, as snoring as been euphemistically termed, can be a sign of serious medical problems, but is generally not considered abnormal, doctors say.

In fact, some of history's more noted snorers include Beau Brummell, Cato the Elder and U.S. presidents such as George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt.

Some people claim their mates' snoring is a most comforting sound, and Irish playwright George Farquhar, circa 1700, hailed the snorer's various snuffles, chirrs, buzzes, zips, pops and wheezes as "The tuneful serenade of that waketful nightingale, the nose."

But snoring can be a real problem for roommates, husbands and wives, brothers and sisters and sometimes even neighbors whose sleep is shattered by a blissful lumberjack of the night.

The complainers have a point: tests in London concluded that a hearty snore can reach a noise level of 69 decibels. Some jackhammers are quieter. "He snored so loud," 18th century satirist Jonathan Swift once wrote of a fellow traveler, "that we thought he was driving his hogs to market."

More recently, David Reed of Seattle learned that two tenants in his apartment building had moved out because of his snoring. He was not surprised.

Reed, 38, ruefully recalled that once, after snoring through a night in a barn during a church outing, "Someone thought it was a tractor."

Snoring is caused by vibrations of the soft plate, tongue and other muscles in the mouth as air is inhaled. Drinking, smoking, obesity, congestion, loose dentures, tension and lack of exercise can contribute to snoring, as can more serious medical problems such as enlarged tonsils and adenoids, oral and nasal deformities, nasal polyps, allergies and inflamed sinuses.

Dr. Phillip Green of the sleep disorders clinic at the Marshfield, Wis. Clinic said snoring can also be a sign of a dangerous condition called sleep apnea.

Apnea is caused by a deformity that makes the sleeper stop breathing for anywhere from 20 seconds to two minutes several times an hour. It can be successfully treated by a tracheotomy, making an incision in the windpipe.

Advice columnist Ann Landers tells wives of snorers to sew ping pong balls to the backs of their husbands' pajamas to discourage them from sleeping on their backs.

A similar ploy was used 200 years ago when snoring colonial soldiers were ordered to do the same thing with musket balls so their comrades could get enough rest to fight the Revolutionary War.

But what about people who snore in any position? Or don't wear pajamas? Ann Landers admits the ping pong ball method is only about 50 percent effective.

It's still better, however, than some other methods, such as the bicycle horn - a woman tried to get her husband to strap on so he would toot himself awake when he snored.

Like alcoholism, the snorer's biggest battle may be admitting he or she does rattle the roof. Tape recordings sometimes work, if the snorer doesn't protest. "That can't be me!"

"There ain't no way," Mark Twain mused, "to find out why a snorer can't hear himself snore."

Snorers who do want to reform may try everything from tape to hypnosis. Snorees who can no longer suffer a partner's sibilant insufflations may resort to earplugs or separate bedrooms.

For those willing to try almost anything, patents have been issued on more than 100 various anti-snoring contraptions involving straps and springs, flaps and prongs.

But the only one with a money-back guarantee is the "snore suppressor" invented and sold by Crossley, a reformed snorer and retired engineer in Austin, Texas.

For $79.95, Crossley's 1,000 customers so far this year have received a three-ounce plastic sleep collar that sends electrical impulses into the neck with each snore.

"My collar punishes the body, very mildly but enough to build up a mental block against snoring," Crossley explained. He claims a success rate of more than 90 percent.

Crossley, whose snores once drove his wife to a bedroom down the hall, knows the truth in the old saw:

Laugh, and the world laughs with you; snore, and you sleep alone.

Day For Cubs In Towle Park

Saturday is physical fitness day for all cub scouts. Activities will be conducted from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the National Guard Armory in Towle Park. Cubs should bring a lunch. Drinks will be furnished.

Probation Is Revoked Here

Haskell Monroe Franks, 3214 Ave. U, was sentenced yesterday in 132nd District Court to serve six months in the county jail and fined $500 on a probation revocation.

Franks, court records show, had been placed on probation Feb. 6, 1979, on a drunken driving charge and yesterday had that charge revoked because of a subsequent drunken driving arrest.

Band Boosters To Meet Monday

The Snyder Band Boosters Club has scheduled a meeting for 7 p.m. Monday in the Snyder High School Band Hall.

Officers will be elected and the auxiliary units of the band - drum majors, twirlers, rifle unit and flag corps - will perform. All persons interested in the school band program are invited to attend.

Diet for diverticulosis?

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I am 66 years young and had open heart surgery six years ago. I had a new aortic valve put in and it's been doing pretty well. My problem is my stomach. I have diverticulosis which at times is very bad. I have diarrhea. I can't drink milk. I eat limited foods, drink no coffee, tea or alcohol and I don't smoke. I eat whole wheat bread and stay away from sweets except once in a while.

I'm taking Metamucil, one teaspoon in a glass of water in the morning. I took it for about a week and it seemed to help me and then I had two days of bad spells of diarrhea and I had to take Lomotil which I don't like to do. It makes me hoarse. I didn't read the directions well enough and when it said to use it for two or three days and stop, I didn't. Was it wrong for me to take it every morning?

Do you have any good diets for a person with diverticulosis?

DEAR READER - For the benefit of others, diverticulosis means those little pockets of the colon that are very common in middle-aged people. They do occur even in younger people. They're generally considered to be small ruptures of the lining of the colon through the colon's muscular wall. In many ways these little pockets behave like an appendix. They can get inflamed and resemble appendicitis. They can rupture or they can bleed.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 5-6. Diverticulosis, to give you more information about this problem, what we think causes it, and what you can do to help control it. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Many people who have diverticulosis also have a spastic colon. Some doctors think that the spastic colon irrationally causes the little ruptures. A spastic colon can be associated with either constipation or diarrhea and is frequently associated with alternating bouts of both problems.

It used to be thought that people who had diverticulosis had to be on a bland diet that didn't provide any bulk. In more recent times, other than during acute phases, such as acute infection of a diverticulum, perforation or bleeding, most doctors recommend that the diet should include a reasonable amount of bulk, and apparently you are doing that now. Metamucil is simply a bulk-forming agent and serves that purpose. There are many other bulk-forming agents available as well.

Why do you have diarrhea? It would require some careful examinations to find out. Some people who have symptoms that resemble a spastic colon really have celiac disease. This is an intolerance to gluten, the protein found in almost all cereals except rice, corn and soybeans. If you continue to have trouble, you might go ahead and use a bulk-forming agent such as Metamucil and eliminate all cereal products except products made with rice and corn.

No, you shouldn't continue to take Lomotil on a regular basis. It's very important that everyone should read the directions on the label of any medicines they have and follow them exactly, unless their doctor suggests some change. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Agape Presents 'Living Sound'

Agape Christian Fellowship, 111 E. 37th St., will host Living Sound International at 7 this evening. Living Sound is billed as an American Christian musical group with a message that began 2,000 years ago.

"Living Sound is a unique blend of music and ministry that has gained attention and respect worldwide," said Jay Newsom, pastor of Agape.

The group has performed with such personalities as B.J. Thomas, Si Zener, Richard and Patti Roberts and Andrae Crouch. They have also worked with such notables as Billy Graham, Oral Roberts, Robert Schuller and Leighton Ford.

"Living Sound is truly interdenominational," said Newsom, "having ministered in more than 2,000 different churches in at least 40 different denominations."

At present, there are four Living Sound teams. Two teams are permanently based in Europe working out of a headquarters in England. The four teams are rotated between state-side and overseas work with each team spending approximately nine months overseas during an eighteen-month term of service. Team members serve without salary and are required to raise their own support. Living Sound does not require financial guarantees for its concerts, but depends upon offerings for support.

Snyder Entertains Big Spring, 8 O'clock

Scoreboard Turned On Tonight

VAUGHNIE VOSS

On the final page of the scouting report of Big Spring, down at the bottom, is a note. "The scoreboard lights up this week," it reads. All the preparation is over as far as the season opener is concerned. Snyder's Tigers experience the real thing here tonight at 8 o'clock as they host the scrappy Big Spring Steers in Tiger Stadium. Coach Mike Jenkins wants to stick that first win in his pocket, naturally. And he wants to see something else, too. "We need to establish offensive productivity. It's vital that our offense start off the season on a good footing and move the football from a confidence standpoint. I think that will help our ballclub more than any one thing," he explained. Snyder has to be considered the favorite in tonight's encounter, but

Jenkins' bunch can ill afford to take Big Spring lightly. "They've got a new program under a new coach, so we know they'll be enthusiastic," he said. "They'll want to get off to a good start. We expect them to be tougher. Before, we've always got ten (played) them in the second or third game of the season. This time they'll be fresh and eager." Despite last year's 24-0 Snyder victory, the Steers annually provide a tough look for the Tigers. With the exception of 1979 and 1974, the teams have played within six points of each other for the past seven years. In fact, the average difference has been four points. Ralph Harris is the new Steer mentor. He'll have Big Spring in the Veer offensively, and in a 4-3 defense. "Basically it (the Veer) is the alignment we run," noted Jenkins. "Our kids are used to it; they've played against it, so that's a plus for us." A key athlete out of the formation appears to be running back Bobby R. Williams, a 180-pound junior Jenkins calls "an excellent runner." Williams also doubles on defense, playing cornerback.

Because of the new program at Big Spring, and the fact that many of the starting Steer roles were not set when Tiger coaches viewed them in scrimmages, Jenkins was unable to assess tonight's opponent as well as he probably would have liked to. He feels the Steers will issue their biggest challenge against Snyder's "rookies," however.

"I think it will be very necessary to defend against the pass and the outside game," said Jenkins. "What I mean to say, is we can't afford to give them the big play, really." Snyder will start only four young men on defense who have had any form of varsity playing experience: 255-lb. tackle Tony Degrate, ends Matt Taggart and Jason Johnston, and safety Vaughnie Voss, all seniors.

The other tackle will be 204-senior Oziel Gonzales, while 202-junior Bryan Limmer, 170-junior Jesse Hernandez and 177-sophomore Matt Davis will serve time at linebacker. Besides 160-senior Voss, Casey Peterson (150-so.) and either Robbie Davenport (160-jr.) or Ronnie Rosas (145-jr.) will be at the defensive halfback slots. Tracy Loyola, 160-sr., will take the other safety position.

Tigers Select Captains

When Snyder cradles the football for the first time under the lights tonight, a trio of experienced ball players will be leading the way. Third-year starter Neil Evans, guard, and second year regulars Mike Roemisch, quarterback, and SE-defensive end Matt Taggart have been selected as the season's game captains. The Tigers will also choose one team captain for each game and in that role tonight will be safety-fullback Vaughnie Voss. All four are seniors. Roemisch, last year's leading passer in District 3-3A, will take his snaps behind center Steve Gresselt, a 174-pound junior. Evans, 189-pounds, will be the deep snapper.

Echols, 195-junior, and either 165-pound Taggart or 175-sophomore Glenn Parham at split end, Miguel Ortega, 140-senior, or Brent Roemisch, 145-sophomore, will be at flanker. Ross Bawcum, a 192-sophomore, will take the other guard spot, while 202-junior Trey Harlin and 214-sophomore Barry

Davis fill the holes at tackle. Big Spring will probably go with 155-junior Tracey Spence at quarterback. He'll hand off to 185-junior Bobby Earl Williams or 160-junior Richard Evans. David Bordsoske, a 155-senior, is the tight end, while 130-senior Carbert Newton and 155-senior Reggie Anding take the flanker and split end slots respectively. On the line will be Barnes, a 180-senior, at center; 205-senior Lupe Ontiveros and 185-junior David Shanks at guards; and 205-junior Mike Scholer and 180-junior Greg Scarboro at the tackles. Greg Jones, the squad's biggest man at 250 pounds, may fill one of those guard spots.

Defensively the tackles are Tony Molina (202-jr.) and Phillip Gomez (180-jr.), with Barnes and Scarboro at the tackles. Linebackers are Mike Sauls (160-jr.), Brancroft (165-so.) and George Stevens (180-so.); while Todd Darden (130-sr.) is the monster. Cornerbacks are Williams and Anding. Evans is the safety.

Collegians Crank Up With ND-Purdue Tilt

By The Associated Press
No easy opener for ninth-ranked Purdue or 11th-rated Notre Dame. They go head-to-head in one of the more intriguing matchups scheduled for the first Saturday of the 1980 college football season.

"These two teams usually get excited about playing each other anyway. But the fact that this is the season opener for both teams makes it much more interesting. I don't think motivation will be a problem for either team."

biggest motivation could be the chance to serve notice to Ohio State and Michigan that last year's 10-2 record was no fluke and that their longtime domination of the Big Ten may be in jeopardy.

The two Midwestern behemoths were not slated to meet until later in the season, but the game at South Bend, Ind., was moved ahead for a national television appearance.

Left unsaid by Devine, who announced several weeks ago that this will be his last season at Notre Dame, was the fact that his Irish will likely be motivated by the embarrassment - for them - of not finishing among the top twenty in last year's polls.

Veteran Keith McClain, 170-senior, will run out of the tailback slot tonight while either Voss, 160 pounds, or Mark Shaw, 165-junior, will be at fullback. The receiving corps include tight end Perry

Broncos Bolstered 'O' To Get Test Sunday

Perhaps Red Miller got tired of watching Craig Morton stand there and, with no way to run, get decked by half a ton of angry linemen. Or perhaps he got tired of devising the offense ostensibly by himself. Or maybe it was the near-fight with Morton on the sideline during the final minutes of the Broncos' playoff loss to Houston.

Cats Tied 6-6 In First Effort

BIG SPRING - Snyder junior varsity's first trip to the gridiron ended in a 6-6 tie here last evening with the Big Spring Steers. The Cats took a 6-0 lead in the second quarter and held on until late in the final period before Big Spring managed to cross the goal on a fourth-and-one situation.

two field goals in the final minutes of the game. After the Steer touchdown, Snyder turned the ball over deep in its own territory after a punt attempt went away. Later, the Cats fumbled in their end of the field and Big Spring gave the would-be three-point effort another shot. Both tries failed.

Snyder's TD was set up by a 20-yard run from fullback David Gee. The Tigers scored soon afterwards, but a penalty on the play negated the effort. Quarterback David Nicholson later crossed over from five yards out. Snyder controlled the tempo of the contest until the final quarter. The Tigers were able to move the ball, but a shower of yellow flags continually stalled marches in midstream.

"Defensively I thought we played a real good football game," said Coach Winfred Shipp. "Except for that one pass (which set up the Steer TD), we did well. They completed a few passes on us when we were too far off the ball, but overall, the kids did a good job."

Big Spring never threatened until a 30-yard pass play set the hosts up at Snyder's one-yard line. From there, the Steers charged the Tiger defenses three times before finally crashing through on a quarterback keeper on fourth down.

"We were also pleased with David Nicholson's quarterbacking," said Shipp. "It was the first time he ever quarterbacked in a game, and he did a good job."

Neither team was able to convert an extra point attempt. Big Spring did try
