Nervous Mideast Nations Get Pledge Of Arms From U.S.

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — Iraq and Iran carried on relentlessly today their ground and air war while pro-Western North Yemen was reported to have joined Jordan in expressing support for Iraq.

The United States has pledged to supply military hardware to neutral Persian Gulf nations that feel threatened by the Iraq-Iran war.

Iraq was reported to have received five shiploads of Soviet-made military spare parts and ammunition through Jordan's Aqaba port since the outbreak of the war 17 days ago. The Soviet Union denied offering military aid to Iran.

Iraq claimed to have inflicted heavy losses on Iranian forces on the ground while the air war concentrated on supply lines.

Iraqi forces have stepped up air and artillery attacks on Abadan and battled holdouts in the port of Khorramshahr, seeking to complete their conquest of the Iranian side of Iraq's waterway to the gulf.

Iran sent air strikes for the second straight day against the Iraqi oil center of Kirkuk, 200 miles north of Baghdad, and the southeastern Iraqi city of Al Amarah, which controls the supply lines of Iraq's invasion force in the oil-rich section of southwestern Iran.

Iran's military command claimed to have downed three Iraqi MiG jets, two near Dezful and one near Ahwaz in the southern sector of the 300-mile-long battlefield on the 17th day of the war. Iraq acknowledged the loss of two MiGs.

The Iranian communique reported by Tehran Radio said Iraqi forces concentrated an attack on Dezful's key military base and Shushtar, 20 miles to the southeast on the road to Ahwaz, capital of Khuzistan province.

Jordanian officials in Amman said King Hussein and President Abdullah Saleh of North Yemen, in a telephone conversation, affirmed their countries' "Pan-Arab support of the Iraqi people in their efforts to regain their rights over their territories and waters." Iraq, Jordan and North Yemen are Arab nations while Iran is non-Arab Persian.

The Beirut sources said five ships flying Iraqi or Jordanian flags and loaded with cargoes from the Soviet stockpiles in Marxist-governed South Yemen and Ethiopia have docked at Aqaba. The sources said the supplies were carried by truck to the Iraqi border.

In Moscow, a Foreign Ministry spokesman termed "slandering and false" a Tehran Radio report that the Soviet Union had offered arms to Iran.

In a major policy speech in Boston, Deputy Secretary of State Warren Christopher said the United States will honor "requests for assistance from non-belligerent friends in the (Persian Gulf) area who feel threatened by the congregate war from expanding in ways that threaten the security of the region."

Fumes Force Families Out

MONT BELVIEU, Texas (AP) — Fumes seeping into sewer lines forced about 37 families from their homes in this Chambers County community that sits atop a salt dome used for petrochemical storage.

City officials became aware of the problem when Marie Kaler was burned in a flash fire when she turned on her dishwasher.

Mayor Fred Miller said the situation is not "dangerous," but families in the southwest section of town have been moved to a Baytown motel.

The source of the fumes is not known. A dozen or more companies have storage facilities in the salt dome.

Condemns Attack On Jews

PARIS (AP) — President Valery Giscard d'Estaing, accused by his critics of keeping silent too long about the wave of anti-Semitism that has rocked France, went on national television today to condemn the attacks against Jews.

"The criminal acts bring a painful echo to the Jewish community of past events, of persecutions, deportations and the systematic massacre organized by the Hitler regime," Giscard d'Estaing said.

The president's five-minute statement, broadcast live, came as police announced they had their first lead in the investigation of a bomb explosion last Friday that killed four people outside a Paris synagogue.

Giant Nuggett On Display

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — A gold nugget roughly in the shape of a hand, weighing nearly 60 pounds and worth about $1.13 million was found by a prospector six inches below the ground. The find, the biggest here in almost 50 years, was displayed for the first time today.

The prospector, who requested anonymity, discovered the gold by using a metal detector one day last week in the Australian state of Victoria, about 143 miles northwest of here.

Because of the shape of the nugget, which measures about 16 inches by eight inches, he named it "The Hand of Fate."

Trooper Killer Suspect Found

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — The day a slain state trooper was laid to rest here, the suspect who had eluded police throughout Texas was apprehended and arrested in a rural Kansas town.

Texas and Kansas authorities were negotiating Tuesday night to transport Billy Wayne Alexander Jr. back to Texas after he waived extradition.

The suspect, wanted in the shooting death of Jerry Don Davis, offered no resistance and was unarmed when he was arrested early Tuesday evening in Liberal, Kan.

September Rains Cut Water Demand

While September rains were putting water into the Colorado River Municipal Water District lakes, they also were reducing the demand for water to the cities. None complained, however, and least of all the district for it reported gains of 262,500 acre feet flowing into Lake J. B. Thomas and Lake E. V. Spence during the month.

Municipal demands for September slipped to 1,302,185,000 gallons, a drop of 137,589,000 gallons under the same month in 1979, or down 9.56 percent. The drop from August, when consumption was still near a peak, was 475,000,000 gallons. Municipal use for the year, however, was up by 1,201,830,000 gallons, reaching 11,971,884,000, a gain of 11.16 percent for the year.

Total of both the municipal and the oil and industrial deliveries was 13,227,905,000 gallons, a gain of 395,270,000 gallons or 3.05 percent for the year.

Monday morning most of the runoff into the lakes had ceased, although Lake Spence continued to gain slowly a week after rains stopped. Lake Thomas, at elevation 2233.39 had 65,950 acre feet in storage, or 32.35 percent. Lake Spence, at elevation 1875.15, had 237,250 in storage, or 43.6 percent of capacity.

Governor To Visit Rotary

The Snyder Rotary Club will host its district governor at its luncheon meeting Thursday at The Shack.

Wayne Sturdivant, Amarillo attorney, Governor of Rotary District 573, is scheduled to arrive here this evening.

He will attend a cabinet meeting tonight with officers, directors and committee chairmen of the local club, and then remain over Thursday to make his official visit of the year to the local club's luncheon meeting.

Officers of the Snyder Rotary Club are Marlin Terrell, president; Rex Robinson, vice president, and Frank Miller, secretary-treasurer.

Militant Says Hostages Okay

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The 52 American hostages in Iran are "all right," a militant student at the occupied U.S. Embassy in Tehran said today, but he refused to say if the Iran-Iraq war posed a danger to them.

Asked about the psychological state of the hostages, now in their 340th day of captivity, he said, "I suggest you ask questions about the martyrs (Iranian soldiers killed in the war) and the condition of Iranian captives held in Iraq."

He accused Western news media of ignoring such topics and added: "But when a number of Americans are held here immediately the whole world starts asking, 'how is their mental state, are they receiving medicine and so on?'"

The militant was telephoned by The Associated Press in Beirut. The AP also phoned Iranian officials in Tehran Tuesday, and they reported then that the hostages were safe.

Iran's official Pars news agency said, meanwhile, that the special committee of the Iranian Parliament studying the issue of the hostages had its third session Tuesday.

Pars said the seven-man committee "took certain decisions after discussing some introductory matters and postponed further investigation until its next meeting."

Ask Us

Q—Does any town besides Snyder use water out of Lake J. B. Thomas?

A—Yes. Although Snyder is the only member city of the Colorado River Municipal Water District using only Lake Thomas Water, others get part of their supplies there most of the time. Those who get water from Lake Spence normally have it mixed with Lake Thomas water to improve its quality.

Innocent Brilab Verdict Asked

HOUSTON (AP) — Attorneys for Texas House Speaker Billy Clayton filed a motion today asking for a directed verdict of innocence in the Brilab trial.

A similar motion was to be filed later for two other defendants in the trial, Austin attorneys Donald Ray and Randall Wood.

The Clayton motion cited what it called "improper government activity." The defense attorneys claimed the speaker was entrapped by FBI undercover agents and "any crime which might have been committed was created and manufactured by the government."

"No witnesses called by the government testified that Clayton had a reputation for accepting bribes," the motion stated.

The defense team also said that Clayton had been tricked and deceived by the Brilab agents.

Left Turn Lanes Remain On Square

Left turn lanes will remain on the north side of the Snyder Square.

The decision was reached Tuesday afternoon following a conference between city officials and officials of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

Earlier, some concern had been expressed over the new system, and some adjustments in markings will be made to help protect persons who park on the north side of 25th St. on the square, a block that has parallel parking.

Plans are to shift the left turn lane markings slightly to the south to provide more room between parked cars and the lane of traffic nearest the parking spaces. Also, highway department spokesmen said they are studying the advisability of putting a white line along the left edge of the parking spaces to keep traffic a safe distance to the south.

The left turn lanes were put in somewhat experimentally several weeks ago when the highway department retopped the streets carrying state and federal highway traffic through town.

Subsequently, the traffic flow has been observed and comments have been sought on the left turn lanes.

An informal survey conducted by The Snyder Daily News last week drew responses from 30 persons, with 19 of them favoring the lanes and 11 opposing the lanes.

During the discussion in Tuesday's meeting, Mayor Milton Ham said that comment he had encountered had indicated that a majority of drivers favored the lanes.

Several of those responding in the SDN survey inquired about the possibility of protecting left turns with traffic signals, especially at College Ave. and 25th St. This was not a part of the discussion Tuesday, however.

But the city and highway department officials did agree that angle parking would continue on the west side of College Ave. on the west side of the square.

Meanwhile, highway department personnel are erecting truck route signs from the Big Spring Highway around the east side of Snyder via the Western Texas College Cutoff, which connects the Big Spring Highway with the

It's getting so that reading the sports pages is a lot like reading the news out of Washington, or the international news.

There are ambassadors (public relations people) and lobbyists (agents) for all of the big sports figures.

The latter demand, and get, hundreds of thousands of dollars for their "property" to perform. If they don't get what they want, they "hold out."

And the demand, "Play me, or trade me" has become a common expression from some of the professional athletes who claim they are not contented with sitting on the bench or making an occasional appearance as a "back-up" to another star.

This would have been unheard of several years ago when the professional sports were more of a game than Hollywood-type entertainment.

The trend even dips down into the college ranks occasionally. Players who expected to be stars at one school but find themselves on the bench, jump to other campuses with hopes of making the first string. It is far removed from the atmosphere when a lot of athletes just out of high school were overjoyed just to get a scholarship anywhere. It meant the difference between going to college or not. The worry in those days was not whether you made first string, but whether you would be able to hang onto your scholarship.

And whatever happened to people in the pros like Zeke Bratkowski of the Green Bay Packers. He obviously could have been a starting quarterback for most any professional football team other than Green Bay, but he was not interested in a trade despite the fact that it was clearly written that he never be more than Bart Starr's backup on the Packer squad.

Oh, well. They tell us it is no different, these days in other vocations. Most folks want to start at the top and work their way to an easy retirement. Sometimes we wonder if anybody ever gets hungry enough anymore to pitch in and do their thing with whatever tools they have to work with.

The cactus patch philosopher says that to be perfectly fair about it, there is something to be said for political debates. Give us a little time and maybe we can think what it is.—WACIL McNAIR.

SHS Grad Has Role In TV Movie

Another graduate of Snyder High School will appear Thursday night in a major television movie role.

Dane Witherspoon, a 1976 graduate of SHS, has one of the prominent parts in "The Home Front," which is scheduled for showing at 9 p.m. Thursday on CBS.

While attending Snyder High School, Witherspoon participated in all drama activities offered in the school system and won several awards. At the same time, he played both football and basketball on the SHS varsity teams.

Following graduation from Snyder High School, Witherspoon enrolled in the American Conservatory Theatre School in San Francisco.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Witherspoon, formerly of Snyder who now live at Sweetwater.

portugal's lesson

With bad news pouring in from most parts of the world, a note has been taken of a major victory for freedom taking place in Southern Europe. Five years ago it appeared that Portugal was on its way to becoming a Marxist dictatorship of the kind found in Eastern Europe. Instead, that small Iberian nation turned away from communism and, if current trends continue, could soon become a shining example of free enterprise at work.

In 1974, a revolution overthrew Portugal's 48-year-old right wing dictatorship. The nation, wracked by chaos, perched on the verge of leftwing dictatorship for 18 months. During that time, communists played havoc with Portugal's economy and came close to turning chaos into power. Then, on Nov. 25, 1975, moderate military officers wrested control from the communists. Since then the nation has continued to move farther from Marxism in each subsequent election.

The most dramatic reversal for the Portuguese left came in last December's election. A coalition inclined toward democracy and free enterprise won an impressive parliamentary victory. That coalition, the Alianca Democratica, won 52 percent of the vote versus 26 percent for the socialists and 17 percent for the communists. The AD won an important six-seat majority in the Portuguese parliament. And although there will be another election this month, no reversal of the country's drift is expected.

Francisco de Sa Carneiro, the current prime minister, is moving quickly to reverse the economy-wrecking socialist policies installed during the chaos following the 1974 revolution. Sa Carneiro, among other things, has:

-Started returning farmland illegally seized by communist-led peasants.

-Pushed through the Portuguese Parliament an anti-inflationary budget that is only one percent larger than last year's budget.

-Attempted to open up banking and insurance to private enterprise, which has been illegal since the 1974 revolution.

-Recalled the Portuguese ambassador to the Soviet Union in protest of the invasion of Afghanistan.

-Fully backed President Carter's request for economic sanctions against Iran.

The last two of those maneuvers obviously were designed to gain favor with the American investment community. Sa Carneiro's judgment appears good; Ford Motor Co. and other large firms are seriously considering major investments in Portugal.

The new Portuguese government is doing much to encourage growth in the country's private sector. This is in sharp contrast to the development strategies in other nations and is precisely why Portugal may succeed.

If your children are like mine, they have led sheltered lives. They have never seen a chicken naked without benefit of seasoning and dressing. They have never witnessed the birth of a casserole. They have never walked in unexpectedly and viewed the massaging of bread dough.

They have regarded the kitchen as an adult community that is not open for children or pets. Their visits have been limited to throwing open the refrigerator-freezer doors and declaring, "There's nothing to eat in this house."

Now that they have their own apartments, I get a wonderful, warm, maternal feeling just knowing they are starving to death.

I cannot tell you the number of times I tried to lure them into the kitchen with teasers like, "Have you no curiosity as to what goes into a cereal bowl?" Or, "Come. Stand by my side and together we will 'just add water.'" But they never took the bait.

Once when I made my son watch, as I mixed a Caesar salad, he looked at the oil, bits of garlic, lemon juice, Worcestershire, parmesan and a raw egg floating in the bowl and said, "That's gross!" and walked away.

Now I have become the most important resource in their lives since Pampers. There is not a day goes by that one of them does not call long distance and ask, "How do you make spaghetti?"

In visiting one of their apartments the other night, I flung open the refrigerator door. On the first shelf was half a container of yogurt. On the second shelf was a roll of film and a hardened lime. A doggie bag in the egg keeper was later identified as sweet and sour pork.

They say it cannot be done. Included is a range of people — from those who insist we should prepare for what they feel is the coming collapse into anarchy, to academics who claim to have studied the situation dispassionately.

Some such thinking has made the bestseller lists. Courtney Brown, former professor and dean of the Graduate School of Business, Columbia University, offers a less cataclysmic view, but he too feels inflation will be hard to overcome.

The tunic, usually called "coat," was a closely fitting inner garment, usually with short sleeves or sleeveless. It reached to the knees. Some were long and had long sleeves; they were confined at the waist with a girdle. Some were seamless, as Jesus' tunic was. The soldiers who took his garments did not want to tear the tunic to divide among them so they cast lots for it.

Football is the culprit here. Everyone already knows the lament of many housewives as they become "widows" every fall because there is football on Friday night, football all day Saturday, football all day Sunday, Monday night football, and occasionally, Thursday night football.

Football isn't bad when the Dallas Cowboys or the Houston Oilers are playing, but let the Pittsburgh Ironers or the Philadelphia Crows (or whatever their names are) play and it's a whole different ballgame.

It reminds me of an old Bob Newhart Show episode when Bob and his friend, Jerry, made plans to watch Monday night football. However, Emily, Bob's wife, was tired of football morning, noon and night. The result: Bob and Emily stayed up all night

I had a friend who wrote to Tom Landry asking him to quit being so stingy and buy each of the boys their own ball so they could quit fighting over the same one. You know, he never did answer her letter.

To Contest Rate Hike In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — City officials said Tuesday they plan to contest a $134.4 million rate increase for Houston Lighting & Power Co. at a Public Utility Commission hearing.

Bob Gillespie, a PUC hearing examiner, recommended Monday the rate increase be instituted pending the hearing on the utility's appeal of City Council vote to set lower rates.

A date for the proceeding has not been scheduled.

The $134.4 million-a-year increase was negotiated last month between the PUC and the utility. However, the Houston City Council rejected the compromise and instructed city attorney to negotiate for a $121.5 million rate increase.

Gillespie overruled the city's action Monday.

As a result, officials estimated, residential rates will increase 9.6 percent, commercial 5.4 percent and industrial from 4 percent to 6 percent.

HL&P serves in 1 million customers in 12 Southeast Texas counties.

Another book says to buy one of those skimpy cheerleading uniforms and join the cheering team.

Yet another book advocates becoming an avid football fan yourself—reading Sports Illustrated, team life stories and other published nonsense about the athletes. It even advises actually playing a few games of football!

There is probably something to the idea of becoming a fan because more and more women are becoming football fanatics.

I've even met a few who could tell you other things Mean Joe Green does besides making Coke commercials.

But a new problem is lurking just over the horizon for husband-wife football fans. Superbowl will take on a new meaning as the two choose to root for opposing teams.

Then the question will be, how will Howard call that game?

Some people think that the ringing of a church bell without the aid of a human is an omen of a death within the parish within a week, especially if it rings during a church service. If it rings during a marriage ceremony, they feel it means either the bride or groom is fated to an early death.

ASTRO-GRAPH

Bernice Bede Osol

October 9, 1980

This coming year you may seek ways to improve or make changes in important personal areas. This may, from time to time, even make you a bit of a loner. You'll want time to work things out.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Normally you're able to see the other point of view, but today you could get upset if anyone tries to do something by methods other than yours. Romance, travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph which begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You may be a trifle too sensitive today, and take offense at things others say or do where no offense was intended. Be careful. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Things you do on your own today you're apt to be rather ho-hum about, but when it comes to group activities you become a real take-charge type.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Being first will be very important to you today. This will become quite apparent to others if they get involved with you in a competitive situation.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 15) Not only are you extremely observant today, you're also capable of soaking up knowledge like a sponge. Even small details won't escape you. PISCES (Feb. 16-March 20) A member of the opposite sex who is already attached may find you more appealing today than he or she should. It's best you mind your p's and q's.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Someone you team up with may serve as a source of strength today. This may help you revitalize something you've been down on.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) If a job you must do has become boring, today is the time to try to create a new twist to it. You should find you will be quite successful.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You may find, beginning today, that a familiar relationship might begin a transformation. How well you'll like this will depend upon how much you desire a change.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Be careful at home today that you don't throw your weight around too much. If you begin to come on too strong, it could stir up the entire household.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your powers of concentration are extremely pronounced today. This is a good time to work on mental "jambreakers." You'll not quit until things are resolved.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) It's OK to look out for your self-interests today, but try not to become too emotional over material things. You could do something you'll regret.

NUTRITION

Gaynor Maddox

Talk with a dietician

By Gaynor Maddox

Most people associate dieticians with hospital kitchens. But more and more of these professionals are going to work for the big food corporations.

So, we recently asked dietician Judy Nevius to talk to us about her work as head of the health-program department of a company whose products include corn oil, corn-oil margarine and peanut butter.

Basically, Miss Nevius' job is to inform the public of new products and their nutritional value.

Among her many responsibilities are answering questions from consumers and preparing informational booklets and papers. She recently supervised production of "The Medicine Called Nutrition," a guide for health professionals involved in changing people's eating habits.

"I try to read all the scientific papers, trade journals and books concerned with the shifts in the nutritional patterns," she remarks. "You realize that the old-fashioned balanced-diet concept has changed greatly under pressure of the new top-speed everything-quickly lifestyle."

"It's hamburgers, pizzas, french fries, chili. They require no time to prepare or to eat over a counter."

"Then there are other quick foods such as yogurt, milk, crackers, candy bars. These foods are eaten many times a day, constituting the body's food supply. How adequate is the nutrition supplied in this new method of eating?"

To maintain a healthy, balanced diet despite a fast-paced lifestyle, Miss Nevius makes such recommendations as stocking up on fresh fruits and vegetables, preparing vegetables by the stir-fry method and switching to cholesterol-free salad dressings and oils.

Miss Nevius is reassured by all the talk today about the nutritional value of carbohydrates. In the past, she notes, many people shunned high-carbohydrate foods — like fruits, grains and vegetables — that are packed with nutrients and fiber.

One of the major issues she deals with is food cholesterol. "In the cholesterol controversy," she explains, "the argument seems to be this: Most people are healthy, so with the exception of those with weak hearts, they can eat what they like."

"The other side of the argument is that we all eat too much saturated fat and cholesterol. Three-and-a-half ounces is enough meat per person per day, but, as the American Red Cross points out, most men eat 6 to 8 ounces per day."

Miss Nevius hopes to use her position to counter much of the popular misinformation about food and nutrition. She sees that as an enormous task but also as one that is well worth doing.

Latch Hook Rug Welcomes Winter

By Judy Love

All of us look forward to winter for a variety of reasons. There's one tradition I love to follow once the cold weather sets in — sitting in front of the fireplace with a warm drink, family and friends or even just as good book. This year, I've decided to change the scenery and make the atmosphere a little more welcoming with a latch hook rug in front of the fireplace (if no fireplace, in front of your favorite chair).

The emphasis turns to softer colors this fall in a patchwork hearth rug of slate blue, salmon, cream and avocado. Whether you prefer colonial, American style in your home or go emphatically modern, the harmonious colors complement nearly any decor.

Worked in Columbia-Minerva's latch hook rug yarn, which is Wear-Dated by Monsanto, it is sure to give lasting pleasure for many years. In fact, the rug adds an attractive touch to other areas of the home, too. For a change of pace, I've found it works well in the bathroom or in a hallway.

To order instructions for the 48-x-27-inch rug, send 50 cents to Stitchin' Time, P.O. Box 503, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. Ask for leaflet S559 and don't forget to include your name, address and zip code.

played ace of hearts and a heart to dummy's king.

Then he led and ruffed another diamond. So far so good. Diamonds were going to break 4-3.

The fifth diamond was going to be set up. Unfortunately for South, there would be no entry to dummy to cash it after it was up.

Could South manufacture an extra entry to dummy? Yes, he could, with the jack of clubs.

So South led his nine of clubs, took that normally unnecessary finesse of the jack, ruffed another diamond, led to the ace of clubs and got his spade discard.

West could and probably should have found the way to upset South's applicart. He could play his queen of clubs on South's nine and kill that extra club entry.

It is remarkable that so-called book hands keep occurring time and time again.

South finds himself in a normal six-heart contract. If either his hand or dummy held one more club and one less spade it would be a cinch contract since a ruff in dummy would provide an easy 12th trick.

As it was, with two losers in spades to cope with, South had to try to set up dummy's fifth diamond for a spade discard.

He took dummy's ace of diamonds, ruffed ♦ diamond.

Dear Abby

Lovers' Opening Night Gets Mixed Reviews

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1980 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a mother of a 17-year-old girl who would rent a motel room for her daughter and the girl's boyfriend so they could have a lovely "first night" experience together?

The boy is my son, also 17. (I will call him John.) John and this girl (I'll call her Jane) are both in high school. They became madly infatuated in just two weeks' time during the summer. Jane told her mother of her desire to go all the way with John, so the mother had a long talk with them, and the three of them planned this all-night session for the two young lovers.

When John told me of these plans, I couldn't believe it, so I phoned Jane's mother and she admitted she had made all the arrangements. She said she liked John and wanted her daughter to be comfortable for her first sexual experience. Can you believe this, Abby?

I told John that I was very disappointed that he was allowing Jane's mother to run interference for him. We then discussed the various methods of birth control and the seriousness of his commitment to this girl. He said he was not "in love" with her — it was just a summer romance.

When John left for this date I told him I wanted him home at a reasonable hour. Well, he stayed out all night, and needless to say there has been a great deal of tenseness between us ever since.

I'd appreciate your comments. And have you heard of this before?

SHOCKED IN SAN DIEGO

DEAR SHOCKED: No, this is a first. However, what's done is done, and perpetuating the tenseness for something your son did with your permission makes no sense to me. As I understand it, you approved of his having sex with the girl, but demanded that he come home "at a reasonable hour."

It's commendable that your son was open and honest with you and that you were able to discuss methods of birth control with him, but he is a minor and so is the girl, and as a responsible parent you should have urged self-control.

Jane's mother deserves high marks for having built an open and honest relationship with her daughter, but as a responsible parent she should not have condoned and arranged for this weddingless wedding night.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I met a new couple through our children who go to school together, play together, etc. This family (I'll call them the Smiths) began pushing for a closer relationship, and being new in town, we welcomed their friendship.

Soon another factor entered the picture. The Smiths are distributors for a line of products. Soon after we met, they invited us to join them for some sales meetings. Then they started pitching us to become distributors. Abby, we like the Smiths and we like the products, but we have no interest whatsoever in being distributors.

Our question is, how can we tell whether the Smiths have cultivated our friendship because they really like us or for business reasons?

US IN COLORADO

DEAR US: Make it perfectly clear that you have absolutely no interest in becoming distributors, and if the friendship cools, you'll know it wasn't so hot in the first place.

DEAR ABBY: After I began donating regularly to a couple of charities, I realized they were spending a lot of money in postage, stationery and clerical help in order to acknowledge my contribution and thank me for making it. Now when I send a check for a charity, I enclose a note saying that an acknowledgment is not necessary. My canceled check is all I need for income tax purposes.

If others would do this, more of the money would go to the causes we care for.

State Fair Generates Lots Of Trash

DALLAS (AP) — Not everyone would want Steve Moore's job.

He and his crew of about 600 temporary workers clean the sprawling State Fair of Texas fairgrounds daily — after more than 250,000 people have trampled the midway from dawn to dusk.

If all the paper napkins, candy apple cores, corn cobs, corn dog sticks and other trash discarded during the two-week fair were stacked on the floor of the Cotton Bowl, he says, it would make a pile 10 feet deep.

The man who deduced that somewhat unsavory statistic has contracted for the fair cleanup job for the past 19 years.

State Fair officials estimated they will spend about $300,000 this year paying Moore and his army to clean up after the three million litterbugs expected to stroll the grounds from now until Oct. 19.

The livestock barns, which generate thousands of pounds of manure daily, must be cleaned and readied for the herds of cows and hordes of fairgoers. Behind the cattle barn is a row of large metal containers that hold 30 cubic yards of straw and manure each.

"We'll probably fill 40 of them, one every 10 minutes, when we clean the barn after one show," said the trash man. "People sometimes call us wanting to know if they can get some of it for their gardens. I'll ask them how much they want and a lot of them say, 'I'll take all you got.' But they just don't have any idea."

The crews work 20 hours a day and the fairground streets are swept and hosed down each night after the fair closes, he said.

"We really don't know how many we have on the payroll," Moore said. "There's an awful lot of turnover. We have quite a few vacancies every hour."

Death Rate Declines For Older Americans

NEW YORK (AP) — The death rate among very old Americans — those 85 and up — declined dramatically in the last decade, an indication that medical advances mean longer, healthier lives for the elderly, researchers say.

A new study by three University of Pennsylvania researchers shows that health advances, which have extended lives generally, are beginning to have an impact among the small group of Americans who live to a very advanced age.

"Without doubt, the steep downward trend in mortality among the extreme aged is a real phenomenon rather than a statistical artifact," they said in the October issue of American Journal of Public Health.

"In the past, this group had shown the least change in death rate. There was a general feeling that beyond a certain age you couldn't expect much improvement in mortality," research specialist Ira Rosenwaike said in a telephone interview.

"But in the past decade or so, there has been a real improvement. This might mean a generally healthier population at that age," he added.

Rosenwaike and Nurit Yaffe of the university's School of Medicine and Philip Sagi, a sociology professor, studied data from the Center for Health Statistics, the Census Bureau and Medicare.

They found that while death rates dropped sharply for younger adults from 1933 to 1966 — the largest gain was among 25- to 34-year-olds, whose death rate went down 63.4 percent — the decline in death rate for persons over 85 was only 10.1 percent.

The big improvement at younger ages came because of medical advances — such as antibiotics — against infectious disease, they said.

But from 1966 to 1977, the situation reversed itself. Those over 85 had the largest drop in death rate — 26.3 percent — while the mortality of 25- to 34-year-olds declined 6.7 percent.

In absolute numbers, yearly deaths fell from about 200 per 1,000 persons over age 85 in 1966 to 147 per 1,000 in 1977, they said.

The researchers said the improvement among the elderly appeared due to better care for heart disease and stroke, which account for about two-thirds of deaths in this age group. Deaths from both diseases are declining as people eat better, smoke less, control high blood pressure and receive better medical care, they said.

Rosenwaike said the elderly mortality — based on census figures — might have been distorted by the tendency of older people to exaggerate their age "because of a sort of status of reaching 90 or 100."

Treating a cough best

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Would you please explain the difference in cough medicines? What kind do you use when you have a dry, choking cough and what kind do you use when you have a loose cough that's liquid?

DEAR READER — The first rule is to know what's causing the cough. If it's caused by accumulation of fluid in the lungs from heart failure, you should be taking heart medicine to strengthen the heart, not cough medicine. I use that as an illustration to point out that coughing is a symptom, not a diagnosis.

Chronic coughs can be associated with a variety of disorders. Among these is unrecognized cancer. That's why anyone whose cough persists beyond two weeks should see his doctor for an examination.

Now it's not always wise to get rid of a cough. If you have a lot of loose material in the lungs that needs to be coughed up, then it may be important to encourage it.

Some of the dry, hacking coughs are related to decreased humidity in the living quarters. And anyone who has a respiratory infection and is in an extremely dry environment may have more difficulties.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 8-10, Cough: How and When to Treat It. It will give you further information that you need. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

To answer your question directly, if you just want to suppress the cough there's probably no medicine that's better than codeine and that's why it's often included in a number of effective cough medicines. The amount of codeine that's used for this purpose is less than the amount that's used to relieve pain.

Two non-narcotic drugs are noscapine and dextromethorphan. These ingredients may be listed in a cough preparation that you can buy without a prescription.

If you want to loosen up thick mucus, you want to stimulate those glands that are in the respiratory tree to pour out secretions. Two medicines that are useful for this purpose are Syrup of Ipecac and glyceryl guaiacolate.

DEAR DR. LAMB — You suggest that after the menopause women should consume a quart of fortified milk a day in order to receive the amount of calcium needed to prevent osteoporosis in later years. Would a calcium supplement be as effective and, if so, how much would be equivalent to one quart of milk?

DEAR READER — Yes. The object is to obtain sufficient calcium one way or another. A normal adult woman needs about 800 mg of calcium a day. In the post-menopausal period she should receive at least 1 gm a day which is about the amount in a quart of milk. There is more in fortified skim milk. It follows that you need about 1 gm or 1.5 gm of calcium a day as a supplement if you are getting no calcium at all in your diet.

Remember that the calcium tablets you get are usually only part calcium and part something else so a one-gram calcium tablet will not contain one gram of calcium. Different preparations contain different percentages of elemental calcium. If you need calcium supplements because of your diet, ask your doctor to select a preparation and an amount that fits your particular needs in relation to your particular diet.

Hutchison Joins Reagan-Bush Team

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Kay Bailey Hutchison of Dallas was appointed Tuesday as chairman of Texas Businesswomen for Reagan-

Bush. Mrs. Hutchison is senior vice president and general counsel for Republic of Texas Corporation, a bank holding company.

She served from 1972 to 1976 in the Texas House as a Republican representative from Houston. Her husband, Ray Hutchison, is former chairman of the Republican Party of Texas.

Convicted Jenrette Remains In Race

By LARRY MARGASAK Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A distraught Rep. John W. Jenrette, admittedly shocked at the swiftness of his Abscam conviction, says he's re-evaluating his race for a fourth term. But for now, he's still in.

Jenrette, crying on his wife's shoulder, needed half an hour to regain his composure after a U.S. District Court jury convicted him of bribery and conspiracy Tuesday, then walked out of the courthouse and told reporters, "Yes, I'm going to run."

But the South Carolina Democrat, his eyes still moist and his voice cracking, added that he and the 10 Democratic chairmen in his district planned to meet "to determine the best course."

Later, Jenrette, an acknowledged alcoholic who says he hasn't had a drink in six months, said, "I'm not going to let this destroy me."

The jury of eight women and four men had deliberated less than five hours before Jenrette and his co-defendant, John R. Stowe, a Richmond, Va., businessman, were convicted of all three counts in the indictment.

Jenrette, at the defense table, greeted the verdict by bowing his head and sobbing into his hands. Stowe was impassive, as he had been through much of the five-week trial. Rita Jenrette leveled a stern stare at the jury as foreman Sylvia Parker announced the decision.

The indictment said the two men had split a $50,000 bribe from undercover FBI agent Anthony Amoroso, who said he represented two wealthy Arabs needing immigration legislation to live in the United States. Amoroso said that, in return for the money, Jenrette had promised to introduce the legislation for the sheiks, who were actually mythical creations of the FBI.

Jenrette and Stowe also were accused of soliciting a $125,000 bribe in return for Jenrette's promise to have Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., introduce similar legislation in the Senate. The defense and prosecution agreed that Thurmond never was contacted and the money was not delivered to either defendant.

Jenrette, describing himself as "very much in shock," said he was "beginning to wonder about the whole system. I just can't believe that in five short hours they could have decided on five weeks of tedious, tedious information."

"I believe in the judicial system, but I just can't see how all the evidence, if they looked at it, could have been run through."

The evidence included FBI audio recordings and videotapes that caught Jenrette discussing the $50,000 bribe last Dec. 4, Stowe taking the money on Dec. 6 and Jenrette discussing the Thurmond bribe on Jan. 7.

The 44-year-old, three-term lawmaker is the second member of Congress to be convicted as a result of the Abscam investigation. Rep. Michael Myers, D-Pa., was found guilty Aug. 30 of taking a bribe and last Thursday was expelled from the House — the first such punishment since the Civil War.

Other congressmen scheduled for Abscam trials are Rep. John Murphy, D-N.Y., and Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J., who were named in the same indictment; and Rep. Raymond Lederer, D-Pa.

Other congressmen scheduled for Abscam trials are Rep. John Murphy, D-N.Y., and Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J., who were named in the same indictment; and Rep. Raymond Lederer, D-Pa.

Cocaine Is Found In Golf Bag

HOUSTON (AP) — Inspectors at Houston Intercontinental Airport have seized about five pounds of high-grade cocaine stashed in the false bottom of a golf bag carried by a Colombian woman.

The cocaine, valued at $1.5 million, was found Tuesday night at the airport's U.S. Customs-Immigration and Naturalization checkpoint, inspectors said.

The suspect, who arrived on a flight from Cancun, Mexico, told authorities the cocaine was to be delivered to a Houston dealer, said Customs spokesman Charles Conroy.

LIKE YOU, THEY'LL HAVE ALL OF THE NATURAL GAS THEY'LL NEED.

Just as you do today, your children will have a dependable supply of natural gas for their homes — if they're served by Lone Star Gas Company.

In other words, we aren't about to run out of natural gas. The facts are strong and very reassuring.

Our supply is based on purchase contracts for the gas from more than 19,000 wells in Texas and Oklahoma. And because no well lasts forever, we prepare for your future needs by steadily buying new long-term reserves.

The fact that we're well established in Texas and Oklahoma also works in your favor. Nine basins in these two states are estimated to contain 50% of the nation's remaining onshore gas reserves.

And Lone Star's pipeline system gives us excellent buying opportunities in eight of them.

Producers drilled thousands of wells in these major basins last year. They're drilling more this year. And we'll be shopping hard, just as we always have, for the best energy values for your future.

Thanks OPEC For Incentives

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — "Thank God for OPEC!" Robert Parker, chairman of Parker Drilling Co. of Tulsa told the Oklahoma Petroleum Council annual banquet Tuesday.

He said the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries "provided our incentives with their prices. They are doing for us what we can't do for ourselves politically."

"It's the prices of OPEC that make us go after more oil and gas, and our shortages have become surpluses," he said.

Parker cited a quote from the New York Times, saying the United States only had six years' supply of oil. The article was printed in 1926.

"When they predict that we're running out of oil, what they're saying is that they've found all they know how to find. The North Sea had 51 dry holes before any oil was found. The North Slope had 36 dry holes before the discovery well was drilled."

"Don't lose faith in the magic of incentives and the free enterprise system," Parker told the audience of oil and gas industry executives.

He presented William S. Martin of Bartlesville, Chairman of the Board of Phillips Petroleum Co., with the Oklahoma Oil Man of the Year award.

Robert C. Moore, vice president, public affairs, for Cities Service Co., Tulsa, was elected president of the council, succeeding Warren L. Jensen, vice president of Conoco, Inc., Ponca City.

Earlier, the council heard from he president of the American Arab Chamber of Commerce.

"Why would we be beaten back in trade by nations whom we defeated in war and pulled out of destruction, such as Japan, Germany, Italy and South Korea?" asked Dr. Atef Gamal-Eldin, of Houston.

"There is no doubt that our technology is superior to everyone else's; our manufactured goods are the best and our prices are equal, if not lower, because of the depressed exchange price of the dollar," he said.

"What are the problems which plague U.S. contractors bidding on projects in the Arab world and handicap U.S. suppliers in the area?" he asked.

He cited lack of government supports for U.S. businessmen abroad, U.S. tax laws that increase the burden on companies operating overseas and citizens working abroad, and the Foreign Corrupt Practice Act of 1977.

He said the 1977 statute is "based on the moralistic idealism which we would honestly hope would be the basis of transactions all over the globe," he said.

"In fact, this law has in many cases hindered the abilities of U.S. companies to acquire foreign contracts worth billions of dollars."

He said adverse publicity has driven Arab investment money away. "An example was the story in Texas papers about the Saudi man who wanted to purchase the Alamo. When we researched, we found it a false story, and that name is non-existent in Saudi Arabia," he said.

Breast, abdomen and high reductions are the most expensive of popular cosmetic surgery procedures, averaging about $3,000 each, according to GEO Magazine. Facelifts are about $2,800; buttock reduction $2,500; breast augmentation, nose jobs and eyelids can be had for $2,000. Ears cost $1,600; chin implant $750 and hair transplants are $20 per plug.

BENEFIT PLAYDAY - The funds raised in a benefit playday held Oct. 12 will go to Tammie Hicks, above, the Region 6 Princess of the American Association of Sheriffs' Poses and Riding Clubs. The money will defray travel and clothing expenses incurred by Miss Hicks as she campaigns for the American title.

Riding Princess Playday Planned

A benefit playday will be held Oct. 12 for Tammie Hicks of Trent, Region 6 princess of the American Association of Sheriffs' Poses and Riding Clubs.

The playday activities begin at 10:30 a.m. Registration, however, starts 9:30 a.m. A jackpot barrel race will be held at 1 p.m. All activities will be held at the Sun-downer's Arena on Ave. M, report organizers for the event.

The money that is raised will be used to defray travel and clothing expenses for Miss Hicks, organizers said.

Miss Hicks, a 1980 graduate of Trent High School and a freshman at the University of Texas at Arlington, is competing for the title of queen of the American Association of Sheriffs' Poses and Riding Clubs. She has traveled about 3,300 miles representing the local region of the organization.

The queen's crowning will be at the national convention held Oct. 24-26 in Lubbock.

As He Skips Across Texas...

Bush Berating Carter For Campaign Rhetoric

By MIKE COCHRAN Associated Press Writer PLANO, Texas (AP) —

Flashing anger and indignation as he skipped across Texas, Republican vice-presidential nominee George Bush denounced President Carter for what he called "irresponsible... and overheated campaign rhetoric."

Bush opened his attack Tuesday in Midland, revised it in Plano and polished it up in his hometown of Houston, where he spent the night.

Quoting Carter as saying "the election of Ronald Reagan would cause racial and religious alienations throughout the country," Bush declared:

"That is Carterism at its worst — rhetoric aimed for narrow political gain and insinuating hatred and division among Americans."

The former CIA director made those statements before a luncheon audience of 1,100 at Midland, where he was met by his son, George, and Texas Gov. Bill Clements.

Clements, the first Republican governor in Texas since Reconstruction, flew on to Dallas with Bush for the dedication of a municipal building in suburban Plano — a nucleus of Texas conservatism.

The younger Bush is an independent oil and gas operator in Midland, where his father launched his own business career 32 years ago.

Bush hammered at a more positive GOP theme of financial responsibility and competent leadership at the outdoor dedication ceremony, but continued to criticize Carter for what he called "disruptive and and devious rhetoric."

He said Carter's statements reflected a "certain desperation" and dismissed them as "scare" tactics.

In Houston, where he met with black community, business and church leaders, Bush accused Carter of "talking down" to minorities.

He said a Reagan presidency would "offer a real economic opportunity" to minorities with "more jobs, lower interest rates, a sounder economy, lower inflation... tax credits and less regulation of business."

Questioned in Dallas about the National Organization of Women's vow to dog the Republican campaign trail with pickets, Bush said:

"Let them have their pickets. It's not going to deter us."

Delegates to the national NOW convention in San Antonio this weekend pledged to work against the Republican team because of Reagan's opposition to the Equal Rights Amendment.

"Gov. Reagan is opposed to that amendment," Bush said, "but is certainly in favor of equal rights for women."

One picketer appeared at the dedication here, bearing a placard that read: "ERA Yes, GOP No."

Bush said Carter's attacks on Reagan were "delivered by a candidate desperately trying to escape the consequences of his failure in office."

More Firings Coming In Dallas Bus Strike

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Transit System, crippled by a massive job action that resulted in the firing of several hundred employees Wednesday, is now "back to business as normal," says the DTS general manager.

Cliff Franklin said Tuesday he considered the work stoppage "ended" with the mailing of several hundred termination letters to the remainder of the DTS employees who walked out last week and did not return to their jobs by Tuesday night.

About 600 DTS employees walked out protesting pay and benefits last Wednesday. Leaders of the Amalgamated Transit Union said it was not a strike but a series of individual job actions, since public employees are prohibited by law from striking in Texas.

Transit union leader B.J. Simmons disagreed sharply with Franklin, saying DTS will have to deal with the worker's demands "sooner or later."

He said the city council ultimately will have to deal with the employees' problems, rather than siding with DTS management.

"Sooner or later, the city council is going to come out here and see what's going on," Simmons said. "When that happens they are going to find out we are right."

There is going to be a time coming when they are going to have to answer to the taxpayers and voters why in the hell they haven't done anything," he said.

Franklin said more employees could be fired in the next three weeks because they were on vacation or other excused leave when the walkout occurred.

The transit system will not know which employees to fire until they return to work and their excuses can be evaluated, officials said.

DTS said five workers were fired Monday and 31 more were purged from the payroll Tuesday, further complicating operation of the city's only mass transit system.

Franklin told a news conference it would take the city bus system "from six months to two years" to recover from the strike, which has cut the number of rolling buses by almost 80 percent.

Franklin, invoking terms of the DTS work agreement, announced last week that any employee who took part in a job action for more than four consecutive days would be automatically fired.

DTS managers, in a weekend meeting, said the workers' only alternatives were a return to work or dismissals.

Officials said the jobs of purged employees are being filled by former DTS workers who left the system before the work stoppage and by new applicants.

BLOOD DONOR—Tommy Donahoo from Granbury was among the Western Texas College students donating blood Tuesday. Tracie Gilstrap of Snyder, a member of the WTC Senate, is shown with him. The Senate sponsored the blood drive, which collected more than 40 pints.

Thanksgiving Day was in the United States in first officially celebrated 1789.

Concession

NEW YORK (AP) — A judge has offered to expunge cocaine possession convictions against film producer Robert Evans and two co-defendants if they agree to help educate youths about the evils of drugs.

U.S. District Judge Vincent L. Broderick said he wanted the defendants to use their "extraordinary creative talents" in a national anti-drug education program.

"I look forward to the challenge," Evans told reporters outside the courthouse Tuesday. The producer, sentenced to one year's probation, said it was "a great challenge to do something constructive to show the wrongness of drugs."

Sentenced with Evans, whose films include "The Godfather" and "Love Story," were his brother, Charles, a construction magnate; and the brother's partner, Michael Shure. All three pleaded guilty July 31 to possessing five ounces of cocaine. The maximum penalty would have been a year in prison on the misdemeanor charge.

In Los Angeles... Need Prescription To Get Fresh Air

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fresh air is so scarce in Los Angeles these days that some folks are trying to buy their own supply. But they can't get it without a prescription, even though it's Day 9 in the year's worst smog seige.

"We've been getting lots of calls from people asking if they can buy or rent some oxygen. They say the smog is bothering them," Al Saville, an employee at a downtown sickroom supply center, said Tuesday.

"Unfortunately, you can't get (medical) oxygen without a prescription, so we just have to tell them we're sorry, but they can't have any," he said. "Unfortunately, people in Los Angeles — or Emphysema Valley or Smogville USA as it's been dubbed — can't get a clean supply outside either the Air Quality Management District said.

"There's nothing there to give us optimism," district deputy executive officer

James Birakos said. "We're looking at satellite pictures, wind changes — anything we can get our hands on."

"Historically, these smog seiges last no longer than three or four days. But here we are going into our ninth day and there's no end in sight."

What's happening, he explained, is that "yesterday's contamination is still around when the next day's comes in and there isn't enough wind to cleanse the basin."

That condition has made it "the worst October in 10 years," Birakos said.

While the pollution may be aggravating and keeping some Angelenos indoors, it doesn't appear to be keeping visitors away, according to the Greater Los Angeles Visitor and Convention Center.

WTC Rodeo Team Off To Alpine

Western Texas College rodeo teams will be heading for Alpine Thursday as the Sul Ross State University-NIRA rodeo opens.

The men's team finished fourth last weekend at an NIRA rodeo sponsored by Clarendon College and South Plains College in Pampa. WTC had 144 points. Howard College was first with 186 points, Eastern New Mexico was second with 171 and Tarleton State was third with 169. Sul Ross rounded out the top five with 106 points. Nineteen teams from the Southwest Region of the NIRA competed.

Ray McKnight, WTC freshman from Colorado, won first in the bareback riding with 76 points, bettering the other 42 riders. In saddle bronc riding, WTC placed two individuals: Dave Appleton won first place and Tim Gradous won third with 62 and 52 respectively. Tim is now leading the region.

Cowgirl Nannette Fine from Monahans won second in the barrel racing, outrunning 43 other girls.

"This was a very low scoring rodeo," Bob Doty, coach, said. "Our contestants didn't score too well, but neither did anyone else."

Award Goes To Stenholm

WASHINGTON—Congressman Charles W. Stenholm has been named to receive the National Associated Businessmen's (NAB) "Watchdog of the Treasury Award" for voting against unnecessary federal spending during the 96th Congress.

Stenholm scored 100 percent on NAB's "Economy Voting Record," an index of congressional attitudes toward economy in government.

Thirty-five senators and 179 representatives qualified for the award, with only 62 representatives scoring 100 percent.

Stenholm has also been awarded the National Federation of Independent Business' "Guardian of Small Business" award for his voting record on issues affecting the country's independent businessmen.

Membership Still Open

Membership is still open in the Fine Arts Association at Western Texas College.

Persons interested in joining are invited to call the WTC Fine Arts Division office at 573-8511, Extension 240, during regular office hours on campus. Memberships are $30 per person. A Patron Membership is available for $100, with $70 of that amount tax deductible.

The Association's first program is scheduled on Oct. 14 when William Westney, Lubbock pianist, will be presented in the WTC Fine Arts Theatre.

prerequisite to being considered for area honors.

Selection in the contest was made on the basis of Cub Scout achievement as well as participation in religious, community, and Cub Scout projects and activities. The candidate also must have demonstrated that he strives to live up to the ideals of Cub Scouting and be able to express himself effectively.

Marble's Cub Scout achievements include earning the Wolf Badge with five arrow points, the Bear Badge with five arrow points, four Webelo activity badges, and the Summertime Award. He has participated in a number of Cub Scout activities and projects such as the district exposition, day camp, pinewood derbies, "Census Good Turn," and physical fitness contests. In this year's physical fitness event he won two first place and two second place ribbons in the 10-year-old division and was third place over-all winner.

Marble is a member of Grace Lutheran Church where he attends Sunday School and serves as acolyte. He studies piano and music theory, winning national membership in The National Piano Playing Auditions and a gold medal in state theory competition. Other community activities include participation in the East Elementary P.T.A. talent show, the Optimist Club bicycle rodeo, and the Little League baseball program. His hobbies include reading, model railroading, and wood crafts.

LAMESA—Coach Joyce Elrod's Fightin' Felines took the air out of the Tornados here last night, 15-9, 4-15 and 15-13 to ballon their district winning streak to 38 straight and inflate a first-round District 2-AAAA volleyball championship in the process.

The No. 1 ranked Felines came up with their usual clutch play to outlast the Tors, rated 10th in the state. The victory gives Snyder a 7-0 first-round record, while Lamesa falls to 5-2. No. 5 rated Monahans completed the first round at 6-1. Snyder is now 21-0 for the 1980 season.

Elrod's troops begin round two play Saturday, hosting Monahans at 3:30 in SHS Gym. Snyder is already 1-0 in second-half action, having beaten Fort Stockton in a first- and second-round double header back on Sept. 27.

The scores from last night's match look close and that's exactly the way it went, said Coach Elrod.

"They had a 5-0 lead on us in the first game before we ever served the ball," she explained. "We played a steady, constant game and came back. We had some strong blocking and hitting which helped pull it out."

"The second game, we just weren't in it. And in the third game it seemed the harder we tried, the worse we did. We couldn't pick up anything Lamesa was sending over. We were down 3-11 with two minutes left on the clock. I felt like we were going to start playing ball, but I was worried that we might not have enough time to catch up. We must have gotten some help from upstairs."

One key to the final minutes of the game was the serving of Shana Koonsman and Sherry Mayes, giving the Felines "the kind of serving that caused Lamesa to have several ball-handling calls," Elrod relayed.

All-stater Lisa Cobb began to control the front-line offensive game, and, combined with the good serves, it swung the game in Snyder's favor.

"We got our momentum back, and when we did, Lamesa couldn't seem to do anything right. Shana got three points (on serves) pretty quick, then Mayes tied us up, 13-13 with less than a minute left. (Kathy) Northcott got us to 14 and (Ann) Melton served the 15th point."

Elrod had nothing but praise for the Lamesa effort. "Lamesa has a much-improved ball club. We knew they were going to be tough and they were. They always get up for Snyder."

Mayes served for 12 points, Northcott for 7, Koonsman for 6, Cobb for 4, Sherry Rich for 3, and Melton for 2.

Snyder junior varsity also won, defeating the same Lamesa team which won the Snyder JV Tournament last weekend, 4-15, 15-9 and 15-8.

"It was a very good win for them, especially since they had lost two games in the tournament, including one to Lamesa," pointed out the coach. "Both (Snyder) teams came through in the clutch last night. I think they proved something."

Serving for points for the JV were Sabrina Robinson 12, Lisa Waller 8, Susie Lee 6, Becky Harrell 4, and Lisa Loyola and Becky Pylant 2 each. The girls now boast a 13-3 season record.

Gridders Try Lamesa Next

Snyder junior varsity, freshman and eighth grade teams are all involved in football action Thursday night, at home and away.

The local junior varsity, 1-1-2, entertains Lamesa JV in the late game of a tri-header scheduled to begin at 4:30 at Travis Field. The Cats host the Tors under the lights at 7:30.

Opening the show will be Snyder's eighth grade teams, slated to play Lamesa at 4:30 and about 6 p.m.

Tickets for the games are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Snyder's freshmen travel to Lamesa for a 7 o'clock game. Ticket prices are expected to be similar to those here.

Thursday's games are a pre-show, of sorts, to Friday's varsity contest in Lamesa, pitting the 0-4 Tigers against the 2-2 Tornados. Game time for that clash is 8 p.m. Tickets are $3 for adults and $2 for students at the gate.

In seventh grade action at the tournament, Snyder fell to Lamesa, 15-7, 7-15 and 14-16 as Brenda Zajicek served for 9, Rosie Pena for 8, Dawn Farmer for 7, Xylan Harris and Donna Anderson for 6 each, Sally Martinez and Cintia Gonzales for 4 each, and Renee Kimmel for 3.

Snyder lost to Plains in the second match, 8-15 and 10-15. Snyder plays Seminole at Seminole, Oct. 13 at 5 and 6 p.m.

Penscola Not For Amateurs

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — The more easily-recognized seasonal championships have been decided on the PGA Tour.

Tom Watson has nailed down the money-winning title. Lee Trevino is assured of the Vardon Trophy. Watson is merely awaiting confirmation as the Player of the Year.

But the seasonal race that holds the greatest fascination, the most importance to a majority of the touring pros, doesn't end until this weekend in the $200,000 Pensacola Open.

That's the list of the season's top 60 money-winners. This is the last individual tournament on the schedule this year and, thus, is the last chance for the pros to gain a spot in the coveted top 60.

Those who make it are exempt from qualifying for 1981 tour events. Those who fail to make it, for the most part, face the exacting trials of the Monday morning qualifying rounds. It's generally considered the most difficult part of life on the tour. On an average, some 100 players compete in those Monday rounds for about 20 spots in the upcoming tournament.

Those 80 or so who fail to make it are down the road. They don't get paid. They have nothing to do for the week but practice for the next attempt at qualifying.

"It's really make or break time for the kids," said veteran Lee Elder, who spent more than a decade scrambling for a place on the exempt list.

Mike Heath, catcher for the Oakland A's, started out in professional baseball as a short-stop.

UCLA Flying, But With Goals

By HERSCHEL NISENSEN
AP Sports Writer

UCLA is one of five Pac-10 teams that won't be going to the Rose Bowl this season so the first thing All-American safety Kenny Easley shouted when he marched into the dressing room after Saturday's 17-0 upset of Ohio State was: "This is our Rose Bowl."

Later, Easley changed his mind. "This is Columbus, not Pasadena. We've got seven games to go. Ohio State isn't our big game by a longshot."

Easley also thought Ohio State "took us too lightly. They said they had three easy games — us, Syracuse and Northwestern. Their All-American quarterback (Art Schlichter) couldn't throw the ball to anyone because he couldn't see over our onrushing linemen."

With an Ohio Stadium crowd of 88,004, plus a national TV audience, watching, Easley was ejected in the closing minutes for hitting a Columbus photography shop owner on the sidelines.

"I'm very upset," Easley said. "I lost my composure. I feel bad for myself and my team. There was a lot of commotion. I felt I was jostled, but I can't make any excuse for my actions."

Saturday was a great day for Florida State people and not so hot for Nebraskans. Not only did FSU upset Nebraska 18-14, but FSU grad — and the school's former baseball coach — Dick Howser led the New York Yankees to the American League East Division title. Meanwhile, in Montreal, Stan Bahnsen gave up the two-run homer to Philadelphia's Mike Schmidt in the 11th inning that decided the NL East. Bahnsen attended Nebraska.

They said Donnie Little couldn't throw the football so all the Texas quarterback did in the Longhorns' 41-28 victory over Rice was complete 11 of 16 for 306 yards, including touchdown passes of 57 yards to Jam Jones and 73 to Lawrence Sampton.

"You can't really satisfy some people, and I know that," Little said. "But my coaches and teammates have always had faith in me and I think tonight it was justified."

Quarterback David Beal was one of eight new Texas A&M starters in the Aggies' 41-21 rout of Texas Tech and he justified Coach Tom Wilson's decision by scoring four times.

"This is like a dream, really," said Beal, whose last start was for his high school team in Russellville, Ark., when it defeated Fort Smith Southside in his senior year. "The only time I got nervous was when everyone asked me if I was nervous. It was like when I got married."

Five Utah State linemen were forced to change jerseys early in the Aggies' 23-19 loss to Utah when officials ruled their uniforms were smeared with some sort of greasy illegal substance.

Doesn't anyone play defense in Colorado? While Colorado was losing to Oklahoma 82-42, Colorado State was being swamped by Iowa State 69-0.

Philadelphia History-Making At Houston's Expense, Win Opener

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The first 64 years are always the toughest.

If you don't believe that, ask the Philadelphia Phillies.

Greg Luzinski's two-run homer in the sixth inning triggered the Phillies' first post-season victory at home since Grover Cleveland Alexander beat the Boston Red Sox in the 1915 World Series.

The Phillies beat the Houston Astros 3-1 Tuesday night in the first game of their best-of-five National League Championship series.

The Phillies had lost 10 straight post-season games at home, including two in that 1915 Series, two in the 1950 World Series to the New York Yankees and six in divisional playoffs in 1976, 1977 and 1978. Steve Carlton, the Phillies' 24-game winner, was credited with the victory although he wasn't as overpowering as during the regular season.

Still, Carlton worked seven innings and allowed just one run.

Manager Dallas Green lifted Carlton for a pinch hitter in the seventh despite a 2-1 lead. The Phillies had a runner on third and two out.

The reliever was Tug McGraw, who had four wins and three saves in September and one victory and two saves this month in the Phillies' drive to the NL East title.

McGraw came in and retired six of seven batters to save the game for Philadelphia.

Luzinski's home run came on a 3-2 pitch and landed high in the first tier of seats in left field. It was the only hit of the game for the outfielder who has struggled most of the season.

The Astros took a 1-0 lead in the third inning on singles by Jose Cruz, Cesar Cedeno, and a two-out base hit under the glove of second baseman Manny Trillo by rookie Gary Woods.

Astros' pitcher Ken Forsch held onto the slim lead until the sixth when Pete Rose opened with an infield single. Bake McBride struck out and Mike Schmidt flied out.

Forsch then went to 3-2 on Luzinski and boom. The ball flew out of the ball park for a 2-1 Phillies' lead. The Phillies added an insurance run in the seventh on Garry Maddox' single, a sacrifice bunt from Larry Bowa. Maddox' steal of third and a slicing single to left by pinch hitter Greg Gross, who was batting for Carlton.

The disconsolate Forsch went the distance, allowing eight hits, striking out five and walking just one.

Houston Manager Bill Virdon refused to use the Astros all-night flight as an excuse. The Astros came from Los Angeles where they beat the Dodgers in a one-game playoff Monday for the West Division title.

The Astros will pitch Nolan Ryan, 11-10, in the second game of the series tonight. The Phillies plan to use right-hander Dick Ruthven, 17-10.

In American League Pennant Race...

Yankees, Royals Ready Tonight

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Kansas City's 8-4 season record against the New York Yankees this year means the Royals are about to break the Yankee jinx in the American League playoffs, says George Brett.

"We beat them eight times, and they beat us four," the Kansas City third baseman said Tuesday on the eve of the fourth playoff meeting in five years between the Yanks and Royals.

"We all believe this is our year," said Brett, whose .390 average this season was the best in the major leagues since 1941. "We think winning eight out of 12 proves we've got the best team."

Larry Gura, who hasn't won in six weeks, was to start for the Royals against New York's Ron Guidry. The Yankees, who beat the Royals in this best-of-five series in 1976, '77 and '78, will be facing a left-hander who hasn't won since Aug. 25.

Gura finished with an 18-10 record and whipped the Yankees three times while compiling an earned run average of 2.95. But since pulling a groin muscle in late August, he shows five losses and three no-decisions in eight starts and an ERA of 5.70.

Kansas City Manager Jim

Frey created unrest among many of his players by naming John Wathan to start in right field instead of Clint Hurdle.

Guidry was 1-2 against the Royals while compiling an 18-11 record and 3.56 ERA. The two left-handers differ dramatically in style, Guidry throwing an overpowering fastball and hard slider while Gura must rely on control and finesse.

Gura refused to talk to writers after Tuesday's workout.

Wathan, a right-handed hitter who excelled while filling in at catcher this year, batted .305. But he is not the equal to Hurdle in the outfield, and in spacious Royals Stadium, with its slick artificial turf, this could be telling. Yankees Manager Dick Howser disagrees with Brett's assessment of the regular season series.

"We played the Royals when they were awfully awfully hot," he said. "The way they were playing, they could have beat the 1928 Yankees. No team can stay as hot as they were. This is a whole new season for everybody."

Richard Undergoes Additional Surgery

NEW YORK (AP) — Houston Astros' pitcher J.R. Richard, whose life was threatened by a stroke less than three months ago, will undergo additional surgery early next week in an undisclosed California hospital, Tom Reich, his agent, said Tuesday night.

"This is an important step in J.R.'s recovery," Reich said in a telephone interview from his home in Pittsburgh. "He still has a clot remaining in his shoulder and the surgery will be to correct that problem," Reich added.

July 30. He was rushed into emergency surgery later that day and surgeons removed a blood clot in a neck artery.

At the time, a hospital spokesman said the blood clot could have been "a life and death situation" had it been dislodged.

Surgeons who removed the clot later said "there were apparent signs of neurological symptoms indicating impairment of circulation to the brain that would be suggestive of a stroke."

Reich said next week's surgery was not being forced by new complications.

Ali Contends Too Much Medicine Led To Fatigue

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Muhammad Ali said he had been feeling tired and weak for days before his heavyweight title fight against Larry Holmes in Las Vegas, Nev. last week — and he believes he knows why.

"I jogged three days before (the fight) and I couldn't even pick up my legs," the former champion said at a news conference at UCLA Medical Center at which he revealed he had been taking medication for a thyroid condition.

"When I took one tablet I felt fine," he said, but he said he doubled the dosage against doctor's orders, and that apparently sapped his strength and contributed to his loss to Holmes.

Holmes, 30, retained his World Boxing Council crown when the exhausted and soundly beaten Ali, 38, could not answer the bell for the 11th round.

Ali said he had doubled a daily dose of Thyralor prescribed by his doctor two weeks before the bout, increasing the prescribed amount because a regular dose had increased his vitality and "all of my vitamins, I always take one extra."

Ali's doctor, Dr. Charles Lee Williams Sr., said in Chicago that he prescribed the Thyralor for what he diagnosed as a thyroid imbalance, but he did not say how he came to that conclusion.

Ali underwent tests at the UCLA center Monday and Tuesday and was given a clean bill of health by doctors, who said the fighter suffered "no residual damage" from the fight.

The Texas Rangers have had only one American League Most Valuable Player, Jeff Burroughs in 1974.

Landry Predicts 49er Game Will Be Exciting

DALLAS (AP) — If you were bored watching last Sunday's dull New York Giant-Dallas game, then Cowboys' Coach Tom Landry promises you plenty of thrills this weekend.

"It will be very exciting this Sunday," promised Landry. "I know we'll be excited."

The San Francisco 49ers and their control passing game will be on hand for the 1 p.m.

kickoff. "They use passes to their backs like we use running plays," said Landry. "It will be a big test for us. They'll probably throw the ball 40 to 45 times. Our young secondary will get a workout."

Expected to be available for backup duty will be veteran Benny Barnes, making his first appearance since he underwent an emergency appendectomy five weeks ago before Dallas' opener against the Washington Redskins.

"We will work Benny back into the lineup slow," said Landry. "He will backup (strong safety) Charlie Waters and (cornerback) Steve Wilson. We also hope to work him on the kicking team."

"We might get Benny in there on passing downs. He could have a conditioning problem although he is in good shape. We'll just have to see what he does this week in workouts."

Landry also announced that Ron Springs, who missed a week with a sprained ankle and shared duty in Sunday's 24-3 victory over the New York Giants with Robert Newhouse, would start at fullback.

"We'll have to make three touchdowns or better to win," Landry predicted of the 49er game. "We've got to have about 24 or 28 points to win."

San Francisco has averaged 270 yards per game passing while the porous Cowboys' secondary has yielded 178 overhead yards per game.

Ernal Allen, special assistant to Landry, said "the 49ers throw the ball over 60 per cent of the time and it seems like 80, per cent. They use more formations than we do. It should be a heckuva game."

Dallas is a nine-point favorite over the 49ers for the 1 p.m. game.

Jenkins Feels Tigers Will Perform Better

Coach Mike Jenkins admits Friday's loss to San Angelo Lake View - Snyder's fourth defeat of the season - was a hard one to take, but he contends the Tigers will keep trying to improve with each game.

"It was a hard loss for the kids, but we'll regroup and come back and play Lamesa. We're going to try each week to show people the kind of football we're capable of," he noted. "We're not playing real well. Our kids know it. Our immediate goal right now is to play as well as we are capable of playing. We've got a lot of season left. We expect our kids to continue working, and to get better each time we take the field."

Jenkins cited the kicking game and offensive inconsistency as the keys to the 21-14 loss. And added, "Defensively we were just not able to keep them from making the big play. We knew their passing game was going to be very good and it was."

Snyder searches for victory No. 1 again Friday night, taking on Lamesa in Lamesa at 8. The Tors, in losing to Sweetwater 24-0 last week, are 2-2 on the season and 1-1 in district play.

The Tigers benched their familiar Veer offense for the 'I' last week, and the coach says fans can expect to see Snyder in that basic formation for the remainder of the season.

"We saw some good things out of it," he said. "We'll have to become more consistent in it though. We think that right now, it fits our personnel better."

The Tigers have utilized the 'I' on occasion before, but

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — Guillermo Vilas, Jose Luis Clerc and Italy's Adriano Panatta all won their singles matches in the second round of the international Count Of Godo tournament.
