Military Takes Command...

Bloodless Coup Today In Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey's military commanders ousted the civilian government early today in a bloodless coup aimed at restoring political stability to this violence-wracked, strategic NATO nation bordering on the Soviet Union.

The military leaders put the prime minister and two other major political leaders under house arrest, extended martial law and abolished the country's 19-year-old constitution.

The military chief of staff and coup leader, Gen. Kenan Evren, also announced on television that his ruling five-man National Security Committee would soon begin work drafting a new constitution paying particular attention to altering the nation's laws on elections and political parties.

Evren, a political moderate, gave no indication when new elections would be held but he promised a return to civilian rule. He also said Turkey would maintain its pro-Western foreign policy and would remain loyal to all its commitments, including those to NATO.

The NATO military command announced in Brussels, Belgium, that maneuvers in Turkish Thrace by 3,000 soldiers from six NATO countries would go on as planned. The maneuvers scheduled later this month are aimed at

Chamber Sets Fun Breakfast

The Snyder Chamber of Commerce has scheduled another in its series of "fun breakfasts" for members.

The next breakfast session is set for 7 a.m. Tuesday in the banquet room of the Smorgasbord. Notices were going out to chamber members at the end of the week, and reservations should be made by noon Monday. Cost of the meal will be $3 per person.

Reservations may be made by calling the chamber office.

Sponsors of the fun breakfast this time will be C.A. (Mac) McCown, Texas Electric Service Co., KSNY Radio and Snyder Community

Antenna Television, and Hines Construction Co.

Once again, several door prizes will be awarded, topped by the first prize of $100. There also will be several special awards and new members of the chamber will be introduced.

Keeping tab on our neighbors:

James Roberts of the Andrews County News, noting that he was starting out on his 47th year of publication in Andrews, said he felt every issue in his bones.

"As a matter of fact, we feel like the little, 80-year-old clerk behind the cosmetic counter in the department store," said Roberts. "She was approached by a traveler who had forgotten a gift for his wife and rushed in to the perfume counter and asked the grey-haired little lady: 'Do you have Desires at Midnight?'"

"To which the elderly clerk replied: 'Honey, at my age I have to drink strong, black coffee just to stay awake for the 10 o'clock news.'"

Kim Pease of the Rotan Advance and Roby Star-Record says his youngest daughter, Julie, "experienced a lesson of life" while attending the fair at Abilene the other day. She and a friend were allowed to strike out on their own with instructions to meet the parents at a certain place in an hour. She was given $10 and admonished about over-indulging in junk food, etc.

"Well, when the hour was up and we met her after her stroll down the midway, she was madder than an old wet hen," said Pease. "She said, 'they told us to play this game, it was real easy to win, so we did, and every time we lost they kept saying to play again, it was real easy to win a big teddy bear. So we played again until we didn't have any more money and they never did let us win.'"

Pease said it brought back some memories of a similar incident.

Poles Get Help From Kremlin

MOSCOW (AP) — The Kremlin gave the Polish government a helping hand with its continuing labor crisis, promising increased shipments of food and manufactured goods to help meet the demands of restive workers demanding economic benefits in addition to labor union reforms promised them.

The official Soviet news agency Tass, reporting on a meeting Thursday between Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev and Polish Deputy Premier Michal Jazdzewski, said that "in present circumstances" it was increasingly important to raise the efficiency of economic cooperation between the Soviet Union and the communist state on its western border.

Tass did not say what additional products would be delivered or in what quantity. According to Soviet trade figures, exports to Poland last year included grain, tea, sunflower oil, preserved fish and beverages.

The agency also attacked AFL-CIO president Lane Kirkland, accusing him of aiding "anti-socialist elements in Poland" by starting a fund to send financial contributions to the Polish strikers.

"The trade union bosses of America are exerting every effort to support subversive anti-social elements in Poland," said Tass.

The strike wave in Poland that turned into a national crisis in the last half of August started with demands for wage increases to offset increases in the government-subsidized price of meat.

Clements Presents 'All-Stars'

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Bill Clements introduced an "all-star" executive committee of Texas Democrats and independents whom he said support the Reagan-Bush ticket.

The list included former Democratic Govs. Allan Shivers and Preston Smith and former Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, also a Democrat.

Clements said former Democratic Gov. Dolph Briscoe "is still thinking about" joining the committee.

Former Gov. John Connally, who switched from the Democratic to Republican Party, is campaigning for Ronald Reagan but is not on the executive committee.

Cotton Inc. Case Closed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Investigators have found no evidence to support allegations that Cotton Inc. improperly purged its files of evidence prior to a federal audit last year. Agriculture Department officials said today.

A spokesman for the department's Office of Inspector General, Earl Judy, said a decision was made by USDA lawyers not to refer the matter to the Justice Department for possible further investigation and legal action.

Also, he said, the case is closed and no further investigation on the allegations of file purging is in the works.

1,165 Registered For Fall At WTC

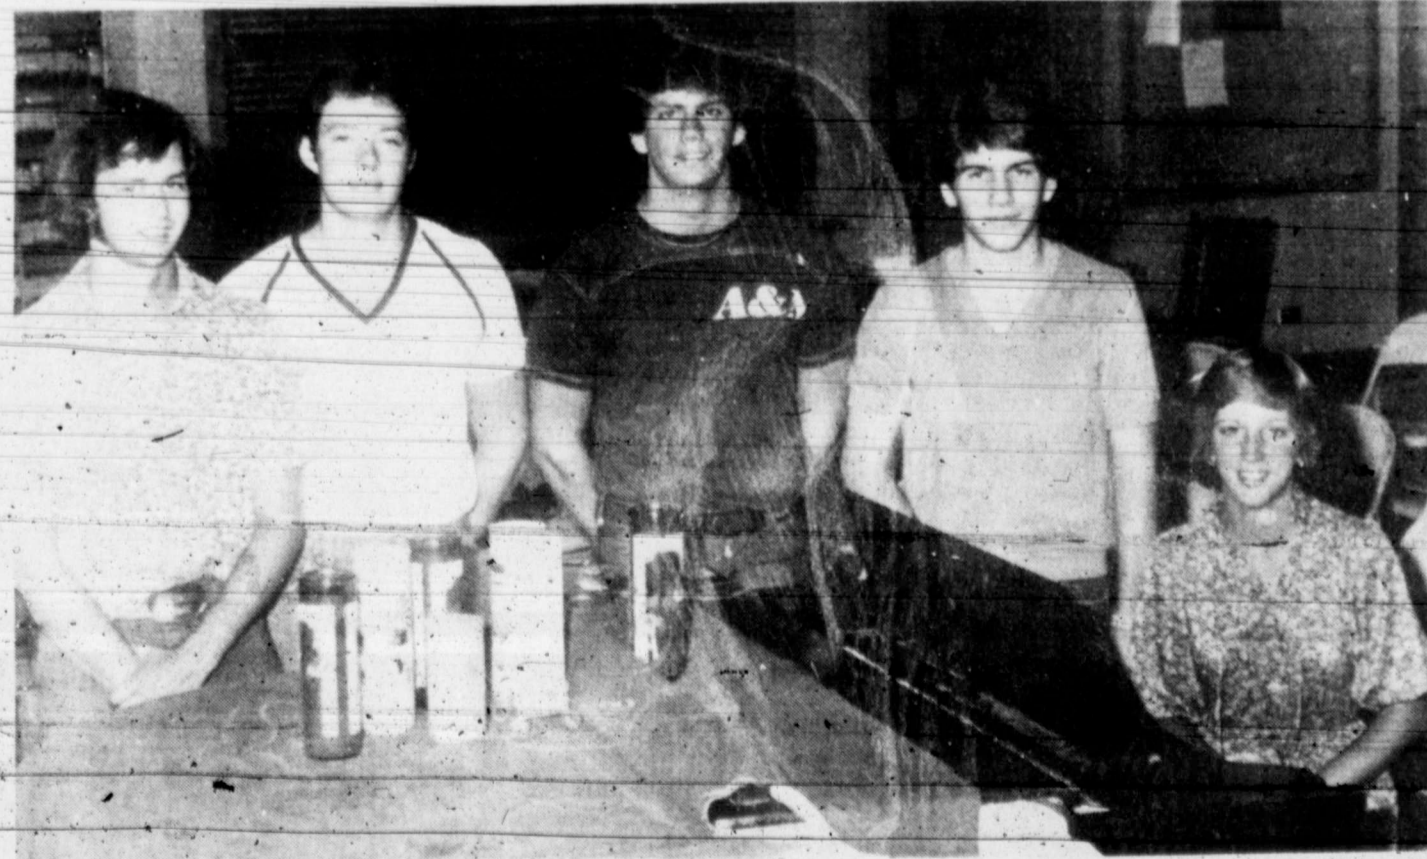

Total enrollment at Western Texas College for the fall semester has reached 1,165, Dr. Duane Hood, director of student services and registrar, reported today.

The over-all headcount is down from 1,230 from last year, said Hood. However, most of the decline has been at extension centers. On-campus enrollment for academic subjects shows a gain of eight percent over last year. These are students pursuing courses of study for academic credit toward associate degrees and/or for transfer to senior colleges.

Enrollment for vocational-technical courses especially in extension centers is down, and overall the total number of contact hours signed up this semester is about 25 percent below the number at this time last year. A sharp drop in mid-management courses accounts for a big portion of the decrease, Hood said.

Hood said he was pleased with the academic enrollment, which is higher than expected.

CHOIRS SELLING CANDLES—The high school choirs participate in a spring festival on alternating years and this year will make a trip to either the Buccaneer Festival in San Antonio, the Six Flags Choral Festival at Six Flags Over Texas or the Rocky Mountain Festival in Colorado Springs. To finance the trip, choir members will be selling candles. "The choirs are very appreciative of community response to our fund raising in the past. We are looking forward to their continued support," said Paul Fagin, reporter for the choir club. Choir officers are, above from left to right, James Hanks, treasurer; John Davis, vice president; Fagin, Randy Cook, president and Diane Sentell, secretary. (SDN Staff Photo)

ten on those colorful recruiting posters—the ones stressing faraway places and exotic adventures, the ones used to lure young men and women into the all-volunteer military.

But for more and more service families, subsisting at the poverty level has become a fact of military life.

Joan (not her real name) appears to be a typical young housewife. In her late 20's, she has three youngsters and a husband with a responsible job in the anti-submarine force based at the Jacksonville Naval Station.

This should be an enjoyable time of life for Joan. But it isn't.

"Every day you worry if there is going to be enough food, if the meals you are able to give the children are nutritious enough," she says. "You worry about clothing. You worry about everything. There is just never enough money."

Joan and her family live in a house trailer. Their budget, based on her husband's take-home pay of about $160 a week, does not allow for recreation or entertainment. In fact, they cannot even afford a phone.

They were recently forced to sell their car. Now they worry about losing the trailer, which is their only asset.

Only one thing enables the family to survive: Since they are living below the official poverty level, they are eligible for about $120 a month in federal food stamps.

"For enlisted families, the only answer is for the wife to work full-time," explains Joan. "But with the number of young women around here looking for work, jobs are very scarce. And if you have young children like I do, that is not really a viable option. What you would have to pay for child care would eat up everything you could earn."

Joan's story is far from unique, says Dick Young, the base's public-affairs officer. A career Navy man, Young is now retired and working as a civilian.

"Enlisted personnel below the level of an E-4 with two years' service are simply not eligible for on-base housing," says Young. "For those above that level, there is a two-year waiting list. This is a rather expensive community to live in. Housing is expensive; apartments rent for around $200 a month. Public transportation is almost non-existent, so you almost have to maintain an automobile. Many if not most of our young enlisted people are having big financial problems."

Young explains that money is especially tight for service families like Joan's: "Over the last eight years or so, military pay across the board has failed to keep up with increases in consumer prices. But the basic problem is that the entire military pay scale is simply not geared for the young enlisted man with a family."

"Given military benefits a single enlisted man living in barracks can make it if he manages his money intelligently. But the enlisted man who is married is in trouble unless his wife can find a decent full-time job. And for the young enlisted man—or even the young junior officer—with children, it's almost an impossibility."

Young notes that loss of skilled personnel is a major result of low military pay. "My son has been in the Navy for almost 10 years," he says. "He is a first-class petty officer, and the Navy has expended thousands of dollars training him to be a computer expert. His current take-home pay is about $500 a month."

"He has been offered civilian jobs in the data-processing industry in which he could start at triple what he is currently making. I tell him he is crazy to stay in. Given this state of affairs, is it any wonder that the military is having such a major problem in retaining its most skilled young people?"

Of course, low pay is not a problem confined to the Navy.

In March, Marine Corps Commandant Robert Barrow sent all Marines a memo advising them to check on their eligibility for food stamps. And Air Force Gen. Robert Huyser, commander of the Military Airlift Command, remarked in a recent interview: "Compensation is our biggest problem. (Military pay) does not provide for an adequate standard of living. Is it any wonder that we are losing our best and most skilled young people to civilian jobs?"

Next we will look at the proposed solutions to this problem.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Enjoy your friends today, but be wary of putting yourself in a position where you feel you are competing against them. Being too dogmatic isn't important. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You have everything it takes to be a winner today, but for some reason known only to yourself you might not put forth the proper effort. You could wind up in second place.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) As long as you maintain a philosophical attitude today you'll be able to handle whatever occurs in stride. Getting emotional is another story.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Be very practical in commercial dealings today and try to keep your feelings out of the picture. Sentiment must not be permitted to overrule logic.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) In partnership situations today you may find it a bit difficult to play a subordinate role. Seek harmony. Pull together, rather than apart.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Although your intentions will be good today, the very persons you try to help may be harmed by or may misunderstand your actions. Don't butt in unless your help is sought.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) In situations where team effort is required today, strive to hold up your end. Your interests could be elsewhere. There's a chance you won't do what's expected. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You may feel quite lucky today. This is justifiable, because you will be in most areas. However, don't expect another to do something you should handle.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Today you may be a bit more restless and aggressive than usual. This could cause you to act carelessly both with people and possessions. Be on guard. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) In your material affairs you should be fortunate today, but you might ruffle the feathers of those you deal with in order to get what you're going after.

uranium's problems

Texas has a big stake in uranium and its future utilization. Several areas of the state have rich sources of the ore, and strip mining is being done in some areas. Too, the state has a great stake in uranium's end product, nuclear energy. One day there will be no Texas oil and gas.

But the news is not good. The Wall Street Journal reported that New Mexico's boom in uranium has collapsed, and that many mines have closed there because doubts about atomic power and its safety have cut prices and clouded the industry's future.

The environmentalists largely are responsible. As America cringes, other nations proceed with uranium development and nuclear energy production. Those nations may have their worries, but they face reality. What else is there in the ultimate tomorrow?

The collapse of the uranium industry in New Mexico—where it all began—can very easily have a domino effect on the rest of the nation's uranium activity, and likely that effect is already in progress. The other uranium producing states include Texas, Wyoming, Colorado and Utah. But as "the uranium capital of the world," New Mexico, our neighbor, has been truly first, and now that its boom has burst, one knows the industry is in trouble. The Journal points out that the uranium boom is collapsing in New Mexico because it is a victim of falling prices and uncertainty over the future of nuclear power since the Three Mile Island accident last year.

The newspaper also reported that New Mexicans are not warming to uranium producers as they once did. Some are raising serious questions about the environmental and health effects of mining, milling and waste disposal, the Journal continued, and producers are facing tougher waste regulations, higher taxes and a horde of lawsuits aimed at blocking exploration and development.

The Journal reported that the industry's future is particularly clouded by the uncertain outlook for nuclear-power-plant construction. "Even before Three Mile Island," it said, "Many nuclear projects had been set back by lack of money and slower-than-expected growth in demand for electricity. As a result, utilities that scrambled to tie-up nuclear fuel supplies in the mid-1970s find themselves holding huge stockpiles of the metal, and some are selling it from their inventories. This has put pressure on the spot market...and the price has plunged."

Some uranium industry in this country is importing the metal because it is cheaper to import than to mine here. Another problem is "unfriendly legislatures" in a number of states.

The Journal reported that New Mexico hasn't any nuclear reactors and hasn't any plans to build any. And until recently even environmental groups there have shown scant interest in the anti-nuclear groups but now have mobilized, realizing that if they can stop uranium development, they can starve the nuclear-power industry.

Stopping uranium development and starving the nuclear-power industry are two things this nation's enemies desire.

new libyan situation

There's news from Libya and for a change it is not connected with Billy Carter.

That country's live-wire leader, Col. Muammar Qaddafi, has called for union with Syria, which has accepted in principle. Never mind that they are separated by a thousand miles of Mediterranean.

The immediate motivation is to strengthen the hard-liners' front against Israel, but the impulse is in a long Arab tradition. Syria, as a matter of fact, has just broken off an engagement with Iraq and a few decades back it was actually united with Egypt. That was the United Arab Republic, called off when it turned out to be more Egyptian than Arab.

As for the Egyptians, since the break up with Syria they have talked union with Sudan and that same Libya now courting the Syrians.

As they work out, Arab unions are a lot like Hollywood marriages—eventually everyone gets around to trying everyone else.

In the present instance, Qaddafi's proposal was not unconditional. Should union with Syria not go through, he vowed to carry the battle to Israel alone: "I shall go to Upper Galilee as a commando myself with my rifle."

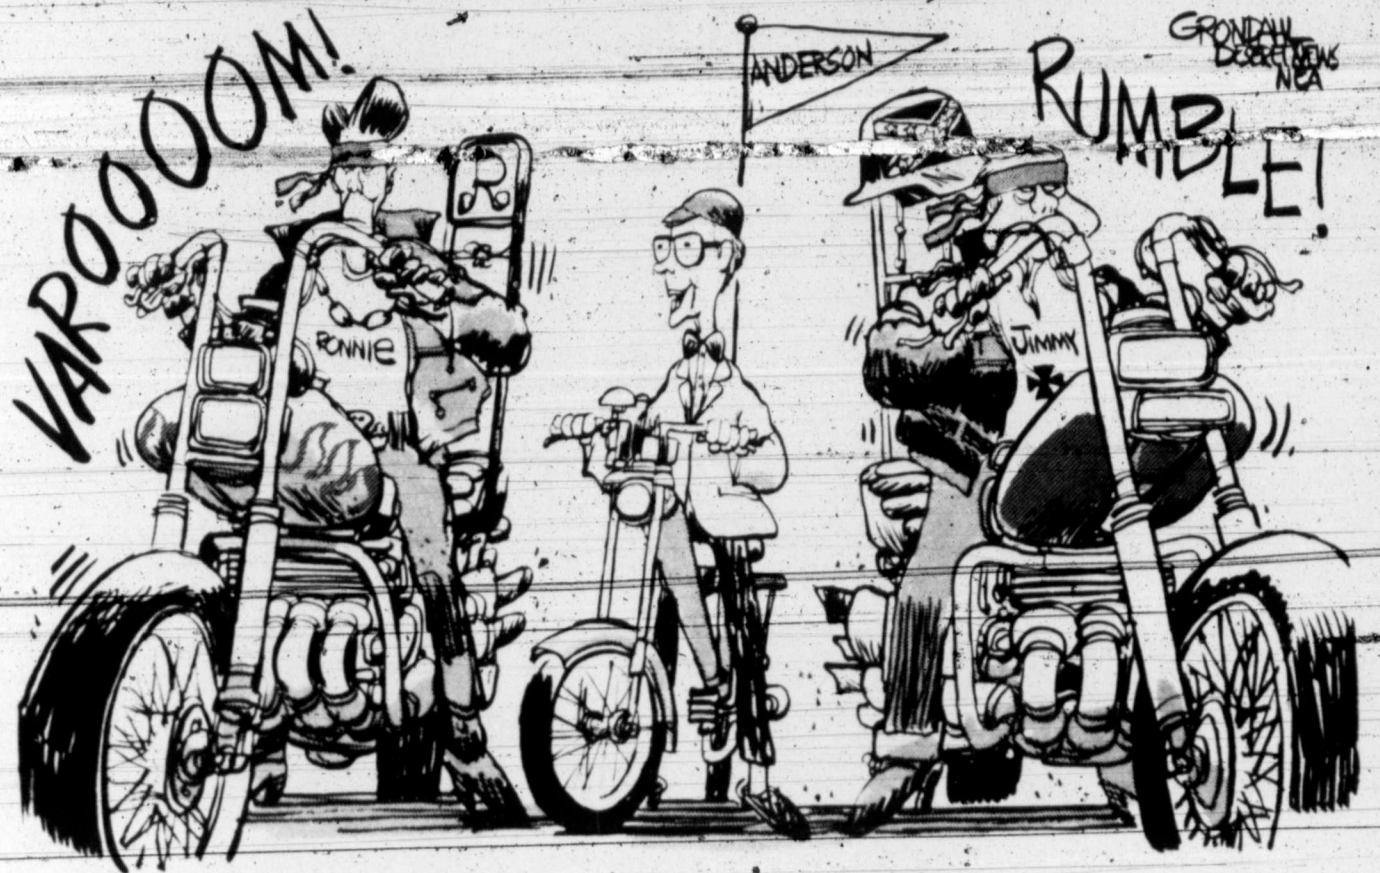

That might explain the quick Syrian acceptance, overlooking practical experience in these matters. Damascus may find it preferable to keep Qaddafi safely distant in Tripoli in nominal partnership rather than risk his running around with a loaded weapon near its own border.

There are some situations that make even a Billy Carter connection look good.

I thought I could endure a fall season of reruns brought about by the strike of two unions, but I can't.

Basically, I'm a weak person. I never told anyone, but once when I was watching "The Wizard of Oz" for the tenth time, something happened to me. I jumped to my feet and shouted at Dorothy, "Do you know how fat your stupid legs look wearing white anklets with black pumps? Wise up, Dorothy, you're 10 years old and you're eaten up with cellulite!" I don't know what made me say that.

Just after a summer of reruns, I am already saying unkind things to Alan Alda, Jim Garner and those nice men who work for Barney Miller.

I am sympathetic to the cause of the unions, but something has to be done before families are forced to go back to communicating with one another.

It occurs to me one solution to reruns would be to shorten the shows and extend the commercials to 30 or 60 minutes. Who among us has not wondered what happens to the guy who comes home to his surprise birthday party? His wife meets him at the door and says, "Surprise!" then gasps, "Honey, your breath!" She drags him into the nearest bathroom. Sure, we see him minutes later on an antiseptic high, breathing on everyone, but what happens the next morning? I would like to pursue that relationship.

I'd also like to see Robert Young and Mrs. Olsen meet at a party some night and see which one triumphs in the fresh-perked Olympics.

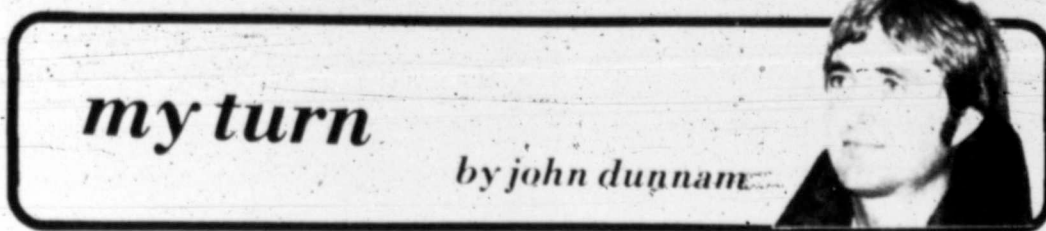

Mrs. Olsen: What are YOU doing here? Robert Young: I'm here because Fred has been mean as a snake lately, and I think he's drinking too much caffeine.

Mrs. Olsen: I think he's ticked off because he can't come home without tripping over you with a coffee pot in your hands.

Robert Young: Coffee beans up your nose! Mrs. Olsen: Just so they're mountain grown!

There is no question that a longer commercial format could answer a lot of questions. Do the little weirdos in the Fruit of the Loom waistband have families? Does anyone ever wonder what kind of a babysitter travels with a chalk demonstration to explain fluoride to a kid? What holds the marriage together between the plumber and his wife who are always meeting over a clogged sink? Who's been stealing all the American Express traveler's checks overseas?

It's a possibility. COPYRIGHT 1980 FIELD ENTERPRISES, INC.

by john dugan

Paul Harvey once observed that if people don't like prisons, then they oughtened to go there. However, there is one not far from here I wouldn't mind checking in to for a few days. Its called the Big Spring Federal Prison Camp and it has a swimming pool, tennis courts, bowling lanes and a giant gym complete with health spa and sauna. And if a guy just feels like killing a little time (pun intended) there are color TV sets to watch including a couple with 4x6 screens. And, in this prison, there is air conditioning.

What inmates say they like most about the place is that they don't have to put up with a bunch of criminals. What they mean is that there is no one to steal their wrist-watches when they take a dip in the pool; there are no cell block bullies to intimidate them; and there are no sexual sadists lurking in the showers.

The inmates here are men who have convinced authorities that they are not dangerous to themselves or others. That covers a lot of ground.

Billie Sol Estes is here. So is the doctor who used to prescribe drugs to Willie Nelson and a host of other entertainers. Then on the other end of the spectrum, there are a few illegal aliens.

Since there is no fence around the place, escape would seem easy—but it is seldom attempted. First, why would anyone want to leave? Second, inmates know that if captured, they would probably be sent to a regular prison where violence is common and supervision is rigid and unforgiving.

Still, a few have left and lawmen have even found themselves in the ironic situation of trying to catch an illegal alien before he makes his escape back to Mexico. Once caught he is returned to Big Spring to complete his sentence for being in the country illegally.

Most offenses are more serious, however, and they run the gamut of non-violent crime. There are drug offenders, swindlers, and your everyday tax evader doing time here. Before becoming just another con, inmates were doctors, lawyers, laborers, truck drivers, you name it. There are even a few journalists doing time. (Caught stealing a loaf of bread I'll bet) The inmates have their own newspaper.

Prison officials cringe when the place is referred to as a country club prison. After all, they argue, a man can't just up and leave. And there are several roll calls to make daily, and they can't have more than $10 pocket money each day.

They can leave on weekends, if they have behaved themselves, and on holidays also.

What is so tough about that? Most of us on the outside have a roll call everyday solid from 8 to 5. Maybe we get weekends and holidays off and about the only time we have more than $10 in our pockets is enroute to the grocery store or gas station.

The infuriating truth of the matter is that the humane treatment here does more to turn a man away from crime than the maximum security prisons where inmates literally learn to be professional lawbreakers.

And oddly enough, it costs only a fraction as much to keep these guys in luxury as it does to maintain the maximum security places where even cigarettes are coveted.

Some argue that these people don't need to be in jail at all. That the shock of conviction and a few days in jail have altered their view of how to get along in this world. I don't see it that way. If a man shoots his wife in a moment of passion or assaults someone in a fit of rage or even if he shoots an innocent bystander in a robbery, the victim gets hurt mostly through the sheer bad luck of being in the wrong place at the wrong time.

But these people, non-violent though they may be, mostly plotted to get their victims. They are the type that single you out and with premeditation take what had to get the honest way.

So if they feel like they are wasting their lives, even in luxury, so what? Like Barretta says: "If you can't do the time, then don't do the crime."

Macho Man Full of More than Hot Air

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a man who is so macho that he flatly refuses to help his wife with anything connected with housework? He says, "Men do not do women's work."

We have no children, by choice, and we both work days, but he insists that I get up earlier than I ordinarily would in order to blow-dry his hair every morning. He also thinks it's a wife's duty to pick up after her husband, so he leaves his dirty socks and underwear all over the house. He says his mother was his father's "slave," and he expects me to be the same.

As a working wife, I contribute equally to the household expenses and think I should be treated as an equal, but I'm not. His old-world upbringing has given him the macho, male-supremacy attitude, and it's about to drive me to the divorce court. Any suggestions?

SLAVE

DEAR SLAVE: You're working full time, right? You contribute equally toward household expenses, right? You are a "slave" by your own definition, right?

Emerson said, "Slavery is an institution for converting men into monkeys." Well, that goes for women, too, right? So stop picking up after the male chauvinist, and tell him to use some of that hot air he's full of to blow-dry his own hair. (P.S. A counselor might be able to save your marriage, but I'm not optimistic about your chances of getting him there.)

DEAR ABBY: There is this snooty women's editor in our office who insists on opening and reading mail addressed to Dear Abby, in care of this newspaper, before she forwards it to your Los Angeles office.

Should we inform the postmaster general? What are your thoughts on people who open and read other people's mail?

NAME WITHHELD

DEAR NAME: My attorney tells me that it is a crime for a person to open mail addressed to another unless authorized to do so. The penalty for doing this is one year in prison or a fine of $500. After this hits print, I doubt that it will be necessary to inform anybody. If I am mistaken, please let me know.

DEAR ABBY: I am a church organist. Frequently I am asked to play for weddings of people I don't know. They pay me and also send me an invitation to the wedding, which includes the dinner.

Am I obligated to send a gift?

WITHHOLD MY NAME

DEAR WITHHOLD: You don't have to pull out all the stops. However, if you accept the invitation to the dinner, I think a small gift is in order.

One of the great sources of article hands is the Encyclopedia of Bridge. It is remarkably free from error, but even Homer nods. Today's hand was defended by George Hapee and B Jay Becker some years ago.

Becker's four-heart opening put considerable pressure on North and South, but did not keep them out of the spade slam.

East's six of hearts forced South's ace at trick one. Then South played ace-king and a small spade. West was in with the queen and did not have a heart to lead. Fortunately for his peace of mind, East had discarded the king and three of hearts in order as a suit preference request for a diamond shift. West obliged by leading a diamond.

The Encyclopedists point out that a club lead would settle all South's problems and that the diamond lead led to a defeated slam contract.

We want to point out that an alert South would still make his slam by the simple expedient of taking all the rest of the tricks.

He would take his ace of diamonds, lead a diamond to dummy's king, ruff a diamond and run off all his trumps. Dummy's last three cards would be a small diamond, an ace and one club. West would have had to come down to two clubs in order to keep his 10 of diamonds and South's clubs would take the last three tricks.

Members of the George Cogdell Chapter of Daughters of American Colonists had their first meeting of the year at the Snyder Country Club with Elizabeth Connell serving as hostess.

Ophelia Blackard, vice president, called the meeting to order, and Mrs. Henry F. Clark Jr., chaplain, voiced the opening prayer. Mrs. Douglas K. Hill led the group in the pledge to the flag, and Connie Tutt read the minutes of the last meeting. Delila Baird, registrar, reported that application of one new member was pending with the national society.

Mrs. Gene L. Dulaney presented the program on highlights of the life of George Washington. Because his military career during the American Revolution and his tenure as first president of the United States are well known, the speaker devoted most of her presentation to the personal side of the man known as the "Father of Our Country."

Due to the genealogical interests of the group and the emphasis on the colonial era, Mrs. Dulaney stated the lineage of Washington from emigrant ancestors and discussed the roles of various members of the family in life of the colonial period.

Members attending the meeting included Mmes. Blackard, H.F. Clark Jr., W. Clark, Culaney, Leland S. Herod, Hill, Vera Morrow, Tutt, and Misses Delila Baird and Josie Baird.

Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Luncheon Begins Year For Federation Clubs

Beginning the new year with a colorful salad luncheon at the Martha Ann Woman's Club, the Snyder Federated Clubs registered 43 members and guests at their meeting Tuesday.

Margaret Dell Price played favorite piano selections during the meal. Margaret Miller, president of the Twentieth Century Club, introduced Bonnie McBride of Hamlin, Mesquite District president.

Briefly reviewing the history of General Federation of Women's Clubs (GFWC), Mrs. McBride quoted their motto, "unity in diversity," and the Texas Federation motto, "in small things liberty, in large things unity, in all things charity."

"GFWC is the largest nondenominational, nonpartisan organization of volunteer women in the world," Mrs. McBride said in going over the purposes of GFWC.

Mrs. McBride reviewed the many works of the organization which extend into all phases of community, state and national interests. Texas Federation has had a leading role in education, in organizing libraries, in promoting compulsory attendance and teacher certification, and in the teaching of music, homemaking and Texas history in the schools. Scholarships in various fields of study include nursing, music, art and agriculture.

The speaker explained that TWFC has worked for state parks, roadside parks and for beautification of Texas highways. They were also heard on Palo Duro Canyon, Big Bend and Guadalupe National Parks and the Big Thicket.

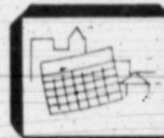

Historical preservation is another area of interest and effort for the club, the speaker noted. Club members state-wide are making contributions to the historical foundation where memorial or living tributes are accepted.

Projects adopted for emphasis in the 1980-82 interval are Girls' Town, crime reduction hands up, TWC library, hometown beautification, health, and safety. These state goals are adapted by each district and individual clubs to conform to its own needs and capacities.

Lena McGee, immediate past president of Mesquite District, expressed the gratitude of the district clubs for the hospitality extended to them by the Snyder clubs for the 1980 Spring Convention and for the opening of this new club year. Members of the Martha Ann Woman's Club board were also complimented for their maintenance of the beautiful facilities of the clubhouse.

Cuban Diplomat Killed Thursday

NEW YORK (AP)—The sniper slaying of an attaché to Cuba's mission to the United Nations is part of an effort to make Cuban diplomats "disappear from the face of New York," say anonymous callers claiming to represent the anti-Castro group Omega 7.

Feliz Garcia-Rodriguez was shot Thursday as he drove a red station wagon bearing diplomatic license plates in the borough of Queens. The shots may have come from a passing vehicle or the elevated ground of a nearby cemetery, police said.

Secretary of State Edmund S. Muskie condemned the assassination, and officials promised "a vigorous investigation."

Muskie said federal authorities would cooperate.

An anonymous man with a Hispanic accent called news agencies within minutes of the 6:20 p.m. shooting and said Omega 7 was responsible for "the execution."

The caller told The Associated Press: "He's a Communist. The next will be Raul Roa," Cuba's U.N. ambassador.

WCBS-radio also got a call from a man claiming to be Omega 7 who said: "We eliminated the first one. We will continue until every single one disappears from the face of New York...we are going to make their life highly difficult."

Cuba's U.N. delegation consists of some 40 people, and police added an extra officer to the normal three-man guard detail.

Esther Perez, an administrative aide at the Cuban

Mission here, said Garcia, about 38, had been in the United States for two years. Listed as the 20th ranking diplomat at the mission, he was mainly responsible for administrative duties.

Donald McHenry, the United States' U.N. ambassador, said, "I express my sincere regret for this cowardly act resulting in a tragic loss of life."

From Washington, Muskie said, "This is a nation of laws. We condemn terrorism in all its forms and are committed to its eradication."

Over the years, Omega 7 has claimed responsibility for more than a dozen politically related bombings in the city, including those at the Cuban mission here on Oct. 29 and Dec. 7 where four policemen were hurt.

On March 25, Omega 7 claimed responsibility for planting a plastic bomb under Roa's car. Police defused the bomb and no one was hurt.

James T. Sullivan, chief of detectives for the city police, said a Terrorist Task Force of city police and FBI agents was investigating Omega 7, but had difficulty "attaching specific individuals to specific crimes."

Jurors Find No Negligence

No financial settlement was made in a two-day trial in 132nd District Court that ended Thursday afternoon.

The case, Karen Braziel vs. Dave Harlin, individually and as next friend for minor Melinda Kay Harlin, began Wednesday. It had been filed Nov. 9, 1978, as a result of a December, 1977, traffic accident on 30th St.

The jurors, however, were unable to find negligence on the part of the auto drivers, thus no money was awarded the plaintiff.

Sentence Levied

Rosalio Yanez was sentenced Thursday in county court.

Yanez, 221 29th St., pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated and drew a three-day jail sentence and a $200 fine.

Parachutists Plan Jump In Canyon Lake

NEW BRAUNFELS (AP)—Army parachutists will jump out of a helicopter and fall 1,500 feet into Canyon Lake Saturday, Sept. 20 in a training exercise named "Catfish Drop."

Thirty-six jumpers from Fort Sam Houston and Fort Hood will parachute in groups of six between 1 and 3 p.m. Saturday between Canyon Lake Park and the Fort Sam Houston Retreat Area, according to Fifth Army Headquarters.

"The training operation is designed to instruct active Army personnel in safety requirements for intentional water parachute jumps," the Army announced. "Knowledge gained will be passed on to reserve component personnel. All Ranger, Pathfinder and Special Forces units must be able to conduct airborne water infiltrations of enemy territory."

The jumpers will come from the Army Readiness Group Infantry Team at Fort Sam Houston and the Rigger Platoon and Pathfinder Section at Fort Hood. Each will use a MC1-1B steerable parachute and B-7 flotation device.

Six radio-equipped recovery boats, each manned by a driver and spotter, will be used to recover the parachutists from the water, the Army announcement said.

OBITUARIES

Boles Rites

Funeral service has been set for 10 a.m. Saturday in the Bell Seale chapel for Bill Boles, 54, veteran teacher and coach in Snyder Public Schools who died Thursday morning.

The Rev. Ken Branam, pastor of First Baptist Church, will officiate, and burial will be in the Caps Cemetery in Taylor County, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Mr. Boles was dead on arrival at Cogdell Memorial Hospital at 9 a.m. Thursday after suffering an apparent heart attack at Snyder Junior High School.

A native of Memphis, Tex., he was a graduate of Memphis High School and attended Hardin-Simmons University where he earned both bachelors and masters degrees. He had been associated with Snyder Public Schools for the past 14 years and was in his 27th year in public education.

He was married on Nov. 30, 1951, at Tuscola to Una Hollowell. She survives.

Also surviving are a daughter, Deanna Adams of Big Spring; a son, Mike Boles of San Diego, Calif.; two sisters, Marie Ward of Abilene and Corene Bevers of Amarillo; and a brother, Lacy Boles of Sweetwater.

Double Murder, Rape In Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—Two men broke into a North Dallas apartment Thursday night and raped and killed a woman. They then abducted and shot her two male companions, one of whom died, police said.

Robert Lee Matzigg, 23, was in critical condition today from a bullet wound in the back of the neck at Parkland Hospital, police said.

Christopher Bates, 23, who shared the apartment with Matzigg, was shot in the back of the head and killed while running from his abductors in a field in southwest Dallas.

Bates' 22-year-old girlfriend, Barbara K. Hoppe, was found dead in the bedroom of the men's apartment. Police said she had been bound and gagged and was nude from the waist down. The body was covered with a bed comforter.

Police spokesman Bob Worth said that she had two stab wounds in her chest, but police believe she was strangled before being stabbed.

Probation Is Revoked

A five-year prison sentence was levied Jesse R. Dominguez Thursday in 132nd District Court as a result of a probation revocation.

Dominguez had been placed on probation Nov. 14, 1975, after having been charged with breaking into two cars.

His probation was revoked because of failure to report to his probation officer, court records show.

Dentist's Dream Now Hot Political Issue

AUSTIN (AP) — It was 1967 when Dr. Leo J. Windecker nosed his plastic plane into the West Texas skies. Now, the dentist's dream is the latest in bomber technology and not political issues.

Windecker's vision gave rise to "stealth technology" and a super-secret bomber that the Austin American-Statesman reported has been tested in Nevada and Alaska for the past two years.

The newspaper reported that the aircraft is the prototype of a plastic, delta-shaped bomber able to slip undetected past enemy radar.

The newspaper said the stealth design virtually eliminates flat surfaces which produce radar returns and has a body made of plastic that absorbs radar impulses.

Presidential nominee Ronald Reagan and other Republicans have made release of stealth information a major political issue, claiming the material was leaked and then made public by the administration to offset charges that Democrats have weakened national security.

Former President Gerald Ford said in Houston Thursday that he was "absolutely dumbfounded" that Secretary of Defense Harold Brown released information about the program.

Ford said there was "no question in his mind that release of the stealth information was a political decision that unquestionably is harmful to our national security."

And Sen. Richard Lugar, R-Ind., said the Senate Intelligence Committee plans to hold hearings on

Pentecostals

Plan Revival

The United Pentecostal Church, 31st and Ave. C, is holding a Holy Ghost Revival beginning Sunday and continuing through Friday, Sept. 17.

The Rev. Roscoe Seay from Moran, Texas, will lead the services which begin at 7:30 each evening.

"Come grow with us," says A.J. Haley, pastor of United Pentecostal.

the release of classified information dealing with the project.

Windecker, who said he reaped no profits from his idea, gave up his dental practice in 1959 to start building plastic airplanes.

With the aid of a Dow Chemical Co. grant, he designed and built a four-seat plastic airplane in 1967 called "The Eagle."

The Midland dentist said a company he formed to produce the "Eagle" had orders for 16 of the aircraft when the company's stock went public "for too little money" in 1971.

Dow owned many of the patents on the process that Windecker used and it wasn't until after his fledgling firm folded in 1971 that the Pentagon became interested in the Eagle for its radar-avoiding capabilities.

"Their entire interest was the Eagle's low radar signature," Windecker told the newspaper in an article published Thursday.

He said with a few design modifications, the plane became "invisible to radar."

From the Eagle's military descendant, the YE-5, came the idea for the stealth bomber that the newspaper said has been tested secretly for the past two years.

Quoting sources "knowledgeable about the tests,"

BIRTHS

Capt. and Mrs. Tim D. Fuston are the parents of a boy born Aug. 28 in Val Verde Memorial Hospital, Del Rio. He weighed 6 lb. 8 oz. and has been named Thomas Ray. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Peveler of Snyder, Mrs. Joan Fuston of Dallas and Arthur Fuston of Corpus Christi. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Donaldson and Mr. and Mrs. H.G. Tony and Edilyn Smith are the parents of an 8 lb., 13 1/2 oz. baby boy born Sept. 10 at Corpus Christi Hospital. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Graham Smith of Snyder and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Eddi King of Colorado City.

the paper says the delta-winged bomber was built by Lockheed Aircraft Corp. using a Boeing Co. design and stealth technology.

The aircraft, which resembles the "flying wing" produced by Northrop Aviation Co. in the late 1940s, has been flying from a secret test base in Nevada for the past two years, the newspaper quoted sources as saying.

Spokesmen for Boeing, Lockheed and the Department of Defense have declined comment on the testing and refused to admit that the bomber exists.

Northside Baptist Schedules Revival

The Rev. Vernon Lierly, pastor of Grace Baptist Chapel in Albuquerque, N.M., will be preaching in revival services at Northside Baptist Church beginning Monday.

The revival will continue through Sunday, Sept. 21.

Rev. Lierly has served as pastor of churches in Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Leading the singing for the revival will be Wayne Burney, music director at Northside. Services will feature old-time gospel singing by the congregation, special solos, duets and quartets.

Services will be held at 7 p.m. Sunday and at 7:30 p.m. during the coming week.

Salaries Of Teachers

Topic In 1981

HOUSTON (AP)—Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby said upgrading teachers' salaries should be a top priority when the Texas Legislature convenes next January.

Speaking to the Houston Chamber of Commerce on Thursday, Hobby said recommendations by the State Board of Education to give public school teachers an average 22 percent raise over the next biennium "will prove an adequate basis" for compensating for inflation.

The lieutenant governor predicted the recommendation will fare well in legislative budget meetings. Under the current proposals, aid to Texas school districts would increase by $1.3 billion, bringing the total of state support to $6 billion over the next two years. He said that does not include state funds for higher education.

Almost 50,000 French Protestants were killed in 1572 in the massacre of St. Bartholomew.

Dangerous fad diet

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Does HCG cause fat tissue to be broken down? I am active and it would be great if I could take HCG injections to allow me to maintain my muscles while I crash off the fat that has accumulated on my hips and waist in a shorter than normal period for most diets. I'm also including a diet plan that goes along with HCG and would like your comments on it. It's a very strict diet but if I can use this HCG and feel good I'd like to try it. My friends and I are thinking of experimenting on ourselves with this program.

DEAR READER — My

opinion of the diet can be summed up in one word — atrocious. To that I will add, you certainly will be experimenting on yourself. Unfortunately, the results of such experiments are already known and they're all bad.

HCG is an abbreviation for Human Chorionic Gonadotropin. This hormone can be obtained from the urine of pregnant women. It has enjoyed a certain amount of fame in certain fat clinics but it's just a gimmick. Well-documented studies reported in recent medical literature demonstrate that it has no real benefit in helping anyone lose body fat.

That strict diet you included of around 500 calories a day is enough to get you into real trouble so I'm sending you my new issue of The Health Letter number 15-2, "Dangerous Dieting." It will answer a lot of questions that you have. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

You can lose weight following many different dietary fads that are promoted to the public. Sometimes this weight loss is just water, particularly in the first week when the body's normal stores of salt and water are being washed out. That leads to fatigue, sensations of fainting and, if a person persists in it over a long period of time, it can lead to serious complications. Some people have died from fad diets that have been used in recent years.

I know from the rest of your letter that you're a young woman and if you restrict your dietary intake to such abnormal degrees, you run the risk of upsetting your normal hormone cycles and the risk of losing your hair. The latter is temporary and your hair will return once you return to a normal, sensible, well-balanced diet.

The best answer to the national diet craze is to learn to eat properly. You can use a well-balanced diet that doesn't excessively restrict your calories that will enable a normally active person to slowly eliminate excess body fat or prevent developing it in the first place.

DEAR DR. LAMB — When a person is taking heart and blood pressure medication, do you always have to take it with water or could you use orange or prune juice in the morning?

DEAR READER — No, you don't have to use water. You could take your pills with a glass of milk or almost any beverage that you haven't been asked not to use. In fact, orange juice or other fruit juices might be very good with heart medicines because fruit juices provide potassium. For example, many heart specialists like patients who are using digitalis to be sure that they get enough potassium in their diet.

Foreign-Made Autos Still Tops In Mileage

By Martin Crutsinger
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)

American automakers, despite offering their most fuel-efficient cars ever this fall, have yet to break the stranglehold held by the imports on fuel economy.

For the third straight year, the 10 cars getting the best mileage in the 1981 model year are all foreign-made, according to statistics released today by the Environmental Protection Agency.

And for the fourth straight year, Volkswagen's diesel-engined Rabbit is ranked No. 1, with a 42-mile-per-gallon estimate in city driving for its 1981 four-speed model.

While the Rabbit is assembled in Pennsylvania, it is listed by the EPA as an import because more than 20 percent of its parts are imported.

A new Toyota model, the Starlet, took second place with 39 mpg, followed by the five-speed version of the diesel V.W. Rabbit at 38 mpg.

But U.S. automakers, who have suffered through a disastrous year as fuel-efficient imports captured about one-fourth of total sales, are fighting back, introducing new small cars and putting mini-computers on old models to get better fuel mileage. The best mileage a domestic car got in the EPA ratings in 1980 was 26 mpg by the Chevy Chevette. But nine 1981 models beat that mark.

The Chevrolet Chevette and a new Ford car, the Escort, tied for the top domestic spot with 30 mpg. The Escort also will be sold as the Mercury Lynx. Various versions of Chrysler's Dodge Omni and Plymouth Horizon scored 28 and 27 mpg.

Chrysler, being propped up by government-guaranteed loans, is pinning hopes for a resurgence on its new front-wheel-drive "K" cars — the Dodge Aries and Plymouth Reliant. They scored better than any of their competitors in the mid-size field, coming in at 25 mpg. The best mileage for GM's front-wheel-drive Citation was 22 mpg.

Chrysler was also the only U.S. automaker to have models among the top 10 mileage makers, although both — the Dodge Colt and Plymouth Champ — are built by Japan's Mitsubishi Co. They tied for fourth at 33 mpg.

Those cars were followed by the five-speed Datsun 210 and Toyota Corolla Tercel, each at 36 mpg. Rounding out the top 10 were the Honda Civic and the four-speed and five-speed versions of the Mazda GLC, all at 35 mpg.

The EPA cautioned that its figures should be used for comparison purposes only because they are arrived at through mechanical tests that cannot possibly reflect individual driving habits or road and weather conditions.

Using an average selling price of $1.45 a gallon for diesel, the EPA estimated a motorist driving 15,000 miles a year could expect to pay $518 for fuel in the top-rated VW Rabbit.

Motorists driving the top-rated domestic autos, the gasoline-powered Chevette and Ford's Escort and Lynx, would pay $774 annually with unleaded gasoline selling for $1.55, the EPA said.

Social Security Ruling Victory For Widowers

LAREDO (AP)—A federal judge says a provision of the Social Security Act that denied benefits to widowers who remarried before age 60 is archaic and unconstitutional.

The provision allowed widows who remarried before age 60 and whose second marriage ended in divorce or death to draw benefits on the record of the first husband. Widowers were given no such option.

U.S. District Judge George P. Kazen criticized the sex-based distinction as part of the "baggage of sexual stereotyping that presumes that all women are dependent housewives who rely on their husbands for support."

His ruling on Wednesday was a victory for a retired U.S. Postal Service worker, Wilbur H. Mertz, 68, of Brownsville, Texas.

Mertz filed for spouse's benefits in 1977 on the Social Security record of his first wife, Mary, to whom he was married from 1944 until her death in 1963. He remarried in 1967 and was divorced in 1976.

The Supreme Court and other courts previously have struck down most major gender-based distinctions in the Social Security law. A handful of minor ones still exist. Mertz brought his suit as a class action. It technically covers all widowers who were denied benefits in the 60 days before Mertz filed the suit on June 29, 1979.

A clerk for the judge said, however, the ruling will have the impact of changing the law "for all widowers."

Kazen ordered Health and Human Services Secretary Patricia Roberts Harris to identify the eligible widowers and pay them benefits.

In Washington, Jim

Brown, a spokesman for Social Security, said the agency had not seen the ruling and had no immediate reaction. It does not know how many widowers would be affected.

The judge ordered Social Security to compute Mertz's benefits and pay him immediately. The amount was not known.

White Students Now Minority

HOUSTON (AP)—For the first time, blacks and Hispanics outnumber white students attending Houston public schools, enrollment figures showed.

Today, the Anglo race became minority No. 3 in the pecking order. Houston Independent School District Superintendent Billy Reagan said, "That has many connotations for many people."

Figures released Thursday showed 85,789 blacks, or 44.7 percent, were attending Houston schools. That compared with 53,000 Hispanics, or 27.6 percent, and 52,901 white children, or 27.5 percent.

The number of Hispanics has been bolstered by 2,058 students since last Friday, when U.S. Supreme Court Justice Lewis Powell ordered Texas to provide free education for illegal alien children, district officials said.

But Houston School Board President Tarrant Fendley added, "I don't think that in itself is significant. The number of white children in the district is more than we anticipated this year, and I feel good about it."

The number of Hispanics has grown by about 1 percent annually in recent years, while the number of white students has steadily declined for the past 10 years, figures showed.

School officials have blamed the declining white birth rate for the low Anglo enrollment.

Lee-Snyder To Tangle

Snyder and Midland Lee both started off the 1980 football season with losses, but barring a tie, one team will walk away from tonight's 8 o'clock game here with a 1-1 record. Tiger Coach Mike Jenkins hopes its his Bengals.

"It will take an excellent team effort for us to win Friday, but we think we can win. We think we are capable of beating Midland Lee," he stressed.

Tickets for tonight's contest are $3 for adults and $2 for students at the gate.

Tony Degrate, 255-pound senior defensive tackle, has been named as tonight's game captain for Snyder. Season captains are quarterback Mike Roemisch, guard Neil Evans and end Matt Taggart.

Lee fell to a strong Killen team 13-7 in its opener, while the Tigers lost to Big Spring, 14-13. Snyder, after building a 13-0 second-quarter lead, was shut down in the second half by the Steers. Faulty execution and poor field conditions were reasons the Tigers were unable to get going again.

successfully throwing the ball. That doesn't mean we're going to throw more, it means we're going to have to do a better job of it," noted the coach.

Tiger Offense
Offensively then, Snyder will go with Mike Roemisch at quarterback and 165-junior Shaw and 180-junior Echols at tailback and fullback respectively. Receivers will be flanker Brent Roemisch, 145-50-phomore; split end Glenn Parham, 175-sophomore; and tight end Taggart, 165-senior.

On the line will be tackles Barry Davis (214-so.) and Trey Harlin, (202-jr.), guards Ross Bawcum (192-so.) and Neil Evans (189-sr.), and center Glenn Pherigo (175-sr.).

Lee Defense
The bunch will be going against a strong Midland Lee defense, which averages 199 pounds in its line and linebackers. High-lighting the defense are

Jenkins. "Corley is impressive. He's not a flashy quarterback, but he's a very good leader. He has a way a making the offense go."

Tiger Defense
Setting up road blocks against the Rebels will be the Tiger defense, consisting of tackles Degrate (255-sr.) and Oziel Gonzales (205-sr.), ends Taggart and Jason Johnston (163-sr.), linebackers Jesse Hernandez (170-jr.), Bryan Limmer (202-jr.) and Matt Davis (177-so.), halfbacks Casey Peterson (140-sr.) and Ronnie Rosas (145-jr.) and safeties Vaughnie Voss (160-sr.) and Tracy Loyola (160-sr.).

Lee Offense
Offensively, quarterback Barry Corley, a 170-pound senior, makes the Rebels go. He has good backfield help in Calvin Riggs, a 190-junior, and Rodney Hemphill, a 165-senior. Conally and Brown fill a guard and tackle spot respectively, while Clyde Smith, another two-way starter, takes the other guard spot. Kenneth Brown, the fourth man going both ways for the Rebels, serves as safety and split end.

"Midland calls itself an option team, but basically they run the ball right at you. They do it real well, and pass enough to keep you honest," pointed out recovered, setting up yet another touchdown. John David Smith garnered the six points on a 15-yard pass from Derryberry. The point-after try failed.

Snyder got its final points when Kenneth Breedlove caught the Stamford quarterback in the end zone for a safety.

Frosh Overpower Stamford Bulldogs

Snyder freshmen bagged a Bulldog here last night as the 1980 football season got underway for them. The Cats stopped Stamford, 24-6.

Next Thursday, the ninth graders entertain Sweetwater, 5:30 p.m. at Travis Field.

Other key plays for Snyder included an interception by Joe Boudreau and a fumble recovery by Minor, caused by Sylvester Spells.

Coach Larry Scott cited standouts as Malone and Derryberry on offense, and Minor and Steven Ramirez defensively.

Stamford scored first in the game, on a 10-yard run, but the Cats went in front and stayed ahead just minutes later.

Norman Malone tied the score at 6-6 on a 40-yard run. His gallop was set up when Tim Derryberry caused a Bulldog fumble and Greg Jones recovered. Johnny Martinez ran the two-point conversion over, giving Snyder an 8-6 lead.

Malone also scored Snyder's second TD. Malone bought this one from 10 yards out, following a Derryberry 30-yard scamper. Michael Head had set Snyder's drive in motion with a pass interception.

In the third quarter, Derryberry caused another fumble and Jeff Minor

"We are looking for team improvement as well as individual improvement. We hope to see a vast difference from one Friday night to the next," said Jenkins, who must take his Tigers to Sweetwater for the District 2-AAAA opener next week.

"It is important for us to play well, improve, in preparation for district."

The Tigers suffered another blow early this week when it was learned that starting tailback Keith McClain, the fastest member of the Snyder squad, would be lost for the season. X-rays showed that McClain has a cracked vertebrae.

"It will alter our plans. We had a lot of our offense centered around Keith and his ability to get outside," said Jenkins.

The Tiger game plan has already been altered once, even before the season began, when it was determined that 3-3A's leading pass receiver of last year, Dale Jenkins would be out of the lineup for a while. Jenkins, another Tiger with good speed, injured a foot in an oilfield accident. It is possible he may be available to play in three to five weeks.

"We're got a lot of confidence in the kids that will replace Keith," said the coach, of Mark Shaw and Perry Echols. Shaw will move to tailback, while Echols will take over the fullback role. Matt Taggart will play Echols' vacated tight end spot.

The loss of speed in the backfield will force Snyder to a more ball-control type offense, though Coach Jenkins plans to continue to mix it up with passes.

"We're going to have to place more emphasis on

Tigers Pop Central; Begin Loop Saturday

Coach Joyce Elrod's varsity Tigers prepared for the opening of District 2-AAAA play by chalking their 12th straight victory of the season last evening.

The Tigers, who begin loop play Saturday, downed San Angelo Central in San Angelo 15-9 and 15-10.

Toni Elrod served for 10 points, Sherry Mayes 6, Shana Koonsman 5, Sherri Rich and Lisa Cobb 4 and Kathy Northcott 1.

"There's really not much to say about the game," said Coach Elrod. "It was both of the teams' final match before district, and I think our minds were on that."

Tampa Nips Los Angeles

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Momentum in a National Football League game is just about as uncertain as the weather. A team never knows whether it might go for or against them.

"Big Mo" was on the side of the Los Angeles Rams for 58 minutes Thursday night, but it suddenly swung to the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in the final two minutes of their NFL game and the result was a 10-9 Bucs victory.

"I heard they were laughing at us on the sidelines," said Tampa Bay tight end Jimmie Giles. "But the opera ain't over 'till the fat lady sings. And she's singing now."

The triumph gave the Bucs a 2-0 record, while Los Angeles, off to its worst start since 1963, dropped a 0-2.

The game was billed as a rematch of the defensive struggle the two teams endured in last season's National Football Conference championship game. It turned out to be just that.

a JV game at 2:30. Tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cent for students.

"Pecos is a very young team, under the direction of a new coach (Nora Geron). She had formerly been the coach at Fabens, and they always have a strong team," Elrod commented. "Being young, they are going to get stronger with every game. I'm glad we're playing them early."

Snyder will test the Eagles later in the season as well, the second meeting coming Nov. 1 in Pecos.

Other 2-A games Saturday include Sweetwater at Monahans and Lamesa at Fort Stockton. Andrews and Odessa Ector are open. Lake View does not field a volleyball team.

The Tiger junior varsity also won last evening in San Angelo, defeating the Bobcats 15-7, 12-15 and 15-6. Becky Pylant served for 15 points, Sabrina Robinson 11, Lisa Loyola 6, Becky Harrell 5, Lisa Walker 2 and Susie Lee 1.

Sims Opens A Winner; NFL Begins 2nd Week

By The Associated Press
What does Billy Sims do for an encore?
For that matter, what does Chester Marcol do for an encore?
Sims is this year's version of Earl Campbell or Otis Anderson - with one very important difference. He started out a winner.

Two years ago Campbell made his National Football League debut by rushing for 136 yards, 73 of them coming on a touchdown scamper. But Houston wound up a 20-14 loser to Atlanta.

Last year, Anderson boomed his way to 193 yards (one yard short of Alan Ameche's record for a rookie debut), 76 of them on a touchdown run. But, like Houston, St. Louis was a loser, 22-21 to the Dallas Cowboys.

Last Sunday, Sims made his debut a similarly explosive one, rolling over Los Angeles for 153 yards. But he scored three touchdowns, not just one. And with that kind of help, the Detroit Lions had little difficulty ripping the Rams 41-20.

Almost unnoticed due to Sims' heroics - which included a pair of 1-yard plunges and a 41-yard sprint - was Dexter Busssey's 111 yards rushing, 15 of them on a touchdown.

Next Sunday, Detroit visits Milwaukee to play the Green Bay Packers. Marcol probably has visions of running plays dancing in his head - but he'll almost surely have to settle for the more mundane duties of kicking field goals and extra points.

Along with the Lions' visit to Milwaukee, Sunday's other action is New Orleans at Chicago, St. Louis at San Francisco, the New York Jets at Buffalo, Cincinnati at Miami, Atlanta at New England, Washington at the New York Giants, Dallas at Denver, Seattle at Kansas City, Oakland at San Diego, Philadelphia at Minnesota and Pittsburgh at Baltimore. On Monday night it's Houston at Cleveland.

Russell Erxleben missed a relatively routine 34-yard chip shot on the final play that would have boosted New Orleans into a tie with San Francisco.

Glancing At A Great Man

Boles Will Be Missed

By BILL McCLELLAN
I'M GOING to miss Bill Boles. The news of his death early Thursday morning shocked me. It came hard, because he was, in many ways, a father figure to me. I respected and admired him almost as much as my own parents.

He always had a story to tell, usually about his past years of coaching, or about the talents of some youngster he'd met a day or two before.

Religion and kids were highest on Bill Boles' list. He was no religious fanatic, but merely a man who believed in Christ deeply. He was active in Christian-fellowship camps and in his church. I recall this summer he returned from one such camp overflowing with enthusiasm from the experiences he'd witnessed and been a part of.

I DON'T honestly know how good a coach Bill Boles was. I do know he got results. His students won district and regional championships during his years as high school coach. He sent several to state tournaments.

He believed in hard work on the courts. That he asked a lot was only normal for a man whose drive and energy outlasted almost everyone around him. Moulded from a seemingly by-gone era, Boles didn't allow his players to show any emotion that wasn't sportsman like.

HE FOUGHT some of the newer trends in tennis. He never could understand why players sought out the more expensive, name-brand racquets and shoes, when other quality equipment would produce the same results at a lower price, or why parents would pay large sums of money to send their children to several tennis camps in a single summer. Maybe for Bill Boles, how the game was played was truly more

Rebels Lose Yardage Game But Blank Local JV 23-0

MIDLAND (AP) — Snyder's junior varsity fell in a hole here last night and Midland Lee kept them there, shoveling in a 23-0 win in the process.

Despite the loss, which brings Snyder's record to 0-1-1, Coach Winfred Shipp noted, "The kids never quit. They very easily could have just laid down and let Midland Lee run over them, but they played the whole ball game."

Snyder out-offended the hosts 157 yards to 88, but the breaks were almost totally on the Rebels' side.

Lee opened the game with a 2-0 edge after tackling a Tiger ball carrier in the end zone for a safety. In the second quarter, the hosts scored from a yard out on a quarterback sneak, set up by a pass interception on the Tiger 10-yard line. The PAT kick was good.

The second half saw Midland Lee on the receiving end of another basket of goodies. The Rebels scored in the third stanza when Snyder fumbled in its own end zone. Again the conversion was good for a 16-0 lead.

Another Tiger fumble in the fourth quarter set up a 23-yard scoring play by the hosts to cap the victory. The kick-after was good.

"We had two pretty good drives but didn't score," noted Shipp. "We were on the (Midland) 8-yard line when the game ended. "We ran 57 plays and they run 51 and we gained almost 70 yards more than them. We just couldn't stick it in the end zone."

Snyder has its first home game next Thursday, taking on Sweetwater at Travis Field, 7:30 p.m.

8th Graders Win Opener

Snyder eighth grade grid squad opened the new season by thumping Stamford 34-8 here last evening.

The Cats, who suited up 42 players and played them all, will form into two groups for a pair of games at Sweetwater, Sept. 18, beginning at 5:30 p.m.

Charlie Bollinger scored two of Snyder's TDs on bootlegs. He connected with Abey Munoz and Sammy Barrera on two passes for scores. Paul Thompson and Tommy Holladay scored on runs.

Stamford's lone score, in the third quarter, came on a pass interception.
