

Full Scale Debate Put Off By Iran

By The Associated Press
The Iranian Parliament, in a stormy session on the American hostages, put off the full-scale debate on the issue today and voted instead to set up a special committee to deal with the fate of the 52 Americans who have been held for 10½ months.

President Carter, campaigning today in Atlanta, tempered his optimism of Monday and said "there is no prospect at this time for an early resolution" of the stalemate over release of the hostages.

Tehran Radio said the Majlis, or parliament, voted by a "decisive majority" to set up the committee. The action, in effect, postponed the long-debated parliament debate that had been expected to provide an indication of how Iran would deal with the hostages.

Amid arguments over whether the Iranian Parliament should conduct a secret or public session on the hostages, hardline deputy Sayyed Fakhroddin Rahimi said "we do not need any special committee or a special session." He said "the spy-hostages must be tried and executed and the non-spy hostages released on condi-

But Speaker Hashemi Rafsanjani ruled him out of order and said speakers should stick to setting up procedures for considering the issue. The speaker said discussions on the new committee will continue when Parliament resumes Thursday, but assured deputies that "the final decision will be by the Majlis itself." Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, leader of the Iranian revolution, has said the Majlis has authority to decide the fate of the hostages.

Abdolmajid Dialameh, speaking for 17 deputies who wanted a closed session to discuss the issue, said "this secret meeting is necessary for the deputies to gain information." But Mohammad Mahdavi, a member of the Struggling Moslems Movement which is close to the militants holding the hostages, bitterly objected.

"Everything should be open to the nation," he shouted. "I am absolutely against any kind of secret session." Speaker Rafsanjani twice warned Mahdavi to stop shouting, and the proposal for a closed-door meeting was rejected.

Traffic Lanes, Parking Get Council's Attention

The Snyder City Council last night accepted the resignation of Councilman Bryce Booker and discussed at length street striping and parking on the Snyder square.

Mayor Milton Ham said the council was interested in determining its authority and responsibility in connection with traffic patterns and parking on streets that carry state and federal highway traffic through town, and also in receiving input from any source that might contribute information that would help solve any traffic and parking problems.

Sitting in on the session were several local merchants and representatives of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

Most of the discussion dealt with left turn lanes installed recently on 25th St. on the north side of the square, and proposals that parallel parking be required on the west side of College Ave. on the square.

Several merchants had complained that the left turn lanes on the north side of the square had resulted in some bottlenecks for traffic, since the new system leaves only one lane for straight-ahead traffic and for vehicles turning right at the intersections of Ave. R and College Ave. with 25th St. Those on the west side of the square expressed opposition to parallel parking.

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation has a maintenance agreement with the city, which was adopted in 1967, said City Manager John Gayle. In it, the city agreed to abide by state regulations on parking and traffic regulations, with the state maintaining the streets involved and also traffic lights on the streets carrying state and federal highway traffic through town.

However, the agreement also provides that the city may request deviations from the state regulations to be considered by the department. Both city and

Promises Free Education

HOUSTON (AP)—Hoping to cement the state's powerful Hispanic vote, President Carter promised "no child in this country" would be deprived of an education because of poverty.

But Carter said Texas must finance the education of illegal alien children - recently ordered by a Supreme Court justice - because impact aid from the federal government would be illegal.

Reagan Talks Of Tax Cuts

By The Associated Press
Republican Presidential candidate Ronald Reagan told a largely Hispanic crowd today he would slash taxes 10 percent each of the first three years he was in office, if elected.

Reagan further said he would adopt Texas Gov. Bill Clements' plan for documenting illegal aliens and allowing them to work in this country legally.

LA Begins Busing Today

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The nation's second largest school district today began busing about 40,000 pupils under a desegregation plan that had school officials wary, children confused, parents angry and anti-busing factions hoping for a last-minute change.

Eleventh-hour changes in the plan were possible as the California Supreme Court was asked to rule on whether nine schools should be part of the plan.

Animal Behavior Exhibit At Fair

If you don't feel up to the carnival rides, but want to do more than just browse through the myriad of exhibits at the Scurry County Fair that opens here this week, then you might consider challenging a chicken to a game of tic-tac-toe.

Punch and Judy show, which stars a rabbit and a chicken, is a concert on a piano.

There is no charge to the shows which should prove a favorite among the younger set.

In addition to the shows, coin operated machines will be set up to allow fairgoers to take on chickens and rabbits in games of tic-tac-toe and baseball.

Chamber Board Meets Tonight

Snyder Chamber of Commerce directors are scheduled to receive a report from the organization's nominating committee at a meeting tonight.

The meeting is set for 7 p.m. in the chamber conference room.

At Western Texas College... Advisory Panel Formed For AVE-CE Courses

An advisory committee for the Adult Vocational and Continuing Education department of Western Texas College was formed at a luncheon meeting Monday.

Jerry Baird, director of the department, and Betty Sandel, assistant director, outlined the need for the committee to those attending.

"The AVE-CE department can present special courses, seminars, short courses and semester-long training classes on almost any subject the merchants and business people of Snyder require," Baird said. He further explained that students who complete Adult Vocational Education courses earn Continuing Education Units which are nationally recognized as an indication of self-improvement. Many companies and businesses require their employees to acquire education points each year to remain current in their fields of employment.

"Our department welcomes input from the community," Baird added.

The committee responded with suggested courses needed in their businesses. Customer relations was a heavily favored topic among the group. Other suggestions were supervision, shop-lifting prevention, fraudulent check identification, store window decoration, Christmas gift wrapping, and marketing practices.

Brian Boswell said he would get a letter out to the Retail Merchant's Association reporting on the meeting and asking for the concerted assistance of that body.

The AVE-CE committee is to meet at least once each semester. In addition, Ms. Sandel is to

Best Ideas For Aging Seen At Local Level

Ask Us

Q—Why is there sometimes such a delay in having incoming phone calls to Cogdell Memorial Hospital answered?

A—There is only one switchboard operator and sometimes she is busy on another line, said hospital administrator Ey Miller. Not all calls can be dropped to answer an incoming call, Miller added.

Although funding will have to come largely from state and federal sources, the best ideas on health care services for the aging will come from the grass roots level, said state representative nominee Larry Shaw, the keynote speaker at a conference on aging held Monday at the Scurry County Senior Citizens' Center.

"The best solutions will come from the local level where the people are involved," predicted Shaw, Democratic Party nominee for the 63rd District Representative.

Shaw, citing figures from the White House Conference on Aging, said approximately 5,000 Americans reach their 65th birthday every day. With so large a segment of the population living to be 65 and beyond, Shaw said certain ideas on aging have to be re-examined. "Growing old doesn't mean you stop being useful," he said. A Lot of practical knowledge has been learned by senior citizens and that knowledge should be passed on to the younger generation, he added.

"I want to have just as fulfilling a life as you in this center," Shaw said. "We're viewing aging and growing older in a different perspective and that excites me."

Responding to a question concerning national health care, Shaw said he is currently against any such nationalized plan, but he does favor passing a generic drug bill that will save senior citizens money when they purchase medicine and he favors an increase in rural health care clinics.

The SDN Column

We noticed on the news wire that a move is being made to revise the system for estimating the gasoline consumption of new automobiles. It's about time.

The EPA (Environmental Protection Agency) ratings entered the picture several years ago and they soon became a major factor in negotiating for the purchase of an automobile. However, car owners soon learned that these estimates are about as accurate as the traditional car salesman's disclosure that the vehicle was "owned by an elderly widow who only drove it to church on Sunday."

Car dealers, either for their own protection or by government decree (we don't know which) have been compelled to note on their stickers, placards and advertisements that actual mileage is likely to differ under real-driving conditions. That, of course, is an indication that the EPA arrived at its figures via special conditions.

This is confirmed by the complaints lodged this week. In fact, they say now that actual mileage averages 21 percent less than the EPA figures. The EPA doesn't actually have the cars driven to get its figures. They are run on a treadmill, inside buildings, and they measure exhaust emission to determine the mileage rather than check the odometer.

It appears to us that this is just another case of a government agency taking a devious route filled with possibilities of inaccuracies when it would be much simpler and much more accurate to merely drive the cars a few miles.

But simple solutions seldom meet the objective of bureaucracy, which usually is confusion.

We have come to depend on statistics in both our public and private lives. And by now, most people know that you can prove more than one thing with a single set of statistics, which could mean trouble.

For example, an insurance company in West Germany conducted a study which suggests that husbands who kiss their wives before leaving for work in the morning live five years longer than the average male.

This could cause plenty of trouble. It could make wives suspicious.

"You're not kissing me because you want to—it's just that you want to live longer," a wife might complain. Or, suppose a husband is rebuffed in his attempt to give the little woman an early-morning peck. He may well suspect that she is trying to shorten his life. The guy who said that a little knowledge can be a dangerous thing knew whereof he spoke.

NEW EXHIBIT—Pat Bills and Lisa Hillis are shown hanging a new exhibit in the Scurry County Museum at Western Texas College. The show is made up of serigraphs by Charles Harper and is to remain in the museum through Oct. 25. It will be followed by an exhibit of paintings by Ben Konis of Amarillo, well-known for his Southwestern art.

National Park Exhibit Featured At Museum

"Each of us responds to a National Park in his own way and our interests are reflected in the pictures we take, the souvenirs we buy, the way we spend our time," states an introduction to the new National Parks art exhibit now being featured in the Scurry County Museum.

The works making up the exhibit are by Charles Harper, a wildlife artist who creates what he calls "minimal realism."

"I don't try to put everything in," he muses. "I try to leave everything out. When you look at my work, remember that I didn't start out to paint a bird. I started out to paint a picture of a bird, a picture that didn't exist before I came along, a picture which gives me a chance to share with you my thoughts about the bird."

"Once you accept" this seemingly simplistic but really quite profound premise, you will appreciate many varied approaches to the making of pictures, all of which start where realism leaves off, but all of which require an understanding of realism for their successful execution.

Harper studied at West Virginia Wesleyan, then enrolled at the Cincinnati Art Academy. He was drafted into the Army, then studied at the Art Students League in New York City briefly. He returned to the Cincinnati Art Academy to graduate, and after graduation began traveling to study the great American West.

Harper's prints are made by the silkscreen process. It's an ancient oriental process in which a piece of silk is stretched tightly on a wooden frame. A stencil is adhered to the silk, and paint is forced through the openings in the stencil onto paper by passing a rubber squeegee over the silk. Each color requires a separate stencil, and the difficulty of registering the colors multiplies as new colors are added. The paint has a surface quality that cannot be matched by the ink used in offset printing.

Prints by Harper were first featured in Ford Times. Later he illustrated the Golden Book of Biology and The Animal Kingdom for the Golden Press, and designed a ceramic tile mural for the Federal Building in Cincinnati.

Unable to attend were Bob McCormick, owner-manager of McCormick & Sons Oil Co., Inc., and Betty Chadwell, manager of the Sears-Roebuck Co. catalog store.

AGING

(Continued From Page 1) citizens needs to be expanded to the point that it might someday be possible to have nurses go to the homes of the aged and check on them, he said.

"That is my hope," he said. "It will not be an easy task, but it is one I will be working toward."

The conference on aging was sponsored by the senior citizens' center and by Green Thumb, an organization to help the retired. The luncheon drew a crowd of about 165.

Thomas Edison received a patent in 1880 for his electric lamp.

Traffic Discussed

(Continued From Page 1) highway department officials last night said they had not located any request for head-in parking on the west side of the square, although that block would require parallel parking under state regulations.

"Nevertheless, head-in parking has been permitted there for several years.

The left turn lanes on 25th St. at College Ave. and Ave. R were installed experimentally in an effort to reduce traffic accidents, highway department representatives said. All surveys for several years have pinpointed the College Ave. and 25th St. intersection as the leading site of accidents in Snyder.

During the discussion last night, several suggestions were made. These include:

- Make all traffic around the square one-way.
- Eliminate the left turn lanes at Ave. R and 25th St. and shorten the left turn lane for westbound traffic at 25th St. and College to provide a double lane of traffic for most of that block.
- Eliminate left turns on 25th St. at the Ave. R intersection for eastbound traffic.
- Eliminate all of the left turn lanes.
- Continue the left turn lanes and install traffic lights with left turn signals to protect the vehicles making left turns.
- Eliminate all parking on the outside perimeters of the square promoting development and use of off-street parking.
- Leave it like it is for a longer test of the new left turn lanes.

Following the discussion, Ham announced that the council would continue to study the situation and would work with the highway department, merchants and others interested in determining council recommendations.

"There is no perfect solution to this," the mayor concluded.

The council appointed Rod Waller to be the city's representative on the Senior Citizens Advisory Committee and gave its approval to the Scurry County Appraisal District's 1981 budget proposal.

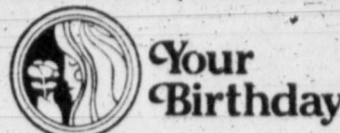

Action was delayed on filling the council vacancy created by Booker's resignation and on filling a vacancy on the planning and zoning commission created by the resignation of Howard Limmer.

Booker, Place 2 Councilman, is moving to Denver, Colo., at the end of the month for a new assignment with Chevron U.S.A.

The council authorized the city manager to seek bids for group medical insurance for city employees.

Stylists At Hair Haven Attend International Style Symposium

The Hair Haven located in Varsity Square combines two important services under one roof. Bill Estep handles the sales and services of Kirby vacuum cleaners, and Frankie Estep runs the beauty salon.

The hair stylists of Hair Haven recently attended the "International Style Symposium" held at the Marriott Hotel in Austin. Famed artists Carlos Valenzuela and Ben DeCordova, representing RedKin and Michael Swiger, performed new techniques in all phases of hair care. The Hair Haven stylists also attended a special class held by Valenzuela. He demonstrated braid styles such as the "sailor knots" (a form of macrame of hair), "multiple pony tails" with round braid, and the "Cobra" braid.

Exhibit rooms and manufacturers class rooms were also studied by the stylists. New products and equipment was seen.

The symposium ended with an Extravaganza and Year 2000 forecast of styles. The stylists attending were Beth Guynes, Betty Hildreth, Maxine Courtney, Karen Millhollon, Susan Grimmer and owner-operator Frankie Estep.

Don't forget that in the same location is Bill's Kirby Vacuum Cleaner Service. Call or come by for sales and service.

Oilers Hog Football; Control Cleveland, Too

CLEVELAND (AP) - On those rare occasions when the Cleveland Browns get their hands on the ball, the Houston Oilers defense made sure it didn't matter.

And Oilers quarterback Ken Stabler made certain his defense didn't have to work too hard, controlling the ball for more than two-thirds of the game in Houston's 16-7 National Football League victory over the Browns Monday night.

The left-hander lulled the Browns - and perhaps many of those watching on prime time television - to sleep, connecting on 23 of 28 short and intermediate range passes for 187 yards to set up three Tony Fritsch field goals and a Lee

Lee Dominates Area Tractor Pull Event

Larry Lee dominated the show recently, picking up a first place and two seconds in area tractor pull competition sponsored by the West Texas Tractor Puller's Association.

Lee took first place in the 6,200 Economy Division, and second in the 5,500 Economy and 5,200 Modified divisions. He also placed fifth in the 7,500 Modified.

Eldon Kirkpatrick also had a strong day at the races, taking first place in the 9,200 Modified and second in the 7,500 Modified.

Other Snyder representatives included David Shifflett, who took fourth in the 7,500 Modified, and fifth in the 5,200 Modified and 9,200 Modified. Royce Patterson placed third in the 5,200 Modified, sixth in the 5,500 Economy, and seventh in the 6,200 Economy and 7,500 Modified, while Tom Patterson placed fifth in the 6,500 Open 4WD and sixth in the 5,200 Modified 4WD Pickups.

Jesse Allen garnered a fifth place in the 5,200 4WD Pickups; Mike Stipe was sixth in the 6,200 Economy bracket; and Wayne Webster took seventh in the 6,500 Local Stock Pickup class.

2-yard touchdown run by Tim Wilson.

"The way we were controlling the ball, it wasn't necessary to throw long," Stabler said. "I think it's a confidence-builder to control the ball, because nothing but good things can come out of it."

So efficient were the Oilers that after Cleveland's Brian Sipe hit Calvin Hill with a 3-yard scoring pass early in the second quarter, Houston ran off 63 of the next 76 offensive plays. Houston running back

Suspect Arrested In Jackson Case

DENTON (AP) - Police have arrested one man and are seeking another in connection with the shooting death of a 21-year-old North Texas State University football player.

Police Lt. Bill Cummings said that Terry Wayne Williams, 21, of Denton, was arrested at the construction site where he worked. He has been charged with murder in connection with the week-end slaying of Bernard Jackson, an NTSU running back.

Cummings said a warrant was issued for Williams' arrest after witnesses picked him out of a photograph line-up Monday. Justice of the Peace James Erwin denied bond.

Police said earlier a warrant was issued for a 22-year-old man who is still at large.

"We believe Williams is the one who pulled the trigger," Cummings said. Jackson was shot to death early on Sept. 12 outside the Mean Green Club, a tavern near the athletic dormitory. Investigators said he was shot point blank in the chest after an argument with two men in the parking lot.

Earl Campbell, held to seven yards in the first period, came alive in the second period and finished with 106.

"It's so great to have a guy like Earl," Stabler said.

The Browns held a 7-3 edge at halftime, Houston's three points coming on a 25-yard Fritsch boot that capped the first of two nine-minute drives. The second half was all Houston.

"I don't know where the second half went," said Sipe, who finished with 12 completions in 25 attempts for 106 yards. "We were on and off the field two times. We couldn't get a first down."

Jackson, a converted wide receiver, held the NTSU career yardage record with 2,202 yards on 421 carries. In 1978, the 6-0, 178-pound Jackson was ranked sixth nationally with 1,453 yards on 269 carries.

Alabama and Ohio State were tied with 30 first-place votes apiece but the Crimson Tide, idle last weekend following its opening-game 26-3 triumph over Georgia Tech, jumped from second place to the top spot with 1,232 of a possible 1,280 points from a nationwide panel of 64 sports writers and sportscasters.

Teams Tied For Softball Rule Here

Tex-Mex and C.A. White locked for the first-half lead in the local men's softball league, which finished its first round last evening.

Rain delays did not permit the league to conclude its first round earlier, as had been previously scheduled.

Tex-Mex and C.A. White tied with six wins and one loss apiece, while Hands Off was a game back at five wins, two losses.

The second half of league play is slated to begin tonight and extend through Oct. 7 with three games each Monday, Tuesday and Thursday. The games begin at 7:30 p.m. at Winston Park.

Other standings show Weaver Wireline in fourth place with a 4-3 record, followed by Midwestern and Mac Shack tied for fifth at 3-4 each. Penny Lane in seventh place with a 2-5 mark and Walton Construction in eighth with a 1-6 record.

Reds Inching Back Up As...

LA, Houston Falter

By The Associated Press Atlanta had just whipped Los Angeles 9-0 when Braves Manager Bobby Cox predicted the Dodgers would win the National League West.

"I like LA's pitching," said Cox after his team pounded the Dodgers for 13 hits, including Bob Horner's 33rd homer of the year off Burt Hooton in the first inning.

"I like their ball club," Cox added. "They are experienced. They've been down the stretch before. I think they've got the best pitching staff in the league. Hooton just didn't have his great stuff tonight."

Despite Cox's confidence in the Dodgers, who stayed in a tie for first in the West because the last-place San Diego Padres beat the Houston Astros 6-3, the loss was Los Angeles' 10th in 15 games with the Braves this season.

In other NL games Monday night, Cincinnati beat San Francisco 6-2 and St. Louis beat the Chicago Cubs 5-1. In the American League, Texas blanked Oakland 2-0 to assure the Kansas City Royals of at least a tie for the West Division title, and Seattle whipped the Chicago White Sox 12-1.

Horner, playing with a 15-stitch cut on his ankle from a spike wound suffered Sunday, hit his two-run homer in the very first inning. He later got his third RBI with a ground ball, while Gary Matthews also knocked in three for the Braves.

Frost Pop Tornados

LAMESA - Snyder freshmen tripped Lamesa 15-10, 15-17 and 15-8 here last night in preparation for this evening's bouts with Seminole in the Snyder High gym.

Snyder frosh tip off a triple header at 5 p.m., followed by a JV match at 6 and a varsity contest at 7. Snyder varsity will be trying for its 48th straight at-home victory. Tickets at $1 adults and 50 cents students.

Last night's win puts Snyder frosh at 2-1 on the season. Cari Walker served for 10 points, while Patricia Gregory had 9, Anna Arizmendi and Mona Green for 7 each, Wendy Hodge for 6 and Susan Brim for 3.

ges real tough. It's going to come down to that last week."

Reds 6, Giants 2

Tom Seaver flirted with a National League record for career one-hitters before settling for a three-hitter that boosted Cincinnati within 4 1/2 games of Houston and Los Angeles.

Seaver entered the ninth inning looking for his sixth career one-hitter, which would have established a modern NL mark. But Darrell Evans homered for San Francisco's second run and Ronnie Stennett singled.

Dan Driessen had a two-run double and Ray Knight a two-run homer to highlight the Reds' offense.

Jaycees Hosts Ball Tourney

Snyder Jaycees will host a men's slow pitch softball tournament at Winston Park, Sept. 26-27-28.

All proceeds will go to Jaycee community projects.

Deadline to enter the three-day tournament is Sept. 20. Entry fee is $70 to the first 20 teams entered.

Among the cities expected to send teams are Snyder, Colorado City, Big Spring, Midland, Odessa, Lubbock and Abilene.

For further information, contact Benny Hollis at (915) 573-9642 after 5 p.m.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - George Brett of the Kansas City Royals has developed tendinitis in his right hand and his chances of becoming the first man to bat 400 in 39 years now seem in jeopardy.
