Jennifer Kay Campbell, Born Jan. 4 Is Haskell's First Baby of 1961

Haskell's first baby of 1961 is Jennifer Kay, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duward Campbell of the Mattson community northeast of town.

The baby girl, born at 7:27 p. m. Wednesday, Jan. 4, weighed seven pounds, five and one-half ounces, has black hair and dark blue eyes.

As the first arrival of 1961 in the local hospital Jennifer Kay and her mother were recipients of a number of attractive and useful gifts from Haskell merchants. Jennifer Kay has a sister, Kimberly, who was one year old Jan. 6.

Mrs. Campbell is the former Gwen Gilliam, born and reared in Haskell and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gilliam, 807 North Avenue G. She attended Haskell schools.

Mr. Campbell is a farmer and does custom combining. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Campbell of the Mattson community where he was reared and attended Mattson school.

Gift from White Auto Store is an attractive and useful Diaper Bag. With its handy compartments it is a convenient accessory and a time-saver for mother.

To assure a strong and healthy start for the first baby of 1961, Eradberry's Super-Save Market presented the new arrival with two cases of Gerbers Baby Food.

The valuable and attractive gifts were made possible through cooperation of the Haskell County Hospital and the above named merchants.

1960 Fire Losses Estimated Up From Last Year

Insured fire losses in Haskell during 1960 will exceed losses for the previous year, but the total loss has not yet been determined, fire department officials said this week.

Losses involved in the junior high school gymnasium fire cannot be determined until all contracts for repairing and rebuilding the structures are approved it was pointed out.

City Fireman Floyd (Satch) Lusk, reported that the department received 71 calls during 1960, of which eight were general alarms.

The department also received 9 out-of-town calls, while 42 grass fires were extinguished.

Firemen used a total of 9,150 feet of hose in fighting fires, the report shows.

During the period from Jan. 28 to Feb. 26 the fire department did not receive a single call. Also, for the first time in memory of local firemen, none of the Haskell cotton gins reported a fire during 1960.

Attendance records of the department show that one fireman, Alvis Bird, had a perfect record for 1960, while two new members, Wayne Wainscott and Volly Ivy had perfect records for the time they had been in the department.

Court Sets Salary Schedule, Grants Pay Hikes to 13

Senatorial Election Set April 4, Runoff Month Later If Necessary

Gov. Price Daniel last Thursday fixed the special U. S. Senate election for April 4, 1961.

The election will qualify a successor to fill Lyndon Johnson's now vacated Senate seat. William Elakley, appointed interim senator by Gov. Price Daniel, is now holding the seat.

Elakley and eight other candidates are in the race.

If no one receives a majority of the total vote cast in the election, a runoff election will be held about a month later. The winner will serve nearly six years.

The ever increasing list of candidates now include U. S. Rep. Jim Wright, Fort Worth; State Sen. Henry Gonzales, San Antonio; former State Rep. Maury Maverick, San Antonio; Republican John Tower, Wichita Falls; Hugh O. Lea, Orange, attorney-engineer; Bobbie Thorne, Wortham auctioneer; Van T. George, San Antonio businessman; and W. P. Holland, Houston contractor.

Atty Gen. Will Wilson and former Congressman Martin Dies Sr., are considered prospective candidates.

The date will coincide with city elections which will be held in more than 100 cities. The governor said this would help reduce the cost of holding the special election in many counties.

Daniel said setting the election April 4 would allow as much time as possible for county tax assessor-collectors to prepare poll tax lists. Some assessor-collectors had urged him to set the election as far into the year as possible.

Texas election laws require that the special election be held not less than 60 nor more than 90 days after the date of the writ of election by the governor.

The governor's office said a spot check showed it would be virtually impossible for poll tax lists in some of the larger counties to be completed in less time.

Water Facilities Lower Taxes

Improved water facilities often result in lower taxes, according to Thomas F. Wolfe, managing director of the Cast Iron Pipe Research Association, Chicago.

Wolfe points out that adequate water supply is one of the most potent factors in attracting new industries to a community. "New businesses are the best source of added tax income for a city," Wolfe stated. "By encouraging the influx of new industry, the base of taxable income is broadened, requiring a smaller share from the individual taxpayer."

Effective Cure for Drunken Driver

(Houston Chronicle)

In Turkey, of all places, one would not expect to read of police having trouble with motorists who drive while intoxicated. There are 26 million living in that Eurasian nation and they are 98 per cent Moslem, a people whose religion denies them the use of alcohol save as a medicine. Nevertheless, the drinking driver has become a problem to such extent that police have been compelled to devise a means of dealing with him.

And the means adopted has a flavor of Oriental justice. When a Turkish traffic officer stops a motorist who has been tipping too much for his own safety and the safety of the public, he takes him for a ride. The officer drives the tippler 15 miles out of town and tells him to walk back. To make certain the order is followed, the officer drives slowly behind the malefactor until he has completed his sentence. We could learn from the Turks.

The "Emergency" Tax Racket

When World War II came along the Congress passed a number of "emergency" tax measures to help finance the war. Since then the "emergency" taxes on various items have been extended year after year.

The term emergency tax has been used by Congress instead of "sales" tax because the sales tax idea was not popular. Therefore, a limited number of industries were penalized with high "emergency" taxes instead of low general sales taxes.

The latest example of the "emergency" tax racket is the one-cent additional federal gas tax enacted last year with the provision that it would expire next June 30th. A move is underway to continue the tax and even increase it above the present federal tax of four cents a gallon. State gas taxes range from three to seven cents a gallon not counting state sales and local taxes. In other words, state and federal "sales" taxes on a necessity are some 50 per cent of the price of the product less taxes, $1.00 on every 10 gallons of gasoline.

Is it any wonder the worms (the taxpayers) are beginning to turn and no longer believe their law-makers when they talk about "temporary" taxes? It is time to call a spade a spade and admit that most temporary or emergency taxes are just an excuse for permanent sales taxes, which legislators are afraid to propose for fear of losing votes.

The honest thing to do is to cut out such subterfuges and if needs demand it, establish a general sales tax instead of socking a few industries with sales taxes running from 10 to 50 percent, as with telephones, transportation and gasoline.

The exorbitant tax on gasoline may be the straw that breaks the camel's back and brings a halt to the deception practiced in the name of "emergency" or "temporary" taxes.

The worms are turning against the temporary tax racket.

By A. PATE

On July 3, 1887, W. M. Walton, S. A. Hinds and L. W. Campbell completed the official survey or plat of the town of Rice Springs, forerunner of the present town of Haskell. The original townsite was composed of 42 blocks, each 300 feet square, with streets on all four sides. Streets and roads were laid out 75 feet in width.

In addition to the 42 blocks comprising Rice Springs, the surveyors platted all adjoining blocks and tracts in the Peter Allen Survey.

The 73-year-old map or plat, recorded in Book 5, Pages 320, 321 and 322 of Haskell County Deed Records, is the basis for all records covering real estate in the City of Haskell, and the map's accuracy has never been successfully challenged.

A more recently platted map of the city lacks the accuracy of the original map, although at a casual glance all street and property lines appear to be perfect. But a check of information lettered on each block or tract reveals discrepancies.

As an illustration, east and west width of blocks between Ave. E and Ave. F is 300 feet across the original townsite. The new map, extending north from North 4th appears to carry out the same lines.

Yet, on North 9th, the map shows the block to be 304 feet wide east and west. Then, from 9th through 12th St., the 300-ft. east and west width prevails again. Past 12th St., the block spreads out east and west to 303.6 feet.

All this, according to the map, yet the north and south streets along each side of the blocks show no variation whatever.

One noticeable change that has been made from the original plat has been the revision of street names. Although this does not have any effect whatever on the accuracy of the survey lines of property, some sentiment still exists favoring the original street names, such as Fannin, Crockett, Reynolds, etc.

But today's tempo called for street designations which could be easily recalled without "strain" of memorizing some revered names of local or state patriots.

So in a whirl of efficiency, all streets running north and south became Avenues, designated by a letter of the alphabet. All east and west streets were given numerical designations with a North or South prefix.

As a result, Reynolds Street became Avenue B, Fannin Street became Avenue C, Campbell Street was changed to Avenue D, Clark Street is now Avenue E, Houston Street became Avenue F, Lamar Street was changed to Avenue G, while Matthews Street is now Avenue H.

Of the thoroughfares running east and west, Hugart Street became South 1st, Hinds Street is now South 2nd, Travis Street is South 3rd, Hill Street is South 4th, Spring Street is South 5th, and Conrad Street is South 6th. Walton Street became North 1st, Standerfer Street became North 2nd, Crockett Street became North 3rd, and Burford Street became North 4th.

Mention of the rebuilding project on the courthouse recently brought us a yarn concerning the Courthouse at Comanche, built by a native of the peanut country who says his grandpaw was working on the building at the time.

A workman well above the second floor level was walking along a carelessly placed scaffold when it gave way and he plunged more than 50 feet to the ground, landing almost solidly on his back.

Before fellow-workers could get to him, the hardy workman regained his breath and slowly got to his feet, apparently un hurt.

Then, he started looking up to see how far he had fallen. Taking several steps backward he fell over a wheelbarrow and broke his neck!

A local lawman tells of the three beer - guzzlers cruising along the wet and slippery highway recently without even Worry 1.

Actually, none knew which of the trio was driving and the driver they were meeting didn't have a chance to dodge them, despite a valiant effort.

Luckily, there were no serious injuries, but the car occupied by the lone sober driver was badly damaged. It's driver, however, was philosophical as he endured the yakkity-yak of the drunks while waiting for an investigator.

One of the drunks asked the man: "Were you by yourself in that car?"

Reflectively, the man answered, "Well, you might say the Lord was riding with me."

"Oh, He was, huh?" the drunk fired back, "He'd better ride with us, you're liable to get Him killed."

Without touching a drop, the beer situation at Slaton (city) and its encompassing Justice Prec. 2 of Lubbock County is a headache in itself.

In a recent city-wide election, Slaton voted "dry" against the sale of beer.

A month later, an identical election was held in Lubbock county's J. P. Prec. 2, in which Slaton is located. The precinct voted wet.

However, the Attorney General's department has now ruled that Slaton (city area) is dry, and the remaining surrounding area in J. P. 2 is "wet."

Similar confusion was apparent here in the early 30's when liquor laws were modified to permit holding of beer elections in city, precinct, or county subdivisions.

One of the first precincts to vote wet for the sale of beer then (as now) was the Sagerton J. P. Precinct.

A city election was being talked, while other sponsors proposed beer elections in each Commissioners' Precinct.

In the meantime the dispensaries in Sagerton J. P. Precinct were doing a landoffice business.

It was natural that laxity developed in enforcing bans on the sale of beer and it wasn't long until numerous local cafes managed to serve many of their patrons with a fairly good selection of beers.

Then, the newness and novelty of the situation began losing its attraction, and in a short time a saner attitude set in. Strict interpretations gradually cut through some of the contradictory "beer laws" with the result that within a year or two most of the new-fangled regulations permitting sales of beer were ruled out.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Study Club Programs Center on Holy Lands, New Year's Celebration

Programs of the Progressive Study Club during the holiday season included a simulated trip in the Holy Land for Christmas, and an interruption of their "world tour" to celebrate the New Year.

On Dec. 15, Progressive Study Club members had their Christmas in the Holy Land, so to speak.

Mrs. Garvin Foote was the travel guide for the evening and as the members entered there was a road to follow representing "The Bethlehem Road," a program of scripture and music prepared by Mrs. W. H. Hasebrook, music chairman, GFWC, 1952-54.

The Scripture was read by Mrs. Abe Turner and the music was presented by Mrs. F. W. Martin, Mrs. Roy Everette, Mrs. Vernay Teague and Mrs. Falley Toliver. Prayer was given by Mrs. Leroy Oneal.

Each member brought a gift. The gifts were taken to the Old Folks Home. The members sang Christmas Carols to the old people. Hostesses for the evening were Mesdames Allen Overton, Ed Hester and Virgil Cobb.

The Progressive Study Club stopped on their tour around the world to celebrate the New Year on Jan. 5, 1961. Members were greeted with horns blowing and streamers waving. A large flag of the United States was displayed and all members pledged their allegiance. Members had had a wonderful trip so far, including stops in Cuba, South America, Europe, The Holy Land and the United Nations.

As members were seated, in came the old year, 1960, represented by Amy Medford dressed in a white robe and beard, with hour-glass in hand. The new year of 1961, full of pep and energy, was represented by Eddie Medford, dressed in a diaper.

The first meeting in January is a regular business meeting. At this meeting, members were asked to check their passports and prepare for the remainder of the trip around the world. The club constitution was read by members. Other business included a motion to send $15 to the Headquarters Building located in Austin.

Mrs. Viars Felker led in a prayer for guidance of the new year. A discussion of club reporting was directed by Mrs. Bob Herren. All club members wrote cards to Rep. Carl Wheatley and Senator George Moffett asking for their support on the 6-Point Traffic Safety Program.

Mrs. W. H. Pitman, president, welcomed Mrs. Joe Warren as a new member. The club adjourned after singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Hostesses Mrs. Glen Sammons and Mrs. Wayne Wainwright served cherry tarts and coffee to 25 members.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. J. W. Liles on January 19, 1961. Mrs. C. G. Hammer will direct the Bible program as a camp meeting.

Mrs. Turner served a refreshment plate to Mesdames W. I. Coggins, Mrs. Buck Turnbow, Mrs. M. W. Phenister, Mrs. R. H. Jones, Mrs. J. W. Liles, Mrs. R. J. Rainey, Mrs. P. F. Weinert, Mrs. Fred Monke, Mrs. H. W. Liles and Mrs. R. C. Liles.

Magazine Club Program Centers On Far East

That most fascinating, and significant, part of the globe, the Far East, was the January 6 program topic for the Magazine Club as it met to continue its study of "What in The World's Going On?"

Using large maps, Mrs. Wallace Cox Sr., program leader, discussed the Far East geographically and noted how and why it is so prominent in the news today.

Mrs. C. V. Payne spoke on China, the most populous, and, in view of Red China, the most threatening power in the Far East. From the long-term problem of population to that of seating Red China in the United Nations, she presented a thought provoking picture of China as it is today. Special mention was made of Peiping, the city called "Red China's Showcase."

The next speaker, Mrs. Virgil Bailey, had as her subject, Japan. Featured in her remarks were the culture, the economy and the social significance of this greatest industrial country in the Far East. Filled with mountains, surrounded by sea, Japan must support 93 million people in an area less than California's, she said. Lending color and interest to the discussion of Japan, Mrs. Bailey introduced a new member, Mrs. Calvin A. Smethie, who modeled a beautiful scarlet silk Japanese robe, complete with 5-yard-long obi sash and wooden soled shoes.

The Philippines, island republic and friend of the United States for some 60 years, was discussed by Mrs. W. E. Huss. Composed of 7,000 islands with 11 major ones headed by Luzon and Mindanao, the Philippines provides the U.S.A. with its major Far East air and naval bases. Mrs. Huss pointed out that, though beset with misunderstanding and problems largely resulting from World War II, this nation and the Philippines are allied in a mutual defense pact and SEATO.

Mrs. C. J. Robinson and Mrs. R. C. Couch Sr., hostesses, served refreshment plates of German chocolate cake, nuts, mints

Cemetery Association Requests That Endowments Be Taken for New Year

The Haskell Cemetery Association has grown to a membership of about 300 families, officers of the association said this week. More than 500 of this number have the endowment and less than 100 are paying dues. The membership should be about 200 but it is not. This means that only one out of three or four is doing the work that is being done in the Cemetery. We are gaining ground since the enrollment is about treble the high point of any previous record, a spokesman for the Association pointed out.

Continuing, the spokesman said: "We ask you to make a visit to the Cemetery and take note of the clean appearance that you will find. When springtime comes this cannot continue as 600 paying members have not paid in enough to care for 2,000 lots that are in use. "We urge you to take out the endowment at once so as to get an even start with the year we are just entering. When the Endowment reaches $100,000, one-half of the Cemetery can be kept in order the year around. But we must get another $100,000 or double the amount; we nearly have so that full coverage can be given to this work. We feel that you would like to do your part, so please do so. "In the event you cannot take the endowment, please pay your dues this month so that our records can be made for the year."

CARD OF THANKS

We want to express our sincere appreciation for the many kindnesses, beautiful floral offerings, food and words of consolation in the loss of our beloved husband and father, Tom Holland. May God bless each of you. Mrs. Tom Holland and Family.

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

UPPER DAVE MARKETS

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD

Not everyone fishes. But most people would like to fish occasionally. Usually the excuse is "I just don't seem to find the time."

Recently, over a period of several days, I asked everyone I chatted with—old friends and new friends—one question: "Do you ever go fishing?"

Answers ranged from "Never" to "Occasionally" to "I go as often as I can."

Invariably the person who said "NEVER" would add, in tones of wishfulness, "I just don't have the time." Lots of them seemed to have a guilty feeling about it. Sorta like "I know I oughta get out and a-way from everything . . . once in awhile . . . but I just don't."

Those are the fellows who need it most. I want to direct this message especially to them, because I've been in their position. I know exactly how they feel, and I know that they need to go fishing, perhaps more than they realize.

Usually such persons go "all out" in anything and everything they do. They work night and day on the job. Or they devote 80 per cent of their non-sleeping hours to civic work. Or they take on too many committee assignments—from the club, or the church, or the multitude of other organizations in the hometown, or the district, sometimes even the state.

As long as it is fun to do these things; as long as they accomplish them without pushing themselves too hard; so long as they are just burning up excess energy—they are not hurting their minds or their bodies.

But there comes a time when everyone needs a little diversion. The farther the diversion can be from the routine activities of his everyday living, the better that diversion will be for him.

I firmly believe that that is why fishing is so popular as a recreation. Another factor, of course, is that it can be cheap recreation. It doesn't have to be costly.

Usually there's a place to fish that is not much farther away than the golf course. One does not have to wear fancy duds. That helps the budget a great deal.

He can rent a boat, if one is needed. Also a motor. So, he doesn't necessarily have to buy either.

He can purchase as bait a can of worms, or two dozen minnows, for 50c. Artificial lures that last and last range in price from 35c to $1.50.

He won't lose any more lures than he will golf balls, and most likely far less. Of course if he's a dubber like me, and in the rough most of the time, he might come out ahead in the golfing game by finding more balls than he loses.

Anyway, considering everything, fishing is about the cheapest pastime available.

Of course one can go all out with fishing gear the same as in hunting, or golfing, or bowling—in fact any participating sport. One big difference, however, is the great opportunity fishing affords for relaxation.

It's the best tension-reliever ever discovered.

We've participated in most all sports, at one time or another—track, tennis, baseball, basketball, football—to name some of the more strenuous. We've done our share of bowling, golfing, swimming, even bicycling and motorcycleing. You name it, and we've done it, or tried to do it, and a good bit of most of them. But there is nothing, nay nothing, more relaxing to this scribe, than hunting or fishing—and especially the latter.

Like most everyone else . . . if we've tried it we want you to try it—and our best argument is that it's good for you.

Unfortunately the fellows who need relaxation the most usually do the smallest amount of it.

Take the doctor, for example, or the druggist, or the banker, or the retail merchant, or the service station manager, or the executive of any business, firm or corporation—including the newspaper publisher. All of them work under tension every day—high, nervous tension.

Why? Because they have the responsibility of serving lots of people—all kinds of people. They have greater responsibility than the average man. There are hundreds of such business men—and women, too—rushing hither and yon, tending their tedious tasks, selling their services, or peddling their products.

They need to stop this go-go—go life of theirs, long enough for a change of pace.

Okay. Then what's more relaxing than a complete reversal of activity?

A few hours' angling from the bank of a quiet stream, or a farm pond, or in a boat far out on some coastal bay, is the answer to the high-tension problem. It will ease the mind. The exercise that goes with it will do wonders for the body.

Surprising as it may seem to you who may not have tried this prescription, you'll get more work done than ever before—when you return to your job.

So, don't kid yourself into thinking that you can't afford the time off to go fishing. It just could be that you can't afford not to do so.

Novel Highway Safety Measure Due Soon

The Texas Highway Department has announced a highway safety measure designed to protect the motorist by making him see red—literally.

The Department said it will require flagmen directing traffic at highway construction and maintenance projects to wear bright red vests and to use a flag of the same color.

The men in the red vests will begin appearing on Texas highways by mid-February, when Department employees working on maintenance jobs will don the eye-catching apparel. Made from fluorescent red nylon, the new vests are designed to make flagmen more easily visible and recognizable to motorists both day and night. At night the vests and flags will be supplemented by flares.

Red flags have been used by flagmen in the past but the fluorescent color and the vests are new requirements, made "to insure added safety and convenience for the public in the movement of traffic to and through highway construction operations," said D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer. He hailed the new vests as a safety measure not only for motorists but also for highway workmen.

Beginning with the February contract letting, he said, the specifications for all highway projects will require that flagging be done with the use of the special vests and flags.

The same flag signals will be retained: flagman's arm fully extended horizontally to indicate "STOP"; movement of the flagman's free hand without use of the flag to indicate "PROCEED."

1961 MERCURY MONTEREY 2-DOOR HARDTOP

TRADITIONAL MERCURY COMFORT Only Mercury has Cushion-Link Ride (standard on Monterey and Meteor 800)—a unique suspension system that absorbs jolts and jars that come through to you in other cars. It "gives" backward and forward as well as up and down. And Mercury has a longer wheelbase (120 inches) and greater weight (up to 2411 pounds heavier) than other cars in its price range. Result: you enjoy a smooth, solid, steady big-car ride you'd expect to pay much more for. There's plenty of stretch-out room in Mercury, too—even more rear seat hip, shoulder and head room than in last year's spacious Mercury. Wider doors and more trunk space, too.

TRADITIONAL MERCURY VALUE There's extra value in Mercury's engine choice—all the way from the Super-Economy "6" (Mercury's first "6") to the powerful Marauder V-8's. And even the top-performing V-8's deliver up to 15% better gas mileage. There's extra value in Mercury's seven self-servicing features. From self-lubricating chassis to self-adjusting brakes, they save you money every mile you drive. Everywhere you look, the 1961 Mercury offers you traditional Mercury values. Now, for the price most people pay for a new car, you can own a Mercury. Take your pick of Mercury's three great series and drive it today!

PAINT CREEK . . . COMMUNITY NEWS

BY MRS. GENE OVERTON

The news from Paint Creek this week reads like a hospital report. Jo Ann Griffith underwent an emergency appendectomy at the Stamford Sanitarium last Wednesday night. She is recuperating nicely, but will be unable to play basketball for more than a month. She is to return home from the hospital Thursday or Friday.

Mr. Olin Houston is a patient in the Stamford Sanitarium this week with pneumonia.

Mrs. Jess R. Cook underwent minor surgery at the General Hospital in Wichita Falls last Wednesday. She returned to her home near W.U. Power Plant Tuesday.

Raymond (Butch) Kohout, son of Mrs. Marie Kohout, underwent surgery for the removal of a kernel under his arm. He had the stitches out Saturday and he had a good report back from the laboratory examination of the kernel.

Bill Pennell was ill Monday and Tuesday with a virus.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bueger are the proud parents of a baby daughter born Jan. 2. She has been named Rebecca Louise. She has a brother, Kenney, and a sister, Quila, who are mighty proud of her.

Every time the little boys and girls get together these days they compare sore arms. They all have had diphtheria booster shots since the diphtheria epidemic in Plainview. So far there are no cases out here, but there were two cases from Aspermont in the Stamford Sanitarium, and a case or two from Rochester in the Haskell Hospital. It is smart to give all the children the shots.

Don LeFevre from Odessa was a recent guest in the home of his cousin, Dan, and Mrs. LeFevre and their children.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Overton were in Highland visiting their daughter's family. Mr. and Mrs. James Raughton and children Monday. Jean Ann came home with them for a few days. Paint Creek's girls' basketball team won second place trophy in the Hawley tournament over the weekend. Hawley beat them in the finals 24 to 22. They also placed two players on the All-Tournament team. Paulette Fischer was chosen All-Tournament forward and Mary Lou McLennan was All-Tournament guard. They received gold miniature basketballs.

The boys lost to Albany but they played a good game. At the half Albany was only three points ahead.

The senior class is sponsoring a junior basketball tournament here at our gym this week. In the games Monday night the Paint Creek girls defeated the Mattson girls, and the Mattson boys defeated the Paint Creek boys. The Avoca girls defeated the Rochester girls and the Rochester boys defeated the Avoca boys. Sagerton did not come and forfeited to the Throckmorton girls. The games will continue Thursday night, and all day Saturday with the finals Saturday night.

Gene Overton is considering starting a new business. Saturday night he had to get the tractor about 12:30 and pull Mr. Helcomb out of the ditch between here and the highway, and Monday night he had to pull some little Mexican boys out of the ditch on this lane in front of our house. That rain fell so slowly that the ground just soaked it up, and it has surely been muddy.

Mud doesn't hinder or even slow up the Scouts, though. They came to Scout meeting Saturday morning and Gene couldn't even get down to the Scout hut in the pick-up. So they all donned slickers and ponchos and bogged down there in the mud. They had a real good meeting and started work on their map reading. Scouts attending were Thurman Howeth, Riley Couch, Randy Wiseman, Thornton Gilmore, Danny Isbell, Roland Branch and Derrel Davis. Mr. Roy Wiseman also was there.

D. 1961, the same being the 13th day of said month, receive proposals from any Banking Corporation in the county aforesaid, that may desire to be selected as a depository for funds of said Haskell County, Texas, and also as depository for the trust funds of the District and County Clerks of Haskell County, Texas. James C. Alvis, County Judge, Haskell County, Texas 2-3c

Many Farmers and Ranchmen Take Part in Conservation Program

More than 2,000 farmers and ranchmen in 352 counties in the Great Plains States made contracts with the U. S. Department of Agriculture to develop soil and water conservation plans for their lands during the fiscal year of 1960. These contracts covered more than 5 1/2 million acres, the USDA said.

This brought the number of plans and contracts to almost 4,900 covering over 13 million acres at the end of the fiscal year. An additional 3,084 applications covering nearly 2 million acres, had been filed at the year's end.

The program is designed to speed-up soil and water conservation measures, through a complete farm or ranch plan of operations, that will bring about a greater degree of agricultural stability in the Great Plains where drought, high winds, blizzards, hail and hard rains are not infrequent. It applies to designated counties in Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas and Wyoming.

Lynn Pittard, soil and water conservation specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said that currently 915 farmers and/or ranchmen in 85 Texas counties have applications on file and that active contracts total 2,157. These contracts cover approximately 4.1 million acres, Pittard said.

Included in the contracts and plans, developed with assistance from the Soil Conservation Service are such practices as converting cropland to grass, planned range reseeding and many other permanent-type conservation practices.

In carrying out their conservation plans, under contracts ranging from 3 to 10 years, participants established one or more of 24 practices eligible for cost sharing, Pittard said.

The Great Plains Conservation Program, Public Law 1021, became law August 7, 1956. First contracts and plans were signed in December 1957.

At the regular meeting of the school board Monday night Superintendent Pat Morrison was selected and reports were given on the recent trip to Austin to attend the school administrator's meeting.

Paint Creek FFA boys entering the California Creek Soil Conservation theme contest are Edwin Livingood, Billy Patterson, Mike Overton and Jeff Smith.

Pfc. Eddie Lee Thane writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Thane, that his company in Korea gave a Christmas party for a Korean orphanage that made a wonderful Christmas for the orphans and the soldiers, too. Each soldier bought a gift for one of the children, and the fattest soldier played Santa. The children all lost their parents in the Korean war.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin had quite an experience last Friday morning when all four of their children had a tonsillectomy the same morning. They are home and doing fine.

1960 Food Consumption In U. S. Averaged 1,488 Pounds per Person

Americans ate well in 1960. Year end estimates indicated plentiful supplies of food for 1961. The U. S. Department of Agriculture said food consumption for 1960 averaged 1,488 lbs. per person based on retail weights of all food products of farms, ranches and fisheries.

Consumption of dairy products led, with 414 pounds per person—the equivalent of about 250 quarts of milk. The total includes fluid milk and all other forms of foods made from milk except butter. It is included in fats and oils.

The fruit and vegetable group—excluding potatoes—was a close second at 499 pounds per person. Potato consumption was 108 pounds per capita.

The third ranking group was meats. The average was 178 pounds per person and included poultry and fish as well as the red meats, beef, pork and lamb.

Consumption of other food groups included 146 pounds of flour and cereal products per capita, 108 pounds of sugar and syrup, 67 pounds of fats and oils, 41 pounds of eggs (about 26 dozen) and 17 pounds of coffee, tea and cocoa.

The Department said estimates of consumption per person are based on the disappearance of food products. The quantity of each group is divided by total population.

A hard-working 200-pounder, of course, eats more of the foods than infants, invalids, and older people, yet they all count equally in figuring per capita consumption.

1961 Beef Cattle Outlook Good

The outlook for the meat production of 1961 as consumers of the U. S. will be the largest supply of beef in history, both in total and per person. If the estimates prove correct, Lloyd Bergsma, extension livestock marketing specialist, says consumption of red and poultry meats would exceed 200 pounds per person for the first time in history.

Bergsma says livestock producers will be faced with a generally downward trending market during 1961. Prices during the first half of the new year will not feel the effect of increasing supplies as strongly as those for the last half. He expects slaughter cattle to average near 1960 level during the earlier months of 1961, but increasing supplies of grass cattle and more competition from expanded hog production are expected to have their effect by late summer.

The greatest price drop are forecast in the lower grades of cattle.

The specialist expects a continuation of the herd build-up which started in 1958. But, he adds, weather conditions can play a mighty important role. Cattlemen can be expected to react quickly to changes in crop and pasture conditions, since cattle numbers on the farms and ranches of the nation are now at an all time high.

On the brighter side, Bergsma says consumers have, partially at the expense of other meats, increased their consumption of beef and he sees a continuation of this strong demand. This trend should help ease the downward pressure on prices resulting from the expanded supplies.

The increased domestic supplies of stocker and feeder cattle will continue to reduce the level of cattle and beef imports, says Bergsma.

Lower cattle prices do not necessarily mean that profits will be absent in cattle enterprises. But, Bergsma suggests to producers they study the price indicators when planning their operations.

Trees Planted on 984,000 Acres in U. S. in 1960

Farmers and ranchers cooperating with the Nation's 2,863 soil conservation districts and others receiving assistance from the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service planted 984,567 acres of trees in fiscal year 1960, the USDA announced.

In addition, they planted 4,246 miles of field windbreaks and 650,000 rods of hedgerows, and established woodland improvement includes thinning, harvest cutting, brush control, pruning and cull elimination. Protection includes fencing, grazing control, fire breaks, and erosion control.

Cumulative totals for these woodland practices in soil conservation districts at the end of the fiscal year were: Tree planting, 7,750,000 acres; field windbreaks, 38,940 miles; hedgerows, 8,275,000 rods; woodland improvement, 17,448,000 acres; and woodland protection, 60,350,000 acres.

State forestry agencies cooperating with SCS and soil conservation districts in providing services to farm woodland owners, and most of the planting stock came from State nurseries cooperating with the Forest Service, USDA officials said. The States also provided specialized forestry assistance in fire prevention, disease control and marketing where resources were available.

The Great Plains States—Colorado, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North and South Dakota, Oklahoma, Texas and Wyoming—led all regions in field windbreak plantings with 3,630 miles during the year and a cumulative total of 30,584 miles.

Georgia farmers (working with soil conservation districts) led all States in tree planting with 223,568 acres during the year and a cumulative total of more than 2 million acres.

Appeal of Usable Clothing For Children

An urgent appeal for usable clothing for the First through Grades was made by Mrs. Wallace for Child Welfare Society. P. Trice, School Director, said that many children are in need of usable clothing for school.

Articles of clothing are needed, such as coats, dresses, and hats that children can use for school. Parents are urged to donate their school clothes and they are to be used for school.

Persons who have usable clothing for children school age may prefer they mail their return photographs to Mrs. Wallace.

No make-shift planning here

Tomorrow's telephone progress is on our drawing boards today.

We're constantly studying, designing, planning for the months and years ahead.

This long look at the future shows many incredible changes in communications ahead of us.

And, you can count on one important fact.

General Telephone's developments, as they come, will not only meet today's needs, but will answer tomorrow's also.

GENERAL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF THE SOUTHWEST

The low-price compact that looks and drives like twice the price!

Valiant's low price is your second-best reason to buy.

YOU'RE LOOKING AT THE FIRST!

Now, this is our idea of the way a compact should look. Trim as a button—with a flair that has nothing hand-me-down about it.

1961 Valiant prices begin $100 lower than before. And this new low price brings you Torsion-Aire suspension, welded Unibody, pepper-pot of an inclined engine.

For looks and liveliness, for long life and low cost, the top compact this year is Valiant. Come see the man who sells them!
