In Last Pre-Elected Report...

Inflation In Double Digits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Inflation jumped back into double digits in September as consumer prices, led by rising food costs, jumped a full 1 percent, the government said today in its last inflation report before Election Day.

Last month's rise translates into a 12.7 percent compound annual inflation rate, compared with the 13.3 percent rise in 1979. From January through September, consumer prices have risen 12.1 percent. The inflation issue has become a central theme of the presidential campaign, with Republican nominee Ronald Reagan sharply attacking President Carter's handling of the economy. At one point, he accused the administration of manipulating economic statistics for political purposes, a charge officials strongly denied.

September's consumer price figures proved worse than August's 0.7 percent increase and the zero movement registered in July. Inflation was at an even 1 percent in June.

The report showed retail food prices once again rising sharply, while housing costs began to accelerate following this summer's decline. Gasoline prices, however, fell for the fifth consecutive month.

September's inflation performance as measured by the Labor Department's Consumer Price Index was far more favorable than the pace last winter when consumer prices were racing at more than an 18 percent annual rate.

However, the 1 percent increase was worse than many economists predicted. Moreover, food prices are expected to accelerate in coming months, say economists, including Carter's chief inflation adviser.

Alfred Kahn. The Labor Department also reported that average weekly earnings after deductions for Social Security and federal income taxes decreased 0.4 percent from August after seasonal adjustments. Over the year, spendable earnings declined 6.7 percent after inflation was taken into account.

Patrick Jackman, a Labor Department economist, said the difference between September's 1 percent jump and August's 0.7 percent rise was due largely to a slowing in the decline of mortgage interest costs.

He said sharply higher costs of pork and beef also played a significant role in last month's price acceleration.

The September inflation

report, adjusted for seasonal variations, showed:

— All food and beverage prices jumped 1.6 percent after increasing 1.7 percent in August. Meats, poultry, fish and eggs alone accounted for three-fifths of the increase.

Beef, pork and poultry prices shot up for the third consecutive month, reflecting the summer's severe drought in many areas.

— Eating out at a restaurant cost 0.9 percent more in September than in August.

while purchasing an alcoholic beverage was 0.5 percent more expensive.

— Housing costs rose 0.7 percent compared with a slim 0.1 percent increase in August. Mortgage interest rates

Water District Moves To Increase Potential

Expenditures of nearly half a million dollars for beefing up the delivery potential of the Colorado River Municipal Water District for next year and for improving long-range supplies, were approved by directors Thursday.

Bought by recent major catches of water in Lakes E. V. Spence and J. B. Thomas, the board also gave notice to SACROC it was in a position to return to full contract basis as of Jan. 1, 1981. Lake Thomas reached elevation 2233.75 and 65,000 acre feet, reported O. H. Ivie, general manager. Lake Spence reached elevation 1,875.36 and 239,000 acre feet.

Directors set aside $175,000 out of contingency and improvement fund for modification of pumps at Big Spring and McWhorter stations, plus additional transformers. This will, it is estimated, increase the delivery capacity west of Big Spring by 10,000,000 gallons a day. Ivie said this could well lessen the demand upon the Ward County field during summer peak periods and thus lower water royalty payments by $102,000 for the year.

As a measure of insurance, however, an expenditure of $150,000 for drilling, equipping and connecting two additional wells in the Ward County field was approved. This should bring the field back up to pipeline capacity to Odessa. Also voted was $15,000 for a metal warehouse structure, and $21,510 as the district's share of cost of operating U. S. Geological Survey stream gauging stations.

In the July 24 meeting the board had authorized a contract for an archaeological survey of the Stacy reservoir basin, but at Thursday's meeting, $120,000 was voted to cover the cost. The U. S. Corps of Engineers requires this before it will issue a 404 permit for closure of the Stacy dam when it is built.

As for Stacy, Ivie reported that the Court of Civil Appeals hearing on the permit is set for Nov. 19, and a decision is possible during the first quarter of 1981. He also said the testing of a scale model of the proposed Stacy dam would begin Nov. 11 and should be completed before the end of the year. Negotiations are continuing with a utility company for a plant location at Stacy.

Authorization was given for commencing delivery of 1.5 million gallons of water a day to the Sharon Ridge Unit in Southwest Scurry County, effective Dec. 1.

Security State Bank of Big Spring was named the district's depository for the biennium beginning Jan. 1, 1981. A lease agreement for Lake Thomas Lodge concession was exercised under a 25-year renewal option. Modification of a Lake Spence concession, recognizing the low lake levels of the past year, was approved in an effort to permit continuation of service to the public.

Say Deadline Is Impossible

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maryland corrections officials say they can't meet a court-imposed deadline for reducing overcrowding at the state prison in Hagerstown.

The state asked a federal judge on Tuesday for a seven-month extension of the Jan. 1 deadline for eliminating the practice of housing two inmates in cells designed for one. The state said it was hampered by construction delays at new prison facilities.

The court order requires that the population of the medium-security prison, which now stands at about 1,050, be reduced to 617 by January.

SHS Pupil Expelled For Fall Term

Snyder School Trustees, meeting in an emergency session last night, expelled a 16-year-old male sophomore student at Snyder High School for the remainder of the current semester.

The action was taken after the board studied a report from a teacher which told of the student making obscene remarks to her and other problems involving attendance.

A written report from the teacher was presented to the board, and Lee Presswood, vice principal of the high school, presented a report in person along with his recommendation that the student be expelled.

The emergency session began with an open hearing, and later the board went into a brief closed session before arriving at its decision.

During the open hearing, it was brought out that the student moved here from another town and did not enroll for the fall term early enough to receive credit for this semester's work.

CRMWD Budget Up 11.6 Percent

An $8,127,836 budget adopted Thursday by the Colorado River Municipal Water District Directors for 1981 is up $941,963, or 11.6 percent, over 1979.

Seventy-two percent of the increase is due to estimated higher energy costs.

The board approved an estimated $8,609,373 in revenues for 1981, leaving a net revenue of $481,537.

Operating expenses were pegged at $4,917,589, up $893,215 over the current budget figure. Administration and general expense was projected at $4,097,589, up $37,773, and recreation expense $98,043, up $7,071. The board also anticipated equipment replacement costs at $144,300, up $23,700 over the current year. Debt service, after applying interest earned on various funds to reduce the total, will be $3,210,247, up $42,390. If interest rates go up during the year, earnings might make the net debt service costs less than 1979. Employees were voted a 12.5 percent cost-of-living adjustment.

O. H. Ivie, general manager, told the board that a new base rate approved by the Texas Public Utilities Commission will add 34 percent to the Texas Electric Service Co. charges, plus fuel adjustment increases (because TESCO cheap gas contracts are expiring at the end of the year) which would make the weighted average increase in KWH be about 59 percent. Total power costs, however, will rise only about 31 percent because recent rains will permit up to 12,000,000 a day instead of 4,000,000 estimated this year to be pumped from Lake Thomas rather than making up the difference from Lake Spence water, which is substantially longer distance and much greater lift. The budget anticipates a total power bill of $3,098,222.

By delivering a greater percentage of water from Lake Thomas and less from Lake Spence, and by beefing up the pumping capacity west of Big Spring, the district could save $102,000 in 1981 water royalties in well fields.

How will the budget affect water rates? That won't be known until the rate-fixing time in January, but Ivie conjectured that it likely would not be more than about 4.3 cents per thousand gallons, but if more revenues can be generated, rates may not go up after all.

State Demo Chief Says Reagan A Good Actor

Ronald Reagan found himself the object of attack Thursday afternoon when a caravan led by Bob Slagle, Texas Democratic Party Chairman, rolled into town.

Reagan, said Slagle, "is trying to pull the wool over our eyes, and it's 50 percent cotton." It was about the nicest comment directed at Reagan.

Pointing out that Reagan was for many years an actor, Slagle defined an actor as being "a fellow who spends a lot of time pretending to be someone he isn't. Reagan's mastered the art."

Slagle also accused Reagan of demagoguery. "Ronald Reagan has in the last five years, on at least 11 different occasions, called for military intervention in various parts of the world," said the Democrat.

Carter, on the other hand, has shown responsible military action, said Slagle.

Slagle gave credit to Carter for selling American grain abroad to the benefit of the American farmer and for adopting an energy policy, and for having the courage to change parts of that energy policy when they were shown to be wrong. The United States now has more oil rigs in operation than at any time before, and that, too, was to Carter's credit, said Slagle. "It would really behoove us to think about what we're doing when we go to vote," said Slagle.

Slagle concluded by saying, "We're the party that said the people's business is our business."

Craig Nieman of the Lamb County Leader-News tells this one which he says originally appeared 100 years ago, but is timely during any political year:

There was to be a hanging in Wichita, Kan., and 35,000 people gathered to witness it.

The criminal was confronted by the governor, who said, "The United States Senator has come from Washington to be here, and before you are hung, we yield to you so that you can say anything you want."

The doomed criminal stood up and said, "No, just get on with the hanging."

The senator jumped up and said, "Would you yield your five minutes to me?"

"Yes," said the criminal. "But hang me first."

Time Change At Hand

WASHINGTON (AP) — That hour of sleep that most Americans lost in April can be regained this weekend when clocks are set back an hour to end six months of daylight saving time.

Daylight time ends at 2 a. m. local time Sunday, except for Arizona, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, American Samoa and parts of Indiana, which are on standard time all year long.

Most citizens who remember to do so will reset their clocks on Saturday night before retiring. But for the few who will turn the hands back at precisely 2 a. m., the new reading will be 1 a. m.

That means the sun will rise Sunday an hour earlier than it did Saturday. But it will also get dark about an hour earlier in the evening.

Daylight time is in effect each year from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October.

Sniper Fires On Bus

DALLAS (AP) — A Dallas Transit System bus driver was slightly injured this morning when a bullet shattered the right front passenger door of the bus he was driving, police said.

Police said driver Marvin Ray Johnson, 24, was cut by flying glass when a bullet from a weapon officers said was "larger than a .38 caliber" struck the door of the bus shortly before 5 a. m. today.

He's far from the newest leader on the world block. He has been West German

our diplomacy sags

To many Americans, politics is the nearest thing to a three-ring circus. It's sad that a politician, no matter how infinite his wisdom is, how capable he might be under fire, stands a far better chance of being elected if (1) he comes through well on television and (2) he is accompanied wherever he goes by a country-western band.

The brutal truth is, Americans don't take their politics and politicians very seriously. When one public servant succumbs to temptation, and several have recently, the electorate never acts surprised. People are prone to look at each other and say, "I told you so."

If "back home politics" is in low estate, Americans who pose as foreign diplomats don't fare much better. Americanism seems to be in retreat all over the world. The fact that many fat cats are appointed to such posts because of their financial contributions to the party in power rather than because they boast diplomatic horse sense has served to make members of our diplomatic corps look like ninnyes all over the globe.

It doesn't necessarily have to be that way. In other countries, men and women take painstaking lessons before they are appointed to their posts. All too often, our people in foreign service act like the storied "Ugly American." Conditions will not improve until our colleges and universities begin emphasizing political science as much as they do the natural sciences.

Many people in other parts of the world think the typical American's only mission in life is to make as much money as they can in as short a time as they can. It's more than coincidental that a lot of our diplomats down through the years have been immensely wealthy people who, in a sense, bought their appointments.

Is it any wonder that a lot of them automatically identify militant nationalists in other countries as either "fascists" or "communists." Those types feel uncomfortable unless they can give labels to each individual or each group with which they deal. They can never understand that people living in other lands can love their homeland just as much as the average Americans loves his country.

We would be loved and respected a lot more over the globe if we had tried harder to understand those patriots who would shed their blood for noble causes and had less to do with those despots who would bend his fellow to his will, no matter how may heads they had to break to climb to the top.

I've read it, but I don't believe it.

The Southern California Grocer's Association is pulling together a plan to prevent the theft of shopping carts.

My first reaction is why? Why would anyone want to steal a grocery shopping cart? Everyone knows that a grocery cart was made by the same committee that put an elephant on roller skates. The results are the same, four sets of wheels going in four different directions at the same time.

It's a lot like stealing a two-year-old. At the time it might seem like you were getting away with something, but in the end, it will bring you nothing but aggravation.

My second reaction is how? Shopping carts were never built to be pedestrian, let alone portable. It's just a guess but if I saw a four-foot basket on four rolling wheels that never stopped, a seat that folded down and the name of a supermarket on the handle, don't you think I'd become suspicious?

Despite these drawbacks, store owners are serious about this and are considering two plans which I find positively chilling. First, they are talking about initiating stiff legislation that would enable them to ticket and prosecute individuals who possess illegal carts. This would cast a fine line between women who steal carts and those who are in pursuit of a runaway cart carrying their groceries out of the parking lot and into the street.

Second, if steps are not taken to stop the thefts of shopping carts, the industry will seek the help of those wonderful people who brought you the Post Office...the U.S. government!

There will be no stopping the wheels of bureaucracy. "Cart-napping" will become a federal offense, punishable by death—threatening a toddler's legs through the seat, whichever comes first. A cart cabinet will be set up in Washington to monitor cart operations and from time to time inspectors will be sent to protect the consumer from unsafe carts.

Seeing a chance for additional revenue, the government will issue a license to everyone who drives a supermarket cart which will be renewable every birthday. Fines will be levied on those driving without a license or failing to signal for a sudden stop in front of produce.

It will only be a matter of time before compact carts start rolling in from Japan and supermarkets will have to float a loan to keep their carts above water.

I say...let whoever wants to steal a shopping cart...steal it! It would serve them right!

NEW YORK (AP)— Housing may not be an issue in this election but it certainly will be by 1982, said a housing association official this week.

By then, he and many others in the industry seem to think, two great pressures could converge: A growing number of young people in need of housing, and a depressed rate of housing construction.

The first factor is a demographic certainty: More Americans will reach age 30 in the decade of the 1980s than in any other decade in history. The second factor, equally important, depends on several variables.

Among the variables: the availability and cost of construction and mortgage money, the cost of lumber (expected to rise in 1981), the affordability of the finished product, also destined to be more costly.

Based on a casual sampling of opinion among builders and lending officials, there seems little chance that a serious situation will be avoided.

A good deal of the solution lies beyond the scope and ability of builders, lenders and regulators. It's because of the way the economy works; periodically it pitches homebuilding into a depression.

To illustrate: Since World War II no less than seven distinct cycles have impacted the industry, all associated with the ups and downs of the general economy. But the housing cycles have been accentuated.

In fact, it is fair to say that when the general economy falls into recession the housing industry plunges into depression. In the mildest of the cycles, housing starts fell 35 percent, in the worst 64 percent.

In the past, it was the down cycle of the general economy that hurt the most, but now it seems housing starts will be hurt even when the economy advances. Why? Because of high interest rates and rising costs.

Most lenders now feel that home mortgage rates aren't likely to drop much below 12 percent over the next few years, and some fear they could advance well beyond the 13 and 14 percent rates that now prevail.

Combined with rising prices, those high financing costs present many thousands of families with a demoralizing choice: Forego ownership and live in an apartment at steadily rising rent; own a house, but in an effort to meet the monthly payments have no money for vacations and entertainment.

The National Association of Homebuilders estimates that when mortgage rates rise from 12 percent to 14 percent on a mortgage of $60,000, more than 2.5 million potential buyers are priced out of the market.

At 9 percent, a rate that was still obtainable four years ago, the monthly payments on such a mortgage come to $483. It is assumed that an additional $215 is required for insurances, taxes and utilities.

The Homebuilders estimate that an annual income of $33,500 would be needed to support such payments, meaning that 11.8 million families, or 20.6 percent of all families, would be able to buy.

Both Sides Claim Win

DALLAS (AP)— A complex decision in a sweeping discrimination suit filed against the giant Republic National Bank of Dallas has lawyers for both sides claiming victory and predicting that issue will end up before the U.S. Supreme Court.

U.S. District Judge Patrick Higginbotham, in a 277-page ruling, held Wednesday that the bank discriminated in its initial placement and promotion of all black and female hourly workers.

But the judge said he found no evidence of discrimination in dozens of other categories contained in the lawsuit that first went to court in 1973 and stemmed from a discrimination complaint filed in 1971.

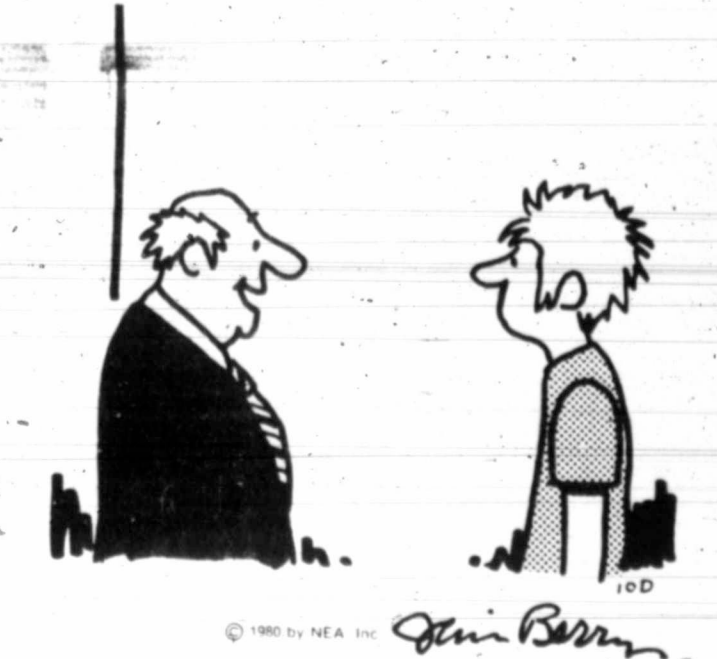

"The most significant point is the finding that black and female non-exempt (hourly) employees were discriminated against with regard to initial job placement and promotion. That represents the bulk of the employees at Republic, and represents the bulk of the potential damages," an attorney for the plaintiffs said.

The "candlestick" for the tabernacle was really a lampstand, as it held seven richly adorned lamps of beaten work of pure gold (Exod. 25:31-37). Jesus refers to a lamp and lampstand when he urges the "light of the world" to let their light shine before men.

"Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house." — Matt. 5:15

GROWING OLDER

Harold Blumenfeld

You undoubtedly have felt the rising cost of energy in your home.

Maybe you are planning to insulate, add storm windows and take other energy-saving steps. Maybe you have already done so.

But there are also simpler, less expensive ways to reduce the amount of energy used in your home.

The U.S. Department of Energy has printed an excellent brochure "Energy Savers: Low Cost, No Cost," which can help you cut your use of fuel without sweating, freezing or groping in the dark.

The suggestions could save you as much as 25 percent on your fuel oil, gas and electric bills. At current prices, the typical home could save from $100 to $500 annually.

A good place to start saving is with the energy used to heat your home's water. A family of four uses about 65 gallons of hot water a day. That costs about $300 a year if the water is heated electrically and about $100 a year if it is heated by gas.

The Energy Department says it is possible to cut your water-heating costs by $50 to $150 a year.

If two people in the household each take daily five-minute showers, they will use 7,000 to 8,500 gallons of hot water a year. That water will cost them anywhere from $30 to $100 annually.

behind the shower head will cut hot-water use by 4,000 gallons a year. That small gadget costs just $1 and will save you $15 to $40 annually.

Another way to cut energy costs is to turn down the water-heater thermostat to a setting of 110 degrees to 120 degrees. (If you have an automatic dishwasher, make sure it will operate efficiently at the lower temperature.)

You can save additional money by adding an extra layer of insulation around the outside of your hot-water tank. You can do the job yourself at a cost of about $4 for foil-backed insulation and tape. Be sure to follow the directions carefully.

Even if you have already insulated the attic and caulked and weatherstripped around doors and windows, check again for small areas that you might have overlooked.

Gaps and holes in attic floors permit heat to leave the house in winter and to enter in summer. Openings around plumbing, exhaust fans and so on can be responsible for at least 20 percent of the infiltration of winter cold and summer heat. Electrical outlets should be sealed with inexpensive gaskets.

Also have your heating system inspected. Excessive soot and maladjusted burners can reduce furnace efficiency to less than 60 percent, thereby increasing fuel bills by more than a quarter. Technicians suggest that proper adjustment of the plenum thermostat on oil- and gas-fired heaters can save another $9 a year.

Don't forget about solar heating. If you use air conditioning, you can save $25 to $30 in warmer months by keeping windows closed and shades or curtains tightly drawn, especially on the sunny side of the house.

Cut your fuel bills in cold weather by opening shades during the day on the sunny sides of the house. But shades and drapes on north windows should be shut throughout winter for additional insulation.

Women illiterates outnumber men in most parts of the world. Female illiteracy in Africa and the Arab states, where women have less access to schools, is about 85 percent. In Yemen, 99.5 percent of the women cannot read or write.

Marxist fire-eaters in his own party and has consistently outpointed the Christian Democratic opposition. To the point that in this election, a vote for Schmidt's Socialists was essentially a conservative Christian Democrats were cast in the role of radicals, greatly helped by their controversial leader, the razor-witted but acid-tongued Franz Josef Strauss.

No surprisingly, the voters opted for more of the good times under Schmidt.

There may be lessons in Schmidt's story that other Western leaders shilly to face the voters would like to learn and apply - several names come immediately to mind. But they very likely would not travel well, being peculiarly the products of West German conditions and Schmidt's personal qualities.

But by his mastery of the Schmidt has guaranteed that he will be on the block for some time yet to come - and more outspokenly so that ever. Which could turn out to be both good and bad news for whoever American voters opt for Nov. 4.

Dear Abby

These Wedding Bells Will Toll, Not Ring

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1980 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Our mother recently announced her intention to marry a very fine 70-year-old gentleman who insists that he is very much in love with her. Mom, who is 66, has been a widow for three years. The gentleman (I'll call him Claude) would make an ideal companion for Mother, but here's the problem:

Claude's wife was killed instantly two years ago by a hit-and-run driver. It was a terrible shock to Claude, and he talks about his dead wife constantly. We admire him for respecting her memory, but he seems to think of very little else. As soon as Mom introduces Claude to one of her friends, he brings out several pictures of his late wife, which he always carries, and starts talking about her tragic death. Sometimes he gets emotional and cries.

Naturally, Mom is hurt by all this, but she tries to be understanding. She said when she and Claude were out last Sunday, he drove out to the cemetery to visit his dead wife's grave. (Mom had no idea where they were going until they got there.) She said he cried and carried on so bad she had to drive home.

Do you think Mom should marry Claude in December as planned?

CONCERNED CHILDREN

DEAR CHILDREN: You are wise to be concerned. Urge your mom not to rush into marriage with Claude. It is apparent that he has not yet recovered from the shock of his wife's tragic death, nor has he stopped grieving for her. And until he has, he should not remarry.

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged married woman with children. I belong to an organization that provides fellowship and fun.

I mistook one gentleman's friendliness for affection and became more than a little fond of him. By the way, he's married, has children and grandchildren. I never had or have any intention of becoming close to him, but for some stupid reason, which I am unable to explain, I wrote him a letter telling him about my feelings for him. As soon as I realized what a foolish thing I had done, I began to feel ashamed, embarrassed and terribly sick about the whole thing. There is no way I can avoid seeing this man. I will have to face him again — and soon.

How should I act? Please help me, Abby. I am desperate.

SIGN ME STUPID

DEAR STUPID: Try to act as natural as possible. Make no reference to the letter. If he mentions it, be honest and tell him that you regret having written it, feel stupid and embarrassed, and to please forget it. Then you forget it.

DEAR ABBY: I used to be one of those married men whose wives would write to you complaining that their husbands would stop at bars after work and come home anywhere from one to three hours late for dinner.

No more. Here's how I was cured: I recently phoned my wife (from a bar) to tell her I was "detained at the office" and would be home in 20 minutes. (I was already 2 hours late.)

Before I could say a word, I heard my wife's voice in a calm and perfectly modulated tone say, "When and if you decide to come home, you will find your dinner in the oven. I have left. Please do not try to find me because I have had it. And by the way, George, go to hell. This is a recording."

I rushed home, frantic. The house was dark and my wife's car was nowhere to be seen. When I went into our bedroom, I found my wife in bed! She quickly switched on the light and said, "That was no recording. It was live."

The missing car? She had parked it around the corner on a side street to prolong my agony. "But next time," she warned, "it might be for real."

Multiple Sclerosis Read-A-Thon Enrollment Underway Today

"Reading for the need of others" is the theme of the Multiple Sclerosis (MS) Read-A-Thon being sponsored by the Scurry County Library.

The program is designed to raise money for MS research while at the same time encouraging children to read. A child participates in the drive by becoming a mystery sleuth and reading books. The read-a-thons for MS began in 1974 and students across the nation have read over 31 million books.

For about four weeks, the sleuths read as many books as they can and ask parents, relatives and friends to sponsor them. After the reading period is over, the children collect from their sponsors for each book read and bring their completed kits and money to the library.

In addition to supporting research, money from the drive will go toward purchasing wheelchairs, crutches, leg braces, walkers, patient meetings and a free MS clinic at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. Registration for the readathon is currently underway and will continue through Oct. 29 at the Scurry County Library.

To participate, a child must be in grades one through six. The reading groups will be divided into 1st and 2nd grades, 3rd and 4th grades, and 5th and 6th grades. The children must read on their own level and parents will initial each book read. A contest poster will be up in the library showing how the groups are competing with each other.

Reading time will run through Nov. 21, with money collecting set for Nov. 22-30. All kits must be turned in to the library Dec. 1-6. RSVP members and other volunteers will be on hand to collect the money.

There are prizes for read-a-thon participants, including a MS pen for reading five books and collecting $10; a Star Wars frisbee and MS pen for reading eight books and collecting $20; and a Mystery Sleuth dog tag, frisbee and MS pen for reading 10 books and collecting $40.

A reading certificate will be given to all children who have read books, collected money and turned their kits in.

For more information, contact library personnel at 573-5572.

Beta Sigma Phi Members To Sell Christmas Paper

Fifteen members of Beta Sigma Phi met on Oct. 21 at 7:30 p.m. at the Martha Ann Woman's Club. President Mona Bryan called the meeting to order and led the members in repeating the opening ritual.

Ways and means chairman Bette League, thanked everyone for making the Western Dance a success, and also announced that the Christmas gift-wrap paper has arrived and will be available very soon.

The paper will be sold in 4-, 6- and 8-yard lengths in red, green, silver and gold.

Mrs. Bryan announced that Sue Sewell has been appointed to serve as the chapter's International Coordinator for the 50th anniversary of Beta Sigma Phi.

The Preferential Tea for new members will be Nov. 2 in the home of Donna Fowler's mother, Bernice Parker, at 2701 34th, according to Wanda Early, membership chairman.

Debra Ellis reminded all members of the Martha Ann Woman's Club's annual Nov. 1 at MAWC.

Prior to the business meeting, Mary Dulaney spoke to the group about her experience as a delegate to the Republican National Convention in Detroit in July. She outlined the steps involved in becoming a delegate and shared her impressions of candidates and convention procedures with members. She noted that Texans were a particular curiosity in Detroit. She also displayed several memorabilia items she collected on her trip.

The next meeting of Beta Sigma Phi will be Nov. 4 at the Martha Ann Woman's Club.

North cried "Alert!" This proper tournament procedure warned West that an unusual bid had been made.

West asked what it meant and was told that South had no losers except the ace and king of hearts.

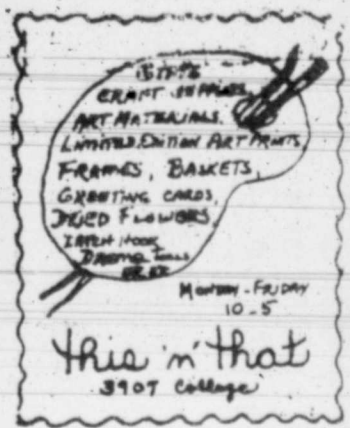

West passed. North bid six hearts. Everyone passed and South scored 980 points for making his slam.

When they went to compare with their partners, North and South were super happy. Their convention had come up and succeeded.

The happiness was short lived indeed.

At the other table South did not have this secret weapon at his disposal. He opened one heart and later on proceeded to compete with four, five and six hearts. West doubled that one and he scored 1210 for six hearts doubled. The 230 point gain translated to 6 IMPs and decided the match in favor of the uneducated opponents.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Back in the Thirties Truesdale Clarke and Murray de Leeuw of Rochester devised a very special convention. They used the opening bid of five of a major to ask partner to bid six with either the ace or king of trumps, but to ignore any side aces. They waited for years and abandoned it after it never came up.

Some young modernists revived it and waited six years. Finally, in an important IMP team match it came up. South opened five hearts.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE with Major Hoople

DR. BULLARD

Conference At Trinity UMC

A Missionary Conference will be held Saturday and Sunday at Trinity United Methodist Church.

Guest missionary speakers will be Dr. and Mrs. Robert L. Bullard of India, Harry Kahl of El Paso and the "New Wine" singing group.

The services will begin at 10 a. m. Saturday and continue through Sunday, said the Rev. James Merrell, pastor of the church.

Dr. and Mrs. Bullard are United Methodist Missionaries at the Christian Medical College in Vellore, India. Dr. Bullard teaches physiology to Indian medical students and Mrs. Gail Bullard couples administrative work with her role of mother and housewife. The physicians Dr. Bullard trains will serve both in India and in other countries. He is also involved in teaching Sunday School in an Indian Village.

He has been a missionary since 1969, except for two years as a university professor. Mrs. Bullard has taught art and home science, worked in public relations, as an administrative assistant and in the Religious Work Department library. The Bullards have two children and the family is on a year's furlough.

Kahl is a counselor at the Lydia Patterson Institute at El Paso, a United Methodist School for secondary students. He has completed 11 years of work at Lydia Patterson and has served as a church youth director and associate pastor. He and his wife have two children.

Lydia Patterson Institute's purpose is to educate but also provide spiritual and emotional education. The teaching of English as a second language and refinement of Spanish speaking skills offer a logical foundation for further studies. The "New Wine" singing group is from Midland. They support a medical student in Africa.

The public is invited to attend all of the services during the conference, said Rev. Merrell.

Rites For Young Blast Victims Conducted During Driving Rain

ORTUELLA, Spain (AP) — This poverty-stricken Spanish mining town was draped in mourning black under a driving rain today for the funeral of one ninth of its children, killed when a powerful gas explosion leveled their grammar school.

The governor of Vizcaya Province issued what he said was the final toll: 49 children aged between 6 and 8, and two adults. Initial reports said as many as 64 people were killed, but officials said some were counted twice.

One of the adults was a teacher and the other a plumber, who investigators said could have unwittingly caused the explosion. They said there were indications that a soldering iron the plumber was using near the school's gas-fired heating boiler may have set off the gas explosion.

Because of the rain officials said the coffins will be laid out in a factory instead of the town square, where the ceremony originally was scheduled to be held. Officials predicted a crowd of about 40,000 will attend the burial in the town's only cemetery this afternoon.

About 30 children remained hospitalized, at least six of them in critical condition, following the explosion Thursday.

"We were studying or drawing when a terrific blast shook the building," said eight-year-old Javier Abad, one of the survivors. "Walls opened and fell on us and the floor caved in around me. I saw some of my best friends disappear."

Witnesses said some of the children were hurled through windows in the four-story building by the powerful explosion.

"I saw some children falling down to the ground from the high floors," said one witness. "It was so terrible I really lack words to explain what my eyes saw." The devastating blast, heard as far as 10 miles away, brought parents running to the "Marcelino Ugalde" school. Witnesses said some relatives jumped onto the mound of smoking rubble in a frantic effort to find their children and had to be restrained by rescue workers.

Some parents were reported to have lost up to three children in the explosion. "I never suffered so much in my life," said one rescue worker. "Two of my children were in the school at the time but luckily they were in one of the units not affected by the explosion," he said.

Some parents managed to save injured children but others saw their children die in their arms as they rushed through the town of 5,000 shouting for help, witnesses said.

The pre-noon blast shattered the elementary school, one of three school buildings in the complex. The other two units of the state-run school suffered minor damage, but the estimated 500 students in them escaped unhurt, officials said.

The grammar school looked like it "had been swallowed by an earthquake," one woman said.

Cars parked by the school were damaged by flying debris and some passersby were injured, officials said. It was the third tragedy involving Spanish children in less than two years.

On Christmas eve, 1978, a school bus and a locomotive crashed at a rail crossing in Salamanca province, killing 28 children and an adult. Four months later, 52 children died when a school bus plunged into a river in Zamora province.

Entertainers Won't Cross Picket Line

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. (AP) — A number of prominent entertainers are refusing to cross picket lines at Walt Disney World and have canceled performances, according to a Disney spokesman.

The pickets were set up by 107 striking park musicians. Construction work on the park's $800 million futuristic center, Experimental Prototype Community of Tomorrow, was slowed Wednesday when about 250 of 760, construction workers conducted a sympathy strike.

Disney spokesman Charlie Ridgway said the acts canceled this week included the pop-soul group The Spinners, singer Frankie Laine and the pop group Peaches and Herb.

Prince Urges Settlement

LONDON (AP) — Prince Charles warned labor and management in the auto industry to settle their differences as he took a test drive in a new compact car from British Leyland, the Mini Metro.

Foreign automakers are not going to sit around waiting for us to sort ourselves out," the prince said Wednesday. "They are going to lay themselves all the way to the bank whether we like it or not."

He praised the Mini Metro as the product of cooperation between management and workers, and said, "Things cannot go smoothly at BL or anywhere else unless there is genuine cooperation and a common sense of purpose."

"We live in this country... by our ability to trade and to trade well," the prince said. "Lose that ability and we sink into obscurity such as we have not experienced as a nation for hundreds of years."

No Forecast In Chances For Actor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Mexican doctor who is treating Steve McQueen for cancer has refused to predict the actor's chances for recovery, but says the growth of tumors has been halted.

McQueen, 50, has been staying at the Plaza Santa Maria General Hospital in Baja California, Mexico, where he is being treated with the controversial drug Laetrile and a nutrition-based therapy.

"Right now I could say that his condition is stable and that hopefully we can progress toward his improvement, which is going to be from now on much slower than what we tried in the beginning," Dr. Rodrigo Rodriguez said Wednesday at a news conference.

McQueen, the star of such films as "The Great Escape" and "The Cincinnati Kid," is suffering from mesothelioma, a rare and generally incurable form of cancer that attacks the lungs.

The use of Laetrile is generally illegal in the United States and the American Cancer Society says the nutrition therapy McQueen is getting has not been found to be of any help in fighting cancer.

Soviet Dancers Short-Changed

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The manager who handled ballet dancers Valery and Galina Panov after they emigrated from the Soviet Union in 1974 failed to pay the couple enough for their performances, a state appeals court has ruled.

The decision returned Wednesday by the Court of Appeals, the state's highest court, upheld a lower court decision that directed manager Maxim Gershunoff to pay $236,673 plus interest to the Panovs, who went to Israel and the United States.

Jawroski Firm's Fee Results In Complaint

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A South San Antonio School Board trustee says the law firm of former Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski has charged "shocking" legal fees to one of this city's poorest school districts.

John Saldana said he questioned use of the high-powered Houston law firm by the impoverished district, which paid Jaworski's firm $87,919 in legal fees last year.

The district's operating budget for last year was $17.1 million, Saldana said, while the North East School District, with a 1979-80 operating budget of $57 million, paid a local law firm only $42,142 for legal work.

Another more affluent district, the Northside School District, paid a San Antonio law firm $19,918 and it has a budget of $47.75 million, the trustee said.

"Too much money is going to the lawyers that should be going to educating the kids," Saldana said.

He also criticized the Jaworski firm for not providing more detailed breakdowns of the fees.

When the district received a legal bill of $28,209 last April, Saldana sent a letter to Superintendent Herbert Harper asking for a "comprehensive description of legal services."

"I asked for hourly rates, the number of hours spent on each case, travel expenses and other breakdowns," Saldana said. "What I got back was a half-done effort. It puzzles me why they can't give detailed statements like any other law firm will."

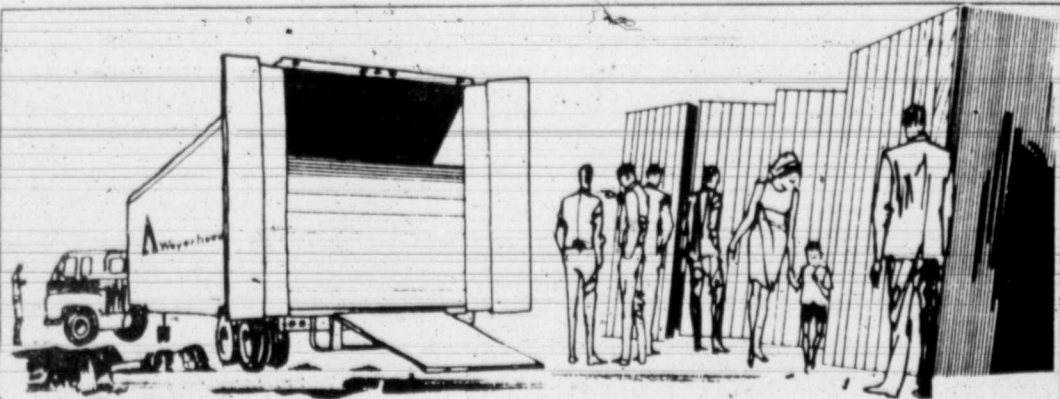

Harper said the Jaworski firm was chosen in 1968 because trustees felt it would be "unbiased" and not manipulated by local politics. The superintendent added he was satisfied with the law firm's performance and the accounting of expenses it has made.

Saldana said he doubted he could muster sufficient votes to remove the Jaworski firm and retain a local attorney.

"It would be useless to bring up changing lawyers now," said Saldana, who claims he is "politically alienated" from the board majority.

"The only thing I can do is be a watchdog," the trustee said.

Wants muscles to grow

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am not a 90-pound weakling but I am 5-foot-10 and only weigh 140 pounds. I'm 24. I don't want to get fat but I would like to have some muscles. I think I would look better if I had enough muscles to weigh 165 pounds. I have been lifting weights every day and am also active with jogging and handball. Still I don't gain any weight. What is the secret?

DEAR READER — You are probably in good physical condition from your regular exercise but if you want to grow muscles you may need to change your routine.

Muscles grow and get stronger to be able to contract with greater force. If you lift a 10-pound weight every day, even 100 times each day, your muscles will not get any bigger or stronger than they need to be to lift 10 pounds.

The best way is to lift a weight that you can lift at least three times but have trouble lifting 10 times. Use this weight for the muscle group you are training about three times a week. Resting your muscles a day between exercise periods will give you the best results.

To explain the details of this I am sending you The Health Letter number 5-41 Weight Training for Energy and Weight Control. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

People who develop good muscles and keep them in good shape are less likely to get fat. Muscles use energy even when you are at rest. This is explained in The Health Letter I am sending you.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I would love to have the BMR test because I have had to watch my weight for 40 years but there isn't a doctor in our community that gives the test. Could you help me find someone?

DEAR READER — Yes, doctors seldom give the test anymore that is because they have so many other ways to evaluate the function of the thyroid gland.

Originally I mentioned the BMR as a means of finding out how much oxygen your body consumes at rest. From this information you can calculate how many calories your body needs at rest. The important measurement is how much oxygen you consume at rest and that can be done a lot of ways other than by using a BMR test.

Any good pulmonary function laboratory should be able to measure your oxygen consumption. Many of the cardiovascular laboratories that do stress tests are equipped to measure oxygen consumption — not only at rest but at maximum exertion.

Rather than asking for a BMR, ask to have a cardiovascular or pulmonary function laboratory measure your oxygen consumption in liters per minute while you are at rest. If that is done while you are in the resting fasting state the liters of oxygen you use a minute can be multiplied by 1,440 to obtain the number of liters of oxygen you would use at rest all day (24 hours). When you are resting in the fasting state, as when you wake up, your body uses 4.825 calories per liter of oxygen consumed. If the liters of oxygen consumed per 24 hours is multiplied by 4.825 that should be about the number of calories your body uses at rest each day.

This information is helpful in planning the right number of calories a day you need for a diet to control body fat. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Some senility is reversible

By Karen Blaker, Ph.D.

DEAR DR. BLAKER — I feel so lucky! I am 73 years old and recently left a geriatric facility to live on my own with some help from a part-time companion.

I am writing to celebrate my victory over senility. With the help of my family, my friends and the hospital staff, my confusion cleared up completely. I hope that will never happen to me again.

Please print this for old people and their families who have lost hope.

DEAR READER — Thank you for your letter. Few people realize that some cases of senility are reversible.

The most effective treatment for the reversible organic brain syndrome you seem to have experienced is "reality orientation." This technique requires that patients be constantly forced to face reality and not be allowed to give in to their confusion.

Reality orientation is detailed in the wonderful new novel "A Piano for Mrs. Cimino" by Robert Oliphant.

The same book offers these suggestions for reducing your chances of becoming confused again after recovery:

1. Watch your medication. Older people often react to drugs in unusual ways.
2. Stay physically active. Walking — plenty of it — is your best medication. Don't shuffle!
3. Forget about the past. Retirement homes are filled with people telling the same stories again and again.
4. Stay in touch with what's going on. Read the newspaper every day — even the bad news.

5. Force yourself to concentrate on small mental tasks. I hope these suggestions help you continue your progress.

DEAR DR. BLAKER — I broke up with my boyfriend after five years of steady dating because he wasn't willing to make a commitment to me for the future.

I am very upset. But I don't understand why I am behaving so seductively with the new men I meet. I'm not that kind of woman.

It seems that all I want to do is seduce and conquer them. Why?

DEAR READER — Although you broke up with your boyfriend, you must feel very rejected because he wasn't more serious about your relationship.

You are evidently using sex partially as a defense against getting close to him again and partially as a way of getting back at men in general.

It appears that you don't like the way you are acting. Now that you understand the reasons for this behavior, you may be able to exercise more control.

If you cannot seek professional help before you seriously damage your self-esteem:

1. Fight fears — large and small — with Dr. Blaker's "If You Are Phobic" newsletter. Send 50 cents plus a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Blaker in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 475, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.
2. Write to Dr. Blaker at the above address. Volume of mail prohibits personal replies, but questions of general interest will be discussed in future columns.

At API Meeting...

No Kind Words For Windfall Profit Tax

Ed Thompson of the Permian Basin Petroleum Association had few kind words for President Carter and congress last night when he spoke to the Snyder chapter of the American Petroleum Institute about the Windfall Profits Tax.

"The tax is not a profits tax at all," he charged. "It's an excise tax. And it's not levied on profits but on production. The money is skimmed off the top. If you are losing money on a well but it is producing some oil, you pay the tax," he told the group.

The Carter administration has misled the public about the tax, he said. "If you listen to Carter you would think that it applies mostly to the big oil companies when in fact it applies to everyone involved in producing oil. The royalty owners found this out when they got their first check after it went into effect with the tax deducted."

The Carter people are also trying to take credit for the recent flurry of drilling activity, he said, and suggested cutbacks and price hikes in the Mideast had as much to do with the new activity as the price decontrol measures.

Thompson told the group he feared that the government is moving toward nationalizing the oil industry. A move he believes would double the price of gas the first year.

"The price of gas would go down or stabilize when alternative sources of energy, such as solar, became competitive."

Thompson said the tax is being challenged in court on the basis that it is discriminatory. According to the constitution, he said, a tax must give something back to the ones who pay it. In this instance the money is taken from one group to pay for programs that are to benefit another group, he said.

The former publisher of Drill Bit Magazine was especially critical of the hardship the extra paperwork put on oil companies, especially the small ones, and said getting the barrage of ever-changing regulations explained was next to impossible.

"We have renamed the Windfall Profits Tax the Accountants and Attorneys Retirement Fund, he said, "because it takes a lot of these people to stay in compliance with the thing."

Thompson was also critical of the size of the Department of Energy.

"They promised they would reduce the size of the bureaucracy, instead they added a new department."

The DOE has a budget of $16 billion and employs 20,000 people, he said, "which don't produce a drop of oil but are paid for by the Windfalls Profits Tax."

Stumping For Votes No Barrel Of Laughs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The story you are about to read is about campaign humor. It is a short story.

It begins with Jimmy Carter worrying about the "Hollywoodizing" of Washington, should a certain ex actor become president:

"I see every bill signing ceremony on the South Lawn taking place at night with huge spotlights," says Carter.

"I see Pennsylvania Avenue turning into the Avenue of the Stars.

"I see visiting foreign dignitaries putting their boot prints into cement on the South Lawn.

"I see the most important news personality in America is Rona Barrett.

"And then I wake up and I realize immediately it's only a bad dream."

Then there's Ronald Reagan's way of not making personal attacks:

"You know, it's something to have a brother who is obviously a bumbler and a buffoon and yet I have to give him credit. Billy Carter hasn't complained once."

And when Carter asks Americans to trust him, Reagan tells "the spoon joke." He is reminded, Reagan says, of the Ralph Waldo Emerson line: "The more he talked about his honor, the faster we counted the spoons."

Three Mishaps Reported Here

City police worked three minor traffic accidents Thursday.

The first occurred about 1:30 p.m. in the 1300 block of 25th St. and involved a 1974 Ford driven by William Wilson and a 1977 Chevrolet driven by Paul Simpson of Midland. The accident was investigated by Sgt. Jerry Parker.

The second was at 3300 Ave. C at 2:25 p.m. and was worked by Kerry Fritz. In it, a 1975 Chevrolet driven by Ora Ussery was in collision with a 1978 Chevrolet driven by Nina Vest of Hermleigh.

At hit and run was worked yesterday at 11 p.m. at 1701 Ave. T. Involved in it was a parked 1977 AMC owned by Lupe R. Garza that had been struck by a vehicle which left the scene. Working that accident was Bill Armstrong.

Jury Returns Guilty Verdict

A six-woman jury yesterday in municipal court found Cheryl Chambers guilty of a public intoxication incident dating to Oct. 19.

Ms. Chambers, 2107 Ave. O, was fined $50.

Serving on the jury were Anita Hernandez, Mrs. Alton Smith, Mrs. Wilma Scott, Mrs. Milton Hollis, Mrs. James Leatherwood, and Alessandra Quiros.

Snowden Says He Is Broke

LONDON (AP) — Lord Snowden, photographer and ex-husband of Britain's Princess Margaret, has told friends that he is broke, the Daily Mirror has reported.

The tabloid said Thursday that although the report must be an exaggeration there are several reasons why his position has become less rosy. "The news of the proposed sale of the Sunday Times, a main source of his income, may increase his worries, it added.

Snowden's 18-year marriage to Queen Elizabeth II's younger sister ended in divorce two years ago.

Clements Says Hostage Deal Now Could Hurt Carter Drive

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Bringing the hostages home from Iran could cost President Jimmy Carter political points if he deals with the Ayatollah Khomeini and his "bandits," says Gov. Bill Clements.

The governor said Thursday that Carter should adopt a tough policy towards the Iranians, holding off negotiations until the hostages are returned safely to the United States.

Clements, Ronald Reagan's campaign director in Texas, also told a news conference that Carter is losing support in the state. He said the GOP's latest poll shows 47 percent support for Reagan, 34 percent for Carter, 6 percent for John Anderson, and 12 percent undecided.

The Reagan support was the same as shown in a poll announced last week. However, Carter dropped from 39 percent the previous week, with many of his supporters apparently moving into the undecided column.

"At least they're moving away from Carter. That's the first step. The next step is on election day they vote for Mr. Reagan," Clements said.

The governor was the guest speaker at a luncheon meeting of the Austin chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, the Society of Professional Journalists.

Clements predicted Reagan would get 52 percent of the vote in Texas on Nov. 4. He said Secretary of State George Shaker had estimated there are 6.3 million registered voters in Texas and 4.25 million would vote in the general election.

The 1976 figures were 6.28 million registered voters and just over 4 million votes.

Clements said there are eight other "crucial" states where the race looks close — Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Florida, Mississippi and Louisiana. The difference is 2 points or less in all those states, he said. Experts say polls are usually correct.

within 2 percentage points.

Clements said the Reagan campaign asked his opinion on a Carter-Reagan debate. Clements said he likes the debates, but added that they

Hospital's Report OK'd

The board of managers of Cogdell Memorial Hospital met in regular session last night and approved the hospital's financial report prepared by administrator Cy Miller.

The financial report listed the college's total liabilities and net worth at $3,237,060 as of Sept. 30.

Attending the meeting were Leon Autry, John Jarrell, A.Z. Glover, Rex Robinson, Roy Kidd, County Judge Preston Wilson, and Miller.

probably would not have much impact on the election.

"The history is basically they are a draw," he said.

Reacting to House Speaker Billy Clayton's acquittal of Briab charges Wednesday in Houston, Clements said the state needs a code of ethics for public officials. However, the governor said his legislative program is full and he will not recommend such legislation.

Clements also said he does not object to foreign purchases of Texas land.

"I just hope they charge enough," he said.

The governor said he met earlier Thursday with Dr. Peter Hermes, West Germany's ambassador to the United States. Hermes asked if Texas likes German investment.

"We certainly do. We like those German marks," Clements said.

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — A paradise.
Colt AR15 semi-automatic rifle that costs $340 in a gun-store here will bring up to $1,500 a few miles away — across the border in Mexico.
A 45-caliber semiautomatic pistol priced locally at $376 can be traded in Mexico for 30 kilograms of marijuana that's worth $8,000 back in the United States.
Such are the spectacular profits of illegal gun-running, according to intelligence gathered by the U.S. Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms. Gunrunners' risks can be just as high, say agents who arrested two men in El Paso last month and charged them with plotting to buy 25 machineguns for export to Mexico.
"They didn't say exactly what use was intended for the guns," said Dick Watkins, agent in charge of the local ATF bureau. "I'll quote the man. He said, 'They are for our people in Mexico.' You can draw your own conclusions."
The two defendants are free on bond while awaiting trial.
Watkins and ATF agent Joe Kalister said the big machinegun bust was the exception, that most gunrunners are small-time operators out for a quick buck.
But both agents also conceded they don't know where most of the guns go once they cross the border.
"Some guns go to drug dealers, some go to terrorists
— we know that," Kalister said. "Our jurisdiction extends to the border, and unfortunately, the reporting from Mexico is not that good.
We don't get nearly enough information to trace the weapons."
Guatemalan authorities and newspapers recently charged that Mexico was a pipeline for terrorist weapons bound for Guatemala. Mexico's sympathies for insurgent movements in Central America is known, as is its reputation as a smuggler's

Washington, D.C. market flourishes.
"You need a special commission from the Mexican government to possess a gun, and then you can only buy the ammunition for that caliber weapon," Kalister said.
Kalister said the most popular smuggled gun in Mexico was the AR15, a rifle similar to the fully automatic M16 used by the U.S. Army.
The AR15 is semi-automatic, but can be converted by a gunsmith into a machinegun, he said.

He noted that while an American can buy a gun easily, in most states, strict gun laws in Mexico make it difficult for average Mexicans to own firearms. So the black children with their parents, their wishes in respect to their siblings, their adjustment to home, school and community."

The judge said he made his decision Monday after lengthy interviews with each parent and each child, although he added he did not ask the youngsters with which parent they wanted to be placed.
"I felt that the father, under the circumstances, would be the better person, all things considered and all things being equal," said the judge.
Milovich is a civil engineer for the Chicago Housing Authority. Mrs. Milovich is a sales representative for a welding products company.
Mrs. Milovich said Wednesday she is convinced she lost the custody dispute because she has a job, adding the decision set women back
"three generations."
"I am incensed," said Mrs.
Milovich, who intends to appeal the ruling. "There are all those working women out there. What are they supposed to do? Just because I work doesn't make me a bad mother."
Mrs. Milovich contended she tailored her schedule to the activities of her children.
"I think I've been a super mother," she said. "I take the children on field trips, to the doctor, the dentist, I go to school plays."
Her husband was not available for comment.

Woman Says Job Cause Of Custody Case Loss

CHICAGO (AP) — A woman denied custody of her two children contends she lost the dispute because she has a job, but the judge who placed the youngsters with their father says the woman's allegation is untrue.
Circuit Court Judge Charles J. Grupp said Thursday he made his decision after considering "all the relevant factors," not because he believes working women aren't entitled to custody.
Earlier this week, Grupp granted custody of 6-year-old Jason and 11-year-old Nicole to Peter Milovich, 49, rather than Milovich's wife, Mildred, 36. The parents are separated.
In making his ruling, Grupp said Mrs. Milovich "is entitled to pursue a career of her own," but added, "what is more important is that the children are entitled to a stable environment."
"I'm not saying that a woman who's pursuing a career is not entitled to custody of her children. I don't say that," he said. "I considered all of the relevant factors, including the wishes of the parents and the children, the interaction of the substantially less than during the summer. Home prices, meanwhile, jumped 1.3 percent.

Gasoline prices fell 0.5 percent, about the same as in August. Public transportation costs were up 3.6 percent; new car prices, 1 percent; and used car prices, a sharp 5.6 percent.
Apparel and its upkeep rose 1.3 percent following substantially smaller in-tributed to the introduction of fall clothing lines.

Fuel oil prices, as winter approaches, declined 0.1
percent, but charges for gas and electricity rose 0.7 percent.

Play Ector Saturday...

Tigers Aiming For Odessa

ECTOR—Hopes of better times to come weigh in the balance here Saturday night as Snyder High School and Odessa Ector tangle at 8 o'clock in Barrett Stadium.

Ector is struggling through an "as yet winless season, having tied its first opponent for a 0-5-1 record. The Eagles, ironically, won the District 3-2A title last year.

Likewise, Snyder is hoping to improve its 1-5 mark Saturday. The Tigers came within four points of representing District 3-3A last year.

"We're anticipating a good ballgame," said Snyder Coach Mike Jenkins. "Both teams need a win. We're still looking to play well. We've got four games left, and we're going to try to win all four."

Statistics for the conference reveal Ector is scoring an average of 7.7 points, and allowing 25.2. The Eagles, offensively, have averaged 11.5 yards rushing per game and 42.2 total for an approximate 157.2 total. Defensively, the team has allowed 250.3 yards rushing on the average, 36.5 passing, for a 286.8 figure.

Snyder holds a statistical edge, having averaged 13 points in six games, while allowing 19.3. Offensively, the Tigers pick up about 124.8 rushing and 74 passing; a total of 198.8. The defense has been giving up an average of 161.8 on the ground and 93.7 via the airways; a 255.5 total.

Leading the Eagle attack is Bruce McCowan, the team's top rusher and passer. McCowan has 212 yards on 58 carries, including four touchdowns. He has completed 17 of his 50 passes for 145 yards, two touchdowns and three interceptions.

"He's probably the key to their team," noted Snyder coach, Mike Jenkins. "He's their leader on the field and off."

Favorite target is tight end Ray Lawrence, who ranks 13th among district receivers with 92 yards on eight catches, including one TD. Lawrence left last week's game against Sweetwater with an injury however, and was replaced by Gary Subia.

The other primary running back is 172-pound fullback Anthony Miller, with 157 yards and one touchdown on 32 carries.

Ector likes to utilize "more than adequate speed" and "quickness", which helps in part to overcome their inexperience this season after losing over 20 lettermen last year. The Eagles like to free McCowan whenever possible. He'll usually pass off of a misdirection or bootleg.

Leading the rushing game for Snyder are tailback Perry Echols, with 246 yards in 67 totes, and fullback Mark Shaw, with 234 yards on 43 rambles. Echols has crossed the goal line three times, Shaw once. Kirk Herriley, who picked up 65 yards to lead Snyder's backs - all of whom had at least 60 last week against Pecos - will also see a lot of action, and in fact, is listed to start in place of Echols, who received numerous "bumps and bruises" in last week's game with Pecos. Echols is expected to experience a lot of playing time, however.

Handling the snaps will be senior quarterback Mike Roemisch, who has passed complete 28 times in 84 attempts for 444 yards, four touchdowns and seven interceptions.

Leading receiver for the Tigers is split end Glenn Parham with 11 catches for 226 yards and two TDs. He ranks third in the district. Flanker Dale Jenkins, six snares for 101 yards and a touchdown in three games, will be replaced by Miguel Ortegon. According to the coach, no relation to the athlete, the receiver is no longer with the squad. "The coach did not detail his dismissal, citing only "personal reasons" as the reason.

"We'll have to do the same things you normally try to do," stated the coach. "We need to control the football, establish ball control with our offense. Again, I think the kicking game will play an important role."

Tomorrow's game will be the first time in several years Snyder varsity has played on Saturday, and the coach is not sure what effect it will have.

"It breaks our routine, but I don't think it will affect theirs that much. They play on Saturday three or four times a year," he said. "It gives us an extra day to workout, and that's helpful, but it also breaks your rhythm of going to school and playing that night."

Snyder and Ector have scrimmaged in the past, but Saturday's contest marks the first time the two will have met in a regular season football contest.

Freshman New Mustangs QB

DALLAS — Freshman Lance McIlhenny will start at quarterback when Southern Methodist plays No. 2-ranked Texas this weekend. Coach Ron Meyer said Thursday.

McIlhenny has played in three games this season, completing four of 11 passes for 60 yards.

"All of our three quarterbacks have competed on an equal level and we just feel like we have gone with the one that has been showing the most during the past week," Meyer said.

"We feel like it is a change that will help our offense get more of a spark into the attack," he added.

McIlhenny replaces junior Mike Ford, who underwent knee surgery last season and hasn't regained his former momentum.

On the season, Ford has completed 71 of 152 passes, for 887 yards and six touchdowns. But he has been plagued with interceptions.

Frosh Win Big; Begin Tournament

Snyder freshman warmed up for tomorrow's volleyball tournament by slapping Big Spring last night.

The frosh, 8-2, ripped the hosts 15-11 and 15-3 as Anna Arizmendi served up 9 points, Mona Green had 7, Wendy Hodge 6, Cari Walker 4, Tracy Fortune 3 and Susan Brim 1. Robin Huntsman and Tricia Gregory also played.

The freshman, along with the local eighth grade teams, enter tournament play here Saturday. Snyder ninth grade opens the tourney by playing Sweetwater at 9 a.m. in the high school gym. Other freshman first-round games pit Lamesa against Big Spring at 10, Seminole against Denver City at 11 and Monahans against Kermit at noon.

Snyder eighth grade Gold is slated against Sweetwater at 9 a.m. in the junior high gym, while the Black team takes on Denver City at 11. Other first-round eighth grade games set Seminole versus Big Spring at 10, and Monahans against Bronte at noon.

Finals for both grades will be held in the high school gym. Eighth graders will vie at 7, ninth graders at 8.

Bengals Lose To Sweetwater

Snyder eighth grade grid teams fell to Sweetwater here last night. The underclassmen vie again Nov. 6 at Lamesa in their final contests of the season.

The local Black squad lost 6-0, while Sweetwater knocked off the Gold team, 12-0.

All the scoring in the Gold team game came in the first four minutes. "After that, we decided to play ball," said Coach Dale Byrd. "We had several good drives and got inside their 20 three or four times but would fumble the ball. Our defense was good after the first quarter, but we just couldn't put points on the board."

The all-time base-stealing leader for the New York Yankees was first baseman Hal Chase with 248.

Cats Maul Mustangs; Colorado City Next

SWEETWATER—Snyder junior varsity, keyed by a combined rushing-passing game, blitzed Sweetwater here last night, 45-7. The Cats, 3-1-2 on the season, are slated to entertain Colorado City at 7 p.m. Oct. 30 for their next outing.

Aided by the running efforts of fleet back Raymond Jeffery and eight receptions by David Miller, the Cats jumped out to a 19-7 halftime lead before burning the hosts with four fourth-quarter TDs.

Jeffery, zipped through the Mustang defenses for 163 yards rushing and caught passes worth 43 yards for a 206 total. Miller snared eight tosses, including six straight, for 116 yards. He also had an interception. Both players scored two touchdowns each.

It was a team effort which bought the victory, however, including heads-up defensive play which led to seven Sweetwater turnovers.

Snyder scored first on a 1-yard run by QB David Nicholson. The 55-yard drive was highlighted by a 31-yard sprint by Jeffery. David Gutierrez kicked the PAT good.

Sweetwater retaliated on a 39-yard pass play and kicked the conversion through to tie the ballgame, but Snyder quickly recovered and dominated the rest of the game.

Snyder scored again on a 34-yard halfback pass from Keith Wallace to Miller, then on a 15-yard Nicholson-to-Miller completion. Neither point-after attempt was converted.

David Delce set up the latter scoring toss by picking off a Sweetwater pass and returning 50 yards to the Mustang 45-yard line.

The second half belonged completely to the Cats as Jeffery opened with a 60 scoring run. Later in the second quarter he broke for 34 yards to the Mustang 1, setting up a Nicholson plunge into the endzone.

Jeffery added six more points in the fourth quarter as he breezed in from 23 yards out. Gutierrez kicked the conversion through.

Snyder's final TD came on a 12-yard dash by Danny Ramos, set up by a 24-yard toss from Nicholson to James Caldwell.

Tracy Neves, David Gee, Jeff Fowler and Lee Minyard each recovered a fumble. Israel Ortegon, Delce and Miller bagged interceptions. Ortegon's pickoff return went for 50 yards, Miller's for 11.

Felines Floor Ector; Need One More Win

Snyder Felines floored Odessa Ector here last evening, paving the way for a fifth straight district volleyball title. The victory, coupled with last night's loss by Lamesa to Monahans, means the girls need only one win in their final two outings to clinch the District 2-AAAA championship.

Snyder knocked off the Eagles 15-2, 15-4 to win its fifth round-two district game. The Felines are 26-0 on the season, 12-0 in overall district play this year. Their amazing at-home win record stretched to 52. The girls have also won 42 consecutive district games over the past few seasons.

Lisa Cobb served for 11 points, Sherry Mayes for 10, Sherri Rich and Shana Koonsman for 3 each, Kathy Northcott for 2 and Kelly Dryden for 1. Every Snyder team member played in the game. "It was one of our better games," noted Coach Joyce Elrod, who had praise for the entire team. "We were able to run our offensive play sets. This is something that might help us later on, if we get out of district and encounter teams with height."

Elrod praised every player on the team, citing Northcott, Mayes and Cobb offensively and Koonsman defensively. She added that Ann Melton and Dryden saw good action on the backline, and Kerstin Selmon and Shauna Pate came in to play the front line well. She also noted the setting of Toni Elrod.

Snyder junior varsity also won last night, boosting its record to 21-3. Sabrina Robinson served 17 points, Becky Harrell 6, Lisa Waller 4, Lisa Loyola 2 and Susie Lee 1 as the local squad took a 15-6 and 15-5 victory.

"Since, and including the final game of the Plains Tournament, the junior varsity has really improved," noted Elrod. "They've played much better, more consistent ball."

Snyder entertains Lamesa at 6:15 and 7:30 Tuesday night.

SETS IT UP—Snyder's Toni Elrod sets the ball up for her teammates during action in the Tiger-Odessa Ector matches held here last evening. Snyder won the game 15-2 and 15-4, and needs only one victory in its two remaining contests to clinch a fifth straight district title. (SDN Staff Photo).
